"SHE TOOK MY HANDS, FELL ON THE BED AND SCREAMED," SAYS GORE

Blind Senator Tells His Version of Affair in Hotel.

Denies He Ever Touched Mrs. Bond, His Accuser.

Calls Charge He Did Anything Improper "Infamous Lie."

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 16.—Political opposition today was held responsible by Thomas P. Gore, United States senator from Oklahoma, for the damage suit for $50,000 filed against him by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond, who alleges that the senator attacked her in a Washington hotel.

Senator Gore, on the witness stand, denied making an attack on Mrs. Bond, and said he believed the charge to have been made to injure him in his campaign for renomination as the Democratic candidate for the senate.

Presentation of evidence was expected to be concluded with the testimony of the senator, attorneys for the defense announced today.

Conspiracy Charged.

Many witnesses for the defense have given evidence intended to show that the senator had been made the victim of a conspiracy. Threats to "get" the senator because of a failure to secure Federal patronage were credited to several witnesses for the plaintiff, while others were quoted as admitting that the whole affair was a "frame up."

Several of the witnesses summoned for Mrs. Bond have been reserved to testify in rebuttal, among them James R. Jacobs, in whose room in a Washington hotel the alleged attack is said to have occurred. Jacobs has been prominently identified with political affairs in Oklahoma for a number of years.

Senator Gore was asked about his acquaintance with Mrs. Bond, the plaintiff, and replied that he remembered meeting her at a reception here,

NEW YORK STUDIOS GO UP IN FLAMES

Building Burns Half Hour After Theatrical Dance Ends.

New York, Feb. 16.—A half hour after the Gamut club, a theatrical organization, had concluded a dance in its rooms in East Thirty-third street early today, fire was discovered in the building and within a few minutes the entire structure was in flames. Artists' studios occupied most of the other floors except for a few living apartments. Four persons asleep in the building escaped.

It was several hours before the fire, for which four alarms were turned in, was under control. Meanwhile surrounding property, including the famous Astor stables, were in danger of destruction.

NEW CABINET IN ARGENTINA

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 16.—The newspaper Nacion announces the appointment of a new cabinet as follows: Minister of the interior, Miguel Ortiz; finance, Enrique Zarbo; foreign affairs, Jose Luis Murature; agriculture, Jose Malbran; public works, Maucl Moyano; war, Gen. Velez; justice and public instruction, Horacio Calderon; marine, Saenz Valiente.

REMEMBER THE MAINE

Cuba and the United States Join in Memorial Ceremony.

Weather Drives Participants Indoors at Arlington Cemetery.

Washington, Feb. 16.—President Menocal of Cuba sent a message which was read today at the exercises in Arlington National cemetery in memory of the sixteenth anniversary of the sinking of the Maine in Havana harbor.

President Menocal's message expressed regret that he could not be present, and he delegated Manuel De La Vega, charge d'affaires of the Cuban legation here, to attend as his representative.

Rear Admiral Higsbee, in command of the Maine when she sank, and former President Taft also sent regrets.

Because of the high cold winds and the drifting snows, the memorial services, instead of being held in the Arlington cemetery grounds, were held inside the cavalry riding hall adjacent at Fort Myers.

Decorations Placed.

The remainder of the program was carried out, however, as previously arranged, and the snow-covered graves and monuments were decorated as had been planned.

Although sixteen years have passed since that day in February, 1898, when the Maine was literally torn to pieces

SEEK AID FOR UNEMPLOYED

National Clearing House for Workers Is Tentative Plan.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Federal investigation of the unemployment problem by the industrial relations commission will be a speedy one, and will cover all the large cities from New York to Kansas City.

President Wilson today expressed the belief that Chairman Frank P. Walsh had based his estimate of 350,000 men and women out of work in New York city alone upon current reports, and not upon any investigation by the commission. The president added that the figures had been challenged.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, the resident commissioner, issued a statement today pointing out that this was the time of year at which unemployment usually became acute, and the president told his caller he had no reports of widespread business depression, but to the contrary had reports that conditions throughout the country were rapidly growing more encouraging.

Seek Practical Answer.

"Anyone who fails to realize that conditions are about the same in the labor market now as they are generally at this season each year," Mrs.

HOLD HEARINGS ON SUFFRAGE IN BOSTON

Legislative Committee at Work on Proposed Amendment.

Boston, Feb. 16.—The largest room in the state house was set aside today for hearings on woman suffrage. The committee on constitutional amendments divided the time equally between speakers favoring and opposing the five bills pending in the house for a constitutional amendment to strike the word "male" from the qualifications of voters.

Should the legislature pass any of the bills it would be necessary to have the passage reaffirmed by the next session of the legislature before the question of adopting the constitutional amendment could be submitted directly to the voters.

HAITIEN REBELS ARE LOSERS IN BATTLES

President Zainor's Northern Troops Achieve Two Victories.

Cape Haitien, Feb. 16.—Two victories were won yesterday by the armies sent to the north by President Orestes Zamor to suppress the revolution under the leadership of Senator Davilmar Theodore.

The first success was gained at Plaisance, a town on the road from Gonaives to Cape Haitien, where a strong detachment of rebel troops was routed.

The second encounter took place at Port De Paix, which had been in the hands of the rebels since the outbreak of the revolution, but which was reoccupied by the government troops today. Gen. Carlos Zamor, minister of the interior and a brother of the new president, is in command.

SAY RIGHTS ARE INVADED

Three Houghton Deputies Convicted By Jury of Manslaughter.

FIFTEEN YEARS FOR GUILTY DEPUTIES.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Flannigan today sentenced James Cooper, Arthur Davis, William Groff and Edwin Polkinghorn, convicted yesterday of manslaughter in the Seeberville case, to Marquette prison, recommending a maximum of fifteen years for the first three and twelve for the last, because of the jury's recommendation for clemency in his case.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prepared to hear testimony from striking copper miners to support their charge that the constitutional rights of citizens have been invaded by the mine owners, the congressional committee today began its second week of inquiry into strike conditions.

Counsel for the Western Federation of Miners were unprepared to state today how much more testimony they hope to present to the committee. When attorneys for the mine owners begin their case, the hearings probably will be transferred to Houghton. They are now being held here at the request of the miners.

Three Deputies Convicted.

Sentence will be passed today on the three Waddell-Mahon guards and deputy sheriffs who were found guilty of manslaughter for the killing of Steve Putrich, a striker, by a jury in Judge Flannigan's court at Houghton yesterday. Harry James, another deputy sheriff, was acquitted on instructions from the court.

The men convicted were James Cooper, Arthur Davis, William Groff

PRESIDENT WILSON IS BACK AT HIS DESK

Hoarseness Is Only Sign Left of Severe Cold.

Washington, Feb. 16.—President Wilson was back at his desk in the executive offices today, somewhat hoarse, but apparently recovered from the cold which kept him in bed some time last week.

ATLANTIC RATE WAR IS FINISHED

Berlin, Feb. 16.—It was announced today that the general managers of the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd steamship lines, Albert Ballin and Phillip Heineken, met as guests of Emperor William at dinner at the imperial palace last evening. The announcement is regarded generally as putting a final touch to the reconciliation between the companies.

The emperor, as soon as he learned that negotiations had been opened between the lines, telegraphed to both managers his appreciation of their efforts to bring about peace and invited them to dine with him on their return to Berlin.

EXPERTS FIND BOOKS OF KENNEDY ALL IN PERFECT CONDITION

No Motive for New York State Treasurer's Suicide Is Found.

Brooding Over Whitman Investigation May Have Affected Mind.

Election of Successor By Legislature Promises Complications.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Accountants from the comptroller's office today reported, after examining the books of State Treasurer Kennedy, that they were in perfect condition. The examination today went back only to last Monday, but at that time they were balanced by the same man who made the audit today, and pronounced correct.

A complete audit of the books from the time Mr. Kennedy took office up to the date of his death probably will follow.

Killed Himself in Buffalo.

Mr. Kennedy killed himself yesterday at the Markeen hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., where he lived with his wife, son and daughter. He cut his throat with his razor in a lavatory adjoining the ballroom of the hotel. The body was found by his son.

While it is thought that no irregularities exist, a complete statement of the condition of the state's money will be prepared.

All the state officials today expressed grief over Mr. Kennedy's death and sent sympathetic messages to his family.

Mr. Kennedy's successor will be cho-

CONGRESS MAY BE THROUGH JUNE 15

Adjournment on That Date Hoped for By the Leaders.

Washington, Feb. 16.—June 15 is the date Democratic leaders hope to adjourn congress. President Wilson believes the senate and house may work at the same time on the trust bills. He told callers today business men now were showing a greater interest in the new legislation and that in many cases it was a very helpful interest. That interest, however, is not so active as he had expected, and he attributed that to the fact that business men have discussed the character of legislation and that the measures in a general way meet their approval.

The president, incidentally, remarked today that many objections to the publicity features of the trade commission bill were based on a misconception of what the bureau of corporations already could do by present statutes. The president sees little difference in the interstate trade commission and the present bureau of corporations, which will be merely enlarged by the forthcoming legislation. It already has broad powers of inquisition.

EBERHART REGIME IS IN GRAVE DANGER OF DEFEAT AT PRIMARIES

The opposition again divided, the renomination of Eberhart was a foregone conclusion. Two years ago Mr. Eberhart won out with 38 per cent of the vote because the opposition was split, and here it was all nicely split again. Iverson, Lee and Peterson were after the nomination, and their contending only meant another division of the opposition, another foisting of Eberhart and his circle upon the state of Minnesota.

Then came the talk of an elimination conference. At first it was a tiny cloud, no larger than the traditional man's hand. Then it grew and spread and its hue blackened, until today it overcasts the Eberhart skies, and the organization is in a panic, crying shrilly and running around in circles.

For the fact is that the elimination conference looks now as though it were going to be not only a success, but a huge success. Nobody thought, at first, that it would amount to anything. Nobody thought those who had entered the field would consent to submit their cases to the conference. Yet Lee and Iverson already have done so, and news comes from Minneapolis that Jim Peterson is going to.

The conference plan has good and able leadership. Its motives are beyond challenge. Men like Jake Jacob-

FERRY IS ICE-BOUND IN LAKE ERIE---THIRTY-TWO IN PERIL

Dynamite Fails to Free Craft in Ice.

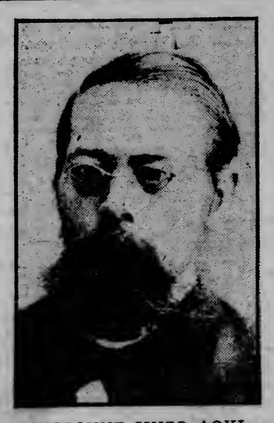

Fuel Supply Nearly Exhausted and Crew May Freeze.

Ashtabula, Ohio, Feb. 16.—Thirty-two men are in peril aboard the Marquette & Bessemer No. 2 car ferry, fast in the ice two miles off this port. The big ferryboat has been stuck since Saturday afternoon, and at noon today had not been released, despite the use of large quantities of dynamite in an effort to break the ice.

Unless the craft is freed within a few hours its fuel supply will be exhausted and the crew will be in danger of freezing.

The car ferry started from this harbor for Conneaut, its home port. It had been at the shipyard of the Great Lakes Engineering works here for several days, undergoing repairs, and received orders to get to Conneaut and prepare to go back into service between that port and Canada, March 1.

FORMER AMBASSADOR FROM JAPAN IS DEAD

VISCOUNT SIUZO AOKI.

Tokio, Feb. 16.—Viscount Siuzo Aoki, former Japanese ambassador to the United States, died today. The news that the famous diplomat was critically ill became publicly known only a few hours before his death occurred, though it was known that he had been ailing for some time past.

ARBITRATION THEME IN COAL WAGE TALK

May Be Settled Before the Men's Demands Are Considered.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 16.—When the joint conference of the representatives of the operators and miners of the central competitive bituminous resumed deliberations today in the effort to arrange a new wage scale for Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, it was expected that the question of arbitration would be settled before discussion of the demands presented by the men was resumed. Arbitration was under discussion when the conference adjourned Saturday.

The miners had asked the operators to indorse the action of the union, which is on record to continue work after April 1 if negotiations for a new wage scale were still pending. The operators want the miners to agree to refer all questions not settled by April 1 to a board of arbitration. It was said that the operators would strenuously oppose the plan for a complete check-off for the miners' organization through the offices of the coal companies.

ARRESTS TO FOLLOW POLISH CHURCH RIOT

Threats to Murder Police Are Made at South Bend, Ind.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 16.—Indications today are that from 200 to 250 persons will be arrested and charged with contempt of court as a result of rioting near St. Casimir's Polish Catholic church Sunday, when Sheriff Edward Swanson attempted to install Rev. Stanislaus Gruza as pastor.

That further trouble is expected is shown by threats emanating from the west side to the effect that attempts will be made on the lives of police in the squad around the church Sunday. That many persons were not killed yesterday was due to the fact that the police were diplomatic enough to withhold a display of firearms, realizing that two-thirds of the mob were armed.

Seven persons were seriously injured and nearly 100 others hurt in the riot, which occurred when twenty-five policemen attempted to aid Sheriff Swanson in carrying out the order of Judge W. A. Funk of the circuit court that Father Gruza be placed in charge of St. Casimir's church.

About 2,000 in Mob.

The mob was composed of about 2,000 men and women, and after fighting two hours, they were successful in blocking the efforts of Father Gruza to take possession of the church.

Father Gruza was transferred to the parish a year ago, but the parishioners refused to accept him. The members of the 600 families in the parish then took charge of the church and barred the doors and windows and petitioned the bishop to assign them another priest. This was refused and the matter taken into the circuit court, where Judge Funk ordered the sheriff to place Father Gruza in charge of the church. Early Sunday the sheriff, a deputy and the priest drove to the church, but were immediately surrounded and the police were called upon for aid. Twenty-five patrolmen were sent to the church and the doors broken open. The angry parishioners then charged the officers and the battle was fought in the street.

FIVE PER CENT RATE RAISE HALTED AGAIN

Commerce Commission Suspends It Until Next September.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The proposed 5 per cent freight rate advances by Eastern railroads, suspended by the interstate commerce commission until March 15, pending investigation, were again suspended by the commission today until Sept. 12.

The commission today resumed formal hearings.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER DIES OF INJURIES

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 16.—Thomas Cox, former county treasurer of Brown county, died in a hospital here last night from injuries sustained when he fell from a train. Cox faced forgery charges in Mount Sterling, totalling $1,600, and a deputy sheriff had come here to arrest him.

MORE SNOW FALLS IN NEW YORK CITY

Weather Is Warmer Than on Saturday--Illinois Man Freezes.

New York, Feb. 16.—Snow continued to fall over Greater New York and environs today, adding to the layer of nearly ten inches which fell during Saturday's blizzard. The temperature at 9 a. m. was 17 deg. above zero.

Man Frozen to Death.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 16.—Last night George Benci, a Hungarian laborer, froze to death on the streets. The thermometer registered 5 below zero—the coldest of the year.

WILSON CONFIDENT OF TOLL ACT REPEAL

Has Heard of No Concerted Opposition to the Proposal.

Washington, Feb. 16.—As a result of recent conferences with senate leaders, President Wilson is confident the exemption provision in the Panama canal act will be repealed promptly. The president has heard of no concerted opposition and expects early action, he told callers today.

NAVAL TUG ABANDONED

Had Been Helpless Since Feb. 5 When on Rescue Trip.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 16.—The United States naval tug Potomac, held fast in the ice floes of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, was abandoned Saturday night by the thirty-six officers and men of her crew, according to advices received here today from Bonne Bay, where the crew landed safely.

The tug was driven seaward before yesterday's gale and soon disappeared from sight. The ice was piled so high about the vessel that it was feared she would be crushed under the pressure.

Supplies were taken over the ice to the Potomac on Saturday and Boatswain Wilkinson, her commander, was prepared to remain on board as long as there was any prospect of saving the craft. He reported at that time to the navy department that the tug was in great danger of being crushed. Later adverse weather conditions made it imperative to abandon the ship.

POLICE ARE AFTER VAGS

No-Good Residents Rounded Up and Sent to Work Farm.

Nine men were arrested in the last twenty-four hours on charges of vagrancy, this being the beginning of a campaign by the police to get the vagrants off the streets. Most of them refuse to work, the police say.

It is also the plan of the judges in police court to show no leniency whatever to these men and to send them all out to the work farm.

Of the nine men arraigned before Judge Cutting this morning, six pleaded guilty, one was found guilty and the other two, pleading not guilty, will be tried this afternoon. Dan McFadden, 61 years old, was found guilty and was sentenced to serve thirty days. John Latin, 37, and Edward Mattson, 42, will be tried this afternoon.

The six guilty prisoners sentenced to serve terms on the farm include George Pesonen, 31; John Borgeson, 38; Christ Gilbert, 62, and Erick Lundberg, 39, who were each given thirty days. Peter Berg, 32, and Jens Jensen, 30, were each given two months.

WORST UNDECIDED ON SENATORSHIP

North Dakotan Expected to Make Definite Statement Soon.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—"I have not yet had time to give full consideration to the senatorial matter, as there are many sides to the proposition which will not admit of hasty judgment. I expect, however, to make a statement within a reasonable time in which I will outline my position."

The foregoing statement was made this morning by President Worst of the North Dakota Agricultural college when he was informed that Attorney General Miller had formally announced his candidacy for the senatorship, and Mr. Worst was asked for a statement.

President Worst was asked by the Tristate Grain Growers' convention to become a senatorial candidate.

It is generally conceded that with Miller and Gronna fighting for the nomination, the chances for Worst securing the place are very bright. There is little to indicate what Worst's final decision will be. At the big convention he announced he would make the race if really convinced the people of the state were earnestly back of his candidacy.

FALLS INTO WELL.

North Dakotan Clings to Scantling and Is Saved.

Munich, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Precipitated into a well, with water sixteen feet deep, Marshal James McKinnon narrowly escaped and is in critical condition at his home.

McKinnon grasped a scantling about a foot over the water, and called lustily for help. It was some time before he attracted the attention of a passerby, and he was badly frozen and nearly exhausted when lifted to the surface.

NOBODY WILL BE MISSED

All Denominations Unite In "Go to Church Sunday" Movement.

Every Person in Duluth and on Ranges Will Get Invitation.

"Go to church Sunday."

Those four words will be in the spot light in Duluth and on the range the whole of this week. They will stare at you from the newspapers; you will see them when you open parcels from the laundry, grocery and department store; they will blaze out on the screens of the theaters; be stamped on mail sent out from business houses, and thousands of tags will be handed out by church and Sunday school committees stationed at the street corners. In all 57,000 of these tags bearing those four letters will be in evidence in Duluth this week.

The idea back of this campaign is to arouse the interest of the whole population in church going, and next Sunday, Washington's birthday, has been selected as the "go to church" day for the Zenith City and the ranges.

This movement, which has already been set in motion in many other large cities with great success, is meeting equal interest here. All denominations in Duluth are co-operating, and definite plans for the week's program were launched at the various churches yesterday. Committees were appointed and details of the work assigned to each.

Fifty-seven thousand tags bearing the slogan were put out by the churches and Sunday schools at the regular services.

Tags will be distributed this week by committees from Bible classes representing four of the churches, as follows: First Baptist, Swedish temple, First Methodist Episcopal and Union.

Ten thousand stickers similar in form to the Red Cross Christmas seal, inscribed with the slogan "Go to Church Sunday" will be given to the business houses to place on mailing matter during the week. The distribution of the stickers is in charge of the First Baptist church.

Representatives from the First Christian church will visit the proprietors of all restaurants and cafes and ask to have the slogan printed on the bills of fare.

Henry E. Voight of the First M. E. church will dispose of 20,000 tags among the merchants for use in parcels.

J. J. Moe of the First Norwegian M. E. church will see the advertising merchants to secure their aid. Each merchant will be asked to place the slogan in his ad in the daily papers.

Rev. W. H. Farrell, Sidney Morterud, Louis Wade and Nicholas George will arrange with the theaters to have the campaign advertised on the picture screens.

FARGO'S CHIEF OF POLICE EXONERATED

Charge Preferred By Equity Head Are Not Sustained.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Fargo city commission, which, on a petition by J. M. Anderson, president of the Equity Cooperative exchange, investigated the charges made against Chief of Police Bingham by Anderson, reported today, completely exonerating the chief.

Messrs. Stern and Blakemore of the commission and City Attorney Smith were the committee. Smith and Stern made the report, in which Blakemore concurred, although with some reservations.

Their report states there was nothing to indicate that the chief of police did not endeavor to preserve order, and that Anderson's charge of personal assault was disproved by his own witness. The trouble grew out of the riot the night of Jan. 23 between the cooperators and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce men for the possession of the Auditorium, which the chamber had rented for the evening and the cooperators persisted in occupying.

APPROVED BY CONGRESS

Project for Soo Dam Has Also Passed Secretary of War.

Tawney's Letter Discloses Startling Situation--"Railroaded," Says McDougall.

The letter received Saturday afternoon by the Marshall-Wells Hardware company from Former Congressman Tawney, now chairman of the American division of the international joint commission, and which was announced as coming by The Herald's Washington correspondent, uncovers the fact that there have been some very mysterious doings in connection with the application of a power company to dam the Soo river for power purposes. The dam has been authorized by congress and the plan approved by the secretary of war.

The Herald was the first to draw to the attention of the business interests of the city the fact that an application had been made by the Michigan Northern Power company and by the Algoma company for permission to dam the river. This was brought to The Herald's attention by reason of the fact that Capt. E. D. Peek, United States engineer in charge of this district, was sending out to business houses, dock owners, etc., requests for them to state what effect they would be on their business and structures were the level of Lake Superior raised from 1 to 1.92 feet. The Marshall-Wells company was the first concern to reply, and told Capt. Peek that as its basement floor is only twelve inches above the level of 1913, a raise of one foot would leave the floor awash, and a raise of two feet would flood the basement.

Just why the matter was never brought to the attention of Duluth business interests before is a question that many here would like to have answered. Capt. Alex McDougall denies that the interview credited to him in yesterday morning's paper, charging the local engineer's office with laxity, was authentic. He says that he knows well enough that the local office is not to be charged with laxity. Said he:

Railroaded Through.

"It seems to me that the chief engineer of the United States army has shown indifference or laxity in not notifying our senators, if he did not do so. If he did so, and they failed to take action or to notify us in Duluth then they are to blame. I believe that Congressman Miller was absent in the Philippines when this matter was put through. It was certainly done very silently, and I don't like the conditions connected with it. It is strange that one of the places most vitally interested, if not absolutely the most vitally interested, was not notified until the matter had been railroaded through."

Capt. E. D. Peek is absent from the city, but James L. Owen, chief clerk of the United States engineer office at this point, said that the only connection with the affair that this office has had, was when it was asked by the Detroit office, which has the Soo in its jurisdiction, to make the inquiries of business interests here that have already been mentioned.

"We have nothing to do with it," said Mr. Owens this morning. "The letter received from Mr. Tawney by the Marshall-Wells people, gives us all the information we have received. In a letter received within the last few days from Col. Patrick, the engineer in charge at the Detroit office, the colonel declares that a careful investigation indicates that the compensating works would serve to maintain a stage of water about as it has been and would prevent any fluctuation in the level from being much more marked than it naturally is. I take it from that that the colonel figures that compensating works of adequate capacity are considered in connection with the damming project. The suggested one to 1.92 feet raise of level was a mere question, and used for a basis on which the inquiry of business interests should be made."

Julius H. Barnes and G. Roy Hall, of the Commercial club's traffic commission, left for Washington last night to attend a hearing before the interstate commerce commission, but while there Mr. Barnes intends looking into this dam matter, seeing the congressmen and senators from this state and from Wisconsin. He declared that he will appoint a strong delegation from the public affairs committee of which he is chairman to represent the city before the international joint commission. It is also announced that almost every wholesale house in the city, the marine interests and the city commission will have delegations at the hearing on March 9.

Tawney's Letter.

The letter from Chairman James A. Tawney of the commission, to the Marshall-Wells Hardware company, follows:

"The copy of the circular letter from Capt. Peek, United States corps of engineers, Duluth, Minn., together with your letter addressed to Capt. Peek in reply, relating to the effect of the proposed obstruction and diversion of the waters of the St. Mary's river at the Soo has been forwarded to me by Senator Nelson. I note your objection to the proposed obstruction and also the ground upon which the same is based. If the effect will be to raise the level of Lake Superior about two feet as claimed in the circular letter of Capt. Peek's, I can readily appreciate the effect of such rise upon the property interests, not only in Duluth, but all along the lake.

"This proposed obstruction has been authorized by congress. The plans for it have been finally approved by the secretary of war, and the secretary of war has leased to the Michigan Northern Power company the right to use the water diverted by this obstruction for power purposes for a term of thirty years at an annual rental of about $66,000.

"Under the authority of the Canadian government the Algoma Steel corporation proposes to obstruct and divert the waters of the same river on the Canadian side and for the same purposes.

"Under the treaty between Great Britain and the United States promulgated May 5, 1910, neither company can obstruct the waters of this river as proposed and as authorized by both governments without first obtaining the approval of the international joint commission. For that purpose the Michigan Northern Power company filed its application something over a month ago. To the application of the Michigan Northern company, the Dominion government and the province of Ontario have filed statements in response. At a meeting of the international point commission on Jan. 13, here in Washington, the Michigan Northern Power company applied for a continuance of the hearing on account of the absence of important witnesses and the hearing was continued to March 9, both governments acquiescing in the continuance. This case will, therefore, come on for trial before this commission March 9. The place at which the hearing will be held has not been definitely determined, owing to the recent death of the wife of Mr. Casgrain, chairman of the commission in Canada.

"I herewith enclose a copy of rules of procedure of the commission and a copy of the treaty. You will observe that under rule 13 you and all other parties claiming to be injured by the granting of the prayer of the applicant in this case have a right to appear and be heard. If it is your desire or the desire of any one to participate in the examination of the witnesses and to offer testimony, it will be necessary under this rule 13 for you or your counsel to obtain the consent of the secretary of state of the United States for that purpose. The decision of the commission in this case as you will note is, under article 8 of the treaty, final.

"As soon as the place for the hearing is decided you will be notified."

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross Drug store, 13 West Superior street.

CLUB LIFE FOR THE WORKINGMAN

Plan to Develop It on a Large Scale in London.

London, Feb. 16.—Club life for the workingman is to be developed on a large scale in London. A central labor palace is to be erected at a cost of over $250,000 which in addition to providing meeting halls for the trades unions is to include a moving picture theater for the display of labor scenes. A large organ and orchestra will play music written around the pictures. Arrangements have been made with unions in France, Belgium and Germany for the exchange of films, a pool of $50,000 having been formed for this purpose. There are also to be dining rooms, where orchestras will play during meals, a smoking lounge and other comforts of a first rate club. One of the chief features will be stores where provisions of all kinds will be sold to members, and at times of strikes giving away instead of strike pay.

The promoters believe that the undertaking will pay its own way. The scheme has the official support of the London Trades council, which represents 120 unions, with a membership of 200,000. It is expected that many other unions, especially the smaller ones, now outside the jurisdiction of the council, will join.

Court Closes Pool Rooms.

Portal, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Injunctions have been issued by Judge Leighton closing the pool rooms of Bazil Zemi, William Anderson and W. A. Hurly under the new anti-gambling law. These are the first places in this county closed under the law, and gambling is alleged to have been discovered in all the places by Rev. Mr. Watkins and his assistants of the Enforcement league.

MAY DOUBLE LICENSE.

Marquette Saloon Keepers Said to Be on Anxious Seat.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The liquor dealers of Marquette are facing the possibility that the annual fee for the privilege of transacting business will be raised from $500 to $1,000. The possibility lies in the prospect that it will be held ten of the thirty-three existing saloons exist illegally and it will be necessary to increase the fee to provide against loss of revenue to the city. Investigation by the new city commission has disclosed what the city attorney believes is a failure of many liquor men in past years to meet the technical requirements of the state law and that therefore there was a voluntary surrender on their part of their licenses. Should this view also be taken by the attorney general, Marquette will be entitled to only one saloon for each 500 of population and its number of barrooms will be cut to twenty-three. In that event, a $1,000 fee is in prospect. The attorney general has been asked to rule on the question.

FOUR INJURED WHILE COASTING

Bobsled Strikes Guy Wire While Going at Terrific Speed.

Four young West Duluth people are nursing sprains and bruises and thanking their lucky stars that they are alive, after an accident while coasting down Olney street Saturday evening. The sled struck a guy wire when an attempt was made to go between two poles in turning off from Eighth street to Fifty-seventh avenue.

The injured are: Miss Marion McLymans, ankle sprained and bruised arm; Chesley Baker, bruised arm and leg and skin torn from his lower limbs; Clifford Bujold, skin torn off his right leg to his knee; Eldon Morris, eye and face badly bruised and lacerated.

The young people, seven in all, started down from Bay View Heights on a bobsled. They followed Olney street, and on striking Eighth street were going too fast to attempt a reasonable turn to Fifty-seventh avenue. In order to avoid striking a telephone pole, Clifford Bujold, who was steering, decided to go between the two poles on the corner.

A guy wire from one of the poles was stretched across the path, and this threw the party in the air, wrecking the sled and injuring four of the party. Those injured were taken to the Duluth hospital, where their injuries were dressed. All were then taken home.

DECIDES TO STAND TRIAL

Tony Mikrut Will Take His Chances With a Jury.

After debating with himself for several days on the question of whether he would stand trial on the charge of first degree assault or plead guilty to a charge of assault in the second degree, Tony Mikrut, held for a shooting affair in a Raleigh street saloon last month, has made up his mind. He will take his chances with a jury.

In court before Judge Cant Saturday, Mikrut announced that he had decided to stand trial. A week before he had notified the county attorney's office that he would, if permitted, plead guilty to the lesser offense. After he had been brought into court, however, he balked and asked for more time to consider. He was brought into court Saturday and at that time announced that he would stand pat on the not guilty plea.

He will probably be brought to trial next week. Mukrut is charged with having fired three bullets at Martin Fajeditch, a Raleigh street saloon keeper, after the latter had refused to give him a drink. Fajeditch fortunately escaped injury.

WOULD RECOVER FOR LOST HORSES

Suit pFor Damages Against Contracting Firm Now On Trial.

Runquist & Barnard, contractors, are defendants in an action brought to trial in district court today by Alfred G. Mealey of Eau Claire, Wis., who is seeking to recover $1,250, the alleged value of four horses which had been taken over by the defendants.

Mealey, the evidence disclosed, had rented two teams of horses and equipment to P. McDonnell, who was a sub-contractor under Runquist & Barnard on the Spirit Lake Transfer Railway company job. When obliged by reason of financial difficulties to abandon the work last July, McDonnell turned the horses over to the general contractors. The animals later died. It is claimed that they were not accorded proper care.

B. M. Goldberg is attorney for the plaintiff and Fryberger, Fulton & Spear are representing the firm of Runquist & Barnard.

GETS DIVORCE AND RESUMES MAIDEN NAME

In district court Saturday afternoon Emella Impola, 27, was granted a divorce from Abram Impola, $0, on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Impola was allowed to resume her maiden name, that of Mottonen. The Impolas were married at Ironwood, Mich., July 3, 1902, and lived together for ten years, when he deserted at Ely, Minn. They are parents of four children, who are now wards of the state in the state public school at Owatonna.

Judge Cant, who reviewed the testimony in the divorce action pending between Selma Johnson and Otto Johnson Saturday, took the case under advisement. A decree is asked for on the grounds of desertion.

Victor H. Gran, plaintiff in a divorce action brought against his wife, Olga Gran, was ordered by Judge Bert Fesler Saturday to pay his wife $10 a week temporary alimony and $10 attorney's fees.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

MANY ENJOY WINTER SPORT

Devotees of Outdoor Life Turn Out En Masse on Sunday.

Horse Racing, Skiing, Coasting, and Snow Runs Are All Popular.

With horse races on the bay yesterday, skating in the various rinks of the city, tobogganing at the Duluth Ski club, and snowshoe runs over the country, and ski tramps, the votaries of outdoor sports had their fill of various kinds of outdoor amusement.

On the bay the cream of the horses wintering here started in the free-for-all pace for the medal donated by the American Horse Shoe company. For some reason time was not taken on the three heats of the mile pace, but the race was one of the best that has been witnessed here in several seasons.

Dean Oakley led from the start, the others being much behind. Coming down the stretch to the wire the Dean nag was let out a little and opened up daylight between the rear of its sulky and the nearest competitor, the hard-coming Maxie C. Maxie C made a grand and game finish in each of the three races, but lacked the finishing power to overtake the speedy Dean Oakley.

Crowd at Ski Club.

The largest crowd of the season was at the Duluth Ski club grounds. The two toboggan slides were in use most of the afternoon, and some of the amateur ski riders of the city took life in their hands and tried the large ski hill.

Over the hills and the various roads of the city went numerous couples on long ski tramps. The weather was ideal for out of doors sports, being neither too cold nor too warm, and those who love outdoor sports were not slow to take advantage of the ideal conditions.

All of the skating rinks of the city were crowded. The seven public skating rinks enjoyed the largest patronage of the season. From West Duluth to Lakeside the rinks were crowded, and the skaters remained until late in the evening.

The lake was dotted with ice boats and skaters. The ice "scooter" Demon IV owned by Fritz Carlson was also out.

MORE RUMORS OF FEDERAL PLANS

Chicago, Feb. 16.—President Gilmore reached town today from the East with a check for $25,000 given by R. D. Ward of the new Brooklyn Federal league club, who asked that the president use it to get him a manager and a player.

Gilmore refused to say that any change in the makeup of the league would result from his interview with Fred Bramley at Cleveland yesterday, but rumors reached the city with the league president that the Buffalo franchise might be transferred to Cleveland.

None of the Federal leaders would discuss the report that an agent of theirs had approached Mike Doolin, the Philadelphia National's shortstop, at Nice. A Chicago paper printed the story which was sent by its correspondent with the world tourists, Crawford and Speaker are other tourists said to have been offered positions with the Federals.

HAMMOND MAY NOT ASK FOR RE-ELECTION

Admits Talking With Fred Lynch About the Governorship.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 16.—Representative W. S. Hammond today indicated that he might not run for congress again in the Second Minnesota district, notwithstanding the prospect that he could be re-elected without any particular trouble or effort on his part.

"I am not sure whether I shall run for any office this year," is the way Hammond put his declaration.

Mr. Hammond's statement was made in the course of a discussion of a report that Fred B. Lynch, Democratic national committeeman from Minnesota, has come to Washington to urge Hammond to run for the governorship. Neither Hammond nor Lynch would make any statement relative to the report, but it was admitted that the governorship was talked about. Hammond has promised his friends in Minnesota that he will make a statement on the governorship in the next month.

Mr. Lynch is going to New York tonight and will return to Minnesota the latter part of this week.

WILL MEET HERE TWO YEARS HENCE

The Socialists Finish State Convention in Brainerd —Van Lear Bolts.

W. E. Towne returned this morning from Brainerd, where, as delegate, he attended the state convention of the Socialist party, as it is now to be known. Of chief interest here was the fact that the convention decided to hold its next convention, two years hence, in Duluth. The convention began on Saturday morning, continued all of that day and yesterday and did not adjourn until after 1 o'clock this morning. The radical element controlled, Mr. Towne said today, the Finnish delegates being in the majority.

It was decided to submit to a referendum the proposition of moving the party-owned paper, the Minnesota Socialist, from Bemidji to Duluth.

Another proposition involving Duluth was the resolution to move the state Socialist headquarters from Minneapolis to Duluth. As this was reported on late last night and everything that could be thrown overboard was being given the Jonah treatment because of the lateness of the hour, this resolution was tabled. Thomas Van Lear, habitual candidate for mayor of Minneapolis, then arose and declaring that the tabling of this resolution savored of gag rule, he walked from the hall.

The following nominations were made for state offices: For governor, T. J. Lewis of St. Paul, official lecturer of the party; for lieutenant-governor, Andrew Hanson of North Minneapolis; and for attorney general, A. L. Geist of Minneapolis.

A committee was appointed to arrange for a unity conference with the Socialist Labor party, with the object in view of uniting the two. The platform adopted was very brief and merely pledged the candidates to look after the interests of the laboring man.

CORPS OF BUYERS WILL VISIT NEW YORK

Peck, secretary and treasurer; Mr. Callan, of the silk and dress goods department; Mr. Ebar, of the linen and white goods department; Mr. Mccalson, of the rug and drapery department; Miss Du Seele, of the coat and suit department; Miss Pembroke, of the lace and trimming department; Miss Ryan, of the jewelry and neckwear department; Mrs. Thompson, of the art department and baby shop.

Miss Williams, of the millinery department, went to the Eastern markets some time ago and is expected home in a few days.

$250,000 FOR ARMY AERIAL DEPARTMENT

Washington, Feb. 16.—The army appropriation, aggregating $94,000,000 as reported today, is $10,733,585 under estimates and $72,000 below the current army appropriation. The signal service gets $700,000, including a maximum of $250,000 for airships.

DRAFT NEW BILL ON TRADE COMMISSION

Washington, Feb. 16.—Hearings on the interstate trade commission bill before the house committee on commerce were closed today and a subcommittee was named to frame an entirely new measure, which will better meet the views of President Wilson and some of those who have been heard.

Wednesday the committee will begin hearings on the bill to empower the interstate commerce commission to regulate issues of stocks and bonds by railroads.

GRANT PETITIONS IN THREE ESTATES

Judge Gilpin Clears Way for Administration to Divide Properties.

Petitions for administrations were granted in three estates by Judge Gilpin in probate court this morning.

A. Castigliano was appointed as administrator of the estate of Antonio Motta, also known as Antonio Monte, who was killed recently at the Uno mine near Hibbing. The administrator will bring an action to recover for the alleged wrongful death of Motta.

Mrs. Christopher Walin was named by the court as administratrix of the estate of her husband, a Midway farmer, whose death occurred a few weeks ago. Walin left a forty-acre farm and other property valued at $4,000.

John McGuire was granted letters of administration on the estate of his brother, Alexander McGuire, who died recently at Virginia leaving an estate of $1,200. An effort is now being made to locate the wife of the decedent. They separated a number of years ago and if she can be found she will receive the greater part of the estate.

The will of Rudolph Hantzch, Brookston farmer, who died, Jan. 4, at St. Mary's hospital in this city, was admitted to probate and descent of land was determined by the court in the estate of Sophie Hellwig. In the latter estate, fifty acres of farm land in the town of New Independence reverts to a sister and brother who are now living on the property.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HOLDING CONTEST

An attendance contest was inaugurated yesterday by the Sunday school classes of all the Presbyterian churches of the city.

The classes have been divided into two groups, and the one with the larger attendance at the close of the contest will win the honors of the city and incidentally a dinner to be served by the losing side.

The Sunday schools of the Glen Avon, Highland, Hazelwood, Westminster and House of Hope Presbyterian churches have been organized into one group, and their total attendance yesterday was 735, just twenty-one lower than the attendance of the second group, which includes the schools of the First, Endion Mission and Second Presbyterian churches.

Open Bids for Pipe.
The water and light department will open bids this afternoon for pipe which will be used the coming year for water and gas extensions. The bids are based on estimated quantities and more or less may be purchased during the year, according to the needs of the department. It is stated that the cost of the pipe will run from $25,000 to $30,000. It is expected that competition will be keen, as a number of bids have been received.

Wants $4,000 Damages.
For injuries which Mrs. Olive J. Peck received in a fall on an alleged defective sidewalk on the east side of Eleventh avenue west between Superior and Michigan streets, Sept. 21 last, damages in the amount of $4,000 are asked in two lawsuits which are being tried before a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court today. Mrs. Peck asks for $3,000 in one action and in the other, Randall W. Peck, her husband, is suing for $1,000. It is claimed that her left leg was seriously injured in the fall.

Is Improving.
Wallace Carpenter of 4344 Minnesota avenue, who was scalded while pouring hot water on a pump in the yard of his home last week, is reported very much improved. He is expected to be able to leave his home the latter part of this week.

Grape Fruit.
Insist on the Black Diamond Brand.

Passed Worthless Checks.
Albert Hinkley, who was arrested in Superior yesterday on a charge of passing worthless checks, may be brought to Duluth tomorrow to answer a similar charge. He is to be tried there this afternoon and the action of the local police depends on the outcome of his trial. He is accused of passing a worthless check on the American Exchange National bank by signing the name of Forrest Maloney, proprietor of the Cody hotel in West Duluth.

Arrested for Larceny.
Robert Salo, 38 years old, was arrested by Patrolman Youngstrom yesterday morning on a charge of petit larceny preferred against him by John Maki. Maki claims that Salo stole three five-dollar bills from him. The prisoner will be tried this afternoon.

Court Committee in Charge.
Following the regular meeting of Clan Stewart to be held Wednesday evening at the Foresters' hall, a program of songs and bagpipe playing and dancing will be rendered. The committee in charge of the entertainment consists of John G. Ross, Judge Frank Cutting, Cameron Hewitt and Peter McDonald.

Call Calendar.
Judge Windom will call the regular municipal court calendar tomorrow morning. The cases to be heard during the term are those of Rother vs. Mayhew, Harmon vs. Simard, and Redman vs. Oreck & Sons.

Anoka Man Insane.
Max Tramen, 43 years old, was found wandering about on Duluth Heights Saturday afternoon by Patrolman Grinager and was later brought to police headquarters, where an examination by Police Surgeon Murphy caused the latter to believe Thramen to be insane. The case has been referred to the probate court. Tramen gives his home as Anoka, Minn.

Key Ticklers Will Dance.
The Western Union employes in Duluth will give their second annual ball next Friday evening at Coffin's hall. About 500 invitations have been issued. It is expected that the usual enjoyable evening will be spent, the affair of last year having proven a great success.

Booster Chairman to Talk.
Frank X. Gravell will go to Baudette on Thursday of this week to address a banquet given by the Baudette board of trade on that evening. Mr. Gravell was the guest of honor of the same body some time ago, on which occasion his address made such a hit that William Noonan of the Baudette Region has been commenting editorially on it ever since. Mr. Gravell was such a hit at that time that he was especially invited to attend the coming affair.

LOGGING FATALITIES.

Four Northern Michigan Lumberjacks Lose Their Lives.

Wakefield, Mich., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The toll of human lives claimed by mines of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan appears to be rivalled by those killed in the logging industry.

Recent fatalities in this line of work have cost the lives of four men:

John Mayette, a logging jobber, aged 35 and married, struck by a falling gin pole in Schoolcraft county.

Boost Restaurant Prices.
Marquette, Mich., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Due, it is announced, to the increased cost of provisions, five leading restaurants at Escanaba have raised their prices for dinners. The old rate was 25 cents. Patrons will now be charged 35 cents.

WHOLE FEE OR NOTHING

Jury's Verdict Must Give Plaintiff $100,000 Or Be For Defendant.

Nothing to Prevent a New Suit For Reasonable Value For Services.

Under a ruling made by Judge Dancer in district court this morning, the jury which is trying the lawsuit involving the claim of Spencer & Marshall against the Higgins Land company for $100,000 attorneys' fees, will be obliged to return a verdict for $100,000 or for nothing. If the jury finds an express contract for $100,000 was made, a verdict for the full amount must be returned. If such a contract was not made, a duty devolves upon the jury to return a verdict in favor of the company.

Judge Dancer ruled that no issue, other than that raised by the plaintiffs, would be litigated, unless by their consent. The only question now put at issue by Spencer & Marshall is whether or not an express contract for $100,000 was made. In its answer, the company denies that such a contract was made, but admits that a contract was made whereby the local attorneys were to be paid for the reasonable value of their services, contingent upon success. This, the court held, cannot be shown to the jury. The only question to be litigated is whether the $100,000 contract was made or not. Under this ruling, if the plaintiffs lose, they are not foreclosed from bringing another action on another theory of the case.

Kellogg on Stand.
The ruling of the court was made this morning while Frank B. Kellogg of Davis, Kellogg, Severance & Olds of St. Paul was on the stand. Mr. Kellogg was produced as a witness to testify for the defense on the proposition of what constituted a reasonable charge. Before he was allowed to answer an objection was made by W. D. Bailey of counsel for Spencer & Marshall and the court ruled out all testimony offered to prove the company's version of the contract.

Mr. Kellogg testified that he was familiar with the schedule of fees charged by attorneys and also declared that he was familiar in a general way with the nature of the litigation in which Spencer & Marshall were engaged. Mr. Kellogg represented the steel corporation which was on the other side of the case. The settlement of the case was made through Mr. Kellogg, representing the steel corporation, and Judge E. W. Hatch of New York, representing the Higgins Land company, fee owners. The suit involved the Higgins-Olcott lease. Spencer & Marshall were employed as local attorneys and had no hand in the settlement, according to Mr. Kellogg.

While Mr. Kellogg was on the stand this morning, H. B. Fryberger of counsel for the Higgins Land company, inquired of Mr. Bailey if he doubted Mr. Kellogg's qualifications to testify as to attorney's fees.

Ought to Know.
"He ought to be qualified. He has charged big enough ones," was the curt reply.

"Well, even at that, I think he has something to learn from these fellows," was Mr. Fryberger's retort.

Mr. Kellogg gave considerable testimony with reference to the steel corporation's policy in making leases. He claimed that the Olcott lease and others containing a clause whereby the steel corporation might hold up mining operations as long as it saw fit by paying the minimum royalty each year, could not be broken. He said that this had been his stand and that he still held to that opinion.

R. Hurd, secretary of the state tax commission, and an expert on iron ore figures, was called to the stand shortly before the noon adjournment for cross examination.

OBITUARY

Dr. Roswell Park, one of the best known surgeons in America, who was in charge after President McKinley was shot in 1901, died at his home in Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 15. The cause of death was heart disease. He was in perfect health up to within twenty minutes of the end. Dr. Park was born in Pomfret, Conn., in 1852.

John H. Harjes, for many years a partner in the banking house of Morgan, Harjes & Co. of Paris, died at Grasse, France, Feb. 15.

Rev. William P. Brett, a leading scholar of the Jesuit order, died in Boston, Feb. 15. He had been president of Woodstock college and Loyola college and vice president of Georgetown university.

Capt. William H. Hand, retired, died in New Bedford Mass., Feb. 15. In 1879, as navigating officer of the revenue cutter Corwin, he led the expedition in search of the government steamer Jeanette, commanded by Lieut. De Long, which was lost on the Lena Delta in Siberia.

Robert Moore, 91 years old, senior member of a New York firm of cotton brokers, died Feb. 14. The body will be taken to Cincinnati for burial.

FRAME CITY TICKET.

Socialists Name E. T. Harris for the Mayoralty Race.

At a meeting of the Socialist party held yesterday afternoon a full ticket was decided on for the spring election. Those who will make the run will be as follows: For mayor, Edwin T. Harris; commissioner, John P. Jensen; constable, J. P. Vincent; supervisors, First ward, Nels Olson; Third ward, Louis Olson; Fourth ward, H. M. Parks; Fifth ward, O. E. Eby; Sixth ward, P. M. Moran; Seventh ward, C. F. Eick; Eighth ward, A. G. Allen; Second, Ninth and Tenth, to be supplied.

CITY STARTS PROBE.

A squad of deputies from the city clerk's office will begin work tomorrow investigating the names of 497 signers to the recall petition, which was filed with the city clerk last week for the recall of Mayor Konkel. This number of names out of a total of 1,052 have not appeared on the poll lists. It is probable that all of these names may be all right but it is proposed to make a thorough investigation of them. The men back of the recall movement have again started circulating petitions in order to get more names if necessary to the petition.

Charged With Fraud.
Charles Cochran and Anna Lewis, colored, are held to the superior court on a charge of attempting to secure money under false pretenses. They were bound over under $300 bail. They are alleged to have found a bank book belonging to E. C. Stafford on which they attempted to raise money. Shortly after their arrest the owner of the bank book was arrested on a charge of being drunk. In default of bail the colored people are being held in jail.

Arrested in Elgin.
Martin Joyce and Andrew Pearson, both of Superior, were arrested in Elgin, Ill., and are being held as robber suspects. Particulars regarding the robbery have not been obtained by local friends of the young men. Joyce and Martin are well known in Superior.

MRS. BUFFUM ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Husband's Death Is Laid to Her--Confession Involves Farmer.

Little Valley, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Cynthia Buffum was placed on trial for murder here today. The indictment charges her with having killed her husband, Willis Buffum, by feeding him a slow-acting poison.

Buffum was taken ill July 4 and died Aug. 25. His body was exhumed Oct. 2 and an examination disclosed the nature of the poison used. A son, Norris, died in May, and a daughter, Lauro, died a few days ago from the same cause. All the other members of the family except Mrs. Buffum mysteriously became ill, but they recovered.

Mrs. Buffum made a confession two months ago of a plot looking to the destruction of her husband and her children. She implicated Ernest Frahm, a young farmer, who will be placed on trial later.

WILL INSIST ON LINES' DIVORCE

Traffic Commission Officers Will Appear Before Interstate Commerce Body.

Julius H. Barnes, chairman, and G. Ray Hall, secretary of the traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club, left last evening for Washington, D. C., where they will attend a hearing before the interstate commerce commission to be held tomorrow. This hearing concerns the application of the Pennsylvania railroad to be permitted to operate the Anchor line of steamers after July 1, at which time, under a law recently passed, all railroad and lake lines must be absolutely divorced. The New York Central has also applied for a similar privilege in connection with the Mutual and Western Transportation lines, but it is not known whether or not the latter case will come up for hearing tomorrow.

The Duluth traffic commission is opposed to having the requests granted and Messrs. Barnes and Hall will oppose the application before the interstate commerce commission.

PETERSON AND COE PART COMPANY

W. T. Coe of Minneapolis, political manager of James A. Peterson in his campaign for the United States senate, informed The Herald this afternoon that he and Mr. Peterson have severed connections chiefly for the reason that they cannot see Progressive Republicanism from the same point of view. Mr. Coe also announces that he is an out-and-out Bull Mooser this year.

He volunteered the information that he does not believe that Mr. Peterson will consent to be governed by the decision of the proposed elimination convention for governorship candidates, to be held in Minneapolis, March 19; but that he will still remain in the field. Others claim that they know that Mr. Peterson will consent to the conference's result.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

SAVAGE QUITS FURNACE COMPANY

Will Engage in Iron Mining Business For Himself.

On March 1 John A. Savage, for seven years general manager and director of the Shenango Furnace company, will sever his connection with the company to enter the iron mining business for himself. His successor has not yet been announced, but will be shortly.

During the time that Mr. Savage has had charge of the company's business in the Lake Superior district the complete preliminary work of development has been done. Mr. Savage, who has long desired to get into business for himself, would not quit until the development work had been completed. The Shenango, Whiteside and Webb mines on the Mesaba range have been put into working condition and the Shenango pit, one of the largest and deepest in the world, has been completely developed. This is considered a very large undertaking in mining circles.

Mr. Savage, or John A. Savage & Co., as the incorporation is called, will have offices at 1200 Alworth building. W. G. Whitney, auditor of the Shenango company, will go with Mr. Savage to be in charge of the office. Mr. Savage has large interests, and to handle them has just filed articles of incorporation, which are published in this evening's Herald.

TWO RAILROADS FILE REPORTS

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Chicago, Great Western Railway company today filed its report of gross earnings for the last six months of 1913 with the state tax commission, showing total receipts of $1,395,613.14, on which a tax of $69,780.66 will be paid. The earnings of the year were $2,535,356.24, and the tax $130,069.81.

During October, November and December, 1913, the Great Western, by direction of the Federal district court, put into effect the state rates on Minnesota business in order that it might determine whether the contention of the company that these tariffs are confiscatory was well founded.

Tested New Rates.

During the test months the Great Western reported earnings of $680,387.52, and for the same period in 1912, when the old rates were in force, the earnings were $694,154.72, as shown by the records of the state auditor. Thus, instead of making an increase of these three months in 1913 over 1912, as other carriers similarly situated have reported, the Great Western suffered a loss.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic today filed its report for the last half of 1913. The earnings were $1,928.80, and the tax due is $96.44.

GOT PERMISSION FROM UNCLE SAM

Washington, Feb. 16.—Great Britain consulted the United States before landing a guard of marines for her legation in Mexico City, and that step is not regarded as contrary to any principles held by the United States in the present situation.

At the White House today, it was said President Wilson saw no reason for a similar guard for the American embassy, and expected nothing to alter that view.

SAYS INCOME TAX MAY BE AMENDED

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—The income tax may be amended by congress to meet objections voiced by interests, was the statement made here today by William Fortune of Indianapolis, who is chairman of a committee representing the chambers of commerce in many of the larger cities. The committee was appointed to inquire into requirements of the new law.

"In a conference at Washington, Mr. Underwood, chairman of the house committee on ways and means, told us," the statement reads, 'that he does not think it necessary, according to the law, to report any income on which there are exemptions or on which there have been deductions at the source. He does not think it is necessary to require certificates from foreign owners of American securities.

"There seemed to be danger that on account of troubles connected with the income law, there would follow trouble with foreign owners of American bonds. Mr. Underwood advised our committee that congress could not now make any changes in the law before March 1."

BRANDEIS LIKES THE WILSON PLAN

Washington, Feb. 16.—Indorsing the purposes of the administration trust legislation program, Louis D. Brandeis of Boston, before the judiciary committee today, praised President Wilson for specifically suggesting that the final decree of judgment in trust cases shall accrue to the benefit of all injured by the acts involved.

HOUSTON NOT TO BE ON RESERVE BOARD

Washington, Feb. 16.—President Wilson today set at rest reports that Secretary Houston would be made a member of the Federal reserve board.

Though he was not asked specifically about Secretary McAdoo and the United States senatorial race in New York, the emphasis which the president put on his desire to keep his cabinet intact was interpreted as an indication that his influence would be against drawing Mr. McAdoo into the New York situation.

Hold Hearings in Ohio.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 16.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of Agriculture Houston today were prepared to hear arguments as to advantages of Cincinnati as a regional bank center. At the same time delegations from Louisville and Indianapolis were to be heard as to the respective claims of those cities for one of the banks.

NIAGARA REPORTS ALL ABOARD WELL

Havre, France, Feb. 16.—The French Trans-Atlantic Steamship company today received a wireless dispatch from the liner Niagara saying that all on board were well and that the vessel was returning to Havre under her own steam. The Niagara was obliged to turn back on her voyage from Havre for New York with 1,147 passengers owing to her propellers being broken by the heavy seas.

PRAISE FOR ADVERTISING

Is Now Reliable and Economic Guide, Says Bentley P. Neff.

Marie Clark and Miss Gunderson Soloists at Free Concert.

The high standard and reliability of the present day advertising was extolled by Bentley P. Neff, secretary of the F. A. Patrick company at the Masonic free concert yesterday afternoon. The address traced the development of the modern department store, showing how the growth had begun with the cross-roads general store and continued until practically every line of merchandise was sold under one roof.

Yesterday's concert was attended by about 700 people, and an excellent musical program was rendered by Marie Clark, soprano, and Miss Valborg Gunderson, violinist. Mrs. John Stephenson and Mrs. Fred Bradbury were accompanists. The organ numbers were received even more warmly than usual.

Mr. Neff said that the thing that did the most to bring the department store in touch and relationship with the shopper was advertising. He distinguished between real bargains and the so-called bargains of the get-rich-quick merchant, who always had a bargain sale. There are real bargains he said and the merchant should share the profits on these with his patrons. Artistic displays of goods and descriptions of new styles and qualities of goods through daily papers, he said, were of inestimable value to the merchant and the economic housewife.

Honest Bargain Unashamed.

The honest bargain he said was unashamed and would have its place in advertising to the end of time. In speaking of the department store he said:

"A department store is really a multitude of retail stores, each handling a separate line of goods, but all conducted under one roof. Each department comprises what would ordinarily constitute a small single-line store.

"All of the twentieth century traits are considered in the makeup of a department store. It stands for centralization, for commercial utility, for economy of operation and conservation of energy, for comprehensiveness and completeness, for quickness, accuracy and system.

"The modern department store is not a growth of the dry goods store but I believe that the old-fashioned general store of the country cross-roads must be regarded as the direct forebear of the great and comprehensive city mart where almost everything is retailed under one roof. The lines of descent and the family resemblance seem too distinct to be mistaken. The keeper of the cross-roads store was, generally speaking, the only merchant in his immediate community and was compelled to meet the commercial needs of his neighbors in nearly all of the elemental lines, no matter how meagerly.

Great Time Saver.

"At first exclusive stores were started in the cities, but were not found to be a success. It brought about a condition which seemed to militate against the great army of middle-class shoppers and traders. Unlike the woman of fashion, with a private carriage to take her from one store to another and with leisure in which to make the selection of a single article the pleasure or excitement of an entire forenoon, the housewife from the workingman's home found it necessary to make her purchases for the entire week in a single afternoon.

"Then came the first movement in the direction of centralization of stock, not because of, as in the case of the little rural community, there being too few stores, but because there were too many scattered stores.

"The question of the minimum wage is one that is receiving consideration throughout the country, and while the retail merchants of the country are perfectly satisfied with the minimum wage, realizing that it will set a minimum standard for efficiency to which the employe must measure up, and at the same time place all competitors on an equal basis, the merchant is not the only one whose interests should be considered, and fundamentally this great wage problem is far deeper and of more import than the significance of the minimum wage would imply. Through education and training character must be developed, with efficiency and industry, as a result of which the natural product will be increased and wages inevitably raised.

"Many of the large stores have gone to the expense and labor of installing schools where their employes can be taught the rudiments of English, mathematics and salesmanship, and the day when the applicant can come to the store qualified, or with at least a working knowledge of these essential qualifications, another big problem of the retail merchant will be solved.

Salesmanship Difficult.

"Of all the branches of what we may term the business profession, that of salesmanship in the department store is one of the most difficult. Few, however, are the young women who do not feel perfectly qualified to enter, without preliminary training, this exacting field of work. While the need of school training in the case of stenographers is more obvious, it is not more necessary than in the case of salesmanship.

"These are economic problems that are just as vital to the public as to the merchant, and they call for calm, dispassionate deliberation that in their solution all may be benefited."

Musical Program.

Marie Clark, who sang two solos, was in excellent voice, and her work was very favorably received. Miss Gunderson's violin numbers were remarkably well rendered. The program follows: Organ, overture, "Coriolan," (Beethoven); violin solo, (a) 'Poeme" (Drdla), (b) "Spring Song" (Ethel Barnes), Miss Valborg Gunderson; organ, "Slavtanz" (Dworak); soprano solo, (a) "I Hear a Thrush at Eve" (Cadman), (b) "Away on the Hill" (Landon Ronald), Marie Ellsworth Clark; short talk, "The Development of the Department Store," Bentley Neff; organ, "Spanish Dance" (Boltari); violin solo, "Cavatina" (Raff), Miss Valborg Gunderson; organ, selection from "Figaro's Wedding" (Mozart). Accompanist, Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury.

Next Sunday, Washington's birthday, members of the G. A. R. will be the honor guests, and the music will be suitable to the occasion. A feature will be singing by the audience, led by the Scottish Rite quartet, which will also render some specially arranged music. The speaker will be John T. Armstead.

MUST STAY CHURCH FREE

Methodist Pastor Favors Interdenominational Club Room or "Y."

Rev. Silloway Opposes Church Control of Such an Institution.

REV. GEORGE E. SILLOWAY.

"If I had $20,000 laid before me for the purpose of building a club room and gymnasium for men and boys, and as much as I love this Grace M. E. church, I would say, instead of making the club room a denominational affair I would advocate that it go towards building a club house which would be interdenominational or free from any church," said Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of Grace M. E. church in speaking on "The Problem and Possibility of a Y. M. C. A. for the West End," last night.

"Understand me rightly—I do not mean to say that such club rooms would not be a fine thing for the church, but I mean to say that if they are to do the greatest amount of good among the greatest number of people, then an institution which would be open to Protestant and Catholic alike, as well as non-church going people, is the kind of a place that is desired."

Rev. Mr. Silloway said that there are now seventeen churches between the Point of Rocks and the ore docks which is commonly known as the West end, whose aggregate valuation is about $500,000.

"This number of churches can easily take care of the religious part of the work," said the speaker. "If these churches will co-operate there will be no trouble in raising sufficient money with which to built the 'Y.'

"The problem of the Y. M. C. A. for the West end cannot be solved by a branch. The institution must be an independent one. Men's and boys' work must necessarily be combined until such a time as when money can be raised for separate institutions. In order to get the institution it is up to the West end people to get busy and raise the money. We have industries in the West end whose capitalization and large business should be an easy matter to raise about $20,000 for a Y. M. C. A.

"I would recommend, not a brown stone structure with tile floors, but a frame building that could be located centrally at a cost of about $20,000, which could be made to have a home-like appearance, where workingmen can go and spend a few hours of their time reading, in a gymnasium, swimming, or visiting in a club room."

Rev. Mr. Silloway praised the work of the church club recently organized by the Second Presbyterian church.

"Such clubs are limited successes as far as the church goes and this club is doing some of the work that a Y. M. C. A. should. But it does not go far enough. No church club can reach out to the people at large in a manner that a Y. M. C. A. can. There is always a certain amount of jealousy raised between the churches, and young people belonging to another church hesitate about going; so do others who are members of no church. It is at an interdenominational institution that all of these people meet on an equal footing."

The pastor announced that he intended seeking further information regarding the need of a "Y" for the West end which will include the work of getting figures as to the number of men employed, number of young men living in the West end, and what amount would be necessary to raise in order to build such an institution.

HIS FRIEND HAD BRIGHTS DISEASE

A. B. Edwards, an engineer of Hamlet, N. C., wrote a couple of years ago giving the name of a friend who had Bright's disease but no means. Said his own wife was recovering and asked if we would donate the treatment for this unfortunate. We sent $10.00 worth with our compliments. We had forgotten the matter till the following was received:

"Hamlet, N. C., Feb. 16th, 1913.

John J. Fulton Co.,

Dear Sirs:—I have been waiting to see how the patients were going to hold out after they had stopped using the Compound. As I think two years long enough, am delighted to tell you that the cases of Bright's that took it recovered. My wife, pronounced hopeless two years ago, is well. Mrs. Spencer, who was not expected to live, recovered and the case I requested the ten bottles for yielded and the patient is well. He was given up to die. * * * I will tell people of it as long as I live. Yours truly,

A. B. EDWARDS."

BABY WARNS FAMILY OF FIRE

Overheated Chimney Causes Midnight Blaze at Joseph Stewart's Home.

Awakened by the cries of the baby, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stewart of 822½ Fourth avenue east, discovered their bedroom full of smoke about 12:45 o'clock this morning. Mr. Stewart turned in an alarm and sought refuge with the other members of the family in a room downstairs, where the smoke had not yet penetrated.

The fire started in the attic of the house from an overheated chimney. There was a large pile of rubbish alongside the chimney and it is believed that the excessive heat caused this to ignite.

Although the fire department had an exceptionally hard run in reaching the fire, they were in time to check the spread of the flames and the fire was extinguished before any serious damage was done. The loss is estimated to be about $100.

An overheated chimney caused another fire shortly after 8 o'clock last night at the residence of E. A. Oman, 5009 Tioga street. There was no damage.

BREAKS LEG ON ICE.

Mrs. J. D. Campbell Is Victim of Slippery Sidewalk.

While on her way to attend high mass at the St. Jean Baptiste church yesterday morning Mrs. John D. Campbell, 2805 Railroad street, fell on a slippery sidewalk and broke her right leg. The accident occurred on West First street, near Twenty-fifth avenue west.

Mrs. Campbell was taken into the home of F. S. Campbell, 2512 West First street, where Dr. A. C. Taylor was called and set the limb. Mrs. Campbell was taken home afterward by the police ambulance.

The accident to Mrs. Campbell places both members at the head of the family in bed. Mr. Campbell has been laid up for several weeks on account of paralysis of the left side. While he has been able to get about a little during the last few days he has been unable to work. Mrs. Campbell has been the sole support of the family of several children for some time.

Rev. C. W. R. Wermine, pastor of the church, will conduct services in New Duluth this evening.

The choir will hold rehearsals in the parsonage, 314 North Twentieth avenue, Wednesday evening.

Cottage prayer meeting will be held Thursday evening at the home of John Johnson, 320 North Twenty-first avenue west.

The Epworth league will meet Friday evening at 7:40 p. m. at the parsonage and go in a body to the First M. E. church to attend the joint meeting of the Epworth leagues of the city.

Confirmation class of the church will meet Saturday morning.

WILL DEDICATE CHURCH ROOMS

Services Will Be Held at St. Paul's Three Nights This Week.

Dedication services for a new basement which has been in the course of construction under the St. Paul's Lutheran church, Twentieth avenue west and tThird street, will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings this week. The principal services will be held Wednesday evening when it is expected that Rev. Christ Anderson of Minneapolis will make the principal address.

Rev. E. Wolfsberg, pastor of the church, will also give an address in which he will outline the work done by the congregation since it was organized. Following a program of several numbers a reception will be held by the members.

Thursday evening will be "Young People's Night," under the auspices of the Luther Guild, which will entertain a large list of invited friends. The arrangements for this evening have been made by the following committee: Misses Gerda Klippen, Hilma Koefod, Anna Peterson and F. Hjermstad.

Friday evening will be "Choir Night," when the choir will meet for rehearsal and a social time.

The work of completing the basement has been going on for about two years, as the funds have been available. The total cost has been about $3,000, not including many gifts of both material and labor. It will be dedicated practically free from debt. The following committee has had charge of the work: Rev. E. Wulfsburg, E. H. Olson, A. Sauer, O. J. Klippen, S. Solberg and A. Haug.

The basement will afford commodious quarters for the various societies of the church, as well as the Sunday school. The rooms are pleasant, well lighted, and high under the ceiling. The white walls stained with the mahogany stained woodwork gives a cheerful appearance. The main assembly room is furnished with leather upholstered, spring seated chairs, tables and an organ; the kitchen with a double oven gas range, large sink and the necessary tables, cupboards and shelves for the dishes and cooking utensils. There is a stairway leading to the main auditorium upstairs, cloak room, lavatories, furnace and fuel rooms.

Swedish Mission Notes.

The Young People's Society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will have charge of services to be conducted at the Bethel this evening.

Rev. A. Alm of Sweden, who has been visiting in the West end, will preach his final sermon tomorrow evening in the church.

The Men's Welfare league will hold a business meeting in the church Wednesday evening.

The Ladies' Aid society will be entertained Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. The hostesses will be Mrs. Alex Linden and Mrs. John Linn.

The choirs of the church will hold rehearsals for the special "Go to Church Sunday" services on Friday evening.

The Sunday school of the church will hold its services at 10 o'clock and church services will be held at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning. A special sacred concert will be held Sunday evening. The Young People's society will hold services Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

PERU REVOLT IS JUSTIFIED

Reports Reaching Washington Show President Acted Illegally.

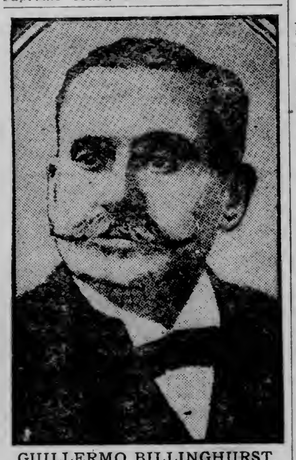

Billinghurst's Removal Approved By Congress and Courts.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Recognition by the United States of the present administration in Peru as a provisional government is in conformity with the Latin-American policy of the Washington government announced nearly a year ago, in the view of President Wilson as set forth to callers today.

The president regards the circumstances in Peru as distinctly different from those which caused the United States to withhold recognition from the Huerta government in Mexico. He let it be known that the process of setting up the new provisional government in Peru was constitutional in every way, according to official reports here.

Billinghurst Acted Illegally.

He was advised that President Billinghurst had abrogated the congress of Peru and was himself discharging the duties of his office unconstitutionally. Also the congress of Peru, the supreme court, and all the constitutional authorities in the country had approved of the overthrow of Billinghurst, so that President Wilson believes there was a clear constitutional process involved. Even the show of force was with the approval of congress, according to the version reaching President Wilson, and the whole government that was set up appears to reflect the wishes not only of the constitutional party of the government, but of the people.

GUILLERMO BILLINGHURST, Deposed President of Peru.

South America Not Seared.

President Wilson has not yet learned all the details of the Haitien situation, and will await further developments before announcing the policy of this government toward the new regime there.

The president denied reports that South America looked with apprehension at the administration's Latin-American policy. He emphasized his belief that they would support that policy.

and 260 of her officers and crew perished, yet each year seems to bring added veneration for those who lost their lives in the explosion. Today's exercises, while centering about the graves of the Maine heroes, took on, however, a larger significance in including all those of the land or sea forces who had sacrificed themselves in the line of patriotic duty.

Military Parade.

Large bodies of cavalry, artillery, sailors and marines began assembling through the morning for the street parade leading to Arlington. The forces included the troopers stationed at Fort Meyer, the artillery with their long line of running field pieces, large detachments of bluejackets and marines from the warships and marine barracks in this vicinity, and the full strength of the National Guard of the District of Columbia. Many patriotic societies also participated, and in the line of march were carriages bearing the commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., Washington Gardner of Albion, Mich.; the commander of the Spanish War Veterans, John Lewis Smith; the head of the Army and Navy Union, H. Ogden Lake, and others prominent in civic aid patriotic affairs.

Novel and Impressive.

The procession moved through the down-town section and across the Aqueduct bridge, over the Potomac river, to Arlington. Crossing the bridge, the parade halted to witness a novel and impressive feature of the day's ceremony—the unloosing on the river below of a boat laden with flowers, which was sent adrift down the historic old stream, making its way slowly seaward until lost to view—a memorial to the unrecovered dead, not only of the Maine, but of other times and places.

Arriving at Arlington, all about were seen the mute reminders of the Maine's glories. On one side were the graves of the sailors recovered from the wreck of the ship and brought home by the government for final burial here. In the foreground lay a huge cylinder of tapering steel, rusty and indented, but still preserving the stately outlines of the foremast of the Maine. This, too, had been brought back from the tangled wreckage, to be erected and unveiled later in the spring or summer, alongside the graves of thoes who in life had seen the flag whipping from its topmast point. At either side of the mast lay two great anchors of the Maine. Today mast and anchors were strewn with flowers, two large wreaths coming from the White House, and others from patriotic bodies and citizens.

As the parade made its way slowly through the grounds a salvo of artillery greeted the raising of the flag to full mast. The invocation of the day was delivered by Bishop Harding, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Washington. The exercises included addresses by Mr. Lake, Col. John McElroy, a commemorative address by Mrs. Ida M. Galloway, past president general of the United Spanish War Veterans auxiliary, and the reciting of the Recessional by Mrs. Isabel Worrell Ball, chairman of the woman's executive committee.

sen by the legislature in joint session. Attorney General Carmody today expressed the opinion that a majority vote of all the elected legislators would be required to select a new treasurer. In that event, it was pointed out, the Republicans would have to receive assistance from the Progressives, or else face the possibility of a deadlock in case the Democrats stood together. The Republicans on joint ballot are able to muster only 96 votes—79 in the assembly and 17 in the senate—while a majority is 101.

Family Demands Inquiry.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 16.—A complete investigation of the affairs of Former State Treasurer Kennedy, who committed suicide at his hotel here yesterday, was demanded today by his friends and relatives here. Confidence was expressed that such an inquiry will disclose that the affairs of the state treasurer's office have been correctly administered. William H. Kennedy, the son, sent a telegram to Governor Glynn, urging an audit of his father's accounts as state treasurer.

No explanation of the suicide was forthcoming today other than the one first given out, to the effect that Mr. Kennedy took his life while temporarily deranged, and that the derangement was caused by brooding over the impending ordeal of cross-examination at the hands of District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, who had subpoenaed the state treasurer to appear in New York today. Mr. Kennedy had already signed a waiver of immunity.

Graft Hunt Goes On.

New York, Feb. 16.—In addition to the proposed legislative investigation into the office of State Treasurer John A. Kennedy, left vacant yesterday by the suicide at Buffalo of Mr. Kennedy, District Attorney Whitman resumed today the John Doe investigation into political graft before which Kennedy was to have been a witness. Friends of the late state treasurer attributed his suicide in a measure to the prospect of a public grilling at Mr. Whitman's hands.

John A. Hennessy, who was Governor Sulzer's investigator of conditions in the state departments, said today that he could not believe Kennedy's suicide had been prompted by the investigations now under way.

"As far as we could discover," Hennessy said, "Kennedy was no more than a figurehead. He had no more to do with the matters now under investigation than one of his office boys."

Mr. Whitman repeated today that he was greatly shocked at Kennedy's death, and added that there was no evidence of criminal wrong doing on Kennedy's part.

and Edwin Pelkinghorne.

All five men face another trial in connection with the killing of Aloiz Tijan, another striker. Tijan and Putrich were killed during a riot between strikers and deputies last August.

The announcement was made by counsel for the miners at the opening of the congressional inquiry today that they expected to conclude the presentation of witnesses on mine conditions during the day unless the committee indicated that it desires to hear more.

Will Limit Witnesses.

"We have several hundred witnesses along the same line," said Angus W. Kerr, one of the attorneys for the Western Federation, "but we think we have presented enough testimony and will pass along to another subject if the committee desires."

After a short conference, Chairman Taylor announced that it was the sentiment of the committee that without passing upon the merits of the testimony offered by the fifty witnesses already heard, that these witnesses "seem about as good as twenty-five or fifty men along the same line."

Take Miners Through Mine.

Mr. Taylor said one of the committee had suggested that when the committee visited a mine, he hoped it would be before the operators began the presentation of their side and that they should be accompanied by one or two of the striking miners.

"We want to see the things they want us to see," added Mr. Taylor. "We don't want to make an ex parte inspection."

Mr. Kerr said the operators should not be permitted to select the mine inspected. A. E. Petermann, of counsel for the companies, retorted that Mr. Kerr "could pick out the parts of the mine he thought are the worst."

"And I have no hard feelings against the committee," he added, with a smile.

"No Federation Man."

Counsel indicated that the operators would not be willing to permit a miner selected by the federation to accompany the committee into their mines, whereupon Chairman Taylor said he hoped the two sides would be able to agree upon the men.

Bought Job From Woman.

Joe Butala testified that he had paid $50 to a woman who kept a candy store in Calumet, to get a job for him in a Calumet & Hecla mine twelve years ago. He said the woman had influence with a mine captain and that he knew of several other men who had obtained jobs in the mine through her.

"Did you know this mine captain was fired for this practice?" asked Mr. Petermann.

Witness said he knew the captain left, whereupon O. N. Hilton of the strikers' counsel asked how long he worked in the mine before the captain left. Butala said it was about three years.

DULUTH IS GIVEN UNSOUGHT HONOR

Coldest Place on Map for First Time This Season.

Duluth was the coldest place on the weather map this morning for the first time this winter. The temperature was 14 below zero, accompanied by a 30-mile wind from the northwest. The wind during the night was 48 miles an hour, making the cold seem more intense than it really was.

The cold was rather sudden in making its appearance and local in its nature. The coldest yesterday was 7 below zero, early in the morning.

The Northwest and Western Canada this morning were anything but chilly compared to Duluth. At Winnipeg the temperature was only zero; at St. Paul 2 below, and at Moorhead 4 below.

The cold snap will depart as quickly as it came. H. W. Richardson, local forecaster of the United States weather bureau, says that snow flurries may be expected with a rising temperature. The coldest Duluth will get tonight is 5 below, while on the ranges the mercury will hover around the zero mark. Colder weather may be expected about Wednesday, but nothing very severe is looked for.

Harriman said today, "is either ignorant of conditions or is insincere.

"The commission hopes to have a more practical answer to the question, 'What is to be done about the unemployed?' than the now famous one made by one of our public men: 'God knows!'

"The unskilled laborers, who are the chief sufferers from these annual periods of unemployment, are for the most part migratory and belong to the class known as floating labor. This makes the problem an interstate one, which only can be adequately studied by a Federal body."

Employment Agencies.

Attention first will be given to public and private employment agencies to reveal to what extent the trouble is due to their lack of organization and inefficiency, and four investigators have been assigned to the task with orders to report within six weeks.

The commission regards the unemployed problem as a permanent one, because present conditions are practically the same as exist every year at this season. Therefore, besides seeking to find immediate relief for the suffering, it is proposed to gather material for legislation by congress to establish a Federal employment bureau to act as a clearing house for public and private agencies, and to direct the movement of migratory workers.

Stories of suffering, particularly in New York city, stirred the commission to action. The chairman said that "groups numbering from 100 to 1,000 stand on the docks outside our great industrial plants each morning. They are thankful if they only get a few hours' employment. If nothing else will avail it may be necessary to urge insurance against unemployment."

WAGE LOSSES BY ENGLISH STRIKES

Fifty Per Cent of Labor Disputes Won By Employers.

London, Feb. 16.—According to a report issued by the board of trade, supplemented by data supplied by trades unions, organized workers have lost nearly $90,000,000 in wages from stoppages due to trade disputes during the last ten years. To this has to be added a very large amount distributed in strike pay. Against this the net gain in wages resulting from disputes is reported as $13,000,000. In the same period the working classes as a whole have secured advances in wages estimated at $75,000,000. Of every 100 strikes or other disputes recorded in the years under review 50 per cent were won by the employers, 25 per cent by the workers and the other 25 per cent were compromised.

DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Ben F. Denham Passes Away--Had Been Ill for Two Years.

Ben F. Denham, age 32, died yesterday morning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dinham, 219 East Third street, after an illness of more than two years. He is survived by two sisters, Pearl and Buelah, in addition to his parents.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m., at the home. Rev. C. N. Thorp of the Pilgrim Congregational church will officiate. The body will be placed in the vault at Forest Hill cemetery until spring, when it will be taken to Ithaca, N. Y., for interment.

LOCAL DRUGGIST MAKES MANY FRIENDS

W. A. Abbett, druggist, 205 West Superior Street, report they are making many friends through the QUICK benefit which Duluth people receive from the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and it is the most thorough bowel cleanser known, acting on BOTH the lower and upper bowel. JUST ONE DOSE of Adler-i-ka relieves constipation and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY.

NEW SYSTEM SAVES MONEY

City $42.89 Better Off By Eliminating Contract System.

Day Labor Plan on Second Street Sewer Will Be Continued.

The total cost of the sewer built by the division of public works by day labor in Second street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues west was $584.64, according to figures which have been prepared by Secretary C. G. Futter.

This is about $160 less than the estimated cost of the engineering department, but making the calculation as if the work had been done by contract, it shows that the property owners were benefited $42.89 by reason of the job being done by the works division.

The construction of the sewer was started to furnish employment to part of the jobless men in the city, preference being given to local men with families dependent upon them. But the work has been so satisfactory that other jobs will be done in this manner and it is probable that each winter will see more or less sewer work done.

The biggest item entering into the cost of the Second street sewer was labor, amounting to $318.62. The materials, etc., made a total of $266.02. The detail of the expense is as follows: Labor, $318.62; blacksmith work, $2.70; coal, 23 cents; exploders, $1.86; manhole rings and covers, $30; dynamite, $6.15; brick, sewer pipe and cement, $143.55; brick and cement, $11.35; sand, $2.80; connections, $4.90; slab wood, $2; four manhole buckets, $8; repairing trench, placing buckets, etc., $23; use of tools, etc., $10; engineering expense, $19.33; total cost, $584.64. cost of job on contract prices, $62.53; cost of job on actual cost, $584.64; gain to property benefited, $42.89.

and that her husband's candidacy for internal revenue collector was mentioned at the time. He said he had not given her any encouragement about her husband's candidacy.

Invited to Her Hotel.

Regarding the alleged assault in Washington, the senator, in reply to questions, told of meeting Mrs. Bond at her hotel after she had telephoned him, making the appointment. He said he never knew that James B. Jacobs, T. E. Robertson and others were at the hotel at the time.

"I never had been in there before," he said, "and when I reached the door Mrs. Bond approached me in the lobby. I supposed we were to go to the hotel parlor, but she took me to another room."

"Where did you sit?" Senator Gore was asked.

"I sat in a rocking chair," replied he. "We talked about the appointment of her husband. I told her again there was no chance for him. She seemed to feel that he had lost. I arose, remarking that I must go, and Mrs. Bond took hold of my hands. She is remarking that I was going to have a hard race. At that moment the telephone rang and she answered it. Then she came back and sat on the bed.

Did Not Touch Her.

"We talked only a few minutes. I arose and she took hold of my hands, then fell on the bed and screamed. I asked: 'What does this mean?' Just then Robertson came into the room and told her to stop that squalling."

"Did you at any time touch Mrs. Bond?" he was asked.

"I did not," the senator replied.

Continuing his testimony, Senator Gore said he told Robertson he wanted to see Mrs. Bond again.

"I asked her if she had anything to say about the incident. 'I want to know what this means,' I said. She replied she did not want her husband to know about it. Robertson also said he had nothing to say about it."

The senator denied that any time his clothing was disarranged while in the room.

Talked With Dr. Earp.

He said he met Dr. E. J. Earp of Oklahoma City the next day and discussed the incident.

"I told him," he said, "that if anyone said I did anything improper, it was an infamous lie."

Senator Gore denied that he told Earp to try to get Mrs. Bond out of the city.

The direct examination of the senator was completed shortly before noon and his cross-examination was taken up at once.

FOR RIGHT TYPE OF IMMIGRANTS

Suggestion That Government Prepare Booklets for Distribution.

London, Feb. 16.—That the government at Washington is making preparations for increased emigration from Europe to the Pacific coast of the United States on the opening of the Panama canal, is indicated by a request to American consuls in Europe to furnish the department of labor with reports on the plans being made by transportations agencies to handle the increased traffic. The consuls have also been called upon to supplement the work of special emigration commissioners who have visited Europe lately, with reports of the quantity and quality of the expected immigration.

European representatives of American railroads welcome this action on the part of the American government as indicating the beginning of a movement by Washington to encourage the high type of immigration which England and Germany are making every effort to divert to their own colonies. These governments offer every inducement to steamships and railroads to handle this traffic while the agents of American transportation concerns complain that the American government adopt a negative policy, which, while effectively shutting out many undesirable immigrants, also discourages the solid type of immigrant for whom there is still much room in the United States.

Alexander Jackson, who has represented a large American railroad system for many years in Europe, has suggested to the local American consulate that the United States prepare booklets setting forth the agricultural and business possibilities of the various states for free distribution in Europe. He believes that such booklets backed by the government imprint would lead to a great increase in the numbers of immigrants who are looking for farms or business openings rather than for ordinary jobs.

Minneapolis Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Milnes of Park Point returned today from Minneapolis, where they attended the wedding of Miss Nellie Kinkel to George Edward Reinert of St. Louis, Mo., which took place last Thursday. The bride is well known in Duluth, having spent several summers here with Mr. and Mrs. Milnes. Returning with Mr. and Mrs. Milnes were Mr. and Mrs. George C. Reinert and Miss Mabel Kinkel for a visit here.

The following clipping from the Minneapolis Tribune concerning the wedding will be of interest here:

"The marriage of Miss Nellie Kinkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kinkel, 418 Seventh avenue south, to George Edward Reinert of St. Louis, took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride. Rev. Andrew Stowe officiated. Because of the recent death of Mr. Reinert's sister the wedding was private.

"The bride was gowned in white satin charmeuse made en traine trimmed with real lace and brilliants and an overdrape of chiffon. Her long tulle veil was made cap effect, and she carried bride's roses. Mr. Reinert's gift to his bride was a beautiful platinum pendant set with diamonds.

"Miss Mabel Kinkel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor; she wore pink charmeuse with a lace bodice and tunic trimmed with rosebuds and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. A. G. Anderson, Oakes, N. D., was best man. A small party of relatives and immediate friends were present at the wedding. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Milnes of Duluth and A. G. Anderson of Oakes, N. D. Mr. and Mrs. Reinert left last night for St. Louis and will be at home in Oakes, N. D., after March 1."

NEWPORT GIRL WILL WED YOUNG AVIATOR

FLORENCE TOBIN.

Florence Tobin of Newport, adopted daughter of Mrs. James J. Brown, has announced her engagement to William Harper, Jr., a well-known young engineer and aviator. The report that she was to marry an Italian prince, who has been dancing attendance on her for two years, is thus contradicted. Miss Tobin is noted for her dancing, having been a pupil of Isadora Duncan.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Lyman Howe's Travel Festival.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

David Bispham Headlines a Clean and High-Class Bill of Vaudeville.

Two singers offer a most striking contrast at the Orpheum this week. Possibly Manager Billings saw the possibilities of the contrast and had the two men placed together on the bill in order to strengthen it. The two men are David Bispham and a young and unknown singer known as Bill Pruitt, the cowboy singer.

Bill Pruitt is a mere youth.

David Bispham is a thorough artist, whose years of experience in the greatest opera companies in the world have given him perfect poise, and a thorough knowledge of how to use his voice.

Bill Pruitt is absolutely untrained.

David Bispham knows how to get every bit of beauty out of his voice, and—what few singers have learned—how to interpret a song. He has learned to conserve his powers.

Bill Pruitt knows little of interpretation and nothing of conserving the remarkable voice nature has given him.

Possibly Mr. Bispham saw in Bill Pruitt what he was twenty-five years ago. Possibly Bill Pruitt could learn some things from Mr. Bispham—notably the fact that the use of a falsetto tone is not to be commended, although it is excusable when it brings such a tumult of applause as it did.

Both were welcomed with open arms by the audience Sunday, and together they were easily the feature of one of the cleanest, highest class entertainments the Orpheum has ever offered Duluth patrons.

Mr. Bispham sang four numbers, a Schumann song, the Dancing Master's song from Mendelssohn's only opera "Camacho;" a negro banjo song by Sidney Homer, and "Danny Deever," set to music by Walter Damrosch especially for Mr. Bispham. He also gave an interesting little talk on opera in English, and announced that he would change his selections at every performance.

The rest of the bill is delightfully clean and entertaining. Joseph Bernard and Hazel Harrington have a really good comedy sketch refreshingly free from horse play, and they play it most intelligently.

Shriner and Richards, a man and a woman, have a clever little interlude of songs, dances and witty dialogue. The young woman is a real comedienne of rather unusual methods, and their act is lively, snappy and entertaining.

Tryon's Dogs give a rather unusual exhibition. One little white, curly canine is apparently a mathematical marvel, and adds, subtracts and multiplies. If there is any trick connected with it the audience failed to catch it, and any signals from the trainer to the dog are most carefully concealed. The trainer affects to believe that dogs can reason and if "Hector" is only a bluff he is a most cleverly conceived one.

Two very lively athletic turns of widely different types complete the bill. Morgan and Rice appear in street clothes and keep up a running fire of nonsense while they do some unusual tricks, and Hanlon and Hanlon close the bill in a whirlwind fashion with a very lively six minutes of acrobatics.

On the whole the Orpheum management need not be ashamed of the entertainment offered any new patrons who may be attracted by the presence of Mr. Bispham.

AT THE EMPRESS.

The Kratons present a real novelty in hoop-rolling acts and scored a hit at the opening performances yesterday. The scene shows a miniature village, with the members of the company hidden behind the scenes. The hoops representing characters in the village, are rolled out of the doors, around corners, into other buildings and across the village street. The members of the company handle the hoops with exceptional skill.

Sylvester and Vance in the Willard Mack comedy sketch, "Get Out of This Theater," are a scream. Sylvester is really funny and assisted by Miss Vance, he managed to score a hit yesterday, especially with the song and dance numbers.

The Wood brothers open the bill with a pleasing acrobatic act, in which they introduce several exceptionally hard feats. They are followed by the Lola Milton trio in their comedy sketch, "The Mayor of La La Paloosa." Miss Milton is assisted by Bert Fisher and Josephine Cameron, who also introduce two songs and saxaphone numbers during the action of the sketch.

Two motion pictures close the bill, which will continue until Wednesday evening, with the regular daily matinees.

At the Lyceum.

"The faith that can remove mountains" has been demonstrated in the most heroic way since the dawn of time at the Panama canal, and it should be a matter of pride to every American that it is Uncle Sam who gave the demonstration, and that, too, for the benefit of the whole world. Of course, Uncle Sam had to exercise something more than mere faith. Just what was this "something more" will be shown by Lyman H. Howe at the Lyceum for the last time tonight.

Such a reproduction has also its romantic and psychological side. The interest one feels in the actors in this industrial drama, or, rather, earth tragedy, in their struggle with nature is above the ordinary. It is a strangely stirring thing to see the legion of workers, aided by mighty machines, dissecting and severing two continents and linking two oceans. It is stranger still to see these dauntless workers file past on the screen, smiling confidently, passing a smile as of intimate recognition and waving a greeting of good-fellowship, across these many hundred of miles of sea and land. After seeing all that Mr. Howe presents, every American cannot help having a new and a personal interest in what America has done and feel a deeper pride and glean a loftier conception of American ideals. Panama will mean more than it ever could without seeing these scenes. It will have a refreshing significance which can never be obtained in any other way. It is for this reason that America owes Mr. Howe its gratitude for the opportunity of gaining such conceptions from a comfortable theater seat.

The fiery geysers of Yellowstone park, which act as a "safety valve" for mother earth, also constitute a big feature of Howe's new program.

Read the repair ads on page 10 tonight. It pays.

COURT THROWS OUT MARRIAGE PETITION

Says It Has No Jurisdiction in the Countess' Case.

London, Feb. 16.—Sir Samuel Evans, presiding judge of the divorce court, today ruled that the court had no jurisdiction in connection with the petition of Countess de Gasquet-James, formerly Miss Elizabeth Tibbitts Pratt of Prattsville, N. Y., who asked for a declaration of the validity of her marriage to Duke Heinrich Dorwin von Mecklenburg-Schwerin. The petition was dismissed.

The duke was married to the plaintiff in the registrar's office at Dover, Eng., in 1911, and later went through a religious ceremony in the private chapel of the countess' castle in France. Last year, however, the marriage was annulled by a special court sitting at Rostock, because the duke's guardian had not consented.

The countess' first husband, Count de Gasquet-James, died in 1903.

IS SOME FINANCIER.

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 16.—After having confessed spending $1,000 a day since Jan. 29, when it is charged he robbed an express company at Syracuse, N. Y., of $15,200, Benjamin Round, the police said, turned over to them more than $17,000 in negotiable vouchers and drafts. The police could not account for the difference in figures.

Women and the Law.

"Do the Laws of the State Discriminate Against Women?" will be the subject discussed Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union at the home of Mrs. T. B. Jones, 610 North Fifty-sixth avenue west. Mrs. Helen Stewart will be the leader. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. A. M. McMillan and Mrs. Stockney.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Don't Marry a Man Who Can't Live on $4,000 a Year.

A young dandy who admits that he spends $1,000 more than his income annually has just petitioned the courts to give him a share of his aunt's surplus revenue. He is one of her natural heirs and will in all probability succeed to a considerable portion of her great fortune when this life shall know her no more.

The march of events is not fast enough for this young gentleman, however. For aught he knows his aunt may outlive him. As there is some question as to the aunt's competency, and no doubt at all that a large surplus is accumulating annually, he begs to be allowed to share it. It's weary waiting for people to die when one's habits are luxurious, when one would like to marry and when one does not want to work.

Picture to yourself the type of young man who makes a demand upon his aunt's estate before her death, because he is a probable heir and knows that she has about $100,000 accumulating annually that she does not need. He doesn't present an aspect of the rich or pampered young man that is encouraging. In spite of his array of more or less mitigating circumstances, one is tempted to ask him why he doesn't go to work if he wants to marry, or live within his income until she shall have no further use for it.

It might be argued in some quarters that, since the money is lying idle and the nephew is in need, having only a beggarly $4,000 a year to live on, his plea should be granted either by or through the lady whose heir he expects to be. His is a modest petition. Twelve thousand dollars isn't much when you consider his aunt's income of $150,000 and that $38,000 is the extent of her inroads into this comfortable allowance.

The young man wants to marry. This is the prime reason, it is said, for laying siege to his aunt's fortune, and exceptionally exemplary it is, all things considered. But why not earn the wherewithal to support the matrimonial proposition? Why not make the $4,000 annually do for two in love's sweet name or postpone marriage until he comes by the fortune by inheritance?

GOING TO CHURCH SUNDAY?

Sunday, you know, is Washington's birthday. Also, it is the "go-to-church" Sunday that we have been talking about for several weeks.

Of course you're going? That's nice. You won't regret it. Salvation isn't to be bought just by hearing one sermon, and of course it is not to be bought just by church-going, no matter how regularly. The religious life is the life of service—of service to God and of service to man: which are one.

But there is good in church-going, for it is worship; and worship is as needful a thing to humankind as bread. As you will starve without bread, so will your soul starve without worship. And it is a more dismal and melancholy starvation than that which comes of hunger, for your body lives along with a dead soul within it.

It is a mighty humble church, a mighty incompetent preacher and a mighty bare service from which you cannot get some gleam to light the darkened places in your soul, some influence to broaden and uplift, some hope to cheer you on your way. Though the pews be bare and hard, though the church and pulpit be plain and ugly, though the service be halting and the sermon dull, yet some mystic glow of eternal light warms and uplifts and ennobles those who worship there.

Not going to church is a habit—a bad habit. And going to church is a good habit, a habit not to be lightly lost, and greatly to be coveted. If yours is the non-church-going habit, it is going to take some effort for you to get out to church next Sunday morning or evening, but be assured that it is an effort worth making.

Why not, if you have not already done so, make a promise to yourself that you will go to church next Sunday? Then, when you are asked directly to go, you can say that you have already decided to do so. And, if by chance you are overlooked, you will not be left out of the throngs that will go to church on that day.

It makes little difference what church it is. The invitation is not to any particular church, but to all churches. If childhood training inclines you to a Presbyterian church, find one. If you are Catholic, but are one of those rare cases among Catholics that have lost the church-going habit, go to a Catholic church. If your training is Methodist or Congregationalist or Lutheran, go to the church of your choice. Or even go to the nearest church at hand.

But go to church, anyway. It's an experiment that cannot possibly do you harm. It may do you good. It will be doing you a great good indeed if you like it so well that you determine to go regularly. But however that may be, try it this once, anyway. Make your little joke, if you will, about the church tower tumbling at the shock; but take the risk. The church tower probably will stand it.

There is, in church, a blessed calm and peace and holiness that soothes pain, banishes care and assuages sorrow.

Go to church next Sunday, and be glad.

Another example of the fugitizing habit of time is the announcement that it is sixteen years since the Maine went down.

WISE MAN, WISE DOCTOR.

President Wilson has had another bad cold from which, everybody will be thankful to know, he is recovering.

In the way the president and his physician handle a cold there is a valuable lesson for everybody. When the ordinary individual gets it, he says it's "only a common cold" and goes about his business. In nine cases he drags himself out of it somehow; in the tenth his failure properly to care for himself lets the cold drag into tuberculosis or leap into pneumonia, and there are bills to pay for medicine, nursing and the doctor—and often funeral expenses on top of that.

When the president gets a cold, Dr. Grayson says "get to bed," showing that he is a wise doctor. And the president gets to bed, showing that he is a wise man. There he stays till the doctor says he is cured, when he goes back to work.

Not all of us can do that. The necessities of life compel many to keep at work, cold or no cold. But many who can show the wisdom of proper care of colds fail to do so. The result is more sickness and funerals than there need be.

English newspapers are objecting to the employment of an American to manage a British railroad. Must be the newspapers don't hold any stock in that line.

THE DISCHARGED TUBERCULAR PATIENT.

The Journal of the American Medical association has a rather discouraging piece about what happens to patients who have been discharged from tuberculosis sanitariums as cured.

The Council of Jewish Women began six years ago a study of this subject, and the New York health department has just made the results public. The study covered about a thousand patients discharged from a number of sanitariums, and the investigators are able to report on 554 of these.

A hundred of them are dead—from tuberculosis. "The results," says the Journal, "show a steadily increasing number of deaths after discharge, indicating a rather discouraging outlook for the sanitarium treatment. No satisfactory comparison can be made, however, because there are no data to show how similar cases would do without sanitarium treatment. What is really shown is that the sanitarium helps for a while and stimulates the patient to fight the disease better than he otherwise would."

There should be nothing in this to discourage the sanitarium plan of treatment, or to make sanitarium patients pessimistic.

The trouble very likely is that discharged patients too often go back to the same conditions in which they got the disease, and get it again. They, cured though they are, cannot stand such conditions as well as those who never have had consumption.

We hear of an office man, near-sighted, who used to hump himself over his books in an ill-ventilated office, and so got tuberculosis. He went to the mountains of Norway, and came back manifestly cured—fat and strong and rosy. He went back into his office again and again humped himself over his books, cramping his chest and breathing bad air. Of course he had a relapse, and then he took to the open, as he should have done in the first place.

The Journal tells a good deal of the story in these words: "The majority of those discharged return to conditions which render the fight all but hopeless. Dark, insanitary tenements, fatiguing and poorly paid work, and lack of necessary care, meet the discharged patient on his return from the sanitarium, and it is no wonder that the sanitary instructions of the institution are soon forgotten from sheer inability to apply them."

In such circumstances relapses are almost inevitable.

Tuberculosis in its earlier stages is curable. But the cured tuberculosis patient must guard himself carefully all his life. He must have nourishing food to keep his strength up, and he must have plenty of sunlight and fresh air to kill the germs that seek to renew the attack upon his vitality. He is not fitted for wearing, exhausting labor.

But the cured patient who from carelessness or necessity slips back into the living conditions and living habits that made him sick is pretty sure to get sick again.

China wants to borrow some money. And yet there are those who say the Orientals are not qualified for American citizenship.

CENSORSHIP OF MESSAGES.

The Chicago Tribune dismisses the proposal of government ownership of wire communication with this curt dictum: "Government ownership of telegraph wires would mean government censorship of the matter transmitted over them. It would mean an extension of the powers of what is becoming offensive and obnoxious bureaucracy."

Since when did the postoffice become an offensive and obnoxious bureaucracy?

Since when was there a government censorship of mail communication?

When the government finds that the mails are being used to defraud, it forbids their use to the cheats, and it punishes them.

And under government ownership of wire service, when swindlers seek to use the wires to defraud their victims, there will be that kind of government censorship and no other kind.

There is no immediate danger of government ownership of wire service, we fancy. It is coming sooner or later—rather sooner than later, we should say. In the meantime it is being talked about, and should be talked about. All possible arguments against it should be trotted out so that it can be reasoned out fully and wisely. The one the Tribune trots out isn't a very valid one.

"Penrose must go" is the slogan of one political organization in Pennsylvania, and the opposition is adopting the same thing with the added words "back to the senate."

VERSAILLES AND MINNESOTA

SONG OF THE SIEUR DU LHUT

"Daniel Greysolon Du Lhut was continually in the forest, in the Indian towns, or in remote wilderness outposts planted by himself, exploring, trading, fighting, ruling lawless savages and whites scarcely less ungovernable, and, on one or more occasions, varying his life by crossing the ocean to gain interviews with the Colonial Minister, Seignelay, amid the splendid vanities of Versailles."—Parkman.

Not in tears, my siren treasure,
Trip we love's last minuet;
Well we knew 'twas but a measure—
Then—forget.
I, who dream the West World's glory,
You, the glory of Versailles—
We have lived our happy story;
Now—good-by!

Athwart the palace window's glow,
I hear the cry of purer France;
I see red camp-fires in the snow.
This is not home—my hearth and hall
Shift through an untracked forest-way,
Somewhere 'twixt Mississippi's fall
And four log walls by Thunder Bay.

To-night, mayhap, on Pepin's breast,
My periled fellows hush the oar,
Past the wild, gallant foe, who rest,
Past war-boats lined along the shore.
Mayhap far north the trail-ax cleaves
On paths the plunging deer has torn,
Where in the world-roof's flooded eaves,
The River of the World is born!

No stolen prize of galleon gold,
No wealth of mountain mines I bring;
Only a wilderness of cold,
Only an empire for my king.
Ah, fair one, could I paint for you
My lakes beyond the inland seas,
Where moaning forests break the blue
As ocean breaks the Cyclades!

Ho! my comrades, priest and rover!
Trimmed, my ship rides in the bay.
Ho! my exile days are over!
Now—away!
Pray, no tears, my pretty treasure;
Come, 'tis love's last minuet.
Step we but one merry measure—
Then—forget.

—Chester Firkins in Munsey's Magazine, August, 1906.

Cheer from the West

Editorial in the New York Times.

When Wall Street is blue it is often advised to look to the West for fair weather signs. Out of the West now comes the cheery circular of the Mechanics' Bank of St. Louis, which summarizes the situation in a sentence impossible of misunderstanding, "the outlook is all right for better times." The bad times are behind. The country is sounder and stronger for having prepared itself for worse things, and therefore is in a position to profit by the improvement in sentiment upon the perception that the strain has passed. The president is curbing the wild horses in congress, the pending legislation contains some things that are desirable, and is being pruned of what is undesirable. When the anti-trust bills are disposed of, politics will take a back seat while the crops are growing.

The bank is even hopeful regarding the stock exchanges. It thinks they are useful institutions, and perform a service to the community in marketing securities. The bank thinks that the public is becoming educated to their economic position, and is unwilling to see their activities crippled beyond what is necessary to correct their misconduct, if any shall be proved. Finally "few people realize what genuine headway the country is making through the practice of public and private economies." It is not necessary for each American to save hundreds to convert bad times into good. The saving of a few dollars apiece in the course of a year would provide bank reserves for credit on a scale of multiples of millions.

The supply of bank credit promises to equal every demand without pinching by anybody. According to the figures just published the central reserve cities hold 27 per cent of reserves, or 9 per cent more than the Federal reserve system requires. The other reserve cities hold 25 per cent, and will be required to hold only 18 per cent, with a smaller proportion than now in cash. The country banks hold nearly 17 per cent, and will be required to hold only 12 per cent, also with a smaller proportion of cash. Precise statement is impossible, as the reserve figures are only for national banks, and there is not full knowledge of how many state banks and trust companies may affiliate with the new system. Moreover, there is a variation in requirement of reserves according to the nature of the deposits. It was reckoned semi-officially on the basis of the October condition that the banks had $185,000,000 more reserves than the new system would require. The present statement adds $92,286,966, which would seem a superfluity of cash.

But there are offsets. The new system requires large payments on capital account, and there will be a great transfer of cash from the city to the country banks. At a time of such readjustments common prudence requires all concerned to be liquid and strong above accustomed standards. It does not follow that because reduction of reserves is lawful on a great scale therefore it will be prudent. Even at the present time there is an excess of reserves for the country above the present larger percentage of required reserves. The surplus will not be unnecessary because the requirement is reduced. On the contrary, the reduced requirement will be something like an "apprehension minimum," that is a total which when approached signals need for caution by borrowers and lenders alike. Particularly will this be the case since the system depends for its benefits upon the creating of a rediscount market, for a species of commercial document which does not now exist except in mere specimen quantities.

It should not be forgotten that more than the banking system is to be reorganized. The system of commercial payments is to be changed from the system of sales on open account, and bank credits upon statement of borrowers' condition, to payment in commercial paper available for rediscount. The promised benefits are great, and it is hardly to be doubted that it will be availed of generally when available and understood. It is an adventure into a promising country, but the lay of the land is known only to the traveled few. The bank reserves are ample enough to promise the most favorable conditions for the experiment, but the first administrators may have ideas about the earlier reserves which differ from a simple calculation of percentages.

No Sign of Reaction

New York Evening Post: Tuesday's election in the Second congressional district of Iowa resulted in the return of the Democratic candidate by a plurality somewhere between 1,500 and 2,000. The Progressive nominee ran third. It will be of interest to study the entire vote cast, when the figures are accessible. The Second Iowa has been represented by a Democrat since 1910, when the late Congressman Pepper was first elected. Before that the district had been steadily Republican, though by steadily narrowing majorities. In 1908 the Republicans had a plurality of about 2,000. This was virtually reversed yesterday by Mr. Vollmer, who had the public indorsement of President Wilson. Thus there is as yet no sign on the horizon of that reaction against the administration for which Republicans have been eagerly watching. Whether in Massachusetts or Iowa, special congressional elections have gone Democratic. Republicans may say that they would have won but for the Progressive split, but that is pretty cold comfort. It is plain that if the Progressives stick to their determination to put up candidates everywhere, the next congress will infallibly be Democratic. And it is probable that Iowa Progressives agree with the verdict of their Kansas brother, Henry Allen, who recently admitted that "there is an awful smart man in the White House."

Not Bad for Her First Game.

From "Life As It Is," by W. T. Call: A young man took a young woman friend to a ball game for the first time, and in his superior knowledge asked her after the first inning was over if there was anything about the game she would like to have explained.

"Just one thing," said the sweet young creature. "I wish you would explain how that rheumatic bush-league relic in the box ever gets the ball over the plate without the aid of an express wagon?"

And in the silence that followed all that could be heard was the faint chugging of the young man's Adam's apple working feverishly up and down.

Emerson Was a Prophet.

Collier's Weekly: Emerson lived before the days of the Frisco receivership and the bankrupting of the New Haven road, yet one may read in an 1857 entry of his newly published "Journal:"

I took such pains not to keep my money in the house, but to put it out of the reach of burglars by buying stock, and had no guess that I was putting it into the hands of those very burglars now grown wiser and standing dressed as railway directors.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Bacon walked across the corridor from the senate chamber into the vice president's room one day and told Vice President Marshall about how he fell in the bath tub and cracked a rib.

"Yes," said Marshall, sympathetically, "it's risky business, that thing of taking a bath. And aside from the risk of it, it always seems to me that if a man's a Democrat, he ought to be a Democrat."

The real name of Senator Ollie James of Kentucky is Orlando James. When he was a little chap, it was thought that Orlando was too large and pretentious a designation for one so young and cute, and he was playfully dubbed Ollie by family and friends. Unfortunately the name clung to him even after he became our largest statesman. He would not be much worse off, nominatively, if he were called Roy or Gus. A man the size of James is really entitled to a name like Charlemagne or Chilperich.

Representative Joseph Byrns of Tennessee owns and operates the heaviest, busiest eyebrows in congress. One day a friend of his was twitting him about the size and splendor of these eyebrows and asked him why he didn't have them barbered.

"I'm saving them," replied Byrns, "until I can get a good offer on them. Some day one of these young afternoon-tea men that you see around hotels and places, will drop in and give me $9 for an eyebrow to use for a mustache."

Representative S. D. Fess of Ohio used to be a special lecturer for Chicago university and went about to various small cities to discuss historical and other subjects before as many local highbrows as the town afforded or as could be rounded up.

Fess is a learned chap, but is quiet and inoffensive looking and for that reason often fails of being fully appreciated—at least until after he starts to talk.

One day when he was about to deliver a deep discourse, the chairman of the meeting preceded him with a few succinct remarks, which included the following:

"What we must do," said he, "is make an effort to stir up greater interest in this course of lectures. If we could get a larger attendance we would, of course, have more revenue, and then we could obtain vastly better lecturers."

Another time Fess had been delivering lectures at a teachers' institute. He had been talking mostly in the afternoons, but was put on for a special talk one night. Just before he was to speak he went out for a little walk and fell in with a man who had been attending the institute. It was dark and the man didn't recognize Fess.

"It seems to me," said the man, "that they are overdoing this chap Fess, having him speak twice the same day. I don't think there is much to him to start with. Certainly he is nothing to look at."

"Well, you may be right," conceded Fess, "and yet I am somewhat prejudiced in the man's favor."

Just then they came under an electric and the other man recognized Fess. He tried to stammer an apology.

"No apology is necessary," laughed the good-natured Fess, "because what you said was absolutely true."

It is almost impossible to make Fess mad by attacking his personality. Just the other day in the house debate on the immigration bill, he and Representative Metz of New York were on opposite sides. Metz, in his remarks, made bold to say:

"I wouldn't give one able-bodied immigrant for half a dozen baldheaded college professors."

But the only effect that had on Fess was to make him walk out into the lobby where he could laugh all he wanted to without disturbing the debate.

Representative W. L. Igoe of St. Louis is one of the few men who served as a St. Louis alderman back in the old days who afterward succeeded in gaining so important a job as a place in congress. Igoe is, of course, not the only honest man who was an alderman before Joe Folk rounded them up, but just the fact of having been an alderman in those days has been too much handicap for most of the others.

The most noteworthy thing about Igoe, though, is his modesty. As a matter of fact he is a man of parts, vastly more so than the average, but when he first came to congress he was greatly impressed with the importance of the job and remarked to another member:

"Well, isn't this just to ridiculous?"

"What's ridiculous?" asked the other member.

"Why, the idea of a man like me being in congress!"

Senator du Pont of Delaware has not only the longest biography in the Congressional Directory, but also the gloomiest looking countenance in the senate. Even his whiskers have a funeral, hearse-plume-like aspect. One theory is that the reason he looks so gloomy and introspective is because he is trying to recall something that he omitted from his biography.

Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois wears iron-rimmed spectacles that run obliquely across his face and give the impression of having been picked hurriedly out of a basket at a week-end sale.

* * *

Uncle Ike Stephenson of Wisconsin, our wealthiest senator, reminds one as he sits in the senate chamber, of a well-to-do farmer who has been called to town for jury service.

The Doctor's Dilemma.

Kansas City Star: A doctor in a town near Jacksonville made thir modest request recently, according to the Jacksonville News: "Dear people: I don't like to ask you for money and don't especially need it myself, but the merchant who loaned me his clothes last year wants his money for them, and the grocery man wants pay for the stuff we destroyed for him last year, and the banker wants us to return the money he was kind enough to furnish us to buy books and visit the hospital clinics that we might keep ourselves informed and up to date on the new discoveries and scientific methods of treating the afflicted. Now I am not working for a reputation and am not crazy about money, but I must have my board and clothes, so I kindly ask you to come in and arrange with these gentlemen to carry me another year."

Plain Goodness.

Henry Ward Beecher: Do not be troubled because you have not great virtues. God made a million spears of grass when he made one tree.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

And They Should Expect It.

Fairmont Sentinel: Some ward politicians in Minnesota have attacked the non-partisan primary law passed at the last session of the legislature and are asking to have it declared unconstitutional. The claim of unconstitutionality is based upon an alleged and admitted technical defect in the title. Good lawyers say the claim is ridiculous. However that may be, the people are not concerned in technical defects but are concerned in having the laws sustained. They have a right to expect and do expect that the supreme court will disregard technicalities and hold this law valid, thereby giving force to the people's will.

Wilson Means It; Teddy Bluffed.

Such a Dreadful Law.

Fergus Falls Journal: The validity of the new non-partisan primary election law was argued in the district court in Minneapolis. Those who are opposing the law have been seeking to have it declared unconstitutional on the ground that several subjects are embraced in its title. Another shocking provision called up at the last moment was that it provided that candidates for county surveyor should file at a different time from other candidates and the attorneys therefore argued that the law was a piece of class legislation. The court took it under advisement. Should the law be held unconstitutional, the old law will remain in force and partisan primaries will be held in September as heretofore.

But It Likes Woodrow Wilson.

Anoka Union: The Union is a Republican paper and therefore supports Republican candidates. It has no time for Progressives.

Of Course They Don't.

Litchfield Independent: An effort is being made in the courts at Minneapolis to knock out the state-wide primary law on the ground that it is not constitutional. The professional politicians don't like the law.

If Their Memories Are Good.

Sunbeam Sunbeam: The state machine will vote solidly for Eberhart, while the opposition have lost all interest in the primary election. So far as the governor is concerned there are now enough candidates in the field in opposition to him to assure his nomination, but the people will take a fall out of the "gang" in November.

You Bet He Might! Get the Hook!

Park Rapids Clipper: The Minneapolis Journal should set a better example of courtesy and respect to this great state of Minnesota than to ridicule our brilliant governor. Suppose he does compose innocent ballads, dance the tango and spout at county fairs—he might do worse.

Every Year.

The spring has less of brightness,
Every year;
And the snow a ghastlier whiteness,
Every year;
Nor do summer flowers quicken,
Nor the autumn fruitage thicken,
As they once did, for they sicken,
Every year.

It is growing darker, colder,
Every year;
As the heart and soul grow older,
Every year;
I care not now for dancing,
Or for eyes with passion glancing,
Love is less and less entrancing,
Every year.

Of the loves and sorrows blended,
Every year;
Of the charms of friendship ended,
Every year;
Of the ties that still might bind me,
Until time to death resign me
My infirmities remind me,
Every year.

Ah! how sad to look before us,
Every year;
While the clouds grow darker o'er us,
Every year;
When we see the blossoms faded,
That to bloom we might have aided,
And immortal garlands braided,
Every year.

To the past go more dead faces,
Every year;
As the loved leave vacant places,
Every year;
Everywhere the sad eyes meet us,
In the evening's dusk they greet us,
And to come to them entreat us,
Every year.

"You are growing old," they tell us,
"Every year
You are more alone," they tell us,
"Every year
You can win no new affection;
You have only recollection,
Deeper sorrow and dejection,
Every year."

Yes! the shores of life are shifting,
Every year;
And we are seaward drifting,
Every year;
Old places, changing, fret us,
The living more forget us,
There are fewer to regret us,
Every year.

But the truer life draws nigher,
Every year;
And its Morning-Star climbs higher
Every year;
Earth's hold on us grows slighter,
And the heavy burden lighter,
And the dawn immortal brighter,
Every year.

—Albert Pike.

Exceptions.

Christian Register: Foote, the comedian, dined one day at a country inn and the landlord asked how he liked his fare.

"I have dined as well as any man in England," said Foote.

"Except the mayor," cried the landlord.

"I except nobody," said he.

"But you must!" screamed the host.

"I won't!"

"You must!"

At length a petty magistrate took Foote before the mayor, who observed that it had been customary in that town for a great number of years always to "except the mayor," and accordingly fined him a shilling for not conforming to ancient custom. Upon this decision Foote paid the shilling, at the same time observing that he thought the landlord the greatest fool in Christendom—except the mayor.

"Well, that was one of the reasons why I expected you to put money into it."

Your Highest Moments Are Your Truest

Phillips Brooks: Think of the noblest moment that you ever passed, of the time when, lifted up to the heights of glory, or bowed down into the very depths of sorrow, every power that was in you was called forth to meet the exigency or to do the work. Think of the time when you stood upon the mountain top or plunged into the gulf. Remember that time—it may have been the death of your little child, it may have been your own sickness, it may have been the moment of your complete success in business, when you were solemnized as the great shower of weath poured down upon you and you felt that now you really had some work for God to do in the world. Ah! look back to that moment and see if then it seemed so strange to you that God should come into the presence and person of his children and take possession of their life. We grow so easily to forget our noblest and most splendid times. It seems to me there is no maxim for a noble life like this: Count always your highest moments your truest moments. Believe that in the time when you were the greatest and most spiritual man, then you were your truest self. Men do just the other thing. They say it was "an exception, a derangement of my nature, an exultation, a frenzy, it was something that I must not expect again." How about the time when they plunged into baseness and made their soul like a dog's soul? They shudder at the thought of that because they think it would come again. Nay, nay, shudder if you will at the thought of that, but believe that the highest you have ever been you may be all the time, and vastly higher still if only the power of the Christ can occupy you and fill your life all the time.

REPLIES TO REV. L. BIRD.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The letter on the price of coal by the Rev. L. Bird, noted with interest and with all due respect to the length of time spent in the coal regions of Pennsylvania, I would beg to submit to your columns a little that I saw and noted during my possibly shorter stay among the anthracite mines, for I was a native of Pennsylvania and was engaged in engineering work among the mines several years ago.

It is very strange that anthracite mining is such an unprofitable business when anyone who is acquainted there can point out without any difficulty more millionaire and near millionaire coal operators than they have fingers and toes to score them on. I can mention a handful myself, and they made it off mining coal, too, that, as Rev. Mr. Bird says, brings barely $2 per ton at the pit mouth. I knew one very small operator who, on leased lands, from a poor laborer in ten years built up a near million so that today he can have the best the world affords. If it doesn't pay, why is it that the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company makes so much money that they don't know what to do with it all, have to double up on their capital stock and stuff the payroll with dummies, at least that is the accepted fact, in order to keep the dividend rate down to 8 or 10 per cent?

Did you ever notice the dividend rates of the railroads that control and operate the coal mines? Did you ever see any sellers of anthracite stock begging for some one to buy their holdings? How can they afford to run the mines during the summers only one or two days of the week and stand the costs of pumping, ventilation and fixed charges and furnish the pocket money for the operators' families to spend their winters in Egypt?

And then, how about the others who are simply leaches on the industry, "the fee owners?" Like in the Iron country, there are royalties to be paid and most of the coal is mined on a royalty basis. It's not 25 cents per ton there, but $1; the consumer pays this and for what purpose? To support some good-for-nothing set of loafers who happen to be the descendants of some hard-headed, harder-fisted old Dutch farmer or shrewd schemer who bought up a lot of mountain land for what he thought was under it. Not one of these do as much as bend a finger to aid in the service of bringing the coal to the consumer. Every time a consumer shovels coal on his fires he is entitled to "cuss" the fee owners.

How about the open pit mining? How about the millions of tons of coal reclaimed from old dumps at a cost of not over 25 cents per ton? I haven't noticed any of these coal companies mining under Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Pittston, with the millions of dollars of buildings over them going out of business, and they are surely not in the hands of philanthropists. The operators don't think enough of their employes to give them even decent living conditions. No, they can't even furnish them a water supply that they can depend on the year around. You don't see anything like you see up here on the iron ranges. This is paradise alongside of Pennsylvania coal regions. If you don't believe it, take a trip through the Mahoney valley, to Nantocoke or any place back there.

When iron ore from the Mesaba range can be laid down in the very same coal regions at a cost of $4.25 per ton and net a profit to the producer of 10 cents per ton, besides paying $1 royalty, anthracite can be laid down in Duluth for less than $4 per ton and still yield a profit to the operator and pay the $1 royalty, and what is more, the tonnage tax in Pennsylvania is insignificant and if some of this money that sticks to other fingers than those rendering a distinct service could be used in increasing wages and bettering working conditions, the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania today would not be the vile holes that they are, filled with the poor and ignorant of the earth to be the prey of the saloons and groggeries under brewery control. The criminal courts would not have to be in continuous session as they do in Schuylkill county, and the consumer would have his coal with at least 25 per cent easier.

Very truly, A PENNSYLVANIAN.

LICENSING BARTENDERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

What is this man Hicken coming to anyway? I think Mr. Gibson was right in the few remarks he made to Mr. Hicken and Dr. Webster about the so-called barbers' ordinance, etc., and about this bartenders' license. I tended bar for three years in Duluth and never had any trouble on my watch or working hours. It's no fault of mine what happens on my partner's shift or when I am away. That way of licensing workers shows that the city funds are pretty low, and another thing, if they are going to issue licenses, why not issue them to all kinds of tradesmen? One isn't any better than the other. If a bartender lives up to the laws, why it isn't any more right to license him than anybody else. Yours respectfully,

GEORGE WILSON.

ODE TO THE CODE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

When Willie was commissioner,
At age of fifty-six,
He started up a swell reform,
Our morals for to fix.
With help of a practitioner,
To carry part the load,
And also a chief officer,
Why Willie drew the code.

The demon rum, first on the list,
Sure got our Willie's goat.
But like unto September Morn
Was cast into the moat.
And lo, the poor tobacconist moved to a new abode,
And likewise every
When Willie drew the code.

Denizens of the demi monde
Were thorns in Willie's side,
And sad the day when they were born,
So drive them far and wide.
Be she brunette, Titan, or blonde,
Still vampire, reptile, toad,
She with our virtue would abscond,
So Willie drew the code.

The bar boy, and the barber man,
With license, and with tag,
Are now downhearted and forlorn,
But let not others brag.
The doctor, too, may feel the ban,
It seems to be the mode.
To him it sure would tie the can,
If Willie drew the code.

The Prince of good fellows gone,
Why, Voss ist dos, you say!
A town of most its Merritt shorn,
Is that friend Hichen's way?
For us and thou, too, Murchison,
The straight and narrow road.
Is surely one to travel, mon,
Since Willie drew the code.

CRUELTY TO HORSES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some time soon if you can find space in your paper, will you call the people's attention to the treatment horses are getting this cold weather by reckless boys, who never have the whip out of their hands, uphill or down, and instead of speaking to the animal lay the whip on? A woman dare not speak about it for fear of some insulting reply. Also the absurd decorations to the harness which interfere with the horse's sight. A huge tassel between and below the eyes is useless and cruel. This morning I saw two horses with huge streamers, four or six on each bow, and every streamer in the horse's eyes. That is simply thoughtlessness on the driver's part. Let him decorate the horse some place else. They need no protection from flies now.

Duluth, Feb. 14. A WOMAN.

PATRIOTISM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I notice that Mr. Towne takes exception to your condemnation of William Haywood's "uplifting" words, which recently graced your editorial columns. He likewise swells visibly at the mention of "we" and tells us to count the Socialist vote cast at the last election, and again in 1916, in order to discover the number of patients addicted with "pains in their patriotism." I have always labored under the impression that that's all the red flag brigade ever did, count their votes, and then discover that the other fellow was elected!

I refuse to believe that men of ex-Congressman Berger's caliber would for an instance voice the unpatriotic words and discontented vaporings of this Haywood fellow. Truly, a nice spectacle, if such stuff were taught to the younger generation in our public schools! This rot about "conditions" and "liberty" and so forth, usually permeating every Socialistic speech, said speech generally taking on a near-vaudeville aspect, is really something to consider lightly, if at all. Did the men who responded so nobly to President Lincoln's call for volunteers stop to think about "economic conditions"? Were the hundreds of British who sacrificed their lives in South Africa ever quibbling about their "liberty"? What actuated these men, I might ask? What made the conquest of the Panama canal zone a glittering reality? The only answer is patriotism.

Last summer as I was walking home I came across two old army veterans. One was singing and the other old fellow was accompanying him on a mandolin. I stopped and listened to the enthusiasm they injected into "Dixie Land," "Marching Through Georgia," etc., and although the voice was rather quavering, and the chords on the mandolin not exactly correct from a harmony viewpoint, still it appealed to me as the sweetest music I had ever heard.

I would like Mr. Towne to read the following lines which recently appeared in The Herald, and also to remember that a little 6-year-old boy wrote them:

"I love the name of Washington
I love my country, too.
I love the flag, the dear old flag,
Of red and white and blue.

What do the colors say?
Red says 'Be brave,'
White says 'Be pure,'
Blue says 'Be true.'"

Concluding, I can only add, "them's my sentiments." Sincerely,

HAROLD E. KIMPTON.

MOTIVE IS ONLY TEST OF CHARACTER

Words and Deeds Are Secondary to Thought, Says Dr. Gebauer.

That a man's deeds and words are not true tests of his character but that his motives are the ony real proofs, is the belief of Dr. George R. Gebauer as voiced in his sermon yesterday morning at the First Unitarian church. The sermon in part follows:

"To the religion of dogma and creed the liberal thinker is apt to oppose the religion of deed. He will quote the words of Christ 'by their fruits ye shall know them.' But by doing so he is hardly fair to orthodoxy and Catholicism. All religion believes in the fruits of good deeds. And while on one side the creed intends to give to man saving truth, it will on the other insist that he gives proof of his salvation by his life in Christ, which means the highest moral life. But of course it must and will be admitted, that more intellectual belief and submission to dogma were often over emphasized and failed to bring out the fruits of a good life. But after all we cannot judge a faith by its perversion. Certainly in a large way, every church in Christendom is desirous to prove its faith by its works.

"Yet deeds, good deeds alone will not necessarily be proof of a man's religious life. Good deeds may have motives which are all but religious. Philanthropy may be politics or it may be done to comply with the social code of the day, a sort of ethical fashion. The multi-millionaire who relieves himself of the burden of his unusable wealth, may do so from motives which are all but proofs of his faith. There may be no love, no sacrifice in it. A deed of philanthropy to have any moral or religious value, must be a sacrifice gladly given; it must be done in a self-forgetting love.

"Now how many of us do good deeds altogether out of pure motives? I fear that such are very rare indeed. The word of the tongue, too, is a true deed. It was a wise provision of divine nature to give but one tongue to a man and woman, too. That word is only a true word, a word of God, that has the spirit of love in it. So neither deed nor word is the test of man's character.

"The test of what we really are lies deeper than deed or word. It is in our innermost soul that utters itself in thought. If we would know that we are, we have but to look at the mystic dance of thought that goes on within us in the arena of consciousness. The truly moral man, the religious man not only thinketh no evil, but rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth,' that is in all that is good. Here we have the inside of the cup, which must above all become pure, if we would rise into the true life. If we find that things are bad in society, that our theaters and shows and newspapers are not what they ought to be, here is the reason. As long as peoples will rejoice in iniquity, think evil, so long shall we have bad social conditions. Even if people are outwardly respectable and decent, there are a good many who like to have the old Adam in them tickled, who like to feel sensual. Yes in spite of 1900 years of Christianity morality is still an outward thing to many. They have one kind morality for the home in presence of the children, another kind for company, another for the theater, another for a dance another for Europe. What we want is a morality which is ever in sight of God no matter where the individual may be."

STARTS FISCAL YEAR WITH GAINS

Duluth Traction Company Earnings Increase $1,779 in First Week.

The Duluth street railway is starting out in its new fiscal year with a good showing in operations. For the first week of February, its earnings aggregated $22,545.19 as compared with $20,756.15 last year, an increase of $1,779.04.

For the year to date, its revenue aggregated $123,834.36 as against $111,942.30 for the corresponding period in 1913, an increase of $11,892.08.

As the present is usually the period of relatively low earnings, the results are regarded as highly satisfactory, and are taken to foreshadow the settings of a new high record in operations for the year.

Investment demand for the company's stock is improving on the Eastern exchanges. Its quotation on the Toronto Stock exchange is now ranging around $77 bid.

SPEAKS ON DAIRYING.

G. P. Grout Addresses Members of Lakewood Farmers' Club.

An address on "Dairying" was delivered Saturday afternoon at the local demonstration farm and state experimental station by George P. Grout, manager of the Jean Duluth farm. The audience comprised members of the Lakewood Farmers' club. President David Jamieson of the club was chairman of the meeting.

In his address Mr. Grout told of the various plans which have been worked out on the farm and of others which have failed.

At its business meeting, the club considered the purchase of a pure bred Guernesy sire but no action was taken. Several new members were taken in.

SAYS CHINESE COME ANYWAY

Commissioner of Immigration Wants Exclusion Law Modified.

Report Also Refers to the Seamen's Servitude Measure.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Commissioner General Caminetti of the bureau of immigration in his first annual report, submitted to Secretary Wilson, recommended certain modifications of the Chinese exclusion act, and expressed the opinion that great care should be taken with the seaman's bill pending in congress, declaring that "the seaman's bill on the one hand and the immigration and Chinese exclusion laws on the other cannot be properly enforced unless their terms are brought into substantial and practical accord."

Commissioner Caminetti made no reference to the general question of Asiastic immigration, other than a comment on "aliens employed on vessels" and what he says is the danger of Chinese and other Asiatics getting in unlawfully by serving as seamen and deserting.

"Photograph" Brides.

As to Japanese immigration, he expresses doubt as to whether the "photograph" brides after having gone through a marriage ceremony by proxy, recognized as legal in Japan, are really entitled to admission. He says he does not believe "any such marriage is binding upon the United States in the administration of immigration laws; and also that there is no treaty with Japan, or other arrangement whatsoever, that provides for the recognition by the United States of the so-called marriage of a woman in Japan with a man who may be in the United States at the alleged date of the same." He says there seems to be need of repetition and emphasis of the statement in the former commissioner general's report, which declared that the practice of admitting such women "opens the way for the introduction into continental United States of large bodies of common laborers—females, it is true, but none the less competitors of the laborers of this country, and this practice must necessarily result in constituting a large native-born Japanese population—persons who, because of their birth on American soil, will be regarded as American citizens, although their parents cannot be naturalized."

Chinese Getting In.

Despite the fact that everything possible under existing law is being done, said Mr. Caminetti, to prevent the entry of Chinese not entitled to be here, "Chinese laborers are constantly gaining admission, in the guise of minor sons of merchants students, natives, or sons of natives."

"No one would dispute the propriety and advisability of permitting young men of the Chinese race to obtain a higher education in this country," he adds, "provided the privilege is so safeguarded as to prevent its abuse. But this claim of a student status, now adopted much more frequently than formerly, is often used as a mere cloak for the introduction into this country, in violation of the spirit of the law, of young Chinese laborers."

As to those Chinese who come in under the "United States citizen" clause, being returning natives who had been born here, or born abroad of native-born parents, the commissioner general says there were 4,356 of that class in the past four years, and added:

"Thus it may be demonstrated that the number of United States citizens of the Chinese race is increasing at a very rapid rate, although persons of the Mongolian race cannot acquire citizenship by naturalization. The present law permitting United States commissioners to make citizens should be repealed. American citizenship is a proud privilege of inestimable value and of the highest dignity and should not be granted except upon clear evidence of right thereto and the title to same passed upon either by a court of record or by the bureau of immigration, with the approval of the department of labor."

Deportation Cases.

As to deportation cases, the commissioner general declared figures showed the supreme court's decision of 1912 that "Chinese, like all other aliens, who enter surreptitiously are subject to deportation by the administrative process provided in the general immigration laws, was now producing most valuable results." He contends that the three-year limitation on the right to deport Chinese, if here unlawfully, should be "removed insofar as it affects Chinese."

The employment of aliens on vessels entering ports here, he says, "has always led, directly or indirectly, to numerous and flagrant violations of both the immigration and the Chinese exclusion laws." He pointed out that during the year between 35,000 and 40,000 Chinese sailors entered ports here, and the rule of giving bond for shore leave, he declared, "is honored in the breach as much as in the observance." He contended that the law should require all Asiatics lawfully here to have a certificate of identification, by which the "introduction of the Asiatic into the country by surreptitious methods would soon become too expensive to be profitable."

The report shows that 1,197,892 aliens were admitted last year, more than the total for the preceding year by 359,720.

THROW AWAY YOUR EYEGLASSES!

A FREE PRESCRIPTION

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona, fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one Optona tablet, and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

BOYS IN FEMININE ROLES.

Cathedral High School Students Will Present "My Mysterious Friend."

Three members of the La Salle Dramatic club of the Cathedral high school will play the female parts in the comedy, "My Mysterious Friend," which will be presented in the Cathedral auditorium on Feb. 24.

Rehearsals have already been begun and as there are only men in the club, it was decided to have the members play the feminine roles. There are fifteen characters in the play, the principal characters of which will be portrayed by Raphael Graves, Edward White, Bert Hart, Matthew Ahern and Vincent McKinnon.

"My Mysterious Friend" is a comedy dealing with the efforts of a theosophist using his cult to get out of a number of difficulties.

MONTREAL STOPPED WINTER CARNIVAL BECAUSE OF DAMAGING PUBLICITY

Montreal dropped its famous winter carnival because it was discovered that it brought damaging publicity, and that it was working against tourist and immigration traffic.

This is the statement of C. F. Crandall, managing editor of the Montreal Star, the leading English newspaper of that city, to which The Herald recently wrote, asking why the Montreal winter carnival was abandoned.

In other words, Montreal dropped its ice carnival for the same reason St. Paul abandoned its ice carnival, and for the same reason The Herald has been opposing the establishment of an ice carnival in Duluth.

Some of those who have been urging the ice carnival project had made the statement that Montreal quit its winter carnival because it lacked proper facilities for it, and because Toronto and Quebec, with better facilities, took the crowd.

Those opposed to the ice carnival plan, including The Herald, declared that Montreal abandoned its winter sport carnival because it was found that one serious effect was that it permanently associated Montreal and Canada with ice, snow and cold in the public mind.

To settle the dispute, The Herald wrote to the managing editor of the Montreal Star, asking why the carnival was abandoned. His reply covers the field completely: the carnival was abandoned because the railroads, finding that "the advertising arising therefrom created a false impression abroad regarding climatic conditions in Montreal and in Canada generally," refused to support it generally; so it died.

The winter sport carnival brought visitors in the winter, it is true, but it caused summer tourists and settlers to shun the land which they regarded as inclement. So, wisely, Montreal stopped it.

Mr. Crandall's letter is as follows:

"To the Editor of The Herald:

"I have your letter of Feb. 9 inquiring into the reason for Montreal's abandonment, during recent years, of the winter carnival formerly held. The answer is simple—the railways believed that the carnivals and the advertising arising therefrom created a false impression abroad regarding conditions in this city and in Canada generally. They believed that the tendency was to create an impression that Canada was an Arctic sort of a place—an impression which obviously might interfere with tourist and immigration traffic. Consequently they withdrew their support and refused to run excursions or to allow any special fare considerations. As this would tend to keep away the visitors, and as the attraction of visitors was one of the chief reasons for the support of the business community, the carnival died.

"I may add that the local Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce were of the same mind as the rest. Yours sincerely,

"C. F. CRANDALL,
"Managing Editor."

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

IN LINE with its attitude on the street railways, Detroit has begun a war on the telephone companies. An investigation commission has made its reports, the company has made its counter charge blaming the public and putting forward a scheme for metered service, and the public is bombarding the newspapers with communications. The charge made against the company is not lack of service but inefficiency. The critics of the company want some kind of system introduced by which the erroneous calls and conflicts may be greatly diminished if not altogether eliminated.

The first movement of consequence which the city has made against the street railway company was the institution of the suit to annul its franchise, now pending in the courts. Upon the outcome of this action depends the steps which may be taken in the future.

The Duluth Telephone company, affiliated with the Bell system, claims to be independent of any city regulation by reason of the fact that it is operating under state law. Some have suggested that this condition might be and should be remedied, but there has been no pronounced general complaint of the service rendered by the local companies, such as that reported at Detroit.

POSTMASTER AT GOLDFIELD MISSING

Goldfield, Neb., Feb. 16.—With an estimated shortage of between $5,000 and $10,000 charged against his accounts, E. R. Collins, for eight years postmaster at Goldfield, is a fugitive from justice and a Federal warrant charging him with embezzling $1,500 has been issued.

The shortages were discovered by Postoffice Inspector Donald G. Means. Collins left Goldfield for Los Angeles Feb. 4, and since then nothing has been heard from him.

DAY OF PETITIONS IS OVER, SAYS CLAPP

He Advises Suffragists to Make Demands, Backed By Power.

Washington, Feb. 16.—"Storm the male political trust; that is the way to gain suffrage."

This was the advice offered by Mrs. Desha Breckinridge of Kentucky to several thousand suffragists gathered yesterday under the auspices of the congressional committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association to commemorate the birthday of Susan B. Anthony. The speaker was supported in her suggestion by Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota and Senator John F. Shafroth of Colorado.

Senator Clapp told the suffragists that the days of petitions belonged to the times when kings ruled, and that this was the day to make demands and back them with power.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, a member of the congressional committee, announced that preparations were now under way for the congressional campaigns.

"The committee will go into every district," she asserted, "and show the representatives that their seats are unsafe if they ignore demands for woman suffrage."

FATHER LEE ANSWERS CALL

Succumbs to Heart Disease After Six Months' Illness.

Rev. Father Patrick Lee of the Sacred Heart Catholic church in Superior died shortly after midnight last night at St. Mary's hospital, following an illness of nearly six months. Death was due to heart trouble.

Father Lee was born in the county of Galway, Ireland, in 1862, and after receiving an early education near his home entered St. Forath's college at Tuam, Ireland. From there he went to the Royal college at Maynooth, where he was ordained a priest on June 24, 1889. Following his ordination he was a missionary in Australia for nearly twelve years, and after continuous travel in Europe, he finally came to the United States in 1904.

Upon arriving in this country Father Lee was made pastor of the Catholic church at Erin Prairie, Wis., and after serving there a year, he came to Superior as assistant pastor of the Sacred Heart parish. About a year ago he was put in charge of the parish.

About six months ago Father Lee was taken ill and he went to a sanitarium in Milwaukee, where he underwent medical treatment for several weeks. He returned shortly after, but was compelled to come to St. Mary's hospital here about two weeks ago, following a severe attack. He suffered a relapse yesterday morning, which resulted in his death shortly after midnight.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

son, Gunnar Bjornson and the others cannot be accused of seeking to pull anybody's chestnuts out of the fire. They seek to give the Republican party a creditable candidate for the governorship, and to give Minnesota a progressive governor.

If the Democrats do not soon produce a likely candidate for governor, the state's hope for the next two years may lie in the conference convention of March 19.

And it may be, too, that the result of the conference will be to throw out all the candidates now in the field, and to select an entirely new candidate on which the opposition to Eberhart may unite.

The most important development in state politics of the past week is the growth of this movement. That it has reached a stage where the machine is frightened is patent. The adherents of the machine are overlooking nothing just now, and are making every desperate effort possible to prepare for what appears to be a real emergency.

Until the conference was held in Minneapolis last week, all was lovely for Eberhart. The machine men were not at all frightened by the calling of the conference, believing that nothing would come of it. To the surprise of everybody, it has proved a most potent factor in the political situation in Minnesota. It proved to be a gathering of men whose only motive was to rid the state of the present inefficient administration. They had no axes to grind, and they got down to business in a businesslike way that produced results.

They sent out requests to the various anti-Eberhart candidates to state their positions. Would they stand by the decision of a convention called for March 19? The consent of William E. Lee of Long Prairie, who originated the elimination idea, was already in. State Auditor S. G. Iverson gave his consent within a few days, and it is claimed by those who know what they are talking about that within a very few days the consent of J. A. Peterson will be announced. Senator Elwell is silent so far, but he really does not count.

With this patriotic stand maintained by the three leading candidates, it begins to appear as though the convention of March 19 will accomplish something. If it does choose a strong man, and the others remain true to their promises, the indications will be that it will be all over with Governor Eberhart and his ambitions.

As the tail will probably go with the hide in this case, it will mean the finish of J. A. O. Preus and others of the administration forces. It's too bad about Jake, for he is too good a fellow to be training with the crowd he is mixed up with.

To figure out the finish of the present governor, one has only to hark back to the last state primary, when Eberhart got 60,000 odd votes while the combined opposition got over 100,000. In other words, it has been figured out Eberhart got only 38 per cent of the Republican votes cast at the last primary. With the growing opposition to him and the elimination of competition among his opponents, everything points to a clean-up of the state ring.

The machine will back battle material, too, for the make-up of the conference held the other day puts it beyond the possibility of criticism. None of its members, except a few who were there to support Eberhart, is after office. It was purely a case of residents of the state wishing to see the commonwealth put into efficient hands. The administration has good reason to feel uncomfortable and nervous.

In addition to other things that indicate a uniting of forces, the statemeeting of the Progressive Republican league of Minnesota, which was to have taken place last Thursday, was postponed until after the conference of March 19, to see what will be accomplished at that meeting. The Progressive league members do not admit that they may endorse the action of the conference, but it is believed that they will.

Fergus Falls Journal: J. A. O. Preus, the governor's present insurance commissioner, announces himself a candidate for auditor against Henry Rines today. With Preus in the auditor's office, the last cog in the state machine will be supplied.

The election of Mr. Preus as state auditor would give the governor and the interests that are behind him absolute control of the most important boards of the state. It would be a very serious matter to permit a man of Henry Rines' independent character to serve on these boards, as matters might be brought to light that would not look well in print. Mr. Preus has accordingly been selected to make the race against him. The governor can appoint another insurance commissioner, but the people elect the auditor, and everything has to be kept in hand.

Should Governor Eberhart be re-elected and Mr. Preus chosen by the people for the office of state auditor, the ring of control for the machine would be complete; everything would be in the hands of the Smith-Eberhart combination and the state would be in the control of an autocracy, firmly in the saddle, with the prospects good of sending the governor to the United States senate and establihing a dynasty by putting Mr. Preus in the governor's chair. That seems to be the program, and is generally accepted as the case. A correspondent of The Herald has furnished the rather startling news that the state auditor, through various laws passed by different legislatures, is now a member of seventeen boards, and so has a voice in the control of a large part of the state's business.

Should Henry Rines get in as state auditor, there would at least be a check on the machine if the present governor should be re-elected. The more the state auditorship is looked into the more it is realized that a careful choice for the office is necessary; even more important than as to who will be governor. With such a man as Henry Rines as state auditor even a figurehead like the present governor could be tolerated for two years more.

State Senator C. J. Swanson of Fridley says that whether or not he becomes a candidate for congress from the new Tenth district, he will not run again for the state senate; and he favors for that office J. A. Stoneburg of Cambridge. This is in the new Anoka-Isanti district.

The first judicial candidacy announced is that of Alva R. Hunt of Litchfield, candidate for associate justice of the supreme court to succeed Justice Bunn. His announcement is issued by the Bar Association of Meeker county. Mr. Hunt is the author of several works on legal subjects and is a contributor to the well-known Encyclopedia of Law and Procedure.

Tom Noswal, who is writing syndicate political news from St. Paul, has the following interesting news concerning a Duluthian, A. G. McKnight:

For the representation of the Fifty-seventh district, which is composed of part of St. Louis county and the counties of Lake and Cook, Alex. C. McKnight is a candidate. Mr. McKnight first became prominent in state politics as a candidate for congress in opposition to Clarence Miller. He is an able man, a clever speaker and a good campaigner, and has a large following in the district he seeks to represent. It is said that he will make his campaign as opposed to the domination the steel trust exercises over the political affairs of the northeastern section of the state.

It is to be supposed that Mr. McKnight knows his own business, but it certainly seems presumption on his part to make an assertion to the effect that any corporation or interest dominates this section of the state. If he makes his campaign on this basis he will be telling the people in substance that they have lacked intelligence enough to know how to vote all of this time, and will, at the same time, be asking these "fools" to give him their votes in the face of his accusation.

Virginia Virginian: Formal announcement of the candidacy of State Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth for the congressional seat held by Representative Miller is expected within the next few days.

Senator Boyle is receiving assurances of support from all parts of the Eighth district and friends are urging him to file as soon as possible. The senator will have a fighting organization in every precinct and supporters are confident he will defeat Miller, who is unknown to thousands of residents of this district and who appears to be the congressman from Duluth.

Attorney Boyle is one of the most popular men on the range and has made a wonderful record in the legislature. His many adherents are preparing to do all in their power to place him in congress.

"I expect to file within a short time," the senator said. "I am pleased with the efforts of my friends and expect to make a winning race. I mean to conduct a clean campaign on the issues of which there are many of vital importance to the people of the Eighth district."

That rap about Mr. Miller appearing to be "the congressman from Duluth" will hardly profit Senator Boyle much.

"At the 1912 primary, Mr. Lawler received for senator in Ramsay, Hennepin and Stearns, 10,855 votes. With a contest, Mr. Lawler will double this number in these counties and receive enough votes to nominate him without any assistance from the other eighty-four counties."

If our correspondent is right, Daniel W. Lawler will unquestionably head the next Democratic state ticket. At the last state primary, in a presidential year, there were cast for the Democratic ticket, in round numbers, 30,000 votes. Under the non-partisan primary law county contests, which get out the voters, will in most counties be entirely eliminated, and we doubt if the Democratic state candidate can muster, at the outside, more than 25,000 votes. It would, therefore, be a conservative estimate that the Democrat who gets 15,000 votes on June 16, 1914, will go on the official ballot.

Taking religion and nationality into consideration—and no man versed in politics will fail to do this—the man who puts Daniel W. Lawler to route must be possessed of certain peculiar elements of strength, not only in the points above mentioned but he must be outspoken for county option. He cannot hope to secure any support worth counting on from the so-called brewery interests. It is unnecessary to explain in this article why this is true, but those who are familiar with politics of Minnesota will not question it.

Finally and logically, in the opinion of this paper Senator Thomas E. Cashman of Owatonna is the only man who can possibly hope to land a nomination in opposition to Daniel W. Lawler.

Brother Frank A. Day has in the past made some very poor guesses.

Princeton Union: Talk about defeating Governor Eberhart for a third and three-fourths term! Impossible! A man of his proverbial luck and varied accomplishments cannot be defeated! Defeat a man who can write poetry, sing a song, dance the tango, twang a banjo, thump a piano, deliver a soul-inspiring prayer, preach a sermon, who is equally at home at a church festival or a pumpkin show? Absurd! Then it should not be forgotten that his excellency's deportment in college was 100 plus, that there are a few of his fellow countrymen scattered over the state, that he commands the support of the God-fearing religious people and the wicked saloonists as well, and lastly, that he has for a campaign manager the suave, fat and genial Ed. Smith assisted by Insurance Commissioner J. A. O. Preus. Is it any wonder that the governor is invincible at the polls?

Since you happen to point it out, it is no wonder that he is strong at the polls. In case he should be defeated he has several occupations open to him. Should he tire of composing, writing poetry or teaching dancing, he could easily get a job as press agent, or as traveling advertising manager, or the Orpheum circuit doubtless would welcome so versatile an artist to its boards and make him a headliner along with Fritzi Scheff and the rest. Don't worry about the governor. A man of such varied talent has the world as his oyster.

Virginia Virginian: O. H. Griggs is mentioned as a possible successor to Jimmy Boyle's seat in the state senate should he go after a seat in congress. Griggs is not much known here, but he has the indorsement of Boyle, which will go a long ways.—Aurora News.

To speak of Mr. Griggs in the state senate is to talk of the right man in the right place. There is no man in this country better qualified to represent the people at St. Paul than O. H. Griggs. He is a representative American, clean, broad, able—a man who would serve the masses with honor to himself and credit to them.

Check one for Mr. Griggs. It seems that on the range he is well thought of, and that is a good place for him to be held in regard, for that is his home. "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country." When he is honored even there it speaks volumes for his worth.

St. Peter Free Press: Minnesota needs a governor who is governor. —Fairmont Sentinel.

Does this mean Dan Lawler or Congressman Hammond? It cannot mean Governor Eberhart, for in that case the suggestion would not have been made, and it cannot be a Progressive, because just now that party is doing its best to get off the earth. Who then is the man, Brother Day, you have in mind? It would be interesting news for the boys.

If you had read Brother Day carefully, you would have been informed by this time that Senator Cashman of Owatonna seems to about fit in with the Fairmont editor's ideas.

Hutchinson Leader: There is a well defined and widely expressed sentiment favorable to Congressman W. S. Hammond of the Minnesota Second district as the Democratic candidate for governor at the next election. Mr. Hammond holds a highly important and responsible place in the organization of congress, being a prominent member of the ways and means committee, the most important committee of congress, so it would be a distinct loss to the state if he should retire from congress. The pressure may be so strong, however, that he may yield and stand for governor in which case the election would be no certainty no matter who his opponent might be. Mr. Hammond's prestige gained from his participation in the highest counsels of the Federal government, his splendid ability, his talents as a campaign orator and his well known and thorough political integrity would render him easily the most formidable candidate the Democrats could name.

Mr. Hammond is a strong and influential man in congress, but it may be that, after all, his proper place to serve the people of Minnesota is at home. However, soon the Democrats of the state are going to discuss that matter when they have their get-together dinner in St. Paul.

Brown's Valley Tribune: Some of the Republicans down in the Second district are trying to decoy Congressman Hammond from "the road that leads to Washington" and have him "hit the trail" for the state capital at St. Paul. There is no question but what Mr. Hammond would make the strongest man for governor of any Democrat that could be named in the coming election.

This is Sam Gordon's opinion and it is worth while heeding. Mr. Gordon is one of those Progressive Republicans whose regard for the state goes before his partisanship; and he knows Hammond.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: We are not a Lee partisan—don't believe in his party and hold to the opinion that the state needs something fresher—but we do not hesitate to own that he has toted fair with the others of the crowd that want to down Eberhart (to get something for themselves, of course), and that if there was any such thing as honor amongst Republican politicians the other aspirants would withdraw and leave the fight between Eberhart and Lee.

But it's nix on that stuff with the Republican that wants an office.

Lee was in the running two years ago. He made decidedly the best showing against Eberhart, and in this campaign he held off his announcement a long time in hope that his elimination scheme would be accepted by the others.

He has toted fair, that's evident.

But notwithstanding the fact, we hope, even if he does succeed in gaining the nomination he seeks, that he himself will be defeated by the Democratic candidate in the election to follow, because the state needs something that Lee cannot give.

Minnesota, with its puppet governor, its brewery and corporation control, is a disgraced state, and it must, to get back where it belongs, break away from everything that looks like Republicanism, and Lee is of the old school.

Editor Atkinson, while distinctly a partisan, and frankly so, plays fair in his editorial. Mr. Lee, as he says, has toted fair in the matter mentioned, and it is hoped that his idea will be carried out in the conference to be held March 19.

Albert Lea Tribune: It seems that when some of the county auditors during their recent state meeting, went to Ed Smith and talked with him about a certain man running for state auditor, the boss brought his fist down with a bang and said that the party could not make the run, that Jake Preus had been selected for that place. Now what have the people to say in the matter? Is Ed Smith, the spokesman for the pine land barons, the steel trust interests, the breweries, railroads and other special interests, to name the state officers, or will the people retain that prerogative? Wouldn't it be a good thing to name Henry Rines for that place? Rines does not wear Ed Smith's collar, nor would he put it on if elected to that responsible position.

The pine land barons, etc., formerly were "the people" but that day is past and the control of Ed Smith and his kind is fast passing. And he and they realize it, for they are busily making hay while the sun shines.

St. Cloud Times: Mr. Lee accompanies his announcement with a bitter attack upon Governor Eberhart's administration. The following is a sample paragraph:

"An antiquated and complex governmental system; a subservient governor with his enormous patronage and system of forced assessments; an unholy alliance of brewery interests, public service corporations and other special privilege seekers; and an astute professional "boss" directing the machine, have made the 'Tammanyizing' of Minnesota an accomplished fact. The issue, then, is the dissolution of this vicious combination—the election of a governor subservient to no one and ambitious only to serve the state. Condensed in a phrase it is; 'The people against the machine.'"

The people of Minnesota should bear in mind that the above indictment of the present state administration is the utterance of a high-minded gentleman and lifelong Republican.

When the Republican party lowers the administration of public affairs to such a level, is it not time to "turn the rascals out?" A change from one Republican to another Republican will be no change. What the people should do is to elect a Woodrow Wilson Democrat.

In other words, the Times believes that the arraignment of Mr. Lee, Republican, should be taken as coming from a source that knows; and that Mr. Lee should be regarded as sounding his own political death warrant. Well and good! If the people of the state are as progressive as it is generally supposed they are, they will realize that the party in power has been making a mess of things for some time, and will try a change in pilots.

It may prove dull for the sporting writers after the opening of the baseball season—as there may be nothing to write of concerning the Federal league.

A school teacher in our midst during the past week declared that no team could win with Ty Cobb in its lineup. This is news to the managers of about sixty-eight teams of this country. All of which goes to show that you have to nose around to get the dope.

IS BOUND TO "GET" MURPHY

Ban Johnson Declares His League Is After Cub Owner's Scalp.

Murhpy, in Return, Defies the American League President.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—"The American league has declared war," declares B. B. Johnson. "We will stop at nothing to eliminate the present management of the Chicago National league club from organized baseball.

"It is, to my mind, essential that President Tener of the National league and Garry Herrmann, president of the national commission, be clothed with absolute authority to remove from the National league any club owner held to be a detriment to the game."

Johnson, roused by Charles W. Murphy's threat to take legal action against him, broke the silence he has maintained since the joint league conference in New York and outlined his plan to maintain between the major leagues the good understanding which he asserted was menaced by the present conduct of the owner of the Cubs. The American league, he intimated, was prepared to go to the length of changing the national agreement or of favoring the formation of another major league.

"I am clothed with absolute power by the American league to remove any club owner who is regarded as a detriment to the organization," declared Johnson. "The heads of the National league should have the same power. At my meeting in New York with Tener, Herrmann, Baker, Dreyfuss and three or four others, I told them that if the National league could not control this discordant element here in Chicago that the American league no longer would be able to dovetail with their organization. I told them that Tener and Herrmann should have the power that I have—to remove any club owner who was a menace to the game. There will be no backward step on the part of the American league. We are prepared to go to any length to get rid of this influence in Chicago.

May Discipline Murphy.

"We had a four hours' session," added Johnson, "and at its conclusion I understood the National league owners would go into executive session and take action in connection with the situation as I presented it to them. Secretary John Heydler of the Nationals promised to send me a copy of the record of whatever was done for my information."

Johnson said the entire baseball world was indignant because Evers had been dropped a few days before the team was to start on its training trip.

"Nothing could be more harmful to baseball," he declared. "Evers had just been sent South to look over training quarters and had been commissioned to sign a number of players; men whose signature I doubt Murphy could have obtained without the aid of Evers. Then he was dropped at a few days' notice when he thought in perfect good faith that he had a five-year contract. Of course Evers was dropped in accordance with the provisions of his contract and he should have known that he was signing before he signed it. But we don't want that sort of thing in baseball. We want perfect confidence between players, owners and public.

"Billy Locke witnessed the signatures to Evers' contract and he came to me afterward and said Evers was standing over a trap door and didn't know it. The side agreement attached to the contract provided that Evers might be dropped at ten days' notice but Evers signed without reading it. We can't afford to betray the confidence of a ball player in that manner.

Biggest Issue in Baseball.

"This is the big issue in baseball now and not the Federal league. I think the Federal league comes to us now as a blessing in disguise. The American league has set out to see this matter through and we will not falter until it is settled.

"The National agreement," declared Johnson, "can be changed at any time by a majority of the parties interested. It doesn't require a unanimous vote.

"As to Murphy's threats against me personally," said Johnson, "they are the vaporings of a crazy man. I do not reply to them but I indicate by what I have said how far the American league is prepared to go. The American league cannot dovetail with the National league under present conditions."

Murphy said he had not heard from his lawyer in Texas on the subject of the threatened suit against Johnson. He reiterated, however, that the suit would be filed. Johnson's enmity, he said, was based on Murphy's refusal to waive a section of the national agreement which gives the club the right to refuse permission for an outside league to establish a club within five miles of a city in which it is located.

When the Cantillons bought the Chicago property which now is the home of the Federal league, it was purchased, it was said, for the purpose of putting an Association team into Chicago. This deal did not go through because of Murphy's objections, the Cub owner said.

Ousting Becomes Habit.

"Johnson puts me out of baseball at nearly every meeting he attends," said a statement by Murphy. "He puts me out of baseball four or five times a year with a wave of the hand, and I suppose he will continue to do so until the club owners call him to his senses. The specialty of Johnson is trying to stir up trouble in the National league.

"I recall the many instances how he tried to drive Mr. Brush back to his job in a clothing store. Still Mr. Brush was president of the New York club until his death. Mr. Johnson speaks of organized baseball as if he carried it in his pocket.

"Johnson's own league is tired of his tyranny. I am personally acquainted with all the presidents of the American league clubs, and they all understand his schoolboy tactics. His constant aim is to put the National league on the defensive, pretending to have a grievance of some kind."

Murphy added to previous statements that he would enforce the delivery to him of Perdue and Sweeney, or enjoin them from playing. He declared that he had not yet released Evers.

"I still have my contract with Evers, and I certainly will not turn him over until I have Perdue and Sweeney."

Murphy said that telegrams had been sent to Sweeney at Boston and to Perdue at Gallatin, Mo., ordering them to report in Chicago this evening to get on the special train which will take the Cubs to Tampa to begin training.

During the interview Murphy received a telegram which he intimated was from Cambridge, Mass., and signed "Sweeney."

"Sweeney will play second base with the Cubs this season," declared Murphy, on reading the message.

FAMOUS LAMY BROTHERS WILL SKATE IN DULUTH

Edmund Lamy, generally recognized as the professional speed champion skater of the world, and his brother, Clause, will make their first appearance in this part of the country Tuesday evening at the curling club, when the two boys will give an exhibition of speed and fancy skating that has been pronounced by Canadian and American papers throughout the East as the greatest display of all around skating ability ever shown.

Since he was 14 years of age Edmund Lamy has been the wonder of the skating world. Living at Saranac lake, practically brought up on skates, this boy has been one of the greatest natural skaters almost from the time when most youngsters were playing marbles or spinning tops.

When a kid in knee pants the Lamy one was beating some of the greatest in the world, as the speed races were in the past days held at Saranac lake. Now Edmund is but 23 years of age, but he has been before the public so long that some look upon him as a veteran. It is the same with Willie Hoppe, world's champion billiardist, who started when he was five or six years of age.

Has Beaten the Best.

During his career Edmund has beaten practically all of the best skaters in the world. At Brooklyn Lamy defeated twenty-three of the crack skaters of the world, some of the limit men having a start of 220 yards in the mile event. Lamy was forced to skate wide of the pole and yet broke the mile record that was up to that time in the secure possession of Johnny Neilson of Minneapolis.

In addition to be one of the greatest skaters of the world, ranking with the illustrious trio, Johnny Johnson, Johnny Neilson and Norval Baptie, Lamy is a professional baseball player, being in the Virginia league; is a crack basket ball player, a boxer and sprinter.

With his younger brother the world's champion gives a wonderful exhibition of fancy and speed skating, jumping barrels, cutting figures and going through the repertoire of the best of skaters.

The Lamys are at present time on a tour of the United States and Canada.

KELLY MUST SCORE A WIN

Former Chicagoan Promised Bout With Gibbons If He Beats Miske.

"Spike" Kelly and Billy Miske will tangle at the arena of the Superior Athletic club tomorrow evening. With Kelly carrying the greater cleverness, ring experience and knowledge of the game, and Miske possessing the greater weight, more rugged frame and harder wallop, the followers of the game are somewhat divided as to the outcome of the setto.

That the crack welterweight who has heretofore made his home in the poetic environs of Chicago will go in from the gong to make it a decisive win, goes without saying when it is stated that in the event of a popular or decisive win over Miske, Kelly will be given a meeting with the Peerless Mike Gibbons before the new boxing club that is to be built at Hudson, Wis.

In this contest the friends of Kelly expect him to unpack a wallop. In the bout with Sailor Billy Walters the Kelly one failed to show that he was able to hurt the sailor man. Walters is admitted to be one of the toughest boys in the division. Walters kept "Spike" on the move and when one is on the move it is sometimes hard to plant 'em in right.

Miske is large and should prove an excellent target for sharp shooter Kelly. And while upon the subject of hitting, it might be stated that this same Miske, while possessing an unwieldy and often round about way of landing blows, hurts when he connects. If he lands on the welterweight runner up he will undoubtedly hurt him.

Kelly's Chance Is Here.

This is the best opportunity Kelly has had for getting in solid with the fans. Kelly beat Tommy Sheehan in a walk and then boxed a draw with Walters. Now he is to be opposed by a middleweight and the chance is here for him to make good.

In addition to the main card of tomorrow evening's program, there will be three other contests.

Kid Billings is being highly touted by the followers of boxing on the other side of the bay, and he is going to oppose a boy who is claimed to be quite good enough to make the Billings person travel some. Mike O'Dowd is the youth who will meet Billings, and some of the followers of the game are stating that this bout will be as good as the main card of the evening.

Art Abrams declared today that Kelly is in the best of condition. Miske is at the Head of the Lakes and the rugged youngster of St. Paul looks to be ready for a hard bout.

THE DULUTH CURLING CLUB

Tuesday Evening, Feb. 17, at 8 p. m. Admission, 25c and 50c.

DULUTH GOING AFTER STATE CURLING TITLE.

There will be at least seven rinks representing the Duluth Curling club in the state championship curling spiel that will be played in Minneapolis on Feb. 22.

The play will be for possession of the Merriam medal, at the present time the possession of George Labatt's Minneapolis rink. The medal is emblematic of the state championship.

It is believed that the spiel of this season will be one of the best in the history of play for the medal.

PREPARE FOR FUTURE SPORT

Yale Crew Settles to Work --Training of Australian Billiardist.

New York, Feb. 16.—Although the dates for the America's cup races and the preliminary trials have been fixed, the hardest of the details regarding the international regatta remain to be worked out, according to Secretary G. A. Cormack of the New York Yacht club.

"I feel safe in estimating that more than 150,000 persons will be gathered about the course when Shamrock IV and the American defender cross the starting line," Mr. Cormack said.

"No other sporting event in this country, either national or international, can equal these figures of attendance, nor is there any similar gathering where the responsibility for life is so heavy. In all competition staged on land, it is necessary that the stands be sufficiently strong to avoid collapse, and that they be non-inflammable. The enclosures must not be overcrowded and the transportation system must be safe and adequate.

"All these conditions must be met in the case of the coming regatta with the added handicap due to the holding of the races upon ocean seven miles from land, with wind, weather and fog always to be considered. All sorts of excursion craft, sea-going steamers and private yachts will follow each other out of the harbor and collect upon the course. The government inspectors must see that these boats are not overcrowded and carry the full equipment of small boats, rafts and life preservers."

With the arrival of Coach Guy Nickalls, rowing practice at Yale has settled down to a steady round of work on the indoor apparatus, and both Nickalls and Giannini report that the progress of the candidates is satisfactory. Every effort will be made to get the oarsmen on the water as early as possible in order that the new stroke being evolved may be taught under the most favorable conditions.

No American athlete with visions of a place to be won on the United States Olympic team ever trained more faithfully for competition than George Gray, the Australian billiard player, now engaged in a series of important matches in London. His training is done under the direction of his father, assisted by his mother, who prepares the special [illegible] which is the chief item of his preparation for an important match.

All of his meals are taken at home and no servant is permitted to cook the dishes which he eats.

STAHL WON'T MANAGE THE BROOKLYN FEDS

New York, Feb. 16.—It was reported today that R. B. Ward, owner of the Brooklyn Federal league club was negotiating with Jake Stahl, deposed manager of the Boston American league team, who won fame in 1912 by defeating the New York Nationals for the world's championship, to lead his team this season. President James A. Gilmore of the Federal league and Charles Weeghman, owner of the Chicago Federals, are acting for Mr. Ward, and it is said that Stahl is not adverse to returning to the game if offered enough money.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Jake Stahl, when seen here today, denied that he had been offered the management of the Brooklyn club of the Federal league.

"Nobody has talked to me about becoming a manager in the Federal league or another baseball organization," said Mr. Stahl. "I am in the banking business now and have no intention of going back into baseball."

President Charles Weeghman of the Chicago Federal league club, denied that he was negotiating with Stahl as agent for the Ward brothers of Brooklyn.

SMITH WINS BOTH GAMES AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 16.—Smith of Superior was the only American skip to make a good showing in the bonspiel here Saturday. McKay of Duluth and Oldham of Duluth were both beaten. In the all-comers event Smith defeated Gowler of the Thistles. McKay was defeated in both his games by large margins.

YALE ABANDONS ENGLISH STROKE; WRAY SIGNS UP

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 16.—Yale rowing coaches last night announced that the pure English stroke used last year has been abandoned. American center rigging will be used on the shells also.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 16.—Coach James Wray of the Harvard crews has signed a contract for another five years, the athletic council has announced. Under Wray's handling, Harvard has won the last six varsity races from Yale.

Football Captain Quits.

Iowa City, Ia., Feb. 16.—Leo Dick, captain-elect of the Iowa football team, has resigned. The action caused surprise in athletic circles, as he had just recently been declared eligible by the conference committee. Dick announced that he had decided to complete his school work and graduate next June.

American Athletes Win.

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 16.—The American athletes yesterday won five of the eight championships of the New South Wales meeting. George L. Parker, California sprinter, captured the 100 and 440-yard dashes; Ruric Templeton, Olympic club, San Francisco, the pole vault; Reginald Caughey of San Francisco, the shot put, and Jimmy Powers, Boston, the mile run. Templeton also won the 120-yard hurdle race.

OMTVEDT STILL CHAMPION AMERICAN SKI JUMPER

Duluth Lands Next Tourney --S. A. Nelson of Stillwater President.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jumping 153 feet once and 161 feet another time on the Mitchell park slide, near here, yesterday at the National Ski association tourney, Ragnar Omtvedt of Chicago still maintained the title of champion ski jumper of the United States. He made the record at Ironwood last year when he jumped 169 feet. The Chicagoan injured his right knee yesterday by a sprain but continued till the end of the day's sport despite the pain.

Bert Hanson, a Virginia boy, took first honors among the amateurs. He gracefully negotiated a jump of 143 feet.

Earl Gunderson of Chippewa Falls won the Chicago Norge club medal for the amateur rider scoring the greatest number of points. Young Gunderson is the champion boy skier of America.

Scores Made By Riders.

Following are the points scored by the professional riders:

Ragnar Omtvedt, Chicago, 341 2-3.
Carl Hall, Ishpeming, Mich., 334.
Anders Haugen, Milwaukee, 329.
Ole Feiring, Virginia, 325 2-3.
Lars Haugen, unattached, 322 1-3.
Henry Hall, Ishpeming, 318 2-3.
Barney Reilly, Mount Horeb, Wis., 316.
John Evenson, Virginia, 315.
Axel Henderson, Blair, Wis., 316 2-3.
Sigurd Hanson, Chicago, 306 1-3.
Simon Erickson, Superior, Wis., 306.
Erling Landwick, Stoughton, 296 1-3.
Elnar Lund, Chippewa Falls, Wis., 294 2-3.
Ole Mangseth, Coleraine, Minn., 291 1-3.
John Brettlund, Ironwood, 286 1-3.

Judges of the competition were Edward Borgstein, Superior; Hans Hanson, Minneapolis, and Einar Baake, Beloit.

Because of the condition of the hill, Axel Henderson did not attempt the feat of turning a somersault while making the descent.

No Cross Country Run.

The cross country run was declared off Saturday because of lack of entries. The scores made Saturday afternoon follows:

Amateur class—Sigurd Bergerson, Virginia, 262 1-3; Hans Hanson, Minneapolis, 262; John Fieldseth, Ironwood, Mich., 256; Bert Hanson, Virginia, 250; Einar Bakke, Beloit, Wis., 244 2-3; John Jobe, Ironwood, 242 2-3; Anders Olsen, Iola, Wis., 233 2-3; Alfred Erne, Iola, 232 2-3; John Guttornsen, Beloit, 221; Henry Landry, Duluth, 220; Marvin Olson, Virginia, 212; Henry Fieldseth, Ironwood, 207.

Judges of the tourney were Lars Haugen, O. R. Mangseth and O. O. Jornum.

But one slight accident marred Saturday afternoon's riding, when Jonas Wiger of Hudson, Wis., miscalculating his landing after a pretty jump, fell and broke his right wrist.

Next Year at Duluth.

Duluth was awarded the national ski meet of 1915 at the annual session held Saturday night, getting seventeen votes to eight for Fergus Falls. The officers were re-elected, as follows: N. A. Nelson, Stillwater, president; Thor Raaen, Chicago, vice president; Aksel Holter, Ashland, Wis., secretary; Julius Howland, Chippewa Falls, treasurer.

At the banquet held last night at which E. C. A. Johnson was toastmaster Mayor Murphy welcomed the visitors. State Insurance Commissioner Preus spoke for Governor Eberhart who is absent from the state. Several others including Thor Raaen of Chicago spoke. Prizes were awarded the following riders:

AD WOLGAST WILL GIVE AN EXHIBITION IN DULUTH

Ernie Potts of Minneapolis has an all-star athletic combination that will show at the Auditorium next Thursday evening, when Ad Wolgast, generally looked upon as the champion 133-pound boxer of the world, will show the fans just what a real fighter does when training for a battle, and will also give an exhibition with Pal Brown.

Pete Petkoff, the star welterweight wrestler of this city, and Walter Nasgoda will go on for one fall, and Joe Carr and Young Beell and Theodore Peter and Bob Turner will complete the show.

Ernie Potts is the former manager of Billy Papke and is one of the best known athletic promoters in the business. Last year he visited Duluth on the Orpheum circuit with a bag punching act.

"Wolgast is in the best shape of his career," said Potts. "I saw the Dutchman fight Rivers at Milwaukee and take it from me he would have beaten the Mex in about three more rounds at the most. When Wolgast is right it is very doubtful if there is any 133-pound boy in the world who can beat him. I would travel a long ways to see Brown and the Dutchman shoot, for it would be some battle.

"It is inevitable that Brown will get the opportunity with Wolgast, should he come through with the boys that he is lined up against at the present time. The Duluth fans will have their first opportunity to see Wolgast, for I understand he has never been here. The followers of boxing will see one of the greatest little men in the world and will be able to form an opinion as to the relative ability of Wolgast and Brown."

The all-star athletic show will be given Thursday evening at the Auditorium. Tom Jones, famous over two continents as the manager of Wolgast, will be here with the troupers, and while here the Abrams brothers will endeavor to line up something definite for Brown.

Brown and Wolgast would draw a turn 'em away house at the Head of the Lakes, and the Abrams announce that in the event of Wolgast being ready to agree to terms anywhere approaching the reasonable, that the two men will be signed while Jones and the little Cadillac wonder are in the city.

Wolgast Is Right.

Ad is right now, according to all the statements. He has trained as he never trained before. Wolgast has come to the realization that a fighter can't booze and fight. After the Rivers battle the Cadillac youth shook the crowd and beat it for his room. Ad is after the championship of the world, and at the present time there are those who believe that in the coming contest with Ritchie, which will be decided at Milwaukee, Wolgast will open the eyes of the fight fans.

MARSHALLTOWNERS LEAD IN FIVES

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 16.—The Wild Rose team of Marshalltown, Ia., sprang a surprise last night when it went to first place in the five-men events in the annual tournament of the International Bowling association, defeating the Blatz team of Chicago, the latter being content to land in third place. The Blatz team last year won the championship with a score of 2,926. As several prominent teams are yet to appear on the tournament alleys, scores higher still are expected to be made.

The following were leaders in the several divisions when play began today:

Five-men events—Wild Rose, Marshalltown, Ia., 2,874; West Hotel, Minneapolis, 2,855; Blatz, Chicago, 2,845; Snyders, Minneapolis, 2,792; Garrys, Winnipeg, 2,764.

Doubles—C. R. Gibson and George Robin, Winnipeg, 1,258; R. H. Highsted and H. Patterson, Minneapolis, 1,263; M. Nuth and J. J. Lentsch, St. Paul, 1,213; N. Wirka and George Blatz, Madison, Wis., 1,198; T. Schwoegler and J. McCarll, Madison, Wis., 1,188.

Singles—Paul Chadd, South Omaha, 648; N. I. Johnson, Fargo, N. D., 631; W. Sanborn, Ashland, Wis., 627; J. C. Jamieson, Chicago, 626; Hugh Buckett, Chicago, 621.

WRESTLE A DRAW.

George Johnson of Park Rapids Holds Potts Even.

Park Rapids, Minn., Feb. 16.—George Johnson of this city, a high school boy 17 years of age, and Jimmy Potts of Minneapolis, the veteran boxer and wrestler, wrestled two hours to a draw in the new Auditorium here Friday evening, there being very little difference in the two men.

Potts tried everything on the youth, but could not pin him. After the match the Mill City veteran declared that the Park Rapids youngster is the greatest kid he has ever run up against and predicted a bright future for him.

NORWEGIAN WINS THE WORLD'S SPEED TITLE

Christiania, Norway, Feb. 16.—Oscar Mathiesen, the Norwegian champion, won the skating championship of the world at the international meeting at Frogner, near Christiania. Mathiesen captured the 500 meters in 47 7-10 seconds; the 1,500 meters in 2 minutes, 26 1-10 seconds, and the 5,000 meters in 9 minutes, 20 3-5 seconds.

The Russian, Ippolitow, won the 10,000 meters in 18 minutes, 57 3-5 seconds. The king was among the spectators.

PELL IS CHAMPION.

Tuxedo Park, N. Y., Feb. 16.—It was East against West for the gold racquet championship in the final round yesterday at the Tuxedo club court. The East won, three games to one. Clarence Pell of Tuxedo defeated C. G. Osborne of the University club of Chicago 15-5; 15-11; 15-17; 15-10; 60 aces to 43.

Pell won the open championship of the New York Tennis and Racquet club two weeks ago and defeated Ernest Greenshields at Montreal a week earlier for the amateur championship of Canada in the final round. He is entered in the national championship at Boston next week.

AGGIES IN LEAD.

Washington, Feb. 16. — Michigan agricultural college with a score of 983 took the lead in the sixth match between colleges and universities for the national rifle shooting championship, the results of which were announced yesterday. Massachusetts agricultural college, Minnesota university and Iowa state university were tied for second place.

In the second division, the lead was won by the Washington state college, with a record class score of 966. In the third division, the University of Illinois still retains the lead.

The District of Columbia team in the Interclub rifle shoot made the highest score of the season by scoring 996 out of a possible 1,000. Warren, Pa., still leads Class A with eight straight wins, while the district team stands second with seven wins and one defeat. Kings Mills, Ohio, and Stillwater, Minn., are tied for the leadership of Class B.

Wall-Scaling Record.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 16.—The world's record for wall-scaling was officially broken here Saturday night by the team of Company K, Fifth regiment, Maryland National guard, which mounted the wall and passed the finish line in 40 seconds flat.

AT WORK ON NEW RATES

Erickson Considering Water Plant Data and Will Soon Visit City.

Council Holding Public Hearing on New Livery Stable Ordinance.

Halford Erickson, a member of the Wisconsin Railroad commission, will probably visit Duluth in a short time to help pass upon the water rates of the water and light department.

Manager Reed received a letter from him this morning stating that he is considering the data relative to the local plant which has been forwarded to him and that he will be ready to come to the city any time after a few days.

Commissioner Erickson, Manager D. A. Reed and W. B. Rittenhouse, who is engaged in making a revaluation of the Duluth-Edison plant, will act as a committee to pass upon the new schedule of rates recently adopted. The new rates have been the subject of much comment, unfavorable and favorable.

Because of the likelihood of the committee acting upon the rates at an early date, it is improbable that the council will take any action this afternoon upon the resolution authorizing Commissioner Moerritt to give a discount of 25 per cent upon water used for power purposes, which is chiefly water used for hydraulic elevators.

Livery Stables.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the council convened to hold a public hearing on the new livery stable ordinance. The measure, as it will be amended, will provide that no stable may be maintained within 150 feet of any building containing more than 24,000 square feet used for office, hotel, club, restaurant, theater or church purposes, or in any business block. A business block is defined as one in which 66 per cent of the assessed value is represented by property used for the above named purposes. Stables not conforming with these provisions are defined as nuisances. At present it is stated that the Board of Trade livery on First street between Fourth and Fifth avenues, is the only one which would be affected by the new ordinance. Several previous efforts have been made to put this stable out of business, but without success. The tenants of the Commercial club, the Mesaba block and the Palladio building declare that it is a nuisance and should not be allowed to continue. The ordinance comes up today for its third reading, having been introduced at the last council meeting.

The ordinance licensing bartenders and the ordinance making East Fond du Lac a residence district will be given their second readings.

WILL MAKE A REAL PARK

Mayor Plans Gardens and Extensive Improvements for Lake Shore.

Mayor W. I. Prince proposes to make Lake Shore park a park in fact as well as in name.

The mayor said this morning that the playground and the skating rink will be discontinued and the grounds beautified with trees, flower gardens and walks. The Iron Range railroad will be requested to build the new bridge which it has promised to construct over the ravine running through the park which its right-of-way now intersects.

"Little use is now made of what is really the most attractive part of the park, the strip running along the shore line of Lake Superior," said Mayor Prince this morning. "This is because it is not easily accessible and little attention has been paid to it. If the Iron Range builds the new bridge this spring, the city will remedy this condition. We will transform the park into one of the prettiest in the city, one which it will be a pleasure to visit. Such a place is needed in the central part of the city. This cannot be done in one year but a good beginning will be made this summer and developed along systematic lines toward a definite plan. We shall also begin to use the park for band concerts."

The skating rink which was started at the park earlier in the season, has been abandoned and under the mayor's announcement neither it nor the playground will be continued. This does not affect the skating rinks or playgrounds in other parts of the city, however, as far as known at this time.

Favor State Actuary.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The appointment of an actuary by the state of North Dakota to act as an official under the direction of the state insurance commissioner, is favored by the North Dakota Life Underwriters' association, which held its annual meeting in Grand Forks Saturday evening.

Lid for Ishpeming.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—In response to a unique petition received from the twenty-two members of the boys' club of the Ishpeming high school, Mayor Barnett has instructed the police to strictly enforce the state law forbidding the sale of liquor or cigarettes to minors. The police also are under orders to arrest any boy found smoking cigarettes or found in saloons or pool rooms.

Owners Ask $20,000—"Too High," Says the Commissioners.

Condemnation proceedings to secure the property will be directed by the city council this afternoon or at the meeting next week, according to an announcement made by Mayor W. I. Prince this morning. The resolution will go in today if the legal department has it prepared, and if not, at the succeeding meeting. It will likely pass. The bill authorizing the erection of the new armory, which will cost $85,000, provides that the city can issue bonds for not to exceed $20,000 to pay for the site, which must be deeded to the state. As the funds of the city will hardly allow of this expenditure, bonds will probably have to be issued.

The property is known as part of the Dodge estate. It is located on the upper side of London road, opposite Lake Shore park and east of Thirteenth avenue. It has a frontage of 200 feet and a depth of about the same. The city officials have looked over a number of probable sites, and state that this meets the requirements more fully than any of the others. They feel that it will be an ideal location for the new armory.

The agents of the property demanded $20,000 for it, which the authorities consider altogether too high. They do not believe it to be worth much more than half that sum, and will secure it by condemnation proceedings. They feel assured that the court will sustain their position as to its value. A ravine, through which a small creek flows, runs through the ground. Before the building is erected the stream will have to be enclosed with a concrete culvert.

ONLY PERFECT MEN WANTED

Full Navy Quota Causes Uncle Sam to Raise Standard.

Owing to the fact that the enlistment in the United States navy has reached 51,500 men, the limit allowed by congress, Chief Quartermaster Erickson of the local recruiting station received word this morning from Washington to the effect that in the future only physically perfect men should be enlisted for service.

It has been the custom in the past to accept applications about whom there was some doubt. But from now on each applicant must pass a thorough test before being accepted.

Although the limit has been reached in the navy, the recruiting station will continue to enlist men, according to Chief Quartermaster Erickson. As most of these men go either to training stations or navy yards for a short course, they will not affect the limit number allowed to be in actual navy service.

It is not believed that the local recruiting office will be closed, even though the limit has been reached, according to Chief Erickson.

STATISTICS WILL BE DELAYED

Dr. Bracken of State Health Board Is Handicapped By Help Shortage.

Vital statistics for St. Louis county which are usually announced about this time of the year by the state board of health, will not be given out until some time in March according to advices which J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, received today from H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health.

The reason given by Dr. Bracken for the delay is that the department is handicapped by the shortage of funds and is obliged to get along with a smaller force than in previous years. About 50,000 births and 24,000 deaths are reported every year to the state board of health, which in turn submits to every county a detailed report every year of the vital statistics of every city, village and town within its boundaries.

CHANGES RANGE COURT METHODS

Judge Hughes Adopts New Procedure for Special Sessions.

Judge Martin Hughes of the range division of the district court has filed with Clerk J. P. Johnson a notice of the adoption of a court rule changing the procedure with reference to the holding of special term sessions in the range division.

In the future, special term sessions will be held on the third and fourth Saturdays of each month. On the third Saturday only matters pertaining to citizenship affairs will be considered. On the fourth Saturday all other special term matters will be considered. Heretofore, all special term matters, including citizenship hearings, were taken up on the third Saturday of each month.

IN DISTRICT COURT

The following cases have been set for trial this week:

Monday, jury cases: 244, 85, 178, 90.
Tuesday, jury cases: 180, 247.
Wednesday, jury cases: 4. Court cases: 13, 235.
Thursday, court cases: 10, 132.
Friday, court cases: 14, 17.

MISS D. A. LELAND DIES SUDDENLY

Miss Dell A. Leland, 64 years old, for twenty-two years a resident of Duluth, died suddenly shortly before noon yesterday just as she had walked upstairs in her home at 326 West Second street. Death was entirely unexpected and came as a surprise to her many friends. Although she was not in the best of health for the last week, it was not thought that her condition was serious.

Miss Leland came to Duluth in 1892 with her mother, Mrs. Mary Leland, who died here twelve years ago. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Walter Richard of Seattle, Wash., and a nephew, Charles H. Leland of Milwaukee. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles F. Leland of Winona, also survives her. Mrs. Leland arrived in Duluth this morning and is making the arrangements for the funeral.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the late residence and interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

PROBE COLORADO STRIKE IN TRINIDAD

Congressman Evans Comes Near Being Arrested By Guard.

Trinidad, Col., Feb. 16.—The scene of the Colorado coal strike investigation by the sub-committee of the house committee on mines and mining today shifted from Denver to Trinidad. Here, on the edge of the Southern Colorado fields, the congressmen will view at first hand all the problems arising from the labor controversy and collect the most important evidence that will enter into their future report and recommendations.

The sessions which opened today are to be held in the city hall. Chairman Foster, who arrived early Sunday, made the final arrangements for the hearings, and it is expected that the work of the investigators will move rapidly.

A number of trips into the coal mining region, including visits to several of the tent colonies of the strikers, are planned by the committeemen.

Evans Near Arrest.

Representative John Evans of Montana, member of the committee, clashed with a member of the provost guard while walking about the town last night, and for a time it appeared that a member of congress would be placed under arrest.

Mr. Evans, who was walking alone in the streets, had engaged in conversation with a sentry when Sergt. William Nichols rode up after listening to the conversation between the congressman and the soldier, and asked the name and business of the stranger.

"That is none of your business," replied Mr. Evans.

"You'll have to move on," ordered the officer.

"I am on my beat and I am attending to my own business," replied Mr. Evans.

Then ensued a conference between Sergt. Nichols and the congressman. The sergeant rode to headquarters for instructions, leaving another soldier at the place.

"I'll wait for you," declared Representative Evans.

During his absence the sergeant evidently learned the identity of the distinguished stranger. A short time later he galloped back, saluted and said:

"That's all right, Mr. Evans. I owe you an apology."

"I think you do owe me an apology," declared Representative Evans.

BACON'S FUNERAL TO BE IN THE CAPITOL

Washington, Feb. 16.—The desk of the late Senator Bacon of Georgia was draped in mourning today. The funeral of Former Senator Hanna was held in the senate chamber Feb. 17, 1904, ten years ago. Senator Bacon's funeral will be held here tomorrow.

The senate adopted a resolution extending invitations to the funeral to the president and members of his cabinet, the supreme court, the house of representatives, members of the diplomatic corps, the admiral of the navy, the chief of staff of the army and the regents and secretary of the Smithsonian institution. The public will be admitted by card.

Vice President Marshall today named the committee of senators to accompany the body of Senator Bacon to Georgia and attend the funeral in Macon:

Smith of Georgia, Tillman, Chilton, Overman, Fletcher, Pomerene, Thomas, O'Gorman, Vardaman, Gallinger, Root, Nelson, Brandegee and Page.

Accompanying the committee will be the secretary of the senate, James M. Baker, and the sergeant-at-arms, C. P. Higgins.

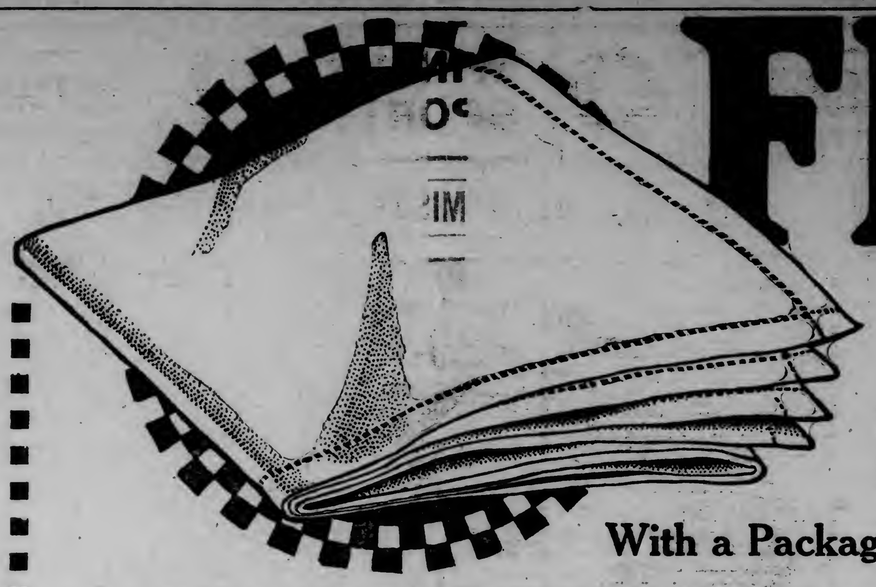

BIND WATCHMAN AND GET $10,000

Milledgeville, Ga., Feb. 16.—Robbers got more than $10,000 in cash early today when they bound and gagged a night watchman in the business place of C. S. Bonner here, and wrecked the strongbox. Bonner said the loot was his savings of a lifetime. No clews were found.

Mill City Man Shot.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 16.—Joseph Bayerle, foreman of a factory at which a strike has been in progress for several days, was shot and possibly fatally injured by an unknown assailant Saturday as he was about to board a street car. The only witnesses to the shooting were the conductor and motorman of the car.

ON THE IRON RANGES

TWO HARBORS CITY PLAYERS VICTORS

They Defeat Kelley Hardware Hockey Team 3 to 1.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before a large and enthusiastic throng the local city hockey team defeated the Kelley Hardware team of Duluth by the score of 3 to 1 here yesterday afternoon. The weather was ideal and the largest crowd that has attended a hockey game here this year turned out. The game was comparatively clean throughout, although an occasional tripping stunt would be pulled off by either team. The team work of the locals was the best displayed this year, every member of the team appeared to be playing all the time and pulled off some very pretty combination work which on two occasions resulted in scores. Sullivan, Westin, Belland and Griffin on the forward line proved a strong combination for the visitors, while Dahlstrom at cover point played his usual strong defensive game.

The first score for Two Harbors came in the first half after about ten minutes of play when Capt. Westin received the puck in front of the visitors' goal and shot her in. The next and last score of the first half was made by Griffin from a difficult angle. There was considerable jangling as a result of this score. Several of the Duluth boys claimed that the puck went in through the side of the cage; the goal referee, however, declared that it entered the net fairly and the goal was allowed.

Sullivan's Fine Work.

The locals' other score came in about half a minute after the bell sounded opening the second half, when Sullivan got the puck on the scratch off and, skating through the entire Duluth team, shot a pretty one into the net. Duluth's score came near the end of the last half and was shot from a scrimmage in front of the locals' goal. The line-up was as follows:

Duluth.		Two Harbors.
H. Anderson	g	Sponberg
Berger Rnderson	p	Berg
Dahlstrom	cp	Anderson
Sullivan	r	Wagner
Holland	c	Miller
Westin, capt.	rw	Landgren
Griffin	lw	Johnson

Referee, Hastings; goal referees, Porger and Miller.

The local city second team went to Knife River yesterday afternoon and defeated the hockey team of that place by the score of 10 to 0. Although the game was very much one-sided those who saw the game claim it was very interesting.

WILL PREPARE FOR ELECTION

Hibbing Council Will Appoint Election Officials Tuesday.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The most important matter expected to come before the village council tomorrow afternoon, at the regular weekly meeting, is expected to be the appointment of the election judges and clerks for the village and township election to be held March 10. It is generally expected that Village President Power will be unopposed for re-election.

Three Seek Treasurership.

There will be a lively contest for the office of village treasurer. Treasurer D. D. McEachin is a candidate for re-election. He will be opposed by Mike Gleason, Mr. Neimi and probably some others. The water and light committee of the council is expected to report upon the recommendation of the grand jury that quarters be secured or provided in the village hall or some other place better adapted to the needs of the petit jurors. Various routine matters will be considered.

CLEARING OFF ISLAND.

A. H. Lofgren Making Fine Pleasure Place in Lake Vermilion.

Tower, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to the Herald.)—A. H. Lofgren, on his island in Lake Vermilion, has a force of men at work cutting out and burning the underbrush, trimming up the trees and otherwise converting the island from a wild state to a choice building site for summer homes. He located a fine spring on the island.

Through the generosity of one of the more public spirited citizens, the Presbyterian church lighting system has been greatly improved.

Werner Engstrom of Duluth, who contemplates starting a fox farm near Vermilion dam, was in town a few days before departing for the site of his proposed enterprise.

Mayor Roland and a number of farmers have interested the owner of a portable sawmill to go to the section their farms are located on and cut considerable lumber. The product will be hauled to the railway, where it will be loaded for shipment.

Reuben Johnson has been appointed by the mayor as "light collector."

VIRGINIA CONTEST IS VOTED SUCCESS

Skiers Who Participated Loud in Praise of Treatment.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The professional and amateur ski riders who came here for the tenth national ski contest as well as the large throngs estimated in all to have been 1,000 who came from Superior, Duluth-the Twin Cities, Chicago and various range points left for home last evening and this morning, all loud in their praise of the fine manner in which they were entertained. The ski meet was voted a success in every way, the slide being in fine shape and the weather all that could have been expected. It is expected the local association came out nicely on expenditures.

Fergus Falls Peeved.

The Fergus Falls delegation who failed to land the next year's meet over Duluth were rather sore over the outcome and withdrew from the association. Dr. Olof Th. Sherping of Fergus Falls extended an invitation in behalf of that city. Objections to Fergus Falls were made on behalf of the skiers by Anders Haugen of Milwaukee and Julius Howland of Chippewa Falls, Thor Raaen of Chicago and George Dee of Chippewa Falls spoke in favor of Duluth as being a center for winter sports. George M. Jensen, delegate from Duluth made a very good talk stating that he had not been authorized to extend any invitation on behalf of the city or its ski club but that if the meet was thrown its way Duluth would not refuse and would guarantee to make it one grand success. The vote was seventeen for Duluth and eight for Fergus Falls. Dr. Sherping then announced the withdrawal of Fergus Falls from the national association. Other reports were taken up and disposed of at the meeting.

Reports of secretary and treasurer showed the association to be in good condition, consisting of thirty clubs with a membership of 1,100. Duluth was given the 1915 tournament without any bid having been made for it.

Car Service Poor.

About the only complaint heard yesterday was the inadequacy of the car service to the Mitchell park slide, many people being unable to get service out there. The Mesaba Electric line did everything possible but the car barn fire of a few months ago more or less crippled the service which was not equal to yesterday's test. The management promises not to be caught napping again.

Insurance Commissioner Preus who represented Governor Eberhart at the banquet left today for Duluth and the Twin Cities.

BUHL STREETS ARE TO BE IMPROVED

Crushed Stone to Be Placed Upon Principal Thoroughfares.

Buhl, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village is employing a crew of men under the supervision of Ed Le Veau on the cemetery road crushing stone to be used this spring for paving purposes. All of the principal village streets will be paved with crushed stone and cement, and when completed will give to Buhl a metropolitan appearance that should be the envy of a great many villages several times its age and size. The work will be started as soon as weather condition will permit and will be rushed to completion.

LIKE BUHL PLANT.

Central Heating Concern Is Giving Fine Satisfaction.

Buhl, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The central municipal heating plant recently installed is giving perfect satisfaction in all respects and with this modern arrangement the rigors of the recent cold spell have caused no inconvenience to the fortunate residents of the village, who are receiving heat and hot water from the central plant.

BUHL MAN DOES NOT FEAR THIRTEEN

Buhl, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward Santini of Buhl, whose name contains thirteen letters, was born on June 13, 1879. He was baptized thirteen weeks later and was confirmed when he was thirteen years old. He was named for St. Edward, whose birthday falls on Oct. 13. He was married on July 13, 1902, to Salvia Santini, whose name also contains thirteen letters. He moved to Buhl on June 13, 1913, has his place of business on lot 13 in the original townsite of Buhl and calls for his mail at box 13 in the postoffice.

BUHL NEWS.

Buhl, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Catholic Ladies' Aid society will serve a luncheon at the village hall Wednesday afternoon, March 4. The hostesses will be the Mesdames M. J. O'Hair, Frank Gleason and P. J. McGuire.

The regular meeting of the village council will be held at the village hall next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The municipal ice rink is proving very popular with the skaters of the village and at the present time is in excellent shape.

Knute Olson returned recently from his studies at the state university, and will spend some time here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Swan D. Olson.

Mrs. Swan Rosengren, who has been ill for the past few days, is improving.

Miss Nina Nichols left recently for Duluth, where she has accepted a position at the normal school as critic teacher of the seventh and eighth grades.

Buhl Manual Training.

Buhl, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The manual training department at the high school, in charge of Prof. Durbalm, is progressing nicely. The class at the present time is working on lockers, lumber racks and are finishing twelve solid oak sewing tables, eight of which will be used in the domestic science department, and the balance will be sent to the Kinney school.

Everett Has Returned.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. E. Everett, range probation officer, has returned from a trip to Red Wing and Stillwater.

VIRGINIA YOUTH HAS SMALLPOX

Develops Disease at State University; General Vaccination Resulting.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 16.—One hundred and fifty students of the University of Minnesota were vaccinated Saturday, when it was discovered that Charles W. Lundmark, a sophomore student in the college of forestry, was suffering from smallpox. Those vaccinated were equally divided between the students at the agricultural college and members of an economic class, of which the sick man is a member. He was taken to the detention hospital, where it is said his case is not serious. Lundmark's home is at Virginia, Minn.

EVELETH MAN ADMITS GUILT

Tom Hicks Pleads Guilty to Attempted Grand Larceny.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Hicks of Eveleth, indicted by the late grand jury on the charge of attempted grand larceny and grand larceny, came into district court today before Judge Martin Hughes and pleaded guilty to the indictment charging attempted grand larceny, the other indictment being quashed. He will be sentenced later. A jury was selected and the trial of the case of the state of Minnesota vs. Tony Yardish, indicted for giving liquor to a minor near Buhl on Christmas, commenced. It may be concluded today.

DRUMMERS WILL TURN MINSTRELS

The members of Duluth branch, No. 40, United Commercial Travelers, will hold their annual minstrel show Saturday evening, April 18, at the Lyceum theater.

Rehearsals for the production will begin at once and every effort made by the members to exceed all previous efforts of the organization. The minstrel shows given by the local council have become very popular in the last few years and are now looked forward to by a large number of people in this city.

Tentative plans for the annual production this year were made Saturday evening at a smoker held by the council in the lodge rooms at the K. P. hall. A large delegation from Superior was present at the meeting, the members from across the bay promising to lend their support in arranging for the April show.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, Feb. 16.—All sections of the country except the Pacific slope will be held fast in Jack Frost's grasp until after Tuesday, according to the weather bureau. There will be a change to higher temperatures the middle of the week. The weekly bulletin said:

"East of the Rocky mountains the weather will be fair during the next several days, except that local snows are probable during Monday and Tuesday over the Great Lakes, the upper Ohio valley and the North Atlantic states.

"The next storm of importance to cross the United States will appear on the north Pacific coast Tuesday, and will cross the central valleys Thursday or Friday. This disturbance will be preceded by warmer weather west of the Rocky mountains and be attended with snow in the northern states. There are no indications that this disturbance will be followed by a cold wave."

LIKE BEILISS' CASE.

Russian Anti-Semites Busy in Latest Murder of Boy.

Kiev, Russia, Feb. 16.—The murder of the boy at Fastoff which, it is alleged, was committed for ritualistic purposes, is assuming the dimensions of the Beiliss case. As in the earlier tragedy, stories of mysterious characters have been introduced, such as "red-headed man" and "a lamplighter," both of whom have disappeared. The Black Hundred and the Union of Russian people are showing their old-time anti-Semite activity.

The minister of justice and other judicial officers have arrived at Kiev and are sifting the evidence. On their arrival they were acclaimed by deputations from the Union of Russian People and the Two-Headed Eagle organization.

The leaders of the Black Hundred, after asserting that the victim was a Christian, declared that he was a Jew and had been murdered by Jews in connection with the Beiliss case for the purpose of proving the allegations of ritual murders by demonstrating that a Jewish boy, as well as a Christian, might be a victim of a crime. They are also seeking to prove that Pashoff, the Jewish tailor who has been arrested on the charge of being implicated in the murder, is a relative of Beiliss.

PLEADS GUILTY TO THEFT CHARGE

Frank Babnick Gets Thirty Days on Work Farm.

Frank Babnick, recently bound over to the grand jury on a theft charge, pleaded guilty to information filed by the county attorney Saturday afternoon before Judge Cant in district court. He was sentenced to thirty days at the county and city work farm.

On Jan. 15 last, Babnick found a letter containing a check for $27.50 made in favor of John Obrodovich. He took it into a clothing store at 501 West Michigan street. The check was indorsed by Babnick in the presence of two witnesses, after which it was given to the proprietor for the purchase of a $10 mackinaw. Babnick received $17.50 in cash. He was arrested shortly afterwards.

Babnick has a wife and ten children residing in the old country.

Give Your Blood A GOOD Searching Bath

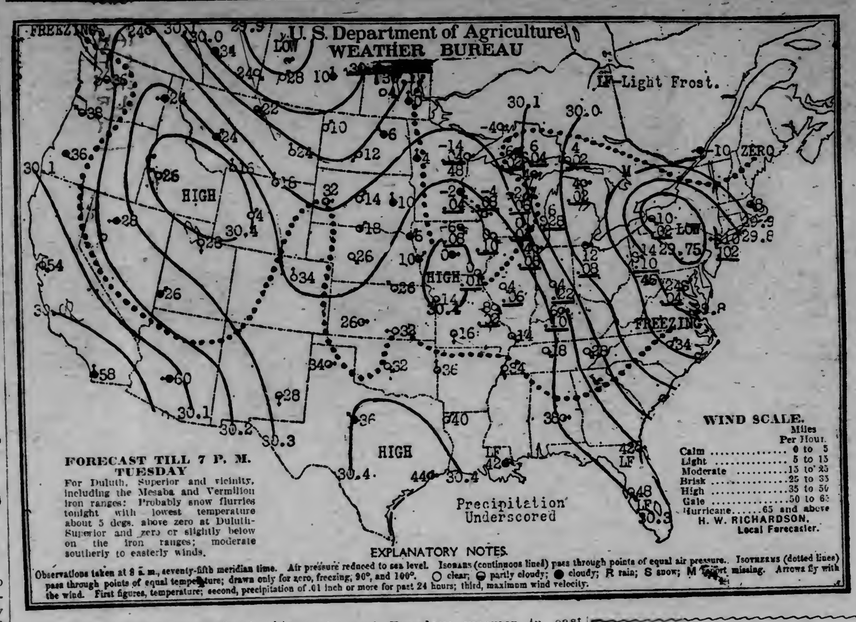

An astonishing record of serious blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. And most if not all these conditions could be averted were the blood primed, toned and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S. Few people realize how quickly the system becomes infected with the acids and ferments from undigested food, constipation and inactive kidneys.

The symptoms of fever, thirst, excitability, dry skin followed by rash, and many indications are often wrongly diagnosed as Ptomaine poisoning. Many people who act hastily from violent temper are simply suffering from the effects of poisoned blood, produced by faulty elimination. But by far the greatest peril is the daily danger from bruises, contusions, the scratch of a rusty nail, and vocational poisoning.

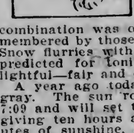

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well balanced health as are the nutritive properties of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. And if you will bear this fact in mind and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out those impurities that cause Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Pimples, Boils and thin anemic blood, but you will feel anew the thrill of health than can come only from a purified blood stream.

Do not accept anything else in place of S. S. S.; pay no attention to the "Just as Good" claims of those who would sacrifice your health to make an extra profit. S. S. S. contains no minerals, no crude drugs, nothing but the most beneficial materials. So be sure and get S. S. S. and avoid disappointment. OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

WARMER

Long about this time o' year winds and cold must be expected, and a combination of that kind struck Duluth about 8 o'clock last night. The wind blew at the rate of forty-eight miles per hour and the thermometer got as low as 14 deg. below zero, and the combination was one that will be remembered by those who were out of it. Snow flurries with warmer weather is predicted for tonight. Today is delightful—fair and crisp enough.

A year ago today was mild and gray. The sun rose this morning at 7:09 and will set this evening at 5:35, giving ten hours and twenty-six minutes of sunshine, seven minutes more than Saturday and three minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours light snow fell throughout the Northwest, the upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys, lake region and North Atlantic states. Somewhat colder weather prevails in Northeastern Minnesota, Montana, South Dakota and the central valley states, but in Saskatchewan and Manitoba the temperature has risen. Frosts occurred early this morning in Florida and Southern Louisiana. The highest wind velocity at Duluth last night was at the rate of forty-eight miles per hour from the northwest."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer tonight and in southeast portion Tuesday.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and probably Tuesday; warmer tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Tuesday; somewhat higher temperature tonight and in east portion Tuesday.

North Dakota—Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday, possibly snow flurries in northeast portion; somewhat higher temperature in east portion tonight; colder in west portion Tuesday.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; somewhat lower temperature in east portion Tuesday and in central portion tonight.

PROGRESSIVES TO HAVE FULL TICKET

North Dakota Bull Moose State Meet Denounces Underwood Tariff.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state committee of the Bull Moose party, in session here since Saturday night, when it decided to place full state and congressional tickets in the field, adjourned without announcing the personnel of the ticket.

Chairman Dorr Carroll of the state committee, on his departure for his home at Minot, stated that the ticket probably would be announced within a week or ten days.

H. H. Aaker of Fargo as a gubernatorial candidate; H. R. Turner of Fargo as a congressional candidate, and Dorr Carroll of Minot as candidate for attorney general are looked upon as certainties. For many positions there are two or three probable candidates, there being no dearth of material.

Denounce Underwood Tariff.

Condemnation of the Underwood tariff law and the Taft reciprocity pact, and support of a protective tariff that will be equal as between all industries; support of woman suffrage in both state and nation; Federal amendment providing for prohibition; initiative, referendum and recall; four-year terms for state officials; economy in handling of public funds; extension of agricultural credit, and re-establishment of the country life commission; terminal facilities for the marketing of grain by the farmers.

At the mass meeting Saturday night, when the campaign was formally launched, Sever Serumgard of Devils Lake, H. R. Turner of Fargo, Dorr Carroll of Minot and H. H. Aaker of Fargo pointed out that the Democratic and Republican tariff acts would be made the basis for the fight in this state.

County Bull Moose Active.

Organization of the Grand Forks Progressive Republicans was partially perfected Saturday afternoon when H. Bendeke was elected chairman, and J. B. Wineman secretary. A county convention will be called late in March to plan the campaign in the county.

U. L. Burdick, gubernatorial candidate, was unable to attend, as expected.

Read the repair ads on page 10 tonight. It pays.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH DRUG "FIENDS"

Pair Acquire Habit and Ask to Be Sent to Asylum.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in the history of the local board of insanity two persons have voluntarily sought admission to the state hospital for the insane. They are Mr. and Mrs. Brown of this city. Brown was formerly a teacher in the state of Washington. Receiving a spinal injury in a fall he became addicted to the use of narcotics to alleviate the pain. In caring for him Mrs. Brown acquired the same habit. Learning of the numerous cures of persons who used drugs at the state hospital they decided to seek relief and will be sent there for treatment.

Lumber Dealers to Meet.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo will entertain the North Dakota Retail Lumber dealers Wednesday and Thursday. The president of the organization is S. N. Putnam of Carrington. Platt B. Walker and R. E. Cole of Minneapolis and V. R. Lovell and Archibect Hancock of Fargo will speak Wednesday. An interesting program has also been arranged for Thursday.

FURTHER GAINS IN IRON TRADE

Increased Bookings of Last Few Days Expected to Continue.

Improvement in the iron and steel trade is said to be pronounced in every department, it being estimated that a further increase in operations will be shown by the plants during the present week.

The volume of orders booked in finished products has shown a substantial increase during the last few days, and it is now thought that the larger steel manufacturers have sufficient business standing on their books to maintain their present scale of producing during the next three months.

Touching upon the present situation, the Iron Trade Review says: "The general iron and steel market continues to gradually gain strength, and mill managers are beginning to assume a more independent attitude. Plates, shapes and bars are being held at $1.25 in Pittsburgh by some makers, but tonnage is obtainable at $1 a ton under that price. Generally speaking, however, prices are slightly stiffer than a week ago, and considerably stronger than a fortnight ago.

"Specifications against contracts are coming out in a fairly good volume and some manufacturers have been able to build up small back log tonnages. Consumers of finished and semi-finished products are showing greater interest in second-half requirements, and heavy tonnages of basic and pig iron have already been sold for that delivery. The pig iron market has been active and prices are stronger than a week ago. Both basic and foundry iron sales last week were heavy."

HOLDS POLICEMEN AT BAY ALL NIGHT

Chicago, Feb. 16.—After holding six policemen at bay all night with two magazine pistols, Frank Mader, former business agent of the Electrical Workers' union, gave himself up Sunday. Mader and Thomas Flannigan, arrested Saturday, were identified as two of three men who shot and seriously wounded Reuben Fabish and Isadore Breveman, officials of the Cosmopolitant Chandlery company.

The shooting was the result of a riot at the meeting of the electrical union Wednesday night at which more than a score of shots were fired.

HOBSON-UNDERWOOD FIGHT NEARING END

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 16.—The seven months fight between Oscar W Underwood, majority leader of the house of representatives, and Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson for the Alabama vacancy in the senate is drawing to a close. The deciding votes in a campaign that has attracted nation-wide interest will be cast at the Democratic primaries April 6. The election will take place Nov. 4, but that merely will be a ratification of the primary.

Mr. Underwood has announced that, so far as personal participation was concerned, his campaign already has ended. Representative Hobson is carrying forward the personal campaign he has been waging for many months, during which he has spoken in nearly every county and town in the state. Friends of Mr. Underwood have used the activities of Mr. Hobson as a basis for charges of habitual absenteeism from his duties in Washington.

Typical of all latter day political fights in the South, the Hobson-Underwood campaign has been more or less involved with the question of state-wide prohibition. Mr. Hobson has charged his opponent with having been influenced by "liquor interests." These charges have been denied by Mr. Underwood.

Omega Oil for Pains in the Back

Put a steaming hot towel over the painful spot for a few moments to open the pores; then rub with Omega Oil. Quick relief usually follows this simple treatment. Trial bottle 10c.

WHAT TO DO FOR NEURALGIA

The one great symptom of neuralgia is pain; the one great cause is lack of nutrition for the nerves, in plain language—starved nerves.

There are two things to do for any form of neuralgia. Apply heat to the affected part to sooth the pain, and feed the nerves by taking a tonic containing the elements needed by them. Heat, as afforded by hot flannel, hot water bags, etc, lulls the inflamed nerves into temporary quiet. It does not cure. Not until the nutrition of the nerves is restored will the inflammation subside.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills furnish to the blood the needed elements and the blood conveys them to the nerves. The only way of getting food or medicine to the nerves is through the blood. Remember that.

Neuralgia is a general term. It means inflammation of a nerve. It is given different names according to the nerve affected. Sciatica is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. Application of heat will soothes the pain in all form of neuralgia and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct the condition that caused it.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send you a little book on "Home Treatment of Nervous Disorders" for the asking.

SAVES SIX LIVES.

Minneapolis Young Man Drags Relatives Out of Fire Zone.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 16.—Flynn Johnson, aged 18 years, saved the lives of six persons Sunday when the building occupied by the bakery and living rooms of his father, Axel Johnson, was destroyed by fire.

Young Johnson was aroused by the crackle of the fire, and making a hasty survey of the other rooms he discovered all the occupants of the building had been so overcome that none had awakened.

By almost superhuman efforts he dragged his father, mother, young brothers, two men and a man employed in the bakery, from their beds and to the open air when they soon revived. The property loss was estimated at $10,000.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

CHOOSE LEWIS FOR GOVERNOR

Mill City Socialist Is Nominated at the Brainerd Convention.

Short Platform Adopted Calling for Abolished Wage System.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state convention of the Public Ownership party which opened here Saturday lasted all day Sunday and far into the night, it being well along toward this morning when the convention adjourned. The convention voted unanimously to change the name of the party from the Public Ownership to the Socialist.

The following nominations were made: Governor, Tom Lewis, Minneapolis; lieutenant governor, Andrew Hanson, Minneapolis; secretary of state, W. A. Stafford, Minneapolis; state auditor, F. A. Thompson, Richville; state treasurer, J. E. Nash, Minneapolis; attorney general, F. J. Geist, Minneapolis.

Against Wage System.

A short platform was adopted declaring for the abolition of the wage system and the establishment of an industrial democracy, and calling the workers to rally under the banner of international Socialism, closing with this paragraph: "The Socialist when in office shall always and everywhere, until the present system is abolished, perform all duties and acts in the interests of the class they represent."

SIXTY-FOUR FINE DOGS ARE BURNED

Grand Forks Kennel Is Destroyed and Valuable Animals Perish.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sixty-four registered dogs, females and litters, many of them notable field trial and bench winners, were cremated in a fire which Sunday destroyed the Grand Forks Boarding and Trading Kennels, a registered dog kennel, owned by W. H. Wilde.

The dogs burned to death were valued at over $5,000 and the total probably is between $6,000 and $7,000.

Fire During Blizzard.

The fire occurred in a raging blizzard, originating probably from an overheated stove in the dog hospital. When Mr. Wilde was notified by neighbors of the fire, the flames already had filled the kennels with smoke and the dogs had been suffocated. Mr. Wilde himself was badly scorched about the head and arms in trying to rescue his charges, and he also was frosted about the feet and legs, working to save the canines in scanty attire.

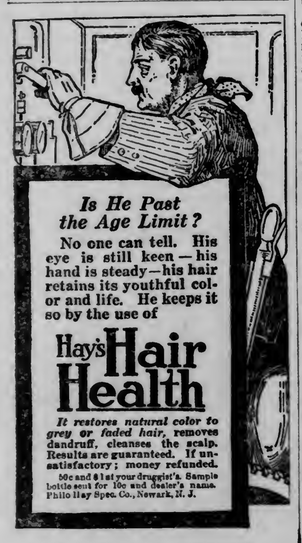

WOOD HEADS SPORTSMEN

Is Chosen President of the Grand Forks Gun Club.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 16.—The North Dakota State Sportsman's association will hold their annual shoot at the traps in this city on June 25 and 26, according to a decision reached by the new officers of the Grand Forks Gun club.

Officers of the club at the annual meeting discussed the plans for the season's activities and made some arrangements.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, H. L. Wood; vice president, C. A. Hale; secretary-treasurer, Dr. T. E. Barber; trustees, Theo. Rykken, H. L. Wood and Dr. F. F. Fletcher.

LOSES ACTIONS FOR HEART BALM

North Dakotan, Who Sued Parents of His Wife, Loses Suit.

Forman, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Myhre will not be assessed for damages on account of the alleged alienation of the affections of Mrs. Jean Breyer, their daughter. Breyer brought an action against the parents of his wife. The court dismissed the action on the part of Mr. Myhre and the case against Mrs. Myhre went to the jury, which decided she was not to blame.

Forgives Erring Spouse.

Forman, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Nickerson has forgiven his wife and taken her back home following the conviction and the imposition of a sentence of a year in the state prison against Edward Johnson because of the criminal relations between young Johnson and Mrs. Nickerson.

Pair Arrested.

Dickinson, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state humane agent caused the arrest of J. O. Hanson and Miss Ida Patterson. The man is said to have a wife and children in Billings county.

DULUTHIANS SPEAK.

George Barnum and J. E. Cooley Participate in Barnum's Celebration.

Barnum, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A dozen or so speakers participated in the silver anniversary of the organization of the village of Barnum last Thursday evening. There were at least 300 present. George G. Barnum of Duluth, for whom the village was named, was guest of honor and delivered a ringing speech full of feeling and historical references to the early days. J. E. Cooley, also of Duluth, one of the first white men in this section, also spoke feelingly of pioneer days. Henry Patterson was master of ceremonies. L. C. Goodell, who was unable to attend, sent a nice letter which was read by his niece. An orchestra and quartet furnished music and a fine lunch was served, after which all "smoked" on Mr. Barnum, who brought down some fine Duluth-made cigars. The speakers were: George G. Barnum, J. E. Cooley, Dr. L. A. Sukeforth, H. R. Patterson, H. S. Lord, H. C. Hansen, A. Anderson, J. P. Thompson, R. E. Johnson, M. Christensen, A. H. Dathe, W. H. Eikenbury, Mrs. H. R. Patterson and Miss L. P. Goodell.

BIG MINOT BANQUET.

Former Governor John Burke and Others to Speak.

Minot, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Burke, former governor of North Dakota, now treasurer of the United States, will arrive Tuesday to attend the banquet to be given here tomorrow night, formally opening Democracy's campaign in North Dakota.

Over 500 Democrats, representative of all sections of the state, will attend the banquet.

In addition to Mr. Burke, it is understood that several prominent state Democrats, including National Committeeman John Bruegger, State Chairman D. H. McArthur and others, will speak.

MINOT FAIR OPEN.

Minot, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual midwinter fair, farm convention and boys' farm school, conducted under the joint direction of the Ward County Mid-Winter Fair association, the Minot Commercial club and the Ward County Better Farming association, opened here this afternoon and will continue till Saturday.

Governor L. B. Hanna will speak Tuesday; President J. H. Worst of the Agricultural college, Wednesday; F. W. Merrill of Grand Forks, Thursday; State Engineer Jay Bliss, Friday, and State Senator Wesley C. McDowell of Marion, Saturday.

POTATO CONCERN IS HANDS OF RECEIVER

Moorhead, Minn., Feb. 16.—Judge Nye of the district court has appointed J. G. Arnegard of Barnesville receiver of the affairs of the Red River Potato Growers' association at Barnesville. Bonds were fixed at $8,000. The receiver is to take charge of all the property, including potatoes in the warehouse, and dispose of them in the usual way. The appointment was made on application of the stockholders, who alleged that F. C. Carey, J. N. Bernuardy and J. Lendorsen used the name of the corporation without authority. Numerous individual actions have been started in connection with the business tangle.

DETROIT WOMAN BURIED.

Funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth More, Who Suffered Many Years.

Detroit, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, wife of George C. Moore, died in this city recently after a long illness. For over ten years she had been practically confined to her home with rheumatism. The funeral was held from the Episcopal church, Hev. T. H. Oehler officiating. The body was interred in Oak Grove cemetery. Her husband, two sons, William, of Mayrone, Can., and Charles of Valley City, N. D., and one daughter, Mrs. George Sturtevant of this city, survive.

Word was received of the death of Miss Clara Bingham at her home in Spokane, Wash., Jan. 30. The Bingham family was one of the first to come to Detroit to settle from Boston over forty years ago. They lived here for about twenty-five years.

W. D. Wilkins of Shaunabon, Sask., came with T. J. Krause and Mrs. J. S. Pretts, accompanying the remains of Mrs. T. J. Krause, whose body was brought here from Saskatchewan for interment.

PROTECTING WILD FOWL.

Strict Enforcement of Laws Expected in North Dakota Next Spring.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sportsmen feel certain that the laws against spring shooting will be well enforced in North Dakota this year. Last spring the state laws were fairly well observed because of the vigilance of the game wardens. This year, with the state and the national penalties for violations, it is expected the pot hunters will restrain themselves. For years there has been a strong sentiment in this state among the sportsmen against all forms of spring shooting, and the law permitting it was repealed by the last legislature. Thousands of ducks and some geese breed in this state, and there will be more, now that the spring shooting has been entirely abolished all over the United States. Wild rice has been planted on many lakes to make better feeding grounds, and every possible inducement will be offered for waterfowl to breed here.

SALOON MEN FINED.

Plead Guilty to Selling Liquor to Thief River Falls Minors.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 16.—The following local saloon keepers indicted by the grand jury for selling liquor to minors pleaded guilty, and Judge Grindeland imposed the following fines and included a 30-day jail sentence with each fine, the jail sentence to be suspended during the good behavior of the culprit: Joe Halda, $100; Joe Severson, $100; Simon Guisel, $100; Olaf Wedmor, $100; Joe Binke, $100; Sig Bekken, $150; George Williams, $100 on one count and $150 on a second count; Oscar Lawton, $100; Julien Provencher, $100 on his first indictment and no prosecution was made under his second indictment. All of the fines were paid in cash. The total of fines collected amount to $1,205.

Escapes Burning Car.

Beach, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pinned in a bunk car by flames which cut off the only avenue of escape, Horace Weist dashed through the flames, unbolted the door and escaped, but only after he was seriously scorched.

Ex-Sheriff in Jail.

Washburn, Wis., Feb. 16.—Former Sheriff Henry Conlin, an old resident of Bayfield county, is in jail in default of bonds on a charge of assault with intent to kill preferred by Mrs. John Goutsch of the town of Russell. He will have a hearing Tuesday.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

If Tongue Is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Don't Hesitate.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally — look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrup. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

PIPE IN MOUTH FIRES BEDDING.

Milton, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Falling asleep with a pipe in his mouth, Andrew Overboe was awakened a short time afterwards by fire which was burning briskly in his bed and in his clothing. Companions extinguished the fire. He was badly scorched about the face and arms.

LEFT OVER $6,000,000.

Minneapolis Millionaire Made Many Charitable Bequests.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 16.—A considerable portion of the estate of the late W. H. Dunwoody, just offered for probate, which disposes of $6,000,000, is given to charitable, church and kindred organizations.

To the widow, nieces and other relatives is given $2,200,000. Among the notable bequests are: Minneapolis society of fine arts, $1,000,000; the Dunwoody home for convalescents, located at Mr. Dunwoody's old home near Philadelphia, $1,000,000, besides the site for the home; Presbyterian board of foreign missions, $100,000; Presbyterian board of home missions, $100,000; the Westminster Presbyterian church, Minneapolis, is given the Abbott hospital, together with a trust fund of $100,000, the Minneapolis Young Men's Christian association, $50,000. The residue of the estate, said to amount to from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, goes to the William Hood Dunwoody Industrial institution of Minneapolis, "teaching handicrafts and useful trades, with special emphasis on those relating to milling and milling machinery."

Aggies Win Debate Points.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—On a total number of points the North Dakota Aggies defeated the Manitoba Aggies in the double-header international debate. At Fargo the Flickertails won by twenty more points than they lost at Winnipeg. Both debates occurred the same night with teams representing each institution both at Fargo and Winnipeg.

Crosby's New School.

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new $75,000 Franklin school building will be ready for occupancy soon.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—Following the discovery that spurious $5 gold pieces were being circulated in Milwaukee, a hurried call was sent to secret service men in Chicago to come to the city and conclude the investigation. It is said that an organized gang of counterfeiters is operating in Milwaukee and that they had passed many of the fictitious coins.

Barron—The deposits in the Bank of Barron are shown to be $400,492.49, and the Normanna Savings bank's deposits are $251,231.05, most of which is among the farmers, who in the month of January were paid 40 cents a pound for butter fat by the Farmers' Co-operative creamery of this city.

Hurley—Hearing of the charges against Michael McGeehan, formerly of this city and now highway commissioner of Kenosha county, has been set for Feb. 23. McGeehan is charged with conducting office business irregularly.

Milwaukee—A$50,000,000 trust mortgage to secure 5 per cent gold bonds of Swift & Co., Chicago, was recorded here in the office of Register of Deeds Edward H. Mueller in the courthouse, being ones of the heaviest instruments ever received. The fee was $7,166.

Appleton—John Dundelinger, whose body was found on the ice up river from Appleton, was fatally injured as a result of a blow on the head with a blunt instrument in the hands of an unknown person, according to the findings of the coroner's jury investigating the case.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—About twelve of the Mineral Range section hands quit last week because the regular daily pay was cut about 23 cents. They claim that they have more work now than they had last summer, and now they were cut in salary, which did not seem reasonable to them. Their places have already been filled by men who are looking for work.

Hubbell—Tamarack camp, Modern Woodmen of America, of Hubbell, selected the following delegates to represent the camp in the county convention: D. K. MacDonald, J. F. Simons and Alvin Jenks; alternates, H. L. Burbank, Richard Osborne and George Johnston.

Hancock—A double-header basket ball game will be played Tuesday evening in the Ripley school gymnasium. The Hancock high school girls' basket ball quint will play the Ripley girls' team in a preliminary contest, and the freshmen team of the local school will meet the Ripley boys.

Hubbell—Benjamin Hillstone, aged about 60 years, an old resident of Hubbell, died Feb. 13. One brother, Edward, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Gilbert, both of Hancock, survive, also Mrs Hillstone, sons Alfred and Joseph, and daughters Ruth and Mrs. John Ivey of Hubbell, and daughters Mrs. Emma Audette of Detroit and Mrs. J. E. Martin of Houghton.

Laurium — The marriage of Miss Pauline Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson of Tracey, Minn., and a former resident of Calumet, to Harry Hicks of Calumet, was solemnized Feb. 12 in the rectory of Christ's church, Episcopal, Rev. J. A. Ten Broeck officiating.

Negaunee—The high school business demonstration class elected these officers: President, Emmet Driscoll; vice president, Louis Marcotte; secretary and treasurer, William Hawke.

Lawrence—Considerable trouble is being experienced in both Red Jacket and Laurium through frozen water pipes and meters. In many instances, owing to the late arrival of snow and the fact there is not as much snow as in other winters, the pipes are poorly protected and freeze more readily.

Hancock—J. C. Donahue, who recently sued for damages resulting from the fire at the Mineral Range freight depot several months ago, was awarded a verdict to the amount of $105 in Justice Funkey's court.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Forman, N. D.—Following his arrest on a charge of violating the prohibition law, J. R. Craigue, a local druggist, disappeared. His bail was forfeited by the court and a local bank is foreclosing on his store. The bondsmen are understood to have been reimbursed.

Cando, N. D.—Amitting his guilt on a horse stealing charge John Hoge finally informed F. W. Henkel, the owner, where the team had been sold. Henkel located the horses near Maddock.

New Rockford, N. D.—The first state convention for New Rockford since its prominence due to increased railroad facilities, will be held here Feb. 25 and 26, when the North Dakota Union of the American Society of Equity convenes.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Prof. Roger W. Cooley of the law school has been invited to deliver an address before the meeting of the St. Paul Credit Men's association April 14. He will talk on "Fire Insurance Contracts."

Pembina, N. D.—Pembina, the first county in the state to raise crops of grain, has joined in the North Dakota Better Farming movement. For a half a century wheat has been raised around the location of the original Hudson Bay fur posts. This county has some of the finest lands and best farm homes in the famous Red River valley and will join in the big state-wide movement to improve its farming methods.

Minot, N. D.—Joseph Coteau, recently acquitted of bootlegging, was rearrested on charges made by James Bigley, prisoner in the Ward county jail, who maintains that Coteau, visiting the jail two or three days after his acquittal, opened a blindpig in his, Bidley's cell, disposing of several pints of liquor to prisoners.

Langdon, N. D.—There will be a district meeting of the Park River, Milton, Hannah and Langdon Odd Fellows lodges in the city next Tuesday evening.

Wahpeton, N. D.—Teachers' association meetings have been called by the county superintendent of schools for six different places throughout the county as follows: Walcott, Feb. 20; Sheyenne, Central, Feb. 26; Hankinson, Feb. 27; Lidgerwood, Feb. 28; Wyndmere, March 6; Wahpeton, March 7.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Lars Thompson has sold a quarter section of land in Lind township to Mrs. Bertha Kaasa for $6,500, and Mrs. Kaasa has transferred 240 acres in Northwood township to Thompson for $18,500.

Minot, N. D.—Will Poole, a well known office man of Minot, who has held several important positions in this section, has accepted a situation in the office of the secretary of state at Bismarck.

Mitchell, S. D.—Emmanuel Schoenfelder, one of the prominent and wealthy farmers of Hutchinson county, lost his life as the result of an accident in which he was endeavoring to use his foot in placing a belt from a corn sheller upon a gasoline engine. The funeral was held at Dimmock, S. D.

New Rockford, N. D.—His mind an absolute blank as to his wanderings since July 5 last, when he disappeared from his home here, Frank Sorenson was returned Feb. 13 from Wausau, Wis., where he was found several days ago.

Fargo, N. D.—With the inspection of the new Fargo water filteration plant, the city gas and electric light plant and the new city auditorium, the annual convention of the North Dakota Society of Engineers came to a close. T. R. Atkinson of Bismarck was elected president; H. C. Fram of Minot, vice president, and E. F. Chandler was appointed secretary-treasurer.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Stillwater — All of the property stolen from the Soo line depot at Somerset, Wis., was recovered, except two suit cases ful of sample gloves, which were destroyed at South Stillwater after they had been left there by the thieves, said to have been Carter and Daily, who are now in the county jail here awaiting a hearing on a charge of being implicated with Frank Lifton, also under arrest, of having attempted to blow the safe in the bank at New Scandia, Washington county.

Winona—The authorities in this entire section are assisting relatives in their search for Robert Dahlgren, a farmer residing near Pepin, Wis. He left his wife alone on the farm Feb. 17 and went to Pepin for the purpose of purchasing hogs. He drew $700 from the bank there and in the evening purchased a ticket for Winona. Since then nothing has been heard of him.

St. Cloud—With an idea of fixing the blame either on the fire equipment or the system the city commissioners have called for a complete investigation of the water pressure and the failure of it at the recent destructive fire here.

Thief River Falls—A movement has been started to organize the Thief River Falls Iron Works, which will do all kinds of foundry and machine work. The company is to be incorporated for $25,000 and considerable stock has been subscribed already.

Roseau—Israel Sjoberg entered a Minneapolis hospital recently and submitted to an operation for appendicitis from which, it is reported, he is rapidly recovering.

East Grand Forks—The dates for the farmers' week short course in East Grand Forks have been changed to March 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14.

Crookston—Otto Eichoff and son were awarded the contract for the construction of a block on the corner of Broadway and Robert street, to be erected by the Polk County State bank and L. W. Larsen. The corner portion of the block will be used by the bank, and the north portion for L. W. Larsen's machinery and fuel business. The block, completed, will represent an investment of $50,000.

Warroad—Clover Leaf Farmers' club will hold its next regular meeting at the home of Thomas McCagherty, Saturday, Feb. 12. The subject to be discussed will be "Silos."

MARKET IS STILL STRONG

Wheat Closes Higher With Good Cash Demand From Operators.

Flaxseed Advances on Steady Buying By Crushers and Light Offers.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 16.—The market was strong up to the close. May wheat closed ½c up and July ½c up. May durum closed ¼c up and July ¼c up.

Oats closed unchanged at 35¾@36¾c. Rye closed unchanged, at 52½@55½c for the best grades, and barley unchanged at from 44 to 66c.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 91c and calls at 91⅝c bid.

The wheat market was strong during the first three hours' trading today as a result of higher Liverpool cables. Good Eastern inquiry was received here, and export bids were reported at Chicago. Minneapolis wired that Duluth operators were in the market down there to such an extent that suspicion was aroused that export business is being worked here.

The small decrease of 151,000 bu reported in the American visible wheat supply, bringing the aggregate down to 55,198,000 bu, was disappointing and tended to hold quotations down. World's shipments for last week were 12,816,000 bu against 14,000,000 bu during the previous week, and 12,944,000 bu in the corresponding week last year.

Receipts at Duluth are exceptionally light as reflected in an aggregate of 235,000 bu of all grains last week. Shipments were 120,000 bu, of which all but 15,000 bu were taken out by the local mills. Wheat inspections here today were down to ten cars, while there was just twenty-two cars of all grains on the tracks for the two days.

Liverpool closed substantially higher on the light American shipments, firmer Manitoba offers and good inquiry from the continent. Wheat stocks there increased 48,000 bu in the week.

May wheat opened unchanged at 91¾c and advanced ⅝c during the first three hours' trading. The July option opened unchanged at 92⅝c and gained ⅛c. A good call turned up in durum. It opened unchanged at 92¼c and sold up ¼c.

Good Buying in Flax.

Flaxseed was strong throughout the session as a result of steady inquiry from crushers. Business was confined to small lots, but it was reported to have reached a liberal aggregate. Strength here was promoted by the light receipts locally and at Minneapolis and Winnipeg. Cables were lower with Buenos Ayres ⅝c off; London ¼d off and Antwerp unchanged.

Trading was confined to the May option and it came within a comparatively narrow spread. It opened unchanged at $1.55¾, gained ⅜c during the first hour and closed ⅞c up at $1.55¼. The July option closed nominally at $1.57¼.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.35⅞ and July at $1.38⅜.

The Canadian visible supply of wheat decreased 110,000 bu and oats decreased 440,000 bu last week. Their total visible supply of wheat now stands at 24,742,000 bu, compared with 23,792,000 bu last year, and oats, 16,658,000 bu, as against 8,978,000 bu a year ago.

Under pressure from its Western supporters, it is intimated that the Canadian government may introduce a bill placing wheat and flour on the free list during the present session of parliament. To placate the farmers in Eastern Canada it is foreshadowed that the duty on agricultural implements will be reduced to 10 per cent.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Duluth operators are growing more bullish on the market situation. The light stocks of grain remaining in farmers' hands is regarded as a strong factor, and the springing up of active export inquiry is predicted during the next three or four weeks.

The American visible wheat supply was reported today at 59,193,000 bu, a decrease of 151,000 bu in the week. Corn supplies were given as 17,685,000 bu an increase of 753,000 bu and oats at 22,540,000 bu a decrease of 878,000 bu.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "That the world's wheat markets are on a good healthy merchandising basis, was demonstrated by their action in hardening last week. Expert business was large and exporters at the seaboard and at Duluth saw enough in the situation to induce them to buy wheat freely. Their sales of spring wheat were heavy and at the same time hard winters at Kansas City and the gulf were taken more freely. Wheat traders are watching the Northwest which has developed the most strength of late. The best people there figure that there has been over-marketing in Minnesota the Dakotas and in the Canadian Northwest, and that the small movement of late shows it."

World's shipments of wheat: American, 3,448,000 bu; Russian, 4,008,000 bu; Danubian, 1,032,000 bu; India, 144,000 bu; Argentina, 1,920,000 bu; Australian, 2,152,000 bu; Chili and North Africa, 112,000 bu; total, 12,816,000 bu; as against 14,000,000 in the previous week and 12,944,000 bu last year. Corn, 1,863,000 bu against 4,574,000 bu last year.

On passage statement: Wheat this week, 40,848,000 bu, last week, 37,592,000 bu, last year, 46,800,000 bu, increase, 3,256,000 bu. Corn, 9,889,000 bu, against 11,628,000 last week and 19,295,000 bu last year, decrease, 1,759,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The wheat market at the opening was affected by the liberal Russian shipments and there was a disposition for profits, but later shorts covered and prices advanced ⅛@¼d. Lighter American shipments and smaller world's shipments total, together with firmness in Manitoba spots here, fewer Manitoba offers and an improved continental demand for cargoes, helped the advance. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was firm, ¼ to ⅜d higher.

"Corn opened ¼d higher and later further advanced ¼ to ⅜d with shorts in February covering. The advance was stimulated by the light world's shipments to the United Kingdom, strength in spot here, decreasing stocks and fewer old Plate offers. At 1:30 p. m. prices were ½ to ⅝d higher."

Liverpool—Stocks of wheat this week increased 48,000 bu, and corn decreased 126,000 bu.

The Minneapolis cash market was steady with a good demand. One northern blue stem sold at from 1½ to 2½c over May, and velvet chaff at from 1 to 1½c over May. There was a slight improvement in flour sales. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from 92⅛c to 93⅝c and No. 2 northern at from 90⅛c to 91⅝c.

A Liverpool cable received by Baker said: "We are gradually working higher and will continue to do so unless prices from your side come lower. Bids for Manitoba wheat are better than Saturday."

Stocks of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis as on last Saturday aggregate 34,152,000 bu as compared with 36,704,000 bu last year. Of that Duluth supplies were 14,624,000 bu as against 15,758,000 bu a year ago, while Minneapolis stores were reported at 19,528,000 bu, compared with 20,606,000 bu a year ago.

Clearances reported: Wheat, 393,000 bu; flour, 48,000 bbl; together they equal 609,000 bu; corn, 26,000 bu; oats, 13,000 bu.

	Wheat—Receipts,	1,002,000	bu.	last year,	1,614,000	bu;	shipments,	255,000	bu,	last year,	428,000	bu.

LOWER RANGE IN MINING STOCKS

Market Sells Off Moderately But Undertone is Firm.

Mining stocks sold off at Boston this morning from the opening in sympathy with weakness on Wall street brought about through the postponement for six months by the interstate commerce commission of the 5 per cent advance in freight rates asked for by the Eastern railroads.

Holders were, however, aided by the better call for copper metal and the market rallied from its low points around the close. Final prices showed moderate declines in most issues.

Butte & Superior closed 50 cents off at $36.50; Calumet & Arizona unchanged at $68.50; North Butte 25 cents off at $30.38; Granby $1.13 off at $87.62; Tamarack 75 cents off at $40; Alaska Gold 25 cents up at $22.75; and Amalgamated Copper 88 cents off at $76.12.

Business was quiet in the Duluth curb list. Alex Scott sold at $5.12; Calumet & Corbin at 13 cents and Keating at $1.12. Calumet & Sonora was offered at $1.

At St. Louis lead closed easy at $3.90 and spelters unsettled at $5.25@5.35.

Domestic buying of copper last week is reported to have been on a big scale. Many million and half-million pound lots were taken at 14⅞c for electrolytic. Lake copper was sold in limited amounts at 15⅛c.

A wire received by Gay & Sturgiss from Boston today said: "Superior & Boston has cut a vein on the tenth level, which reveals sulphide ore. Work will be resumed on the twelfth level. The company is amply financed to continue present operations. Development work at the Superior & Boston mine is progressing very satisfactorily with results on the tenth level that apparently indicate the location of the sulphide ore body which has been sought for several months past."

The foreign visible copper supply in England, France and afloat thereto on Feb. 16 was 17,230 tons, an increase of 365 tons in the past fortnight.

London Stocks.

London, Feb. 16.—American securities were quiet and featureless during the forenoon. Later the list declined under the lead of Canadian Pacific, which was sold by Wall Street and the continent. The closing was weak. Money and discount rates were dearer.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Severest Setback Experienced By the Market This Year.

Break Fails to Attract Buying and Close Is Heavy.

New York, Feb. 16.—The severest setback which the market has experienced this year came today. Prices at last broke away from the approximate level, which had been maintained for weeks.

Industrials were depressed by reports of reductions in wages of steel and mill workers. Steel, which has been conspicuously firm recently, was sold freely and weakness of this issue permeated the whole list. Liquidation of minor shares also had an unsettling effect. The break failed to attract outside buying and the market made no recovery during the morning.

Bonds were heavy.

An active selling movement was begun at the opening today. Some of the inactive shares improved slightly, but all of the favorite speculative issues were depressed. Canadian Pacific lost 2 points, Mexican Petroleum 1¾, New Haven 1¼ and Union Pacific, Reading, Erie, St. Paul and Steel 1.

Speculative sentiment was bearish because of the further suspension by the interstate commerce commission of the further suspension by the interstate rate increase for Eastern lines. Losses of 1 to 1½ points were made in a score or more of influential issues.

Liquidation was over in a good part of the list during the forenoon and the market thereafter acted better. Foreign sales were estimated at 50,000 shares. Western Union showed exceptional strength, rising nearly 3 points. Pool operations in Central Leather continued to force the price upward and it sold at 35, highest since 1910.

All the snap and activity went out of the market when efforts were made to push up prices. Strength of American Telephone and Western Union were associated with rumors that the telephone company's holdings of the telegraph stock would be syndicated.

The market closed heavy. A sharp fall in the petroleum shares, in which Mexican lead nearly 5 points, had an unsettling effect. Prices returned to the lowest.

HOME BUILDERS, NOTICE!

The Lakeside Land company has just completed plans for an ideal FIVE-ROOM HOUSE which can be built for approximately $3,000.

It will be modern in every respect, equipped with hot water heating plant, fire place, laundry tubs, modern plumbing and electric fixtures.

The rooms will be especially light, of good size and conveniently arranged. The exterior is very attractive. The whole idea being to offer an artistic modern home at a popular price which can be purchased on very easy terms.

If you are considering a home we will be pleased to show you these plans and explain our terms.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— JOHN A. SAVAGE & COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we whose names are hereunto subscribed hereby associate ourselves under the Constitution and Laws of the State of Minnesota, and more particularly under the provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota of the year 1905, and any laws amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, as a corporation, and to that end do hereby adopt the following Articles of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be JOHN A. SAVAGE & COMPANY, and the general nature of its business shall be the mining, smelting, reducing, refining and working of iron ores and other minerals, and the manufacture of iron, steel, copper and other metals; the buying, working, selling and dealing in mineral lands; the buying, selling and improving lands and tenements; the buying and selling of stock and bonds and other securities; the engaging in the business of selling lands to actual settlers; the transportation of iron ore and other commodities, and the handling of property on commission.

The principal place of transacting the business of this corporation shall be at Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, with such other offices and places of business, either within or without the State of Minnesota, as may from time to time be determined upon by the management of this corporation.

ARTICLE II.

The period of the duration of this corporation shall be thirty (30) years, commencing February 26th, 1914.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators are John A. Savage, C. M. Van Norman, W. D. Bailey and W. G. Whitney, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The management of this corporation shall be vested in a board of three directors, all of whom shall be elected by the stockholders, and all of whom shall be stockholders. The date of the annual meeting shall be the second Monday in January of each year, at which meeting said board shall be elected. The names and addresses of those composing said board of directors until the first election and the qualification of the directors thereat chosen shall be John A. Savage, whose address is Duluth, Minnesota; C. M. Van Norman, whose address is Duluth, Minnesota, and W. D. Bailey, whose address is Duluth, Minnesota.

Within ten days after each annual election of directors the board of directors then chosen shall elect the following officers, namely: President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. One person may hold any two of said offices excepting the offices of President and Vice President.

Until the election and qualification of officers to be elected by the board of directors chosen at the first annual meeting, the officers of this corporation shall be as follows:

John A. Savage, President.
C. M. Van Norman, Vice President.
W. D. Bailey, Secretary.
W. G. Whitney, Treasurer.

The directors and officers, except those herein designated to act until the first election, shall hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected and qualified. In case a vacancy occurs in any of the offices or in the membership of the board of directors, either before or after the first annual meeting, the same shall be filled by the board of directors until the next annual election and until such vacancy shall be filled by election held in accordance with these Articles and such By-Laws as may be adopted.

The Board of Directors may create and fill such additional offices as it may from time to time deem necessary, and may abolish and discontinue such additional offices at will. The Board of Directors shall also have power, when in its judgment cause exists, to remove any officers of this corporation from their offices and declare such offices vacant.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00), divided into two hundred and fifty (250) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) each, the same to be sold and paid for as called for by the Board of Directors at par for cash or property deemed by the Board of Directors equivalent in value thereto, such determination by the Board of Directors to be final and binding on the parties in interest. Stock upon which payments have not been made as called for by the Board of Directors shall not be entitled to vote or representation in any of the proceedings of this corporation.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned have hereunto set their hands and seals this 6th day of February, A. D. 1914.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, January 26, 1914.

Notice is hereby given, That on March 18, 1914, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1915, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year; provided, the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at five per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at the time of sale. Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.

Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority. Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON, State Auditor.
D. H., Feb. 2, 9, 16, 23, 1914.

FERRIS ASKED AGAIN TO ATTEND PROBE OF THE COPPER STRIKE

Conduct of State Troops Will Be Studied By Congressmen.

Strikers Tell of Attacks on Themselves and Families.

Victor Berger Recounts Aid Given Men By the Socialists.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another invitation to the state of Michigan to be represented at the congressional inquiry in progress here was extended today by Chairman Taylor in a telegram to Governor Ferris, after counsel for the strikers had given notice that witnesses would be introduced to show "a series of outrages committed by the militia and the officers in command" while they were here on strike duty.

It was suggested by Allan F. Rees, of counsel for the mining companies, that state officials should be notified if an investigation of the militia was to be undertaken.

Turned Down Once.

Chairman Taylor replied that he already had extended a courteous invitation to the governor to be represented at the hearings here, and that it had been declined. He agreed, however, that due notice should be given the state authorities before any evidence reflecting upon the state's troops were heard. Counsel for the strikers then announced that they would defer ex-

G. ROY HALL SHOWS UP ANCHOR LINE CLAIM

Makes Evans Admit He Is Not Posted on Boat Lines.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 17.—G. Roy Hall and Julius H. Barnes of Duluth appeared for the commercial interests of that city at a hearing before the interstate commerce commission today. They took exception to some of the statements made by J. C. Evans, vice president of the Anchor line, in his arguments that the railroad should be allowed to continue ownership of the Anchor line after July 1. Mr. Evans attempted to show that the Anchor line is in keen competition with ships owned by Canadian railroads for business passing through Duluth. Mr. Hall cross-examined the witness, and brought from him an admission that he knew but little of the ownership of vessels running to Duluth.

Six more railroads applied to the interstate commerce commission today to be permitted to keep their water lines after July 1. The Panama canal act forbids such ownership, unless the lines are non-competitive or the commission should rule that they are a benefit to commerce.

The applicants were the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, the Delaware & Hudson company, the Seaboard Air Line railway, the Southern Pacific company and the Central Pacific Railway company.

IMPORTED MEN HEARD

Congressmen Question a Strike-Breaker in Inquiry in Colorado.

Trinidad, Col., Feb. 17.—The house committee investigating the Colorado coal mine strike today heard a fresh version of the importation of the strikebreakers by the mine owners, from Charles Morgan, a veteran miner from Pennsylvania.

The witness was questioned closely by the committee on the subject of foreign immigration, which he said was driving English-speaking workmen from the mines. Being cross-examined, the witness said he, many years ago, had been a union miner in Pennsylvania. He testified that he came to Colorado from Pittsburg last December, believing he could make more money in Colorado.

He identified his contract and said he went to work in the Berwind mine on Christmas eve as a timber man. Replying to questions, he testified that conditions were better in the Berwind mine than in any union mine in Pennsylvania in which he worked before coming to this state.

Many Men to Testify.

The second day's session of the Trinidad hearing opened with a large number of witnesses still to testify for the strikers. No attempt was made to estimate the length of time still to be taken up before the coal operators would be given an opportunity to present their evidence. Members of the house sub-committee, however, expressed satisfaction with the progress made yesterday. After listening all day to arguments upon its right to subpoena "Mother" Mary Jones, labor organizer now held incommunicado as a military prisoner, the committee late

JUDGE HENRY E. MILLER.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 17.—Judge Henry E. Miller of Maltbie, Pa., has a new cure for wife-beaters. He had one before him the other day, and instead of sending him to jail he gave him a good licking. Then he served notice that he would do the same to every wife-beater who was brought before him. If he could not lick the wife-beater, then the wife-beater would have to lick him.

"All wife-beaters look alike to me," said Judge Miller. "If there are any wife-beaters in any part of the United States who need a licking I shall be pleased to receive them by parcel post or C. O. D., and after I get through with them I will pay their way back home in a sleeping car."

FUNERAL IN U. S. SENATE

Rites Over Body of Senator Bacon Are Held in Capitol.

President's Health Prevents His Attending Solemn Ceremonies.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Funeral service for Senator Bacon of Georgia were held today in the senate chamber. There were no speeches of eulogy, no music, and no flowers except one design—the tribute of the senate itself—which rested on the coffin. The ceremonies were inspiring in their very simplicity, and the place in which they were held, with the dignity of those assembled to do honor to the dead, lent added impressiveness.

Two hours before the body was taken with tender reverence into the senate chamber, it lay in the adjoining marble room. The public was excluded. Later the body was taken into the senate chamber and placed upon the craped bier directly in front of the vice president's desk.

President Unable to Attend.

It was announced at the White House almost at the last moment that President Wilson would not attend the funeral services, because Dr. Grayson did not think it wise for the president to risk exposure at a time when he

FIVE NEW HAVEN MEN ARE FREED

Indictments for Manslaughter Quashed for All But Mellen.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 17.—State's Attorney Judson has quashed the manslaughter indictments against five officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, but refused to quash the indictment against Former President Charles W. Mellen.

The wrecks occurred at Westport, Conn., Oct. 3, 1912, in which seven persons were killed.

E. H. McHenry and Henry J. Horn, former vice presidents; B. R. Pollock, former general manager; C. N. Woodward, general superintendent, and Lawrence J. Carmalt, former engineer of maintenance and ways.

The cases were to have come up for argument and motions at the criminal term of superior court this week. It is understood that counsel for the defendants had intended to argue for separate trials. Some months ago the railroad attorneys were sustained by the superior court in the pleadings for separate trials, and then the state's attorney amended his complaints and had the accused rearrested on bench warrants.

Homer S. Cummings of Stamford, chief counsel for the defendants, said over the telephone that he had been advised that three of the four counts in the indictment against Mr. Mellen had been nolled. The case against him now rests on one count, which, unlike the others, does not go into detail as to the cases of alleged negligence. Mr. Cummings said he would insist on an immediate trial of Mr. Mellen. State's Attorney Judson would not discuss the matter.

TAKE ACTION URGED BY THE GRAND JURY

Punishment Is Meted Out to Three Duluth Police Officers.

Patrolman Riedel Hands in Resignation; Fritz Reduced in Rank.

Lieut. Drennan Will Be Permitted to Retire on Pension.

The last act was played this morning in the police investigation when Commissioner Hicken and Chief Troyer announced their final decision in the cases of Lieut. Herman Fritz and John Drennan and Patrolman W. F. Riedel, the three officers recommended for punishment by the grand jury.

Lieut. Fritz will be reduced to the rank of sergeant on May 1 and was notified to this effect this morning by Chief Troyer. He was accused by the grand jury of having transacted some business for a former member of the underworld. He has been night officer in charge at police headquarters for some time and joined the local force twenty-one years ago.

Lieut. Drennan, the oldest man in point of service in the department, will be allowed to retire on June 1 on a pension. He will make application for a pension at once, having already served twenty-nine years. He is now in charge of the West end station. Lieut. Drennan was accused by the grand jury of having been drunk while on duty and with having been disloyal to the present administration.

Riedel Will Resign.

Patrolman Riedel will resign from the force on May 1, having already notified Chief Troyer this morning. According to the grand jury, Riedel showed poor judgment while acting as an officer and to have proved himself incompetent. The jury recommended that he be dismissed and he is now permitted to resign.

Record Saves Him.

BUSINESS IS NOT AFRAID, SAYS HILL

Railroad Magnate Talks With Congressmen About Trust Bills.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 17.—"I told Mr. Adamson that business generally is not apprehensive over the attitude of the administration toward it," said James J. Hill today, following a conference with Messrs. Adamson and Covington of the house committee on interstate commerce. "There is nothing in the situation to warrant apprehension."

It was said that Mr. Hill did not go into the details of the pending trade commission bill, but that he gave the president's recommendation a general indorsement. In Mr. Hill's view, the trade commission will be a good thing for business as well as the general public.

GORE DAMAGE CASE IS GIVEN TO JURORS; PLOT BAR TO CLAIM

Court Declares Mrs. Bond Must Show Her Innocence.

Past Character of Either Party Not Germane to Case.

Al Jennings Among the Witnesses for the Woman.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 17.—The case of Mrs. Minnie E. Bond, who is asking $50,000 damages from Thomas P. Gore, United States senator from Oklahoma, for an alleged attack made on her in a Washington hotel, was given to the jury today.

Attorneys for both the plaintiff and defense rested when court opened today. Judge Clark then read his instructions to the jury, after which they retired to consider the evidence.

The court instructed the jury to judge the evidence and credibility of the witnesses, both for the plaintiff and defendant. Judge Clark referred to the alleged conspiracy against the senator, and the jury was told that if there was a conspiracy and it was known to Mrs. Bond, then she was a party to it and was not entitled to recover damages.

As to Character.

As to character, the instructions said the past character of Mrs. Bond or Gore had no bearing on the case. The court said if the jury believed an assault was attempted, then the verdict should be for the plaintiff. If there was no attempt to assault, or if

GIRL'S HEAD BEATEN IN

Body Is Found on Grave and Rejected Lover Is Arrested.

Aurora, Ill., Police Have Murder Mystery to Solve.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 17.—Miss Tracey Hollander, a prepossessing 20-year-old girl, was brutally murdered here late last night and her body dragged into a cemetery and thrown upon a grave. She had been beaten to death with a heavy timber.

The police have arrested Anthony Pedroes, a discarded sweetheart of the girl. He was taken at his home, less than two blocks from the spot where the body of the girl was found, but denies all connection with the crime. A man's watch, believed to be Pedroes', was found at the side of the girl.

Returning From Meeting.

Miss Hallander was financial secretary of the Aurora lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor. She attended the regular meeting of the lodge last night. At 9 o'clock she turned over to her father, who attended the meeting, the funds that had been paid her. Then she started for home, taking a street car at 9:15 o'clock.

The father arrived home at 10:30 o'clock and did not find his daughter. He waited until after midnight and then started a search. He found tracks of two persons in the snow, the trail leading to the cemetery, where the body was found, the head crushed in. A bloody club was found lying in the snow near the body.

SHIP CHARGED WITH ELECTRIC CURRENT

Unusual Adventure at Sea Told By German Captain.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—How a huge sea which boarded the German steamer Wartenfels wrecked the charthouse, smashed a powerful electric signal lamp, short circuited the wires and for a time charged the ship with electricity, was related today by Capt. Schov when the steamer arrived from Calcutta. The sea broke over her while she was off the coast last Saturday.

Chief Officer Voight was thrown from the bridge and a beam from the demolished charthouse pinned the Malay quartermaster to the deck. The vessel was rolling heavily and a human chain was formed to pull away the beam. When the end man in the chain took hold of a steel stanchion he and all the others were knocked down by an electric shock.

TWENTY-SECOND NEW HAVEN VICTIM DEAD

Woman Succumbs to Broken Neck--Was Injured Sept. 2.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Rose Zimmerman of New York city, whose neck was broken in the collision of the White Mountain Express with the Bar Harbor Express on the New Haven railroad on Sept. 2 last, died at the hospital here today. She is the twenty-second person to die as the result of the wreck. Several other persons were crippled for life.

CARLOAD OF MAIL IS BURNED IN VERMONT

Brattleboro, Vt., Feb. 17.—Every postoffice in Vermont was notified today that a mail car containing a three days' accumulation of mail was destroyed by fire during the night on the West River branch of the Central railway. The mail had accumulated here because snow-blocked tracks made it impossible to send the car out. The flames started from attempts to thaw out the frozen running gear, it is said.

VIOLENT STORMS ON ATLANTIC DRIVE BIG STEAMERS TO PORTS

Traffic Is Halted By Gales --Some Ships in Trouble.

Two Vessels Are Driven Ashore on American Coast.

Nantucket Harbor Ice Imprisons Over 200 Small Craft.

Queenstown, Ireland, Feb. 17.—Such violent storms have prevailed in the North Atlantic during the last week that many passenger steamers and cargo boats on voyages to America have run for shelter to ports on this side of the Atlantic.

Three large steamers among those bound for the United States are returning to Europe in a battered condition. The French liner Niagara, which left Havre on Feb. 7 for New York, lost her starboard propeller soon after she got out and is now crawling slowly back.

The big Dutch oil tanker Rotterdam, when eight days out from Amsterdam on her way to New York, lost her rudder and was forced to make for Queenstown in tow of a steam trawler.

Steering Gear Carried Away.

The British steamer Tritonia, from Glasgow for Mobile, passed Inishtrahull today after being seven days out. Her steering gear was carried away and her decks badly damaged during the gale on Friday.

Another steam trawler is towing the British steamer Ludwig Greedel bound from Derry to Malta. The ship lost her propeller off the Spanish coast on Thursday.

The new Scandinavian-American liner Frederik VIII, on her way from Copenhagen, Feb. 4, for New York, has been greatly delayed by the gale. She sent a wireless message today saying she is proceeding to Fayal to replenish her coal bunkers.

Niagara Is Signalled.

Havre, Feb. 17.—The disabled French liner Niagara was signalled off the Lizard at 10 o'clock this morning. She is expected to arrive here tomorrow.

The captain sent a wireless message saying all on board were well.

Cuban Freighter Aground.

New York, Feb. 17.—The Cuban freight steamship Yumuri, which went on the shore near Sandy Hook during the snow storm yesterday, was still aground today. The weather off Sandy Hook is clear and the vessel is in no danger.

Roma Enters Port.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 17.—The Fabre line steamer Roma, which freed herself from a ledge off No Man's Land, on which she struck during a blizzard last night, arrived at Quarantine at 10 a. m. today, listing heavily to port. The health officer was the only person allowed to board the vessel before she docked at noon.

Harbor Blocked By Ice.

Nantucket, Mass., Feb. 17.—Ice has shut off this island from all physical communication with mainland since Friday. Over 200 fishing boats were imprisoned in the harbor today.

DOROTHEA MacVANE.

Milan, Feb. 17.—An American singer, Dorothea MacVane, is the center of an international incident. While singing with an opera company in a small Italian city she became a subject of police espionage because it was reported she was acting as a spy for the American navy. There are various stories as to the origin of this report. One says it arose from the fact that she was in correspondence with an American naval officer; another that an Italian whom she had dismissed as an admirer lodged false charges against her with a view to revenge. The report becoming current that Miss MacVane was a spy, she found she could not go on the street without being followed and jeered at. The matter is in the hands of the American embassy in Rome.

WILSON HAS VETO READY

May Kill Immigration Bill If Literacy Test Is Included.

Hearings on the Proposal Will Be Held By the President.

Washington, Feb. 17.—President Wilson's veto is waiting for the Burnett immigration bill if it passes congress providing for the much-discussed literacy test, according to the best information today in circles close to the White House.

Definite news of the president's opposition to the test came as a surprise to many who were led to believe he favored it by the senate immigration committee's announcement that it would go ahead with the bill, keeping the literacy test in its place.

Thousands of naturalized citizens all over the country have been campaigning against the bill, which caused Former President Taft to veto the same bill the year before he went out of office. President Wilson will give public hearings at the White House before he takes action.

Not Test of Character.

The president does not consider literacy a test of character, and believes some other means should be devised to prevent undesirable aliens from entering the United States. He told callers that he had given his view to the senate committee and had left it to them to make it public or not as they chose.

It became known also that suggestions with reference to Chinese and Japanese immigration made to the house committee on immigration last Canadian Immigration.

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—The total immigration to Canada during the first ten months, April to January, of the current fiscal year, was 356,430, made up of 135,179 British, 93,939 Americans and 127,313 from all other countries. These figures are given in a statement issued by the department of the interior.

THREE SCORE PEOPLE HURT

St. L. & St. F. Passenger Trains Come Together in Missouri.

Chair Car and Sleeper Roll Down Twelve-Foot Bank.

Springfield, Mo., Feb. 17.—Eight persons were seriously hurt and nearly fifty others slightly bruised in a collision between St. Louis & San Francisco passenger trains at Nichols Junction last night.

Both trains, No. 8, bound from Joplin to Springfield, and No. 104, bound from Springfield to Kansas City, were proceeding slowly when the accident occurred. The crew of each train disclaims blame for the wreck.

The engine and baggage car of the Kansas City train went off the track and the chair car and sleeper rolled down a twelve-foot embankment, pinioning the occupants between seats and sending a shower of broken glass against their faces.

Joseph Keet of Springfield, Mo., is the worst hurt. He suffered a fractured shoulder, internal injuries and a scalp wound.

Others injured are:

Charles Holland, Springfield, two ribs broken, internal injuries.

Paul Hall, Springfield, both legs broken.

W. R. Jones, Springfield, brakeman on 104, scalp wounds, probably internal injuries.

Unidentified man, fractured skull, internal injuries.

Among the less seriously injured are:

Mrs. W. R. Jones, wife of Brakeman Jones, bruised.

P. J. Ushler, Chicago.
P. H. Morrell, Elkhart, Ind.
F. H. De Hough, Lebanon, Mo.
R. G. Robinson, La Grange, Mo.
D. E. Henry, Billings, Mont.
Eileen Harding, New York City.

MAKE NEGRO JUMP WITH ROPE ON NECK

Hernando, Miss., Feb. 17.—Stopping a Illinois Central passenger train in the woods near Love Station, Miss., yesterday, fifty masked men held passengers and members of the crew at bay under cover of revolvers while they forced E. F. Nichols of De Soto county to turn over to them Johnson McGuirk and Bill Phillips, negroes accused of wounding J. K. Ingram, a wealthy mill owner near Byhalia, Miss., several weeks ago. When the sheriff and his two prisoners disembarked the mob permitted the train to proceed while they marched the handcuffed negroes to the trestle.

Preparations were being made to lynch both, but the pleading of Nichols in behalf of Phillips, against whom it is stated the evidence is slight, were effective and he was returned to the sheriff. A rope was placed about McGuirk's neck and he was forced to leap from the bridge. The mob then dispersed.

The negroes were being brought to Hernando from Batesville for preliminary hearing.

SOLVE SMOKE NUISANCE

Inspector Asks for New Ordinance to Secure Best Results.

Methods Used in Chicago Will Be Followed in Duluth.

An effective smoke ordinance, supplemented with a systematic educational campaign backed by public sentiment, will solve the smoke nuisance problem in Duluth.

This is the substance of the report brought back to Duluth by J. W. Schneider, city smoke and electrical inspector, after a several weeks' investigation of methods using in abating the smoke nuisance in Chicago, which has the reputation of being further advanced in this direction than any other city in the country.

"Without a smoke ordinance we cannot hope to accomplish the results which should be secured," said Inspector Schneider this morning. "The ordinance, in my opinion, should not be too technical, but should be broad enough in its terms to cover all general conditions. Many plant owners are very willing to do all in their power to co-operate with the city's smoke inspection department, but there are others who can only be reached through an ordinance. The moral effect of a few fines is wonderful and the city must hold this privilege as a club for use against those who would not otherwise assist in improving conditions.

"Strong public sentiment is essential in securing smoke abatement. If the business and commercial interests do not support a campaign for reducing the smoke evil it is a great handicap, as the business interests are the ones which must spend the money to make the necessary changes if the best results are to be achieved."

Mayor W. I. Prince, in whose division the smoke inspection department has been placed, agrees with Inspector Schneider that a smoke ordinance should be passed at at early date. He stated this morning that no time will be lost in formulating and enacting such a measure.

Inspector Schneider today submitted a written synopsis of his investigation to Mayor Prince, who will present it to the council at its next meeting. The inspector briefly reviews the methods which are followed in Chicago. Six minutes of dense smoke is the maximum allowed to each stack in any hour. Owners are allowed a reasonable time, ranging from several months to a year, to remodel their plants, before they are arrested for violating the ordinance. Special industries are given special consideration as to the emission of smoke. Railroads have their own inspectors, who co-operate with the city officials, with excellent results. Electrification offers the only final and satisfactory solution of the railway smoke problem.

EMPRESS THEATER TANGO CONTEST STARTS MONDAY

The dates have been set for the Empress Theater Elimination Tango contest. The contest will be held on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Feb. 23, 24 and 25. Arrangements are being completed and the success of the Tango contest is assured. Prof. Coffin has been engaged to conduct the contest. Mr. Coffin will give a short talk, giving all rules and regulations and stating exactly how the prize of $25 in gold can be won by the best dancing couple. Helping Mr. Coffin will be Mr. Whitman and partner, two Tango dancers direct from Chicago. Mr. Whitman and his pretty partner have appeared in all the noted cabarets in Chicago and have made it a specialty to appear at Tango contests. Their work is of the fashionable ballroom style and the dances are the kind that will be danced all over the country once they are learned. Come and see them and you will know how to dance the Tango.

The contest will last for three days and the final contest will come off on Wednesday night, Feb. 25. It has been arranged that the two best couples out of all the couples appearing on Monday night and the best two out of the Tuesday night couples and the same with those that appear on Wednesday are to be the contestants. The six selected couples will then contest for the prize of $25 in gold which is to be given. The audiences will be the judges on all the occasions.

The contest will come off directly following the regular first evening show. The first evening show will not be cut in the least particular. There will be no extra charge made for the Tango contest. All who wish may compete for the prize by listing their names at the box office.

POLICE HAVE CLUE IN BURGLARY CASE

Martin Joyce and Andrew Pearson, who were arrested by the Elgin police at Joliet, Ill., a week ago Monday and who are now awaiting the action of the grand jury there on charges of grand larceny, are believed by Chief Troyer to be the two men who broke into the R. B. Clifford grocery store at 219 East Superior street about three weeks ago and who attempted to enter the Coventry meat market next door the same evening.

Chief Troyer received word this morning of the arrest of the two men, who claim Superior to be their home. Joyce told the Elgin police that he lives at 201 Banks avenue, while Pearson declares he lives with his wife at the Metropole hotel in Superior.

Although the men do not confess to having entered the Clifford store, their methods in Elgin and Joliet are somewhat similar to those employed here. At that time a man came into the store and told the clerk that he was wanted across the street. When the latter went, the man then rifled the cash register. It was on this same charge that the two were wanted in Elgin and also in Joliet.

It is understood that they are wanted for similar offenses in Racine, Madison and Milwaukee. Chief Troyer plans to investigate further and may ask for the prisoners following the grand jury's action in Illinois.

Timber Man Bankrupt.

Poraltnd, Or., Feb. 17.—John M. Blazier, a Portland timber operator, has filed a petition in bankruptcy through attorneys, declaring inability to pay obligations aggregating $199,412.

Blazier is president of the Washington Northern Railroad company, the Oregon-Washington Timber company and the Blazier Timber company.

The largest debt of the liabilities scheduled is $396,000 made up of 395 promissory notes of $1,000 each. These notes are personally signed by Blazier, and through them money was raised for the development of the projects.

Notes were last held by the Assets Realization company, a bonding house of Chicago, and the present owner of them is unknown, the petition states.

ONE DEAD, FIVE ARE MISSING IN ALBANY

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 17.—One man dead, several missing and five injured was the toll of a $100,000 fire early today in the Medwin block, a four-story brick structure in the business section. The fire still was burning at 10 o'clock, and it was thought it might be hours before the ruins could be searched.

Albany firemen have responded to eighteen alarms in forty-eight hours. Most of the companies have been on continuous duty all the time, fighting a blaze which started Sunday and still was burning when the Medwin block was found to be in flames. It is thought an explosion caused today's fire.

Deep snow drifts seriously hampered the firemen's efforts. Motor-driven apparatus could not reach the fire at all, and at times three teams of horses were attached to the heavier pieces.

The combined loss of the eighteen fires is $500,000.

JIM HILL'S $1,000 EAR IS STOLEN IN TEXAS

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 17.—An ear of corn from Minnesota, known at exhibitions as "the $1,000 ear," one of the attractions at the national corn exposition here, was stolen last night. J. J. Furlong, president of the Minnesota state fair, in charge of the ear, informed the police it was taken from a desk in the lobby of a hotel here. James J. Hill awarded a prize of $1,000 for this ear, which was fourteen inches long. It was Mr. Hill's property.

OBITUARY

William Henry Boardman, for many years president of the Railroad Gazette, now the Railway Age Gazette, and for eight years its editor, died at his home in Ridgefield, Conn., Feb. 16, aged 67 years. Mr. Boardman was born in Dixon, Ill., which was named for his maternal grandfather. He became connected with the Railroad Gazette shortly after his graduating from the University of Michigan in 1869. Upon the outbreak of the Chicago fire in 1871 he removed the business to New York.

He was a lover of outdoors, on which he wrote books and magazine articles and as a pioneer of lawn tennis in America designed the once famous "Franklin" racquet. He was former president of the Adirondacks League club and a member of the Century, Campfire and St. Andrews' Golf clubs of New York.

Theodore Low Devinne, dean of the printing fraternity and author of several books on printing and types and their uses, died in New York, Feb. 16, in his 86th year. Mr. Devinno printed a special edition of the Bible for the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

George W. Neff, founder and for thirty-two years publisher of the Lake Crystal, Minn., Union, is dead of paralysis. He was 76 years old and was born in Uniontown, Pa., where he began his apprenticeship in the printer's trade. He located in Mankato in 1866. He assisted in conducting the Union in 1877, but sold out three years later. He was serving his second term as mayor of Lake Crystal and had been president of the school board and held other local offices. He was a Mason. A widow, two sons and one daughter survive.

E. C. McFetridge, state treasurer of Wisconsin from 1887 to 1891, died at his home in Beaver Dam, Wis., Feb. 17, aged 78. Mr. McFetridge was a prominent Republican of twenty-five years ago, and was one of the Republican treasurers who was forced by Democrats to refund a part of about $300,000 interest money on state deposits to the state after the Democratic victory of 1892.

WILLIAM OF WIED CALLING ON RULERS

The formal tender of the throne of Albania to Prince William probably will be made only after his arrival at Durazzo, Albania, by the assembly of Albanian notables.

The prince will start his reign with only $1,000,000 of the $15,000,000 loan promised him by the powers to finance his treasury. He had hoped to obtain an advance of $2,000,000, but the powers halved the amount.

WAR ON CABARET BEGUN IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 17.—In a war upon women cabaret performers and public eating and drinking places which hire them, Excise Commissioner Anderson has revoked the license of one downtown cafe, threatened similar action with two others, and forbade the women members of a comic opera company from participating in a cabaret performance at the largest hotel in the city. The excise commissioner announced he would no longer permit hotels or cafes to allow women to dance or sing in any room adjacent to a barroom or in which drinks were served.

NEW YORK BANK TO REDUCE CAPITAL

New York, Feb. 17.—Subject to the approval of its stockholders, the Fourth National bank, one of the largest mercantile banks in New York, will shortly reduce its capital stock from $5,000,000 to $3,000,000 with a like reduction of surplus. In the circular sent out announcing the proposed change, officials of the bank assigned no reason, but it was assumed that under the new currency system, which the Fourth National was among the first to support, it was felt that the present capital and surplus were unnecessarily large.

MAKE NEGRO JUMP WITH ROPE ON NECK

Hernando, Miss., Feb. 17.—Stopping a Illinois Central passenger train in the woods near Love Station, Miss., yesterday, fifty masked men held passengers and members of the crew at bay under cover of revolvers while they forced E. F. Nichols of De Soto county to turn over to them Johnson McGuirk and Bill Phillips, negroes accused of wounding J. K. Ingram, a wealthy mill owner near Byhalla, Miss., several weeks ago. When the sheriff and his two prisoners disembarked the mob permitted the train to proceed while they marched the handcuffed negroes to the trestle.

Preparations were being made to lynch both, but the pleading of Nichols in behalf of Phillips, against whom it is stated the evidence is slight, were effective and he was returned to the sheriff. A rope was placed about McGuirk's neck and he was forced to leap from the bridge. The mob then dispersed.

The negroes were being brought to Hernando from Batesville for preliminary hearing.

SOLVE SMOKE NUISANCE

Inspector Asks for New Ordinance to Secure Best Results.

Methods Used in Chicago Will Be Followed in Duluth.

An effective smoke ordinance, supplemented with a systematic educational campaign backed by public sentiment, will solve the smoke nuisance problem in Duluth.

This is the substance of the report brought back to Duluth by J. W. Schneider, city smoke and electrical inspector, after a several weeks' investigation of methods using in abating the smoke nuisance in Chicago, which has the reputation of being further advanced in this direction than any other city in the country.

"Without a smoke ordinance we cannot hope to accomplish the results which should be secured," said Inspector Schneider this morning. "The ordinance, in my opinion, should not be too technical, but should be broad enough in its terms to cover all general conditions. Many plant owners are very willing to do all in their power to co-operate with the city's smoke inspection department, but there are others who can only be reached through an ordinance. The moral effect of a few fines is wonderful and the city must hold this privilege as a club for use against those who would not otherwise assist in improving conditions.

"Strong public sentiment is essential in securing smoke abatement. If the business and commercial interests do not support a campaign for reducing the smoke evil it is a great handicap, as the business interests are the ones which must spend the money to make the necessary changes if the best results are to be achieved."

Mayor W. I. Prince, in whose division the smoke inspection department has been placed, agrees with Inspector Schneider that a smoke ordinance should be passed at at early date. He stated this morning that no time will be lost in formulating and enacting such a measure.

Inspector Schneider today submitted a written synopsis of his investigation to Mayor Prince, who will present it to the council at its next meeting. The inspector briefly reviews the methods which are followed in Chicago. Six minutes of dense smoke is the maximum allowed to each stack in any hour. Owners are allowed a reasonable time, ranging from several months to a year, to remodel their plants, before they are arrested for violating the ordinance. Special industries are given special consideration as to the emission of smoke. Railroads have their own inspectors, who co-operate with the city officials, with excellent results. Electrification offers the only final and satisfactory solution of the railway smoke problem.

EMPRESS THEATER TANGO CONTEST STARTS MONDAY

The dates have been set for the Empress Theater Elimination Tango contest. The contest will be held on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Feb. 23, 24 and 25. Arrangements are being completed and the success of the Tango contest is assured. Prof. Coffin has been engaged to conduct the contest. Mr. Coffin will give a short talk, giving all rules and regulations and stating exactly how the prize of $25 in gold can be won by the best dancing couple. Helping Mr. Coffin will be Mr. Whitman and partner, two Tango dancers direct from Chicago. Mr. Whitman and his pretty partner have appeared in all the noted cabarets in Chicago and have made it a specialty to appear at Tango contests. Their work is of the fashionable ballroom style and the dances are the kind that will be danced all over the country once they are learned. Come and see them and you will know how to dance the Tango.

The contest will last for three days and the final contest will come off on Wednesday night, Feb. 25. It has been arranged that the two best couples out of all the couples appearing on Monday night and the best two out of the Tuesday night couples and the same with those that appear on Wednesday are to be the contestants. The six selected couples will then contest for the prize of $25 in gold which is to be given. The audiences will be the judges on all the occasions.

The contest will come off directly following the regular first evening show. The first evening show will not be cut in the least particular. There will be no extra charge made for the Tango contest. All who wish may compete for the prize by listing their names at the box office.

POLICE HAVE CLUE IN BURGLARY CASE

Martin Joyce and Andrew Pearson, who were arrested by the Elgin police at Joliet, Ill., a week ago Monday and who are now awaiting the action of the grand jury there on charges of grand larceny, are believed by Chief Troyer to be the two men who broke into the R. B. Clifford grocery store at 219 East Superior street about three weeks ago and who attempted to enter the Coventry meat market next door the same evening.

Chief Troyer received word this morning of the arrest of the two men, who claim Superior to be their home. Joyce told the Elgin police that he lives at 201 Banks avenue, while Pearson declares he lives with his wife at the Metropole hotel in Superior.

Although the men do not confess to having entered the Clifford store, their methods in Elgin and Joliet are somewhat similar to those employed here. At that time a man came into the store and told the clerk that he was wanted across the street. When the latter went, the man then rifled the cash register. It was on this same charge that the two were wanted in Elgin and also in Joliet.

It is understood that they are wanted for similar offenses in Racine, Madison and Milwaukee. Chief Troyer plans to investigate further and may ask for the prisoners following the grand jury's action in Illinois.

Timber Man Bankrupt.

Portland, Or., Feb. 17.—John M. Blazier, a Portland timber operator, has filed a petition in bankruptcy through attorneys, declaring inability to pay obligations aggregating $199,412.

Blazier is president of the Washington Northern Railroad company, the Oregon-Washington Timber company and the Blazier Timber company.

The largest debt of the liabilities scheduled is $395,000 made up of 395 promissory notes of $1,000 each. These notes are personally signed by Blazier, and through them money was raised for the development of the projects.

Notes were last held by the Assets Realization company, a bonding house of Chicago, and the present owner of them is unknown, the petition states.

ONE DEAD, FIVE ARE MISSING IN ALBANY

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 17.—One man dead, several missing and five injured was the toll of a $100,000 fire early today in the Medwin block, a four-story brick structure in the business section. The fire still was burning at 10 o'clock, and it was thought it might be hours before the ruins could be searched.

Albany firemen have responded to eighteen alarms in forty-eight hours. Most of the companies have been on continuous duty all the time, fighting a blaze which started Sunday and still was burning when the Medwin block was found to be in flames. It is thought an explosion caused today's fire.

Deep snow drifts seriously hampered the firemen's efforts. Motor-driven apparatus could not reach the fire at all, and at times three teams of horses were attached to the heavier pieces.

The combined loss of the eighteen fires is $500,000.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 17.—An ear of corn from Minnesota, known at exhibitions as "the $1,000 ear," one of the attractions at the national corn exposition here, was stolen last night. J. J. Furlong, president of the Minnesota state fair, in charge of the ear, informed the police it was taken from a desk in the lobby of a hotel here. James J. Hill awarded a prize of $1,000 for this ear, which was fourteen inches long. It was Mr. Hill's property.

OBITUARY

William Henry Boardman, for many years president of the Railroad Gazette, now the Railway Age Gazette, and for eight years its editor, died at his home in Ridgefield, Conn., Feb. 16, aged 67 years. Mr. Boardman was born in Dixon, Ill., which was named for his maternal grandfather. He became connected with the Railroad Gazette shortly after his graduating from the University of Michigan in 1869. Upon the outbreak of the Chicago fire in 1871 he removed the business to New York.

He was a lover of outdoors, on which he wrote books and magazine articles and as a pioneer of lawn tennis in America designed the once famous "Franklin" racquet. He was former president of the Adirondacks League club and a member of the Century, Campfire and St. Andrews' Golf clubs of New York.

Theodore Low Devinne, dean of the printing fraternity and author of several books on printing and types and their uses, died in New York, Feb. 16, in his 86th year. Mr. Devinne printed a special edition of the Bible for the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

George W. Neff, founder and for thirty-two years publisher of the Lake Crystal, Minn., Union, is dead of paralysis. He was 76 years old and was born in Uniontown, Pa., where he began his apprenticeship in the printer's trade. He located in Mankato in 1866. He assisted in conducting the Union in 1877, but sold out three years later. He was serving his second term as mayor of Lake Crystal and had been president of the school board and held other local offices. He was a Mason. A widow, two sons and one daughter survive.

E. C. McFetridge, state treasurer of Wisconsin from 1887 to 1891, died at his home in Beaver Dam, Wis., Feb. 17, aged 78. Mr. McFetridge was a prominent Republican of twenty-five years ago, and was one of the Republican treasurers who was forced by Democrats to refund a part of about $300,000 interest money on state deposits to the state after the Democratic victory of 1892.

WILLIAM OF WIED CALLING ON RULERS

The formal tender of the throne of Albania to Prince William probably will be made only after his arrival at Durazzo, Albania, by the assembly of Albanian notables.

The prince will start his reign with only $1,000,000 of the $15,000,000 loan promised him by the powers to finance his treasury. He had hoped to obtain an advance of $2,000,000, but the powers halved the amount.

WAR ON CABARET BEGUN IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 17.—In a war upon women cabaret performers and public eating and drinking places which hire them, Excise Commissioner Anderson has revoked the license of one downtown cafe, threatened similar action with two others, and forbade the women members of a comic opera company from participating in a cabaret performance at the largest hotel in the city. The excise commissioner announced he would no longer permit hotels or cafes to allow women to dance or sing in any room adjacent to a barroom or in which drinks were served.

NEW YORK BANK TO REDUCE CAPITAL

New York, Feb. 17.—Subject to the approval of its stockholders, the Fourth National bank, one of the largest mercantile banks in New York, will shortly reduce its capital stock from $5,000,000 to $3,000,000 with a like reduction of surplus. In the circular sent out announcing the proposed change, officials of the bank assigned no reason, but it was assumed that under the new currency system, which the Fourth National was among the first to support, it was felt that the present capital and surplus were unnecessarily large.

LODGE WILL OUST ABSENTEES

Samaritans Take Drastic Action to Hold Up Atendance.

Lodge officers who do not attend to business and attend meeting on lodge nights will lose their positions in the future. Such was the decision made last night at the meeting of West Duluth Council No. 4, Modern Samaritans.

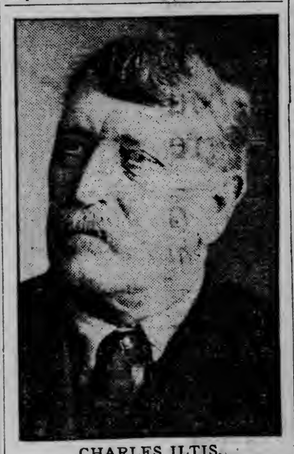

Lack of attendance on the part of some of the officers has, it is said, been disastrous for the local lodge. It was decided last night that the position of any officer who did not attend regularly or present a good excuse, would be declared vacant, and another man elected.

The lodge made plans for holding a smoker and giving a social program for its members on Monday evening, March 2.

WEST DULUTH CURLERS

Charles Iltis is the present holder of the championship buttons. How long he will hold them depends on his skill this evening when playing against the Wade rink.

While "Charlie" claims no relationship to a Scotchman, but says he is an out-and-out "Dutchman," he has acquired skill at the Scotch game which has made him a worthy contender in any curling game which he enters. He has been playing the game for nearly twenty years.

His rink comprises Earl Scanlon, lead; Earl Donald, second, and Axel Donald, third.

Only two of the four games scheduled for last night were played. Brown won from Wade by a score of 11 to 8, and Judson defeated Mallory, 12 to 4. Both games were in the Burns event.

Three games are scheduled for tonight. The principal game will be between Wade and Iltis for the club buttons. The contest is also in the Burns event. Judson and Simpson will play in the semi-finals of the Esterly event, and Brown and Olson will play in the Burns event.

Engagement.

At a dinner given last night by Mr. and Mrs. C. Drake, 11 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, for a few intimate friends, Mrs. Drake announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Drake, to F. S. Baudin. The wedding will take place this spring.

SALOON BRAWL.

Argument Over Payment for Glass of Beer Results in Assault.

An argument over the payment for a glass of beer started trouble shortly after 11 o'clock this morning in the saloon of W. H. Erickson, 19 South Sixty-third avenue west. Max Lutzky was hit over the head with a cuspidor, and Soli Nemi and Andrew Toremen are said to have been the assailants. All three are held at the police station under a charge of disorderly conduct.

The Erickson saloon in which the scrap took place is one of two in West Duluth which has come under the ban of the public safety department. According to recommendations of the police the license of this saloon and another will not be renewed.

The men will be taken before Judge Lanners for a hearing this afternoon.

SUIT BROUGHT TO OUST HOTEL LESSEE

Owner of Frederic Charges Non-Payment of Rent for Two Months.

Mrs. Mathilda Zien, proprietor of the Frederic hotel building at the corner of First avenue west and First street, brought an unlawful detainer suit in municipal court this morning to oust John J. Haley, lessee of the store at 103 West First street and the upper two floors.

Mrs. Zien claimed that the Haley Restaurant company leased the structure on Dec. 10, 1907, for ten years, on a monthly rental of $475 for the upper two floors and $80 for the store, to be paid for the first five years, and a rental of $500 a month for former and $80 for the latter after five years. She claims that no rent has been paid for either January or February of this year and that there is still coming to her $1,160.

In his answer Mr. Haley, through his attorneys, Fryberger & Fulton, admits the charges, but alleges that the plaintiff has failed to properly heat the building and that as a result his rooms in the center court are unfit for occupancy.

Following the reading of the answer before Judge Windom this morning, Donald Holmes of Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes, attorney for Mrs. Zein, entered a demurrer to the answer on the grounds that it did not properly answer the charges in the complaint. Judge Windom sustained the demurrer and allowed the defendant a ten-day stay, in which it is understood he will appeal his case in the district court.

Action Against Duluth Merchants on Trial Before Jury.

Judge Windom called the regular jury calendar this morning and after a jury was drawn the court called the case of Redman, Waehtel & Co., against G. A. Oreck & Sons of this city. The plaintiff company alleges that it sold thirty women's suits to the defendants and that the latter failed to pay $155.25, according to an agreement made between the two. The defendants deny the complaint, asserting that they returned the suits when it was found that they were not up to the standard promised by the plaintiff company.

LOW PRICE FOR PIPE SUPPLY

For the thirteenth year the United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry company was the successful bidder for the pipe business of the water and light department and the price obtained was the lowest since 1901.

The bids were secured on the estimated quantity of pipe which will be used in extensions during the season of 1914. The total was 1,260 tons and the bid was $20,472.50. Three other bids were submitted. One was incomplete and the other two were about $1,000 higher than that of the United States company.

The gas pipe runs from four to six inches in diameter and the water pipe from four to thirty-six inches in diameter. The thirty-six-inch pipe will be used for duplicating a section of the big supply main leading from Woodland.

MILK DEALER HELD.

Health Officer Charges the Sale of Adulterated Product.

Charles Mon Won, 34 years old, who operates a restaurant at 511 West Superior street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of violating the pure food laws. He is accused of having sold adulterated milk, the complaint having been made by Joseph Pratts of the health department. Won pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

JUDGE'S SON IS IN NEW JERSEY PRISON

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 17.—Daniel A. Dugan, Jr., of Orange, entered the state prison yesterday to serve a sentence of from five to ten years for running down and killing with his motor car Leo F. McDermott, a 14-year-old boy of Newark. Dugan is a son of District Court Judge Daniel A. Dugan.

Getting Rid of a Cough

A Prominent Physician Says:—

In nearly every family cough is quite a frequent if not a constant annoyance. From the baby to the grandfather a cough is a constant liability. There are two kinds of cough for which Peruna is recommended.

For instance, a person catches cold and acquires a congestion of the mucous membrane of the throat or bronchial tubes. This creates a roughness and sensitiveness of the membrane. The sensitive condition of the nerves of the mucous membrane excites cough. Cough is intended to expel something from the tubes. There being little or nothing to expel, the cough continues, needlessly irritating the tubes more and more.

Peruna is regarded as an excellent tonic expectorant in such cases. It allays the irritation of the bronchial nerves. It also assists the nerve centers in resisting further progress of the cough. The ordinary cough of this sort is generally dispelled by a week's use of Peruna. Other times it may require a little longer treatment.

There is another form of cough for which Peruna is well adapted. It is the so-called stomach cough, which comes from an irritable condition of the stomach. With this kind of cough there is little or no expectoration. There is nothing to expel from the bronchial tubes, but if the cough is allowed to continue very long it may produce a serious condition of the bronchial tubes.

Peruna is a good stomachic. It tends to correct the irritable condition of the stomach. It generally operates very promptly and effectually. Sometimes even the first dose of Peruna will give immediate relief to the stomach cough.

The Ills of Life

THE THIRTEENTH EDITION OF THE ILLS OF LIFE is now ready for distribution.

This booklet contains a large number of testimonials from different parts of the United States. Nearly every state is represented.

There should be a copy in every family.

Sent free by the Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Did you know that you could get Peruna in tablet form? Some people prefer tablets to fluid medicines.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Clears, Sneezing and Nose Running Cease, Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

MAYOR RIDDLE, of Atlantic City wants the public to join him in abstaining from eating eggs until the price is reduced so the poor can again afford to buy them. In an appeal to the citizens of Atlantic City, he said:

"I am willing to lead if citizens will follow me in abstaining from eggs altogether until they can be purchased in the markets at a reasonable figure. If all the people in the country could be brought to see the point, corners would soon cease. It would mean that many would have to go without desserts, but this would be only a short time."

Duluth city officials have not started any "abstinence" campaigns, although they have been interested in reducing the high cost of living, chiefly manifested in the move to establish public markets. Although the cost of eggs here has been high, the price has not soared to the altitudes reached in the East, and it is considered moderate now. Another factor which has a bearing upon the situation is that this section has been more prosperous than other parts of the country. The territory around Duluth is becoming well populated with farmers, and this is tending to make produce of all kinds cheaper. The members of the Housewives' league have also done their share.

KANSAS MAYOR IS OUSTED BY COURT

Wellington, Kan., Feb. 17.—A permanent order of ouster was issued against Mayor Belsley of this city yesterday by Judge Swartz of the district court. The mayor was charged with attempted bribery in connection with a proposition to build a $149,000 water plant here.

CIRCUS MAN'S WIDOW'S WILL IS SET ASIDE

White Plains, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Linne Isabelle Hutchinson of Bridgeport, Conn., has won her suit to set aside the will of her sister, the late Mrs. Ruth Louisa Bailey, widow of James A. Bailey, long associated with P. T. Barnum in the circus business. The will left Mrs. Hutchinson an income of $10,000 a year, but by setting it aside, she will receive about $400,000. The estate was valued at $4,000,000.

"CASCARETS" IF COSTIVE, BILIOUS, HEADACHY AND UPSET---DIME A BOX

No odds how much your head aches; how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness, a "Cascaret" tonight straightens you out by morning.

Clean your stomach, liver and bowels tonight; end the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, the sour, gassy stomach, backache and all other distress; relieve your sluggish Liver and Bowels of all the sour bile, gases and clogged-up waste which is producing the misery.

A 10-cent box of Cascarets keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel bully for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too.

Party in Wyoming Will Not Join With Any Other.

Republicans Are Denounced in Speech By Cadmus.

Casper, Wyo., Feb. 17.—A resolution announcing opposition to amalgamation with any other party was adopted at a conference of Progressive leaders from all parts of Wyoming here yesterday. The conference was followed by a mass meeting last night at which H. N. Gottlieb, state chairman, presided, and speeches were made by Judge C. E. Winter of Casper, Fred Blume of Sheridan, and William E. Cadmus; national organizer of Illinois.

Other resolutions adopted declared for the cancellation of the state debt with funds now on hand; for a blue sky law; a law more fully protecting property rights of women; a "sane conservation law;" a state highway commission; a public utilities commission, and denouncing the action of the Republican legislature in overriding Governor Carey's wish in the abolition of the state immigration bureau.

Charges Misrepresentation.

Charges that the Republican leaders were conducting a campaign of misrepresentation against the Progressive party were made by William E. Cadmus.

"The campaign of misrepresentation by the Republican leaders merrily continues," said Mr. Cadmus. "Instead of changing their principles to meet the popular demand of the times, Republican leaders prefer to deceive themselves into thinking they can deceive the people by false news concerning fusion, by misrepresentation of Progressive principles, by impugning the sincerity of Progressive leaders.

"As an example in point, take Mr. Taft's recent article in a weekly magazine. He charges the progressives with trying to create a socialistic democracy, when our purpose is to create a social democracy."

Present politics was likened by Mr. Cadmus to the eternal conflict of privilege against progress.

Warren an Example.

"Led by Senator Warren," he said, "the Republican party of Wyoming is hopelessly reactionary. It does not even put up the cheap pretense of being progressive. Just as Senator Warren's vast holdings of grazing land are used to keep back the small settler, and are so held that you are denied proper roads by which you can get out of your cities, so the conservative Republican party, in its national policy, would increase the vast holdings of a few, and would stop the roads by which the American multitudes may reach the free fields of common justice and life."

MUST JOIN RESERVE SYSTEM BY MONDAY

National Banks That Do Not May Lose Their Charters.

Washington, Feb. 17.—With 95 per cent of the banks of the country already on record as formally accepting the terms of the Federal reserve act, the officers of the Federal reserve organization committee have issued a warning that all national banks must signify their acceptance before next Monday, Feb. 23. It was said that although the committee had repeatedly announced that the provision requiring acceptance within sixty days after the passage of the act is mandatory, some bankers still are inquiring what penalties would be incurred by failure to comply.

"Any failure to comply," says the warning, "will constitute a violation of the provision of the Federal reserve act, and subject such banks to the penalties imposed by section 2 of this act, and may result in the forfeiture of their charters prior to the expiration of the one-year limit, should this penalty be enforced.

"There is reason to believe that more than 99 per cent of the national banks of the country will have assented before the close of this week."

$25,000,000 WILL CONTEST ENDED

Philadelphia, Feb. 17.—The contest over the will of Julia Garrett, who died last August, leaving the bulk of her estate, estimated at from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000, to her fiscal agent, Isaac T. Starr, was ended when attorneys for the contestants yesterday withdrew their appeal in orphans' court. The terms of settlement were not made public.

Miss Garrett was a granddaughter of William Evans Garrett, manufacturer of snuff. Her nearest surviving relatives were cousins, who brought the contest against the will which, after making bequests of less than $1,000,000, left the residue to Mr. Starr.

WILL UNDERWRITE TELEGRAPH STOCK

New York, Feb. 17.—For the purpose of underwriting Western Union Telegraph company stock to the amount of about $30,000,000 now owned by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., a syndicate at the head of which is Kuhn Loeb & Co., has been formed, according to an announcement made here. According to the announcement details have not been made public, but it is understood it is designed to carry out the agreement reached recently between the Federal department of justice and the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., providing for the segregation of the interests of the Western Union and the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. It is the intention of the syndicate to underwrite the stock to present shareholders of the Western Union company.

MONTANA MURDERER GETS THIRTY YEARS

Havre, Mont., Feb. 17.—The trial of Ladimer F. Chadek resulted in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Judge Matthews pronounced a sentence of thirty years. Chadek shot and killed Adolph Schuder on Jan. 5 last, and by intimidation induced Schuder's son to say that he and not Chadek did the shooting. He also succeeded in getting the wife of the murdered man to make a like statement. Both mother and son later repudiated their statements.

Will Honor Duarte.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Juan Pablo Duarte, hero of the Dominican war of independence which resulted in throwing off the yoke of Spain in 1844, has been selected by the island republic to stand in marble as that country's national hero in the Pan-American union building here, along with the men similarly honored by other nations.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.

THE BEST THING FOR YOUR NEURASTHENIA

"I have," a telegraph office employe writes, "what the doctors have called neurasthenia, and the duties of my office keep me sitting from five to six hours. I have severe pains affecting my head, one of which feels like the constriction of a rubber band around my forehead. I am 40 years old, walk and take physical culture for exercise and take a cold sponge bath. My blood pressure is 138 and I weigh 112 pounds. I have been advised to try a patent nerve tonic. What is your opinion?"

The tonic you need is a change. Change the position of your bed so that your face is right next to the open window. Breathe the bitter cold winter air all night for the rest of the winter. Cover your head with a knit skating cap so that your ears don't get cold, and keep your body toasty, but get the cold air into your lungs by sleeping at the window, as close as you can get. The next change you need is a weekly cleansing of your system with a half glass dose of castor oil. Take this every Saturday for the next ten weeks. The third change you need is to eat freely of wheat and bran and graham bread and mush. Get some wheat. Bake it. Then grind it up in an ordinary coffee mill grinder. Eat this raw with cream on it and salt, or cook it as a mush, or get your cook to make wheat muffins. Eat bran the same way, and cut out eating anything in the bread line but graham bread.

The fourth change you need is a change of thought. I wondered as I read your letter how many minutes of your day you spent in thinking about just what kind of a pain you had and exactly where it was located. You want to cut this out and devote your thoughts to liking your job better and in getting more pleasure out of your dealings with the business patrons of your office. This will rest your brain a lot. Don't take life so seriously. Laugh once in awhile.

I would counsel you to avoid the cold morning bath. Take a moderately hot bath just before you climb into bed, say twice a week, and a hot foot bath nightly. If you want to take a lot of liquid medicine, go ahead. Some folks actually believe they can't get well, or even keep from getting sick, unless they pour a lot of advertised "it's-good-for-what-ails-you" into their stomachs day after day. The idea that they are being helped by a "tonic" oftentimes gives their courage a big lift.

A young man writes:

"I am bothered with a very strong odor about my person. It grew so unpleasantly noticeable that I had the operation of circumcision performed. But no relief resulted. Then another doctor told me the real cause was that of decomposing urine, the result of an abnormally small urinary outlet, and I was operated upon again, and the urinary meatus enlarged. But still this intensely strong odor persists. There is no imagination about the matter. Everybody about me notices it. Can't you give me some help?"

Suppose I were to tell you that a water pipe in my house had burst, and would ask you to advise me how to fix it up. Wouldn't you want to first know all about what kind of a pipe it was and where it was located? Well, that's about the sort of a blind problem you are putting me up against with your ailment. I ought to see it to intelligently direct you to a cure. From your letter, it doesn't appear that you have any bladder trouble, although your letter does not say that you have not. Maybe you have a stricture. Possibly one or both sides of the accelerator urinae muscle are weakened and do not force all the urine away. If you were a patient of mine, I would put you up on the examination table and examine your digitally, and, if necessary, with a cystoscope. Evidently your trouble is some local obstruction or leakage, and one of the contributing factors may be an enlarged prostate. All this advice to you is "maybe." But it is the best I can do for you under the circumstances by mail, and I hope it affords you some avenue of help in your troublesome condition.

West End

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN CONTEST

Pupils Eager to Compete for Prizes for Best Vegetables.

The garden contest instituted by the West End Commercial club will not lack contestants this year if the announcements of many school children of the West end are to be taken as an augury. Since the announcement of the contest for this year many inquiries regarding the plans have been requested of L. A. Simonson, president of the club, and from teachers in the schools.

Last spring on the opening of the contest more than 600 children entered their names. Of this number 143 worked diligently throughout the entire summer and acted to have their gardens judged for a final award. From the number of inquiries, Mr. Simonson said yesterday that he expected that more than 1,000 would enter this year.

"Every child west of the Point of Rocks, or east of the ore docks under 15 years of age will be eligible to enter," said Mr. Simonson. "We have not yet definitely decided what change we will make in the rules of the contest but it is probable that we will limit each to the raising of two or not more than three varieties of vegetables. The committee will be announced in a few days and then we shall begin listing the contestants."

CONFER FIRST DEGREE.

Trinity Lodge Will Put Five Through the Mill.

At the second meeting of the Trinity lodge, U. D., A. F. & A. M., to be held Monday evening at the Woodmen hall, the first degree will be conferred on a class of five candidates. It is expected that nearly all of the seventy-three members as well as many from other lodges of the city will be present on the evening.

The Trinity lodge was recently organized and installed its officers at a meeting on Feb. 9. The officers are: C. E. Lonegren, worshipful master; E. H. Pfeifer, senior warden; A. W. Erickson, junior warden; John Moir, treasurer; R. E. Wheeler, secretary; W. A. Pittenger, senior deacon; G. C. Sterling, junior deacon; Arthur H. Johnson, senior steward; J. P. Geistman, junior steward; Claude L. Haney, marshal; James Henderson, tiler.

The house committee consists of N. E. Nelson, T. C. Larson, James Maghan, A. Lofgren, A. F. Swanstrom.

Coasting Party.

Helmer Nelson, 2317 West Fourth street, entertained last evening at a coasting party. Following the enjoyment of the sport the guests were entertained at luncheon at the Nelson home. The guests were: Misses Ethel Nelson, Bertha East, Myrtle Nelson, Esther Segerman, Elsie Johnson, and Messrs. Helmer Nelson, Elmer Lundberg, Carl Ellstrom, George Johnson, Franklin Sundeen and Philip Burrell.

Winifred Willets..... Miss Berg
Edith Stevens...Mrs. Irma Hutchinson
Peggy Knowles...Mrs. E. W. Anderson

Tennis Club Dance.

The North Shore Tennis club of the West end has issued invitations for a dancing party to be given Friday evening at the Woodmen hall auditorium. The committees in charge are: Dr. R. E. Wheeler, C. E. Lonegren, Dr. C. L. Haney, E. H. Webster, R. Taylor, R. R. Asplund, T. C. Wheeler, H. O. Hanson and A. Grenner.

West End Briefs.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Trinity English Lutheran church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. B. Payne, 218 North Eighteenth avenue west.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nolan, 2513 West Second street, and Mrs. William Bignet, 1009 East Second street, left yesterday for Lake Wirth, Fla., and other Southern points where they will spend the remainder of the winter. On their return they will visit relatives in Chicago.

The Rosary society of St. Clement's Catholic church, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, will serve supper in the club rooms of the church tomorrow evening. The ladies in charge of the affairs are Mrs. J. J. Schlitz, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. Carr.

The Luther league of the Trinity English Lutheran church will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Asplund, 2701 West First street.

The Ladies' auxilary of the B. of R. T. will entertain at a five hundred card party at the Woodmen hall Thursday evening. The hostesses will be Mrs. Anna McGregor, Mrs. Rose Murphy and Mrs. Alice Coon.

POTATOES ARE AT BEST HERE

A. B. Hostetter Tells High School Boys of Duluth's Ideal Weather.

The climate and soil of Northeastern Minnesota are the best in the country for the production of potatoes, according to A. B. Hostetter, who spoke to forty boys of the Duluth Central high school yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hostetter's topic was "Potatoes," and he brought out many interesting facts regarding the raising of the crop and the big yields harvested in St. Louis county.

Mr. Hostetter is giving a series of talks to the high school boys on agricultural topics, and yesterday's address was the second of the series. The talks have been well attended, and marked interest has been shown in agriculture by the students.

MRS. HOUSEKEEPER

We have on our sales floor a medium size Kitchenette Dishwasher, the only machine for this work that bears the approval of the Good Housekeeping Magazine.

While we do not recommend it for glasses or fine china, it will wash the common dishes perfectly. Requires no experience to operate, simply put the dishes in with about 8 quarts of hot water, pump the handle gently a few minutes; then let the dirty water run out through a faucet at the bottom. Put in some more clean hot water to rinse and the dishes can be taken out without further wiping or work, all shiny and clean. Abolishes the meanest drudgery of housekeeping. Women all over the country approve of it. The medium size sells for only $16.00, and can be bought on time.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFUL, CHARMING HAIR, NO DANDRUFF---25 CENT DANDERINE

Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair and Stops It Falling Out.

You hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

SAYS SUFFRAGETTE WAS FED ON DRUG

London, Feb. 17.—The statement that Miss Phyllis Brady, the militant suffragette, awaiting trial for arson, was "drugged" when the bishop of London interviewed her in Holloway jail on Feb. 9, was made by Mrs. Dacre-Fox at the weekly meeting of the Women's Social and Political union.

The bishop, after his interview, said Miss Brady told him she had forcibly been fed, but that it did not make her sick. She thought, however, it gave her indigestion.

Miss Brady, who has since been released on bail, avers that her private doctor has expressed the opinion that she was given large doses of a bromide.

"This grave scandal will be brought to the attention of parliament," declared Mrs. Dacre-Fox.

BRITON MURDERED IN LOWER CALIFORNIA

El Centro, Cal., Feb. 17.—Charles Gale, a British subject and well known in the gold camps of Alaska and Nevada, was found murdered in his saloon at Mexicali, Lower California. Diamonds and cash amounting to $10,000 had been stolen. Gale's head was split with an ax as he lay in bed.

Gale went to Mexicali, opposite Calexico, before the first Madero revolution. It was said he was worth half a million dollars, but his fortune was heavily drawn on by all factions in the Mexican revolution and had been considerably depleted.

Barcomb Will Filed.

The will of Paul Barcomb, Duluth & Iron Range railroad conductor, who was accidentally killed at Two Harbors, Feb. 4, was filed yesterday with the clerk of the probate court.

Mrs. Catherine Barcomb, widow, who filed the will, requested that she be appointed executrix. The estate consists of personal property valued at $831.30, all of which was left to a widow and a daughter.

Barcomb, at the time of his death, was working as a relief conductor on a passenger train. While standing near his train a logging train, running wild, crashed into it overturning one of the coaches upon him.

BIG STEAMSHIP MERGER COMPLETE

The merging of all the principal inland steamship companies of Canada into a corporation styled the Canada Steamship Lines limited, has just been completed. The combined assets of the companies are placed at $21,235,660. The companies amalgamated are: Inland Lines, Ltd., Northern Navigation Co., Niagara Navigation Co., St. Lawrence River Steamboat Co., Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co., Thousand Island Steamboat Co. and Merchants' Montreal Line, together with Ontario & Quebec Navigation Co., Quebec Steamship Co. and S. BIG RAILWAY LAUNCHED.

C. W. C. Road Is Incorporated With Capital of $8,000,000.

A bill has been passed by the Canadian parliament incorporating the Central Western Canada Railway company with a capital of $8,000,000.

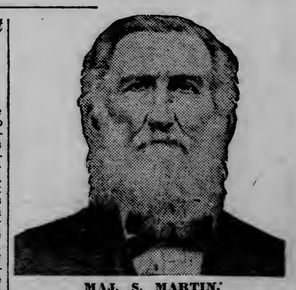

The new road will run from Winnipeg to Edmonton, a distance of 780 miles, going through Yorkton, Saskatoon and Battleford. It will open up a large territory and will be a direct competitor of the Canadian Northern, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Pacific railroads in a considerable portion of the country traversed.

Seek Attorney Generalship.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are three candidates for the Republican nomination for attorney general, H. J. Linde, state senator from Mountrail county; Alfred Zuger and F. C. Heffron, both assistant attorney generals.

Good Cheer Aids Digestion of Food

Dyspeptics Can Make the Rest of the Family Happy By Using a Laxative-Tonic.

MAJ. S. MARTIN.

The temper of the family and the good cheer around the table depend so much on the good digestion of each individual present that the experiences of some former dyspeptics who overcame their trouble should be of interest to those now suffering in this way.

The best advice one can give—but it is advice that is seldom heeded—is to eat slowly and masticate each mouthful carefully. However, if slow eating and careful mastication fail the next aid is one close to nature, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This remedy is an excellent digestant, and in addition to helping in the digestion of the food, acts gently on the liver and bowels, ridding them of the accumulation of waste that should long ago have been passed off. It is safe, reliable, pleasant-tasting, and results are guaranteed.

Maj. S. Martin of Joplin, Mo., now 77, thinks Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has helped him to a longer and happier life. He has not felt so good in years as he has since taking this excellent medicine, and in spite of his 77 years he says he feels like a boy.

It is the ideal remedy for indigestion, no matter how severe; constipation, no matter how chronic, biliousness, headaches, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances.

You can obtain Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by heads of families already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

When you use Syrup Pepsin you will see the fallacy of chewing mints and tablets or of taking cathartics, salts, pills and similar drastic medicines. Unlike these, Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect, and by automatically training the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work, soon restores these organs to normal.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

HOW TO GET RID OF YOUR SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

I Cured Mine By a Simple, Safe, Harmless Treatment Which Can Be Used at Home With Complete Success. Age and Severity No Obstacle

Prominent Lady Offers to Tell Her Secret

FREE

I am a woman who belongs to a family whose women members have been especially addicted to Superfluous Hair. Before I was 25, I developed a horrid case of hair growth, which quite spoiled my life. I TRIED ALL SORTS of advertised remedies but met with DISAPPOINTMENTS ONLY. I suffered the needle without success. And at last I decided it was no use to try any more. I almost made up my mind to give up my social activities for good, as I was so ASHAMED of my blemish. One day I mentioned my resolve to an intimate friend, a professional man, who gave me the name and address of a great scientific chemist in London who was said to have invented a new treatment which was a great success. I replied that I had tried so many things, I was not going to be humbugged again, but my friend pointed out that the inventor was everywhere recognized as a really FAMOUS CHEMIST OF EMINENT STANDING, who, as Professor of Chemistry at a leading University, had been honored by the leading Scientific Institutes of Chemistry in the world.

So I sent for the method and after some hesitation tried it. The result was indeed a pleasure and a surprise. The Hair disappeared at once and after a little further use, never came back. Undoubtedly the ROOTS WERE KILLED. It was wonderful—so unexpectedly satisfactory indeed after all my previous disappointments that I began to wonder if mine were an unusual case. So I submitted the preparation to a reliable PHYSICIAN of integrity and good position, and asked for his candid opinion. After testing it, he wrote me that he saw no reason why it should not be a universal success, as the Great English Chemist had undoubtedly solved the problem of REACHING THE ROOTS.

And so I have decided to put my pride into my pocket and to give my secret to the world by telling the facts to all other women that they too may secure the same successful results. If you are a sufferer from Superfluous Hair, whether on face, neck, arms or any other part of the body, I will tell you the secret of my success and happiness FREE, and I will see that you have full particulars without delay of how I succeeded in destroying all signs of my hair growth so that they NEVER RETURNED. When writing please send two-cent stamp or stamped addressed envelope and address your letter to Mrs. Kathryn Jenkins, Box 652 B. T. No. 261 Purchase St., Boston, Mass.

NOTE—Mrs. Jenkins for years was a well-known member of Society at Scranton, Pa., and much given to philanthropic endeavor. The chemist she refers to is widely known as a man of learning and integrity and one of England's leading Scientific Chemists of the highest standing. All readers of this paper who have been disappointed with ordinary depilatories and advertised remedies should write to her at once. Her address is Mrs. Jenkins, Box 652 B. T. No. 261, Purchase St., Boston, Mass.

LAWMAKER MUST PAY INFORMER

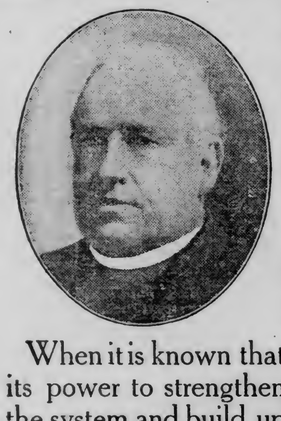

Briton Who Voted Illegally Will Have to Give $65,000.

London, Feb. 17.—Sir Stuart Montague Samuel, Radical member of parliament for Whitechapel, has been ordered by Justice Sir Sydney Rowlatt of the king's bench division, to pay penalties and costs amounting to $65,000, because he voted in the house of commons while his firm had a contract with the British government. The money will be paid to Dr. William Bird as informer.

This was the third suit brought against Sir Stuart Samuel under the law which gives any informer the right to claim penalties under similar circumstances. The first two suits were dismissed on technicalities.

Poet's Descendant Threatened.

Boston, Feb. 17.—Letters threatening death to Henry W. Longfellow, II, a descendant of the poet, and to his wife and family if a demand for $30,000 were refused, have resulted in the placing of a police guard about the Longfellow home in All Ston.

When it is known that its power to strengthen the system and build up the body is why Father John's Medicine relieves colds, it will be understood why it is so valuable as a tonic and for driving the impurities out of the system. It feeds the tissues and makes strength. Not a patent medicine; pure and wholesome — 50 years in use.

ROYALTIES ARE INCOME

Must Be Listed in Tax Returns, Says Treasury Department.

J. J. Robinson, attorney, received word this morning from Washington that royalties received from mineral lands are considered income by the treasury department and must be included in the return to the government, notwithstanding the case now pending in the Federal courts which holds that royalties are capital and not income.

"All royalties received from mineral lands should be included in the return and the income tax must be paid thereon," said Mr. Robinson. "In case the supreme court affirms the decision of Judge Willard now pending in the Federal courts, the government will refund the income tax paid on such royalties. It is advisable, therefore, to attach a statement to the return showing how much of the income consists of royalties.

"The case referred to is Sargent Land company vs. Von Baumbach, 207 Federal Reporter, page 423, decided at St. Paul by Judge Willard. It defines income as something produced by capital without impairing that capital. If it impairs the capital it ceases to be income and amounts to a sale of the capital assets.

"The government questions the correctness of this decision and will consider royalties as income until the supreme court of the United States affirms the above case."

STRANGER FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

John Jutila, Unknown Here, Dies at Rooming House.

John Jutila, aged about 40 years, was found dead in bed in his room at 150 South First avenue east, over the White Front saloon, at 12:20 this morning. The body was removed to Stewart's undertaking rooms and an autopsy will be held some time today.

Jutila, who was evidently a laborer, engaged a room at the place only yesterday afternoon. Nothing is known of him, where he came from, who he last worked for or whether he had any relatives here.

COLDER WEATHER ON ITS WAY HERE

There will be another cold spell following this milder brand of weather, and it will begin tonight and continue through most of tomorrow. Weather Forecaster Richardson claims, however, that the colder weather will not be a cold wave but that the weather is merely "turning to colder." The duration will be comparatively brief, he says. By tomorrow morning, according to the weather forecaster, the mercury will be about 10 deg. below zero. The minimum last night was 4 deg. above.

Three inches of snow fell during last night, but it is of the light and fluffy kind that will pack down to much less than that. The snowfall extended over Minnesota and Western Canada, Wisconsin, the Ohio valley, the New England states and down as far as New York.

There will be further snow flurries tonight and tomorrow.

Friday by Commissioner General Caminetti of the immigration bureau are not in accord with the views of the president. Caminetti's views were expressed without previous knowledge of the White House. The Burnett bill contains no Asiatic exclusion provisions, the house having voted down all amendments in that direction.

That immigration legislation with provision for the literacy test for aliens probably will be enacted before the close of the present session of congress became apparent when Senator Ellison D. Smith, chairman of the senate immigration committee, announced the determination of the committee to report to the senate the Burnett bill as it passed the house, with some modifications, by the last of this or the first of next week.

He made known the decision of the committee not to eliminate from the measure the literacy test, which would bar from entry all aliens over 16 years of age who cannot read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish. Asiatic exclusion, much agitated in the house, will not be considered by the committee.

Caused Death of Two Bills.

The literacy test twice has proved the stumbling block of immigration legislation, once in President Taft's administration, and prior to that during the incumbency of President Cleveland. President Taft vetoed a bill on account of a literacy test provision, and President Cleveland let a prior measure of the same character die at the end of the administration by failing to sign the bill, a form of executive dealing that is known as "pocket veto."

Several members of the committee said the literacy test would remain in the bill with a possibility of a slight modification of that part of it, which would exempt from its application aliens who may show to the satisfaction of the proper authorities that they emigrated from a foreign country "solely for the purpose of escaping religious persecution."

The committee plans to amend the house bill by providing for an increase in the number and efficiency of the medical inspection force, as suggested by Commissioner General Caminetti of the bureau of immigration. They believe that by strengthening the cordon around the boundaries of the United States, the interests of the country can be greatly safeguarded against undesirable legislation, and that foreign nations can find in such legislation no cause for complaint.

there was a conspiracy in which Mrs. Bond was a party, then the verdict must be for the defendant, the court held.

Direct evidence for the defense was completed late yesterday. Senator Gore, who was on the witness stand the greater part of yesterday, denounced the charge that he had attacked Mrs. Bond as an "infamous lie," and asserted that prosecution of the suit on trial was being engineered by his political enemies in an effort to discredit him and cause his defeat in his campaign for renomination as the Democratic candidate for senator.

Snubbed Him by Telephone.

The senator denied that he had endeavored to have Mrs. Bond leave Washington and "hush the matter up," as was testified by a witness for the plaintiff, or that he had ever offered to compromise the suit, or considered such a suggestion.

Mrs. Bond was recalled just before court adjourned yesterday, and asserted that Senator Gore called her by telephone several times after the alleged attack, but that she refused to convyese with him.

Al J. Jennings, former outlaw, but now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma, was also on the witness stand for a few minutes. Jennings contradicted the testimony of a witness for the defense, who had asserted that James R. Jacobs, one of the witnesses summoned by Mrs. Bond, had proposed in the presence of Jennings to "call off" the suit if $25,000 was paid as a compromise.

Attorneys for Mrs. Bond sought to open the way for the introduction of evidence dealing with the life of Senator Gore prior to the alleged episode in Washington by asking the question: "Do you know a blind girl in Corsicana, Texas?"

was recovering from a troublesome cold.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Helen Woodrow Wilson, however, went to occupy seats in the reserved gallery.

Beside the casket in the marble room was a guard of honor, composed of one veteran of the Union army and one veteran of the Confederate army. Senator Bacon was a Confederate officer.

The Southern veteran was J. B. Marshall of Birgingham, Ala., and the Northern veteran was Maj. James A. Abbott of Providence, R. I., both members of the capitol police force.

One exception to the senate rule against flowers in the chamber was made, and a wreath from the president and Mrs. Wilson was placed on the coffin beside the senate's tribute. It was of orchids, hyacinths, mignonette and daisies.

Seats for Dignitaries.

Seats upon the floor were reserved for the president of the United States, members of his cabinet, the chief justice and assistant justices of the supreme court, members of the diplomatic corps, members of the house of representatives, the admiral of the navy, the chief of staff of the army and the regents and secretary of the Smithsonian institution. Members of the dead senator's family and the officiating clergymen remained in the vice president's room until time for the services, when they were conducted to the seats reserved for them on the floor.

Admission to the galleries was by card, extended only to the members of the house and the more intimate friends of the dead statesman. One gallery was reserved for the use of those invited by the president and the vice president. Hundreds of those who came to pay homage to the dead statesman's memory were turned away.

Customary Form Changed.

When Vice President Marshall walked slowly to his seat and called the senate to order, the short and simple services began. Departing from the customary form, Mr. Marshall, in a voice full of feeling and lowered almost to a whisper, said:

"Senators, the hour has arrived at which, in accordance with the orders of the senate, the final ceremonies over the body of Augustus Octavius Bacon, late a senator from Georgia and an unusually distinguished member of this body, are to be observed. In conformity to custom and in token of our common faith, the chaplain of the senate will offer a prayer to God, the Father; God, the Redeemer; and God, the Comforter."

Rev. Forrest J. Prettyman, chaplain of the senate, offered prayer. "We bless Thee for the life and work of this great man. We praise Thee that the hand of death was not laid upon him until he had spoken his message to the world and had sent forth the influence of a devoted life into the soul of our nation," he said.

Episcopal Service Pronounced.

The Episcopal burial service was pronounced by Bishop Alfred Harding of the Protestant Episcopal church, and a benediction followed, by the chaplain.

After the lapse of probably a minute the vice president spoke again:

"Into the loving hands of the committees of congress and the officers of the senate," he said, "we consign the mortal body of our well-beloved senator, to be by them conveyed to his home in the state of Georgia, there to be deposited in the final resting place. May his labors in the cause of constitutional liberty long bless the republic."

Members of the capitol police force bore the body back to the marble room, where it remained until escorted to the railway station for the journey to Atlanta, where it will lie in state at the Georgia capitol until taken to Macon for interment.

Nelson in Funeral Party.

The funeral party that accompanied the body South included the committees appointed by the two houses of congress; Sergeant-at-Arms Higgins; the secretary of the senate; Senators Smith of Georgia; Tillman, Overman, Chilton, Fletcher, Pomerene, Thomas, O'Gorman, Vardaman, Gallinger, Root, Nelson, Brandegee and Page, Representatives Ferris, Willis, Mann, Payne, Gardner, Anthony, Dyer and Prouty, and the Georgia delegation, including Representatives Edwards, Park, Crisp, Adamson, Howard, Bartlett, Lee, Tribble, Bell, Hardwick, Walker and Hughes.

in the afternoon decided to reserve decision and proceed with the examination of minor witnesses for the miners.

Arguing against the right of the committee to subpoena "Mother" Jones, Maj. Edward Boughton, judge advocate of the Colorado national guard, representing Adjt. Gen. Chase and claiming direct authorization from E. M. Ammons, quoted the governor as trusting that the committee would not subpoena "Mother" Jones.

He cited the decisions of state and Federal courts in the Moyer case in 1904, in which it was decided that the state authorities had the right to imprison citizens without definite charges when the military had been called out to preserve order. As his personal opinion, he said, the committee had no right to subpoena her, and declared if brought before the committee publicity here she would incite a riot. He assured the committee she could be questioned privately at the hospital or publicly in Denver.

After disposing of the matter temporarily, witnesses for the miners were heard. Wilfred Hanlon told of the alleged refusal of the registry clerk at the Trinidad postoffice to accept a registered letter addressed to Robert Uhlick, an organizer, then a military prisoner, on the ground that the letter could not be delivered.

"Will Obey," Says Governor.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 17.—Telegrams were exchanged today between M. D. Foster, chairman of the house subcommittee investigation the Colorado coal strike, and Governor E. M. Ammons relative to the request of counsel for the strikers that "Mother" Mary Jones be subpoenaed as a witness to appear before the committee. The telegram from Chairman Foster to Governor Ammons follows:

"The congressional sub-committee has been formally requested by counsel for the miners to subpoena Mrs. Mary Jones, now held as a military prisoner. Will you direct the military authorities to bring her before this committee for examination?"

The reply:

"We will obey your wishes, but would prefer that you subpoena her after you return to Denver or see her at the hospital to avoid danger and trouble. Letter follows."

TAKE ACTION URGED BY THE GRAND JURY

case, owing to his good record and the fact that he has served for nearly thirty years, he is being given an opportunity to resign on a pension. He has been entitled to this privilege for the last two years, but he was eager to serve an even thirty years, which will end early in July. No officer has ever worked on the force continually for this length of time. Lieut. Drennan has been denied this privilege and must retire on June 1. Commissioner Hicken and Chief Troyer had only two alternatives in his case, either to discharge him altogether or allow him to retire on a pension.

The jury recommended that Lieut. Fritz be suspended, but it is believed that the action of the two officials this morning will meet with the approval of the members. He will become a sergeant on March 1 and his office given to either one of the present sergeants who receives the higher mark at a special examination to be held within the next week, or to either Detective Terry or Detective Schulte, each of them having a rank of lieutenant. Nothing definite has been decided upon as yet.

Riedel's Case.

As the grand jury recommended the discharge of Patrolman Riedel, Commissioner Hicken and Chief Troyer felt they had no alternative, and he was this morning asked to resign from the force. Owing to the fact that he is married and has a family, the officer will not resign until May 1, when he will have a better opportunity to obtain a position.

The jury made a report on six members of the force.

The cases of Detective Toewe, Sergeant Youngberg and Patrolman Perry were disposed of at once, Commissioner Hicken and Chief Troyer having decided that the charges were too slight to merit any more punishment. Detective Toewe was accused of having borrowed $100 from Gus Egdahl, a saloon keeper, but the debt was paid over five years ago, the evidence showed.

Although Sergeant Youngberg was a patrolman when the grand jury made its report, Chief Troyer showed his confidence in the officer by appointing him to the sergeancy a few days later, and he is now night officer at the West Duluth station. He ranked highest in the recent examination for patrolmen. The evidence against Youngberg was to the effect that he had made a statement in favor of Fred Mooney, who was arrested over a year ago with thirty-eight members of the structural iron workers' union on a charge of dynamiting and conspiracy.

Patrolman Perry was accused of having committed an offense before he was appointed on the force and for this reason he was not reprimanded.

SCHMIDT DENIES HE MURDERED THE GIRL

Says That He Shammed Insanity During His Trial.

New York, Feb. 17.—Anna Aumuller died from the effects of an illegal operation, according to a confession which Hans Schmidt, who recently was convicted of her murder, is reported to have made to an attache of the district attorney's office Sunday in the death house at Sing Sing prison.

Schmidt's reported confession is said to have been, in effect, that the woman had submitted to the operation at the hands of another person than Schmidt, and had died, and that Schmidt had cut up and disposed of her body.

Prior to the second trial of Schmidt, it was understood a plea of this kind would be made the substance of his defense. The insanity defense was adhered to, however.

Schmidt declared, it is said, that three persons could prove his confessions.

Frantic at Losing Her.

"I did not know what to do when I saw her dead before me," Schmidt is reported to have said. "I loved her so much that I was almost frantic at the thought of losing her. I knew that I must hide her death, and it was then the idea occurred to me to cut up her body and throw it in the river. This I did."

"So you didn't make a blood sacrifice of her?" the assistant district attorney is said to have asked Schmidt.

"No," said Schmidt.

"And you did not hear commands from heaven to make a blood sacrifice of her?"

"No," the former priest replied.

Then, it is said, Schmidt broke down and admitted that all of his seeming acts of insanity were simulated.

MAN SUFFOCATES IN SAND CAVE-IN

Valley Junction, Wis., Feb. 17.—In a cave-in at a sand pit at Tomah Lake, near here, yesterday, Sidney Jones, aged 32, was suffocated before help could reach him, and Mahlon Armstrong was dangerously injured. Other members of the crew, by frantic work on the part of their companions, were dug out alive and uninjured.

CLEANING OF WALK SAVES LIVES OF SIX

Jersey City Man Drops Children in Snow as House Burns.

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 17.—Snow which Stephen Grob of Jersey City heaped up when cleaning his sidewalk after the storm saved the lives of his six children today. With fire raging in the house, he dropped them one at a time from the roof into the snow. None was hurt, although the youngest child is only a year old.

RUBE WADDELL IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 17.—Rube Waddell, the famous baseball pitcher, formerly in the major leagues, who is in a hospital here suffering from a bronchial affection, was reported today to be in a serious condition.

HOPE TO GET JAKE STAHL YET

Chicago, Feb. 17.—The Federal league leaders said today they still were hopeful of landing Jake Stahl for the job as Brooklyn manager.

A telegram warning him to "keep hands off" Pitcher Tom Seaton was received by President Gilmore today. It was signed by W. A. Baker, president of the Philadelphia Nationals, and stated that Seaton had agreed to the Phillies' terms in January. Federal emissaries, however, probably will meet Seaton soon and discuss his standing, since they understood he has come to no definite agreement with the Philadelphia club.

"For the third time, let me deny that the American association offered Weeghman the St. Paul franchise to be put in Chicago," requested President Chivington of the Amreican association.

Chivington declares the move in putting the Toledo team in Cleveland will be a success.

GIVE MONEY FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

Berlin, Feb. 17.—By a considerable majority the German imperial parliament today adopted an appropriation of $50,000 for the Olympic games to be held here in 1916. The appropriation was rejected by the budget committee on Jan. 15, but the leaders of the clerical party today gave their followers freedom of action in the matter and all but a few of them voted in favor of the appropriation.

The Socialists persisted in their attitude of protest, but it was pointed out that this was more for tactical political reason than from hostility to the Olympic games.

DELEGATES REPORT GOOD "Y" MEETING

Twenty representatives of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. returned last night from Northfield, Minn., where they attended the state convention of the association. Ten of the representatives were from the boys' department and ten from the association proper. The best meeting in the history of the state association is reported.

No Money for Franchise.

Sheybogan, Wis., Feb. 17.—Sheboygan will not purchase the Wausau franchise of the Wisconsin-Illinois baseball league, according to announcement today. The team and franchise were offered for $500 and for a time baseball patrons were enthusiastic over the prospect, but when a canvass was made of the business and professional men and manufacturers the proposition fell flat.

Miss Quayle had been in the hospital here for two weeks. She underwent the radium treatment for a growth on her left leg at a Baltimore hospital, and was being returned to her home when she became critically ill. Mrs. Quayle was at her daughter's bedside when death came.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys In Weakened Condition.

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complaints of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who request it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50cts. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

END SEVENTH LEGAL BATTLE

Another Chapter in Long Litigation Over Buyck Township Affairs.

Irregularities which arose nearly eight years ago in connection with the organization of the town of Buyck and the manipulation of funds by some of its first officials have been the subject of seven long legal fights. In district court today, the seventh lawsuit involving the early history of the township was brought to a close, when Judge Cant handed down his decision in a fight between a bonding company and a local investment concern.

The action is one in which the American Bonding company of Baltimore sought to recover about $2,600 and interest for six years from the Commercial Investment company of this city, an amount which the plaintiff company claimed it was obliged to pay to the town of Buyck as surety on the official bond of Charles Buyck, first town treasurer. The court finds that the action is barred by the statute of limitations and that the bonding company cannot recover. The bonding company was six weeks too late in starting the suit, more than a month having elapsed after the six years allowed by law in which to start an action of this nature.

Cost $20,500.

Charles Buyck, town treasurer, during the early days left the country after he had become deeply involved. It is said that he manipulated the funds of the township to suit himself while he was in office. At any event after he had departed for parts unknown, litigation followed in which several bonding companies were held liable for the town for the full amount of the surety. The affair cost the American onding company $10,000, the Banker's Surety company about $10,000 and the National Surety company about $500. One other town official was arrested for embezzlement at the time and was sent to the state penitentiary. He was released about a month ago on parole.

In the action before the court last, the seventh suit growing out of the Buyck affair, the American Bonding company represented that it had paid the item of $2,600 and other money to the town of Buyck to satisfy a judgment rendered against Charles Buyck, town treasurer, and the bonding company as his surety. The lawsuit was a long piece of litigation and the bonding company was finally obliged to pay the entire amount of the bond as Buyck had left the country. The judgment was for illegal payments made by Buyck as town treasurer, the claim being made that he knew that they were illegal and irregular at the time he paid them. Among these payments were items in the case which Judge Cant decided today.

The claim of the bonding company was that Buyck, as town treasurer, paid the Commercial Investment company of this city a 10 per cent commission for buying a $22,000 issue of town bonds and the accrued interest which Buyck allowed the company to take without collecting it for the town as he should have done. The investment company is engaged in a bond brokerage business. Having paid the judgment in a former case, the bonding company contended that it was subrogated to all of the rights of the town of Buyck against all parties legally liable for the unlawful payments.

Under the law it is illegal for a town or municipal corporation to give such a commission and the accrued interest. In this connection Judge Cant in his memorandum handed down today said: "That the payment was an illegal payment is beyond question. It is equally beyond question that in the absence of a statute of limitations, there should be a recovery here."

Action Too Late.

The plaintiff company claimed that the illegal payments made by the town and the town treasurer were not discovered until March, 1907, and that the cause of action was a valid one at the time the case was started, Feb. 27, 1913. The court, however, finds that the cause of action accrued to the town on Jan. 10, 1907, and that six weeks more than the six years allowed had elapsed barring the action. "The long and short of the matter," says Judge Cant, "is that the action was instituted too late, and there is no legally justifiable way of overcoming the difficulty thereby presented.

The defendant company claimed that everything that was done at the time was done with the full knowledge and consent of the township officials and other taxpayers. In its memorandum the court said: "The defendant contrived and schemed somewhat to secure control of the bonds in question. That is not to be commended, but it is not necessarily fraud. According to the evidence, and concerning which there is little doubt, the town paid for handling the bonds no more than is often, and perhaps commonly paid in some form or other for such services. The only thing which makes the transaction subject to attack is the statute which prohibits the sale of such bonds for less than par and accrued interest."

The case was tried before Judge Cant last June. Arnold & Pickering of Virginia represented the American Bonding company and Charles E. Adams of this city was attorney for the Commercial Investment company.

TWO LIFERS ARE FREED BY WILSON

Washington, Feb. 17. — President Wilson has communted, to expire immediately, the life sentences of George Barclay and James Brummett, convicted in 1901 of the murder of J. L. Poole on the Osage reservation in the Indian Territory. Barclay and Brummett were sentenced to be hanged, but commuted to life imprisonment by President Roosevelt. They had served about ten years in Leavenworth penitentiary. President Wilson believed the killing of Poole was not premeditated.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol, and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers, to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear, and you take on from ten to twenty pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Boyce's drug store and other leading drug stores of Duluth and vicinity have it, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming [illegible] and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

SAYS WIFE IS UNFAITHFUL

Yesterday afternoon Peter Polga came to Duluth and swore out a warrant for the arrest of his wife and Zaupolone on a charge of adultery. They were taken into custody late in the afternoon and were this morning arraigned before Judge Cutting. They waived examination and were bound over to the grand jury. Bail in each case was fixed at $500.

When Mrs. Polga was arrested yesterday afternoon her three children, Lucy, 8 years, Arthur, aged 5, and Bennie, 3 years, were taken with their mother to the county home for children. Everything went well until Mrs. Polga was told to come to police headquarters. Then the children began crying for their mother, and so insistent were they that the youngsters were permitted to come to headquarters. Here also they refused to leave their mother, and as a consequence spent the night in jail, the quartet occupying Police Matron Walsh's bedroom.

AMERICAN HANGS FOR ALBERTA MURDER

Calgary, Alta., Feb. 17.—William Jasper Collins, who confessed he had killed John T. Benson, a farmer for whom he worked, was hanged in the jail yard here early today.

Benson's house near Cereal was burned two years ago and his charred body was found in the ruins. Soon after the funeral the authorities became suspicious when Collins disappeared. Later Collins was found in Missouri, where he and Benson formerly had lived. He was found guilty last November. Robbery was supposed to have been the motive for the crime. Collins' possession of much money, which up to the time he had never had, was strong proof against him, particularly as Benson was known to have several thousand dollars in the safe.

Women's and Misses' One-Piece Dresses!

Women's, Misses' and Children's Coats!

To Be Sold as Low as —or Given Away..... 25c

Here is the plan: There are about 50 garments in the lot. The rapid changing whims of Dame Fashion demand that they be moved from the valuable space they now occupy in our Cloak department. We will admit that Dame Fashion has changed her mind a few times since smiling on these, but fortunately she has no control over quality of material and workmanship, so these essentials remained unimpaired in the garments offered.

For Wednesday, Feb. 18th Only

Note these prices—they change even faster than style does:

From 9 to 10—any garment in the lot goes at only..... $2.00

From 10 to 11—what is left goes at..... $1.75

From 12 to 1—what is left goes at..... $1.25

From 2 to 3—what is left goes at..... 75c

From 4 to 5—what is left goes at..... 25c

From 5 to 5:30—we don't think any will be left.

If perchance there should be a garment not worth 25c to somebody, we would esteem it a favor to have you ask us to wrap it up for you that you may take it out of our way.

Doesn't this plan sound interesting enough to deserve your presence?

PASTOR FALLS DEAD ON STREET

Rev. Lauritz Hagerup-Nissen, pastor of the Old Norwegian Lutheran church, dropped dead of heart failure yesterday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock at the corner of Sixth street and Baxter avenue. When the pastor fell neighbors picked him up and carried him into the Cloquet building, where Dr. D. R. Searle was called. When the physician had arrived the minister was dead.

Rev. Mr. Hagerup-Nissen has been pastor of the local church for several years. He resided at 715 Cummings avenue. He leaves a widow and two children. The body was taken to Leraan's undertaking rooms, where funeral arrangements will be made this afternoon.

DRIFTS FIVE HOURS ON ICE

Roger W. Campbell, keeper of the lighthouse at the Superior entry, had a narrow escape from death yesterday by being caught on an ice floe and drifting out into Lake Superior. He remained on the floe five hours before being rescued.

Mr. Campbell had gone down the lake along the shore for a little rabbit hunting and had reached a point about seven miles away when he suddenly noticed that the ice had broken away from the shore and that a stretch of water 100 feet wide separated him from the shore.

He noticed a fire on the bank a short distance ahead and firing his rifle, attracted the attention of three men who were hunting. These were Thomas C. Farrall, 249 West Fourth street; Joseph Lederman, 280 West Fourth street, and George Papineau of Wisconsin Point. They ran a mile up the shore and found an old boat, which they paddled to the rescue of Campbell. They arrived to his aid just as the floe was about to break up.

FATHER LEE WILL BE BURIED THURSDAY

The funeral of Rev. Father P. J. Lee, pastor of the Sacred Heart cathedral, who died Sunday night at St. Mary's hospital in Duluth, will be held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the Sacred Heart cathedral. Rev. Father Floyd of the cathedral of Duluth will preach the sermon and many other dignitaries of the church, including Bishop Koudelka, will take part in the services. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Col. Holt Transferred.

Col. Charles C. Holt, assistant postmaster at the Superior postoffice, will become superintendent of the East end station, according to announcement made yesterday by Postmaster Russell. Col. Holt has been at the main office for seventeen years. He will be succeeded by Fred S. Thompson, present superintendent of mails, and Charles J. McGill, assistant superintendent of mails, will become superintendent.

Woman's Realm

Miss Senta Erd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Erd of 202 South Nineteenth avenue east, received enthusiastic and favorable criticisms on her work as soprano soloist with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at the concert Sunday afternoon at the Auditorium in Minneapolis. Her dressing room was a perfect bower of roses sent by her many friends in the Twin Cities and from Duluth. She is the guest of relatives in St. Paul this week and is being honored with a number of social affairs.

The Minneapolis Journal printed the following comment on her singing:

"The second half of the program was entirely devoted to popular Wagner selections. The soloist was Senta Erd, a young singer of a musical and sympathetic, if not very large soprano voice. Miss Erd's best effort was in the 'Dich Theure Halle' from 'Tannhaeuser,' wherein she delivered herself with fervor. It was demanded and sung twice to the exquisite handling of the accompaniment by Mr. Oberhoffer and the orchestra. Senta's ballad from 'The Flying Dutchman' was pluckily sung, but the too sentimental turn given the redemption motif was not of the same artistic appeal as the rest. Enthusiastically greeted after this number, which was her first, Miss Erd sang 'Traeume' by the same composer, her musicianship here guiding her faultlessly."

"Five or six years ago, soon after the inception of the Sunday afternoon popular concerts by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, there were heard frequent complaints to the effect that Mr Oberhoffer designed his programs on too high a plane really to appeal to popular musical taste. Yesterday afternoon the program consisted of two works by Beethoven and four by Richard Wagner and the house not only was sold out, but nearly 200 people were turned away because they could not secure seats. Such facts as these are so eloquent that they speak for themselves.

MISS SENTA ERD.

"The assisting soloist was Senta Erd, a soprano beautifully suited, both in personality and voice, to the leading feminine roles of the Wagner operas. Her first number was the difficult and piercingly human Senta Ballad from 'The Flying Dutchman,' which she sang with artistic skill and intelligent sincerity, giving the immortally beautifully 'Traume' as an encore. For her second number she gave a gloriously spirited interpretation of Elizabeth's aria, 'Dich Theure Halle' from 'Tannhauser,' which she was obliged to repeat.

"Yesterday's popular concert was the last to be given before the orchestra starts on its Eastern tour; the next Sunday program taking place March 15."

JUST PACKS HER GRIP AND GOES

MME. SCHLOETEL-LOTSY.

New York is entertaining the most mercurial traveler in the world—Mme. Schloetel-Lotsy, the wife of a Dutch retired officer. Three hours before she took ship for New York, Mme. Schloetel-Lotsy had no idea of visiting this country. Suddenly America suggested itself to her mind, she told her maid to pack a trunk and she reached the steamship pier just in time to board a ship for New York. In the same way, she has taken trips on a few hours' notice to the Far East and other parts of the world.

of the Schubert club of St. Paul and the musicians of that club, who will give the program at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Duluth club.

ALUMNAE MEET.

Plan Lecture By Riis and Hear Play.

"Prunella, or Love in a Dutch Garden," the charming little poetical play by Granville Barker and Lawrence housman, was read by Miss Hill of the Superior normal school at the regular meeting of the Collegiate Alumnae association which was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. C. Winton, 1509 East First street.

Arrangements for the lecture to be given here by Jacob Riis on "My Neighbor" under the auspices of the association were discussed, and the date announced as April 22.

POSTPONED.

P. P. Dramatic Club Will Not Meet This Week.

The meeting of the Park Point Dramatic club which was scheduled to meet Friday evening of this week will be postponed until Friday, Feb. 27, when rehearsals for the play, "The Piper," by Frances Preston Peabody, will be begun. Members of the three divisions of the club are asked to be present, and Miss Marguerite Culkin and Mrs. E. Frank Barker will meet with the young people who will present the production.

FINNISH TENOR.

Taneli Hurri Will Be Heard in Concert Here.

Taneli Hurri, a great Finnish tenor, will be heard in a concert here on Friday evening of this week at the Pilgrim Congregational church, Lake avenue and Second street. Miss Faith Helen Rogers will play his accompaniments and some solo numbers, which will add local interest to the program, as Miss Rogers is one of Duluth's favorite pianists.

Mr. Hurri is a singer of whom an eminent critic has said: "In Taneli Hurri is found a combination of qualities, intellectual and temperamental, that gives him special place among the greatest singers of the time."

MID-WINTER BREAKFAST OF MINNESOTA'S WOMEN'S CLUBS

Club women all over the state are interested in the annual mid-winter breakfast of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, which will be held in St. Paul Friday and Saturday of this week. The program for the two days contains much of special interest, including a talk by Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour, formerly of Duluth, now of St. Paul, on the proposed festival which is being planned by St. Paul.

No addresses will be given during the banquet, which will be served at 1:30 o'clock Friday, and during that time there will be music by the Federation club orchestra under the direction of Miss Nellie Hope and Miss Ruth Anderson.

A general meeting will be held later in the Masonic temple opened by Mrs. M. D. Edwards of St. Paul and Dr. Richard Burton of the University of Minnesota will talk on "The Drama." Mrs. Seymour's talk will be given then, and Miss Josephine Brower will direct an exhibition of the Morris dances and a Scotch dance by her pupils at the St. Paul Art institute.

Friday evening the executive board will meet at the Frederic hotel and a council meeting has been called for Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock with Mrs. C. L. Atwood, president, presiding, followed by an executive board meeting at 11 o'clock.

The Conference of the public health committee will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with Mrs. W. J. Marclay presiding and Miss Annie E. Shelland's committee on parks and highways will meet Friday morning at the Hotel Frederic. The art committee will meet in Minneapolis at Dayton's reception room at 2:30 o'clock Friday with the committee on handicraft with Mrs. L. A. Guilbert of Henderson, chairman. Miss Agnes Peterson of St. Paul will preside at the meeting of the Mother's club on Friday afternoon at room 232 of the new capitol in place of Miss Katherine King of Duluth, who is chairman of that department.

Honor guests at the breakfast will include Dr. and Mrs. Richard Burton, Mrs. A. O. Eberhart, Mrs. H. P. Keller, Miss Grace Johnston, Mrs. Fannie French Morse, Mrs. Maurice D. Edwards, Mrs. George E. Vincent, Mrs. A. F. Woods and Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour.

Mrs. P. L. DeVoist and Mrs. F. L. Barrows of this city will attend and Mrs. Peter Oleson of Cloquet will also be among the guests at the meetings.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Men Have Better Times Among Themselves Than Women.

Men together enjoy themselves in right royal fashion. They make no pretense at having a good time. They have it and in this way they are more successful than women, who are considered past mistresses in the art of entertainment and sociability. I have often remarked how whole-heartedly men abandon themselves to an evening of mirth and revelry. A shabby coat on one of their associates does not cause them to treat the wearer less cordially.

Clothes are not the paramount issue when a party of men gather to enjoy themselves. Whether their evening coats are this year's design and their studs and buttons the mode, is not the important question at a man's function. It's whether they divest themselves of their dignity and importance and join heartily in the merrymaking that counts.

Recently, when passing a prominent hostelry, the sounds of song and laughter were blown to me from the interior and they were genuine and merry. I was impressed that these men were enjoying themselves and not playing at it. It was apparent that there was little ceremony about the affair by the rollicking lilt of the song, and yet there was nothing boisterous enough to suggest that the party was one that would imbibe too freely before the night was done.

There, I thought to myself, are men who are really enjoying themselves. Whatever they have of trouble is relegated to the background for the time being, and if it cannot be forgotten, it is not allowed to bring even a suspicion of a cloud upon the gathering. Each one jokes at and with his neighbor and the whole atmosphere is one of sociability.

Women are too ceremonious as a rule. They do not take the wholehearted interest in each other that men do. They are often dull and indifferent, if they are not spiteful and envious among themselves. They make no effort to entertain each other unless they happen to be the exceptional body of women. You may prove this by comparing a party where women alone are in evidence to one which is what is called a mixed gathering.

I know the women folk will loudly acclaim that they do not take recourse to the means of unbending that men do. I do not refer to that type of man; and I still maintain that men have better times among themselves than women.

SAVING PENNIES IN THE HOME

Small Economies Become Large in the Aggregate, Says Head of the Housewives' League.

"If we can save a few cents here and there on different food stuffs we will certainly be surprised at the saving in the aggregate," said Mrs. C. E. Spring, chairman of the Housewives league yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Duluth branch held at the public library. Mrs. Spring introduced Miss Halle Hills, domestic science teacher of the Central high school, who was the speaker of the afternoon taking as her subject, "Home Economics." "We often hear very practical theories outlined and then forget all about them and do not try to practise them when just a little thought and care would mean a saving of time, money and energy," said Mrs. Spring.

Miss Hills said that in the work in the schools they are dealing with the housewives of tomorrow and asked that the housewives of today do their part in this training by giving their daughters opportunity to practise what they are learning in the schools. "It is only by application that the school training is going to do any good," she said.

"Our diet," she said, "must be well balanced, economical and palatable to be effective and this is what we are endeavoring to give in the school courses."

She outlined the different kinds of food stuffs and their values and uses by the body, and then classified the different foods and spoke of their relative values and costs. She spoke of the preparation of meats and vegetables and recommended the book, "The Cost of Living," by Mrs. Ellen M. Richards to be found in the public library, as a practical and interesting guide to housewives in this problem.

"Food stuffs by the bulk are always much cheaper than package foods," she said, "and if we demand sanitary conditions in our stores and markets, bulk goods will be just as sanitary as the package goods."

Mrs. F. J. O'Donnell, treasurer, of the society resigned and Mrs. W. R. Ryan was unanimously elected to fill the office.

Mrs. J. T. Watson reported on the proposed Civic welfare exhibit planned for next fall and Mrs. Spring appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Margaret Lawitzky and Miss Julia Moore.

At the March meeting a talk will be given on "Fraudulent Advertising."

Amusement Notes.

William Hodge will bring "The Road to Happiness" to the Lyceum theater Monday, Feb. 23, for two days, direct from the longest engagement enjoyed by any play in this country this season—twenty-two weeks in the Garrick theater, Chicago.

The scene of the play is a small town and it involves characters familiar to small communities in the semi-rural sections of the country. Among the characters that make up the plot are the village banker, the minister, the small-town magnate and a young law student who makes a living for himself and mother during the day by doing odd jobs about town.

In the play Hodge acts the young law student, and in many respects his part is similar to that of Daniel Vorhees Pike in "The Man From Home." No change has been made in the cast since the opening of the play in Chicago six months ago. Miss Gertrude Hitz acts a wrongly accused stepdaughter. Miss Reeva Greenwood as the sweetheart of the hero, Scott Cooper as Benjamin Hardcastle, the village magnate who, by virtue of his wealth and position, seeks to order to his own measure the actions of his family and of his neighbors as well; Miss Ida Vernon, as the invalid mother of Jim Whatman, the young law student, and George Lund as the scheming banker.

Looking back on a quarter of a century of association with the greatest grand opera stars of modern times, David Bispham, who is headlining the Orpheum bill this week, has a fund of reminiscences of famous singers that is almost inexhaustible.

Mr. Bispham graduated from Haverford college in 1876. He came of old Philadelphia Quaker stock, and for seven years he tried to tie himself down to his uncle's wool business, spending his days at his desk and his nights singing and studying. Finally he cut loose from business and started on a grand opera career that was destined to make him world famous.

DAVID BISPHAM.

Mr. Bispham was one of that famous company chosen from the Covent Garden forces to present "Lohengrin" before Queen Victoria on her eightieth birthday. Mr. Bispham sang the principal baritone role, and the other leading parts were taken by Nordica, Schumann-Heinck and the De Reszke brothers, Jean and Edouard. Nordica sang the prima donna part; Schumann-Heinck the contralto; Mr. Bispham the baritone; Jean de Reszke the tenor, and Edouard de Reszke the bass. It was probably the most famous collection of stars ever secured for one opera. Later these five appeared together many times in "Lohengrin" and other operas.

The performance took place at Windsor Castle in the Waterloo chamber, before half the royal personages of Europe, and all of her majesty's immediate family. After the performance the queen received the royalties in the celebrated green drawing room, with a request that the artists (to save time) come in their stage costumes. "Strange to say," says Mr. Bispham, "the superb dress of the medieval period of the opera seemed not in the least out of place in the regal surroundings of stately Windsor Castle."

Arrangements have just been completed whereby May Irwin will appear at the Lyceum theater two nights beginning March 3, in her latest comedy success, "Widow By Proxy," which the New York critics declared was the best vehicle this splendid comedienne has had in more than ten years. It had a long run at Cohan's New York theater last season, and this season enjoyed a very prosperous run at the Plymouth theater, Boston.

Miss Irwin's supporting company this season is the same that appeared with her throughout her successful New York run, and is one of the strongest that she ever had. Clara Blandick, Alice Johnson, Orlando Daly, Joseph Woodburn, Arthur Bowyer, Helen Weathersby and Helen Orr Daly are its principal members. This play is the work of Catherin Chisholm Cushing, whose best known previous play was "The Real Thing." Miss Irwin is again appearing under the Liebler company.

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief—so runs the rhyme and to the last, Henry Slyvester, of the team of Slyvester and Vance now at the Empress, answers "guilty;" that is—with modifications.

At one time, in his remarkably varied career, Mr. Slyvester designed and superintended the building of a four-story apartment house, the Cairo, in Richmond, Va., and with a friend ran it for the year, the first year. He also kept the books—when he thought of them, which was only on rare occasions.

When it came to settling up, Mr. Slyvester found that somewhere, the kind fates only knew where, there was wandering $2,000, and what was worse, he stood in the light of a defaulter.

A C. O. D. message, which interpreted in this case meant a call on dad, brought the wherewithal to make up the shortage, but it was a close shave and lasting lesson for Slyvester, so lasting, in fact, that sometimes he won't even draw his salary unless a witness is present.

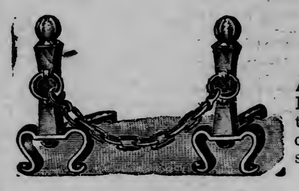

At the present time Mr. Slyvester is very well off, has paid his father to the last cent and expects never again to have to "call on Dad."

At the Empress for three days, starting Thursday matince, will be George Broadhurst's great play of American life, "The Man of the Hour," which will be presented by Manager Robert Sherman's special company. Though in its seventh year it is still drawing immense crowds everywhere. It is novel, because it does not follow the beaten track. It exalts virtue and courage, and its characters are drawn from life and are types to be found in any large American city. The scenic investiture this season is entirely new, and the vivid portrayals of character and powerful scenes make the play one that everybody seems to enjoy.

LET THE OFFICE SEEK THE MAN.

Says the Journal of Buffalo, Minnesota: "In the old days occasionally we had 'the office seeking the man.' Not often, but there were times when there was a popular demand for a man to take an office. There is no possible way for an office to seek a man under the primary nomination system. The one solution is to go back to the regular representative convention system, and nominate just two men to be selected by the voters at the primary election."

It IS a fault, and a gross fault, of the present primary election system, that the man must seek the office, and the office never can seek the man.

The cure, however, is not a return to the convention system, under which the office sought the man about as seldom as it does now, and under which a ring of professionals usually gave the voters Hobson's choice.

The remedy is a simple amendment to the primary law authorizing the drafting of candidates for the primaries by petition. Then, if public sentiment demanded a certain individual for a certain office, it could express itself by petition; while the lists would still be open to those who seek the office on their own initiative.

The defect in the present system must be manifest to every observer.

Suppose, for instance, that a senatorial district in this state had a peculiar need of proper representation in the legislature. The chances are ten to one that the very man it needed would be the last man in the district to put himself in the position of seeking public office. Suppose that practically every voter in the district knew just the man needed, and wanted him to go to the senate. There is utterly no way, now, for that desire to voice itself—no way for that man to get into the field except to put himself in the position of seeking an office.

A case in point is the recent refusal of Mr. Congdon to become a candidate for the senate in the Fifty-seventh district of Duluth.

The question whether the attitude of reluctance to seek office is on a sound basis is beside the point. That is the attitude of a great many men, and unfortunately they are just the kind of men the state needs in the legislature.

But to remedy this defect there is no need of leaping from frying pan to fire by a return to the boss-ridden convention system.

A very brief and simple amendment to the primary law, authorizing the initiation of candidacies by petition as well as by individual seeking, would meet every need of the situation.

Minnesota was a leader in the adoption of the direct primary system. It must not stultify itself by attempting to lead a retreat.

The convention system is dead and buried. It should stay dead and buried.

Educational development is quite as startling in some ways as it is rapid. Now comes the suggestion that colleges inaugurate courses in the care of children, and that the co-ed graduates be given the degree of "Q. M."—Qualified Mother.

THE COST OF THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

Says the Anoka Union: "Oh, no, the state university isn't a burden to the taxpayers! Salaries amount to $919,588.97, or nearly a million, and other wages and so forth bring the total up to the gigantic sum of $1,517,084.13. What think you of it, taxpayers of Minnesota?"

To which the Luverne Herald rejoins: "The question of cost is of secondary importance, if the university is being made to fulfill its fundamental purpose. It is a regrettable fact, however, that there is much room for serious doubt on this point."

Now the fact is that the real question should be not what the university is costing the state, but whether the state is getting a dollar in results for each dollar spent on this indispensable institution.

If the state is getting its money's worth in results, the question whether its cost is a million and a half a year or three millions a year is simply a question of how much the state can afford to invest in such results.

And with all due respect to our contemporaries, neither the Anoka Union, the Luverne Herald nor The Duluth Herald is in a position to judge whether results are proportioned to expense in the case of the university. Indeed, nobody is competent to judge that question without a careful and expert analysis of costs and an accurate balancing of results against these costs.

On the whole, we should have said that the presumption was that the state comes as near getting its money's worth out of the university as it does out of any other state institution. Certainly it is getting results much closer proportioned to cost under the administration of President Vincent than it ever did before.

Who shall reckon the profit to the state from the agricultural department of the state university? Who shall reckon the profit from the extension work which is carrying the benefits of the university direct to a large proportion of the population, and will ultimately carry it direct to all who seek it? Who shall reckon the profit when, as happened the other day, a large number of country merchants went up to the university to receive practical and scientific instruction in keeping store? Who shall reckon the profit to the state from the large number of broadly equipped citizens of both sexes which the university turns into the busy life of the commonwealth each commencement?

Being, like the state government itself, a product of slow and more or less haphazard growth, it would not be astonishing at all if experts in efficiency, after a study of university expenses and methods, should report the possibility of economies—of getting equal results at lesser cost, or greater results at the same cost. Perhaps, since the question has been raised, it would be worth while to make such an analysis.

But, merely because the figures seem large, to jump to the conclusion that extravagance exists, is as stupid as it would be to jump to the conclusion that the university machinery could not be improved or its benefits increased without large expense.

That movement in the senate to forbid the postoffice department's making any more changes in the parcel post without the consent of congress is being denounced in some quarters as an attempt "to assassinate the parcel post." No doubt a scheme like that would paralyze the express companies with surprise.

A LARGE LIST OF ELIGIBLES.

"The Barnesville Headlight," says the Walker Pilot, "suggests the organization of a club for those seeking the governorship."

It could hardly be a very select and exclusive organization, could it?

Indeed, it would be a very large and miscellaneous company that would attend its meetings.

The wit of the Walker Pilot in his comment on this suggestion probably comes somewhere near expressing public opinion: "We don't know about organizing, but we sometimes feel like whittling out one."

Now all together—what is next Sunday?

WISCONSIN'S GOOD INVESTMENT.

The annual report of the Wisconsin railroad commission, which is also the publicity utility commission, shows that its work is saving the consumers of the state two million dollars a year in railroad and public utility rates; which is a dividend of fifteen hundred per cent on the cost of the commission.

This is a showing that is highly creditable to Wisconsin and to the plan of state regulation of public utilities; and it makes it seem a great pity that the plan has apparently been made impossible in Minnesota, for the present at least.

What made it impossible? The support it got from the Eberhart administration. It seems anomalous enough that support should defeat a good thing; but that is precisely what has happened in Minnesota.

The support of the public utility plan by the state administration has plastered it over with the suspicion that it is sought by public utility corporations, and that is enough to condemn it.

Because the state administration is suspected of being allied with private interests, its support of state public utility regulation is taken to mean that public utility regulation is sought by these private interests. So nearly every "progressive" in the state feels it incumbent upon him to condemn the state regulation of public utilities, to propose resolutions and platform planks against it, and to exert every effort to defeat it—thus playing into the hands of private public utility corporations that are well content with the present system of inefficient regulation or no regulation at all.

If the plan had had other origin than this, every "progressive" would have supported it, and would have exerted his energy to see that it took such shape as would assure such benefits as the plan has worked in Wisconsin.

It is a great pity that a misunderstanding should come between Minnesota and the benefits that its sister state is deriving from the state regulation of public utilities.

But it has come, and there you are.

An Englishman has received sixty-five thousand dollars for giving information of an illegal vote cast by a member of parliament. The member has to pay the sixty-five thousand. Apparently John Bull has a legal procedure that beats blackmail completely out of sight.

Portia in Pants

Northfield News: The News Tribune of Duluth grows hysterical over the proposed conference of Progressive Republicans and says of it that "it would be hard to imagine a more open and flagrant violation of the law than this."

Clearly the News Tribune's notion of law is of the most primitive character. If the editor had given the matter a moment's serious thought before rushing wildly into print, he would have realized that there could be no law passed by any legislative body which denied to the people or any part of them the right of public assemblage. Progressive Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists, Socialists or even that peculiarly constituted body which regulates the administration machine and inspires the utterances of the News Tribune, have the undoubted right to meet for conference when they please, where they please and as often as they please. This right no law can take from them.

Political parties or factions of political parties would have that right even though, as the News Tribune alleges, the direct primary law attempted to deprive them of it. As a matter of fact, the primary law does nothing of the kind. No clause, section or proviso gives a hint of such intention. No reasonable and well-informed man would read it into it. Nor do those responsible for the proposed conference or convention attempt to usurp any right given the people in the primary law. Such a conference in no way interferes with the machinery of the law. Any action it may take or any conclusions it may reach will have a moral effect only. For this purpose and for this purpose alone they will be submitted to the voters through the ordinary channels of publicity. Nothing the conference wants to do or can do can prevent the people from intelligently exercising their franchise rights. On the contrary if the conference accomplishes its purposes its only effect can be to aid in confirming in the majority of voters their right to rule the state.

The fact is the primary law properly considered contemplates such action as that which Progressive Republicans propose to take. The law assumes that the voters, before they make use of its machinery, shall have thoroughly canvassed the political situation; that they shall have had opportunity to weigh public policies and the claims of candidates, and that, by the date on which the primary election is to be held, they shall be in a position to pass judgment upon them intelligently. Any agency through whose operation the voters can the better do this is in complete conformity with the spirit of the law.

If the purposes of the conference are effected it will not be possible in the next election as it was in the last for a compact organization to foist upon the people the candidate of the minority as their governor. For the proposed conference will afford an opportunity to the opponents of boss rule to unite. It will afford them opportunity for consultation and organization. By taking advantage of it they may act as a unit to accomplish a common purpose.

It is the fear that this purpose may be accomplished that inspires the opposition to the conference and that, among other things, has given rise to the frivolous pretext that the conference is illegal. We may expect to hear this particular cuckoo call re-echoed through the cuckoo press.

Walk and Live Long.

Kansas City Star: Some put walking on the shelf with many others of the "lost arts." No one ever walks now except the members of the Switzerland club, Boy Scouts and the Women's Hiking band. And they overdo it.

Dr. R. E. Castelaw, superintendent of the General hospital, believes the body should never be tired after exercise. He says never walk to the point of exhaustion. And never walk more than two miles at one time. The man who goes for a twenty-mile walk for fun is not only looked upon as a mild sort of lunatic, but really is one.

Surely the busiest business man has time to walk two miles each day. It would only take thirty minutes, and he might never have to have a family physician. Even a walk once a week helps lots. Try it next Sunday.

"Put on an old sweater and walk briskly, but not hurriedly," Dr. Castclaw says. "Stand erect and breathe through the nose. Air taken into the body through the mouth goes direct to the lungs while cold. Air taken in through the nose passes through all the nasal passages and is warmed by the time it reaches the lungs. Make the breaths long and deep.

"Oxygen is a deadly poison to some things—chief among which is the tuberculosis and meningitis germs. Breathe deeply and kill them. Walking exercises every muscle in the body, except, possibly, the muscles of the face. And if a man looks around at the beauties of nature while he is walking he will exercise those. Walk and you'll never have a cold, lung trouble or tuberculosis.

"The people who walk the most live the longest."

Hurled a Boomerang.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Senator Augustus O. Bacon of Georgia chuckled at a recent dinner when the talk topic turned to boomerangs. He said he was reminded of a young woman acquaintance of his.

One afternoon the young woman was walking through a park when she saw a small boy in the act of robbing a bird's nest. In his hat were a couple of eggs and on his face a guilty expression.

"You naughty, cruel boy!" indignantly exclaimed the young woman. "How can you be so terribly heartless as to take those eggs? What do you think the mother bird will say when she comes back and finds them gone?"

"She won't say nothin,'" answered the boy, looking at the agitated party before him. "She is dead."

"Dead!" wonderingly cried the young woman. "How do you know that she is dead?"

"Because ye've got her sewed fast in yer hat!" was the youngster's startling rejoinder.

The Great Record of President Wilson

Compiled by the Democratic National Committee.

A compilation of what has been accomplished since Mr. Wilson assumed office on March 4 was made and issued by the Democratic national committee. Under the heading, "Performances," these thirty-one items for achievement are stated:

"For the first time in a generation the enactment of a tariff law in which no special interest or lobby had any hand.

"The enactment of a currency reform act which meets the enthusiastic approval of citizens of all classes.

"The elimination of the lobby from the halls of congress and the seat of government.

"The perfection and operation of the first two amendments to the Constitution since 1870, namely, the imposition of an income tax, and providing for the election of senators by the people.

"The peace program of Secretary Bryan, for the sole purpose of divesting political conflicts of their inflammable character.

"By his action in appearing at the capitol and addressing congress in person, ending government by secret conferences and private arrangements.

"The action of the president in bringing together representatives of capital and labor, resulting in the prompt passage of the employes' arbitration act.

"The president's 'constitution of peace' policy, resulting in voluntary breaking of interlocking directorates.

"The action of the secretary of the treasury, in depositing $50,000,000 of crop-moving funds in the West and South.

"The president's forcing on the attention of the country the necessity for a system of farm credits.

"The granting of modified self-government to the Filipinos.

"The divorcement of the government from affiliations with the New York financial interests that were parties to the six-power loan to China.

"The elimination of the telephone trust's control of the Western Union Telegraph company.

"The policy of 'diplomatic postponement,' which has prevented precipitate action in disputes with Great Britain, Japan and Mexico.

"The action of the postmaster general in making the postal service self-sustaining.

"The development of the parcel post system.

"The change in the rules which brought an end to Cannon methods.

"Extension of the pure food act to meat inspection.

"The inauguration by the department of agriculture of a system of markets.

"The action of the secretary of the navy, in forcing the armor plate trust to submit bids in competition for armor plate and iron and steel.

"The action of the commissioner of Indian affairs in giving the protection of the law to Indian children.

"An extension of the special delivery system by the postmaster general to the parcel post.

"The action of the secretary of agriculture in extending the work of that department to the home life of the farmer.

"The formation of a new public land policy by the secretary of the interior.

"The enactment of the Lever bill for farm extension work, which it is believed will double the productiveness of American farms.

"As the result of prosecution under the anti-trust laws, this administration has brought about a dissolution of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific merger, and caused the surrender by the Pennsylvania railroad of its large holdings in the Baltimore & Ohio.

"The action of the president in emphasizing the necessity of a primary system for the selection of nominees for the presidency.

"The action of the administration in sending representatives to the International congress in London, for the better protection and safety of passengers and property at sea.

"The early enactment of the Alaskan railway bill, already passed by the senate.

"The action of the secretary of the navy in putting into effect a system of academic, vocational and technical instruction for enlisted men.

"The prosecution of a number of combinations, resulting in adjusting differences and bringing their businesses within the law."

Babies of the Slums

Albion Fellows Bacon in The Survey: Those who fancy (not knowing) that the poor have blunter sensibilities and less feeling for their children than we have should see them at times of sickness and death.

It's all we have, they cry, in an abandonment of grief. And those who say (not knowing) that "the poor prefer filth," should see the pathetic gratitude of the family when the nurse calls them in to see the change she has wrought upon the dead baby.

All the tear stains washed away forever with all the horror of grime, pure as alabaster are the tiny features, silken smooth the soft curls. And, most appreciated of all, the little icy hands are clasped above a snow-white dress, with soft lace at the neck and wrists, such as in all its hard little life the baby never wore.

No one knows how much that white memory means to the family!

There is so little for the children of the slums to live for, and such certain hardship is ahead of them that I always pity the ones who get well. The babies of the slums! Whenever I try to talk of them something rises up and chokes me. It's the thought of one of my own babies setting its little bare feet on those slimy yards, among the sharp cinders. I never see them without a shudder at the thought of all that tender flesh will have to suffer—bruises, aches and illness, hunger and cold—of the coarse, filthy clothing and wretched food. Worst of all, some of them will have oaths and blows, and there will be a bestial life about them, so they cannot grow up innocent or pure.

Get the Other Fellow's Viewpoint.

Jewell county, Kansas, Republican: When a man complains of the high price of milk the best medicine for him is to sell milk awhile himself. When he thinks farm products are too high he ought to go out and farm awhile; and if he thinks the home merchants are robbing him he ought to turn merchant himself, having his last penny and more invested in the business. Getting the other man's point of view and experiencing his trials and struggles is a real education and it does us all good.

Or of the Hon. William Hamm.

Chicago Tribune: Governor Eberhart of Minnesota avers that his pome, "'Tis Only You," was addressed to his wife, but there are those who believe the ballad was made to the eyebrows of the Hon. James J. Hill.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Percy Edwards Quin of Mississippi once spent a summer distributing copies of a child's edition of the Bible.

But he was not prompted to do this through religious fervor—even though he sets forth in his official biography that he is a Baptist son of a Baptist minister.

Quin frankly needed the money and he exchanged child's Bibles for pieces of silver. The consequences of those sales were far reaching, but he wist not of that at the time. Little did he know that those Bibles would place him in the halls of congress. All he thought of then was merely the sordid dollars involved. He had been trying to get through college on a basis distressingly free from vulgar wealth. Throughout his first two years he was obliged to wash his own clothes and hadn't even a jeweled fraternity pin to call his own. It was no fun—or at least not much fun—and when the representative of a publishing house came along talking of the great riches to be derived from selling books, Quin harkened unto the siren call of money.

As soon as college closed he started out with a prospectus under his arm to place the child's Bible within the reach of all. He rapidly learned of the ways of book agents and when he met a mother unwilling to buy the Bible, he found some excuse to get one of the children at his elbow and displayed a few of the colored illustrations. Whenever a little golden-haired boy saw the picture of Lot's wife in three colors with beautiful scroll work around the edges, he set up a cry until his mother agreed to take the book.

In that way Quin sold a great many Bibles and made enough money to take him the rest of the way through college.

That was in 1891 and the territory was largely in what now comprises Quin's congressional district.

When he began his campaign for a place as lawmaker at the nation's capital, Quin started out on horseback to call on the people in their homes.

He had not proceeded far, until he entered a house where he saw a child's Bible lying close by a conch shell on a marble-topped table.

"I used to sell a Bible like that," remarked Quin. That opened up a discussion and it came out that he had sold them that identical Bible more than twenty years previous. The little boy for whom the Bible had been intended was now there with children of his own. They, too, had been brought up on the illustrated Bible Quin had placed in the family. This naturally placed him in an intimate relation with the household and all the men folk said they would vote for him, besides speaking a good word among their friends.

After that whenever he stopped at a house, Quin looked about to see if there was a child's Bible with which he could stir up interest in himself.

In the course of his travels he found several hundred young men who had been raised on the Quin Bibles. Every one of these young men not only voted for Quin but became a voluntary cog in his campaign machinery. With this Biblical organization verily Quin walked through the opposition like unto the children of Israel walking through the Red Sea.

It was known that Bryan was present, but he did not seem to be around where the rest of the cabinet officers were.

"I haven't seen him," said a man who knows Bryan, "but it is just possible that he might be out by the lunch counter in the state dining room. You know he dotes on the various kinds of food that prevail nowadays. It might pay you to look out there."

Sure enough, Mr. Bryan had romped away from the rest of the cabinet crowd, and throughout the evening was to be found in the dining room, where, with a sandwich or two in each hand, he was munching food with gay abandon.

Minority Leader James R. Mann was asked about what he thought of a certain member on the Democratic side.

"He's a pretty energetic fellow," said Mann, generously. "You know he was a lawyer before he came to congress, and I understood that he was an unusually active attorney. I was talking to a man from his town the other day and he told me that whenever anybody was hurt in one of the factories there, our friend yonder would reach the scene even before the doctor got there."

Senator Root has great power of concentration. He would have made a great war correspondent. No matter how much shot and shell might be flying about him, he could sit and jot down what is in his mind without paying any attention to anything else.

One day Root was in the midst of going through some papers that contained information he was sifting out. The matter was one that called for much quiet thought and reflection.

A caller arrived in the outer office. A clerk went in to the senator and told him:

Mr. Soandso's here for an 11 o'clock appointment. It is now three minutes of 11."

And during those three minutes he became just as much engrossed in the task before him as if there was nothing else in sight.

Marks of Bad Farming.

W. F. Wilcox in Farm and Fireside: Here are some scenes I don't like to see on the farm.

The wife out at the woodpile chopping wood, or out where the woodpile ought to be, picking up chips.

Patches of weeds and foul fence corners.

An empty pigsty with waste enough on the place to fatten at least one pig.

A gardenless farm with its inhabitants going without the healthful diet of fresh vegetables so easily produced on any farm.

Blue vapor issuing from the barns, yards or fields as a result of men's uncurbed tempers while dealing with livestock.

Reclaim and Settle Idle State Lands

The State Press on a Needed State Policy.

Funny, Isn't It?

Spruce Valley correspondence to the Warren Sheaf: You publish a piece taken from the Duluth Herald entitled returning from Canada, saying that many of those people who left the states for that much-advertised country, were coming back. We were expecting it would be that way all the time, that so many were leaving here and to think that so many of the papers of the states did all they could to boom that far north country. We were taking five farm papers and we think every one of them carried a long ad to help the rush from the states to Canada. I do not think that they were working for the interest of this country or the farmers who went there. At one time some two or three years ago I wrote to the editor of one of those farm papers about it. I said I did not think that he was doing right in carrying that big Canada ad. He wrote me that he had to. We also take some five or six newspapers besides those farm papers and most all of those papers also carried that same long ad about Canada, where 67, 70 and I think, 80 bushels of wheat were raised to the acre right along, year after year, and it fooled so many that they sold here and went there, from two to five years ago, but many of them have come back and more will come as fast as they can get away from that 70-bushel wheat country, coming back here where they can raise 20 to 25 bushels to the acre—funny, isn't it?

Making Great Strides.

Gheen Record: A carload of hogs was shipped from Cook to Virginia last week. This statement does not sound strange. Hogs are shipped to market from many points in carload lots. But when you come to think that the Cook district was just being hewed out of the wilderness six years ago, and had to import farm products, and today is shipping out to market all kinds of farm products—hay, grain, potatoes, cattle and hogs, cream, butter and eggs—it is something to be proud of, and, furthermore, demonstrates the possibilities for the farmer on the low-priced and rich farming lands of Northern Minnesota.

Strength in Union.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: Minnesota has a number of development associations and the plan to draw them together is a mighty good one—they're all working for the same end, and united it would come the quicker.

The Wise Ones Have Bought.

Crosby Crucible: Judge Frank Ives, in a letter to the readers of his interesting newspaper, the Cass Lake Times, says that Florida lands do not begin to come up to the rich wild acres of Northern Minnesota, which only goes to prove that Minnesota editors are not guessing when they advise Minnesota people to invest in acres at home that they know will make good.

A Cheerful Idiot.

Hokah Chief: The four-flushers of Northern Minnesota have an able advocate in The Duluth Herald. For instance, with what suavity The Herald tells of the love of the North for the South, after it has ravished the state funds to drain northern swamps so millionaire corporations can sell their lands without expense to themselves! With what insolence, neatly disguised, does it praise the Southern Minnesota Development association and wish it success! Mush!

Dr. Eliot's State of Mind

New York World: Happiness, according to Dr. Eliot, is, after all, a state of mind. In a letter to a New Haven trolleyman who wrote asking why he was opposed to organized labor, the former Harvard president writes:

I cannot agree with you that the trades unions have brought happiness to any workingmen. Higher wages, shortened hours, better clothes and more meat do not necessarily contribute to genuine happiness any more than the luxuries of the rich do. Happiness and content are states of mind.

If Dr. Eliot's philosophy is sound, then belonging to a union no more guarantees happiness than owning an automobile and a Newport cottage. And by analogy, being president of a great university and spending one's summers at Bar Harbor is no more conducive to content than being a mere professor of chemistry. And how much unhappier than a New Haven brakeman must a New Haven director be, for all the discontent that goes with the brakeman's shortened hours, higher wages and better clothes!

"Sweet are the uses of adversity." Yet a perverse generation much prefers prosperity with its attendant risks. It would rather be the unhappy owner of a motor car than a happy strap hanger, and sad in silk and broadcloth rather than happy in calico and overalls. More than that, it persists in increasing the potential causes of unhappiness to a degree truly alarming to philosophers.

Yet if happiness is only a state of mind, possibly even a millionaire may be happy at times. But the subject is too profound for cursory consideration. We must wait until Chautauqua has discussed the question and finally settled it.

The Day's Work.

When you have sought your rest at night,
And look back on the busy day,
Has all your work been true and right
And honorable in every way?
Has sorrow entered any heart
Because of aught you may have said?
Or have you bravely done a part,
Which left no bitter tears to shed?

If, when the day of toil is o'er,
Some heart is filled with grief and woe,
And stands accusing at your door,
And whispers, "You have made it so,"
You will not have the conscience clean
Of him who kneels at night in prayer,
Contented that the day has seen
Some burdened soul relieved of care.

Can you go home at even's hush,
Delighted with successes won,
Or is there aught which brings the blush
Of shame, because of what you've done?
Is there a peace, a joy, a rest,
That satisfies you through the night,
Or does regret tug at your breast,
Because you failed in doing right?

When you are silent and alone,
As eventide makes shadows deep,
Are there some deeds you would atone,
Which come to harass you in sleep?
Or is your conscience calm and clear
That you have helped relieve distress
With just a little word of cheer,
Or some small deed of kindliness?

Twenty Years Ago

From the Herald of this date, 1894.

Wheeler H. Peckham, nominated by President Cleveland to be associate justice of the United States supreme court, was defeated for confirmation by the senate yesterday. The vote was 32 for and 41 against. This is another victory for Senator David B. Hill over the president.

William Tranah, father of Mrs. J. J. Krey, wife of the former village engineer of West Duluth, is dead, aged 80. He came here several years ago from England.

Mrs. Eugene Randall, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bailey of West Duluth for a short time, has returned to her home at St. Paul.

W. H. Tripp is contemplating a trip to California, where he will spend a month visiting relatives and friends.

Word was sent from Grand Rapids to Butchart & Michaud of the St. Louis hotel to secure twenty-two seats for "Bob" Ingersoll's lecture at the Temple last night. Among the party were D. M. Gunn, C. C. McCarthy and wife, H. R. King, F. P. White, H. D. Powers, T. R. Prairtz, Miss O'Donnell, O. H. Mitson and wife, Gus Arscutt, C. K. Duggin, C. Sheldon, T. H. Hennessy and wife, D. W. Doran and wife, W. L. Chapman.

W. S. Albertson's store is closed as a result of the assignment of the Duluth Brick company.

Duluth is to have a bonspiel next week. Twenty rinks are expected to be here, three from Winnipeg, five from St. Paul, three from Minneapolis, four from Superior and one from Chicago. One of the chief events will be the contest between the rinks of George Nettleton of St. Paul and Ron Smith of Duluth for the Smith tankard which these two rinks walked off with at Winnipeg. The game here will determine which rink shall hold the prize.

Col. George E. Welles, secretary of the Duluth board of trade for the past six years, has resigned on account of ill health, and Frank E. Wyman, who has been engaged in newspaper work here for several years, latterly representing the Northwestern Miller here, has been elected as his successor.

Fooling the Preacher.

Princeton Union: Charley Dickey told this story, which is worth reproducing—A quarter of a century ago, when Newell Ross was postmaster in Princeton, fuel was not very plentiful. One morning Rev. Bouck, shivering from the cold, entered the postoffice and said to Mr. Ross: "Newell, you do not seem to have much wood in your stove." "No," replied Newell, I have been so busy that I had no time to keep the blasted stove agoing, but, Mr. Bouck, if you will kindly step across to my woodpile (pointing out the said woodpile) and bring in an armful I will greatly appreciate the favor." Mr. Bouck replied: "Certainly, Newell; I am almost frozen to death, and I will bring in a half dozen armfuls if you desire—I believe in charitable work." So the reverend gentleman brought in six armfuls, two of which he placed in the stove. "That's hard work," declared Rev. Bouck, "for a man who has only to tell stories to his congregation on Sundays, but you are welcome, Mr. Ross."

It later leaked out that the woodpile which Rev. Bouck had been diminishing belonged to Joe Brady. Newell, of course, knew it, but Rev. Bouck, it seems, was kept in ignorance of the fact for almost a year afterward, when he threatened to do penance.

All Wrong.

Toledo Blade: Dr. Cyrus Townsend Brady says woman suffrage "would destroy the chivalry that makes a man stand up in a street car." It isn't chivalry that makes a man stand up in a street car; it is lack of rolling stock.

Oh, for a Cat.

Philadelphia Ledger: The mistress—And, Mary, we'll have that small piece of meat as well.

The new maid—Please'm, the cat's eat it.

The mistress—What cat?

The new maid (surprised)—Oh lawks! Ain't there a cat?

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald subscriber who wrote to the Open Court from Hinckley telling of the shipping of cattle in open cars, is requested by Duluth Humane society officers to send the number of the cars to Dr. Bailey, care of the St. Paul Humane society. The Herald has mislaid the letter, and the St. Paul society is taking the matter up with the railroad officers.—The Editor.

"RELIGIOUS FADS."

To the Editor of The Herald:

I was very much surprised and disappointed coming down on a street car this week to see that one of our local pastors had on his church bulletin board this sign, "Religious Fads—Eddyism or Christian Science."

I had thought the religious world too far advanced to have one denomination occupying the whole service denouncing another. Fads, well there certainly are thousands who must enjoy fads to note the number who have identified themselves with Christian Science and the rapid growth of that cult in Duluth and all over the world. I have no particular sympathy with Christian Science, not understanding it thoroughly, (and I also question whether the above pastor does), but I do admire the Christlike spirit in which they go about their work and the toleration they have for all who do not believe as they do. My personal belief is that if God is back of the Science movement it will succeed and if not it will fail to the ground, and no amount of such preaching against it will prevail. I sincerely hope the time will soon be here when all those who preach unity of churches and denominations will actually practice it, and give such a message from the pulpit that shall be constructive to the best interests of all God's people.

AN OBSERVER.

Duluth, Feb. 16.

HIS RESPECTS TO MR. TOWNE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Having been surprised at the insinuations of Towne in his Open Court article of Thursday evening, that the Haywood "we" includes all those who vote the Socialist ticket, and having in hand a national Constitution of the Socialist party, approved by referendum Aug. 11, 1912, which says in article 2, section 6, in part: "Any member of the party who opposes political action, or advocates crime, sabotage, or other methods of violence as a weapon of the working class to aid in its emancipation shall be expelled from membership in the party," I would like to know how consistency is defined by Socialists?

And further, when a local has a membership, knowingly, who are subject to dismissal and does not comply with article 2, section 6, and expel them, is that local working harmoniously with the national organization? Or is that organization an exception to the general rule and merely has a constitution to convince people what they think should be and proceed along other lines?

If a party shows bad faith in its elementary state, when it is striving to convince thinking people that they are working along the correct lines, trying to gain the confidence of the general public, and harbors those who advocate a loyalty to "the red flag" in preference to loyalty to a nation and who rather hinder than aid in the spreading of a brotherly feeling among the masses in general in view of their constitution, what can we expect to receive at that party's hand if they should ever succeed in gaining the control of the government?

It may be true that the government does not act as promptly in some matters as would seem to be of the best interest to the good and welfare of the nation, but whose fault is it?

Can it not be laid directly to the laboring people and the small business men, farmers and professional men, etc.? Is it not a fact that each time there is a matter to attend of importance nearly everybody but the politicians leave it to the rest to do?

And is it not a fact that when the laborers, etc., should be able to dictate the course upon which this government should take, we find a new party or two or three of them striving to get into the race with newly named but old issues?

Now, in conclusion, it would seem best, to me at least, if party lines were ignored and we proceed to elect men who stand for something definite, and when those officials neglect their duty exert our rights at the ballot box and leave them at home the next time. When we find a man to our liking, retain him, and not get out a little hammer and go beating up the dust in the road after the procession has passed. Clean up your party where the necessity requires and do not try to defend acts that are contrary to your party constitution.

A LABORER.

RINGS DOWN CURTAIN ON VAUDEVILLE SHOW.

To the Editor of The Herald:

From the vast mass of facts and figures that have appeared in the public correspondence between A. Nother Bonehead and myself on the question of water rates, the public, Lon Merritt and D. A. Reed should have no trouble now in arriving at a schedule that is right and just to everybody. I just knew that A. Nother Bonehead and I could solve the problem if we set our minds to it.

And now it is only just and right that the public should know the real name of this past master of facts, figures and fiction as pertaining to water rates. He must no longer be permitted to hide his light under a clothes basket. So I'll tell you who he is—some time.

But just now I must take one final swat at my very good friend, and then I also will write "30" to my correspondence.

You see, I have a very great sympathy for A. Nother Bonehead. I know just how sore he feels in his bonehead. I've experienced just that same feeling myself, and from exactly the same cause. Why, a few years ago when the laundries raised their price for washing my other shirt (I have two shirts, even if I am a dentist) from 12½ cents to 15 and 17 cents I was that mad I could hardly express myself. It sure does make a fellow mad to be shot plum in the pocket like that—and such an unwarranted raise, too. If there comes another raise like that I'll have to join the disgruntled 74 and threaten to do my own washing.

A. Nother Bonehead also speaks of selling me water for my elevator, thereby seeking to create the impression that I am an elevator man. This is not true. I've had my ups and downs, but I'm no elevator man.

He also states that the only way to get anything into my head is by means of a surgical operation. That's another "deceiving and misleading statement," as our old friend Henry Truelsen would say. The only way to get correct water rates into my head is with figures—Arabic numerals—little marks that show how much things cost—"figgers" some people call them. Oh, you know what I mean!

A. Nother Bonehead says that he would never have recognized my literary productions for "irresistible logic, reason and wit" had I not been careful to tag them as such. Of course, he wouldn't. I knew his failing; that's why I was careful to label it. You have to tag everything you send him—even your shirts. And even then—

Very sincerely yours,

DAVID HENRY DAY.

P. S.—My friend, the clothes pin man, says—no, I dare not tell you what he says; it's too lurid, too awful to appear in print. Why, his language was so bad that he had to go over to Superior to say what he wanted to in the way he wanted to. Translated in proper language, he says that he's just where he started from in the matter of acquiring information. He says he asked for facts and figures and has been given a correspondence school vaudeville entertainment. He is so mad that he said that one of the correspondents must be a graduate of the college for the feeble-minded.

But he didn't say which one.

Marries in London.

London, Feb. 17.—Edward Bell of New York, second secretary of the American embassy in London, was married here yesterday to Miss Bertha Etelka Surtees, daughter of Col. Herbert Surtees, formerly of the Coldstream Guards. The ceremony was performed at St. Ethelburg's church, Bishopsgate.

About Matters and Things

(By Savoyard.)

Washington, Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Washington Post employs the Hearst brand of politics and its opposition to the Wilson administration is nearly as virulent as it is impotent. It is still harping on a protective tariff, asserting and protesting and asseverating that the Underwood-Simmons law is no relief to the country, but a hardship. It admits, however, that schedule "K" of the Democratic tariff has reduced the wholesale price of woolen fabrics, though it contends that the consumer will pay just as much for woolen goods.

That is silly. The design of the reform of the tariff was to cheapen the wholesale price, and as it is the inclination of water to run downward, and the habit of sparks to fly upward, a reduction in the wholesale price is bound to be followed by a decrease in the retail price. That is fundamental. Mr. John Wanamaker is one of the most capable and one of the most successful merchants in the world; he is a genius of the guild that buys by wholesale and sells by retail, and he announces that his store has a scale of diminishing prices due to the Democratic tariff. We all know that Wanamaker knows all about it; some of us shrewdly suspect the Washington Post knows nothing about it—and even that hopelessly and helplessly, utterly and defiantly, wrong.

There is a concern in this country that calls itself the "National Marine League." It appears distressed because of the enormous sums our people pay to foreigners to fetch and carry for us, going and coming, on the ocean wave. They say it amounts to half a billion annually, though our excellent old Uncle Hepburn in his sonorous, tuneful and unctious eloquence used to put it at $250,000,000. What of it? If we pay out that much money for a service you bet we get the worth of it. Every time I go out to my old home in Kentucky it costs me $40, first and last, for transportation. Why? Because it is not only more convenient, but cheaper, than walking, and if our folks pay foreign ships to carry for them it is because foreign ships charge less than domestic ships are willing to do the work for.

You can't have your cake and eat it too. The average American family consumes a deal of coffee. The coffee comes from Brazil. It has to be paid for, and there is as much—and more—sense in squealing about the buying of coffee from South American countries as there is in complaining about the ocean freights we pay foreigners.

And then besides, if there is money in it, you bet American capital is invested in those foreign ships. We all recollect that some years ago it was announced that J. Pierpont Morgan had gobbled up the whole layout and that American capital was to reap this rich harvest. The idiocy of forty congresses in failing to repeal our absurd and mediaeval navigation laws, enacted to feed at the public crib that worthless and lazy and fat beggar, the American merchant marine, banished our merchant marine from the high seas, confined it to coastwise, and this insolent and degraded child of privilege, a mendicant at every door step—the hovel and the palace alike—would have congress to hire it with the people's money to go out and do business on the high seas. The Republican party, powerless as it was in the grasp of a conscienceless monopoly, failed to do it, and over God's forbid let the Democratic party do it.

Here is the way to do it. Free ships. Then admission of foreign flags to the coastwise navigation of our waters. Purvey those and it will not only benefit ten million American families, but it will re-create the American merchant marine.

Cast the bantling on the rock,
Suckle him with the she-wolf's teat.
The yankee philosopher, Emerson, said that was the way to do it, and that was the way Rome was made.

It is announced, somewhat authoritatively, that President Wilson insists that the act of congress granting our merchant marine in the coastwise trade passage through the Panama canal free of tolls is a violation of our solemn treaty with England, which forbids such action. Even if we had the right to do it, it would be a stupendous folly. As I have repeatedly remarked, we have set out to be the biggest merchant in the world. We have outgrown the home market and seek markets beyond seas. That was one of the moving causes that brought about the construction of the Panama canal.

The merchant fit for the guild seeks the good will of his customer. In our country that quantity that is called "good will" has never had the rating that it has in Europe, especially in France and in England. But it is here, and in our profession of journalism it shows more conspicuously, perhaps, than in any other, not excepting the tavern. Allow me here to obtrude the impertinence that a writer who does not, or cannot, augment the value of the good will of the paper for which he writes—that is, produce stuff that folks will read, think about and talk about—ought to get out of the profession and go planting 'taters or shoeing horses.

This is a digression. The merchant must have "good will" or he will fail. When we repudiated our solemn covenant about the canal tolls we drove our coach-and-four through the good will that should have been ours. By that dishonesty we asserted that we had the right to do wrong because we had the power to do wrong.

You can nullify the Decalogue by such wicked heresy as that.

MEN'S WHITE HANDKERCHIEFS FREE

One Given Away With Each Package of Peerless Tobacco.

What you want when you want it—and want it bad: A handkerchief. A man can't have too many of them. They're always handy and always in demand. That is why the American Tobacco company selected men's size white handkerchiefs as a premium to be given away free with every package of Peerless Long Cut tobacco. These timely gifts are bound to be popular and to bring in a large number of new customers who will give Peerless a trial.

"Once you have given Peerless a trial," says the Peerless representative now in town, "you will never switch to another brand; that is, if you like a full-flavored, rich bodied, natural tobacco, good either for smoking and chewing. Peerless is the one man's size tobacco on the market that always satisfies. We have been making Peerless for fifty years and it still stands in a class by itself for the hardy, strong men who like a 'meaty,' sweet, full tobacco."

ROTARY CLUB MAY TAKE ACTION

Appoints a Committee to Consider St. Mary's River Dam.

The question of damming the St. Mary's river and the raising of Lake Superior will be carefully studied by a committee appointed by the Duluth Rotary club at its meeting held at the Spalding hotel yesterday. A full report will be made at the next weekly meeting. The club also put its approval on the "Go to Church Sunday" movement.

The St. Mary's river problem was discussed at length, but no official action was taken beyond the naming of a committee. When the committee's report is made, action will be taken and recommendations made as to what the club believes would prove to be for the best interests of the city. The committee follows: C. A. Graves, Edward F. Burg, R. L. Burg, D. H. Lyford, Floyd M. Fuller.

VINCENT WILL SPEAK HERE

Young Men's Club of Endion M. E. Church Arranges Good Program.

President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota and a number of others will give addresses tonight at a meeting given by the Young Men's Club of the Endion M. E. church. Dr. Vincent's subject will be "The New Social Philosophy."

Rev. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the church, and G. S. Stevens of Fond du Lac will speak, and Robert Drummond will sing. Messrs. Soady and Black, members of the club, will give dialect stories.

Supper will be served by the women of the guild to about 225 guests. E. A. Separk, president of the club, will occupy the toastmaster's chair.

NEARLY 2,000 ARE FOUND UNDERPAID

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Too low wages paid in the confectionery and paper box industries of the state, the state factory investigating commission reported to the legislature last night, along with an urgent recommendation for better remuneration for these classes of employes.

In the paper box industry the majority of women workers are rated under $6.50 a week. Almost 2,000 women, or nearly one-half of all over 18 years old in the trade, earn less than $6 a week. More than 700 girls under 18 years of age, or almost half of those reported, earn less than $5 a week.

"These figures that we have obtained up to the present, show conclusively the necessity for an improvement in wages," said Lieutenant Governor Wagner, chairman of the commission. "No woman can live properly and be self-sustaining on a wage of $5 or $6, or even $7 a week, yet we find thousands of women receiving those amounts."

WOMAN TAKEN SICK.

She Cannot Further Identify "J. R. R." in Chicago Infirmary.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—"J. R. R.," the man of mystery, who recently escaped from a Minnesota sanitarium, was not claimed as a son yesterday by Mrs. E. I. Randolph of this city, because, after identifying him, Mrs. Randolph was stricken down by pneumonia. Her illness became known when she failed to return yesterday with proofs of identity she promised after stating that the man was Earl Randolph, her son. Officials of the Oak park infirmary where "J. R. R." is being cared for, are investigating Mrs. Randolph's claim.

WILL STRAIGHTEN CHICAGO RIVER

Chicago, Feb. 17.—According to a proposal of the Pennsylvania and allied railroad systems, planning a monster terminal here, the worst bend in the Chicago river's course, is to be straightened at a cost of about $6,000,000. The plan was approved by a citizen's committee yesterday.

Another scientist condemns the light bottle

We reprint an extract from his opinion rendered in the interest of science.

"The beer in the white glass bottle had taken on disagreeable odor and taste and was absolutely undrinkable. The beer in the dark bottles did not show this peculiar odor and taste." (G. Beck.)

Dr. Robert Wahl quotes Beck in corroboration of his own opinion, to the effect that beer in light bottles will become undrinkable when exposed to light.

TRAFFIC IS INCREASING

Forest Products and Coal Swelling Receipts of Railroads.

Jobbers Working New Territory--Soo Road Plans Improvements.

A substantial increase in the volume of incoming and outgoing traffic at Duluth is reported by local freight agents of the railroads operating from here.

As a result of the lengthy period of seasonable weather, woods operations are active in all sections and pulpwood and sawlogs are moving out freely from the various camps through the district.

"We are now getting a big business in forest products and it looks as if we are going to be able to show a large tonnage in coal traffic for the month," said an official of the Soo line this morning. "We are now moving a heavy coal tonnage from Duluth to points in the Canadian West, besides a surprising volume of general freight consigned up there.

"Business is developing rapidly on our Cuyuna range branch, and there is every promise of big ore shipments from there next season. The Rowe mine at Riverton is going to give us a heavy haulage and increased outputs are assured from the mines operating in the vicinity of Crosby."

Freight handlings to and from points on the Soo line to the Twin Cities is said to be expanding remarkably. Duluth jobbers are showing enterprise in working the territory and are consequently picking up a good business through it in general lines.

Improvements.

To take care of its present and future traffic requirements on that branch, the company is building a new steel drawbridge across the St. Croix river to take the place of the present wooden structure. The road has besides some extensive improvements projected at its Duluth terminals. Under that category is mentioned an interlocking switch at West Duluth so as to enable the utilizing of the Grassy Point bridge for its trains. As has been intimated, a station is to be built at Ramsey street, West Duluth, and one is also proposed at a convenient point in the West end.

The volume of freight consigned to points on its Montana extension from Ambrose, N. D., partially opened for traffic late last fall, is said to be growing beyond the most sanguine expectations of Soo officials. Two new stations, Ranous, Mont., and Whitetail, Mont., have just been opened on the line, making seven located so far. Other stations are to be put in as the laying of rails proceeds and the requirements of traffic necessitates.

J. H. McKinnon, Duluth agent of the Canadian Northern railroad, expressed gratification over the business being worked up on its line from here to International Falls. The movement of an enormous tonnage of forest products is counted upon, and a heavy influx of new settlers into the various districts, is being arranged for next spring. Many newcomers are said to be already taking up land in the country around Baudette and Roosevelt. Considerable coal and general merchandise is now going forward from here to Winnipeg, Brandon and Portage la Pririe.

An important piece of news in Canadian Northern circles comes in the intimation that R. J. Mackenzie, son of Sir William Mackenzie, is to become the active head of the company's lines west of Lake Superior to the Pacific coast, taking the position of second vice president. He will be in complete control of the transcontinental line when opened next summer.

It is announced that orders to the value of $10,000,000 are to be placed shortly by the Canadian Northern for additional rolling stock required for service on its system between Quebec and Port Arthur. Already orders for $1,000,000 of this equipment have been placed for early delivery.

INHERITANCE TAX FROM TWO ESTATES

Mrs. Edna M. Durkan will pay a tax of $31.60 on her inheritance from the estate of her late husband, Martin J. Durkan. The estate was appraised at $13,160. Of this amount $10,000 is exempt from taxation. The amount of the tax was determined yesterday afternoon in probate court.

It was also determined that Fred B. Strauss and Cora M. Strauss, nephew and niece of Fred Strauss who died at Bismarck, N. D., April 6, 1913, shall pay $26.25 each on their inheritance. The estate consists of real estate at New Duluth valued at $8,750 and $156 on deposit in a St. Paul bank.

JURY DISAGREES ON MICHIGAN MURDER

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 17.—After deliberating forty-two hours in an attempt to fix the guilt or innocence of Roy Blackburn of Chicago, charged with the murder of Paul Townsend when Townsend and two others were killed by bandits who robbed the J. N. Thompson jewelry store here last September, the superior court jury reported it could not agree. The prosecutor announced that Blackburn will be brought to trial again as soon as possible.

George Smith and J. N. Thompson were the others who were killed when Townsend lost his life.

NO LACK OF WORK HERE

Only Disabled or Unfit Men Are Idle in Duluth.

Employment Agents Report Steady Increase in Scale of Wages.

That the efforts of the city of Duluth to provide work for the unemployed is unnecessary, is the opinion of some of the employment agents on Michigan street. This statement was modified, however, so as not to include men who are either disabled or otherwise unfit for hard work.

"We are getting more calls for men every day than we can fill," said an employment agent today," and wages are soaring rapidly to induce men to work. Wages now are as high or higher than they have been in years and away above what they were in the early part of the winter.

"Men who want to work are shipped out immediately, having their fares paid. But many workingmen are not attracted by even the highest wages. Wages now range from $30, $35 to $40 a month and board for good men. This is an increase of about 25 per cent over the wages paid during the early winter."

Several reasons were given for the increased demand for men and higher wages. The heavy snow falls have caused the timber operators to exert themselves to the utmost in cutting, hauling and shipping logs. Piece work is taking hundreds of expert woodsmen who want to make big money on contracts. Sawmills throughout Western Minnesota are opening up or are getting in readiness for a start, and big crews of men are required by mill operators.

Time Is Limited.

Timber men now realize that their time is limited and are anxious to make up for lost time and get out the usual quantity of timber. This can be done only by putting on big crews and pushing the work.

"After looking over labor reports for all parts of the country," said an employment agent today, "I find that Duluth offers better inducements to the laboring man than any city in the Union. There is no such thing as the 'unemployed' here except in cases where men are unable to work or else are tied down in the city so that they are unable to take advantage of the opportunities offered. The bulk of the winter work is out of the city.

"According to reports from the Pacific coast there are thousands of idle men, and my advice is to keep away from there. A great many men believe that the coming Panama exposition will supply unlimited opportunities. It is true that workmen will be needed, but the rush has brought on congestion. The place to get work when a rush takes place is in the opposite direction from which the crowd is going. The conditions on the coast are not normal, while the outflow from cities in the Middle West and East will leave the field clear with lots of work to be done.

"In about a month the farmers of the Northwest will be looking for thousands of men at big wages. The increase in dairying and diversified farming is improving labor conditions. A few years ago the farmer needed but little help except during the harvest season, but now help is needed more or less the year round.

"Wages on the farm have gone up with everything else. A hired man used to be satisfied with $15 to $18 a month and his living. Now farmers offer from $30 to $40 a month, and many of them give their help the use of a patch of ground for a garden."

AVIATOR FALLS 700 FEET AND DROWNS

Navy Flyer's Body Bears No Marks From the Accident.

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 17.—Drowning caused the death of Lieut. Murray of the naval station corps, when his hydro-aeroplane plunged into Pensacola bay yesterday. This was established today. At first it was thought he had been killed by an explosion of the engine or by his fall, but an examination by physicians showed his body to be almost unmarked by the accident. The officials of the naval station said death was doubtless due to his inability to free himself from the floating wreckage.

Whether a defect in the mechanism of the hydro-aeroplane caused its fatal plunge, or whether the aviator lost control of his machine, remained an unanswered mystery today. The wreckage of the craft was towed to the naval station and an official investigation was begun.

Buried at Canonsburg.

Canonsburg, Pa., Feb. 17.—The body of Lieut. J. M. Murray, the naval aviator who was killed while flying at Pensacola, Fla., yesterday, will be brought here for burial Thursday.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

Take Soda for Acid Stomach or Indigestion—Try It

...digestion, says a noted authority, is not caused by a lack of digestive juices, but by an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which promotes food fermentation, thus retarding digestion. Then our meals sour in the stomach and bowels like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, then we get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest; we eructate food, belch gas and have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us that to instantly neutralize these stomach acids and stop food fermentation we must get a package of 10-grain Sodagen tablets at any pharmacy and take one tablet anytime followed by a tumbler of water which immediately settles the stomach; absorbs the gases and sweetens the entire digestive system.

He states that men and women who can trace their disordered stomachs and indigestion to acidity should not hesitate to take this harmless antacid at any time, as it is simply a compound of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. S. P.

BOY "MURDERED BY JEWS" IS SEEN ALIVE

Russian Officer's Son Is Recognized in Another City.

London, Feb. 17.—A dispatch to the Central News from St. Petersburg says the boy Tarantchevitch, son of a Russian law court officer, who was alleged to have been the victim of a "ritual murder" at Fastoff, was seen at Zhitomir on Feb. 10, according to the police of that town.

It was reported at the time of the arrest of Paslikoff, a Jewish tailor of Fastoff, in connection with the murder of a boy known as Yoshel Pashkoff; that he had adopted young Tarantchevitch and had killed him. Examination of the body after exhumation showed that the murdered lad was a Hebrew.

BUTTE-DULUTH IS FINANCED

Bonds Disposed of and Capt. A. B. Wolvin Is Still in Control.

Capt. A. B. Wolvin has been successful in fully financing his Butte-Duluth Mining company enterprise by putting through a deal under which the American Metal company will take practically all of its outstanding bond issue not previously disposed of, according to a report just at hand from Butte.

In making the deal, it is intimated that Capt. Wolvin has in no way relinquished the control of his Butte-Duluth property or of his leaching process which has proven so successful in treating the low grade ores of the district.

The transaction, will, it is said, enable him to develop the large acreage controlled by the Butte-Duluth company to its fullest extent, and obviate any necessity of a sale to the Butte & Superior Copper company or any other interests.

CANNOT INCREASE ITS LOG RATES

Interstate Commerce Commission Rules Against Great Northern.

Washington, Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The interstate commerce commission today refused to permit the Great Northern road to put in proposed advances in rates on logs from Minnesota points along its line between twenty and sixty-four miles from Superior to the latter city.

The present rate is 2 cents per 100 pounds, and the proposed increase was to 3½ and 4½ cents, depending on the distance.

The commission, however, will permit the Great Northern to put in rates varying from 2.5 cents on shipments from North End to 2.9 cents on shipments from Congo, Minn.

CLOQUET DEDICATION.

Duluth Masons Will Attend New Masonic Temple Affair.

Cloquet, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Masonic temple recently erected at a cost of $20,000 will be dedicated on the evening of Feb. 23. Grand Master R. E. Denfeld of Duluth will conduct the dedication ceremonies, and he will be accompanied to this city by a large delegation of Duluth Masons, who will come by special train. After the dedication an elaborate banquet will be served.

EXPLOSION IS HEARD TWENTY-FIVE MILES

One Dead and Two Missing at Powder Plant Site.

Blairsvills, Pa., Feb. 17.—With a roar that was heard twenty-five miles away, the mixing house of the West Penn Powder company, located at Tunnelton, six miles from here, was blown to pieces by an explosion today. Robert Caugherty was killed and another workman mortally injured. Two other men employed at the plant could not be found.

A telephone message from near the plant soon after the explosion said the plant had taken fire and was burning.

HARVARD MAN AT CARLETON COLLEGE

Prof. Moore Will Conduct Latin Department This Month.

Northfield, Minn., Feb. 17.—By virtue of an agreement with Harvard, Carlton college, with four other Western colleges, receives special distinction and honor in recognition of her high rank in scholarship. This agreement concerns the exchange professorship system and through it Carlton enjoys the privelege during the month of February of having on her faculty Prof. Clifford H. Moore of Harvard's Latin department.

President Donald J. Cowling and Prof. J. E. Boodin of Carlton are the persons who are perhaps the most responsible for the formulation of this system. This plan was conceived for the purpose of making the relationship closer between the large Eastern and the small Western school. Harvard's co-operation was required, and after conferences between President Lowell of Harvard and President Cowling of Carlton and discussions by the Harvard faculty the plan was adopted.

The other Western colleges who enjoy this opportunity are Grinnell, Knox, Beloit and Colorado college. Four months of a Harvard professor's time is divided between the five schools each year.

SEVEN SENSELESS SEAMEN ARE SAVED

Four Freeze to Death Before Life Savers Reach Wreck.

Wellfleet, Mass., Feb. 17.—Four men perished when the Italian bark Castagna struck on the outer bar of Cape Cod, a mile and a half south of the Cahoon's Hollow life saving station today.

Seven seamen, all nearly unconscious from exposure, were brought ashore by the life savers. The frozen corpses of Capt. Garva and three sailors were left in the rigging, where the men had lashed themselves during the darkness to avoid being carried overboard by the seas which swept the decks.

The Castagna, from Montevideo for Boston with phosphate rock, struck the bar early today, during a blinding snowstorm and a sixty-mile northwest gale. The beach patrol sighted her at dawn 300 yards off shore, with the surf breaking over her and threatening to pound her to pieces.

Two Crews of Life Savers.

The combined life saving crews from the Nauset and Cahoon's Hollow stations set up their beach gun and shot three lines across the Castagna's deck, but the sailors were so benumbed by the cold that they were unable to handle the breeches buoy tackle.

The gale had moderated to thirty miles an hour, but the surf was so high that the life savers had to wait for some time before they could launch their lifeboat and pull out to the wreck against wind, sea and biting cold.

The survivors were carried to the Marconi wireless station, where medical attention was given them. All were so overcome by exposure that they could give no coherent account of the disaster.

GIVE THAT PUNY CHILD THIS GUARANTEED REMEDY

If your child is under weight, listless, ailing, liable to get sick easily, it needs a medicine to build its weight and strength. For this purpose there is nothing else we know of that we can so strongly endorse as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. The remarkable success of this splendid medicine is due to the fact that it contains ingredients that tone the nerves, enrich the blood and furnish to the entire system the strength, weight and health-building substances it needs. And it does all this without injuring the stomach. In fact, Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is not only pleasant to take, but even the most sensitive stomach is benefited by it, and the digestion improved. On the other hand, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, which most parents object to giving their children. It does its good work by taking hold of the weakness and builds the body up to its natural strength, at the same time making it strong to resist disease.

If Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion doesn't build your child up, feed the stunted, puny muscles, and make the little one lively, strong, well, and full of the animal spirits children are meant by nature to have, come back and tell us and get your money back. We don't want you to lose a cent. We think this is no more than fair, and it leaves you no cause to hesitate. For old people also—for convalescents—for all who are nervous, tired-out, run-down, no matter what the cause—we offer Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion with the same guarantee of entire satisfaction or money back. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall stores, and in this town only by E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn. $1.00.

SAYS HUSBAND IS CRAZY.

North Dakota Woman Alleges Things Against Spouse.

Bowbells, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The promiscuous purchase of threshing machines, free drawing of checks on an account already $900 overdrawn, religion, coupled with an insane desire to butt his head against the wall of his bedroom, are charges cited by Mrs. Severt Dahl in support of her claim that her husband is insane.

FALLS 250 FEET DOWN MINE SHAFT

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Hannes Wiirtela, a miner killed in the Republic mine at Republic Saturday afternoon, was held today from the Finnish Lutheran church.

With a number of other miners who were coming to the surface after the end of the day's work, Wiirtela was riding on a skip when in some manner he fell out into the shaft, falling a distance of 250 feet. He was instantly killed by the impact, and his body and head were badly crushed.

Wiirtela had lived in Republic a number of years and was well known there. He was unmarried, and is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters. He was a member of the Modern Maccabees.

A large crowd, including traveling men from Duluth and the Twin Cities, also attended.

Another Bowman Suspect.

Bowman, N. D., 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Hilton is the latest to be accused of trying to burn the Kirchner butcher shop here and is under arrest. According to officials, Hilton was implicated in an alleged confession made by Leonard Leary, now serving a four-year sentence in state's prison for his part in the affair.

SURVIVED FOR HALF A CENTURY

Barnum Woman, Afflicted With Cancer at 16, Dies at 74.

Mrs. T. L. Herbert of Barnum, Minn., died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. S. McKay of Ninety-sixth avenue west, New Duluth, on Sunday, after an illness of a year. Cancer was the direct cause of death. One remarkable thing about it, is the fact that Mrs. Herbert, who was 74 years of age at the time of her death, has suffered more or less from the disease since she was 16 years of age.

Mrs. Herbert is survived by her husband, T. L. Herbert of Barnum, two sons and daughters, Mrs. L. S. McKay of New Duluth, Mrs. Hamlin, wife of Maj. Hamlin of Miles City, Mont., A. W. Herbert of Duluth, and F. S. Herbert of Iron River, Wis., also by two sisters, Mrs. Charles Hurd and Mrs. Miles Willetts of Battle Creek, Mich. Mrs. Herbert also leaves sixteen grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The body, accompanied by relatives and a number of friends, were taken this morning to Barnum, where funeral services will be held in the Methodist church, after which interment will be in the village cemetery.

NEVADA DIVORCE LAW IS UPHELD

Reno, Nev., Feb. 17.—By denying an application for the publication of summons in a divorce suit based on less than a year's residence, Judge Moran here went on record as upholding the constitutionality of the new divorce law requiring a year's residence except where both parties live in the state. Counsel for the applicants stated they would apply to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus, when a final determination of the question will be had.

HUNGRY WOMAN TRIES HOLDUP GAME

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 17.—Miss Eliza Francis, a young stenographer, was held up on one of the city's busy streets yesterday by Miss Mary McCormick, 31 years old, who at the point of a revolver demanded money of her. Miss McCormick was seized by a policeman. She said she had not eaten for a week and had determined to kill "some of these women" whom she did not like to see "walking up and down the street with furs and mesh bags." She was placed under observation to determine her mental condition.

HOMESTEAD LAW IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 17.—Representative Moses H. Kinkaid of Nebraska, was hazed in the house when he called up his bill to provide that the marriage of a homestead entryman to a homestead entry woman shall not impair the right of either to a patent. The bill was passed, but not until after Mr. Kinkaid had run a gauntlet of chaffing from his colleagues, who insisted on knowing whether he had matrimonial intentions toward "a homesteadess." Mr. Kinkaid returned that to stop a marriage was contrary to public policy. He is a bachelor.

"You have nerve," shouted Republican Leader Mann, "when you have by your own course prevented one marriage for many years!"

Mr. Mann added that if the Nebraskan really "had intentions," he certainly would not object to the bill.

Mr. Kinkaid blushingly protested, but carried the day.

Deering Estate $15,000,000.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—The estate of the late William Deering consists of real and personal property valued at $15,000,000, according to the inventory filed. MEN'S DOCTORS

We have cured thousands of men in Duluth. Treat men only. All our knowledge and skill is confined to diseases of men. We are in Duluth for twenty years. We guarantee our cures.

Blood Poison manifests itself by various stages. Any form of this destructive disease makes itself known by such evidences as ulcers of the mucous membrance in the mouth and throat, sores on any part of the body, aching of the bones, spots and discolorations of the skin, which signify decay.

Nervous Decline or Weakness means weakness of the nerves and nerve centers, or general debility of the whole nervous and male systems. No man can be strong and manly if his nervous system is impaired, because the nerves propel the blood, and when the proper circulation in any organ ceases, disease is bound to result.

Our treatment for blood poison is a Specific composition that completely reorganizes the blood corpuscles, by which means every particle of poisonous matter is eliminated. Under our system of treatment it is unlikely for poison to remain in the blood, and purity and health are the results in every case. Our Specific treatment removes manifestations of disease soon after beginning treatment, and by increasing the albuminous portion of the blood after removing the poison, a normal state of health is resumed.

In treating pelvic diseases, from which nearly all nervous disorders and weaknesses originate, we know that we have a very great advantage over many other physicians, because we have a thorough knowledge of the seat and causes of the disease, which is always necessary to insure success in treating any affliction. Our thorough course of treatment stops nervousness, drains, exhaustive dreams, relieves backaches, all effects of youthful folly, and, by adding flesh and muscle, the patient is restored to health, strength and complete vigor.

BUSINESS IDEALIZED

President Vincent Speaks to Duluth Association of Credit Men.

Outlines a Broad View of Business and Social Service.

President Vincent of the state university in an address today at the luncheon of the Duluth Credit men, outlined some of the larger and more idealistic functions of business and the social service that could be rendered by the man engaged in business.

"We college presidents are supposed to be specialists," began President Vincent. "We are supposed to know a great deal of everything—something of all the knowledge of the many specialists under us. That is quite wrong. We don't. Often we are superficial.

"For instance, I have made a number of addresses before some of the agricultural societies of this part of the state. The members of these societies have listened with straight faces, for which I am duly thankful. I have not attributed their restraint from laughter to an utter lack of humor; rather, more to courtesy.

"I have found it very difficult to distinguish the difference between Jerseys and Guernseys. Some one told me to look at the tails. Then I found that I made a mistake—you should look at the noses. Lots of people go through life looking at just one end of it. These superficial people failed to realize the vast complexities of this life.

Can Be "Taken In."

"It is a very great comfort for a poor college professor like me to come before you and discover that even you hard-headed business men can be taken in—to discover that you are human after all.

"The greater part of our energies have been consecrated to the production side of business and industry. Particular stress has been laid on the production side. We are facing the great problem of proper distribution. The problem of putting the right article in the right place is one of the great problems of the time, and one of the problems that you must give a great deal of attention to in the future.

"Along this line co-operation has been suggested. But perhaps this is not the best solution. It is left to the great machinery of which you men are a part of to solve the problem—the community counts upon you for deep and comprehensive study of the great problem of distribution.

"You are really the part of a great social machinery. You are part of a social organism. Under a state socialism you would be laboring for the distribution of various goods to supply depots. You would be working for the state. You are working just as much in the interests of the people at the present time, and the welfare of the people is just as much dependent upon your efforts, as though you were working under a social idea for the benefit of the people.

Control of Credit.

"You have control of credit, and you also have the choice as to the men fit or unfit to conduct business, along this line, the idea being to have the final distributor of goods a competent and intelligent agent.

"The university has inaugurated a short course for country merchants and it has been successful in the extreme. More than 150 merchants have attended the course and they say that there will be more than 600 next year. The education of the country merchant means eventually the elimination of the unfit from business. It is up to you men to see that only those fit to render social service, for it is social service, should render it. We permit only those qualified to doctor us to practice medicine, and when it comes to the most charitable view toward the public, the greater service in the end to the public, you should see that only those qualified to enter business are in business.

"You men can render a further social service by refusing to take advantage of those whom it is easy to take advantage of. You should develop co-operative machinery for the best service to the public. The schools should have their part in this great function of business, and in the future I am sure that they will.

"One of the greatest privileges of this great co-operation of yours is that it enables you to idealize your business, for you are in the service of the people, a social service, as I have pointed out, and you are not working merely for selfish ends."

TANGO AT ARMORY —TONIGHT—

The celebrated team from Chicago, Whitman & La Velle, who will appear at the Empress next week, will give Ballroom Exhibition at 10:45 at the Trades Assembly dance. Tickets 50c per couple; extra ladies, 25c.

Held in Duluth.
Albert B. Hinkley, 32 years old, who was arrested in Superior Sunday on a charge of passing worthless checks and who was also wanted here on a charge of passing a check at the Cody hotel in West Duluth, was this morning turned over to the Duluth police by the Superior authorities. He will be arraigned this afternoon.

Discuss Frontage Tax.
The Duluth Real Estate exchange held a meeting following luncheon at the Commercial club this afternoon and discussed the frontage tax in the matter of water main extensions. Commissioner Merritt and Manager Reed of the water and light department explained the situation. No action was taken but a committee appointed to look into the matter will make a full report at the next meeting.

HOW I REALLY CURED MY GRAY HAIR

I Will Tell You Free How to Restore to Your Hair the Natural Color of Youth.

No Dyes or Other Harmful Method. Results in Four Days.

Let me send you free full information about a harmless liquid that will restore the natural color of your hair, no matter what your age nor the cause of your greyness. It is not a dye nor a stain. Its effects commence after 4 days' use.

Old and grey at 27

Young and happy at 35

I am a woman who became prematurely grey and old looking at 27, but a scientific friend told me of a simple method he had perfected after years of study. I followed his advice and in a short time my hair actually was the natural color of my girlish days. This method is entirely different from anything else I have ever seen or heard of. Its effect is lasting and it will not wash or rub off or stain the scalp. It is neither sticky nor greasy, its use cannot be detected; and it will destore the natural shade to any grey or faded hair, no matter how many things have failed. It succeeds perfectly with either sex and all ages.

Write me today, giving your name and address plainly, stating whether lady or gentleman and enclose 2-cent stamp for return postage and I will send you full particulars that will enable you to restore the natural color of youth to your hair, making it soft, natural and easily managed. Write today. Address Mrs. Mary K. Chapman, Apartment 442 P, Exchange St., Providence, R. I.

QUIT SEARCH; CONDEMN LAND

Tracing a widow and seventeen children through their wanderings of twenty years is too big a task even for Duluth attorneys.

Twenty years ago Mrs. M. Marshall and her seventeen children fell heir to a 20-acre tract of ground adjacent to what now constitutes the joint city and county work farm, upon the death of the husband and father. Later the mother married again and the children have scattered to all corners of the earth.

The work farm commission desires to secure possession of the 20-acre tract. First an offer was made to buy it. But to do this the consent of all the heirs had to be secured. The attorneys of the estate undertook to locate them. But after six months of fruitless effort, following clew after clew to this and that part of the globe, they threw up their hands in despair.

The attorneys advised the commission to secure the ground by condemnation proceedings. To that end the city council yesterday afternoon passed a resolution directing the city attorney to co-operate with the commission's attorney in conducting condemnation proceedings. About three acres of the ground is cleared and would make a valuable addition to the work farm.

PROMISE OF FEE DENIED

On the proposition of whether or not $100,000 had ever been promised Spencer & Marshall, local attorneys, as a fee for their services in handling certain litigation for the Higgins Land company, Frank Sullivan Smith, prominent member of the New York bar and an officer of the land company, took the stand today and flatly contradicted the assertions of both H. R. Spencer and Alexander Marshall that they had been assured that they were to receive this amount.

Other witnesses who testified for the defendant company this morning and yesterday afternoon were George D. Swift, secretary and assistant treasurer of the Oliver Iron Mining company, John Uno Sebenius, chief engineer of the steel corporation's Minnesota properties; Earl Hunner, general superintendent of the Great Northern ore properties; Dwight E. Woodbridge, G. T. Peacock and W. A. Barrell, expert mining engineers.

It is expected that the case will be brought to a close this week.

NO CONTRACT FOR TRUCK

The city council did not approve the resolution awarding a contract to the Mutual Auto company for a motor truck for the works division when it came up for action yesterday afternoon.

Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss stated that M. W. Turner, one of the bidders, had represented to him that he (Turner) did not get a square deal, and at the finance commissioner's request the resolution was laid over for one week. Commissioner Voss said that Turner had informed him that his bid was $300 or $400 under that of the Mutual company; that his truck was equally as good, and that he would like to lay his case before the council before a vote was taken on the matter.

Wherefore the matter of an auto truck for the sewer department of the works division is scheduled for consideration at the meeting of the city council Monday afternoon. "All agents who bid are free to appear before the council and state their cases," said Commissioner Murchison this morning. "As the matter now stands it is where it was when the bids were opened. We can still purchase any of the trucks on which bids were submitted."

The bid of the Mutual Auto company was $2,229.23. M. W. Turner submitted two bids, one of $1,840 for an Avery truck and one of $1,500 for a Little Giant truck. Other bids were: Northland Auto company, $1,950; E. W. Bradley, $2,265.05; Interstate Auto company, $2,390, and H. E. Wilcox Motor company, $2,100.

F. B. ROSSOM LEFT $40,000 ESTATE

Fred B. Rossom, who died, aged 46, at his home in this city on Jan. 22, last, left an estate estimated to be worth more than $40,000, according to the petition of his widow, Ida C. Rossom, for letters of administration, filed today with the probate court.

Mrs. Rossom resides at 2328 East Fourth street. The property is left to the widow and three children, Rubin, 16; Edna, 14, and Hartley, 12. The estate consists of personal property valued at $25,000 and real estate interests valued at $15,000.

Nels Bergholm of Spokane petitioned the court this morning for appointment of administrator in connection with the estate of his brother, John Bergholm, who died in this city Jan. 9, last, leaving an estate of $5,000. Bergholm left a brother in Spokane and a brother and sister in Duluth as his heirs.

GREAT NORTHERN WILL ISSUE STOCK

New York, Feb. 17.—Announcement was made here today that the directors of the Great Northern Railway company had adopted a resolution providing for an issue of 190,000 additional shares of stock at the par value of $100.

Stockholders are to be permitted to subscribe for the new stock on a basis of 8 per cent of their present holdings. The proceeds of the issue are to be devoted to the acquisition of extension lines, telephone and telegraph terminals and similar properties.

News of the proposed issue caused the stock to decline 2 points.

MAY GIVE DECISION ON RATES IN APRIL

Washington, Feb. 17.—Decision on the application of the Eastern railroads for permission to increase their rates probably will be given by the interstate commerce commission in April.

SURE WAY TO END RHEUMATISM

Ease Stiff, Sore Joints and Muscles. Makes Pains and Backache Promptly Vanish.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys so they can filter all the poisons from the blood and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three does a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

LIVE SPORTING GOSSIP

By BRUCE

THIS boy Edmund Lamy is some skater. If you don't believe us, go out to the curling club and see for your little selves. Three short but sharp cheers for our little selves. Since he reached the fresh kid period immediately surrounding the age of fourteen years, Lamy has been reckoned with the best skaters in the world. In his fourteenth year the Edmund chap won the international junior championship for boys of sixteen years, and since that time he has been winning about all of the championships in the country.

One of the most peculiar things about Lamy is that he is a great all-round athlete. Most skaters cease being athletes when they take their skates off. It is the same way with bicycle riders. Lamy is a baseball player, basket ball player, sprinter, swimmer and oarsman. Maybe there are some other athletic feats that he can perform reasonably well—for here we are simply enumerating the branches of athletics Lamy is very proficient in.

In the exhibition at the big curling club rink—skating and music afterwards—the Lamy Brothers will give startling exhibitions of speed skating, fancy skating, leaping over obstacles and other feats that are far out of the ordinary.

As an ice evening, followed by tangoing and other features, the festivities of tomorrow evening promise to be joyous.

Wolgast Is Coming.

AFTER all these years of emptiness Ad Wolgast is coming. True it is that all of us would rather see Adolph coming for a red hot fight with some of the top notch boys of his class, but Mons. Ernie Potts has promised that the little Dutchman will go through all of his training stunts and will give the fans the best idea of his abilities that is possible outside of the roped arena.

As a sporting writer we have always cherished a warm regard for the wonder of Cadillac. He has been on the square—always. Wolgast has always given the best he has to the public. True it is that Wolgast has not always been in the best of shape. It is this very fact, coupled with the ill effects of the operation for appendicitis, that robbed Wolgast of the championship. But in the ring the Michigan Bearcat has always given the public the very best wares in the shop and he has never been accused of any shady transactions.

One of the reasons why Wolgast is perhaps the most popular lightweight of his time, is the fact that it is always a battle with Adolph in the ring. Wolgast has made Milwaukee one of the best fighting towns in the West, and this after the McFarland-Britton fiasco came dangerously near disgusting some of the fans forever. In the battles with Nelson, White and Rivers it was fight every step of the way.

In the appearance here Wolgast will go through the customary athletic exercises used by a fighter in training and will give the fans of Duluth their first glimpse of the boy who is at the present time aiming at regaining the title won from him by Willie Ritchie.

One Grand Race—Yes.

WORD comes that Jean Bouin, the wonderful French runner is coming to the United States to run against Hannes Kolehmainen. One of the greatest races in the history of athletics was the one between these two incomparable runners at the last Olympiad. Kolehmainen won by inches in the 5,000 meter contest and it is for the purpose of showing the athletic followers over the length and breadth of the world that he can reverse the result of this historic meeting, that Bouin is coming to the United States.

Kolehmainen was here last summer. We have never seen the great French runner. Mousieur Jean Bouin, but kindly take it from us that Kolehmainen is one of the athletic marvels of the world.

William George, Lon Myers, Alfred Schrubb and others have electrified the world by their prowess on the cinder path—but followers of the spiked shoe lads the world over have come to the conclusion that Kolehmainen is about the class of the world, past and present—and, William, since the Greek messenger tore off that classic, there have been a lot of sand pounders in this old world.

Old Mike Yokel Wins.

NEWS from Ogden, Utah, tells of the winning of Mike Yokel over Jack Harbertson in two hours and seventeen minutes for the first fall and seventeen minutes for the second and deciding fall.

This Harbertson chap has been trained for Mike for the past year. He is big and strong and willing, according to the accounts, but lacked the class to beat Yokel.

The wrestler who defeats the champion of the world will have to possess more than mere strength, for Yokel is pretty strong—just so you can notice.

It is passing strange how opinion will shift. When Waino first hit our fair berg there were those who scoffed at the Finn. Now there are those who are beginning to shake their heads and vaguely wonder whether the wonderful Finn might not prove the master of the champion.

Ketonen has strength and with it amazing science. He has everything that goes to make a marvelous wrestler—for why has he camped on the trail of Mike Yokel since the eleventh day of last August?

This Is Discouraging.

NEWS that Hans Wagner has a perpetual home with the Pittsburg team of the National league is not alone discouraging to the other seven teams, but also to the Federal league officials. They can't have the advertising of offering Hannes a job.

FOR NATIONAL TITLE.

Brisk Games in Indoor Tennis in New York Armory.

New York, Feb. 17.—G. F. Touchard, the playing-through champion, and B. S. Prentice, the old Harvard player, were the principal winners here yesterday in the singles in the national indoor tennis championship at the Seventh Regiment armory. In the fourth round Touchard defeated Count Alex Salm-Hoogstraeten of Austria, 6-1, 6-1, and Prentice beat J. M. Steinacher, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

F. B. Alexander and T. R. Pell, the former international and Olympic players, won a place in the semi-final round of the doubles. In coming through, they first defeated C. A. Coffin and Walter Hazard 6-0, 6-0 and then A. S. Lovibond and Dr. W. Rosenbaum 6-3, 6-6. Alexander's volleys were well played and Pell drove prettily.

Lovibond and Dr. Rosenbaum, in the third round eliminated the Counts Otto and Alex Salm-Hoogstraeten 9-7, 7-5. The Americans were too steady and fast in both of the sets.

Among the other winners were G. F. Touchard and W. B. Cragin, Jr., and the play-through title holders, W. C. Grant and G. C. Shafer.

MAKES UNPRECEDENTED OVER-MOUNTAIN FLIGHT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 17.—Silas Christofferson of San Francisco arrived yesterday in a biplane from Bakersfield, Cal., having flown over the Tehachapi and Coast Range mountains, which had resisted all previous attempts of aviators. He made the 170 miles in three hours and 45 minutes.

Christofferson started last Monday to fly from San Francisco to San Diego, intending to complete the trip that day. In attempting to pass over the Tehachapi mountains he was driven back by high winds. Returning to Bakersfield he equipped his biplane with a more powerful motor and again endeavored to fly over the mountains but the winds were too much for him.

He took a different route yesterday and made the flight without trouble.

CUP FOR AGGRESSOR.

Best Offensive Harvard Baseball Player to Be Given Prize.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 17.—A silver cup will be given the Harvard player who does the most for this year's baseball team on the offensive, it was announced today. The trophy is the gift of Charles Hann, Jr., first baseman of Harvard's 1911 team, and is to be known as the Barrett Wendell, Jr., cup in recognition of the services of Mr. Wendell who played on four Crimson nines that won the championship series from Yale.

The cup will be awarded the man who wins the highest total of points for reaching first base safely, for sacrifice hits, stolen bases and runs scored. It is planned to award a similar trophy at the end of each baseball season.

WORLD'S CHAMPION SKATER

EDMUND LAMY.

FAST BOUTS LOOKED FOR IN SUPERIOR

The meeting tonight between "Spike" Kelly and William Miske should bring out some real fighting. It is usually the case that when a fighter and boxer meet some honest-to-goodness mixing is the result.

Miske is a fighter and is shy on boxing skill. Kelly is one of the real classy boys of the welterweight brood. William Bill Miske will depend mostly upon putting over one of those carrolling gong things, and Kelly will, it would seem, depend upon boxing.

In his former fights in this section of the alfalfa, Miske has pursued the slamb bang tactics and has tossed all of the fussy science stuff to the sweet winds of heaven. If William does this during the approaching vesper time, he will find gloves bumping his countenance from all angles of the ring.

Kid Billings Touted.

Across the bay Kid Billings is touted as one of the best youngsters that has come to the firing line for sometime. In Mike O'Dowd the promoters of the contest of this evening believe they have a boy who will make the Billings Park hero go galloping from gong to gong. In the event of a win upon the part of Sir Billings, the citizens of Park district intend running him for commissioner—maybe.

There will be four contests in all upon the program, with the Kelly-Miske embroglio as the windup feature, the piece de resistance, so to speak.

Pal Brown, according to announcement, will be in the Kelly corner. The former Chisholm boy has been working out with Kelly and he came down and unpacked his grip sack in Superior, and Pal believes that "Spike" will beat the St. Paul middleweight in decisive fashion.

GREAT CROWD SEES GAME AT NICE

Americans and Others See Baseball on French Soil.

Nice, France, Feb. 17.—The fine weather yesterday brought out a great crowd of baseball enthusiasts as well as many who had never witnessed a game, to the enclosure where the New York team of the National league and the Chicago Americans gave a fast exhibition of the American national pastime. The Chicagos won, 10 to 7.

Americans and foreigners of title sojourning in Nice and along the Riviera motored to the game and the large number of handsomely gowned women among the spectators added to the gayety of the scene.

Interesting features were a series of daring evolutions over the field by the aviator, Lacrouse, and an exhibition of throwing the discus and putting the weight by James Thorpe, the Indian athlete.

The teams leave here today for Paris. Word has been received that Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago club, has reached Paris. His condition is reported to be much improved.

HORSEMEN GATHER.

Congress of American Trotting Association Meets at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Horsemen representing four middle western racing associations arrived here today for their annual meetings. A new rule, which would limit a new record only to the winner of a race and not to heat winners, will be offered at the biennial congress of the American Trotting association. A similar rule recently was adopted by the National Trotting association.

Other business to be considered will be the selection of this year's racing dates and routine matters. Representatives of the Great Western circuit, the Eastern Illinois circuit and the Northern Indiana-Southern Michigan circuit, also will arrange dates.

AD WOLGAST.

RITCHIE AND WOLGAST MIX ON MARCH 12.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 17.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, signed articles here yesterday for a ten-round bout with Ad Wolgast in Milwaukee the night of March 12. Under the terms of the agreement, Ritchie will get $10,000 with the privilege of 40 per cent of the receipts.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 17.—Fighting desperately in the final three rounds, Ad Wolgast won a newspaper decision over Tommy Gary of Chicago in a ten-round boxing contest last night. Wolgast was the aggressor throughout.

Philadelphia, Feb. 17.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul easily outpointed Kid Graves of this city in a six-round bout here last night. Gibbons apparently did not extend himself, and several times was hooted by the spectators.

REDDY THINKS MATCH IS OFF

Letter Received From Gibbons' Manager Says McFarland Is Stalling.

John Reddy of St. Paul, brother of Eddy Reddy, manager of Mike Gibbons, stated today in Duluth that he is in receipt of a letter from Brother Eddy, in which it is stated that there is no definite knowledge that the Gibbons-McFarland bout will go through.

"I don't know anything more about the bout now than I did a month ago," writes Eddy Reddy to John Reddy. "At the present time McFarland is saying something about the father of his fiancee being ill. It looks like the Chicago man is trying to stall. If the bout with McFarland doesn't go through, it looks like Mike and George Chip for the ninth of next month at the Garden."

Reddy is here to take in the fight tonight between Kelly and Miske. He declares that Mike Gibbons is in the condition of his life and is confident of beating McFarland. Reddy also expressed the belief that McFarland is afraid of going through with the bout.

NO CHANGES YET.

Bowling Tournament Shows Leaders Are Not Displaced.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 17.—No changes were made yesterday in the list of leaders in the five-men teams contending for honors in the International Bowling association's sixth annual tournament in progress here. One two-man team, H. A. Myers and H. Hartsook of Sioux Falls, S. D., succeeded in making fourth place, and the names of J. Marino, Chicago; Emil Imkoff, Dubuque, Iowa, and M. Firestone, Omaha, appear in the leaders in the single events.

Five-men events—Wild Rose, Marshalltown, Iowa, 2,875; West Hotel, Minneapolis, 2,855; Blatz, Chicago, 2,845; Snyders, Minneapolis, 2,792; Garrys, Winnipeg, 2,764.

Doubles—C. R. Gibson and George Roblin, Winnipeg, 1,258; R. H. Highsted and H. Patterson, Minneapolis, 1,236; M. Nuth and J. J. Lentch, St. Paul, 1,213; H. A. Myers and H. Hartsook, Sioux Falls, S. D., 1,213; N. Wirka and George Blatz, Madison, Wis., 1,198.

Singles—J. Marino, Chicago, 650; Paul Chadd, South Omaha, 648; Emil Imkoff, Dubuque, Iowa, 636; N. I. Johnson, Fargo, N. D., 631; M. Firestone, Omaha, 630.

Loses Two Players.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 17.—Francis Stadsvold, center and captain of the University of Minnesota basket ball team, was last night declared ineligible for further play this season, owing to a deficiency in his studies. Clark Shaughnessy, forward, famous last season on the university football team, was also dropped from the basket ball team, being declared ineligible.

DULUTH HOCKEY PLAYERS BACK FROM FINAL TRIP

Games With Michigan Soo Will End Local League Season---Secretary MacGregor After a Contest With Winnipeg.

The members of the Duluth hockey team returned yesterday from the invasion of the land of the enemy. Thursday and Friday evenings the curling club team will meet the Michigan Soo seven in the final league games that will be played here during the present season. In so far as the Duluth team is concerned, these two games will end its American Hockey association schedule.

On Feb. 26 Portage Lake will play Calumet at Calumet, and on Feb. 23 and 24 the Michigan Soo team will play Calumet at Calumet. These games will bring the schedule of the league to an end.

John E. MacGregor wired Stephen H. Jones, president of the club, yesterday, requesting that Mr. Jones close up the game with the Winnipeg Monarchs while he is in the Peg. It is believed here that a post-season game between Winnipeg and the Duluth team will draw the banner crowd of the season. Followers of the game are hoping that President Jones succeeds in closing negotiations for the appearance of one of the fastest hockey teams of all the Dominion.

Cleveland May Come.

In addition to his wire communications to President Jones, Secretary MacGregor yesterday sent a flock of wire messages to Detroit and Cleveland in the effort to get one or both of these teams up here for games before the warm weather of our glorious summer climate, fitting for festivals, etc., renders the ice petulant and quite unfit for association.

For some reason or other hockey has not been supported here during the present season. One game, the Winnipeg contest, brought out a large crowd. As the games with the Michigan Soo seven are the final league games of the year, and Duluth is given its last opportunity to better its position in the race, and as the Michigan outfit is one of the best teams in the league and has not been seen here the present season, a large crowd should come forth to witness the two games.

The boys came through the four foreign games in fine shape and are in condition to give two of the best exhibitions of the season in the schedule windup.

FAMOUS SKATERS WILL SHOW AT CURLING RINK

In securing the Lamy brothers of Saranac Lake, N. Y., to appear this evening at the curling club rink, the officials of the club have secured two of the greatest ice skaters in the world.

Edmund Lamy has long been recognized as one of the wonders of the ice, and as he has never been west of Chicago, this is the first opportunity many of the followers of the ice sport will have had to see this speed merchant in action.

In the exhibition of this evening the brothers will go through all of the figures usually performed by fancy skaters, and in addition will give exhibitions of barrel jumping and speed skating.

Edmund Lamy was born at Saranac Lake, N. Y., Jan. 18, 1891. At the age of 14 years he won the junior international championship for boys under 16 years. Since then his skating career has been a record-breaking one. At Montreal in 1907, when he was 16 years old, he skated one mile in 2:48; the same year at Pittsburg. (Indoor) he skated five miles in 16:09. At Brooklyn in 1908, when 17 years old, he skated one mile in 2:40 2-5, (outdoor). The same year at Pittsburg, (Indoor, track eleven laps) he skated one mile in 2:44, two miles in 5:48 3-5. One-half mile outdoor, unpaced, 1:20 flat, Saranac. In 1909 he won indoor and outdoor championships. At Cleveland, Ohio, in 1910, he skated one-quarter mile in :38 4-5, one-half mile in 1:17 3-5, three-quarters of a mile in 2:05 1-5, and one and one-half miles in 4:25. At Pittsburg, Jan. 29, 1912, he skated five miles in 14:55 3-8. He has won seventy-six medals, sixty-seven first, eight seconds and one third. He usually wears a very flashy red skate suit and is known as the "Red Demon."

MANDAN NIMRODS PLAN BIG HUNT

Mandan, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Between fifty and seventy-five Mandan hunters will engage in a competitive hunt, Feb. 20, under the direction of the Commercial club.

In the evening there will be a banquet in the club rooms, the expense of which must be borne by the side showing the least results from the day's hunting.

BIG DULUTHS ARE WINNERS

The Big Duluths defeated the Bagleys last evening by the close score of 3 to 2 in one of the hottest contested hockey games that has been played during the present season in the amateur league.

Weber made the first score after eight minutes of play. Stahl of the Big Duluths tied the score shortly after this with a pretty net. Alder received a pretty pass from Chamberlain in front of the goal and shot a neat goal, putting the clothiers in the lead.

Five minutes after the opening of play in the second half Stark shot a goal on a rush down the ice and tied up the score. In a scrimmage in front of the goal Chamberlain shot the winning goal.

The game was witnessed by a fairly large crowd and was one of the most exciting contests of the season.

The lineup:

Big Duluths—		Bagleys—
Alder	c	Stark
Blais	lw	Weber
Chamberlain	rw	Irvine
Stahl	r	Fisher
Poissant	cp	Uberg
Clark	p	Roberts
Oulette	g	Hedberg

BOTH BOXERS SIGN ARTICLES

Brown and Tillman Agree to All Terms for March Setto.

Sig Abrams of the Twin Ports Athletic club yesterday received the signed articles of agreement binding the contest between Pal Brown of Superior and Johnny Tillman of Minneapolis, which will be fought at the Grand Opera house, Superior, on the evening of March 3.

George A. Barton, the well-known Minneapolis sporting writer, signed the articles on behalf of Tillman, Barton acting in the interests of the Minneapolis boy.

With the return of the signed articles, Brown attaching his signature before the articles of agreement were forwarded to Minneapolis, the last detail of the bout has been closed up.

Followers of the Minneapolis boy, according to the sentiment voiced by Barton, believe Tillman has an excellent chance of getting better than an

You Smoke a "Better" Tobacco —Why Not Smoke The Best?

THE tobacco you now smoke you consider "better tobacco than you ever smoked before." Naturally, you kept trying until you found a "better" one.

But it stands to reason that since there is a difference in tobaccos, you may be missing still greater pleasure in a still better smoke —in the BEST smoke, in fact.

Tuxedo is the best smoke because no better tobacco leaf grows, and no process of treating tobacco leaf equals the original "Tuxedo Process."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

We know that Tuxedo is made of the BEST tobacco—rich, mellow, perfectly aged Kentucky Burley. None better can be bought, because none better is grown.

It is treated by the famous original "Tuxedo Process" for removing the sting and bite of the natural vegetable oils.

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have sprung up.

No other tobacco can give the unique pleasure of Tuxedo because no other maker has yet been able to equal the Tuxedo quality.

GRIST OF NEWS IN BASEBALL CIRCLES

Cubs Off for Training Camp at Tampa—Russ Ford to Chicago Federals — International to Fight Federals — Toledo Transferred to Cleveland.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Manager Hank O'Day, with fourteen ball players, left last night for Tampa where he will begin the task of developing one-half of a new infield for the Cubs. The desertion of Shortstop Bridwell, who jumped to the Federals, and the loss of Johnny Evers, second baseman, left a hole about the keystone sack, the filling of which will be one of O'Day's chief cares. With Saier and Zimmerman sure of two jobs, and Bill Sweeney not expected to report, the vacancies must be filled by two of the five other infielders, in whom O'Day expresses much confidence. The fourteen players who left were:

Utrecht, Koestner, Smith, Moore, pitchers; Corriden, shortstop; Molwitz and Saier, first basemen; Zimmerman, third baseman; Needham and Tyree, catchers; Stewart, Allison, Jeyette (a semi-pro from Chicago) and Good, outfielders.

The squad will be joined at Tampa by sixteen other men: Vaughan, Humphries, Lavender, Stock, Pierce, Zabel and Cheney, pitchers; Bresnahan, Archer and Hargrove, catchers; Keating, shortstop; Bronkie and Phelan, third basemen, and Johnstone, Leach and Schulte, outfielders.

The Cubs are scheduled to play a six game series with the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Americans while in Florida.

The announcement that Packard had been transferred to the Kansas City Federals was followed by the news that Russell Ford, the pitcher who left the New York Americans, has become the property of the Chicago Federals. It was understood at first that he would be with the Buffalo club.

The advance guard of the Chicago Americans, who are to start for Paso Robles, Cal., next Thursday, are expected in the city today. "Kid" Gleason will have charge of the first squad headed for the coast, and Manager Callahan will assume leadership of the remainder of the ball players upon his return from abroad.

New York, Feb. 17—A new plan by which organized baseball hopes to supply strong competition for the invading Federal league team in Brooklyn, is being worked out, it is announced by Edward Barrow, president of the International league, to play on Ebbets field, the home of the Brooklyn National league club, and to appease the Newark public, which supported a flag-winning club last season, the Jersey City team of the International league would be placed in Newark. But as Jersey City was the tail-end club last season, it is planned to pool the players of the two International league teams in order to equalize their strength.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 17.—Cleveland is to have major and minor baseball league teams next summer, C. W. Somers, owner of the Cleveland and Toledo baseball clubs, announced last night that he had made arrangements to transfer the Toledo team to Cleveland to play when the Naps are on the road. He will not admit that the possibility of a Federal league team being placed in Cleveland actuated him in transferring the Toledo franchise to this city. The Toledo club under a new name, will be managed by Jimmy Sheckard, famed outfielder of the Chicago Cub world's championship team.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—Information that the Federal league had sent an agent to Paris to meet the world-touring baseball players, was followed immediately by the cabling of a commission to James J. Callahan, manager of the Chicago Americans, to sign up Tris Speaker for the Boston Red Sox next season. The tourists are due in Paris today.

It was reported that Speaker was one of several players the Federal league agent was given authority to negotiate with.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 17.—The signed contract of Pitcher Dixie Walker, who is said to have been negotiating with Federal league officials, was received yesterday by Manager Friel of the St. Paul American association club. Charlie Hall now is the only pitcher of the club who has not agreed to terms. Everett Booe and Otis Johnson are yet to be heard from. Manager Friel instructed his players to report at Memphis March 9 for spring practice.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 17.—John H. Daily, business manager of the Pittsburg National league baseball club, has announced that the Pirates will play the Detroit American league team at Forbes field here May 11. It will be the first time the teams have met since the world's series in 1909.

St. Thomas Bonspiel.

St. Thomas, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual St. Thomas bonspiel, in which will be entered curling rinks from Drayton, Bowesmont, St. Thomas, Grand Forks, Crystal and Hansel, will be opened here tomorrow, and continue two days.

PLUNGES INTO CROWD.

Driver of Racing Car Loses Control on Vanderbilt Course.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 17.—A great gray racer picking its course for the Vanderbilt cup race of next Saturday, leaped from the road near the National Soldiers' home at Sawtelle yesterday, killed a veteran of many battles and injured five other persons yesterday.

The dead:

LOUIS G. SMITH, Civil war veteran, 69 years old.

Injured:

Mrs. A. W. Pipes, Polson, Mont.; David Lewis, driver of car; E. R. Arnot, mechanician, probably internally hurt; two girls knocked down but not seriously hurt.

The only explanation available was that Lewis lost control of his car as it swept along the Santa Monica course nearing the sea.

FEW TRACK MEN.

Yale Experiencing an Unusual Shortage of Candidates.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 17.—Devotees of track athletics at Yale received a shock yesterday when only thirty-five candidates reported at a meeting called by Capt. Brown. This is the smallest number in years. Last season there were about 100 candidates. It is believed that the unusually large number of candidates for the crews this year has taken away many available men.

Active track training starts today, but unless more men are present, the outlook is considered dubious.

Y. M. C. A. TO MEET STEEL PLANT TEAM

At the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this evening the Y. M. C. A. indoor baseball team and a team composed of employes of the steel plant will meet. On the steel plant team are a number of former college stars and the contest is expected to be very fast and interesting. Talbot, Harris, Wood, Kerns, Williamson and Peterson are some of the cracks that will be in the lineup of the Y. M. C. A. team.

TOUGH LUCK FOR WILLING WRESTLERS

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Gustav Fristensky and Paul Sampson, heavyweight wrestlers, struggled through a long, hot match last night only to find, at the conclusion of the bout, that a deputy sheriff had attached the box office receipts of the match. The attachment was made against Edward White, promoter of the match, on a three-year-old judgment. Fristensky won the match in straight falls.

Naval Reserves Win.

The Naval Reserve indoor baseball team won its fourth straight game of the season last evening at the Armory by the defeat of the Badger team of Superior by the score of 12 to 6. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of Buant of the Naval Reserve and the heavy hitting of the Middies.

Military School Shoot.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Results of the fifth contest in the matches for the national military school rifle shooting championship of the United States announced yesterday left Bordentown Military institute and the New Mexico Military institute in first place. In the second division or Class B., Northwestern Military and Naval academy at Highland Park, Ill., leads, having made the best score for the week, 928 of the possible 1,000.

Plays on Iowa Field.

Iowa City, Iowa, Feb. 17.—For the first time in ten years, the University of Minnesota football team will play on Iowa field on Oct. 24. Iowa will play in Minneapolis in 1915. To arrange for the home game with Minnesota, the Iowa game with Northwestern will be transferred to Evanston.

Wins Rough Game.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 17.—The St. Michaels team last night defeated the visiting Cleveland hockey team 7 to 1. The game was a rough one and at one time as many as four players were on the bench.

Nurse Proclaims Skin Cure

Myrtle Hahn Says D. D. D. Prescription is Worth Rockefeller's Millions to Her.

"Ten years I suffered with eczema—three years of that time I could not appear in public. My entire body was covered with the disease. I could not eat. I could not sleep. I could not live. I have at last found the great Prescription D. D. D. My body is clean, smooth. If there were one bottle only of D. D. D. in the world and I had it, Mr. Rockefeller's millions could not buy the golden fluid."

Nurse Myrtle Hahn (in care Watts' Hospital, Durham, N. C.)

How about you?

If you have any skin blemish or a little rash, do not let it develop into something more serious. Remember D. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for fifteen years as the standard skin remedy. It always helps, and if used according to directions, it should cure in a short while.

All druggists sell this standard remedy, but if you come to us, we will offer you the first full size bottle with the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once we will refund the purchase price.

Ask also about D. D. D. skin soap, containing the same healing ingredients. It keeps the skin always clean and healthy.

NEW ORDINANCE CLASSES STABLES AS NUISANCES

Will Be Barred in Future From Central Business District.

Liquor Licenses Will Not Be Granted to Corporations.

The city council passed the new livery stable ordinance by a unanimous vote at its regular public meeting yesterday afternoon.

The measure was so amended that its present effect will be to compel the moving of only the Board of Trade livery on West First street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues. But it is so drawn that it affords protection to other business blocks and will eventually operate to cause the removal of other downtown stables when the blocks in which they are located develop into important business blocks.

Under the ordinance no stable can be located within 150 feet of any building containing more than 24,000 square feet of floor space used for office, club, restaurant, theater, hotel or church purposes, nor in any business block. The latter is defined as one where 66 per cent of the assessed value represents property used for the above named purposes.

Those urging the passage of the ordinance centered their arguments upon the Board of Trade livery, declaring it to be offensive and in such condition that it can hardly be repaired so that it will not continue to be a nuisance.

History of Fight.

N. J. Upham recited the history of the fight which has been made against the Board of Trade livery. He said that the old council, against its wishes, passed an ordinance intended to eliminate the stable, but allowing a year and one-half, or until April 1, to find a new location. Recently it became apparent that the old ordinance would be contested, he explained, whereupon the new ordinance was drafted. He declared that the ground underneath the stable is little better than a cess pool, from which foul odors arise to permeate the adjoining buildings, while thousands of big horse flies breed in the filth and invade the offices, practically destroying their rental value. Mr. Upham asserted that the stable represented but 4¼ per cent of the assessed valuation of $746,531 while 91 per cent of that amount is represented in property used for offices, hotels, restaurants, stores and other semi-public purposes.

Henry Nolte corroborated Mr. Upham's statement, saying that the nuisance caused by the stable makes the rear half of the Mesaba block almost untenable. He stated that the offices have not been vacant, but have been returning but a fraction of their rental value, adding that the tenants have been compelled to burn incense in an effort to drown the odor. Others familiar with the situation, including Commissioner Hicken, who introduced the ordinance, made similar statements.

Attorney H. C. Fulton, representing Capt. James Sullivan of the livery company, questioned whether or not the time has arrived for driving livery stables from First street. He doubted the extent of the nuisance and said that it is a health matter, which could be regulated by the health department. He stated that the company stands ready to comply with the regulations of the department and make any needed improvements.

M. Zimmerman, of Barrett & Zimmerman, said that livery stables are located in the downtown sections of other big cities and that any necessary improvements will be made. He remarked that he had noticed that the offices of the Mesaba block have been occupied since the stable was built.

When the ordinance came up for consideration the commissioners were of one mind and passed it without a dissenting vote.

Liquor Licenses.

Although City Attorney Harvey Clapp's written opinion relative to granting saloon licenses to corporations was not on file, the council passed a resolution denying the applications of the Martin Smith Liquor company, incorporated, for transfers to itself of the saloon licenses now held by Martin Smith. The verbal opinion of the attorney, given to city officials, was that licenses must be granted to individuals. By forming corporations saloons hoped to protect themselves against the provision of the state law which provides that saloon licenses shall be automatically annulled upon the death of the licensee. At the meeting yesterday Norman Smith, son of Martin Smith, and one of the incorporators of the Martin Smith Liquor company made personal application for a transfer to himself of the license for the saloon at 102 East Superior street, located in the Astoria hotel.

The Woodland avenue paving was the subject of discussion. Because of financial limitations it appears that all of Woodland avenue from Fourth street to Austin street, a distance of about three miles, cannot be improved this season. The question now arising is whether or not the work can be done in sections without legal entanglements which might invalidate the assessment or cause delays which would prevent any of the work being done this season. It was decided to put the matter up to the city attorney for determination.

Two More Sewers.

Because of the success of the works division in the building of sewers during the present winter, the council authorized the works division to proceed with two other jobs, one in Winona street between Kendie and Allendale avenues and the other in Marks alley to connect with the sewer in Piedmont avenue. Commissioner Murchison said that the work involves about $3,000.

A resolution was passed granting the Northern Pacific permission to build a trestle across Seventy-first avenue west along the right-of-way of the Duluth Transfer. The trestle must be sixteen feet above the ground; two twelve-foot openings must be left on either side of the center for team traffic, and the sidewalk replaced in its original condition.

An ordinance appropriating $35,500 from the utility fund, the largest thus far this year, was given its first reading. It appropriates $2,500 for brass goods and fixtures, $3,000 for valve boxes and parts, $2,000 for hydrants and parts, $11,000 for water meters and parts, $8,000 for gas meters and parts and $9,000 for lamps and stoves.

The resolution authorizing Commissioner Merritt to grant a 25 per cent discount on bills for water used for hydraulic elevators was laid on the table at the request of the commissioner. He said that the committee which will pass upon the new rates will meet at an early date, probably next week, and that he deemed it advisable that no changes be made pending their decision.

June 13 was designated as tag day for the Red, White and Blue society, which proposes to raise funds for a children's ward in the proposed new city and county hospital.

The contract for furnishing 400 refunding bonds was awarded to the Christie Lithographing & Printing company, on their bid of $135.

The ordinance making East Fond du Lac a residence district was given its second reading and will probably come up for final action next Monday.

The ordinance licensing bartenders was advanced to the second reading and will also likely come up for final action next Monday.

Ordinances appropriating $250 for the purchase of a lot crossed by the boulevard near Twelfth avenue west, $900 for the rental of the West end branch library for three years, $7,000 for the purchase of books for the library and $650 for the purchase of an automobile for the works division, were given their third reading and passed.

ROSS WILL SPEAK TO OFFICE MEN

Will Fill Place of W. B. Marshall--Ohio Man to Speak Next Week.

Owing to the fact that W. B. Marshall was compelled to leave the city last evening, the Duluth Association of Office Men has secured G. W. C. Ross to address the members at the luncheon to be held at the Commercial club tomorrow noon.

Mr. Ross, a local attorney, will speak on "Legal Forms and Contracts."

It was also announced yesterday that Daniel Poling, former candidate for governor of Ohio, will speak next Wednesday evening, Feb. 25, on "American Citizenship." Plans are also being made to have Jacob Riis, who is coming here in April to address the Collegiate Alumnae, make a short talk to the office men at their April dinner and meeting.

PLAN NEW HOMES.

C. H. Bagley and G. A. French Will Build Next Summer.

It is announced that handsome homes will be built during the coming summer by Cassius H. Bagley and George A. French on adjoining sites recently purchased by them at Twenty-fifth avenue east and First street.

The Bagley home will occupy a 100-foot strip at the northeast corner of First street east and Twenty-fifth avenue. It will be built of stucco and red tile on Italian renaissance lines. The French residence will be located on a 200-foot site extending from the Bagley to Charles P. Craig's grounds.

Plans for both homes are being prepared by Frederick W. Perkins, a Chicago architect, who has recently opened offices in the Alworth building.

"LABOR AND FAIR PLAY" HIS THEME

Dr. Phelan Will Begin Spring Lecture Course on Modern Problems.

Dr. Raymond Phelan will this evening open the spring university extension course with a lecture on "Modern Labor and Fair Play" at the Commercial club auditorium. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

The course will continue for several weeks, Dr. Phelan speaking to those who have registered for the full series of lectures on "Labor and Life." The extension department of the university is fast becoming one of the most important institutions in the state. It already has a record enrollment throughout the state and proving conclusively that a state-wide campus as originally proposed by President Vincent will eventually become the leading factor in Minnesota's educational program.

The course, which will be opened this evening, will be somewhat similar to the one given here last spring by Dr. Phelan and it was through the efforts of the former pupils that a second series is now being started. Mrs. A. A. Kerr of the Woman's council and the members of the Commercial club, Y. M. C. A. and the Welfare board are among those who aided in securing the necessary membership for the extension course this spring.

CONGDON ENTERS FRUIT INDUSTRY

Company Incorporates to Operate on Big Scale Throughout Country.

Chester A. Congdon is among the capitalists interested in the Orchard & Investment company just incorporated, with a capital of $1,000,000. Its headquarters will be at Pittsburg, Pa. In the directorate of the company are some of the most representative shippers of fruit in the world including directors and the managing heads of the $36,000,000 United Fruit company.

The company will buy, lease or assume a majority interest in fruit and vegetable producing properties in all parts of the country. It is proposed to procure apple producing orchards in New York state and New England, citrus fruit groves in Florida, Porto Rico and California.

The experience of those comprising its directorate is illustrated in the statement that H. R. Heitman of Fort Meyers, Fla., recently marketed 10,000 boxes of grapefruit in one shipment for $49,000 net at the shipping point. His total shipments for the season aggregated over 100,000 boxes.

MISSOURI GAINS IN RAILWAY CASE

Butler, Mo., Feb. 17.—The state of Missouri scored a victory in its suit to recover $2,400,000 in alleged overcharges from the Kansas City Southern Railway company when Judge Charles A. Calvird, in the cricuit court here yesterday appointed J. D. Lindsey of Clinton, a master to receive claims from the railroad.

The case is one of several filed by Attorney General Barker against Missouri roads to collect overcharges paid by shippers and passengers while the Missouri railroad rate cases were pending in the United States supreme court. The railroads contended such claims should be adjudicated by the United States district court.

INCOME OF $70,000 TO MRS. LONGWORTH

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth's share in the estate of her grandmother, Mrs. Caroline Helskell Lee, is the income of a trust fund of $70,000, it was announced when Mrs. Lee's will was admitted to probate. The estate was appraised at $422,000, of which one-sixth was set aside as a trust fund, the income of which is to be paid to Mrs. Longworth.

MAKI CASE IS DROPPED

Accused Changes Plea During Trial and Gets Short Sentence.

Judge Hughes Imposes Sentences Upon Others in District Court.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the state had concluded its case in district court today against Herman Maki, indicted for grand larceny at Virginia, the accused recognizing that he was strictly "up against it," asked, through counsel, to change his plea of not guilty to that of guilty of petit larceny, and the case came to an abrupt end. Judge Hughes promptly sentenced him to three months in the county workhouse and he was taken to Duluth today.

Tom Hicks, who pleaded guilty to picking the pocket of his partner at Ely, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the state reformatory at St. Cloud.

Chisholm Man Fined.

Steve Hydukovich of Chisholm, who pleaded guilty to selling liquor at Chisholm without a license, was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

Mike Letich, convicted of "shooting" up a car at Buhl, got four months in the county workhouse.

William Noakes, the Gheen farmhand, who pleaded guilty to giving liquor to a halfbreed, was fined $50, and in default will go to the Duluth workfarm.

Fines of $100 each were imposed on Brachini Nazzareno, Bigginiann Nazzereno and Antonio Venarino, who pleaded guilty to assault in the third degree on an Eveleth man during a drunken spree. A three months' sentence in the workhouse at Duluth was given in a second case brought against the three men but suspended by order of the court. All sentenced ones were taken to Duluth today.

VIRGINIA BOARD WILL DROP CASES

No Appeal to Be Taken Involving Two Teachers' Wages.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Upon the advice of M. H. McMahon, attorney for the board of education of this school district, all further proceedings in the matter of the judgments secured by Marion O. West and Ida E. Henry against the board will be dropped.

Miss West and Miss Henry were dismissed by the board on account of alleged undue activity during the school election in July last after they had been given contracts to teach for the coming school year. Suits were brought by the two teachers for salaries for the months of September, October, November and December, Miss West getting a judgment for $420 and Miss Henry for $195.75, Miss Henry taught for a time at Cook after being dismissed by the local board and the amount recovered by her represents the full amount sued for less the difference in salary called for by her Virginia contract and that paid for by the rural school district.

New School Plans.

Three architects were present relative to plans for the new south side school. At the meeting C. K. Shaud of Virginia, Mr. Nystrom of Nystrom & Bray, Duluth, and F. G. German of Duluth. They were requested to prepare and submit plans at the meeting of the board to be held Wednesday evening next when the plans will be selected.

CAMPAIGN FOR HOME TRADING

Eveleth Commercial Club Is Working in Interest of Local Merchants.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee on retail trade of the Eveleth Commercial club has begun an active campaign for the stimulation of the spirit of home trading.

In an appeal to the public in a circular issued this week the committee has the following to say: "Does the man you buy from help pay your taxes and thus contribute to the support of your schools and churches and the city? Does he help feed your needy or does he use the money you pay him to help build a skyscraper in some other large city? Is it not well to pause and think? A dollar spent with your home town merchants will make more prosperity for your town and consequently for you than a dollar spent in some other man's town. 'Let's get together.'"

PECK TO LECTURE.

Hibbing Will Have Chance to Hear State Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Friday evening the men of the Presbyterian church will enjoy a banquet in the guildrooms of the Episcopal church. E. W. Peck, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will give an illustrated lecture on, "The Orient, and the Land of the Southern Cross."

Rev. Sears T. Thomson went to Duluth Monday to attend a meeting of the presbytery.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church and their friends are to be entertained at a social tea at the home of Mrs. O. B. Warren on Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. E. W. Elayer of the M. E. church, who has spent the last two weeks in Missouri at his old home and in Chicago and St. Louis, will return to Hibbing the last of the week.

Rev. J. B. A. Idstrom left Monday for Minneapolis to attend the annual conference of the Swedish Lutheran body. He expects to be gone most of the week. Andrew Anderson accompanied him as layman to the convention.

Dr. Coolbaugh of the Episcopal church will entertain the men of his church at a smoker on Wednesday evening, Feb. 18, in the guildrooms.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church has issued 300 invitations to its birthday party on Friday evening. The party is to be held at Erspamer hall, and there will be a good program and refreshments.

TO INCREASE FORCE.

Nashwauk Council Empowers Mayor to Hire Another Man.

Nashwauk, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council discussed matters concerning the police force and decided to add another officer, and there will now be three police to handle village affairs. Each will work eight hours. Mayor Raatama did not make the appointments at that time but it is expected that he will name the new officers this week.

Mining Captain's Funeral.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Spevial to The Herald.)—The funeral of Capt. Pickard, former pastor of the church will conduct the services, which will be in charge of the Masonic lodge.

DIES ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

Eveleth Man Found Injured on Tracks at Gilbert Expires.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Coroner Help has notified the county attorney of the circumstances surrounding the death of Frank Ealentintic, aged 24, single, an Austrian, employed at the Fayal mine here as it has more or less the elements of mystery.

Ealentintic was picked up on an Iron Range railroad side track at Gilbert yesterday afternoon in an unconscious condition with several broken ribs and his hands and feet frozen. He was taken to Dr. Connors' office at Gilbert and unsuccessful efforts made to revive him. Then he was placed in a conveyance and started here to the Fabiola hospital, but died before reaching it.

Discovered by Train Crew.

He was discovered on the siding by a train crew that was backing a train onto the siding. It is said the siding has not been used for several days which would tend to disprove the theory he had been struck by a train. It is possible he was struck by a train on another track and reeled over to thesiding where he was found or he may have fallen on the rails. It is said the young man had gone to Gilbert to visit a rerort there. He belonged to a local Austrian society. The deputy coroner hopes to ascertain whether he met accidental death or with foul play.

EVELETH BANQUET IS OPEN TO ALL

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The arrangement committee for the Commercial club banquet to be held in the Auditorium Wednesday evening wishes it clearly understood that the invitation includes every citizen who desires to be present, and particularly includes the ladies Men will be expected to bring their ladies. Besides Mayor Prince of Duluth and James P. Boyle of Eveleth, H. H. Harding and P. E. Dowling are expected to be present and make short addresses. The city orchestra and a male quartet will provide music. The banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

In order to aid those desiring to lose no time in getting to the banquet the committee announced today that tickets could be procured at the city drug store.

AUGUST KOKKO BURIED.

All Nashwauk Pays Tribute to Murdered Officer.

Nashwauk, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of August Kokko, the policeman who was fatally shot last Tuesday in a gun fight, were interred in the city cemetery at 3 o'clock Sunday. The remains were taken from the morgue to the Methodist church, where Rev. W. B. Ellis delivered the farewell sermon. Nearly the whole population of the city turned out to pay the last respects to the brave policeman.

George Chalmers, formerly depot agent for the Great Northern here, spent Friday evening with friends. Mr. Chalmers now has chrage of the Great Northen depot at Buhl.

The teachers all returned Sunday from Duluth, where they attended several meetings of the Northwestern teachers' convention.

EVELETH MAN HAS ORGANIZED NEW LODGE

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 17.—Edward Strand, of Eveleth, Minn., organized a branch lodge of the Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship society at Gwinn. The officers were installed. A number of the Negaunee members of the society were present. The Gwinn lodge has nearly 100 charter members. There are also a number of members in Gwinn who belong to other branches of the order. It is thought that they will transfer to the Gwinn lodge.

HAS TUBERCULOSIS.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Masters, learning that John Ruka was in an advanced stage of tuberculossi, reduced his fine one-half and permitted him to go free upon the payment of $50. Ruka was accused of discharging a revolver on the main street when the thoroughfare was crowded with people.

A fainting spell in jail caused the sergeant to call a physician who reported that should Ruka be sent to jail it might mean that he would be confined to bed.

The Judge reduced his fine and his friends raised the amount and he was released.

How to Make the Best Cough Remedy at Home

A Family Supply at Small Cost, and Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and ½ pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of pure Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold almost instantly, and will usually conquer an ordinary cough in 24 hours. It tones up the jaded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, bronchial asthma, whooping cough and spasmodic croup.

This method of making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is now used in more homes than any other cough syrup. This explains why it is often imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BURY CHISHOLM MAN.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of John Gustafson who died at Rochester was held here today and interment made in the Protestant cemetery. Mr. Gustafson was the father of several motherless children and managed to keep the family together since the death of his wife until last year when he was stricken with indigestion. He was forced to give up his work and went to Rochester but had waited too long. He is an old resident of Chisholm and for some years past has worked under Street Commissioner Flip Harrington sidewalk building and street work.

NASHWAUK MAN IS SHOT HANDLING GUN

Nashwauk, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Hedman met with a painful accident by the accidental discharging of a .38 caliber pistol. He was examining the gun when it discharged, the bullet entering the right hand. It was thought at first that the hand would be amputated but later, the bullet was extracted and the member saved.

Appoint Grand Rapids Man.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 17.—Henry Hughes was appointed by the village council a member of the water and light commission of the village to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. H. Dickinson, who leaves in the spring to make his home in California. The other members of the board are H. D. Powers and B. C. Finnegan.

Chisholm Voters Barred.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local attorneys contend that Chisholm voters have no right to vote in the new town of Blakan election to be held the same date as the Chisholm election, March 10.

Township Attorney Edward Freeman states that he does not believe the Chisholm voters have any right to cast a vote at the township election. If the Chisholm voters were eligible to vote they would have to drive five miles to the township voting place. The election will be held at the home of John Pozan, there being no township hall as yet.

There are some fifty votes to the south of Chisholm which are outside of the corporate limits of the village and within the township of New Blakan. Should these men all decide to vote at the township election they would carry the election if voting on the same ticket as the votes outside of these men numbers but about twenty-one.

SEEK TO REDUCE THE COST OF BUSINESS

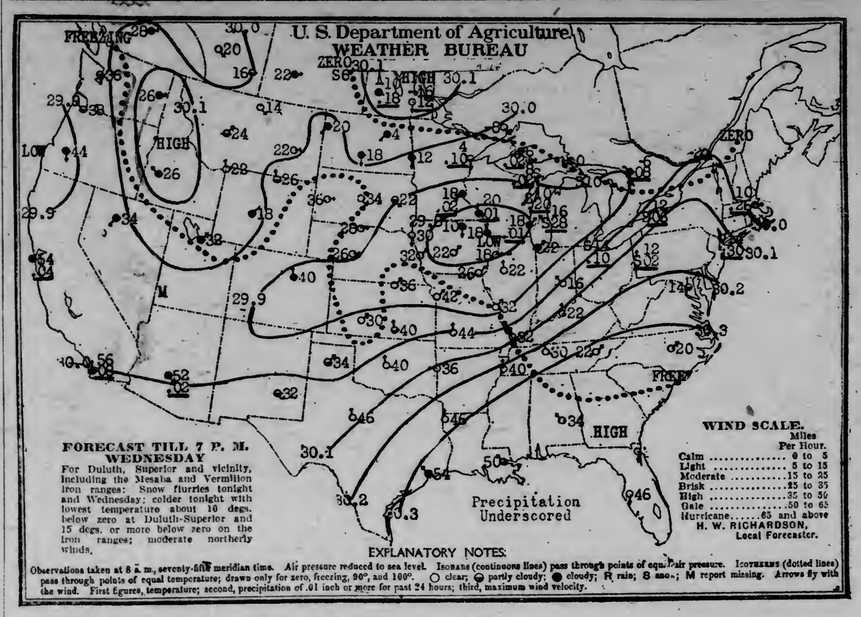

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 17.—A national organization to be known as the Merchants Association Secretaries was perfected here last night at a meeting of the executive secretaries of retail merchant associations from almost every important commercial center in the country.

James Metcalfe of Omaha, Neb., secretary of the Associated Retailers of that city, was elected temporary chairman. The purpose of the new organization would be, he said, to reduce the cost of doing business so that ultimately the high cost of living can be reduced.

Towards this end a bureau for exchange of business ideas is to be established. Permanent officers will be elected today. The cities represented in the organization are:

Minneapolis, Minn.; Cleveland, Ohio; Columbus, Ohio; Kansas City, Mo.; Detroit, Mich.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Memphis, Tenn., and Des Moines, Iowa.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

COLDER

Three inches of snow fell during the night and a mild rand of weather revailed; but people should not be deceived because of this, for the weather man says that here will be a cold spell, setting in tonight, reaching 10 deg. below zero by tomorrow morning, and continuing cold for most of the day.

A year ago today was mild and gray, much like today. The sun rose this morning at 7:03 o'clock and will set at 5:35 o'clock, giving ten hours and twenty-six minutes of sunshine, three minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four hours light snow fell over North Atlantic states, the Upper Ohio valley, lake region, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan, and rain over Arizona and California. Warmer weather prevails in the lake region, Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri valley states, but the temperature has fallen somewhat over Western Canada. This turn to colder should reach the Head of the Lakes tonight."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Wisconsin—Unsettled tonight and Wednesday; probably snow; colder in west portion tonight.

Minnesota — Unsettled weather tonight and Wednesday; probably snow flurries in east and south portion; colder tonight.

Iowa—Cloudy and unsettled tonight and Wednesday; colder Wednesday and in extreme west portion tonight.

North Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; colder in northwest portion tonight.

Montana—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Snow tonight and probably Wednesday; warmer tonight.

Upper Michigan—Snow tonight and probably Wednesday; warmer tonight; colder Wednesday.

BACKBONE OF COLD WEATHER IS BROKEN

Washington, Feb. 17.—The backbone of the cold snap which has held the East in a grip of discomfort and suffering for the last three days is about to be broken.

The agency of relief comes from the British Northwest, and in the parlance of weather sharps, what is known as "a depression," pushing and rolling its bulk southeastward, already has caused rising temperatures in the Missouri, Upper Mississippi and Lower Ohio valleys, and by tomorrow its warming influence will be chasing Jack Frost out to sea off the Atlantic coast.

Dark clouds and threatening snow flurries over the Middle Atlantic and New England states today were its heralds, which promised rising of thermometers, relief of congestion of railway traffic and a return to normal winter conditions.

There is no indication of a cold wave following, and if observations continue to back up predictions, the country will be enjoying mild weather again by the end of the week.

Coxey March Starts April 16.

Massillon, Ohio, Feb. 17.—April 16 has been selected as the date upon which Gen. Jacob S. Coxey proposes to lead his second "army of the unemployed" out of Massillon on its way to Washington. Gen. Coxey announced the demands will be made upon congress that work be furnished for those in idleness.

PAVING IS A PROBLEM

The city council will probably hold a meeting tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to consider what action can be taken relative to the improvement of Woodland avenue, or a portion of it, the coming season.

The petition which has been filed calls for the paving of the avenue from Fourth street to Austin street, a distance of about three miles. The city's finances will not allow of doing the entire job this year, but will permit of the paving of a section, probably from Fourth street to Victoria street. Nearly all of the signers of the petition reside beyond Victoria stret. The question is whether the council can order and assess for the first section without getting into legal entanglements which might invalidate the petition or cause delays which would prevent any work being done this year. If the city attorney finishes the case on which he is now engaged in district court he will meet with the council tomorrow to render an opinion on the situation. Otherwise the meeting will be postponed until he can be present.

If the meeting is held it is likely that a resolution will be passed ordering condemnation proceedings to be instituted to secure the property at Thirteenth avenue east and London road. It is proposed to secure this ground as a site for the new armory.

No action will be taken on the ordinance making East Fond du Lac a residence section, nor upon the ordinance licensing bartenders. They will get their third readings and come up for final action next Monday afternoon, as previously announced.

IOWA COURT HOLDS KENYON LAW VALID

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 17.—The Iowa supreme court in a decision handed down today, declared constitutional the Webb-Kenyon law, prohibiting the shipment of liquor into "dry" territory. The recent decision of District Judge Hunter of Ottumwa, declaring the law unconstitutional, was overruled.

TELLING TALES COSTS $25,000

New York, Feb. 17.—For telling tales which cost Charles Tielenius the affection and society of his wife, a supreme court jury today directed Frederick Hollender, a wealthy Brooklyn brewer, to pay the injured husband $25,000. Tielenius sued for $200,000. He alleged that Hollender, who is 73 years old, slandered him by telling Mrs. Tielenius of Tielenius' alleged attentions to other women.

MISS HANAN IS BRIDE OF A DUKE

New York, Feb. 17.—Miss Elizabeth Francis Hanan, daughter of the late James Hanan of Brooklyn, was married to Duke Don Arturo de Majo Furazzo of Italy, in St. Thomas' church at noon today. The bridegroom is a descendant of one of the oldest families in Italy.

300-POUND MAN IS OVERCOME BY SNOW

Garden City, L. I., Feb. 17.—Edward M. Townsend, editor of the Nassau County Republican, was found dead in a snow drift today in front of his home here. He had apparently become exhausted while struggling through the snow drifts last night and had fallen just as he reached his gate. His wife remained up all night anxiously awaiting his return, but it was not until today that he was discovered, almost buried by snow, frozen to death.

Mr. Townsend was 56 years old and weighed nearly 300 pounds. He was socially prominent. Members of his family think his heart gave out after his battle with the snow.

KING OF BELGIUM IS THROWN FROM HORSE

Brussels, Belgium, Feb. 17.—Albert I., king of the Belgians, broke his left arm today. He was thrown from his horse while riding in the forest of Seignies, not far from the battlefield of Waterloo.

His majesty narrowly escaped more serious injury. The king's physician allayed anxiety by a bulletin describing the injury and declaring that no grave consequences were likely to ensue from the accident, "as the king's general health is good and he is a young man."

King Albert I. is 38 years old. He succeeded his uncle, Leopold, on Dec. 17, 1909. He married Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria in 1900 and the royal couple have three children.

FILIBUSTER BY THE REPUBLICANS

Washington, Feb. 17.—A Republican filibuster prevented consideration of the Indian appropriation bill in the house yesterday and forced an adjournment. Representative Gardner of Massachusetts engineered the move in an effort to advance the legislative standing of a bill to pension widows and orphans of Spanish war veterans.

WOULD RETURN HALF OF TAX TO STATES

Washington, Feb. 17.—Senator Gallinger, the Republican floor leader, has introduced an amendment to the tariff laws proposing that 50 per cent of the income tax collected in each state shall be paid over to the state treasurer to be equitably distributed to the various cities and towns. Senator Gallinger said his object was to reduce the local tax rates.

CHICAGO WOMAN HURT AT BERNE

Berne, Switzerland, Feb. 17.—A bob sled, the steering gear of which got out of order, shot over a bank yesterday while going at a terrific pace at a point known as Sunny Corner. It drove into a crowd of spectators and Mrs. Swift Fernald of Chicago was badly cut about the head and neck and several others were injured. Princess Di San Faustino and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont had a narrow escape from being run down.

OFFICERS ARE PLEASED WITH ARMORY SITE

Commander Guy Eaton of the naval militia and Col. F. E. Resche of the state militia are well pleased with the site which the city proposes to secure for the new armory at Thirteenth avenue east and London road. The city will institute condemnation proceedings to secure the property.

The militia officials called upon Mayor Prince this morning to express their gratification with the city's action. They asserted that the site would be ideal for armory purposes.

Peace Treaty No. 13 Signed.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The thirteenth of Secretary Bryan's peace treaties, that with the Dominican republic, was signed today.

HAVE YOU HAD THE GRIP?

There are certain disorders, such as the grip, that especially debilitate and make the body an easy prey for more dangerous diseases. Ask those who have had the grip regarding the present condition of their health and most of them will answer: "Since I had the grip I have never been well." They still have profuse perspiration, the persistent weakness of the limbs, the disordered digestion, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart caused by the thin-blooded condition in which the grip almost always leaves its victim after the fever and influenza have subsided. They are furthermore, at the mercy of relapses and of complications, often very serious. In an attack of the grip there is a rapid thinning of the blood and not until the blood is built up again is complete health restored.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly make the blood rich and red, drive out the lingering germs from the system and transform despondent grip victims into cheerful, healthy men and women.

Try the pills for any form of debility caused by thin blood.

Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Fondle is Woman's Greatest Happiness.

She is wisdom itself who knows of or learns of that famous remedy, Mother's Friend. It is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It has a wonderful influence, allays all fear, banishes all pain, is a grateful encouragement to the expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should.

The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and, in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation.

There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women.

This splendid remedy can be had of any drug.ist at $1.00 a bottle. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 232 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book to expectant mothers.

HOLM TRIAL HAS STARTED

Man Alleged to Have Killed Wife to Face Jury.

North Dakota Attorney General Is Assisting in Prosecuting.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—With his father, aged 91, and his mother, aged 89, sitting at his side, Matt Holum, aged 54, today faced trial in the district court here, charged with wife murder.

Holum entered a plea of not guilty, and the task of securing a jury was immediately commenced. The question has had largely to do with the belief of the prospective jurymen in the value of circumstantial evidence in murder trials, as the prosecution must rely entirely upon circumstantial evidence to convict.

Attorney General Assists.

Attorney General Miller is assisting State's Attorney Grinsen of Cavalier county in the prosecution.

The case was brought here from Langdon under a change of venue. The accused's wife was found dead under a barn at the Holum home with the skull beaten in and Holum was arrested.

TAKES TEETH OUT OF "RED LIGHT" LAW

St. Paul Judge Holds Confiscatory Features Unconstitutional.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 17.—"No reasonable necessity exists for such a startling departure from constitutional principles."

With these words, Judge Dickinson, in a decision handed down yesterday, held the confiscatory clauses of the Minnesota abatement law unconstitutional. The decisions were rendered in three cases brought last month under the new statute by the state through R. S. Wilcox.

Judge Dickinson holds that the clauses requiring the building found to have been used as a disorderly house to be closed for a year is unconstitutional. He holds similarly in the portions of the law requiring the assessment of a $300 fine and the seizure of the musical instruments and other furniture for sale at public auction.

General Laws Sufficient.

He declares that the general laws of Minnesota for 1913 carried sufficient punishment in that they prescribed a fine of from $100 to $1,000, or imprisonment from three to six months, or both, for keepers of disorderly houses. Such fine and imprisonment could be invoked summarily after the person or persons had been found guilty in the civil court of keeping a disorderly house.

The judge upholds the law where a permanent injunction is required forever closing the premises for use as disorderly houses.

EQUITY SOCIETY MEETS.

New Rockford, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Society of Equity will meet here Feb. 25 and 26, and it is expected that there will be between 300 and 400 delegates attending, representing all the unions in the state.

The Equity Exchange company is a creature of the State Society of Equity, and its officers will ask for an indorsement of their course in handling the affairs of that branch.

MILLER IS AFTER U. S. SENATORSHIP

ANDREW MILLER.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney General Andrew Miller has formally announced his candidacy for the United States senatorship opposing Senator Gronna. Miller has been sort of Republican flambeau in North Dakota politics and is expected to develop a big following in his party and even among Democrats, as he has always been classed as a Burke Republican.

TEN SALOONS LESS.

Marquette Commission Reduces Number and Boosts License Fee.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Marquette's new city commission last night reduced the number of saloons from 33 to 23 and increased the license fee from $500 to $750. It was found the old council had licensed ten saloons in excess of the number permitted by state law.

POSTMASTER IS SUED.

South Dakota Official Defendant in Action for Lost Money.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Feb. 17.—Suit was filed here yesterday in the United States district court by the United States government against Postmaster P. J. Rogde and his bondsmen for the recovery of $10,000 which disappeared from the registered mail in Sioux Falls postoffice in June, 1911. According to instructions from Washington, Robert Stewart, United States district attorney, began the action under postal regulations holding postmasters responsible for all registered mail in their care. The mystery of the disappearance of the money in a registered package addressed to a local bank has never been solved.

BRICKLAYERS ASK FOR MORE WAGES

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 17.—Increase of wages from 65 to 70 cents an hour, beginning May 1, is demanded by the Bricklayers' International Union No. 2 of Minnesota in a letter to the Minneapolis city council. The communication, signed by Secretary William C. Orttler, says bricklayers will ask a half day off each Saturday in June, July, August and September.

Increased cost of living is given as the cause for the demand for increased pay.

DIES ALL ALONE.

Well-to-Do North Dakota Bachelor Found Frozen Stiff.

Rugby, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owning a half section farm and with more than $4,000 in checks and notes upon his person, Olaf A. Moen, a bachelor farmer, was found dead in his home. He lived alone and was lying across the bed fully dressed. It is supposed he became ill and sat down on the bed when death came. His body was frozen stiff and his horses nearly starved. It is thought he had been dead several days when found.

ARTESIAN GUSHER IS NOW CONTROLLED

Cayuga, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—After being on the rampage for five years the artesian well on the U. E. Bergstrom farm has settled down to business and is now giving an abundance of splendid water. At times it would give a mere dribble, at others the flow was so strong it could scarcely be controlled, at other times its activity was so pronounced that great quantities of sand would be poured out. Following an especially violent eruption the water cleared up and is of fine quality.

WORST IS SPEAKER AT MINOT MEETING

Minot, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—President J. H. Worst of the North Dakota agricultural college is the principal speaker on today's program of the Ward county farm convention, opened here yesterday, in addition to speaking before the farmers' section of the big week's agricultural gathering, President Worst also addressed the boys' agricultural school.

Crop rotation and the handling of cows were the principal subjects taken up today.

UNDERWOOD, N. D., SCHOOL DAMAGED

Underwood, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local school building caught on fire and was damaged about $1,400. This followed the big $20,000 fire of three days before and that the school building was saved is probably due to the fact the chemical engines had just been recharged following the recent fire and were in fine shape.

FALLING TREE BREAKS LEG OF WISCONSIN MAN

Couderay, Wis., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Throndson of Baldwin, Wis., had his leg broken below the knee by a falling tree that "kicked out" when it fell. He was employed in the woods near Winter, and was taken to the hospital at Chippewa Falls.

FOUR CHILDREN ARE GIVEN LARGE ESTATE

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 17.—The will of the late Judge J. W. Cochran who died in Florida has been filed for probate. The estate barring a few minor bequests is divided equally among the four children: J. E. Cochran and Percy Cochran of Elkhart, Ind.; Mrs. Overton of Madison and Mrs. Caroline Felt Small of Evanston, Ill.

The only provision regarding Mrs. Cochran, the widow, is that she shall have the personal property in the Ashland home and that she is otherwise provided for in an agreement made prior to her marriage. The value of the estate is not given but it is supposed to be about $1,250,000.

DIES OF EXPOSURE.

Lumberjack Who Combines Booze With Cold Pays Extreme Penalty.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Feb. 17.—James Johnson, aged 60, for years employed as lumberjack by the Rice Lake Lumber company at Draper, who was found lying in the snow outside of Draper Friday intoxicated and suffering from cold, died at a local hospital, despite efforts to save him.

Thursday evening he went to Draper, where he imbibed freely and was finally ordered to leave the saloon. Nothing more was heard of him until his unconscious body was found huddled in the snow at the side of the road a short distance from town. Partly intoxicated, he probably wandered about the woods until the cold overcame him.

He was brought to the hospital Friday evening but little could be done for him and he died without regaining consciousness.

Little is known of the man's family.

SHERIFF WORKS RUSE.

Disguises as Farmer Seeking Help and Catches Jail-Breaker.

Wabasha, Minn., Feb. 17.—Sheriff J. E. Boehlke has arrested Bill Poole on the charge of breaking jail in Wabasha March 30, 1896, while under indictment on the charge of grand larceny in the first degree. Poole disappeared, but is said to have reappeared in this section several weeks ago. The sheriff got his man near Zumbro Falls by disguising himself as a farmer and driving around the country in an old rig in search of hired help.

UNPAID-FOR TEETH PULLED BY DENTIST

Butte, Mont., Feb. 17.—Miss Saimi Hoffman has filed a suit against Dr. Edward J. Rinckel, a dentist, alleging that he knocked her down into a chair and extracted two teeth he had placed in her upper jaw when he did not receive payment for the work. She asks $10,000 damages.

CROOKSTON SORT OF GRETNA GREEN

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—John C. Hammond of Grand Forks and Miss Lillian McClarey of Fisher, Minn., are said to have eloped to Crookston and were wedded, the news being telephoned to the girl's parents after the couple returned here.

On Saturday, Miss Gladys Hill, employed in a Grand Forks store, departed from her work at noon and two hours later wedded Stewart McKenzie at Crookston.

Change Cloquet Lodge Date.

Cloquet, Minn., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Modern Brotherhood of America lodge has changed its meeting night to the second and fourth Friday evenings of each month. The next meeting will be held Feb. 27 in Beaupre's hall.

Daily Hazen Mail Service.

Hazen, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A daily mail service has finally been secured after a strenuous effort by the residents of Hazen. The three-day a week service was all right before Hazen had a railway and before the town began to grow. The new service will start April 1.

Bickford Gets Rehearing.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court yesterday granted G. L. Bickford, former state treasurer, a rehearing in so far as it relates to the constitutionality of the act, covering the wrongful conversion of state funds.

Bickford was convicted of embezzlement of public moneys.

WOMEN FROM 45 to 55 TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis. — "At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since." — Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—The Baraboo, Devils Lake & Western Railway company was incorporated here with $100,000 capital. MARKET HAS AN ADVANCE

Wheat Higher on Good Buying and Strength in Cash Situation.

Flaxseed Still Strong With Liberal Demand From Crusher's Interest.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 17.—The strength in the market increased at the close on good buying. May wheat closed 1¾c up at 93⅜@93½c, and July 1⅝c up. May durum closed 1c up and July 1c up.

Oats closed ¾c up at 36⅝@37⅛c. Rye closed ½c up at 56c for the best grade, and barley unchanged at from 44c to 66c.

At Winnipeg May oats closed at 38⅜c and July at 37⅛c.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 92⅛@92¼c and calls at 93c bid.

Wheat options advanced sharply today on the strength in the cash situation. This was helped along by higher cables and good export buying at Winnipeg. It was reported from up there that exporters were in the market heavily today and that several lots had been sold at round 93c for May. The cash market was stiff at all points. Advices were received from Minneapolis to the effect that the elevator men are looking for good sales of cash stuff out of their houses, and that some hedges are being taken off.

A wire from Kansas City said that the mills are in the market strongly for wheat, and that supplies coming in are insufficient to cover requirements.

Bradstreet's world's visible estimate was rather bearish, showing a decrease in wheat stocks for the week of only 451,000 bu. Corn supplies increased 748,000 bu and oats decreased 1,160,000 bu. The European visible supply report showed an increase of 1,288,000 bu over last week, bringing supplies up to 79,784,000 bu.

Receipts at American primary markets were light, being 576,000 bu against 821,000 bu last year. At Duluth wheat inspections today came to only 10 cars, against 149 a year ago, while there were on the tracks for the day just nine cars of all grains.

May wheat opened unchanged at 92¼c and advanced ⅞c up to the final hour on steady bidding. The July option opened ⅛c up at 93⅜c and gained ⅝c more.

A strong Eastern call was reported for durum and the May option advanced ⅞c after opening unchanged at 92½c.

Flaxseed Is Strong.

Trading in flaxseed was on the narrow order again today, but the situation in it was strong with good buying orders in operators' hands for execution. Holders were firm and crushers were able to pick up only odd lots at around the range going.

Foreign cables were off, with Buenos Ayres ⅛c down and Antwerp 1¼c down and London ¾d higher.

Price changes for the day in the seed were just fractional. The May option opened unchanged at $1.55¼ and closed ½c up at $1.55⅝. The July option opened unchanged at $1.57¼ and closed ¼c up at $1.57½ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.36 bid and July at $1.38½.

Cash Sales Tuesday.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The Minneapolis cash market was steady today but the demand was not so keen as mills have considerable wheat bought to arrive to be digested as line companies are beginning to ship this wheat in. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at from 1⅛@2⅛c over May, and velvet chaff at from 1c to 1½c over May. There were some light scattered flour sales but the aggregate business was moderate. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from 92⅜c to 94¼c and No. 2 northern at from 90¾c to 92¼c.

Parker Paine had the following wire from Chicago this morning: "The only large supplies of wheat for Europe aside from the United States and Canada are in Russia, where the amount back and the amount that will be shipped are always matters of uncertainty. The cash wheat position here and in the Northwest suggests good support on any reaction and prices are likely to work higher."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The wheat market opened with an advance of ⅛d and later gained an additional ⅛d to ¼d with undertone firm. The strength in Winnipeg yesterday, firmness of Manitoba offers, better demand for Australian cargoes, strength in spot here, and local millers buying stimulated the strength. Continental demand shows a renewal of activity and the firmness with which good wheat is being held is leading to apprehension. At 1:30 p. m. the market was firm, ¼d to ⅜d higher.

"Corn opened unchanged as influenced by America in the face of foreign strength but later advanced ¼d with shorts covering on the firmness in Buenos Ayres and Rosario, strength in spot here and decreasing stocks. At 1:30 p. m. the market was ¼d higher."

European visible—Wheat, 79,784,000 bu against 78,496,000 bu last week; increase, 1,288,000 bu.

Foreign crop summary: United Kingdom—The weather is generally favorable and outlook satisfactory.

France—There are some fears of damage from recent severe weather, but generally the outlook is favorable.

Germany—A succession of freezing and thawing will result in damage. The weather is seasonable, but not severe and there is partial snow covering.

Russia—Crop conditions continue favorable with the weather milder.

Roumania—There are no complaints from the crop, with the weather favorable.

India — General rain has been confirmed, but too late to benefit to any extent, and it is against harvesting in the early districts.

Baker's Minneapolis correspondent received the following letter from Buenos Ayres regarding the flax market: "The market has been influenced by the persistent European demand for all positions meeting with moderate offerings on this side. Reports as to yields continue as conflicting as ever. The absence of selling pressure is causing some nervousness and a change of sentiment. The weather, however, has not been favorable to threshing, which explains, in a measure, the paucity of offers."

Primary market receipts of wheat from July 1 to last Friday are 54,000,000 bu less than for the corresponding period a year ago, and about 60,000,000 bu less than two years ago. Respective totals were 246,487,000 bu, 300,647,000 bu and 186,214,000 bu. Primary receipts of corn since Nov. 1 total 83,382,000 bu, as against 89,759,000 bu a year ago and 78,067,000 bu two years ago. Oats receipts since Aug. 1 total 136,678,000 bu against 154,402,000 bu a year ago and 89,077,000 bu for the corresponding period of 1911-1912.

Kansas farmers are said to be anxious sellers of their surplus wheat, as the prospects for the growing crop were never better and the acreage in that state is also liberal. Some millers in Kansas believe there will be a crop of at least 100,000,000 bu, with deterioration included, as the promise at present is for total yield of 130,000,000 bu.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Higher European Quotations Favor Advance in Wheat.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Higher quotations at European centers favored an advancing market today for wheat. The strength of trans-Atlantic prices was considered especially significant as prevailing in the face of a substantial increase of the European visible supply. The market opened ⅛@¼c to ½@⅝c up and after a brief dip, showed a rally all around.

Sales here and elsewhere to seaboard exporters had an additional bullish influence. So also did an improved demand from domestic mills. The close was steady at a net advance of ⅝c to ¾@⅞c.

Corn rose, impelled chiefly by the firmness of wheat. Opening prices were unchanged to ⅛c higher, and there was a subsequent further gain.

Thaws which were expected to put country roads into less favorable condition acted against the bears. The close was steady, ⅝c to ¾c above last night.

Not much demand developed for oats. The market, however, sympathized with the upturn in other cereals.

Provisions were governed by the course of prices for hogs, initial steadiness being succeeded by a moderate setback. First transactions varied from a shade off to an advance of 2½c with a later fall of 10c from top figures.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 17.—Stronger cables and an increased cash demand caused the wheat market to rule higher today. Both May and July options opened higher.

Wheat: May opened 91¾c; high, 92½c; low, 91¼c; closed, 92⅜@92½c asked.

July opened 92¾c; high, 93⅝c; low, 92½@92¾c; closed, 93⅜c bid.

Cash: No. 1 hard, 95⅞c; No. 1 northern, 93⅞@94⅞c; to arrive, 94⅞c; choice to arrive, 94⅞c; No. 2 northern, 91⅜@92½c; to arrive, 89⅜@91⅝c; No. 3 wheat, 88⅜@90⅝c.

Flax—$1.53¼@1.55⅝c.

The flour market was strong today. While price quotations were unchanged, millers reported that a raise of from 10c to 15c a hundred pounds was contemplated. Shipments, 64,454 barrels.

Barley, 45@67c. Rye, 56c. Bran, $23.00.

New York Grain.

New York, Feb. 17.—Wheat—May, $1.02⅛@1.02⅝; July, 97⅝c.

DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Pressure Lacking, But No Headway Made in Advancing Prices.

Great Northern Declines on Notice of a Stock Increase.

New York, Feb. 17.—The market was relieved today from the pressure directed against it during the preceding session, but made little progress toward recovering the losses then inflicted. The tone was steady throughout the forenoon, but speculative buying was limited and its influence was nullified by renewed weakness in New Haven and profit-taking in specialties which recently had been strong.

For a time prices moved upward slowly, but offerings at higher figures were not well taken. Some of the specialties made good gains, but the railroad stocks once more were inclined to lag behind and the movement as a whole was insignificant.

Bonds were steady.

The volume of business was light at the opening of the market today and price changes were small. The Harriman stocks were slightly lower, and Reading and Amalgamated made slight gains. Some of the inactive shares moved more widely, but fluctuations among the leaders were narrow with no perceptible trend in either direction.

Buying orders increased and the popular shares moved half a point or so above their opening figures. Profit-taking in Western Union cost it a point and New Haven fell nearly as much.

Traders took small profits and the reaction was accelerated by selling of Chesapeake & Ohio, which fell 1¼. General Motors shares forged upward, the common rising 4 and the preferred 2½ points.

Prices drifted idly in the late session, but the undertone was good. The slight effect produced on the general list by the weakness or strength of special stocks discouraged outside participation in speculation.

The market closed heavy. Announcement of a $19,000,000 Great Northern stock increase caused a decline in the shares of over 2 points. The rest of the list also became slightly reactionary.

MINING STOCKS ARE FIRMLY HELD

The market in mining stocks at Boston today was largely a waiting affair. Prices were fairly well held and buying orders were reported in hand in the more active issues for execution on the breaks. Price changes in the day were only nominal.

Butte & Superior was actively traded in on the good reports coming out regarding operations at the mine. It closed 25c up at $36.50. Shattuck closed unchanged at $28.50; Tamarack, 25c up at $40; Butte & Ballaklava, a shade off at $3.75; Alaska Gold, unchanged at $22.62; Granby, 50c off at $87; North Butte, a fraction off at $30, and Arnalgamated Copper a shade off at $75.62.

Calumet & Corbin was the feature in the Duluth curb list, selling up from 13c to 16c and closing at the latter figure bid. That issue is now listed at Boston, and the market there led in the bidding for it today.

Keating sold at $1.12 and Alex Scott at $5. Calumet & Sonora turned weak, being offered at 95c without bids.

A wire received by Gay & Sturgis from Butte today said: "Butte & Superior at its present mills rate, grade of ore and price of spelter will make over $150,000 this month, equal to better than 50 cents per share on its stock."

The regular $1.50 quarterly dividend has been declared on Granby.

Utah Copper company's production, according to preliminary figures show a production in January of 10,649,036 pounds of copper.

At St. Louis lead closed dull at $3.87½ bid and spelter dull at $5.27½@5.30.

LANE WOULD LEASE ALASKAN LANDS

Washington, Feb. 17.—The best policy in making Alaskan coal available would be to open the lands under a leasing system, Secretary Lane told the house public lands committee today, allowing limited areas to small coal operators with reservations of 5,120 acres in the Bering river coal tract and 7,680 acres in the Matanuska fields for government purposes.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION
—OF—
JOHN A. SAVAGE & COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we whose names are hereunto subscribed hereby associate ourselves under the Constitution and Laws of the State of Minnesota, and more particularly under the provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota of the year 1905, and any laws amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, as a corporation, and to that end do hereby adopt the following Articles of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be JOHN A. SAVAGE & COMPANY, and the general nature of its business shall be the mining, smelting, reducing, refining and working of iron ores and other minerals, and the manufacture of iron, steel, copper and other metals; the buying, working, selling and dealing in mineral lands; the buying, selling and improving lands and tenements; the buying and selling of stock and bonds and other securities; the engaging in the business of selling lands to actual settlers; the transportation of iron ore and other commodities, and the handling of property on commission.

The principal place of transacting the business of this corporation shall be at Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, with such other offices and places of business, either within or without the State of Minnesota, as may from time to time be determined upon by the management of this corporation.

ARTICLE II.

The period of the duration of this corporation shall be thirty (30) years, commencing February 26th, 1914.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators are John A. Savage, C. M. Van Norman, W. D. Bailey and W. G. Whitney, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The management of this corporation shall be vested in a board of three directors, all of whom shall be elected by the stockholders, and all of whom shall be stockholders. The date of the annual meeting shall be the second Monday in January of each year, at which meeting said board shall be elected. The names and addresses of those composing said board of directors until the first election and the qualification of the directors thereat chosen shall be John A. Savage, whose address is Duluth, Minnesota; C. M. Van Norman, whose address is Duluth, Minnesota, and W. D. Bailey, whose address is Duluth, Minnesota.

Within ten days after each annual election of directors the board of directors then chosen shall elect the following officers, namely: President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. One person may hold any two of said offices excepting the offices of President and Vice President.

Until the election and qualification of officers to be elected by the board of directors chosen at the first annual meeting, the officers of this corporation shall be as follows:

John A. Savage, President.
C. M. Van Norman, Vice President.
W. D. Bailey, Secretary.
W. G. Whitney, Treasurer.

The directors and officers, except those herein designated to act until the first election, shall hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected and qualified. In case a vacancy occurs in any of the offices or in the membership of the board of directors, either before or after the first annual meeting, the same shall be filled by the board of directors until the next annual election and until such vacancy shall be filled by election held in accordance with these Articles and such By-Laws as may be adopted.

The Board of Directors may create and fill such additional offices as it may from time to time deem necessary, and may abolish and discontinue such additional offices at will. The Board of Directors shall also have power, when in its judgment cause exists, to remove any officers of this corporation from their offices and declare such offices vacant.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00), divided into two hundred and fifty (250) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) each, the same to be sold and paid for as called for by the Board of Directors at par for cash or property deemed by the Board of Directors equivalent in value thereto, such determination by the Board of Directors to be final and binding on the parties in interest. Stock upon which payments have not been made as called for by the Board of Directors shall not be entitled to vote or representation in any of the proceedings of this corporation.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned have hereunto set their hands and seals this 6th day of February, A. D. 1914.

THE HERALD IS DULUTH'S GREAT WANT AD MEDIUM

POULTRY, EGGS

and BABY FOWLS ARE WANTED!

S. C. RHODE ISLAND REDS: 1st Cock, J. W. Nelson.

THERE are a large number of people in Duluth and vicinity who will buy breeding stock, eggs, baby fowls or chickens for laying this season. Some one will gladly purchase what you wish to sell. Herald want ads are the best poultry salesman available.

CIRCULATION GREATEST —RATES LOWEST

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in the world in a city the size of Duluth. Its rates for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in Minnesota. Best results are gained from ads when definite information is given. When information is lacking the presumption is that desirable features are lacking. Information as to contract rates and the probable amount of space your ad would take gladly given.

RULES OF EVIDENCE INVOKED TO GOVERN COPPER MINE PROBE

Chairman Taylor of House Committee Grants Concession.

Miners Tell More of Alleged Violations of Their Rights.

Sharp Debate Held Over Admission of Hearsay Evidence.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — Further testimony to show that the constitutional rights of strikers had been interfered with was ready for introduction at today's session of the congressional committee investigating the copper miners' strike.

Representative Samuel Taylor of Arkansas, arrived here today to join the congressional investigating committee and was present at the afternoon hearing. The committee is now complete.

Slow progress was made at the morning session, which was devoted to hearing strikers who charged they had been searched for weapons unlawfully by deputy sheriffs and members of the Citizens' Alliance deputized by Sheriff Cruse.

As the result of a decision reached yesterday after a sharp debate between Congressman Taylor, the chairman, and Representative Switzer, one of the two Republican members, the committee will accept hearsay testimony. Mr. Switzer's contention that some limit should be fixed on the evidence so that everything offered would not be admitted into the record, was overruled by the Democratic majority on the committee.

Ferris Asks Data.

A telegram from Governor Ferris asking Chairman Taylor to wire dates and places of alleged violations of the law by the Michigan National Guard, together with available names of officers, was read today at the opening of the congressional inquiry. It was in response to the invitation extended the executive yesterday to have the state represented when the strikers make their charges against the militia.

FEDERAL JUDGE IS ACCUSED BY UNIONS

West Virginians Charge A. D. Dayton With Prejudice.

Washington, Feb. 18. — Charges against Federal Judge A. D. Dayton of the Northern West Virginia district were filed with President Wilson today in a petition by a committee of the United Mine Workers and the Ohio Valley Trades and Labor assembly, asking for an investigation.

Judge Dayton was charged with prejudices which incapacitate him from sitting as a judge, and the petition contained allegations intended to support that charge. President Wilson promised to consider the petition and refer it to Attorney General McReynolds.

"RITUAL MURDER" CASE IS DROPPED

Jew Arrested in Russia Released By the Authorities.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—Telegrams from Kiev announce that Pashkoff, the Jewish tailor who was arrested and charged with the "ritual murder" of the boy Yoshel Pashkoff, has been released on bail in consequence of the discovery alive of the Christian boy Taranthevitch, who was at first said to have been the victim of the alleged crime. Taranthevitch, according to first reports, had been adopted by Pashkoff as his son, and then murdered.

A Russian peasant named Gondeharuk, arrested in connection with the alleged murder, was set at liberty today.

Today's developments appear to dispose of the allegations of "ritual murder" put forward by the members of the "Black Hundred"—the society responsible for the instigation of many massacres of Hebrews in Russia.

DENVER VOTES FOR CITY WATER PLANT

Taxpayers Pass Plan By Vote of Two to One.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 18.—By a vote of 2 to 1, the taxpaying electors of this city decided yesterday to proceed with the sale of $8,000,000 of city bonds, and with the proceeds construct a municipal water plant.

A plan of the retail association to submit the appraisal of the Denver Union Water company, now supplying the city on sufferance, to the arbitration of nine arbitrators with a maximum price of $11,000,000, was rejected.

The taxpayers' electors also, by a vote of approximately 3 to 1, voted to issue $3,000,000 city bonds for the construction of a tunnel through James peak to provide a short cut to Salt Lake City, for use of the Denver & Salt Lake railroad mainly, but for the use of all other lines. The Denver & Salt Lake management guaranteed the interest on the bonds, which are to extend over sixty years.

EXPELLED FROM ITALY ON BLACKMAIL CHARGE

LOUISE SCOTT GARLAND

Washington, Feb. 18.—Louise Garland, who was known in Washington years ago as Louise Scott, has been deported from Italy because of the complaint of Jack Heyne, of Rome, of New York, ex-army officer of England, that she was trying to blackmail him. Hine met her at a tango palace and liked her so well that he went abroad and traveled with her. After a time he got tired and decided to return to New York, but Mrs. Garland was not willing to part with him, and she had him arrested on a charge of stealing a diamond hat pin which he had given her. He missed his boat at Naples while settling this case. Then he went with her to Rome, where they lived in a pension. Again he decided to return to New York, and this time she charged him with stealing her luggage. Then the Italian authorities took a hand and expelled her from Italy. She made an effort to have Vice Consul Bywater intercede for her, but after a half-hour talk with her he had her expelled from his office. Ambassador Page declined to see her. Some years ago Col. Edwards, secretary of the Democratic committee, and Alejandro Garland were mixed up in a stabbing affray over her.

BEAT BOYS TO OUST DEVILS

Are Fined $100 and Costs for Obeying Church Order.

Newton, Ill., Feb. 18.—The lynching of four religious enthusiasts after they had been found guilty and fined $100 and costs each for trying to whip "sin and the devil" out of two small boys was narrowly averted in the justice court here.

The attack on the men on trial was precipitated when Raymond and Cameron Richardson, 9 and 12 years old, bared their backs and exhibited to the court a mass of cuts and bruises which it was charged members of the Holiness cult had inflicted during church services a week ago.

The enraged spectators seized Rev. David P. Lyons, pastor of the Springs Holiness church, the nearest prisoner, knocked him to the floor and beat and kicked him. Threats of lynching were being made, when Sheriff Pippin and a large force of special deputies fought their way through the spectators and protected the prisoners.

Second Outbreak.

A second outbreak occurred at the close of the trial as the defendants were being led to jail. Besides Rev. Lyons, those fined were Frank Cummins, Cameron Cummins and Mrs. Emma Van Treese, an aunt of the boys.

The lads were beaten because they were believed to have been possessed of evil spirits. All the available city and county officials and a posse of citizens surrounded the prisoners as they were led from the courtroom. In spite of these precautions, the mob made a second attempt to secure the defendants, but were held off by the officers. The four gave notice of appeal and were held under $1,000 bond each.

Action will be brought against all who were in the church on Sunday when the congregation voted that the boys should be beaten "to rid them of the devils."

Could Not Say Lessons.

According to the testimony, the boys had been unable to repeat the lessons which had been given them at a Holiness meeting. After the congregation had decided on their punishment the boys were tied hand and foot and placed on the floor.

SCHRANK TAKEN TO ASYLUM AT WAUPUN

Fond du Lac, Wis., Feb. 18.—John Schrank, who attempted to assassinate Theodore Roosevelt at Milwaukee two years ago, and who has been confined at the Northern Wisconsin hospital for the insane at Oshkosh since his trial, was transferred to the hospital for criminal insane at Waupun today.

Earthquake in Reno.

Reno, Nev., Feb. 18.—An earthquake occurred here at 10:18 a. m. today. The shock was violent and lasted about three seconds. The direction was from southeast to northwest.

MAY EXECUTE AN AMERICAN

Mexican Rebels Hold Him as Spy--Briton Arrested, Too.

Castillo's Capture By U. S. Troops Puzzles Washington.

Juarez, Feb. 18.—Two foreigners, one a British subject and the other an American, are in trouble here, and the American, Gustav Bouch, may be shot as a spy.

The British subject arrested is William S. Benton, owner of a magnificent 100,000-acre ranch west of the city of Chihuahua. He has lived in Mexico for thirty years and his wife is a Mexican woman. He was arrested on suspicion of having been connected with the Federal filibustering movement having its base on the American side.

Puzzled Over Castillo.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Castillo, the Mexican bandit who wrecked the Cumbre tunnel and caused the death of several Americans, has furnished the latest knot in the Mexican tangle, with his capture by United States troops in New Mexico. Officials of three departments of the government were searching archives today for precedents to determine what they shall do with him.

Diplomatists pointed out that to extradite Castillo to the Constitutionalists might be construed as a recognition of their belligerency. There was no indication that the Huerta government

RESERVE BANK MEN BACK AT CAPITAL

New York, Chicago and St. Louis Seem Assured as Centers.

Washington, Feb. 18.—With the return of the reserve bank organization committee today, active work began upon definition of the geographic limits of the reserve districts nd selection of cities for reserve banks.

Under the law, national banks required to enter the system or eventually give up their charters, have until Feb. 22 to signify their intention to become members. Although only 300 national banks of the 7,500 remained today on the list of those which had not taken such action, it was understood that the committee would withhold announcement of cities and districts until the time limit expires.

Although the committee's trip through the country may have changed its opinion of the proper location of several banks, it is not doubted here that banks will be placed in New York, Chicago and St. Louis, central reserve cities in the present national bank system. The location of the others was still regarded today as an open question.

Picking New Board.

While the committee is working out that problem, its members will consult with President Wilson about the makeup of the Federal reserve board, the organization which is to govern the new system. The personnel of this board is of great interest in banking circles and it is known that President Wilson has examined all names suggested with the closest scrutiny.

Five persons are to be chosen by the president before the board is complete, but it is understood that all the names will be sent to the senate for confirmation at the same time.

MAY PASS BILL OVER THE VETO

Senators Express Determination to Keep Literacy Test.

Lively Session Over Immigration Restriction Is in Prospect.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Facing presidential veto of the Burnett immigration bill should it pass congress with the literacy test provision incorporated in it, the senate immigration committee today resumed consideration of the measure.

The prospects were for a lively session, for despite President Wilson's opposition to the much-discussed provision, members of the committee were inclined to retain that feature in the bill as it passed the house. With the action of the senate in repassing over President Taft's veto of the Dillingham-Burnett immigration bill a year ago, although it failed in the house, still fresh in their minds, members of the committee were discussing today prospects of similar steps should President Wilson carry out his intention to veto the present bill.

Surprised the Committee.

Word that the president would exercise his veto prerogative in event the bill was received by him with the literacy test provision, came as a great surprise to committee members. They had been under the impression that while he did not favor that feature, he would sign the bill if it passed congress. Now, however, the practical certainty of veto awaiting the bill should it be passed with the literacy test provision, has served to complicate the situation, and members of the committee were prepared to thresh it over when they met today.

SLUGS CLERK AND GETS $6,400 LOOT

Daylight Robber Works in Express Office at Farmington.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 18.—While crowds filled the streets, a bandit robbed the office of the Adams Express company at Farmington of a package containing $6,400 and escaped after probably fatally injuring the agent late yesterday afternoon. Bloodhounds have been sent for, and surrounding cities notified of the search for the robber.

The express office is located in the bank building and it was here that the attack occurred. The robber told the agent, C. R. Brown, that his name was Perkins and that he was looking for a package. When told there was no package for him, he struck Brown over the head and beat him into unconsciousness, then bound and gagged him.

Brown was found an hour later, but did not regain consciousness for two hours. Physicians report that his skull is fractured. He is unable to give a complete description of the robber.

The police believe three men carried out the robbery, as a trio of strangers was seen loitering around the express office.

MRS. LOGAN TAKES POISON BY MISTAKE

Washington, Feb. 18.—Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of the Civil war hero, took a poisonous medicine at her home here last night, thinking she was taking a cold remedy, and for several hours was in a precarious condition. Physicians gave antidotes in good time and today she was reported out of danger.

NEW CLEW IN AURORA CASE

Knife With Man's Name on Handle Found Near Corpse.

Negro Says Petras Was on Same Car as Hollander Girl.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 18.—A new murder trail from St. Nicholas cemetery, where Miss Theresa Hollander was clubbed to death Monday night, led Chief of Police Michels out of Aurora at an early hour this morning. The police refused to say where the chief had gone, but it is understood he hurried into Chicago.

While the girl's former sweetheart, Anthony Petras, a 23-year-old Austrian, who was recently married, is still held in jail for the crime and is believed by the chief the slayer, he is overlooking no clew which may throw further light on the graveyard murder. It is said Chief Michels went to Chicago this morning to get a former Auroran whose pocket knife was found a few feet from the body of the girl in the burying ground. The name of the Auroran was on the knife handle.

Negro Not Suspected.

The police declare the report that Walter Hickman, the negro who was on the homeward bound car with Miss Hollander and Petras about fifteen minutes before the hour of the slaying, is being sought as a suspect, is unfounded. He was at his home last night and was at work today in his usual place of employment, a downtown buffet.

It was Hickman who told that Petras got off the car a block beyond where Miss Hollander left it and then ran back to the corner where she alighted. Hickman said he got off the car with Petras. Petras, denying

SUFFRAGETTE WHIPS BARON AT WEDDING

Lord Weardale, Head of Anti-Suffragist Society, Knocked Down.

London, Feb. 18.—A militant suffragette armed with a whip savagely attacked Baron Weardale while he was waiting today with 200 other wedding guests for a train to Althorp Park, Northampton. The party was going to attend the wedding of the Hon. Sydney Peel, son of Viscount Peel, and Lady Della Spencer, daughter of Earl Spencer.

Lord Weardale was walking with his wife along the platform when he was approached from behind by the woman. At the first blow from her powerful dog whip he fell in a heap to the ground.

The anxiety of his friends was relieved when it was found that Lord Weardale had not suffered any serious injury. The woman was arrested.

When arraigned, she refused to give her name and told the police magistrate she did not desire to say anything.

Lord Weardale said the woman was a stranger to him. As a possible explanation of the assault, he noted that he and Earl Curzon of Kedleston were joint presidents of the anti-suffragist society.

The detective who arrested the suffragette in Euston station, said she told him "I meant to give him a good thrashing. You don't know what harm he has done us."

The prisoner wore the badge of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette organization. She was remanded for further inquiry.

LAKE'S LEVEL IN NO DANGER

Assurance That Government Engineers Will Not Permit It.

Soo Petition Affects Only Regulation Works in Present Canal.

The level of Lake Superior is in absolutely no danger, according to assurance given Congressman Miller by the board of army engineers in Washington yesterday, the word being received here from Julius H. Barnes, now in Washington.

Mr. Barnes, who is in Washington in connection with traffic matters now being heard before the interstate commerce commission, today wired this comforting news concerning the matter of the proposed damming of the Soo river and the threatened raising of lake levels. The telegram was received this morning by George D. McCarthy, assistant secretary of the Commercial club, and is as follows:

"Representative Miller has had the Lake Superior level question up with the board of government engineers here and has their assurance that the present application of the Michigan Northern Power company relates only to the installation of regulating works in the present power canal; and that it will not affect the Lake Superior level. He is also assured by the board that its members would not under any circumstances entertain any project altering the general lake level. You will receive further particulars tomorrow."

MOONSHINE STILL IN SOLDIERS' HOME

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 18. — A moonshine still that had been providing liquor for members of Company M for several weeks was found in the basement at the National Soldiers' home yesterday. James Brister, a veteran, was arrested and held as the owner of the still.

Wholesale applications from members of other companies for transfer to Company M caused the investigation which revealed the still.

Suffrage Beaten by One Vote.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Feb. 18.—A bill for the enfranchisement of women in the Union of South Africa, which was introduced into the house of assembly today, was defeated on the first reading by the narrow majority of 43 to 42.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at noon.

Foreign relations committee delayed selecting a chairman to succession to the late Senator Bacon until the return of Senator Stone, the ranking Democrat.

Constitutional amendment to enfranchise women was discussed without action.

House amendments for the half-million hog cholera campaign agreed to, and bill prepared for President Wilson's signature.

Senator Bristow introduced a bill to deposit postal savings only in banks of the new Federal system.

HOUSE.

Met at noon.

Resumed debate on the Alaska railroad bill, with plans for passage before adjournment.

Mrs. Christine Frederieks of Philadelphia urged legislative permission for manufacturers to protect the prices of their standard goods.

Baltimore fish dealers asked interstate commerce committee to prohibit use of food fish by fertilizer manufacturers.

THREE WESTERN FUEL COMPANY OFFICIALS GUILTY OF FRAUDS

Convicted of Obtaining Illegal Rebates Through False Weights.

Checker Is Acquitted By Jury at San Francisco.

Special Prosecutors Denounced By Attorney for Defense.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 18.—Verdicts of guilty were returned here early today against K. B. Smith, vice president and general manager; C. F. Mills, superintendent; and E. H. Mayer, chief weigher of the Western Fuel company, who were charged with defrauding the government by obtaining illegal tariff rebates through false weights. E. J. Smith, a checker and brother of the general manager, was acquitted.

John L. Howard, president of the company; J. L. Schmitt, Sidney V. Smith and Robert Bruce, directors, also were indicted, but the cases against them were dismissed by the court after the evidence of the prosecution was presented. President Howard, worn by anxiety, died the day before his case was dismissed.

Cases McNab Started.

The case was prosecuted by Matt I. Sullivan and Theodore J. Roche, as special counsel appointed by President Wilson, after John L. McNab, federal district attorney, had resigned, charging that his conduct of the cases was being interfered with by political influences at Washington.

The charges were aired on the floor of congress.

Possible Sentences.

Imprisonment for two years, a fine of $10,000, or both, is the maximum penalty that can be imposed. Six ballots were taken. The first was 10 to 2 for conviction. The two that favored acquittal held out until the sixth ballot, when they voted with the majority.

The men were not locked up after the return of the verdict, the court ordering that they be permitted to remain at liberty for the time being on the bail previously furnished. Their lawyers were prepared today to make an immediate motion for a new trial. Saturday morning has been set for sentence.

Sullivan and Roche, special prosecutors, were castigated today by E. J. McCutcheon, who made the closing argument for the defense.

"At no time during the progress of this trial have these gentlemen shown any inclination to give these defendants a fair trial," said McCutcheon. "These gentlemen do not represent the majesty of the law. They are here simply for a fee. Their claim that they represent the majesty of the law is an effrontery. It is without parallel in the history of criminal law."

Turning to William H. Tidwell, chief special agent for the treasury department, McCutcheon accused him of "palpable unfairness in his determination to stop at nothing to make a reputation for himself."

"What does it matter to Tidwell if the heart of John L. Howard was crushed by this unjust charge?" cried the attorney.

TWO MEN DYING FROM FIGHT WITH WOMAN

Mrs. Sullivan Attacks Husband When He Attacks Son.

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 18.—Florrance Sullivan, a worker in the steel mills, and his son, George, were taken to the Joliet hospital today suffering from probably fatal injuries inflicted in a family quarrel. Sullivan suffered a fractured skull and severe bruises. George was slashed with a knife and one of the main arteries of his left leg is severed.

The story of the affair, as told by the police, was that the elder Sullivan upbraided his son for failure to obtain work, and attacked him. Mrs. Sullivan is declared to have attacked her husband with a chair in defense of her son. The man is charged with drawing a knife, after which Mrs. Sullivan relinquished the chair and seized a hammer.

At the hospital it was said neither man had much chance to live. Mrs. Sullivan was arrested. She suffered slight cuts on the scalp and arms.

FINAL VOTE ON THE ALASKAN BILL NEAR

Only One Change Is Made Thus Far in the House.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Detailed consideration of the Alaskan railroad bill was resumed in the house today with administration leaders confident that a final vote was near at hand. Debate on the measure has been closed, and the reading for amendment was not expected to occupy many hours.

So far only one change has been made in the bill as it passed the senate. The single amendment adopted was offered by Republican Leader Mann, and would empower the president either to lease the Alaskan road after it is built or have it operated by the government. With this exception the measure is expected to go to the conference between the two houses without material alteration.

The bill, under which the government would build 1,000 miles of railroad from the Alaskan coast to the interior, is heartily approved by President Wilson, and he is expected to sign it as soon as it reaches the White House.

The lads were beaten because they were believed to have been possessed of evil spirits. All the available city and county officials and a posse of citizens surrounded the prisoners as they were led from the courtroom. In spite of these precautions, the mob made a second attempt to secure the defendants, but were held off by the officers. The four gave notice of appeal and were held under $1,000 bond each.

Action will be brought against all who were in the church on Sunday when the congregation voted that the boys should be beaten "to rid them of the devils."

Could Not Say Lessons.

According to the testimony, the boys had been unable to repeat the lessons which had been given them at a Holiness meeting. After the congregation had decided on their punishment the boys were tied hand and foot and placed on the floor.

SCHRANK TAKEN TO ASYLUM AT WAUPUN

Fond du Lac, Wis., Feb. 18.—John Schrank, who attempted to assassinate Theodore Roosevelt at Milwaukee two years ago, and who has been confined at the Northern Wisconsin hospital for the insane at Oshkosh since his trial, was transferred to the hospital for criminal insane at Waupun today.

Earthquake in Reno.

Reno, Nev., Feb. 18.—An earthquake occurred here at 10:18 a. m. today. The shock was violent and lasted about three seconds. The direction was from southeast to northwest.

MAY EXECUTE AN AMERICAN

Castillo's Capture By U. S. Troops Puzzles Washington.

Juarez, Feb. 18.—Two foreigners, one a British subject and the other an American, are in trouble here, and the American, Gustav Bouch, may be shot as a spy.

The British subject arrested is William S. Benton, owner of a magnificent 100,000-acre ranch west of the city of Chihuahua. He has lived in Mexico for thirty years and his wife is a Mexican woman. He was arrested on suspicion of having been connected with the Federal filibustering movement having its base on the American side.

Puzzled Over Castillo.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Castillo, the Mexican bandit who wrecked the Cumbre tunnel and caused the death of several Americans, has furnished the latest knot in the Mexican tangle, with his capture by United States troops in New Mexico. Officials of three departments of the government were searching archives today for precedents to determine what they shall do with him.

Diplomatists pointed out that to extradite Castillo to the Constitutionalists might be construed as a recognition of their belligerency. There was no indication that the Huerta government

RESERVE BANK MEN BACK AT CAPITAL

New York, Chicago and St. Louis Seem Assured as Centers.

Washington, Feb. 18.—With the return of the reserve bank organization committee today, active work began upon definition of the geographic limits of the reserve districts nd selection of cities for reserve banks.

Under the law, national banks required to enter the system or eventually give up their charters, have until Feb. 22 to signify their intention to become members. Although only 300 national banks of the 7,500 remained today on the list of those which had not taken such action, it was understood that the committee would withhold announcement of cities and districts until the time limit expires.

Although the committee's trip through the country may have changed its opinion of the proper location of several banks, it is not doubted here that banks will be placed in New York, Chicago and St. Louis, central reserve cities in the present national bank system. The location of the others was still regarded today as an open question.

Picking New Board.

While the committee is working out that problem, its members will consult with President Wilson about the makeup of the Federal reserve board, the organization which is to govern the new system. The personnel of this board is of great interest in banking circles and it is known that President Wilson has examined all names suggested with the closest scrutiny.

Five persons are to be chosen by the president before the board is complete, but it is understood that all the names will be sent to the senate for confirmation at the same time.

MAY PASS BILL OVER THE VETO

Senators Express Determination to Keep Literacy Test.

Lively Session Over Immigration Restriction Is in Prospect.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Facing presidential veto of the Burnett immigration bill should it pass congress with the literacy test provision incorporated in it, the senate immigration committee today resumed consideration of the measure.

The prospects were for a lively session, for despite President Wilson's opposition to the much-discussed provision, members of the committee were inclined to retain that feature in the bill as it passed the house. With the action of the senate in repassing over President Taft's veto of the Dillingham-Burnett immigration bill a year ago, although it failed in the house, still fresh in their minds, members of the committee were discussing today prospects of similar steps should President Wilson carry out his intention to veto the present bill.

Surprised the Committee.

Word that the president would exercise his veto prerogative in event the bill was received by him with the literacy test provision, came as a great surprise to committee members. They had been under the impression that while he did not favor that feature, he would sign the bill if it passed congress. Now, however, the practical certainty of veto awaiting the bill should it be passed with the literacy test provision, has served to complicate the situation, and members of the committee were prepared to thresh it over when they met today.

SLUGS CLERK AND GETS $6,400 LOOT

Daylight Robber Works in Express Office at Farmington.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 18.—While crowds filled the streets, a bandit robbed the office of the Adams Express company at Farmington of a package containing $6,400 and escaped after probably fatally injuring the agent late yesterday afternoon. Bloodhounds have been sent for, and surrounding cities notified of the search for the robber.

The express office is located in the bank building and it was here that the attack occurred. The robber told the agent, C. R. Brown, that his name was Perkins and that he was looking for a package. When told there was no package for him, he struck Brown over the head and beat him into unconsciousness, then bound and gagged him.

Brown was found an hour later, but did not regain consciousness for two hours. Physicians report that his skull is fractured. He is unable to give a complete description of the robber.

The police believe three men carried out the robbery, as a trio of strangers was seen loitering around the express office.

MRS. LOGAN TAKES POISON BY MISTAKE

Washington, Feb. 18.—Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of the Civil war hero, took a poisonous medicine at her home here last night, thinking she was taking a cold remedy, and for several hours was in a precarious condition. Physicians gave antidotes in good time and today she was reported out of danger.

NEW CLEW IN AURORA CASE

Knife With Man's Name on Handle Found Near Corpse.

Negro Says Petras Was on Same Car as Hollander Girl.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 18.—A new murder trail from St. Nicholas cemetery, where Miss Theresa Hollander was clubbed to death Monday night, led Chief of Police Michels out of Aurora at an early hour this morning. The police refused to say where the chief had gone, but it is understood he hurried into Chicago.

While the girl's former sweetheart, Anthony Petras, a 23-year-old Austrian, who was recently married, is still held in jail for the crime and is believed by the chief the slayer, he is overlooking no clew which may throw further light on the graveyard murder. It is said Chief Michels went to Chicago this morning to get a former Auroran whose pocket knife was found a few feet from the body of the girl in the burying ground. The name of the Auroran was on the knife handle.

Negro Not Suspected.

The police declare the report that Walter Hickman, the negro who was on the homeward bound car with Miss Hollander and Petras about fifteen minutes before the hour of the slaying, is being sought as a suspect, is unfounded. He was at his home last night and was at work today in his usual place of employment, a downtown buffet.

It was Hickman who told that Petras got off the car a block beyond where Miss Hollander left it and then ran back to the corner where she alighted. Hickman said he got off the car with Petras. Petras, denying

SUFFRAGETTE WHIPS BARON AT WEDDING

Lord Weardale, Head of Anti-Suffragist Society, Knocked Down.

London, Feb. 18.—A militant suffragette armed with a whip savagely attacked Baron Weardale while he was waiting today with 200 other wedding guests for a train to Althorp Park, Northampton. The party was going to attend the wedding of the Hon. Sydney Peel, son of Viscount Peel, and Lady Della Spencer, daughter of Earl Spencer.

Lord Weardale was walking with his wife along the platform when he was approached from behind by the woman. At the first blow from her powerful dog whip he fell in a heap to the ground.

The anxiety of his friends was relieved when it was found that Lord Weardale had not suffered any serious injury. The woman was arrested.

When arraigned, she refused to give her name and told the police magistrate she did not desire to say anything.

Lord Weardale said the woman was a stranger to him. As a possible explanation of the assault, he noted that he and Earl Curzon of Kedleston were joint presidents of the anti-suffragist society.

The detective who arrested the suffragette in Euston station, said she told him "I meant to give him a good thrashing. You don't know what harm he has done us."

The prisoner wore the badge of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette organization. She was remanded for further inquiry.

LAKE'S LEVEL IN NO DANGER

Assurance That Government Engineers Will Not Permit It.

Soo Petition Affects Only Regulation Works in Present Canal.

The level of Lake Superior is in absolutely no danger, according to assurance given Congressman Miller by the board of army engineers in Washington yesterday, the word being received here from Julius H. Barnes, now in Washington.

Mr. Barnes, who is in Washington in connection with traffic matters now being heard before the interstate commerce commission, today wired this comforting news concerning the matter of the proposed damming of the Soo river and the threatened raising of lake levels. The telegram was received this morning by George D. McCarthy, assistant secretary of the Commercial club, and is as follows:

"Representative Miller has had the Lake Superior level question up with the board of government engineers here and has their assurance that the present application of the Michigan Northern Power company relates only to the installation of regulating works in the present power canal; and that it will not affect the Lake Superior level. He is also assured by the board that its members would not under any circumstances entertain any project altering the general lake level. You will receive further particulars tomorrow."

MOONSHINE STILL IN SOLDIERS' HOME

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 18. — A moonshine still that had been providing liquor for members of Company M for several weeks was found in the basement at the National Soldiers' home yesterday. James Brister, a veteran, was arrested and held as the owner of the still.

Wholesale applications from members of other companies for transfer to Company M caused the investigation which revealed the still.

Suffrage Beaten by One Vote.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Feb. 18.—A bill for the enfranchisement of women in the Union of South Africa, which was introduced into the house of assembly today, was defeated on the first reading by the narrow majority of 43 to 42.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at noon.

Foreign relations committee delayed selecting a chairman in succession to the late Senator Bacon until the return of Senator Stone, the ranking Democrat.

Constitutional amendment to enfranchise women was discussed without action.

House amendments for the half-million hog cholera campaign agreed to, and bill prepared for President Wilson's signature.

Senator Bristow introduced a bill to deposit postal savings only in banks of the new Federal system.

HOUSE.

Met at noon.

Resumed debate on the Alaska railroad bill, with plans for passage before adjournment.

Mrs. Christine Fredericks of Philadelphia urged legislative permission for manufacturers to protect the prices of their standard goods.

Baltimore fish dealers asked interstate commerce committee to prohibit use of food fish by fertilizer manufacturers.

THREE WESTERN FUEL COMPANY OFFICIALS GUILTY OF FRAUDS

Convicted of Obtaining Illegal Rebates Through False Weights.

Checker Is Acquitted By Jury at San Francisco.

Special Prosecutors Denounced By Attorney for Defense.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 18.—Verdicts of guilty were returned here early today against K. B. Smith, vice president and general manager; C. F. Mills, superintendent; and E. H. Mayer, chief weigher of the Western Fuel company, who were charged with defrauding the government by obtaining illegal tariff rebates through false weights. E. J. Smith, a checker and brother of the general manager, was acquitted.

John L. Howard, president of the company; J. L. Schmitt, Sidney V. Smith and Robert Bruce, directors, also were indicted, but the cases against them were dismissed by the court after the evidence of the prosecution was presented. President Howard, worn by anxiety, died the day before his case was dismissed.

Cases McNab Started.

The case was prosecuted by Matt I. Sullivan and Theodore J. Roche, as special counsel appointed by President Wilson, after John L. McNab, Federal district attorney, had resigned, charging that his conduct of the cases was being interfered with by political influences at Washington.

Possible Sentences.

Imprisonment for two years, a fine of $10,000, or both, is the maximum penalty that can be imposed. Six ballots were taken. The first was 10 to 2 for conviction. The two that favored acquittal held out until the sixth ballot, when they voted with the majority.

The men were not locked up after the return of the verdict, the court ordering that they be permitted to remain at liberty for the time being on the bail previously furnished. Their lawyers were prepared today to make an immediate motion for a new trial. Saturday morning has been set for sentence.

Sullivan and Roche, special prosecutors, were castigated by D. J. McCutcheon, who made the closing argument for the defense.

"At no time during the progress of this trial have these gentlemen shown any inclination to give these defendants a fair trial," said McCutcheon. "These gentlemen do not represent the majesty of the law. They are here simply for a fee. Their claim that they represent the majesty of the law is an effrontery. It is without parallel in the history of criminal law."

Turning to William H. Tidwell, chief special agent for the treasury department, McCutcheon accused him of "palpable unfairness in his determination to stop at nothing to make a reputation for himself."

"What does it matter to Tidwell if the heart of John L. Howard was crushed by this unjust charge?" cried the attorney.

TWO MEN DYING FROM FIGHT WITH WOMAN

Mrs. Sullivan Attacks Husband When He Attacks Son.

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 18.—Florrance Sullivan, a worker in the steel mills, and his son, George, were taken to the Joliet hospital today suffering from probably fatal injuries inflicted in a family quarrel. Sullivan suffered a fractured skull and severe bruises. George was slashed with a knife and one of the main arteries of his left leg is severed.

The story of the affair, as told by the police, was that the elder Sullivan upbraided his son for failure to obtain work, and attacked him. Mrs. Sullivan is declared to have attacked her husband with a chair in defense of her son. The man is charged with drawing a knife, after which Mrs. Sullivan relinquished the chair and seized a hammer.

At the hospital it was said neither man had much chance to live. Mrs. Sullivan was arrested. She suffered slight cuts on the scalp and arms.

FINAL VOTE ON THE ALASKAN BILL NEAR

Only One Change Is Made Thus Far in the House.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Detailed consideration of the Alaskan railroad bill was resumed in the house today with administration leaders confident that a final vote was near at hand. Debate on the measure has been closed, and the reading for amendment was not expected to occupy many hours.

So far only one change has been made in the bill as it passed the senate. The single amendment adopted was offered by Republican Leader Mann, and would empower the president either to lease the Alaskan road after it is built or have it operated by the government. With this exception the measure is expected to go to the conference between the two houses without material alteration.

The bill, under which the government would build 1,000 miles of railroad from the Alaskan coast to the interior, is heartily approved by President Wilson, and he is expected to sign it as soon as it reaches the White House.

This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

LOGGERS ARE BUSY.

Ideal Conditions Around Couderay, Wis., Boon to Lumbermen.

Couderay, Wis., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The present cold weather is ideal for logging, and the work is being rushed all through this section. The work is far behind for this time of the winter, comparing it with other seasons, due to the open winter and mild weather during the first part of the winter. About 1,000,000 feet is being landed at the mills and railway landings per day now; about 500,000 feet is being loaded on cars and shipped out by rail from stations in this locality each day for the mills at Idice Lake and Eau Claire for sawing, and a great deal will be left for summer shipping. The loggers are all hoping for sleighing to last until March 20, to give them time to accomplish the work they have outlined.

WEATHER—Snow flurries tonight and Thursday; colder; moderate northerly winds.

SITE WILL BE CONDEMNED

Council Orders Action to Secure Land for New Armory.

Proceedings Will Save Nearly Half of the Cost.

The city council this morning passed a resolution directing the city attorney to institute condemnation proceedings to secure property for the new armory at Thirteenth avenue east and London road.

This method of acquiring the ground is taken because the owners ask $20,000 for it, which is deemed excessive by members of the city commission. They believe that it can be secured for little more than half that sum through condemnation. Bonds will be issued to pay for the property, which is described as lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 13 and 14, block 4, Banning & Ray's sub-division of Duluth. When title is secured it will be turned over to the state, which will erect an armory building costing $85,000.

Commissioner Murchison informed the council that Julius H. Barnes has volunteered to advance the cost of the street intersections for one year, without interest, if the city can see its way clear to pave Lake avenue from the canal to Twelfth street, which is opposite the boat club. He said that the same offer would hold if the city would pave the avenue to the end of the car tracks. It was referred to Commissioner Voss for a report, the issue being the status of the city treasury.

A resolution was passed dismissing the proceedings started in 1902 to open Jefferson street from Twenty-ninth avenue west to Grand avenue at Forty-fourth avenue east.

Ordinances appropriating $2,000 for a water main in Railroad street and $450 for a scarifier for the works division were passed. The ordinance appropriating $35,500 for materials for the water and light department was given its second reading. An ordinance appropriating $30,500 for cast iron pipe for the light department was given its first reading.

No action was taken on the ordinance licensing bartenders or the ordinance making East Fond du Lac a residence district. They will be acted upon Tuesday afternoon, Monday being a legal holiday.

Was Disorderly.
Joe Young, 25 years old, was arrested by Patrolmen Andree and Gringer yesterday afternoon on a charge of getting into an altercation with a West Superior street pawn broker. He pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct in police court this morning and was fined $5 and costs or five days in the county jail.

Sent to Work Farm.
Of three men arrested last evening on charges of vagrancy, only Michael McCormick, 29, pleaded guilty in police court this morning and he drew a sentence of thirty days on the work farm. The other two, John Hanstead, 50, and John Morrison, 50, will be tried this afternoon.

Case May Be Dropped.
Albert B. Hinckley, 32 years old, who was brought to Duluth yesterday by the Superior police on a charge of passing a worthless check on Forrest Matoney of the Cody hotel at West Duluth, was arraigned in police court this morning. He asked for a hearing and the examination was set for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Bail was fixed at $150. Hinckley has promised to return the money and it is probable that the charge against him will be dropped.

For Shop Lifting.
George Worthington, 45 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon in the Freimuth department store on a charge of shoplifting. He was caught by two of the clerks in the act of carrying a bolt of messaline silk worth $20 under his arm. In police court this morning R. E. Gates, one of the employes at the store, swore out a complaint against Worthington, charging him with grand larceny. He waived examination when arraigned before Judge Cutting and he was bound over to the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $500.

Puts Dog Out of Misery.
Patrolman Barber was this morning compelled to shoot a small dog that had been run over in front of 1217 East Second street. A call was received at headquarters that a dog was badly hurt and when the officer reached the scene, he found it necessary to shoot the animal.

Jobbers Bring Suit.
The Rust-Parker-Martin company, wholesale grocers, today started suit in district court to recover $286.97 from L. C. McClelland for merchandise sold to the defendant and yet unpaid for. The account is alleged to have become due on Jan. 6, 1914.

Gets $798 for Right Eye.
Under the terms of the employer's liability act, Butler Bros., stripping contractors, have paid Matt Sorich, 29 years old, $798.08 for the loss of his right eye in a blast accident at the Morrow mine near Eveleth on Oct. 29 last. Sorich received other injuries about the head and chest, which were also taken into account in the settlement. The court's approval of the settlement was filed today.

Secretary of Associated Charities Exposes One Woman's Methods.

In order that charitably inclined persons may not be imposed upon, Miss Edna G. Meeker, secretary of the Associated Charities, believes that the methods of a certain Duluth woman in securing assistance for herself and family should be made known.

Although the woman has received aid from the county poor commission and from the Associated Charities regularly for the last two years she has recently telephoned to people in various parts of the city and made pathetic appeals for aid, representing that she was in destitute condition condition and in need of immediate assistance. In each case it is said that she represents that she has not been receiving aid either from the county poor authorities or through the Associated Charities.

For a while the woman indulged in the expensive luxury of having two telephones. She now manages to get along with but one.

Suit for Large Legal Fees About to Go to Jury.

The $100,000 suit for attorneys' fees brought by Spencer & Marshall, Duluth lawyers, against the Higgins Land company, which has been on trial for the last two weeks in Judge Dancer's division of district court, will probably be given to the jury tomorrow morning. The closing arguments in the case are being presented today.

The jury will be charged by the court that it must bring in either a verdict for $100,000 for the plaintiff or a verdict for the defendant. The Duluth attorneys are suing on an express contract for $100,000 and the only question which is being litigated is whether or not such a contract was made. The testimony of witnesses on the two sides of the case is directly at variance on this point.

H. R. Spencer, one of the plaintiffs, claims that Frank Sullivan Smith of New York, an officer of the company, promised him a fee of $100,000 at a conference held in New York city on Feb. 23, 1912. Mr. Smith emphatically denies it and represents that the agreement was only for the reasonable value of the services of the attorneys. If the jury finds that the arrangement was as Smith claims it was, under the position taken by the court it is still obliged to return a verdict for the defendant, relieving the latter of all obligation.

A verdict for the land company in the case will not necessarily end the litigation. The suit may again be prosecuted on another theory. In the present case, attorneys for the land company have admitted that the company is indebted to Spencer & Marshall in some amount for services, but claim that it should be only on the basis of reasonable value.

H. B. Fryberger, one of the attorneys for the land company, made his closing address to the court and jury this morning. He declared that the charge for services made by Spencer & Marshall was 90 per cent too high and that $10,000 would have been a good sized fee for all that they had to do with the Higgins-Olcott lease litigation which was settled out of court.

W. D. Bailey will address the court and jury this afternoon on behalf of the plaintiffs. The court is expected to charge the jury tomorrow morning.

Odd Fellows Pick Oshkosh.
Fond du Lac, Wis., Feb. 18.—District No. 26, I. O. O. F., closed the most successful convention in its history here with the exemplification of the third degree by Fond du Lac Lodge No. 30. Oshkosh was selected for the next meeting, which will be held in May. Officers elected: President, J. Grandt, Fond du Lac; vice president, Peter Nelson, Oshkosh; warden, Thomas James, Oshkosh; secretary, N. P. Christiansen, Oshkosh; treasurer, John Schumacher, Fond du Lac.

GREAT NORTHERN TO ISSUE MORE STOCK

Will Raise $19,000,000 to Purchase Montana & Eastern Line.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 18.—The Great Northern Railroad company has filed with the secretary of state an amendment to its articles of incorporation, whereby the capital stock is increased from $231,000,000 to $250,000,000, an advance of $19,000,000. This is, in effect, 190,000 additional shares of stock.

Acquirement of new lines and the building of new roads, but particularly the acquiring of the stocks and bonds of the Montana & Eastern company, comprise the object of the increase, it is said.

The amendment was approved by the board of directors in New York on Feb. 11, and is signed by L. W. Hill, as chairman, and L. E. Katzenbach as secretary. The filing fee paid to the state was $9,500.

If three-fourths of the directors assent to the plan by March 26, the amendment becomes effective that date. It is provided that each holder of stock on March 26, 1914, shall be entitled to buy at par stock to the amount of 8 per cent of his present holdings. The stock is now quoted at $132. It is also provided that stockholders are given the right to assign their right of purchase.

TO CHANGE NAME.

South Shore Road Will Make Trout Creek Something Else.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Near one end of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad in Upper Michigan is the town of Trout Creek. Near the other end is the town of Trout Lake. The similarity of the names is confusing in more ways than one. Mistakes in freight and express shipments and in mail deliveries are especially annoying. It is proposed now at Trout Creek to rechristen the town and this will be done shortly, it is expected. Cloverland is the name apparently in greatest favor.

IRON MOUNTAIN DEPOT.

Milwaukee Road Will Commence Its Construction in Spring.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Milwaukee Railroad company is assembling material here and early in the spring will start the work of constructing a passenger station more in keeping with the importance of the metropolis of the Menominee iron range than is the present building. The structure will be fireproof and modern in all respects and will cost $25,000. The station will be 27x100 feet. A separate building will be provided for the heating plant and the baggage and express departments. The company will erect, in addition, a new roundhouse and a coaling plant. The total expenditures will approximate $50,000.

Thief Sentences Himself.
Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 18.—George Crabtree, a young man who confessed to having robbed a grocery store, sentenced himself in the criminal department of the superior court at the instance of Judge Willis, and took probation for three years for himself and his partner, Burr Anderson.

ELECTION DAY NEXT TUESDAY

Irving School Will Choose Mayor and Eight Commissioners.

Election day at the Duluth Industrial high school will be next Tuesday. A "mayor" and eight "commissioners" will be elected who will have charge of deportment and conduct of the pupils at the institution.

The last day of filing names for nomination to any of the offices will be Monday at noon. Already petitions for the re-election of John Davies as mayor have been filed and the petitions for Gladys Smalley, Ena Lundquist, Bessie McKinnon, Chester Dunston, Stella Rice, Robert Donald and Chester Rosborough for commissioners have been received.

During the last week campaigning among the student body has been at fever heat, but it is intimated that until 8 o'clock Tuesday morning it will be hotter than ever. Several mass meetings have been held and many more are planned at which the virtues of the various candidates will be extolled.

It is intimated that four other students will enter the race for the mayoralty. These are John Nettleton, Page Cashion, Harry Randall and Joseph McDonald. Among those who are mentioned as being probable commissioner candidates are Daisy Wallace, May McKeague, Nora McAdams, Edith Works, Allan Forsberg, Russell Kilton, Richard Wade, Frank Martin, Eldon Morris, Leo Leneaux, Earl Donald, Vivian Nichols, Marie Haney, Otto Blais and Isabelle Felix.

ILTIS RINK LOSES COVETED BUTTONS

The Iltis rink lost the championship title in playing against the Wade rink at the Western Curling rink last night. The game resulted in a 15 to 7 score, and the buttons were transferred from the lapels of the coats of the members of the Iltis rink to those of the Wade aggregation. Olson also defeated Brown's rink in the Burns event by a score of 11 to 10, and the Simpson rink forfeited to Judson in the same event.

The buttons will again be played for this evening. Judson will play against Wade for their possession. Others who will follow in trying to get the buttons will be Olson, Brown, Zauft, Quinn and Wieland in the order named.

McCormack-Fredin.

The wedding of Miss Laura McCormack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCormack, 17 South Fifty-third avenue west, to David Fredin will take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the St. James Catholic church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Kinear place. Rev. D. W. Lynch will read the service. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served for the bridal couple and a few intimate friends of the family at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Fredin will then leave for a short wedding trip and will be at home after March 27 at 901 East Sixth street.

LODGES TO JOIN IN GOLDEN JUBILEE

The four Knights of Pythias lodges of the city will join in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order tomorrow night at the Dormedy hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. Invitations have been sent out to members of the order, the Pythian Sisters' lodge and a few friends of the organization.

A feature of the golden jubilee celebration will be a ritualistic service prepared especially for the occasion. This service will take place at 8:30 sharp. The following officers will act during the special ceremony: J. J. Lumm, chancellor commander; S. W. Hill, vice chancellor; W. M. Mills, prelate; G. E. Duren, master of exchequer, and G. S. Andrews, master at arms.

The program will include selections by a male quartet composed of A. H. Smith, S. Morterud, Dr. F. W. Spicer and Louis Dworshak and an address by James A. Wharton. Following the program it has been planned to entertain the guests by dancing until midnight.

The member of the committee in charge are: North Star lodge No. 55: Dr. F. W. Spicer, Louis Dworshak, J. Jeffrey and H. C. Hanson; Diamond lodge, No. 44: Boyd Yergan, G. E. Duren, A. Kennedy, E. McKenzie and S. Pierce; Kitchi Gammi lodge, No. 123: O. M. Holmes, E. G. Wright, E. A. Micklau, A. Falk and G. Gardner. Riverside lodge of New Duluth will also take part in the festivities.

MEAN BURGLAR LOCKED THE SAFE

John J. Frey was angry this morning. For the first time in two years he found the safe in his office locked and spent nearly two hours opening it.

Mr. Frey says he is not in the habit of locking his safe. He says he never keeps anuything valuable in it and therefore it does not need locking. He is of the opinion that some one, probably a burglar entered the place and tried to open the safe, and when doing so dropped the tumblers.

"There is nothing worth while for anyone to carry off in the safe," said Mr. Frey. "It may have been a burglar last night or some friends trying to play a joke on me. I would not have cared so much, but I had nearly forgotten the combination."

Mrs. William Perrin, 401 North Sixtieth avenue west, will entertain tomorrow afternoon for the Ladies' Guild of the Holy Apostles' Episcopal church at her home.

Clarence Dugan of Calumet, Mich., is spending a few days visiting relatives in this end of the city.

Miss Attelie Fredrickson of Minneapolis is spending a week visiting West Duluth relatives.

The sending to The Herald of a note purported to have been signed by Mrs. Drake, stating that at a dinner party given Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. Drake, 11 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, had announced the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice, to F. S. Baudin, considerable annoyance has been caused both young people. Mrs. Drake denied the engagement of her daughter this morning.

REFUND BOND ISSUE LEGAL

Noted Attorneys Pass on It After Information on City Government.

The issue of $400,000 of refunding bonds recently authorized by the city council has been approved by the firm of Story, Thorndyke, Palmer & Dodge of Boston, recognized as among the foremost bond attorneys of the United States.

Considerable apprehension was felt a few days ago, however, when the attorneys wired here that they weren't satisfied of the legality of Duluth's commission form of government. They didn't think that Minnesota cities acting under home rule charters could adopt the commission form.

The N. J. Upham company, successful bidders, laid the matter before Attorney Charles E. Adams. He looked up the legislative act authorizing the commission form of government in Minnesota cities and the information was wired back to the Boston attorneys. They did not know of the legislature's act and after they had checked it up telegraphed back their approval of the bond issue.

The city will refund $400,000 of the $500,000 bond issue maturing May 1. The other $100,000 will be retired from the sinking fund under the schedule outlined by Finance Commissioner F. J. Voss.

MASONS TO ATTEND CLOQUET EVENT

Duluthians Will Go to Dedication of New Temple Monday Evening.

About 100 Duluth Masons expect to attend the dedication ceremonies of the new Masonic temple at Cloquet next Monday evening. A special train has been arranged for to take care of the Duluth delegation.

The train will leave Duluth over the Northern Pacific at 6:30 p. m. and will return immediately after the ceremonies and banquet have been concluded. Robert E. Denfeld of this city, grand master of the Minnesota lodge of Masons, will be a guest of honor at the affair. He will also be the principal speaker.

SMOKE HELMET IS GIVEN TEST

Fireman Stays Thirty Minutes in Room Filled With Smoke.

Wearing a Draeger smoke helmet, Pipeman Dan McIver of No. 4 house remained for thirty minutes in a room filled with suffocating fumes this morning.

McIver accompanied Safety Commissioner Hicken, Mayor Prince and Fire Chief Joseph Randall this morning to aid them in a demonstration of the smoke helmet, recently acquired by the department at a cost of $161.

The polling booth on Fourteenth avenue east between Second and Third streets was used. Various substances were burned until the atmosphere was so thick it could almost be "cut." Before the fireman entered, Commissioner Hicken wanted to make sure that the experiment wouldn't be a joke. He started to enter, but he hadn't more than stepped inside the door than he turned about to gasp for air.

The outfit, consisting of an airtight helmet and an oxygen tank, was placed on McIver, and he went inside as easily as though taking a walk through the city streets. He stayed for half an hour. He could have stayed longer, but those on the outside began to shiver and he was summoned to appear. When he discarded the outfit he said that he had felt no discomfort. The officials are satisfied that the smoke helmet will add considerably to the efficiency of the department.

LUMBERMAN DIES.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. C. Crowthers, a lumberman well known in this section, died at a local hospital yesterday, aged 42.

He is survived by his wife and three children. Mr. Crothers had lived in Marquette for ten years, during most of which time he operated a sawmill at Yalmer. He came to Marquette from East Jordan, Mich. Mrs. Crothers has been spending the winter at Santa Barbara, Cal. She was notified of her husband's illness late last week, when it was seen his condition was critical, and she arrived today. The children are Miss Myrle Crothers of Evanston, Ill.; Harry of Chicago, and Ervin, 10 years of age.

TRAFFIC MEN APPROVE PLAN

Say Duluth Pageant Would Draw Thousands En Route to Exposition.

Rail and Lake Lines Would Give Wide Publicity to Event.

Duluth traffic men are of the opinion that the suggestion of The Herald that the annual midsummer pageant be begun in 1915 so as to attract passengers en route to or from the Panama exposition is a good one and should be carefully considered by the railway and lake steamer lines entering this city. It is believed that the pageant here would swing thousands from the southern route and hold great numbers of them for a time, helping the city financially and giving it wide publicity.

"The Herald's suggestion is excellent," said Charles P. O'Donnell, passenger agent for the Northern Pacific, when seen today. "I not only approve of what has been suggested but believe another feature could be added to the plan of advertising that would help the lake and rail lines.

"Every summer thousands of people go to the Yellowstone national park from the East, and a great many more would go with another attraction added to the trip. All traffic lines will do an immense amount of advertising before and during the Panama exposition, and it would probably be an easy matter to induce them to incorporate publicity matter regarding the Duluth midsummer pageant as a special attraction of the trip. It would certainly be a big inducement to travelers and cause large numbers to pay a visit to Duluth.

The Northern Route.

"The Panama exposition trip will certainly be a great attraction to the whole country and every big feature in it will be noted far and wide. Traffic lines are making preparation for some wonderful service and the trip will be made as attractive as possible by them. Plans are already under way for increasing and bettering the steamship service between Puget Sound and San Francisco. This will be a special inducement to travelers to take the northern route going to the coast and returning by the southern route or vice versa. This would prove of inestimable benefit to Duluth if the city were to stage the pageant in 1915."

Harry Hurdon, agent for the Northern Navigation company, was just as hearty in his approval of the idea from the point of view of the lake steamship lines as was Mr. O'Donnell for the railroads.

"It would be an easy matter for lake steamers to advertise the pageant," he said. "Tourists are always on the lookout for special attractions, and their attention could easily be attracted to Duluth.

"The lake service for passengers will be greatly improved beginning with this spring and the service will be almost daily from then on. The Northern Navigation company is arranging to run an extra steamer so that we can care for the increasing lake passenger traffic. The suggestions of The Herald cover the subject pretty thoroughly and the idea looks practical to me."

THREE DISCHARGED; ONE REARRESTED

Gust Suomi Is Fined for Running Unlicensed Drinking Place.

Owing to the fact that the police lacked enough evidence to convict Gust Nestor Suomi, 28, his wife, Elvira Suomi, 23, and James A. Curry, 23, who were arrested last Thursday noon at 311 East Third street on a charge of running a house of ill-fame, the cases against the trio were dismissed this morning on motion of City Prosecutor Gurnee, and Suomi arraigned on a charge of running an unlicensed drinking place.

Suomi was arraigned before Judge Windom immediately after the other cases were dismissed, and he pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $100, the maximum penalty, or thirty days on the work farm. He said this morning that he would pay his fine today.

Suomi, his wife and Curry were arrested in a raid on their home by Detectives Schultz and Irvine last Thursday, on information given the police the previous day. They were arraigned in police court following their arrest, and pleading not guilty, their trials were set for yesterday morning, when a continuance was granted until this morning.

According to the police, Suomi and his wife and Curry and his wife have been living at 311 East Third street for some time. The police have received several complaints of late regarding the house. Mrs. Curry, who is the mother of two children, was not arrested at the time of the raid. Curry is but 23 years old. He was married when 17. The Suomis were married last July. The latter two formerly operated the Child's hotel in Superior.

L'ANSE BLACKSMITH IS SOME HORSESHOER.

L'Anse, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph Boyer, a local blacksmith, is believed to have established an Upper Michigan record in horseshoeing. Fitting 102 shoes in the course of a single day's work is his achievement. The smith was disappointed that another team of horses was not taken to the shop, that he might have brought the record to the 200 mark.

DEMIDJI VOTES TO REMAIN "WET"

Breckenridge, Minn., Also Defeats Proposition to Close Saloons.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 506 to 381 the voters of this city decided yesterday to continue "wet" and defeated the plans of the no-license advocates.

Mayor William McCuaig was re-elected by 100 majority. His opponent was D. W. Hannah, Socialist.

George Stein, city clerk; George Rhea, treasurer, and P. C. Lloyd, assessor, were re-elected by comfortable majorities.

Following are victors in the aldermanic contests:

First ward, J. F. Lahr; Second ward, Tom Smart; Third, Carl Foucault; Fourth, Reuben Miller.

Breckenridge Also Wet.

Breckenridge, Minn., Feb. 18.—No-license was defeated here yesterday, 363 to 110. The advocates of license based their campaign on the contention there had been no grand jury here in four years and no violation of the liquor laws have been on record, while Wahpeton, across the line in prohibition North Dakota, has four grand jury sessions a year and courts are continuously kept busy with blind pig cases.

CONVENTION OF PLUMBERS HERE

Duluth Will Entertain 125 Delegates Friday and Saturday.

The annual convention of the master plumbers of the state will be held at the Spalding hotel on Friday and Saturday of the present week. It is expected that there will be 125 delegates to the convention, representing all the principal towns of the state.

Aside from the regular business sessions of the convention there will be a trip to the plant of the Minnesota Radiator company on Friday and a trip to the steel plant on Saturday.

On Saturday evening there will be a banquet and social session at the Hotel Superior.

It is expected that D. R. Black of Duluth, the present treasurer of the association, will be re-elected.

PRISONER DIES IN POLICE STATION

Marine Engineer Is Found Dead By Jailer Louis Johnson.

Charles S. Hempstead, a marine engineer engaged in north shore fish business, was found dead in a cell at police headquarters at 1 o'clock this morning. Early last evening he was taken to the city jail in a stupor and when seen by Officer Louis Johnson on his hourly rounds about midnight was apparently sleeping. At 1 o'clock when the jailer made the rounds again, he saw the man lying on the floor, and thinking him sick sent for Police Surgeon Murphy. Dr. Murphy pronounced the man dead, presumably of alcoholism. Coroner McComb ordered the body removed to the Crawford undertaking rooms where an autopsy is in progress this afternoon.

An early report to the effect that the man was another Charles S. Hempstead, a former master of lake vessels, but who lost his license because of color-blindness a few years ago, and who has spent some of the time since in fishing, proved erroneous.

Mr. Hempstead resided at 406 Lake avenue south. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son. The latter is Theodore R. Hempstead and is driven for Eugene Bunker.

He will, providing for the turning over of whatever estate he had to his son, was found in the dead man's pocket. Together with this were discharge papers showing that he had been a veteran of the Civil war, and was a pensioner. No funeral arrangements have yet been made. He has lived in Duluth for more than twenty years.

BODY SENT TO DENVER.

Funeral of Ignaz Arnold in Charge of Sons of Herman.

The funeral of Ignaz Arnold, who died at St. Luke's hospital last Sunday, will be held from Crawford's undertaking rooms, Second avenue west and Second street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body will be taken to Denver, Colo., by Miss Anna Arnold, a sister, and will be interred there.

Mr. Arnold, who has resided in Duluth for twenty-five years, has been in charge of the shipping department of the People's Brewing and Malting company for the last five years. He was a member of the Sons of Herman and of the West End Bachelors' club. The former organization will have charge of the funeral.

Tobacco Habit Easily Conquered

A New Yorker of wide experience, has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit may be easily and completely banished in three days with delightful benefit. The author, Edward J. Woods, 534 Sixth Ave., 898 D, New York City, will mail his book free.

The health improves wonderfully after the nicotine poison is out of the system. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. Get rid of that nervous feeling; no more need of pipe, cigar, cigarette, snuff or chewing tobacco to pacify morbid desire.

BILLINGHURST IS SENT OUT OF PERU

Congress Will Not Authorize Leguia to Take Presidency.

Lima, Peru, Feb. 18.—Guillermo Billinghurst, the deposed president of Peru, was sent into exile today, together with his son, George, and his minister of the interior, Don Gonzalo Tirado. At midnight the fallen chief was taken from the penitentiary, where he had been confined since his overthrow on Feb. 4, and transported under military escort to the port of Callon, about six miles away, where he and his two companions were placed on board the Peruvian cruiser Lima.

Fear Revolt Against Leguia.

It is stated that the majority of the Peruvian congress will refuse to authorize the assumption of the presidency by Roberto E. Leguia, first vice president, who now is on his way to New York from England. It is said such action on his part would cause further revolution and a state of anarchy in Peru.

Dr. Jose Pardo, who was president of Peru from 1904 to 1908, is reported to intend returning to Peru in order to unify the various elements of the civil party, but without any idea of trying to return to power.

DWIGHT JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Austin H. Dwight, president of Dwight Brothers' Paper company, was sentenced last night to sixty days in jail charged with contempt of court. Walter E. Dwight, treasurer of the company, was given a similar sentence last October.

The sentences were the outcome of a petition of the four Dwight brothers as a result of which Harvey Dwight, also a brother, was adjudged insane here. He was paroled to his brothers on a promise that they would produce him whenever the court ordered. Shortly afterward a Milwaukee jury held that Dwight was sane. The contempt sentences followed the failure of the men to produce Harvey Dwight on Judge Owen's order. Both have filed bonds for appeal.

In sentencing the head of the firm, Judge Owens accused him of conspiring to defraud Mrs. Harvey Dwight out of stock in the paper company valued at $50,000, which he said the brothers had persuaded him to assign to them after being adjudged sane in Wisconsin.

SUES CAR COMPANY.

Mary Hahn Asks $3,000 Damages for Alleged Injuries.

Suit for $3,000 damages was started in district court yesterday by Mary Hahn against the Duluth Street Railway company.

She alleges that her nervous system was shocked and that she was otherwise injured in a collision between two cars on Nov. 7 last. Mrs. Hahn alleges that she was a passenger on an eastbound Lakeside car. The motorman lost control of the car on the grade at Twenty-fourth avenue east, she claims, and it crashed into another car. The company is charged with negligence in operating a car with defective equipment.

Fire at Bay City.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 18.—The Bialy Hardware Supply company and the Herman Meisel Grocery company, occupying adjoining buildings, suffered a loss of $150,000 from a fire which broke out last night in the basement of the hardware store. The total insurance is about $75,000.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 1477 Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

"MOTHER" JONES IS DENIED FREEDOM

Colorado Supreme Court Rejects Habeas Corpus Petition.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 18.—The state supreme court today denied the petition for the writ of habeas corpus filed by "Mother" Jones, a military prisoner in the Southern Colorado coal fields. Two of the seven justices dissented.

See Scenes of Fights.

Trinidad, Colo., Feb. 18.—Scenes of the exciting events in the Colorado coal miners' strike were inspected today by the congressional investigation committee. The committeemen started at 8:30 o'clock this morning in automobiles for the Ludlow tent colony, the Hastings, Berwind, Tabasco and other mines.

At 10 o'clock the committee had reached Forbes, where one of the fatal engagements between strikers and mine guards occurred, Oct. 17. The committee interviewed several persons concerning the battle, and inspected the buildings which were in range of the bullets from the first machine gun owned by the operators.

The committee then proceeded to Ludlow.

NEW SWEDISH CABINET NAMED

Stockholm, Feb. 18.—The new cabinet selected by Dr. Knut Hammarskjoeld at the request of King Gustaf is officially announced as follows:

Premier and minister of war, Dr. Hammarskjoeld.

Minister of foreign affairs, K. A. Wallenberg.

Minister of marine, M. Brostroem.

Minister of finance, M. Vennersten.

Minister of the interior, O. F. Von Sidow, governor of Norrboten.

Minister of justice, Chief Justice Hassebrot.

Minister of agriculture, Baron Beck Friis.

Minister of education, Prof. Westman.

Col. Moercke has been appointed consulting counsellor.

The opponents of the government agree that all the ministers are able men, but as their adherents will be in the minority in the second chamber, there will be little chance of the passage of the defense bill, in support of which the new cabinet will devote its energies. Early dissolution is therefore inevitable.

"ETERNAL TORMENT" FOR CITY COUNCIL

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 18.—The city council is condemned to "eternal damnation and future torment," in a formal report oy the board of works. The council had asked for the immediate repair of a chair, table and fireplace to save it from "present and future torment." The board ordered the repairs, but declared the latter task "seems hopeless."

Navy Contracts Let.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Contracts were awarded by Secretary Daniels yesterday to the Boston navy yard for the construction of a supply ship at $1,171,713, and to the Philadelphia navy yard for a transport at $1,458,305. The government plants submitted estimates considerably below bids from private shipbuilders.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

GOVERNMENT-OWNED ROADS COMING ISSUE

Judge Prouty Says Forces Are Working to That End.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 18.—Judge C. A. Prouty, in charge of the physical valuation of railroads by the government, declared in an address before the Traffic club here last night that forces are at work that will make government ownership a big political issue in the future.

"I am not forecasting or trying to influence the decision of the rate question," said Judge Prouty, "but I say most positively there are forces at work which will make government ownership a big political issue in a short time. If government ownership comes, it will be because the railroads have not given satisfactory service."

CANADIANS KEEP PRIZE FOR OATS

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 18.—The $1,500 trophy for the best peck of oats, contested for at the national corn exposition, went out of the United States permanently when J. C. Hill & Sons, Loydminster, Sask., Can., were awarded the trophy for the third consecutive time. They requested the directors to allow them to offer a similar cup, to be known as the Canadian trophy.

F. O. Sumner, Clyde Park, Mont., won the United States championship prize. Awards will be submitted to the United States department of agriculture for confirmation.

STILL AFTER A PUBLIC MARKET

Commercial Club Will Ask City to Purchase Site in West End.

Members of the West End Commercial club will again take up the subject of the city purchasing a site for a public market in this end of the city. The success of the market place on Twenty-first avenue and Superior street, during the past two seasons, say merchants and residents, makes it necessary that a permanent location be secured.

At present the site is being leased at a nominal rental, but it is intimated that this summer will be the last season which it will be available for use. The owner has intimated that he intends building on the corner next fall.

It is proposed to ask the city to purchase a site covering a quarter or a half block, which will be situated somewhere east of Twenty-fourth avenue and between Michigan and Second streets. Anywhere in this district, they say, is desirable for the purpose. As part payment for the property, the business men say that the city could dispose of its lot, purchased several years ago for a police station, at 1928 West Michigan street. The subject will be taken up at the next meeting of the West End Commercial club.

"WHITE WAY" SEEMS ASSURED.

Property Owners Sign for West Superior Street Lighting.

The "white way" for West Superior street through the West end may be an assured fact this spring. Members of the West End Commercial club, who for nearly four years have been attempting to induce merchants and property owners to sign up for the maintenance and installation of the standards, have, with the exception of one or two, all given their consent.

It is expected that the last property owner will sign the agreement before the end of this week. The installing of the standards will cost each owner of a 25-foot lot about $25, while the maintenance will amount to about $16 per year.

The "white way" will stretch for four blocks along Superior street, beginning at Eighteenth avenue and running to Twenty-second avenue. It is proposed to place ten of the standards in each block, five on each side of the street, placed alternately so that they will be about fifty feet apart.

Bids for the installing of the system will be called for by the Commercial club committee as soon as the last signature has been received. It is expected that the standards may be installed early this spring, so that the new lighting system may be ready on May 1.

Aberdeen Funeral.

The funeral of Ethel, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Aberdeen, 1112½ Garfield avenue, who died yesterday morning, will be held at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the family residence. Rev. C. W. R. Wermine, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be made in the Union cemetery.

Children's Party.

Mrs. Charles Nolan, 1712 West Third street, entertained yesterday afternoon at a birthday party in honor of the sixth birthday of her son Clarence. The little guests were: Rubin Olson, Janette Peterson, Roy Myers, Louise Rodgers, Arthur Martinson, Violet Molan, Arvid Olsen, Florence Netzel, Gordon Martinson, Evelyn Myers, Teddy Netzel and Clarence Nolan.

Illustrated Lecture.

Rev. Wilfred Clarke, rector of the St. John's Episcopal church of Lakeside, will give an illustrated lecture on "Cathedrals of England" at the St. Peter's Episcopal church Friday evening. Rev. Mr. Clarke has a number of stereopticon views of these cathedrals which he will show during the lecture. He will also show two reels of motion pictures. The program will be similar to those which have been given at the Lakeside hall during the winter by Rev. Mr. Clarke.

West End Briefs.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, will speak on "The Christian Family" at services to be held in the church tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Mae Baillie, 322 North Twenty-third avenue west, will entertain this evening for members of the Delta Gamma Dramatic club. Rehearsals for two plays to be given in the near future by the club will be held.

The Rosary Society of St. Clement's church will entertain this evening at a supper in the clubrooms of the church. Tomorrow afternoon the society has planned to entertain at a tea in the clubrooms.

George Farrington has returned to his home at Jamestown, N. D., after spending a few days visiting his brother, A. Farrington, 2131 West Fourth street.

Mrs. Axel Linden and Mrs. John Linn will be hostesses tomorrow afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Swedish Mission church. The society will meet in the church parlors.

Joseph Podzycki was pleasantly surprised last evening by a party of friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Keriecik, 2405 West Sixth street. Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening. About thirty guests were present.

At a meeting of the Allen Bible Class of the Grace M. E. church to be held this evening at the home of Mrs. David Adams, 2314 West Second street, parts will be assigned to the members who will take part in the playlet, "At the Union Depot." The class will give the play Friday evening, March 20.

MONEY IN MUCH BETTER DEMAND

Business Shows Expansion in All Lines, According to Bank Reports.

The call for money is showing moderate expansion as the early spring season approaches, according to Duluth bankers. While the local supply of funds is ample to cover requirements of customers a conservative policy is still being pursued in making loans and rates are showing a stiffening tendency.

Lumbering and general woods operations are now beginning to absorb more money and a slightly heavier demand is reported from manufacturers and wholesalers.

Judging from present indications, bankers predict that the coming season will record good activity in operations on the ranges, both on the part of the United States Steel corporation and by the independent interests.

At New York it is advised that offerings of commercial paper for discount are decidedly upon a more liberal scale than a week ago, indicating a broadening out in business generally. Leading Chicago bankers aver that the money market there has grown stiffer during the last few days. The prevailing rate on the highest grade commercial paper at that point is 4 and 4½ per cent compared with around 5½ and 6 per cent a year ago.

SAYS ALL SHOULD HAVE SQUARE DEAL

Dr. Phelan Starts New Lecture Course on "Labor and Life."

In the first lecture of the university spring extension course at the Commercial club last evening, Dr. Raymond Phelan characterized bad labor conditions as spelling business loss, in his address on "Modern Labor and Fair Play." The course will consist of lectures on "Labor and Life." The one next week will be on "Labor and the Home."

Dr. Phelan analyzes the labor problem from the point of view of capitalist, worker, consumer and citizen. "The citizen, and he has the balance viewpoint," said Dr. Phelan, "is interested first, in reputable goods and service at low social cost; second, in an equitable sharing among capitalist, worker, and consumer, and third work as a means of social well-being and improvement. In efforts at labor reform, today, business economy and social morality are fortunately twin advocates. Bad, pernicious labor conditions can be shown to spell business loss."

In discussing the stage of manufacture leading to modern production the lecturer said: "One of the most necessary teachings of our day is that acquiring is not always equivalent to earning, that getting is not always the same as deserving.

"The twentieth century demands that every boy and girl have a fair chance of being born healthy and virtuous, of growing up into a strong, well-trained adult, of following the work most suited to him or her, of making an honest, comfortable living, and of pushing humanity onward and upward."

SAYS ICE MAGNATE IS EXTORTIONER

New York, Feb. 18.—Joseph A. Sheridan, former president of the Independent Ice Dealers' association and at one time head of the Citizens' Protective league, was found guilty of extortion by a supreme court jury.

Sheridan was indicted for taking $1,000 from an ice company in July, 1911, after an alleged threat that he would "see" the district attorney of New York county, the state attorney general and the legislature after the ice company unless he received $1,000 "hush money."

ELK TOOTH FRAUD CASE IS ON TRIAL

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 18.—Witnesses from New York city, Seattle, Sacramento, Red Lodge, Mont.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Rapid City, S. D.; Deadwood, S. D., and Omaha, Neb., were in Federal court here to testify in the case of the United States against Ray C. Boyer of Lincoln, who is on trial in the United States court. Boyer is charged with selling imitation elk teeth to a number of jewelers as genuine, and is charged with having used the mails in carrying out his alleged schemes to defraud. Twenty-four witnesses have been subpoenaed.

It is claimed by the government that Boyer had elk teeth manufactured, and that he represented to the persons to whom he sold them that they were genuine teeth, and that they had been dug out of Indians' graves in the West.

WILL SHOW SWEDEN RUSSIA'S FRIENDSHIP

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—At a meeting of the Russian group of the interparliamentary union, the secretary of the union urged the group to send representatives to the conference which is to be held at Stockholm to celebrate the peace centenary, in order to prove the friendly relationship between Scandinavia and Russia. Several members of the Russian group expressed their intention to visit Stockholm with the object of confirming that Russia had no hostile intentions.

MINNESOTANS NAMED FOR POSTMASTERS

E. C. KILEY, Grand Rapids.

JOSEPH WOLF, Staples.

Washington, Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The president today nominated the following Minnesota postmasters: E. C. Kiley at Grand Rapids; Joseph Wolf at Staples.

CITY ORDERS PAVING JOB

Three Miles of Woodland Avenue Will Be Improved.

Action Follows Meeting of Commissioners and Property Owners.

Following a lengthy discussion between the commissioners and a number of property owners, the city council this morning passed two resolutions directing the paving of Woodland avenue between Fourth street and Victoria street this season.

The first resolution orders the improvement of the entire thoroughfare, as petitioned for, from Fourth street to Austin street, a distance of about three miles, but directs that because of the city's limited funds, that section between Fourth and Victoria streets be completed in 1914. The resolution also embodies a provision for an advance assessment of 80 per cent.

Second Resolution.

The second resolution orders the improvement of the avenue from Fourth street to Victoria street under that section of the charter which allows the council to direct special improvements without petition. Under this clause the resolution must lay over sixty days to give the property owners interested an opportunity to file a protest against the work. The charter says: "If within said sixty days' period a remonstrance against such improvement be filed with the council, signed by not less than 25 per cent of the owners, owning not less than 25 per cent of the property proposed to be assessed for such improvement, protesting against the making of the improvement, the council shall not make such improvement at the expense of the property owners benefited, unless, in the meantime, there be filed with the council a petition asking that the improvement be made, signed by other property owners in number and amount of interest equal to those signing the remonstrance; in which event the council may proceed with such improvement at the expense of the property benefited, notwithstanding the remonstrance."

By passing the two resolutions the council proposes to safeguard the interests of the city, saving itself from legal entanglements which might invalidate the assessment and preventing delays which might prevent any work being done on Woodland avenue this year. This action is taken upon the advise of City Attorney Harvey Clapp, who went over the situation with Commissioner Murchison yesterday afternoon and who met with the council this morning when the resolutions were passed.

The property owners attending the meeting and the members of the council were of one mind that Woodland avenue should be improved, and that if all the work cannot me done this year, the first section should be finished. The city attorney believes that under the resolutions which have been passed the improvement of the first mile can be proceeded with as soon as the weather permits.

More Than One Job.

Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss suggested that the underground work, principally the making of service connections from street mains to the curb, and the paving be not handled as one job. He said that this is liable to work an injustice to some of the property owners as the contractor may bid high on this class of work and still low enough on the rest to land the contract. He cited two instances of the past season. The contractors bid $10 per yard for rock excavation and sublet the work for $6 per yard, the property owners thus bearing an unfair burden. He said that better prices could be obtained by dividing the two classes of work. Commissioner Murchison asserted that the works division will be glad to do this work at cost and eliminate the undesirable feature. This will likely be done.

The city will also pay the cost of the concrete culvert over Tischer's creek from the permanent improvement fund. The estimated cost is $4,600.

Mayor Prince assured the property owners that the overhead wires will be in conduits before the paving is laid. He said that he has already taken up this matter with the wire companies, adding that it will be the fixed policy of the commission to have all wires placed underground before permanent improvements are made on any streets or avenues.

Commissioner Hicken made an urgent plea to the property owners to cooperate with the city. He declared that he and his colleagues recognize the necessity of paving Woodland avenue, but that they need the united help of the residents. "Get together; decide on what you want; help us to avoid appeals and delays; do your share, and the city will do its share," he said. "We can't do the whole job this season, but we want to make a start, and it can be done under these resolutions with your assistance."

Eliminate Delays.

T. W. Hoopes appealed to the council to eliminate delays, asking that as much work as possible be done this year and that the balance be completed at the earliest date. "Some of the people living out there are young, but some of the others and myself are getting old," he said, "and we would like to get some use of the avenue during our lifetime."

Commissioner Merritt asserted that he is in favor of all improvements which will make it easier to gain access to the country, and was strongly in accord with making a start towards improving Woodland avenue this season.

W. J. McCabe, representing the committee which has had charge of the paving question, urged that there be no delay. He said that he wished to correct the idea that the owners want a pavement regardles of cost. He stated that this is an erroneous impression, as the cost is a material item. He explained that they wanted a good pavement at a reasonable cost, and thought that the majority of the property owners in his neighborhood favored concrete.

Dr. Albert G. Schulze appeared for property owners between Fourth street and Kent road, requesting that this section be handled as a separate job. Under the action taken this morning this was not done.

The kind of paving which will be laid on Woodland avenue has not been determined. Before the selection is made the wishes of the property owners will be taken into consideration. It is probable that more than one kind of paving will be put down between Fourth and Austin streets. The city engineer has prepared many different estimates for the whole of the avenue as well as for various sections or various widths. For that part between Fourth and Victoria streets, ordered this morning, he has prepared estimates of the cost of concrete, bituminous concrete, asphait, bituithic and sandstone, for both 25 and 30-foot widths. The estimates run from $70,000 to $90,000.

NEW ATTORNEY TO TAKE APPEAL

Madame Gain Engages John H. Norton--Abatement Case Pending.

Mary Le Flohic, alias Madame Gain, convicted by a district court jury at this term of court on a charge of keeping the Clifton (now Elgin) hotel as a house of ill-fame last July, has engaged the services of John H. Norton, former county attorney, to prosecute her appeal which is now pending. It is understood that a new trial will be asked for, and if the court denies the motion, an appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

It is generally understood that Benjamin M. Goldberg, attorney for Madame Gain at both trials of the criminal action against her, will no longer be connected with her affairs in court. Mr. Goldberg stated today that he understood that the madame had engaged Mr. Norton to act in his place, but that no official notice had been served on him to that effect. Notices of retainer were, however, served on Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, and filed with the clerk of the court.

Mr. Norton will also take charge of the abatement action which is pending against the Elgin hotel property. It is expected that the case will soon be tried. The outcome of the suit will be watched with interest in view of the recent conflicting decisions on the abatement law in the district courts of the state. A judge in the Ramsey county courts held certain phases of the law unconstitutional, while the constitutionality of the entire act was upheld by a judge in the Hennepin county courts. Both cases will probably go to the supreme court for final decision.

216 WEST FIRST STREET.

D. H., 2-18-14.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

THE electric street-cleaning apparatus of Berlin, Germany, is proving very economical. The street cleaning department employs eighteen electric sprinkling and scrubbing machines, whose total daily operating and maintenance cost is $1.41 each. The daily cost of ten horse-drawn machines is $4.57. Each of the electrically-driven machines cleans 55,496 square yards in the average eight-hour day, while each horse-drawn machine cleans 44,013 square yards. The former therefore accomplishes over 26 per cent more work at about 4 per cent less cost or in other words are about 30 per cent more economical.

Duluth has no electrical street-cleaning apparatus. In fact, its equipment, although it does fairly well, is nothing of which the city can boast. Commissioner Roderick Murchison is investigating various kinds of improved street-cleaning apparatus with a view to bringing street cleaning to as efficient and economical a basis as possible. But he cannot hope to revolutionize the local situation as the funds of the works division will not permit of any extensive expenditures for costly machinery. The best he can do is to build up this branch of the works division's activity gradually.

Why Liquor Treatment Should Be Taken

If those who are confirmed liquor or drug users could only be made to realize that the treatment in the various Neal Institutes throughout the country would enable them to quit it would certainly be a Godsend to many men and women, to say nothing of their families. In the Neal treatment no hypodermics are used and in three days' time the patient leaves the institute free from the abnormal craving, the gratification of which has caused more misery and degradation in the world than all other agencies combined. After the first day the craving disappears and the patient goes forth a new and free man. The Neal Institute takes the most desperate cases and changes them from dissipated wrecks into men and women capable of occupying a place in the world which will reflect credit both upon themselves and their families.

Our new booklet, "The Modern Method of Treatment for Alcohol and Drug Addiction," tells the whole interesting story. Mailed free on request—in a plain sealed envelope.

Discolored, Wrinkled Skin Easily Removed

(From the Woman Beautiful.)

Since brown or yellow, over-red or blotchy complexions are decidedly not the fashion, I cannot understand why so many continue to wear them. Surely every woman has heard of mercolized wax. This I know—from my own and others' experiences—will positively banish every unsightly tint. The wax really takes off a bad complexion. It gradually, harmlessly, absorbs the thin layer of surface skin with all its defects, as chaps, liver spots, pimples, freckles, blackheads. Just as gradually the discarded skin is replaced by the clear, white, youthful skin underneath. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store, is applied nightly like cold cream and erased mornings with warm water. One ounce will produce the loveliest girlish complexion in less than a fortnight.

I can't understand, either, why folks will be bothered with wrinkles, since the famous saxolite formula has become public property. One ounce of powdered saxolite dissolved in a half-pint witch hazel, makes a wash lotion that will quickly efface every line, even the deepest.—Advertisement.

Woman's Realm

Mrs. Jane Everington Scully, soprano; Mrs. Mary Adeline Nelson, reader, and Miss Valborg Gunderson, violinist, three of Duluth's favorite artists were heard at the free concert given at the First Baptist church last evening before an audience which completely filled the church. Mrs. Scully sang Costa's "I Will Extol Thee, O Lord," and Leoncavallo's "Ave Maria" with violin obligato, beautifully and with her usual serious attention to artistic detail and for a lighter group a number of pretty little songs well given. Miss Marie Tims played her accompaniments with understanding and ability, which added much to the whole.

Mrs. Mary Adeline Nelson, as usual, delighted her hearers with her readings, which included "The Lane That Had No Turning," by Gilbert Parker, and a lighter number, "The Abandoned Elopement," which displayed her versatility and depth of thought.

Miss Gunderson's numbers included two numbers by Dardia, "Schero" and "Poeme," and the Wieniawski, "Romance," delightfully interpreted with skill and musicianly understanding.

The concert on a whole was a delightful treat fully appreciated by the audience which manifested its feeling with hearty applause and several encore numbers were given by the three artists.

DRAMATIC AFTERNOON.

Miss Shesgreen Will Be the Reader.

Miss Mary Shesgreen will read Clyde Fitch's "The Truth" at the February dramatic afternoon of the drama class of the Twentieth Century club, which will be held at the home of Mrs. N. E. Hugo, 2407 East Third street, at 2:30 o'clock. Only members of that class will be admitted.

DRAMA LEAGUE.

Play and Review at Joint Meeting.

A joint meeting of the Duluth and Superior branches of the Drama league will be held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. C. Harris, 1203 East First street, at 2:30 o'clock for which an interesting program has been arranged. Mrs. George W. Morgan will read a one-act drama, adapted from the French of Coppee le Pater, and Mrs. James E. Rockwell will review an article by Maurice Browne, director of the Chicago Little theater, on "The Temple of a Living Art."

FOR WELSH PEOPLE.

St. David's Day Will Be Celebrated Here.

To Honor St. David, the patron saint of the Welsh, the members of the Duluth-Superior Welsh society have planned an entertainment in celebration of St. David's day to be held on Saturday evening, Feb. 28, at Foresters' hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. March 1, St. David's day, coming on Sunday this year, the celebration is planned a day in advance and an invitation is extended to all people of Welsh birth or descent in Duluth or the vicinity to join in this celebration. A program of music and talks is being planned and there will be refreshments following the program. No admission will be charged and the members of the society and their friends are looking forward to an interesting social evening.

GREEK ART.

Miss Toben Leader of Bishop's Club.

"The Individual in Greek Art" was the subject of an interesting paper read by Miss Frances Toben last evening at the regular meeting of the Bishop's club, held at the clubrooms in Cathedral hall. Miss Toben was leader for the evening and the program was opened by Miss Theresa Fiebiger, with the scripture reading interpretation by Bishop McGolrick. Piano numbers by Miss Gertrude Logan were also much enjoyed and the current events discussion was led by Miss Adeline Buckley.

The Secret of Beauty—FREE

We will send to all users of Gouraud's Oriental Cream, a copy of Mr. Gilbert's beautiful painting entitled "The Secret of Beauty" in panel form 11 x 22 inches. It is a splendid reproduction on highly coated paper of one of the girl's figures Mr. Gilbert is noted for and is not marred by any printed matter which would prevent framing. Send 10c. in stamps to cover wrapping and postage. — We are confident you will be highly pleased with the picture and calendar and find it a valued addition to your library or den.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream

It purifies, beautifies and preserves the skin. Relieves blemishes, and gives that clear, soft, pearly white complexion so much admired. It is a liquid non-greasy preparation that nourishes the skin and protects it from the disagreeable weather of all seasons. It has stood the test for over sixty-five years.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

No Excuse for Not Attending Church.

Varied but rarely ingenious are the excuses that both men and women offer for not attending church. Shorn of their externals, however, they all reduce to the very significant fact that the non-churchgoer had rather do something else on Sunday morning.

He may clothe his excuse so that as it rolls from his tongue he feels as if he had justified his conclusions, but I have yet to hear anyone attempt an apology for his regular absence from Sunday service, unless he admitted atheism at the same time, who has made a convincing argument, a consistent statement or one that elevated him in the esteem of his hearers. There isn't any excuse for not going to church. He who professes to be a Christian, and makes one, no matter how well grounded, knows that he is only begging the question and shirking his duty.

I use the masculine pronoun to cover the whole world of laggards at church attendance, but it is also used advisedly. While there are many women backsliders, menfolk are in the majority. They have less to hold them from their devotional duties on Sunday mornings, yet a conservative estimate in the church pews is one man to every ten women, and hardly that.

One of our women's magazines recently made a canvas of the fair sex on this very topic—church attendance. Some fifty replies were published, the reasons ranging from the indifference of the church to the individual, and the mediocrity, not to say downright inferiority, of the minister's sermons, to the candid admission that Sunday morning was the only morning in the week that the person interviewed could sleep as late as he or she wished.

The desire to sleep, read the papers, tour the countryside in a motor car, and otherwise rest and refresh oneself are the great drawbacks to church attendance. Men and women who are confined in store and office the whole week through have an antipathy to church going which, I am sure, is not bred of attending devine service. Rather is it a spirit that becomes stronger the longer one remains away. But you will find that regular church attendance will make you feel better in more ways than one.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Photoplay.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

"Traffic In Souls," which shows conditions that are alleged to exist in the "white slave" evil, is being shown at the Lyceum this week, four times each day.

William Hodge will be seen at the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday in "The Road to Happiness." In telling why he likes the part of Jim Whitman in "The Road to Happiness," Mr. Hodge said:

"When I chose 'The Road to Happiness' out of the hundreds of manuscripts that were submitted to me for reading during the five years of 'The Man From Home,' I chose it for two reasons. First, because the play had what I thought a popular appeal, but I didn't realize that it had an appeal similar to 'Shore Acres' and 'Way Down East'; second, because the role of Jim Whitman was the sort of a role I wanted to play. The part of Whitman—the drawling, quick-witted, small town law student, is in many respects similar to that of Daniel Vorhees Pike in 'The Man From Home.' Although Pike hailed from Kokomo, Ind., and Whitman's home is in a small town in Upper New York state, both are genuine Yankees—the real men of our country.

"While Pike is the possessor of plenty of money and a well-known lawyer, and Whitman makes a living by day by horse-doctoring and carpentering while he studies law by night, both are the same type of men, fearless, just and willing to go the limit for their friends. Both characters have been called rubes; yet neither, it seems to me, is in any way a rube. When they speak they say something, when they make up their minds they do, when they have minds to make up, and their elocutions are more easily understood than the academic forms of the Bostonians."

David Bispham, the eminent baritone who is headlining the Orpheum bill this week, is a great lover of animals, and has had many funny experiences with them during his professional career.

This week he has made friends with Tyron's dogs, which are on the present bill, and so infatuated are the animals with the singer that their trainer has had to request him not to stand in the wings while they are working, as their attention is so centered on him that they forget their tricks.

Some time ago a huge bat circled around his head during a concert in Montreal, and later two enormous rats played about in the wings and among the footlights of a theater where he was singing. On another occasion a cat jumped on the platform from the body of the hall, and with evident satisfaction rubbed itself against the baritone's legs, until the audience was in such laughter that the cat had to be ejected. At the Greek theater in California Mr. Bispham was assisted by a pair of larks, who sang, to the delight of all, as he was rendering Shubert's "Hark! Hark! the Lark." Quite recently three dogs went to Bispham's concert at El Paso. One of them maintained a decorous silence, but the second joined in the applause, signifying his approval in a fine bass bark; while the third, in high good humor, beat time—rather raggedly, it must be confessed—by whacking his long tail so vigorously against a bench that he and his noisy companion had to be led from the hall.

At one time not long ago, the Wood Brothers, who are appearing at the Empress theater for the last times tonight, worked for Mr. Brenon, the moving picture director and producer. In order to secure the proper types for a certain film he was to produce, Mr. Brenon, sent the Wood brothers down into the slums of New York for his "extras." When these "extras" showed up at the studio the director was almost floored. There was a sad mixture of races. The Wood brothers had done their work very well. Mr. Brenon, who speaks French fluently, had no trouble in taking care of the French, but he was forced to obtain two interpreters to attend to the others. Ignorant and lacking stage experience, these aspiring actors caused Brenon endless trouble before he finished with them, and had to pay almost as much for interpreters as he did for the actors.

The endless search for the great American play goes on, but of the plays written by Americans, and upon a subject that is essentially American, there have been but three that have been accepted as worthy candidates for this great honor. The three are "Paid In Full," "The Great Divide" and "The Man Of the Hour." The last mentioned was the choice of many critics for the honor. Built upon a condition that can exist in no other nation, written by one of the foremost American playwrights, and possessing all the elements of a great dramatic masterpiece, it has held its popularity. A prominent critic said of it: "It is the greatest of American plays, abounding with interest, and throwing light upon a subject upon which the whole nation is vitally interested." The play, presented by a clever company, will be at the Empress theater for three days, commencing Thursday matinee.

DULUTH'S MIDSUMMER PAGEANT AND THE PANAMA FAIR.

There is a probability of profit to Duluth in the project for beginning the annual midsummer pageant in 1915 that has not yet been suggested.

The Panama exposition at San Francisco will be in progress during the summer of 1915. Hordes will be traveling from the East to the great fair on the western coast and home again. Many will go out over the northern route and back over the southern route, or vice versa; probably most will thus vary their trip.

Suppose that Duluth, beginning now, arranges its Fete of the Voyageurs on a broad and big scale, for the week of August 2, 1915.

Suppose that the attraction is advertised widely in the East. Duluth need have little concern about that advertising if it arranges an attractive festival. The railroads and steamboat lines that will be working to divert the Panama fair traffic to the northern route will jump eagerly at such an opening. The northern route, espially that over the Great Lakes, will have an irresistible appeal in the heated season. Those going to and returning from the fair can easily be led to seek this cooler thoroughfare for their leisurely pleasure trip.

If there is, in addition to the cool summer weather, a great historic pageant and festival at Duluth, the steamboat and railroad lines will be able to attract thousands this way who otherwise, even though they took the northern route, would get no nearer Duluth than the Twin Cities.

It might be imagined, offhand, that the Panama fair would be a larger counter-attraction that would work against the success of the Duluth show. In point of fact, it comes happily to increase enormously the prospect of the success of the first year's pageant.

Beyond any doubt thousands more could be brought here on their way to or from the Panama fair than could otherwise be expected the first year.

No combination of circumstances better calculated to make the Duluth midsummer festival a great success at the start could possibly be imagined. Railroad and steamboat lines seeking arguments to divert traffic to the northern route could ask for nothing better than this midsummer show, combined with the cool summer climate.

Duluth would be to these travelers a blessed oasis in a parched and weary desert. They would mark it as a place to come to again—a place to be visited every year during the heated season, a place long sought and long to be remembered.

The direct advantages of the situation would include a large support from tourists to and from the fair.

An indirect advantage would be that it would bring to Duluth a large number of people of means, the very sort of people Duluth wants to come here and see what a city of prospects and certainties this is. Better by far than any possible heralding of statistics and glowing eulogies would be to bring people here to see for themselves what a city this is to make money in, to be healthy and happy in, and to live in.

And because, if it is done, it must be done upon a broad and enduring scale, plans for the midsummer pageant of 1915 should be begun NOW, so that when railroads and steamboat lines are preparing their 1915 advertising matter next fall they will be able to include full and comprehensive descriptions of the Duluth program for August, 1915.

The consular reports announce that Holland has built a record-breaking "wind motor." Would poor old Don Quixote recognize the creature under that name?

"THE HEALTHIEST CITY."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, basing its boast upon a government statement showing Cleveland to have had a death rate of 15.7 per thousand last year, is talking about Cleveland as "the healthiest city." To be sure, it adds obscurely the qualification "large."

But in point of fact we have yet to hear of the city that can beat Duluth's own low death rate of 10.7 per thousand—about one-third less deaths than Cleveland, "the healthiest city."

This is an asset that, like its marvelous summer climate, Duluth is making too little of.

Cleveland is a healthy city, comparatively; and it owes the fact, no doubt, largely to its adjacency to Lake Erie. Just as Duluth owes a part of its healthfulness to its nearness to Lake Superior. In each instance a great body of water reserves and protects a great body of clean, pure and unspoilable fresh air.

In advertising Duluth as a great summer resort, and as the center of the greatest summer pleasuring ground in the world, Duluth should not forget to advertise as well such incidental advantages as the fact that it offers relief to sufferers from hay fever, and that its death rate is phenomenally low.

It sort of looks as if the Soo dam promoters Clapped a half Nelson on Duluth's interests when they put the approval of their project through the congressional mill when the Miller wasn't looking.

AN ATTACK ON THE PARCEL POST.

The people have need to be on their guard against insidious attempts to undermine the parcel post, which they gained at last after a long and painful struggle against the opposition of special privilege, and which under Postmaster General Burleson has been expanded rapidly, to the great contentment and profit of the public.

One such attempt, and a very dangerous one, has already been made.

The senate committee has proposed an amendment to the postal law taking away from the postmaster general the right to fix rates and change zones—the right under which Postmaster General Burleson has, as rapidly as he saw the way clear, amplified and expanded the parcel post service, greatly increasing its usefulness to the public.

The provision giving the postmaster general this leeway was wise—much wiser than congress realized, for it developed afterward that very few members of congress except the author of the provision knew what they were voting for.

The wisdom of the latitude allowed the postmaster general has been proved in practice, however, and the attempt to restrict it cannot be regarded otherwise than as a blow at the usefulness of the parcel post, which only the express companies may be expected to applaud.

What it means if this proposed amendment is adopted is that there can be no change in the parcel post system until congress finally gets around to take action, and that will not be until it has freed its coattails from the restraining grasp of the express companies and their agents.

There will be a chance then, for special privilege to fight and obstruct and delay every proposed extension of the service.

When the express companies, fighting for their lives, make reductions in rates below parcel post figures, they can depend, then, on getting and keeping business until congress, perhaps after years of debate, passes a law meeting their competition.

The amendment proposed by the senate committee is a deadly and underhanded blow at the parcel post. It should be defeated at all hazards, and the senator or congressman who votes for it should be made to clear himself of the presumption that he is working for the express monopoly rather than for the people.

Paris women are forbidden to wear protruding hatpins in public places. How long since a woman's hat became a public place?

SPOILS.

Kansas City Star: You will often hear it said that party organizations could not be maintained without "patronage"—distribution of jobs by party bosses.

Could you imagine a worse slam at party organization?

Men like President Wilson are sickened by the patronage business. The whole spoils system is directly opposed to the tendency and genius of the times.

The condition under which a party organization cannot be maintained without patronage is what comes about when a party has no longer anything to give it vitality except a bought and paid for support.

It is an attempt to make death linger instead of sudden, to galvanize the appearance of life into that which really is dead and ought to be laid peacefully away.

When a party organization has vital principles that appeal to thought and patriotism, it can be maintained very easily—and much more securely and more permanently—without "patronage" than with it.

For the very act of forfeiting patronage in the interest of public service is in itself the most convincing proof of a party's loyalty to the public interest.

Wisconsin's utilities law has been paying dividends to the people at the rate of fifteen hundred per cent a year. Which puts that system almost into the express company class, so far as returns are considered.

Unpatriotic

Life And now the temperance people in the East are proposing to install coffee houses in place of saloons. It makes little difference to a man whether he is killed by coffee or whisky, and both are equally deadly if used to excess.—Seattle Argus.

That is only partly true. When you kill yourself drinking coffee, as our friend suggests, at least you are not so offensive to others as you may be when you are killing yourself drinking whisky.

But should we not pause and consider when we recommend anything in these days which has a tendency to lengthen any one's life? Do not the great majority of people live too long anyway? Is the recent life extension, promulgated by Mr. Taft and others, a desirable project?

At one time you could have considerable fun with life in a leisurely way for seventy or eighty years. There was enough to fill in the time with acceptably, what with reading a few books over and over and having grandchildren and great grandchildren to play with.

But we no longer play with children. That is done by scientists with adjusted apparatus. We no longer look at scenery, which at from twenty to seventy miles an hour is only a blur. We no longer cultivate friends, because they, like ourselves, are dancing the tango or going to the movies or engaged in some other rapid pastime.

At eighteen or thereabouts our young people have exhausted all the pleasures of life; there is nothing else worth while for them to do or see. Why, therefore, should anyone suggest anything which tends to prolong an existence already rendered intolerable by its superfluous length?

Eugenics.

The chart before him lay, wherein to see—
Defeat and failure as his ancestry.
Weakness and pain as his heredity.
He bowed his head in bitter agony
Feeling himself unworthy utterly.
Then light, through black despair.
Shone piercingly.
"They have forgot my brother," whispered he,
"Jesus, Who died for others on the tree,
And my great father God, who strengthens me."

The Bogey of the Balance of Trade

Editorial in the St. Louis Republic.

Under the caption, "Some Threatening Figures," the esteemed Globe-Democrat ponderously delivers itself as follows:

If the decline in the favorable trade balance which is now shown is to be progressive, the fact must be dealt with. Dignified silence cannot explain it, for the excellent reason that silence, in the face of the figures, can be neither dignified nor explanatory. Statistics in the treasury reports show a total loss, during December, 1913, of more than $46,000,000 from the balance of trade in favor of the United States during December, 1912. Increase of imports was accompanied by decrease of exports. Always, heretofore, this has been an evil conjunction, when persisting for any length of time in the economic life of any people.

Of all the sawdust-filled bogeys of the standpat Chamber of Horrors, this of the "balance of trade" is the most fearsome and the most artificial.

On the face of the situation it looks real. The country imports, in a given period, more than it exports. Therefore the balance must be settled in cash. The money, therefore, they tell us, is being drained out of the country. National bankruptcy lies that way. What could be plainer?

If crosswise buying and selling were all there was in the business relation between countries the alarmist logic of the standpatter would be sound. But this is only the beginning of the thing. There, for example, is the factor of debts. England's "balance of trade" is always wrong. In 1912 the United Kingdom imported goods to the value of $3,623,794,000, while it sold abroad only $2,371,073,000 worth. On the face of it England was more than $1,200,000,000 "behind the game."

But not so fast. England is the great creditor nation. The world pays England hundreds of millions in interest and dividends every year. She does not take this in cash; that would only produce panic abroad and high prices at home. She takes it in goods. England could not possibly have a "favorable" trade balance—as the stuffed prophets of standpatism define it—without calling in a large part of the working capital of foreign lands.

The movement of securities is another factor which must be taken into account here. When money is "tight" in a foreign country that owns American stocks and bonds those securities may be thrown on the market. We buy them. We pay for them with goods. On the face of the trade statistics our exports are increasing and our imports diminishing. In reality we are simply paying up debts and contracting our working capital.

The gold movement is another factor. Suppose you put 1,000 men to making steel in the Pittsburg district and sell that steel abroad. This adds to our "favorable" trade balance. But if you put 1,000 men to mining gold in Colorado, if they produce gold of equal value to the steel in the former supposition, and you then export the gold—just as truly a "manufactured product" as the steel—you are helping on an "unfavorable" trade balance. Last November, when money was "tight" abroad, New York bankers refrained from bidding on African gold they needed because convinced that English and French and German conditions were verging on the acute. That reduced the amount of money coming this way, of course. In other words, what was really an evidence of financial strength helped on an "unfavorable" trade balance!

But the crowning element of imbecility in the G. O. P. position is the ignoring of the brazen heavens and parched fields of last summer. Corn, oats and barley harvests showed a loss of a billion bushels, as compared with 1912. Why didn't we export as much in December as we exported in the previous December? Because we didn't have it. Could there be a better reason, or one further removed from the arena of partisan polemics?

Here are the things in addition to the volume of exports and imports for a given time which you must know before you can form any idea of the real condition of the nation's business:

The movement of gold in and out of the country.

The production of the precious metals within the country.

The amount of interest and dividends paid by American individuals and corporations to foreign creditors and owners.

The movement of American securities between our markets and foreign markets.

The amount of interest and dividends due America from foreign lands.

The movements of foreign securities into and out of our markets.

And the newspaper that tries to pronounce finally on the "trade balance" without knowing these various factors is a charlatan and a quack.

The Universal Lesson.

"Some one knows something I don't know."
This is life's lesson, wherever I go.

My train pours on through the night's black sieve;
I feel her joggle and veer and give,
Yet she clings to the rails, by law divine
Applied by cannier hands than mine,
And she sings me to sleep with her rhythmic flow,
"Some one—knows something—that you don't know."

I see in a station a yokel rude
With fowling piece rust-crusted, old and crude—
Yet, strewing the floor 'round his muddied feet
Are trophies of game for a monarch meet.
Again the lesson that goes to show
Some one knows something that I don't know.

E'en children scarcely a fifth of my years
Surround me with feats that arouse my fears
For their limbs and their lives, as they sway and swing
On treacherous rollers—the bird a-wing
Goes scarcely more swiftly than these imps go—
Some one knows something that I don't know!

I raise my gaze to the stars of night,
Lending, through legions of leagues, their light,
Amazed I murmur: "And yet I see
The meagerest marge of immensity!"
So I whisper humbly, with head bent low:
"Some one knows something that I don't know."

This is my lesson wherever I go—
"Some one knows something that I don't know."
—Strickhan W. Gillilan.

Or giving that emptied the purse.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the largest private collections of no-account novels in the country belongs to Vice President Thomas R. Marshall. And it is having a steady, healthy growth.

Marshall has a mania for resting his mind, after he has been listening to affairs of state all day, by quietly consuming a 10-cent cigar and a $1.20 novel. And he cannot get the maximum degree of joy out of an inferior book unless he owns it. He therefore spends a great deal of money trying to keep pace with the output of those who write the One Thousand Best Sellers.

The vice president does not let many days go by without dropping into a book store and buying eight or nine of the least desirable novels they have on their shelves. He has been doing this for years, and the consequence is that his home back in Indianapolis is infested with enough worthless literature to stock the library of nearly every young ladies' finishing school pupil throughout the land. Every room in the Marshall house contains shelves, save only the bathroom, and each shelf sags under its illicit burden. They are shelves of shame.

And the end is not yet. Marshall continues to shun the circulating libraries and buys his reading matter outright. It is only a question of time when he will have to lease another room at his Washington hotel to make room for his collections of the Worst Works of our Worst Writers.

In buying a novel, there are just one or two things that determine Marshall's choice. The book must be new, still fairly damp from the presses, and it must have a pretty cover. If the cover contains a number of bright colors like a mid-summer fiction number of a popular-priced magazine, Marshall asks no further questions. He simply cannot walk by a new novel that is incarcerated in blues and yellow and pink and gold.

While he rather prefers detective stories, the vice president is really catholic in his tastes. A story about a man going to storm a castle in the Andes mountains in search of a beautiful maiden whom he first met at the soda fountain in a Greek candy kitchen—a story like that will delight Marshall at the close of his day's work just about as much as a detective tale.

Marshall, by the way, is not the only man who reads negligible novels before retiring. Old John Sharp Williams likes a frivolous detective story as well as anyone and is not above sitting up all night to see the plot through. James R. Mann, the minority leader of the house, has a standing order at the congressional library to supply him with a current novel a day. Mann admits that they're rarely, if ever, worth reading, but he likes them because they put him to sleep, and after all, he points out they're a great deal more harmless than sleeping powders.

Where Mann has the laugh on Marshall, however, is that he gets all his books out of the library, whereas Marshall can't walk by a bookstore without going in and squandering his money.

United States Treasurer John Burke, former governor of North Dakota, got his real start by winning his first few cases as a young lawyer.

One of these hinged on the color of a horse. There was a chattel mortgage, held by a bank, on a certain horse, and the mortgage was foreclosed. But the bank took a black horse, whereas it was claimed that the mortgage was on a chestnut horse of much less value. This led to a spirited legal controversy. One witness said that the mortgaged horse was black, and another witness said it was chestnut. So it was simply a matter of determining which witness was the most gifted in knowing what a color was when he saw it.

Burke had on an inoffensive suit of clothes that looked black in the shade and gray in a strong light.

When the witness for the other side took the stand Burke asked him several questions about his knowledge of colors, and inquired in an innocuous tone:

"What's the color of my suit?"

"Black!" replied the witness. For the room was dark.

"That's all," snapped Burke in the offhand but triumphant tone lawyers use when they wish to give the impression that they have a neat joke in store for the opposition.

He then called the witness for his side and asked him the same questions. This witness said Burke's suit was gray.

When he got ready to make his talk to the jury, Burke had the bailiff raise all the window shades so that anybody could see that the suit really was gray. He paced back and forth in front of the jury with a section of his coat tail in one hand waving it frantically in their faces and dwelling on the fact that anybody who said it was black instead of gray could be no fit judge of the color of a horse.

And the jurors sat and blinked solemnly and made up their minds in his favor.

E. B. Johns is an extra large-sized Washington correspondent who is never seen without an extra large-sized cane. A year or two ago, Johns was visiting in Ohio and dropped into a small town where a circus was showing. Naturally he had his cane.

A farmer was robbed on the circus grounds and the police force, consisting of two men, went circulating among the crowds after the guilty person. Presently they nabbed Johns.

"But I'm no thief," protested Johns. "Haven't I an honest face?"

"Ye—es," they admitted, "but you look mighty daggoned citified. Watta you doin' with that cane!"

Didn't Need the Hoe.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Hoboes came up for discussion in a Washington club the other night when Senator Nathan P. Bryan of Florida told an anecdote along the Weary Willie line.

Some time ago, he said, a hobo meekly tapped on the back door of a suburban home and asked for something to eat. The good housewife responded that she would feed him on the back step along with Fido, provided he was willing to earn the meal by cleaning out the gutter.

The tramp agreed, and when he had eaten his way through several sandwiches to a feeling of happiness, the housewife came out with a reliable looking hoe.

"You needn't have gone to that trouble, madame," said the hobo, sizing up the farm implement. "I never use a hoe in cleaning out a gutter."

"Never use a hoe," said the woman with a wondering expression. "What do you use then, a shovel?"

"No, madame," sweetly replied the hobo, starting for the back gate, "my method is to pray for rain."

The Political Calamity Mongers.

Luverne Journal: The date for the beginning of hard times seems to be repeatedly postponed. Why? Answer: The big interests which threatened to plunge the country into a panic if the people did not obey their mandate and elect the standpatters to office two years ago either dare not or cannot make good their bluff. We are inclined to think that there is about an even mixture of cowardice and inability in the failure of the fat boys to bring on depression. However, here and there a standpat newspaper is howling valiantly for Wall Street to get busy and "tie things up."

Sugar Beet Is a Lively Corpse.

Le Sueur News: Me; oh my! Some of the boys are still telling how the beet sugar factories will close and how there will be no more twenty pounds of sugar for a dollar. To begin the story up this way we have been getting only sixteen pounds for a long time, and then the factory at Chaska is offering special inducements to farmers to plant beets this year, so there is a log across the stream some place. The infant industry is no longer swallowed by the people.

He Hasn't Even Declared Himself.

Princeton Union: H. J. Maxfield of Wadena, who has filed for the Republican nomination for congress in the Sixth district, is a wideawake yeung man of sterling qualities, and Congressman Lindbergh—no matter on what ticket his name may appear or what his platform may be—will find in him an opponent worthy of his best efforts.

With Variations.

Litchfield Independent: S. Y. Gordon of Brown's Valley, former lieutenant governor, will run for member of the legislature at the next election. If successful, he will probably be a leading candidate for speaker, provided he aligns himself with the dominant faction of his party. It will be the Bull Moosers vs. the standpatters again, we suppose.

Ain't It Awful, Mabel?

Albert Lea Standard: After all the knocks and hopes of the calamity howlers, prosperity rings in and splendidly occupies the arena.

Isn't It So?

Monticello Times: There is many a young man proud of his mother, who would strike into the dust any man who would insult her, yet who, by his own evil doings and bad habits is sharpening a dagger to plunge through that mother's heart.

Greeks With Poisoned Gifts.

Luverne Journal: The primary needs revising; on that proposition about all hands seem to agree. But the old adage to "beware of Greeks bearing gifts" applies most emphatically in considering such revision. Progressives, honestly endeavoring to simplify our election machinery so as to make the voice of the people more effective, and standpatters of the type of some near at hand newspapers, whose aim is to make ring rule simpler and easier, cannot very well meet on common ground and try to evolve an acceptable election law.

Laughs Culled from the Foreign Press

Compiled by the Kansas City Star: "Twins are dear little things," writes Gerald Villiers-Stuart, in "The Spirit Lover, "when they are crawling about, one with pink, the other with blue ribbon, to distinguish the pretty darlings; but when the resemblance persists into middle age and you see two portly gentlemen with gray mutton chop whiskers, alike as two peas, you don't say, 'What darlings!'"

Jerome K. Jerome, talking of stage law, says that when a man dies without leaving a will, all his property goes to the nearest villain.

Sydney Smith once gave a woman a score of recipes for cheerfulness, and among them was to remember all the pleasant things said to and of her, to keep a box of candy on the chimney-piece and a kettle simmering on the hob. Do not give way to melancholy; never ask "Why were we born?" If you are given to asking questions, ask easy ones.

It is no use bluffing unless you have something to bluff with, and then you have no need to.

The trouble with the cautious man is that he always decides to make a dash at the wrong moment.

A small boy was asked by a clergyman what "sins of omission" meant. He replied they were sins we ought to have done and haven't.

Economy is a human eccentricity which will cause a woman to spend half a day and a quarter in car fares to get a 6-cent reel of cotton for a nickel.

Orange blossoms have often been known to sprout from widow's weeds.

A moderate amount of football keeps one healthy and fully alive, says an athlete. Alive and kicking, in fact.

"Rather a young girl to wear such a low gown?"

"Yes—quite a stripling."

A woman may not be able to record what her husband said when he proposed, but she can always remember what dress she wore at the time.

A Restricted Viewpoint.

Sioux City Tribune: One of the psychological puzzlers in connection with the alleged American mind is the fact that the very newspapers which in 1912 considered William H. Taft too reactionary to be president for a four-year term, now are the most enthusiastic endorsers he has for a life on the supreme court bench.—Boston Transcript.

Not presuming to deny that Boston is the real hub of the United States, may not one question if the Transcript has properly considered the wide reach of its radii? If former opponents of Taftism in close proximity to the hub are indorsing him for the supreme bench, such is not the case further out toward the rim.

Throughout the great Middle West and on toward the Pacific it would be considered a greater calamity to have Taft on the supreme bench for life than to have him elected president.

Easier for Father.

Bisbee, Ariz., Review: According to a fashion journal, balloon hips are coming into style. Still, it won't be as hard for father to help out with the automobile tire pump as it was to hook up the back.

Delivered the Goods.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The talk topic turned to kids and the good old happy school days the other night when a smile illuminated the features of Congressman Louis Fitzhenry of Illinois. He said he was reminded of how little Willie delivered the goods in the matter of constructing a sentence.

One day the class in small-sized grammar was holding forth when the youngsters collided with the word "notwithstanding." Immediately the teacher dropped upon it as a ripe subject for an example.

"Children," said she, with an impressive glance at the class, "we have here the word 'notwithstanding.' Can any little boy or girl give me a sentence containing it?"

Came a moment of intense silence. Every little mind was churning hard. Then the hand of Willie Jones shot up and vigorously wriggled.

"I've got one, Miss Mary," exclaimed Willie on receiving recognition.

"Very well, Willie," smiled the teacher encouragingly, "you may tell it to the class."

"The man's trouseres were worn out not with standing," was the triumphant rejoinder of Willie.

In the Path of Fame.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

OFFICE HOLDERS IN FAYAL TOWNSHIP.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I wish to set forth certain facts regarding holding of township offices in Fayal township, adjoining the city of Eveleth, and thereby make a plea for us poor, struggling farmers in this township. It is a fact that for twelve years past these township offices have been filled by a superintendent of the Oliver Iron Mining company and members of his family. I admit that the Oliver company should be represented but should be satisfied with the office of assessor. It would be a charity if the Oliver company could induce this superintendent and his family to keep hands off for a few years and give us farmers a chance to gain this small revenue which would assist in paying our taxes and give us a chance to make road improvements. In all these years there have been no road improvements excepting a splendidly kept street on which this superintendent and his many relatives live. This man and his family of sons, sons-in-law and nephews all draw fancy salaries from the Oliver company, and it seems to me to be absolute selfishness on their part to monopolize these township offices year after year. It has always been my impression that the Oliver company never took any part in politics, but this is certainly a case where they have complete monopoly. If we placed a ticket in the field the Fayal mine population would be thrown against us and they would have to vote at the dictation of the superintendent or lose their positions. The above assertions are facts as investigation will prove.

A HOMESTEADER.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 14.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Noted space given letter, also editorial, and appreciate very much your endeavor to get some action on this matter.

Have since learned that the train hauling those three cars Tuesday night when the temperature was 25 below, and which left here at 2:30 Wednesday morning through some delay, had not left Moose Lake at 11 o'clock Wednesday noon.

Whatever time they arrived in Duluth it is altogether unlikely that the stock was fed or received any attention at all.

There is one thing certain, just as long as no one makes a complaint things like this are going to continue. We are supposed to have certain laws and regulations concerning the shipping and handling of livestock. What earthly good are they if not enforced?

I am quite sure had you witnessed the distress and misery of those animals as I did that you would be willing to go to some trouble to find the man responsible for it.

I have the date, train and car numbers. If the humane society cares to look this matter up, it will not involve much trouble to locate the shipper. Whoever that individual may be, he has got something coming to him.

Yours respectfully, W. F.

Hinckley, Minn., Feb. 16.

The writer of the above has been asked to forward his information to the St. Paul Humane society, which has taken the case up quite vigorously.—The Editor.

HE MIGHT GIVE IT ONE MORE TRIAL

To the Editor of The Herald:

Passing through the West end the other day a huge poster, printed in black on white paper, and bearing in letters two feet high the admonition: "Go to Church Feb. 22," met my eye.

Now, I do not know who had the sheet pasted up, or by whose order it was done. I do not know whether any special church or creed can afford to throw away good money on such nonsensical advertising, but I do know that the very fact that the people have to be urged to go to church shows that either the majority of the city's population is wrong for not going to church, or else the churches themselves are in the wrong.

The way I look at it, the churches themselves are to blame for the decreasing attendance. About a month ago I attended a meeting (for the first time in eight years) of the church into which I once was confirmed, and great was my surprise when I saw that while the world in general has forged ahead, that same church still stands in the old place, about fifty years behind the times. I found that the songs I had learned as a child were still sung—had I gone to a show and paid for admission I would have termed them "chestnuts." I found that the same rigmarole was gone through with in spite of the fact that this great and glorious country is boasting of its progress.

Do you blame the young people for leaving the church for other places where new things are being said and done? Do you blame them for severing the ties that would have them still riding astraddle an ass in this age of automobiles? Can you blame them for leaving an institution that is a constant drain on their pocketbook, in this age when other institutions, even penal institutions, are self-supporting? Is there any reason why they should not view with disfavor a building costing thousands of dollars, producing absolutely nothing and paying no interest on the investment, in this age of high rents and scarcity of homes?

And furthermore, if some priest, preacher or layman will tell me where the Bible advocates the going to church on Feb. 22, or where it recommends going to church at all, I will change my views regarding the church in so far as to give them credit for knowing what they are talking about.

Yours for a progressive religious movement,

CYRANO DE BERGERAC.

WOULD RECLAIM LANDS BEFORE SALE

Henry Rines, Candidate for State Auditor, Makes His Position Clear.

Henry Rines, speaker of the house and candidate for state auditor, makes it plain in a letter to The Herald that in declaring for a constitutional amendment for the loaning of state funds to settlers on state lands, he did not mean to be taken as opposing the plan of reclaiming unsold state lands before they are offered for sale.

He also approves that plan. His letter follows:

"It has been suggested that the proposed constitutional amendment to permit loaning of state trust funds on improved farms to the extent of 30 per cent of their value, if adopted by the voters at the coming election, might be used to aid purchasers of state lands in developing their holdings in Northern Minnesota. I cannot see how this amendment would be of any benefit to such persons, nor do I think it was intended for that purpose. The amendment has been submitted to the people twice and failed of adoption. The demand for it comes from the older settled portions of the state, and not as a means for the development of Northern Minnesota. Any provision to permit the loaning of money to state land purchasers would have to be much more liberal in its provisions if any real benefits are to be derived.

"In connection with my suggestion regarding the loaning of state funds to persons occupying state lands, as published in last Tuesday's Herald, I will add that this plan is intended to stimulate the development of lands already sold under contract, or tracts of unsold state land which could not be economically improved before settlement. There are now large quantities of state lands held under contract near roads and markets, which lie undeveloped, chiefly for the reason that the holders of the land contracts are unable for financial reasons to go on to the land and make it a home. If the state would give reasonable assistance, it would no doubt cause many of these people to move on to their land.

"In connection with this plan the state also should, through a revolving fund to be created, develop its lands before placing them upon the market, where the quantity of unsold lands is sufficient in any locality to justify such a course. This should be through drainage, the building of roads and the clearing of a percentage of the land upon each eighty or quarter section. Care must be taken in carrying out such a plan so that the expense of improving the lands would not become excessive, and all red tape should be cut out and the usual custom of providing for high salaried officials for supervising state work should be avoided. Such a plan, if handled with proper care and business judgment, would no doubt result in profit to the state, besides stimulating sales of state lands, bringing them at once into the productive class. It is unfortunate that the proposed amendment submitted by the legislature last winter providing for a revolving fund to be used in draining state lands and building roads and firebreaks did not go a step further and include these two provisions. However, this should be the next step taken in the movement for the development of state lands."

WORKMEN PAID FOR LOST FINGERS

For the loss of fingers, three employes of mining and manufacturing companies received compensation for their injuries in settlements approved yesterday in district court. The settlements were made in accordance with the terms of the employer's liability act.

Nick Henry, 51, Cook, Minn., received $640 from the Gopher Heading & Manufacturing company for the loss of his left index finger on Jan. 17 last.

Nick Spolarich, 30, Eveleth, will get $8.76 for fifteen weeks for the loss of his right little finger in an accident at the Fayal mine last month.

COPPER HANDBOOK.

Edition for 1914 Issued By Walter Harvey Weed.

Volume XI, the 1914 edition of the Copper Handbook, has just been received. Former issues of this work, by Horace J. Stevens, were considered the standard authority on the subject of copper and copper mines for the entire globe. The new work has been entirely rewritten by Walter Harvey Weed, the recognized authority on copper mining and an engineer and geologist of international reputation. The new volume has several innovations which make it very much more valuable to the reader. The most important is unquestionably the geographical index, which gives at a glance the names of all mining companies operating in or near any town in America or in any foreign country. If you forget the name of the company but remember the locality, this list enables you to spot it.

Mr. Weed has also separated all dead companies and grouped them in a dead list, in which the vital facts and references are given.

The greater part of the book, as in former annual editions, is devoted to descriptions of the copper mines of the world, the amount of their holdings, their officials, finances, profits and loss, costs, output, nature of ore, geology, methods of mining, milling and smelting with descriptions of plants and probable future, successful or otherwise of the company.

The book will be sent to any address on receipt of price, $5, with privilege of return and refund of money if unsatisfactory. Orders may be sent to the publisher, Walter Harvey Weed, Houghton, Mich.

NEAR RIOT IN THE OHIO LEGISLATURE

Fist Fight Is Prevented By Separation of Debaters.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 18.—Scenes of tumult which at times bordered on riot marked the end of the special session of the legislature, which adjourned sine die late yesterday.

An altercation in the house between Representative M. A. Warnes, Democratic floor leader, and Representative J. G. Cooper, a Republican, was prevented by other members separating them during a quarrel over the automobile license tax bill, an administration measure which was finally passed and sent to the governor.

Measures providing for flood protection and prevention, appropriation of $100,000 for an Ohio building at the Panama-Pacific exposition and amendments designed to work reforms in the educational affairs of the state were among the principal matters of legislation enacted during the session, which was convened by Governor Cox's special proclamation Jan. 19.

Upon adjournment of the legislature, Governor Cox left on a ten days' vacation trip in Florida.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

TWO HOME WOMEN TALKED ABOUT HAIR

Two women met in our store the other day, when one of them said:

"My, how pretty your hair looks! What have you been doing to it?"

"Why, I have been using Harmony Hair Beautifier for the past two weeks," was the reply.

"Why, indeed!" replied the first woman, "that is just what I am using. Isn't it great, and don't you think my hair shows a lot of improvement?"

Harmony Hair Beautifier is becoming all the rage among both men and women who are particular in the care of their hair. It is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It seems to polish and burnish the hair, making it glossy, silky-soft, and more easy to put up in graceful, wavy folds that "stay put." Contains no oil, and will not change color of hair nor darken it. Simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall stores, and in this town only by us. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior St., Duluth, Minn.

DEFINES TRUE PHILOSOPHER

Man Should Be Social Being "Directed By Will Force," Says Vincent.

Delights Big Audience as Chief Speaker at Endion M. E. Church.

A combination of the best parts of both the individualistic and collectivist philosophies, taking the golden mean as a basis, was the "New Social Philosophy" recommended by Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, in an address before the Endion club of the Endion M. E. church last night. The new philosophy he said should admit the effect and influence of external forces in life as maintained by the collectivists but at the same time should cling to the belief that man possesses will and is responsible for his actions.

Dr. Vincent spoke before about 225 people after a supper had been served, and held his audience spellbound for three-quarters of an hour. His delivery was of the gatling gun style and his flashes of wit and brilliancy of diction held his listeners without a lag in interest. An engagement in Superior forced the speaker to "fire" rapidly, but his logical analysis of his subject and compact phrasing of his ideas left a word picture in the minds of his audience.

Defines Two Theories.

"Is a man a creature of circumstances, tossed about by the external forces of life, incapable of directing his efforts either for good or evil, or is he subject only to his own will and responsible for his actions?"

This was the question put by the speaker typifying the positions of the two extreme schools of philosophy. The one he said represented the individualistic and the other the collectivist theory.

"The former school of philosophy had its origin on the frontier," said Dr. Vincent. "It was the outcome of the initiative, independence, self-reliance and force of will of the pioneer. It carried to the extreme the idea that man lives to himself alone. The other theory was the outcome of social living, embodying the idea that environment, heredity, and a score of other things combine to determine a man's action and direct his will."

The collectivist theory of life was the easiest theory for the man who fails, for the man who commits a crime or a fault, he said, because no matter what a person did, he was the victim of circumstances and not to blame. On the other hand he said the individualistic theory is that man is the moulder of his own destiny and should be held accountable for every word and act.

Gives Illustration.

As an illustration he spoke of Edison's invention of the phonograph, describing the details of the inventor's work and how the idea had its inception. As a boy he said he had been at the Edison home and had seen the working out of the great invention.

"The collectivist philosopher will say," said Dr. Vincent, "that Edison deserves no credit for his work; he was only the agent of forces, which combined to place the materials in his hand and the idea in his mind. The individualist will say Edison was a marvelous man and a wizard and accomplished something supernatural."

Dr. Vincent said neither was entirely right. Society had placed the material in Edison's hands and his work was made possible by the works of other men, but Edison deserved the credit of having combined the forces available so as to carry out his idea. In summing up the speaker said:

The True Philosopher.

"The true philosopher is the one who takes advantage of the environment and the association of life, admitting that he is obligated to society, and humbly co-operates with others, yet originates new ideas for himself and presses on in the great field of development and improvement."

E. A. Separk in the capacity of toastmaster, introduced Dr. Vincent and the others on the program.

S. George Stevens gave a short discourse on "Our Birds and Squirrels," telling how each creature had been created for a purpose. Robert Drummond sang two bass solos, "The Recessional" and "The Yeoman's Wedding Song." Fritz Frederici entertained by playing two violin solos. Dialect stories were told by Isaac Black. The musical numbers were excellent and the dialect stories were received with great applause.

$660,000 MISTAKE IN BOOKKEEPING

Avery Company Is Solvent, Says Creditors' Committee Report.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Investigation of the finances of the Avery company, manufacturing farm implements at Peoria, Ill., has resulted in a report of the creditors' committee extending credit for one year with the privilege of a further extension for a similar period.

The report asserts the company is solvent, but on account of certain mistakes by the officials, it is unable to get credit to tide over its temporary embarrassment. The extension notes, which will be issued to an amount exceeding $2,000,000, will bear 6 per cent payable quarterly. The committee will keep in close touch with the operations of the company, maintaining a representative on the ground.

The accountant's report of the Avery company, which was completed only a few days ago, shows its assets are $6,000,000, while its liabilities are a little less than $2,200,000. Of the assets, over $4,000,000 are made up of accounts and bills receivable and inventories, the latter consisting of completed machines and those in the process of manufacture and raw materials.

Error in Bookkeeping.

The mistake in judgment of the officers, according to the extension committee's report, includes an error in bookkeeping which led to a statement that the estimated profits for 1913 would be $800,000. The committee's accountants found the profits for the year were only $138,866.

The committee reports that it has no reason to believe that there was any intention on the part of the officers of the Avery company to mislead anyone.

"WOMAN TEMPTED ME, AND I FELL"

Chicago, Feb. 18.—William Davis, charged with having transported Mrs. Margaret Gaddy from St. Louis to Chicago last October, was found guilty yesterday of violating the Mann act. Davis told the court the woman "enticed him."

CITY PROTECTORS NOT "LABORERS"

Salem, Or., Feb. 18.—Holding that policemen and firemen of Portland do not come within the scope of the eight-hour law because they are officers and not laborers, the state supreme court directed that Mayor H. R. Albee, arrested on a charge of working them more than eight hours a day, be released from custody.

"Giving the term 'laborer' the most extensive definition applicable, it is not believed a fireman or a policeman, employed in Portland in services he is required to perform, is made a laborer within the meaning of that word," the court said.

SECRETARIES WILL MEET IN ST. PAUL

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 18. — James W. Metcalf of Omaha, was elected president of the National Organizations of Merchants' Association Secretaries, at the final meeting of the newly formed organization. K. F. Niemoeller of St. Louis, was elected secretary and C. Z. Coffin of Kansas City, vice president. The next meeting will be held in St. Paul next February.

WINNIPEG MURDERER SOUGHT IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Search for the murderers of Mrs. David Feinstein of Winnipeg, Manitoba, has started in this city at the request of Canadian authorities. Mrs. Feinstein was shot to death in her home Aug. 2, 1913. A reward of $3,500 was offered by Canadian police for the arrest of the slayers.

ELECTROCUTED RAT DARKENS A CITY

Winstead, Conn., Feb. 18. — To the manifold troubles to which this town was subjected by the storm, was added the annoyance caused by a rat which yesterday crawled across the switchboard at the electric plant of the Winstead Gas company and, becoming caught in the terminal, caused a short circuit, cutting off the current for several hours.

A week ago a cat climbed a pole, got mixed up with the wires, and caused a similar short circuit, leaving the town in darkness.

$200,000 FIRE AT OKOTOKS, ALBERTA

Okotoks, Alta., Feb. 18. — Fire which started in a clothing store, wiped out a large portion of the business section here yesterday. Several of the leading retail stores which lay in the patch of the names were destroyed. The loss is estimated at more than $200,000.

Two Raphaels Found.

Naples, Italy, Feb. 18.—Two pictures by Raphael, hitherto attributed "to Perugino's pupil," have been discovered in the national museum here by the director, Prof. Vittorio Spinazzola. The two pictures represent the Virgin Mary and St. Joseph and were originally painted for the church of St. Augustine at Citta di Castello. They were taken by the French during the Napoleonic epoch, but were left in the French Church of St. Louis at Rome, whence the king of Naples rescued them after the Restoration.

Prof. Spinazzola says the pictures are youthful productions of Raphael, who was a pupil of Pietro Vannucci Perugino.

Fever in Chicago Jail.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Precautions have been taken by county officials against the spread of scarlet fever in the county jail, where two prisoners were found suffering from the disease. Sixty-six prisoners and five guards were quarantined. At the juvenile detention home two inmates were placed under examination.

The Saving of Money by the use of Royal Baking Powder is considerable

Royal is economical, because it possesses more leavening power and goes further. Royal saves also, because it always makes fine, light, sweet food, all digestible; never wastes good flour, butter and eggs.

More important still is the saving in health. Royal Baking Powder adds anti-dyspeptic qualities to the food.

There is no baking powder so economical in practical use, no matter how little others may cost, as the Royal

DEATH CAUSE IS IN DOUBT

Traces of Carbolic Acid in Stomach of John Jutila.

Traces of carbolic acid found in the body of John Jutila, 40 years old, at an autopsy held at the Crawford undertaking rooms yesterday afternoon have caused Coroner McComb to favor the suicide theory but to say also that Jutila may have met with foul play in his room at 150 South First avenue east, where his body was found shortly after midnight yesterday.

Coroner McComb and Deputy Coroner McAuliffe conducted an investigation yesterday afternoon, but were unable to shed any light on the mystery. Following the autopsy, they both went to the rooming house at 150 South First avenue east, but could obtain very little information there. Coroner McComb said this morning that they were unable to find an empty carbolic acid bottle anywhere, and they could learn nothing about the dead man.

Although it is probable that Jutila may have met with foul play, Coroner McComb is inclined to doubt this and to rather favor the suicide theory. He plans to further investigate the matter, he said this morning.

Nothing at all is known about Jutila by inmates of the rooming house. He came there Monday afternoon and went to bed rather early that evening and about midnight his body was found on his bed.

MRS. LANA DEAD.

Well-Known Pioneer Succumbs After Several Months' Illness.

Mrs. Regina Lana, 60 years old, for twenty-seven years a resident of Duluth and one of the best known pioneers in the city, died yesterday afternoon at her residence, 113½ West Second street.

Mrs. Lana came to Duluth in 1887, accompanying her husband, who died here several years ago. She was taken ill several months ago and had been confined to her bed for the last few weeks. She is survived by six children, all of whom were at her bedside when the end came. They are Mrs. D. Erspamer, Mrs. H. H. Gilbert, Mrs. C. F. Wilson and Miss Marie Lana of Duluth; Mrs. O. G. Lingberg of Hibbing; and Peter Lana of Duluth.

The funeral will be held at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning from St. Peter's Catholic church, Eleventh avenue west and Superior street. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

NEWSPAPER ARTICLE INSPIRES SERMON

Impressed with the value of a newspaper article by James Schermerhorn, in the Detroit Times, Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion Methodist Episcopal church, Nineteenth avenue east and First street, will deliver a sermon on "The City With a Soul" next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Dr. Hovis believes with the newspaper man that there is danger that enterprising American cities shall have "self-vaunting statistics; prideful, conceited slogans; slanders and screeds for their adversaries—but no songs," because they have been giving so much attention to the growth of material elements."

"It is all right, as the Detroit editor points out, to feel pride in 'tall buildings and far-stretching factories;' these things belong to the necessary body of the city," said Dr. Hovis this morning.

"But the time is here when we are beginning to recognize the fact that 'self-forgetful things done in the spirit of brotherhood and civic zeal belong to the soul of the city.' The church stands pre-eminent among the things mentioned by the newspaper man which makes urban life secure and comfortable for average folks. Believing that the church, along with the provision of schools and parks and playgrounds, the reduction of the rate of infant mortality, the supplying of such indispensible things as water and light and transportation at cost, the providing of suitable housing and hospital conditions, the safeguarding of life and limb on the street and in the home by night, the guarding of the young against organized vice, and the repression of all forms of lawlessness and viciousness, adds tremendous potency to the spiritual values of civic life, I feel it worth while to enlarge on the thought of the newspaper man in my sermon on 'Go to Church,' Sunday, Feb. 22."

Dr. Hovis will lecture before the Saturday club of Hibbing, Minn., Saturday, March 7, on "Works of Culture." He has also been invited to preach at Coleraine Sunday night, Feb. 22, and to give a popular lecture at the Hibbing Methodist Episcopal church, Tuesday evening, March 10.

Brent Good

Frost-Bites, Chilblains, Corns, Callouses and Sore Feet. Quick Cure.

Many persons dread the approach of winter on account of chilblains and frost-bites which causes a soreness and itching at times almost unbearable, frequently bringing on a nervous condition. The following treatment gives immediate relief. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for 15 minutes. Repeat this for several days until the trouble disappears." The action of Calocide compound for all foot ailments is really remarkable. It works through the pores and removes the cause. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Sweaty, smelly feet and tender, aching feet need but a few applications. Bunions get relief instantly. Any druggist has Calocide in stock or will get it from his wholesale house. A twenty-five cent package is usually sufficient to put the worst feet in fine condition. Each package contains valuable instructions on care of the feet. Published by Medical Formula laboratories of Chicago.

DIES IN PRISON AT AGE OF EIGHTY-FOUR

Alleged Murderer's Estate of $400,000 Goes to France.

Paris, Feb. 18.—Victor Pott, who shot and killed his son, Harry Fragson, the comedian, last December, after a trivial dispute, died in prison yesterday while waiting trial. Pott was 84 years old, and as there are no relatives living so far as known and Pott left no will, a large part of Fragson's fortune, which is estimated at $400,000, will go to the French treasury.

TAKE BUDGET POWER FROM MRS. YOUNG

Chicago, Feb. 18.—The power to make the annual school budget was yesterday taken from Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, by the finance committee of the board of education and was given to the efficiency division of the civil service commission. The adoption of Mrs. Young's budget calling for the expenditure of $12,428,048 for 1914, was deferred for two weeks.

Hickman's story, said that it was Hickman who jumped off at the corner in question and ran back to where Miss Hollander had left the car.

Not Assaulted or Robbed.

Miss Hollander was not assaulted, a post-mortem examination disclosed. Neither was she robbed.

An endeavor is to be made to get finger prints from the timber with which Miss Hollander was beaten to death in order to compare them with those of Petras.

Petras said the negro swung off the car before it had stopped and ran back down the street. He said he then went home, arriving there about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Petras substantiated her husband's story, saying he arrived home at 10 o'clock and remained there until arrested early yesterday. The police believe the girl was murdered about 10:30 o'clock.

The Negro's Story.

The negro's version of the story was that Petras leaped off the car behind him, trod on his foot, and then dashed off in the direction of Miss Hollander's home, about two blocks distant from the cemetery.

Petras charged that three negroes who went to the penitentiary for robbing him had conspired with Hickman to testify against him. The girl's father told the police that his daughter had told him about an hour before her murder that she had quarreled with Petras that evening.

Father Swears Vengeance.

Louis Hollander, father of the slain girl, swore an oath of vengeance today as he stood beside her coffin.

"The murderer shall die!" Hollander swore in the presence of friends and relatives who were gathered in the room. "If he escapes the law he will not escape me."

LEAD CORNICE MELTS ON HEADS OF CROWD

Men and Women Fleeing Fire Endangered By Metal.

New York, Feb. 18.—With molten lead and redhot pieces of a cornice falling about them, sixty men and twenty women, their heads protected by coats, made their way out of a business loft building at 130 Greene street last night. Three floors of the six-story structure were then a raging furnace, but everyone escaped unhurt. The fire gained so rapidly that the cornice of the structure began to melt and fall to pieces before anyone could gain the street. The building was occupied by clothing manufacturers. The damage is estimated at $50,000.

LINERS COLLIDE; BOTH DAMAGED

Steamers Celtic and Modonna Come Together at Naples.

Naples, Feb. 18—The White Star liner Celtic collided with the Fabre liner Madonna here today, and both vessels were seriously damaged. The Madonna was unable to leave for New York, for which port she was to have departed today with emigrants. She has been docked for repairs.

The Celtic was seriously damaged on the counter, but is believed to have been slightly injured below water line. She also was bound for New York.

Proprietor and Guests Arrested in Saloon After Midnight.

Men Kept in Jail—Women Released—Not Guilty the Plea.

Charles Sholund and John Nelson, two saloon keepers, and Olive Moody and Pearl Smith, two Superior women, were arrested at 12:15 o'clock this morning in a raid on Sholund's saloon at 101 East Michigan street. This arrest may result in the revocation of Sholund's saloon license, should he be convicted on a charge of having his saloon open after hours.

Sholund was unable to obtain $100 bail and he was compelled to spend the night at police headquarters, as was Nelson, whom the police refused permission to leave, on account of his drunken condition, they say. The women put up $10 bail each and were given their temporary freedom.

In police court this morning Sholund pleaded not guilty to a charge of keeping his saloon open before 5 o'clock in the morning, the opening hour allowed by the law, and his trial was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Bail was fixed at $100.

Nelson pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and was fined $15 and costs or fifteen days. The two women failed to appear in court this morning and their bail was declared forfeited.

Nelson is proprietor of the saloon at 21 East Superior street and according to the story told by Sholund, the two saloon proprietors went to Superior early last evening and met the two women, whom they brought back to Duluth. Olive Moody gave her age as 38 years and Pearl Smith gave hers as 24 years.

Patrolman Boland discovered the party in the saloon about midnight. He notified headquarters and Patrolmen Clendenning, Olson and Cavanaugh were detailed to aid Boland in making the raid. There was no answer until about fifteen minutes after the officers knocked at the front door of the saloon. After that time, the officers say, the quartet came to the door. Several empty bottles were found on a small table and these were brought to headquarters as evidence.

would ask for the bandit. To keep him a prisoner in the United States would permit him to escape from punishment his crimes in Mexico, for he cannot be tried in this country for offenses committed across the Rio Grande.

One way out seemed to be for the immigration authorities to put the bandit back across the border, deporting him as an undesirable alien. In that event Castillo probably would fall into the hands of Villa, the Constitutionalist, who has promised him a public execution in Juarez.

Wilson's Yacht in Service.

After a conference with President Wilson, Secretary Daniels ordered the presidential yacht Mayflower to Mexican waters to relieve one of the battleships at Vera Cruz. The president has had no use for the yacht lately, and boats of the gunboat class are regarded as practically useful in Mexican waters on account of their light draft. Capt. Harry McL. P. Huse will go on the Mayflower to Vera Cruz to become chief of staff to Admiral Fletcher.

The transport Prairie, with two or three companies of marines, will sail after the Mardi Gras at Mobile, Ala., to Vera Cruz to accommodate other marines crowded on the battleships. The cruiser San Francisco just relieved at Cape Haitien by the gunboat Wheeling, also goes to Vera Cruz.

Will Head Japanese.

Masanae Hanihara, under secretary of state in Japan, is expected here tomorrow or Friday from Mexico City, where he has been on a special mission observing conditions. Because of his long acquaintance with American affairs, began here when he was first secretary and charge of the embassy, officials expect to get some first-hand views of the situation. His visit here will be personal, it was said, and he expects to sail from San Francisco for Japan in about ten days.

Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister to Mexico, is expected here early in March. His visit will be very short, and aside from a talk with President Wilson it is unlikely he will see many officials. It was stated authoritatively today that Sir Lionel did not come with any purpose of acting as champion of Huerta or urging American support for him.

Was Castillo's Captive.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 18.—Castillo's capture was of peculiar interest to W. B. Roxby, an American now in this city. Roxby was threatened with death by Castillo and his bandit force if he did not pay a ransom for his liberty after he was captured by them on Feb. 9, west of San Predo, Chihuahua.

Roxby, who is manager of the Urmston ranch of Western Chihuahua, was forced to pay $1,000 to the bandits to gain his release. Not having the money demanded, he was forced to go to the headquarters of the Urmston ranch, several miles distant, and write out a check for the amount. Castillo sent a guard with him in order to insure the receipt of the check. The guards, at the point of guns, forced him to write a letter to the City National bank at El Paso, ordering the payment of the check to a representative of Castillo who resides in El Paso. The check has not yet been presented.

Mr. Roxby arrived here a week ago. He was en route overland from the Urmston ranch to the railroad station of San Predo, on the Mexico Northwestern railroad, when captured.

Counter Revolt Planned.

Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 18.—Having received information that members of the Mexican Cientifico, or Diaz party, had completed plans for rushing forces over the international line, to start a revolution counter to that of the Constitutionalists, officers of the Ninth United States cavalry again established today a stringent border patrol.

It is understood the Cientificos already have concentrated a force of men south of Agua Prieta and have gathered arms and ammunition with which to equip the men.

The patrol will endeavor to prevent further running of armed men across the international line to operate against the entry ports now held by the Carranza revolutionists.

Huerta Changes Cabinet.

Mexico City, Feb. 18.—Jose Lopez Portillo Y. Rojas became head of President Huerta's cabinet when Querido Mohena was transferred yesterday from the department of foreign affairs to that of commerce and labor. Senor Portillo has been minister of instruction and governor of the State of Jalisco.

The department of fomento is abolished by official decree, and the work which has been done in that department will be divided between the two new departments of commerce and labor and agriculture and colonization.

Eduardo Tamariz, a member of the Catholic party, has been given the portfolio of agriculture. Leopoldo Rebollar, who has been at the head of the department of fomento, has been dropped. It is understood that he will join the Mexican colony in Paris.

De La Lama Replaced.

Another change has taken place in the cabinet. Senor Algpeer, sub-secretary of the interior, who has been acting as full secretary, has been given the title of minister of the interior.

It is also announced that Adolfo de la Lama, minister of finance, who tendered his resignation while in Europe, will remain at the head of that department. He is now on his way to Mexico.

The transfer of Querido Moheno from the department of foreign affairs to a post of comparative little political importance, is regarded as an indication that President Huerta intends to place him in the background.

sion of these particulars, the chairman announced that he would again telegraph the governor, inviting him to have some representative present.

Concession by Taylor.

Chairman Taylor today asked counsel for the miners to confine themselves as far as possible to the rules of evidence. This was regarded as a concession to the Republican members, who have objected to the latitude of the testimony.

Representative Switzer stated his position on the question, which provoked a controversy yesterday. He said he believed a quasi-judicial body had the inherent right to control what went into its record. He again denied that he was opposed to the investigation.

Mr. Taylor did not recede from his stand in refusing to expunge from the record testimony which Mr. Switzer regarded as irrelevant, and said he would not comment on Switzer's statement.

Witnesses continued to give testimony today as to alleged attacks upon them by deputies. Several strikers who were searched for weapons in the South Range raid on Dec. 11 last were on the stand this morning.

Americo Monticello told the commission that six deputies broke into his house while his wife was ill in bed, and searched the place. Mrs. Monticello corroborated this testimony.

Debate Was Acrimonious.

The debate late yesterday between Taylor and Switzer was acrimonious, and while it was in progress Mr. Taylor charged Mr. Switzer was attempting to discredit the work of the committee by taking the position that it had no authority to make a full investigation.

"You can object as much as you please," exclaimed Mr. Taylor, "but if you object to an investigation of the conditions here, you ought not to be on this committee."

Mr. Switzer denied that he objected to an investigation, but he insisted that some limit should be fixed on the evidence, so everything offered would not be admitted into the record.

"As chairman of this committee, representing the Democratic majority in the house," Mr. Taylor said, "I will say that anything that goes into the record will go back to congress. We were sent up here to investigate conditions with a view to providing remedial legislation, and if we cut out anything that might throw light on the situation, we would be severely criticized."

Not Partisan.

"Do I understand you to say that this is a partisan committee and that this is a partisan investigation?" inquired Representative Howell, the other Republican member.

"No," replied the chairman, "but when a minority member tries to discredit the committee by saying that it is exceeding its proper limits it is time for the majority to take decisive action."

The discussion arose while Waino Nowreno, a striker, was giving testimony as to the raid on Dec. 11 last in which members of the Citizens' alliance, acting as sheriff's posse, raided the Western Federation of Miners' headquarters at South Range, following the shooting of a deputy sheriff who had been searchnig it for arms. The witness said he was searched and beaten by an unknown man who was described by others as a deputy sheriff. Mr. Switzer asked that this testimony be stricken out because he did not know that his assailant was a deputy.

A. E. Petermann, of counsel for the mining companies, declared that it was hardly fair to the sheriff's officers to charge them with crime on hearsay evidence.

Counsel for the miners contended that an officer had no right to search for weapons on a man who had not been arrested.

Objection by Rees.

Allen F. Rees, a mining company attorney, said that assaults and "violations of personal rights were in the province of the state, and that nothing testified to by the witness would give a Federal court criminal jurisdiction."

"Do you think that if we find that for a period of six months," asked Mr. Taylor, "a condition of outlawry has existed here, and we discover that there has been a violation of individual rights, we cannot report it to congress?"

"Yes," Mr. Rees replied, "if there has been no specific violation of the Constitution or Federal statutes."

Mr. Howell remarked that counsel seemed to agree that the committee had authority to investigate the industrial situation here, and he asked if it was not as important to congress to know something about the administration of justice. Mr. Rees said he was not prepared to argue that point, but he thought congress should be informed on this subject through the Federal courts.

Two other witnesses testified that they had been searched in the same raid. One of them, Waino Tikkaner, said he was arrested and kept in jail for thirteen days before he was released. He said he did not know the charge against him.

ROYAL HONOR FOR WILLIAM OF WIED

London, Feb. 18.—Prince William of Wied, who is about to become sovereign of Albania and is making a tour of the capitals of Europe before meeting the delegation of Albanian notables which is formally to offer him the crown, arrived in London from the continent today. He was received with royal honors, being met by representatives of King George and of the British foreign office. He will visit the king and Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, later.

After his departure from London he will pay a similar visit to Paris, his object being to demonstrate that he is not exclusively under the influence of the Triple Alliance, composed of Austria-Hungary, Germany and Italy.

EXPLORERS' BONES FOUND.

South American Report Confirms the Story of Cannibalism.

New York, Feb. 18.—Members of the Besley expedition which left last summer to explore uncharted regions of South America, returned on the steamship Byron and reported that they had found the bones of members of the Cromer expedition, who entered the wilds of Peru nearly two years ago and were never heard from.

The Cromer expedition was headed by W. H. Cromer, a former West Point cadet, and William H. Page, a Chicago high school teacher. The Besley expedition crossed the continent from Lima and came down the Amazon from the headwaters to the mouth. They found hip and thigh bones and other traces of the Cromer party on the way, and erected a cross to their memory.

Those who returned were Capt. J. Campbell Besley, an Englishman, Franklin B. Coates, J. K. Holbrook and J. W. Dunne. They reported the discovery of a new Inca city in Peru called Platerivavoc, and visited other regions hitherto unknown to white men.

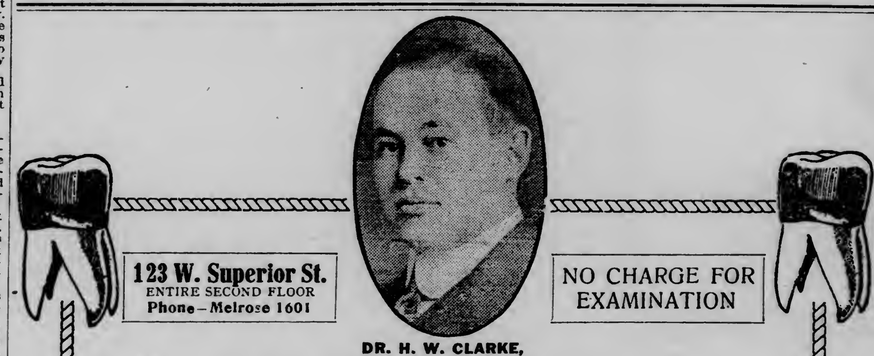

Traces also were found of the lost Seljan expedition, which took the same route as the Cromer expedition, and Capt. Besley thought the bones might have been the remains of members of either party. The Seljan expedition was in search of rubber and is said to have been financed by F. F. Grundlich of Chicago.

Sought by Roosevelt.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Friends and relatives of William H. Page, who with W. H. Cromer left two years ago to explore the wilds of South America, were overwhelmed with grief when the report of the Besley expedition was received by them. Mrs. Page now is living in Kenilworth, a northern suburb of Chicago. The last message received here from the Cromer expedition came to Dr. Charles S. Page, a brother of William H., in February, 1913.

When Col. Roosevelt began his journey into the Amazon country, an appeal was cabled to him by Dr. Page, Mrs. Page, Benjamin Page, another brother, and C. E. Cromer, a brother of the explorer, to search for the missing adventurers.

A rumor that the Cromer party had been attacked and killed by cannibals near the headwaters of the Amazon was circulated last fall, and the family and friends of Mr. Page look on the Besley discovery as confirmation of their fears.

BIG SHOW OF FARM CROPS

Attendance at Crookston Surpasses All Expectations.

Clay County Gets Ten-Ear Sweepstakes Prize for Corn.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—With an attendance that surpassed all expectations, representing not only the thirteen counties competing for the premiums, but delegations from North Dakota and representative men, such as President W. S. Hill of the South Dakota board of agriculture, the fourth annual farm crops show program opened in the opera house this morning, Martin O'Brien presiding.

Theodore Skrei of Moorhead, Clay county, walked away with the ten-ear sweepstake corn price of $225, silo, and additional cash prizes from Clay county. His entry was "Minnesota 13," and a magnificent sample.

The thirty-ear sweepstake was won by A. D. Van Sickle of Marshall county, with "Minnesota 23;" McIntosh high school, Polk county, second, with "Minnesota 13."

Elmer Latta of Crookston, Polk county, won both the school children's acre corn contest and the Northwest school student contest for ten ears of corn, with "Minnesota No. 13."

Rural School Prize.

In the rural school children's contest, Van Sickle, Jr., of Warren, Marshall county, was first on the best ten ears.

This finishes the corn judging, excepting in the separate county competitions. No small grains have been judged. The judges are Prof. Andrew Ross, J. G. Haney of Grand Forks, and Otto O. Uhlhorn of Lisbon, N. D.

Clay county is the most jubilant of all over winning the corn sweepstakes.

While the opera house was packed, there are swarms of farmers in the exhibit rooms, where both the corn and small grain exhibits and the potato showing surpass anything Crookston has ever housed. This evening there will be a conference of representatives of every county, at which a permanent organization for development work will undoubtedly be formed, but along what lines cannot be stated till after the conference.

Secretary W. R. MacKenzie of the Northern Minnesota Development association is on the ground, opposing the proposed organization, and is working hard to effect a compromise of some kind.

Address by Selvig.

The address of welcome was delivered by General Chairman C. G. Selvig, who emphasized the fact that the organization was not working in opposition to any other organizations, but co-operating with them.

He also showed the necessity for the organization by giving the figures of the thirteen counties represented, the 20,000 farms in the territory in 1912 raising but 23,819 acres of corn, or an average of but 1¼ acres per farm, with but an average of fifteen head of livestock on each farm, including horses, cattle, hogs and sheep. This was the condition the organization was endeavoring to correct.

Tribute to Selvig.

Chairman O'Brien paid Supt. Selvig a high tribute as "being one of the public servants who felt the moral responsibility of his position, and endeavored by energetic work to spread the gospel of better farming throughout this territory, and was doing it effectively. He referred to him as the 'mainspring behind the farm crops show.'"

One of the big addresses this morning, by J. G. Haney of Grand Forks on "Alfalfa," was illustrated in a most interesting manner. He bore heavily on the importance of good seed, that was acclimated, and the necessity of alfalfa going hand in hand with the development of the stock industry and maintaining soil efficiency.

He was followed by A. E. Chamberlain of Minneapolis, who talked on "Corn." He emphasized strongly the desirability of having the aim a matured ear, rather than the large ear. He referred to the flattering progress in corn raising in Minnesota, and said no crop would degenerate with haphazard methods quicker than corn. The adaptable variety, careful cultivation, seed selection, and a steadily increasing acreage, mean a larger degree of permanent prosperity, he said. Corn is beyond the experimental stage, he declared, but corn growers had much to learn and should go slowly, and be sure of their methods, gaining by actual experience from year to year, with study, the essentials that would mean unqualified success.

Talk On Clover.

Forest Henry of the University of Minnesota followed with an excellent talk on clover. He said clover was an essential with the upbuilding of the stock industry and the maintenance of soil fertility.

Josephine T. Berry opened the afternoon session with an address on "The Education of the Woman Citizen," and pointed out the various agencies which tended to make the woman of today better equipped as a real helpmeet instead of the family drudge, and how her better mental equipment was elevating life, especially on the farm.

SEATON DESERTS TO THE FEDERALS

Philadelphia National Pitcher Will Go to Brooklyn Club.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Thomas Seaton, last year pitcher with the Philadelphia Nationals, signed today to pitch for the Federal league, it was announced from headquarters. Seaton will go to Brooklyn. He declared that he did not come to any agreement with President Baker of the Philadelphia club.

Seaton's contract called for his services for three years and it is understood he was given in advance some of the $25,000 given President Gilmore by R. B. Ward of the Brooklyn Federals, with instructions to "sign a player and a manager." Seaton's salary will be $7,000 a year. He was paid one year's salary in advance.

The manager wanted by Brooklyn is Jake Stahl and Ward will reach Chicago tomorrow to talk personally with the former leader of the Red Sox.

Seaton's contract was approved by his wife, who accompanied him from Kansas City. Ad Brennan, the other former Philadelphia National pitcher, who joined the Chicago Federals, and his wife also came from Kansas City. Brennan may go to Paw Paw, Mich., to visit William Killifer, over whose services the Federals and organized baseball threaten legal battle. Brennan said he believed Killifer would play with the Federals.

The schedule meeting of the Federals will be held during the second week of March in Baltimore. Gilmore today announced the schedule committee which will be composed of Harry Goldman, Secretary Lloyd Rickard, R. B. Ward and Gilmore.

Unconfirmed rumors here were that the Federal league was looking over the ground at Toledo with a view to transferring the Indianapolis team there. It was understood that C. W. Somers who transferred the Toledo club to his Cleveland grounds, has waived rights to the Toledo territory.

William Gleason, coach of the Chicago Americans, was expected here to arrange for the training trip of his team to Paso Robles, Cal. Gleason's squad will precede the "round-the-world" members of the White Sox, who will accompany Manager Callahan.

DISTRICT PASTORS ARE ORGANIZED

At a meeting of the Presbyterian ministers of the Head of the Lakes held in the First Presbyterian church auditorium the Presbyterian Ministers' Association of the Head of the Lakes and the Ranges was formed with Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of Glen Avon church as president, and Rev. W. J. Bell of Virginia as secretary-treasurer. About fifteen ministers were present from Duluth, Superior and the iron ranges.

The association is formed to promote good fellowship among the ministers of the denomination, and only impromptu programs will take place at the meetings, which are slated for the third Monday of each month. The next meeting will be held at the parish house of the First Presbyterian church here.

It is also planned to have a series of get-together dinners for the Presbyterian men of the district covered by the association.

WALTER SMITH HAS OPPONENT

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 18.—R. L. Johnson of Austin, filed with Secretary of State Schmahl today for the Republican nomination for state treasurer at the primaries June 16.

He will oppose Treasurer Walter J. Smith, incumbent, who filed last Monday.

Mr. Johnson was formerly auditor of Mower county.

OBITUARY

Mrs. George W. McCrary, widow of the secretary of war in President Hayes' cabinet, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry L. McCune in Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 17. She was 79 years old. Burial will be in Keokuk, where her husband was buried. Beside Mrs. McCune, these children survive: Mrs. T. J. Walker, Dallas, Tex.; Frank E. McCrary, Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. W. C. Boteler, Minneapolis, Minn., and George H. McCrary of this city.

Dr. Robert Kennedy Duncan, director of the Mellon institute of industrial research of the University of Pittsburg, died in Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 18, after an illness of several weeks, aged 45.

Soren K. Swenson, president of the Albert Lea Gas Light company, died at Albert Lea, Minn., Feb. 17 of typhoid fever. He was a past state grand consul and past state supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, also grand knight of the Albert Lea order of the Knights of Columbus and an officer of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

HUDSON RIVER IS BLOCKADED BY ICE

New York, Feb. 18.—The ice blockade in the Hudson river between New York and Yonkers remained intact today, and the Federal authorities confessed themselves helpless to remedy the situation. A coal famine threatened Yonkers, and 1,100 men employed at the Federal sugar refinery there faced the prospect of idleness.

Capt. John F. Wild, district commander of the United States revenue cutter service, reported to Washington today that the ice had resisted the attacks of the cutter that tried to force a channel, and that special ice-breaking steamers alone could cope with the situation. Capt. Wild said no attempt to use dynamite would be made. The surface of the river was jammed with broken ice cakes from One Hundred Sixtieth street in this city north to where the solid sheet ice began.

Such an ice jam is unusual in the waters near New York, and there are no ice-breakers in the local harbor. The revenue cutters, while strongly built to withstand the assaults of storms at sea, are not fitted to ram ice.

The lower harbor presented an Arctic appearance today, and incoming steamers found navigation slow and dangerous.

VANDERBILT HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Jericho, Long Island, Feb. 18.—The country home of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., valued with its furnishings and art treasures at nearly $1,000,000, was destroyed today by fire. The only occupants were a caretaker and servants left to look after the property.

The caretaker attributed the blaze to an overheated furnace. The fire departments of Hicksville and Westbury were called, but on account of the snow-clogged roads they were unable to drag their apparatus to the scene.

The house was built last year at a cost of $400,000 and later additions cost $100,000 more. It had sixty rooms. The walls were hung with rare tapestries and valuable paintings.

State Pharmacists Meet.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The thirtieth annual convention of the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association is being held here with about 150 delegates attending. President William A. Abbett of Duluth and Mayor Nye of Minneapolis welcomed the delegates. The regular commercial sections of the convention opened today with discussions on the soda fountain, how to sell cigars and cosmetics and their uses. The delegates will be guests Thursday at the College of Pharmacy at the University of Minnesota, where President George E. Vincent will address them.

INTERESTING TALK ON ADVERTISING

Felix Seligman, who was recently elected president of the Duluth Ad club, presided last night for the first time. This was the occasion of the regular monthly meeting and it was held at the Commercial club. The attendance was good.

Following the transaction of regular business the club was addressed by J. C. Sickel of New York. Mr. Sickel is regarded as an advertising authority and he took advertising as his subject.

Mr. Sickel declared that while the best kind of advertising is undoubtedly in the newspaper line, it can be supplemented by outdoor advertising. Mr. Sickel said that by establishing a system, studying it and following it out strictly advertising can be brought down to a mathematical basis so that the advertiser can tell his actual percentage of profit.

M'MURRAY "HATCHER" OF PLOT AGAINST GORE

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 18.—The charge that J. F. McMurray, an Oklahoma lawyer now living in Washington, planned the alleged conspiracy against Thomas P. Gore, United States senator from Oklahoma, which resulted in his being sued for $50,000 damages for an alleged attack on Mrs. Minnie E. Bond, was made in the trial here today.

Robert L. Rogers, addressing the jury for the defense, said that several years ago McMurray sought to prosecute claims for nearly $3,000,000 fees from Indians of Oklahoma in connection with the transfer of their lands. He asserted Gore opposed McMurray's claims, and in retaliation the conspiracy had been planned.

"Oklahoma has a home for such conspirators," he shouted. "It is over at McAlester."

The state penitentiary is located at McAlester.

Three more attorneys were to follow Mr. Rogers, but it was expected the jury would get the case late today.

E. J. Giddings, who began the summing up for Mrs. Bond, ridiculed the contention of the defense that the suit was the result of a political conspiracy and made the flat declaration that Senator Gore told an untruth when he alleged that had there been any impropriety it was on the part of Mrs. Bond.

Confer on Spitzbergen.

Christiania, Feb. 18.—The Norwegian foreign minister has informed parliament that he has good reasons to believe that the United States would take part in the conference on the status of Spitzbergen to be held here next June. Great Britain, France, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Russia and Norway will be represented.

BADGER WAGE HEARING.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 18.—A minimum wage affecting minors and women throughout Wisconsin in conformity with a law passed by the last legislature is sought to be worked out by the Wisconsin industrial commission which began a state wide hearing yesterday afternoon. Charles A. Crownheart, chairman of the commission conducted the initial hearing at which representatives of various department stores of Milwaukee were heard.

The effect of the new law upon the general wage scale was discussed but no definite theory or statement was advanced as to what such effect would be.

I SEE," said Bill yesterday, "that me old friend Charley Comiskey is ill. Sick in Rome, and him the noblest Roman of them all! Ain't it funny, this life, which I am studyin' in Doc Eliot's set that book agent sold me? Charley Murphy runs aroun' takin' all kinds of chances, and did you ever hear tell of him havin' a cold? Me old friend Comiskey takes a little harmless trip over on the forcign side of the world, and the first thing he goes and is taken down with one of 'em Roman fevers.

"Some how travelin' don't agree with the Irish. It was always the way with Tim Sullivan. He cum into my place often in Chicago, complainin' oi his liver. I used to tell Tim that was because he never would pay two dollars for a sleeper; but Tim, a deep philosopher, always held that the Irish was a domestic race and not fit for travelin'.

"Do you think the change of water has anything to do with it?" we asked Bill.

"The best of us Irish don't drink it," returned Bill. "It's one of them Roman agues that is troublin' Commy. The best fellows in the world is always them that is gettin' it worst. Didn't Charley Murphy take a trip over to the auld land just before he fired Jawn Evers, and with all of them people doubtin' he was Irish, no one ever tiched a finger to him. Murphy comes back safe enough, wearin' a green hat with a little yellow feather in it—and he comes home feelin' fine.

"I hopes Commy comes back well and strong. When I was runnin' on the south side some of the boys would come in on their way to the ball park.

"'Goin' to the game?' I would ask 'em.

"'Them———— White Sox can't play,' they would answer; 'but Commy is the grandest old scout in the world and he won the pinnent the year before last.'

"Commy don't need much of a team. When he has Sullivan, and Walsh and Callahan and Tim Sullivan writin' letters on the White Sox stationery, he can pull all of the Irish vote. We Irish likes to stick together.

"He's a grand old man, he is. Commy lives in the best Irish ward in Chicago, and I do hope he comes back with them Roman fever or Eyetalian shivers out of his system, for this may be a hard year for some of the regular league teams, and there's no tellin' but that Ban Johnson will want all of the regular guys to come through with a war fund to fight the Federals and Charley Murphy."

The Flight of Time.

WORD from the West, whither H. Greely told young men to thither, is that Kid Williams, the irrepressible Dane, and dear Old Uncle Tom McCarey have signed articles of agreement looking toward an embrogiio with Johnny Coulon, the fighting, understand to be done by Williams and not McCarey.

A couple of years ago most of us people outside of Minneapolis had never heard of Kid Williams. How time flies, when you are paying for furniture on the installment plan and thinking of the ages of champions.

Not so very long ago Johnny Coulon was a sprightly youth in the prime of life. Now he is a passe veteran, vaguely and desperately seizing upon pretexts to put off the day when he will go forth to inevitable battle with the rugged Williams.

The Champion Speeder.

THIS just goes to show that there is a difference of statements regarding a certain incident when two different men talk along the same line of thought at two different times.

Yesterday Edmund Lamy was asked why he did not race Norval Baptie. The question caused the blue eyes of the Lamy youth to open wide and emit a look of wide astonishment. "Race him!" Lamy exclaimed—"I cant' catch him."

What prompted the question, we hasten to explain, is the fact that Baptie stated that he could not get Morris Wood for Lamy to race against him.

"I wanted Baptie to race me a series of races in Duluth, Minneapolis and Winnipeg," continued Lamy. "I have sent wires and letters and they have failed to bring any answer from Baptie. I even offered to guarantee Norval $1,000 and $250 for expenses if he would skate me at Saranac lake. I can't get any answer out of Baptie, and then some of the people of this country are wondering whether I am afraid of Baptie.

"Not as I know of. Wood beat Baptie and I beat Wood. I would like to get Baptie."

More remarkable details of the life and early ambitions of the white hope:

This hope neither drinks nor eats excessively. That, we take it, means that he does not hang around free lunches. How's that? Think—its difficult. But anyway did you ever see anyone eating at a free lunch who was not an excessive eater? This white hope drinks neither tea nor coffee and he is a graduate of a high school. Why does he want to fight? Well he is an educated man and can't find any work to do.

DULUTH BOYS MAY WIN HIGH HONORS IN EASTERN ROWING

A special dispatch to The Herald from Syracuse, N. Y., states that two Duluth boys, Walter Glass and Art Osman, are slated for high places in the rowing roll of honor of the school that has been placed on the rowing map by the genial veteran, James A. Ten Eyck, father of the Duluth coach.

It looks at the present time, says the dispatch, as if Walter Glass will be the stroke of the varsity eight, and that Art Osman, whom the veteran Ten Eyck proclaimed one of the greatest natural oarsmen he ever looked at, will stroke the freshmen eight.

The older Ten Eyck lamped young Osman while he was a member of the great Duluth junior eight. He lost no time in using eloquence and forceful arguments in persuading the Duluth kid to enter Syracuse. The same method of procedure was used in the case of Glass. Now it looks as if the Duluth boys are to receive places of great honor.

Both of these boys were developed by the younger Ten Eyck. It is probable that both of them will sit in Duluth boats this season, or at least it is hoped that they will.

In the event of Osman and Glass winning the two stroke positions at Syracuse, this feat will simply go further to prove that Duluth is producing the very best oarsmen in the world—and producing them out of one of the very best schools.

LAMY BROTHERS GIVE EXHIBITION

Famous Skaters Amuse Crowd at Curling Rink With Unique Feats.

The Lamy Brothers, Edmund and George, appeared at the curling rink last evening and gave one of the finest exhibitions of speed and trick skating that has ever been seen here.

Owing to the fact that the exhibition was cut short in order to let the patrons of the rink skate, no fancy skating was attempted. But in the matter of speed and barrel leaping, the world's speed champion skater and his little brother gave an exhibition that has never been equalled here.

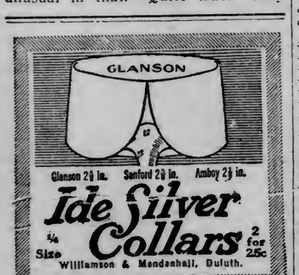

In jumping over barrels from a backward skating start, Edmund Lamy showed wonderful control over his skates and also considerable nerve. The feat is something on the same order of the stunt performed at the rink by Norval Baptie, only Edmund Lamy cleared eleven barrels in the leap of last evening.

A fast half mile exhibition of speed skating brought the exhibition to a close.

"SPIKE" KELLY SHADES MISKE IN A FAST BOUT

St. Paul Boy Makes a Great Fight But Is Outpointed and Outfought By Former Chicago Battler.

BY BRUCE.

"Spike" Kelly last evening outpointed Billy Miske of St. Paul in a ten-round setto that was filled with action from the first to the last round.

In remaining the ten rounds it must be stated that Miske won a virtual victory over the lad who is classed as one of the stars of the welterweight division. Miske not only remained the ten rounds, but he was strong and willing at the finish.

Throughout the battle Kelly did practically all the leading, landed the cleaner and harder blows and did by far the more damage.

Miske is a wonderfully improved fighter over the somewhat crude ringman who opposed Steamboat Bill Scott in the Ulrich arena, some two months back. Bill has been laboring diligently under the master instruction of Mike Gibbons since that event, and the instruction of Miguel has helped a lot.

The former Chicago battler found Miske there at every stage of the game. At the conclusion of the first round, just as the bell clanged, Kelly landed a terrific right in Miske's kitchen. The blow would have meant curtains for a less tough boy than the tall and lanky St. Paul youth.

In the sixth session Kelly landed blow after blow in the Miske midworks and the Miske countenance wore an expression of mingled worry and pain. But Bill never showed any indication of hesitation and was there for as much as his Spikelets could dole out.

Miske Held At Intervals.

At several stages of the battle Miske sought refuge in the embraces. Referee Ryan was obliged to feelingly part the men several times. But though Kelly would have been given the decision, were there any official referee's decision to be given, the Miske boy, lacking the experience and ring knowledge of his older opponent, made a fight that cannot fail but win him a lot of friends in this section of the country.

In the fifth round Kelly butted Miske with the top of his head. This act brought down the wrath of the large crowd that filled every nook and cranny of the clubhouse, and more or less put Kelly in Dutch with the crowd.

Preliminaries Are Good.

Kid Billings of Billings Park and Mox Carnis of St. Paul reeled off eight highly interesting rounds. For the first four rounds the red-top from the Superior suburbs led. In the latter half of the gallop the Carnis one came strong and evened up—more than evened up, some thought. The setto was a good draw.

Billings looks like one of the likeliest boys developed in these parts for some time. He shoots his right across like a regular ring guy, and considering the fact that he has had but three professional ring engagements in his career, the boy is a wonder.

Carnis would steady Billings up with his left and then step in close and cross his right. But prior to the adoption of this administration policy upon the part of Carnis, the Billings fresh air fiend had laced the Apostle quite severely in several rounds.

In other opening events Charles Jenson of Merrill, Wis., came, saw and conquered Napoleon Fiola of Hurley, Wis., a battling section of the great commonwealth of Wisconsin.

Napoleon Was Very Weary.

As in the case of another Napoleon upon another historic occasion, Napoleon Fiola was very tired at times in the march to the Moscow fortress of Jenson's jaw.

The Merrill youth is strong and extremely careless in his treatment of others, and while his left eye was closed as tight as any of the beer retreats over here after the hour of 11, the French was even more considerably mauled.

Our Abe O'Neil ran up against a Tartar in the short and exceedingly active person of Young Bushey of Superior. The Bushey one ran and swung indiscriminately with either arm, and he landed often and early, thus avoiding oftimes the rush of Abie.

This setto was filled with action and was one of the most exhilarating of the evening, which was a large and particularly open-faced one.

OARSMEN WILL BEGIN WORK TUESDAY, MARCH 3

Ten Eyck Writes That Everything Is Ready for Season's Opening.

Duluth Coach Urges Great Need of a Large Rowing Squad.

Jimmy Ten Eyck writes from Philadelphia that on Tuesday afternoon, March 3, the big squad of Duluth oarsmen will begin the long grind of season's work.

Jimmy will leave for Duluth within a few days and will be here to start the men to work on the machines. Little John Neville, the eminent boatman, has the machines all set up in the Y. M. C. A. and everything is in readiness for the work of putting the squad members in shape to repeat the phenomenal success of last season.

In his letter to The Herald Ten Eyck urges all of the old men to come out. They will be sorely needed, he points out. The Duluth coach also requests through The Herald that every young fellow in Duluth come out and try to make the crew.

A Large Squad Needed.

"Every young fellow in town is eligible for the crew," writes Ten Eyck, "and there are some distinct advantages to the rowing man. The boys that make the crew will have two fine trips this season, the one to Kenora and the one to the National at Philadelphia. Then there is the proposed tri pto the Henley in 1915. There is a fine opportunity for any boy to make the trip across the water with the crews.

"I saw the boats in Boston last Sunday and they look good. They are being packed for shipment at the present time and will be shipped in a few days and should be in Duluth the first of March.

"We need all of the old men again this year, and it is quite needless to state that we will have to work harder than ever to win. We can't travel on past performances, and, personally, I mean to be more careful than ever. We will be on the water as soon as possible, and will go to the rowing game stronger than ever.

The Henley Project.

"That trip to the Henley would be some trip. It would be a great advertisement to the old town. If our crews should win, the fact would be known in every city and village in the United States. It is a great proposition, this taking a crew across the water, and if we go the people here can be sure that one of the greatest crews in the world will represent Duluth and that the boys will make one grand effort to win."

At the recent meeting of the boat club oarsmen it was decided to send scouts out in search of promising material. As has been pointed out in this paper there is great need for new material this season. Confronting Coach Ten Eyck is the task of making a new bantam four, junior four and junior eight. The members of last year's winning bantam crew are the only men eligible for the new crews.

Every member of the club, every oarsman and every officer of the club is expected to co-operate in the effort to aid in bringing out a large squad for the initial season's work. Ten Eyck has put Duluth on the rowing map of the United States, and if this city is going to remain as the home of the greatest crews in the land, the material is needed.

WORLD PEACE MESSENGERS

Round-the-World Aviation Races Likely to Be So Called; Elaborate Plans to Make Them Peace Pathfinders.

New York, Feb. 18.—"Messengers of World Peace," the contestants in the 1915 round-the-globe aeroplane race from San Francisco, will be called if the plans of the Aeroclub of America are consummated. The club sent a telegram to C. C. More of the Panama-Pacific exposition, urging that the air contest be made officially an expedition of peace. It was announced further that the club has written to the country's foremost peace advocates, including President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and Former President Taft, inviting their co-operation in having the race a world-wide peace movement in which the aviators flying above potentially unfriendly frontiers would be the pathfinders.

In its letter to international peace supporters, the club wrote:

"Four years of development in aviation have shown that the air craft is primarily an instrument of peace. The 7,000 licensed aviators of the world while military in part, all fly for peace today; and while the aeroplane is supposed to be the terrible destroyer, the records show that it saved thousands of lives in the Turkish-Italian and Balkan wars. The aeroplanes so far have been the best messengers of peace the world has ever had."

TROTTING RULES NOT UNIFORM YET

American Association Rejects Amendments Offered By Committee.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Harness racing in the United States during the next two years will not be under uniform rules. The effort to harmonize these racing laws failed last night when the American Trotting association at its biennial meeting rejected important amendments adopted two months ago by joint committees of the American and the National Trotting associations. Several amendments were adopted, however, and the association voted to keep alive the committee on rule revision and another attempt will be made two years hence to make one set of rules for the various trotting associations.

Dates for meets in the Eastern Illinois circuit were named but a conference will be held in about ten days to decide on the purses. The first meet will be held at Charleston Aug. 18 to 23 and other dates are: Champaign, Aug. 25 to 31; Kankakee, Sept. 1 to 5; Streator, Sept. 6 to 10.

The association adopted a resolution asking managers of tracks under its rules to collect from horse owners an offering of 1 per cent of all winnings over $100, which will be used to increase the fund created to provide for drivers in their old age. The offerings will be voluntary. The resolution was introduced by Walter Palmer of Ottawa, Ill.

The association will attempt to have an exhibit of trotting horses in the international livestock show which heretofore has had no such exhibits.

THE BURR UNDER THE BASEBALL SADDLE AT LAST PLACED UPON THE DEFENSIVE

CHARLES W. MURPHY.

Walter Palmer, Paul Wilson of Menominee, Wis.; E. J. Cuttin of Decorah, Iowa; W. H. Smollinger of Iron Mountain, Mo., and John R. Thompson of Chicago were appointed a committee to arrange for the exhibit.

TO COMPLETE EVERS DEAL

Special Meeting of National League Called for Saturday.

International Circuit Is Intact, Owing to Failure of Negotiations.

New York, Feb. 18.—Governor John Tener of Pennsylvania, president of the National league, has called an adjourned session of the National league, and an adjourned meeting of the board of directors of the league to be held in Cincinnati next Saturday at 2 o'clock. The final details of the transfer of Former Second Baseman John Evers of the Chicago club to the Boston club will be completed. Other matters also are expected to come up for consideration.

The plan of organized baseball to place an International league team in Brooklyn to compete with the invading Federal league team was abandoned yesterday after negotiations between Presidents Charles Ebbetts of the Brooklyn National league team and Thomas Fogarty of the Jersey City Internationals, had failed of their purpose.

Ebbetts, it was learned, desired to charge the Jersey City team a sum, reported to be $50,000, for permission to play in the Newark ball park which he controls. Ebbetts said the Jersey City players would enjoy the patronage which last year supported a championship team.

Had the plan been carried out, Ebbetts intended to transfer the Newark club which he owns, to Brooklyn, playing on the National league grounds there, while the Jersey City team would play in Newark.

Fogarty, however, refused to meet Ebbetts' terms. It was said that the National league magnate cut his price in half, but even then Fogarty declined to accept.

This leaves the International league circuit of 1913 intact.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—The Federal league has signed 175 players and the roster may be announced soon in installments, President Gilmore intimated last night. A meeting will be held here in a week or ten days at which reports on the playing strength of the clubs will be made.

The Federal league will hold its schedule meeting in Baltimore the first week in March, it is announced.

President Gilmore received a message from Toledo yesterday asking whether there was any possibility of a transfer of the Kansas City Federal league team to that city, which will be vacated by the American association team. No further changes in the Federals' make-up are expected, Gilmore said.

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—William F. Baker of the Philadelphia National league baseball club declared last night that his club has taken all the steps necessary to retain the services of Tom Seaton, the pitcher, and Mike Doolan, shortstop, who are reported to have rejected offers from the Federal league.

Pitcher Chalmers visited the offices of the Philadelphia club yesterday and signed a 1914 contract. Cravath's contract was also received and it is reported that Pitcher Marshall has accepted terms and will report within a few days.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 18. — Everett Booe, outfielder with the St. Paul team in 1913, and one of the stars of the American association, is reported to have signed with the Indianapolis Federal league team, according to an unconfirmed report from that city just received.

Manager "Bill" Friel and Secretary Ray Meehan of the local club, both denied knowledge of the matter and said recent correspondence between the management and Booe indicated that the latter was inclined to look favorably on the salary offer made him.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18. — Sol Meyer former owner of the Indianapolis American association baseball club and now owner of the Springfield, Ohio, club of the Central league, will transfer the Springfield franchise to Toledo if the Central league is awarded that territory. Meyer said it was at his request that President Heilbroner telegraphed John H. Farrell, secretary of the National association asking that the Central league be allowed the territory vacated by the American association.

LEADERS STILL HOLD ADVANTAGE

Approach of Close Causes Interest to Be More Intense in Bowling.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—With the tournament of the International Bowling association drawing to a close, interest in the games grows more intense, although few of the teams are making scores large enough to overtop the three leaders in the five-man games, who have held their places since Sunday. The same is true of the two leaders in the doubles and no changes were made in the singles yesterday. Tonight will end the five-man games and the championship in that division will be decided with the shift that will end after midnight. Interest last night centered in a special singles match, in which the foreign big scores were rolled:

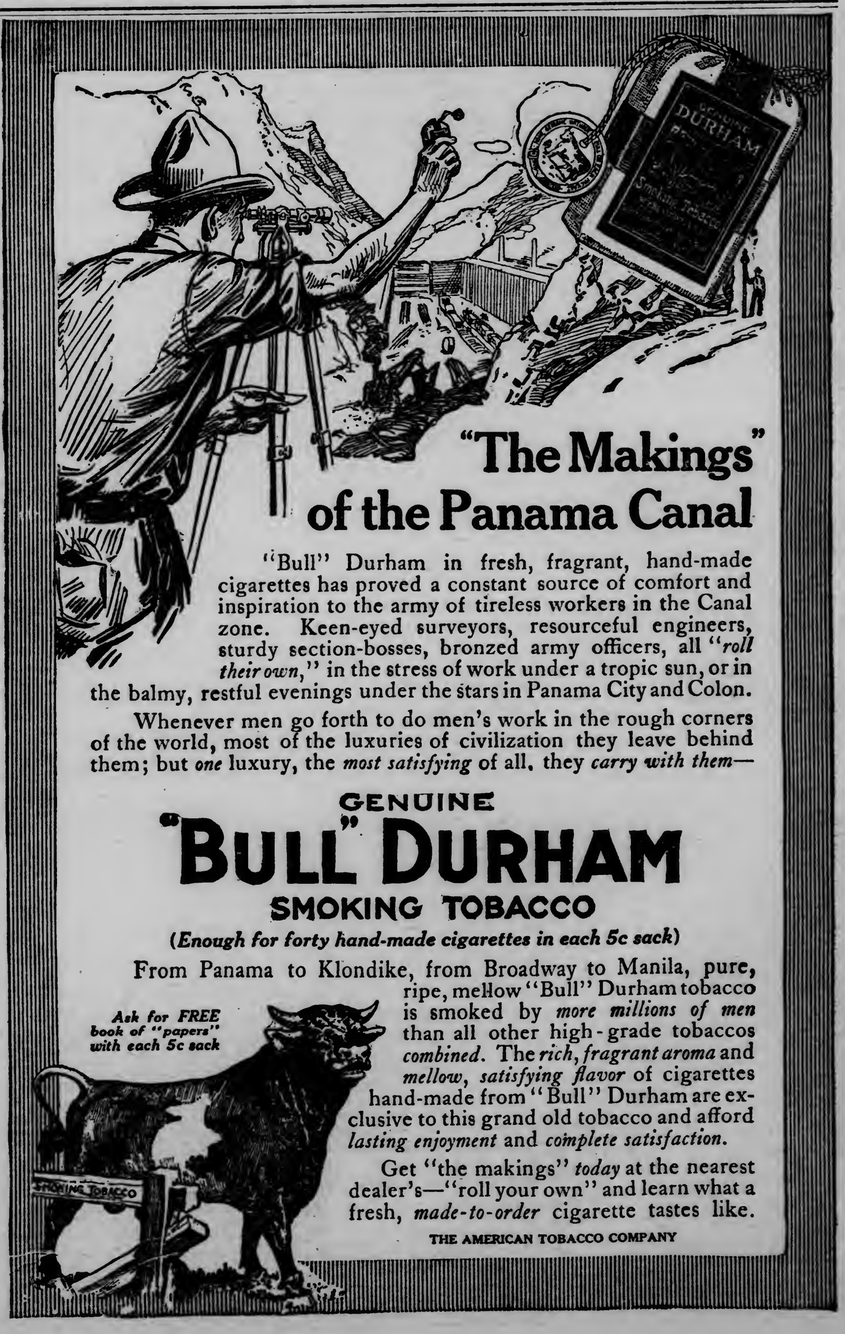

F. Fanton, Omaha, 698; A. Rosenquist, Minneapolis, 677; J. Garland, Minneapolis, 675; H. J. Muggley, St. Paul, 674. Their scores will not appear in the official list.

The following are leaders in the various divisions:

Five-man events—Wild Rose, Marquette, Minneapolis, 3,000; Commercial, Minneapolis, 2,997; Elks, Minneapolis, 2,995.

WOLGAST WILL BE SEEN HERE

Eddie Potts of Minneapolis, former manager of Billy Papke and of vaudeville fame, will introduce at the Auditorium tomorrow evening Ad Wolgast, one of the greatest of all the lightweights, and several of the best wrestlers of the Twin Cities.

According to the announcement of Potts, Pat Brown and Wolgast will spar four exhibition rounds, and Wolgast will go through the training stunts that he employs when training for all of his big contests.

Joe Carr, one of the strongest and best of the middleweight wrestlers of the country, and Young Beell will go to a finish, and Theodore Peters of St. Paul, one of the best of the light heavyweights, and Bob Turner, a husky wrestler, will go to another finish contest.

Little Louie Zorbas of this city will be one of the stars of the bill and will meet some man chosen to oppose him.

According to the announcement of Potts, Wolgast, accompanied by Tom Jones, will reach Duluth either late this evening or early tomorrow morning. Wolgast and his manager and trainer come direct from Cincinnati, where the Dutchman shaded Tommy Gary Monday evening.

DULUTH WILL ENTER A TEAM AGAINST ST. PAUL

Y. M. C. A. Handball Players Will Meet Apostle Court Stars in Series of Games on St. Paul Courts.

It has practically been decided to send six men to St. Paul to compete in the handball tournament with the St. Paul contenders for the state championship.

William Wendtlandt will undoubtedly represent Duluth in Class A singles and a tournament is now in progress to ascertain upon what teams will the title of defenders in the doubles. There is so much good material that it will be interesting to see what two prove to be ranked as "the survival of the fittest."

In Class B, Young Barry and "Russ" McLean will have to play off, and the winner will represent Duluth in Class B singles. Both men are capable and should win over anything St. Paul can produce in that class.

The elimination tournament in Class B doubles is in progress and up to date the Honigman brothers and Kleitsch have won their games in the first round.

Dr. Clark and Dreves will meet Denny and Kronk at 5 p. m. today, and Hanson and Barry will meet Johnson and Critchfield at 4:30 p. m. Messrs. Olson and Johnson are scheduled to meet Lavine and Petkoff Saturday.

The best players St. Paul has entered are all veterans, having played handball in the palmy days, when the amateur athletic club of St. Paul had the only regulation handball court this side of Chicago.

The following have entered to defend St. Paul's honor: Phil Nolan, Barton, Kay, Casson, Cook, J. Nolan and Capt. Whitmore.

According to a letter received from Messrs. Kay and Rothfuss, the St. Paul handball committee all told has twenty-eight men entered.

St. Paul still insists on playing all the games there and using its own ball, but a satisfactory agreement will be reached within a fortnight.

FOUR DULUTHIANS WILL GET "M"

Minnesota Alumni Will Receive Belated Honors From University.

Four prominent Duluthians will attend a banquet to be given at Minneapolis tomorrow night in honor of gridiron stars who played with the teams of the University of Minnesota prior to 1900. They are Attorneys C. E. Adams, Howard T. Abott and G. A. E. Finlayson, and William H. Hoyt, assistant chief engineer of the D. M. & N.

Since 1900 the men who made the football or baseball teams have been allowed to wear the much coveted "M," signifying that they played on one of the university's athletic teams. The alumni recently conceived the idea of conferring the same privilege upon those who upheld the honor of the Alma Mater in preceding years. This will be done tomorrow night. President George E. Vincent will make the presentations.

Mr. Adams played quarterback and halfback on the football teams of 1893, 1894 and 1895; Mr. Abbott was quarterback on the first eleven in 1886 and played the same position the following year; Mr. Finlayson played guard in 1895 and 1896, and Mr. Hoyt played tackle in 1888 and 1889.

UNION PRINTERS' LEAGUE TOURNAMENT.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 18.—The seventh annual baseball tournament of the Union Printers' National Baseball league will be held here the week beginning Sunday, Aug. 2. The cities which will send teams are New York, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Pittsburg, Washington, St. Louis, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, St. Paul and Cleveland. The local team will also compete.

President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati National league club, himself a union printer, has tendered the use of Redland field. The winning club will receive the Herrmann trophy.

NORTHERNS WILL MEET KELLEYS

One of the best hockey games of the season in the Duluth Amateur Hockey league is looked for in the meeting this evening between the Hallaware seven and the team of the Northern Hardware company.

The teams are evenly matched and in addition to this there is a large and healthy amount of rivalry between the members of the sevens.

Some of the best hockey that has ever been played among city teams has resulted from this season's play in the city league, and it is expected that tonight's contest will prove one of the real events of the season.

LAKES TO MEET WHITE BEAR TEAM

The crack Lake Hardware hockey team will leave tomorrow for St. Paul, where the White Bear team will be played a return game on Saturday and possibly Monday.

Manager Harris and General Booster Ryberg are confident that the leaders of the local league will win both of the games with the White Bear outfit. The Lakes are fit for a great contest and the White Bear team will have to go some to defeat the locals.

FIVE FOREIGN DRIVERS ENTER SPEEDWAY RACE

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—Five automobile racing drivers, the pick of Europe, sent in their entries today for the fourth annual 500-mile race to be held at the Indianapolis motor speedway next Memorial day. The pilots are: Jules Goux, who won the race last year; Chassagne, who holds about half of the racing records of England; Boillot, Christiaens and Gueyot.

Twelve entries have been received at the headquarters here thus far and it is expected at least forty cars will start in the race.

DOWN TO SEMI-FINALS.

National Indoor Tennis Tournament Drawing to a Finish.

New York, Feb. 18.—Competitors in the singles drew into the semi-final of the national indoor lawn tennis championship tournament here yesterday at the Seventh regiment armory. B. M. Phillips beat B. S. Prentice, the old Harvard player, 6-0, 6-2; Dr. W. Rosenbaum beat J. S. Cushman 6-1, 6-4 and A. M. Lovibond, the regimental champion, beat A. S. Cowin, 6-1, 8-6.

One of the liveliest matches was in the fourth round when R. B. Shafer, former Princeton-Columbia expert, beat Karl H. Behr, famous as internationalist, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3. Shafer is coupled with G. F. Touchard the champion, for the open bracket in the semi-final round.

The best matches in the doubles were those in which Behr and Prentice beat H. Parker and Dr. J. R. Mixsell, 6-1, 6-3, and W. C. Grant and G. C. Shafer, the champions, beat H. Steinkamp and I. Hartman, 6-2, 6-0.

COMPLETES HIS FLIGHT.

Silas Christofferson Reaches 'Frisco, Finishing Record Air Trip.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 18.—Silas Christofferson of San Francisco arrived yesterday in a biplane, having made a flight from Los Angeles about 125 miles in two hours and five minutes, completing the trip from San Francisco to this city, which he began eight days ago. Christofferson planned to make the flight from San Francisco here in a day.

His first delay was due to engine trouble. Then endeavoring to get over two ranges of the Sirrens he was compelled to turn back owing to strong mountain currents and landed at Bakersfield. Having equipped his biplane with a more powerful motor, he succeeded Monday in flying over the two mountain ranges and landing in Los Angeles.

Two Old-Timers to Coach.

New York, Feb. 18.—The Athletic Association of Columbia university has engaged William Lush, the former Cleveland outfielder, to coach the Columbia baseball squad this spring, while Andrew Coakley, formerly of the Athletes and the Chicago and Cincinnati Nationals will look after the Columbia pitchers.

Britton Beats Moriarity.

New York, Feb. 18.—Jack Britton of Chicago defeated Gene Moriarity of Syracuse in the seventh round of a ten-round bout here last night.

Y. M. S. Defeats Spaas.

The Spaa club's basket ball team, was defeated by the Y. M. S. at the Y. M. S. gymnasium last evening by the score of 20 to 6. The first half ended with the score of 14 to 6. The Spaa's were unable to score in the second half, the Y. M. S. getting 6 points. The teams lined up as follows:

Spaa—		—Y. M. S.
McGinnis	f	B. Owens
Page	f	Emerson
Diers	c	England
McCrea	g	Robinson
Leander	g	Flynn

Gould for McCrea second half. Field baskets: Y. M. S.—Flynn, 5; Owens, 4; England, 1. Spaa—McGinnis, 3.

SIDEWALK VICTIM WILL SECURE $250

Mrs. Olive Peck Wins in Suit Against City--Husband Loses Case.

For injuries which she received as a result of a fall on a defective sidewalk, Mrs. Olive J. Peck will recover $250 from the city. In district court yesterday a jury allowed her that amount as compensation for personal injuries. She sued for $3,000. Her husband, Randall W. Peck, who sued for $1,000, recovered nothing. The two actions were tried by the same jury.

Mrs. Peck was walking on the east side of Eleventh avenue west between Michigan and Superior streets on Sept. 21, 1913. At the southeast corner of Superior street she walked upon a wooden step, which gave way and precipitated her to the ground. The cases were tried before Judge Ensign. The jury was out about one hour.

GOVERNOR RESENTS PLAY FOR SYMPATHY

Orders Executions of Indiana Wife Murderers to Go on.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—Execution by electricity will be carried out for the first time in Indiana next Friday when Steve Cherka of Gary and Harry Rasico of Terre Haute, both convicted of wife murder, will be called upon to pay the penalty for their crimes at the state prison at Michigan City.

With much feeling Governor Ralston rebuked two men and a woman who brought two of Cherka's children, Mary, aged 7, and Philip, aged 5, to his office to make a final plea for clemency for the father. The little girl kissed the governor's hand and begged him to save her father. The governor became angered and voiced his displeasure at the attempt to play on his sympathy in an effort to induce him to depart from what he has regarded as his sworn duty.

Declared Case Closed.

Fred Gastel, who was with the children, started to explain the object of the visit, but the governor stopped him with the statement that the Cherka case had been closed when he sent a letter to Warden Fogarty at the prison refusing to intercede in behalf of either of the condemned men.

"I can do nothing more," said the governor. "I must do my duty as I see it."

The children soon left the room and the governor also declined to make any further statement.

Warden Fogarty has announced that only those prescribed by law will be permitted to witness the execution, and that the only detail of the execution that will be made public will be the time the men met death.

LEFTY FLYNN'S WIFE IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Oswego, N. Y., Feb. 18.—A final decree of divorce obtained by Rena Leary, formerly a New York show girl, from Maurice B. (Lefty) Flynn, fullback on the Yale football team of 1912, was filed here yesterday. Mrs. Flynn receives $20 a month alimony. They were married by an alderman at the New York city hall, Jan. 6, 1913. Mrs. Flynn charged that the Yale fullback abandoned her eleven days later.

N. Y. C. & H. R. R. WANTS TO ISSUE BONDS

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company has applied to the public service commission for permission to issue $70,000,000 in 4½ per cent refunding and improving mortgage bonds, to net not less than 92½ per cent. The money is to be used to meet notes which fall due this year.

Part of Blanket Plan.

New York, Feb. 18.—The $70,000,000 bond issue which the New York Central has submitted to the public service commission, appears to be a part of the $500,000,000 blanket consolidation mortgage formulated a few months ago and now before the interstate commerce commission for review.

There are $30,000,000 of New York Central 4½ per cent notes maturing in March and other obligations of a like character later in the year.

Book for Men, Free

8,000 Words, 30 Illustrations

TO MY READERS

Of the little illustrated advice book described below, which I gladly send free to all men who fill in the coupon, I beg to say that it represents the very nature which I am able to offer HERE information of a private you as a result of over 50 years' observation and study of my subject, during which time I have personally interviewed many thousands of men, young and elderly, single and married, rich and poor alike, who came to me in accordance with their confessions of debility, lost nerve force and failing strength.

It is, reader, this vast and unusual opportunity which has enabled me to compile this very popular and valuable little free book (over a million of which have been sent everywhere to men who wrote me for them), in a manner to reflect the exact living, breathing experiences and needs of real men who sought information as to the newer ways of self treatment without the use of drugs.

MANLY MEN MOVE THE WHOLE WORLD.

Remember, this book of over 8,000 words and 30 illustrations will come to you by return mail in reply to your request, and in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope, for it is no one's business but your own what the envelope contains. There is absolutely no obligation on your part to buy anything or pay anything, and merely the receipt of this book does not mean in any way that you are to use one of my VITALIZERS (see description below), and, in fact, only a portion of the book has any reference to the VITALIZER at all. Primarily it is a compendium of useful information for private reference, which you and all other men may easily profit by through life.

Therefore, please use the coupon, or, if nearby, I should be very glad to have you call.

SANDEN, AUTHOR.

It is a fact, reader, which you and I must recognize and admit, that the whole world admires, and is fascinated by strong, vigorous, manly manhood, and no man also admit, that it is this same manhood and this alone which is back of the real leaders and producers in every walk of life. No matter where we go, we find it to be the manly, vigorous, vital fellow who forges to the front, who fascinates men and women of his community, who does the really great things. An unmanly man merely means nature's laws gone wrong, for it is he who halts and hesitates, who takes the back seat, who does not fit into the picture in a way that a manly, vital nature should. And yet, reader, it is my firm belief that any man, no matter what his past, no matter what disillusions or follies may have left their mark upon his physical and mental being. I say to you that such a man, unless there be some unusual reason, many hope for a complete return of his strength, vigor and self confidence, if he but go about his self-restoration in a natural, commonsense way.

I make a little appliance which we will call a VITALIZER, because I think that is the best word to describe its strange power. I don't want you to think of getting one of these VITALIZERS just now, but I would like you to investigate my claims as to what I believe can be accomplished by almost any weakened man who uses this VITALIZER faithfully for a few weeks. I speak, of course, of him who is willing to give up dissipation and lead a decent, conservative life, not only while using the VITALIZER, but for the future. The other kind of man, the dissipated, can hope for nothing from any treatment, no matter what it may be, hence such a man is eliminated from my consideration.

This little VITALIZER is made to wear upon the body all night. It weighs only several ounces and is no more unhandy than an ordinary belt, yet it generates a great FORCE that I call VIGOR, which flows into your blood organs and nerves while you sleep. Men say it often takes any pain or weakness out of the back in one application, and that 60 to 90 days' use has been sufficient to restore manly strength and to put men in the "inner feel better in my life" class. Special attachments carry the FORCE of the VITALIZER to any part of the body, for the use of women as well as man in cases of rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc.

Over two hundred thousand of these VITALIZERS have been used or are now being used by men all over the world.

You had better learn more of this VITALIZER. It is fully described in my free book. If you live near me, why not call and test the VITALIZER yourself.

WHAT THE FREE BOOK TELLS.

The free illustrated advice booklet mentioned above is meant to be a simple declaration of certain important truths that every man in the world should know. The day has gone by when men are kept in ignorance of the real problems pertaining to these private subjects, and this illustrated advice booklet, which I send to men sealed, by mail, gives certain important facts relating to sex, just as these facts are. The booklet also fully describes my VITALIZER and you are told how you may get one for your own use if you decide that you want one. Please use coupon below, or call. Hours 9 to 8, Sundays, 10 to 1

BIG SALE ON THE CUYUNA

Duluth Capitalists Purchase 1,100 Acres on Range for $44,000.

Drills Will Be Sunk on Tract Next Summer to Locate Ore.

While no exploratory work has yet of investors in propositions on the Cuyuna range was afforded in the closing yesterday of the sale of a block of 1,100 acres in township 47, range 28, to a syndicate composed of prominent Duluth capitalists. The consideration was $44,000.

While no exploratory work hasyet been done on any part of the tract, good evidence has been found that ore underlies it. The Helmer Exploration company is reported to have located ore on ground being drilled a comparatively short distance west, and the opinion is generally held that the ore deposit extends several miles north and east of the present known limits. It is said to be the intention of the Duluth syndicate to place drills in operation on its 1,100-acre tract during the coming summer.

Drilling to Be General.

A number of large interests are reported to be preparing to enter the Cuyuna range territory within the next few weeks, and it is predicted that drilling operations will be conducted upon a greatly enlarged scale in the territory during the early spring months.

Inquiry for iron ore from Eastern operators is reported to be showing marked improvement during the last ten days, and it is now fully expected that prices for the season will be announced by March 15.

"We are considering four offers for ore from as many independent companies," said Thomas J. St. Germain, secretary of the Iron Mountain Mining company today. "Unless some hitch that cannot now be foreseen takes place, we expect to close with one of the number within a few days. A feature of the present situation is the broadening inquiry for manganese ore, and foundry men appear to be willing to contract for any stuff running low in phos."

High Grade Ore Found.

The locating of ore in its fortieth and forty-first holes which are now down to depths of 270 and 170 feet, is reported to be the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company. The deeper hole is said to be showing high grade manganese ore from about seventy feet down.

Sugar Case Time Extended.

New York, Feb. 18.—The United States district court has granted the request of the American Sugar Refining company for an extension to Aug. 1 of the period allowed for the presentation of its proof in the government's suit under the Sherman anti-trust law. The order also allows the government to put in evidence of rebuttal after conclusion of the defendant's case.

That's lumbago, rheumatism or maybe from a strain or a cold, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn, blister or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has recommended for 60 years.

JURY DRAWN IN INJURY CASE

Logging Employe Asks $10,620 for Fracture of Leg.

A jury was drawn yesterday afternoon in Judge Ensign's division of the district court to try the personal injury action which Hjalmar Swanson has brought against John A. Colbrath & Co., logging contractors.

Swanson claims that on Jan. 31, 1912, while employed by the loggers in the woods near Meadia station on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, he met with an accident which resulted in a badly fractured leg. He demands $10,620.50 damages.

Swanson was employed in drawing logs along a sideway. He alleges that because of the failure of the company to provide him with a roadway sufficiently wide and smooth, a log which he was pulling with his team broke away and rolled on top of him.

UNEMPLOYED ASK AID FROM ST. LOUIS

Mayor Promises Approval of Any Action By Assembly.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 18.—Carrying banners reading "We want work, not alms" and singing "Throw out the life line," 500 homeless men marched on the city hall yesterday, met the mayor in his office, and then attended a meeting of the city council, where they asked for appropriations for the relief of the poor.

The parade was called the "pageant of the unemployed" by its promoters, in contrast to the proposed "pageant of St. Louis," for which hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent. It was headed by James Eads How, "millionaire hobo," namesake and heir of the builder of the Eads bridge across the Mississippi river at St. Louis, and by Cora D. Harvey, secretary of the National Brotherhood Welfare association.

Petition to Mayor.

The men presented a petition to the mayor asking for the erection of a new municipal lodging house, for the loan of unused tools and vacant buildings belonging to the city, and for the establishment of a commissary where the unemployed might buy food at exact cost.

The mayor told the men he could do nothing for them on his own initiative, but said he would approve any aid offered the homeless by the assembly. He cautioned them to obey the city's laws, and the men departed without creating any disturbances.

LA FOLLETTES AT LAST STATE DINNER

Washington, Feb. 18.—The president and Mrs. Wilson were hosts at the final state dinner of the winter at the White House last night in honor of Speaker Champ Clark. In the absence from the city of Mrs. Clark, the speaker was accompanied by Miss Clark. Miss Wilson, daughter of the president, rendered several numbers of a musicale that followed. The guests included Senator and Mrs. La Follette, Wisconsin, and Representative and Mrs. Frank E. Doremus, Michigan.

GET PRESCRIPTION FOR BICHLORIDE

New York, Feb. 18.—Bichloride of mercury can be sold at retail in this city after March next only upon prescription of a physician. A sanitary code regulation adopted by the board of health so provides. The tablets also must have the word "poison" stamped upon them and must be kept in containers labeled "poison."

This measure supersedes one which required that each tablet be wrapped in paper on which the word "poison" had been printed. Preparations containing less than one-tenth of a grain of the agent are not included in the regulation.

MEN, When in Chicago

Come and See For Yourself

The Dr. Lorenz Electro Body Battery is the greatest self-cure for weakness and debility the world has ever known. No drugs, no medicine, no dieting, no unusual demands of any sort, just cease all dissipation and this invention will do the work. Stops Tobacco Habit In One Day

Sanitarium Publishes Free Book Showing How Tobacco Habit Can Be Banished in From One to Five Days at Home.

The Elders Sanitarium located at 1059 Main St., St. Joseph, Mo., has published a free book showing the deadly effect of the tobacco habit, and how it can be banished in from one to five days at home.

Men who have used tobacco for more than fifty years have tried this method and say it is entirely successful, and in addition to banishing the desire for tobacco has improved their health wonderfully. This method banishes the desire for tobacco, no matter whether it is smoking, chewing, cigarettes or snuff dipping.

As this book is being distributed free, anyone wanting a copy should send their name and address at once.

ON THE IRON RANGES

FAVOR PURCHASE OF HEALY THEATER

Hibbing Water and Light Board Would Convert It Into Fire Hall.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the Healy theater property be purchased by the village and reconstructed for a fire hall while the present fire hall building be rearranged for district court and village hall purposes was the recommendation made last evening by the water and light board to the council. Owing to the absence of Mayor Power the recommendation was laid over until the next meeting.

Architect Halstad of Duluth approves the plan and estimates that the purchase price, reconstruction and rearrangement would not exceed $20,000.

Under the tentative plans the theater would be turned into a three story firehall with room for the equipment and horses on the ground floor, sleeping apartments and lounging rooms for the firemen on the second floor, and apparatus storage room on the third floor. It was believed that all of the repair work, painting, hose drying and storage of surplus equipment could be handled on the third floor at a saving to the village. It is probable that all repairs to the machinery would then be taken care of by a village employe. A suitable freight elevator would be installed in the building.

Fire Hall Rearrangement.

Some care will be taken in the rearrangement of the present village hall with the addition of the present fire quarters. The offices of the municipal court will be enlarged, the district judge will be given an additional room, there will be extra rooms for the sheriff and a new room for the petit jury. It is also probable that the jail and the offices of the police officials will be materially enlarged. Rooms will also be provided for the mayor and village councilmen so that they may file papers and documents in the village hall.

Members of the board believe that an agitation should be started towards the erection of a courthouse by the county but as the necessary legislation would probably take two years it was not deemed advisable to hold up the changes asked for and in any way hamper the work of the district court.

NASHWAUK GUARDS AGAINST LAWLESS

Police Changes Made and Patrol Boxes Installed.

Nashwauk, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor J. P. Raatama and the village council made several changes in the police force, owing to the death of August Kokko, who was shot to death a week ago. William Hayes received the appointment of chief. Mr. Hayes has served in that capacity before, but owing to his other business interests at that time he was unable to hold the position. John Koski, a member of the force for the past two years, still holds his position and Vicenzo Biancchini was named as the third and extra man on the force, the change taking place yesterday. Chief Hayes is making many changes for village protection and is installing patrol boxes on the corner of Third and Grand avenue and the corner of First and Grand avenues. These boxes will be timed at every hour by the night patrolman.

To insure continuous protection the police will work in three shifts of eight hours each.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM.

Aurora Pupils Will Entertain in Hearding High School Thursday.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Aurora school children will give a patriotic program at the Hearding high school auditorium Thursday night at 8 o'clock as follows:

"Anvil Chorus," (Il Trovatore), high school orchestra; Introductory remarks, Supt. Burt Wilt Adkins; song, "A Vow," Matt Turk, Joe Futchi, Margaret Venticinque and Agnes Dergantz; soldier game, kindergarten; dance, Varsovienne, from grade gymnasium class; "Sidelights of Days Gone By," third grade; "Liberty March," Mohawk school; minuet, first grades; "A Trained Menagerie," second grades; song, "Washington's Birthday," first grades; dance, Spanish Mazurka, from girls' gymnasium class; flag drill and party, fourth grade; song, "Washington," second grades; military drill, fifth grade; song, "Tenting Tonight," sixth grade boys; recitation, "The Ship of State," Joe Kovach; song, "America," audience, accompanied by the high school orchestra.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

Hibbing Tailor Also Would Like to Handle Village Cash.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. H. Nelson, a tailor, is the fourth to announce himself as candidate for treasurer. D. D. McEachin, Victor Neimi and Mike Gleason are the other three.

So far there has been no announcement of any opposition to the present president or councilmen, who will undoubtedly file for re-election. Judge Brady also seems to have a clear field for municipal judge.

R. M. Pritchard has already announced himself as a candidate for township supervisor and Con Keppel, it is undestood, will file this week. Paul Willard and James Butchard are also candidates for township supervisor.

Village Township Treasurer M. J. Cox so far is opposed by J. A. Robertson and Leander Johnson.

For clerk, Victor Benoe will be a candidate for re-election, with George Healy, who has already filed, and Oscar Widstrand, who will probably file as his opponents.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today ---You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

We have in our possession a prescription for nervous debility, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that we think every man who wishes to regain his health, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So we have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write us for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and we are convinced it is the surest-acting combination ever put together.

We think we owe it to our fellow men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what we believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop us a line like this: Interstate Remedy company, 4671 Goodyear Building, Detroit, Mich., and we will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but we send it entirely free.

REMINGTON RAPS HIS ACCUSERS

Hibbing Official Will Leave His Future to the Council.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claiming that the petition asking for his removal as chairman of the water and light board was signed by "non-representatives, bartenders, saloon keepers and a few other undesirables," C. A. Remington last evening informed the village council that he had decided to let the council dispose of the matter as they saw fit.

Mr. Remington's communication to Clerk Haley follows: "Replying to yours of the 10th, will say that after going over the petition carefully I find that it is made up of non-representatives, bartenders, saloon keepers and a few other undesirables and it fails to contain the name of one representative business man or citizen, and I have decided to leave it up to the council to dispose of as they think proper and for the best interests of the village."

Action by the council was postponed.

FIND PROPERTY UNDER-ASSESSED

Virginia Council Will Try to Correct the Defect.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two weeks ago City Clerk Bickford was instructed by the city council to consult with the officials of the Oliver Iron Mining company relative to the use of the pulmotor owned by the company. M. H. Godfrey, general superintendent of the Virginia district, replying to the council's request last night said the city was welcome to the use of the pulmotor at any time but that as it is located at the Adams mine at Eveleth it might prove inconvenient in many cases to reach it in time to be of any service. City Clerk Bickford was instructed to open up correspondence looking to the purchase by the city of an instrument in the near future.

Property Under-assessed.

Through clerical errors during the past four years a large number of property owners have been under-assessed and a number of others have been over-assessed, and in order to adjust these matters Clerk Bickford asked for authority to spread the under-assessments on next year's tax roll and also suggested that inasmuch as it was no fault of the property owners no interest be charged on these payments. Authority was also asked that over-payments might be refunded at the city clerk's office in all cases where it is found such had been made. The suggestions made by the city clerk were acted upon favorably and the matter was placed in the hands of the city attorney and clerk.

Dr. J. H. Crowe, city health officer, reported that the matter of securing a branch of the state laboratory for Virginia had been taken up with Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, and that some definite action could be expected soon.

HIBBING REVIVAL.

Ministers Transfer Their Work There From Virginia.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meetings arranged by the Swedish M. E. church in charge of Rev. J. A. Anderson, superintendent of Lake Superior district, are continued here. The meetings in Virginia were a success and an encouragement to many. On the last evening the church was crowded, and Rev. Bostrom preached the word of life.

Rev. Anderson and Rev. Bostrom arrived here Monday and conducted a service in the evening which was well attended. Rev. J. Stone of Ashland and Rev. A. G. Lundgren of Virginia arrived yesterday. The meeting last evening was better attended and showed a rising interest.

Rev. G. Tapper of Duluth arrived here today while Rev. E. F. Lund of Superior and Rev. C. Wermine of Duluth are also expected to come to aid in the great work.

PREPARES FOR ELECTION

Hibbing Council Appoints the Judges and Clerks for Contest.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The council last evening selected judges, clerks and constables to serve in the various precincts at the election on March 10 as follows:

First precinct—Lee McNulty, S. Lekve, judges; E. S. Woolfan, Gus Johnson, clerks; W. J. Rezac, constable.

Second precinct—J. D. Rooney, John Harrio, judges; Harry Ray, George Henry, clerks; John Knutti, constable.

Third precinct—Fred Kohrt, F. L. Stapleton, judges; Harry Olson, Emil Anderson, clerks; Sol Barrett, constable.

Fourth precinct—J. P. Murphy, Fred Lindberg, judges; Lee Durkee, W. W. Woodworth, clerks; Patrick McDonald, constable.

Fifth precinct—T. P. Fleming, W. G. Brown, judges; Will Webb, A. T. Holm, clerks; Ollie Groff, constable.

Sixth precinct—J. B. Healy, Adolph Sonogall, judges; John Doan, J. J. Stuart, clerks; John Ritchie, constable.

Seventh precinct—Albert Farnard, James Lampson, judges; C. Faucalt, Harry Denarum, clerks; W. A. Farnand, constable.

To Wrestle at Virginia.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tom Matievich, who defeated Kahn Alley here recently, has been matched with K. J. Virtinen at Virginia for next Saturday night. A number of the local Austrians are planning on attending the bout, which should be an excellent one. The Croatian wrestler still is anxious to get a return match with the local Turk.

Concert at Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements have been completed by the local school officials for the appearance here during Easter week of the Hamline University Glee club, composed of sixteen young men students at that institution. The concert will probably be given in the high school auditorium.

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN DEATH MYSTERY

County Attorney May Further Probe Death of Frank Valentintic.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Frank Valentintic, aged 24, the young Austrian employed at the Fayal mine, who was found dying on a sidetrack of the Iron Range railroad at Gilbert Monday afternoon and expired while being brought to a local hospital, was held this afternoon from Holy Family church. The Holy Family society, to which he belonged, attended and with the Fayal band escorted the body to the cemetery.

Probably Accidental Death.

There appears to be no new developments today other than given in Tuesday's Herald. A deputy sheriff from Virginia came here yesterday afternoon and discussed the case with Deputy Coroner Help and will report to County Attorney Greene, who will decide whether to prosecute the investigation further. While the death appears to be shrouded in mystery many points indicate that young Valentintic while walking along the siding in an intoxicated condition fell upon the rails and in falling and wiggling around broke four ribs, which punctured the lungs, causing death. There does not appear to be many elements of foul play. As the siding had not been used for several days it is not believed he was struck by a train.

THREE DULUTHIANS WILL PARTICIPATE

Prince, Dowling and Arnold Expected at Eveleth Banquet.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three Duluthians are expected to address the big Commercial club banquet in the Auditorium at 6:30 tonight; Mayor Prince of Duluth, P. E. Dowling, former mayor of Eveleth, and L. E. Arnold of the Iron Range road land department.

A. G. Kingston of this city will be toastmaster.

The Presbyterian ladies will serve the food. A male quartet will furnish the music. It is expected there will be 150 or more present. The innovation of having the ladies present is expected to prove a magnet that will make the banquet one of the biggest affairs of the kind ever held here.

CHISHOLM CHILDREN ARE IN QUARANTINE

Member Develops Smallpox and Whole Force Is Put in Detention.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—City Physician Dr. W R. Schmidt yesterday vaccinated the entire fire department. William McIllharghy was taken ill Monday night and the examination proved that he was suffering from smallpox. The department was immediately put under quarantine. McIllharghy was removed to the detention hospital and the headquarters thoroughly fumigated. Soon afterwards a call came in and the department made a run into the darkness only to discover that the call was a false alarm.

Mr. McIllharghy is a brother of the chief of the Hibbing department.

FORMER BIWABIK WOMAN CALLED

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Julia Fish died yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness of Bright's disease. Mrs. Fish was 68 years of age and came to Virginia from Biwabik about eight months ago. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. L. Rahaheur of Saskatoon, Mrs. Lillian Garner of Hibbing, Mrs. D. Halvorson of Virginia and Mrs. Rose Donovan of Cleveland, and a son who resides in Kentucky.

NOT LEFT INDIGENT.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Humane Officer McKercher of Duluth has been here investigating the stories that the children of John Gustafson, the old resident who died at Rochester of cancer, left them penniless and finds the report untrue. He found that instead of there being seven small children, as claimed, there were but four, two of whom were by his second wife, who died in April, 1908. The other two children were half brothers living with another family here. But two children of Gustafson's last marriage survive him, a girl of 10 and a boy of 13. Mr. Gustafson had $2,000 life insurance money, $1,000 in the Modern Woodmen and the balance comes through the Swedish society. The girl and boy will be taken care of by the Swedish society.

Defy Blood Disorder BY Giving the Blood an Effective Bath

The word Medicine is one of the most abused in our language. There are certain medicinal properties just as necessary to health as the food we eat. Take, for example, the well-known medicine, S. S. S. This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the elements of wheat, roast beef, the fats and the sugars that make up our daily ration.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming Rheumatism, Catarrh of the Stomach and Intestines, skin eruptions and all blood troubles.

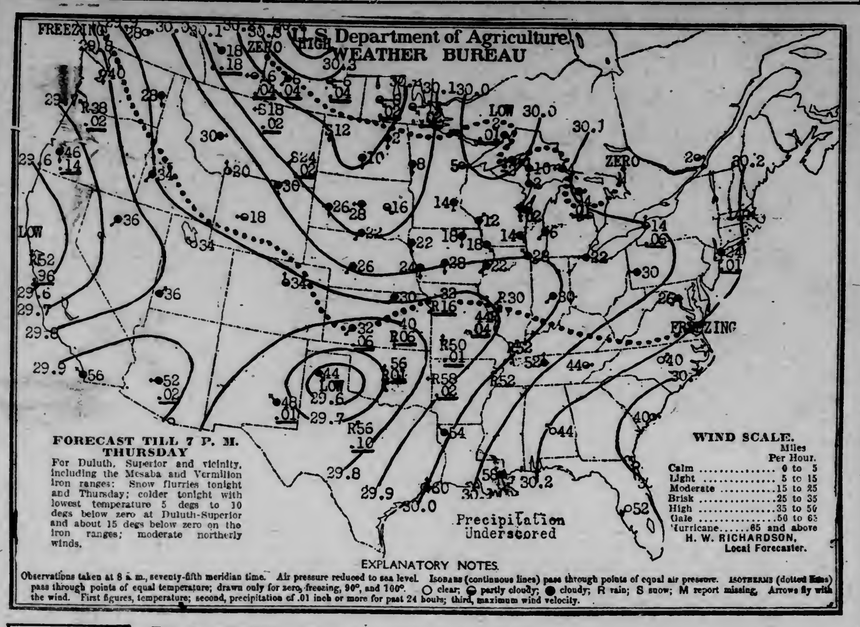

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon all those irritating influences that cause sore throat, weak eyes, loss of weight, thin, pale cheeks and that weariness of muscle and nerve that leads so many people into the dangerous path of stimulants and narcotics.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will feel bright and energetic. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 303 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient advisory department where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may consult freely.

S. S. S. is sold everywhere by drug stores, department and general stores.

Don't permit anyone to sell you a substitute. Insist upon S. S. S.

METHODIST MEET IS CALLED OFF

Death of Bishop Quayle's Daughter Changes Virginia Plans.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—On account of the death in Chicago yesterday of Miss Margaret Quayle, daughter of Bishop Quayle of the M. E. church of Minnesota, the meeting of the Head of the Lakes M. E. Ministers' association planned to be held here tomorrow has been called off for the present, but will probably be held in about ten days, or as soon as convenient for the bishop. Rev. Thomas Grice, pastor of the local M. E. church, received a message from Bishop Quayle to postpone the meeting because of the death in the bishop's family. It had been planned for the bishop to lecture here on "Shylock and David" tomorrow night, but this, of course, is also called off.

SUSPECTS' HEARING COMES UP THURSDAY

Nashwauk, Minn., Feb. 18.—The preliminary trial of Marco Bonich, Steve Stenich, Steve Halor, Mike Yaher, Eli Karacus and Mile Sertich, which was to have taken place here yesterday for the shooting of Policeman August Kokko last Tuesday night was postponed until Thursday morning owing to the absence from the village of County Attorney McOuat.

Funeral in Duluth.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Mrs. John Dun, who died here suddenly Monday evening, was taken to Duluth, where she formerly lived, yesterday by her husband for the funeral. She was 25 and formerly Lena Pearson of Norway, Mich. Her husband is claim agent for the Oliver Iron Mining company.

To Celebrate With Chisholm.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though there is no Knights of Pythias lodge here, local members of the order have been invited to join with the Chisholm lodge in celebrating the golden jubilee on Thursday. There will be a special service in the Chisholm opera house at 8:30, to be followed by a dance.

To Play at Chisholm.

ARRESTED IN MINNEAPOLIS

Guy Hallock, Theatrical Agent, Held By Mill City Police.

Guy Hallock, former partner in the school of acting and producing business with Charles Ellison, was arrested in Minneapolis yesterday, according to a dispatch received this morning. Hallock was in partnership in the Mill City with Fred Walton, who was also taken into custody by the police.

The dispatch from Minneapolis follows:

"Minneapolis, Feb. 18.—Guy Hallock and Fred Walton, partners in the Western School of Acting, which had a three-day run of business as an instruction and booking agency in the Lyric theater building and who were arrested here yesterday by Detective Thomas P. Gleason, are being held on complaint made by Miss Laura Hayes, 61 Twelfth street south. Miss Hayes declares that she paid $10 to be booked as a musician. Police are investigating a statement that Napoleon Laveux, a structural iron worker, paid $110 for a half interest in "The Dress Rehearsal," a play being written to order by the agents, and that Hallock was a former partner of Charles Ellison of Duluth, recently convicted of mulcting two theatrical aspirants of $15 each."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Agent, Max Wirth.

NET "INCOME" IS MINUS $168.70

Park Point Traction Company Operated at Loss During Last Year.

The net income of the Park Point Traction company during 1913 was minus $168.70, according to the annual report filed yesterday with City Auditor Ben J. Campbell.

The total income was $23,272.12, of which $21,197.40 was derived from fares, $1,829.72 from hauling freight and $245 from miscellaneous sources. The value of the property to Jan. 1, 1914, is placed at $139,012.53. The incumbrances as given aggregate $112,200.70, of which $10,620 is first mortgage bonds and $99,680.70 income bonds.

NO BAR ON TANGO.

No ban was placed on the tango and other up-to-date dances at the annual ball of the Federated Trades assembly last evening at the Armory.

The only restriction placed was that the tango and the hesitation waltzes must be danced in exactly the same manner as exemplified by Albert Whitman and Vivian Lavelle, a professional dancing team which gave a ballroom exhibition during an intermission last evening. Few, however, attempted the difficult steps.

The committee in charge consisted of A. G. Catlin, R. J. Poole, Peter Schafer, Alex Plant, E. A. Rickert and William Reed.

PAMPHLET ISSUED ON HOMECROFTING.

For the purpose of increasing interest in homecrofting the Commercial club homecrofting committee has issued a pamphlet on the subject written by A. H. Cranswelier. That the pupils in the public schools may be stimulated to join in the homecrofting campaign, George D. McCarthy, assistant secretary of the Commercial club, has informed the principals of the schools that the pupils may receive any number of the books.

O'BRIEN RETURNED TO PARLIAMENT

Cork, Ireland, Feb. 18.—William O'Brien, leader of the independent Irish Nationalists, was today re-elected unopposed as member of parliament for Cork City. He resigned in consequence of a recent speech by Augustine Roche, Nationalist member for North Louth, who declared that the independent leader had lost his hold on Cork. Mr. O'Brien accepted the challenge and immediately vacated his seat.

The regular Nationalist party decided not to oppose him, John E. Redmond desiring to keep in the background as much as possible any differences between the two wings of the Nationalist party.

Washington, Feb. 18.—In a letter to W. W. Prescott, editor of the Protestant magazine published here, President Wilson has denied emphatically that his correspondence is handled with religious prejudice by his secretary, Joseph Tumulty.

Easy Way to Remove Objectionable Hairs

(Beauty Culture)

Progressive beauty specialists are rapidly adopting the new, painless method for removing superfluous hairs and the result is that the costly and painful electric needle treatment is fast being discarded. The treatment is inexpensive and very simple—just make a paste with a little of the powdered delatone and water and apply to hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes rub off and with it comes every trace of hair. Washing leaves the skin firm and spotless. Be sure, however, that you get the real delatone.—Advertisement.

GERMS MADE HARMLESS

Rich red blood is the power that keeps the human body in order. Every day many germs of disease enter our bodies but they are made harmless and passed off if the fighting forces of the body are in good condition. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, enable it to absorb more oxygen, the agent which burns up the body poisons. In this way Dr. Williams' Pnik Pills are not only a tonic but a specific for the host of diseases that come as a result of thin blood and that can get a foot-hold only when the tone of the body is low.

Dr. Wiliams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red, and strengthen the nerves.

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, sciatica. Build up your blood and note how the purer and richer blood fights your battle against the disease. Take Dr. Wiliams' Pink Pills as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that with the observance of ordinary rules of health will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

A booklet, "Common Ailments, How to Treat Them," is free for the asking. Address: The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

ELECTRICITY THE BASIS OF LIFE

Greatest men of science and most prominent physicians say Electricity positively cures diseases.

Jacques Loel, famous professor, says, after 10 years' experiment: A part of the chemical energy of foodstuffs is transformed into Electrical energy, which in turn gives energy to the muscles and organs of the body. Electricity and not heat, is the life of the body. This statement upsets all medical theories of today, as it is proven that Electricity is the basis of human vitality.

Electro Medical Doctors have proven this hundreds of times over, when they cured chronic patients, when all drugs had failed. You say you believe in the doctor, that cures you, very well. Then read what electricity and Tox-Absorb will do for you.

IT KEEPS OLD AGE AWAY

No matter how old or how young a man is in years—he is as old as his arteries. When these blood vessels begin to harden and resist the increase of the blood pressure, he is old. Then Electro Treatment must be applied. After a while nature takes up the work and carries it on and the patient gets young again. By Electric Stimulus the system is energized, the blood made to circulate equally, the digestion aided and the waste products stimulated, the repair tissues are assisted and the normal working of the bodily fnctions restored.

HEALTH now means sufficient Electricity in the BODY. DISEASE means insufficiency of that Power—Electro Medical Treatments give Strength. They make the blood rich and warm, put new life into tired and painful nerves and vim into the brain and muscles. They make a good man out of a bad one. Electro-Vito Toxalsorb overcomes Rheumatism Pains and Aches, Nervousness, General Debility, Indigestion, Inactive Liver, Constipation, Pains in the side and back, Pelvic Inflammation Kidney, Rectal and Bladder Diseases, chronic and special in character and all other chronic diseases yield rapidly under these treatments. Consultation free. Come and convince yourself.

FARMERS GOING AFTER POINTERS

Soil-Tillers Around Williston to Inspect Some Dairying Centers.

Williston, N. D., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Williams county farmers will leave here next Sunday to visit dairying centers of Southern Minnesota and Wisconsin. They will spend a day's visit in the Twin Cities, Fargo and Grand Forks.

George F. Carpenter, a Williston banker, will be in charge of the party, the entire movement being handled under the direction of the Williams County Better Farming association.

The personal interest taken in the dairy excursion by James J. Hill, who made a liberal donation toward the expenses of the trip, have made the movement possible.

Costs Only $10 Apiece.

Covering over 1,000 miles, each farmer participating in the tour has to pay but $10, the balance of the expense being cared for through donations made by Williston banks, James Hill and others.

The party leaves Williston next Sunday, going direct to the Twin Cities and thence to Madison, Wis., where a day will be spent at the agricultural college. The next two days will be spent in the smaller dairying centers of the state of Wisconsin.

On Thursday the party will be in the Twin Cities and will visit the Minnesota Agricultural college. The following day they will be in Fargo, attending the dairymen's convention, and on Saturday they will be in Grand Forks inspecting the Lilac Hedge dairy farm.

HOPE FOR BALD HEADS

Well Known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has Heavy Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It.

A western politician, well known on account of his baldness and his ready wit surprised his friends by appearing with a heavy growth of hair; many of his friends did not know him, and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the growth of my hair to the following simple recipe which any lady or gentleman can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of Glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."

WILD WEST PLAY CLAIMS LAD'S LIFE

Youth of 13 Is Hanged in Barn at St. Mathias, Minn.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Playing with two comrades in a barn at the home of his parents in St. Mathias, south of Brainerd, young Rudie Klapel, aged 13, pulled off a fatal Wild West stunt. His rope caught and strangled him. The lads did not cut him down until too late, imagining this was part of the stunt. They laid him on the floor and then did not give the alarm for some time, as they thought he was shamming sleep.

Rudie was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Klapel, tenant farmers on land in section 33, St. Mathias township, owned by Dr. J. H. Newman of Little Falls.

Fireman's Close Call.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 18.—Charles Tessman, a fireman in the employ of the Northern Pacific, barely escaped with his life at Sartell Sunday night when he stepped into a cloud of steam and was struck by an engine. Tessman was walking around his own engine. The steam blinded his view and he did not see train No. 14, eastbound, approaching. The train struck him in the hip and knocked him down. He was injured and bruised.

WOULD WORK CONVICTS.

Wisconsin Warden, After Inspecting Other Prisons, Favors Plan.

Waupun, Wis., Feb. 18.—Daniel Woodward, warden of the Wisconsin state prison, on his return yesterday from a trip of inspection of prison work in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado, declared there was no reason why 50 per cent of Wisconsin's convicts should not be employed either in road building or farming.

Much of the warden's inspection trip was spent in becoming acquainted with prison methods in twine plants and the labor of convicts in road building and farming.

He advocated the establishment of the Colorado convict system in Wisconsin.

WAR VETERAN CALLED.

Father of Moose Lake Man and North Dakotan Is Summoned.

Little Falls, Minn., Feb. 18.—John Arnold, aged 71, died Feb. 16 at his home from paralysis. Mr. Arnold was a veteran of the Civil war, having served in Company I of the Seventy-first Pennsylvania volunteer infantry.

He was born in Thompsville, Ga., July 5, 1843. In 1816 he moved to Sauk Center and was married there in 1867. He is survived by his wife and six children, George of Moose Lake; Mrs. Ed. Keenan of Wilton, N. D.; Mrs. Ira Baker of Deary, Idaho; Mrs. Ottie Rochleau of this city; Mrs. Thomas Neville of Wilton, N. D., and Dell of Onamia. All were here for the funeral today except Mrs. Baker.

HANGS SELF IN HAYMOW.

Well-Known and Prosperous Polk County Farmer Is Suicide.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 18.—Her husband failing to return to their home in the morning after going to the barn to do chores, Mrs. John O. Brokke, living in Lessor township, Polk county, visited the barn and found him hanging in the haymow. Coroner Nelson investigated and pronounced it a case of suicide.

One of the daughters has been hysterical ever since the tragedy, and the other daughter and the widow are completely unstrung.

Brokke had a splendid house and barn and money in the bank. His family relations were also of the most pleasant.

He was 46 years of age and had never given the slightest reason to indicate that he was unsound mentally.

MUCH ROAD WORK.

Marquette County Spends About $26,000 Annually on Highways.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—In eight years, according to the report of the commissioners, Marquette county has expended $288,640 on its road system, an average of more than $26,000 a year. No other county in the peninsula has made a larger expenditure. The county has advanced to the borders of other counties a system of trunk highways that is well along to completion and that in a few years will provide excellent through roads in all directions. No year has passed that substantial progress has not been made. The plan has been comprehensive and the work has been carefully supervised. Similar operations are in progress in the majority of the counties of the peninsula. Soon it will be possible to travel over macadamized highways from one end of the region to the other.

TWO MINERS KILLED.

Fatal Fall of Ground in Mass Mine at Negaunee, Mich.

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 18.—Coroner Prin is looking into the death of two miners in the Mass mine here Monday.

Peter Allen and Michael Stefnell were buried by a fall of ground.

Since Allen and Stefnell were the only two men working on the level at the time, it is not known just how the accident occurred. Both men are Italians. Allen is single and Stefnell leaves a widow and five children to mourn him.

HAS SISTER IN DULUTH.

Richard Sampson, Well-Known in Houghton, Dies Suddenly.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 18.—Richard Sampson, formerly postmaster at Norway, Mich., and for years a well known resident of Houghton, engaged in the drug business, died Monday, aged 62.

Mr. Sampson was born in Houghton, son of the late Richard Sampson, Sr., who died in 1904. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Martha of Hurontown and Mrs. C. D. Hibbard of Duluth. His wife and a son and daughter, from whom he had been estranged, reside at Iron Mountain.

BEAVER MEAT POPULAR.

Upper Michigan Food Product in Demand Among Bon Vivants.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Since the announcement of State Game Warden William R. Oates that trappers are permitted to sell beaver meat, the delicacy has been in much demand. Deputy Game Warden John Keough of Negaunee reports that many inquiries have come from hotel and restaurant proprietors in Chicago, New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia and other large cities. Prior to the announcement that the meat could be shipped to points outside the state, the trappers often had large quantities they were unable to market. Most of the beaver trapped in the Upper Peninsula weigh between forty and eighty pounds. The meat now can be sold at 40 cents a pound or over.

BATTLES WITH WOLF.

North Dakotan Pounds Out Animal's Teeth With Stone.

Schaefer, N. D., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Foreman, a local ranchman, had a hand to hand contest with a big timber wolf near here a few days ago, and came up on top. He was out with a pack of hounds after timber wolves and coyotes when the dogs struck a trail. They started up a draw and Foreman, who was on horseback, hurried across the prairie to the other end to head off the animal. Reaching the place he dismounted and secured a stone. A moment later he detected a large timber wolf coming. Thinking he could frighten the animal he stepped in its path. The wolf was not the timid kind and instead of running back it charged Foreman, knocking him to the ground. With the stone held in his hands he managed to knock out the animal's long teeth, and as the animal continued to bite Foreman pounded away with the small stone till the pack of hounds arrived and pulled the wolf off. The animal was putting up a fierce fight and frightfully cut the dogs, but Foreman got to his feet and by using his pocket knife so badly crippled the wolf, the hounds finally killed it.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross drug store, 13 West Superior street.

FORMER DETROIT RESIDENT BURIED

Detroit, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Fred Krouse, aged 22 years, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pretts, well known in this vicinity, died at her home in Saskatchewan. The body was brought here for interment, accompanied by the mother, who had gone from Detroit when she heard of her daughter's illness, but failed to reach her daughter before her death, also by Mr. Krouse and W. D. Wilkins. The funeral was held from the Congregational church, Rev. Le Roy A. Lippett officiating. Interment was made in the Oak Grove cemetery. Besides the husband and father and mother, a brother and two little children, one aged 2 years and the other 3 weeks, are left to mourn the departed.

Two Old Friends Die.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock—The revival services at the Pewabic M. E. church are well attended each evening and the meetings are pronounced very interesting and instructive.

Calumet—Sazareno Caleratti, a former Calumet miner employed in the Lenord mine near Butte, Mont., and his 10-year-old son, Rocchina, are dead, and the sheriff's office arrested John Caterno, an Italian, known as Tony Corl or Courry, who is alleged to have shot them down at a dance in Meaderville early.

Houghton—The committee in charge of the entries for the fat men's race which will be a feature of the skating party which will be given by the Hubbell Eagles at the Amphidrome on Feb. 24 are meeting with good success to date. The entrants are Dick Callagan, Peter Ostenzi, O. Gamash, John Hartman, captain of the Calumet men's bowling team, and two others.

Calumet — George Williams, one of the oldest pioneers of the Hill location, died in the Newberry hospital. He was 82 years of age and resided at Quincy for over fifty years. He was born in Cornwall, Eng., in 1864, and came to the Copper country while still a young man, locating at the Quincy location, where he renained until a few months ago.

Hubbell — Edward Demarse was bound over to the next term of circuit court by Justice Prince. In default of furnishing bail in the sum of $3,000 in each case Demarse was remanded to jail. The man is charged with a statutory crime, the girls being 11 and 14 years old respectively.

Hancock — The funeral of the baby daughter of James Williams, who died Friday morning at the home of the parents on Railroad avenue, was held Sunday afternoon from the home at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Reuben Crosby, pastor of the First M. E. church, officiated.

Marquette—John Dugan sustained a severe cut over the ribs when he slipped and fell, breaking a bottle which he carried in his pocket. The broken glass inflicted a severe cut.

Negaunee—The Negaunee Miners' Union will hold a masquerade Saturday evening at the Labor temple. A number of excellent prizes will be awarded. This is the second masquerade held by these people this year. In all $24 will be given.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Robbinsdale—Mrs. Louisa A. (Russ) Shumway, wife of John P. Shumway of this village, died at her home here. Mrs. Shumway was born in Windham county, Connecticut, Jan. 26, 1829, and with her husband came to Minnesota in 1858. She had lived in the Robbinsdale home, where she died, since that date. Mr. and Mrs. Shumway had been married fifty-five years and were charter members of the Robbinsdale Congregational church.

St. Cloud — Dr. J. B. Dunn and Dr. Phil Stengl, both of this city, and Dr. Charles Van Capiler of Stillwater, were appointed on the pension examining board at the recommendation of National Committeeman G. B. Lynch.

Crookston — In four actions of Flakne against William Street the jury brought in a verdict for $67 and costs for the plaintiff. The case was in regard to wages claimed due by the sons of Knud O. Flakne and for some hay claimed by the plaintiff.

Warren — Wheat grown by G. D. Van Sickle of Warren was awarded sweepstakes prize from the Northern zone at the national corn and grain show at Dallas, Tex.

Sank Rapids—Twins were born to two families here Friday, the 13th. The first family to greet the historical bird was Mr. and Mrs. Fielding Warrick, who received twin girls. The next visit was with Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Brenahan and twin girls were also left at their home.

St. Cloud—The Albany Manufacturing company held its annual meeting. The officers and directors elected were: N. J. Theisen, president; A. H. Wester, vice president; Nick Lenarz, secretary; John Westin, treasurer; J. B. Krieg, manager, and Charles Steinwarth.

Brainerd—David Bailey died Feb. 16 at Backus, Minn. The deceased was a brother of John W. Bailey, formerly of this city but now engaged in the mercantile business at Backus. Previous to his coming to Backus he resided at Valley City, N. D., where he had lived for many years. His death was due to Bright's disease. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

Moorhead — President Costain and County Agent P. E. Clement have completed arrangements for the annual meeting of the Clay County Farm bureau, which will be held here at the Lyceum theater on Wednesday, Feb. 25.

Stillwater — Joe Lifton, Alvin Vincent Carter and Joseph Dally, accused of burglarizing the State Bank of Scandia on Friday, Feb. 2, were arraigned before Judge Gillen, Feb. 16, County Attorney Thoreen appearing in behalf of the state. The men waived examination and were held to the grand jury without bail. They were taken back to jail.

Parker's Prairie—While cutting wood on the farm of Edward Kreuger in Leaf Valley, August Pfluegardt, aged 50, received injuries from which he died.

MARKET HAS A REACTION

Wheat Sells on Realizing Trades After Tuesday's Advance.

Trading in Flaxseed Is Very Limited and Prices Sag Fractionally.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 18.—Wheat was weak up to the close, which was at the bottom. May wheat closed 5¾c off and July 3¼c off. May durum closed 3¼c off and July 3¼c off.

Oats closed 1¼c up at 36¾@37⅜c. Rye closed unchanged at 56c for the best grades, and barley unchanged at from 44c to 66c.

At Winnipeg. May oats closed at 38¼c and July at 37¼c.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 91⅝c bid and calls at 92⅛@92¼c asked.

A reactionary tendency was shown in the wheat market today after its steady advance extending over a week. Otherwise conditions were bullish with the general news of the day of a favorable nature to holders. Liverpool and all the European markets closed higher. It was intimated that on the general statistical situation, Liverpool operators are looking for an advancing market within the next sixty days.

The Northwest cash situation is figured out as very strong and is considered to warrant the maintenance of present prices till such time as a further bulge is brought about through reductions in stocks held at the principal points.

Export sales were reported yesterday at Chicago and further export bids were noted at Kansas City. They were, however, slightly out of line so that no business resulted.

Minneapolis millers are reported to be buying considerable wheat to arrive from interior elevators in the Northwest, paying as high as 2½c over May. They are also said to have bought over 500,000 bu of Nebraska hard wheat at country elevators yesterday. It is freely predicted by millers down there that between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 bu of winter wheat will be brought into the Northwest before the next spring wheat crop is harvested. Receipts at Minneapolis are therefore forecast to be heavy during the next few days. Today's marketings there came to 270 cars against 182 last year, but as a result of active milling operations their stocks decreased 400,000 bu in the four days.

Arrivals at Duluth at the present are the lowest in a considerable period back, wheat inspections today coming to only 4 cars against 43 last year. Just eight cars of all grains were reported on the tracks for the day.

May wheat opened unchanged at 93⅜c and also weakened ⅝c up to the final hour. May durum opened ¼c off at 93¼c.

Light Flaxseed Trading.

Trading in flaxseed was extremely light throughout the session, and quotations in it weakened fractionally at the start. Little seed was pressed for sale and crushers showed small interest in the market for the time being.

Foreign markets were about a standoff. Antwerp closed ⅝c off; Buenos Ayres ½c up and London unchanged.

Business was confined to the May option, it opened ¼c down at $1.55½ and did not move more than a fraction during the session. The close in it came ¼c off at $1.55½ asked. The July option closed nominally at $1.57¼.

At Winnipeg May flax closed at $1.35⅝ bid and July at $1.38 bid.

Cash Sales Wednesday.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Price Current says: "The growing condition of winter wheat still continues generally favorable, with no indications of damage to any considerable extent by freezing. The winter wheat area is generally covered with snow, so that the prospects for the future is excellent. Hundreds of reports indicate that farmers are inclined to sell corn and oats somewhat freely in the sections where the shipping surplus is large throughout the northern portions of Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. In other sections farmers are inclined to hold corn until the prospect for the next crop is assured, and they will be inclined to feed the corn rather than to accept a very much lower price. Packing hogs for the week ending Feb. 14 were 574,000, against 529,000 last week and 520,000 last year."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—The strength in American and the firmness in Winnipeg yesterday and last night, heavy cargo sales with few Manitoba and Plata offers, stimulated shorts to cover and also encouraged speculative support which has recently been more prominent, and opening values were ¼d to ⅝d higher, with March leading. Cargoes are in good demand, with the Continent absorbing. Russian offers are very firm and are being taken quickly. Durand are being taken quickly. Durand are being taken quickly. There was some profit taking and prices declined ⅛d. World's shipments are again expected to be liberal and the highly favorable outlook for American winter wheat is tending to hold speculation in abeyance. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was steady, unchanged to ¼d higher.

"Corn—Opened unchanged and later advanced ⅛d, with the undertone firm. Strength in America and Buenos Ayres helped the advance. At 1:30 p. m. the market was ¼d higher."

Harvesting of corn has commenced in the extreme north of Argentina. Merchants expect early shipments, but this will entirely depend on the weather during March.

An official Russian report states that the winter has been unfavorable, as snow came late and was distributed unevenly.

A wire from Kansas City received today by Parker Paine said: "Receiving houses all say wheat receipts will show a decided falling off from now on. Minneapolis is taking Nebraska wheat, and the stocks in farmers' hands are almost nothing; in fact Eastern Kansas millers are buying wheat out of store here every day."

The Minneapolis cash market was firm, with the demand a little slow on spot owing to larger arrivals of wheat bought to arrive. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at from 1½@2½c over May, and velvet chaff at from 1@1½c over May. The stronger wheat market is stimulating the flour demand in the Western markets, but the Eastern demand is very moderate. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold at from 93⅛@92⅝c and No. 2 northern at from 91⅛@92⅝c.

Receipts at Duluth of Canadian bonded grain yesterday came to only 5,732 bu as compared with 146,079 bu last year. For the present crop year from Aug. 1 the yesterday receipts here from across the border aggregated 4,613,638 bu, compared with 7,238,233 bu up to the corresponding period a year ago.

Duluth grain stocks, giving changes in three days:

Wheat—Western and winter, 650,000 bu, increase 7,000 bu; spring, 9,592,000 bu, increase 7,000 bu; durum, 1,893,000 bu, increase 5,000 bu; bonded, 1,089,000 bu, increase 11,000 bu; total wheat, 13,224,000 bu, net increase 34,000 bu.

Coarse grains—Corn, 334,000 bu, increase 8,000 bu; oats, 3,589,000 bu, increase 11,000 bu; rye, 324,000 bu, increase 1,000 bu; barley, 803,000 bu, decrease 11,000 bu; flax, domestic, 1,501,000 bu, bonded, 232,000 bu; total flax, 1,733,000 bu, net decrease 8,000 bu; total all grains, 20,007,000 bu, net increase 35,000 bu.

Afloat—Wheat, 1,434,000 bu; oats, 226,000 bu; barley, 275,000 bu.

Clearances reported—Wheat, 259,000 bu; flour, 29,000 bbl; together they equal 390,000 bu; corn, 26,000 bu; oats, 47,000 bu.

Wheat—Receipts, 749,000 bu, last year 819,000 bu; shipments, 529,000 bu, last year 454,000 bu.

Corn—Receipts, 1,376,000 bu, last year 2,055,000 bu; shipments, 607,000 bu, last year 1,041,000 bu.

Oats—Receipts, 641,000 bu, last year 996,000 bu; shipments, 714,000 bu, last year 648,000 bu.

Foreign closing cables: Liverpool—Wheat, unchanged to ¼d higher; corn, ⅛@⅜d higher. Paris—Wheat, 1¼c to 1⅜c higher; flour, ½c to ¼c higher. Berlin—Wheat, ½c higher. Budapest—Wheat, ¾c lower. Antwerp—Wheat, 1¼c higher.

Duluth car inspection: Wheat—No. 3, 1; durum, 1; winter, 2; total wheat, 4. last year 43; flax, 2, last year 4; oats, 1, last year 3; rye, 2, last year none; barley, 1, last year 4; total of all grains, 10, last year 55; on track, 108.

Predictions are made by operators on the Duluth board of trade, that the wheat market here will sell over Chicago within the next few days as a result of light deliveries and the strong cash situation. On Jan. 31, the spread between the markets in the May option was 3⅝c in favor of Chicago, the quotations standing at 89¼c and 92⅝c, while yesterday the difference was reduced to 1⅜c, the prices being marked up at 92⅜c and 94¾c. Since Jan. 31, the Duluth May option has advanced 4¼c, while at Chicago ithas gone up 1⅞c.

Experts predict that there will be a 30 per cent increase in the grain acreage of Central Oregon during the coming season.

Reserves of corn in the nine states of the largest production are estimated by George H. Phillips of the Chicago board of trade at 490,753,000 bu as compared with $44,331,000 bu a year ago. In these states there was a shortage in the yield of 614,000,000 bu, but Phillips estimates that by March 5 the supply will be only 353,000,000 bu under last year.

Oat reserves are small, the aggregate for the country being 346,000,000 bu, or 30 per cent of the 1912 crop, compared with 604,216,000 bu, or 42.5 per cent, last year.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Higher on Strong Cables and Cash Demand.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 18.—Stronger cables and a continued demand for cash wheat caused the market to open higher today. The market was active during the forenoon.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Cables Are Unresponsive and Wheat Prices Ease Off.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Wheat eased off today, cables being regarded as unresponsive to yesterday's advance on this side of the Atlantic. Opening prices, which varied from ¼@¼c off to a shade advance, were followed by a dip all around and then a reaction.

An unusual advance in La Plata wheat at Antwerp gave the market here an upturn, but the effect failed to last. The close was steady, ⅛@¼c to ⅜@⅝c under last night.

Corn sagged a little with wheat. News of the beginning of harvest in Argentina counted against the bulls. The market after starting ⅛c lower to a sixteenth up weakened to a slight additional extent.

Later the market strengthened temporarily because of prospects for smaller receipts here and as a result of some improvement in the shipping demand. The close nevertheless was weak at ⅞c net decline.

Oats proved relatively steady. Buying, however, was only of a scattered sort.

Higher prices for hogs carried provisions up. First sales ranged from a shade decline to 7½c advance. Not all of the gains, though, were held.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 96¾c; No. 3 red, 94@95c; No. 2 hard, 93c; No. 3 hard, 92@92¼c; No. 2 northern, 94@95½c; No. 3 northern, 93@94c; No. 2 spring, 94@95c; No. 3 spring, 93½c.

EARLY GAINS WIPED OUT

Stocks Have General Advance Before Noon, But Close Heavy.

Large Selling Orders Executed in the Final Half Hour.

New York, Feb. 18.—The market assumed no definite aspect today, until shortly before noon, when there was a general rise in prices. Selling of Great Northern preferred and Union Pacific gave the list at times a reactionary trend.

The improvement which eventually took place, lifted Union Pacific, United States Steel, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Lehigh Valley a point over yesterday's close, and other leading shares nearly as much. New Haven made up most of a loss of 1¼. Operations on the long side were conducted more confidently when it became evident that bear selling was having little effect.

Bonds were steady.

Prices of stocks at the opening today showed small and irregular changes. Trading was light and the undertone was steady. The only fluctuations of consequence were in Canadian Pacific, which rose a point, and in Great Northern preferred, which lost 1. This decline with yesterday's made a slump of more than 3 points since the announcement of the new stock issue.

Fresh buying orders were uncovered on fractional recessions and prices hardened a trifle. Liquidations in Great Northern was checked and it rallied a point.

The news that President Wilson favored an early decision in the freight rate cases infused more life into the dealings and caused demand for both accounts. A large number of stocks sold a point or more above yesterday's.

Speculation broadened as prices rose. Standard shares and specialties advanced in concert. Pennsylvania, New Haven, Great Northern preferred and Union Pacific were features of the late buying movement.

The market closed heavy. Large selling orders were executed in the final half hour and prices reacted from 1 to 1½ points.

STOCK MARKET HAS NERVOUS TONE

Advance During Early Hours Is Partially Lost Later.

The market in mining stocks was on the nervous order at Boston today, following the lead of Wall street. Advances took place all through the list around the noon hour on the rumor that President Wilson had urged the immediate disposition of the railroads' petition for an advance in freight rates. Stocks sold off again at the close on the denial of that rumor, but at the same time final figures showed general gains.

Butte & Superior closed 63 cents up at $36.75; Calumet & Arizona 82 cents up at $69; Butte & Ballaklava unchanged at $3.75; Alaska Gold a fraction up at $22.63; Granby unchanged at $86.50; North Butte 38 cents up at $30.50; Tamarack $1.25 up at $40.75; and Amalgamated Copper 62 cents up at $76.12.

Calumet & Corbin was again the active feature in the Butte curb list, selling at from 16 to 18 cents. The issue was also strong and active at Boston.

Keating set a new high price on this movement, with a sale reported in it at $1.50. Denn sold at from $7.25 to $7.50, and Alex Scott was stronger, selling at $5.12.

The annual meeting of the Shattuck Arizona Copper company will be held at Bisbee, Arizona, next Saturday afternoon, Feb. 21. It is forecasted that the directors' financial statement will be favorable in every particular.

Calumet & Arizona has declared a dividend of $1.25 and Superior & Pittsburg of 38 cents, both payable March 23, to stock of record prior to March 6. Books close at the close of business March 6, and will reopen March 16.

A wire from Boston today said: "Superior & Boston shareholders will be pleased to learn that the property has been examined by two mining men who are thoroughly conversant with the geology of the Globe mining district and who have expressed themselves quite optimistically as to the future of the mine. Two cars of ore per day were shipped during the first fifteen days of February, according to reports just received and the last two cars assayed 14 per cent copper at the mine. All working places between the sixth and eighth levels are now producing ore."

At St. Louis lead closed quiet at 3.87½ bid and spelter quiet at 5.27½@5.35.

A wire received by Gay & Sturgis from New York said: "The United States Steel corporation will blow in three additional blast furnaces this week, the furnaces being located at McKeesport, Edgar Thomson and Lorraine, Ohio, plants. This will bring operations of the corporation up to about 80 per cent, the highest percentage since the slump began last fall. Orders for United States steel thus far in February have been larger than in the corresponding period in January, which if continued throughout the month, will cause February unfilled tonnage to compare favorably with that of last month. It is probable that United States Steel will start an additional steel plant in the Pittsburg district within the next three weeks."

POLICE AND THE TELEGRAM AT WAR

Former Charges "Animus" and Latter Says Department Is Incompetent.

In a controversy between the Superior Telegram and the Superior police force, charges of incompetency are being made against the department by the paper, which are answered by "personal animus" charges made by the police. Last evening's Telegram devoted more than four columns of its front page to charges against the department and responding to a statement made by Chief of Police McKinnon.

The police are accused of being inactive in making any attempt to stop vice, catch thieves and holdup men, or to close disorderly houses outside of the restricted district. It also intimates that the department is responsible for the death of E. C. Trott, who died last Friday in a cell at police headquarters, where it is said that Trott had been held without any charge being made against him, for four days.

Trott was arrested four days prior to his death on suspicion of having been implicated in the rifling of a safe in the office of a firm in the First National Bank building. The man is said to have been ill at the time of the arrest and his death is alleged to have been hastened by his being confined in a musty cell. Lack of medical treatment is charged and a violation of the state law, which provides that no man shall be held in a cell longer than twenty-four hours without a hearing. Chief McKinnon answers this charge by saying that the man had been taken care of at police headquarters and made as comfortable as possible, and that the police had not turned him out because the man's condition did not warrant his being turned out into the cold. A brother of the dead man, William Trott of Jim Falls, Wis., is in the city conducting an inquiry into the cause of the death and is said to have threatened to prosecute if the blame can be placed.

Chief McKinnon claims that personal animosity has brought the tirade from the Telegram against the department. This he says is caused by a libel suit started against the paper recently by Detective Jack McDonald.

"The libel suit is at the bottom of the whole attack," said Chief McKinnon this afternoon. "Representatives of the paper have threatened to 'get us' if we could not stop the suit. The attack against the department in general started only recently."

DOCKHAND HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Hubert McConkey, a laborer on the Great Northern ore docks, had a narraw escape from death yesterday afternoon. After dropping twenty feet and striking a beam which knocked him unconscious, he was prevented from a farther fall of fifty feet by his companion, who grabbed him in time to prevent his falling off the beam.

McConkey slipped on a piece of ice and went down the shute. His companion saw him drop and without any hesitation went after him and caught him just as McConkey was about to drop off the beam to certain death.

HOUSE ROBBED WITH FAMILY AT SUPPER

While the family was sitting in the dining room at supper last night, a thief entered the home of Fred Olson, 1827 Banks avenue, and stole a purse belonging to Miss Inger Gullvick containing $14 in cash and a check for $9. The purse was on a front room table. Olson heard a slight noise in the front room and saw the man as he was leaving but was unable to get a good view of him.

Find Illegal Signers.

Deputies employed by the city clerk's office have found twelve illegal signers to the petitions for the recall of Mayor Konkel, according to a statement given out this morning. These twelve were found in the first 100 names of men whose names did not appear on the registration lists, which have been investigated. At this rate it is expected that about fifty illegal signers will be found. Members of the reform party in charge of the petitions have started securing additional names.

"Victims" Best Footpads.

J. A. Guthrie and B. H. Gallinger of South Superior proved too much for two hold-up men who assaulted them when they were on their way home shortly after 6 o'clock last night. The highwaymen, badly beaten managed to make their escape from their intended victims.

New Traffic Ordinance.

The new traffic ordinance for Superior will come up for its final passage at a meeting of the city commission either this afternoon or tomorrow. The ordinance was drafted after the most drastic ordinances of the country and regulates traffic in every part of the city.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.—Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Five Hundred Dollars and interest at six per cent from September 12th, 1912, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by James A. Kirkwood, Jr., Mortgagor, to William M. Prindle, Leo Shapiro and George G. Newton, Mortgagees, bearing date the 12th day of September, 1912, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Registrar of Titles in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the 19th day of September, 1912, at two o'clock P. M., as document No. 10126 and entered in Register of Titles No. 51, on page 142, and which mortgage covers lands originally registered on June 7, 1902, the certificate of title therefor being recorded in the office of the Registrar of Titles in Book 1, Register of Titles, page 4, according to the provisions of Chapter 65 of the Revised Laws of 1905 and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

And whereas, The said William M. Prindle, Leo Shapiro and George G. Newton; Mortgagees and Holders of said Mortgage, have duly elected and do hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said Mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said Mortgage and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of Thirteen Hundred ($1,300.00) Dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the 12th day of September, 1912, and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz:

Lot One (1), Block C, London Addition to Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof, in St. Louis County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County and State, on the Fourth day of April, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Thirteen Hundred Dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Seventy-five Dollars, Attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated February 16th, A. D. 1914.

WILLIAM M. PRINDLE,
LEO SHAPIRO,
GEORGE G. NEWTON,
Mortgagees.

HILTON WITHDRAWS REQUEST FOR PROBE OF CALUMET HORROR

Congressmen Will Merely Accept Approved Statement for Record.

Governor Ferris Sends S. W. Pepper to Copper Country.

Strikers Complain Further of Violations of Rights.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—O. N. Hilton, of counsel for the Western Federation of Miners, today withdrew his request for a full investigation of the Calumet Christmas eve disaster, stating to the congressional committee that counsel had decided that "no good purpose could be subserved by such an inquiry," provided the two sides could agree on a statement of the facts to be inserted in the record.

Chairman Taylor said he had hoped all along that such an investigation could be avoided, and he would be glad if the opposing sides could come to some arrangement.

End of presentation of the strikers' side was in sight when the committee met, Mr. Hilton announced that counsel expected to conclude today on the subject of unlawful assaults. Three more days were all the strikers probably would require, he said—one day on the subject of peonage, one day on eviction cases and one day on the deportation of Moyer.

Pepper to Attend Hearings.

Governor Ferris in a telegram sent to Chairman Taylor from Lansing, Mich., today said Samuel W. Pepper, assistant attorney general, will leave for the Copper country tonight to

THINK GIRL LOST YEAR AGO IS FOUND

Child at Middleport, Ohio, May Be Catherine Winters.

Middleport, Ohio, Feb. 19.—Catherine Winters, the 12-year-old girl for whom a nation-wide search has been made since her disappearance nearly a year ago, was located here today. It is believed. She is said to have been brought to this town by Joseph Davis, a carpenter, now under arrest here on a charge of forgery.

Forced to leave this section some time since because of charges of bootlegging, Davis later returned with the supposed Winters girl. She was taken by Davis to the home of relatives in the country near Middleport. When questioned today by the officers the girl was able to give but a meager account of her experiences during the last twelve months.

BOY MURDERS WOMAN "FOR EXCITEMENT"

Michigan Lad Admits the Crime; Stole Gum and Candy.

St. Joseph, Mich., Feb. 19.—Harold Ullery, the 17-year-old son of highly respected parents here, was arrested last night charged with the murder of Mrs. Emma Dayhuff, a Fairland storekeeper. Ullery confessed, according to Sheriff Fred Franz, and said an uncontrollable impulse to do something exciting caused him to kill her. He said he entered her store and shot her and then filled his pockets with gum and candy. The gum and the candy were found at his home.

NEW FLOOD IN CALIFORNIA

Ditches Are Turned to Rivers and Rivers Become Torrents.

Much Damage Is Done Railways and Crops—One Death.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 19.—Southern California was flood-bound today as a result of a downpour which started at midnight Tuesday and yielded from six to eight inches of rain in the thirty-two hours ending at 8 a. m. today. Railroad traffic was demoralized. In the cities the streets were turned into mill races. Storm drains were overtaxed and irrigation canals widened into rivers.

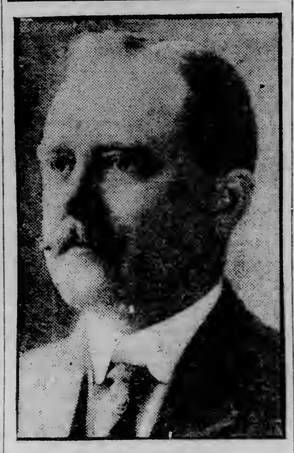

The storm brought a recurrence of flood conditions that attended the rainfall of a month ago. Railroad tracks on both sides of Santa Barbara were washed out. Bridges also were torn out.

Trains Blocked and Stalled.

Throughout the citrus belt washouts blocked and stalled trains. The Southern Pacific, the Salt Lake and the Santa Fe railroads, the three lines entering Los Angeles, all were compelled to route trains today over a Santa Fe

MAY SUCCEED BACON IN THE U. S. SENATE

CLARK HOWELL.

Washington, Feb. 19.—It is thought Clark Howell will succeed to the place in the United States senate left vacant by the death of Senator Bacon. Mr. Howell is the son of Capt. Howell, who was for many years the publisher of the Atlanta Constitution. He brought his son up to the management of that newspaper and eventually retired in his favor. Mr. Howell is the best-known newspaper editor in the South today. He has been active in politics as well as journalism.

BURIED NEAR DEATH SCENE

Snow Near Aurora Girl's Grave Is Red With Her Blood.

Police Get New Evidence to Put Murder on Petras.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 19.—Scarcely twenty feet from the spot where she was murdered with a scantling Monday night, the body of 20-year-old Theresa Hollander was buried early today in St. Nicholas cemetery. Blood stains still showed in the snow where the body was found by the girl's parents.

The aged parents were violently hysterical during the services at the church and at the grave.

Later in the day the coroner's inquest of the murder will be resumed. The girl's father is expected to testify regarding a conversation he said he held with his daughter about an hour before she was murdered. Hollander said his daughter told him she had quarreled that evening with Anthony Petras, a former sweetheart, who is under arrest in connection with the murder. Petras, who is a married man, attempted to stop Miss Hollander's marriage to Nicholas Feltner, to whom she was engaged, according to the father's story.

The police are trying to solve the ownership of a penknife which was found yesterday near the scene of the murder. The knife formerly was the property of Frank Darlondt, who worked in the factory with Petras. The knife was lost three years ago, according to Darlondt, who now lives in Chicago. Darlondt, however, presented an alibi which the police considered sufficient.

New Witness Found.

The police discovered a new witness today whose testimony they believe will go far to prove that Anthony Petras, the young married man whose suit Theresa Hollander rejected, is the man who beat her to death with a bludgeon in the St. Nicholas cemetery last Monday night.

The witness, Peter Fischbach, a fellow student of Petras at night school, says that Petras left the school in the residence section, saying that he was going home, while as a matter of fact he went down town. About 9 o'clock, Fischbach says, he ran onto Petras down town, standing idly at the corner of Broadway and Fox streets, the center of the business district.

Petras told him, Fischbach says, that he was going to catch a car, but when his car came along he did not take it. This was the car just before the one on which Petras and the Hollander girl went homeward at 9:25 o'clock.

The police theory is that Petras waited to see what car Miss Hollander took, and they believe Fischbach's story confirms their supposition.

The inquest was called at 2 p. m. today while thousands attended the funeral of the girl.

BLOWN FIFTY FEET BY GAS EXPLOSION.

Waynesburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—With a roar that was heard for miles, a pumping station of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company, one mile from here, was blown to pieces early today. John Spicer, in charge, was hurled through the air fifty feet and when found two hours later was in a dying condition. Three other men were seriously hurt. The pumps in the station were wrecked and the gas, igniting, blaze a hundred feet into the air.

The station was the principal pumping point on the company's main line from the West Virginia natural gas fields to the Pittsburg district.

MANY SEE LIGHT ON CANAL TOLLS REPEAL AFTER WILSON TALKS

Kern Is Reported to Be Among Those Already Converted.

Henry, Simmons, Overman and Shively Admit Changing Position.

Washington, Feb. 19—President Wilson pressed further for repeal of the exemption clause of the Panama canal act in conferences today with congressmen. He talked with Senator Kern, majority leader, who said afterward that the senate first would dispose of the arbitration treaties promptly, and probably take up the tolls question immediately thereafter. He thought it probable that the senate would act on the repeal before the house did.

Although Mr. Kern voted for the exemption, he said today the president had told him of various international phases of the question that were not before the senate when the Panama canal act was passed. He added he was not prepared to announce his position. Friends of the administration claim he will be among the administration supporters.

Want Presidential Action.

House leaders, it was announced today, desire some announcement or message to congress by the president before reversing themselves on the tolls question, so as to be able to make clear to their constituents that international circumstances had arisen requiring a change.

Representative Underwood, it is understood, while still believing in the tolls exemption, will not organize any opposition to the president in the house.

Representative Palmer, chairman of the Democratic caucus, said today that while he had voted against the exemption, he would work actively for its repeal.

Chairman Henry of the house rules committee went to the White House and offered the president his help in expediting both the toll question and the trust bills. He said he believed both the house and senate would repeal the exemption clause within the next sixty days, and he expected the trust bills to be out of the house within the next month.

Others Will Change.

Senators Simmons and Overman talked with the president, and although both voted for the exemption, they said they would change their positions because they believed the foreign policy required it. Senator Shively of Indiana took the same stand. He also discussed the arbitration treaties and assured the president he expected little difficulty in having them ratified.

EXPRESS CAR FULL OF GOODS IS BURNED

Valuable Silks Included in the Goods That Were Destroyed.

BIG CHANGE IN ATTITUDE

State Officials Now Ready to Co-operate in the Work.

Efficiency Commission Is Finding That Much Team Play Exists.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Anybody starting, say ten years ago, to work up team play in the state government would probably have found the principal obstacle in the attitude of the department officers. Anybody starting in now to work up team play will find the greatest assistance in the attitude of department officers.

So far as opportunity permits, a good deal of team play has been developed now. For instance the food and dairy department by law inspect creameries; the labor department by law inspects machinery in creameries. Well, one day J. F. Kienitz—he is a newspaper man and that accounts for it—was driving five miles into the country to see a churn and giving a whole afternoon to it, when he might have been inspecting a dozen factories and making the next station, when he overtook the creamery inspector going to the same place. What's the use, says Kienitz, and he wrote W. F. Houk asking what was the use. Mr. Houk saw the force of the suggestion at once and Joel Winkjer as quickly agreed to it.

Tells Whether It Needs Inspection.

They made an arrangement by which the creamery man inspects the creameries. He isn't supposed to inspect the machinery but he can tell by looking at it whether it needs inspection. If

PAYING ONE CLAIM MAY BIND SULZER

Action Is Thought to Bar State's Liability to Claimants.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 19.—In settling a bill rendered by a man employed as gate tender at the executive mansion during the recent impeachment proceedings, William Sulzer is believed by attorneys to have made himself liable for many accounts he contracted personally during the proceedings. Ralph B. Tompkins was the gate tender, and he brought suit against the former governor for $96. The case was settled for $109, being the full amount of the claim, costs and interest.

Mr. Sulzer maintained that the claim was a charge against the state, and in settling he took an assignment of it from Mr. Tompkins. It is believed that holders of a great number of unpaid claims of a similar nature will seek to hold the former governor personally responsible for their money.

ATTORNEYS GET VERDICT FOR $103,000

District Court Jury Awards Duluth Men Fortune in Fees.

Case Will Be Appealed If New Trial Is Denied.

F. A. Barber Wants $50,000 for Introducing Attorneys to Company.

Herbert R. Spencer and Alexander Marshall, Duluth attorneys, were awarded $103,300 in a verdict returned this morning, by a district court jury in their suit for attorney's fees brought against the Higgins Land company. The verdict is the largest in the history of the state courts. Attorneys for the land company stated this morning that if a new trial is not granted, an appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

Spencer & Marshall sued the Higgins company for a $100,000 fee for professional services rendered at the special instance of the defendant concern between Jan. 1, 1910 and July 1, 1913. The local attorneys claimed that they had an express contract for that amount. It was alleged that Frank Sullivan Smith of New York city, an officer of the company, promised them $100,000 if they would handle certain litigation pertaining to the mineral lands in which the company was interested.

The Higgins Land company is a Minnesota corporation which was organized a number of years ago by the late Governor Frank W. Higgins of New York. The company owns an interest in the fee of the Norman mine and other valuable properties on the Mesabe iron range.

The litigation handled by Spencer & Marshall concerned the Higgins-Olcott lease. The Higgins company had given a lease to the Steel corporation which it desired to have cancelled. Spencer & Marshall were retained to bring an action to break the lease. After they had spent considerable time on the case, it was settled without their knowledge between representa-

PASTOR INDICTED UNDER MANN LAW

Case Is Delayed Pending Supreme Court Decision.

Roanoke, W. Va., Feb. 19.—B. F. Landis of Price's Fork, Va., formerly a Lutheran minister and educator of local prominence, was indicted here by a Federal grand jury, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act. The indictment charges that on Sept. 1 last he caused to be transported from Prince's Fork to Bluefield, W. Va., for immoral purposes, Mrs. Lizzie Jones, a farmer's wife.

It was announced by Presiding Judge McDowell that the case against Landis would be continued one year to await decision of the supreme court of the United States on the scope of the Mann act.

LOST CASE AGAINST THE BLIND SENATOR

MRS. MINNIE BOND.

GORE VERDICT WELL LIKED

Scores of Congratulatory Messages Are Sent to Senator.

Jury Exonerates Him From All Charges By Mrs. Bond.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 19.—Scores of messages congratulating Thomas P. Gore, United States senator from Oklahoma, on his exoneration on charges of improper conduct made by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond in a suit for $50,000 damages, were received by the senator today.

The senator announced that he would spend today and tomorrow here, after which he would go to Hot Springs for a short vacation before he returns to Washington to resume his duties in the senate. He said that he had never doubted the outcome of the suit against him.

Woman Will Appeal.

Notice of appeal from the verdict was given today by attorneys for Mrs. Bond. Mrs. Bond stated today that she and her husband would move to Dallas, Tex.

The trial lasted one week, beginning Wednesday last. Mrs. Bond charged that the senator attacked her in a Washington hotel, where she had gone to talk with him about the possible appointment of her husband, Julian Bond, as internal revenue collector.

Senator Gore made a general denial of the charges in his answer, and in turn charged that the suit was instigated by a coterie of his disappointed political opponents who had failed in their attempt to secure Federal appointments.

"Truth Will Triumph."

Senator Gore's only remark when the jury returned its verdict was:

"The verdict confirms my faith that truth will triumph. I never for a moment doubted the outcome."

FIVE ARRESTED FOR RIOTS OVER PRIEST.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 19.—Five men were arrested here today in connection with the rioting last Sunday at St. Casimir's Polish Catholic church, in protest against the installation of Rev. Stanislaus Gruza, appointed by Bishop Herman J. Alerding.

Judge Funk had ordered the priest installed and the prisoners will be taken before the court late today to answer to the charge of contempt.

Wants Investigation By Committee of National Congress.

Minneapolis and Duluth Boards Controlled By Chicago, He Says.

Claims Growers and Public Alike Suffer From "Illegal" Practices.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 19.—Charging collusion in the control of the prices of wheat and other grains between the Chicago board of trade, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce and the Duluth board of trade, Representative James Manahan, congressman at large from Minnesota, has introduced a resolution providing for an investigation by a committee of seven members of the house of representatives, to be appointed by Speaker Clark.

Another charge made by Representative Manahan is that both the Minneapolis and Duluth boards are controlled by the Chicago board of trade.

Manahan asserts that "it is generally believed that the price of wheat paid the farmers, as well as the cost of flour to the consumers, is largely controlled by the Chicago board of trade, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce and the Duluth board of trade, acting in combination."

All Three Monopolies.

He also declares that all three organizations are monopolies, as each controls the market in its locality, and also together make the price of wheat for the Northwest.

MUNDAY AND SHIELS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Verdict May End Prosecution on Alaska Fraud Charges.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 19.—The jury in the case of Charles F. Munday and Archie W. Shiels, charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States of the Stracey group of Alaska coal lands by the use of dummy entrymen, brought in a verdict of not guilty late last night after being out six hours. The case was similar to that tried in Chicago last spring against two promoters of what is known as the Chicago group of claims.

Last night's verdict does not have any effect on the proceedings now under way to forfeit Alaska claims, but is said to be likely to end the criminal prosecution of claimants. Persons indicted at Detroit, Spokane and Tacoma have not yet been tried.

The government charged that Munday and Shiels, acting through the Alaska Development company, used dummy entrymen, first hiring men at $100 each as locators and later using the names of stockholders of the company and their friends to acquire possession of the lands in the Bering river coal field, which they later sought to lease to Canadian and British capitalists. The present case has already been before the United States supreme court, and that tribunal sustained the law under which the defendants were indicted. The title to the lands in question is in process of adjustment, special agents of the interior department having filed charges against the claims and asked their forfeiture.

RATE RULING BEFORE JULY

Commissioner Harlan Says Eastern Case Will Be Hurried.

Sufficiency of Carriers' Income First Question at Issue.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Decision by the interstate commerce commission on the proposed freight rate increase is expected to be reached probably within three months, and certainly before the commission adjourns for its summer recess on July 1. This announcement substantially was made by Commissioner Harlan today. Commissioner Harlan said:

"Recognizing the public importance of an early disposition of the problems before us here, the carriers, shippers and the commission are using every effort to bring the inquiry to an early conclusion, and there is reason to think the record on the main issues in the case may be closed and the arguments had in time to enable the commission to dispose of those questions before the summer recess."

Two Broad Inquiries.

Commissioner Harlan explained that the commission had before it two broad inquiries in respect of the proposed advance:

"Are the present revenues of the carriers adequate?

"If not, how may they be supplanted?

"With respect to the first of these issues, the carriers already have of-

BURIED NEAR DEATH SCENE

Snow Near Aurora Girl's Grave Is Red With Her Blood.

Police Get New Evidence to Put Murder on Petras.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 19.—Scarcely twenty feet from the spot where she was murdered with a scantling Monday night, the body of 20-year-old Theresa Hollander was buried early today in St. Nicholas cemetery. Blood stains still showed in the snow where the body was found by the girl's parents.

The aged parents were violently hysterical during the services at the church and at the grave.

Later in the day the coroner's inquest of the murder will be resumed. The girl's father is expected to testify regarding a conversation he said he held with his daughter about an hour before she was murdered. Hollander said his daughter told him she had quarreled that evening with Anthony Petras, a former sweetheart, who is under arrest in connection with the murder. Petras, who is a married man, attempted to stop Miss Hollander's marriage to Nicholas Feltner, to whom she was engaged, according to the father's story.

The police discovered a new witness today whose testimony they believe will go far to prove that Anthony Petras, the young married man whose suit Theresa Hollander rejected, is the man who beat her to death with a bludgeon in the St. Nicholas cemetery last Monday night.

The witness, Peter Fischbach, a fellow student of Petras at night school, says that Petras left the school in the residence section, saying that he was going home, while as a matter of fact he went down town. About 9 o'clock, Fischbach says, he ran onto Petras down town, standing idly at the corner of Broadway and Fox streets, the center of the business district.

Petras told him, Fischbach says, that he was going to catch a car, but when his car came along he did not take it. This was the car just before the one on which Petras and the Hollander girl went homeward at 9:25 o'clock.

The police theory is that Petras waited to see what car Miss Hollander took, and they believe Fischbach's story confirms their supposition.

The inquest was called at 2 p. m. today while thousands attended the funeral of the girl.

House leaders, it was announced today, desire some announcement or message to congress by the president before reversing themselves on the tolls question, so as to be able to make clear to their constituents that international circumstances had arisen requiring a change.

Representative Underwood, it is understood, while still believing in the tolls exemption, will not organize any opposition to the president in the house.

Representative Palmer, chairman of the Democratic caucus, said today that while he had voted against the exemption, he would work actively for its repeal.

Chairman Henry of the house rules committee went to the White House and offered the president his help in expediting both the toll question and the trust bills. He said he believed both the house and senate would repeal the exemption clause within the next sixty days, and he expected the trust bills to be out of the house within the next month.

Others Will Change.

Senators Simmons and Overman talked with the president, and although both voted for the exemption, they said they would change their positions because they believed the foreign policy required it. Senator Shively of Indiana took the same stand. He also discussed the arbitration treaties and assured the president he expected little difficulty in having them ratified.

EXPRESS CAR FULL OF GOODS IS BURNED

Valuable Silks Included in the Goods That Were Destroyed.

Stamford, Conn., Feb. 19.—A sealed express car filled with packages shipped from New York by the American Express company was burned here today. The loss will be heavy. Among the packages burned were a number containing valuable silks.

BIG CHANGE IN ATTITUDE

Efficiency Commission Is Finding That Much Team Play Exists.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Anybody starting, say ten years ago, to work up team play in the state government would probably have found the principal obstacle in the attitude of the department officers. Anybody starting in now to work up team play will find the greatest assistance in the attitude of department officers.

So far as opportunity permits, a good deal of team play has been developed now. For instance the food and dairy department by law inspects creameries; the labor department by law inspects machinery in creameries. Well, one day J. F. Kienitz—he is a newspaper man and that accounts for it—was driving five miles into the country to see a churn and giving a whole afternoon to it, when he might have been inspecting a dozen factories and making the next station, when he overtook the creamery inspector going to the same place. What's the use, says Kienitz, and he wrote W. F. Houk asking what was the use. Mr. Houk saw the force of the suggestion at once and Joel Winkjer as quickly agreed to it.

Tells Whether It Needs Inspection.

They made an arrangement by which the creamery man inspects the creameries. He isn't supposed to inspect the machinery but he can tell by looking at it whether it needs inspection. If

PAYING ONE CLAIM MAY BIND SULZER

Action Is Thought to Bar State's Liability to Claimants.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 19.—In settling a bill rendered by a man employed as gate tender at the executive mansion during the recent impeachment proceedings, William Sulzer is believed by attorneys to have made himself liable for many accounts he contracted personally during the proceedings. Ralph B. Tompkins was the gate tender, and he brought suit against the former governor for $96. The case was settled for $109, being the full amount of the claim, costs and interest.

Mr. Sulzer maintained that the claim was a charge against the state, and in settling he took an assignment of it from Mr. Tompkins. It is believed that holders of a great number of unpaid claims of a similar nature will seek to hold the former governor personally responsible for their money.

ATTORNEYS GET VERDICT FOR $103,000

District Court Jury Awards Duluth Men Fortune in Fees.

Case Will Be Appealed If New Trial Is Denied.

F. A. Barber Wants $50,000 for Introducing Attorneys to Company.

Herbert R. Spencer and Alexander Marshall, Duluth attorneys, were awarded $103,300 in a verdict returned this morning, by a district court jury in their suit for attorney's fees brought against the Higgins Land company. The verdict is the largest in the history of the state courts. Attorneys for the land company stated this morning that if a new trial is not granted, an appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

Spencer & Marshall sued the Higgins company for a $100,000 fee for professional services rendered at the special instance of the defendant concern between Jan. 1, 1910 and July 1, 1913. The local attorneys claimed that they had an express contract for that amount. It was alleged that Frank Sullivan Smith of New York city, an officer of the company, promised them $100,000 if they would handle certain litigation pertaining to the mineral lands in which the company was interested.

The Higgins Land company is a Minnesota corporation which was organized a number of years ago by the late Governor Frank W. Higgins of New York. The company owns an interest in the fee of the Norman mine and other valuable properties on the Mesabe iron range.

The litigation handled by Spencer & Marshall concerned the Higgins-Olcott lease. The Higgins company had given a lease to the Steel corporation which it desired to have cancelled. Spencer & Marshall were retained to bring an action to break the lease. After they had spent considerable time on the case, it was settled without their knowledge between representa-

PASTOR INDICTED UNDER MANN LAW

Case Is Delayed Pending Supreme Court Decision.

Roanoke, W. Va., Feb. 19.—B. F. Landis of Price's Fork, Va., formerly a Lutheran minister and educator of local prominence, was indicted here by a Federal grand jury, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act. The indictment charges that on Sept. 1 last he caused to be transported from Prince's Fork to Bluefield, W. Va., for immoral purposes, Mrs. Lizzie Jones, a farmer's wife.

It was announced by Presiding Judge McDowell that the case against Landis would be continued one year to await decision of the supreme court of the United States on the scope of the Mann act.

LOST CASE AGAINST THE BLIND SENATOR

MRS. MINNIE BOND.

GORE VERDICT WELL LIKED

Scores of Congratulatory Messages Are Sent to Senator.

Jury Exonerates Him From All Charges By Mrs. Bond.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 19.—Scores of messages congratulating Thomas P. Gore, United States senator from Oklahoma, on his exoneration on charges of improper conduct made by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond in a suit for $50,000 damages, were received by the senator today.

The senator announced that he would spend today and tomorrow here, after which he would go to Hot Springs for a short vacation before he returns to Washington to resume his duties in the senate. He said that he had never doubted the outcome of the suit against him.

Woman Will Appeal.

Notice of appeal from the verdict was given today by attorneys for Mrs. Bond. Mrs. Bond stated today that she and her husband would move to Dallas, Tex.

The trial lasted one week, beginning Wednesday last. Mrs. Bond charged that the senator attacked her in a Washington hotel, where she had gone to talk with him about the possible appointment of her husband, Julian Bond, as internal revenue collector.

Senator Gore made a general denial of the charges in his answer, and in turn charged that the suit was instigated by a coterie of his disappointed political opponents who had failed in their attempt to secure Federal appointments.

"Truth Will Triumph."

Senator Gore's only remark when the jury returned its verdict was:

"The verdict confirms my faith that truth will triumph. I never for a moment doubted the outcome."

FIVE ARRESTED FOR RIOTS OVER PRIEST.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 19.—Five men were arrested here today in connection with the rioting last Sunday at St. Casimir's Polish Catholic church, in protest against the installation of Rev. Stanislaus Gruza, appointed by Bishop Herman J. Alerding.

Judge Funk had ordered the priest installed and the prisoners will be taken before the court late today to answer to the charge of contempt.

Wants Investigation By Committee of National Congress.

Minneapolis and Duluth Boards Controlled By Chicago, He Says.

Claims Growers and Public Alike Suffer From "Illegal" Practices.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 19.—Charging collusion in the control of the prices of wheat and other grains between the Chicago board of trade, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce and the Duluth board of trade, Representative James Manahan, congressman at large from Minnesota, has introduced a resolution providing for an investigation by a committee of seven members of the house of representatives, to be appointed by Speaker Clark.

Another charge made by Representative Manahan is that both the Minneapolis and Duluth boards are controlled by the Chicago board of trade.

Manahan asserts that "it is generally believed that the price of wheat paid the farmers, as well as the cost of flour to the consumers, is largely controlled by the Chicago board of trade, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce and the Duluth board of trade, acting in combination."

All Three Monopolies.

He also declares that all three organizations are monopolies, as each controls the market in its locality, and also together make the price of wheat for the Northwest.

"It is common practice," says Manahan in his resolution, "of members

MUNDAY AND SHIELS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Verdict May End Prosecution on Alaska Fraud Charges.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 19.—The jury in the case of Charles F. Munday and Archie W. Shiels, charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States of the Strasecy group of Alaska coal lands by the use of dummy entrymen, brought in a verdict of not guilty late last night after being out six hours. The case was similar to that tried in Chicago last spring against two promoters of what is known as the Chicago group of claims.

Last night's verdict does not have any effect on the proceedings now under way to forfeit Alaska claims, but is said to be likely to end the criminal prosecution of claimants. Persons indicted at Detroit, Spokane and Tacoma have not yet been tried.

The government charged that Munday and Shiels, acting through the Alaska Development company, used dummy entrymen, first hiring men at $100 each as locators and later using the names of stockholders of the company and their friends to acquire possession of the lands in the Bering river coal field, which they later sought to lease to Canadian and British capitalists. The present case has already been before the United States supreme court, and that tribunal sustained the law under which the defendants were indicted. The title to the lands in question is in process of adjustment, special agents of the interior department having filed charges against the claims and asked their forfeiture.

RATE RULING BEFORE JULY

Commissioner Harlan Says Eastern Case Will Be Hurried.

Sufficiency of Carriers' Income First Question at Issue.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Decision by the interstate commerce commission on the proposed freight rate increase is expected to be reached probably within three months, and certainly before the commission adjourns for its summer recess on July 1. This announcement substantially was made by Commissioner Harlan today. Commissioner Harlan said:

"Recognizing the public importance of an early disposition of the problems before us here, the carriers, shippers and the commission are using every effort to bring the inquiry to an early conclusion, and there is reason to think the record on the main issues in the case may be closed and the arguments had in time to enable the commission to dispose of those questions before the summer recess."

Two Broad Inquiries.

Commissioner Harlan explained that the commission had before it two broad inquiries in respect of the proposed advance:

"Are the present revenues of the carriers adequate?

"If not, how may they be supplanted?

"With respect to the first of these issues, the carriers already have of-

LAKE LINES MONOPOLY

Julius H. Barnes Gives Suggestions at Interstate Commission Hearing.

Should Fix Rates on Basis of Modern Freight Handling Methods.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Julius H. Barnes of Duluth was called, at the request of the government, to give his views at the hearing yesterday before Interstate Commissioner McChord on the application of the railroads owning steamship lines on the Great Lakes to be allowed to continue operation of their vessels.

Mr. Barnes briefly outlined the difficulties of securing prompt redress of grievances, telling of the three-year fight finally won before the commission reducing the lake and rail rates to Duluth to the Chicago basis, the necessity of securing an order from the commission before the steamers would prepare for the profitable butter and egg traffic, and the impossibility, apparently, of any action by the lake carriers until it had been first considered by the trunk line owners.

Outlining the fact that the national government had spent $117,000,000 to develop the Great Lakes waterways and harbors and spends $1,500,000 yearly for their maintenance, Mr. Barnes gave the commission suggestions to assure the development of the package freight carrying trade on the lakes and for securing to the people East and West the fuller use of the waterway's great economies.

Basis for Fair Lake Rates.

Mr. Barnes suggested that if the railroads are to continue to operate the boat lines, the commission should require a uniform system of accounting in order to arrive at the cost of water carriage in detail, with particular reference to shore expenses and soliciting costs. Based upon such costs, the commission would have a real basis for fair lake rates.

The commission was urged to seriously consider the advisability of ordering the concentration of terminals for the transfer of traffic from rail to boat or from boat to rail, and that the considerable saving to the boat be reflected in reduced rates.

Along the same line Mr. Barnes suggested that the commission ascertain by careful investigation the saving possible in the costs of transfer between water and rail by the installation of proper mechanical equipment and frame lake rates with that economy in mind. If the railroad-owned boat lines preferred to continue the present antiquated, slow and costly method of hand labor, it would be at their own expense and not at the expense of the people.

Suspension of Coastwise Laws.

One of the most important features of Mr. Barnes' statement was the suggestion that proper legislation be procured directing the president, on recommendation of the interstate commerce commission, to suspend the operation of the coastwise navigation laws relating to the carriage of interstate freight in foreign vessels between such ports and for such periods of time as the commision might indicate, in order to break the railroad monopoly of the package freight boats on the Great Lakes or elsewhere.

In order to encourage independent vessels to enter the package freight carrying trade, Mr. Barnes suggested that the commission exercise the authority conferred upon it by the Panama act amendments to the interstate commerce law and establish through routes and joint rates between the railroads and any independent boat or boat lines that might apply for such through routes and rates, and that such through arrangements be made effective on short notice to the commission and the public; also that the commision fix the proportional rates which may be charged by the rail lines up to or from a lake port on lake-and-rail traffic. These suggestions, if properly worked out, would result in the effectual breaking up of the railroad monopoly of the Great Lakes and the full use of the great water highway for the benefit of the public, asserted Mr. Barnes.

Cousins Meet Same Death.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 19.—A young son of Nels Plasten, living in the town of Alstad, south of here, disappeared, and the body was found in a large tank used for watering stock. His little cousin, living on an adjoining farm, was drowned in the same way last year.

NEW CURRENCY PLAN IN FORCE BY AUTUMN

McAdoo Predicts Early Action—Finds Financial Conditions Good.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Secretary McAdoo expressed the hope today that the new currency system would be in operation before next fall, but said that if it should not be, the resources of the treasury would again be placed at the disposal of the business interests of the country.

With the return here of the Federal reserve bank organization committee, composed of Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, after an extended tour of the country, interest was revived in the question of the location of regional reserve banks provided for under the new currency law. On this point the committee were emphatic that there would be no decision until after they had made a thorough study of the data gathered.

The members of the committee were at their desks early today, beaming with optimism regarding the financial situation of the country, and highly gratified with the results of their trip. They declared they found a practically unanimous sentiment among bankers and businessmen that the currency bill would benefit business conditions, and furthermore that the measure was a great step in advance.

The committee had before it a voluminous mass of information gathered on the needs and desires of bankers and banks. They will now go over the data, but it was made clear that the selection of Federal reserve cities and definition of reserve districts would not be made until after they had considered all phases of the problem.

EIGHT PEACE PACTS BEFORE THE SENATE

Long Delayed Treaties Are Taken Up in Executive Session.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Long delayed consideration of general arbitration treaties with eight foreign nations was before the senate today when it went into executive session. Treaties with Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Portugal and Switzerland were waiting.

Champions of Panama tolls exemption held up by the British treaty last summer because they feared it might have to be submitted to The Hague. President Wilson's proposal for repeal, however, may change that situation. Immigration questions are involved in the Japanese treaty.

ONE-THIRD OF POPULATION

Pastors Expect 25,000 People Will "Go to Church Sunday."

Will Provide Information Needed for a Follow-Up Campaign.

Fully 25,000 people are expected to attend church in Duluth next Sunday as a result of the "Go to Church Sunday" movement which is being promoted this week. In other words, one-third of the population is expected to respond to the advertising campaign now under way.

This estimate has been made after a careful study of conditions and the enthusiasm that the many workers have noted in their work throughout the city.

"Far greater results are expected from this movement than merely filling the churches one Sunday," said Dr. Bowden, superintendent of the First Presbyterian Sunday school, today. "We are sending thousands of cards to the pastors of all churches for the purpose of securing a mailing and calling list for the pastors. These cards, bearing the slogan, 'Go to Church Sunday, Feb. 22,' will be handed each church attendant, who will return the card after writing on it 'I was there.' The purpose of the cards is to secure the names of non-attendants at the regular services so that the pastor can call upon or write to each. In this way many persons who feel that the church has no interest in them will be brought to realize that the church and pastors are interested.

"One of our workers on the street gave a card to a man who said he had not been in a church for fifteen years, but would come next Sunday and bring a friend. The workers all over the city are meeting with the heartiest co-operation and good will."

Posters have now been placed in all of the street cars admonishing the passengers to "Go to Church Sunday."

Ten thousand stamps also were distributed among the merchants and other dealers to be put on all mailing matter for distribution in Duluth and on the ranges.

More than 2,000 tags have been distributed on the streets and the same number will be placed in parcels going into the various homes of shoppers.

Much interest will be aroused through the advertising given by the merchants in their display ads this week. Some have already responded with attractive featuring of the go to church movement.

RECEPTIONS AT NEW BREAD PLANT PROVE POPULAR

Big Bread Company Shows Crowds Processes of Up-to-Date Bread Making.

The informal receptions, held for the residents of Duluth by the Zinsmaster-Smith Bread company at their plant, Twenty-ninth avenue west and Superior street, are drawing large crowds. These receptions are being held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and invitations are sent to the people of Duluth through the dealers.

The first three receptions include West Duluth, while these to follow will take in the West end, and residents in the East end, Lakeside, Hunter's Park and Woodland.

The new bread plant is considered to be the most efficient and sanitary plant of its size in the country. The visitors are given an insight into sanitary bread-making, and are allowed to witness every process—from the sifting of the flour to the wrapping of the finished loaves.

The guests are received in the large, spacious offices on the second floor. From here guides take you into the large white mixing rooms. Here is where the dough is prepared for the Butter-Nut bread. Large machines mix 1,000 pounds of dough in twelve minutes. The two wheels inside each machine, driven by electricity and revolving at sixty-five revolutions a minute, whips the dough up like cream. From the machines the dough, untouched by hand, is dropped into trows, where it rises in five hours in this even-temperatured room. The trows are covered over by white cloths, until they are ready to go below to be made into loaves of bread. Beyond this large white mixing room, one is shown the large flour room, where the flour is sifted, bolted and aerated. The flour is deposited in bins and carefully sifted, and by means of an endless chain of cups it is carried to the top of the sifter. The best of flour coming from the same mills often vary in strength, so three flours are blended together so as to give the Butter-Nut bread its uniformity. Passing on to the downstairs, the visitors are shown the oven and proof rooms. The dough from the mixing room above is conveyed down to the divider. Here in this white tiled, spotlessly clean room in front of the enormous plate glass which face the streets, the dough is made into loaves of bread. The great white machines divide the dough into its proper weight. The pieces of dough are then deposited into a moving belt, which conveys it to the rounding machine. Here it is properly rounded up, and then passed on a belt to the proofer. The automatic proofer is a cabinet enclosed in glass which hangs from the ceiling. The balls of dough are placed automatically in buckets which travel back and forth in this long cabinet. After twelve minutes of proofing or rest, the dough is conveyed to the moulding machine directly under the cabinet. Here they are given their final shape and are still untouched by hand. From the moulder the dough goes through into the pans which are placed on the steel white sanitary racks. The racks are then passed on to the white tiled steam room. Here the loaves remain in a steam bath for twenty-five minutes. From this room they are taken out and are ready for the ovens.

Three large enamel front ovens, each bake 500 loaves every thirty-five minutes. There is no odor, gas, or smoke from these ovens as they are all fired with coke at the rear of the outside of the building proper. Each oven, which contains over 30,000 brick, and is held at a constant temperature of 550 degrees. This terrific heat is essential to kill all the yeast germs and each loaf is baked in the same in thirty-five minutes. From the ovens the bread is passed on to the conveyor, which carries it to the wrapping room. Here the crisp, brown, warm loaves—with that delicious odor, are placed on steel racks by girls in white uniforms. In order for the bread to be untouched by hand, these young ladies wear clean white gloves. Each loaf is inspected, counted and after two hours cooling, is run through the electric wrapping machines. Every loaf of bread made in this great plant—the rye, graham and famous Butter-Nut, is wrapped in heavy sanitary waxed paper.

The bread is then ready for the delivery. Automobiles and wagons, spotlessly clean, deliver this bread to each dealer in the city every day. Sanitary steel baskets are used instead of show cases.

Here in the cooling room, one may see the packing of this bread into baskets to be shipped away into four states, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and North Dakota. Thousands of loaves are sent out each day to points far away. One can hardly realize what all this means—the years required to perfect all this machinery. The ingenuity of the various means of conveying dough and the different processes of manufacturing are really marvellous. Everything is so clean, so open to the view of the visitors, and every process done so easily and perfect.

After seeing all these processes, the visitors are then taken back to the office. Here a luncheon is served amid the strains of La Brosse's orchestra.

A display of the raw material that go into Butter-Nut bread, is made. The best flour, yeast, home rendered lard, and best granulated sugar. Souvenirs of sample loaves of bread, rulers and blotters, are given away.

Every courtesy is rendered to the guests, and an opportunity like this is not often offered to the public.

FOUR KILLED AND THIRTY-ONE INJURED

Street Car Is Crushed By Traction Cars at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 19.—The thirty-one persons injured in the street car accident near the Virginia avenue viaduct last night in which four men were killed were reported to be in an improved condition today at the various hospitals. It was believed the death list would not be increased, although some of the injured will be maimed for life.

The four dead are:
JAMES HORAN, aged 15.
JACOB K. HARDY, 48.
FLETCHER ROARK, 52.
HARRY OLIVER, 26.

The coroner began his inquest today, and it is said the grand jury will make an investigation as soon as possible.

Slippery rails, due to the snow and rain, are given as the cause of the accident, which resulted when a heavy Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction freight car ran into an English avenue car that was blocked by a Greenwood local interurban car. The city car was badly crushed between the two heavier interurban cars.

PUBLISH HISTORY OF THE GREAT WEST

Mississippi Valley Historical Society Will Issue Quarterly.

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 19.—The Mississippi Valley Historical association, which for several years has been gathering and assembling information concerning the early days of the Middle West, is about to launch a publication to be known as the Mississippi alley Historical Review.

Announcement of the forthcoming review was made today by Clarence W. Alvord, professor of history of the University of Illinois. In quarterly numbers it will tell the story of the Great West and relate the share pioneers in the Mississippi valley took in making the nation.

The board of editors includes the following professors: Benjamin F. Shambaugh, University of Iowa; Frederic L. Paxson, University of Wisconsin; Archer D. Hulbert, Marietta college; Walter L. Fleming, Louisiana state university; Orin G. Libby, University of North Dakota; Eugene C. Barker, University of Texas; Claude H. Van Tyne, University of Michigan; James A. James, Northwestern university, and C. W. Alvord, University of Illinois.

The first number of the review will appear June 1, 1914.

SPENCER FAILS TO GET RECORD AMENDED

Murderer's Case Is Before the Illinois Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 19.—Counsel for Harry Spencer, convicted of murdering Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat on a lonely road in Du Page county, failed today to compel an addition to the certified record of the trial now before the supreme court on appeal.

The upper court was petitioned to order Judge Slusser of the circuit court of Du Page county to include in the writ of error a statement that in the absence of the judge a picture of Spencer pointing at the jury was taken. Judge Slusser declined to certify the incident in the record, because he knew of it only through affidavits. The supreme court upheld him and denied the petition.

Spencer was sentenced to be hanged last December, but the execution was stayed to permit an appeal to the supreme court.

GLADYS McMILLAN BRIDE OF COUNT.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Miss Gladys McMillan of Detroit and Washington, daughter of Mrs. Spencer Penrose of Colorado Springs and granddaughter of the late Senator James McMillan of Michigan, was married here today to Count Paul Cornet de Ways-Ruart of Brussels. The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Madeleine. Those present included Ambassador and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick.

CROSBY'S LAND OFFER ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—George H. Crosby's offer to plat and lease, free, three-acre farms in section 1 is causing comment and investigation into the plan from many sections of the state. Mr. Crosby is having this forty-acre tract surveyed and will lease a number of three-acre garden plots, practically charging no rental to those who will take up this land and develop it. There is every possible advantage for marketing and growing produce with the towns of Crosby, Ironton and Deerwood nearby.

BLOW ON HEAD KILLS CUYUNA MAN.

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ray Senich, an Austrian laborer employed by the Rogers Brown Ore company at their Armour No. 2 mine, just west of Crosby, died the first of the week from the effects of a blow from a falling beam in the underground workings of the mine. He was brought here to Dr. Sewall's hospital but died a few hours later.

NEW HOME FOR DEPARTMENT

Plans Call for Structure Which Would Cost City $36,000.

Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the division of public utilities, will endeavor to secure a new building for the water and light department this year.

Among the reasons urged are that the present quarters are unsuitable, room for the display and storage of gas stoves and appliances being too small, the quarters for the office being cramped and the heat and ventilation unsatisfactory; that convenient quarters for the storage of automobiles should be provided, and that a handy repair department should be available.

Proposals Received.

Commissioner Merritt has received a number of proposals for constructing a combined repair, garage and office building for the water and light department. These have been compiled in tabulated form by Manager D. A. Reed and will be presented to the council with a letter from him setting forth the various arguments in favor of acting upon one of them.

Manager Reed points out that the city has an opportunity to purchase a suitable site on Second street between Second and Third avenues west for $19,000. He estimates that a building which will be ample to meet the needs of the department for many years can be erected for $36,000. Figuring the rental on a basis of 5 per cent and adding insurance and other expenses, he calculates that the city would pay $4,005 per year for the new building. This is figured in this way in order to put the proposition on the same basis as the other proposals for purposes of comparison. The present quarters are costing $3,600 a year, while auto storage is costing $420, bringing the total to $4,020.

Funds Are Sufficient.

Manager Reed asserts that the funds of the water and light department will be sufficient to buy the property and erect the building this year, in addition to taking care of necessary extensions and improvements. He recommends that this be done at the earliest possible date.

Commissioner Merritt will submit the matter to the council, probably at its meeting next Tuesday, and will ask that the recommendations of the manager be carried out. He believes that it would be a profitable transaction for the city.

FAILS TO SECURE JOB; DRINKS ACID.

William Maki, 50 years old, committed suicide yesterday afternoon in his room at the Douglas hotel by drinking carbolic acid. Despondency on account of being refused a job as section foreman on the Canadian Northern railway, is said to have been the cause of the deed. His body was found at 6 o'clock last night in his room. Maki has a brother living at Amasa, Mich., who has been notified of the death. Funeral arrangements will not be made until word has been received from the brother.

COOKS THROW BOILED SPUDS; PAY FINES.

Being made a target for boiled potatoes was more than Annie Salli, a dishwasher at the Saratoga hotel, would stand. As a result, Rae Childs and Felix Stokes, cooks at the hotel, were arrested yesterday afternoon and each paid a fine of $5 and costs. The cooks are alleged to have thrown several well boiled "spuds" at the girl when she would not wash the dishes in the way they wanted the job done.

FOUND BUSINESS GOOD.

Former Duluthian and Partner Collected $219 in Three Days.

Guy Hallock, former partner of Charles Ellison, in the stage training business here, who was arrested at Minneapolis Tuesday with his new partner, Fred Walton, received $219 from stage-struck people in three days, according to the Minneapolis police, who are now investigating charges against the pair.

Miss Laura Hayes gave Hallock $10 last Monday, and when he failed to place her in a sketch the following day, she notified the police and Theater Inspector Gleason made the arrest. According to the Mill City police, Hallock and his partner were charging a preliminary fee of $10, with a contract calling for an additional fee of $50 when the act was placed on tour.

In their offices in the Lyric theater building the police obtained a long list of names of Minneapolis people who gave the pair money for a course in acting. Another list was found showing how many stage-struck people had answered the newspaper advertisements in three days.

MANAHAN IS BEHIND TIME

Grain Exchanges Had Already Asked to Be Investigated.

Duluth Board of Trade Approved Resolution Passed in Chicago.

Congressman-at-large "Jim" Manahan is a trifle behind the times in introducing a bill to have the Chicago and Duluth boards of trade and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce investigated on the ground that they are trusts, etc. These organizations asked congress some time ago to have an investigation. President McCabe of the Duluth board of trade said this morning that the resolutions in which such a request was made have been before congress for several weeks.

"I am wondering whether or not Congressman Manahan knows that," he said, "or perhaps he is introducing such a bill in order to be appointed on the investigating committee."

The resolutions requesting the investigation were passed on Jan. 16 at the annual meeting of the council of grain exchanges, held in Chicago. Then each of the commercial organizations mentioned in the memorial to congress individually indorsed the action of the council. The board of directors of the Duluth board of trade passed a resolution indorsing the memorial at the last meeting, held several weeks ago, and other exchanges have done the same thing. The memorial to congress as passed by the council of grain exchanges is as follows:

"Whereas, There are now pending in congress numerous bills, the express purpose of which is to regulate the dealing in farm products in the various markets of the country, including boards of trade, grain exchanges or similar institutions, and

"Whereas, It is always recognized as a wise policy to seek full information on any subject before enacting legislation thereon; therefore,

"Be it resolved, By the Council of Grain Exchanges in convention assembled at Chicago, representing the grain markets at Buffalo, Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati, Duluth, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Memphis, Milwaukee, New York, Omaha, Peoria, St. Louis, San Francisco, Toledo and Wichita, that before any legislation of this character be enacted, we respectfully ask that a committee or commission be appointed by congress to inquire into the workings of such grain exchanges and that such commission be requested to report after due inquiry what changes, if any, shall be deemed advisable to correct or improve the workings of such exchanges, and that any remedial legislation be had after such inquiry and report. Be it further

"Resolved, That the grain exchanges as herein enumerated hereby express a sincere desire to co-operate with such a committee or commission and to assist it in every way possible. We further express a desire to place the exchanges of the country on a footing that will be acceptable to congress and the country at large."

MANY DULUTHIANS AT LOS ANGELES PICNIC.

At a picnic given for Minnesota people at Los Angeles, Cal., on Lincoln's birthday, twenty-seven people registered from Duluth. Robert Rankin received a letter from a friend who is spending the winter in the California city, in which an interesting account of the picnic is given. Mr. Rankin's correspondent says that there were 3,000 Minnesotans at the picnic, which was held at East Lake park, Los Angeles, and that everybody had a most enjoyable time.

Among the twenty-seven from Duluth who registered, according to the the writer of the letter, were: "The Blewetts, the Graffs, Petersons, Volks, Pierce brothers, Merritts, Holgates, Soukup, Hathaway sisters, Lowerys and others."

Washington, Feb. 19.—Col. George Barnett's appointment as major general and commandant of the marine corps was confirmed by the senate.

ONE LITTLE "BEER PARTY" MAY CLOSE TWO SALOONS

Charles Sholund, Who Gave Party, Called Before Commission.

John Nelson, His Guest, Will Be Denied Renewal of License.

Saloon keepers who go into other saloonkeepers' saloons after hours or on Sunday are playing with fire.

Perhaps they may "get by," but not unless the saloon keeper into whose saloon he goes during legal closing hours "gets by" also.

John Nelson, proprietor of a saloon at 21 East Superior street, was in Charles Sholund's saloon at 101 East Michigan street, together with two Superior women when the place was raided by the police about 12:15 o'clock Wednesday morning.

As a result Safety Commissioner William A. Hicken announced this morning that Nelson will be notified that he will recommend that Nelson's saloon license be not renewed after its expiration, which is July 1, next. As his recommendations have been followed in the past it is safe to assume that Nelson will not be in the saloon business in Duluth after that date.

This is the first time that a situation of that nature has arisen in Duluth. The safety commissioner states that a saloon keeper who will be a party to another saloon keeper violating the law is in his opinion about as guilty as the other and is not the kind of a man who should be allowed to conduct a saloon in this city.

Sholund Cited.

Besides informing Nelson that his license will not be renewed Commissioner Hicken will introduce, and the council will pass, a resolution at the council meeting Tuesday afternoon, citing Sholund to appear to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Wherefore it appears likely that the early morning episode of Wednesday will result in two saloons being tossed into the discard. Nelson yesterday paid a fine in police court for being drunk and Sholund pleaded not guilty to keeping his saloon open before hours.

Tuesday night Nelson and Sholund went to Superior, where they met Olive Moody, 38 years old, and Pearl Smith, 24 years old. At least these are names and ages they gave to the police. The police in their turn give them an unfavorable reputation, saying that they are women of loose morals. But in any event Nelson and Sholund imbibed freely of the stuff that cheers and came to this side of the bay to finish their lark, accompanied by the two women. In their exhilirated condition the men probably thought it would be fun to "slip one over" on Hicken and his police force and adjourned to Sholund's saloon.

They were having a pleasant time when a policeman drilled past. Suddenly he stopped. He thought he heard a female voice. It was repeated and then he was sure it was a female voice. Summoning assistance from headquarters, a scant block away, he rapped and called and rapped again, demanding admittance. The hilarity and laughter suddenly ceased. But the bluecoats stayed on the job and after an interval of about fifteen minutes the quartet of merrymakers appeared and were promptly conducted to headquarters. Olive and Pearl were in fairly good shape and were released on bail, which they forfeited, as it was expected they would. But the saloon keepers spent the rest of the night at the station. And now Hicken is having his innings and the odds are all in his favor.

How to Cure Rheumatism
Prominent Doctor's Best Prescription Easily Mixed at Home.

This simple and harmless formula has worked wonders for all who have tried it, quickly relieving chronic and acute rheumatism and backache. "From your druggist get one ounce of Toris compound (in original sealed package) and one ounce of Syrup of Sarsaparilla compound. Take these two ingredients home and put them in a half pint of good whiskey. Shake the bottle and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime." Good results come after the first few doses. If your druggist does not have Toris compound in stock, he will get it for you in a few hours from his wholesale house. Don't be influenced to take a patent medicine instead of this. Insist on having the genuine Toris compound in the original one-ounce, sealed, yellow package. This was published here last winter and hundreds of the worst cases were cured by it in a short time. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical laboratories of Chicago.

OUTING PARTY FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Bobs Obtained for Participants for Saturday Afternoon--Annual Camp Reunion on Friday---Many Other Events Planned.

The outing committee of the boys' department Y. M. C. A. met last evening with the following members present: Charles Le Richeaux, Norman Sweeny, George Watts and N. D. McLeod. The committee has arranged for a sliding party for Saturday afternoon leaving the boys' building at 2 o'clock. Several bobs will be secured for the occasion and after the trip the party will return to the boys' department for refreshments.

Next Friday evening the annual camp reunion will take place, and it will be an all night affair. All members of Camp Miller will be invited. The program will begin at 10 p. m. with a lunch. This will be followed by a camp fire program which will take place in front of the fireplace. Breakfast will be served in the morning and will be followed by the morning dip. The campers will walk down to the Y. M. C. A. for this part of the program.

Friday, March 6, is the date set for the annual sleighride. This will be in charge of the camp and outing committee. They will arrange for a hot supper after the ride.

The electrical club will meet this evening at 7:30; the camera club will meet Friday evening at 7:30, and the leather club will meet at the same time. The Friday night Bible study clubs will meet for dinner Friday evening at 6:15. At 8 o'clock the Knights of Sir Galahad will have charge of the popular Friday night. They will have a meeting tonight to outline the program. The knot club will meet Saturday at 1:30. Sunday the delegates who attended the Y. M. C. A. state convention will give short reports.

Rehearsals for the annual minstrel show will begin next Tuesday at 7:30.

Get This for Colds
Prescription for Positive Results Don't Experiment.

"From your druggist get two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake well. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." This is said to be the quickest cough and cold cure known to the medical profession. Be sure to get only the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Each half-ounce bottle comes in a tin screw-top sealed case. If your druggist is out of stock, he will quickly get it from his wholesale house. Don't fool with uncertain mixtures. It is risky. For the past six years this has had a wonderful demand. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical laboratories of Chicago.

SALESMANSHIP CLASS ENLARGED

Fifty Non-Members Visit Class and Eleven New Men Register.

Special invitations were issued to a limited number of young men to visit the regular session of the salesmanship class at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The employers were given the opportunity to suggest the names of a few of their employes whom they considered would be especially benefited by taking the course.

The result was that more than fifty men in addition to the twenty-one regular members of the class attended the session.

The program covered the following topics: "The Elements of a Sale," "Steps to a Sale" and "Personality." The discussion of the third subject brought out the elements of character in the individual which, when developed in the right direction, leads to success.

At the close of the class eleven new members were enrolled, making thirty-two in the class now.

HOW TO SUCCEED.

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well.

So it is with any article that is sold to the people.. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article.

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited every one to test it.

It is a physician's prescription.

They have on file thousands of unsolicited letters received from former sufferers who claim they are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., enclose ten cents and mention this paper. They will promptly forward you a sample bottle by Parcels Post.

CITY AND RAIL OFFICIALS DIFFER

Failure to Come Together Delays Work on D. M. & N. Subway.

Differences between the city officials and officials of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad relative to who shall build the approaches to the subway on Highland street, under the railroad tracks, may mean that the subway will not be built this year. At present there seems to be no inclination on the part of the city or the railroad officials to give in, according to recent interviews.

"We have no money to build the approaches," said Commissioner Murchison this noon. "The proposition brought forward by the West Duluth Commercial club as having been agreed to by the railroad officials is different from what the railroad asks of the city. The railroad officials say they are ready to build the subway if the city will build the approach. The department is short of funds and cannot go ahead with the work."

"The building of the subway awaits confirmation on the part of the city officials," said President W. A. McConagle this morning. "Our plans are all ready for work to begin, but so far the commissioners have not acted on them. I am unable to say when the work will start."

Members of the West Duluth Commercial club assert that the city commissioners have not shown a disposition to push the work. It is proposed by the club to take the matter up tomorrow evening and to have some action taken immediately to have the work accomplished before the heavy shipping of ore commences this spring. The subway is said to be the only link, with the exception of a bridge spanning Keene's creek, which is necessary to complete the Getchell road between West Duluth and Hermantown. The subway, say members of the club, is necessary in order to make travel across the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad safe. Members of the club have expressed their willingness to abandon some of the grade crossings over the road in case the railroad will build the subway.

TWO OF WESTERN RINKS WILL CURL

Will Represent Club in Championship Bonspiel in Mill City.

Two rinks from the Western Curling club will represent the club at the state championship tournament in Minneapolis on Saturday and Monday. Frank J. Wade and Neil J. Buckley will act as skips for the local rinks. The two rinks will be as follows: Ray McDougall, lead; Alec Donald, second; Frank Wade, Jr., third, and Frank Wade, Sr., skip; Earl Donald, lead; Charles Harholt, second, Walter Dash, third, and Neil J. Buckley, skip. Judson forfeited the championship buttons game to Wade's rink last night. Ittis defeated Zauft in the Burns event, 12 to 5, and Quinn won from Mallory in the same event, 13 to 11. This evening two games are scheduled in the Burns event. Wade will play against Olson, and Brown plays Ittis.

WIDOW WOULD DISTRIBUTE AWARD

Gets $6,000 for Death of Husband; Attorney's Fee Is $995.

Hannah M. Spornitz of West Duluth, who received $6,000 from the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railway company for the alleged wrongful death of her husband, Walter C. Spornitz, who was killed April 21, 1913, while attempting to couple two cars in the West Duluth yards, yesterday petitioned the district court to set a date for a hearing on the distribution of the fund. The widow and her three minor children, residing at 317 Forty-second avenue west, are the only heirs. A. G. McKnight, attorney, declares that he is to be paid $995 for his services. The court has set April 4 as a date for the hearing.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS WILL CELEBRATE.

Knights of Pythias will attend the golden jubilee celebration of the order this evening at the Dormedy hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Only members of the order, their wives and a few friends have been invited to the affair. Special public public ritualistic services will be a feature of the entertainment. Musical numbers by a male quartet and an address by James A. Wharton will be included in the program. Dancing will be enjoyed following the program.

FOUR BOYS HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE.

Four boys ranging in age from 12 to 14 years, were arrested last night by Lieut. C. E. Wilcox of the West Duluth police station charged with having stolen a quantity of merchandise from a box car in the Canadian Northern railway yards. The boys are said to have confessed to taking some of the goods and to have returned the stuff. They will be taken before the juvenile court Saturday.

About $100 worth of the merchandise was taken. Lieut. Wilcox said this morning that he is of the opinion that the boys did not take all of the stuff stolen. The officers of the West Duluth station are continuing an investigation of the theft in the hope of catching some men who are believed to have broken into the car ahead of the boys.

William Davidson Dies.

William Arthur Davidson, 21 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Davidson, 212 South Sixty-third avenue west, died yesterday after an illness of several months of tuberculosis. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon with burial in Oneota cemetery. The young man leaves two sisters besides his parents.

MISSOURIAN KILLED BY WIFE'S BROTHER.

La Mar, Mo., Feb. 19.—Roy Darling, 27 years old, was shot and killed at his home near here by Willis Hill, his 19-year-old brother-in-law. The men quarreled because Mrs. Darling spent the night at the home of her parents. Mrs. Darling, 22 years old, witnessed the shooting. A coroner's jury refused to exonerate or blame him for the crime. Hill, who is in the county jail, says he acted in self-defense.

Sent Home; Hangs Himself.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Earl Moisly, 14 years old, a pupil in the sixth grade, hanged himself to a gas pipe in the basement of his home yesterday after he had been sent home from school in the afternoon for being disobedient.

THIS BOY RAISED BEST TEN EARS OF CORN SHOWN

ELMER LATTA.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The honor of raising the best ten ears of corn in the school children's acre corn contest is awarded to Elmer Latta, a Crookston school boy, whose display at the Farm Crops show being held here is attracting much attention.

SHRINERS IN LINE FOR THE MIDSUMMER FESTIVAL IN 1915

Arab Patrol Unanimously Approves Herald's Plan, Pledges Support and Suggests That Other Lodges Follow Suit—Potentate Promises Temple's Co-operation.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Potentate of Aad Temple.

ALBERT H. PAUL, Captain of the Arab Patrol of Aad Temple.

The suggestion of The Herald that Duluth stage a midsummer festival and pageant during the summer of 1915 has received further approval through a set of resolutions passed by the Arab Patrol, a subsidiary body to Aad Temple, Mystic Shrine, at its meeting last night. The members of the patrol are of the opinion that such an event would do more than any other single enterprise to advertise Duluth and bring people here. They not only offer to support such a project, but to take part in any capacity in which they might be assigned.

That Aad Temple, as a whole, will be just as loyal in its support as the Arab Patrol is assured by Potentate H. W. Richardson, who has written The Herald a letter approving the plan. Mr. Richardson suggests that the patrol could be of great service as a feature as it is one of the best drilled bodies of its kind in the United States. Following is Mr. Richardson's letter:

"To the Editor of The Herald:

"Your suggestion advocating a midsummer festival in 1915 is a splendid one and should receive the approbation of all loyal Duluthians. There is no question but that our summer weather is unrivaled, and that while other sections of the country are sweltering, the conditions here are ideal. It is certainly time the people of these United States were informed that here at the Head of the Lakes is the summer recreation ground par excellence. A grand opportunity to prove this and forever disprove the slanders regarding our climate is presented in the idea of the proposed festival of sports, pageants, etc.

Labor Involved.

"Considerable real labor will be involved in planning the things to be done, and while the cost will doubtless be large, yet, in view of the benefits that will accrue to our city and its visitors as well, the project certainly seems worthy our biggest efforts. As an investment it ought to prove of the greatest value in a thousand ways.

"One of our live local organizations is Aad Temple, Mystic Shrine. Its members are among our most progressive, able and substantial citizens, men who do things and who are all intensely loyal to everything pertaining to the good of our beautiful city. I am certain every one of the members of this fraternity will not alone applaud your festival idea, but will also do their part as individuals in promoting its success. Not alone that but I feel justified in the assertion that the local Shriners as a body can be depended upon to assist. This statement is based upon my personal knowledge of the high public spirit pervading Shrinedom and the fact that last night, at a meeting of our Arab patrol, a resolution was unanimously adopted, the patrol pledging itself as a subsidiary body of Aad Temple to back the scheme to the limit and in every way practicable to insure its success. The Arab patrol of Aad Temple is a semi-military organization. It is noted as being one of the finest drilled bodies of the kind in the United States. Their fancy drills alone could certainly be made a great feature of the festival in question, and perhaps patrols could be induced to come from other cities and take part in the magnificent scheme of competitive drills, etc.

"I inclose herewith a set of resolutions, the same representing the sentiments adopted at the meeting referred to.

"Yours very truly,

"H. W. RICHARDSON,
"Potentate, Aad Temple, Mystic Shrine."

The Resolutions.

The resolutions follows:

"Resolved, that we approve most heartily the project outlined by The Herald for a midsummer festival and pageant to be given by the city of Duluth in the summer of 1915, as we believe that it will do more than any other single enterprise to advertise Duluth, to attract people here to enjoy our marvelous summer climate, to bring people of means here to see our advantages as a place to live in; and

"Further resolved, that we pledge ourselves to support the project to the limit, and that we shall be ready at all times to co-operate to the fullest possible extent, to help in giving entertainments to raise the necessary funds, and to take part in the pageant program in any capacity that may be assigned to us; and

"Further resolved, that we suggest that other organizations take similar action and make similar pledges for the glory and prosperity of Duluth."

FARM SHOW'S BANNER DAY

Twin City Men Express Surprise at Red River Valley Meeting.

Development Association Organization Is an Assured Thing.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—This is a banner day at the farm crops show. A big delegation arrived from St. Paul and Minneapolis on four special cars this morning and were met at the depot by the reception committee.

"The meeting is a wonderful one," said J. H. Beek of St. Paul. "I did not expect to see 15,000 farmer jammed into your opera house for this meeting. The spirit is splendid. Your corn exhibits would do credit to a state fair. The Red River valley has certainly caught the spirit of the times and proposes to be a leader."

George Dayton of Minneapolis, who spoke on live stock this morning, said:

"I think this one of the greatest gatherings ever held in Minnesota for better agriculture. Your corn, clover and alfalfa indicate that you have everything to make the live stock industry your leading one in the Red River valley. The meeting is an eye-opener to the Twin City delegation. Your progress in diversified farming is really wonderful, and the interest displayed by the farmers means wonderful things for the future."

Dayton Talked of Stock.

Mr. Dayton gave a strong paper this morning on live stock, this being live stock day. He gave actual experiences and said the 550 cows and heifers he has on his farm south of Crookston in Polk county, would be increased to 1,000. He dwelt heavily on careful selection of breeders and housing and feeding problems. He also wanted to see great attention given to hogs and poultry.

A. E. Chamberlain of Minneapolis also talked on livestock, showing conclusively the profitable way in which to handle livestock.

F. E. Balmer, supervisor of agents for the west central counties at Morris, gave an address on the work of the county agent and how his activities are very close to the farmer. J. W. Wheeler was this morning detained in St. Paul by illness.

Intense interest was taken in the thirteen counties' spelling contest. A written contest was held yesterday afternoon and an oral contest last night, concluding at midnight. Helen Jerde of Dugdale won the first prize of $10 in gold, and Polk county won the banner. Francis of Andover was second.

Association a Certainty.

The Red River Valley Development association is a certainty. The committee named last evening, two from each county, was in session all morning outlining a plan of action and selecting a time, to be submitted to the convention this afternoon. W. R. McKenzie left for St. Paul last evening and says he has not and will not oppose the new organization, but will work with it in solving problems peculiar to the valley counties.

The total attendance of outsiders today exceeds the 2,000 mark.

OBITUARY

Dr. Larasus Schoney, one of the best known of the older generation of New York physicians, an authority on biology and pathology and friend of President Lincoln, died at his home at Coney Island, Feb. 19. He was 86 years old. Dr. Schoney was born in Budapest and came to America as a boy. He was a surgeon in the Civil war and afterwards pathologist for a time to the Lincoln General hospital in Washington. He traveled extensively and wrote many books on pathology, biology and medicinal botany.

George W. Neville, one of the most prominent members of the New York Cotton exchange, and its president during 1911 and 1912, died Feb. 18, in a hospital in Elizabeth, N. J., after an operation for appendicitis.

Jacob Rau, aged resident of La Crosse, is dead, aged 82 years. He was born Dec. 24, 1831, at Wittenberg, Germany, and came to this country in 1853. Mr. Rau has been located in La Crosse practically ever since his emigration from Germany, and was engaged in grain buying until his retirement from business several years ago. On April 17, 1909, Mr. and Mrs. Rau celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Surviving the deceased are the widow, Mrs. Jacob Rau of La Crosse; Charles, George and Edward of Davenport, Iowa, and Albert of Winona, Minn., and three daughters, Mesdames Emma Minnegan of Sioux City, Iowa, and L. C. Kramer of La Crosse, and Miss Helen of La Crosse.

Mrs. Bettie Pindell, mother of Henry M. Pindell, editor of the Peoria, Ill., Journal, who recently declined the ambassadorship to Russia, died in St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 18, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Hundley. Mrs. Pindell was born in Memphis, Tenn., eighty years ago. She was a direct descendant of Governor Means of South Carolina.

Thomas H. Smith, aged 60, well-known lumberman and vessel owner, was found dead, seated in his chair at his office at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Feb. 19. Heart failure is believed to have been the cause of his death.

Lemuel E. Webb, aged 81, died at Tabor, Iowa, Feb. 18. Mr. Webb was a personal friend of John Brown and often assisted him in operating his "underground railroad" for runaway slaves, Tabor being one of the important points on the line. Two children live here and a married daughter resides in Fort Lupiln, Colo.

Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, widow of the famous novelist, died of apoplexy at her home in Montecito, Cal., Feb. 18.

George Deval, a great-great-grandnephew of Admiral John Paul Jones, died in Pau, France, Feb. 19, at the age of 12 years. He was being educated with a view to entering the naval academy at Annapolis. The lad had been adopted by an American lady after the death of his grandmother, Marian Stuart Gombault, a grandniece of Paul Jones.

W. W. Barrett, state superintendent of irrigation and forestry in North Dakota from 1891 to 1901, is dead at his home near Churchs Ferry, N. D., aged 82. Mr. Barrett, when he retired from state office, was the oldest official in point of years that had served in a position of that nature in North Dakota. He was a resident of North Dakota since 1883, coming from Illinois. He was born in Maine, and spent many years in Illinois and Wisconsin.

MONUMENT TO ADAM.

Strand: This monument erected to the "memory of Adam, the first man," is the only one of its kind in America, and probably in the world. It was erected in 1909 by John F. Brady, a well known contractor and builder of Baltimore, at his country place, "Hickory Ground," near Gardenville, in the Md. It is composed of stone, bronze and cement, and is surmounted by a very large and accurate sundial, especially calculated and constructed for the latitude in which the monument is erected, N. Lat. 39 deg., 20 min. Surrounding the hour figures, in a circle on the dial, is the motto, "Sic Transit Gloria Mundi" (So Passes the Glory of the World), and the date, 1909, and on either side of the shaft is a sunken panel with sunken letters, the two reading:

"THIS, THE FIRST SHAFT IN AMERICA, IS ERECTED TO THE MEMORY OF ADAM, THE FIRST MAN."

The monument has naturally attracted much attention. Mr. Brady has stated, among other things, in a newspaper interview, that "where so many others of lesser worth have been honored, he though it about time that something was done for Adam."

French equatorial Africa is about the size of the mother country and has a population of nearly 4,000,000.

SONGS OF WAR WILL BE FEATURED

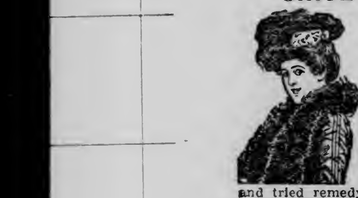

G. A. R. and W. R. C. Will Be Guests at Free Masonic Concert.

Songs of war and patriotism will be the feature of the program at next Sunday's free Masonic concert, which comes on Washington's birthday. The members of the G. A. R. posts and the W. R. C. will be specially invited guests.

In addition to martial music by the organ and Scottish Rite quartet, there will be a new departure in the shape of singing of familiar songs by the entire audience. The management has purchased a large number of copies of a collection of songs especially suited for congregational singing, recently published under the auspices of a national committee of music supervisors. These will be lent to such of the audience as care to take part in the singing. A short talk will be given by John T. Armstead. The program follows:

NO MORE COLDS SINCE TAKING PERUNA

No one can fully appreciate the joy of life who is subject to colds. To be free from colds is a blessing which comparatively few people enjoy.

Peruna is an old and tried remedy for those who are subject to colds. Peruna fortifies the system against taking cold. It regulates the bowels and tones up the whole nervous system.

THE COLD TOWEL BATH, as described on page three of the new "Ills of Life," should be used in every home. Sent free. Peruna used with the cold towel bath protects against cold.

If you prefer to take Peruna in tablet form you can now procure them by writing to the Peruna Co., Columbus Ohio.

COLD SPELL NEARING END

Below Zero Weather Will Continue Duluth Visit Until Friday.

A letup in the cold wave is expected for Duluth tomorrow, but in the meantime the below zero weather will continue.

The weather map for the last twenty-four hours showed some peculiar features this morning. Heavy rains fell in the Ohio valley and the Middle Mississippi valley, while in Western Canada, the Dakotas, and the Southwest severe temperatures prevailed. In Western Canada the temperature was about 30 below zero, and zero weather extended down to Texas and Arkansas.

The lowest temperature in Duluth last night was 15 below, but the mercury rose to about 4 below before noon today. The present cold wave will spend its force as far as Duluth is concerned tonight and the temperature will rise gradually tomorrow. Snow flurries may be expected either tonight or tomorrow.

it does, the factory inspector makes a special trip. Otherwise all it gets is the once over from the creamery inspector. Now that's a good illustration of team play.

The board of control buying supplies for the capitol is another instance of team play.

Inside the departments there is more attempt at flexibility than there used to be. For instance the tax commission. You go in there in October and you may find the whole force compiling tables for equalization purposes. Another time each member has his individual duties. At this time of the year the office is running with half a crew. The rest are out in the field gathering information for which otherwise special help must be hired.

Loaned to Agricultural School.

A wider species of accommodation is in the food and dairy department in connection with the short course in buttermaking at the agricultural college. The best creamery men in the state service are taken off their routes and loaned to the school, a valuable arrangement for both parties at a season when the inspection can be diminished without any loss to the service.

Those are samples of a general condition. The men in all branches of the service, whether appointed by the governor or employed by other elective offices, are ready to turn in and help—they feel that they are working for the state and their time belongs to the state in any way in which it will be most useful.

That is the atmosphere. Everybody wants to help. But one other thing must be taken into account. Every man has a proper appreciation of the importance of his own job. You can do what you please with the others, but to disturb this particular department would be disastrous. That's healthy. A man who is worth the powder to blow him up does believe in his job.

Ready to Co-Operate.

When the legislature attempts to reorganize the departments in the interest of team play, it will get a great deal of ready co-operation from the departments. But it will also get a large amount of advice that is of no great value because of the very factor of zeal in the departments. That is what the efficiency commission finds in its inquiry. Some of the departments that are doing the best work take it as a reflection on them to propose to relieve them of any duties, no matter how incongruous they may seem to an outsider. They know they are doing it as well as it can be done.

But they are all willing to help. They are all ready to work together. There was a time when one could hardly walk through the state house without having two or three men grasp him by the arm and lead him into a dark corner to tell him what a despicable wretch occupied the next office. You won't hear a whisper of that nowadays—not unless you are well enough acquainted to hear family secrets.

Even when they have their little differences or clashing ambitions, the men in the different branches of service are ready to play ball as a team. And they do.

That is going to be a big help in carrying out the plans of reorganization.

fered much testimony, but their witnesses have not been cross-examined; nor have the investigations by the commission on that question been completed.

"We also are advised that certain shipping interests will submit important testimony touching the adequacy of the present revenues of carriers. In aid of an understanding of the first question and of a proper solution of the second question, the commission, as I explained at a recent hearing, also has addressed certain inquiries to carriers which they have not yet been able fully to answer. Pending the preparation by the railroads of their replies, we have been hearing the protests of shippers against the proposed increases in the rates on certain particular commodities in which they deal or are otherwise interested."

Hear of "Spotting" Cars.

At the hearings held so far, testimony was taken regarding free services and special allowances to large shippers. A hearing will be held here Feb. 27 and 28 to consider further the charges for "spotting" cars on side tracks and for similar services, and on March 16 and 17 those subjects will be argued. Records of the commission show that there are 25,000 shippers' sidetracks and spur tracks in the territory east of the Mississippi river.

Mr. Harlan expressed the desire of the commission that the commercial interests of Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Buffalo come together at the hearings prepared to advise the commission of switching and spur track conditions existing in those cities. Other cities also may be heard. At those hearings, none of the services to and from and within industrial plants will be considered. It is the desire of the commission to obtain from all interests information as to what the charges should be for the placing of cars and for the use of sidings and spurs.

tives of the Steel corporation and Parker, Hatch & Sheehan, New York attorneys, who had also been employed by the Higgins company.

Send in Bill.

Spencer & Marshall, however, sent in their bill for $100,000 for services, claiming that the settlement was brought about as a result of their work on the case. The bill was disallowed by the company, which claimed that Mr. Smith had no authority to make such a contract, if one was made. The company offered to settle for $10,000, but this was refused by the local attorneys.

Mr. Smith, who is a prominent member of the New York bar, testified that no such promise was made by him to Mr. Spencer at a certain conference which was held at the Belmont hotel in New York city, as claimed by Mr. Spencer. He declared that the only promise he ever made was to reimburse the local attorneys for the reasonable value of their services, contingent upon success.

The case was brought to trial by the plaintiffs on two causes of action, one on the express contract for $100,000 contingent upon success, and the other for $150,000, the reasonable value of their services in the event that the court or jury should find that Mr. Smith had no authority to make a contract binding on the company. During the progress of the trial, the alternative cause of action was dismissed without prejudice and the case proceeded only on the theory of the $100,000 contract.

In Charge of Affairs.

Mr. Smith, the evidence disclosed, was a stockholder, director and officer of the company at the time of the retaining of the local attorneys. It was developed at the trial that the affairs of the company were left to a great extent entirely in his hands. His wife, Clara A. H. Smith, was also an officer and director in the company.

The suit for attorney's fees was hard fought from the start, the trial lasting for two weeks.

Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell of this city represented Spencer & Marshall at the trial of the action for attorneys' fees. The land company was represented by Fryberger, Fulton & Spear and Greene, Forbes & White. The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon after closing arguments had been presented by H. B. Fryberger, representing the company, and W. D. Bailey, representing Spencer & Marshall.

The jury took the case at 5 o'clock and agreed upon a verdict at 8:45 o'clock. The verdict was sealed, as the court was not in session at that time. It was opened and read when court convened at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Judge Dancer granted a sixty days' stay in the case in order that an appeal might be effected.

Under the court's charge, the jury was obliged to bring in a verdict of $100,000 or nothing. The court instructed the jury that should it find that the contract claimed by Spencer & Marshall to have been made with Mr. Smith was made and that Mr. Smith had the authority to make it, that a verdict for $100,000 should be returned in favor of the plaintiffs. If on the other hand they should so find, it would be their duty to find for the defendant, the court stated. The additional $3,300 was for interest on the $100,000 since July 1, 1913, when the bill for services became payable. While the case is under appeal, interest will accumulate at the rate of $6,000 a year.

Another action against the Higgins company, in which Frank A. Barber, a local mining man, is suing the company for $60,000 for his services between July 1, 1909, and July 1, 1913, will be brought to trial before Judge Dancer and another jury today. Barber asks that he be paid in that amount for introducing Spencer & Marshall to the company. He alleges that it was through his instrumentality that the services of Spencer & Marshall were engaged.

MANAHAN SEES GRAIN TRUST IN DULUTH AND OTHER TRADING PITS

controlling these organizations under their rules and by-laws in these three great markets, offering or withdrawing great quantities of wheat of the public warehouses or terminal elevators, and by concerted bidding in the pit on futures, to depress or raise the price of wheat to suit the purposes of their gambling operation."

He asserts that the cost of the trading and the profits thereof must come out of the price of wheat, and that the number of embezzlements and bankruptcies and wrecks "caused by gambling in wheat futures" is appalling, and that the members of the three exchanges cover and hide the losses sustained by speculators, and refuse to exhibit their books to the state officials whose duty it is to protect the public.

Control of Business.

Manahan also says that "it is generally believed that the business of the Chicago board of trade and its operations are controlled by memberships which are owned by a few large operators. He names in particular Armour, Peavey, J. Rosenbaum, J. C. Schaffer & Co. and Bartlett, Frazier, Carrington, and that the members not only make such rules and by-laws as serve their purpose, but act in conjunction with the members of the other two bodies to control most of the terminal elevators and public warehouses.

He charges further that such combinations of dealers as the Chicago board of trade, the Minneapolis chamber of commerce and the Duluth board of trade, acting under their by-laws in the marketing, grading, inspection and mixing of wheat, as well as in the making and publication of the price thereof and in the dealing of futures, are in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

branch running through Fullerton. All other lines were out of commission.

Emmit Osterman, a 13-year-old boy, was drowned yesterday at Santa Barbara. This was the only fatality reported here.

In some sections of Los Angeles streets were under ten feet of water for a brief period. Fire engines were requisitioned to pump out the flooded basements of several large buildings.

One of the telegraph companies reported today that 75 per cent of its wires were useless. Arizona virtually was cut off from wire communication.

Orange Orchards Flooded.

Retaining walls at various points in the foothill region of the orange growing section collapsed under the weight of water, and sent floods swirling through the orchards, inflicting great damage.

Several houses collapsed in Los Angeles. In many sections people used boats to navigate the streams.

Frank Chance Saves Three Men.

Glendora, Cal., Feb. 19. — Frank Chance, the Yankee manager, saved the lives of his brother-in-law, Karl Pancake, and two other men in the floods caused by the storm yesterday.

Pancake and two companions, Charles Gordon and Samuel Riser, were riding in a motor car when a retaining wall gave way and loosed a wall of water five feet deep into them. The car was overturned and the men swept through an orchard near Chance's place.

Chance witnessed the accident and, procuring ropes, floated them down to where the imperiled men were clinging to trees. All managed to grasp the ropes and were dragged to safety.

GORE VERDICT WELL LIKED

and from time to time whispered suggestions to them, could not restrain herself, and tears were in her eyes as she shook hands with the jury foreman.

Instantly, upon hearing the verdict, despite efforts of bailiffs to preserve order, the crowded courtroom was in a turmoil of excitement. The senator's friends and admirers raised cheer after cheer, while those displeased with the verdict silently pushed their way to the outside.

Mrs. Bond Unmoved.

Mrs. Bond apparently was unmoved by the verdict or the demonstration that followed. She sat quietly at a table, scribbling on a piece of paper, until her attorneys walked from the courtroom with her.

Argument in the suit began Tuesday and was closed Wednesday afternoon. Ten minutes later the verdict exonerating Senator Gore was announced.

Only one ballot was taken.

"We find," the jury stated in the verdict, "the evidence submitted by the plaintiff entirely insufficient upon which to base a suit; that said evidence wholly exonerates the defendant, and had the defendant, at the conclusion of the plaintiff's evidence, announced that he desired to introduce no evidence and rested his case, our verdict would have been the same in that event as now returned by us, in favor of the defendant."

The jury comprised nine farmers, a grocer, a banker and a broker.

Verdict in Four Minutes.

The case went to the jury after Morton Rutherford, attorney for Mrs. Bond, made the closing argument. Four minutes later a deputy was summoned to the juryroom.

"We have reached a verdict," the foreman told him.

A hush fell over the courtroom.

"The jury is coming in," whispered Mrs. Gore, wife of the defendant, as she leaned over and touched the senator's arm. She was weeping.

"Good," Senator Gore responded.

The senator sat bright listening, his face sober as it had been all through the trial.

"We, the jury, find for the defendant—" read the foreman.

Burst Into Cheers.

Then the courtroom burst into cheers. The crowd shouted. There were rebel yells and cowboy yells and bull calls, mingled with the stamping of feet, clapping of hands and pounding of umbrellas on seat backs.

No one tried to stem the cheering. It rose and subsided, then rose again. Judge Clark smiled. After the demonstration had lasted ten minutes the judge left the bench. Court never was adjourned. The judge forgot it. So did the sheriff.

Senator Gore alone remained calm. The crowd surged toward him. His wife had her arms around him. She was weeping almost hysterically. Hundreds crowded to get to the senator's hand to congratulate him. Men threw their arms about his shoulders. The demonstration last thirty minutes.

Mrs. Bond and her husband and attorneys left the courtroom while the demonstration was at its height.

Mrs. Gore declared she was "too happy for words." "I am thinking now of my babies and I want to get home to them," she said.

President Wilson was one of the first to send congratulations to Senator Gore after the verdict was returned. An hour later this telegram came from the White House, signed by the president:

"Hearty congratulations."

represent the state at the strike inquiry. Mr. Pepper is also judge advocate of the Michigan National Guard. Chairman Taylor read the telegram from Governor Ferris at the hearing today. Examination of witnesses on the subject of the militia was deferred until Saturday, whereupon Hilton declared that this delay would require another day for the strikers to finish their case.

Witnesses at the morning session related alleged instances of deputy sheriffs entering and searching their homes for weapons without warrants.

"The Upper Peninsula of Michigan stands alone in its administration of the law," declared Hilton, "and in no other place in the United States would it be tolerated." He argued that, under the Constitution and laws of the United States and this state, citizens were secure from unreasonable searches and seizures, but that in the Copper country deputies had broken down doors, had opened trunks, and had stolen money and property "without a shadow of legal authority."

Switzer Protested.

The chairman stated that the strikers had a right to try to prove that such conditions existed. Representative Switzer reiterated his belief that the committee should pursue the inquiry along the lines of the house resolution, and should not open the doors to everything that the two sides to the controverry should offer.

Peter Martinelli testified that he was severely beaten by deputies in the branch office of the sheriff at Quincy mine on Dec. 10 last. He said Sheriff Cruss was present and stopped the beating by saying: "That's good enough." Afterwards he was kept in jail for thirty days.

Under cross-examination the witness admitted that he knew that some deputies had been shot on Quincy hill about the same hour he was arrested. Counsel for the sheriff told the committee Martinelli had been arrested as a suspect in connection with the shooting. Witnesses denied that the sheriff had stopped the beating as soon as he observed it.

Searched by Citizens.

Several witness told of having been searched for weapons by deputies and members of the Citizens' alliance while the South Range raid on Dec. 11 was in progress. William Kaumisto, a striker, said he was stopped by deputies on his way to South Range and was ordered to go home. When he went to the union store instead, he said, he was searched and hit over the head. He then was put in jail and kept there for an hour, he said, after which he was sent home.

Charles Makkinen, another striker, declared that deputies invaded his home at South Range on the night of Dec. 2, got him out of bed and took him, handcuffed, to Houghton jail, where he was kept until 4 o'clock the next day. On his return, he said, he found a school broken open and a gold ring and chain were missing. On cross-examination, the witness said he thought the deputies stole the articles. He denied that he had violated any law.

Makkinen was arrested as a suspect in connection with an encounter which several strikers had with deputies when when the latter were fired upon. The deputies raided the Tomelo boarding house, in which their assailants had taken refuge, it is said, and arrested fourteen men.

Makkinen's story was corroborated by Mrs. Marie Hervila. She reached the house after the deputies had left, and found everything in disorder, she said.

Mrs. Hervila testified that deputies had fired into her house on two occasions. In November, she said, a bullet struck a window frame and frightened her children. A deputy fired at her home on Dec. 8, when the children were looking out of the window. On cross-examination, the witness said she did not think the deputy fired at the children, but shot into the air.

KANSAN TRIES TO KILL WIFE'S FAMILY.

Hutchinson, Kan., Feb. 19.—In what the police believe was a sudden fit of insanity, Abraham Ostatter, a pawnbroker here, early today shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Coahn, then shot his wife, Mrs. Sadie Ostatter, and his father-in-law, Joseph Coahn, inflicting probably fatal wounds. Ostatter then fell to the floor unconscious. A physician pronounced him suffering from epilepsy.

After being revived and lodged in the city jail, the pawnbroker said his family had attacked him.

The shooting took place at the home of Joseph Coahn, where the Ostatters were living. A suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Ostatter is pending in the district court.

MUTUAL DIVORCE GRANTED IN PARIS

CLARENCE H. MACKAY.

MRS. KATHERINE DUER MACKAY.

New York, Feb. 19.—A mutual divorce to Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company and numerous other corporations, and Katherine Duer Mackay, his wife, was granted by the courts of France on Wednesday last, it is announced here by Frederick Coudert, counsel for Mr. Mackay.

The decree obtained in Paris was the result of a suit brought by Mrs. Mackay on the ground of desertion. Mr. Mackay interposed a counterclaim on the same grounds. The decree grants the full custody of the three children to Mr. Mackay, with the right to visit them accorded to Mrs. Mackay.

John B. Stanchfield of counsel for Mrs. Mackay, gave out a statement in which he explained that a "mutual divorce" is common under the law in France. Under it a decree is granted to both parties where issues are joined by the defendant's filing a suit and urging the same grounds as were alleged by the plaintiff.

"In such cases," he explained, "the court makes an effort to reconcile the parties in open court, and this failing, issues a decree to both."

No monetary matters were mentioned, according to the attorneys. These, it is understood, were arranged a year ago when Mrs. Mackay signed away her title to the $6,000,000 home of her father-in-law, J. W. Mackay, the bonanza king of Comstock lode fame, gave her when she was married. This was at the time Mrs. Joseph A. Blake, wife of the noted surgeon, began a suit against Mrs. Mackay for $1,000,000, alleging alienation of the affections of her husband. This case did not become public property until June last. Subsequently it was withdrawn by consent of the parties about the time Mrs. Blake was granted a separation and $10,000 a year alimony.

Not Yet Docketed.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Although the Paris court delivered its judgment granting a divorce between Clarence S. Mackay and Catherine Duer Mackay on Feb. 11, the verdict has not yet been docketed. Coudert Bros., the attorneys of Mr. Mackay, who is confirming the divorce, were unwilling to give any details. The French newspapers are forbidden by law to publish reports of divorce suits.

ELY'S CREAM BALM OPENS CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD---CATARRH GOES

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely, Nasty Discharge Stops, Head Colds and Dull Headache Vanish.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning: the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

FAIL TO ADVERTISE; MARKET IS A JOKE

Only 125 Buyers Visit Chicago's Municipal Store.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—One hundred and twenty-five purchasers who spent $125 visited Chicago's first municipal market, which opened yesterday. Food was sold at cost price to persons out of employment. No preliminary notice had been given that the market would be open yesterday, and practically all the clerks had to do was to dust off the shelves where were beans priced at 3½ cents a pound instead of 7; soap at 3° cents a bar; rice at 2½ cents a pound instead of 6; bacon at 17 cents a pound; rolled oats 2 cents a pound and canned goods at 6 cents.

The Home Beauty Parlor

by Betty Dean

June: The "French complexion fad" you inquire about is probably the craze for liquid powders. They are thought to be more wholesome for the skin, as well as more beautifying and less likely to show, than ordinary powder. The following preparation can be made at home from ingredients to be purchased from any druggist. Get four ounces sprumax from your druggist, dissolve in one-half pint hot water and add two teaspoons glycerine. It is splendid in effect, looks very natural and clings as if it belonged to your skin.

Lilly: You will find shampooing with a teaspoonful canthrox dissolved in a cup hot water is a quick and pleasing way to free the scalp of dust, dandruff and excess oil. This is a cleanser and invigorator most appreciated by one whose scalp is either dry, scaly and itchy or profusely oily. Its use restored healthful vigor to my scalp and induced the hair to come in plentifully, with a gloss, and greatly enriched color.

Bess: The best blood-cleanser I know is kardene because it acts on the liver and kidneys and if, as you say, you are troubled with severe and constant headaches, it is an indication that your kidneys and blood need attention. To prepare, put one ounce kardene (from the drug store) into one-half pint alcohol (whisky should not be used) then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful before meals is the dose. This kardene tonic gently expels poisonous waste from the body and tones up the internal organs so they can do their work. You will find this tonic good for lost appetite, failing strength, and to clear up the complexion.

Lorelei: Even the woman of middle age nowadays is determined to keep her flesh down and who can blame her, now that present styles demand slimness. I always recommended parnotis (which I mix up at home) as the safest, cheapest and best flesh-reducer. Get four ounces parnotis at druggist's and dissolve in one and one-half pints hot water. Cool, strain, and take a tablespoonful before each meal. Dieting or exercise is not necessary with this.

Mrs. S.: My own experience with wrinkles was three years ago when I removed them with a very simple, inexpensive preparation which I made by mixing an ounce of almozoin (from my druggist's) in one half pint cold water and adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This, by contracting the skin slowly, restores healthy firmness and keeps the surface circulation of the blood so good that a perfectly natural glow develops in the cheeks. I have used it ever since.

Madge: No, you need not have lots of money in order to give your hair and scalp perfect care. I often recommend many made-at-home items which are even better than high-priced patents. As a hair tonic I get an ounce of quinzoin at the druggists, dissolve it in one-half pint of alcohol and add one-half pint of water. Rub a little at a time well into the scalp and your dandruff will disappear and you will keep your scalp healthy.

Exie: I brighten my eyes and rest them when tired by putting a few drops of crystos solution into each and bathing the lids with the same. I make the tonic by getting an ounce of crystos from the drug store and dissolving it in a pint of clear water. It will not smart and is soothing and healing. It is the safest way of making the eyes sparkling and expressive. Betty Dean's Beauty Book, $5.

ERRONEOUS REPORT OF GOODHOLM'S DEATH

This morning's paper erroneously announced the death of C. Axel Goodholm, one of the News Tribune pressmen, at the home of his parents, 2314 West Eighth street.

Mrs. Goodholm called up The Herald this morning and asked that the announcement be denied, for Mr. Goodholm, who has been sick for a week, is better this morning than he has been at any time since his illness began.

However, he is not yet out of danger, and is in a very serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodholm, who reside at 1727 Fiftieth avenue east, are the parents of a 5-year-old son. Mr. Goodholm has been assistant pressman on the News Tribune for thirteen years.

SANTA BARBARA MAROONED AGAIN.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Feb. 19.—Within a few moments of the arrival of Lord Decies and his wife, formerly Miss Vivian Gould, in their private car yesterday, the Southern Pacific railroad bridge over which the car passed was swept out by a freshet, and Santa Barbara was marooned again, so far as railroads are concerned, for the second time within a month.

Heavy rains which had swept Northern California reached here early yesterday, traveling as far south as Los Angeles. Emmet Osterman, a 13-year-old boy, was drowned in a creek here.

Downtown streets in Los Angeles stood under two feet of water for a time. Children were marooned in school buildings.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisurated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bisurated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

GIRARD CITY WATER STILL UP TO 90 DEG.

No Explanation of Phenomenon Is Given By Engineer.

Girard, Kan., Feb. 19.—No solution of the hot water mystery that developed a month ago when water in the city's deep wells rose to 120 deg. is offered in a report by C. A. Haskins, state engineer, made to city officials after an analysis of the water. Mr. Haskins said he could find no cause for the heat, but pronounced the water pure. The water's temperature still is 90 deg., but is causing little inconvenience.

The city water, which is obtained from two wells 1,200 feet deep, after showing a gradual warming-up tendency for several days, on Jan. 20, last, suddenly jumped from 80 to 120 deg., melting the valves and putting the water plant out of commission. After remaining at that temperature several days the water gradually cooled. New pumps were installed and the plant again put to work.

ELK INCREASING TOO FAST FOR FEED.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 19.—Twenty-six elk from the Olympic game preserve in Clallam county are to be turned over to the government for shipment to Oregon to be released in the national forests. There are now nearly 4,000 in the Olympic herd, which was on the verge of extinction when a law was passed several years ago forbidding the killing of any animals until 1920. Present increase is so rapid that the problem of feeding them during the winter is becoming urgent.

FAVORS SPANISH WAR PENSIONS.

Washington, Feb. 19.—A bill to authorize pensions of $12 a month for widows and $2 for children of dead Spanish war veterans was favorably reported by the house pensions committee. Widows or children with incomes of $250 or more a year would not be eligible to receive the pensions.

Stock Dividend.

New York, Feb. 19.—The National Carbon company has declared a stock dividend of 50 per cent on its 55,000 shares of outstanding common stock, or a distribution equivalent at par to $2,750,000. The company announced that it had been enabled to do so through the liquidation of certain assets.

WEST END

HERALD BRANCH:
Herman Olson, Manager, 1528 West Superior Street.

FROM FASHION TO FRONTIER

Former Duluth Pastor Will Be Missionary to Interior of Alaska.

Leaves Pulpit of Fashionable Chicago Church—Wife Accompanies Him.

Rev. James L. B. McBride, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, for three years, who early in the fall of 1910 left the local church to take charge of the fashionable Rodgers Park Presbyterian church of Chicago, will within a month begin a journey of 2,500 miles to the frozen north to become missionary in Alaska. The date of leaving Chicago has not been set, but the pastor and his wife will take the first boat from Seattle for Alaska on May 6.

The destination of the pastor and his young wife is Nashugak on Bristol bay, in the "Tundra" about which Rex Beach wrote in "The Silver Hoard." Whether they will remain there or establish themselves several hundreds miles farther in the interior on the road from Cook's inlet to Fairbanks, remains to be decided by the Presbyterian board of home missions. This question may not be decided until their arrival in the golden north.

Dr. McBide has accepted the call of the Presbyterian board to his new field of activities, and as a preliminary step has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Rogers Park church. He has had the matter under consideration for a year, and his decision was prompted by Mrs. McBride, to whose untiring energy and indomitable pluck he says he owes in a large measure his success in the Rogers Park pastorate.

Wife a Missionary.

Dr. McBride was married Oct. 3, 1911 to Miss Ethel McNaughton of New Albany, Ill. She was at the time of her marriage assistant pastor of the Fullerton Avenue Presbyterian church of Chicago. Just prior to her wedding she was preparing herself in a Presbyterian training school for missionary work in order to fit herself for missionary work in Alaska, so that the trip now planned is but a labor of love two years deferred.

In an interview given to a reporter of the Chicago Journal Mrs. McBride said she was not afraid to go.

"I long to get started, and I do not believe I shall be lonesome in my new surroundings," she said. "I will have my husband and my baby, and they will be a great comfort to me. Besides, there is so much to be done that my time will be fully occupied, and it will be a change from the life we have been accustomed to here. We will take our books, games and a music box, and we will be surrounded by our own little colony, so the long evenings will not drag unpleasantly."

May Build Hospital.

If Nushagak is determined upon, a hospital will be established there, and Dr. McBride will have charge of a district 225 miles from east to west and 175 miles from north to south. There will be a boat for use along the coast to bring in the unfortunates who will be treated in the hospital, and the party will ultimately be made up of Dr. McBride and his wife and baby, an engineer for the boat, a physician and surgeon, a housekeeper and one or two nurses. Native help, too, will be included in the household.

"The project is being financed by the Presbyterian board," said Dr. McBride, "and we expect to spend about $20,000 a year in carrying on the work. The natives up there are deplorably in need of something of the kind, and I believe we will be able to accomplish great good among them. The purpose is purely humanitarian, but at the same time we expect to make many converts to Christianity. Not long ago the government was forced to close the school at Nushagak on account of the abuses there. The natives may be said to be the victims of the white men. Many of them are dying of tuberculosis.

Will Take Year's Provisions.

"I am in hopes that it will be decided to establish the mission in the interior," continued the pastor, "and Mrs. McBride coincides with me in that. It will be more interesting and more profitable. The government contemplates the expenditure of $40,000,000 in the construction of a railroad from the sea coast to Fairbanks, and a large number of men will be employed in the work.

"Our work will be mostly among these young men. They will be Americans, which will make the work more agreeable, and will bring quicker and more lasting results. The road will open up the vast coal and copper resources of the country, which will give employment to many men, and it is quite probable that Alaska will within ten years have a population of 1,000,000 souls.

"We will take with us a year's supply of provisions, consisting of salt meats, canned goods and eatables not perishable, tub butter, tub lard and a cow and a bull. We expect to kill our own meat, principally the caribou, and of course there are plenty of fish to be had. There are four boats a year into Alaska, and we will have first-class mail once a month, and second-class mail during the four summer months. May, June, July and August, when they can get through the ice.

To Wear Native Dress.

"We will wear the native dress, consisting of trousers and coat with hood, called parka, and boots, all made of skins of fur-bearing animals with the hair turned out, but under this we will wear woolen underwear instead of skin suits with the fur turned in, as the natives do."

Mrs. McBride smiled assent and her husband continued:

"Our nearest neighbors will be 200 miles away, at the Moravian mission on Kuskakokwim river, near the coast. I expect to be out on the trail three or four weeks at a time, when I shall sleep either in the native igloos or on the snow in the open wrapped in a sleeping bag."

Dr. McBride organized the church in Rogers Park four years ago and built it up until it now has a thriving membership and owns church property valued at $40,000. He was graduated at Alma, Mich., and paid his own way through college by his labors as a college correspondent, while there he was captain of the baseball nine and fullback on the football team. He then went to Princeton and later took a course at McCormick seminary, Chicago.

STREET CAR MEN PLAN MAT BOUTS

Contests Will Be Held in Heavy, Light and Middle Classes.

Street railway employes of Duluth are planning a wrestling tournament to take place within another month. Arrangements are being made to stage three bouts, one in each, the heavyweight, middleweight and lightweight classes.

As yet the place for holding the bouts has not been decided. It is probable, according to one of the interested employes, that they will take place in some West end hall, where a small admission fee will be charged and the proceeds used later for buying a dinner for the contestants.

The principal match is being arranged between Ragner Larson, a motorman, who now claims the heavyweight title at the carhouse, and R. S. Smallidge, assistant road foreman. These men are said to be about equal in size and strength, while the former is conceded to know more about the game.

The middleweight bout will be between Andrew Olson, who a short time ago threw all competitors in an exhibition bout at the car barn, and August Kresal, and the lightweight bout will probably take place between Will Johnson and some employe who will weigh under 180 pounds.

NAMES COMMITTEES.

Commercial Club Will Appoint Its Department Heads.

At the meeting of the West End Commercial club this evening at Simonson's hall, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Superior street, the names of members of various committees will be appointed. The principal committee to be appointed will be one to act jointly with similar committees of the West Duluth Commercial club and the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club in furthering improvements of general benefit to the western end of the city. A committee to have charge of the garden contests will also be appointed.

Principals of the Lincoln, Adams, Munroe, Bryant, Ensign and Madison schools will be asked to co-operate with the garden committee as members of the committee. Some of these have already given their consent to act on the committee with the Commercial club members and it is expected that all will agree to assist.

Mickelson Funeral.

The funeral of Gustaf Mickelson, 27 years old, who was killed in Milwaukee Monday, will be held Sunday afternoon from the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. Interment will be made in the Oneota cemetery.

Mickelson was a former resident of the West end. He was working as a carpenter on a building in Milwaukee and sustained a fall from a scaffold. His skull was fractured in the fall and he died the next day. The body was taken to Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms.

West End Briefs.

Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, will leave this afternoon for Minneapolis, where he will remain over Sunday. The pulpit of the local church will be occupied by Rev. Swan Johnston of Cokato, Minn.

Mrs. David Adams, 2314 West Second street, entertained last evening for members of the Allen Bible class at her home.

Members of the Delta Gamma Dramatic club were entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Mae Baillie, 322 North Twenty-third avenue west. Rehearsals for two plays to be given in the near future were held.

Wallace E. Wright of Albert Lea is spending a few days visiting relatives in this end of the city.

Oscar Swanson of International Falls is spending a week a guest of relatives in this end of the city.

Miss Bertha Johnson of West Fifth street left yesterday for Minneapolis, where she will spend a month a guest of relatives and friends.

The G. I. A. of the B. R. E. will hold its regular meeting at 3 p. m. Friday at Woodmen hall.

The Hereau club of the Central Baptist church will entertain tomorrow evening at a Washington's Birthday social in the church parlors. A program will be given.

J. J. Hughes, 2105 West Superior street, left last evening for a week's visit in Milwaukee and Chicago.

BUILD UP YOUR KIDNEYS

Weak kidneys are the heritage of thousands of Americans. They are the cause of the housewife's backache pains when she rises from the scrubbing board, and the husband's rheumatic agony when he bends down to his work. They are also the cause, when those early symptoms are neglected, which leads to permanent kidney disablement, dropsy and Bright's disease. Yet few people take the trouble to look after their kidneys. They busy themselves in relieving the rheumatism and allaying the backache pains, when all the while the kidneys are struggling at their task, getting weaker and weaker and becoming hopelessly incapable of purifying the blood as they should. See that you do not make the same mistake. If you are using drugs or liniments for rheumatism, lumbago, blood disorders, or nervous ailments, stop at once. It is your kidneys that need help, and exactly the help they need is supplied by Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. It does not do the kidney's work (nothing can do that), but it strengthens and puts new vigor into them so they can perform their duties just as nature intended. All druggists, in 50c and $1.00 sizes. Every bottle guaranteed. A free sample if you write Warner Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 375, Rochester, N. Y.

FOUR ON SHIP BADLY INJURED IN STORM

Steamer Cairndon Meets Worst of Weather on Voyage.

New York, Feb. 19.—With her chief officer and three of her crew so injured by giant waves that their transfer to a hospital upon arrival in this port last night was necessary, the steamer Cairndon from London ended a trip that was a continuous battle with the worst of weather.

The Cairndon ran into the storm when the vessel was about 800 miles from this port. A terrific northwest gale was then encountered, and immediately seas broke over the vessel. One carried away four life boats, knocked down every ventilator and swept off the deck everything that had not been lashed down. The same wave put the steering gear of the Cairndon out of order, compelling Capt. Ross to lay up forty-eight hours for repairs.

Chief Officer Hopwood was severely cut about the face when the shock of the wave threw him against a combing. One seaman suffered a broken arm, another had three fingers cut off by the rim of a falling ventilator, while a third suffered a fracture of a rib.

SALVATION ARMY AT FRISCO FAIR.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 19.—More than 100,000 members of the Salvation Army from forty-six countries will assemble here Aug. 15 to 22, 1915, at a convention of the International Salvation Army. Maj. Fletcher Agnew of Chicago has been appointed secretary to the exposition.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross Drug store, 13 West Superior street.

WILSON SEES TRUST BILLS

Has Two-Hour Conference With McReynolds at White House.

Trade Commission Plan Is Given Special Attention.

Washington, Feb. 19.—President Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds spent two hours last night at the White House examining in detail the various bills pending before congress dealing with the trust problem. It was the first opportunity the president has had for long and detailed discussion on the subject with McReynolds, though they have been in brief conference frequently before.

No announcements were made afterward, the attorney general expressing the opinion that the whole question would have to be worked out gradually, but an idea of the principles which the administration desires embodied in the proposed legislation was gained from an authoritative quarter.

As to Trade Commission.

The attorney general and the president are in agreement that the proposed interstate trade commission can be made a valuable instrument for dealing with the trust problem providing its powers are properly restricted. It should not, they think, exercise any administrative or regulatory functions or in any way encroach upon the field of the department of justice. Cooperation between the department and the commission would be aimed at, much of the work now done by the department of justice being transferred to the new commission. The attorney general believes the interstate trade commission could gather facts and evidence in investigations that might be useful in a preliminary way for government prosecutions.

It is proposed to give the commission merely powers of inquisition possessed by a grand jury, its findings to be passed upon by the department of justice.

As to Small Concerns.

The suggestion that the commission be not required to obtain reports from small organizations and concerns under $5,000,000 in capitalization is being favorably considered, and there is a general disposition on the part of the president and the attorney general to advise that the new legislation should not interfere with the ordinary combinations or partnerships of small concerns, which in no way operate in restraint of trade or to produce monopoly.

What the administration is desirous of doing, is to add such legislation as will help to prevent monopoly, but will, in no way, increase the already debatable area around the anti-trust law.

CASES TRANSFERRED TO ST. LOUIS COUNTY

To suit the convenience of a large number of witnesses, two damage suits against the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railway company brought by David Pickett and Mattie Hurst, both colored, in Koochiching county, have been transferred to St. Louis county for trial. In the actions, Pickett and the woman allege that they were unlawfully ejected from one of the company's trains at Virginia, Nov. 5, 1913, while en route to Fort Frances, Ont. The company alleges that the negro was drunk and abusive and was armed with a revolver when the trainmen put him off. The woman, it is claimed, left voluntarily after he had been put off.

TAKE SODA FOR SOURNESS, GAS OR INDIGESTION

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. When we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, gas, gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

To get instant relief he tells us to get a package of 10 grain Sodagen tablets at any pharmacy and take one or two tablets anytime, followed by a tumbler of water which promptly neutralizes this irritating acid; stops fermentation; absorbs the gases and sweetens the entire digestive system.

A local down-town druggist states that these 10 grain Sodagen tablets are an old favorite antacid constantly prescribed because of their harmlessness, being simply a compound of Soda, Calcium Carbonate and Magnesia U. S. P.

Woman's Realm

Programs commemorating the birthday anniversary of George Washington are being planned in the various public and private schools of the city, to be given either tomorrow or Monday, and talks, music, recitations and folk dances have been prepared. A number of the schools will have short programs in the individual rooms or for the pupils, while others are planning public entertainments for parents and friends.

Tomorrow morning at the chapel exercises at the Central high school a program of readings and music of a patriotic nature will be given, for which arrangements are now being made by A. F. M. Custance, music director of the school, and Prof. Stenberg.

At Miss Wilson's school there will be a talk on Washington in the morning and the children will have a patriotic march.

At the Franklin school the day will be observed with exercises in the individual rooms. Moving pictures and victrola numbers will be part of the programs and recitations and songs have been prepared.

Evening Entertainment.

An evening entertainment has been planned to be given at 8 o'clock at the E. R. Cobb school at Woodland. CHILDREN INHERIT ARTISTIC INTINCT

GUINNESS CHILDREN.

These are two of the children of Mrs. Benjamin Guinness in the costumes in which they appeared in some recent tableaux in New York, dressed as two of the figures in a Fragonard painting. Mrs. Guinness is not only a conspicuous figure in social life, she is an artist also, and she is soon to paint a portrait of Billie Burke, which will be used as the front piece of a book made out of Miss Burke's latest play. Some of the artistic instinct of their mother has descended to the two Guinness children and they are often called upon to pose in tableaux given by society in New York.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Sympathize With Those Who Have to Witness Troubles of Others.

The most sympathetic, soft-hearted, emotional person in the world can become hard and callous in respect to certain phases of life if he happens to be placed where he hears and sees enough of the seamier side of life. For instance, if you knew someone who continually tells a tale of woe concerning his financial condition or who complains constantly about the state of his health, you in time come to give his doleful bleatings consideration.

If you have a liking for the person airing his troubles, you tolerate him or her longer than you do the person who bores you insufferably, no matter what he talks about. But after a while even the best of friends pall if they make an unpleasant subject the burden of conversation.

The observer of any incident common to the streets is almost always impressed with the stony-heartedness of the police. The ambulance surgeon seems hard and business-like in his efforts to relieve the sufferer who has met with an accident, and all hospital officials and assistants give the same impression of being void of tender instincts.

A wider experience with men and women and things has shown me how impossible it would be for these public officials to take the troubles of each individual with whom they come in contact in one day upon themselves. A person of the caliber to suffer and sympathize with each case of trouble that he met wouldn't last a week. The difficulties of those who confide their troubles broadcast would make havoc of the mind of the soft-hearted individual.

You rarely meet a person who has dealt with the public on a large scale for any length of time who appears to take any stock in either the masses or their woes. As for sympathy, only the most genuine cases of need and suffering can arouse as a rule. They are not to be fooled in the main, and their apparent coldness to the weal and woe of the populace but attests to the imposition practiced upon them every hour of the day.

Perhaps a police officer makes you very indignant because he does not hewail with you the loss of your purse. But would you, after you had heard hundreds repeat the same experiences, be able to shed tears with the loser? Hardly.

Of course, the police officer, the car conductor, the ambulance surgeon, the hospital nurse and the other folk who wait on the public are paid to do just that. But they are only human, and their patience wears out like that of everyone else. That they renew it and put on such a smiling front on all troubles they are forced to heed in one working day is very much to their credit.

Duby, and Miss Grace Broman. Mrs. Gibson will entertain at a second party soon.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Photoplay.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—"The Man of the Hour."

Amusement Notes.

"An actor, especially if he has 'come along some,' isn't necessarily 'stuck up' or 'swell headed' because he holds aloof," observed William Hodge a few evenings ago as his contribution to a symposium on actors who are becoming rich through the improved business conditions of the theater plus the changed attitude of the general run of players toward the social conventions. "This season's all night good fellow, with the throttle wide open to all kinds of fun and a voice ever in condition for a bit of close or tonsorial harmony at 3 a. m., can say reasonably, next season, refuse to take part in such things if, meantime, he shall have advanced in professional importance. It doesn't mean that he's a prig necessarily; it means his management can be observed and still further increased by making himself what we all must be to be successful in this game—to-wit, a show thing. The man who calls theatricals and the persons thereof 'show business' is employing a better locution than the man who uses some other and better sounding term, believe me.

"My point being just this—that the public will pay to see only that which may not be seen without paying. If we made it a case of free admission for 'The Road to Happiness,' who is it would insist on depositing 42 at the box office before passing the portal? There is no wild curiosity on the part of even his friends to pay to see the fellow, be he ever so clever, who exhibits his cleverness at 2 a. m. in the cafes. As a rule, his friends expect him to provide them with passes. And, moreover, he generally does! Now and again, of course, a chap with real genius is able to prevail over even these free exhibitions of himself and lure folks to the playhouses, but he isn't a frequent occurrence."

Miss Dolly Richards, whose eccentric methods of fun making are giving Orpheum patrons many a good laugh this week, provides almost as much amusement for her acquaintances in private life as she does theater patrons while she is on the stage.

Her comedy is much similar in type to that of Florence Moore, and it does not cease when she leaves the stage. The interviewers get as much amusement from talking to Miss Richards as they do in listening to her act.

"I think I am a lot like Mary Garden," said Miss Richards, last evening. "Neither of us can sing. I also tried to make my acting impressive to make up for my lack of voice, just like Mary has done. It so impressed the first manager I approached that he fired me and told me to go back to the kitchen. He asked me if I had taken a correspondence school course in acting or had inherited my talent from my great grandmother. He told me a lot of other things, but you wouldn't print them if I told them to you, and I am too much of a lady to repeat such language.

"He said my acting was the funniest thing he had ever seen. That gave me an idea. If it made him laugh it had to be going some, for he was the original frozen face. So here I am, happy in vaudeville, for I eat three regular meals a day, sleep in a regular hotel, and have regular money to jingle in my purse—sometimes.

"Then it adds to the zest of life to see some man in the front row with a face like a cake of ice and wearing that 'make-me-laugh-darn-you-I-dare-you' expression. If I can coax a smile out of one of that tribe I don't care whether I get paid or not. He is the kind of man who would laugh his head off if a performer fell and broke a leg by accident, but will resist any legitimate attempt to coax a smile while he had a breath left."

"The Man of the Hour" will come to the Empress theater today for a three-day engagement.

Many have wondered wherein lies the charm that makes this unartificial play so attractive. No matter how often the sophisticated theatergoer tries to get away from the inevitable answer, back he comes to the one simple word explaining it all—nature. The characters do not "play," they do not "act"—they are. Sentiments as old as time may be uttered by them, but the attention, the interest never flags from the rising of the curtain to the fall thereof. It is as much a gift, as great as boasted "histrionic power," to be able to create such interest for the commonplace. But there you are. Is it "commonplace" to be "real" and just like other folks with honest, loving, sweet-tempered hearts? Manager Robert Sherman's special company will be seen at this engagement.

A novel idea which will, undoubtedly, be much copied, was originated by the Messrs. Allardt when they first conceived their vaudeville sensation, "The Recitagraph." In this offering they present Fred K. Weston, one of the best known photo-play leading men, in the title role of their picture, "Ostler Joe." The novelty of the attraction lies in the fact that while the film is being projected, Mr. Weston appears on the stage in person reciting the poem of the same title. While many attempts have been made to present various kinds of talking pictures, the Messrs. Allardt are the original and only producers to offer the "man-in-person" and on the screen, while Mr. Weston enjoys the distinction of being the first, and at present the only, actor to appear in conjunction with his own "celluloid" image. "The Recitagraph" will open at the Empress theater Sunday matinee for four days.

VALUABLE SUPPORT FOR THE SUMMER FESTIVAL PLAN.

Aad Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and Aad Temple Patrol, which is to the Temple what a strong right arm is to the body, both passed ringing resolutions last night indorsing the plan for a midsummer festival and pageant to be given by Duluth in 1915, and pledged their heartiest support and co-operation.

This is the kind of public spirit that counts.

The Shriners are not only for the festival, but they are ready to plunge into it with all their energy and talent and resources. They are ready to take any part that may be assigned to them, in making preparations, in raising money for the work, and in the pageant itself.

And with their peculiar talents for dramatic pageantry, for organizing and carrying out intricate schemes of entertainment, and for breathing the fine fire of enthusiasm and zeal into broad plans for striking and impressive display, the Shriners are a host in themselves.

Moreover, their prompt action in indorsing the plan and in offering their services sets an illustrious example which other organizations will no doubt hasten to emulate.

The Retail Merchants' association has already indorsed the plan with characteristic promptness and vigor.

Steps to get together representatives of every available organization in a general committee of arrangements evidently will soon be in order.

Reno, Nev., had an earthquake the other day. Which disposes of the old notion that Reno harbors nothing but family jars.

THE FRONTAGE TAX FOR WATER EXTENSIONS.

The proposal to levy frontage assessments for water extensions exactly as for street improvements is still under discussion.

Commissioner Merritt is wedded to the plan, is urging it upon public opinion, and is minded to put it into effect.

It ought not to go into effect, however, until the community is clearly convinced that it is wise and right.

The Herald has been utterly unable to find reason to approve the plan, though it recognizes the fact that it is aimed at a real evil, and that it is put forth in good faith and is intended for the city's best interests.

The evil at which the project is aimed is that owners of unimproved property which they are holding for a rise often refuse to participate in the eight-per-cent guaranty now required for water extensions, thus throwing the burden upon home-builders.

That evil, we should think, could be reached as easily by a provision assessing a proper share of the GUARANTY to all property-owners affected. That would compel owners of unimproved property held for speculation to assume their share of the burden from which they profit by an increase in the value of their property.

It is unwise to increase the handicaps upon home-building unnecessarily; and that is what the frontage assessment plan would do. Our system of taxation already puts too great a penalty on home-building. The penalties should not be increased by spreading an assessment for water extensions.

But a still greater injustice is involved in the plan. The richer and settled portions of the city are already provided with water service, all installed on the guaranty plan. The extensions have been paid for largely out of bond issues. The interest and principal of these bonds must be met out of the earnings of the plant—in other words, by consumers of water.

Future extensions will be largely in outlying sections, where people of moderate means will build homes. What Mr. Merritt's plan means, then, is that not only will these home-builders be required to pay the full cost of their water extensions, but also, through their water rates, the cost of extensions heretofore made in the richer and older sections of the city.

Under this plan, when plain John Smith builds a home in a new suburb, he must first pay the full cost of the extension needed to give him water service, and then he must pay twice over—in interest and principal—for the water extensions that serve the wealthy sections of the East end.

Everybody who benefits by a water extension should stand his full share of the expense. Those who hold property for speculation should not be permitted to benefit by water extensions and yet evade their share of the burden, as they do now.

But this injustice can be remedied easily, if it is legal, by spreading the guaranty so it will reach all benefited property-owners.

To increase the handicaps and penalties on home-building, and especially to require poor home-builders to pay not only for their own service extensions but for those already established to serve the homes of the wealthy, is not a policy that commends itself to sound judgment.

A Peoria concern is found to have made a mistake of $660,000 in its bookkeeping. How would a mistake like that make your accounts look?

"FREE TOLL ROBBERY."

Most of the criticism of the infamous measure giving American coastwise vessels a disguised subsidy in the form of exemption from Panama canal tolls, at the cost of breaking treaty agreement, is on a high level. Some of it is not.

For instance, here are some of the arguments of the Chicago Tribune, published under the above caption:

> Free tolls for American coastwise ships through the Panama canal will bring cheaper freight rates between New York and San Francisco—that is, unless the coastwise shipping trust absorbs the saving given it at the expense of the American taxpayer. • • • Chicago manufacturers and merchants are competitors of New York manufacturers and merchants for the California trade.
> The free toll provision of the Panama canal act is a blow struck at them for the benefit of their competitors. • • • As the canal act stands today, Chicago will be robbed, Illinois will be robbed, the Middle West will be robbed. It is outrageous that any Americans shall advocate such robbery. • • • There can be no peace in the political world during the continuation of the successful conspiracy to despoil the West for the benefit of the shipping trust or for localities whose representatives are now in power in the government.

In the first place, he who fancies the shipper would get any benefit from the toll exemption subsidy, or anybody but the shipping trust, is too sanguine for this merciless world.

In the second place, the Tribune's arguments place the controversy on the lowest possible level.

If the Middle West can fight the exemption solely because it benefits the East—and if it did benefit the East it would also benefit the Pacific coast—then the East has a perfectly legitimate right to fight FOR the exemption. It is dog eat dog.

The exemption provision is brutally wrong not because it hurts Chicago and may help New York and San Francisco, but because it violates the pledged word of the United States.

For a valuable consideration, this nation pledged its word to Great Britain that the vessels of all nations should have equal treatment at the canal. Maybe that was an ill-judged bargain; but it was a bargain openly and knowingly made, and therefore it is a bargain that the nation must keep or stand convicted before the world as a swindler and a cheat.

The issue is not whether this city or that shall profit or pay, but whether the promise of the United States of America is to be worth a tinker's dam.

A moonshine still in a soldiers' home was discovered from the fact that so many soldiers asked to be transferred to that home. Another case of being advertised by loving friends.

CLOTHES AND EATING.

The afflicted consumer and breadwinner gets it coming and going.

Dr. A. E. Taylor, professor of chemistry in the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania, says that one new item in the cost of living is that women, with the thin attire they affect these days, have to eat more to keep warm, and so need about ten per cent more heat units in their food than when they are warmly clad.

If the thin clothing women wear these days, with marvelous contempt for weather conditions, were any cheaper than the warm clothing fashion used to let them wear, there would be a compensating advantage. But it appears to cost about as much to dress a women in a pound and a half of clothing as it used to to clothe her in ten pounds.

And then, to have her increase her food consumption by ten per cent, and thus add further to the high cost of living, is enough to make the persecuted and pursued breadwinner fancy that the whole world is in a grim conspiracy to ruin him.

The Prayer That Little Juddie Knew

From "The Keeper of the Vineyard," by Caroline Abbot Stanley.

Eleanor Dilweedy, a Chicago school teacher, takes her brother's orphaned children to a farm in a remote Ozark district. The baby of a poverty stricken couple of the neighborhood dies. There is no minister within calling distance. Miss Dilweedy writes of the incident to her friend, Madge, in Chicago.

Madge, did you ever see a burial without a prayer? I hope I may never witness another. If I live a hundred years I shall never forget that scene—the lonely little grave on the hillside with the solemn sighing forest beyond; and at its brink the smitten parents and ourselves—a handful of shepherdless sheep—gathered about them.

Mr. Burson and the carpenter rested the little white coffin on pieces of wood across the grave and then stood with uncovered heads. The silence was appalling. It seemed to me I could not breathe.

Mr. Burson began to fidgit with the reins he had taken off to lower the coffin with. Then the mother whispered something to the father, and he asked:

"Is there anyone that can offer a prayer?"

Not a person stirred. Our lips were palsied. I looked at Mr. Burson imploringly. He shook his head. At Mr. Honn. He turned away. At Mr. Gitmer. His eyes were on the ground. Madge, it was frightful!

Then the mother's voice was heard, low, but hard and bitter:

"Nobody in this God-forsaken place that can say a prayer over a dead baby?"

I felt a tug at my dress. It was Juddie. I had brought him with me because there was no one to leave him with, Eczema being inconsolable at the thought of missing the "burryin'," as she called it.

"Aunt Nell," he whispered, "I know a prayer."

"Say it," I told him, for I was perfectly desperate.

And the next thing we heard was his sweet, childish treble smiting the stillness, slowly and solemnly:

Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to keep.
If I should die before I wake,
I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to take.
And this I ask for Jesus' sake.
Amen.

At the first words a change came over the face of that stricken mother. Convulsive sobs shook her frame, and the sealed fountains of her grief were broken up.

"It is baby's prayer!" she sobbed. "Baby's prayer."

Then casting herself down on the ground beside the little casket and the open grave she raised her clasped hands and streaming eyes to heaven, repeating brokenly in an agony of supplication:

Now I lay her—down to sleep.
I pray Thee—Lord—her soul—to keep.
• • • • • • • •
I pray Thee—Lord—her soul to keep—
Her soul—to keep—
Her voice sank to a whisper.
• • • —her soul—to keep.

We lifted her gently up and she said quietly:

"Go on, I can bear it now."

The Stenographers

Harper's Weekly: A woman of much quiet charm and culture, who earns her living by swift and accurate stenography, has sent us a letter in which she points out the frivolous treatment of the stenographer in popular literature. As to her appearance, see O. Henry's "The Romance of a Busy Broker:"

> A high rolled fringe of golden hair under a nodding canopy of velvet and ostrich tips, an imitation seal-skin sack and a string of beads as large as hickory nuts, ending near the floor with a silver heart.

As to her mentality, consult "Short Story Writing," by Prof. Pitkin of Columbia university:

> The gum chewing stenographer, who devours the literary offspring of Mr. Robert Chambers, may have her difficulties with this.

Her conversation is described in a story in Red Book for November:

> Believe me, when it comes to the real thing, the blow-in-the-bottle kind, our Bill's got the best of 'em beat to a fade-away.

Her equiment may be found described in any of the alleged comic papers:

> Have you done anything for spelling reform? Yes, I fired my blond stenographer.

Why is she so treated? We all know the facts. Among those earning their living in this way happen to be George Washington's great-grandniece, a granddaughter of a governor of South Carolina, a great-granddaughter of Laurens of the First continental congress, and thousands of others of cultivated ancestry. Many are college graduates. The truth is the world loves familiar jokes and familiar effects, and if one sterotyped trick gets started and proves amusing to the average mind, it is hard to stop.

The Key to Bergson's Philosophy.

John Burroughs in the Atlantic: There are two short sentences in Bergson which hold the key to his philosophy. "Living nature," he says, "is more and better than a plan in course of realization." And again, "Everything is obscure in the idea of creation if we think of things that are created, and a thing, that creates." This view is the work of our practical intellect. When we see a house, we think of the builder, when we see a watch, we infer the maker, and this attribute of mind is necessary to our successful dealing with concrete things; but inorganic nature the house and the watch are always being made, and every day is a day of creation; the forms of life are like the clouds in the summer sky, ever and never the same; the vital currents flow forever, and we rise to the surface like changing, iridescent bubbles that dance and play for a moment, and are succeeded by others, and ever others. The vital impulse absorbs Bergson's attention, "not things made, but things in the making; not self-maintaining states, but only changing states. Rest is never more than apparent, or, rather, relative." This is the way Bergson gets rid of the old conception of design and finalism in nature. He thinks of the creative impulse or tendency in terms of the mobile, the incalculable, the ever-changing.

Willie's Confession.

Pearson's Weekly: Little Willie had been very naughty. So much so, in fact, that after having reproved him several times his mother was at last forced to severely punish him.

When his father arrived home in the evening he at once perceived that Willie's eyes were suspiciously red.

"What's the matter, sonny?" he cried.

"Oh, nothing," responded Willie, uneasily.

"Come, don't be frightened," said the father, in coaxing tones. "Tell me all about it; I want to know."

Willie remained silent for some time, then he suddenly burst out:

"Well, if you must know, I've had a thundering row with your wife."

An English View of Wilson and the Trusts

Editorial in the London Times.

After having successfully forced through congress a measure of tariff revision, and procured a more or less workable reform of the American banking and currency system, President Wilson has now taken up the problem of the trusts. That is the last and, in many ways, the most intricate and contentious of the three main questions that for over a generation have complicated the relations between business and government in the United States. It cannot be said to have received any very statesmanlike treatment hitherto. The principal statute governing the subject is the Sherman anti-trust act of 1890, and the principal clause in that act lays it down that "every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations, is hereby declared to be illegal." The supreme court has at times prohibited all combinations that could be proved to restrain trade even in the slightest degree. At other times it has seemed to favor the notion that only an excessive or unreasonable restraint of trade was intended to be illegal. One administration has virtually permitted the act to lie dormant; another has made it the bases for systematic prosecutions; a third has attempted to draw a line between "good" trusts and "bad." The first step toward clearing up this variegated confusion is obviously to arrive, if possible, at some statutory definition that will separate the agreements and combinations that act hurtfully "in restraint of trade" from those that are manifestly to the public advantage or convenience; and this step President Wilson recommends.

It is probable, however, that attention will be chiefly concentrated on his proposal that interlocking directorates should be declared illegal. It was to this aspect of the trust problem that the Pujo committee in the main devoted itself; and the evidence it collected undoubtedly tended to disclose an excessive concentration of credit in the hands of a relatively small and closely associated group of New York financiers. The committee found that the members of three firms of bankers, and the directors of the trust companies which they controlled together held 341 directorships in 112 corporations, with aggregate resources of over £4,000,000,000; and there is some reason for thinking, not only that the actual amount of capital thus influenced by the inner ring was considerably underestimated, but also that its power was as well established in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and other financial centers as in New York. It has been claimed that these "banker-barons" have levied an exorbitant toll on the financial needs of the community; that they have suppressed, not alone competition, but industrial freedom itself, and that the only way to liberate American business was absolutely to forbid interlocking directorates in all the chief classes of corporations. To this view President Wilson has now given his official adhesion; but whether legislation along the lines he suggests will alter the realities as well as the superficial form of things has still to be seen.

What is perhaps the most significant feature in the message is its undertone of friendliness toward the big business interests of the country and of sympathy with them in a predicament that is by no means solely of their own making. The president expressly declares that the prosperity of the railways and the prosperity of the country are inseparable; he affirms with equal emphasis that the antagonism between business and the government is over; he recognizes and welcomes the atmosphere of accommodation and mutual understanding in which the whole problem is now debated; and he claims for his proposals that they represent the best judgment and the business conscience of the nation. If congress and Wall Street can be induced to emulate his tolerant and reconciling temper, some really fruitful legislation may result. Certainly the trusts, for their part, ought to have learned by now that they have far more to gain by co-operating with the government than by fighting it.

Remedy for "Voter's Daze."

The Survey: "Voter's daze" may not be classed with painter's colic, potter's palsy and other occupational diseases, but all civic doctors have noted its blighting effect on local government. The most popular remedial prescription is labelled "short ballot."

The latest and a most convincing diagnosis comes from Chicago, where the bureau of public efficiency finds that there are no less than nineteen distinct governing agencies in the territory comprising the city. Most of these are absolutely independent of one another, and each voter is called upon to choose officials—national, state and local—for 144 different elective positions. All the voters of the city choose or help choose no less than 368 elective officials. And these figures do not include the twenty-nine presidential electors whose names appear on the ballot every four years.

The ballot presented to voters of Chicago at certain elections is larger than that used in any other community in the world, with one or two possible exceptions. Chicago's greatest needs, according to the bureau, are the unification of its local governments and a short ballot.

The bureau has shown that consolidation of the thirteen different local park governments with the city government would not only effect a money saving of $500,000 a year, but would result in increased efficiency in the administration of park affairs.

The money saving from the unification of all, or nearly all, of the local governments in Chicago would be many times greater, the report states, than the half million which would be saved through the consolidation of the park government with the city government. Furthermore, the increase in efficiency from unification and reduction in the number of elected officials would be enormous.

The Little Ills of Life.

Thackeray: The little ills of life are the hardest to bear, as we all very well know. What would the possession of a hundred thousand a year, or fame, and the applause of one's countrymen, or the loveliest and best beloved woman—of any glory and happiness, or good fortune, avail to a gentleman, for instance, who was allowed to enjoy them only with the condition of wearing a shoe with a couple of nails or sharp pebbles inside it? All fame and happiness would disappear and plunge down that shoe. All life would rankle round those little nails.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota has no recollection of getting through twenty-four hours in recent years without consuming a pot of baked beans.

Here is the reason:

Crawford spent part of his early youth in Northeastern Ohio. One day he went on an excursion train to a nearby town to hear a prominent orator of the day make a political speech. He expected to strike somebody he knew when he got there and borrow money enough to buy his dinner. But he didn't chance to see a familiar face. And he got no dinner. Then he lost his return ticket and was obliged to walk back home—about twenty-five miles. Still he had had nothing to eat. When finally he staggered into his own home, meal time was over, but his aunt went to the pantry and brought out what there was, including a large dish of baked beans. Young Coe ate heartily of these, just as long as the supply lasted and he then and there got such a favorable impression of the edible qualities of baked beans that he has been a more or less rabid bean enthusiast clear down to the present day.

Instead of making memoranda of his daily program in a little book or on his cuffs, Representative John W. Langley of Kentucky has a different system. He uses a blackboard.

The blackboard is a rather pretentious affair occupying almost the entire end of Langley's office. It is so placed that he is obliged to stare at it while sitting at his desk. Whenever he thinks of anything that he ought to do in the course of the day, Langley takes chalk in hand and writes it on the blackboard in large letters. Sometimes the letters are as large as those in the electric signs in front of theaters.

Langley's system has a dual advantage. It not only prevents him from forgetting the important features of his day's program, but is a source of light for visitors. You drop into Langley's office and without asking a word, you know just where the man has been and what things hace been on his mind throughout the livelong day. It is just like looking at a cross section of his brain.

And if you wish to leave a message there is no need of entrusting it to some third party who might forget. You write it on the blackboard. There is enough chalk at hand to supply a country school through an entire term.

Payne's specialty is making strawberry shortcake. He can prepare better crust for strawberry shortcake than anybody in Washington, in or out of public life.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, was never a complete triumph back in his schooldays when it came to the study of mathematics. His teachers used to feel like going out and barking at the trees by the time they got through giving him an hour's instruction in fractions. He was good enough at other branches, had many excellent traits of character and all that, but he couldn't tell with any degree of certainty whether the hound would catch the hare in forty leaps or forty days.

Finally when he got into algebra, Daniels decided to quit mathematics flat, and give his time to those studies that were not despoiled with minus and plus signs.

"I'm afraid you'll never amount to enough to wad a gun with," cheerfully forecasted his mathematics teacher.

"Oh, I don't know," ventured young Josephus, with optimism, "I get along all right at other things—when I'm not bothered by figures."

"Yes," said the professor, "but it has been my experience that the fellow who can't get mathematics never makes much headway."

Years passed, and shortly after he was married, Daniels went down to Atlanta to make a speech. In introducing him Henry Grady chanced to talk briefly about the difficulty of mastering fractions and remarked that he had never been able to learn how to add 1-7 and 1-9.

Daniels was overjoyed at the discovery that a great man like Henry Grady had difficulty with mathematics. He could scarcely speak for chuckling. And the moment he was able to get away from the platform, he dashed up to a hotel and wrote a letter to his one-time mathematics teacher boasting about the trouble Henry Grady had when he attempted to add 1-7 and 1-9.

If that teacher had lived to see Daniels in the president's cabinet he might have been an astonished man.

Representatives J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania and Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming are two of the most inveterate talkers in the house. They can find a great deal to say on almost any subject—and do. Both sit on the Republican side of the house, but each is so eager to spread language over the virgin pages of the Congressional Record that they are constantly getting in each other's way like two willing boys trying to help mother.

The other night Moore gave a big dinner. Mondell was one of the guests and was called on for a speech. After he had been talking for a while, a strange, glad light o'erspread his face and he observed gratefully to the genial and urbane host:

"I believe this is the first time I have ever talked when you were present without being interrupted."

Carlyle Knew How to Read Job.

Springfield Republican: Carlyle was once asked to take the reading at family prayers during a short visit paid to his friend, the provost of Kirkcaldy. The Bible chanced to open at the first chapter of the book of Job, and Carlyle immediately became absorbed in his subject and read on and on to the end of the last chapter, when, closing the volume, he remarked:

"That is a marvelous lifelike drama, only to be appreciated when read right though."

It is fair to infer that it was appreciated for once. Any one who has taken a long, solitary afternoon and attempted to give the book of Job an opportunity to be appreciated by reading it honestly through at one sitting can realize the consternation of the provost. Such a one will not be likely to wonder with Carlyle why he was not asked again to assist at family prayers in that household.

No Joke.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "The drama in America is still in its infancy," said the producer.

"You mean its second childhood," corrected the critic.

The State Auditorship

Press Comments on the Rines-Preus Contest.

Machine or Not?

Albert Lea Tribune: It is a well known fact that the Smith organization has been considering the feasibility of capturing the auditorship since Samuel Iverson announced his gubernatorial candidacy, and it finally decided to do so and Mr. Preus was likewise decided upon as the man to make the run for the place. As a matter of fact the only great demand which has come upon Mr. Preus for the place has come from Ed Smith and his machine associates. They want to control the office.

The only question in the matter is whether the people of Minnesota want to hand it over to the machine as the governorship has been handed over.

In Henry Rines of Mora, speaker of the last house of the legislature, the people of Minnesota have a strong candidate and a man, who if chosen for that office will adminster it in their interests rather than in the interest of the special interests which the machine stands for. Mr. Rines is a man with a wide acquaintance of public affairs and well fitted to administer the duties of this important office, and best of all he will not wear Ed Smith's collar.

It Probably Will.

Albert Lea Standard: Mr. Preus, pronounce it Price, enters the list for state auditor. He is now insurance commissioner, but hankers for a better thing, and maybe thinks by getting on the Eberhart machine he will get it. It ought to finish him.

The Machine Would Control All.

Fertile Journal: J. A. O. Preus has announced his candidacy for the auditorship. We know comparatively little about Mr. Preus, but what we do know about the man reflects no particular credit on him politically. There seems little doubt that he is a machine candidate backed by the Eberhart-Smith forces. Mr. Rines, who was in the field before him for the same office, has fully demonstrated his political straightforwardness and we feel that he stands for what is true and honest and upright in politics. Mr. Preus' entrance then would seem to indicate that the machine will not confine its efforts to the governorship in the state offices, but will probably make a fight for each and every one of them.

And That's Bad Enough.

Mahnomen Journal: J. A. O. Preus, insurance commissioner, has formally announced his candidacy for the office of state auditor. The worst that can be said of Mr. Preus is that he has the backing of the Eberhart machine.

Some "Inside Dope."

Fairmont Sentinel: Henry Rines is the boy who put the abatement law through the legislature and it is the abatement law that is cleaning up the nastiness and corruption of St. Paul. Is it any wonder that the brewery combine has him blacklisted?

Good Man; Wrong Crowd.

Wahkon Enterprise: J. A. O. Preus, state insurance commissioner, has finally acceded to the demands of the Eberhart-Smith-Hamm machine and announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state auditor. We have no reason to doubt Mr. Preus' ability to fulfill the duties of that office, and his personal reputation and character are said to be very good, but in the present instance we believe that he has made a mistake. He has aligned himself with the exponents of predatory control of our state government—a crowd that is persona non grata to a large percentage of the people of the state.

A Senatorial Contrast

Art Young in the Metropolitan: You remember that deadlock in the Illinois legislature that lasted several months? When it was finally broken, the result was James Hamilton Lewis and Lawrence Y. Sherman, senators of the United States.

If you want a contrast, this is it. Though he dresses "fit to kill," it is unfair to say that Senator Lewis is showy and not give him credit for utility. They say he has been in turn a longshoreman and a miner. Many years ago he was a member of the house of representatives for the state of Washington. So you see, he has worked up—or rather out. How much is due to pose and how much to brains is to be credited when he gets through bowing and smiling down the corridor of time.

Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman is not much of an "after you," nor yet a dresser. He wears a small quiet necktie, and clothes that look tossed on with a faith that in time they would adjust themselves. He walks in and out of the senate chamber with a kind of careless shoulder hunch, as if pushing dignity aside so that he can get through with his work. Sherman was once lieutenant governor of Illinois. He is filling the unexpired term of William Lorimer, who was pried out of his seat, and "no one has heard of him since." Senator Sherman may be a candidate for election to the senate by popular vote and then again he may not.

He stands by the Constitution as a sacred document and hates everything Socialistic. Yet in spite of much intellectual rust he is bright enough to see the logic of woman's suffrage.

His colleague—strange to relate—the brilliant, scintillating Jim Ham, is against the proposition.

Having proved his willingness at all times to give compliments and courtesy so freely and to outdo Alphonse or Gaston, if need be, for woman's sake, he may feel that it is asking too much of him to include also the right to vote.

And he may be right, for, after all, they might vote against him.

A Tribute to Women.

Maeterlinck: They lead us close to the gates of our being. May it not be during one of those profound moments when his head is pillowed on a woman's breast that the hero learns to know the strength and steadfastness of his star? And indeed will any true sentiment of the future ever come to the man who has not had his resting place in a woman's heart?

She knows. And if you think you have deceived her, and that her impression is wrong, be sure that it is she who is right, and you yourself who are mistaken; for you are more truly that which you are in her eyes, than that which in your soul you believe yourself to be—and this even though she may forever misinterpret the meaning of a gesture, a smile or a tear. • • •

Hurrah for the Feminists!

Edward S. Martin in the Atlantic: We ought to be thankful for the Feminists, no matter what we think of the shrill cries of some of them, and the curious hopes of some others. If there is anything the matter it is best to know it. Typhoid germs being hostile to life, it is better to have some cases of typhoid, than not to know that the germs have got into the milk or the drinking water. A large proportion of what Mr. George says the Feminists want, women have either got already or are sure to get. But as to the debatable, and even the preposterous, hopes which they entertain, it is better that they should clamor about them than that their mental disturbance should not be advertised. It takes a great many different kinds of ginger to drive great movements. Government—republican government—is the resultant of many forces driving on different slants and heading one another off. No doubt there are extreme conservatives who counterbalance the extreme Feminists, and talk as much nonsense as they do in opposite lines. The ill-balanced people make a very large proportion of the noise that is made in the world, but the sane people, in the long run, do a fairly large proportion of the steering. Let us hope they will pilot safely and successfully between the man that was and the woman that is to be.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

STATE OF MINNESOTA VS. THE HOMESTEADER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Several days ago the writer noticed in your paper an assertion and denial as to the state evicting settlers in Northern Minnesota.

I wish to say that in this township there are several vacated claims and cabins going to rack and ruin that are mute but conclusive evidence that Messrs. King and Mackenzie of the N. M. D. association are essentially right in their contention that the state of Minnesota, through a certain official, has and does drive settlers from their homes.

I notice that the attorney general says "the state carefully protects the rights of settlers where they are shown to have any right." That is pretty carefully worded, but will not stand for an excuse in the mind of any man whose rule of life is "the square deal." In the first place "swamp lands" under the government grant are only technically swamp, being so designated by the survey. The supreme court has decided that because a surveyor passing along the lines of a section only, and usually only once, designating certain lands as swamp, does not make the land swamp, and that the swampy or non-swampy character of the land must be determined by judicial decision. That is to say, by an examination of witnesses who have been over the land, perhaps several times at different seasons of the year, who can testify as to moisture, timber growth, etc., and from that testimony a decision is rendered.

The question naturally occurs to anyone, "What does anybody want swamp land for anyway?" And again, "if anybody is fool enough to take up swamp land, why doesn't the state let them have it?" It would seem that the state is better off with a settler who will make a home, pay taxes and help develop the country than it would be with that much extra vacant land added to its vast holdings that will take over a hundred years to settle and develop under the present policy.

The answer to the first question is, there is no one taking up, or who has, in times past, taken up really swamp land. People came up here and squatted on wild lands, sometimes nine or ten years before they were surveyed, and after living there and making their homes there all that time, discovered when the plat of survey was filed that their homesteads were designated as swamp. Great guns! think of it, people living there all that time and never knew their land was a swamp until the plat of survey was filed. If there was only once in a great while a settler caught that way, one might conclude he must be a "dough-head," but when a large number, or perhaps a majority of settlers in a township, are thus caught, some other explanation is necessary. The plain and quite evident fact is that the land is not swamp, and never was, and my observation is to the effect that 99 per cent of the lands the settlers squat on have not a drop of standing water on them during any ordinary season.

Nevertheless, the settler is up against the proposition that the state claims his homestead and he must go into court at the land office and fight tooth and nail for his home, or lose it, and sometimes loses his fight, and of course his home in the end. How much different is the result from that of eviction?

Now, note the state's procedure through its auditor and attorney general. The auditor hires three cruisers, who are instructed to go over these settlers' lands and to appear at the land office at the time set for the hearing and give such testimony as will dispossess the settler if possible. A special attorney is hired and he endeavors to not only bolster up the testimony of the state's witnesses, but, as is to be expected, tries to break down and destroy the evidence of the settler and his witnesses. Look at the spectacle—the great state of Minnesota, with unlimited means and vacant lands by the millions of acres, pitted against a poor homesteader, who in many instances had to borrow money for railroad fare for himself or herself and two or three neighbors for witnesses—trying to save his home. The cruisers, mark you, are well trained men, who have been on the stand many times, are perfectly at home, and know just what to say. The attorney is the best for that line of work to be had, or at least his pay is such that it ought to insure very high talent.

The homesteader probably was never on the stand, hardly knows what is expected of him, becomes confused, and balls up his testimony, and his witnesses probably do no better, and generally worse. It is like putting raw recruits against a well drilled, seasoned army. Is it any wonder that the state wins and gets the homesteader's land occasionally?

The wonder is that the state does not win more than the paltry 15 per cent of these contest cases, and drive out more settlers. The very fact that it does not win more cases, under the circumstances, should be to a thoughtful, square-deal mind, pretty conclusive evidence that 99 per cent of the cases are fraudulent claims on the part of the state, and brought, not for the mere purpose of getting a few more paltry acres to add to its already unused and useless millions, but to boost someone's political chances, who can talk so glibly of "our sacred school fund," and manipulate figures to suit his own purpose.

In the article referred to at the beginning of this letter, reference was made as to pay for an assistant attorney to fight these contest cases. Hon. Lyndon Smith, attorney general, makes the statement that no attorney is employed by the state for the eviction of settlers; yet I saw a statement from the auditor's office wherein W. E. Culkin of Duluth had received over $4,500 from the state to fight these settlers, and the end was not yet either.

The present attorney general and the present state auditor claim that it was incumbent upon them to protect the state's rights, intimating that someone would likely make a howl if they had left even the bona-fide homesteader unmolested. I believe the claim is hypocritical and put forth to throw dust in some people's eyes. Where is there a man, larger than "two by twice," but what would rejoice at the real homesteader holding his own, regardless of what the state might claim, and have been perfectly satisfied to have our state auditor go after the speculators, as he at first claimed was all he intended to do. I fully believe that the general public believes in a square deal and that it will have little use for any politician, one of whose chief claims for patronage is a pharisaical interpretation of law, whereby he or they may drive settlers from their homes and land.

Very respectfully yours,

J. W. HILLIARD.

Happyland, Minn., Feb. 17.

SHOULD KEEP APPOINTMENTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Since the commission form of government went into effect in Duluth the council has been heralding far and wide that they were giving a "business" administration. It's been "business-like basis this and business-like basis that." Week in and week out the commissioners have been telling us how business-like they are.

Yesterday morning I went to the city hall to attend a meeting which was announced for 10 o'clock to consider the Woodland avenue paving matter. I reached there shortly before 10 o'clock and was directed to the council chamber. Several others were either there or in the hall waiting for the same meeting. Everyone has done more or less waiting and knows under such circumstances how fast the time flies—not. The clock dragged along to ten minutes past the hour, then to twenty minutes past and finally it reached the half hour, and still no meeting.

I began to wonder if an incorrect announcement had not been made and instituted an inquiry. I was informed that Commissioners Voss, Merritt and Murchison were present and also waiting, but that the meeting was delayed because of the absence of Mayor Prince and Commissioner Hicken. I was told that they had gone out somewhere to witness a demonstration of a smoke helmet. While they were around some place watching a smoke helmet tried out they held up the meeting, which the mayor himself had announced, for about thirty-five minutes, for Prince and Hicken did finally appear on the scene, after which the meeting proceeded.

I am sure that the three commissioners who were compelled to wait for the mayor and the safety commissioner had many things to which they could have attended, and I know that the citizens who were compelled to stand about for over half an hour, feeling like a bunch of goops, could ill afford the time they were compelled to waste because their public officials were out watching a dinky demonstration which could have been held any time. I should think that the poorest time was the time they used. When the council announces a meeting the least courtesy which they could show the public would be to be there on time and not compel business men or any other citizen to await their own sweet pleasure.

If that is "business" I would like to know it. If the council is going to give us a business administration let the council start with the first principle of business, which is being on time and keeping appointments. Practice what you preach, gentlemen of the council. ONE WHO WAITED.

Duluth, Feb. 19.

Altogether Personal

(By Savoyard.)

Washington, Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—I have frequently been asked to write how I got to this town of Washington, D. C. If you have patience and can wait I'll try to tell you. On the evening of Feb. 5, which was a Thursday, 1880, Catlett Thompson and I were in the county court clerk's office at Edmonton, Ky., before a roaring log fire, he reading the Cincinnati Enquirer and I reading the last book of Dumas' immense trilogy that begins with "The Three Guardsmen." Both of us were smoking cob pipes, when the door opened, and here came a fellow from Glasgow, Ky., eighteen miles away, with a telegraphic dispatch from John W. Caldwell, our representative in congress, to Logan Porter, saying: "Send Newman here. I have a place for him as assistant clerk of a committee of congress at $6 a day."

Thompson fell out of his seat. I had a fit. We managed to pay the fellow $5 for bringing the thing, and Thompson swore I had to go. I was not as certain. I, as a "near" lawyer, commissioner to take depositions and occasional newspaper correspondent, was making a little more than was sufficient to keep the wolf from the door. But the thing was alluring.

And so the next morning—a deep snow had fallen some days before—the sun was glorious, and the ice in the road thin and crisp. The town came out en masse, men, women and children, white and black, to bid me good speed as I mounted Lawrence Rousseau's wild, dis-faced bay mare, that had run away with every rider that had ever mounted her, but in those days set me on an animal with sound girth to the saddle and reins in my hands and I could ride any quadruped there was.

And so I rode this mare. An hour later, after I had given her rein, keeping her in the middle of the big road, we were eight miles on the way and she as gentle as a lamb. I met Joe Winlock. I was at that time the only citizen of Metcalfe county, child of Barren county, Ky., ever headed for this town. If things keep going on like they are now, a trip to the planet Mars will not be quite as adventurous as mine was that glorious February day. Joe asked where I was going. I told him. He looked his incredulity and swore by all the gods that made Hector of Troy I'd never get there.

I got to Horse Cove, twenty-six miles from Edmonton, took a train to Louisville, and got there bewildered at 10 o'clock p. m. I put up at the Waverly hotel on Walnut street. The next morning I ate a sumptuous breakfast. My hair had been innocent of scissors for more than two months, and my whiskers were down where my wescut met my pants. I had sense enough to know that that wouldn't do, so I went into the basement and got trimmed up, hair and whiskers, not shaved, so as to look a little civilized.

I had some money. Thompson did not think it enough, so he shelled out $60. After I got through with the barber, I hunted up a friend, Mr. Evans, and he took me to a fashionable tailor who happened to have left on his hands a very fine suit of clothes and overcoat ordered by some scamp who did not pay him for them, and the coat, pants and vest fit me as the paper on the wall. I had dinner with Evans and came to Washington over the B. & O.

I got here Sunday night, Feb. 8, 1880, took dinner with Congressman Caldwell at Freund's, slept in the same bed with him and had breakfast with him the next morning. We went to the capitol edifice. There I was "sworn in." O, you do not know how I felt, so feared I was I did not know my official duties. I was told not to go to work till I was ready. Caldwell took me to the members' gallery and left me. Randall was speaker and Alexander H. Stephens was the first man I ever heard address the chair. He was in a little buggy, but his voice was clear and commanding.

I wanted to see the senate in action and asked my way over there. When I reached the gallery a tall, bald-headed, very red-faced man was speaking and they said it was Edmunds of Vermont, and so it proved. That night I was with a lot of fellows and it was soon demonstrated that I had a lot more money than all of 'em put together. It was no game, for I am not, thank God, and never was a gambler, but it was a supper, and all of us exposed our wads on motion of a noble fellow from Arkansas, named Linn. It was one of his jokes that all enjoyed. He and I were roommates all the session. A finer man I never met.

The next day I found out my duties, my official duties. It was just like shoeing horses. In half an hour I could do a day's work. It was only writing a narrative, the facts of which were supplied you. But when I was first present at a committee meeting! There they were—Bob Taylor of Tennessee was one of 'em—and I thought the least of 'em was not only a giant but a demi-god.

My dear boy, for two months I did not walk on my feet or on this planet. I was on my head. Spring came apace and I was yet in the clouds. With cats and drinks and walks and talks and so on and so forth, I was about as big a fool as this capital ever saw, or a little bit bigger.

But I woke up to the fakirism of most of it. I came to walk on my feet and not on my head. I saw with my experience and not with my imagination. The glamor wore off. The skeleton was there grinning and horrid as must be in all human government, for it is not an exact science.

My boy, I tell you, it was a sorry day, that Feb. 6, that I left my country home. Had I run the race there and then set before me I'd now be a much more prosperous and a far more happy man than I am now.

Stick to your bush, young man, gather all the fruit it yields before you strike out. Come not here until you can come as a congressman, and not then if you are a hopeless and helpless mediocrity.

But why warn the moth to ware the candle! I was the moth; the candle got me, and—nine of ten of you—it will get you if you "projeck" with it.

HEALTHY TONE TO BUSINESS

Duluth Wholesalers and Manufacturers Report Good Conditions.

Seasonable Weather Has Proven Boon in Many Lines.

Business of Duluth wholesalers and manufacturing concerns is being well maintained. Shipments continue in heavier volume in general lines, according to the sales managers of the various establishments.

Confidence as to the course of business throughout the year is on the increase, and that is being reflected in the liberal placing of future orders in all staple lines.

The seasonable weather of the past few days has proven an elixir in the promotion of trade through enabling the carrying on of woods operations on an extended scale.

Grocery Trade Active.

Orders for spring general groceries are reported remarkably active for the season by the Rust-Parker-Martin company of Duluth, and the Twohy-Elmon Mercantile company of Superior.

"We have nothing to complain of in any direction. Our business is running well ahead of a year ago and the outlook is good," said C. R. Rust today. There have been no marked price changes in the trade during the last few days. The market in sugars is quiet and unsettled, with dealers confining their purchases to cover immediate requirements. The difference between refined and raw sugars now stands at about forty points, or on a much narrower basis than usual. While present quotations are thought to have discounted the coming into operation of the new tariff on March 1, the situation in the product does not as yet show any indication of settling down. Trade in coffees is also dull, with quotations during the last ten days not showing a variation of more than two or three points.

The market in canned tomatoes and corn is higher in first hands. As it is at present, jobbers are said to be selling corn cheaper than they can replace their stocks. The call for fish is increasing in all lines, attributable to the approach of Lent, and to its being regarded as a cheap article of food. At the present several carloads of Lake Superior fish are being shipped out from Duluth daily over the West.

Dry Goods Merchants Confident.

F. A. Patrick & Co.'s salesmen are now coming into the house at the rate of six a week for their next fall's dry goods samples, and the last of the contingent are due to be out on the road by Feb. 28. The house's future orders are reported to be bulking up in much heavier volume than last year, but it is noted that merchants are still ordering goods for immediate shipment. Mail orders are being received freely, and business being placed in mackinaws continues in heavy proportions.

Quotations in cotton fabrics and staples are steady in the main and the market in domestic woolens is notably strong.

Shoe Orders Good.

The Northern Shoe company advises that business being placed in shoes is satisfactory all round. The company's travelers are now finishing their present trips in rubbers and felts, and they will be out with their new samples for the fall trade by March 1. From reports being received the liberal placing of fall orders is expected. The cold weather ruling since the first of the month has enabled retailers to run down their stocks of heavy winter goods to a much lower basis than had been expected at one time.

Furniture Business Expands.

The De Witt-Seitz company reported that its aggregate furniture trade shows a substantial increase over last year. Northern and Western Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin are said to be making perhaps the best relative showings at present in the placing of orders. Owing to the comparatively few changes in staple furniture lines this year, the company will not issue a new catalogue, but will furnish the trade with photo reproductions of the new styles.

Building Papers Sell.

Bookings of heavy orders in building and roofing papers for March 1 delivery are advised by the Peyton Paper comapany. Orders and inquiries in general stationery are also in good volume. The market is strong in stationery lines with a tendency towards advances in some grades of papers.

Hardware Prices Firm.

Trade in hardware staples and specialties is in heavy volume, according to the Kelley-How-Thomson company, and the Marshall-Wells-Hardware company. Quotations in iron and steel products are showing a firmer tendency and further advances in some directions are forecasted in the near future. Future orders continue good and on the basis of present bookings it is predicted that hardware shipments from here over the West at the opening of navigation will set a new high record.

FOR HOW LONG?

DULUTH RAISES A PERTINENT QUESTION.

When a neighbor tells us that he has recovered from a serious illness, the first question that naturally arises is, "How long will he keep well?" Temporary relief is one thing, but a lasting cure is altogether different. There is nothing temporary about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills as the following Duluth evidence proves beyond a doubt.

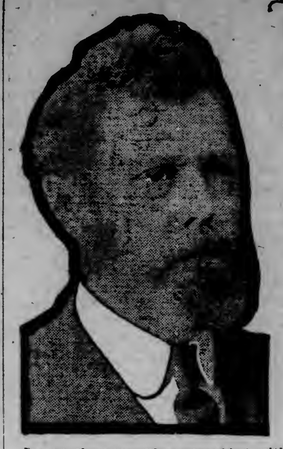

A. Siden, tailor, 17 Sixth avenue west, Duluth, Minn., says: "I was troubled by weak kidneys, especially when I caught cold. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthened my kidneys and removed the trouble. The relief has been permanent and now I don't have any sign of kidney complaint or backache, although I work hard every day. I am glad to have you keep on publishing the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills after I first used them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Siden had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

PRESBYTERIANS TO FIGHT LIQUOR.

New York, Feb. 19.—The Presbyterian church will send 250 temperance workers into California, Colorado, Washington and Oregon in an effort to swing these states into the "dry" column at the next fall election. They will take with them motion picture films teaching lessons against the sale of alcohol.

Plans for the crusade were perfected at a meeting of the Presbyterian board of temperance. Charles Scanlon, secretary of the board, said that at a meeting of temperance commission of the Federal Council of Churches he would ask the thirty religious denominations that belong to this organization to unite with the Presbyterian board in this work. The executive commission of the Presbyterian church at its meeting yesterday approved an appropriation of $50,000 for the temperance work to be carried on in the West.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers should apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Elizabeth says: "I am troubled with a constant headache which also affects my eyes. My breath is awful, as I have a severe case of catarrh in the head and throat."

Answer: I receive daily hundreds of letters from people who have suffered as you do and who have been relieved with the following prescription: Make a wash by mixing one-half teaspoonful of Vilane powder, which you can purchase from any druggist in 2 oz. packages, and add to this one pint of warm water, use this in the nostrils daily to thoroughly cleanse them. A catarrh balm should be used with this. This is made by mixing one teaspoonful of Vilane powder with one ounce lard or vaseline and apply well up into the nostrils twice a day. If this is used daily your catarrh should soon vanish. It should, however, be used occasionally to prevent a return of the disease.

"C. G." writes: "If you know of anything that will cure dandruff, itching scalp and premature baldness, please let me know what it is."

Answer: For several years I have prescribed plain yellow minyol as superior to anything known for the treatment of diseased scalp. Get it in four-ounce jars with full directions. It quickly overcomes all diseases of hair and scalp and gives new vigor and intense natural color to the hair. Try it fairly and you will advocate its use for your friends.

"Mildred" writes: "I am constantly embarrassed because of the fact of my extreme thinness. I have absolutely no color in my face and lips and I am dull and lifeless most of the time. Please advise me what to do."

Answer: If you are so thin and pale and your lips and cheeks are colorless it is because your blood is deficient in red corpuscles. This can be easily overcome by the use of three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets, which can be had from any druggist in sealed cartons with full directions for taking. When the blood is enriched by the use of these tablets your weight will increase, the color will come back into your face and lips, and it will improve your general system so that you will become strong and healthy.

"Edna" writes: "I suffer with rheumatism all the time and I shall be very glad if you can tell me something to relieve me."

Answer: I can give you a prescription which will not only relieve, but should obliterate your rheumatism. This is my favorite remedy and from the number of letters received from people who have used it proves its value in rheumatism. The following is made by mixing well, taking a teaspoonful at meal times and again before retiring: Comp. essence cardui, 2 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; syrup sarsaparilla comp., 5 ozs.; iodide of potassium, 2 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ ounce; sodium salicylate, 4 drams.

"Morris" asks: "I have suffered with a chronic cough for almost a year, and catch a fresh cold every few weeks. Nothing the doctor gives me helps, so I write to you."

Answer: You need a thorough laxative cough syrup, one that not only relieves but surely drives it from the system. The following regularly used will oust any curable cough or cold promptly: Obtain a 2½ oz. bottle of essence mentho-laxene, mix it with a home-made sugar syrup or honey as per directions on bottle.

"Anxious R." writes: "I have in recent years been threatened with appendicitis, but would never consent to an operation. Indigestion, constipation and sedentary habits cause me much suffering. Kindly prescribe for dyspepsia something which you think will cure me and prevent appendicitis."

Answer: The most scientific and satisfying treatment for your trouble is tablets triopeptine; packed pink, white and blue in sealed cartons with full directions. This is made by mixing one teaspoonful of Vilane powder with one ounce lard or vaseline and apply well up into the nostrils twice a day. If this is used daily your catarrh should soon vanish. It should, however, be used occasionally to prevent a return of the disease.

"Mrs. G." writes: "I have many of the symptoms upon which you prescribe "three-grain cadomene tablets." May I, a woman, expect to find relief by taking these tablets?"

Answer: Yes, three-grain cadomene tablets are suited to any case of extreme nervousness where the vital forces seem to be ebbing away. They are tonic in action to a high degree and no ill person can take them without the greatest benefit following.

Farmer's Wife asks: "Will you please tell me how to overcome obesity?"

Answer: Obesity is burdensome. Excessive fat on the human body is unnatural and frequently results seriously. The best and safest method to reduce is to take regularly five-grain arholone tablets. They are put up in sealed tubes with directions for home use, and any well-stocked druggist can supply them.

"Sara C." writes: "I am constipated and have a greasy skin. Suffer from headache, indigestion and some kidney trouble. I wish you to recommend a remedy."

Answer: The best remedy to relieve and master chronic constipation is called three-grain sulpherb tablets made from sulphur, cream of tartar and herb medicines. Taken regularly the blood is purified, the bowels and liver stimulated into healthy action and health established. They are packed in sealed tubes with full directions. These tablets are splendid for children, as they do not gripe or sicken."

Alice M. writes: "Something seems to be wrong with my system and I don't know what it is. I have huge puffs under my eyes, my eyes are blood shot in morning and my feet and ankles are swollen. Sometimes I have chills and feel weak and tired most of the time."

Answer: Your eliminating organs such as liver and kidneys are in need of treatment. Begin taking balmwort tablets at once. Get them in sealed tubes with full directions of any well-stocked druggist.

"Mamma"—"I know of nothing better for bed-wetting than: I dram of tincture cubebs, 2 drams of tincture rhus aromatic and 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort. Mix. The dose is 10 to 15 drops in water one hour before meals."

OUT OF WORK, BLIND; GOES TO POOR FARM

John Ryan, 60 years old and blind, came to Duluth yesterday afternoon from Virginia and made application to Charles Shogran for permission to become an inmate of the county almshouse until spring. Ryan declared that he had been without his eyesight for thirty years, but that he had recently lost his job and was now helpless. Ryan was sent out.

MAKES WISHES PLAIN.

Hermantown Farmer Would Not Have Will Tampered With.

Christian Zebott, Hermantown farmer, who died at his home Dec. 5, 1913, aged 88, in a crudely written will, makes it plain that he does not want the terms of the instrument tampered with.

The instrument closes with a line of scripture which reads: "Brethren, I speak after the manner of men though it be but man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man discounteth or addedth thereto."

Ernest Zebott, a son, living at Adolph is named as executor. The estate, consisting of $3,500, will be divided among six children. Zebott directs that $100 be set aside for "a good burial and tombstone."

NO HAGUE MEETING IN 1915 POSSIBLE.

London, Feb. 19.—Francis Dyke Acland, parliamentary under-secretary for foreign affairs, has informed the house of commons that it would be impossible to hold the third Hague peace conference in 1915, as under the rules a committee must sit for two years in advance of the meeting, preparing a program.

CLASS TO STUDY SEX HYGIENE

Forty Men Organize as Result of Dr. Ishkanian's Lectures.

A campaign to create interest in the study of sex hygiene will be begun within a few days by the class of forty men, who attended the three lectures given the last two weeks at the Y. M. C. A. by Dr. A. T. Ishkanian. Tha last lecture on "Prevention and Cure of Sex Diseases" was given last evening.

Dr. Ishkanian has been conducting a long campaign in behalf of this work for the last few months and has delivered addresses in all parts of the city. The Y. M. C. A. class was organized two weeks ago and already has a membership of forty men.

The present plans are to continue the meetings of the class and to complete an organization at the regular meeting next Wednesday evening. At that time an address will be given by Dr. J. A. Winter, local specialist.

OHSOL WILL LECTURE.

Socialists Will Also Hear Geo. R. Kirkpatrick Soon.

Prof. John G. Ohsol will deliver the fifth of a series of lectures on Socialism at 310½ West First street tonight. The subject for tonight is "Scientific Socialism," and the meeting will be open to the public.

George R. Kirkpatrick, author and lecturer, will speak at the Auditorium, Monday, March 2, under the auspices of the Socialist party of Duluth. Kirkpatrick is said to be a good speaker and his debate with Henry Clews, the noted New York banker, which was held some months ago, was made the subject of considerable comment by the press of that city.

TARIFF YARN NAILED BY REDFIELD PROBE

Closing of Mills in Washington Not Due to Law.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Secretary Redfield yesterday sent to Representative Humphrey of Washington copy of a report made by T. M. Robertson and William H. England, special agents of the department of commerce, on the effect of the new tariff on lumber and shingle industry in Washington.

Representative Humphry recently declared that the tariff had closed a large number of the shingle mills. The department's agents reported that careful investigation of the conditions as described by the congressman shows "the effect of the removal of the duty on lumber is universally considered as negligible, if it has had any effect at all."

Points Made in Letter.

Secretary Redfield pointed out in his letter that the report showed the closing of the shingle mills in the state of Washington is not an unusual occurrence; it is not claimed by manufacturers that the closing down of the mills in the latter part of 1913 was due to the removal of the duty on shingles; that new American mills are being built and old ones enlarged; there are not more idle men in the state of Washington at this time due to the closing down of shingle mills than there have been at numerous years under a protective tariff, and that the competition of manufacturers of shingles seems to be more active than with Canadian shingles.

How Thin People Can Put on Flesh

A New Discovery

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from ten to twenty-five pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come forty tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Boyce's drug store and all other druggists in Duluth and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

MASTER PLUMBERS COMING

Men Who "Stand Between Us and the Hearse" Will Gather in Duluth Friday.

Many delegates are expected in Duluth Friday and Saturday when the annual state convention of master plumbers will be held at the Spalding hotel. All of the principal towns of the state will be represented. In addition to the regular business sessions the delegates will visit the plant of the Minnesota Radiator company Friday and the steel plant Saturday, and a banquet will be held at the Hotel Superior Saturday evening.

In anticipation of this big event in plumberdom, the Domestic Engineering magazine has sent to The Herald a copy of a poem by Walt Mason on "Doctor Plumber." It follows:

"I was lying sick as blazes, and disease in all its phases galloped up and down my system till I wished that I was dead; both my lungs were out of kilter and my kidneys wouldn't filter, I had spavins on my elbows and some gum-boils on my head. People said they heard me yelling many furlongs from my dwelling, and they wished I'd die and end it, so that they could get to sleep; but I kept on growing sicker till I drove my folks to liquor, and they'd sit around my bedside by the hour and sadly weep.

"And the doctors gave me oceans of their tonics and their potions and they fed me fifty bushels of their patent safety pills, but I kept on sinking, sinking, till the doctors said: 'We're thinking you'll be ready for the boneyard soon as you have paid your bills.'

"Then there came a new physician, and he sized up my condition, and he said: 'You've got a fever, and a fever isn't nice; I could fill you up with bitters, like those other doctor critters, but you'd best engage a plumber, and he'll cure you in a trice. We are gradually coming,' said the doc, 'to know that plumbing is a science quite as useful if not greater than our own; your interior is griping just because the basement piping needs a skillful overhauling—that's the cause and that alone.'

"Came the plumber with his spanner and his calm and soothing manner, and he wrestled with the piping, and he whistled as he toiled; he, expert in sanitation, said my system's aggravation wasn't strange for I'd been drinking water that was badly spoiled. 'You've been breathing poisoned gases which were thicker than molasses,' said the plumber as he labored at his health restoring chore; 'when I'm done, if heaven pleases, you will shake your twelve diseases, you'll be fit to whip a bobcat, and you'll groan around no more.'

"And the plumber man's prediction wasn't bunk, and wasn't fiction, for my health was soon a wonder, that so long had been a botch; and I have a sort of notion I could make a big commotion as a white hope chasing Johnsing, or a challenger of Gotch. Thus the plumber and physician work to better our condition, and the doc without the plumber would be doing vastly worse; and the scientific plumber, winter, autumn, spring and summer, guards the health of all the people, stands between them and the hearse."

JOHN BURKE IS LAUDED AT FEAST

North Dakota Democrats Start His Boom for U. S. Senator.

Minot, N. D., Feb. 19.—The boom for John Burke, former governor of North Dakota, and present treasurer of the United States, for United States senator, was given a good start at the annual Democratic banquet held here Tuesday night attended by nearly 600 members of the party in the state.

Despite the launching of his boom and the nice things said about him the former governor, who came from Washington to be present, modestly declined the honor, declaring that nothing could induce him to enter the North Dakota political game again. His friends predict, however, that he will have to yield to their overtures and consent to run, being looked upon as the strongest candidate in the state. Former Senator W. E. Purcell, the toastmaster, started something when he said he believed John Burke was the man of the hour and could be elected senator in this state. Tremendous cheering followed and the recipient got a great ovation when he replied thanking all for the fine tribute and declared "no consideration will ever get me into a political fight in North Dakota for myself alone."

Mr. Burke's address was largely a plea for harmony in the party. He stated that his enemies were trying to start a fight in the Democratic party. He said some of the newspapers accused him in league with the chairman of the state central committee of defeating the Democratic nominee for governor in 1912.

"It takes two to make a fight and I will not allow the party to fight over me," said Burke. "I am not seeking further political honors, I have sufficient honors, and all I desire now is the good will of every Democrat."

Praises President Wilson.

Burke paid a glowing tribute to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. Great enthusiasm was shown over the question of women's suffrage which was presented by Mrs. Charles F. Amidon, and Mrs. Darrow of Fargo, and it is predicted that a women's suffrage plank will be placed in the resolutions.

M. A. Hildreth, assistant United States district attorney, made a plea that the Democrats unite on the strongest Democrat for United States senator.

E. E. Stenvick, chairman of the Ward county committee, delivered the address of welcome. Responses were made by George Duis, J. Nelson Kelly and M. F. Murphy of Grand Forks, V. R. Lovett, M. A. Hildredth and Ed Cole of Fargo, Frank Wilson of Bathgate, T. D. Casey of Dickinson and Joe Doyle of Carrington.

JUMPS OFF BRIDGE BUT IS NOT HURT

Lumberjack Takes Header Onto Ice at Spooner and Escapes Injury.

Spooner, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas O'Leary, a lumberjack, while intoxicated yesterday, jumped from the wagon bridge, a distance of forty feet to the ice below.

He was not injured in the least and is around again after a sojourn at the hospital for a few hours.

USING CARBIDE LAMPS.

Cleveland Cliffs Company's Miners Discard Ancient Candles.

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 19.—The underground employes of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Negaunee and Mans mines are using carbide lamps, instead of candles. Hereafter the use of candles will be prohibited. Many of the men have been using carbide lamps for some months, but heretofore they have not been required by the officials. The men can purchase the lamps at the mines at wholesale price, and all of the carbide they need is supplied them. At the begining of each shift each man is given a six ounce can of carbide.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

A Series Has Been Arranged for Becker County.

Detroit, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Becker County Agricultural society has arranged for a series throughout the county, and instructors have been secured including J. J. Sprenger of Zumbro Falls, and L. D. Staples of St. Cloud. Meetings will be held in Frazee, Detroit and Audubon, one day in each place, as follows: Frazee, Monday, Feb. 23; Detroit, Feb. 24, and Audubon, Feb. 25. The meeting in Detroit will be held in the courthouse, using the courtroom.

The agricultural society also has decided upon the premium list for the 1914 Becker county fair. Because the fair is growing, plans were made for dividing the exhibits into three departments and having them in separate buildings, giving a main exhibit, a woman's department and a school pupils' department. The premium list will be mailed on application.

BANQUET TO END LUMBERMEN'S MEET.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Retail Lumber Dealers' association will conclude its annual session with a big banquet tonight tendered by the material salesmen.

Attorney V. R. Lovell spoke this morning on "Workingmen's Compensation Laws," which created considerable discussion and interest. B. V. Moore told of the work of the vigilance committee of the National Association of Ad clubs.

This afternoon George Hancock of Fargo spoke and was followed by the reports of the different committees and the election of officers.

STARTS GIVING AWAY $144,000.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 19.—Through a settlement out of court, which obviated a contest of the will left by Miss Julia Garrett of Philadelphia, Capt. Robert Hancock Walter, an 82-year-old veteran of the Civil war, received $144,000 which he at once began distributing among his children and grandchildren. Capt. Walter, who also is a descendant of John Hancock, is critically ill at his home in Pasadena, and said he wanted to distribute his suddenly acquired wealth before he died.

Miss Garrett recently died leaving an estate appraised at more than $20,000,000, although she herself had valued it only at $600,000. The bulk of it was willed to Isaac Tatnall Star, who agreed to a settlement out of court with Capt. Walter and his three sisters, who said they were Miss Garrett's next of kin.

CANADIAN CAUGHT IN WISCONSIN TOWN.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 19.—Alexander Lototsky, a former steamship agent here, who is charged with having collected thousands of dollars from residents of Winnipeg with the understanding that their relatives in Europe would be sent transportation tickets to America, was arrested at Grand Rapids, Wis., yesterday, according to the police. It is charged that he failed to issue the tickets and disappeared with the money. He will be returned to Winnipeg.

NEWSPAPERS SHOULD "LIGHT" THE HOME

The power of a newspaper to carry comforts and conveniences of modern life into the homes of the people is beyond calculation. Being the only medium through which a manufacturer can do intensive, concentrated advertising, it is naturally the greatest educator of the people regarding the things that inventive genius supplies from time to time to save labor and to lighten the burdens of housekeeping.

Advertising saw woman bowed down with work of the ages, carrying upon her shoulders the double burden of bearing children and doing the work of the household. Advertising saw her sweeping the carpet with a bunch of broom corn tied to the end of a stick, a crude and clumsy contrivance calling for much wearisome and tiresome expenditure of muscular effort—and so was born the carpet sweeper—and after it came the vacuum cleaner. Inventive genius supplied these utensils and advertising had to create a desire to possess them. Advertising had to educate women away from brooms and carpet sweepers.

Perhaps the greatest monument to educational advertising is the growth of the breakfast cereal habit in this country. The parent of the breakfast cereal habit was the oatmeal porridge habit which was brought over by the Scotch Presbyterians, and on this as a foundation Advertising has built the almost universal Anglo-Saxon habit of eating some kind of a cereal every morning for breakfast.

Electricity threatens to completely revolutionize not only modern manufacturing methods but all the activities of household management. Teaching the people the coming uses of electricity in all departments of domestic service presents one of the greatest fields of educational work for newspaper advertising. The reason that the use of electrical devices has not become more universal in the homes of the people is because the manufacturers have not made the proper use of newspaper advertising to spread the gospel of ease and comfort and convenience.

When the average woman sees or hears the word "electricity" she thinks of—forked lightning. She thinks of the story of Ben Franklin, how he brought down lightning with his kite, and it sends the shivers down her spinal column. I am not so sure but that the average man thinks of electricity in terms of "lightning rods."

Does not this fact present a great educational opportunity for newspaper advertising? Surely this is the electrical age—and yet the great manufacturers and distributors of electricity have not availed themselves of this great merchandising force that has revolutionized other departments of industrial activity. Industrial enterprise has harnessed the waterfalls of the East and the West, but it has not hitched the greatest of natural forces to the greatest of merchandising agencies.

Edison has lighted the dark places of the earth, but millions of homes are not yet lighted. In no city has there been a comprehensive campaign of educational advertising to extend the use of incandescent lights. If the same advertising methods that have been used to acquaint the public with the convenience and cheapness of the telephone had been employed to extend the use of the incandescent lights their use would now be almost universal.

The time is coming when every home will be heated and lighted by electricity, and when the cooking will be done by electricity, when the washing and ironing and sewing will be done by electricity, when the carpet will be swept and the rugs cleaned by electricity. In the home of the future when the uses of electricity are properly advertised, electricity will rock the cradle and churn the butter while the housewife prepares the evening meal.

The modern home is ready for all these things right now, but they cannot come except through an extensive and comprehensive scheme of newspaper advertising.

ELECTRICAL JOBBERS UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The Electrical Jobbers' association assembled at an annual convention here and discovered that department of justice agents were investigating the organization to determine whether it has violated the Sherman law. The association's meeting was private. Its principal business is in New York and Chicago.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER NOW SHOVELS SNOW

Tarrytown, N. Y., Feb. 19.—John D. Rockefeller is shoveling snow on his estate at Pocantico Hills. He declares this is about as good exercise as playing golf.

For nearly a week now the golf links have been covered with a thick blanket of snow. This made it hard for Mr. Rockefeller to get enough exercise, but, equal to the occasion, though admitting that the labor is a little hard—on the novice, he now shovels snow for an hour every afternoon. He said that he will keep at work until the snow has disappeared.

CONVICTS WILL TEST STERILIZATION LAW.

Fort Madison, Iowa, Feb. 19.—Inmates of the state penitentiary here have prepared to resist through the courts the enforcement of the Iowa law providing for sterilization of insane, diseased and criminal wards of the commonwealth.

A test case will be filed in the district court with R. A. Run, a convict, as the plaintiff. It was announced that the entire prison population was behind Ryun, and that a fund sufficient to defray legal expenses had been raised.

One prisoner gave his entire earnings—6 cents.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP---25 CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save Your Hair! Make It Grow Luxuriant and Beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or 'oo oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

"THREE-P" WILL STOP THAT INDIGESTION, GAS, DYSPEPSIA

"Three-P" Is Magical—Acts Right Away.

No odds how sour, bloated and full of gas your stomach feels this minute, take a "THREE-P" capsule. Note how quickly you are freed from sour risings, belching of food mixed with acid, heartburn, nausea, dizziness and intestinal gripings.

Take them for a few days and mark the continued improvement. In a short time you will be eating with the relish of a schoolboy. You forget you ever had stomach trouble.

"THREE-P" supplies an ailing stomach with ingredients which produce the same effect as digestive juices secreted by a healthy, normal stomach; also builds up and restores the digestive nerves to a healthy condition.

Get a 25-cent box of Samuel's "THREE-P" capsules today at any drug store. See how happy your dyspeptic stomach gets; how comfortable your meals fit. You can bid "stomach trouble" days good-bye.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: FEB. 22.

Luke xii, 1-12; Faith Destroying Fear.

THE CONNECTION.

In our last lesson we saw Jesus sitting at breakfast with a Pharisee and talking about washing hands and vital religion. While He was in there the crowds were gathering and this tells of His talk when He came out of the house.

THE LESSON.

I.

Fear of Hypocrisy. 1-3.

"In the mean time, when the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trod one upon another, He began to say unto His disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in the inner chambers shall be proclaimed upon the housetops."

1. MASK.—The word hypocrite means a masked person. It was first applied to actors, for they all wore masks to impersonate their characters. In the real meaning of the word, a hypocrite is one who acts a part. The Pharisees were hypocrites acting as though they thought themselves perfect. It was contagious, too, as yeast put in dough is contagious. That's the reason He warned the disciples against them. It was "catching" in a double sense, giving others a wrong impression of them and a desire to be like them, in their ignorance of the real character of those pretenders. Just at that moment Jesus saw the need of warning His disciples against them both because the moral disease was contagious and because there was such a big crowd there who were exposed to the contagion and still might be successfully taught by him. The size of the crowd is shown by the words "many thousands" and "trod one on another." He spoke to His own disciples "first of all" but to the others also. The disciples must have been influenced by the pretensions of those actors.

2. EXPOSURE.—One reason for being on their guard is that those actors will be uncovered. God will see to that. He does that by His laws. Leaven works insidiously and incessantly till it fully infects the whole nature and that brings exposure. He does it by His providence that is like the lot of a story. He works through their own consciences and through the consciences of others who detect them. He will fully do that at the last day. It is a principle that we can trust. Every imitation has its tests, every counterfeit its exposure, every sham its revealing shame.

3. REVELATION.—While God sees that the hypocrite shall be uncovered He sees to it that His own truth shall be revealed. Jesus has His plans for it. The disciples are to do it by word when He shall have completed His life among them and is ready for them to make it known as the public crier would make announcements from the flat roofs of the houses. He was telling them many things in private they were to tell out loud. They would do that also by their lives which should bring into public view the truths they had worked into character. The discouragement of the evil doer and hypocrite is the encouragement of the sincere well doer.

II.

Fear of Enemies. 4-7.

"And I say unto you My friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear Him, who after He hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear Him. Are not five sparrows sold for two pence? and not one of them is forgotten in the sight of God. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: ye are of more value than many sparrows."

1. RESTRAINT.—All an enemy can do to any one is to kill one. He can't make you sin if you don't want to, can't injure your character. While you live he may do you only bodily and material harm, but can't affect your standing with God except to improve it as he drives you closer to Him, can't follow you into the grave. They could not touch the soul either here or over there.

2. FEAR.—There is only one whom any one need fear and that for two reasons, that He is able to injure the soul as well as body and He is a Father worthy of fear and can protect you even here. That fear involves reverence for His reverent character and love for it also and they inspire desire to avoid displeasing Him. The element of love casts out fear except that fear which is really reverence and is excited by His nature, His relation of Father as well as Creator and His minute providential care of us. There is one illustration of that care, the sparrows. Each one of the millions of them, though it takes four of them to bring 2 cents after a fifth is thrown in for good count, is known to Him. The argument is that children are more dear than birds and therefore His knowledge of them is minute, even to the knowledge of each hair of their heads. His care over us is reliable.

III.

Fear of Judgment. 8-12.

"And I say unto you, Every one who shall confess Me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God; but he that denieth Me in the presence of men shall be denied in the presence of the angels of God. And every one who shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven. And when they bring you before the synagogues, and the rulers, and the authorities, be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say."

1. CONFESSION.—Some of the disciples were tempted to disown Jesus then. To do so would be to have Him disown them in the judgment, not in revenge but in truth. It will be simply His statement that "I never knew you as a disciple" which would be true, for one who is true to Christ within is true without, even though he may be for the moment swept from his feet by the current of temptation or opposition. He cannot say any one is His disciple who is not. To do wrong is to suffer for it or it would not be wrong. The severest penalty is to become indifferent to what is right. Christ is the touchstone of destiny as of character. You may disown Christ by wrong deeds and impure life, deny Him with words and acts and life ideals. It is not a matter of confessing Him in one act alone but in the whole course and purpose of the life. No one can live that sort of life without showing it to men.

2. UNPARDONABLE.—If God had His way there would not be any sin beyond the reach of His power to forgive. The unpardonable sin is the one which destroys one's power to accept God's pardon. There is only one thing that destroys that power in us—to call the works of the Holy Spirit the works of the devil. That's the final step. The moral nature is at last disintegrated. The Spirit whose work His enemies despise is the one who saves, washes from sins, guides and defends with all kinds of help at the right moment. We are not to worry; yet we must work and provide and be wise. That is required.

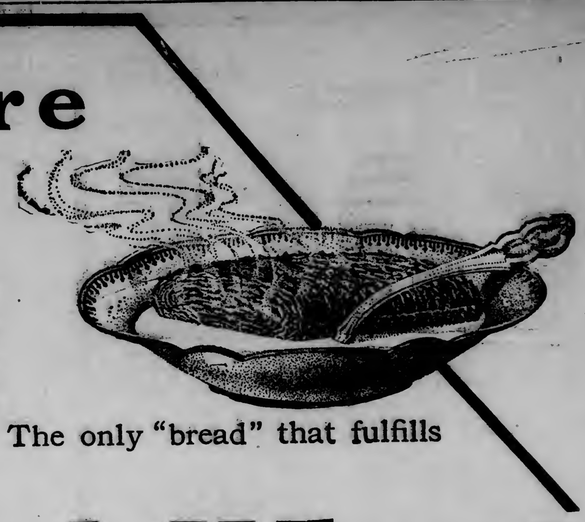

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

A young man who had been converted met, some months later, one of his former wild companions, who appeared overjoyed to see him, and at once urged him to go into an adjoining public house. The young man refused, saying, "I have a friend with me." "I do not see any one with you," rejoined the other. "You can't see him, but he's here." "Bring him with you." "No; he never goes into public houses." "Then let him wait outside." "No, no," was the firm and final answer; "my friend is the Lord Jesus Christ; and if I go in with you, He won't wait."—Leonard.

The power of the Christian life is derived from two sources: It comes in part from the energizing of one's own resident but latent forces, and in part from the superhuman force which is the result of the union of the Christian with the omnipotent power of God. The Spirit comes into the life with the power divine, but with His coming He stirs up to activity every latent spiritual and moral force within the soul.—Lawrence.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Can you be a hypocrite without knowing it?
2. Do you now think of any hidden thing that has not been revealed? Why?
3. Why is it hard to keep a secret?
4. How does the thought of God's care over you affect you?
5. Do you know any one who seems to you to have committed the unpardonable sin?

"Eat More Bread"

Of course you should "eat more bread"—and less meat—but be sure your "bread" contains all the body-building material in the whole wheat, prepared in digestible form. The only "bread" that fulfills all these requirements is

Shredded Wheat

It is made of whole wheat, steam-cooked, shredded and baked. It is a natural, elemental food and is not treated or compounded with anything. Its purity, cleanliness and food value stand unchallenged, being endorsed by the highest health and dietetic authorities in the United States and Canada. Every grocer sells it.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

HAROLD M'CORMICK PLANS OCEAN FLIGHT

Monster Aeroplane Will Be Used for the Experiment.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Harold F. McCormick, aeroplane enthusiast, who has already installed hydro-aeroplane transportation from his home in a northern suburb to downtown Chicago, has planned to fly across the Atlantic ocean in the largest aeroplane yet built, according to information here.

Mr. McCormick, with Charles Dickinson, president of the Chicago Aeroplane club, now is on his way to Miami, Fla., according to the dispatch, where the plans for building and launching the trans-Atlantic aeroplane are to be perfected.

According to information given to airmen here, C. C. Witmer, Lincoln Beachey and Tony Steadman are to be the pilots in the flight, and Jay J. McCarthy as navigator. Gasoline tanks which can be dropped when their contents are exhausted were said to be an integral part of the equipment proposed for the giant aeroplane, whose wings will spread forty-eight feet from tip to tip. A wireless outfit with a 100-mile radius of efficiency was also to be installed.

— Takes Over N. D. Paper.

Havana, N. D., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Having formerly been the owner of the Havana Union, R. W. Spanton repurchased the plant when he learned that R. Ashley, who has edited the paper for two years, wished to retire. Mr. Spanton has already resumed the management of the paper.

Better cookies, cake and biscuits, too. All as light, fluffy, tender and delicious as mother used to bake. And just as wholesome. For purer Baking Powder than Calumet cannot be had at any price.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.

A WORD ABOUT SEX HYGIENE

I have been greatly surprised at the decided degree and breadth of interest displayed by the public in this Wasserman test for syphilis. Whether the play promoted by my colleague, Dr. Wile, called "Damaged Goods," has developed a genuinely serious interest in the subject, or whether the popular wave of "sex" writings from the pens of poular authors is the cause, or whether this interest is just plain, earnest seeking after knowledge and accuracy, I will leave for others to determine. My own personal view about this venereal disease subject is that the sooner it is faced bravely and without insinuating mockery the better. It is eminently not a subject to be brought up before unseasoned minds, either girls or boys. Neither is this question of sex hygiene one to be tabooed and frowned down. We do not discuss the subjects of constipation or a running nose at the dinner table, any more than would we think of taking our meals in an unkempt, unwashed and dirty physical condition.

On the other hand, there are times suitable for due attention to these matters, and such periods must be decided upon to fit the needs of the special situation. It is unwise to decide not to clarify the public mind on this venereal disease menace. It is equally foolish not to have a proper regard for tradition and for the barrier of common sense protection which custom has erected for the safety of us all in public as well as private life.

The angle of one's viewpoint on this subject seems to be very simple. It is this: Out of every 100 people, will what I say be helpful to 51 per cent or will it be harmful? One's decision must be based upon groups of people rather than upon isolated individual instances.

And now about the Wasserman test. This is a most complicated laboratory procedure. It can be done only by that class of experts who do little else but laboratory test work. I have asked J. E. Goodell, of our Lancaster General Hospital, and who is likewise our city chemist, to write out briefly the steps in the Wasserman technique, and I here repeat his description exactly as he gives it:

"To understand the theory of the Wasserman reaction, it is necessary to first explain the meaning of some of the technical terms. First, the phenomenon of the solution of red blood corpuscles is known as hemolysis. The blood serum of a rabbit which has been immunized with sheep corpuscles has the power of dissolving these sheep corpuscles. In other words, the rabbit's immunized serum is hemolytic. This reaction is brought about by the co-operation of two factors. One is termed the ambeceptor factor, the other the complement factor.

"This ambeceptor is contained in the rabbit serum. It develops naturally during the process of immunization of the rabbit by the sheep corpuscles. The sheep corpuscles might be spoken of as an antigen body. This antigen is a substance which has the property of producing a specific antibody (termed the ambeceptor) in the blood of man or animal.

"The complement factor is present in all fresh blood serum. To obtain this complement the sera from guinea pigs is generally used. • • •

"Now, while the immunized rabbit serum has the power of dissolving sheep corpuscles, it can only do so in the presence of fresh serum (the complement)."

After you think over and digest all this, I will give you Mr. Goodell's next step. It is this:

The spirochete pallida (the organism causing syphilis) causes the formation of specific antibodies in man. Here the spirochete is the antigen and the human serum containing this antibody the ambeceptor. When a suitable antigen and serum of a person having syphilis are mixed with a complement and allowed to stand a short time at body temperature, it will be found that the complement no longer has the power to dissolve the sheep corpuscles which have been treated with rabbit serum. The reason is that the complement has combined with the syphilis antigen and ambeceptor and is no longer available for the rabbit serum. On the other hand, if the human serum is not syphilitic, the hemolytic reaction will take place."

The readers of this newspaper can readily see that this Wasserman test is too exceedingly delicate and complex for them to bother their understandings about.

WILL RETURN TO HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Peter Polga Paroled But Affinity Will Go to Prison.

Fertinato Zanpolone, 38, and Mrs. Tressa Polga, 36, pleaded guilty in district court before Judge Cant late yesterday afternoon to information charging them with adultery. The complaining witness was the woman's husband, Peter Polga, who asked the court to parole his wife in order that she might return to him and take care of her family. Both were sentenced to indeterminate terms at Stillwater but in the case of the woman, sentence was suspended. She was paroled under Col. F. E. Resche, probation officer.

Both admitted having lived together as man and wife for several weeks while Polga, the woman's husband, was residing on the range. The Polgas have five children, the oldest is an inmate of the state school for girls at Sauk Center and the next, a boy of 10, is a helpless paralytic. The other three children were being cared for by Zanpolone during the time he was living with Mrs. Polga. After their arrest this week the children were placed in a county institution until the case of the mother was disposed of.

ROSS ADDRESSES THE OFFICE MEN

Association Plans With Jacob Riis and Other Speakers.

G. W. C. Ross, local attorney, gave an interesting talk to the members of the Duluth Association of Office Men at their regular meeting at the Commercial club yesterday afternoon. He urged the members to acquaint themselves with the law and to be conversant with many details, especially the collection of old accounts.

It was announced during the meeting yesterday that Daniel Poling, prominent national temperance lecturer and at one time Prohibition candidate for governor of Ohio, will be the principal speaker at the noon luncheon next Wednesday. Mr. Poling is scheduled to address a mass meeting at the First Presbyterian church that evening.

Negotiations are now being carried on with Jacob Riis, who is coming here to address the Collegiate Alumnae on April 22, to make a short talk before the Office Men and to also have Governor McGlovern of Wisconsin address the March meeting.

TO HONOR DEAD MAN.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 19.—W. P. Howe, who lost his life in the fire at the plant of the Northern Manufacturing company here last Saturday, may be the first person whose picture is placed in the gallery of heroes which Mayor Nye plans to establish at the city hall in honor of the memory of Minneapolis residents who distinguish themselves by acts of bravery.

Howe, who was an old resident was suffocated after he had rushed back into the burning building to rescue Rose Schultz, reported to have been trapped on one of the upper floors.

From 1895 to 1902 he was manager of a hotel at Yellowstone Park. While in charge there he conceived the idea of using the Hot Springs in the park to grow vegetables in the winter. He piped the water from the hot springs through the beds of the hot house and grew tomatoes, cucumbers and other vegetables without using artificial heat, while the snow was banked five feet deep outside. The exploit gave him wide publicity.

FINDS HUSBAND MARRIED AGAIN.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Selma A. Wood has asked Judge Cooper in the superior court to have set aside a divorce ganted William J. Wood, a naval architect. Ms. Wood said that her husband obtained the decree while she was in a sanitarium without her knowledge. Wood has since remarried, and when Ms. Wood regained her mental faculties he would not let her return to him.

O'HARA FORMALLY OUT FOR SENATE.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara last night formally announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator to succeed L. Y. Sherman, Republican, whose term expires in 1915.

Lieutenant Governor O'Hara said he would make his campaign on the need of a national minimum wage law. He is chairman of the state senate committee, which conducted an inquiry a year ago into women's wages and its relation to the vice problem.

JOHN GRANT LYMAN RELEASED ON BOND.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 19.—Dr. John Grant Lyman, the promotor convicted recently of having used the mails to defraud investors in Panama lands, has achieved a temporary victory in his two years' fight for liberty. He was released on $20,000 bond by the United States district court, pending the outcome of an appeal from a sentence of fifteen months in San Quentin penitentiary.

Lyman, although he testified that he had made as much as half a million dollars over night several times, took a pauper's oath in order to have the government pay the expenses of his appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals. He obtained sureties in the sum of $20,000, and after being a prisoner in jail for more than two years here and elsewhere, was given his liberty under bond.

ACCUSER OF FUNK PLACED ON TRIAL.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Miss Aileen Heppner, charged with perjury and conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company, is on trial on the perjury indictment. Counsel for the woman filed a motion to quash the indictment and arguments were begun which will be concluded today.

Miss Heppner's indictment grew out of her testimony in the $250,000 damage suit filed by John Henning, charging Funk with having alienated the affections of Mrs. Henning. Funk was acquitted, and indictments charging conspiracy were found against Miss Hepner, Daniel Donahoe, Henning's attorney, and Isaac Stiefel, a private detective. Donahoe was convicted and Stiefel was acquitted.

Counsel for Miss Heppner attacked the indictment because it referred to Funk as "a man of good standing, good repute and name and a man unfamed." These words, he said, were prejudicial.

YOUNG WIFE IS PAL OF BURGLAR HUSBAND.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—According to the police, Mrs. Elmer Anschoott, aged 17, has confessed to them that she had taken part in many burglaries for which her husband, who is 18 years old, was arrested and held for court. Dressed as a boy, her hair cut short, she stood guard outside the houses he robbed.

Quantities of silverware and other valuables alleged to have been stolen by the couple were recovered.

Here are some of these new desserts: Snow-Mellow Delight—Rainbow Loaf—Snow-Mellow Fruit Pudding—Snow-Mellow Pineapple Cream—Snow-Mellow Peach Cream—Snow-Mellow Orange Cream—Snow-Mellow Currant Whip—Snow-Mellow Apple Sponge—Floating Island—Mocha Charlotte Russe—Mock Macaroon Souffle—and more than a score of delightful new desserts for your family.

The lady in the picture here is holding up the spoon to show you that just one tablespoon of Snow-Mellow, costing only 4 cents, makes a bowlful of snowy, fluffy, thick, delicious meringue—more and better than you could make with 12c to 15c worth of eggs!

But to make this amazing quantity of delicious Snow-Mellow, you must use our Special Snow-Mellow Beater. And we will give you this Special SnowMellow Beater, 12in. long, nickel plated—Absolutely free.

Snow-Mellow Saves Eggs! Saves Work!

So that you may use this wonderful, exquisite Snow-Mellow to save yourself the expense of eggs—so that you may delight your family with these many new Snow-Mellow desserts—you may have absolutely FREE one of these specially designed dessert beaters, which beats up a bowl full of delicious, snowy meringue from just one tablespoonful of Snow-Mellow.

So Economical!

We want to explain to you how we have arranged to make Snow-Mellow the most economical of desserts for your table.

In business there is a certain "overhead" charge against each package—packing, wrapping, boxing, cartage, freight, delivery, etc. And here is how we solved the problem of making Snow-Mellow economical for you. The same "overhead" expense that pays for delivering a ten-cent package to you will pay for delivering five or six or seven times that quantity of Snow-Mellow if we put it all in one package, and that is what we have done.

Instead of putting only enough Snow-Mellow for one dessert in a package and charging ten cents—we put seven times that quantity—enough for seven desserts—in one package, and instead of charging you seventy cents, the price is only 25c—because we save for you the cost of packing and delivering the six extra packages. That is the only fair way. For after you once find how easy to make and how good to eat Snow-Mellow is—you will want to serve it in different desserts several times every week.

So go today, madam, to your grocer and get for your family this exquisite, wonderful Snow-Mellow.

FREE! Our Special Snow-Mellow Beater—which makes 4 cents' worth of Snow-Mellow go as far as 15c worth of eggs—is absolutely FREE to you! LEVEL TO BE MAINTAINED

Conference With Engineer at Washington Shows Report Unfounded.

No Plans Will Be Approved Raising Lake Superior's Level.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 19.—Assurances that the government engineers would not permit the level of Lake Superior to be raised to any extent whatever were given Representative Miller, Julius H. Barnes and G. Roy Hall by Col. Harry Taylor of the engineer corps at a conference on the proposed dams in the St. Mary's river today. Col. Taylor's attention had been called previously to reports given out at the office of the international commission and his attention was drawn to the circular letter issued by Capt. Peck at Duluth, in which there was an intimation that the level of Lake Superior would rise nearly two feet by reason of establishment of the dams of the Michigan Northern Power company and the Algoma Steel company.

The whole question of the effect on the lake level was discussed today, with the result above stated.

Precautions Always Taken.

"Col. Taylor explained that precautions were always taken in advance of the construction of the dams against any rise in the level during the time the dams were being erected," said Mr. Barnes. "This is effected by drawing off the water so that it reaches a level about one foot below normal. The level of the lake is restored during the building operations, but it will not be permitted to go above normal during that period. After the dams are completed, the government will insist on their operation so that the water in Lake Superior will be maintained at its normal level."

Miller Regrets Report.

Representative Miller, who has had several previous conferences with army engineers on the proposed dams in St. Mary's river, said that he regretted that report of a probable rise of the lake had been circulated. "The army engineers have given us assurances that no plans will be approved that will result in raising the lake level," said Mr. Miller. "The controlling works will be operated in such a way as to prevent any variation, except such as are due to ordinary causes. The business men whose places are along the lake front need have no apprehension that their property will be damaged as a result of the construction of the dams of the Michigan Northern Power company and the Algoma Steel company."

No Danger, Says Barnes.

Further assurance that Duluthians need have no fear that the government will permit any action that will result in the raising of the level of Lake Superior above normal, came in another telegram today from Julius H. Barnes, who is in Washington on this and other business for Duluth.

It is clear, judging from the tenor of the telegram, that Mr. Barnes feels that there is no danger, but there are those in Duluth who feel that the city should be represented at the meeting of the international joint commission at Detroit, Mich., on March 9, in view of the fact that action of the international commission is final in such matters, even ahead of the board of government engineers. The telegram from Mr. Barnes, received at the Commercial club today is as follows:

"At a conference today of the ranking officers of the board of government engineers with Congressman Miller and myself, the whole matter of the power use of the St. Mary's river and the consequent effect on the Lake Superior level was gone into carefully. Regulation works are to be installed at Sault Ste. Marie at the expense of the national government with the primary purpose of maintaining the level of Lake Superior at the normal level as in the past. It has at times been necessary to close down the power works entirely for short periods to avoid a decided fall in the level of Lake Superior.

"The engineers will permit nothing that will raise the level of Lake Superior above the normal. They are fully aware of the immnese damage such a raise will cause and have given the very strongest assurances that there is not the slightest ground for alarm."

OUTSIDE WORK COMPLETED

Inventory of Electrical Company Property Will Soon Be Available.

The valuation placed by the city upon the property of the Duluth-Edison Electric company will not be known for a month or six weeks.

The outside work has been completed and W. B. Rittenhouse this afternoon forwarded to the company complete copies of the inventory which has been taken. This is done to enable the lighting firm to check it to determine whether or not any items have been omitted.

No prices are attached to the inventory but this work is now being done in the office of the city's valuation expert. The value of property in each of the eighty districts into which he divided the city for the purposes of the valuation is being ascertained separately. The total valuation will not be known until the last of these has been computed. Mr. Rittenhouse says that he is not making any guesses and that the figures will not be known until they are final, or very nearly so.

Should his position as a member of the committee which is to pass on the water rates require a considerable portion of his time the winding up of the electrical valuation may be somewhat delayed. He says, however, that his office force is so organized that the water rates will likely interfere but little.

WANTS $500,000 TO SOOTHE HEARTBREAK

MONICA BORDEN.

What promises to be a sensational suit has been brought by Monica Borden against Octavio Guinle for $500,000 for breach of promise. Mr. Guinle is the New York representative of a Brazilian firm which is composed of members of his family. Miss Borden is reported to have been on the stage, but her connection with the drama has not been established definitely.

Miss Borden has made public letters of Mr. Guinle which indicate that he was very much devoted to the young woman and that he believed he could not live without her. He decided to live without her, however, and her lawyer says it was when Guinle's family cabled him that he must not marry her on penalty of disinheritance. Guinle's lawyer says the suit is a "hold-up" and that surprising facts will come out at the trial.

FLANAGAN-TURNER JURORS IN DOUBT

Ask Additional Instructions in St. Paul Graft Case.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A request for additional instructions made by the jury in the second Flanagan-Turner graft trial at 11:40 a. m. today was construed by counsel for the defendants, because of the nature of the questions asked, as favorable to an acquittal. The jury was taken out to lunch at noon and court room attaches said they expected a verdict would be returned late today.

Flanagan and Turner recently were acquitted of a charge of bribery, and were placed on trial a second time on another indictment alleging the acceptance of $3000 from a former resort keeper whose resort, it was charged in the indictment, was to be accorded police protection.

AWARDED $966 FOR FOUR HORSES

Alfred G. Mealey of Eau Claire, Wis., was awarded a verdict for $966 against Runquist & Barnard, contractors, by a jury in Judge Cant's division of the district court yesterday afternoon.

Mealey sued for $1,270, claiming that four of his horses died as a result of overwork and improper care while in the hands of the defendants. The animals were rented to P. McDonnell, subcontractor on the construction of the Spirit Lake Transfer railway, but Meale claims that Runquist & Barnard, who took over McDonnell's contract when he went into bankruptcy, are responsible for the loss.

DRUG "FIENDS" COMMITTED.

North Dakotan and Wife Voluntarily Sent to State Asylum.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. L. Young and wife, who are addicted to the use of morphine, have been committed to the state asylum for treatment, on their voluntary application.

It is the first instance of the kind in North Dakota. Young was a teacher and began to use the drug to alleviate pain caused by an injury to his spine, and his wife acquired the habit in treating her husband.

Barnesville, Minn., Feb. 18.—A. L. Felde has been chosen president of the Commercial club for the second time. The vice president is Orris Oliver; treasurer, S. O. Solum; directors, T. Gunness, John Bredemeier, W. S. Lee, C. R. Oliver and Frank Janneck.

Suffrage Vote Denied.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 19.—The woman suffrage bill was killed in the house of delegates by a vote of 60 to 34. The measure provided for the submission of a constitutional amendment to give woman the right to vote.

Shoots at Rat; Hits Man.

Monroe, Wis., Feb. 19.—Alfred Schleim was accidentally shot in the back of the head in his saloon at Browntown, west of here, when his bartender picked up a small 22 rifle to shoot a rat. No trace of the bullet can be found.

COULDN'T BE FOOLED.

Young's Magazine: Miss Jane Cowl, who is starring in "Within the Law," tells the following incident to prove that there is at least one man who will never make a Christian Scientist.

"It was a bitter cold day; the snow was deep and the sidewalks frozen hard. A colored man, bundled up in a moth-eaten chinchilla coat, stood shivering against a building trying to avoid the freezing blasts.

"Just then another darkey, dressed in thin, threadbare clothes, and with no overcoat, came out of a nearby barber shop and started up the street, whistling cheerily. Still whistling, he passed and glanced up at the darky in the big chinchilla coat. The latter took one withering look at the passer-by and yelled:

"'Say, nigger, you can whistle as loud as you please, but you can't make me believe it ain't cold.'"

Nearly $100,000,000 has been spent within a few months on new buildings in New York.

THE SYRACUSE HERALD says the Duluth Boat club is the farm of the University of Syracuse crew. Why not put it the other way and state that Syracuse is the farm of the Duluth Boat club?

At the present time Walter Glass and Art Osman, former students in the Ten Eyck college of oarsmenship, are at Syracuse. Also it might be stated that in the future there may be other of the Duluth boys sent down to make the crews of the older Ten Eyck famous.

Leaping the precipitous brink of conclusion, it is just as easy to conjure cocky Syracuse as the farm of the now famous crews of the boat club as it is to picture the oarsmen of these parts depending upon the efforts of men sent from the East.

Speaking further of rowing leads one to wonder what kind of material Jimmy Ten Eyck will have this season—leaving out of consideration the old men. James junior has developed three winning bantam crews; with the right kind of material there is bright hued hope that he will come back this season with another winner. But, believe us, it will take some material to beat the crews St. Paul, Winnipeg and Fort William will have on the water this season—and it is the material that Jeems will be looking for immediately upon his arrival in our fair city.

The Sailor One Wins.

NEWS from International Falls states that Sailor Jack defeated our West Duluth Carl Hanson in the wrestling contest that was held in the near border city. As the mat feud between the marine and the strong boy of our town has existed for a year or more, the result of the encounter will prove of more or less interest.

Speaking of the sailor brings Leon Curtis to mind. They say that this Curtis person is one of the greatest wrestlers in the country. His light has been charmingly hidden under a bushel during the time he has been on the mat. Curtis beat Ed Atherton at Red Lake Falls the other evening, and now he wants to mingle with the best men in the game. As Ketonen comes under that caption, Curtis wants the Finn. However, before he goes after Ketonen it is very likely that some of the promoters of the northern section of the state will match the sailor and Curtis, and if Curtis beats the seaman he will be put down as one of the best in the game, for Sailor Jack is one of the tough mortals in the grappling game.

The Clever Clabby.

O.D De Witt Van Court—truly some name for a boxing instructor—declares that Clabby was in no shape for his contest with that tough and somewhat ornery person, Sailor Petroskey.

The Los Angeles instructor of boxing declares that had the chief pride and social fixture of Hammond, Ind., been in shape he would have stopped the ex-attache of the large coast defense department of Uncle Sam in less than ten rounds.

One of the favorite indoor pastimes has been to compare promising fighters to Kid McCoy. In the vast majority of cases the comparisons have been odious. In slim and slippery Clabby, one of the greatest boxers of his day and one of the smartest ringmen, the game has the nearest modern approach to the immortal kid.

What a grand and highly satisfactory meeting it would be to have the James Clabby one and Miquel Gibbons meet over the twenty-round route.

Tourists and others present in Los Angeles would rise in early morning ecstacy and fall eagerly in line before the box office.

The Clean Linen League.

NOW we approach George Stovall. What about George? Nothing but neatness, we assure you.

George, as you are probably aware of, is the manager of the Kansas City Federal league club. The edict has gone forth, from the firm and chiseled lips of George, that there will be ten real dollars set aside each week for each player in the cleanup and keep clean fund. With the ten bones the player is expected to wear clean linen and keep shaved constantly, a habit that is perilously difficult for some players to acquire. Another consideration—and one of the most important—each player must keep his trousers neatly creased.

If a baseball player has only one pair of trousers, how is he going to keep them creased? Perhaps George will expect all of the members of the Kansas City Federal league team to possess at least two pairs of trousers.

White collars, even on Saturday, is another of the rules of the Stovall regime. To think that all of this should be propagated in Kansas City, that dirty and somewhat messy smoke station of the raging Kaw!

It only goes to show that we live and learn.

MILLER HUGGINS, a quiet young fellow and also the manager of the St. Louis Nationals—hold—how could a man be quiet and endure being manager of the St. Louis team?—Please don't interrupt—Miler used to study law in St. Pau and possibly knows the advantage of moving first. We learn that he has cabled to secure the signatures of Lee Magee and Ivy Wingo before they leave Europe for the return trip to the home terra firma.

Miller requests, even beseeches, Jawn McGraw to tender sweetly money laden contracts to the players in question and have them attach with trembling hands of golden anticipation their signatures thereon.

ALONG with reports from over the country of the first robin, comes tripping in the advance reports of the first baseball game scheduled for the season.

Ketonen May Cross Pond.

WILL THORNTON, the manager of Waino Ketonen, the wonderful little Finnish wrestler, wrote to Ketonen yesterday that he is negotiating with several big promoters on the other side of the pond relative to the matching of Ketonen and Jack Smith, the light heavyweight wrestling champion of the British Isles.

In England the followers of the game believe Ketonen the greatest wrestler of his weight in the world. Thornton is an Englishman, and in the event of his securing the promise of a meeting between the boy who is making his home in Duluth and the best man in England at 165 pounds, it is very probable that Ketonen and Thornton will cross the brine in the spring.

And in the meantime he awaits with commendable patience the signing of articles upon the part of Mike Yokel.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MATERIAL

Boat Club Officers Going After Big Squad of Oarsmen.

Capt. Clarence Stewart of the rowing department of the Duluth Boat club announced today that letters would be sent to every athletic young man in the city of Duluth, in the endeavor to assemble the largest rowing squad in the history of the boat club.

With work starting on the machines on the 3rd of next month, and with two entirely new crews to develop, the prospects of the boat club crews for the present season will depend largely upon the efforts of the followers of the club in getting out some promising new material.

At a meeting of those interested in rowing, held two weeks ago, plans were discussed for the season. It was then stated that plans were being formulated for an active campaign in the quest of new material. According to the statement of Capt. Stewart, the most thorough and active search for material that has ever been undertaken by the officers of the club will speedily be inaugurated.

Huskies Should Apply.

"Every young man in Duluth who has any pretensions whatever to athletic activity is requested to come out and try for a place in the rowing squad," said Capt. Stewart. "Even if a man does not win a regular place in one of the crews the first season, he receives some of the most beneficial training and stands an almost certain chance of making one of the regular places the next season. Some of the best oarsmen in the club today are men who failed to make a regular position the first year out.

"Duluth has established the reputation of having the best crews in the United States. To sustain this reputation we must accomplish a vast amount of work, and to accomplish the work it is necessary to have material. That is why it is so important to have a large squad of candidates out."

Want Meet in South.

New York, Feb. 19.—A request that this year's National Amateur Athletic union track and field outdoor championships be held on the field of John Hopkins university during the week of Sept. 7, was received from the officials of the South Atlantic association at the A. DULUTH MEETS SOO IN FINAL SERIES OF SEASON

Visitors Are Tied With Calumet for League Leadership.

Wind-up Games Promise to Be the Fastest of Season.

The final series of American Hockey association games of the present season will be played tonight and tomorrow night when the teams of the Duluth Curling club and American Soo meet.

Credited with having one of the best teams in the league, the boys of the American side of the Soo will make their first and at the same time last appearance of the year here in the series that will bring the local league season to a close.

As the Michigan Soo seven is tied with Calumet for the leadership of the league, the games here will have a very important bearing upon the deciding of the pennant.

The followers of the game here may rest assured that they will see some of the best hockey of the season. Members of the Duluth team played in good form on the recent trip, hard luck figuring in the loss of two of the games. It is the chief ambition of every member of the team to win both of the games of the series that starts this evening, and as the winning of both of the games here is necessary upon the part of the Soo team, if the members of the invading seven hope to head off Calumet in a final rush to the wire, there should be some fast and furious playing.

Soo Seven Is Fast.

Hill, the center of the visiting team, and Godin, rover, are two of the stars, not only of the Soo team, but of the league. In the games against Duluth and in fact every team of the league, these men have played stellar roles.

Hill is fast and one of the best shots in the league. Godin is another fast skater and also a dead shot at the old cage.

Another of the stars of the visitors is Tallion at goal. While some of the followers of the league games have ranked Carly Haug as the star goal of the five teams, the loyal followers of the Michigan team declare that Tallion is as good if not better than the calm and brightly twinkling star of the Portage Lake aggregation.

Capt. Murray of the visitors is the largest man on the team and is one of the most aggressive players. The leader of the Soo team stands over six feet in height and weighs over 185 pounds. He is difficult to check and very good at carrying the puck.

Because of the fact that the games of tonight and tomorrow night have so important a bearing on the result of the race for the Manley-McLennan trophy, and further because the two games will be the last opportunity Duluthians will have to witness league hockey, it is expected that both contests will be witnessed by very large crowds.

Following is the lineup:

Duluth—		Soo—
Belleck	g	Tallion
Linder	p	Thomsett
Bogan	cp	Murray
Olson	f	Godin
Grenner	fw	Campbell
Barkell	fw	Bailey
Kahler	c	Hill

Referee, Deltz.

Friday noon. Prizes to be awarded follow:

Singles—First, $3; second, $2.50; third, $2; fourth, $1.60; fifth, $1; sixth, 75c; seventh, 50c.

Team dogs—First, $1.25; second, $1.

Skis pulled by dogs—First, 75c; second, 50c; third, 25c.

Capt. F. E. Keese, John Lacey and James Bryden have charge of the races. John S. Olson has been appointed treasurer, and Messrs. Keese and Lacey will act as starters. The judges will be James Bryden, John Burke, William C. Uren, Len Johnson, Lou Toutloff, Clifford Barabe and Bert Ramsdell. "Bill" Hooper will act as messenger.

WANTS HIS NEW MEN

Murphy Inquiring About Purdue and Sweeney—Latter Boston's Captain.

C. P. Taft at Saturday's Meeting—Yankees Begin Active Training.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 19.—John J. Evers, the former manager of the Chicago National league club, who was acquired a few days ago by the Boston Nationals, came here last night from his home in Troy, N. Y. Evers was informed that he would play at second base, and that Sweeney, who was second baseman last season, would be in competition with Deal, a recruit from Providence, for the third base position. This was the statement of Manager Stallings, who also said that Sweene, would act as captain.

"Neither Purdue nor Sweeney has reported. What is the situation?"

Gaffney's reply was to the effect that he would be in Cincinnati soon and would talk the matter over with Murphy there.

New York, Feb. 19.—Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, who holds a large, if not the controlling, interest in the Chicago Nationals, is here. He did not come here on baseball business, he said, but it is expected that he will confer here with John K. Tener, president of the National league, who is coming from Philadelphia.

Mr. Taft said it was true that he would attend the adjourned meeting of the National league in Cincinanti on Saturday, when the club owners will discuss the action of Charles W. Murphy in deposing Johnny Evers.

According to a statement issued by President Edward Barrow of the International league, there will be no changes in either the circuit or the schedule during the present season. Mr. Barrow said:

"I wish to deny officially the various reports regarding shifts by clubs representing cities in our circuit. There is no truth in the statements that we are to conflict with or combat either clubs or leagues in other organizations. This applies in particular to the Jersey City and Newark clubs, recently referred to as about to be shifted to Brooklyn.

"Earlier in the season, the International league discussed the advisability of moving one of the Jersey clubs to Washington park, Brooklyn. After a careful study of the situation, it was decided not to carry out the idea and there has been no change in that determination."

The New York Nationals yesterday received the signed contract of Pitcher Arthur Fromme, who, according to report, had been negotiating with the Federal league.

The advance squad of the National league champions will leave today for their training camp in Marlin, Texas.

"Silent John" Hummel, utility player, has signed his contract with the Brooklyn National league club. Hummel has played nearly every position on the team during the last few years. Gagnie, shortstop, drafted from Newark; Tommy Romanach, shortstop of Cuba, and Joe Tinker, are the only players on the Brooklyn roster who have not yet signed for this season.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 19.—With the arrival of Tom Daly, coach of the New York Americans, active spring training for that club has begun. Five members of the Brooklyn Nationals also were out for light practice yesterday. Besides the New York and Brooklyn teams, the Boston Americans, Pittsburg Nationals and the Indianapolis team of the American association will train at Hot Springs.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 19.—The Baltimore Federal league baseball club will leave here on March 11 for Southern Pines, N. C., for spring training. Manager Knabe said there would be between twenty and twenty-five players in the squad.

Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 19.—John Collins, outfielder of the Chicago American league baseball club, today received offers from the Chicago and Buffalo Federal league clubs. He refused both, as he has signed for 1914. He left later for the training camp.

SOX TO MEET AT OSHKOSH

Darby's Ball Tossers Will Train in the Wisconsin Village.

Oshkosh, Wis., is likely to be the spring training camp of the Duluth White Sox.

For the last two weeks Irish Leader Darby O'Brien has been in correspondence with several of the leading citizens of the town that is chiefly famous for being the home of Eddie McGoorty, and has just about closed with those eager to have the Sox doing their training in the Wisconsin town.

Madison, Wis., and Cleveland have been under consideration. But the inducements held out by the Oshkosh people are very tempting and it is practically certain that the rookies will be broken in down in the spot that has been the butt of comic song and joke.

Some of the candidates for the team will gather at Cleveland and some at Madison, according to the statement made by O'Brien yesterday. It is probable that the Dook will lead the Cleveland clan to the training camp in person. One of the members of last year's team will probably have charge of the Madison squad until it reaches the Oshkosh camp.

The White Sox stand in high favor with the citizens of the little Wisconsin village. At the close of one of tha Minny league races the Sox met the Oshkosh team in a post season series, and the impression made by the Dook and his men is chiefly responsible for the inducements held out in the way of the training camp lure.

ISHPEMING DOG RACES.

Some Lively Contests Expected on Main Street Next Saturday.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 19.—Entries for the dog races to be pulled off on street next Saturday morning will be received by Recorder R. H. Olds up to

Rheumatism

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit.

Send No Money—Just Your Address.

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is, and have given him sympathy with all unfortunates who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

"I Had Sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints."

"In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today

MARK H. JACKSON,
No. 691 Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y."

Mr. Jackson is responsible. Above statement true.

AD WOLGAST IN THE CITY

Former Champion Says He Will Defeat Willie Ritchie.

Ad Wolgast, former world's lightweight champion boxer; Tom Jones, manager of the little Cadillac wonder; Ernie Potts, the promoter of the athletic entertainment, and the members of the troupe, reached Duluth early today and will show at the Auditorium this evening. The appearance of Wolgast in an exhibition sparring match with Pal Brown will give the fans of Duluth their first look at one of the most famous fighters in the world.

On March 12 Wolgast will meet Willie Ritchie for the second time of his career. On Nov. 28, 1912, at Daly City, Cal., Wolgast lost the world's championship to Willie Ritchie on a foul. Some claim that the foul was deliberate, while others are just as positive that the win was a very lucky one for the present champion of the world.

"Wolgast will beat Ritchie when he meets the present champion at Milwaukee next month," declared Jones at the St. Louis hotel last evening.

"Wolgast will never admit that Ritchie is his superior as a fighter. Ad and myself have tried repeatedly to get Ritchie into the ring again, but all of our efforts have met with failure. At last, however, we have succeeded, and Wolgast will whip Ritchie just as decisively as he beat Joe Rivers.

"The little Dutchman is back where he was before he was stricken down with appendicitis just on the eve of the encounter with Freddy Welsh, and when he was right there was no lightweight in the ring who had any business beating Wolgast."

Jones announced that he has a large number of engagements in prospect for Wolgast. Johnny Dundee and Wolgast are to meet in New York and it is very likely, says Jones, that Charley White, who by the way is spoken as one of the near opponents of Pal Brown, will get a return meeting with Wolgast in Milwaukee.

As for Wolgast, the rugged little fighter declared through his manager that he was confident of beating Ritchie. While the bout that will be held in Milwaukee next month will be a no-decision one, Jones declares that if Wolgast shades the champion it will be necessary to give the little Dutchman a return battle over the marathon route. Jones declares that Tom McCarey of the Pacific Coast Athletic club will enter the lists in bidding for a battle.

This is the first visit of the former lightweight champion to Duluth, and in the event of his appearing in a friendly sparring exhibition with Brown, the fans may at least get a line on the boxing styles of the two boys.

ST. PAUL QUINTET MAKES BIG SCORE

Flor de Knispels Roll Biggest Score of International Tournament.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 19.—Double and single events principally attracted the attention of the bowlers on the final day of the sixth annual tournament of the International Bowling association. Several experts were to have appeared on the alleys during the day and some records were expected to be broken. The last five-men event will be rolled tonight.

The big score of the tournament was made last night by the Flor de Knispel team of St. Paul, when an aggregate of 2,910 was rolled. This team was the winner of first place in the American Bowling congress at Toledo in 1913, with a score of more than 3,000. Following are the leading scores:

Five-men team events—Flor de Knispel, St. Paul, 2,910; Wild Rose, Marshalltown, Iowa, 2,875; Doris, St. Paul, 2,858; West Hotel, Minneapolis, 2,855; Blatz, Chicago, 2,845.

Doubles—C. R. Gibson and George Roblin, Winnipeg, 1,258; R. H. Highsted and H. Peterson, Minneapolis, 1,236; J. Sweeney and C. Ashley, Sioux City, Iowa, 1,227; M. Nuth and J. J. Lentsch, St. Paul, 1,213; H. A. Myers and H. Hartsock, Sioux Falls, S. D., 1,213.

Singles—E. W. Webber, Le Mars, Iowa, 671; J. Marino, Chicago, 650; Paul Chadd, South Omaha, 648; E. J. O'Donnell, Sioux City, Iowa, 645; Emil Imkoff, Dubuque, Iowa, 636.

TOUCHARD WINS.

Playing Through Champion Goes Into Semi-Finals Easily.

New York, Feb. 19.—Gustav F. Touchard, the playing through title holder, won his place in the semi-final round of the singles yesterday in the national indoor championship lawn tennis tournament on the courts of the Seventh Regiment armory. In the fifth round Touchard reeling off crosscourt shots at a pace that held G. Carlton Shafer, his opponent in check, won at 6-1, 7-5, with comparative ease. Touchard by his victory paired with Benjamin M. Phillips for the final. At every stage of the match Touchard was the master of the former Princeton-Columbia star. He scored the match by a total of 69 points to 45, outdriving Shafer whenever he pleased.

W. C. Grant and G. C. Shafer, the doubles champions, as well as G. S. Groesbeck and John C. McKay, won their places in the semi-final round of the doubles. Grant and Shafer had little to do to beat L. V. Robinson and Gustave G. Grenz at 6-1, 6-2, while Groesbeck and McKay disposed of H. F. Guggenheim and H. A. Williams 7-5, 7-5.

The doubles match which attracted the greatest interest was in the third round, Touchard and William B. Cragin, Jr., beating Karl H. Behr and Bernon S. Prentice, famous Yale-Harvard veterans at 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. Behr's driving and smashing were spectacular. He lacked steadiness, however, and the pair failed to win.

NORTHERNS WIN AGAIN

Kelleys Defeated at Hockey By Close Score of 4 to 2.

At the French rink last evening the Northerns defeated the strong Kelley hockey team in a fast and well played contest by the score of 4 to 2.

Showing slightly better team work, the Northerns had the shade throughout the contest, which was so close, however, that it belonged to either team right up to the call of time.

Not a single penalty was called during the game. Fast at all times and filled with clever playing, there was no semblance of roughness at any time, and the game was one of the very best of the season.

Du Moe scored the first point eight minutes after the call of time, from a scrimmage that started behind the Kelley goal. Rickard made the second score of the first half from a pass Du Moe, just before the call of time.

Olson made a pretty rush down the ice after about thirteen minutes of play in the second half and shot a pretty net after evading two of the Northern forwards. Parsons made the third score for the Northerns shortly after this. Miller scored next for the Kelleys, getting a pass from Landgren and in just two minutes before the call of time Du Moe shot the final net of the game, making a pretty rush up the sidelines and shooting a beauty.

The lineup:

Northerns—		Kelleys—
Richards	g	Sponberg
Swanstrom	p	Berg
Grenner (Capt.)	cp	Anderson
Rickard	r	Olson
Du Moe	lw	Landgren
Parsons	c	Johnson, Miller

Summary: Referee — Alder. Goal judges—Wick and Hedberg. Timekeepers—Johnson and Nelson.

ZBYSZKO WILL CLAIM WRESTLING TITLE.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 19.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, after defeating B. F. Roller in straight falls last night, announced that, in view of the retirement of Frank Gotch, he will claim the wrestling championship of the world and will defend the title against all comers.

CURLING SCORES

Universal trophy event, Harris, 8; Warren, 11; Manley-McLennan trophy, Beach, 12; Forsyth (B), 2; Gruesen event, Whyte, 12; Naughton, 11; Bradley, 10; Pierce, 9; Dinham, 15; Weegham, 6.

Tonight's draw: Gruesen event—Tredway vs. Macrae, Richardson vs. Preslee, Ron Smith vs. Bert Dunlap, Heimich vs. Catterson (B), Whyte vs. Messer, Oldham (A) vs. Stillman, Harris vs. Robert Dunlap; Herald—Bradley vs. Cleveland.

SKI JUMPERS ARRIVE.

Several Cracks on Hand for Ishpeming Contest Next Saturday.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 19.—Several of the noted ski riders who are to take part in the annual ski tournament on the Ishpeming hill next Saturday have arrived and have already tried out the hill. They are Sigrid Hanson, star rider in 1912, who took away practically all of the first prizes; Lars Haugen, who won first place in the meet near Chicago a week ago last Sunday and who two years ago captured first place here, and Hans Hanson. They visited the hill yesterday and report it in excellent condition. Several fine jumps were made.

IMMENSE STEEL MAST FOR DEFENDER.

Boston Mass., Feb. 19.—Work has been started on a steel mast for the yacht being built by the George Lawley & Son corporation for A. S. Cochran as a candidate for the defense of the America's cup. The mast, which will be approximately 110 feet long, will be stepped immediately after the sloop is launched and it is expected that the first trials will be made with this. Another mast of hollow wooden construction is to be built and will replace the steel mast in case that should prove unsatisfactory.

Cold weather has delayed the setting up of the yacht and the work is a week behind schedule.

IOWA'S SCHEDULE.

Only One Game of Football Yet to Be Arranged.

Iowa City, Iowa, Feb. 19.—The University of Iowa's 1914 football schedule, complete except for one practice game, which probably will go to Cornell college, is announced as follows:

Oct. 3, state teachers at Iowa City; Oct. 10, Cornell at Iowa City; Oct. 17, Chicago at Chicago; Oct. 24, Minnesota at Iowa City; Nov. 7, Northwestern at Evanston; No. 14, Ames at Ames; Nov. 21, Nebraska at Iowa City.

The arrangement of the Minnesota date settled the last of the big games.

Will Coach Carnegie.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Walter Steffens, quarterback of the University of Chicago football team in 1907, says he has signed a contract to coach the football team of Carnegie institute at Pittsburg next year.

Reaches Second Place.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Charles Morin of Chicago defeated Harry Cooler 50 to 36 here last night in the interstate three-cushion billiard league match. The victory put Morin in second place. A. Kieckhefer of Milwaukee retaining the lead.

Operation on Track Man.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 19.—It was announced today that A. L. Jackson, the Harvard hurdler, had passed successfully through an operation yesterday for the removal of a piece of splintered bone from the muscles of his leg. It is expected that he will be able to participate in the spring track meets.

Ball Players Entertained.

Paris, Feb. 19.—The members of the visiting American baseball teams were the guests of honor at a luncheon today at which Ambassador Herrick and a number of French people prominent in athletic and political circles in Paris, were present.

Good Prices for Horses.

New York, Feb. 19.—The midwinter horse auction at Madison Square Garden was concluded yesterday. The prices averaged a little better than on the opening day. Guy Axworthy, a 12-year-old stallion by Axworthy Lillian Wilkes, and seventeen others, comprised the consignment from Former Senator Joseph W. Bailey's Fairlands farm, Lexington, Ky., which brought $11,200, an average of $623. The top price of the day was $2,100, paid for Guy Axworthy, by H. C. Moody, Lexington, Ky.

STEEL TRADE STILL GROWING

Plants May Further Increase Operations in Near Future.

Reports from the iron and steel manufacturing centers are to the effect that shipments are showing marked gains during the last few days and that unless there is a decrease in bookings, the mills will be able to increase their present 65 per cent of capacity operations to 70 or 75 per cent within the next two or three weeks.

Buying of pig iron is a feature at present and prices show an advancing tendency. That buyers generally are feeling confident regarding the future trend of trade is attested in the fact that some of them have covered their second half requirements at slight advances over the prompt market. As a rule furnaces will not sell for such delivery except at considerable advances.

The Farrell plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company is now operating at normal capacity, with two new mills just completed placed in commission.

The large by-product cooking plant of the Republic Iron & Steel company near Youngstown, Ohio, is expected to go into commission within the next few weeks.

The Cambria Steel company set a new high record in operations according to the report of its last fiscal year, just issued. Net earnings of $6,234,950 were shown equal to 13.87 per cent on its capital stock. This compares with a net revenue of $3,411,083 in 1912 and or $2,777,338 in 1911.

STATE CAN KEEP PRISONERS' CLOTHES.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 19.—The state board of control has the right to take the clothes away from a prisoner and not return them to him at the end of his incarceration.

This opinion was given to the board by Attorney General Owen.

A Green Bay man was sent to Waupun and at the close of his term filed a bill for $100, enumerating many costly garments which had been retained.

It is the custom at the prison to give the prisoner a new or discarded suit.

Newberry Asylum Full.

Newberry, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Notice has been served by the local hospital authorities upon the judges of probate of the various counties of the Upper Peninsula, that for the time being no more persons be accommodated at the Newberry insane asylum. With its hundreds of patients, the institution is overtaxed. Not until April 15, when a cottage now being constructed will provide additional room, will the hospital be prepared to receive further charges.

Conference at Bessemer.

Republic, Mich., Feb. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Announcement is made that the next general conference of the Swedish Luttheran churches of the Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin district will be held at Bessemer, opening April 22 and continuing in session four days. The district contains sixty-eight congregations. The church property is valued at $100,000. Rev. August T. Fant of Iron Mountain is president, and R. A. Nelson of Manistique, the secretary.

MINNESOTA STOMACH VICTIMS FIND RELIEF WITH FIRST DOSE

Wonderful Remedy Saves Many From Desperate Illnesses and Dangerous Operations.

End stomach troubles quickly with Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The first dose proves what it will do. Hundreds of people in Minnesota have used it with unusual benefit.

Here are the words of a few of the many in this state who have taken it:

JOHN TOWEY, 2030 Dayton Avenue, St. Paul, Minn., ordering a second treatment, wrote: "I have been feeling fine since I took your medicine. It certainly cleared my skin. I have recommended your medicine to a number of stomach sufferers."

MRS. PETER WILLIAMS, 2749 Eighteenth Street, S., Minneapolis, wrote: "I have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and feel like a new woman. I am entirely out of pain. Four of our best doctors could do nothing for me and agreed I must have an operation."

Such experiences are general among the users of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. It clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare that it has saved them from dangerous operations; many are sure that it has saved their lives.

Because of its remarkable merit Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy has many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Probably this remedy is known among your neighbors; ask them. Go to Wirth's drug store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr's Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

ON THE IRON RANGES

EVELETH BANQUET IS BIG SUCCESS

Mayor Prince of Duluth, Senator Boyle and Others Speak.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The banquet given by the Commercial club in the Auditorium last night was a brilliant success in every way. About 150 men and women were present and the good things to eat served by the Presbyterian ladies under the guidance of Max Goets, a Virginia caterer, were of a high order.

President C. J. McGilvery of the Commercial club welcomed the assemblage and Toastmaster A. G. Kingston introduced the speakers.

Duluth's Mayor Speaks.

Mayor W. J. Prince of Duluth, speaking on "Civic Government," told of the better enforcement of laws under the commission form of government and praised Eveleth for adopting that plan. He urged law enforcement, especially in the handling of the liquor traffic, yet maintained the legitimate saloonkeepers should be protected against the blind pigs.

L. B. Arnold, land agent for the Iron Range road, struck a responsive chord with all when he urged the development of the resources of St. Louis county, which he said, were "merely scratched over."

County Agent Ward related how correctional work was being carried on and urged co-operation in keeping up the work.

State Senator J. P. Boyle, speaking of "Civic Pride," lambasted the spoils system in politics, especially in Minnesota, and predicted the time would come when the right to hold office depended upon the office holder's worth more than his ability to hand out "official pap." Postmaster Ed Hatch and Solomon Sax, both of Eveleth, also spoke.

PLANNING TO EXTEND HIBBING WHITE WAY

Range Village Likes System So Much It Wants Some More.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—An extension of the white way on Second avenue past the Lincoln school on Fourth avenue fully as far and on all of the cross streets between Second and Fourth avenues, is contemplated by the water and light board this year and it is probable that bids on the iron posts and lamps will be asked for soon.

According to the present plans, the five lamp posts now in use in the village will be installed on all of Second avenue and on the cross streets between Second and Third avenues. On the streets running east from Third avenue three lamp posts will be placed and the same style will be used on Fourth avenue.

This, with the proposed extension of the water mains and the installation of the new plant south of the village, will keep the board and its employes busy during the coming season.

The arc light system at Alice is giving splendid satisfaction now that it is completed. The entire suburb is well lighted and the citizens are pleased with the progress that has been made.

VIRGINIA CHURCHES JOIN IN MOVEMENT

Hibbing Churches Favor Idea But Will Try Something Later.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The go to church movement is receiving attention from Virginia churchmen. A majority of the ministers are actively engaged in creating sentiment in favor of the idea, and members of church organizations are also lending their aid. Local laundrymen, grocers, meat dealers and other business men will assist and thousands of tags bearing the words "I am going to church Sunday" will be sent out in parcels leaving their stores and shops Friday and Saturday.

Rev. John Stone, formerly pastor of the First Methodist church here, now located at Ashland, Wis., will preach both morning and evening sermons in the local church Sunday. Mr. Stone has been assisting at revival meetings on the range.

Hibbing Not in Movement.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though heartily in sympathy with the "Go to Church" movement, the local ministers will not select Feb. 22 as the day upon which Hibbing residents will be urged to attend divine worship. The absence of one of the ministers and the recent arrival of another has delayed concerted action and it has been thought best to postpone the campaign for church attendance until a later date.

"Hibbing will not be behind when it does come to starting such a campaign," said one of the ministers in discussing the move, "but it is not wise to attempt to do anything at this time. I am not prepared to say what date will be selected."

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CONVICTED THIEF TELLS ODD STORY

Says Gopher Governor Came to Hibbing and Took Him to Stillwater.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The claim of Elias Manna, found guilty of stealing dynamite from the Lincoln mine at Virginia, that he had served a term in the state penitentiary at Stillwater and that Governor John A. Johnson made a personal trip to the range to take him back to the institution, will be investigated before sentence is passed upon by Judge Hughes.

Manna told the court that after coming from Finland he lived for some time in the United States, but went to Canada. He told of returning to the United States and of his imprisonment in Stillwater, of his parole and of an accident received in a mine when a portion of his skull was fractured and, according to his claim, his brain laid open for a time. It was then he said that Governor Johnson made the trip to the range to take him back to the penitentiary. It is believed that perhaps the accident, if one was sustained, may have affected the man's mentality.

FOR SURFACE WATER.

Engineer Favors Separate Sewer System in Village of Alice.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A separate system for the surface water, distinct from the one installed for the sewerage, is recommended by Village Engineer Hawley in his report on conditions in Alice where plans are now being made for the installation of sewers.

Mr. Hawley holds that at the present time there is no crying need for taking care of the surface water except possible on the main streets and that the separate system allows more work to be done during the winter time when men may be secured to better advantage.

Work on the ditches is under way and the system will be rushed so as to be ready for the water system which will be put in when the new wells are opened up south of the village.

ELY K. P. CELEBRATION.

Lodge Will Observe Fiftieth Anniversary of the Order.

Ely, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening the Knights of Pythias will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order. Mrs. Lawrence will serve a turkey banquet to the knights and their ladies and 100 have signified their intention of being present. The special golden jubilee ritualistic service will be given, also the following program: Piano solo, Miss Blaine Penske; vocal solo, Miss Margaret Brown; reading, Miss Ivy Green; duet, Miss Alice Brown and Miss Margaret Brown, and addresses by Henry Chinn and Rev. E. F. Stidd. Chancellor Commander James Tonkin will preside. The lodge here is in a very prosperous condition, and is one of the strongest on the ranges.

James I. Laing of the Laing Hardware company left yesterday for a business trip through Wisconsin.

Mrs. C. C. Carpenter is visiting relatives in the southern part of the state.

Mrs. Jock Brown entertained last evening at her home on Harvey street in honor of Joseph Kelsell, who left today for a visit in England. He will be gone about two months.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church entertained at a social tea yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church. During the afternoon a quilt was tied by the members of the aid.

"Go to Church Sunday" will be observed here next Sunday and promises to be largely attended. Extensive advertising is being done by the churches and is meeting with a ready response.

WILL REWARD WOMAN.

Chisholm to Show Appreciation of Mrs. Mark Harris' Work.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mesdames Kleffman, O'Neil and Freeman are planning a suitable reward for Mrs. Mark L. Harris, Chisholm's leading philanthropist, and the movement is meeting with the approval of every right-minded individual in the village. Mrs. Harris has been foremost in every movement whereby the poor and ailing people of the village have been benefited. She has labored hard and has used practical judgment along with a keen desire to help her fellow beings.

HIBBING COUNCIL ADOPTS RESOLUTION.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The resolution taking in two quarters of the state land south of the village instead of one has been passed by the council and upon its proper publication the condemnation suit will be started by the village attorney. It is expected that the suit will take some time, but the officials are starting to prepare for the actual work of sinking the wells so that no time will be lost after the title has been secured. The pumps are also to be ordered at once.

Indians Not Admitted.

Nett Lake, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of Indians of the Bois Fort Indian reservation, held here, 120 Indians who sought admission to the Chippewa tribes of Minnesota were rejected. A resolution informing the honorable commissioner that the Nett Lake school burned Feb. 10 and that a boarding school to replace it was desirable, was adopted. The Indians urged that the school be built as soon as possible.

Must Be Sworn In.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The election of officials whose names were published yesterday will have to be sworn in at the office of the village recorder before they can legally act according to the notice sent to each one today by D. D. Haley. The officers may be sworn at any time before the election on March 10.

Virginia K. P. Smoker.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local lodge Knights of Pythias will give a stag smoker and banquet at their hall tonight commencing at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting will be an open one and each member will bring a friend.

Twenty Below at Eveleth.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local government thermometer maintained here by the Iron Range railroad registered 20 deg. below zero this morning.

RANGE MEN HURT IN ALBERT LEA WRECK

Whole Rock Island Train Is Derailed at That City.

Albert Lea, Minn., Feb. 19.—The Kansas City-Rock Island passenger train southbound, due here at 1:30 this a. m., was wrecked one miles north of here. All coaches, sleepers and the engine were derailed. Engineer Charles Rhinehart and Fireman Thompson of Minneapolis were seriously injured. Three passengers were injured. A relief train was sent from this city and the injured passengers were brought here.

Others injured were:

M. H. Thompson, Fargo, N. D., injured internally.

John Vuksonoviteh, Hibbing, Minn., legs cut and bruised.

John Bokjovich, Chisholm, Minn., head cut and back injured.

E. A. Machiner, Des Moines, Iowa, baggage man, severely cut on arms and legs.

YOUTH IS ARRESTED ON FORGERY CHARGE

Leonard Newton Alleged to Have Passed Bad Checks in Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Leonard R. Newton, aged about 22, whose home is in Leavenworth, Kan., and has resided in this section about a year during part of which time he was employed by the Mesaba Electric railway as a lineman, is in jail on a forgery charge. It is alleged he passed several worthless checks drawn on the First National bank of this city aggregating about $50. All but one of the checks were passed on saloonkeepers. He will have a hearing this afternoon before Judge Carey.

YEOMEN CELEBRATION.

Two Harbors Homestead Plans on Big Time Feb. 25.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Brotherhood of American Yeomen will celebrate its seventeenth anniversary on Wednesday evening, February 25, at the Glen hall. Chief correspondent, William E. Davy of Des Moines, Iowa, will be present, also State Manager J. H. Murphy of St. Paul, and Ada L. Garland of Superior, Wis.

A large class will be initiated, after which a banquet will be served, ending up with addresses by W. E. Davy, B. F. Fowler and Ada L. Garland. State Vice Grand Chancellor B. F. Fowler of the K. of P. of this city, will give an address on "Fraternity." Dancing will be enjoyed after the banquet. Miss Flynn and Miss Pascenon will play a few selections during the banquet hour, and will furnish the music for the dancing. The entertainment will be for members and new candidates only.

STUDENTS TO HELP.

Ely Boys and Girls Will Assist Residents of Town at Work.

Ely, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The manual training and domestic science departments of the high school have arranged to do work for the people of the city when needs along their respective lines arises. The young ladies will prepare and serve lunch for parties, and will also do sewing, while the boys of the manual training department will do light carpenter work for the residents of the city. The work in both lines is proving very practical as taught in the schools here, and this is considered but another step in making the work of more practical benefit.

TWO HARBORS FIVE CANCELS BEMDIJI TRIP.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local city basket ball team will not go to Bemidji today. The management of the Bemidji basket ball team wired Manager Grant yesterday and stated that on account of other arrangements for the use of the hall that the trip would have to be postponed to a later date. The local team was to have left this evening.

A game will be played here Saturday evening between the Northern Hardware team and the locals.

Chicken Pot Pie

The Chef's Favorite

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Some folks think that only "colored mammies" can cook chicken, but a trial of this famous chicken pot pie disproves that assertion. Every member of the family will thoroughly enjoy it.

K C Chicken Pot Pie, Baked Dumplings

One fowl cut in joints; ¼ cup flour; ½ teaspoonful salt; black pepper; 2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ teaspoonful salt; ¼ cup shortening; milk or cream.

Cover the fowl with boiling water and let simmer until tender, then remove to a baking dish. Mix the ¼ cup flour, salt and black pepper with cold water to a smooth paste and use to thicken the broth. Remove the fat from the top of the broth if necessary before adding the thickening. Pour this gravy over the fowl, until it is nearly covered, and reserve the rest to serve apart. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt, three times; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough, less stiff than for biscuits. Put this by spoonfuls over the fowl in the dish, which it should rest upon and completely cover. Let bake about 35 minutes.

When young, tender chickens are scarce, this presents a most satisfactory way of serving old fowls. Veal or lamb prepared in this manner is more appetizing than when served as a stew. Try this and the 89 other delicious recipes in the K C Cook's Book, a copy of which may be secured free by sending the colored certificate packed in the 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago.

Hohmann, at the home of Mrs. Moore last night. Both honor guests were formerly teachers here. Those attending were Miss Lorena McFarlane, Miss Lanham, Miss Mckard, Miss Edna Cole, Miss Laura Stenger, Miss Myrtle King, Miss Evelyn O'Neil, Miss Olund, Miss Margaret Rohan, Miss Yadia McDonald and Mrs. Julius Sobotta of Duluth.

GRAND RAPIDS DEBATE.

Champions of Eighth and Ninth Congressional Districts to Meet.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The question of the recall of judges will be debated here Saturday evening, Feb. 28, by the local high school team, winners in the Eighth congressional district, and the Ada, Minn., team, winners in the Ninth congressional district, the local team upholding the affirmative side of the discussion.

TOWER RUNAWAYS ARE CAUGHT IN VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Clara Rheman and Katie Shalla two Tower girls, aged about 16, who ran away from their homes, were arrested by the local police in the Holland hotel this morning on instructions from Tower. They were taken home today by a deputy sheriff.

Hibbing Bowlers Back.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Maras bowlers, who returned the first of the week from the tournament at Minneapolis are watching with interest the later scores. In the five-men event the local team rolled 2,583, in the last game getting 1,006 pins. F. Erklacich had high score with 257 and high average with 209. In the doubles the high score made by a local set was 1,150.

Hibbing Basket Ball.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an interesting game the seniors of the high school defeated the juniors at basket ball by a score of 26 to 18. Floyd Farnand was the star for the seniors, throwing most of the baskets.

Virginia Bank Joins.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Announcement is made by B. F. Britts, cashier of the First National bank, that the institution has filed application into the Federal reserve system.

The American Exchange and State banks will wait for a time before joining the Federal chain.

Goes to Dietz Wedding.

Chisholm Man Dying.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. C. Eastabrooks, who went to Sulver City, New Mexico, with Isaac Aro, states that Mr. Aro is not expected to live, the condition of his heart and liver being extremely bad. Mr. Aro is in St. Joseph's hospital, the leading hospital of that section.

Chisholm Voters Barred.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because local voters at a special election a few years ago decided that the village should have a separate election and assessment district, they will not next month have an opportunity to vote in the new township of New Balkan. Village Attorney Freeman so holds.

Treat for Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The McPhee trio will come to the auditorium, Feb. 26, under the auspices of the High School Alumni association and under the direction of the general extension division of the University of Minnesota.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. B. Dahl of Virginia has purchased the Doric theater from Spraker & Murray and opened it Tuesday evening.

TAFT FAILS TO SEE SUFFRAGE CAUSE.

Amherst, Mass., Feb. 19.—Prof. William H. Taft of Yale university delivered the second of the Henry Ward Beecher lectures at Amherst college last night, taking for his subject "The People, the Constitution and the Courts." He touched on the woman suffrage question, saying:

"We exclude women from voting. If they can show that a government in which they partook would bring about greater happiness, or if they can show that the electorate would be bettered for the sake of society, they would establish their case. The argument of the militant suffragettes is that of an anarchist."

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart responds to the sweetness of a pretty child, and more so to-day than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables them to preserve their health and strength, and they remain pretty by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

$7.88 WEEKLY FOR EIGHT YEARS

Widow of Electrocuted Lineman Settles Under Compensation Act.

Mrs. Annie Kallstrom, 2811 West Third street, widow of William Kallstrom, lineman who was electrocuted on the morning of Feb. 10 while working on a pole near 265 Lake avenue south, will receive $7.88 every week from the Duluth-Edison Electric company during her dependency up to 400 weeks, as a result of a settlement which has been made under the terms of the workingmen's compensation act. The terms were approved by Judge Cant in district court yesterday afternoon.

Kallstrom was at work on top of a pole repairing some wires. He was about to descend when he accidentally took hold of some wires, forming a circuit through his body. Losing his balance he fell to the street. Death followed almost instantly. Kallstrom was 29 years old and had been employed by the company as lineman for about two years.

Under the terms of the employer's liability act his widow will receive 35 per cent of his weekly wage, which amounts to $7.88. In the event that Mrs. Kallstrom remarries she will be entitled to receive only one-half of the balance due her on a basis of 400 weeks.

WALSH PLEADS FOR NEW MINING LAWS

Says Conditions in the Western States Are Chaotic.

New York, Feb. 19.—A plea for better mining laws in the Western states was made here last night by United States Senator T. J. Walsh of Montana at the annual dinner of the American Institute of Mining Engineers. Senator Walsh said that the mining laws of the Western states were in a chaotic condition and needed reform. He pointed to their need of modification to the end that transfer of property and distribution of claims could be more promptly made.

The senator smilingly remarked, in the course of his speech, that the business of mining engineers is to point out to the world opportunities to make money where no one had ever seen them before.

Radium-Bearing Lands.

"There are radium-bearing lands that are useless except under processes which you mining engineers may bring to bear upon them," he said. "All through the West are ore deposits which, I am certain, will prove valuable in the future."

W. A. Clark, former United States senator from Montana, outlined his experiences in the mining profession. Other speakers were Charles F. Rand, retiring president of the organization, and Benjamin B. Thayer, president of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, who was elected president of the institute for the ensuing year.

HOLY ROLLERS LOSE CHURCH BY FLAMES

Burning Is Laid to Mob That Tried to Lynch Pastor.

Newton, Ill., Feb. 19.—The burning of the Springs Holiness church, the wholesale arrest of its members and the conviction of five more persons, are the latest developments in the court and mob action against a band of religious fanatics known as Holy Rollers, near here.

The trial is the outgrowth of a special service at the Springs church a week ago, at which it is alleged two little boys were tied hand and foot and, after a vote of the congregation, were beaten with sticks and leather straps till their backs bled. The fanatics, it is charged, took this means of driving "sin and the devil" out of the boys, whose sin was failure to learn a church lesson.

Act Laid to Mob.

The church of the recently organized sect was burned to the ground yesterday morning. It is presumed the mob which was frustrated in its efforts to lynch the pastor of the church and three others charged with the attack on the boys vented their wrath against the "Holy Rollers" by burning the church.

Mrs. Rosa Deck, Frank Emery and his wife, Allen Lyons and Harold Cummins were found guilty of being accessories to the attack on the boys. Each of the first three was fined $85 and costs, and the two latter $65 and costs each.

Mrs. Emma Van Treese, aunt of Cameron and Raymond Richardson, the boys who were beaten, and Frank and Cameron Cummins, uncle of the boys, were convicted and fined $100 each Tuesday, together with Rev. David Lyons, pastor of the church, on a charge of assault in connection with the attack on the boys. They still are in jail, preferring to remain there until of the working men's compensation act. The terms were approved by Judge Cant in district court yesterday afternoon.

Kallstrom was at work on top of a pole repairing some wires. He was about to descend when he accidentally took hold of some wires, forming a circuit through his body. Losing his balance he fell to the street. Death followed almost instantly. Kallstrom was 29 years old and had been employed by the company as lineman for about two years.

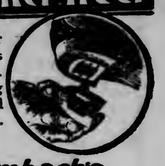

Under the terms of the employer's liability act his widow will receive 35 per cent of his weekly wage, which amounts to $7.88. In the event that Mrs. Kallstrom remarries she will be entitled to receive only one-half of the balance due her on a basis of 400 weeks.

WHY DOCTORS NO LONGER CLAIM TO "CURE PEOPLE"

A few years ago it was a common thing for the family doctor to say, "I will cure you in a few days." This cheerful prophecy often gave the patient new hope and courage but it is no longer good form. Doctors still "cure" malaria and a few other troubles in which their medicines have a direct or "specific" action on the virus of the disease. In other cases they simply give supportnig medicine and keep up the strength of the patient until nature effects a cure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure chlorosis and other trouble due to thin blood because they have a specific action on the blood, building it up, purifying and enriching it. This direct action on the blood also makes them the best supporting and strengthening medicine. If you are thin and weak, breathless after slight exertion, if you have palpitation of the heart, gas on the stomach, cold hands and feet, if you are nervous and easily irritated and show other signs of weakened vitality, try these strengthening pills at once and let the rich, red blood cure you. Get a box today at the nearest drug store and begin at once to build up your health. Write now to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

EBERHART SAYS NEW SCHOOL PLAN PAYS

Tells of Minnesota Work Before the Illinois Farmers.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 19.—The new educational policy in Minnesota schools, which have received $7,500,000 aid from the state, and making them social and civic centers, already has repaid the commonwealth through increased crop production, according to Governor A. O. Eberhart, speaking before the State Farmers' institute.

There are also thirty agricultural schools and 125 other schools receiving state aid, and all the talent of the state college and university is at the command of these schools through extension courses.

"We are reaching the farmers through these schools and experiment stations, and already in many parts of the state increased yields are reported in consequence of improved methods," said the governor.

FOUND DEAD WITH MONEY IN POCKETS.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—O. E. Williamson, believed to be a wealthy resident of Baltimore, Md., was found dead last night on the steps of the Immanuel Baptist church here. He is believed to have died of heart disease. A certified check for $1,000 and considerable currency was in his pockets, and he wore diamonds worth $1,000.

Quartet in Marquette Prison.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 19.—Sheriff James Cruse of Houghton, accompanied by four deputies, arrived here Feb. 17 with James Cooper, Arthur Davis, William Groff and William Polkinghorne, recently convicted of manslaughter in connection with the Seeberville tragedy in the Copper country. The men were delivered to the officials of the Marquette branch prison, to which institution they had been sentenced. The terms are indefinite, being set at from seven to fifteen years.

KING BOOZE KILLS ONE; MAKES CRIPPLE OF ANOTHER

Two Meadowlands Bachelors Have Drinking Bout; Succumb to Cold.

One Found Frozen on Doorstep; Other Crippled in Bed.

An appetite for whisky cost the life of one Meadowlands settler this week and left the other a helpless and lifelong cripple.

J. C. Lindstrom, aged 65, is dead, and Dan Payne, 58, may be obliged to have both feet amputated as a result of a spree which took place at the Payne home last Sunday. Lindstrom and Payne were bachelor farmers and neighbors living four miles east of Meadowlands.

The frozen body of Lindstrom was found yesterday in the snow directly in front of the door of his shack. Payne, suffering from exposure, was found in his own cabin. Both of his feet were frozen and in a few hours he would have been dead. There had been no fire in the cabin stove since Sunday and water which had been left in the room was frozen solid in the pail.

Celebrated Sunday.

Payne and Lindstrom celebrated Sunday by getting drunk. Whisky bottles found in Payne's cabin yesterday gave mute evidence of this fact. After drinking, Lindstrom bade Payne good-bye and left for his shack a few rods away. This was about 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to Payne's story.

Lindstrom, it is believed, became so stupefied from the effects of the liquor, that he dropped in a drunken stupor when he reached the door of his cabin. He was found in a doubled-up position frozen stiff. Evidentally, he had attempted to unlock the door. A key had been placed in the keyhole.

Payne remembers that he crawled into bed after Lindstrom had left. The fire died out and the temperature in the room dropped to freezing. Payne pulled the coverings on his bed around his body but neglected to cover up his feet. When he awoke later on, he found that both of his lower limbs had become so frost-bitten that he was unable to move without extreme pain. He was obliged to lie in bed until help came.

Charles W. Swanson, a trapper, living near Meadowlands, dropped in at the Payne cabin yesterday morning and discovered Payne's plight. He was given temporary relief and arrangements were made at once to have him taken into town where medical aid might be secured for him. Payne suggested to Swanson that something must have been wrong with Lindstrom, as he had not shown up since Sunday. Swanson, upon going to Lindstrom's cabin, discovered the lifeless form of the frozen man.

Coroner Is Notified.

As soon as Payne was taken into town the authorities at Meadowlands notified Coroner C. F. McComb of this city of the affair. The report which was received here was somewhat misleading, and it was thought yesterday afternoon that a murder had been committed and that the services of the sheriff and the county attorney's office would be required. Coroner McComb, Sheriff John R. Meining, Deputy John W. McDonald, Assistant County Attorney Harry F. White and an undertaker left for the scene last evening.

When the sheriff and his party returned this morning they brought Payne with them. On their arrival, he was taken immediately to St. Mary's hospital, where he is now being cared for. At the hospital, this afternoon, it was stated that Payne might lose one or both of his feet as a result of the experience. Undertaker W. P. Crawford took charge of Lindstrom's body. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

No Foul Play.

There was nothing to indicate, according to Sheriff Meining, that there was any foul play in the case. According to Payne's statement, Lindstrom was feeling very jubilant when he left the Payne shack Sunday afternoon. Just before he departed he danced a jig and remarked: "I'm feeling fine, Dan."

Little is known of either of the men except that they have been settlers in the Meadowlands district for the last fifteen years. Lindstrom, so far as is known, has no relatives in this country. It is believed, however, that he has relatives living in Sweden and an attempt is being made now to get definite information on this point.

Lindstrom owned a valuable eighty-acre farm and Payne owns the adjoining forty-acre tract. Their nearest neighbor lives more than a mile away.

OFFICIALS WILL CONFER

Rights of Duluth Telephone Company in City to Be Determined.

City Attorney Harvey Clapp has arranged for a conference with a representative of the Duluth Telephone company tomorrow morning to discuss the company's status as it pertains to the city of Duluth.

The Duluth Telephone company is operating in Duluth without a franchise, but has continued in business under a decision rendered in 1900 by the supreme court, which held that the company has vested rights which must be observed, although the franchise expired years ago.

The company did not this year comply with the charter provision requiring it to file a detailed report of the value of its plant, its obligations, its expenses and its gross and net earnings, nor has it done so for years past.

If no amicable agreement can be reached, it is not impossible that the city will resort to the courts in an effort to determine its position. The city attorney has been considering several possible courses of action, but said this morning that he has not yet formulated the opinion which he will present to the city council.

Relative to the reports submitted by the Duluth-Edison Electric company and the Duluth Street Railway company, he found that they do not comply with the charter requirements, particularly as to giving their expenses in sufficient detail. The city attorney said this morning that he was not prepared to announce what action he would recommend.

LEAVES ESTATE TO BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Although her husband survives her, Johanna A. Godenius, who died, aged 73, at Twig, left two-thirds of her estate to her brother-in-law, Andrew A. Godenius, aged 53. Her husband, Olaf Godenius, aged 72, is not mentioned in the will, which was filed today with the probate court.

The estate consists of $1,500. With the exception of $500, which is to be paid to Hjalmar Godenius, whose present address is unknown, all of the woman's property is left to her brother-in-law, with whom she and her aged husband had made their home for several years. There are two other children in the family, Emil Johnson, residing in New York, and Ellen Olson of St. Paul, but neither is mentioned in the will.

Mrs. Godenius died on Jan. 16 last.

Congressional Committee Continues to Hear Strikers' Stories.

Trinidad, Col., Feb. 19.—Two Colorado National Guard officers and one private who wore big revolvers when they entered the room where the congressional investigation of the coal strike was in progress this morning were ordered by Sergeant-at-Arms M. Jakle to remove the guns. The two officers remained off the stage and the private who had been called as a witness removed his gun from his belt.

The committee resumed its work today with no sign of conclusion of the flood of testimony that had been offered in favor of the strikers.

HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR ALASKAN ROAD

Washington, Feb. 19.—The administration Alaskan railroad bill, authorizing the president to construct a $35,000,000 railroad from Alaska's coast to its great coal fields, was passed by the house late yesterday by a vote of 230 to 87.

A similar measure already has passed the senate, and the bills will be taken up at once in conference between the two houses with a view to sending it quickly to the president, who has signified his intention of signing it.

TO HAVE SAFETY ZONE AT TORREON

Juarez, Mex., Feb. 19.—Francisco Villa, the rebel commander, agreed to the proposition for a neutral zone at Torreon in a conversation over the telephone with Gen. Hugh L. Scott today.

"I am willing to do anything to protect the noncombatants," said Villa to the American general. "I would be willing to have the battle outside the city if the Federals would agree, leaving citizens safe in their homes."

MRS. R. D. BLACKWOOD SEEKS A DIVORCE.

Robert D. Blackwood, 38 years old, was yesterday made defendant in a divorce action started in district court by his wife, Ethel Barry Blackwood, 33, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Mrs. Blackwood started an action for divorce against her husband several months ago but dropped it when a compromise was reached between the parties.

They were married in Duluth April 12, 1890.

OFFICIALS WORK ON LICENSE CODE

New Ordinance Will Be Ready for Council Next Week.

City Attorney Harvey Clapp and Commissioner Hicken had another bout with the proposed new license code yesterday afternoon. They have collected practically all of the ordinances containing license provisions and are preparing to embrace all of them in a single ordinance.

The task is proving more difficult than was looked for, involving many unexpected details, but it is believed that it will be ready for presentation to the council within a short time. One change decided upon yesterday was relative to circus licenses. Instead of fixing the license by the kind of show, the fees will be regulated by the number of cars attached to each exhibition. In this manner they will pay in proportion to their size. No plan for licensing bill boards has yet been outlined. In addition to fixing the many miscellaneous licenses now in force the code will also include provisions taxing breweries, beer agencies and wholesale liquor dealers.

ST. PAUL CUBIST PAINTS PRESIDENT'S PORTRAIT

CUBIST PICTURE OF WOODROW WILSON.

This is a portrait of President Wilson in cubist fashion, painted by R. E. MacCourt of St. Paul. It has won honorable mention at art exhibitions. The belief that cubism and futurism in art are dying out is disproved by the fact that an exhibition of this work is now being held in New York and is attracting much attention. Most of the men taking part in it were interested in the exhibition of French monstrosities which set all America laughing last winter.

BEWARE ORIENTAL BEGGARS

American Public Swindled By "Missionary" Imposters; Funds Sought for Fake Charities and Massacre Victims.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

"Beggars in Turkey have established a trades union with about 10,000 members," according to a dispatch to the New York Times. "Walking delegates" of the beggars' union have evidently made their way to the United States.

Simultaneously with this notice appears the second bulletin of the New York Charity Organization society, warning the public against a band of Oriental solicitors with headquarters on Rector street in New York city. "They are frauds and confidence men," says the bulletin, "who make contributors to charity their prey. By nationality they are Syrians, Armenians or Chaldeans. They will show a prospective victim photographs of a church, orphan asylum or other institution supposedly conducted by them in Turkey. Usually these collectors pocket the money they receive."

For over five years while these "missionaries" have been collecting money from the gullible American public, the bureau of advice and information of the Charity Organization society has been collecting evidence against them.

"Deacon Joseph George."

It was in 1911, however, that indubitable proof confirmed the rascality of some of the eastern "missionaries." At that time a very suave, pious gentleman, calling himself "Deacon Joseph George" appeared in Salem, Mass., with letters of introduction from bishops and patriarchs of the Nestorian (Christian) church in Turkey. A terrible massacre had occurred at his home in Mosul, he alleged, and over 200 of his countrymen had been butchered by the Mohammedans. More than 165 little children had been left orphans and the deacon was a pilgrim to America that he might beg money from Christians to support an orphanage at Mahta, adjacent to the city of Van.

The good people of Salem were impressed by Deacon George's story. Missionary circles, churches, and business men opened their pocketbooks to the saintly young Syrian. Seven prominent clergymen added their endorsements to the prodigious bulk of testimonials he already carried. In the interest of his righteous cause he obtained board and lodging free of charge for two weeks in the household of C. F. Piper, Jr., while he enticed $200 from a sympathetic public.

Fraud Discovered.

During this time, however, certain conflicting statements made by George and his libelous abuse of James Barton, secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions, led Mr. Piper to investigate quietly the deacon's character and past history. He corresponded with Dr. Barton; he made inquiries of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions regarding Oriental solicitors; he enlisted the help of the Charity Organization society. He even obtained information from J. C. Raynolds, an American missionary in Van, Turkey, and from W. A. Wigram, the head of the mission of the archbishop of Canterbury to Assyrian Christians in Turkey.

The avalanche of evidence returned from these various sources doubly confirmed Mr. Piper's suspicions that George was "a liar, a thief, a beggar and a libeler." It also caused the deacon to slide out of Salem and not even return to keep an engagement at the bank with Mr. Piper to obtain the $200 which had been entrusted to his host's care. Most important of all, perhaps, the incident furnished the Charity Organization society with a mass of reliable correspondence and first-hand knowledge to uncover the frauds and fakes of bogus "clergymen."

Missionaries in the foreign field reported the recent "massacre in Mosul" a myth and denied the existence of orphanages, schools or any other kind of institution in the sparsely settled region whither these men professed to send their contributions.

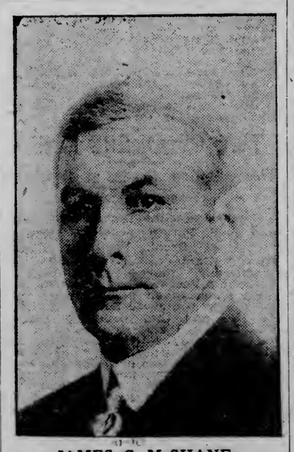

"Many of these men," reports Robert E. Speer of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church, "are only inoffensive Oriental villagers, who do not know how fraudulent their enterprise appears to our moral sense. They have been accustomed to live on charity, as far as they could, and they see no harm in making representations as to the objects for which they are soliciting money which have no basis in fact."

Credentials and Indorsements.

The credentials were proved in nearly every case either forged or procured from some one in collusion with the solicitors. Letters of indorsement from reputable American officials or ministers are said to be utterly without value because they are issued with no first-hand information. "Recently a group of Oriental solicitors were arrested in the South," Mr. Speer writes, "and more than 200 testimonials taken away from them. It is marvelous to me that they can get such testimonials from governors, college presidents, consuls and others. One who was an absolutely untrustworthy man had indorsements from the leading authorities of our church, who knew nothing whatever about him, but who, I suppose, gave him the testimonials on the basis of others which he had already secured."

Communications regarding Oriental solicitors have been received intermittently by the Charity Organization society during the past three years, but recently they have been informed that a very active campaign for "orphanages" has been going on. Letters of inquiry have been received from Baltimore, Easton, Pa., and Washington, D. C. To prevent needless waste of money and to circumvent these self-appointed missionaries, the bureau of advice and information urges the charitably inclined to "beware the Oriental."

IS CANDIDATE FOR SENATE FROM ILLINOIS

JAMES C. McSHANE.

James C. McShane has announced himself a candidate for the senate from Illinois. He is a typical self-made man. He was a metal-worker when he took up the study of law. Before he entered the shops he worked on a farm. He was a candidate for city attorney of Chicago in 1893. He is a supporter of the present administration at Washington.

EXPERIMENTING WITH A NEW MONOPLANE.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Army experts are experimenting with a new monoplane which is to be the dreadnought of the French air fleet. One of those machines already tried out is protected with armor plates and carries a quick-firing machine-gun. It was designed from specifications furnished by the French army aviation corps after a careful study of the requirements in war as shown by the action of aeroplanes in Africa and in the Balkan wars.

FRENCH EXPORTS TO UNITED STATES

In 1893 Passed the Total of Any Previous Year.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Consul General Mason has brought together the figures of French exports to the United States during 1913. They were $140,916,549, or $3,733,384 larger than those of 1912, thus passing the total of any previous year. The net gain in three years has been $21,000,000.

The reports from the Paris district show that the exports of automobiles and automobile accessories, which amounted to $1,209,413 in 1912, was cut in half during 1913. The exports of paintings, precious stones and hides show considerable advances, and the increases in textiles was about 60 per cent. Paris exports have risen in eleven years from $41,000,000 to $89,000,000.

MUSIC NOT AN ART OF PEACE

Originates in Strife and Anxiety, and Not in Concord.

Paris, Feb. 19.—There is no nation naturally musical, according to Henri Bidou, critic and historian. If a nation is musical, he says, it is because it has passed through such tribulation that it has been driven to express its sorrow and anxiety in its airs and compositions. Bach, he declares, is the culminating expression of the sufferings induced in Germany by the thirty years' war, fifty years before Bach's time.

People sing "like cowards," he continues, to keep up their spirits in bad moments, and he finds that the real countries of music are nearly all frontier provinces exposed to eternal vicissitudes.

England he finds to be exempt to a large extent from the occasions in which poets "learn in suffering what they celebrate in song," because it is protected from invasion by the girdle of the seas. Music, then, he argues, is not an art of peace; it originates in strife and anxiety—not in tranquility and concord. The ever prosperous countries, he discovers, "not only have no history; they have no music."

BAGGAGE HAD LEAKED AWAY.

Washington Post: One of the jokes of which Kentuckians never grow weary concerns Senator Blackburn and his loyal appreciation of the liquid products of his native state. The senator had gone to pay a visit to a friend of his who lived many miles distant. His friend met the senator as he alighted at the station.

"How are you, Joe?" his friend asked.

"I'm up against it," was the reply. "I lost the best part of my baggage en route."

"Did you misplace it or was it stolen?" his friend inquired solicitously.

"Neither," said the senator. "The cork came out."

MANY CAPTURE GRAIN PRIZES

Awards Made to Successful Growers at Big Crookston Meet.

Delegates on Hand for Proposed Development Association Meet.

Crookstan, Minn., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—As an indication of the high class of the exhibits at the Northwestern Minnesota farm crops show, being held here, corn exhibits which won the sweepstakes prize at the Grand Forks corn and clover convention for D. B. Ferguson of Mallory did not get even a place in the awards. The judges are unanimous in stating that the corn and small grain exhibits, and clover and alfalfa sheafs are very fine. Everything has been judged but the potatoes.

The feature addresses of yesterday afternoon's session were: "Seed Grains," by F. E. Balmer; "Minnesota Problems," by H. J. Hughes; "Red River Valley Rotations," by Prof Andrew Boss, and "Feeds for Swine," by J. G. Haney of Grand Forks. One of the big features of the convention is the program for women daily at the Commercial clubrooms. Today 500 women attended the sessions, with one joint session with the men at 1:30, when Miss Josephine Berry discussed "The Education of a Woman Citizen."

Added delegations arrived last evening from East Grand Forks, Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls and Moorhead for the conference regarding the new development association.

The judging of small grains finished this afternoon gave the following results:

Ten-pound rye (spring or winter variety), sweepstakes—First, Marshall, Peter Swenson, Alvarado, blue stem; second, Norman, Arthur Eid, Flaming, winter; third, Polk, Nels Malmberg, Crookston, winter.

"MY FAMILY ALL HELPED--- I WANT TO TELL OTHERS"

This Lowell Man Praises Father John's Medicine as a Family Remedy for Colds and Body Building.

In a recent letter, Thomas Chinn of Lowell, says, "My family have all been benefited by taking Father John's Medicine to such an extent that I want to tell others how much good it has done. We all take it, my wife and myself and our three children, Wilmer, George and Ethel, and in the two years since it has been our family medicine Father John's Medicine has always given the desired results. I lost 11 pounds a short while ago as a result of overwork—I took Father John's Medicine and have regained all the weight I lost and am feeling fine. We give Father John's to the children and it always cures their colds and keeps them well and strong." (Signed) Thos. H. Chinn, 121 South Highland street.

As a family medicine Father John's Medicine has a history of 50 years' success. It is a safe medicine for young or old because it is free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. Best for colds and all throat and lung troubles—builds you up.

Father John's Medicine is for sale in Duluth by William A. Abbett, 205 West Superior street, 101 West Fourth street, 932 East Second street, also Boyce Drug Store, 331 West Superior street; Wirth Drug Store, 13 West Superior street, and practically all other drug stores in the city. If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist, write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1 for a large bottle by express, prepaid.

BIG TRACTION DEAL.

Michigan Concern to Take Over Chippewa Valley Light & Power Co.

Eau Claire, Wis., Feb. 19.—Kelsey-Brewer & Co. of Grand Rapids, Mich., have put their option price in a local bank on all the properties of the Chippewa Valley Railway, Light & Power company of this city and there is little question of the deal going through. The option expires Oct. 1.

The deal involves approximately $3,900,000, the Kelsey-Brewer people to pay $2,500,000 and there being about $1,400,000 bonds outstanding. All the properties of the Chippewa Valley Railway, Light & Power company are included.

FAMOUS SPENDER DIES IN POVERTY

German Baron's Son Expires in Rochester and Body Unclaimed.

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 19.—In a morgue here awaiting word from friend or relative is the body of Dr. Charles Victor Harmon Rothacker, a graduate of Heidelberg, the son of a German baron, and the spender of five fortunes. Dr. Rothacker came to Rochester a few days ago from New York city to consult physicians, but his case was a hopeless one, and no operation was performed. Realizing that few days were left him, Dr. Rothacker informed Matt Fritsch of the hotel, where he was staying, that he would leave full instructions with him what to do after he had passed away. Such was not to be, however, as but a few hours later he died.

Graduate of Heidelberg.

Dr. Rothacker was at one time a man of wealth and inkuence. While reticent about this past life, it is learned that he was a graduate of Heidelberg, Germany, and the son of a German baron. He was well known among the wealthy men of a decade ago. His father, the baron, was exiled from Germany, it is said, because of participation in a political plot, and his mother was a famous author.

After spending five fortunes and going around the world twice, Rothacker spent the last two years of his life in the famous McAuley Water street Mission of New York city.

PREUS FAVORS STATE CONTROL

Tells North Dakota Hardware Men State Should Fix Insurance Rates.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second day of the North Dakota Hardware Dealers' association convention here was given over to the reports of the several officials, all of which showed the association to be in very satisfactory condition.

Frank P. Austin of Chicago gave an address on "Making Advertising Pay."

Minnesota Official Speaks.

J. A. Preus, commissioner of insurance of Minnesota, yesterday afternoon urged the promulgation of a campaign for state control of fire insurance rates.

The Minnesota commissioner cited numerous instances where there had been apparently uncalled for advances in insurance rates, and he maintained that state control was the only solution.

The hardware dealers' exhibit is a big feature of the convention. The Auditorium, with its big floor space, is filled to capacity.

Charles T. Woodward, representing the national organization, spoke briefly yesterday.

"WHIPPED" THE TEACHER

North Dakotan's Energetic Daughter Figures in School Row.

Sentinel Butte, N. D., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—There have been frequent troubles and three arrests in a rural school district near here over which Miss Bessie Bridges presides. She was not liked by Bert Shibley, and when the board declined to remove her as teacher, Shibley withdrew his children from the school. Miss Bridges caused his arrest under the compulsory school attendance law. The defendant was fined and the children started to school. One of the girls became involved in trouble with Miss Bridges, struck the teacher and was fined. Miss Bridges then had Sibley arrested again, claiming he aided and abetted his daughter in the assault, alleged he promised her a new dress if she whipped the teacher. The action was dismissed after the hearing.

Were Selling Goods at Brookpark Without License.

Cambridge, Minn., Feb. 19.—N. Lande and J. S. Patkin, peddlers, were arrested at Brook Park by Deputy Sheriff Dahlgren and brought here Wednesday, charged with peddling without a license. They admitted their guilt when taken before Judge Gudgerian, who sentenced both to pay fines of $20, and they promptly settled. The men had sold dry goods to Albert Medin of North Cambridge and also to his brother, and when it was found that one had been charged twice as much as the other for the same class of goods the arrests quickly followed.

PLAN WESTERN VISIT.

President's Daughter and His Son-in-Law Going to Montana.

Billings, Mont., Feb. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, son-in-law and daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson, are to spend several weeks in Billings next summer, according to a letter received by Dr. James Wernham, a friend of the Sayre family. Mr. Sayre is joint owner with Paul Van Cleave of an 8,000-acre ranch north of Big Timber and has other holdings in Montana.

HOLUM'S TRIAL BEGINS.

Jury Selected at Grand Forks to Try Alleged Wife Murderer.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The introduction of evidence in the trial of Matt Holum, alleged wife murderer, commenced this morning, after State's Attorney Grimson made the opening statement. Mr. Grimson maintained that the state would introduce evidence, circumstantial in nature, that would prove that Holum had deliberately murdered his wife with a hatchet. Long periods of quarreling and threats on the part of Holum against his wife, also would be testified to, said the prosecuting official.

The jury was completed last night, and is as follows: J. B. Spoonheim, Northwood; Otto Gothberg, Grand Forks; Otto Kohler, Inkster; Andrew Wall, Loretta; Louis Christopher, Oakland; Louis Kliven, Grand Forks; John E. Nuss, Grand Forks; James Byington, Johnstown; J. A. Styles, Grand Forks; John Connolly, Grand Forks, and J. Groth, Inkster.

TRAPPED BY RUSE.

Winter, Wis., Fire Bug Caught By Sheriff's Stool Pigeon.

Couderay, Wis., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—John B. Britton of Winter pleaded guilty of arson. He was suspected of setting fire to the blacksmith shop of H. N. Ordway of Winter Nov. 7 last, but the state fire warden could not prove it then. Soon after this the fire warden sent one of his deputies, disguised as a lumberjack, and he secured work in the same camp near Winter, where Britton was employed. This "lumberjack" pretended he was a regular tough and soon gained the confidence of Britton who told of the fire. The deputy soon quit his work and when Britton was brought into court he was confronted by his lumberjack friend and confessed.

Carrington Wants Town Hall.

Cottonwood Lake, N. D., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The demand for a town hall here is becoming so insistent the question of a bond issue will probably be submitted at the general election next month. It is proposed to purchase one of the present buildings and remodel it.

To Oppose Woman Suffrage.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The German Bund of North Dakota, openly in the field for the repeal of the prohibition provision of the constitution, will oppose woman suffrage in the coming general election. Opposition to woman suffrage is based on the contention that the enactment of such an amendment would practically eliminate all chance of ever bringing about resubmission.

Crosby Child Dies.

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Breen went to Faribault Tuesday taking the body of their 3-year-old girl, Helen, who died of typhoid. Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Breen of Superior, Wis. The funeral was held at Faribault, from the home of Mrs. Henry J. Breen. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sullivan of Crosby accompanied the family as far as Minneapolis.

THICK BROWN SCALE ON TOP OF HEAD

Began to Spread. Scratched and Made Sore. Itched and Burned. Hair Began to Fall Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Cottbus, Mo.—"I noticed a small scaly spot on top of my little girl's head but paid little attention to it. In about two months it began to spread and would break out in yellow blisters. They would break and be a raw sore for a while and then dry up and leave a brown yellow scale, in some places very thick. I could hardly keep her from scratching it raw all the time, her head itched and burned so. She scratched and made raw sores. Her hair began to fall out gradually and seemed perfectly dead. It kept spreading until it was over half of her head and I thought I would be bound to cut her hair, which I hated to do.

"I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment, as I saw so many advertisements praising it so I sent for a sample. I used them and it began to improve so I bought some Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment. All the back of her head was perfectly raw when I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I followed the directions for the treatment of eczema on the scalp and her head was cured." (Signed) Mrs. M. Broyles, June 18, 1913.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Brainerd — Miss Bessie Murphy, a popular teacher of the Lincoln school, has gone to Pomona, Cal., where she has accepted a position and where she will teach all summer.

Brainerd — R. A. Reise, while calling on a patient at Barrows, slipped on an icy porch and broke his leg above the ankle. He was removed to his home in his automobile. Propped up in bed, he is attending to his office work and consultations, and expects to be able to sit up in a few days.

Rochester—Archie Helets, proprietor of a hardware and grocery store in the village of Viola, sustained a heavy loss on Sunday, when fire destroyed his place of business, the building and contents burning to the ground, at a loss of $5,000.

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.

"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. Rena Bowman, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Commissioner Hicken moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Hicken, Merritt, Murchison, Voss, Mayor Prince—5.
Nays—None.
Passed Feb. 16, 1914.
Approved Feb. 18, 1914.

By Mayor Prince:

Resolved, That it is hereby determined and declared by this council, in regular session assembled, that it is necessary to acquire for the use of St. Louis county, Minnesota, and the city of Duluth, Minnesota, acting jointly in the establishment and maintenance of the Joint County and City Work Farm heretofore established in said county, the following described land situated in said County; viz: the north one-half of southeast quarter of southeast quarter (n½ of se¼ of se¼) of section two (2), township fifty (50) north, of range fifteen (15) west of the fourth (4th) principal meridian, according to the government survey thereof, together with such improvements as may be thereon, to be used by said county and city for the purpose of forming part of the Joint County and City Work Farm for cultivation and improvement as part of said premises, and for other uses and purposes incidental thereto;

And that neither the Board of County Commissioners of said county nor the City Council of said city of Duluth is able to purchase said land necessary to be acquired, at a reasonable price, and the attorney for this council is hereby authorized and directed to proceed at once, under the provisions of the statutes of the state of Minnesota in such case provided, in co-operation with the attorney for the Board of County Commissioners of St. Louis county, to acquire said land for the use of said county and city, by proper proceedings in condemnation.

Mayor Prince moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Hicken, Merritt, Murchison, Voss, Mayor Prince—5.
Nays—None.
Passed Feb. 16, 1914.
Approved Feb. 18, 1914.

On motion of Commissioner Hicken the council adjourned.

Ordinance No. 429.

By Commissioner Hicken:

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE LOCATION, MAINTENANCE AND OPERATION OF LIVERY, BOARDING AND SALES STABLES, WITHIN THE CITY OF DULUTH AND DECLARING THE SAME TO BE PUBLIC NUISANCES UNDER CERTAIN CONDITIONS AND DEFINING SUCH CONDITIONS.

The City of Duluth does ordain:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons or corporation to have, maintain or operate any livery, boarding or sales stable within the city of Duluth, within one hundred and fifty (150) feet of any building which contains 24,000 square feet or more of floor space exclusive of basement and which building is used in whole or in part for hotel, restaurant, club, school, church or office purposes.

Sec. 2. Any such stable so located, maintained or operated within said distance from any such building used for hotel, restaurant, club, school, church, theater or office purposes, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance.

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons or corporation to locate, maintain or operate any livery, boarding or sales stable in the city of Duluth in any block of the kind described in section 4 of this ordinance.

Sec. 4. A "Block" within the meaning of this ordinance is hereby declared and defined to be a piece of ground entirely bounded by public highways, other than alleys, in which block property representing in value 66 per cent or more of the total valuation as assessed for the collection of taxes, is used for any one or more of the following purposes: Churches, schools, theaters, clubs, hotels, restaurants or offices; and the total assessed valuation of any lot together with the building thereon, shall be included in arriving at such percentage whenever half or more of the first floor or more than one half of the second or any additional floors of any such building is used for one or more of the above purposes.

Sec. 5. Any livery, boarding or sales stable located, maintained or operated in any block in the city of Duluth, of the kind defined and described in section 4 of this ordinance, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance.

Sec. 6. Any person, persons or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense; and each separate day that any stable, as described in this ordinance, is maintained or operated in violation of this ordinance shall constitute a separate offense hereunder.

Sec. 7. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 8. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty days from and after its passage and publication: Provided, however, that nothing in this ordinance shall affect rights existing under any by permits heretofore issued by the director of public health of the city of Duluth.

WHEAT HAS GOOD GAIN

Advance in Market Is Resumed on the Strong Cash Situation.

Flaxseed Sells Higher With Liberal Bidding—Offerings Are Light.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 19.—The market was strong up to the close. May wheat closed ⅜c up and July ½c up. May durum closed ⅞c up and July ½c up.

Oats were strong, closing ½c up at 37⅜@37⅝c. Rye closed unchanged at 56c for the best grade, and barley unchanged at from 44c to 66c.

At Winnipeg May oats closed at 38¼c bid and July at 37c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 92c asked and calls at 92⅝@92½c bid.

The advance in wheat was resumed today with liberal buying by operators on the bullish cash situation. Receipts here are in such volume that for the first time in years at this season, local millers are now being compelled to secure supplies from elevator stocks. Inspections here yesterday were only 6 cars against 94 last year, while there were just 21 cars of all grains on the tracks for the day. Stocks of wheat here are now about stationary, an increase of 49,000 bu being reported in the last four days, bringing them up to 13,239,000 bu. Supplies of all grains have increased 54,000 bu during that period, being now reported at 20,026,000 bu.

The Minneapolis market is now showing the effects of recent heavy purchases at country elevators by millers down there, inspections today coming to 289 cars against 192 a year ago.

Proof that the surplus stocks through the Canadian Northwest have been fairly well marketed is being furnished in the light current receipts at Winnipeg. Today they amounted to 35 cars against 240 last year.

Outside of Liverpool, which was slightly off, the foreign markets were all higher today. A cable from Odessa, Russia, said that wheat receipts there are light and will probably be small from now on.

Argentine wheat shipments this week are disappointing, being forecasted at 2,000,000 bu, and the quality of the grain is said to be much off grade.

Further liberal buying of hard winter wheat to come to Minneapolis and Chicago was reported today.

May wheat opened unchanged at 92¾c and gained ½c up to the final hour. The July option opened unchanged at 93⅝c and advanced ⅝c. May durum opened unchanged at 92¾c and gained ½c.

Flaxseed Is Strong.

After a quiet opening, flaxseed advanced sharply today on good buying by operators, with light offerings. Cables were higher, Buenos Ayres being ⅝c up, Antwerp 1c up and London 1⅜d up. Winnipeg was also strong, with export demand reported there.

The trading was nearly monopolized by the May option. It opened unchanged at $1.53½ and advanced ⅝c to a close of $1.56⅛ asked. The July option opened ½c up at $1.57½ and closed at $1.57⅝, nominal. Closing prices were off fractionally from the high of the day.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.36⅝ and July at $1.38⅞ bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

It is the opinion of Duluth grain men that the export trade in wheat expected to develop within the next four or five weeks will be so heavy that surplus stocks in this country will soon be dissipated. These views are based upon the small exports from Argentina and the resultant necessity of European countries coming to America to replenish their supplies. Australia's crop is being absorbed rapidly. Argentina's surplus is sinking in size and quality, and it is believed it will have to be blended with American hard winter wheat in order to be used by millers. They are also talking about the inferior quality of wheat in Southern Russia. The Canadian wheat surplus is figured out as being now nearly exhausted. Cargoes of it now lying at Lower Lakes ports are being drawn upon for shipment to Europe.

Stocks of wheat in country elevators in both the Canadian and American Northwest are estimated to be the smallest in ten years, and that condition is now being felt to an increasing extent by the large milling concerns who are scouring the country for supplies.

"Grain men at Buffalo and New York regard the market situation as remarkably bullish," said Stephen H. Jones today on his return from a ten days' trip in the East. "Spring wheat stocks at Buffalo are being rapidly distributed as a return of heavy buying by millers. Considerable Manitoba wheat and durum is being taken for export there. It is thought that by the opening of navigation, supplies at both Buffalo and New York will be about cleaned up, furnishing every warrant for expectations of a strong market."

A wire received by Baker from Portland, Or., today said: "March 1 of this year will show exports of wheat and flour from the Pacific coast of 3,000,000 more than the previous year, with a crop of 10,000,000 bu less. This would indicate that interior reserves on the Pacific coast are very small."

* * *

The Minneapolis cash market was slower and easier with the mills very indifferent to spot offerings as they are getting supplies from purchases to arrive. No. 1 northern blue stem sold from 2c over May, and velvet chaff at 1@1¼c premium. Flour sales were small, the only demand reported being for small lots in Western territory. The Eastern demand was very slow. Cash No. 1 notrhern wheat sold there at from 93⅛@94⅝c and No. 2 northern at from 91⅛@92⅝c.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "Traders on both sides of the wheat market expressed a feeling of satisfaction in the action of the market yesterday, although it is seldom that such a situation exists. Bulls regarded the small breaks as only natural after the advance of late and believe that prices are to work irregularly higher.

"Corn—Bulls hold to the belief that country roads will soon break up and that receipts from now on will be light. A majority of large trade are bearish but they are not looking for a big decline in prices."

A synopsis of the report of the Saskatchewan grain commission appointed to examine into the ways and means for bettering the position of Saskatchewan grain in the European markets, finds that the cost of producing wheat in Saskatchewan is 55 cents per bu on the farm and 62 cents at country points. The cost of production has increased 12.15 per cent since 1909.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—Easier cables yesterday were offset here by disappointing indication of shipments from Argentine and as a result there was some support at the opening and values were unchanged to ¼d lower. Russian offers were well taken and Manitoba held firmly. During the morning there was some realizing, prices declined ⅛d to ½d with a paucity in demand for Australian offers and bearish private cables from Chicago. American reserves are expected to show here as excellent. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was easy, ⅝d to ½d lower.

"Corn—Opened unchanged and remained so during the morning session. The lower American cables were offset here by the forecast of very light Plata shipments this week and the steadiness in spot."

Broomhall cabled that Winnipeg grading is giving general satisfaction at Liverpool.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Bearish Owing to Lower Prices at Liverpool.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Declining prices at Liverpool had a bearish effect today on the wheat market here, although the weakness abroad was due largely to flattering reports from this side regarding the condition of the winter crop. Prices started a shade to ¼c lower and then rallied, but afterwards fell again.

Scattered reports of crop damage west and southwest helped later to bring about an upturn. Injury was also reported from Russia, Hungary and France. The close, however, was easy at a shade lower to a like amount up, compared with last night.

In corn, the majority of traders were inclined to press the selling side. The market was opened a sixteenth to ⅛c down, reacted a little, though not in a lasting manner.

Prospects of unsettled weather and smaller receipts tended subsequently to make prices harden. The close was easy, though unchanged to ⅛@¼c under last night.

Oats eased off with other grain. What support there was came only after a decline.

Heaviness due to a setback of prices at the yards formed the rule in provisions. The market averaged from a shade to 5c lower.

FAIR TRADING IN MINING STOCKS

Calumet & Corbin and Sonora Are Day's Market Features.

The market in mining stocks showed fair activity at Boston today, and while price changes were small, they were chiefly in the way of moderate advances. North Butte attracted a liberal volume of trading during the session, and liquidation in it resulted in its quotation going off 75c to $29.50. Butte & Superior closed a fraction up at $36.75; Butte & Ballaklava, a shade up at $3.62; Calumet & Arizona, unchanged at $68.50; Shattuck, 50c up at $29; Granby, 25c off at $86; Alaska Gold, 25c up at $22.75, and Amalgamated Copper, 63c up at $76.75.

Calumet & Corbin set the lead in the Duluth curb list, with sales coming in at from 17 to 20 cents and closing at the latter figure bid.

Savanna was strong on the intimation that a deal for the sale of the property to the Phelps-Dodge company's interests had been practically concluded. It sold at from $2 to $2.50 and closed at $2.50 bid. Denn sold at $7.50.

A wire from Boston to Gay & Sturgis said: "The Franklin Mining company, which started up about two weeks ago, and now has twenty men working underground, sends the following wire advice to the Boston office:

"Into conglomerate twenty feet. Last eight feet of breast carries heavy copper; easily better average than upper levels.'

"These developments are on the thirty-second level cross-cut."

Miami produced 3,258,650 pounds of copper during the month of January.

An effort is to be made by Daniel Shields, holder of 40,000 shares, with assistance of a few more dissatisfied holders of stock in the Tuolumne company, to secure control at the annual meeting on March 9. Mr. Shields and his followers claim the management has been reckless and unsatisfactory.

DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Volume of Business Small But Undertone Is Strong.

Rock Island Depressed and New Low Figure for Preferred.

New York, Feb. 19.—A strong undertone characterized the morning trading, but the volume of business was small and advances did not reach striking proportions. Assurances from Washington that the railroad freight rate case would be decided before the summer holidays put the railroad shares on a stronger basis.

Aside from this, there was no new factor of importance in the speculative situation. Short covering and a moderate amount of outside buying operated in favor of higher prices. Movements were limited to fractions in most cases, although some of the specialties made more extended advances. Bonds were firm.

Stocks were held for higher prices at the opening of the market today and although trading was not in large volume, there was a general improvement in quoted values. Railroad shares made the best showing under the lead of New York Central, which rose a point. General Motors, a strong feature recently, advanced buoyantly, gaining 4 points on the first few transactions.

A disposition to take profits on the opening rise was checked by the announcement by a member of the interstate commerce commission that a decision in the freight rate cases probably would be made within three months. General Motors rose 5¾ and reacted 3¼.

Trading was on a diminishing scale in the afternoon, but spasmodic short coverings kept prices firm. Foreign operators took advantage of the improvement in the market to sell about 5,000 shares.

The market felt the absence of the forenoon's sustaining demand, and was also affected by the weakness of some industrial stocks. Prices worked back to about where they closed yesterday, or below. Best Sugar declined 2½ and Case preferred 4 points.

The market closed steady. Prices drifted idly in the late dealings and the level was not essentially changed. Rock Island shares were offered down steadily. The preferred established a new low figure at 9⅝.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— WESTERN MESABA ELECTRIC COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That the undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the provisions of Chapter 58 of the 1913 General Statutes of the State of Minnesota, have associated themselves together and signed and adopted the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this Corporation shall be "WESTERN MESABA ELECTRIC COMPANY."

The general nature of its business shall be: To generate electricity at its own power plants; also, to purchase electric current and power from other power companies, for transmission and distribution on and over its own electric transmission lines and distributing systems; and to sell, supply and distribute the same to its patrons and customers, for electric lighting, heating and power purposes within the State of Minnesota. And, for the purposes aforesaid and as a part of its general business, said corporation may purchase, lease, construct, maintain and operate such lines and systems of poles, wires, cables, conduits, power plants and other works; and may acquire such property, concessions, franchises and rights-of-way, by purchase, lease, assignment or other contract, either from private parties owning the same, or by the duly authorized concession, franchise or grant, by ordinance or resolution, of the proper Municipal or County Authorities, as may be necessary or convenient for carrying out the general purpose of the corporation as aforesaid.

The principal place of business of said corporation shall be at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.

The time of the commencement of said corporation shall be the 24th day of February, 1914, and the period of duration thereof shall be thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators of the said corporators of the said corporation are: Frank McCormack, M. J. McCormack and James A. Hanks, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of said corporation and the management of the affairs shall be vested in a board of three (3) directors, each of whom shall be stockholders, who shall be elected annually at the annual meeting of said corporation, and who shall, at the first meeting of said board held after said annual meeting, elect the following officers, to-wit: a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. Any two of said offices may be held by the same person, except the offices of President and Vice President.

The annual meeting of said corporation shall be the first Tuesday in January in each year.

The names and addresses of those composing the first Board of Directors until the first election are as follows, to-wit: Frank McCormack, M. J. McCormack and James A. Hanks, all of Duluth, Minnesota; and until the first annual meeting and until their successors are elected and have qualified, Frank McCormack shall act as President; M. J. McCormack shall act as Vice President; and James A. Hanks shall act as Secretary and Treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of said corporation shall be One Hundred Thousand Dollars, which shall be divided into one thousand shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars each; and such capital stock shall be paid for in money or property as the same may be called for or ordered by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which said corporation shall be at any time subject shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this 17th day of February, 1914.

WILLIAM S. BENTON, BRITISH CITIZEN, IS EXECUTED BY VILLA

Accused of Plotting to Murder the Rebel General.

Action Has Caused Excited Stir on Mexican Border.

England Had Asked Washington to See to His Safety.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 20.—William S. Benton of El Paso, a Scotchman, subject of Great Britain, is dead. The death of the man is confirmed by Pancho Villa, and was officially conveyed to the widow here by United States Consul T. D. Edwards of Juarez.

Mystery surrounds the report of the death. William Benton, a cousin of the dead man, confirmed the report.

"Consul Edwards told Mrs. Benton," he said, "that her husband was dead in Juarez. The consul said Pancho Villa has confirmed this, but said Villa had asked him not to make public the details except in official dispatches to his government."

Executed Tuesday Night.

Benton was executed Tuesday night after a trial by a military court in Juarez, of which Federico Gonzales Garza was the head, according to what appears to be a correct version of the affair. The charge against Benton was that he was implicated in a plot to take Villa's life.

Villa left for the south this morning on a special train. Benton last was seen alive in Juarez Tuesday morning. He was making his way to Villa's home and said he was going to "tell Villa what he thought of him" for the manner in which his ranch, the "Los Remedio," in Western Chihuahua, had been looted and raided by rebel soldiers.

Warning Came Too Late.

Instructions had been sent by the state department yesterday to Consul Edwards, it is said, to see that no harm should come to Benton, the instructions being sent upon the request of the British ambassador at Washington. The warning, it now appears, came too late.

It is supposed that Villa's defense

UNCERTAIN TERM FOR ST. PAUL MEN

Flanagan and Turner Will Serve Not Above Ten Years.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Morrison, in district court, today sentenced Former Chief of Police Martin J. Flanagan and Former Detective Fred Turner each to serve an indeterminate sentence of not to exceed ten years in the state prison at Stillwater, following their conviction last night on a charge of third degree bribery. His action was followed by granting a stay of sentence until April 4.

Flanagan was sentenced first. He stood before the bench while Judge Morrison made the usual interrogation and announced the sentence. Turner's sentence followed.

The defendants were realsed till April 4 on bonds of $10,000 each.

The former police officials were convicted on an indictment charging them with acceptance of $3,000 from an underworld woman, whose resort was to be accorded police protection. The maximum penalty is ten years imprisonment or a fine of $1,000, or both.

Assistant County Attorney Ryan last night said the state probably would not press the charges against Flanagan and Turner contained in other indictments returned by the grand jury which recently investigated the so-called underworld police graft scandal.

SENATE REFUSES TO AMEND ONE TREATY

Rejects Chamberlain's Proposal for the Spanish Agreement.

Washington, Feb. 20.—By a vote of 40 to 13, the senate in executive session today rejected the Chamberlain amendment to the Spanish general arbitration treaty to exempt from arbitration questions relating to Panama tolls, immigration, admission of children to state schools and all questions involving the Monroe doctrine.

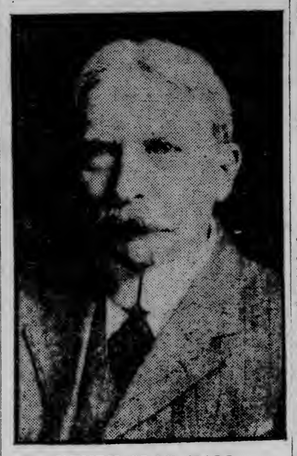

Other treaties pending are with Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Portugal and Switzerland. The Chamberlain amendment would exempt from arbitration all questions of immigration, the admission of aliens into public schools of the states, the Monroe doctrine and all that it might imply in relations with other American nations and the provision of the Panama canal act exempting American coastwise shipping from tolls.

Senator Shively, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, and others who are in sympathy with the desire of President Wilson for renewal of the treaties and repeal of the tolls provision of the canal act, predicted ultimate ratification of all the treaties, but admitted that the discussion would be prolonged for several days.

BRITONS DENY ANY PICTURE THEFTS.

London, Feb. 20.—Officials of the British museum said today that no pictures are missing from that institution. This announcement was made in reply to inquiries as to the authenticity of the report from Paris that canvases of great value had been stolen from the museum by a band of international art thieves. At police headquarters in Scotland Yard, it was stated that the authorities had no knowledge of any such thefts.

CHOSEN AS MEMBER OF COMMERCE COMMISSION

HENRY CLAY HALL.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Feb. 20.—Henry Clay Hall, president of the Bar Association of Colorado, has been made a member of the interstate commerce commission. He is a native of New York and served at one time as counsellor for the United States embassy at Paris. He then moved to Colorado Springs for his health and in time became one of the best known corporation lawyers in Colorado.

BANKERS ASK WIDER LIMIT

Seek Amendment of Bill Against Interlocking Directorates.

First Drafts of Railway Capitalization Law Forecasted.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Liberalization of the administration bill to prohibit interlocking directorates was proposed to the house judiciary committee today by Thomas B. Paton, representing the Federal legislative committee of the American Bankers' association.

Under the pending bill no director might serve in any two banks in the Federal reserve system. The proposed modification would allow a director to serve in any number of banks, provided they were not located in the same city, and in any number of banks in a single city, provided the average capitalization of the banks did not exceed a million dollars.

E. S. Hunt of Waterbury, Conn., representing the Connecticut Savings Bank association, asked savings bank trustees and directors be exempted.

At Work on New Bills.

Work of framing the administration's anti-trust and commerce regulation bills went forward on the house side of the capitol today.

A conference of the house judiciary sub-committee on trusts, comprising Representatives Clayton, Carlin and Floyd, was arranged to put the fin-

WAIVER OF LIABILITY LIMIT IS DENIED

The Commerce Commission Says It Can Give No Relief as Asked.

Washington, Feb. 20.—In a decision following an inquiry into the enforcement of provisions of bills of lading, the interstate commerce commission held today that it had no authority to order carriers to disregard their tariffs, nor does it feel justified in acquiescing in the adjustment of matters brought into the condition here presented, by reason of disregard of tariff provisions, except when to do otherwise must leave uncorrected "grossly unjust and widespread discriminations."

Railroads and shippers throughout the country, with a view to preventing unjust discriminations, requested the commission to approve a waiver for a specified period of the four months' limitation within which claims for loss, damage or delay must be presented.

SEVERAL KILLED IN POWDER EXPLOSION.

Glasgow, Scotland, Feb. 20.—Several workmen were killed, a large number injured and many buildings destroyed today at Ardeer, Ayrshire, by an explosion at the Nobel gunpowder works.

FISHING STEAMER AND CREW ARE LOST.

Bremen, Germany, Feb. 20. — The large fishing steamer Perelle, which left Goestemuende in the middle of December for Iceland, sank with its entire crew of thirteen men in those waters, according to dispatches received here today. The Perelle had been reported missing and a search for her was begun last month.

SAY PEONAGE IS PRACTICED IN MICHIGAN

Strikers Prepare Charges to Lay Before Congressmen.

Hilton Renews Request for Probe of Calumet Horror.

Sheriff Cruse Is Accused By Witnesses at Hancock.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charges that peonage exists among the copper miners of Northern Michigan were ready for presentation today before the congressional committee which is investigating the prolonged strike called last summer by the Western Federation of Miners.

At the close of yesterday's hearing attorneys for the strikers announced they had concluded their case on the subject of violation of constitutional rights, with the exception of instances in which members of the militia are alleged to have been involved.

Witnesses testified yesterday that strikers had been mistreated by Sheriff James A. Cruse and some of his deputies.

O. N. Hilton of counsel for the union today renewed his demand for an investigation of the Calumet disaster by the congressional committee. He said his action yesterday in withdrawing his request had been "grossly misconstrued" by the press and that he would insist upon a full inquiry.

The committee promised to consider Hilton's request

Blame the Sheriff.

Sheriff Cruse of Houghton county and his deputies were censured by witnesses testifying yesterday, who asserted that strikers had been mistreated by the sheriff and various deputies since the strike began.

While Lewis Fodar, a striker, was being examined, Angus W. Kerr of counsel for the miners charged that

FARMERS' WIVES ARE TAUGHT HAT-MAKING

Expect to Turn Out Results to Rival Paris Styles.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 20.—Five hundred farmers' wives of Western Wisconsin at the Western Wisconsin Home Makers' convention, held at the county farm school here, today turned their attention to study of plates to beat the milliner and thus reduce the high cost of living. The principal address was made by Miss C. Schmit, hat expert of the University of Wisconsin, who told the farmers' wives that new hats were a delusion and that a little ingenuity and knowledge would enable them each year to make their old bonnets look like new. Many practical demonstrations were given, with the result that clubs for the making of hats are to be started in school districts about the county. Miss Schmit promised them results that would hold their own with Paris creations.

ACCUSE THE MILITIAMEN

United Mine Workers Make Charges in Colorado Inquiry.

Climax Is Reached in Congressional Probe of Strike.

Trinidad, Col., Feb. 20.—A series of charges by the United Mine Workers of America against the National Guard, made from time to time since the beginning of the strike investigation before the house subcommittee, reached a climax today.

The report of officers who investigated the alleged attack and theft at the Yeskenski ranch, described yesterday by an 11-year-old Slav boy, Gustav Yeskenski, was submitted by the militia. The investigation officer, Capt. Edward A. Smith, denied every charge by the boy except that two officers of the National Guard searched the Yeskenski ranch home.

The testimony of Capt. Smith was a signal for a general attack on the militia by counsel for the strikers. A scathing cross-examination by James Brewster gave intimation that more testimony on the subject of alleged outrages by soldiers would be forthcoming.

Captain Denied Charges.

Capt. Smith testified that on the day of the alleged outrage, Capt. Harry E. Insley and Sergeant H. A. Arnold called at the Yeskenski ranch to search for guns, but that no theft nor outrages were committed. He declared that the members of the family told several different stories of the affair.

Capt. Smith said he later talked with leaders of the Forbes tent colony, where the two soldiers called on the day of the alleged Yeskenski incident, and was told that the militia men were not intoxicated.

Yesterday Gustav Yeskenski, 11, testified that two militia men stole $200 from the ranchhouse and beat and kicked himself and his smaller brothers and sisters.

Gustav was brought into the investigation chamber by his mother, Mrs. Victoria Yeskenski. The mother, in the garb of a typical Slav ranch

PANAMA CANAL WILL BE IN USE BY JULY 1

Washington, Feb. 20.—Col. George W. Goethals said today that, barring unforseen accidents, the Panama canal will be open for merchant ships July 1.

The colonel added that he always had been opposed to the exemption of American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls, because that would decrease the revenues of the canal, and in his opinion would not accrue to the benefit of consumers, but merely increase profits of the ship owners. The colonel declined to discuss its legal aspect or its bearing on treaties relations.

"The canal fortifications are entirely adequate," said the canal builder, "and I do not think there is the slightest danger of the canal being captured by an enemy, for it would not be possible for such a force to get near enough.

"I am not in politics and do not intend to dabble in them," said the colonel when it was suggested that some of his friends were booming him for the governorship of New York. He was non-committal when questioned concerning his acceptance of the much-discussed New York police commissionership. "I have nothing to say on that subject," was his only comment.

BOYLE IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Eveleth Senator Seeks Republican Nomination in Eighth District.

Will Be Opponent of Clarence B. Miller at the Primaries.

Recalls Work He Participated in While State Senator.

Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congressman from the Eighth district, and as it is expected Clarence B. Miller will be a candidate to succeed himself there will be a lively fight for the nomination. Mr. Boyle's announcement is not a surprise, as it has been known for some time past that he was seriously considering the question. In a letter to The Herald, Mr. Boyle says:

"I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for representative to the congress of the United States from the Eighth congressional district of Minnesota.

"In making this announcement I am encouraged by the support offered me by representative men throughout the district, among whom are numbered many newspaper men. My most earnest desire should be to prove myself worthy of their confidence.

Born in Minnesota.

"I was born and reared in Minnesota and feel that I know the people of Minnesota. I was graduated from the academic department of Indiana university in 1905. My legal training I received at Indiana university and the St. Paul college of law. Since the fall of 1908 I have been practicing law in Eveleth, Minn. For the most part my practice has been of a general nature.

MAKE ARGUMENTS OVER FREEING THAW

Stone and Jerome Appear in Federal Court at Concord.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 20.—Whether Harry K. Thaw should be discharged from custody on a writ of habeas corpus, and whether he should be admitted to bail pending a final decision by the United States supreme court upon the habeas corpus petition, were the questions set for argument before Judge Edgar Aldrich in the Federal court today.

Whatever may be Judge Aldrich's decision on the habeas corpus petition, the case will be appealed to the highest court in the country. A commission appointed by Judge Aldrich to examine Thaw recently reported that Thaw, if released on bail, would not be a menace to the community. The constitutional questions involved in the case were set forth at length in briefs filed with the court some time ago.

POLISH PEER FACES COURT

Claims He Found Them Together While Seeking Burglars.

Meseritz, Germany, Feb. 20.—Count Matthias Brudzewo-Mielzynski, a Polish nobleman and a member of the German imperial parliament, was placed on trial here today for killing his wife and her nephew, Count Alfred Miaczinski. The two were found dead on Dec. 20 at the country seat of the countess at Dakowy Mokrz, near Graetz.

The count is charged only with manslaughter, the state's attorney, Dr. Boelifahr, holding that the accused acted without premeditation and almost without being aware of what he was doing. The count voluntarily waived his parliamentary immunity in order to permit the trial to take place.

The proceedings, by order of the judge, were held behind closed doors, except during the pronouncement of the verdict, which must be made in public, under the law.

Crime Caused Sensation.

The crime attracted widespread attention owing to the social prominence of those involved. The count and countess, who had been separated for some time, had, just before the murder, resumed joint residence of Dakowy Mokrz.

On the morning of Dec. 20 attaches of the house were aroused at 4 o'clock by several shots. Some of the servants hurried in the direction from which the reports came, and on entering the countess' apartments found Count Brudzewo-Mielzynski standing over the bodies of his wife and her nephew, with a rifle in his hand.

He said he had been awakened by noises which he attributed to burglars. He had snatched a loaded rifle from the gun rack in the hall and had started to investigate. He traced the noises to the countess' aprtment, and on arrival there he turned on the electric light and found the countess and her nephew together.

Stayed Too Long.

The countess' personal attendant testified that Count Alfred Miaczinski had retired to bed after passing the evening with his host and hostess. Later on he proceeded to the apartment of his aunt, and she was endeavoring to persuade him to retire when her husband appeared and shot them.

The countess' maiden name was Countess Felicia von Potok-Potocka. She was born in 1875. She was married to the count in 1896.

WILL HAVE HEARINGS ON MANAHAN'S BILL

House Committee to Decide Whether to Recommend Grain Probe.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Congressional investigation of Representative Manahan's charges that the Chicago and Duluth boards of trade and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce compose a combination in restraint of trade, which fixes the price of wheat for the farmer and the price of flour to the consumer, was before the house rules committee today for the first steps for public hearings.

Before the committee may report a special rule for the investigation—which under the house procedure is the first requirement—opponents and proponents of the inquiry will have opportunity to be heard. The time and place will be named later.

Judge Humphrey Trustee.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Judge J. Otis Humphrey of Springfield informed the officials of the University of Chicago today that he had accepted his appointment as a trustee of the university.

Overlook $10,000 and Big Consignment of Stamps.

Chief Mail Clerk Stabbed on Refusing to Aid Bandits.

Detectives and Police Seek Fleeing Men With Bloodhounds.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 20.—Railway detectives and police with bloodhounds early today began a search for three robbers who last night held up the Queen & Crescent's southbound "New Orleans Limited" twelve miles north of Birmingham and rifled mail pouches of registered mail said to contain more than $40,000. In their haste the robbers overlooked a sack containing $10,000 consigned to New Orleans and a big consignment of stamps.

The train had just left Atalla, Ala., when B. J. Murphy, the engineman, heard the command: "Throw up your hands."

He turned to find a masked man standing in the locomotive cab with a revolver levelled at his head. Two other men were climbing down the coal in the tender. The first robber took hold of the locomotive throttle and stopped the train while his companions guarded the engineman and fireman.

When the train came to a halt the robbers forced Murphy and his fireman to uncouple the locomotive and mail car from the express and passenger coaches and bidding them stay by the rest of the train, opened the throttle.

Had Put Out Lights.

Two miles down the track the robbers again stopped and went back to the mail car. Realizing a robbery was planned, the five mail clerks had extinguished the lights in their car and had locked the doors. They opened up to the robbers, however, when threats to dynamite the car were made and the robbers entered unresisted.

The bandits forced the clerks to disclose the whereabouts of the registered mail and one of the robbers stabbed the chief mail clerk in the shoulder with a dirk.

One took the registered account book and checked over the parcels while the others worked.

Having, as they thought, obtained all the registered mail, the robbers wished the clerks "good luck" and after cutting the mail car from the locomotive climbed aboard and were off.

The locomotive was abandoned near Birmingham.

Passengers Unmolested.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 20.—Officials of the Queen & Crescent in this city said today they had received a report from trainmen of the holdup of the "New Orleans Limited" near Birmingham last night. The report stated three men took part in the robbery of the mail car, but that it was not definitely known what amount of booty was taken.

The robbers confined their operations to the mail car. None of the passengers was molested. The officials said that Vice President T. C. Powell of the Queen & Crescent was in the vicinity of the holdup, and that he was acting in conjunction with the postal authorities and the sheriff of the county in an effort to capture the robbers.

DISCRIMINATION IN RATES IS ALLEGED

Commission Will Ask Why Imports Are Carried Cheaper.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The interstate commerce commission today announced its intention of investigating why freight rates on merchandise imported are less in many instances than those for shipping domestic goods from the same American ports to interior points in the United States.

Complaints have been made that the relationship between import and domestic rates is "unreasonable and subjects domestic traffic within the United States to undue prejudice and disadvantage." Time and place for hearings have not yet been fixed. In the meantime, however, the commission will be gathering information. All common carriers were made respondents.

WOMAN AGED 105 HAS 106 DESCENDANTS

Head of Five Generations in Illinois Is Dead.

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Ellen Jenkinson, 105 years old, died at her home here last night of old age. She was born in Ireland and came to this country sixty-one years ago and settled in Waukegan. She came from Brooklyn to Chicago by rail and went from Chicago to Waukegan by boat, there being no railroad between the two cities at that time. She was the widow of John Jenkinson, who died a number of years ago.

She was the mother of seven children, had 44 grandchildren, 50 great grandchildren and 4 great-great grandchildren. There were five generations in the family.

For many years she was the oldest resident of Lake county, Ill. She was active in the affairs of the Episcopal church up to two years ago.

WILLIAM S. BENTON, BRITISH CITIZEN, IS EXECUTED BY VILLA

Accused of Plotting to Murder the Rebel General.

Action Has Caused Excited Stir on Mexican Border.

England Had Asked Washington to See to His Safety.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 20.—William S. Benton of El Paso, a Scotchman, subject of Great Britain, is dead. The death of the man is confirmed by Pancho Villa, and was officially conveyed to the widow here by United States Consul T. D. Edwards of Juarez.

Mystery surrounds the report of the death. William Benton, a cousin of the dead man, confirmed the report.

"Consul Edwards told Mrs. Benton," he said, "that her husband was dead in Juarez. The consul said Pancho Villa has confirmed this, but said Villa had asked him not to make public the details except in official dispatches to his government."

Executed Tuesday Night.

Benton was executed Tuesday night after a trial by a military court in Juarez, of which Federico Gonzales Garza was the head, according to what appears to be a correct version of the affair. The charge against Benton was that he was implicated in a plot to take Villa's life.

Villa left for the south this morning on a special train. Benton last was seen alive in Juarez Tuesday morning. He was making his way to Villa's home and said he was going to "tell Villa what he thought of him" for the manner in which his ranch, the "Los Remedio," in Western Chihuahua, had been looted and raided by rebel soldiers.

Warning Came Too Late.

Instructions had been sent by the state department yesterday to Consul Edwards, it is said, to see that no harm should come to Benton, the instructions being sent upon the request of the British ambassador at Washington. The warning, it now appears, came too late.

It is supposed that Villa's defense

UNCERTAIN TERM FOR ST. PAUL MEN

Flanagan and Turner Will Serve Not Above Ten Years.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Morrison, in district court, today sentenced Former Chief of Police Martin J. Flanagan and Former Detective Fred Turner each to serve an indeterminate sentence of not to exceed ten years in the state prison at Stillwater, following their conviction last night on a charge of third degree bribery. His action was followed by granting a stay of sentence until April 4.

Flanagan was sentenced first. He stood before the bench while Judge Morrison made the usual interrogation and announced the sentence. Turner's sentence followed.

The defendants were reaised till April 4 on bonds of $10,000 each.

The former police officials were convicted on an indictment charging them with acceptance of $3,000 from an underworld woman, whose resort was to be accorded police protection. The maximum penalty is ten years imprisonment or a fine of $1,000, or both.

Assistant County Attorney Ryan last night said the state probably would not press the charges against Flanagan and Turner contained in other indictments returned by the grand jury which recently investigated the so-called underworld police graft scandal.

SENATE REFUSES TO AMEND ONE TREATY

Rejects Chamberlain's Proposal for the Spanish Agreement.

Washington, Feb. 20.—By a vote of 40 to 13, the senate in executive session today rejected the Chamberlain amendment to the Spanish general arbitration treaty to exempt from arbitration questions relating to Panama tolls, immigration, admission of children to state schools and all questions involving the Monroe doctrine.

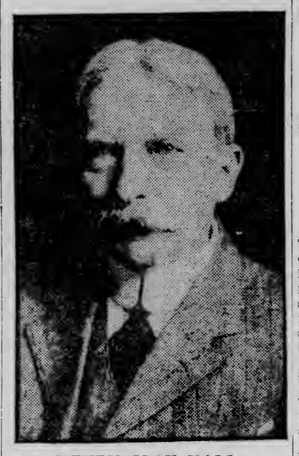

Other treaties pending are with Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Portugal and Switzerland. The Chamberlain amendment would exempt from arbitration all questions of immigration, the admission of aliens into public schools of the states, the Monroe doctrine and all that it might imply in relations with other American nations and the provision of the Panama canal act exempting American coastwise shipping from tolls.

Senator Shively, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, and others who are in sympathy with the desire of President Wilson for renewal of the treaties and repeal of the tolls provision of the canal act, predicted ultimate ratification of all the treaties, but admitted that the discussion would be prolonged for several days.

BRITONS DENY ANY PICTURE THEFTS.

London, Feb. 20.—Officials of the British museum said today that no pictures are missing from that institution. This announcement was made in reply to inquiries as to the authenticity of the report from Paris that canvases of great value had been stolen from the museum by a band of international art thieves. At police headquarters in Scotland Yard, it was stated that the authorities had no knowledge of any such thefts.

CHOSEN AS MEMBER OF COMMERCE COMMISSION

HENRY CLAY HALL.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Feb. 20.—Henry Clay Hall, president of the Bar Association of Colorado, has been made a member of the interstate commerce commission. He is a native of New York and served at one time as counsellor for the United States embassy at Paris. He then moved to Colorado Springs for his health and in time became one of the best known corporation lawyers in Colorado.

BANKERS ASK WIDER LIMIT

Seek Amendment of Bill Against Interlocking Directorates.

First Drafts of Railway Capitalization Law Forecasted.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Liberalization of the administration bill to prohibit interlocking directorates was proposed to the house judiciary committee today by Thomas B. Paton, representing the Federal legislative committee of the American Bankers' association.

Under the pending bill no director might serve in any two banks in the Federal reserve system. The proposed modification would allow a director to serve in any number of banks, provided they were not located in the same city, and in any number of banks in a single city, provided the average capitalization of the banks did not exceed a million dollars.

E. S. Hunt of Waterbury, Conn., representing the Connecticut Savings Bank association, asked savings bank trustees and directors be exempted.

WAIVER OF LIABILITY LIMIT IS DENIED

The Commerce Commission Says It Can Give No Relief as Asked.

Washington, Feb. 20.—In a decision following an inquiry into the enforcement of provisions of bills of lading, the interstate commerce commission held today that it had no authority to order carriers to disregard their tariffs, nor does it feel justified in acquiescing in the adjustment of matters brought into the condition here presented, by reason of disregard of tariff provisions, except when to do otherwise must leave uncorrected "grossly unjust and widespread discriminations."

Railroads and shippers throughout the country, with a view to preventing unjust discriminations, requested the commission to approve a waiver for a specified period of the four months' limitation within which claims for loss, damage or delay must be presented.

SEVERAL KILLED IN POWDER EXPLOSION.

Glasgow, Scotland, Feb. 20.—Several workmen were killed, a large number injured and many buildings destroyed today at Ardeer, Ayrshire, by an explosion at the Nobel gunpowder works.

FISHING STEAMER AND CREW ARE LOST.

Bremen, Germany, Feb. 20. — The large fishing steamer Ferelle, which left Goestemuende in the middle of December for Iceland, sank with its entire crew of thirteen men in those waters, according to dispatches received here today. The Ferelle had been reported missing and a search for her was begun last month.

SAY PEONAGE IS PRACTICED IN MICHIGAN

Strikers Prepare Charges to Lay Before Congressmen.

Hilton Renews Request for Probe of Calumet Horror.

Sheriff Cruse Is Accused By Witnesses at Hancock.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charges that peonage exists among the copper miners of Northern Michigan were ready for presentation today before the congressional committee which is investigating the prolonged strike called last summer by the Western Federation of Miners.

At the close of yesterday's hearing attorneys for the strikers announced they had concluded their case on the subject of violation of constitutional rights, with the exception of instances in which members of the militia are alleged to have been involved.

Witnesses testified yesterday that strikers had been mistreated by Sheriff James A. Cruse and some of his deputies.

O. N. Hilton of counsel for the union today renewed his demand for an investigation of the Calumet disaster by the congressional committee. He said his action yesterday in withdrawing his request had been "grossly misconstrued" by the press and that he would insist upon a full inquiry.

The committee promised to consider Hilton's request

Blame the Sheriff.

Sheriff Cruse of Houghton county and his deputies were censured by witnesses testifying yesterday, who asserted that strikers had been mistreated by the sheriff and various deputies since the strike began.

While Lewis Fodar, a striker, was being examined, Angus W. Kerr of counsel for the miners charged that

FARMERS' WIVES ARE TAUGHT HAT-MAKING

Expect to Turn Out Results to Rival Paris Styles.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 20.—Five hundred farmers' wives of Western Wisconsin at the Western Wisconsin Home Makers' convention, held at the county farm school here, today turned their attention to study of plates to beat the milliner and thus reduce the high cost of living. The principal address was made by Miss C. Schmit, hat expert of the University of Wisconsin, who told the farmers' wives that new hats were a delusion and that a little ingenuity and knowledge would enable them each year to make their old bonnets look like new. Many practical demonstrations were given, with the result that clubs for the making of hats are to be started in school districts about the county. Miss Schmit promised them results that would hold their own with Paris creations.

ACCUSE THE MILITIAMEN

United Mine Workers Make Charges in Colorado Inquiry.

Climax Is Reached in Congressional Probe of Strike.

Trinidad, Col., Feb. 20.—A series of charges by the United Mine Workers of America against the National Guard, made from time to time since the beginning of the strike investigation before the house subcommittee, reached a climax today.

The report of officers who investigated the alleged attack and theft at the Yeskenski ranch, described yesterday by an 11-year-old Slav boy, Gustav Yeskenski, was submitted by the militia. The investigation officer, Capt. Edward A. Smith, denied every charge by the boy except that two officers of the National Guard searched the Yeskenski ranch home.

The testimony of Capt. Smith was a signal for a general attack on the militia by counsel for the strikers. A scathing cross-examination by James Brewster gave intimation that more testimony on the subject of alleged outrages by soldiers would be forthcoming.

Captain Denied Charges.

Capt. Smith testified that on the day of the alleged outrage, Capt. Harry E. Insley and Sergeant H. A. Arnold called at the Yeskenski ranch to search for guns, but that no theft nor outrages were committed. He declared that the members of the family told several different stories of the affair.

Capt. Smith said he later talked with leaders of the Forbes tent colony, where the two soldiers called on the day of the alleged Yeskenski incident, and was told that the militia men were not intoxicated.

Born in Minnesota.

Yesterday Gustav Yeskenski, 11, testified that two militia men stole $200 from the ranchhouse and beat and kicked himself and his smaller brothers and sisters.

Gustav was brought into the investigation chamber by his mother, Mrs. Victoria Yeskenski. The mother, in the garb of a typical Slav ranch

PANAMA CANAL WILL BE IN USE BY JULY 1

Washington, Feb. 20.—Col. George W. Goethals said today that, barring unforseen accidents, the Panama canal will be open for merchant ships July 1.

The colonel added that he always had been opposed to the exemption of American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls, because that would decrease the revenues of the canal, and in his opinion would not accrue to the benefit of consumers, but merely increase profits of the ship owners. The colonel declined to discuss its legal aspect or its bearing on treaties relations.

"The canal fortifications are entirely adequate," said the canal builder, "and I do not think there is the slightest danger of the canal being captured by an enemy, for it would not be possible for such a force to get near enough.

"I am not in politics and do not intend to dabble in them," said the colonel when it was suggested that some of his friends were booming him for the governorship of New York. He was non-committal when questioned concerning his acceptance of the much-discussed New York police commissionership. "I have nothing to say on that subject," was his only comment.

BOYLE IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Eveleth Senator Seeks Republican Nomination in Eighth District.

Will Be Opponent of Clarence B. Miller at the Primaries.

Recalls Work He Participated in While State Senator.

Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congressman from the Eighth district, and as it is expected Clarence B. Miller will be a candidate to succeed himself there will be a lively fight for the nomination. Mr. Boyle's announcement is not a surprise, as it has been known for some time past that he was seriously considering the question. In a letter to The Herald, Mr. Boyle says:

"I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for representative to the congress of the United States from the Eighth congressional district of Minnesota.

"In making this announcement I am encouraged by the support offered me by representative men throughout the district, among whom are numbered many newspaper men. My most earnest desire should be to prove myself worthy of their confidence.

Born in Minnesota.

"I was born and reared in Minnesota and feel that I know the people of Minnesota. I was graduated from the academic department of Indiana university in 1905. My legal training I received at Indiana university and the St. Paul college of law. Since the fall of 1908 I have been practicing law in Eveleth, Minn. For the most part my practice has been of a general nature.

MAKE ARGUMENTS OVER FREEING THAW

Concord, N. H., Feb. 20.—Whether Harry K. Thaw should be discharged from custody on a writ of habeas corpus, and whether he should be admitted to bail pending a final decision by the United States supreme court upon the habeas corpus petition, were the questions set for argument before Judge Edgar Aldrich in the Federal court today.

Whatever may be Judge Aldrich's decision on the habeas corpus petition, the case will be appealed to the highest court in the country. A commission appointed by Judge Aldrich to examine Thaw recently reported that Thaw, if released on bail, would not be a menace to the community. The constitutional questions involved in the case were set forth at length in briefs filed with the court some time ago.

TRAIN ROBBERS GET $40,000 FROM MAILS IN ALABAMA HOLDUP

OPPOSES MILLER FOR HIS SEAT IN CONGRESS

JAMES P. BOYLE
Of Eveleth.

Overlook $10,000 and Big Consignment of Stamps.

Chief Mail Clerk Stabbed on Refusing to Aid Bandits.

Detectives and Police Seek Fleeing Men With Bloodhounds.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 20.—Railway detectives and police with bloodhounds early today began a search for three robbers who last night held up the Queen & Crescent's southbound "New Orleans Limited" twelve miles north of Birmingham and rifled mail pouches of registered mail said to contain more than $40,000. In their haste the robbers overlooked a sack containing $10,000 consigned to New Orleans and a big consignment of stamps.

The train had just left Atalla, Ala., when B. J. Murphy, the engineman, heard the command: "Throw up your hands."

He turned to find a masked man standing in the locomotive cab with a revolver levelled at his head. Two other men were climbing down the coal in the tender. The first robber took hold of the locomotive throttle and stopped the train while his companions guarded the engineman and fireman.

When the train came to a halt the robbers forced Murphy and his fireman to uncouple the locomotive and mail car from the express and passenger coaches and bidding them stay by the rest of the train, opened the throttle.

Had Put Out Lights.

Two miles down the track the robbers again stopped and went back to the mail car. Realizing a robbery was planned, the five mail clerks had extinguished the lights in their car and had locked the doors. They opened up to the robbers, however, when threats to dynamite the car were made and the robbers entered unresisted.

The bandits forced the clerks to disclose the whereabouts of the registered mail and one of the robbers stabbed the chief mail clerk in the shoulder with a dirk.

One took the registered account book and checked over the parcels while the others worked.

Having, as they thought, obtained all the registered mail, the robbers wished the clerks "good luck" and after cutting the mail car from the locomotive climbed aboard and were off.

The locomotive was abandoned near Birmingham.

Passengers Unmolested.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 20.—Officials of the Queen & Crescent in this city said today they had received a report from trainmen of the holdup of the "New Orleans Limited" near Birmingham last night. The report stated three men took part in the robbery of the mail car, but that it was not definitely known what amount of booty was taken.

The robbers confined their operations to the mail car. None of the passengers was molested. The officials said that Vice President T. C. Powell of the Queen & Crescent was in the vicinity of the holdup, and that he was acting in conjunction with the postal authorities and the sheriff of the county in an effort to capture the robbers.

POLISH PEER FACES COURT

Meseritz, Germany, Feb. 20.—Count Matthias Brudzewo-Mielzynski, a Polish nobleman and a member of the German imperial parliament, was placed on trial here today for killing his wife and her nephew, Count Alfred Miaczinski. The two were found dead on Dec. 20 at the country seat of the countess at Dakowy Mokrz, near Graetz.

The count is charged only with manslaughter, the state's attorney, Dr. Boelfahr, holding that the accused acted without premeditation and almost without being aware of what he was doing. The count voluntarily waived his parliamentary immunity in order to permit the trial to take place.

The proceedings, by order of the judge, were held behind closed doors, except during the pronouncement of the verdict, which must be made in public, under the law.

Crime Caused Sensation.

The crime attracted widespread attention owing to the social prominence of those involved. The count and countess, who had been separated for some time, had, just before the murder, resumed joint residence of Dakowy Mokrz.

On the morning of Dec. 20 attaches of the house were aroused at 4 o'clock by several shots. Some of the servants hurried in the direction from which the reports came, and on entering the countess' apartments found Count Brudzewo-Mielzynski standing over the bodies of his wife and her nephew, with a rifle in his hand.

He said he had been awakened by noises which he attributed to burglars. He had snatched a loaded rifle from the gun rack in the hall and had started to investigate. He traced the noises to the countess' aprtment, and on arrival there he turned on the electric light and found the countess and her nephew together.

Stayed Too Long.

The countess' personal attendant testified that Count Alfred Miaczinski had retired to bed after passing the evening with his host and hostess. Later on he proceeded to the apartment of his aunt, and she was endeavoring to persuade him to retire when her husband appeared and shot them.

The countess' maiden name was Countess Felicia von Potok-Potocka. She was born in 1875. She was married to the count in 1896.

WILL HAVE HEARINGS ON MANAHAN'S BILL

House Committee to Decide Whether to Recommend Grain Probe.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Congressional investigation of Representative Manahan's charges that the Chicago and Duluth boards of trade and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce compose a combination in restraint of trade, which fixes the price of wheat for the farmer and the price of flour to the consumer, was before the house rules committee today for the first steps for public hearings.

Before the committee may report a special rule for the investigation—which under the house procedure is the first requirement—opponents and proponents of the inquiry will have opportunity to be heard. The time and place will be named later.

Judge Humphrey Trustee.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Judge J. Otis Humphrey of Springfield informed the officials of the University of Chicago today that he had accepted his appointment as a trustee of the university.

PASTOR ARRESTED ON ARSON CHARGE

Has Claimed Religious Opponents Burned His Residence.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 20.—Rev. J. A. Cottam, pastor of the Methodist church at Dearborn, a suburb, was arrested here late yesterday on a warrant charging arson. The minister had been detained at the county jail since Wednesday, while county authorities and a deputy state fire marshal completed an investigation into the burning of Rev. Mr. Cottam's parsonage, which occurred Jan. 15.

When Rev. Mr. Cottam learned the warrants had been issued, he resigned as pastor of the Dearborn church and declared he was innocent of the arson charge. A number of his parishioners said they had confidence in his integrity.

After the parsonage burned the pastor gave out a statement which declared that he had received threatening letters from persons of a different religious belief. He said they objected to sermons which he delivered dealing with th religion they professed.

Rev. Mr. Cottam, when arraigned before a justice, did not enter a plea, but asked for an examination. March 5 was fixed as the date for his hearing, and he was released on $2,500 bail, which was furnished by two friends.

SEEK TO RECALL PORTLAND MAYOR.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 20.—The recall of Mayor H. R. Albee and City Commissioners R. G. Dieck and W. L. Brewster is asked in twenty petitions placed in circulation. The petitions charge that Mayor Albee has been holding a business position in violation of the charter and of his oath of office. The charges against Dieck and Brewster are that they supported the mayor in his illegal and incompetent acts.

NEW RATES TO BE EFFECTIVE

Lake Carriers Will Comply With Ruling in Butter and Eggs Case.

Information Received By G. Roy Hall Gratifies Duluth Men.

Full compliance will be made by the lake carriers with the recent ruling of the interstate commerce commission in the Duluth butter and eggs case.

This important information is conveyed in the following telegram received by The Herald today from its Washington correspondent:

"G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, has been in conference with representatives of the lake carriers while in Washington, and has been informed that they will comply with the order of the interstate commission in the butter and egg case instituted by the Bridgeman-Russell company. Several of the vessels of all the lines operating on the lakes will be equipped with cold storage facilities so that the transportation of butter, eggs and poultry by water routes will begin with opening of navigation."

Gratification was expressed by officials of the Bridgeman-Russell company over the decision of the boat lines to comply with the commission's decision without further controversy.

"It is more important to Duluth interests than most people imagine," said B. M. Ruse, sales manager of the company this morning. "It will be a help in many directions. Through the extra outlet that will be afforded in being able to make shipments of butter, eggs and poultry at a reduced cost, it will promote the dairying and poultry industry in this district and through the Northwest. Much business that now goes to Chicago and other points will undoubtedly be routed this way. Going right down the line, it may be mentioned that our banks will be afforded an additional source of profit in the putting through of drafts covering shipments on produce.

"It seems to me too bad that Duluth interests have had to fight so hard, and to go to so much expense in securing their rights from the transportation companies. It is a pleasure to know that from now on we will be on an even footing with competing points."

F. A. BARBER'S CASE IS CONTINUED

Trial of the suit of Frank A. Barber against the Higgins Land company, an action in which Barber is seeking $60,000 for services alleged to have been performed in introducing Spencer & Marshall, local attorneys, to the concern, was yesterday continued until the March term of court. The case was set for March 23.

Judge Dancer granted the motion for continuance which had been urged by the defendant land company on the grounds that a trial at this time, following the $100,000 verdict obtained by other litigants, would be highly prejudicial to the company's interest. Counsel for the company claimed that a fair and impartial jury could not be impaneled from the remaining members of the January term venire.

ROOT IS CRITIC OF CONGRESS METHODS

Says Efficiency Is Falling Off Owing to Committee System.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Congressional efficiency is on the wane and "the whole system of doing the people's business is breaking down" under the constantly growing demands upon it, Senator Root warned the senate in an arraignment yesterday of the results of the committee system. Drastic revision of legislative methods in both senate and house, he declared, must soon be undertaken, or congress would find itself hopelessly swamped.

Half a dozen members agreed with Mr. Root. Mr. Smith of Arizona said it was folly to put senators on half a dozen committees and expect them to attend the meetings of each. He had repeatedly been called from one committee, he said, to make a quorum in another.

Senator Clapp said the size of committees and the tendency to gratify the ambitions of senators by giving them committee assignments they desired without regard to the efficiency of the committees was the root of the trouble.

Smith and Smoot Began It.

An attempt of Senators Smith and Smoot to take from the mines committee a bill dealing with the leasing of Alaska coal lands and refer it to the committee on public lands, of which both are members, precipitated the debate. Chairman Walsh of the mines committee opposed the motion. He said a bill on this subject would be reported by the mines committee next week if his committee was left in charge of the measure.

Senator Chamberlain, a member of the public lands committee and author of the Alaska railway bill, urged that the mines committee be permitted to continue its work. Quick action on this and several other bills which are to follow was necessary, he said, to let down the last barrier to Alaskan development.

MRS. STEVENSON TO BE BURIED IN SAMOA

Name Is Linked With Husband's in Some Books.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, who died Wednesday of apoplexy at "Stone Hedge," her home in Montecito, will be buried beside the author of "Treasure Island" on "Mountain Top," near Apia, Samoa. This is in accordance with her last wish. All funeral arrangements, however, have been postponed until the arrival of her son, Lloyd Osborne, from New York.

Mrs. Stevenson not only collaborated with her husband in some of his most charming works, but writing under her maiden name, Fanny Van De Grift, had attained some fame as a writer of short stories and magazine articles. Her early life was spent in Indiana.

She was 17 years old and employed in the office of the reporter of the Indiana supreme court of Indiana when she was married to her first husband, Samuel C. Osborne, at that time private secretary to the governor of Indiana.

It was many years later that Mrs. Osborne, while traveling with her children in Europe, met Stevenson in Paris. She was divorced from her first husband.

At the time of his marriage, Stevenson was in ill health. Much has been written of the great love and patience shown by Mrs. Stevenson for her stricken husband. She went with him to the Vailima in Samoa, where she nursed him and acted as amenuensis and general aide in his writing. Mrs. Stevenson's name stands with that of her husband on the title of "The Dynamiters." Her pen also aided in the production of "Prince Otto."

Mrs. Steverson wrote many interesting articles on life in the South Seas, in which she extolled the comfortable luxury of the native costume, which she wore.

ORIGINATOR OF SCHEME ARRESTED

Goethals Home Project Denounced—No Contributions in Duluth.

The letter received recently by Mayor W. I. Prince asking contributions of $1 each from forty Duluthians as part of a Christmas fund to be used for the purchase of a home for Col. Goethals at Panama, is labeled as a fraud by Federal postoffice inspectors.

The letter was one of 700 which were mailed to mayors of various cities asking similar donations. They were sent out by Robert Andrew Hamilton, who was arrested yesterday by postoffice inspectors at Washington charged with having used the mails with intent to defraud, according to a Washington Associated Press dispatch. He proposed to raise a fund of $50,000, the sum asked from each city being based on the ratio of its population.

Hamilton protested to the postoffice authorities and the police that he was a great admirer of Col. Goethals and intended to withhold from the funds collected only enough to pay his expenses in arranging for the gift to the Panama canal builder. He said he was a civil engineer employed by the Canadian Pacific railway.

Mayor Prince announced the receipt of the circular and its purport but as he has received no contributions he will have no donations to remit.

EMBEZZLER'S FAMILY WILL BE CARED FOR.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—The wife and four children of Fred Bell, convicted embezzler, will not suffer while Bell is in prison, and Judge Petit, having made good on his declaration that he would neither be lenient with Bell or permit his family to suffer, may go ahead and sentence the man. Three wealthy women came into Judge Petit's court today and made offers to care for the destitute family. Judge Petit indicated that he would accept one of the offers.

Judge Petit had declared in court that he "would not parole Bell and let his wife work her fingers to the bone to pay back his embezzlement." The judge asserted that he would postpone sentencing Bell for a week, and meanwhile was certain that some big-hearted woman would come forward to take charge of the wife and children.

THEFTS LAID TO FORMER OFFICIALS.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 20.—Warrants charging them with embezzlement have been issued for George H. Wyatt, former city treasurer, and Homer Osborn, his first assistant, upon information filed by Prosecuting Attorney Farrell. Wyatt resigned office a week ago after admitting he was short in his accounts, and Osborn was dismissed by City Comptroller Shaffer. An examination of the books completed by the comptroller places the amount of the alleged deficit at $27,000.

More Noise Than Damage.

Washington, Feb. 20.—More noise than damage attended the recent bombardment of the Ecuadorean port of Esmarldas, according to dispatches to the state department.

An Unusual Coat Event

Joins Hands With the Great Waist Sale

While our local buyer was in the New York markets, he purchased the surplus coat stocks from two of our best coat manufacturers at a ridiculous low price—consisting of fine Chinchillas, Persianias, Zibelines, Corduroys and other popular fabrics. In order to make this sale the biggest event of the season we have grouped them with the regular remaining stock and they will be sold at the following prices regardless of their former values—

Note the Original Values and Sales Prices

Former Values $19.50 to $22.50 $5 | Former Values $25 to $35 $7.50 | Former Values $39.50 to $55 $15

YOUNG COASTERS HAVE CLOSE CALL

Strike Auto, One Being Knocked Unconscious and One Run Over.

Coasting on the street nearly proved fatal for Mildred, 10 years old, and Wilfred, 8 years old, children of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nelson, 2101 West Sixth street shortly after 8 o'clock last night. The sled in which they were coasting collided with an automobile driven by Robert Watt, chauffeur for Herbert Warren, at the corner of Twenty-first avenue west and First street.

The sled struck the automobile near the center, the girl striking her head forcibly against the machine and being knocked unconscious, while the boy was thrown under the machine and the rear wheel passed over his leg without, however, fracturing it. Watt brought the machine to an almost instant stop and took the children to their home.

The girl was taken to St. Luke's hospital where, shortly after her arrival, she regained consciousness. Physicians attending the child said this morning that they believe the girl will recover.

The children were coming down the east side of the street and were not noticed by the chauffeur until they were almost onto the machine. An attempt to turn the machine out of the way proved futile.

Mr. Warren was not in the car at the time.

CLUB ASKS FOR EXPLANATION

Commissioners Opposed in Plan to Improve West Superior Street.

An invitation was etxended last night by the West End Commercial club to Commissioners Murchison and Merritt to attend a meeting of the club on March 5, to state their reason for advocating the improving of West Superior street from Twenty-fifth avenue west to Forty-sixth avenue in opposition to the wishes of the club members. The members aver that the majority of people in this end of the city wanted the paving laid on First street, Vernon and Third streets.

L. A. Simonson, president of the club, also announced the names of committees to handle the various activities of the club this year. The following were appointed:

Garden—L. A. Simonson, James W. Preston and James Maghan.

Sanitation—S. W. Hill, Emil Gustafson and George M. Peterson.

Water and Light—A. B. Anderson, F. O. Peterson and Hartwick Hanson.

Public Market—George W. Jensen, Gust Landin and John Thygeson.

School, Library and Building—Rev. George H. Silloway, John H. Moe and Martin Timmerman.

General Traffic—John J. Moe, S. Hougrud and Sivert Aune.

Entertainment—Edward A. Thompson, Emil Olson and Carl Franklin.

Membership—James W. Preston, John Moir and Victor Jutin.

Street, Alley and Dock—William H. Bernard, James W. Preston and George M. Jensen.

A report given by members of the "white way" committee was to the effect that only two more property owners were required to give their consent to the installation of the system. Two business men on the street are also required to sign the maintenance agreement.

Illustrated Lecture.

Rev. Wilfred Clarke, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church of Lakeside, will give an illustrated lecture this evening in the guild rooms of the St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street. "Cathedrals of England" will be the subject. The pictures will be shown are those he has used in giving the same lecture in the Lakeside hall. He will also show two reels of motion pictures.

Give Sleighride Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hood entertained last evening at a sleighride party to New Duluth, where the young people enjoyed dancing for a short time. The members of the party were: Misses Velna Snuckle, Irine Snuckle, Hulda Mork, Anna Salberg, Elizabeth Wallace, Lena Selola, Elizabeth Anderson, Margaret Roske, Evelyn Numainville, Mary Smith, Adelphine Wentlaff, Alma Swanson, Olga Hendricks, Agnes Olson, Lydia Olson, and George Becker, Einar Hanson, Carl Grennan, Sigurd Olson, Ed Peterson, W. Otterson, Kenneth Wexal, Franklin Wenstad, Hartley Thomas, Amos Streson, Thomas Adams, F. L. Weddle, Joseph Doherty, Walter Smith and Sidney Herbert.

SCRATCH ON FINGER FATAL

Blood Poisoning Causes the Death of Edward Nelson.

Edward Nelson, 36 years old, 1717 New street, died yesterday afternoon at St. Luke's hospital following an illness of less than a week from blood poisoning. He had been at the hospital but two days.

Mr. Nelson was a driver for a local coal company and last Friday sustained a small scratch on his little finger. He paid little attention to the scratch. When he called on a doctor early this week he was informed that blood poisoning had set in, and then went to the hospital.

He leaves a widow and five small children. A sister, Mrs. A. Engstad of Indianapolis, and two brothers, August of New Haven, Colo., and Louis, of the West end also survive him.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms. Burial will be made in Park Hill cemetery. Rev. Swaney Nelson will officiate.

WILL CO-OPERATE ON GARDENING

School Principals and the Pupils Will Work With Commercial Club.

For the purpose of better carrying out the idea of gardening and bringing the school children in closer touch with the garden committee of the West End Commercial club, the principals of five of the West end schools yesterday appointed committees consisting of three pupils to co-operate with the general committee. The principals of each of the institutions also promised to act with the committee.

The committees from the various schools are as follows:

Bryant school—Duncan McCullin, chairman; Fred Stevens and Alphonse Degrysk. Ensign school—Adell Nelson, chairman; Hazel Selseth and Earl Olson. Lincoln school—Elmer Pearson, chairman; Irene Kusmiark and George Frederickson. Monroe school—Mary Back, chairman; Hildur Welander and Hjalmer Jones. Adams school—Herbert Carlson, chairman; Lester Peterson and Emil Sandquist. Appointments will be made at the Madison school Monday.

These committees will meet with the club's committee at an early date in March. Arrangements have already been made through C. E. Roe to supply the needed seeds for gardening at a reduced cost to the children. Only acclimated seeds will be planted.

The garden committee this year consists of: L. A. Simonson, chairman; James W. Preston and James Maghan. This committee expects to raise more than $100 in prizes for distribution at the end of the season. It is proposed to have each contestant select one particular variety of vegetables and try for the prize for that particular product.

Mickelson Funeral.

The funeral of Gustaf Mickelson, 40 years old, 814 North Twenty-third avenue west, who died as a result of injuries sustained by a fall from a building in Milwaukee, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms. Rev. J. J. Daniels will officiate. Interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

Go to District Meeting.

A large delegation of Good Templars of the western end of the city will leave tomorrow to attend the annual district meetings of the I. O. G. T., to be held at Eveleth Sunday. The delegation from North Star lodge of the West end will be headed by Gust Hjerpe, and the delegation from Morning Star lodge of West Duluth will be headed by Conrad Wicklund. The latter is district secretary for the order.

Entertains at Luncheon.

Mrs. O. Peterson, 2027 West Second street, entertained yesterday afternoon for a few friends at luncheon. The guests were Mrs. O. Lindquist, Mrs. A. Abramson, Mrs. E. Sass, Mrs. E. Anderson, Mrs. J. Beck, Mrs. O. Johnson, Mrs. C. Hanson and Misses Helen Johnson, Helen Anderson and Adelaide Lindquist.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. M. T. Crowley, 2403 West Superior street, left yesterday afternoon for Pueblo, Colo., to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. John Smith, who died yesterday morning.

Members of the Epworth league of the Swedish Methodist church will meet at 7:40 o'clock this evening at the parsonage, 314 North Twentieth avenue west. The members will attend in a body the gathering at the First Methodist church this evening.

The French Naturalization club will meet this evening at the French hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. An athletic program will feature the meeting.

George E. Hanson of Minneapolis is spending a few days visiting friends in this end of the city.

Mrs. George R. King, 104 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, left this morning for Hibbing, where she will spend the week-end visiting relatives.

The Young Ladies' sodality of St. Clements church have planned to hold a cooking sale tomorrow at C. B. Nunan's grocery store.

INFLAMMABLE DART USED BY AVIATOR.

Buc, France, Feb. 20.—An inflammable dart for use by aeroplanes was tested yesterday by military air experts with satisfactory results. The dart carries a small reservoir containing gasoline, which explodes on contact. Its purpose is to set fire to dirigible balloons or buildings. Three of the darts were dropped from an aeroplane at an altitude of 600 feet and found their mark.

NO ACTION TAKEN BY THE NEW HAVEN

New York, Feb. 20.—Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, at their monthly meeting, took no formal action on the tentative plan for the separation of the Boston & Maine railroad, reported to have been drawn up in Washington. The road's special counsel and Chairman Howard Elliott are to continue their negotiations with Attorney General McReynolds along the lines already planned.

The personnel of the Boston & Maine trusteeship has not yet been determined, but something definite in this connection is expected next week, when further conferences will be held in Washington, D. C.

Elliott Reticent.

Chairman Elliott was reluctant to discuss the report that the New Haven was holding out for a period of five to ten years in which dissolve the whole system. He intimated that some decision on this point probably would be reached in the near future.

Mr. Elliott said that the question of granting immunity to any director, official or employe of the New Haven road for alleged violation of the Sherman law had never been discussed in the many conferences between him and representatives of the department of justice.

Get New Light.

Washington, Feb. 20.—New light was thrown on the complexities of the task of separating the Boston & Maine railroad from the New Haven system at the department of justice when Representative Stevens of New Hampshire and Chairman E. G. Niles of that state's public service commission told officials how Boston & Maine affairs are interwoven with the laws of that state, and how the people are interested in everything which concerns that road.

In consequence of this conference, Mr. Gregory did not have an opportunity to talk with Attorney General McReynolds about the tentative list of five trustees to take over the Boston & Maine, which has been approved by Governor Walsh of Massachusetts. It was said that the approval of the attorney general may not be sought for several days.

Concrete Men Elect.

BUT EIGHT DAYS LEFT

Royalties Are Taxable Despite Decision Pending, Says Attorney.

But eight days remain for those subject to the income tax laws to send in returns to the United States collector of internal revenue. A penalty of from $20 to $1,000 attaches if returns are not in by March 1.

Considerable interest in Duluth has been aroused over the government's proposal to tax royalties, notwithstanding the decision now pending in the Federal courts which holds that royalties are not income. In speaking today of this phase of the problem, J. J. Robinson, attorney, said:

"The owner of mineral lands receiving royalties is entitled to a deduction for depletion of deposits. But when a person receiving royalties is not the owner of the property, the entire royalty is taxable; no deduction for depletion is allowed.

"The depreciation allowed the owner or owners of a mine must be based upon the actual cost of the property, and cannot exceed 5 per cent of the gross value at the mine of the output for the year for which computation is made.

"The term 'gross value at the mine' means the bona fide market value of the ore at the mine when such value is established by actual sales at the mine. In case the market value of the product of the mine is established at some place other than at the mine, then the gross value at the mine is held to be the value of the ore sold, less transportation, reduction and smelting charges.

"If the rate of 5 per cent per annum shall return to the owner his capital investment prior to the exhaustion of the deposits, the rate must be lowered in accordance with the estimated number of years it will take to exhaust the estimated reserves.

"In case the reserves are in excess of the estimates, no further deduction on account of depletion shall be made where the capital investment has been returned to the owners. In addition to the deduction for depletion, a corporation will be allowed the usual depreciation of its machinery, equipment, etc.

"Corporations operating mines upon a royalty basis only cannot claim depreciation because of the exhaustion of the deposits.

"Mining and timber lands are governed by different rules from other real estate with respect to the amount of depreciation allowed. The depreciation in both cases must be based upon the original cost of the property plus the carrying charges. In the case of other real estate, the depreciation allowed is based upon the value of the property and not the actual cost to the owner."

CLOQUET TO HAVE NEW PLAYHOUSE

Cloquet, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Since the closing of the Nelson opera house last year, Cloquet business men have been negotiating with outside parties for the erection of a new theater, large enough to accommodate good road shows, first class vaudeville and a place suitable for holding public meetings. A proposition whereby the necessary capital was to be subscribed by local citizens, failed to materialize.

Private Capital To Build.

F. L. Redfield of this city will erect the new theater as a private enterprise, and H. A. Sherman of Minneapolis will be the manager. The theater will be located on Arch street, south of Avenue C. The building will be erected and furnished at an approximate cost of $10,000 and will have a seating capacity of 700. Work on the structure will begin next week and it is planned to have the theater opened by June 1.

WATER POWER POLICY TOLD

Secretary Garrison Includes It in Letter to Congressman.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Assertion of the power of the Federal government under the Constitution to control the building of all water power projects, but recognition at the same time of the equities therein of the states of the Union—this is the cardinal principle in the conservation policy of the Wilson administration so far as it affects the navigable streams of the country.

Secretary Garrison of the war department is the author of the plan, which has been indorsed by the president and cabinet. Its details will be made public in the form of a letter from the secretary to Chairman Adamson of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, when the latter returns to Washington and is consulted by Mr. Garrison.

Through its policy, the administration hopes to end the controversy, oftentimes a bitter one, that has been agitated for the last few years between the supporters of the doctrine of states' rights and the advocates of strict national regulation in conservation.

System of Permits.

In substance, congress will be asked to pass legislation authorizing the secretary of war to issue permits for the construction of water power projects, such permits to be issued only in what might be deemed proper cases by the war department. Permits then would be given only to concerns that are incorporated as public utilities under state laws, to safeguard the interests of the public from discriminations, monopolies and other evils. Returns in rent or tolls would go to the states.

Mr. Garrison does not believe there is any question about the legal right of the Federal government—through the constitutional power of regulating the commerce of the nation on navigable streams—to exercise jurisdiction and control over the construction of water power projects. Numerous decisions of the supreme court, he holds, make the right of the Federal government clear.

Meet Abiding Interests.

But what President Wilson and his administration desire is that, having disposed of the question of legal right, the navigable streams shall be used to meet the abiding interests of the communities and states immediately affected.

From this view may be read, it is believed, the principles which will underlie solution of many of the other problems of conservation which have been a storm center of discussion in the political forum and in the conservation associations generally.

What Dyspeptics Should Eat

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the staomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Advertisement.

HIBBING BOY AUTO VICTIM

Harry Wood Run Over and Killed in Front of His Home.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harry Wood, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wood of Hibbing, was run over by an automobile driven by D. Bushman in front of the Wood home on Washington near Third avenue about noon today and received injuries that resulted in death a short time afterwards at a hospital where he was rushed in the vain hope of saving his life.

The little fellow was returning home from school for lunch and was riding on the rear of a bobsled. He slid off boy-like in front of his home and did not see Bushman's machine which was coming at a lively clip. The boy wriggled off so unexpectedly that Bushman was unable to stop or swerve his machine and it struck the boy and passed over his body.

Hurried to Hospital.

He was picked up in an unconscious condition and hurried to the hospital where it developed his skull had been fractured and he could not be saved.

There is no disposition to prosecute Mr. Bushman, who, from all accounts, was not to blame.

Mr. Wood, the boy's father, is the former state deputy game warden and a well known resident of the village. He and his wife are heartbroken over the tragic affair.

ADMITS BIGAMY AND WIFE DESERTION.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 20.—Bigamy and wife desertion were confessed yesterday by Frank Kelty of Milwaukee, Wis., according to the police, who arrested him at the request of Milwaukee authorities. The police said Kelty has been living here with a woman he asserts he married Nov. 9 last in Prairie Du Chien, Wis., just before he started West, deserting his first wife.

Kelty told the police further, they said, that his step-father, Wenzel Runge of Milwaukee, is serving a life sentence in the Wisconsin penitentiary for having killed his wife and burned her body by setting fire to Runge's home.

WILSON WELCOMES KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Welcomed by President Wilson and praised by Secretary Bryan as "one of the greatest influences operating in the world to hasten the coming of the universal brotherhood," the supreme council, Knights of Pythias, began its annual convention here with delegates attending from every state and province of the North American continent. Celebration of the order's golden jubilee marked the opening sessions.

SEEK JURY TO TRY C. S. FUNK'S ACCUSER.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Work of filling the jury box to try Miss Aileen Heppner on a charge that she gave perjured testimony in the alienation suit of John C. Henning against Clarence S. Funk progressed in the criminal court today. Miss Heppner was a manicurist. She testified on behalf of Henning in the suit which Funk declares was a plot to ruin his reputation.

City Requested to Remove Warming Houses at Rinks.

Used as Rendezvous By Gangs of Young Men and Boys.

The city has received requests to remove the warming houses maintained in connection with the outdoor rinks at Ninth avenue west and Third street and Fortieth avenue west and Seventh street.

The police officials have also been asked to have the mounted patrolman at Lakeside make frequent visit to the comfort station at the end of the car line at Lester park to prevent it becoming a loafing place for youngsters or a spooning place. The authorities state that no complaints have been registered against the comfort station at West Duluth, and it is believed, it is conducted in an excellent manner.

Residents have been objecting to the continuance of the warming houses connected with the two rinks. Henry Cleveland, manager of the park department, says that the same trouble was experienced with these places last winter. He asserts that it is next to impossible to prevent them from being misused, as the locks are broken as regularly as they are provided.

He explains that "de gang" persists in making a sort of headquarters of the warming houses, gathering in them nightly. There the youth of the various neighborhoods indulge their various proclivities for certain kinds of "indoor sports." These include "shootin' craps," sessions of "draw" or "stud," the "makin's," etc. Most of the would-be "sports" are described as half-baked young men, but among them are said to be a number of boys who should be home in bed instead of acquiring "worldly wisdom" under such unfavorable circumstances.

POLING TO GIVE TWO ADDRESSES

Ohio Man Will Speak on Temperance Here Next Week.

Daniel A. Poling, who was a candidate for governor of Ohio at last fall's election, will be in Duluth next Wednesday and give two addresses. At noon he will speak at the Commercial club before the Duluth Association of Office Men and in the evening he will give an address at the First Presbyterian church. The address will be given following a banquet given by the Duluth Christian Endeavor union. The lecture will be open to the public and a delegation from the Young People's Union of Superior will be present.

Mr. Poling's aim is to have a prohibition plank written in the platforms of the old parties, and his addresses during his present campaign are in the temperance cause. His idea is to unite all temperance forces in a great scientific educational campaign.

Last fall Mr. Poling was one of the five Christian Endeavor candidates for governor in five states. Without a campaign fund, he traveled 5,100 miles, visited 80 counties and gave 300 addresses. His total vote was five times that cast for the ticket in the preceding campaign and much larger than his party ever received before in that state.

At the mass meeting following the banquet at the church the following program will be rendered: Cello solo, Mrs. Bruce Ter Bush; piano, Miss Jeanette Saunders; violin, Miss Emily Smith, Ned Marvin will lead the singing taken part in by the whole audience.

At the banquet the same musicians will have charge of the music. The Endeavorers will sing the Minnesota endeavor song and Dr. Robert Yost will pronounce the benediction.

AMERICANS ARE BIG MEAT EATERS

Leading Packing Houses Do $1,154,000,000 Business in One Year.

That the consumption of meats is growing enormously in this country is shown in an increased turnover of $209,000,000 reported by the five of the leading packing houses during their last fiscal years. Their aggregate volume of business for the year reached $1,154,000,000. That result was achieved, too, in the face of growing importations of foreign meats, mainly from Argentina, Australia and Canada.

The five concerns referred to have Duluth branches. Their reports disclose the following results:

	Net.	Surplus.
Swift & Co.....	$9,250,000	$4,000,000
Armour & Co....	6,028,197	4,028,196
Morris & Co.....	1,916,196	1,556,996
Cudahy & Co.....	1,329,178	509,178
Sulzberger & Sons company	2,150,000	1,250,000
Totals	$20,073,571	$11,344,370

The capital stocks and surplus of the companies were reported as follows:

	Capital Stock.	Surplus.
Swift & Co....	$75,000,000	$33,000,000
Armour & Co..	20,000,000	84,223,209
Morris & Co....	3,000,000	26,183,182
Cudahy & Co...	12,000,000	5,693,873
xSulzberger & Sons company	30,000,000	5,500,000
Totals	$140,000,000	$154,600,264

xThe Sulzberger & Sons company figures of surplus are estimated.

Earnings returns on the $140,000,000 capital stock of these companies for the year was 14.76 per cent, but taking into account their accumulated surplus earnings also invested in their businesses, it figured out at 7.02 per cent. It is claimed that the packers remarkable operating results have been largely achieved through the efficiency of their methods in the elimination of waste and in the utilization of waste products in the manufacture of by-products.

MOTION OF SALOON MAN DENIED

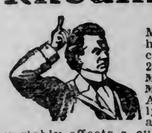

Court Refuses to Dismiss Action Against Chas. Sholund.

Charles V. McCoy, attorney for Charles Sholund, saloon keeper at 101 East Michigan street, who was arrested early Wednesday morning in his saloon on a charge of keeping it open before hours, in municipal court yesterday afternoon made an effort to have the case against the defendant dismissed, on the grounds that the local court has no jurisdiction in this case.

Mr. McCoy contended that the court has no authority to try a crim'nal case and that in the first place the city commission has no right to regulate the law for a criminal offense in a city ordinance. His motion was denied and when the court ordered the opening of the trial, Mr. McCoy asked for a postponement until next Thursday. His request was granted.

Sholund, who has been out on $100 bail, was allowed to go, the same bail being continued by the court until the trial next week.

LUNACY IS CHARGED.

D. P. Blackwood of Denver Arrested on Lawyer's Complaint.

Denver, Col., Feb. 20.—Don P. Blackwood is being held in the hospital ward of the city jail pending the probable filing of lunacy proceedings against him by District Attorney John A. Rush. Mrs. Bernice Blackwood, his wife, is held in the matron's quarters.

Rush says that Wednesday night, at his residence, he was accosted by the Blackwoods, who demanded that he sign certain legal papers including an affidavit that he (Rush) had had Blackwood wrongfully incarcerated in the insane asylum. Entering the house, Rush excused himself long enough to notify the police, who took from each a revolver.

Several years ago Blackwood occupied desk room in Rush's office. According to alienists he is mentally deficient, his particular delusion being that Rush is persecuting him.

ENGINEER ASKS $25,000 DAMAGES

Victim of D. & I. R. Collision Charges Company With Negligence.

A head-on collision between two trains of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company on July 22, 1913, at Two Harbors, is the basis of a personal injury action which was started in district court yesterday afternoon by Ira W. Foote, locomotive engineer. Foote is asking $25,000 damages from the railroad company, his former employer.

Foote alleges that his train was negligently switched upon the wrong track. The accident occurred early in the morning while a severe storm was in progress. Foote started from Two Harbors with a train of ore empties. When he pulled from the station, he alleges, he supposed he had been switched on the right track. Because of the darkness and the storm, the mistake was not discovered until his train and another collided.

Foote claims that he was severely scalded and that his left leg and shoulder were badly injured.

Damaged Ships Sail.
Naples, Feb. 20.—The White Star liner Celtic and the Fabre liner Madonna left for New York after the damage sustained by them in their collision here yesterday had been repaired. The Celtic took 1,200 emigrants and the Madonna 1,000.

HERMIT BEGS TO DIE IN HIS COLD SHACK.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Michael J. O'Reilly, for forty years the hermit of the Calumet river, was taken from the shanty he has occupied alone since he was a young man and was placed in an infirmary yesterday to end his days. Residents of the neighborhood told the police they thought O'Reilly must have died of cold, as no smoke had been seen coming from the piece of stovepipe that was thrust through his cabinet roof.

When the police broke open the door, however, they found the old man trying to toast a piece of crust over a few embers. A pail of water on the floor was frozen solid and only a few old sacks and a tattered quilt composed O'Reilly's bed. He burst into tears, however, and struggled when the police removed him.

"Let me die her in peace, a free man and not a pauper," he begged. "This is my home and I want to stay in it."

BUTTER HAS AN ADVANCE

Cold Weather Conditions Result in Higher Prices for Product.

Fruits Are Now Cheapest for Season in Several Years.

Attributable to a falling off in receipts through the long drawn out period of cold weather conditions, the market in butter is up today to the extent of 1 and 2 cents a pound.

The best quality of creamery product is now quoted by the Bridgeman-Russell company 2 cents up at 30@31 cents a pound; June storage 1 cent up at 27@28 cents; first creamery, 2 cents up, at 29@30 cents and dairy 1 cent up at 23@24 cents. It is thought by the trade that the upward turn in butter is only temporary and that with the incoming of a more springlike temperature, a fair decline in quotations is to be expected. The large storage butter supplies still being carried are acting as a check against any pyramiding of prices, and that with steady importations at the Eastern seaboard, is thought likely to hold the product on a substantially lower range than last year during the spring months.

Eggs Are Cheaper.

Fresh eggs at 30@31 cents a dozen, are now 1 cent off from a week ago and it is thought by dealers that their price will go 2 or 3 cents lower in the near future. They are now being offered down at both Chicago and New York, with the trade exercising caution in accumulating supplies at present quotations. Reports are to the effect that the production of eggs in this country will show a considerable increase during the present year but whether it will be on a parity with the constantly increasing consumption, is considered an open question.

Poultry Market Firm.

The market is strong in the poultry line, according to the Victor company. Only a few occasional coops of live birds have been coming in of late and fancy prices are now obtainable for the best stock. Fresh dressed roasters, fowl and frozen poultry are also being stiffly held as a result of the limited supplies available. In the frozen product, the market in broilers is up, but figures in other lines are unchanged.

Cheese, is just steady at present prices, with a drop in quotations to be expected as the factories resume for the season. It is reported that some factories have already started operations, and the limit will be materially augmented during the next three or four weeks.

Oranges Are Cheap.

With three sources of production, Florida, California and Louisiana shipping this way, supplies of fruits and vegetables are advised by the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company to be liberal and the quality much above the average of other seasons. Prices in the main are also lower than last year.

Oranges and apples are the features in fruits. The demand for the former is increased through their cheapness and average high grade. The market in apples is gradually growing stronger with storage charges accruing upon them. The quality of the fruit is holding up well. With the exception of Ben Davises in barrels, supplies are now confined to Western box varieties. Grapefruit figures are advancing with light stocks available and the continued heavy demand for it.

In green vegetables, cabbage is higher as supplies are at a low notch. New cabbage from Florida has appeared on the market for the first time today.

Potatoes are about the same price as a week ago, but it is taken as assured that the appearance of warm weather will result in bringing about an easier market. Lower prices are not, however, looked for as in the opinion of the trade, taking supplies conditions in the Northwest as a basis, the market is now scraping along the bottom.

HAVE CANAL IN USE BEFORE NEXT YEAR

The President Thinks This Should Be Spur to Repeal of Act.

Washington, Feb. 20.—President Wilson expects ships to be passing through the Panama canal this coming fall and much before the formal opening in January. He let it be known today that, for that reason, he had every reason to be confident that congress would repeal the exemption clause of the Panama law.

The president declared it seemed to be the universal view of European countries that the United States was breaking the Hay-Pauncefote treaty by the exemption in the present Panama canal act, though no official views to that effect had been presented during his administration. He reiterated that the United States was in honor bound to obey the spirit of the treaty, and denied that his insistence for a repeal was in any way aimed to "placate" Great Britain. The president remarked that there was no necessity of "placating" Great Britain, as Great Britain was not in a mood to require it, being on the friendliest terms with the United States.

The president again stated that he would not send a message on the subject to congress.

LIKE SHERMAN ACT; OPPOSE TRADE BOARD

New York Chamber of Commerce Calls New Plan "Nuisance."

New York, Feb. 20.—The New York Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution declaring that the Sherman anti-trust law, as finally interpreted and elucidated by the United States supreme court, "is proving more satisfactory and more effective" than the proposed new legislation now pending in congress. Such legislation, the resolution states, would need "new interpretation by judicial decisions for years to come."

Another resolution was introduced favoring the limitation of the power of inquiry of the proposed interestate trade commission.

"Its investigation," the resolution read, "should be limited strictly to alleged infractions of the law, and should not be permitted to cover matters of ordinary and legitimate business, the privacy of which has always been protected by law."

Congressman Herman Metz, who was present, denounced the proposed interstate trade commission as a "nusiance and nothing else."

E. L. Rogers, a member of the New York Stock exchange, spoke in similar vein. "It's up to big business," he said, "to show congress what it thinks of the so-called anti-trust legislation and this business legislation."

WILL NOT CLOSE THE SIEGEL STORES

Creditors Hear Receivers' Report on the Various Funds.

New York, Feb. 20.—Liabilities of the Fourteenth street store, one of the bankrupt Siegel enterprises, were reported by the receivers yesterday as $3,748,000 against assets of $1,416,000. The Simpson-Crawford company store showed liabilities of $5,823,000 and assets of $5,200,000. Figures for the store in Boston were not given.

The receivers found that deposits in the pivate bank conducted by Henry Siegel and Frank E. Vogel, aggregating $250,000, "had been used by Siegel and Vogel in some way in the conduct of the three stores, although the books of the stores did not reveal their indebtedness for such loans."

The creditors voted that the receivers be allowed to spend $200,000 for new stock for the Siegel stores, so that their business need not suffer.

The receivers' report revealed the fact that Leo A. Price, the manager of all the stores, had received a salary of $66,000 a year, and was now being employed by the receivers at a salary of $75 a week. Another meeting of creditors will be held March 2, and meanwhile plans will be perfected for the reorganization of the stores and the payment of a definite amount to the depositors. All the parties agreed that the stores should not be sold or closed at the present time.

SEEKS TO COMPEL ELLIS TO ANSWER

Commerce Commission Begins Court Test of Its Authority.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—An attempt of the interstate commerce commission to obtain a Federal court ruling compelling witnesses to give evidence in interstate commerce hearings was begun in the United States district court here yesterday before Judge Landis. Attorneys for the commission asked that Frederick W. Ellis, vice president of the Armour refrigerator car lines, be ordered to produce his books in the commission car line hearing. Ellis refused several weeks ago to answer questions.

According to George P. Boyle, of counsel for the commission, the decision by Judge Landis, no matter which side is granted its contention, will be appealed to the United States district court of appeals and then to the supreme court of the United States.

A strong array of counsel gathered to dispute each step in the establishment of this important precedent. The commission was represented by District Attorney Wilkerson, Patrick J. Farrell, solicitor for the commission, and Mr. Boyle. Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, C. J. Faulkner, Robert E. Olds, C. A. Severance and Alfred R. Urion were on the side of the Armour lines.

This Removes Hair Almost Like Magic

(Helps to Beauty.)

Much favorable comment is being made upon the new formula for removing disfiguring hairs. One serious objection arises and that is, any woman can employ this treatment in her own home and thus deprive the beauty specialist of her fee. For the benefit of others, the formula is here repeated: Mix some delatone with water; apply to hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off and with it comes every hair. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone.—Advertisement.

REORGANIZATION OF I. C. C. IS PROPOSED

Kenyon Offers Bill to Increase Membership to Sixteen.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Increasing the membership of the interstate commerce commission to sixteen and dividing the country into five districts with headquarters at Washington, Atlanta, Chicago, Kansas City and San Francisco, is proposed in a bill by Senator Kenyon. The principal office would be at Chicago. Three commissioners in any district might decide a case, which could be appealed to the entire commission.

LUMBERMEN SCORE MARKET COMMISSION

Wisconsin Retail Dealers Rap Measure and Other Badger Laws.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 20.—Wisconsin retail lumbermen, closing a two days' meeting adopted a resolution aimed at Governor F. E. McGovern's market commission bill, and particularly its co-operative features.

Another resolution protests against the alleged practice of the university "in distributing, or sanctioning the distribution of price lists of large mail order houses at gatherings under the auspices of the university, for instructional purposes."

The varsity regents are asked to investigate. No resolutions on conservation were offered.

New officers are: President Albert Schaller, Janesville; treasurer, W. O. Fountain, Appleton; directors: Frank Bodden, Horicon.

Prof. S. W. Gilman, University of Wisconsin, talked on "Business Administration."

The legislative committee reported that it is urging on congress an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law to permit the dissemination through trades associations of truthful information on the methods of firms or persons engaged in business.

Sullivan Heads Appraisers.

Washington, Feb. 20.—President Wilson has designated Jerry B. Sullivan of Des Moines, Iowa, to be president of the United States board of general appraisers at New York to succeed H. M. Summerville, who retired from the chairmanship, but remained a member of the board. Sullivan was a commissioner.

UGH! NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, TAKE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" Cleanses Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

A harmless cure for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, constipation, indigestion coated tongue, sallowness—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all such misery comes from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful to-night means all constipation poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently move out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even the most delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine, so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

USES KNIFE TO GET THE RIGHT "TO BUY."

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 10.—Walter Dowden attacked an acquaintance with a knife in a fight over the question of who should buy a drink, according to his plea of guilty before Judge Lawrence De Graff in district court. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for five years.

WAR OFFICE SCORED.

British Army System Censured By the Court.

London, Feb. 20.—The war office system of confidential records, by which army officers can be condemned to financial ruin without being heard in their own defense, was severely censured by the judge of the King's Bench court yesterday. A jury awarded Maj. W. Augustus James Adams, former Irish Royal Lancers, $10,000 damages against Sir Edward Ward in his capacity as permanent secretary of the war office.

Maj. Adams, who distinguished himself in the siege of Ladysmith, South Africa, and was at one time employed on special service, brought suit for libel alleged to be contained in a letter published by Sir Edward Ward, saying that Maj. Adams had had to retire from the army in consequence of adverse reports. Maj. Adams contended that the letter suggested he had been guilty of dishonorable conduct and incompetence.

The letter was written fallowing an attack made by Maj. Adams, while he was a member of the house of commons, on the late Gen. Scobell, who had made the averse reports. Col. Zelay, secretary of state for war, Sir John French and Sir Reginald Braid were among the witnesses called in the case. The secretary of war refused to produce the alleged defamatory reports in court.

Sex Education Approved.

New York, Feb. 20.—Sex education in the public schools was approved by Dr. Maurice A. Bigelow, professor of biology at Columbia university, in an address before the annual conference of district superintendents of the schools of New York state. But sex education, he said, had nothing to do with "red light drama or moving pictures of white slavery." These he condemned.

CLERGYMEN, LAWYERS, SINGERS--- ALL SPEAKERS SHOULD USE HYOMEI

It Quickly Relieves Hoarseness Or Stuffed-up Head, Strengthens the Voice, Soothes and Heals the Inflamed Membrane of the Nose and Throat.

Hyomei is the discovery of R. T. Booth, once an international lecturer in the cause of temperance. After years of speaking in England and America he developed a serious lung and catarrhal trouble. On the advice of physicans he went to Inland Australia where night and day he could breathe the antiseptic balsams given off by the forests, especially the eucalyptus trees. Mr. Booth completely regained his health, and always attributed his recovery to nature's healing balsams and antiseptics which he had breathed. He then conceived the idea of making a combination of certain antiseptic oils that could be breathed through an inhaler, and as near as possible create the same health-giving air that had restored his health.

Hyomei is the result of his study, and for twenty-five years sufferers from catarrh, bronchitis, laryngitis, husky voice, and frequent head colds, have been getting effective, safe and quick relief from this direct-to-the spot remedy. No stomach dosing—you simply breathe an antiseptic and germicidal air — nothing easier or more pleasant. Hyomei being medicated air immediately reaches the raw and inflamed membrane, quickly relieves the congestion, and soothes and heals the sore and diseased tissues. The first breath of Hyomei will convince you of its virtue—it will touch the spot.

Do not suffer needlessly with hoarseness, weak voice, that choked-up feeling, or dangerous catarrh. Begin the Hyomei treatment now. Ask your druggist for the complete outfit, $1.00 size. Boyce drug store sells it on money back if not satisfied plan —you to be the judge.

PUTS AN END TO BACKACHE MAKES WEAK KIDNEYS STRONG

A Few Doses Give Relief, Helps Lifeless Organs Regain Health, Strength and Activity.

It is useless, dangerous, and unnecessary to be tortured with the digging, twisting pains of backache and rheumatism, or suffer with disagreeable kidney and bladder disorders any longer.

Croxone cures these troubles because it quickly overcomes the very cause of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the membranes and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and makes the kidneys filter and sift from the blood all the waste and poisonous matter that clog the system and cause such troubles.

It does not matter whether you have but slight symptoms or the most chronic aggravated case of kidney, bladder trouble, or rheumatism that it is possible to imagine, for the very principle of Croxone is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it, and relieves you the first time you use it, and all the misery and suffering that go with such troubles end.

You can secure an original package of Croxone from any first class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

WILL FILE ITS REPORT

Duluth Telephone Company Will Comply With City's Request.

Breaking a precedent which it has followed for years, the Duluth Telephone company this morning agreed to file a report with the city auditor similar to those filed by other public service corporations in Duluth.

This statement was made today by City Attorney Harvey Clapp, following a conference held by him this morning with officials of the telephone company. Such reports are required by the city charter. In them the corporation must state in detail the value of its plant, the extent and nature of its obligations, its gross earnings, its expenses and its net income. The telephone report will probably be filed shortly.

The city attorney said that he did not know whether or not any action would be instituted against the telephone company to collect the penalty of $100 a day for its failure to file the report the first Monday in Febuary, as provided by the charter. He stated that he would report the result of his conference this morning to the council and that the council would determine upon the future course of action. The attorney will report at the same time that he considers the reports of the Duluth-Edison Electric company and the street railway company incomplete in that they do not give their expenses in sufficient detail. He will also confer with the council relative to instituting any suits in these cases to collect a penalty.

NYE IS AGAIN ON GRAIN COMMISSION.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 20.—Ray J. Nye of Superior was reappointed a member of the Wisconsin grain and warehouse commission by Governor McGovern today for a three-year term.

WILL NOT PAY CONTRACTOR

King Charged With "Skimping" Twenty-Seventh Avenue Paving.

Charging that the pavement laid on Twenty-seventh avenue west between Michigan and Fifth street was not put down according to specifications, Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the works division, today declared that the city will not pay Contractor George R. King his final estimate until the improvement is in satisfactory shape.

The specific allegation is that the job was "skimped" from Michigan street to above Third street, in that less cement than the specifications required was used for the concrete for the wearing surface. Instead of a 1-1-1 mixture it is asserted that the mixture ran about 4-6-6, or four parts of cement to six each of crushed rock and sand, whereas the three ingredients should have been in equal parts.

It is stated that examinations of the pavement last fall disclosed that the wearing surface was not showing up as well as it should. The deficiency of the mixture, it is claimed, was not discovered until the pavement had been laid to above Third street. City Engineer John Wilson learned of the conditions when the pavement reached that point, it is averred, and saw that the rest of the work, particularly above Fourth street, was finishing according to specifications.

At the city hall the officials state that H. C. Ash, at that time chief of inspectors and assistant city engineer, was in charge of the work. When asked for an explanation they say that Ash claimed to have left the watching of the work at the mixer to an inspector and devoted himself largely to seeing that the joints were laid correctly. The city engineer states that the men feeding the mixer hemped the wheelbarrow loads of stone and sand but neglected to fill the wheelbarrows containing cement more than level, which resulted in a mixture which was not up to specifications.

Contractor King had a conference with Commissioner Murchison and City Engineer Wilson at the city hall this morning. The contractor strongly denied the assertions of the city engineer that the job had been "skimped" in any particular and declared that the pavement had been laid according to specifications.

The contractor's bid was about $16,000 and the final estimate due him is between $3,000 and $4,000. The officials state that the amount which is being withheld is sufficient to put the defective part of the avenue in first class shape.

Commissioner Murchison states that he has no desire to embarrass the contractor and that this action is being taken solely to protect the interests of the city and the property owners.

Contractor King has the reputation of being a first class contractor and one who has done good work.

Inheritance Tax.
Inheritance taxes were determined yesterday for the heirs of the estate of the late Herbert W. Coffin, lumberman, who died in Duluth on May 10, 1913. Mary E. Coffin, widow, who gets one-third of the estate, will pay the county a tax of $104.80, and the daughter, Esther W. Coffin, who receives two-thirds, will pay $419.82.

Case Is Continued.
Owing to the absence of the complaining witness, the examination of Anthony Fink was this morning continued until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Fink is accused of having stolen $20 from Malcolm McKenzie, 514 West Superior street. McKenzie failed to appear in court to testify against Fink this morning.

Fined for Fighting.
Bruce McKinnon, 26, and John Anderson, 36, who were arrested Wednesday evening on a charge of fighting on the street and who pleaded guilty yesterday morning, were each fined $5 and costs or five days at the afternoon session of court. The former failed to pay his fine and was committed to the county jail.

Were Disorderly.
For creating a disturbance on West Michigan street last evening, George Quinlan, 43, and William Moore, 57, were this morning fined $10 each and costs or ten days in the county jail. They were arrested by Patrolmen Connors and Monahan and pleaded guilty when arraigned in police court this morning.

"Why Go To Church?" is the subject chosen by Dr. Maurice Lefkovits for his sermon at the regular Temple Emanuel services this evening. The public is invited.

Two Bids on Auto.
But two bids were received by the works division this morning on its proposition to buy a new automobile, and but one of these was within the limit of the appropriation allowed. This was the Oakland, a five-passenger machine, which sells for $1,250. The city will trade in an old car, for which an allowance of $600 will be made, and pay $650 in cash.

CALENDAR HAS ODD APPEARANCE.

Take a look at the calendar for February and think back. Do you remember when you last saw a month with even weeks, flush from Sunday to Saturday and no breaks?

There probably have been, but the chances are that you will not remember them.

Of course, every February, except during leap years, has even weeks, so far as the number of days are concerned, but not for a number of years at least has the month started on the first day of the week and ended on the last. That's what happens this month, and the calendar has an absolutely square and flush appearance. The first day of the month was Sunday and the last day will be Saturday.

GETS WARM IN DULUTH

Commercial Club Secretary Says He Shivered Through the East.

"I haven't been warm since I left Duluth," said Lieut. Col. H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, who returned this morning from Washington, where he, in company with Watson S. Moore of Duluth, was attending the second annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America. "My teeth didn't stop chattering until I got back in Minnesota.

Col. Eva was one of the founders of the organization, which comprises not only individual memberships but commercial organizations of the United States; and in its brief existence has shown its worth to business men who belong to it. Among other things done at its headquarters in Washington, it keeps track of all bills presented to congress and keeps its members informed of their progress and objects. Col. Eva said this morning that during the annual meeting he received many valuable ideas, which he hopes to broach here for the benefit of the business men of Duluth.

"This organization" said the colonel "is allied to no clique but will be the representative body of the business men of the nation and as such is bound to have a tremendous influence on national legislation for its membership is growing amazingly. Congress will have to heed it for when it mixes in legislation either for or against a measure it does so only after a referendum vote of its membership has been taken. Counting the individual membership and the membership of the commercial bodies included it has a total of from 250,000 to 300,000 business men. Such a number must have weight."

Col. Eva said that Julius H. Barnes of Duluth is in a leading position in the organization. He is chairman of the committee on harbors, one of the leading committees. When committee appointments were made at the recent annual meeting, Mr. Barnes was named chairman of the committee on resolutions, the presiding officer believing that he was present. In his absence a substitute was named.

"New York is buried under a great blanket of snow, and traffic has been almost at a standstill. It is cold and raw all through the East. In the hotel at Washington were two men from the Twin Cities and myself, and we all agreed that Minnesota's winter weather suited us to a dot. We nearly froze in our beds, for they don't know how to prepare for cold weather there and when it comes it is so damp it penetrates to your very marrow."

IS TOO MUCH LIKE HISTORY

Judge Asked to Dismiss Lawsuit Thirteen Years Old.

Judge Cant in district court today is expected to dispose of a motion to dismiss a suit for damages brought by Ephriam A. Trenholm against the Cloquet Lumber company, the Northern Lumber company, William C. Sargent and J. W. Dempster for an allaged false arrest and malicious prosecution thirteen years ago. The dismissal is asked for on the grounds of delay in bringing the action to trial.

In his complaint, Trenholm alleges that he was arrested on June 17, 1901 by J. W. Dempster, a deputy under Former Sheriff W. C. Sargent at the instigation of the lumber companies and held a prisoner for five hours. On June 22, 1901, he was acquitted of the charge of destroying a dam belonging to the Cloquet Lumber company. The action is one of a series which has been pending in the state and Federal courts for the last fifteen years in connection with the fight between the Cloquet Lumber company and the early homesteaders in the vicinity of Cedar Island Lake.

R. R. Briggs, attorney for Trenholm, argued all morning to the court against dismissing the action. He claimed that he had an agreement with W. B. Phelps, attorney for the lumber company, whereby it was understood that the Trenholm suit was to be held over until certain matters had been litigated which would establish questions of title. Attorney Phelps denied that any such agreement had been entered into. The court will probably pass upon the question as soon as the arguments are concluded today. Trenholm is seeking $8,000 general damages and $50 attorney's fees.

A few years ago, a similar action on the grounds of malicious prosecution was brought by James Shea, another Cedar Island Lake homesteader against the lumber company. Shea recovered a substantial verdict from the company after two trials of the case.

WRONG MAN HAD THE RIGHT NAME

J. W. McDonald, deputy sheriff, who was sent to Butte, Mont., to get Emil Saari, wanted at Hibbing for wife desertion, tells of an interesting experience of getting the wrong man with the right name and at the right address.

When Deputy McDonald arrived in Butte he notified the police, who succeeded in running down one Emil Saari after the local officer had been sent on a wild-goose chase to Missoula and back.

The man located by the police admitted that he had a wife and child back in Minnesota, and in a general way corresponded to the description which Deputy McDonald had. But he declared that he never deserted his family, and that he was supporting them.

Just before train time Deputy McDonald paid the sheriff at Butte a friendly call. During the course of their conversation it developed that the man really wanted was waiting for the local officer in a cell at the county jail. The other Saari was released.

FINNISH TENOR WILL BE HEARD IN RECITAL

Taneli Hurri, famous Finnish opera singer and well known among opera audiences in all parts of the world, will give a recital this evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church. The program will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Hurri is making a tour of the United States at the special request of many who have heard him abroad. He has met with considerable success in the East and has been acclaimed by the press as being one of the best soloists ever sent over to this country by Finland. Known prominently as an an able portrayor of characters in operas, he presents a very interesting program.

Hurri will be assisted by Miss Faith Helen Rogers, who will play part of the accompaniments on the piano and part on the organ.

OSBORN WILL HEAD NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Every obstacle to the election of Governor Glynn's choice for state chairman of the Democratic party, William Church Osborn, apparently was removed when George M. Palmer, present chairman, announced that he would resign March 2. The election of Mr. Osborn will follow immediately, it is believed. In a formal statement, Mr. Palmer said he had contemplated resigning for about a year because his position as chairman interfered with his legal business. Mr. Palmer probably will be appointed counsel for the workmen's compensation committee.

Washington's Birthday

Will Be Celebrated With Full Churches

Duluth should make another good record Sunday—the way the city is taking hold of the "Go-to-Church Sunday" movement promises well for big attendance at all churches.

Some may think they don't need the church, but the church may think it needs them.

The Inter Church Council desires us to emphasize the fact that not one church—but all churches are co-operating in this movement—and they urge you to attend the services of the church that is nearest you—in belief or sympathy.

Why not take a friend with you?

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face Will Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all Summer—unless removed. Now is the time to use othine—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by Boyce drug store under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

GERMANS SCORE DEWEY.

Disapprove His Account of Incident at Manila Bay.

Berlin, Feb. 20.—A sharp attack on Admiral Dewey in regard to the statements made in his autobiography concerning the German fleet at Manila during the Spanish-American war in '98 was made in parliament yesterday by Matthias Erzberger, one of the leaders of the Clerical party. He said the statements of Admiral Dewey had excited the greatest amazement in Germany.

Admiral von Tirpitz, German minister of marine, in reply said he understood Admiral Dewey would issue shortly an explanation showing that the conduct of Admiral von Diederich, the German commander, and his subordinates had been absolutely correct.

The German newspapers recently have severely criticized Admiral Dewey's book, demanding that the German government issue an authoritative statement regarding the "Manila legend."

Admiral Dewey, in relating the incident in Manila bay, says it arose through Admiral von Diederich's disinclination to observe the rules of the blockade established by the Americans, one of which insisted that neutral warships entering the bay should report to the Americans. The German vessel Cormoran disobeyed the rule, but a shot fired across her bows had the desired effect. Explanations followed the next day and there was no further interference with the blockade.

SAYS "BACHELORS ENCUMBER THE EARTH."

Washington, Feb. 20.—"Bachelors encumber the earth," remarked Secretary Daniels when he ordered Lieut. Harrison E. Knauss detached from the presidential yacht Mayflower, so he could be married. The Mayflower is going to Mexican waters.

"I am in favor of matrimony for all naval officers," said the secretary, "and I shall do all in my power to help such a good cause along."

AGED BANKER AND WIDOW MARRIED.

New York, Feb. 20.—Adrian Iselin, a New York banker and yachtsman, and Mrs. Frederick Bronson, mother of Mrs. Lloyd C. Griscom, were quietly married yesterday at the rectory of St. Patrick's cathedral. Mr. Iselin is 67 years old; the bride is 63.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota supreme court rendered the following decisions:

Wabasha County.

In re-estate of George Motz, deceased, Ella Whitby, appellant, vs. Mary Motz, respondent—

1. Under Sec. 7260 G. S. 1913, which provides that if a parent omit to provide for a child in his will, such child shall take the same share of the estate which he would have taken if such parent had died intestate, "unless it appears that such omission was intentional" parol testimony is admissible to show that such omission was intentional.

2. The burden is upon those claiming that such omission was intentional to prove such fact.

3. The evidence in this case raised a question of fact as to whether her father intentionally omitted to provide for appellant and is sufficient to sustain the finding of the trial court.

Order affirmed.

TAYLOR, C.

Crow Wing County.

Jennie Johnson, as administratrix, appellant, vs. Northern Pacific Railway company, a corporation, et al, respondents—

1. Neither Section 1813, Revised Laws 1905, which provided for the guarding of dangerous machinery and dangerous places in factories, nor Section 1815, Revised Laws 1905, which provided for the guarding of elevator walls, imposed any duty to enclose the car of a freight elevator.

2. Deceased undertook to use a freight elevator which was unenclosed on two sides. He was an experienced man and had frequently used this elevator. He was not required to use it on this occasion, but was using it for his own private purpose. He was injured by in some manner falling over the side of the car. Held, he assumed the risk incident to the use of the elevator in the condition in which he found it.

3. The rule that, the doctrine of assumption of risk does not apply where an employe is by some mishap thrown against some unguarded appliance, has no application to the case where the employe was operating the very appliance which was the source of danger and receives an injury from the source of danger to which he knew he was exposed.

Order affirmed.

HALLAM, J.

Hennepin County.

Herman Krahn, respondent, vs. J. L. Owens company, a corporation, appellant—

1. Defendant manufacturers bean and pea threshers. It sold an outfit to a firm of threshermen, who engaged to thresh for plaintiff, a farmer. Plaintiff, after cleaning up about the machine, got on top of the separator to throw the remnants into the feeder. While so engaged a board broke and his feet caught in a cylinder.

2. One who manufactures and sells an article not ordinarily of a dangerous nature, which is calculated for use by others than the vendee, may be liable to a person not the vendee, who uses the article in the usual course of business, for injuries due to defects which render the use of the article dangerous to life or limb.

The conditions necessary to a recovery, as applied to this case, are:

That the board was so defective as to be dangerous to life and limb;

That defendant knew of the defect when it sold the machine, or at least ought to have known it; whether liability arises without such actual knowledge is not decided;

That the defect was the proximate cause of the injury;

That the defect was concealed to such an extent that ordinary observation on the part of plaintiff would not discover it.

That the board was intended for the purpose for which it was being used, and that plaintiff was one of the class of persons by whom it was contemplated the article would be used.

3. The question whether sufficient foundation has been laid to enable a witness to testify as to a custom, is a matter which the trial judge must, in the exercise of a sound discretion, pass upon as a question of fact, and his decision ought not be reversed except in a very clear and strong case.

4. The trial court properly refused to single out particular witnesses and to charge particularly as to matters bearing upon their credibility. Other rulings upon requests to charge present no reversible error.

5. The damages are excessive.

New trial granted, unless plaintiff consents to a reduction of his damages in accordance with opinion. In all other particulars the order appealed from is affirmed.

HALLAM, J.

Ramsey County.

John B. Bemis, appellant, vs. Pacific Coast Casualty company, respondent—

Knowledge of the agent of the insurance company, through whom the insurance was effected, of the actual situation of the risk covered by its burglary insurance policy is the knowledge of the company, and estops it from denying that the property so situate is not insured.

Facts going to prove estoppel in pais need not be pleaded.

The question whether the warranty by the insured that the building, wherein was kept the property covered by the policy, was a private residence was for the jury.

Order reversed.

HOLT, J.

McLeod County.

Meta Miller, et al, respondents, vs. Theodore Miller, appellants—

In this action to compel specific performance of an alleged oral agreement to convey land, the evidence is examined and held insufficient to sustain the finding of the trial court that such agreement was made.

Judgment reversed.

BUNN, J.

Washington County.

State of Minnesota, ex rel, N. A. Nelson, respondent, vs. Samuel G. Iverson, as state auditor, appellant—

1. Sec. 9 of Art. 9 of the state constitution prohibiting the payment of money out of the state treasury except in pursuance of an appropriation by law, has no application to the issuance by the state auditor of a warrant on the state treasury for the distribution of the gross earnings tax imposed upon and collected from suburban railroad companies, as authorized by chapter 454 laws 1909.

Judgment affirmed.

BROWN, C. J.

Martin County.

John H. Smith, et al, respondents, vs. R. O. Armstrong, et al, appellants—

1. The articles of association of a corporation expressly authorized the managing officers thereof to borrow, on their present credit, money to equip the corporation for the transaction of its business, and obligated the members of the association jointly and severally to repay the money so advanced, if not paid by the corporation; the officers borrowed the money and it was used in the business of the company; the corporation was not legally formed, though it conducted business as such and had a de facto existence, it became insolvent and the officers making the loan were compelled to pay the debt thus incurred. It is held, (a), that the relation between the officers, so incurring on their personal credit this indebtedness, and the members of the association, was that of principal and surety, and (b), that the members are liable either in contribution, or upon the obligation to reimburse the officers created by the articles of incorporation.

2. A judgment in a suit between the same parties upon the same cause of action, it not res judicta where the action was dismissed without a determination of the merits of the issues involved.

3. Findings of the trial court held sustained by the evidence.

Order affirmed.

BROWN, C. J.

Polk County.

Atlas Lumber company, a corporation, respondent, vs. Hormidas Dupuis, et al, defendants. The Workingmen's Building & Loan Association of Crookston, Minn., appellant—

Atlas Lumber company, a corporation, respondent, vs. Hormidas Dupuis, et al, defendants; Crookston Lumber company, appellant—

SYLLABUS.

1. In a mechanic's lien statement the premises to be charged were described as lot 1, block 2, of a certain addition, whereas the improvement was constructed on lot 2, block 1. Both lots were owned by the person to whom the materials were furnished, and together constituted the enclosure appurtenant to the dwelling house constructed. It is held that the mistake in the description did not affect the validity of the lien.

2. A mechanic's lien statement followed the statute in all respects except that it set forth that the material were supplied "for the following described improvements," and did not further state "for what improvement" the materials were supplied. It is held that this was an inaccuracy which under R. L. 1905, Sec. 3549, did not affect the lien.

Affirmed on appeal of defendant Building Association.

Reversed on appeal of defendant lumber company.

POLLUTION OF GREAT LAKES

Sanitary Problem Presented Biggest of Kind in the World.

Use of Waters for Deposit of Sewage May Be Forbidden.

Washington, Feb. 20.—All the cities of the Great Lakes situated on international waters will have an intense interest in the coming meeting of the international joint commission at Detroit, March 9. At this meeting, in addition to the hearing on the question of the level of Lake Superior, plans will be made for the next step in the matter of the pollution of international waters by American and Canadian cities.

Possibly few people realize that the sanitary problem presented by the Great Lakes is the biggest of the kind in the world. It is asserted by the experts of the commission that the treaty between the United States and Great Britain regarding the pollution of these waters is being violated at every point of contact from the Lake of the Woods to the St. Lawrence.

May Forbid Sewage.

The situation now has become so serious that comprehensive plans will have to be adopted, and probably they will be expensive. It is not unlikely that the use of these waters for the deposit of sewage will be forbidden.

Chairman Tawney and Sanitary Expert G. E. Laughlin of the commission are now engaged in the preparation of twelve or fifteen questions to be submitted to the most eminent sanitary engineers in the world. These questions will state the conditions found by the American and Canadian sanitary experts to exist along this water frontier, as the result of a bacteriological examination of thousands of samples of water taken from the rivers and lakes forming the international boundary.

With this information in hand, the sanitary engineers will be asked, through the medium of the questions asked, to indicate the best means of treating the difficulty.

Plan Series of Hearings.

With these recommendations before them the members of the international joint commission then will give a series of hearings from one end of the system of the Great Lakes to the other. At'ing them will be the best sanitary engineer to be employed in the United States and the best to be found in Canada.

The purpose of the hearings will be to place the situation before the various municipalities exactly as it is and learn from the different municipal authorities how far the various cities and towns are able to go in the matter of a remedy.

This will require some fine judgment, as the final recommendation to be submitted to the governments of the United States and Canada will have to be within the means of the municipalities affected.

Will Make Recommendations.

When the commission meets in Detroit the preliminary plans for the hearings will be considered. Possibly the date when they will begin will be settled and the place where they will begin decided. In any event it is the purpose of the commission to consult every municipality concerned and to secure all possible information before the final report is drawn.

When the commission decides what steps will have to be taken for the safety of the places on the boundary a recommendation to this effect will be submitted to the two governments, and then Canada and the United States will agree upon means to put the recommendation into force.

RETRIAL GRANTED IN MEEKER CASE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—A new trial of the suit in which Meeker & Co., coal merchants of New York, and Henry E. Meeker, individually, obtained verdicts totalling $122,441 against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company in 1912, has been granted by the United States court of appeals. The suits were to recover $119,000, which the Meeker company claimed it had lost as a result of alleged discrimination shown by the railroad to other concerns.

FAVORS HOME FOR WORKING GIRLS.

Duluth is confronted with the problem of taking care of its working girls, according to Mrs. A. L. Atwood of the state free employment bureau.

Out of fifty girls employed at one factory in this city at an average weekly wage of $6, more than twenty live in hall bedrooms.

Duluth, she believes, has more homeless and unemployed girls this winter than at any other time in the memory of local social workers.

Mrs. Atwood advocates the establishing of a girl's home in Duluth, such as has been done in Chicago. This plan has been worked out successfully in Chicago, where at such places good living costs each girl from $2.75 to $4 per week.

PINK TEAS BARRED.

Montana Suffragists Cannot Use Them to Influence Votes.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 20.—Pink tea and politics will not mix in Montana. Any woman or group of women promoting a proposed tea party Saturday at the courthouse as an inducement to women to come out and register for a school election or any woman caught drinking the said tea, will be prosecuted under the corrupt practice act of the state.

Such action will follow an opinion given by County Attorney McCaffrey that any attempt to attract women voters by means of a tea party is corrupt and illegal.

NEW TORPEDO TARGET RECORD.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 20.—Scoring five and a half hits out of seven shots, the United States cruiser California established a new world's record for torpedo firing in battle practice off the coast here Tuesday. The firing took place at a range of 3,000 yards, while the cruiser was steaming ten knots an hour.

MAY WRITE CLAIMS FOR RESERVE BANKS.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The Federal reserve bank organization committee will hold no more hearings, but bankers and business men may present additional arguments in support of their claims for reserve banks in writing.

URGENT DEFICIENCY BILL $10,000,000.

Washington, Feb. 20.—More than $2,000,000 for deficiencies in postal finances, caused by the rapid growth of the parcel post; $500,000 for investigations of the Federal industrial relations commission, including work in the Colorado and Michigan mine disputes; $40,000 for the Federal board of mediation in settling railroad strikes, and $2,000,000 for the Panama railway, are the principal items in the urgent deficiency bill, aggregating $10,000,000, reported to the house for passage by the appropriations committees.

BOAT LAW COVERS HYDRO-AEROPLANES.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Hydro-aeroplanes are motorboats, subject to government regulations and inspection, the department of commerce holds, and directs that the flying boats of a commercial line between Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla.—said to be the first in the United States—must be equipped with life belt, a fire extinguisher, a whistle and other accessories, including running lights.

KEEP UP WAR ON JEWS AT KIEV.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The "Black Hundred" society is continuing its campaign against the Hebrews of Kiev, in spite of the fact that its allegation of "ritual murder" against the Jewish tailor Pashkoff has been disproved. A Kiev newspaper supporting the Black Hundred publishes an article throwing further suspicion on the Jews, saying:

"Some invisible hand more terrible than the American 'Black Hand' is making our children tremble."

ANTI-SUFFRAGE HEARING MARCH 3.

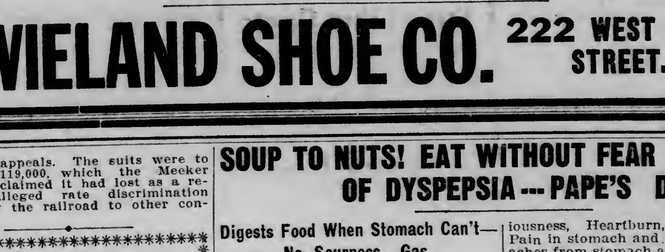

Washington, Feb. 20.—Opponents of woman suffrage will be heard March 3 before the house judiciary committee against a suffrage constitutional amendment. A hearing already has been arranged for that date for the supporters of the amendment.

Middy Is Dismissed.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Dismissal of Midshipman V. I. McClure of Iolo, Kan., from the naval academy on charges of irregularities in an examination was approved by President Wilson. The cases of two midshipmen implicated with him were unacted upon.

Woman's Realm

A reception is planned by the Twentieth Century club to be held Friday afternoon of next week at the Bryant school at Thirtieth avenue west and Third street for the members of the Bryant school Mothers club and all mothers of the pupils of the school. The hour set for the reception is 3 o'clock and all members of the Twentieth Century club are invited to act as hostesses for the afternoon. A program of music and readings is being arranged by the entertainment committee and among the numbers planned will be readings by Mrs. H. N. MacHarg, music by the Bryant school orchestra and vocal solos by Mrs. Neil B. Morrison with accompaniaments by Mrs. W. D. McGill.

There will probably be a talk on some topic of special interest to the mothers.

The club is also planning to add to the school library at the Bryant school and members who have books of interest to children from 5 to 15 years of age, which they feel willing to give to the school, are asked to take them to this reception.

The program in full will be announced later and all members of the club are urged to attend.

TANGO CLUB PARTY.

Dancers Will Have Second Assembly.

Members of the Tango club will have their second assembly tomorrow evening at Prof. Leo's dancing academy. The members of his Monday and Friday evening classes formed the club for occasional assemblies for the new dances.

SECOND BALL.

Dancing Party at the Coffin Academy.

The Western Union employes will entertain at their second annual ball this evening at the Coffin's dancing academy. About 500 invitations have been sent out and Blewett's orchestra will play for the dancers. Telegraph instruments will be installed in the ends of the hall as a special feature. The members of the committee on arrangements consists of E. T. Kelly, W. H. Meacham and C. E. Ashby.

WOMEN IN INDUSTRY.

Young Women's Club to Meet On Point.

The Young Women's club of Park Point, one of the divisions of the Park Point social center, will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Mission hall on the point. A course of study on "Women in Industry" will probably be taken up by this club with study programs and occasional lectures on different phases of the topic.

The meeting of the girls' and boys' dramatic club was postponed this week and will be held next Friday evening at Mission hall.

FOR MRS. CULBERTSON.

Duluth Woman Entertained at Kansas City.

Mrs. Vern R. Culbertson of Lakeside, who is visiting in Kansas City, Mo., is being made the honor guest at a number of social affairs during her stay there. The following clipping from a Kansas City paper will interest her friends here:

Mrs. Robert Kesting entertained at auction bridge Tuesday afternoon in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Vern Culbertson of Duluth, Minn. The decorations of pink and white were carried out in carnations and sweet peas. Particularly effective was the mantel in the dining room, massed with ferns and pink and white sweet peas.

"Other affairs given for Mrs. Culbertson were a dinner dance on Saturday night given by Mr. and Mrs. James Coogan; an auction bridge Monday night given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gees; a dinner on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Perry at which covers were laid for sixteen; and Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. C. Berolus will entertain at auction bridge and Mrs. H. Dye at the same game on Saturday afternoon."

DIVIDED SKIRT FOR TANGO GOWN

TANGO FROCK.

This is the latest from Paris in the way of a tango frock. It is imported by Mme. Bernard of New York and has just arrived from France. The skirt is divided and is gathered about the ankles. Time was when a dancing frock was fluffy and cut low in the neck; but all that is changed since dancing begins at 9 a. m. and runs till 5 of the following morning.

BRIDGE HOSTESS.

Games Were Played at Seven Tables.

Mrs. L. E. Bieberman of 2031 East First street was hostess at a prettily appointed bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home. The guests played at seven tables and the card favors were won by Mrs. D. L. Fairchild and Mrs. C. E. Wachtel. Mrs. Bieberman was assisted by Mrs. S. H. Bingham and Miss Lucile Bieberman, and the decorations were effective bouquets of spring flowers.

AT TEA ROOMS.

Miss Frankenfield Will Be the Hostess.

Miss Laura Frankenfield has invited a number of the club women of the city to a 5 o'clock luncheon tomorrow afternoon to be served at the Glass Block tearooms. Mrs. J. H. Crowley will be an honor guest at the affair.

"THE TRUTH."

Miss Shesgren's Reading Pleases Drama Class.

Miss Mary Shesgren, dramatic reader, gave an interpretation of Clyde Fitch's "The Truth," at the February dramatic afternoon of the modern drama class of the Twentieth Century club held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. F. Hugo, 2407 East Third street, and it proved a decided treat to the members present. Miss Shesgren, who is always a pleasing reader, surpassed herself in her work yesterday, giving a dignified, quiet and natural interpretation of the characters.

Mrs. Jane Everington-Scully sang a group of songs which included several beautiful ballads. Miss Gladys Reynolds was her accompanist, and the music was a delightful addition to the afternoon's program.

Informal Evening.

Mrs. F. J. Bernhardt entertained informally for Miss Margaret L. Kowalski and a number of her friends Wednesday evening, at her home, 513 East Seventh street. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bernhardt.

Misses—
Margaret L. Kowalski, Austric Wold, Bess Altman, Grace Grenvall, Gladys Bernhardt.

Messrs.—
Herbert Bernhardt, Frank Bernhardt.

Dance at Club.

Members of the Kitchi Gammi club and their friends enjoyed an exhibition of the modern ballroom dances last evening, and later had an opportunity to dance them in the ballroom of the new club building.

Miss Berta Schmied explained several of the popular steps and illustrated them with the assistance of her brother, Leo Schmied.

High School Concert.

The High School orchestra and Musical society, assisted by the Scottish Rite quartet, will give their annual concert this evening at 8 o'clock at the assembly hall of the Central high school. A good program has been worked up by the students and a large number of tickets for the concert have been given out by members of the society and orchestra.

Auction Bridge.

Mrs. F. A. Barber of 122 East Fourth street entertained at an afternoon bridge party yesterday at her home. Auction bridge was played at four tables and the prizes were won by Mrs. Vincent Rheinberger and Mrs. William Murnian. Miss Charlotte Crowley assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Swartz Hostess.

Mrs. Arthur Swartz of 1603 East Superior street has cards out for bridge at her home on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 24.

At Kindergarten.

Master Ray Brown was host at a birthday party Wednesday afternoon at the kindergarten rooms of the Jackson school in celebration of his fifth birthday anniversary. His little class mates in the kindergarten were guests at the affair with Miss Clapp, Miss Leopold and Miss Thomson as honor guests. The children played games, and refreshments were served, a color scheme of pink and white being carried out.

At Virginia.

A number of Duluthians will be guests at the party of the Virginia Dansant club, which will be given at Virginia this evening, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Parker of 1601 East Superior street, Miss Julia Hunter of Hunter's Park, Miss Rebecca Bailey, 1317 East First street, and Miss Marjorie Morrow, 4 North Seventeenth avenue east, Miss Elcey Overman, and Messrs. George Bradley, Ray Fenton, Emmett Flynn and O. E. Amtsbuechler.

Saturday Club.

History of South America will be the subject of the regular meeting of the Saturday club, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the library clubroom with Mrs. C. E. Wallace as leader. Mrs. R. E. Denfeld will be the leader of the current events discussion on "News From Countries" and the program of study follows:

"Railways, Steamship companies and Commercial Relations With Other Countries," Mrs. H. Bevier; (a) "The Pan-American Railway," (b) "Panama Canal and South American Commerce," Mrs. W. A. McGonagle; "Mines and Mining," Mrs. H. J. Grannis.

Wedding Invitations.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sosnovsky, 528 West Fourth street, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Esther Mary Sosnovsky, to Samuel Bank to take place Sunday, March 8, at 6 o'clock at Adas Israel synagogue. A reception will follow in the evening at Steinway hall, Fourth avenue west and First street.

Memorial Concert.

A memorial concert in memory of George Washington will be given at Bethesda Evangelical Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and First street, Monday evening, Feb. 23, at 8:15 o'clock.

At Oatka.

A party of eighteen people enjoyed an informal dancing party at the Oatka branch of the boat club last evening. After the dancing in the dining room of the club a supper was served.

Costume Party.

The members of the Young Ladies' Sodality of the Sacred Heart cathedral will have a costume party at the cathedral hall, Fourth street and Second avenue west, on Monday evening of next week. There will be a short program of music followed by games and the serving of a lunch.

Bridge Club.

Mrs. H. Mason of Eighth avenue east and Third street will entertain the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club at her home next Tuesday afternoon.

Monday a Holiday.

Monday will be observed as a legal holiday by many business institutions of the city, in commemoration of Washington's birthday anniversary, which falls this year on Sunday. The public library circulation department will be closed, but the reading rooms will be open there afternoon and evening, and the regular meeting of the Shakespeare Class of the Twentieth Century club will be held Monday evening, at 7:30 at the clubroom of the library, as usual.

Informal Dance.

H. B. Merrill will be host at an informal dancing party this evening at his home at Crescent View Park.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Anneke and Miss Margaret Anneke of 1801 East Second street will leave Monday for New York and will sail March 5 for Naples and the Mediterranean trip. They will be away two or three months, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller will occupy their residence during their absence.

Miss Rachael St. Clair and her brother, Ralph St. Clair, of 1126 East Superior street left yesterday for Colorado, where they will spend two months.

Mrs. A. Peterson of Park Point left Wednesday for a trip to Denver, Seattle, Wash., and points in California.

Mrs. A. Vanderboom of Two Harbors is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. V. Kelly, 1228 East Second street.

Miss M. E. Cooper of 1017 East Sixth street left last evening for a two weeks' visit at Chicago and St. Louis.

Mrs. Annabelle Monllays of 1207 East Ninth street has returned from a month's visit at Chicago and St. Louis.

Miss Emma Hoy, who has been visiting Miss Jane Melville of 1911 East Fourth street for two weeks, left today for her home.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Lum of 1103 East First street will leave tomorrow for a trip to California.

Miss Genevieve Weil of Eureka, Mont., is a guest at the home of her cousin, Mis Ethel Norris, 4717 Robinson street, Lakeside.

Amusement Notes.

Predominant among the old superstitions of Europe is the belief that red hair is a sign of bad luck. In Germany, Sweden, England, Scotland, and even in Ireland, prejudice against carroty-colored locks has been strong for generations—possibly because most of the villains in the old folk-lore are described as red-haired.

But red hair on a boy generally furnishes its wearer a clean bill of health when he applies to a manager for a position on the stage. All he needs to do is to apply for the job and the stage manager snorts a long giggle and engages him on the spot.

And an interesting feature of all the claimed discoveries of the stage is that when an actor has red hair there are generally more claimants to his discovery than to the discovery of other actors.

Yet, notwithstanding his remarkable success in the theater and also the fact that he is the possessor of an abundant crop of red hair, there is only one man in the country who lays claim to having discovered William Hodge. And that man is the comedian of "The Road to Happiness" himself. Hodge has only been allowed a few chances to show his ability as a star.

Not that Mr. Hodge did not have all the experience that is generally meted out to a beginner in the theatrical profession. When just a boy he ran away from home and joined a repertoire show. And his first work on the stage wasn't as an actor. He was just a handy boy around the troupe. Yet perhaps that manager, if he could be found today, would tell you in all seriousness that Hodge owed all his success to him and that from the first day he met the actor he knew that the youngster was bound to succeed in the show business. To be true, he gave the lad his first chance as an actor, but he gave him that chance only when one of the regular actors was taken ill and the stage hand was the only person near he could secure to "go on." On which occasion the red haired lad again proved that he was "a handy boy around the troupe."

Joseph E. Bernard and Miss Hazel Harrington, who are at the Orpheum this week in an amusing little comedy sketch dealing with the troubles of a newly-wedded couple, have well established reputations in the legitimate field.

Mr. Bernard played Bunny to Kyrle Bellew's "Raffles" for two seasons, and Miss Harrington was the Mrs. Rollet of "The Blue Mouse."

"Considering the fact that we are not married, either to each other or to anybody else," said Miss Harrington, "I think we put up a pretty good domestic scrap in our little sketch."

Mr. Bernard tells a rather amusing story of his first stage experience. He played an Englishman in an old comedy called "The South Before the War." He was supposed to be a camera fiend, and his comedy line was to appear in every important situation with a camera and say, "Hold the Picture."

"I was so frightened that I could hardly hold the camera," said Mr. Bernard. "My stage fright evidently fitted the part, for during the first few weeks I 'hogged' the attention of the critics, who all praised my conception of the Englishman, to the exclusion of the star. They thought my nervousness was simulated."

This week's bill will come to a close tomorrow evening. David Bispan, the headliner this week, has been changing his program at every performance, and tomorrow night in response to several requests will give his famous recitation of Poe's "Raven." It has a musical accompaniment and gives Mr. Bispham an opportunity to display the dramatic talent which made him famous in many grand opera roles. This evening he will give a request program, consisting of the songs that have been asked for by Orpheum patrons during the week.

One of the grestest stage hits of but a few years ago, "The Man of the Hour," George Broadhurst's famous play on political graft, opened in tabloid form at the Empress theater yesterday afternoon. The company presenting the play is a capable one and with the exception of a few scenes that are not strongly handled, the production is exceptionally good for the popular prices charged.

The plot of "The Man of the Hour" is known to almost every theater goer. How Allyn Bennett is elected mayor, how the grafters of the city, believing him to be an easy prey for them on account of his youth, attempt to frighten him in signing certain bills, how attempts at bribing prove futile, are all brought out during the action of the play. Of course, there is a love theme in it and the young mayor marries Dallas Wainwight, the daughter of the city's magnate, who loses his fortune because Bennett refuses to sign a bill in the former's favor.

As Mayor Bennett, Edward Harmon does the best work of any member of the cast, although a close bidder for the laurels is Raymond Smith as Richard Horrigan, the city boss. The latter makes a good politician, with his gruff voice and uncouth manners. Others deseving of mention are Edga Schooley as Alderman Joseph Phelan and Ernest Latimore as Charles Wainwright of the male characters, and Marie Latimore as Dallas Wainwright and Garnett Raymond as Agnes Bennett, sister of the mayor.

Between the first two acts, Miss Raymond presents an interesting monologue and song number. "The Man of the Hour" will continue until tomorrow evening.

PROF. CADY WILL SPEAK IN DULUTH

Organized Effort to Beautify Suburbs Will Be Made.

Interest in landscape gardening will be given a great stimulus tonight when Prof. LeRoy Cady of the extension bureau of the agricultural college of the University of Minnesota will give a stereopticon lecture on the subject at the Glen Avon Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Glen-Hunt-Wood commission.

The purpose of the commission in securing Prof. Cady to speak is to launch an organized movement to beautify the Woodland, Glen Avon and Hunters' Park districts, according to W. A. Pryor, head of the commission. Mr. Pryor believes that a great deal can be done to increase the beauty of these places and he says that there is a wide interest in the plan for work this spring and summer. The commission will appoint a committee in the near future to help work out a plan for concerted action.

Yankton, S. D., Dry.

Yankton, S. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yankton is "dry," the six saloons closing yesterday as a result of the supreme court decision holding the saloons illegal because a petition calling for license elections was invalid.

RUNAWAY BOYS HEAD FOR DULUTH

Five runaway boys, ranging in age from 13 to 15 years, who left their homes at St. Paul last Monday, are now supposed to be in Duluth, and the local police have been asked to aid in the search for them.

Chief Troyer received a communication this morning from the St. Paul police to the effect that the boys ran away after school was out Monday afternoon and that they all went to Duluth, via the boxcar route.

The letter gives the names of two of the boys, Jacob Weitzman and Louis Copolovich, each 15 years old. The three others range from 13 to 15 years of age, the letter states.

FORTY DAYS FOR "GUN TOTER"

Although this was his first offense, Frank Gabor, 22 years old, who was arrested yesterday morning for carrying a revolver, was given a straight sentence of forty days on the work farm. The court intends to fight the gun-carrying nuisance to a finish and any violator of this law will be dealt with severely, the judges announce.

Gabor pleaded guilty when arraigned yesterday morning, but was not sentenced until the afternoon. Judge Windom, who declared when Patrolman Neil J. Mooney was killed while making an arrest at Gary on Jan. 7, last, that he would show no leniency whatever to violators, refused to give Gabor the alternative of a fine. He will have to spend the next forty days on the work farm.

In addition Gabor will hold the record at the new work farm as being the youngest prisoner sent to that institution since it was opened the first of the year.

CARPET FUND RAISED.

African M. E. Church Ends Series of Entertainments.

Through the income derived from a series of entertainments, the last of which was given last night, the African M. E. church will have its floors carpeted.

The Appanax Social club, which undertook the raising of the fund, had charge of the entertainments, which consisted of three musicals and recitals. Last night's program included the following numbers: Mrs. E. Richardson, Rev. Mr. Holt and Asa J. White, vocalists; S. Neil, Miss Edith Pitman, readings; Miss Anna Colby, piano selection, and Williams' family orchestra in various selections.

WILSON'S OFFICIAL FAMILY REUNITED

Washington, Feb. 20.—For the first time in several weeks the circle around President Wilson's cabinet table was completed today. Secretary McAdoo had an hour's conference with the president, at which, it is understoond, they discussed possible selections for the Federal reserve board.

Governors Dunne of Illinois and Ralston of Indiana paid their respects to the president.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Girls Should Aspire to Be Modest.

Mothers, teach your daughters to be modest!

A country woman, mother of ten daughters herself, takes the time out of her busy life to sound this warning to other mothers. And there can be no question but that the advice is needed in all conditions of society.

Modesty of person is a virtue that is becoming to everyone — particularly to women and more especially to young girls. Yet, many of our preconceived notions of standards of modesty are completely upset. In its place on all sides of us is a vulgar and brazen display, whose motive no one can mistake.

A little vanity is permissible to all. We can endure considerable in the young, in the hope that it will eventually lead to a sensible adjustment, in which modesty, daintiness, neatness and smartness, each has its rightful share. But we cannot be blind indefinitely to the display that many a young girl, as well as older women, makes of herself with every intent to attract the kind of attention which proves that purity of mind is as lacking as modesty of person.

Whose fault is it that so many of our young girls, daughters of families in good social standing in the communities in which they live, are allowed to clothe and otherwise make themselves up so that a stranger would be in doubt as to who they were and what they represented? Girls are headstrong and wilful, I know, but as long as the mother has the daughter under her guidance, she should insist that she conform to more modest standards of conduct and attire. That so many young women make question marks of themselves proves a lack of comprehension on the mother's part, or else a woeful indifference.

There is no reason why our girls should not be attired in the mode nor why they should not dance and enjoy all the pleasures of these modern times. But always within the limits of propriety. These are certainly set and not difficult to define. Modesty should be the keynote of the thoughts, actions and appearance of our young women, and this important characteristic the mother should supervise until it becomes second nature to the daughters.

SEPARATE QUARTERS FOR THE WATER AND LIGHT DEPARTMENT?

There are important questions that should be considered before the project to buy a site and build or have built separate quarters for the water and light department is carried out.

Is Duluth to have the new city hall which it badly needs?

Should the water and light department not be located there?

Would not the city hall location on First street be far more convenient for patrons than the proposed location on Second street?

So far as storing machinery and materials is concerned, and shops for repairs, would it not be an economy to turn the Armory, when it is vacated, into a general storage and repair shop for the fire department, the department of public works and the water and light department?

If the water and light department has a surplus that could be devoted to the purchase of a site for a separate building, should that not be turned into a city hall building fund as a part of the department's share, or into a sinking fund for the retirement of water and light bonds?

In view of these questions, and the state of the city's finances,—not that that is precarious, but that no city ever has money to waste,—this project of separate quarters for the water and light department is one to be entered upon, if at all, only after the most careful and thorough consideration.

Next Sunday—you know.

INCOME TAX TRIBULATIONS.

When to the pain of paying the income tax is added the vexation of making out a return, these develop into troublous times indeed for those who have money.

But times are always troublous for those without money, so maybe this is merely an equalization of tribulation as a measure of justice.

Nevertheless, it was scarcely necessary that the income tax law should have been made such a puzzle. Lawyers frame things mistily enough, but no lawyer ever framed law more mistily than the Hon. Hull framed this one.

Says the Toledo Blade: "We believe it has surprised most Americans to learn that imposing and collecting an income tax should be such an intricate problem. No one, except lawyers and the more experienced statesmen, perhaps, could have suspected when the states were taking their leisurely course at ratifying the amendment that the secretary of the treasury would have to issue pamphlets and circulars and supplementary notices and revised interpretations for the purpose of explaining the income tax law, that collectors of internal revenue would feel impelled to advise millionaires that state and county tax collectors would never get a peep at the returns, that men would burrow like chipmunks into the law looking for meanings, that courts would prepare to hand down forty decisions on the blessed thing and men of law would gleefully predict that there'd be twenty million dollars in it for them in getting the snarls entangled."

Now the income tax law wording is muddy enough. Almost any newspaper writer could have blue-pencilled it so as to eliminate seventy-five per cent of its needless intricacies. Besides, in its clearest possible form there would have been difficulties enough in establishing a new system so revolutionary.

But it should not be forgotten that about sixty-seven per cent of the present outcries about the law flow out of a boundless indignation at having to pay any income tax at all.

The Toledo Blade—which, being owned and operated by newspaper men, we hasten to acquit of this bias—goes on to say that results might have been secured "by the fixing of penalties so severe that it would be just as unpleasant for an industrial captain to be caught making false income tax returns as for a moonshiner to be caught making whisky untainted of revenue."

Possibly so; though when you come to anaylze it the penalties provided by the income tax law are pretty rigorous as it is.

Or, suppose evading the income tax law should be put on a plane with theft. A very good case could be made out for that. If under the income tax law you owe the government a thousand dollars, that thousand dollars belongs in the treasury. If you make a false return and turn in only two hundred dollars, you keep eight hundred that belongs in the treasury.

Where is the moral difference—the legal difference will be admitted—between slipping your fingers into Uncle Sam's till and abstracting eight hundred dollars, and keeping in your own pocket eight hundred dollars that legally belongs in the till?

Why all this quandary about what to do with Castillo? Has the vaudeville stage gone out of business?

SENATOR CLAPP AND NATIONAL HONOR.

The Chicago Tribune publishes a poll of the United States senate on the repeal of the canal toll exemption perfidy, in which Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota is enrolled among those opposed to the repeal, along with Gallinger of New Hampshire and Smoot of Utah.

We shall hope that this is an unfounded libel upon the junior senator from Minnesota.

Being a mere matter of national honor and good faith, this is not a matter that is of direct concern to citizens of Minnesota—as such. As citizens of the United States, it is a matter of direct concern to every resident of Minnesota.

It is true that if any gain comes to the two coasts from the disguised subsidy of toll exemption, it must be at the expense of the Middle West, including Minnesota. But that is putting the argument on a low and sordid basis; and besides there will be no benefit to anybody but the shipping trust.

The canal tolls exemption is, however, a matter of the highest importance to every citizen of the land, because it involves the question whether, hereafter, the word of this nation expressed in a formal treaty agreement shall have any standing whatever before the world.

Does Senator Clapp stand for national perfidy? Then he does not represent the people of Minnesota, and this alone should be reason enough for his overwhelming defeat when next he comes before the voters of this state as a candidate for re-election. This is an honest people, and should be represented by honesty.

We shall hope to hear that the Chicago Tribune's Washington correspondent is in error in enrolling him among the shipping trust senators who are opposed to the repeal of a treaty-breaking law, which not only makes a mockery of the nation's good faith but is the misbegotten brat of the defeated and discredited ship subsidy steal.

Ireland raised 461,790 tons of cabbage in 1913. Can it be that the home of the sauer kraut has jumped the channel?

THE NON-PARTISAN PRIMARY LAW UPHELD.

The district court of Hennepin county has upheld the new non-partisan primary law, the judge declaring that though he felt some doubt about its constitutionality, he followed the rule that courts in such cases should give the law the benefit of the doubt.

This decision, we feel certain, will accord with public sentiment; and certainly it is in line with progress. It is a good sign when courts refuse to veto legislation unless compelled to do so by unquestionable unconstitutionality. It is devoutly to be hoped that the supreme court of this state has adopted the same policy, and we believe that it has.

Courts should hesitate, moreover, to align themselves with the professional politicians who, practically alone, are arrayed against this law.

Vital issues of good government, of clear, unconfused elections, and of more direct and effective popular government, hang upon the final outcome of the suit to test the constitutionality of this law.

These issues now rest with the supreme court.

Let's see—how much of that $103,300 fee will have to be let go of under the income tax?

Mellen on Bankruptcy.

Knoxville Journal and Tribune: Charles S. Mellen, at a dinner in Boston, said of a bankrupt:

"His bankruptcy was like that which the parent described.

"'Pa, what's bankruptcy?' a little boy once asked.

"And pa, who had been 'bit' that week, answered bitterly:

"'Bankruptcy, my son, is where you put your money in your hip pocket and let your creditors take your wallet and coat.'"

His Unlimited Loyalty.

Washington Star: "One thing that I admire about Mr. Cumrox is his intense patriotism."

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne; "but he overdoes it. He insists that Paris, Ky., is a better town than Paris, France."

Child Labor

A. J. McKelway in Harper's Weekly.

Child labor has always been the curse of the cotton mill. But for a century in England, a half century in New England, and for a decade in the South, humane men and women have been protesting against the system. Among the New England states, Massachusetts has led the advance in child labor reform, although because of the importance of the textile industry it has only lately reached the standards of protection for the child workers that have been adopted by other progressive states.

The lowest standards in the country are those of the four cotton manufacturing states of the South—Alabama, Georgia and the two Carolinas. In Alabama to a large extent and in Georgia in smaller measure, Massachusetts capital has been invested in cotton mills. These Massachusetts manufacturers discovered that an Alabama statute forbade the employment of children for a longer period than eight hours a day. This law was repealed upon their representation that otherwise capital would not be invested. Then came a fight for reform, led by Edgar Gardner Murphy, then a clergyman of Montgomery, and another child labor law was enacted in 1903. Mr. Murphy, recognizing that child labor was a national and not a sectional evil, suggested and promoted the organization of the national child labor committee in 1904.

In 1907 the same manufacturers' lobby opposed the raising of the low standards of the former act, and did force a compromise that made the enforcement of the later act impossible. Again in 1911 they succeeded in defeating the amendments necessary to render the law effective.

In Georgia, the history of child labor reform is singularly like that of Alabama. An old Georgia statute forbade the employment of minor children except between the hours of sunrise and sunset. This law was amended so as to exempt the employes of cotton and woolen mills. The agent of a Massachusetts corporation located in Georgia signed his name to an appeal to the people against the enactment of the child labor bill proposed in 1905. The same agent was prominent in the manufacturers' lobby which succeeded in defeating the bill proposed that year. Later he opposed the enactment of the ten-hour bill for Georgia and the creation of the department of labor, charged with the enforcement of the child labor law.

Today Massachusetts has a fourteen-year age limit for the employment of children in factories, a sixteen-year age limit for illiterate children, prescribes an eight-hour day for the children between fourteen and sixteen, forbids night work, and possesses effective machinery for the enforcement of these statutes. Alabama and Georgia have a twelve-year age limit, a fourteen-year age limit for night work, allow an eleven-hour day, and with laws rendered purposely ineffective, permit the wholesale violation of these low standard measures, the Massachusetts corporations in those states being admittedly parties to the violation. Georgia allows children of ten to be employed, if they happen to be orphans or the children of dependent parents. The Massachusetts corporations are doing in the South what would not be tolerated in Massachusetts, either by public opinion or by law.

Reveries of a Married Man

Madison C. Peters in Houston Chronicle.

Are you looking for an angel? There are none unpledged. How would you look alongside of an angel?

He who marries for beauty alone is as silly as the man who bought a house because he liked the flowers in the front yard.

A beautiful woman pleases the eye, a good woman wins the heart; the one is a jewel, the other a treasure.

If you take a husband just for the sake of having one, you may find him a mortifying trophy and an inconvenient property.

Cupid, having grown old, has changed his name to cupidity.

The mercantile estimate of marriage is becoming so common that I should not be surprised to see the hymeneal market lists chronicled with the prices current in the stock exchange.

If matrimony is a matter of money with you, the older and uglier the man is the better, for nothing should come between you and your golden calf.

If a man were not deformed he would not need to be reformed.

The risks are great enough for any woman, even when she marries a man who does not need reforming.

Many women are becoming so useful that they look upon husbands as altogether unnecessary inconveniences.

The Bible never said it was not good for women to be alone, because God knew many women would be better off alone.

If you want to pull with your wife don't poke into the household affairs.

Once in a while let your husband have the last word; it will please him and be no loss to you.

Be reasonable—it's a good deal to ask. Reasonable women are rare; be rare.

Let your husband feel that you think he is a good one; it will be a strong stimulus to his being so. The loss of the reputation may lead him to abandon the reality.

Never speak to anyone outside of one another's faults, not even to your minister or to your doctor—they have troubles enough of their own.

Matrimonial meddlers, everlasting snoops, they would not surprise me if in the resurrection day they got out of the wrong grave.

If women spent as much time making cages after marriage as they did spreading nets before marriage, they would keep that dear charmer, an affinity, away.

Busy men are weary of the dull prose of life and thirst for poetry; happy is the man who can find that poetry at home.

The Head and the Heart.

The head is stately, calm and wise,
And bears a princely part;
And down below, in secret lies
The warm, impulsive heart.

The lordly head that sits above,
The heart that beats below,
Their several office plainly prove,
Their true relation show.

The head erect, serene and cool,
Endowed with Reason's art,
Was set aloft to guide and rule
The throbbing, wayward heart.

And from the head, as from the higher,
Comes every glorious thought;
And in the heart's transforming fire
All noble deeds are wrought.

Yet each is best when both unite
To make a man complete;
What were the heat without the light?
The light without the heat?

—John Godfrey Saxe.

National Labor Bureau

F. W. Fitzgerald in the American Contractor.

After years of more or less impatient waiting and much journalistic and legislative pounding, postal savings has been secured and is in successful operation—amazingly successful—and now parcel post is to be given to us and it, too, will prove a tremendous success, a long deferred national advantage—though we did have to wait for it until poor old Platt had "passed in his checks" and thereby let it get through the senate.

All this is convincing our people that the bugaboo of "Paternalism" that was held over them so long was indeed just plain poppycock and twaddle used by interested beneficiaries to scare them off. Anything that a government by the people can do for the people and do it better than can any other agency, is right and proper, and as a matter of fact that government is derelict to its duty if it doesn't do it. I don't know that we are quite ready for government ownership or control of railroads and all public utilities, but I do know that there are still a number of things, like the parcel post, that it could and should do and it would seem to be our business to do all we can to secure the desired legislation.

We hope to add postal insurance to postal savings before long, and there is one thing more we are going to advocate at once, too, still another postoffice function. Not that we have it "in" for the postoffice department or desire to break its back with added duties to its already heavy load, but it is the one that stands closest to the people, that is in closest touch with our daily affairs and therefore the best equipped and most natural agency to perform certain popular functions, for remember, its 60,000 offices and abounding means of rapid communication give it facilities enjoyed by no other department of the government nor private corporation.

Few things are more important in our social economy than is the proper distribution of labor. Employment bureaus are necessary and comparatively few exist and that few mostly very badly managed. There is no general exchange of information, the fees are heavy, the service rendered not especially good and very many such bureaus have been proven frauds of the worst kind. At best the service is ineffective and extremely local. In Germany the government handles this employment matter very satisfactorily and surely we can do as well as our Teutonic friends, for we have equally good and better machinery right at hand in our splendid postoffice service with which to do it.

The lack of a general and speedy exchange of "employment needs information" is apparent at every turn and distressing. At certain seasons we know that the farmers, for instance, need all kinds of help and are willing to pay for it, but can't get it; at the same time we see men walking the streets of our cities able and willing to work at anything, but not knowing where to go for it. And who among us has not wanted something done and wondered how he could secure the service, while just the man for the job might have been passing the door anxiously in quest of employment? The postoffice is the one that can supply the remedy.

It can do it at negligible expense to employer and prospective employe, and yet do so at more than the cost to itself and meanwhile be doing a magnificent service to the people and to the country at large. Make every postoffice in the land an employment bureau, too. Anyone wanting work may then register there and the people requiring labor can do likewise. I am not seeking to pauperize any class of people by having the government do things for them for nothing. A system of stamp payments could easily be arranged by the postoffice experts and the few pennies required for such registration can be fished up by any man, somehow, some way, however hard up, down and out he may be. Access could be had to these registers of employment offered or wanted upon the payment for and cancellation of certain stamps. If local employment only is desired the postoffice work would end there, but if a man wants to find work at some other place, or if an employer wanted men from such and such a particular district, the postoffice, for the requisite fee in stamps, would place that "want" in the postoffice of the locality desired. It would serve as a great clearing house for labor. Even when no particular desire is expressed for work in any other locality, the postoffice department would soon become expert in "feeling" the conditions about the country and would hasten of its own initiative in seeking to forestall the demands that would naturally be made and to place the offered labor where it was most needed.

The possibilities of the scheme are vast and far-reaching, its handling can readily be done by a department already admirably equipped to do the work, and at no cost to the country. It is desirable, commendable, necessary, and we can have it by hammering for it. So let us begin hamnering. We have learned how to do it and it's up to us, if we want it, to get good and busy, and we'll have it.

Employers Unwittingly Promote Labor Unions.

C. J. Morrison in the Engineering Magazine: The management of most of the non-union plants today are unwittingly doing their best to force their employes into unions. The conditions in these places are usually a ten-hour day, wages slightly lower than the union scale, time and a quarter for overtime, and straight time for Sundays and holidays. These conditions alone furnish the organizers with all the necessary ammunition, and they say: "Join us and get an eight-hour day, higher wages, time and a half for overtime, and double time for Sundays and holidays." To prove the case they point to conditions in nearby union shops. Can the workmen be blamed for listening, for becoming convinced, and for making demands?

A few years ago a machine shop working a ten-hour day, in a section where eight hours was the rule, was making a desperate fight to keep from becoming unionized. However, about 75 per cent of the employes belonged to the union and then sent a delegation to the management to ask for a 15 per cent increase in pay. After a protracted session an increase of 10 per cent was granted, but no increase was given to the non-union men. The delegates sympathized with these men, but said: "Of course, we could not press your case as you do not belong with us." Six months later there was not a non-union man in the place, and the management was called upon for a further increase, an eight-hour day, and other concessions, all of which were granted.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although he is the Republican leader of the far-famed house of representatives, James R. Mann is more or less unpredictable. He does not always fall in with the rest of the old-line Republicans. He reserves the right not to agree with anybody or any group in gender, person or number. The truth is, as Mann is free to admit, that he has a streak of contrariness in him and he has had it all his life.

When he was a youngster he attended college in what was then the Joe Cannon congressional district. And when Joe Cannon made his first race for congress his opponent was one of the heads of Mann's college.

Now all the college boys without regard to party upbringing got out and whooped it up for their chief.

All except James R. Mann.

He hadn't a thing in the world against the college professor. And he didn't know Joe Cannon from a load of wood.

But he couldn't see that he was under any obligation just because he was attending a man's college to help send him to congress. Neither did he see any sense in marching in torchlight processions, carrying banners or hollering his lungs out of kelter on behalf of a man just because his associates were all doing so.

As Mann pointed out at the time:

"He would flunk any one of us if he had the chance. I'm agin him."

His motives were largely those of contrariness and doing as he dadblamed pleased, but he went ahead and made speeches for Joe Cannon.

In the course of the campaign he met Cannon for the first time.

And that was the beginning of the acquaintance that led to Mann entering congress himself many years later, and becoming Cannon's floor leader back in the days when it was still permissible to be a Republican.

William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state, was taking dinner here a little while ago at the home of a certain ambassador from a distant country.

When it came time for a wine course, the ambassador's gentlemanly attendants passed about the table and gave each guest a helping of grape juice—all in honor of the secretary of state.

It was excellent stuff, as grape juice goes, and Bryan complimented his host on his quality.

"What brand is it?" he inquired.

"I don't know," replied the host.

In a few minutes there was another grape juice course and this time it was a different brand—of a slightly different hue.

"I never saw this kind of grape juice before," remarked Bryan with enthusiasm. "What brand is this?"

"To tell you the truth, I do not know," replied the ambassador.

There were two or three more wine courses, but each time grape juice was substituted for wine. And each time Bryan expressed his pleasure by desiring to know what brand or make it was.

The ambassdor began to grow a bit embarrassed about his ignorance of the different styles of grape juice.

Finally he confessed:

"I don't know much about the brands because, to be perfectly frank, this is the first time I ever had any in the house."

Denis O'Leary is a member of congress from Greater New York with—as all can see—a perfect peach of a name, and a knack at quiet observation.

Shortly after he arrived here, O'Leary was asked what he thought of the house of representatives and the membership thereof.

"Up in New York where I have been practicing law," replied O'Leary in his quiet way, "if a lawyer gets up in court and talks too long without saying anything, it is considered contempt of court. This whole bunch here would be yanked up for contempt of court."

* * *

When O'Leary was a mere lad he got a job working on a little trading schooner that plied along the Atlantic coast. This led him to read a great many books about seafaring life and he conceived the idea of becoming a pirate.

"But," says he, "I thought it over and decided to do something less hazardous, and so I became a lawyer."

Newton D. Baker of Cleveland was talking to President Wilson here recently.

"There's one thing you have accomplished by personal example on which I must congratulate you," remarked Baker.

"What's that?" asked the president.

"Why," said Baker, "you have made education almost respectable."

A good way to facilitate quiet, unimpassioned discourse with Champ Clark is to omit the word "Baltimore" from one's remarks. A little while ago there was introduced to Speaker Clark a man named Bensel, state engineer for New York, and he was not aware of the desirability of saying nothing about Baltimore.

"It seems to me we've met before," this man remarked, when he was introduced to the speaker of the house; "I think I met you over at the Baltimore convention."

"You did not!" promptly declared Champ, with emphasis; "I wasn't at the Baltimore convention. If I had been there I would have been nominated for president."

Danger Ahead.

Harper's Weekly: A peril inevitable to any successful party is that all those elements that gain from politics tend to rush into that party. Progressive Democrats must be on the lookout against the reactionaries who put on the mask of progressiveness and try to get into councils and into office. In certain parts of the country not only are the reactionaries of all parties lining up under the Democratic banner, but even some progressive Democrats are showing a tendency to compromise with the reactionaries in the hope of winning next year's elections through the popularity of the national administration. The president himself is an absolute believer in efficiency and progressiveness as requirements for office, but some of his advisers believe in rewarding those who have been faithful to the party for many years, without splitting hairs about qualifications. Such advisers are dangerous to the success of his administration.

In the Path of Progress.

Boston Globe: Worthy of general circulation is the slogan adopted by the Cimarron, Kan., Commercial club. "The blamed fool didn't know it couldn't be done, so he went ahead and done it."

One Would Help Some.

Chicago Record-Herald: The trouble in a good many families is that instead of having a single standard of morality they haven't any.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Faults? Yes! Virtues? Many!

Willmar Tribune: The attacks upon the statewide primary law because of the failure to nominate majority candidates are made with the hope of securing its repeal or bring about at least a modified return to the old convention system of naming candidates.

Admitting that the primary law now on the statute books has serious faults, it is still far ahead of the old boss-ruled but smoothly engineered caucus and convention system, and the legislator who attempts to break it down will become a sorry-looking figure indeed. * * *

Any citizen who desires real progress should think twice before he unthinkingly joins the cry against the primary election law and the principles it represents, even if imperfectly.

They Can Now Count.

Ely Miner: The primary election system is the subject of considerable pencil pushing on the part of Minnesota scribes who class it as a "failure." The state-wide primary has only been given one trial and as far as can be seen worked out very satisfactorily so far. It, at least, gave the people a chance to register their vote for renomination and was a considerable advantage over the convention system where rural delegates were only used to ratify the slate prepared by the leaders of the parties several weeks in advance.

Sing, D— You, Sing!

Anoka Union: At political meetings in the coming campaign where Governor Eberhart is present, the Union expects to hear all over the house the cry, "Song, Governor!"

Oh, Well! It Might Be Worse.

Sunbeam Sunbeam: It worked all right for Eberhart to put a crowd of candidates into the field against himself two years ago, but the same game will not work twice, for any school boy can plainly see that that game is being worked by the Eberhart crowd to assure his nomination. Of course, it means the turning over of the state to the Democratic party, which will likely mean the election of the next United States senator from this state by that party.

If One J. L. Is In It.

Crosby Crucible: Reports from Washington say that Senator Clapp is responsible for several revival movements in the East. Moses E. has started other things he couldn't finish, too. Also, he'll be lucky if he finishes the next senatorial election race inside the flag.

Name a Few.

Madison Independent-Press: "The First Ten Months of Wilson" is the title of a campaign document which has been sent out from Washington. It is said to be the forerunner of others advocating the renomination of Wilson. Well, he's the best Democratic president we have had in fifty years, but we have had better Republican presidents.

Why Not?

Remer Record: The Duluth Herald, in a recent editorial, suggested the commission form of government for the state. Why not? The state is naught but a big enterprise, and like all other business establishments, should be run on a conservative, an economical system. The state can well utilize all of its surplus funds in ways that would greatly benefit her people and the state in general. This electing and sending down to the capitol, every two years, a horde of men, office-seekers whose greatest aim is to get that Hon. prefixed to their names. This is an expensive business for the people, and we honestly believe the time is ripe for the taxpayers to call a halt on what we deem needless expenditures—sending a horde of hungry office-seekers to the state capitol to spread upon our statutes more dead letter laws—and heaven knows, there are too many there already. If the commission form of government is profitable and a success in the management of large cities, why would it not be feasible for operating the affairs of the state?

All of That.

Gheen Record: A president who can get results from congress, as President Wilson is doing, is a president worth while.

Franklin's Lesson

Indianapolis News: Benjamin Franklin, who as far as this country is concerned, may be considered the patron saint of printers, is sometimes said to have been born on the 17th of January, 1706. He was in reality born on what was held at the time of his birth, before the change in the almanac, as the 6th, old style. It may not be amiss to recall at this time that the American philosopher in the way of an apologue has given us a lesson of toleration which should be helpful. It was as follows and Franklin used to mystify his friends sometimes by opening a Bible and pretending to find therein these verses:

1. And it came to pass after these things that Abraham sat in the door of his tent about the going down of the sun.
2. And behold, a man bowed with age, came from the way of the wilderness, leaning on a staff.
3. And Abraham arose and met him, and said unto him: "Turn in, I pray thee, and wash thy feet, and tarry all night, and thou shalt arise on the morrow, and go on thy way."
4. But the man said: "Nay, for I will abide under this tree."
5. And Abraham pressed him greatly; so he turned and they went into the tent, and Abraham baked unleavened bread and they did eat.
6. And when Abraham saw that the man blessed not God, he said unto him: "Wherefore dost thou not worship the most high God, Creator of heaven and earth?"
7. And the man answered and said: "I do not worship the God thou speakest of, neither do I call upon his name; for I have made to myself a god which abideth always in mine house, and provideth me with all things."
8. And Abraham's zeal was kindled against the man, and he arose and fell upon him, and drove him forth with blows into the wilderness.
9. And at midnight God called unto Abraham, saying, "Abraham, where is the stranger?"
10. And Abraham answered and said: "Lord, he would not worship thee, neither would he call upon thy name; therefore have I driven him out before my face into the wilderness."
11. And God said: "Have I not borne with him these hundred ninety and eight years, and nourished him, and clothed him, notwithstanding his rebellion against me; and couldn't not thou, that art thyself a sinner, bear with him one night?"
12. And Abraham said: "Let not the anger of the Lord wax hot against his servant; lo, I have sinned; forgive me, I pray thee."
13. And Abraham arose, and went forth into the wilderness and sought diligently for the man, and found him, and returned with him to the tent; and when he had entreated him kindly, he sent him away on the morrow with gifts.

It should be said as to this psuedo-Scripture that Franklin never claimed it as original except as to its literary style, for the idea can be traced back to the Persian poet, Saadi, who relates it as coming from another person.

Twenty Years Ago

From the Herald of this date, 1894.

•••George Hall, for ten years traveling salesman for the Ryan Drug company of St. Paul, has made an engagement with the Sagar Drug company of Duluth and will hereafter represent them on the road.

•••A body which proved to be that of Conductor E. C. Ward of this city was found in the woods near Merritt yesterday, frozen stiff. Mr. Ward left Duluth four days ago to go to his claim near the Hale mine and was evidently overcome by the intense cold. He was unmarried and about 30 years of age.

•••Last evening the city council received a communication from Mayor d'Autremont nominating Nils Nilson to succeed himself as a member of the board of public works. The ordinance granting a franchise to the city railway company was taken from the table and after being amended was defeated on final passage by a vote of 6 yeas to 7 nays.

•••Matt Vivoda, an Austrian miner, died at Soudan yesterday from the effects of a blow on the head with a shovel in the hands of an unknown party.

•••Thirty-four years ago at Marquette, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. A. Ebmer commenced their life's partnership. Last Sunday, Feb. 18, they celebrated the anniversary of that important event in their lives. Four daughters, three sons, several daughters-in-law and sons-in-law and a creditable number of grandchildren were present and a family gathering that will be long remembered was enjoyed by all.

•••The National Investment company yesterday filed an assignment, with L. D. Sharp as assignee. The company is composed of a number of prominent West Duluth business men. Its holdings consist of the Hotel Bennett, a residence and several lots in the rear of the hotel and a number of scattering unimproved lots around town. Failure to negotiate a promised loan with which to pay off the floating indebtedness forced the assignment.

•••Secretary Force of the police department presented Mrs. Gleason, the widow of Edward Gleason, formerly patrolman, with $45 of the proceeds of the policemen's annual ball.

•••City Engineer Reed and his assistants have finished plans for a sanitary sewer system for the Woodland district. It will take about fifteen miles of sewer to complete the system. The region drained embraces eleven forties or about 440 acres. A sewer system for West Duluth is also being prepared.

The Adventurer.

City of power and city of might,
Of plunder and passion and woe and delight,
The sound of your voice is a trumpeter's blare,
A challenge that's flung on the palpitant air,
A paean of battle, a tuant, and a call
To join in the conflict and conquer—or fall,
To thrust and to parry, to feint and to lunge;
So—into the tumult I plunge!

I fear you?—the city of opulent dreams—
Because of your vastness that pulses and teems?
Why, here are my hands; they are young, they are strong
As any two hands in the thick of the throng;
And here are my eyes and my body and brain
Alert for the glory and gold I shall gain.
So—fearless I face you, O huge, roaring brute,
Besotted with splendor and glutted with loot!

What peril of jungle or desert or sea
Has more of a thrill than your dangers to me,
Or greater romance than the conflict that rolls
On your vast battlefield of a myriad souls?

I cry you defiance! Your masters and slaves,
Your wasters and delvers and dreamers and knaves,
I war for your palaces, pleasures and pelf;
I fear you no whit—for I fear not myself;
I face you and fight you, nor whimper for aid,
Since you crawl to the feet of the man unafraid!

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

PATRIOTISM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

One hundred and eighty-two years ago in a little Virginian village, George Washington, destined to become the "Father" of his country, first saw the light of day. Annually since his death in 1799 the day of his birth has been celebrated, and even during the latter part of his life such great cities as Boston and Philadelphia commemorated it with great pomp and festivities. Feb. 22 is not merely a day of respect and reverence in certain localities or in certain states, but throughout the entire nation it is a day set apart and dedicated to honor and esteem. It is most appropriate that the United States should so fittingly honor its first and greatest president.

In the first place, before a knowledge of a patriotic standpoint can be fully understood, a clear definition of the word patriotism should be given. Webster says that it is "one's love for his country." That a love for one's country is necessary, especially in this our land of the free, was notably illustrated in the war for independence. Patriotism was the spark that kept the fire of success glowing even in the darkest hours of the Revolution; and frequently in subsequent history it has been the great pillar of strength upon which our nation has rested in times of disaster and peril.

To Washington, a man who was the greatest patriot that ever lived, to the only man who was ever chosen unanimously to be the leader of a nation so vast and extensive as were the thirteen original states; to a man who is [illegible] held up as a model of honesty and integrity to our youths, it is only proper that the patriotism of each individual should assert itself and burst forth in the noblest effusions of respect and reverence. It is true that the United States has become the melting pot of nations, but this surely is no reason why the true born Americans should allow their patriotic vigor to relax, and let the national celebration of their "Father's" birth pass into oblivion.

The country was made better by his life. Why should it forget him? He was the principal organ of that great body which snatched our liberty and independence from the greedy jaws of Britain. Does he not therefore deserve some outward manifestation of respect? Let us hope that the true light of patriotism shall always remain burning within our nation, and that the anniversary of the birth of the man, who was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen," may always be fittingly and appropriately commemorated.

REPLIES TO CRITICS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

It has always been the impression of the writer that the readers of The Herald were people who could read between the lines. But two lengthy communications called forth by the writer's remarks concerning W. D. Haywood evidently require replying to.

It does not necessarily follow that because anyone recognizes a truth in a half dozen words spoken by another that such recognition should convict him of believing in all the ideas and policies of the speaker. For instance, the patriotic gentleman of International Falls admires Victor Berger, but see what we have below:

Victor Berger in the Social Democratic Herald, July 31, 1909: "* * * Therefore, I say, each of the 500,000 Socialist voters and of the 2,000,000 workingmen who instinctively incline our way, should, besides doing much reading and still more thinking, also have a good rifle and the necessary rounds of ammunition in his home and be prepared to back up his ballots with his bullets if necessary."

Does the writer believe that the patriot of International Falls who admires Berger is committed to the above program? Well, hardly.

Gen. U. S. Grant in the siege of Richmond sent regiment after regiment to certain annihilation, the silent man of power sat his horse, moved his pawns to win and in the heat and passion of the battle counted not the cost. The labor leaders of today in the battles on the industrial field cannot stop to count the cost.

Haywood is an anarchist, but that does not make one of the person who may recognize the truth in one of his sentences, in spite of the fact that truth, coming from one discredited, loses much of its power and influence.

The evidence introduced by the "laborer" is foreign to the subject and should be ruled out.

The only question is, does the statement of Haywood as quoted by The Herald portray accurately the attitude of mind of the average Socialist voter on the matter of flags and patriotism? Any student of Socialism will say yes.

Sabotage is the tactic of conspiracy. It has no place in a political or economic movement of labor. It cannot enter into this discussion.

Socialists stand for internationalism, which is the antithesis of localized or the "love the name of Washington" kind of patriotism.

Ignoring of party lines means nonpartisanship, which is individualism gone mad. The worst kind of anarchy.

And now a piece of advice to the "Laborer." The next time "Laborer" finds it necessary to call down the Socialists, individually or collectively, he should not forget to sign his proper name, for in doing so he will find a short cut to a stand-in with his boss.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM E. TOWNE.

CAN'T HIT WINTER CARNIVAL TOO HARD.

To the Editor of The Herald:

You can't hit that winter carnival scheme too hard nor give too great praise to Brother Hugo's summer festival idea.

By merest accident I was glancing over an English history of Canada yesterday and ran across a paragraph that I thought might interest you.

Here it is:

"In 1884 the first Winter Carnival was held in Montreal and a gorgeous ice palace built on Dominion square. These carnivals were repeated several succeeding winters and the Ice Palace was always a strong feature. Although very magnificent to look at, with their glistening walls and turretted roofs, they proved a very bad advertisement for the city, though it took it several seasons to find it out. Pictures of these Ice Palaces appeared in European and American papers with exaggerated reports of the cold and snow and the idea spread like wild-fire that Montreal was an arctic city in a land of perpetual snow. And this is a remarkable illustration of how evil repute will stick to one indelibly, for though twenty years have elapsed Montreal is still often referred to as the city where they build Ice Palaces and have winter carnivals the year around. * * * The city's commerce suffered exceedingly in consequence and it took it at least ten years to undo the evil that had been wrought so innocently in so short a time. * * * A minute's thought should surely prove to anyone that if the people of a city can afford, for a few weeks' amusement, to go to the expense of one of those carnivals and ice palaces, they must certainly be prosperous and have a thriving trade and commerce. Now, how can a prosperous trading city be reconciled with the idea of its being located in the Arctics, in the Land of Perpetual Snow? In the words of old friend Euclid —'Quod est absurdum.'"

Just a bit English and ponderous, if you wish, but you don't want any English historian to describe, as ponderously as the above, the fate that will surely be yours if you go a bit batty and get into this winter carnival nonsense. Forget it!

SYMPATHIZES WITH DULUTH.

To the Editor of The Herald:

As you sometimes printed notices of my fight against a dam, I write this letter of condolence now that you folks have the same dilemma on your hands. Where were the senators and congressmen from Minnesota and Wisconsin that such a measure could pass and no one know anything about it? If two feet don't later mean four and later six, as in our case, you can feel lucky, when you consider that every foot of rise means more revenue to the corporation. Yours truly,

REPLIES TO CYRANO.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The feelings which Cyrano's letter in last night's Herald inspired followed each other in rapid succession. Indignation found a close second in what would have been amusement were the case not so pathetic but what he seems to most need after all is sympathy.

Of course, I do not know which church or creed raised the poster to which he refers, as all churches and all creeds are posting thousands of them and considering the money well invested in spite of the "nonsensical" stamp which he puts upon it. As an aside remark, I might say that I presume money spent on the shows which he mentions further he would consider much more sensibly invested.

Personally I have seen no sign of decreasing attendance at the house of worship where I attend nor do our methods seem to be rusty. I can truthfully say that I find but occasional opportunity for outside amusement because there is so much that is infinitely more interesting and satisfying going on at church. I am quite confident also that a large and goodly number bear me company and we are neither fossils nor averse to fun.

As for the "rigmarole" which he mentions, my mind fails to grasp that. Song, praise, prayer and a practical application of Biblical teaching to the needs of our twentieth century existence are what I am accustomed to hearing twice every Sabbath and I find it leaves me with a wholesome anticipation of the Sabbath to come.

To fully answer his cry against the expense of religion would require a volume, but I will say this: He probably fully approves of the public school system which costs an enormous amount of money to maintain proper buildings, equipment and instruction in temporal and secular studies. Then why, in the name of his Maker, does he begrudge the comparatively small amount contributed for the maintenance of a system which teaches right living and prepares the immortal soul for its ultimate destiny?

"Producing absolutely nothing," he says, and I answer "producing everything worth while." Take the religious institutions from this country and in five years' time the country would be disrupted and absolutely impossible as a peaceful abiding place. Yet he says the investment pays no interest.

This "go to church Sunday" movement, by the way, is one of our up-to-date methods for which he is crying out and at which he protests in the same breath. It is a nation-wide invitation to non-church goers to come and hear for themselves of the blessing to be obtained through loving service to the Master.

If he will conscientiously study the New Testament, the last question of "where it recommends going to church at all" will be answered and he will also have gained a working knowledge of the most studied and best loved Book in the world. I am quite sure he will find it more soul-satisfying than the French fiction whose principal character he is emulating.

If I had attended but one "show" in eight years I should scarcely expect to qualify as a theatrical critic, and he surely cannot think the church-going public (or any other reasoning person) will view his criticism from any but a ridiculous viewpoint.

Since he is so free to find fault, why does he not lend a hand toward the progression in religious methods which he is demanding of others? However, as he seems to be willing to give neither time, ability or substance, I would suggest that he search for enlightenment before making any more absurd statements. If he is unwilling to approve he can at least refrain from knocking.

Also suppose he should "go to church Feb. 22."

"LEGAL HOLIDAYS."

To the Editor of The Herald:

I notice a placard in the postoffice lobby signed by "A. P. Cook, Postmaster," stating that "Monday, Feb. 23, Washington's Birthday, being a legal holiday," etc.

Is this statement correct? Of course Monday is not the anniversary of Washington's birthday, but is Monday a legal holiday? INQUIRER.

SHIPMENTS OF STOCK IN OPEN BOX CARS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The general public has been greatly interested in the letters to The Herald from Hinckley concerning the shipment of cattle in open cars during the cold weather, and are anxious to learn the results of the humane society's investigations, which, it is hoped, will be published. Some time ago there was quite an agitation about the same matter, but nothing more was heard of it.

From the following quotation in a Boston paper it appears that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals there is very active along this line. The same inspection should be had for incoming cattle trains in all large cities. All that the railroads seem to care for is that the stock is not damaged perceptibly. What suffering the poor beasts endure is of no consequence.

Here is the clipping:

"The bitter night of Jan. 13, when the thermometer dropped so suddenly to 10 below zero, our agents at the stockyards never left their work till they saw that the cattle had been warmly housed and provided with plenty of hay. In every case where forethought and interest could prevail, these helpless animals were sheltered and cared for. The 14th, as the weather continued cold and more arrived for slaughter than could be housed, what could the agents do but urge the Federal inspectors and butchers to work overtime that none of these poor creatures might be left to wear out a night of suffering? In this they had the ready co-operation of the Federal authorities in charge at the abattoir, who saw that their request was carried out."

ASPHYXIATED AND BODIES FROZEN.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 20.—The bodies of Andre Rosasco, his wife and their 6-year-old daughter were found frozen in their home here today. The authorities believe the family was overcome by gas escaped from a stove and that the deaths occurred about a week ago. Neighbors, not having seen the family recently, notified the police. Discovery of the bodies resulted.

Willcocks at Drainage Meet.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Officers of the National Drainage congress have received word from Sir William Willcocks, builder of the Asuan dam in Egypt, an authority in river regulation, that he would attend the meeting of the drainage congress which is to be held at Savannah, Ga., April 22 to 25.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust' Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

A Staple Medicine for Every Family

No Self Respecting Group of People Should be Without a Good Family Laxative.

It is inconceivable in this day of general intelligence that any family would be without a simple remedy for the minor ills of life, for often by giving such a remedy in time a serious disease can be frustrated and a life saved.

For example, if at the first sign of a cold a simple laxative-tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were given, the beginning of a serious lung affection or of a typhoid fever might be avoided. And also in headaches, nervousness, etc., a small dose of this remedy would relieve the congestion and replace distress with comfort. Mothers give it to tiny infants and little children, and grown people take it with equally good effect.

Thousands of good American homes are never without it, among them the home of Mrs. C. A. Wright, 1831 Pasadena avenue, Long Beach, Cal. She had considerable trouble raising little Lawrence, three years old, but after regulating his bowels with small doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he began to thrive and she has had no further trouble with him. They use it generally in her home.

Syrup Pepsin saves the health of the family, and it saves doctors' bills. It is a guaranteed cure for any form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family, however young or old, for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest person.

A bottle can be obtained at any nearby drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is more economical and is bought by those who have already convinced themselves of its merits. Syrup Pepsin users learn to discard pills, salts, cathartics and purgatives generally as they are too great a shock to any average system.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

FORAKER MAY GET IN FIGHT

Expected to Make Try at Ohio Primaries for Senatorship.

Very Bitter Contest Between Him and Burton in Prospect.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 20.—If Joseph Foraker enters the race for United States senator against Theodore E. Burton, the present senior member of the upper house of congress, one of the most bitter political contests that has been waged in Ohio for years will follow.

Former Senator Foraker has not yet declared he will be a candidate. Neither has he declared he will not be. For that reason it is believed he will be.

The rural Republican press of Ohio has been filled within the last few weeks with editorials favorable to Senator Foraker, and there are indications that his old machine is busy cutting sentiment in his favor. The big city papers have steered shy of the contest which seems imminent. Heretofore, when Senator Foraker was suggested for any position in public life, he was quick to declare himself out of the running, and statements to the effect that he would not be a candidate were always forthcoming.

Refuses To Be Quoted.

Today the wily politician of Cincinnati refuses to be quoted. One word from the fire-eater, as he is known, would start the fuse on the political bomb and there would be an explosion in the Republican circles that would be felt in every corner of Ohio.

It was Foraker who fought the nomination of President Taft in 1908. It was Foraker who split the Ohio delegation at that time, and it was Foraker who declared that even should Taft be nominated and elected he would be a one-termer, and would make the most unpopular president the country has ever had.

To put him in absolute leadership of the party is the object of some of the younger as well as the older Republicans of the state.

The Progressives are in the meantime pushing the candidacy of A. L. Garford of Elyria, for he will be the nominee of that party without opposition. Two years ago he was the candidate for governor on the Progressive ticket and polled more than 300,000 votes.

With Foraker and Burton fighting it out, and a split in the Democratic party almost certain, the Progressives are sure Garford will win.

Boomed By Veterans.

There is said to be a feeling that Senator Burton cannot be re-elected. Foraker is being boomed by the Civil war veterans of the state.

Foraker answers all letters from his friends, and they are coming in by the hundreds, but his evasion of his candidacy is noticeable in every letter. He thanked his friends of their activity, declares that it is appreciated, and then—discusses some other subject.

The feeling prevails that he will finally cast his hat into the ring. If he does, the fight will continue until the state-wide primaries are held in August.

No other candidates are being considered on the Republican ticket, which only demonstrates, in the opinion of Progressives, that the standpatters of the old Republican party still dominate in Ohio.

MACHINE TO CHANGE IRRIGATION METHODS.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 20.—A giant steel wheel windmill, built within a circular steel-ribbed tower, has been invented by Father J. J. Donnelly, pastor of Saint Francis de Chalies's church, and bids fair to revolutionize irrigation all over the world.

Engineers have pronounced a working model practical and efficient. If it proves a success it will be a vast boon to the farmers in Colorado, especially those in the eastern and northeastern sections of the state, and in Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

GARDENING AND TEACHING THRIFT

Claimed Education in the First Will Establish the Second.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—School gardening is advanced as one of the best means of establishing habits of thrift and economy among children by the group of prominent men who are promoting the American Society for Thrift.

A summer school course, including a class in gardening, under the supervision of trained teachers, has been formulated by the society and indorsed by United States Commissioner of Education Claxton. In making the plan, the society desired not only to find use for the valuable school properties of the country during the long summer vacation, but to give the child recreation which would have educational and health promoting value.

At the last meeting of the society President Simon W. Straus, a banker, outlined the purposes and work of the organization. Mr. Straus sailed for Europe recently to investigate the cooperative societies and other welfare institutions.

"Actual tests," said Mr. Straus, "made particularly in Memphis, Tenn., on the value of school gardening, show astounding results.

"The school enrollment in this country from ages 15 to 20 years amounts to 1,769,161 boys and 1,824,661 girls. Averaging $10 as the net sum made by each of these pupils in the course of education by school gardening, one finds that more than $36,000,000 of actual wealth would be created.

"It is important first, to consider the fact that the public schools of the country represent an investment in buildings, grounds and equipment of nearly $2,000,000,000 and that this investment stands idle about one-fourth of the time, for no other reason than that in primitive days both teachers and pupils were needed on the farms during the three or four months in the summer. In our cities it is preposterous to shut the schools in summer and turn the children into the streets.

"In the agricultural days of the country boys had chores to do and girls had household duties, and thus they learned useful habits and ways of industry. But in our cities, particularly, we teach today from books and provide little that replaces the homely duties that taught the hands to work together.

"We all recognize the need of vocational training, but because of the cost of equipment needed it will be many years before the lower grades of public schools can adopt vocational training in any large way.

"For school gardening, on the other hand, the equipment is a small item and the vacant lots of the city which are now idle would be better for cultivation. Moreover, if teachers were paid as in other countries for the entire year, including a month's vacation, more men teachers would be available. But the matter of most importance is to keep the city boys from three months' contamination in the streets and to teach them how to become producers and how to market the produce."

VERY.

Buffalo Times: They were discussing certain acquaintances when Flint inquired:

"Saunders and Harris are close friends, aren't they?"

"Yes; neither can borrow a cent from the other," came the reply.

SATI STILL PRACTICED

Ancient Rite of Cremating Widow Not Dead in India.

Girl Recently Rescued From Burning Pyre But Fatally Burned.

London, Feb. 20.—For nearly 100 years the British have tried to suppress the ancient Indian rite of sati, or the self-immolation of Brahman and other high-caste widows at the cremation of their husbands. But from time to time a case is recorded and it is believed that there are many more cases which are never heard of.

From Calcutta there comes this week news of a case at Mymensingh early in the month. The night after the death of a Babu named Manoronjan, his widow, a girl of 14, prepared a funeral pyre in a corner of her house unknown to anyone, and rising early next morning she saturated her clothing with kerosene oil, ignited it and lay down on the pyre.

In a short time the whole mass was blazing, but a female relative succeeded in extinguishing the flames, despite the protests of the girl, who was so terribly burned that she died a short while afterward.

The origin of sati has been the subject of much learned contraversy, some authorities connecting it with the idea common to all primitive tribes that in the next world the dead chief or king needed the service or companionship of his wives and slaves, and his horses and dogs for the chase.

Revived in Sixth Century.

After centuries of disuse sati was revived in India in the sixth century of our era, and rose to its height in Western Bengal. In the eagerness to observe the rite many irregularities were overlooked and sati was permitted even when the husband died at a distance. In one case a woman whose husband was supposed to have died in a foreign land was burned with his turban, but soon after the tragedy the man turned up alive.

In the case of princes and potentates opportunity was afforded for wholesale sacrifices, as when 300 women were cremated with the body of Suchet Singh of Kashmir, and four wives and seven concubines perished with the Maharaja Ranjit Singh. Even in the humbler ranks the custom found its adherents, women in those cases being burned alive in the graves of their husbands.

Methods Varied.

The method of immolation by fire varied in different parts of India. In Southern India the women leaped into a pit in which her husband's body had been laid. In Western India she was laid in a grass hut supporting her husband's head with her left hand, while she set fire to the hut with a torch held in her right hand. Along the Ganges she prostrated herself upon the already lighted pyre, while in Nipal, where the custom survived the longest, the widow was laid beside the corpse, a pile of inflammable materials was placed behind their heads and lighted, and the bodies were kept down by long poles of green wood held by relatives on either side.

Many attempts were made both by native princes and British rulers to abolish the custom. Akbar decreed that self-immolation was permissible, but not compulsory, as in many cases it had too often been, the relatives by this means reducing the number of claims upon the dead man's estate. Jang Bahadur discouraged the rite in Nipal and directed that widows with young children should not be burned.

Under British rule the rite was declared illegal by Lord William Bentinck in 1829, but the case reported shows how difficult it is to eradicate a custom established for so many centuries, and it is believed that were British rule to disappear from India, the rite would be generally revived.

GERMAN JAW BREAKERS.

Indianapolis News: For some of their long words and phrases the Germans themselves have discovered a remedy. In 1909 an international aeronautical exposition was organized at Frankfort-on-the-Main. Its full name in German was "Internationale Luftschiffahrt-Ausstellung." After being abbreviated to "I. L. A.," this ultimatel/ became "Ila," and as the "Ila" the exposition has since been universally known. In like manner the "Allgemeine Luftfahrtzueg-Ausstellung" held last year in Berlin was known as the "Ala," and just now there is the "Damnu," which, to the busy man, is a happy substitute for "Deutsche Ausschuss fur den mathematischen und naturwissenschaftlichen Unterricht;" "Imuk," which signifies Internationale mathematische Unterrichts-Kommission, and "Datsch," a condensation of Deutsche Ausschuss fur technisch-Schuen.

Pimples Often the Source of Serious Blood Trouble

In thousands of instances blood troubles have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places. And the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, in the famous S. S. S.

This preparation stands alone as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it has accomplished all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. It contains one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each tiny cellular part of the tissues to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis, and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than most people are aware of. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 304 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with special information, to all who write describing their symptoms.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day, but be careful not to have something palmed off on you falsely claimed to be "just as good."

The only reason why anyone will try to sell you something in place of S. S. S. is the extra profit.

PEOPLE OF THE EQUATOR

Natives of Southern Nigeria Among Happiest People on Earth.

Old Legend Which Explains the Position That Woman Holds.

Washington, Feb. 20.—With no taxes to pay and no wearisome restrictions to undergo, living in a land so fruitful that a few weeks' labor is enough to supply them with food, home and clothes for a whole year, the Ekoi, natives of extreme Southern Nigeria, on the equator, should be, and probably are, among the happiest people on earth, according to P. A. Talbot, African explorer of London, Eng., in a communication to the National Geographic society.

"The Ekoi are devoted parents," he writes. "They have curious beliefs as to the advent and death of their babies. One charming superstition forbids all quarreling in a house where there are little children. The latter, so they say, love sweet words, kind looks and gentle voices, and if these are not to be found in the family into which they have been reincarnated, they will close their eyes and forsake the earth till a chance offers to return again amid less quarrelsome surroundings.

"To the Ekoi, dancing is one of the main occupations of life. With them the dance provides an outlet both for the dramatic instinct and for religious fervor. At the new year, and on all great festivals, the chief 'societies' of men, women and children come up to the station to give a series of dances. The Ekoi are a polygamous people, but the chief wife, not the husband, is the head of the house. Each wife has control over her children, who almost invariably go with her if she leaves her husband, and her rights as to property are most strictly safeguarded by native law."

Legend as to Man's Origin.

Mr. Talbot recounts one of the many old legends of the country, explaining the position which woman holds. At the beginning of things the legend runs, the world was peopled by women only. One day the earth god, Awbassi Nsi, happened by accident to kill a woman. Awbassi, sorry for the grief he had caused, offered to give them anything they should choose out of all his possessions. They begged him to mention what he had to give, and said they would all cry "Yes" when he named the thing which they wished to have. At length the list was nearly ended; one thing remained to offer and that was a man. They shouted "Yes" and, catching hold of one another, started dancing for joy. They took man, therefore, as compensation for the fellow-woman whom they had lost, and thus the men became the servants of women, having to work for them up to this day.

Religious Observances.

"The religious observances of the Ekoi are altogether a fascinating study," continues Mr. Talbot. "Beneath many modern corruptions and disfigurements are to be found traces of an older, purer form of worship—traces which carry us back to the oldest known Minoan civilization and link the belief that the modern Ekoi with that of the ancient Phoenician, the Egyptian, the Roman and the Greek. In some ways, indeed, the Ekoi form may be termed the most ancient of all, for whereas in the oldest known representations of Minoan bird and tree worship the tree has become almost entirely conventionalized into pillar shape, and later on becomes a mere pedestal to support the bird, among the Ekoi it still keeps its original form—that of the actual living tree. The smallest town has its juju tree."

INDOOR WORK REDUCES STRENGTH

because confining duties, lack of fresh air and sunshine gradually weaken even a strong constitution, and the enfeebled system readily accepts sickness and disease.

Scott's Emulsion checks such decline. Its pure cod liver oil is nature's grandest medicinal food while its hypophosphites act as a building tonic. It refreshes the body, puts vigor in the blood, strengthens the lungs, upbuilds the nerves and invigorates the whole system.

If you work indoors, Scott's Emulsion after meals will prevent much sickness and loss of time, and often thwarts tuberculosis—it builds up and holds up your strength.

MASTER PLUMBERS OPEN CONVENTION IN DULUTH

Duluth Is Cinderella of Three Chief Cities, Says B. P. Neff.

The nineteenth annual state convention of the Minnesota Master Plumbers' association opened today at the sun parlors of the Spalding hotel with about 100 delegates from various parts of the state in attendance.

With Frank H. Farrell of Duluth as chairman of the morning, the session was called to order shortly after the arrival in the city of the out-of-town delegates to the convention.

Rev. John W. Hoffman opened the meeting with prayer. Mayor W. I. Prince made the official address of welcome, and in greeting the delegates declared that they had chosen the right city to hold a convention in. Mayor Prince stated that Duluth always extended the cordial hand of welcome, and that the latch string of the city was ever out for the visitor.

J. B. Crane, commercial engineer of the Great Northern Power company, discussed in detail the proposition of supplying the city with electrical power. Mr. Crane explained how the power company was in reality acting as a jobing firm.

"We are a wholesale company supplying power to the retail consumers," said Mr. Crane, "and in supplying this power to the various agencies of the city we endeavor to utilize every means possible in the economical manufacture of this power. Most of our coal docks are operated with electricity, the street car system is operated through power supplied by us and there will be a plant at the Steel company's buildings that can use our power and in turn can supply power to us when needed."

In explaining the details of the system Mr. Crane went into various details and explained thoroughly the working sayetem of the company.

Duluth and Cinderella.

Bentley P. Neff compared St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth to the three sisters of Cinderella fame.

"There were three sisters," said he, "and two of them were immeasurably above poor little Cinderella. They went to parties and left little sister at home, shabby and abashed in her raiment of rags. And then suddenly the silver slipper was given to poor little Cinderella and she was able to outshine her sisters, who had so looked down upon the humble little sister of the family.

"Gentlemen, in the recent interstate commerce commission decision that has given to Duluth her just due, we have received the silver slipper that restored poor little Cinderella to her proper place.

"We have worked and fought hard for this. We have nothing against St. Paul or Minneapolis. They took advantage of certain conditions and created an artificial port of distribution at our expense. The railroads would naturally rather build up an inland point than a lake port, because of the long rail haul; but we have at last, by clean and hard fighting, secured rights that have increased the spread between Duluth and the Twin Cities to 28 cents, and have removed the bond of discrimination, and we believe that the future is to witness the growth of a great and magnificent city, one that you will be proud of, and one that will take full and proud rank with those two other great and magnificent cities of our state."

Mr. Neff made mention of the fact that Duluth led all of the cities in the Northwest in the building record of last January; that its wholesale and manufacturing concerns had made remarkable increases in business during recent months, and that it had a climate of perpetual pleasantness; a climate where the sun shone wonderfully in the winter time, and the balmy and cooling breezes cooled the heated brow in the summer; a city that welcomed visitors cordially; a city that was in the midst of the greatest potato patch in the world, and a city that was but just beginning to come into its own.

Mayor-elect Michael Boylan of Virginia, who is one of the delegates to the convention, said a few words. Mr. Boylan stated that he was at an utter loss to explain why a plumber could be elected mayor of a city, and could only partially explain the fact by stating that he was opposed by a baker.

The afternoon session of the visitors will be taken up with a trip to the plant of the Minnesota Radiator company. The delegates will be taken to the plant in special cars.

WILL DISCUSS ASSESSMENT

Protest on Final Payment for Polk Street Sewer.

As a special order of business the members of the West Duluth Commercial club will this evening discuss the assessment levied by the city for the final payment for the Polk street sewer. The assessment embraces approximately 8,000 pieces of property covering almost the entire district known as West Duluth and almost all of the property lying between Fiftieth and Sixty-ninth avenues from the water front to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad tracks.

The total cost of the sewer, according to figures of the city engineering department, was $44,153.85. The first assessment of this cost amounting to $18,486.74 has been paid and the final assessment amounting to $25,667.11 is now levied, making the average assessment for each lot about $3.42.

A part of this cost is being protested by the property owners owing to the extension made from the water front on Main street to the dock front. This cost is about $9,000 and the contract for it is said to have been let without proper authority. It is said that the job of making this extension was let to Contractor King without the formality of advertising for bids.

It is expected that a large number of the interested property owners will be present.

NEARLY 700 AT GOLDEN JUBILEE

Nearly 700 members of the Knights of Pythias and their friends attended the joint celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order at Dormedy's hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, last night. Impressive ritualistic services were held in public.

The principal feature of the program was an address given by James A. Wharton. In a dramatic manner he portrayed the history of Damon and Pythias, whose friendship formed the basis of the order.

The program also contained vocal selections by Miss Florence Hyland and quartet numbers by A. H. Smith, S. Morterud, Dr. F. W. Spicer and Louis Dworshak. The officers who put on the special ritual were: J. J. Lumm, chancellor commander; S. W. Hill, vice chancellor; W. M. Hilles, prelate; G. E. Duren, master of exchequer, and G. S. Andrews, master-at-arms. Following the program refreshments were served to the crowd and dancing was enjoyed.

PLAN "DOG" FEAST.

Mesaba Tribe Wil Glive Banquet to Degree Team.

A big "pow-wow" and "dog-feast" has been planned by members of Mesaba tribe No. 25 for Tuesday evening at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. The feast or banquet is being given by the local tribe in honor of the degree team from the Ojibway tribe of Superior, which during the winter has officiated at several large class initiations for the local Redmen.

The affair will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The committee in charge has arranged to seat 150 guests, all members of the order, at the banquet tables. An informal program of speeches, music and song is being planned.

James E. Foubister, chairman of the arrangements committee, will preside as toastmaster. The other members of the committee are: Ed Sugars, T. F. Fitzgibbons, John Ramsbottom, John Connolly, Charles Zell, William McCallum, F. A. Kersten, Nels Willner and Fred Krause.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS UNDER DISCUSSIIN.

The West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. B. Jones, 510 North Fifty-sixth avenue west. Mrs. Helen Stewart was leader and spoke on "Do Laws of Men Discriminate Against Women?"

Mrs. Stewart contended that in the majority of the states of the Union the laws did discriminate against women and that in some states the laws provided that men should have absolute control of children. She also touched on the suffrage question. Dr. A. T. Ishkanen also gave a short address in which he advocated the co-operation of all temperance societies in the political field.

Holiday Dance.

Members of the committee of Pocahontas council, Royal League, in charge of the Washington's birthday dancing party to be given Monday evening at the Dormedy hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, have planned to decorate the hall attractively for the occasion. Colors of the order, blue, red and yellow and national colors will prevail.

The party will be private, only members of the order and those receiving invitations to be admitted. Souvenirs of the occasion are being prepared by the committee. These are in the shape of miniature hatchets. The committee: Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mrs. T. W. Brain, Mrs. H. L. Fedi, Mrs. E. W. F. Boerner, Mrs. M. J. Murray, Mrs. W. H. Richter, Mrs. George L. Hise. Colonial costumes will be worn by members of the committee.

With the Curlers.

Rinks at the Western Curling club will begin play this evening in the Commercial club trophy event. The drawing for the event is being made this afternoon by the games committee.

Last evening two games were played in the Burns event. Wade won from Olson, 10 to 9, and Ilis defeated Brown, 11 to 5.

Members of the club who intend going to Minneapolis will leave this evening to take part in the stae championship bonspiel. Those who will go are: P. H. Wade, F. R. Wade, Neil J. Buckley, Earl Donald, Charles Harhold, Walter Dash, Ray McDougall and Alec Donald. F. H. Wade and N. J. Buckley will skip the two rinks.

Sleighride Party.

Members of the Adult Bible class of the Westminster Presbyterian church will enjoy a sleighride party this evening to Smithville. The members will meet at the home of Misses Clara and Agnes Winness, 714 North Central avenue, and will be entertained at luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ritchie of Smithville. About forty members are expected to go.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Girard, 828 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, have returned from a short visit to their farm at Munger, Minn.

The Sunshine Circle of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church will be entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Louis Larson, 5729 Tacony street.

Miss Irene Sinnott was guest of honor last evening at a shower given at Gilley's hall by members of Division No. 2, A. O. H. Miss Sinnott will be married in a few days to Chris Daugaard.

Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

Harry Walker, former resident of West Duluth, now of Minneapolis, visited in this end of the city yesterday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the West Duluth Baptist church will entertain at a social in the church parlors this evening. The program has been arranged by Miss Mary Barnes and Mrs. George Little.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all baking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturday evening. Adv.

Second Fire In Hospital.

Kankakee, Ill., Feb. 20.—Fire in the state hospital farm buildings last night caused a loss of $15,000 while the patients were attending a picture show. This is the second blaze at the hospital in ten days and its cause is a mystery.

$175,000 FOR M. E. MISSIONS.

New York, Feb. 20.—The board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church announced today that it had received a gift of $175,000 from a donor whose name is withheld. The money, the largest single gift ever made to the board, is to form a permanent endowment fund for mission work.

LIVE SPORTING GOSSIP

By BRUCE

AD WOLGAST is a pleasing kid. He is well dressed, quiet and likes to discuss other subjects rather than himself. One of the greatest lightweights of the days that have flitted since the passing of Gans, the little Dutchman has unbounded confidence in himself. If Wolgast doesn't believe implicitly that he can lick Ritchie, he is one of the cleverest actors in the world.

Here is the way the Cadillac youth puts it:

"At one time they were going to stop the fight between Ritchie and myself, for the simple reason that I was beating Ritchie so thoroughly. To get the champion into the ring I have had to concede seven or eight pounds. That was the only chance there was to meet Ritchie, and I am going to beat him despite the handicap of weight.

"Some people have formed the opinion that I am simply a glutton for punishment. In all my battles, 143, I have received three black eyes. The fight between Battling Nelson and myself was one of the toughest on record. I will hand it to Nelson for being tough, one of the very toughest in the world. Right now the poor fellow hasn't anything to show for his long career in the ring, and some of the newspapers have him worth a fortune.

"Ritchie can hit with that right—but I don't think he is a great boxer. He is tough, though—and game. I am right now, and believe me I will beat this fellow."

Conversing With Jones.

TOM JONES says that Billy Papke had all the natural qualifications to make him the heavyweight champion of the world. But the former manager of the Illinois Thunderbolt also admits that the heart of the man who at one time held the middleweight championship was not the stoutest in the world.

"Papke was tough, wonderfully strong and could punch," said Jones. "If he had the heart he could have beaten Ketchel or any of the others. In fact, Papke would have won the heavyweight championship. But he would dog it, and a champion has to have a heart.

"If Billy had the fighting heart of Wolgast or Ketchel he would have been the greatest of all time. No one knows how good Papke was—and I guess it don't do very much good to tell about it now."

The Chance for Jawn.

EVA TANGUAY has offered Johnny Evers $500 a week to go on the stage and tell what he knows or what he thinks of Charles W. Murphy. After reading some of the recent issues of the Chicago papers one might form the opinion that there is not very much left for Jawn to say.

But even at that the $500 every Saturday night should prove rather tempting for Jawn.

Jackey Is Very Careful.

THOSE swimming in the swift current of sporting events declare that there is little likelihood of Mike Gibbons and Packey McFarland meeting. Tom Jones came through yesterday with the statement that there was not a chance in the world for Gibbons to get a crack at the stockyards boy—and Jones added that if the fight came off, Gibbons would win.

Should McFarland crawl out of the meeting with Gibbons the Chicago boxer will be generally discredited. A boxer can't go along for years meeting men pounds heavier than himself and then sidestep the opportunity of meeting a man of his own poundage, without losing the respect of the followers of the boxing game.

Gehring May Come Here.

The Versatile Honus.

HAVING read that Honus Wagner has won first prize at a Pittsburg bird show with one of his fancy fowls, the idea occurs that the greatest of all German infielders is a very versatile man.

Honus is a baseball player, a basket ball player, is engaged in the automobile business, is an expert compounder of German dishes and is also a chicken raiser—a good one.

The Germans are versatile.

Boost for the Ski Tourney.

ON the first of March the Duluth Ski club will hold a tournament here. Most of the best riders of the National association will be entered. The men behind the club are desirious of making this one of the greatest meets of the present season. With the cracks of the country entered it is believed that the first tourney held locally under the auspices of the national association in the last two years, will prove an immense success and will provide some great sport.

The club needs the money and with one of the best ski cards that has been offered anywhere this season one of the old time crowds should be on hand.

THREE BIG GAMES NEARLY SECURED

Duluth Has Chance of Meeting Winnipeg, Victorias and Civics in Hockey Contests.

A wire received by officers of the Duluth Curling club yesterday from Charles McLennan, chairman of the publicity committee of the hockey club, who is in Winnipeg at the present time, stated that negotiations were almost closed for a series of hockey games here with the Victorias, Civics and Winnipegs of Winnipeg.

In the event of the closing of the negotiations that were started some weeks ago, Duluth will see three of the best hockey teams in Western Canada on the local ice.

Mr. McLennan went to Winnipeg with the express purpose of securing a game. Now it appears that there is the opportunity of securing three contests—and these with the best teams in the western portion of the Dominion.

The Canadian teams, it is believed, would create a decidedly fervid interest in the closing contests of the year. There can be only a few more games during the present season and if the three great teams of the Peg are signed up, hockey enthusiasts here will see some fine sport.

SEVEN RINKS TO MINNEAPOLIS

Duluth Will Make Strong Bid for State Curling Title.

DOWN TO FINALS.

Touchard and Rosenbaum Paired in Indoor Tennis Contest.

New York, Feb. 20.—G. F. Touchard and Dr. William Rosenbaum won their places in the final round of the national indoor lawn tennis championship singles here yesterday. Touchard, the playing-through champion, defeated B. M. Phillips 7-6, 6-3-3, while Dr Rosenbaum won from A. M. Lovibond 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

In the doubles Touchard and W. B. Cragin, Jr., gained the semi-final round by defeating B. M. Phillips and J. M. Steinacher, the latter the Cornell veteran, 6-4, 6-0.

The semi-finals in the doubles will be played today, Alexander and Pell getting into action.

AMATEURS ORGANIZING.

Will Have National Association of Baseball Clubs.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—At least eighteen cities are represented at a meeting here today for the purpose of organizing the National Amateur Baseball association of the United tates.

The meeting will be held in response to a call issued by the Chicago Amateur Baseball league, and it is planned to organize the amateur associations of the country into a body similar to that of the major leagues.

GREYHOUNDS' DERBY WON BY OUTSIDERS.

Liverpool, Feb. 20.—The Waterloo cup, the "derby for greyhounds," was won today by Dilwyn, a fawn dog nominated by A. F. Pope. The runner-up was Leuceryx, a black puppy, nominated by Maj. Robert McCalmont. Both hounds were outsiders, the betting before the first courses were run being 20 to 1 against Dilwyn and 50 to 1 against Leuceryx.

The course took place over the famous flats of the Altcar club. The winner takes the cup, valued at $500, given by the Earl of Sefton and a prize of $2,500.

The event is open to sixty-four subscribers at $125 each and is run off in five rounds.

BY BRUCE.

Pal Brown and Ad Wolgast may meet in Superior some time in April.

In a conference with Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast, yesterday, Art Abrams, one of the officials of the Twin Ports Athletic club, made a definite proposition to Jones regarding the matching of the Cadillac terror and the Minnesota championship contender.

"I will give you $2,000 guarantee for Wolgast with Brown," said Abrams, "and the money will be placed in a bank before the articles of agreement are signed."

Jones hemmed and hawed. Then he sat in silent meditation for one interesting moment.

"Tom O'Rourke has guaranteed me $10,000 for three fights," he replied, "and in the articles of agreement Wolgast is allowed to name his own opponents.

"Brown is one of the toughest boys in the country. I think Wolgast can beat him, but he is one of the real ones. I don't know if I would bring Wolgast up here and let him go against Brown for $2,000."

"Well, there are some people on the range who will make a side bet on Brown large enough to make it worth your while to come up here," replied Abrams, "in the event of your winning."

Wolgast May Come.

Before he left the conference the highly interesting Tom Jones declared that it was possible that there might be a date in April when it would be possible to match Wolgast with the boy whom many of the fans on the Minnesota iron ranges believe can take the measure of the former champion of the world.

"In the event of Wolgast beating Ritchie on the twelfth of the coming month," said Jones, "we will be awfully busy. I have a theatrical contract in my pocket at the present time that calls for $1,500 per week for twenty weeks. In the event of Wolgast whipping Ritchie we have another offer of $2,500 a week."

Under the lure of lucrative offers for easy work, it can be seen at the go off that it will be extremely difficult to bring Wolgast to this section of the country for a bout with a boy of the reputed class of Pal Brown.

It might be interesting to add that after a peep at Wolgast in action last evening, Brown remains firm in the rock-bound belief that he can take the measure of Wolgast.

"He is a good boy," said Brown, "but I honestly think I can beat him and any of the others who will make 133 pounds."

Match Would Draw Big.

It is figured by Abrams that a contest between Brown and Wolgast would draw the largest crowd that has attended any boxing bout in this section of the country, and in view of this opinion, the Twin Port official stated that he is willing to guarantee Wolgast any reasonable amount and seal the articles by depositing the entire amount of the guarantee in a bank.

Naturally the conditions of the meeting with Wolgast depend upon the showing Brown makes in preceeding bouts. To make his standing definite among the leaders of the lightweight class it will be absolutely necessary for Brown to show his worth against Johnny Tillman.

The Minnesota contender has long held that he was as good if not better than any of the legitimate 133 pound boys. Now is the time Brown must show, and it is up to him to force his way up to the point where the leaders must meet him.

GLEASON PREDICTS PENNANT FOR SOX

Optimistic Chicago Americans Start for Paso Robles, Their Training Camp—Tris Speaker a Hold-Out—Delehanty a Federal.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Believing that the development of one more top notch pitcher and an increase of speed on the base lines, will make the White Sox pennant winners, "Kid" Gleason left last night with the vanguard of the team for their training quarters at Paso Robles, Cal. Optimistic reports from Pitcher Ed Walsh, who is already on the ground and the good condition of the recruits who boarded the train were responsible for these predictions by Gleason.

The White Sox special carried fifty people, among whom were these twenty ball players:

Scnalk and Mayer, catchers; Lord, Berger, Blackburn and Sheehan, Infielders; Collins, Campbell and Kavanaugh, outfielders; Cicotte, Clarence Smith, Lathrop, Quarders, Timmerman, Wolfgang, Prough, Rogge, Halstein, Schreiber and Roth, pitchers.

On their way the Sox will be joined by Pitchers Jasper, E. W. Johnson and House and Infielder Barbour. Outfielders Bodie and Fournier, Catchers Sullivan and Kuhn, First Basemaan Chase and Pitchers Walsh and Russell are expected to report in California. The train is due at Paso Robles Sunday. Manager Callahan with others of the team will rush across the continent on their return from the world's tour and join the Gleason contingent on the Pacific coast.

The White Sox "first team" will play forty exhibition games on its tour, and the "second team" has thirty-eight scheduled.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—Efforts of Manager Callahan of the Chicago Americans to have Tris Speaker sign a contract with the Boston American for next season, have been unsuccessful, according to a cablegram received from Paris by President Lannin of the Red Sox.

Callahan was specially empowered by the Boston team to sign Speaker to forestall advances by the Federal league agents but Speaker told Callahan the cablegram said, that he would not sign with the Boston club or with the Federals until after his return to this country.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 20.—Jim Delehanty, former Detroit second baseman and last season with the Minneapolis American association team, said here last night that he has signed with the Federal league.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 20.—Delehanty was given his release last Saturday, and not at the close of the season, according to President M. E. Cantillon of the Minneapolis club. Mr. Cantillon says he gave Delehanty his release on the representation that he expected to become manager of a team in a minor league.

Nick Allen, a catcher on the Minneapolis American association team, has announced that he had signed with the Federals. Allen said that he would play in the team of which Bill Bradley is manager.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—According to an announcement by James A. Gilmore, president of the new Federal league, Artie Hoffman, one-time Chicago National league player, and Jimmie Block, former Chicago American pitcher, have signed contracts.

Conferences which indicated that Jake Stahl, former Boston Americans' manager, may undertake the managership of the Brooklyn Americans were not agreed upon last night.

New York, Feb. 20.—"Birdie" Cree, released yesterday by the New York Americans to Baltimore, was for several years one of the hardest hitting outfielders in the major league. He injured his arm in the latter part of 1912, however, and last season he fell off badly in his batting.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—Officials here last night denied that Grover Land had been signed as a member of the local Federal league club. Land was released to the Indianapolis American association team by Toledo last fall.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—A. Rankin Johnson, pitcher of the Syracuse team of the New York State league, signed with the Boston Americans yesterday. Johnson's record last season was twenty won and seven lost. He began professional ball in Texas in 1908. Walter Snell, formerly catcher of the Brown university nine, was released to the Toronto team of the International league by the Boston Americans yesterday.

CENTRAL LEAGUE INVADES TOLEDO

Springfield Team May Be Transferred—Switch in Central Association.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 20.—The Central league has been awarded the Toledo territory, vacated by the American association, according to an announcement made here by Louis Heilbroner, president of the organization. He said that he had been notified by Secretary Farrel of the National association that his request for the territory had been granted.

A meeting of the convention of the Central league will be held within ten days, Mr. Heilbroner said, to determine whether one of the present franchises would be transferred to Toledo or the circuit increased to eight clubs.

Sol Meyer, former owner of the American association club at Indianapolis, and owner of the Springfield franchise of the Central league, said several days ago that he would transfer the Springfield franchise to Toledo.

Burlington, Iowa, Feb. 20.—At the Central association special meeting yesterday, the questions as to which cities would be taken in to fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of Kewanee and Monmouth, was settled. Clinton was given a birth in the league with no opposition by unlanimous vote of the directors.

There were two contestants for Kewanee's franchise—Rock Island, Ill., and Marshalltown, Iowa. Marshalltown was given the place after a heated discussion. The selection of Marshalltown makes every city in the Central association an Iowa team.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 20.—The Wisconsin-Illinois baseball league will open the season May 6 or 7 and close Sept. 13, it was decided at the annual meeting. The schedule of 126 games was retained, the agitation for 140 games meeting with little support.

The transfer of the Fond du Lac franchise to Menomonee was ratified. Freeport, Ill., through George Bubser, applied for the franchise held by Wausau, Wis. The application will be considered at a meeting in about ten days when the schedule will be drafted.

WANTS FIGHTERS FOR AUSTRALIAN TOUR.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Reginald L. Baker, the Australian boxing promoter, is in Chicago in a quest for boxers to make a tour of his country. He expects to remain here several days before leaving for New York. Among the fighters with whom he has arranged to talk is Packy McFarland.

Racquet Championship Plays.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—C. G. Osborne and H. F. McCormick, both of Chicago, won their matches yesterday in the national amateur racquet championship competition. Osborne, by the score of 12-15, 15-8, 15-10, 15-7, defeated C. C. Pell of New York by whom he was beaten in the golf racquet contest at Tuxedo recently. McCormick won from N. W. Cabot of Boston, 15-10, 14-17, 15-4, 15-10. Lawrance Waterbury of New York, present national champion, defeated C. C. Pike of Chicago 15-5, 15-8, 15-12.

AMERICAN SOO BEATEN IN EXCITING CONTEST

Duluth Takes the First Game of Series By 5 to 2 Score.

Curling Club Seven Shows Better Team Work Than Visitors.

With the count tied at 2 to 2, the Duluth Curling club hockey team made three scores in the final ten minute period of the intitial game with the Michigan Soo team and put a crimp in the pennant aspirations of the Michigan outfit by winning by the score of 5 to 2.

With the first half ending with the score of 1 to 1, the result of the contest was so uncertain that the crowd was literally kept on the tip toe of expectancy throughout the game. The play in the last ten minutes took the crowd by storm.

By the display of hockey necessary to the defeat of the seven that is tied with Calumet for the league leadership, Duluth showed that the team is playing the best game of the present season. Not only in team work is the improvement in the team shown, but there is more dash and more quickness to take advantage of openings than was exhibited earlier in the season.

Linder Is a Star.

Capt. Joe Linder, one of the gamest and most gallant players who ever played the game, shone in a stellar role. On defense Joseph was a bear—and on offensive he rushed the puck out of the danger zone time and time again, repeatedly making rushes that carried the puck down to the Soo net.

Nick Kahler was the scoring demon of the Curling club aggregation, the stocky center shooting three of the five goals, and James Huntington Owen scoped the remainder.

Owen gave one of the best exhibitions of the season on the wing job, and this despite the fact that the former high school star is suffering from a bad knee.

The skating of James was one of the features of the game, his speed enabling him to take the puck down to the opposing net.

Olson was a star on defense for Duluth. Russell Faversham Barkell played one of the best games of his hockey career, carrying the puck repeatedly into the territory of the enemy and breaking up combination plays that might have been productive of scores but for the activity of the local left wing.

Hill was the greatest star of the visitors. He was both ubquitous and persistent and his general activity was the greatest thorn in the collective side of the locals. Hill covered acres of ice and was always, throughout the two halves and the extra period of play, right where the speeding puck was.

Captain Murray of the visitors played a strong and consistent game for the visitors on defense.

Kahler Starts Scoring.

Nick Kahler caged the first score of the evening from a scrimmage in front of the net in just nine minutes of play. After this score the play drilled along almost to the close of the half without a score. At times the play was rather slow, but so uncertain was the outcome that the interest never lagged for a moment.

Just after the passing of the twenty-first minute of the opening half, Godin took the puck up the side and made a pretty sideline shot from a rather difficult angle for the tying count.

In the second half Owen took the puck down the side and slipped it neatly over to Nick Kahler, who shot it by the vigilant Tallon in just forty seconds—not minutes—of play.

Enemy Campbell in scarcely five minutes later, dampened enthusiasm and ardor considerably by neatly getting the puck as it bounced back from Belleck and shooting it back into the net. This again tied the score, and neither team was able to break the tie before the last ten minutes of play.

Kahler got one on the side lines and promptly sent it in, breaking the tie. Linder took the puck the length of the ice shortly after, and evading all of the forwards of the invaders, shot the rubber over to Owens, and the latter promptly shot the goal.

Owens grabbed the puck in the center of the ice and, carrying it unaided down in the vicinity of the Soo goal, caged it neatly for the final score of the game.

Duluth Looks Good.

In the first game with the invaders Duluth looks to have a better team than the boys who are tied in the pennant chase with Calumet. The game of this evening, the last official league game scheduled for Duluth the present season, by the way, may bring about a reversal of form, but Capt. Linder says his men will make it two straight and thus wind up the season in the proper manner.

A small crowd witnessed the contest. It is expected that, in view of the result of the first contest and also in view of the fact that the game of this evening will be the league windup, there will be a large crowd on hand to see the final contest of the series.

The lineup and summary:

WOLGAST IN EXHIBITION

Former World's Champion Shows in Action Against Potts.

Ernie Potts, the Minneapolis promoter, lost a small bank roll on the initial and possibly the last appearance of Ad Wolgast in Duluth, there being a small crowd present last evening at the Auditorium to witness the athletic show.

Pal Brown came over from Superior expressly for the purpose of appearing in a sparring exhibition with the former champion of the world. Brown was late in arriving, due to the fact that he is appearing in an act at one of the Superior theaters, and when he started to hustle into his ring duds, Potts told the range lad that he would go on with Wolgast.

Potts is a former fighter and a very clever boxer. In the mere boxing slce of the game he showed as much knowledge of ringmanship as Wolgast. But several times during the three rounds the Cadillac wonder showed plainly what he could do to little Ernie if he felt so disposed.

Wolgast is a fighter—a fighter pure and simple. He has never made serious pretense to great cleverness. Strength, toughness and the ability to get in close and flail away with both hands, and flail with deadly effect, are the qualifications that brought Ad up from a preliminary boy in his cigar making days at Milwaukee, to the point of affluence and championship attainment.

Wolgast Is Fast.

The Michigan boy showed flashes of speed in the three rounds of work, but it is difficult to judge of the worth of a fighter in an exhibition.

In so far as physical condition goes, Wolgast looks good. His skin is clear, and while he carries some flesh, the boy who hopes to shade Ritchie in Milwaukee next month has the appearance of a man in prime shape to start a siege of hard training.

Theodore Peter of St. Paul, one of the greatest lightheavyweight wrestlers in the world, went up against a willing and strong boy in big Ray Turner of Superior. The lad from across the way has the natural strength of an ox, and while he does not know the fine points of the game and is unable to make effective use of his great natural strength, he brought applause from the spectators by the remarkable battle he gave Peter, considering the fact that Turner is a comparative novice at the game.

The crowd was with Turner to a man and gave frequent voice to its sentiment. Peter had to uncork a lot of stuff in the second bout to pin the broad shoulders of Turner to the canvas for the second fall.

Joe Carr, released from quarantine last week, is not as yet in prime condition. However the Minneapolis middleweight had very little difficulty in beating Young Beell of Milwaukee in straight falls.

Joseph was far too powerful and knew too much about the game for the youngster, and fastened effective holds on at will. Beell was game and willing, but could do nothing with his burly antagonist.

CHAMPION RIDERS WILL APPEAR AT LOCAL SKI TOURNEY

Thorleif Knudsen, European champion ski rider, having annexed this title at Christiania, Norway, last season, and Rasnar Omtvedt, holder of the world's ski distance mark of 169 feet, will ride at the meet of the Duluth Ski club, which will be held on the Chester Park slide on the first day of March.

Announcement of the securing of the consent of the two famous riders was made yesterday by the officials of the club.

In addition to Knudsen and Omtvedt, the officers of the local club state that there will be riders from all of the clubs of the Northwest and that the tournament here promises to be by far the greatest that has been held under the auspices of the National association this season, not excepting the National meet at Virginia.

Invitations to all of the clubs of the National association were mailed yesterday. As the meet of next month will be the first held under the auspices and sanction of the National association since the local club blithely leaped the traces of the parent organization, it is certain that the officers of the local club will have the enthusiastic assistance of the officers and board of directors of the National to make the coming meet a cerker.

MOST SUCCESSFUL BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 20.—With the rolling of the last ball in the five-men shift late last night, the sixth annual tournament of the International Bowling association in progress here since Feb. 11, came to an end. There were no changes in the standings of the leaders of the five-men teams and but few changes in the double and single divisions. The 1915 tournament will re held here.

Officers of the association declare the tournament was the most successful of any yet held.

MUSIC AND SKATING AFTER HOCKEY GAME.

The hockey game that was scheduled between the Northerns and Kelleys at the curling rink for this evening has been called off and there will be skating and music after the game between Duluth and the American Soo.

The Third Regiment band will furnish the music and immediately following the contest the rink will be turned over to the skaters.

Shugrue Shades Dundee.

Waterbury, Conn., Feb. 20.—Joe Shugrue of Jersey City shaded Johnny Dundee of New York in a fast twelve-round match last night. Shugrue's ability to punish Dundee at close quarters gave him a slight advantage. Both are lightweights.

PIONEER OF AITKIN DIES

Warren Potter, Head of Potter-Casey Company, Passes Away.

Resident of Aitkin Forty-Three Years—Civil War Veteran.

Aitkin, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Death came to Col. Warren Potter at his home here this morning, two hours after arriving from Rochester, where he had been under the care of Drs. Mayo since December. As the end was approaching he expressed a desire to come home to die, and a special car was secured. He was 72 years of age, and is survived by his wife and four daughters.

Col. Potter was the oldest and foremost pioneer of this portion of Northeastern Minnesota and had amassed a large fortune. He was the head of the Potter-Casey company, one of the largest mercantile corporations in Northern Minnesota, the store occupying nearly one whole block, and also owned the Willard hotel and had other large individual interests.

A Native of Maine.

A resident of Aitkin for forty-three years, Mr. Potter was a native of Bowden, Me., where he was born on Jan. 15, 1842. He came West with his parents at the age of 18 to Reed's Landing on the Mississippi river, May 9, 1860, just four days before Minnesota was admitted into the Union of states. His father took up a farm in Troy, Wabasha county, Minnesota, where he remained until the fall of 1859, then struck out for himself, going to Menominee, Wis., to learn the carpenter's trade at the princely salary of $6 a month, half of which he saved and has to this day. He continued here down to 1862. In the summer of that year he was employed as a master carpenter by Capt. William Downs at Downsville, where he had charge of a crew of eight men building three houses at the same time. The war of the rebellion was now at its height and the president had made a call for more men.

Fought in Civil War.

Mr. Potter responded to it by enlisting in the First Wisconsin at Menominee and went direct to the front with his regiment, joining the army of the Potomac at Antietam, under the command of Gen. McClellan, and later saw service under Gens. Burnside, Kooker, Meade and finally Grant. His regiment fought under Gen. Phil Sheridan in the battles of the Shenandoah valley, and saw service in Washington, D. C., when Gen. Early was shelling the national capital. His regiment was sent to New York to quell the draft raiders, but when it arrived there was not a raider to be found anywhere, for the New York World had published articles that these Wisconsin men would "eat them up alive." Few of the volunteer men saw harder fighting, for he was in the battle of Gettysburg, the battle of the Wilderness, and was present at the surrender of Gen. Lee. His services to his country having been fulfilled, Mr. Potter returned to civil life and located in Aitkin in the fall of 1871, embarking in the general merchandise business and extensive logging as a side issue.

I have been particularly fortunate, however, in getting employment from the various municipalities hereabout, townships, school districts and villages, through which employment I have acquired considerable training in public affairs and an intimate acquaintance with the people generally. I am now the city attorney of the city of Eveleth. For two years under John H. Norton I was the range assistant county attorney. My work during this period impelled me often to ask why do men who seem to be like the rest of us break the laws of their state. I wondered if legislation or lack of legislation, both state and national, had anything to do with this. In the month of November, 1910, I was elected to the state legislature.

Service in State Senate.

"As senator from the old Forty-ninth district I have served two terms and an extra session in the legislature of Minnesota. I have witnessed and participated in the defeat of two tonnage tax bills, the reapportionment of the state into legislative and congressional districts, the enactment of laws submitting to the people for constitutional amendment provisions for the initiative, the referendum and the recall, the making of appropriations compelling state lands in these northern counties to do a little something by way of helping our settlers, and the passage of the state -wide primary law, the workmen's compensation act, the minimum wage law for women and children and the good roads legislation under which we are now working. My record in the legislature, being recent, is so well known to you that I need not set it out here. Upon that record any my work in the Iron Range country, I must necessarily stand. Nowadays one I sjudged by what he does rather than by what he says, and therefore, in asking you to support me, I invite you to make inquiry into my business, professional and public life.

The District's Interests.

"Few congressional districts are greater than ours. We are rich in mines, forests, agricultural lands, business and manufacturing establishments in various ways and at different times are affected by national legislation. Tariff and labor questions, reforestation, immigration and homesteading, regulation of manufacturing and the ways of doing business, and the very vital question of transportation by water and by rail, discriminations therein and agreements therein doing away with the competition that should naturally exist, are demanding our closest attention. The representative from this district has a big work to do. To it he should give his entire time, all the while keeping in touch with his constituents that he may know what they are thinking and doing. This work I want to do and feel that I am prepared to do and therefore I submit my candidacy to the people of the district. Sincerely yours, "JAMES P. BOYLE.

"Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 19, 1914."

the sheriff's office had resorted to a system of false prosecutions "to railroad strikers to the penitentiary." Kerr offered to put in evidence the record of the trial of Fodar for assault with intent to murder Under Sheriff William Heikkala to support the charge.

"We will attempt to show," said Kerr, "that Heikkala testified falsely that Fodar fired point blank at him, when he went to his house to arrest Fodar on a charge of assault; that the judge and prosecuting attorney went to Fodar's house and inspected the bullet hole, which proved that Fodar's pistol was not fired in the direction of Heikkala; that he was dismissed to save the face of the under sheriff, and that in spite of the showing that he had given false testimony, he was retained by the sheriff."

Offered Record of Trial.

Congressman Switzer objected to the acceptance of Fodar's testimony as being hearsay, and Mr. Kerr then offered the record of the trial. Chairman Taylor directed Kerr to furnish the committee with the record of the trial, explaining that the committee would decide after inspecting it whether to admit it.

John Numovorni, business manager of a Finnish newspaper, charged that Sheriff Cruse refused the protection of deputies he asked for the paper's plant in Hancock after he had been informed by an unknown man over the telephone that the plant was to be raided.

Several strikers testified that the Tuomola boarding house was fired at by deputies, and said they were kept in jail for varying periods without warrants, and that when they returned to the house they found many personal articles missing, including money and clothing.

Mrs. Tuomola swore that her house was raided and searched by deputies after the men had been taken away.

PERISHES IN THE FLAMES

Superior Grocery Man Burned to Death in Residence Fire.

Peter A. Flinn, 46 years old, a well known grocer and resident of Superior for more than twenty years, was burned to death yesterday afternoon in a fire caused by an overheated cook stove in the kitchen of his boarding house at 1062 Bay avenue. Mr. Flinn was sleeping in a bedroom off the kitchen and his only avenue of escape was cut off by the fire.

The fire started shortly before 5 o'clock and was discovered a few minutes later by Mrs. Flinn, who turned in an alarm to the department. She called her son-in-law, William Flaherty, who attempted to rescue Mr. Flinn. The only other avenue of escape besides the door to the kitchen from the bedroom in which Flinn was sleeping, was a window to an adjoining shed and when this window was broken the bedroom was found in flames.

When the department arrived the entire rear part of the building was in flames. The damage caused to the building is estimated at about $2,000. The fire was confined principally to the kitchen, dining room and two bedrooms.

When Mr. Flinn was found his body was badly burned. It was lying on the floor, indicating that he had awakened on the alarm of fire and had tried to get out of the rooms.

Mr. Flinn is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. William Flaherty. He owned two grocery stores, at 1080 Bay street and 21 Winter street, besides the boarding house. He was a member of the A. O. H., which probably will have charge of the funeral.

ACCUSE THE MIILTIAMEN

woman, with a handkerchief tied over her head, was questioned through an interpreter. She told merely of leaving the children alone in the house and finding them bruised and crying when she returned. She said a purse that had contained $200 had been opened and that the money was gone.

Private "Humored" Questioner.

Joseph Smith, a militia private, who on Tuesday gave Congressman Evans thrilling details of bloody conflicts between strikers and mine guards, yesterday denied on the witness stand that he had seen anybody killed. The witness talked with Mr. Evans when the latter made an incognito trip through the coal mining districts. Smith admitted he "was in a talkative mood that day," and told Mr. Evans "you seemed so inquisitive that I thought I'd humor you."

The committee then heard testimony concerning a contract printed in Slavish, which some strikebreakers signed before coming here. It was said that the contract could not have been understood by many Slavs.

Pertaining to the allegation that some Slavish societies forbid their members to work during strikes, the committee ordered Rodas Mendensia, a minor, to produce a copy of one organization's constitution.

Witness Tiska was produced at the opening of the afternoon session. Mr. Costigan demanded information as to why the witness had been summoned.

Denies Promise of Money.

"I am advised he has made the statement that the testimony he gave here was given for a consideration," said Judge Northcutt.

The witness thereupon began his testimony.

"Did anyone promise you anything for testifying?" he was asked.

"Not in money."

Asked further about alleged bribery, he said he was told that if he stayed in Trinidad to testify he would be aided in getting back to Pittsburg. He said that this promise had been given by Frank Cetz, said to be an organizer for the United Mine Workers of America.

On cross-examination the witness denied he had been induced to testify to anything untrue at his former appearance.

ishing touches on the bill proposing to prohibit holding companies from owning competing concerns.

Chairman Covington of the house interstate commerce sub-committee on the interstate trade commission bill was prepared today to go ahead with the executive conference, to frame the measure in the light of hearings, and within the limitations of President Wilson's suggestion to avoid any provisions that might impair the efficiency of the Sherman law.

Single Consolidated Plan.

The indications today were that the bills relating to holding companies, trade relations, interlocking directorates and defining trade restraints would be presented finally to the house as a single consolidated plan to strengthen the anti-trust law.

Conferences between Chairman Sims and other members of the railway capitalization sub-committee of the interstate commerce committee indicated that the following propositions, in all probability, would be embodied in the first drafts of the proposed railway capitalization law:

Prohibition against any railroad corporations issuing stock, bonds or other indebtedness, except for actual necessary railroad property purposes, so as to add to the railroad's value, and the issue then only to be upon approval of the interstate commerce commission.

Personal Responsibility.

Personal guilt and responsibility of directors and other officers, including imprisonment penalties for violation of the proposed law.

Reasonable restrictions on the amounts of stock and bond issues.

Guarantee by applying railroad, as a condition precedent to approval of stock or bond issues, that the proceeds will apply to the railroad's upkeep, extension or other legitimate ascertained use.

Restrictions to make impossible the disposition of stock or bond issues except for bona fide value in open market, and to prevent passing them around to friends "on the inside" at advantageous prices.

Public Hearings.

Public hearings upon applications of railroads and other common carriers to issue stock and bonds, upon notice to the particular railroad and to the department of justice and possibly to the railroad commission of the state or states affected.

Regulation of purchases of railroad supplies to prevent officers selling to themselves through double corporation connection.

Avoidance of finality, or guarantee effect of the interstate commerce commission's "O. K." on stock and bond issues in case of subsequent court or other proceedings.

Authority to competent courts to enjoin all issues contrary to this proposed law, upon suit of the United States or any officer or stockholder of the offending railroad.

WILLIAM S. BENTON, BRITISH CITIZEN, IS EXECUTED BY VILLA

will be that the man was shot because he entered Villa's office and started to draw a gun, although the cousin says Benton did not go to Juarez armed.

Benton had been in Mexico for about twenty-five years. He was about 45 years old.

Villa's act is stigmatized by Benton's numerous friends as wanton murder. No single act of any of the recent revolutions, not excepting the Cumbre tunnel disaster, has so stirred indignation. When extra editions were placed on the streets they were frantically seized upon and read.

Acquainted Many Years.

Benton and Villa have been acquainted for many years. Benton knew him when, as an outlaw more or less accepted as a part of the Mexican social fabric, the bandit crossed the Benton ranch west of the city of Chihuahua. The ranch of 100,000 acres is known as Los Remodlos, and is considered one of the best in Mexico. It is well watered, contained fine pasturage, crops grew abundantly and the owner was proud of his orchard, which succeeding bands of revolutionists cut up into fire wood. Benton paid $125,000 for it, but improvements are said to have brought the value close to $1,000,000.

It was with the assurance of this acquaintance behind him that the Scotchman, whose courage, if not discretion, was admired, went to Villa with complaint of the depredations committed on his property.

Yesterday Villa, who has consistently denied that he had Benton in custody, told a reporter that Benton was armed when he made his visit. Friends of the ranchman assert indignantly that Benton, while of fiery temper and ready to use his fists, was of sober habits and never was known to carry a gun. His reason for going unarmed was his own knowledge of his temper.

Disappeared After Quarrel.

In the course of the interview Benton and Villa quarreled and Benton was lost to view of his friends. James Hambleton, an Englishman, and others, including reporters, exhausted every means of ascertaining the fate of the missing man, but everywhere were met with evasions and denials.

Consul Edwards was the first to learn the true facts. He gave Mrs. Benton only a bare outline of the case.

"I have telegraphed all details at my command to Washington," said the consul, "and if made public, it must be from there. I pledged my word to Villa not to make the details public."

Asked what disposal had been made of the body, Edwards replied:

"I do not think it will be seen on this side of the border."

Villa's sudden departure with his staff this morning is regarded as flight from the storm of indignation which was presaged by the interest manifested in the disappearance of Benton.

Benton's ways were blunt, but his friends admired him for them, and there were moist eyes and muttered imprecations among them when they heard the news.

"No foreigner is safe in Mexico," was the general comment, and a suggestion that a mass meeting of protest be held here met with considerable favor.

Bryan Orders Probe.

Washington, Feb. 20. — Secretary Bryan, after a cabinet conference, ordered an immediate investigation of the killing of W. S. Benton, the English ranch owner, at Juarez.

Secretary Bryan announced the news of Benton's death as he went into a cabinet meeting at the White House. He declared he had absolutely no details. An official dispatch from Consul Edwards merely announced the death of the Englishman.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, who called upon Secretary Bryan to ask for information of Benton, also was told of the news.

Benton was arrested in Juarez last Tuesday and had not been heard from since. His wife and friends feared he had been executed by Gen. Villa, the Constitutionalist leader. Villa at first denied knowing of Benton's whereabouts, but yesterday in conversation with inquirers, intimated that he knew something about the Englishman, and added that Benton had threatened him with a revolver. Villa was quoted as expressing profane indifference toward an appeal to the British ambassador at Washington.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice asked the state department yesterday to take steps for the protection of the British subject. Mrs. Benton had received an unconfirmed report that her husband was a prisoner in a Juarez jail. He was largely interested in mining and had a 100,000-acre ranch in Chihuahua.

Spaniards Accuse Rebels.

Madrid, Feb. 20.—Stories of the shooting to death of seventy-five Spaniards and the burial alive of a number of others by Mexican rebels at Torreon, are published at length in most of the newspapers of Madrid and the provinces today. The incidents were narrated by passengers on board the Spanish steamer Antonio Lopez, which sailed from Vera Cruz on Jan. 27 and has arrived at Cadiz.

Editor To Be Sent Abroad.

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—Gen. Victoriana Huerta celebrated the anniversary yesterday of his accession to the presidency with a review of 3,500 troops of the garison and the formal decoration of the regimental colors of the Twenty-ninth, the organization which placed Madero under arrest. The president conferred decorations on several officers for distinguished service.

The ceremony was attended by the American charge d'affaires and the other members of the diplomatic corps.

Salvador Diaz Miron, editor of El Imparcial, against whose anti-American editorials Charge O'Shaugnessy has protested, is to be sent out of the country according to President Huerta, who has assured Mr. O'Shaughnessy that Miron is to be given a mission abroad.

Castillo in El Paso.

El Paso, ex., Feb. 20.—Maximo Castillo, alleged bandit and author of the Cumbre tunnel disaster, whose depredations have terrorized settlers around Chihuahua for months, has been brought here and placed in a cell next to that of his former friend, Gen. Ynez Salazar, at Fort Bliss.

Castillo, a mild-looking little man, weighing perhaps 120 pounds, was almost lost among his guard of American troopers. The soldiers were forced to fight off a rush of sightseers before they could put their prisoner in an automobile truck for the trip to the fort.

Three men and two women captured with him were placed in the prison camp. Talking to reporters, Castillo said he was guiltless of the tunnel tragedy.

Neutral Zone Assured.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Establishment of a neutral zone in which non-combatants of Torreon and vicinity may find safety, when the Federals and Constitutionalists clash in the next great battle of the Mexican revolution was assured when Gen. Villa agreed to the plan. Gen. Huerta already had been approached on the subject through the American embassy at Mexico City, and he readily assented, with the stipulation that binding assurances that the zone would be respected be obtained from the Constitutionalists.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy, scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. Agent, Wirth's drug store, 13 West Superior street.

1,000 Complete Treatments Absolutely Free of Cost.

I accidently discovered a way to rid myself in a single night of all the wrinkles, forehead furrows, sagging cheeks, and other repulsive, beauty-destroying disfigurements with which fifteen years of trouble, worry and illness, had seared and seamed my face. Beauty specialists and all other treatments, preparations, appliances, or contrivances had absolutely failed.

500 women have now tried this new method without a single failure. As a special introductory offer I now want 1,000 more to try it with the understanding that they will recommend the method to their friends after it proves entirely successful.

Send No Money.

You incur no obligation in writing me, and if, after seeing just what the method consists of, you do not care to try it, I will forward postage for its return. Write promptly before it is too late. (Postage to England, only 2 cents). Send no money for the treatment, but if convenient you may enclose a 2-cent stamp for return postage. Address ELEANOR LAWTON, (Suite 713), 193-197 Regent St., London, W. England, and your letter will receive prompt attention under plain sealed cover.

Railroads

ARBITRATORS GIVE TRAINMEN MORE PAY

Increases Go to 5,000 Employes of the Burlington.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Increases in wages approximating $100,000 annually are granted 5,000 trainmen of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad by a board of arbitration which has been sitting for three months.

The award grants full payment for all services performed, either in miles or hours, but denies in almost every instance requests for extra payments for services incidental to regular duties. No reductions in pay were made.

A minimum wage per month was established for the first time for passenger train men, and is as follows:

Conductors, $134.20; baggage men, $80.85; brakemen and flagmen, $74.80.

Conductors, $112.80; collectors, $85; brakemen, $72.

Granted Nineteen Demands.

The board granted nineteen important demands of the men for changes in rules governing both the freight and passenger service. Many of these grants included increases in pay for freight conductors and trainmen.

With few exceptions, the award placed the compensation of way freight trainmen on the mileage basis, conductors to receive 4.75 cents and brakemen 3.25 cents per mile, 100 miles or less, ten hours or less to constitute a day. The grant preserved for the employes all existing rates which may be higher. Other important awards are:

Trainmen must be paid for lost time through the failure of the company to call them for service.

Trainmen taking stock to the Union Stockyards, Chicago, are allowed extra pay, with a minimum of three hours.

Passenger trainmen are relieved of work in connection with their trains at terminals where yardmen and car inspectors are employed.

Pay of crews of regular work trains to be increased whenever the daily mileage exceeds their daily rate.

The award denied the request of the employes for a third brakeman on all local freight trains.

LEAVES M. & ST. L. ROAD.

General Superintendent Lake Follows Late Chief to Alton.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 20.—C. S. Lake, general superintendent of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, left here to become general superintendent of the Chicago & Alton road, and his place is taken by E. E. Kerwin, former division superintendent of the Central railroad of New Jersey, who arrived in Minneapolis yesterday. W. G. Bierd, who resigned the vice presidency of the Minneapolis & St. Louis to become president of the Chicago & Alton, came to Minneapolis from the New Haven road, as did Mr. Lake. C. W. Huntington, who succeeded Mr. Bierd as vice president, came from the Central railroad of New Jersey, from which property Mr. Kerwin also comes.

N. P. EARNINGS LARGER.

Road Gained in Minnesota Last Year According to Report.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—The Northern Pacific Railway company earned $10,250,455.81 in Minnesota during the last half of 1913, according to a report filed with the state tax commission. The tax at 5 per cent is $512,522.79.

For the entire year the Minnesota earnings were $18,044,006.90, as compared to $17,380,477.73 in 1912, or an increase of $663,529.17. The 1913 tax totals $902,200.34, as compared to $695,219.11 for 1912, when the rate was but 4 per cent.

Express Companies File.

The Adams Express company report of earnings indicates it has been slightly affected by the parcel post invasion. For 1913 the total net earnings were $53,941, and for 1912, $58,739. The tax at 8 per cent on last year's business is $4,607.12.

The Great Northern Express company also shows a slight decrease in earnings. Last year the total net revenue was $190,149.51, and in 1912 it was $192,468. The 1913 tax is $15,211.96.

TWO ELECTROCUTED FOR INDIANA CRIMES.

Michigan City, Ind., Feb. 20.—Steve Chirka of Indiana Harbor, Ind., and Harry Rasico of Vincennes, Ind., were electrocuted at the state prison here early this morning. Chirka killed his wife and Rasico murdered his wife and little son. The electrocutions were the first ever held in this state, as this form of execution was substituted for hanging by the last legislature.

The secret methods prescribed by the Indiana laws for the execution of felons compelled each man to go to the death chamber alone and prison officials were the only witnesses.

Chirka killed his wife in 1912. They had quarreled frequently and she had caused his arrest for assault and battery. Chirka's daughter and a neighbor saw him shoot his wife.

Rasico forbade his wife to go down town one evening in September, 1913. She ignored his words and he followed her to the porch with a revolver and killed her as she knelt at his feet pleading for life. Rasico then re-entered the house and killed his young son.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

NO BLOOD ON HORSE'S HOOF

Witness in North Dakota Murder Trial Gives Startling Testimony.

No Blood on Feet of Animal Alleged to Have Kicked Woman.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the case of Matt Holum, charged with wife murder, was resumed in district court this morning, a Milton photographer, who took the photos of the Holum premises, already introduced in evidence, was placed on the stand.

W. G. McBride, a neighbor of Holum's, related conditions surrounding the affair.

McBride said he had been notified by Holum of his wife's death by telephone. He examined the barn in which the killing was supposed to have occurred, and found blood spattered over the wall of a manger, and on a post, about six feet from the point where Holum said he found his wife lying.

In one place, McBride claims an effort had been made to obliberate the blood marks, by whittling away the wood.

Blood on Splinters.

The splinter was found, and on it were blood spots. Some of the blood was about five feet above ground, about level with Mrs. Holum's head, the point being made that she had been hit on the head with a dull instrument, the blood spurting about as a result.

McBride also testified that he made an examination of the hoofs of the horse that Holum says killed his wife, and he found no sign of blood. The woman's head, however, was covered with blood, and there was evidence of repeated blows having been struck.

ARGYLE FARMER LOSES.

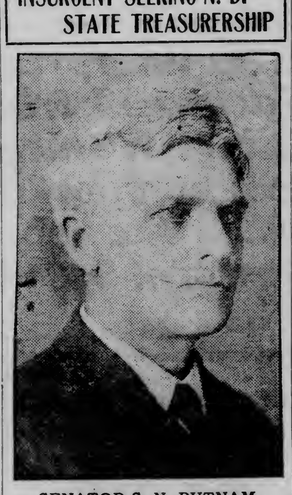

Barn Is Destroyed With Contents Worth $6,000.

Argyle, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A disastrous fire occurred Wednesday on the farm of Elovis Proulx, two miles from here, when thirteen horses and twenty-eight head of cattle and many chickens were burned alive. The origin of the fire is unknown, although it seems as if it had been started by some one. A man's tracks were found in the snow around the barn and heading across the field to the grade. The fire must have been set at about 3 o'clock in the morning, for when Mr. Proulx noticed it, it was 4 a. m., and already the whole north wing was falling and it was impossible to enter and save anything whatever.

Besides the horses and cattle, 800 bushels of oats, fifty bushels of flax, all the winter supply of hay and all the harnesses and sleighs were burned.

The total loss will exceed $6,000 with no insurance.

INSURGENT SEEKING N. D. STATE TREASURERSHIP

SENATOR S. N. PUTNAM.

New Rockford, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator S. N. Putnam of New Rockford is the Progressive Republican candidate for state treasurer of North Dakota. Senator Putnam served three sessions in the house and two in the senate and was one of the original "insurgents."

SIX AMENDMENTS WILL BE VOTED ON

North Dakotans to Decide on Additions to Constitution.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Six proposed constitutional amendments will be voted upon by the voters of North Dakota in the coming election, according to the notice just issued by Secretary of State Thomas Hall.

Most important of the amendments, and the one that will create the greatest contest, is that for woman suffrage.

Two measures with reference to the initiative and referendum will be considered. One provides for making the principle applicable only to statutes, this being known as the Besscsen-Overson measure, while the other, known as the Gibbens bill, makes the principle applicable only to the constitution.

Another important amendment would give the state the authority to establish and operate terminal grain elevators within the state.

Another amendment changes the name of the state asylum for the blind to the state school for the blind.

The Welo highway amendment gives the legislature the power to make appropriation of public moneys for road construction. Under the present constitution, the hands of the assembly are tied so far as making appropriations of that nature are concerned.

Should the Welo act be adopted, it would open the way to the establishment of a system of state highways.

WORK NEAR EXPLOSIVE.

Employes in St. Paul Warehouse Run All Kinds of Chances.

Stillwater, Minn., Feb. 20.—Joe Lifton of Winnipeg, who with A. V. Carter and Joe Daily is charged with having blown the safe in the state bank at New Scandia, Washington county, informed Sheriff Jarchow where the robbers had hidden a large amount of dynamite. Lifton, who turned state's evidence and told the motive for the arrest of Carter and Daily, told the sheriff and County Attorney Thoreen that the stuff was hidden under a platform at the Finch, Van Slyke warehouse at the East Third street railroad bridge in St. Paul.

The sheriff and the county attorney had no trouble in finding it when they went to St. Paul, the cache of twenty-one sticks of dynamite and was tucked away on top of a rafter. Employes of the warehouse had moved heavy trucks over the platform time and again while the explosive was stored there.

Judge Stolberg of the district court, St. Paul, came here and accepted the pleas of guilty of Carter and Daily, arrested a few days ago, for attempting to blow the safe in the State bank at New Scandia. They were given indeterminate sentences in the state prison here on a charge of burglary in the second degree. Joe Lifton has not yet been sentenced.

CHILD HAS CLOSE CALL.

Swallows Mercury Tablet But Food in Stomach Saves Him.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 20.—Stanley Daniels, aged 3 years, who has been staying here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Shapero, narrowly escaped death Tuesday after he had eaten a seven and one-half grain corrosive sublimate tablet. His mother, when told that he had eaten one of the tablets, telephoned for a physician and upon his arrival he removed the contents of the boy's stomach and the pill before it had dissolved very extensively. The physician stated that the reason the boy was saved was because he had just finished dinner and his stomach therefore was filled with foodstuffs, which kept the mercury tablet buried away from the vital tissues and parts of the stomach.

PRISON TWINE IN BIG DEMAND

Over Million and Half in Value Was Sold Last Year.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—The state penitentiary at Stillwater is valued at $5,898,718.67 in a report submitted to Governor Eberhart by Andrew E. Fritz, public examiner. The examination was made by O. H. Havill, assistant public examiner, and covered the fiscal year ending July 31, 1913.

The valuation includes lands and buildings worth $3,347,822.63, material for manufacturing, supplies, tools and machinery, bills receivable amounting to $1,336,122. 15 and miner times.

The report shows that the twine sold brought $1,582,812.36 during the year. Of this 15,208,990 pounds went to Minnesota farmers, North Dakota got 1,007,405 pounds, and 300,000 pounds were shipped to South America. Other states received smaller amounts.

Inmates During 1913.

The average number of inmates during the year was 895. During that period 617 were received, 166 paroled, and 106 discharged, transferred or died. The number on Aug. 1 was 1,069, of which number 214 were Federal prisoners.

The inmates earned a total of $180,-103.49 for the state during the year, estimating the work of those in the shoe plant at 63 cents a day and in the twine plant at 75 cents. Of this amount $49,396.14 goes directly to the prisoners for extra work.

The disbursements per inmate were $217.20 and the net profit per inmate $404.20.

The twine plant showed a net profit for the year of $372,354.52, the farm machinery plant a profit of $16,109.62.

Mr. Havill finds the books well kept.

DISMISSED TEACHER SUES SCHOOL CLERK.

Moorhead, Minn., Feb. 20.—An echo from the recent school trouble at Hawley is an action for $6,000 damages instituted by the teacher whose services were unceremoniously dispensed with by the principal of the school. The action is brought by Miss Anna B. Christianson against H. B. Plummer, clerk of the school board, and others. The action may establish the status of teachers in connection with dismissal.

SEVEN COUNTIES PLEDGE MONEY.

Cando, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirty-five hundred dollars in prize money for the farmers of the seven counties included in the Lake Region Development association was pledged at the meeting of the executive committee held here, to be used in stimulating the growing of corn and alfalfa.

Each of the seven counties will have $500 in cash prizes, and in addition to these, there will be a general district prize.

TRAPPER KILLS HIMSELF.

Old Resident of Iron River, Mich., District Commits Suicide.

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 20.—Tired of life and because of ill health Emil Andrew Benson, one of the pioneers in this part of the country, shot himself through the head in his shack on Benson island in Hagerman lake. Benson had been engaged in fishing and trapping. While his partner was away Benson took his revolver and shot himself through the head, the bullet entering the right temple. He was found lying across the bed in a pool of blood. Coroner Hamilton and Undertaker Jones were called. They found that Benson was not dead and he was hurried to Stambaugh hospital, where he lived for three days.

FARMERS TO BOYCOTT.

Traill County, N. D., Meeting Scores Several Alleged Conditions.

Hatton, N. D., Feb. 20.—This Traill county village got into the news yesterday when a farmers' mass meeting, attended by 1,500, lauded George Loftus of Minneapolis for his work in the interest of the Farmers' Equity exchange, scored President Worst of the North Dakota Agricultural college, roasted the Fargo city commission for not ousting Chief of Police Bingham for alleged failure to check the Tri-State meet riots at Fargo, and scored the Minneapolis chamber of commerce for its alleged unfair methods against the grain growers in sending out misleading attacks upon the Farmers' Equity exchange.

The farmers decided to refuse to attend further Fargo meetings and to boycott Pillsbury flour from all of the Minneapolis "milling combine" who decline to buy grain from the farmers selling agency, the Equity exchange.

Quits Couderay Concern.

Couderay, Wis., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. L. Bean, for the past three years manager of the Bekhedol Lumber company here, has severed his connection with that firm and will engage in the general merchandise business at Stine Lake, Wis.

Appleton Woman Fatally Burned.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 20.—While going down cellar with a lamp to thaw out a frozen pipe, the dress worn by Mrs. Alfred Plank of Kaukauna took fire. She was terribly burned and died.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bowman, N. D.—State Fire Marshal A. H. Runge has caused warrants charging perjury to be issued against M. D. Kirchner, Albert Smock and Joe Fairbanks, who are defendents in arson charges. The new charge by the fire marshal is based on differences between the evidence given by the three men at a hearing, conducted by Marshal Runge, and that given in their preliminary examination.

Devils Lake, N. D.—At a meeting of Devils Lake women, plans were made to push the suffrage campaign. Mrs. E. E. Mann was made president of the suffrage club; Mrs. H. B. Reynolds was made vice president, and Mrs. C. W. Buttz was made secretary and treasurer.

Bismarck, N. D.—Senator H. W. Allen of Kidder county will be opposed by D. R. Streeter of Emmons county for the senatorship from the Kidder-Emmons county legislative district in the coming election.

Grand Forks, N. D.—John Nelson, deputy county auditor, who has been ill at his home on South Sixth street for several weeks, is now sufficiently recovered to be able to leave his bed.

Bismarck, N. D.—A program in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Order Knights of Pythias was given Tuesday evening at K. P. hall, followed by a dance and banquet.

Devils Lake, N. D.—The annual inspection of Cyrene commandery, Knights Templar was held Wednesday evening with Col. J. H. Fraine of Grafton, representing the grand commander as inspecting officer.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Mrs. H. C. Nelson, aged 39, died at her home Tuesday of Bright's disease and tuberculosis. She is survived by six children; four sons, Herman, Walter, Arthur and Henry Nelson, by this marriage, and one son, Hans, and a daughter, Hannah, by a former marriage. The funeral will be held at the residence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. C. Olson, pastor of the Scandinavian M. E. church, will conduct the services.

La Moure, N. D.—Bud Manning took a dose of kerosene for his throat trouble. Partial strangulation resulted and medical aid had to be summoned.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Laurium—John, the 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gipp, died Feb. 19 in the Calumet public hospital. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon.

Lake Linden—Joseph Schuette and Oliver Perreault announce they are in the race for Schoolcraft township treasurer. Mr. Perreault is serving in this office now through appointment.

Houghton—The Michigan College of Mines basket ball team has left for the iron country, where it will play several of the teams in that district, including Marquette, Ishpeming and probably Gwinn.

Calumet—Red Jacket is to have its annual dog derby Saturday, Feb. 28, pay day.

Lake Linden—Justice Bowen of Saginaw, former Lake Linden ball player, tendered his resignation as a justice of the peace to the board of supervisors of Saginaw this week. He also paid the county $200, part of the amount he was alleged to have drawn from the county treasury illegally in fees.

Houghton—County Clerk Kaiser has issued a total of seventy-one marriage licenses.

Marquette—The Marquette fire department paid tribute to Timothy J. Maney, the retiring chief, and the members of the former board of fire and water commissioners at a banquet and smoker at the fire hall. Mr. Maney was presented by the members of the hose company with a sterling silver plate and $75 in gold.

Negaunee—Victor Carlson, the Gwinn contractor, who has the contract for the erection of the brick boiler and engine houses for the Breitung Mining company at the Hematite No. 3 mine in this city, expects to have the work finished in a few days.

Ewen—August Wallen, aided by his representative E. Tilstrom, sold thirty-seven different parcels of land in the immediate vicinity of Ewen the past season. Nine of the purchasers have already erected buildings and twelve others have done considerable clearing preparatory to building in the early spring.

Negaunee—Swansen Bros., the plumbing contractors, have completed the installation of a steam heating plant in Paul Honkavara's residence at Palmer. Work will be started in a few days by plumbers, who will put in a hot water system in the house. Mr. Honkavara will have an acetyline lighting system installed also.

Ishpeming—he series of bowling games between the Ishpeming and Diorite teams was ended Tuesday evening, when the Ishpeming five won by fifty-one pins. At the end of the first six games Ishpeming led by eighty-five pins.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Washburn—H. H. Peavey, who has been mayor of Washburn during the past two years, announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Eau Claire—At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Wenzel Broom company it was decided to increase the capital stock from $15,000 to $30,000 and exert every effort to induce the farmers of Eau Claire and vicinity to raise broom corn.

Chippewa Falls—Work preparatory to the building of county roads as soon as spring opens is going on in Eagle Point. A third gravel and sand pile has been started at Mrs. E. Woodruff's corner. It is estimated that about two-thirds of the material required has already been hauled.

Eau Claire—The John H. Kaiser Lumber company's sawmill will be in operation by the middle of March if not sooner, according to Joseph J. Ott, vice president and general manager of the company. At present there are 165 men in the woods getting out logs on contract, and all the teams that are not in use about the plant are working with them.

Madison—The Luther College club of Southern Wisconsin has elected the following officers: President, Rev. R. O. Brandt, McFarland; vice president, Rev. W. A. Johnson, Capron, Ill.; secretary, Dr. Martin Olson, Madison; treasurer, G. H. Kiland, Madison. It was voted to continue the annual prize of $25 for the best Norwegian oration at Luther college.

Ashland—One hundred and fifty members of Ashland lodge, No. 137, B. P. O. Elks, participated in the banquet at the Elks' clubhouse and six candidates were initiated in the order. Exalted Ruler Brandt read thirty-one letters and telegrams which came from all parts of the country.

Washburn—The sawmill of the Kenfield-Lamoreaux company in this city began running night and day on Tuesday of this week and will continue for some time.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Brainerd—Mrs. Elizabeth Witham, wife of Arthur J. Witham of Staples, died Feb. 18, at a local hospital, due to nervous prostration. She leaves a husband and two daughters, one a baby aged 7 months and the other 3½ years old. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Fitzharris and Mrs. La Course. Her mother, four half-sisters and a step brother reside at Staples.

Bemidji—Grace Hormann, wife of John Hormann, died Sunday evening. Mrs. Hormann was 25 years old, and leaves a daughter 16 months old and her husband, besides relatives in La Porte and Big Falls. The funeral was held at the house Wednesday.

Big Falls—Nels Matson's house and contents burned to the ground, the fire being caused by an overheated stovepipe.

St. Cloud—The city commission ordered Clerk Magnuson to advertise for bids for an electric fire pump with a capacity of 1,500 gallons per minute to be installed in this city.

Moorhead—The Schoenhofen Brewing company has awarded a contract for a new building here to A. J. Fridlund. The building will have a 65-foot frontage on Front street, next to the A. J. Fridlund offices. It will be eighty-three feet deep. The front will be of plate glass and Hebron brick and will be three feet higher than the adjoining building.

North Branch—E. W. Smith of Parkers Prairie, under the direction of the Agricultural Extension Department of the University, assisted by Prof. James and Miss Hopkins of the North Branch schools, have been holding farmers' meetings at various neighboring places during the week.

Hinckley—The engine of a freight was derailed in the Great Northern yards Feb. 17. It was necessary to call two engines from Sandstone to pull the engine back on the track, and delayed the north-bound passenger nearly an hour.

Braham—There have been a number of costly delays at the Oscar Nelson sawmill, but it is now running smoothly. Andrew Lind of Rush Point is sawyer. There are about 300,000 feet of logs on hand to saw. Of this amount over 250,000 have been hauled from the A. O. Anderson piece of land west of town, which is being cleared.

St. Cloud—Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hetherington of the death of their daughter, Mrs. P. D. Freish of Seattle, Wash., aged 31. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Irene, aged 10; five brothers, Rene, at Seattle; William at St. Paul, and Bert, Harry and Arthur at home, one sister, Mrs. Davis Peterson at St. Paul, and her parents.

St. Paul—James H. Butterfield, financial agent of the Oriental Knights of the World, was arraigned in the St. Paul municipal court Feb. 18, and pleaded not guilty on a charge of embezzlement of $204.30.

Mankato—The home of Aaron Wolford, a farmer living at Monterey, was destroyed by fire Tuesday. Wolford and his family narrowly escaped.

Red Wing—Mrs. Mary Lucinda Miles, a pioneer resident of this city, died suddenly of heart failure. Mrs. Miles was born in Jackson county, Michigan, in 1846. Surviving her are two sisters, Mrs. G. E. Gates and Mrs. Ellen M. Warren, and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Stordill.

Minneapolis—Mrs. Edith S. Seitzler has two husbands, according to her complaint filed in district court seeking annulment of her marriage to Waddell H. Seitzler. She declares her marriage to him was contracted in the belief that W. H. Davis, her first husband, had obtained a divorce shortly after their separation in 1904.

WANTS HALF MILLION FROM MINING MAGNATE

MRS. IDA M. McNABB.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the largest breach of promise suits ever instituted in this country in the amount of money asked as heart balm has been instituted by Mrs. Ida M. NcNabb, a local boarding house keeper, in the district court of Washington, D. C., against J. S. Kinney, millionaire iron mining magnate of Stanbaugh, Mich., for $500,000. The plaintiff claims to be under 40 while the defendant is 70. The suit was brought in the District of Columbia because the aged defendant lives there when not traveling in this country or in Europe.

FAMOUS FOR BEAUTY OF HER HAIR

Mrs. Esther Emery Has Hair Which Reaches to Her Knees. Was Once Threatened With Baldness. Tells How She Made New Hair Grow.

"People say I have the most beautiful hair in the world," says Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting in the city. "I don't know about that, but certainly I am proud of my hair, for it has grown so in just twelve short months 'til now it reaches my knees. Last year it was anything but beautiful. I thought I was growing bald. A year ago my hair was thin and scraggly and coming out at an alarming rate. Little bald spots appeared all over my scalp, which was covered with dandruff and itched like fury all the time. I cannot tell you how many hair tonics I tried to save my hair and make it grow again. Some of them helped by taking out the dandruff for a while, but it came right back again and my hair grew thinner than ever.

"My success is no secret and I think that any man or woman can do the same with their hair if they will persevere as I have done. A friend, knowing my condition, sent me a clipping from the New York Herald which advised people who were growing bald to use a prescription consisting of 6 oz. Bay Rum, 2 oz. Lavona (de Composee) and ½ dr. of Menthol Crystals. I got these things from my druggist and mixed them myself. I allowed the preparation to stand several hours before using. Then I applied it each night and morning, rubbing right into my scalp with the finger tips till the skin fairly glowed. The results were immediate. When I combed my hair next morning only a few straggling hairs came away instead of the handful I was accustomed to gather. The dandruff left me this time for good, for I have never seen a speck on my head since. In less than a week tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp and these grew so rapidly that soon I looked like a different woman. They have kept right on growing until they are as you see them now. A physician has told me that Lavona contains the pure juice of a rare South American shrub that possesses marvelous qualities for forcing a growth of hair and certainly after my own experience I can well believe it. Did I use more than the first treatment? Oh, certainly I am using it today. I go to any drug store and have 8 oz. put up at a time. It lasts about a month and costs very little. I'm not going to stop anyway until my hair reaches the floor."

PRIEST CLOSETED WITH AURORA MAN

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 20.—Rev. Leon M. Linden, pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Roman Catholic church, the former father confessor of Anthony Petras, who is held in jail here on a charge of murdering his former sweetheart, Theresa Hollander, who was clubbed to death in St. Nicholas' cemetery last Monday night, was admitted to the prisoner's cell this morning for a long talk. The clergyman is declared to have answered in response to a plea of an unknown woman.

The police were hopeful that the coming of the priest marked the beginning of a breakdown in the prisoner, who has steadily maintained his innocence. They think the woman who summoned Petras' confessor may have been his wife.

Another Clue Found.

While Father Linden was in secret conference with Petras, the police were out on the trail of a new clue. It was that Petras had told shopmates that his wife was to be a mother. She had explained to the police the source of blood found on Petras' undergarments after the murder. The police are trying to establish another theory.

Chief of Police Michels announced after the inquest adjourned yesterday that he had found several strands of light, curly, brown hair on Petras' overcoat the night of the murder. This is like the hair of the slain girl. Petras' wife's hair is black. Petras refused to testify at the inquest.

PROBLEM IS NOT SOLVED

Believed That Woodland Avenue Problem Is Only More Complicated.

Second Resolution May Cause Delay It Sought to Avoid.

Indications are that City Attorney Harvey Clapp's solution of the Woodland avenue paving problem is not going to "solute."

This is said to be due to the fact that the second resolution passed by the council on the attorney's recommendation was one resolution too many, destroying the effect of the first in that it opens the way to cause the delay which it was earnestly desired to avoid.

The first resolution directs the improvement of Woodland avenue from Fourth street to Austin street, but orders that because of lack of funds, but one section, that between Fourth street and Victoria street, shall be completed this year. As a petition has been filed for the improvement of the whole of the avenue it is believed that this action would have been sufficient and that any assessments levied under it would be sustained; particularly as the council also directed that the cost of the culvert over Tischer's creek be paid from the permanent improvement fund.

The second resolution orders the improvement of Woodland avenue between Fourth street and Victoria street under section 62 of the charter, which enables the council to order street improvements without petition. But under that section the resolution must lay over sixty days before any further action is taken upon it.

May Cause Delay.

By passing the second resolution it is asserted that the council provided the means to cause the delay which it wished to eliminate. "If only the first resolution had been passed the city could have proceeded to make the improvement without much likelihood of delay," said one citizen interested in the improvement this morning. "Under it the improvement remained as one job, although it would have been done in sections. But it seems to me that by the passage of the second resolution the council by its own action makes an independent and separate contract for the paving of Woodland avenue between Fourth and Victoria streets.

"Suppose the council proceeds to levy an advance assessment as provided by the first resolution. I see no reason why the property owners, if they so desire, cannot refuse to pay it. They can elect to come under the second resolution, it seems to me, as one is certainly of as much force as the other, both having been passed by the same legislative body. Right there comes a delay of sixty days which would not have been possible under the first resolution. This delay of sixty days is for the purpose of enabling the property owners to file a petition remonstrating against the work, and I am informed that this is being done, those specially interested being the property owners between Fourth street and Kent road, who want that part of the job handled as a separate contract. I do not doubt but that the petition will have the names of more than 25 per cent of the number of owners affected, owning more than 25 per cent of the property. And I am equally doubtful if an equal petition asking that the improvement be made can be secured, in which event the city will very probably be stopped from doing any work at all on Woodland avenue this year.

"It seems to be that the city attorney and the council have 'foozled' the proposition with that second resolution. If it is not too late I would like to see the council reconsider and rescind it. The Woodland avenue job involves from $200,000 to $300,000, while that section from Fourth street to Victoria street will cose from $70,000 to $90,000. And if a mistake has been made it is important that it be rectified, not only because Woodland avenue so badly needs to be improved, but that it would be unfortunate to have similar predicaments arise in connection with street improvements which are equally necessary in other parts of the city."

TRUSTS HIDE OWN DOOM?

Davies Suggests System May Contain Elements of Decay.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Does the monopolistic system contain in itself the seeds of its own decay?

That question Commissioner Joseph E. Davies of the bureau of corporations declared, in his annual report made public today, a Federal investigation now under way hopes to answer.

In a review of a working program for the bureau, Commissioner Davies points out that aside from an economic study of the trust question, retail price maintenance is one of the questions to be taken up. Trusts, their efficiency and reforms, however, are to comprise the principal work for the coming year. The need of some Federal body for the purpose of investigation and publicity in trust affairs, whether it be the bureau of corporations as now organized, or a commission as proposed in the pending administration bills in congress, Commissioner Davies emphasized.

In his report he discussed the monopoly question at length, saying in part:

Is Trust Form Efficent?

"The question is whether the trust form of organization is really efficient. If it be found that smaller competitive units in industry can produce commodities more cheaply, or even as cheaply as monopolistic units, and that they have other and greater advantages than those claimed for the monopolistic or trust system, then the problem is finally settled in favor of the competitive system, and the chief argument for the regulation of monopoly is destroyed. This is a scientific question of fact, and it is the plan of the bureau to investigate this question.

"While from a governmental point of view there are various aspects of the trust question which are of great importance, such as the relation of trusts to popular government and their effect on the social and economic conditions of labor, there are two aspects of it which are peculiarly within the domain of the bureau, namely, the effect upon the cost of production and distribution and the effect upon the price to the consumer.

"It is contended by some that with the increase in the size of industrial enterprises there goes a reduction in the cost of extraction, manufacture and distribution, and that such reduction in cost is accompanied by lower prices to the consumer and does not involve a reduction in wages or an impairment of the conditions of labor.

Is the Evil Greater?

"Even if these claims were true the question would still remain, of course, whether the evil resulting from large combinations would not be greater than the alleged advantages of cheaper production and distribution. It is contended, on the other hand, that the source and origin of monopoly is found chiefly in the desire to exploit the general public by stock jobbing schemes for the immediate profit of the promoters, or for the purpose of obtaining control of the market and exacting unduly high prices from the consumer.

"Many large combinations have failed and demonstrated their economic inefficiency. Combinations which have obtained control of the market and it is admitted, have prospered, but this is alleged to be due to their monopolistic position, and not to superior efficiency. According to those who hold this view, there is a point beyond which the increase in size of operations does not result in an increase in economy and efficiency, but rather in loss and waste, so that the maximum efficiency is not attained by large combinations, but instead by concerns of moderate size. If this latter contention be true, then, as has been said, the monopolistic system contains in itself the seeds of its own decay.

Claim Made As a Blind.

"Again, some of those who dispute the superior efficiency of large combinations contend this claim is made merely as a blind for the purpose of selling watered stock. They say that such organizations are established for the purpose either of getting control of the market and exacting excessive prices from consumers, or of issuing large amounts of watered stock for the purpose of selling such stock to the public. In the first case, it is argued such combinations are not concerned with the promotion of greater efficiency but merely with obtaining a monopoly; in the second case they are chiefly concerned with selling the stock, and as they can not claim to the general public that it has a great value due to monopoly, they are obliged to find another selling argument, namely, superior efficiency.

"Of almost equal importance with the determination of this question of comparative efficiency is that of the price policy of such large industrial combinations as have achieved a substantial control of the market. Those who allege that such industrial enterprises result in greater economy and efficiency in production often overlook the equally important question whether or not they absorb all the benfits of such economies in increased profits without conceding any share thereof to labor in higher wages, or to consumers in relatively lower prices or improved quality of goods, etc. The determination of the facts in respect to this question also might not be such as to establish broad generalizations or conclusions, but the importance of having the facts is none the less obvious."

Next Meet at Cooperstown.

Cooperstown, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual convention of the Valley City district of the Degree of Honor will be held here, the choice being made at the meeting which has just been closed at Tower City. TWO HARBORS BOY KILLED

Hubert Pronovost Crushed to Death at Remer, Minn.

Falls From Sleigh at Lumber Camp, Logs Rolling on Him.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word was received last night by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Pronovost that their youngest son, Peter Pronovost, was killed late yesterday afternoon at Remer, Minn., where he was employed by his father in the lumber camps. The information received by wire was very brief, but it appears that Peter, who was engaged as a teamster on a logging sleigh, fell from the sleigh when the logs began to slide and several fell on him, killing him instantly.

Mr. Pronovost, his father, who has charge of the camps, arrived here a few days ago to nurse a severe cold.

The remains will be brought to this city today for burial by a brother, who was at the camps at the time of the accident.

Native of Two Harbors.

Young Pronovost was one of the popular young men of this city and lived here with his parents all his life. He left the city a few weeks ago for Remer, where he intended to work only for the remainder of the winter. During the past couple of years he has been engaged as a brakeman on the Duluth & Iron Range road and at the present time was away on a leave of absence. Deceased was about 21 years of age and single.

The exact date for the funeral has not been set, but it will be from the Catholic church tomorrow or next day.

IS CONVICTED FOR CUTTING BARTENDER

Hibbing Man Found Guilty of Slashing Drink Dispenser.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—It took a jury in district court only a few minutes this morning to return a verdict of guilty of first degree assault against John Rautianen, who was tried for cutting a bartender in a local saloon. The case was given to the jury this morning and about 11 a. m. a verdict announced.

Rautianen was charged with an assault on John Luona, a bartender at Spina, who showed the scar left by a knife, alleged to have been in the hands of the defendant.

Nickel Not $5.

The testimony showed that Rautianen entered the saloon and asked whether he "could buy a drink for the crowd with a five spot." The round was placed and the customer laid down a nickel. He later offered to bet his companion, with whom he quarreled when the injured man attempted to stop them, a dollar that he had some cigarettes or a dollar that he didn't. The defendant confessed on the stand yesterday that he meant nothing by this display of gambling spirit but was just "making some fun for the boys." The state then claims that the defendant with another man went into the alley and that there the complaining witness in his role of "peacemaker" separated them and received a long gash in his chest as a result.

Rautianen when he took the stand argued that he walked out with the other man merely in an attempt to get him home, that he had no intention of fighting and that he did not own a knife.

Woman Being Tried.

The case of the state vs. Ethel McCarthy charged with robbing John Komisky in rooms over Adam Peyton's saloon at Chisholm of $60 is now on trial, a jury having been selected after the Rautianen trial. As the panel is pretty well exhausted some delay was experienced in getting a jury, but the case was taken up after the noon recess, the state making the opening statement and the introduction of evidence beginning.

Following the case against Adam Peyton, keeper of the Chisholm saloon, in which it is charged Komisky drank before he went upstairs with the woman and was robbed, had not reported a verdict when the court adjourned at noon, having been out all night. The case went to the jury at noon yesterday.

WINDOM MAKES IMPORTANT RULING

Says Corporation's Residence Is Wherever It Has a Business Agent.

A case that has attracted state-wide attention has been decided by Judge Windom of the Duluth municipal court, fixing the residence of a corporation at any place in a county where it has an agent and is doing business.

The action was brought by August Junnonen of Alice against the Great Northern Railroad company, asking damages for the loss of a cow alleged to have been killed by the defendant's road. The railroad company asked for a transfer from the Hibbing court to Duluth on the ground that the residence of the road was in that city. Attorneys Power and Templeton appeared for the plaintiff in the Duluth court and contended that the residence of the road was where it had an agent and was doing business. As there are apparently no cases of a similar nature on record in the courts of the state, the judge asked for written arguments and yesterday notified the attorneys that an order might be drawn remanding the case to the Hibbing court for trial.

The decision is an important one as it will allow persons having small claims against the road to have the cases tried at the village nearest their home rather than bear the expense of traveling to a large city, where district headquarters are maintained.

CHISHOLM'S PUMP WORKS ALL RIGHT

Being Driven By Electricity and Gives Satisfaction.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chisholm's water supply is now being pumped by electricity from the Monroe mine to the filter plant. The steam pump is still being used to pump the water into the mains after it leaves the filtration plant, but within a very short time that pump, too, will be run by dynamo.

The Chisholm Electric company has the contract for pumping the water. Supt. of Waterworks C. J. Sullivan, Village Engineer F. C. Lang and Willard Bayliss, president of the water and light board, together with J. F. Gould, representing the company who furnished the pump, were present when the pump was started and waited to see a thorough test made.

Fill Mains in Forty Minutes.

Forty minutes were consumed in filling the mile and a quarter of eight-inch main from the mine to the settling tank and the pump worked perfectly during the test. Today a further test was given the pump which also proved satisfactory. Five hundred gallons per minute was sent through the pump, which means that 720,000 gallons per day can be handled. The increase in water consumption indicates that within a few years it will be required to be kept going the entire twenty-four hours to supply the needs.

Hibbing Basket Ball.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though there was no basket ball game scheduled for the high school this week, two excellent contests are arranged for next week. On Friday, Feb. 27, the local quint will meet the Virginia team at Virginia and on the day following will play the Duluth Central team here.

Supt. Vaughn Goes East.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. of Schools J. P. Vaughn left last evening for Richmond, Va., to attend the National Educational association meeting. En route he will confer with the architects, Tyrie & Chapman, whose plans for the new high school were chosen by the board. The new building's roof has been added within the past few days and it is fast assuming shape.

CHISHOLM K. OF P. OBSERVE JUBILEE

Exercises Held in Opera House Before Large Audience.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large throng attended the Knights of Pythias golden jubilee at the opera house last night. A splendid musical program and dance followed the ceremony. George Blasing, Mrs. William Anderson, Miss Winnifred Andrews and William Douglas Smith each sang solos. The present officers are: Maitland Tripp, chancellor commander; Harry Austin, vice chancellor; Ed Rupp, prelate; Steve Musols, master of the exchequer; Ed Lockhart, master of ceremonies. The hall was beautifully decorated with colors of the order, blue, yellow and red.

Gilbert Lodge Celebrates.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The golden jubilee celebration given last night in the lodge rooms by the local Knights of Pythias was attended by a large number of members and friends, who listened to a very entertaining address by Mr. Fowler of Two Harbors, grand vice chancellor of Minnesota. A trombone solo by Homer Hursh, vocal solo by Miss Margaret Gilmore and two numbers by the Knights of Pythias male quartet made up the musical numbers of the program. Those taking part in the program were N. J. Colvin, P. S. Pray, E. A. Voss, Dr. M. L. Strathern, Dr. H. A. Radermacher, Frank Bowman and C. G. Fulton. The male quartet was made up of L. Newberry, P. S. Pray, Lee Pemberton and Frank Bowman.

DAMAGE CASES WILL BE TRIED

Several Actions Involving Big Sum on Next Week's Docket.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.) — Cases involving more than $100,000 will be disposed of next week if the program outlined by the officers of the district court is carried into effect.

It is expected that the criminal work will be concluded before Tuesday when the first of the civil actions will be tried. Next week is to be "damage suit" week according to the cases set, though experience has shown that the majority are usually settled or transferred before brought before the jury. The actions set for trial are:

Tuesday: Tom Drascivich vs. Oliver Iron Mining company; Matt Kurtich vs. Winston-Dear company; Louis Collyard, Adm. vs. Winston-Dear company, Anton Petrich vs. the Village of Hibbing and Yera Petrich vs. the Village of Hibbing.

Wednesday: Steve Savich vs. Winston-Dear company and Milan Jovanich vs. Butler Bros.

Thursday: Nick Obradovich vs. Butler Bros.; Stana Gaich, admrx. vs. Butler Bros. and Mike Markovich vs. Butler Bros.

Practically all of the cases involve injuries which resulted in death or severe disablements in mines in the range district.

Sues For Loss of Wife.

In the case of Louis Collyard as administrator against the Winston-Dear company the plaintiff is suing for damages for the death of his wife who was electrocuted in the garden back of her house when the knife with which she was cutting cabbages struck a live wire thrown to the ground by stripping operations on an adjoining property.

In the action brought by Anton and Yera Petrich against the Village of Hibbing, the defendants are claiming damages because of a hot liner that was driven off of a vacant lot in which boys were playing baseball, the horsehide having struck the woman who alleges that she was severely injured. The husband also sues for damages because he was deprived of his wife's services and for hospital and medical attention.

AFRAID TO EAT.

Girl Starving on Poorly Selected Food.

"Several years ago I was actually starving," writes a Me. girl, "yet dared not eat for fear of the consequences.

"I had suffered Indigestion from overwork, irregular meals and improper food, until at last my stomach became so weak I could eat scarcely any food without great distress.

"Many kinds of food were tried, all with the same discouraging effects. I steadily lost health and strength until I was but a wreck of my former self.

"Having heard of Grape-Nuts and its great merits, I purchased a package, but with little hope that it would help me—I was so discouraged.

"I found it not only appetizing but that I could eat it as I liked and that it satisfied the craving for food without causing distress, and if I may use the expression, 'it filled the bill.'

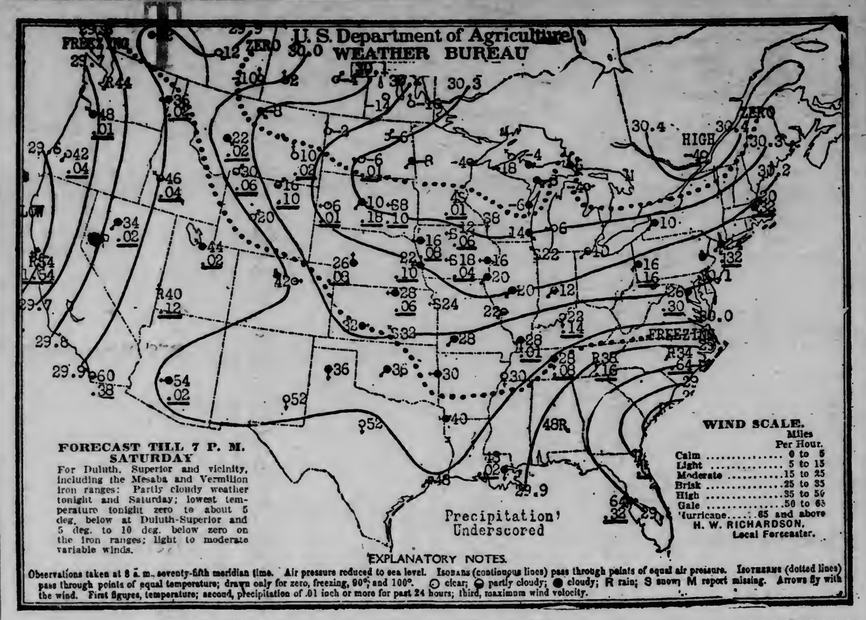

"For months Grape-Nuts was my principal article of diet. I felt from the very first that I had found the right way to health and happiness, and my anticipations were fully realized.

"With its continued use I regained my usual health and strength. Today I am well and can eat anything I like, yet Grape-Nuts food forms a part of my bill of fare."

CONTINUED COLD

It was cold last night, being 8 deg. below zero, but it was not so cold as threatened, although nobody is kicking about that. A moderation is promised for tonight but the thermometer, it is claimed, will get down to about 6 deg. below zero, and cloudy conditions will prevail.

A year ago today was fair. The sun rose this morning at 7:04 and will set this evening at 5:40, giving ten hours and thirty-six minutes of sunshine, four minutes more than yesterday, and only five hours and nineteen minutes less than June 21, the longest day in the year.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Colder weather prevails in the greater portion of the lake region, Ohio and Lower Mississippi valleys, North Atlantic states, Western South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana, but the temperature has risen somewhat in Minnesota, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas. During the last twenty-four hours snow or rain fell over Atlantic states, Ohio and Lower Mississippi valleys, the Middle West and Far West. Heavy rains occurred at Charleston and San Francisco."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Wisconsin — Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa and South Dakota — Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday; probably snow flurries; not much change in temperature.

Minnesota and North Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.

Montana — Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday; probably snow flurries in west portion; not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight; Saturday fair except snow in southeast portion; warmer.

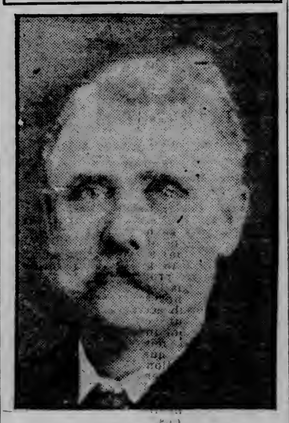

Upper Michigan — Fair and warmer tonight and Saturday.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to reports in political circles Former Mayor Andrew Hawkinson is to make the race for county commissioner.

BIG MASONIC EVENT.

Celebration of Anniversary By Coleraine Lodge—Duluthians Attend.

Coleraine, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large delegation of Duluth Masons will come here tomorrow for the big anniversary and Washington's birthday celebration, to be held tomorrow night by Canisteo lodge, A. F. & A. M., and will escort here Grand Master Denfeld of Duluth. Other Masonic lodges will also be represented. Following the exercises at the lodge hall a banquet will be held at the Arcade hotel. An orchestra will furnish the music and the following toasts will be responded to:

"Let Us Celebrate the Birthday of Canisteo Lodge;" a review; Past Master Alex King.

"He Who was First in War, First in Peace and First in the Hearts of His Fellowmen, was a Master Mason; George Washington." C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids.

"Let Us Not Only be Fraternal, but Neighborly as well," Past Master A. F. Wildes of Hibbing.

"We are members of One Great Body, Planted by Nature, in Mutual Love, and Fitted for a Social Life," Worshipful Master Edward Armstrong, Ionic lodge, Duluth.

"May the Fraternity on the Iron Range be as Strong, as Useful and as Universal as the Iron made from its Ores," Senior Warden William J. Archer of Virginia.

"The Race of Mankind would Perish Did They Cease to Aid Each Other; we cannot exist without mutual help," Past Master Warren E. Greene of Duluth.

"The Masonic Obligation to Needy Brothers, Their Widows and Orphans; a Masonic home," Grand Master W. A. McGonagle of Duluth.

The address of the evening, "The Push and Pull of Masonic Life," by Most Worshipful Grand Master of Minnesota, R. E. Denfeld of Duluth.

EVELETH FIRE.

George Brintz's Warehouse Is Partially Destroyed.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire early this morning partially destroyed the warehouse of George Brintz, situated alongside the Duluth & Iron Range tracks, causing a loss of about $500 on the contents, consisting of various kinds of produce. The building was a frame and the fire had a good start by the time the firemen arrived, about 6 a. m. They soon had it under control and prevented it spreading to adjoining property. There was no insurance. The origin of the fire is not known. This is the second time the place had had a fire inside of a year.

WILL GO TO EVELETH.

Superintendent of Chisholm Properties Gets Promotion.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. Williard Bayliss of the Leonard-Clark-Glen properties will leave for Eveleth March 1, where with General Supt. R. J. Mitchel he will be engaged in developing the properties operated by the Oliver interests in the Adams district. Mr. Bayliss was advised of this change on Monday.

Mr. Bayliss has been a leading citizen of Chisholm since 1906, when he took charge of the Meyers and St. Claire mines. About a year following he was given charge of the Pillsbury mine, then the Clark, the Glen and a couple of years ago the big Leonard property was added to his responsibilities. The Leonard now entirely stripped will be a heavy shipper this season, after which it will revert to the Great Northern, together with numerous other mines.

Mr. Bayliss has been prominent in lodge circles, in social events and in local politics. He is just finishing his third year on the water and light board, and as president will turn the reigns over to A. Tancig March 1.

Plans are being arranged for a banquet in Mr. Bayliss' honor. He will be succeeded by no one here and as the office of assistant general superintendent, the title which he will take on March 1, is a new office, he will succeed no one at Eveleth.

CURLING MATCH.

Eveleth and Virginia Curlers to Get Busy Saturday.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth and Virginia bonspiel commenced last Saturday afternoon will be resumed tomorrow afternoon when twelve rinks will play in both places simultaneously for the McDonald trophy.

After Constableship.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—That there will even be a contest for the office of township contable developed today when Gene Grady, a local policeman, announced his intentions of filing for the office. Tom Moore and Erik Nord, both local policemen, now hold the positions.

FAMINE AND FEVER.

Virginia Family Is Discovered in Very Dire Straits.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four members of his family—his wife and three of his four children ill with typhoid fever, and the pantry empty, Olaf Dahl, a laborer, is struggling to keep the wolf from the door of his home, 909½ South Mesaba avenue. Dahl, his wife and children are in need of food, clothing and money with which to purchase medicine.

The case has come to the attention of the Salvation Army and Capt. Charles Richter is aiding the family. The army officer wishes to bring the case to the attention of the churches and charitable organizations.

"Dahl's case is worthy of consideration," Richter said, "anad I hope something will be done for him. The army is assisting him in every possible way, but would like to have the support of some one of the city's churches. Dahl's family is in actual need of food, wearing apparel and money. The children are scantily clad and are not getting enough to eat. The city is furnishing the Dahls with coal, but this is not all that is needed.

"The unfortunate man has a wife and four children, the youngest of whom is about 2 years of ago. Typhoid developed in the household three weeks before Christmas and one after another of the family has been ill. Dahl obtained employment in the Virginia & Rainy Lake mill several days ago. He had to wait three days because of illness. It is feared he, too, has typhoid."

ALLEGED TRESPASS.

Two Men Alleged to Have Taken Timber Near Buhl.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 20. — (Special to The Herald.)—Nicholas Vinicich and Martin Guivich, residents of Mountain Iron, were arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Lockhart and O'Dea of this city on a charge of trespassing on property of the Jennings Mining company near Buhl.

They were arrested at their homes, where much timber is said to have been found by the officers. It is claimed the pair have been cutting down trees belonging to the mining company.

Someone cut down a tree on which a no trespass sign was posted, according to the authorities.

DELICATE OPERATION.

Two Harbors Girl Has Tumor Taken From Base of Brain.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Myrtle Stark has been brought back from Boston where two months ago she underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor from the base of the brain. The operation was performed by a celebrated brain specialist. While not fully recovered, Miss Stark is convalescent and in time will recover her normal condition. She was accompanied east by her aunt, Mrs. E. R. Fitch.

Hibbing Lodge Elects.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—Iron Range Lodge of Perfection No. 8 of Hibbing held its annual election of officers Wednesday night. Officers were elected as follows: Venerable master, W. N. Trenerry; senior warden, Dr. B. S. Adams; junior warden, R. W. Hitchcock; orator, Dr. T. Collins; almoner, Dr. E. J. Pengelly; secretary, George Eubanks; treasurer, O. M. Johnson.

The fourteenth degree will be conferred by the Lodge of Perfection at a special meeting to be held in the Masonic temple at Chisholm next week.

A TONIC FOR DYSPEPTICS

When food lies undigested in the stomach it ferments and gas forms. This gas distends the stomach and presses on the heart, causing a pain that sometimes arouses fear of heart trouble. The condition in which gas forms is caused by a low tone of the digestive organs and a lack of rich red blood resulting in deficient nerve force. It is a condition that calls for a tonic.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic for the blood and nerves, have been used with great success in the treatment of this form of stomach trouble. Cold baths in the morning followed by brisk friction with a rough towel will help as they stimulate the circulation but a tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by building up the blood, restoring the nerve force and making the stomach able to do its work gives the most lasting benefit. With their uses the appetite increases, digestion becomes normal and improvement in the general health follows with certainty.

You are trying no experiment when you take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They cannot harm the most delicate system.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store. A copy of the diet book "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

SEE POSLAM WORK WONDERS OVERNIGHT

To stop itching and drive away Eczema, Pimples, Rashes and all skin troubles, apply Poslam.

Use it whenever the skin ails—it will prove to you over and over again how perfectly it can eradicate blemishes and all diseased surface conditions.

Nothing can compare with its pacifying effect on inflamed, irritated skin.

Undue redness is removed overnight, complexions beautifully cleared.

And Poslam is harmless—can be safely used under all conditions. Perfectly heals the itching troubles which annoy infants.

Your druggist sells Poslam. For free sample write to Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th St., New York.

Poslam Soap—best for the skin.

For Chapped, Blotchy, Red or Wrinkled Skin

(From Family Physician.)

Do you realize that just beneath that coarse, rough or discolored complexion there's an exquisitely beautiful skin of youthful tint and delicacy? If you could only bring this complexion to the surface, discarding the old one! You can—in the easiest, simplest, most natural manner imaginable. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at any drug store, apply nightly like cold cream, removing it mornings with warm water. The wax assists Nature by gradually taking off the lingering particles of dead and half-dead surface skin, causing no discomfort whatever. Ordinarily it takes from a week to ten days to complete the transformation. Cutaneous defects like chaps, pimples, blotches, liver spots, moth patches, freckles, of course disappear with the old skin. Nothing else that I know of will accomplish such wonderful results in so short a time.

Fine lines and even the deeper wrinkles often appear at this season. In such cases nothing is better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxollte in ½ pt. witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.—Advertisement.

MURPHY WON'T BE AT MEETING

Chicago, Feb. 20.—A serious attack of lumbago will prevent the attendance of Charles W. Murphy, the Chicago National's president, at the meeting of the National league at Cincinnati tomorrow. This was announced today by his secretary, Charles Thomas.

The meeting at Cincinnati, it is thought here, will concern the Chicago Nationals vitally, the trausfer of Sweeney and Perdue from Boston to the Cubs being on the program for consideration. The Chicago club probably will be represented by Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, who is understood to be a large stockholder in the club.

Game Transferred.

The Bagley-Northern hockey game, which was to have taken place at the curling rink this evening, has been changed over to the French rink at the West end.

ASSAULT ACTION NOW ON TRIAL.

Tony Mikrut, indicted by the January grand jury on a charge of assault in the first degree, was brought to trial before Judge Dancer and a district court jury this morning. Mikrut is accused of having on Jan. 6 last, entered the saloon of Martin Fajeditch on Raleigh street, West Duluth, and fired twice at the proprietor when the latter refused to serve him with a drink. The case will probably be submitted to the jury this afternoon.

SETTLEMENTS FOR INJURIES APPROVED.

Dan Montgomery, 23 years old, has received $96.25 from the Swan River Lumber company for injuries to his left thumb, sustained Jan. 22, while employed in a lumber camp near Sturgeon Lake. The settlement, made under the terms of the workingmen's compensation act, was approved today by a judge of the district court. Montgomery resides at Valley City, N. D.

OPPOSE PLAN OF MANAHAN

House Leaders Think Proposed Grain Probe Unnecessary.

Minnesotan Has Some More Bills He Will Propose.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 20.—Democratic leaders of the house of representatives today indicated their opposition to the passage of the resolution of Representative James Manahan of Minnesota, for an investigation of the organization and methods of Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth boards of trade. They say that such an investigation as is proposed by Mr. Manahan would be both tedious and expensive, and that if anything is done along the line mapped out by the Manahan resolution at this session, it will be done as an incidental development, as hearings on bills now pending in congress prohibiting dealing in grain futures.

On the other hand, Mr. Manahan said today he would press for an early report of his resolution by the rules committee of the house, and arrange for an informal interview next week between the chairman of the committee and Charles F. Staples of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission.

Field Already Covered.

A review of the possible field covered by the Manahan resolution shows today that hearings have already been held by the house committee on agriculture dealing in grain and cotton, and it is recalled that the last time this subject was seriously considered by the house committee, the Chicago board of trade made certain changes in its rules and regulations which met with the entire approval of the congressmen.

For this reason the house committee reported a cotton futures bill, but refused a favorable report on other bills. The cotton futures bill was included in the Underwood tariff bill, but fell out in conference. The Democrats are pledged to consider it again after the agricultural appropriation bill is out of the way, and the grain futures bill may be reconsidered at the same time.

Manahan Not Through.

Representative Manahan also announced today that he is preparing legislation which will go direct to the heart of matters of which he now complains. One of his bills is designed to require railroads to ship cars of wheat from the point of origin to destination without unloading at any primary wheat markets.

"Under such legislation a miller in Ohio could buy a carload of wheat in North Dakota and have it delivered to him intact. It would not go into an elevator at Minneapolis or Chicago to be mixed or changed for some other wheat. The buyer would be sure to get the wheat he paid for," said Mr. Manahan.

A second Manahan bill will provide for the establishment of government warehouses at the primary wheat markets.

"In this way the producer could ship to the government elevator and sell direct to the miller, and at the same time be protected from the mixing and substitution of grain that is now practiced in all primary markets," explained the Minnesota congressman today.

Mr. Manahan will also have a third bill providing for government inspecting and grading of grain.

CANBY RIDICULES MANAHAN CHARGE

Chicago, Feb. 20.—C. H. Canby, president of the Chicago board of trade, ridiculed charges made in the resolution introduced in the house yesterday by Representative James Manahan of Minnesota. In a signed statement Mr. Canby said:

"It is almost unbelievable that anyone could make such a series of absurd and untrue allegations as is contained in the resolutions. Many of these charges were investigated by a committee of the Minnesota legislature last year, and the Duluth and Minneapolis exchanges were fully exonerated and the charges discredited.

"The allegations of monopoly are ridiculous. The facts in this connection are that there is no trade or industry or method of doing business in the world more open, free, competitive and beyond control of the trusts and combinations than is the business in grain and products as transacted in this country on our various exchanges.

"The inspection of grain and the control of our elevators in Illinois is in strict conformity with the laws of the state, the state inspectors having absolute control of our system of grain inspection which is without doubt one of the best in the world."

CARE FOR WHITE PLAGUE VICTIMS

Two men, each fighting a losing game against the white plague, were taken to the county poor farm today. They will be cared for at the pauper tuberculosis hospital.

One of them, William Stonach, 32 years old, was brought to Duluth this morning from Hibbing, where he has been living for the last eight months. He came to Minnesota from Montana. Stonach is in the last stages of tuberculosis.

The other, Matt Shorhich, 38, arrived this morning from Gilbert, where he has been staying for the last five weeks. Shorhich came to Minnesota from Michigan about eighteen months ago and has worked around Duluth and the range towns for some time. His affliction is also deep-seated.

Both men were removed to the poor farm in an ambulance this morning.

MAKE PLANS FOR MILITARY PAGEANT

Uniformed organizations of the city will anticipate in a grand military pageant which will be held at the Armory next Wednesday evening. Exhibition drills will be given by the military organizations and drill teams. Although no prizes are to be given, it is expected that each organization taking part, will attempt to excel the others.

The organizations which will appear on the floor, include the following: Companies A, C and E of the Minnesota National Guard; First and Second divisions, naval militia; crack drill teams of Duluth camps, Nos. 1556 and 2341, Modern Woodmen of America, and the uniformed degree team, Order of Sons of Vasa.

The exhibition will take place at 8:30 p. m. Dancing will follow.

May Secede From City.

Residents of Allouez and Itasca, known as the Tenth ward of Superior, intend to start proceedings to secede from the city. The first step was taken at a meeting of the improvement club of the Tenth ward last night when it was decided to start proceedings for separation if the improvements wanted for that section were not forthcoming. Residents of the ward say that the taxes are now plenty high enough to warrant the improvements desired.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at noon.
Arbitration treaties again discussed in executive session.
Administration bill introduced to raise the Argentine legislation to an embassy.
Disagreed to the house amendments to the Alien bill and sent it to conference with Senators Pittman, Chamberlain and Jones as managers.

HOUSE.

Met at noon.
American Bankers' association urged modification of the interlocking directorates bill.
Labor committee arranged hearings next week on the Palmer bill to bar child labor products from interstate commerce.
Territories committee asked to authorize a two million dollar private railroad in Hawaii.
Dr. John Coulter continued testimony on rural credits before the banking committee.

VINCENT TALKS ON TOP OF BALE OF HAY

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Perched on a bale of hay in front of the crop show room here, George E. Vincent, just before noon today, addressed an overflow meeting briefly. He expressed his gratification at the big attendance, and said Crookston had promised an armory for the farm crops show next year which would accommodate the crowd.

He congratulated the people of Northwestern Minnesota at the splendid evidence at the meeting and in the exhibits of the fact that better farming had a firm hold, and predicted that wonderful results would follow.

At the sessions this morning E. Dana Durand dwelt upon the great opportunity of Minnesota as shown by the census reports, to make up for the deficiency in agricultural products as compared with its increase in population.

Following a musical program and readings by Francis Lapham, C. O. Forbes gave a practical talk on good roads as an agricultural asset, after which J. H. Worst of Fargo spoke briefly.

The attendance broke all records today, a special train from Ada bringing up 500 people from Norman county, in addition to large crowds from all branch lines on the regular trains.

SAMARITANS SEE NEW DANCE STEPS.

Those present at the dance given by the Modern Samaritans last evening at the Steinway hall enjoyed an exhibition of modern dancing given by Whitman and La Velle, who will appear at the tango elimination contest at the Empress theater the first half of next week.

The professionals entertained the dancers with an exhibition of the new steps.

Whitman and La Valle are attending all the public dances in the city this week for the purpose of creating an interest in the new dances.

UNIVERSITY BLAMED BY STUDENT UNION

Madison, Wis., Feb. 20.—The Wisconsin Student Workers' union, in a statement today, charges that the university authorities have practically repudiated the terms of their agreement over the reopening of the commons.

The result, according to the statement, has been "not only a loss to the management and suffering on the part of the students, but several students have been forced to leave school." The conditions existing have been presented to the board of regents in a written protest by the girls in Barnard hall.

The waiters, in their statement, denounce the threatened use of billy clubs to prevent union men entering the commons.

BIG LIVESTOCK GAIN.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota was the only state in the entire union, according to the government reports, that showed an increase in both dairy and beef types of cattle. Many other states made an increase in one or the other but none in both except the land of the Pluckertails.

Those who have been advocating more livestock for the last decade or more are now convinced that North Dakota will ultimately develop into one of the greatest combination dairying and beef cattle finishing states in the entire West.

SPOONER-LOMAN PHONE LINE PLANS.

Spooner, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The directors of the Border Co-operative Telephone association met here on Monday afternoon. A set of by-laws were adopted and contracts were let for the poles to be used on its line between here and Loman. The plans of the association are meeting with the approval of a great many of the settlers and business men and is being subscribed for. The association plans on having the line in operation in the early summer.

MINNESOTA CASHIER ACCUSED OF THEFT.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Kelsey S. Chase, state superintendent of banks, returned today from Westbrook, Cottonwood county, where yesterday he closed the Citizens' State bank and swore out a warrant for the arrest of its cashier, C. A. Zieske, on a charge of grand larceny.

The complaint accuses him of the theft of $2,000, but according to Mr. Chase the shortage is considerably in excess of that amount.

COURSE IN JOURNALISM.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A course in journalism will be offered at the University of Minnesota, President George E. Vincent yesterday told the Minnesota editorial association in an address at its annual convention here. The course will be begun at the opening of the college year in 1915.

Other addresses were made by Mayor Wallace G. Nye, G. B. Bjornson, W. M. James of the Breckenridge Tribune and others. Officers will be elected at today's session.

PEYTON JURY DISAGREES.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 20.—The district court jury that retired about noon yesterday to consider the case against Adam Peyton, the Chisholm saloonman tried for running a disorderly place, was unable to agree and was discharged by Judge Hughes about 2:20 this afternoon.

TALK ON LAKE PROBLEMS

Big Conference Will Be Held in Buffalo on Feb. 26-27.

On Feb. 26 and 27 a conference of delegates representing all the important ports on the Great Lakes will be held in Buffalo under the auspices of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce. This conference is probably the first meeting of this kind held in the history of the Great Lakes region, when considered from the point of view that it is called because it is felt that a necessity prevails for the lake cities to get together to protect the advantages which they have by reason of their possession of water transportation facilities.

Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison has just issued an order commanding the division and all district engineer officers in the entire Great Lakes region to attend the conference. The purpose of having the men present who are in direct charge of all river and harbor work done in the Great Lakes region by the Federal government is two-fold in character. The secretary of war is anxious to have the officers on hand that they may become personally familiar with all that takes place at the meetings. He is also anxious to have them there to render such assistance as they may be able to give incidental to the conference, and which will be compatible with their positions. Col. J. G. Warren, division engineer for the government in charge of the Great Lakes region, will be in personal attendance on order from the secretary of war, and in response to an invitation extended to him by the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce.

Garrison Interested.

It is known that Mr. Garrison himself, takes a deep interest in the conference and it is possible that he will be in attendance.

The primary object of the gathering is to form a permanent organization to promote navigation and the development of tonnage on the Great Lakes. Every phase of anything involved in this big task will be discussed, and the intention is to evolve in concrete form methods of procedure for future action.

Henry W. Hill, president of the New York State Waterways association, will open the conference and deliver the inital address.

Joseph A. Conry, port director of the port of Boston, will talk on harbor boards and commissions, and the relation of the Great Lakes to the Atlantic seaboard. Mr. Conry two years ago made an exhaustive inspection of European ports and will apply his knowledge to the situation presented on the Great Lakes.

Problems to Solve.

Other speakers of note will include some of the foremost men in this country who are particularly well informed with regard to Great Lakes transportation problems and requirements. Among the subjects to be discussed in this way will be the following:

"How the lake cities can retain their importance as shipping centers and overcome the efforts of railroads to divert traffic from lakes to rail.

"Why water competition with rail has held down rail rates everywhere throughout this country except on the Great Lakes.

"Whether we do or do not want the enforcement or that provision of the Panama canal act which goes into effect on July 1, next, and which provides for the divorcement of lake lines from rail carriers. If this divorcement is wanted, what suggestions can be made for taking care of the traffic? If it is not wanted, why not?"

In addition to the points already referred to, the conference will consider harbor development, guides to navigation, such as lighthouses, light ships, etc., extension of the lake season, proportional rates on water borne traffic, as provided for in the Panama canal act, legislation affecting water borne freight, etc.

The conference will open at 10:30 o'clock on the morning of the 26th, and will ocntinue, as indicated, for two days.

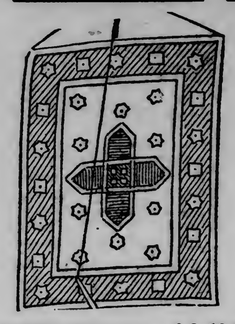

Further details for the program are now under consideration. Already twenty-five cities, representing eight different states, have accepted the invitation of the Buffalo chamber of commerce and will be represented at the conference by delegates.

ALLEGES BREACH OF CONTRACT IN SALE.

For an alleged breach of contract growing out of her purchase of the good will and business of the Mitchell hotel of this city, Mrs. M. Stark started suit in district court yesterday against J. V. Cook and M. F. Cook for $564 damages. The woman claims that she was a stranger in Duluth and that she relied upon the representations of the Cooks when she bought them out.

They told her, she claims, that the regular monthly income was $862. She alleges that it developed to be but $675. In addition to this, she claims that the Cooks removed certain furniture valued at $125 from the house, all in violation of their contract.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— WESTERN MESABA ELECTRIC COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That the undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the provisions of Chapter 58 of the 1913 General Statutes of the State of Minnesota, have associated themselves together and signed and adopted the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this Corporation shall be "WESTERN MESABA ELECTRIC COMPANY."

The general nature of its business shall be: To generate electricity at its own power plants; also, to purchase electric current and power from other power companies, for transmission and distribution on and over its own electric transmission lines and distributing systems; and to sell, supply and distribute the same to its patrons and customers, for electric lighting, heating and power purposes within the State of Minnesota. And, for the purposes aforesaid and as a part of its general business, said corporation may purchase, lease, construct, maintain and operate such lines and systems of poles, wires, cables, conduits, power plants and other works; and may acquire such property, concessions, franchises and rights-of-way, by purchase, lease, assignment or other contract, either from private parties owning the same, or by the duly authorized concession, franchise or grant, by ordinance or resolution, of the proper Municipal or County Authorities, as may be necessary or convenient for carrying out the general purpose of the corporation as aforesaid.

The principal place of business of said corporation shall be at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.

The time of the commencement of said corporation shall be the 24th day of February, 1914, and the period of duration thereof shall be thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators of the said corporators of the said corporation are: Frank McCormack, M. J. McCormack and James A. Hanks, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of said corporation and the management of the affairs shall be vested in a board of three (3) directors, each of whom shall be stockholders, who shall be elected annually at the annual meeting of said corporation, and who shall, at the first meeting of said board held after said annual meeting, elect the following officers, to-wit: a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. Any two of said offices may be held by the same person, except the offices of President and Vice President.

The annual meeting of said corporation shall be the first Tuesday in January in each year.

The names and addresses of those composing the first Board of Directors until the first election are as follows, to-wit: Frank McCormack, M. J. McCormack and James A. Hanks, all of Duluth, Minnesota; and until the first annual meeting and until their successors are elected and have qualified, Frank McCormack shall act as President; M. J. McCormack shall act as Vice President; and James A. Hanks shall act as Secretary and Treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of said corporation shall be One Hundred Thousand Dollars, which shall be divided into one thousand shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars each; and such capital stock shall be paid for in money or property as the same may be called for or ordered by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which said corporation shall be at any time subject shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this 17th day of February, 1914.

MARKET IS WELL HELD

Wheat Rules Strong After Absorbing Liberal Realizing Sales.

Flaxseed Firm With Good Buying and Strength at Winnipeg.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 20.—The market was steady up to the close. May wheat closed unchanged and July unchanged. May durum closed ¼c off and July ¼c off. Oats closed ¼c up at 37⅝@38¼c. Rye closed unchanged at 56c for the best grades, and barley unchanged at from 44c to 66c.

At Winnipeg May oats closed at 38¾c bid, and July at 37c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 92c bid and calls at 92¼c bid.

There was a fair volume of trading in the wheat market today and prices went off fractionally up to the closing hour on the absorption of realizing sales.

Liverpool failed to follow up yesterday's advance here to the fullest extent and the continental markets closed lower.

Sales of hard wheat to go forward to the East were reported at Chicago, but seaboard advices were that bids were out of line for export. Winnipeg was strong with a good export trade reported.

World's shipments are forecasted to be liberal this week. Broomhall placing the aggregate, exclusive of North America, at 10,000,000 bu. The total last week was 12,810,000 bu and for the corresponding week last year, 12,432,000 bu. A good increase in grain on passage is predicted.

It is thought by experts that the government report to be issued next month, will show that wheat reserves are on about the same basis as last year. Supplies of oats and corn are expected to show large decreases.

Inspections of wheat at Duluth today were just 16 cars against 60 a year ago, while there were only 16 cars of all grains on the tracks for the day. Wheat stocks here are estimated to show an increase for the week of 90,000 bu, bringing them up to an aggregate of 13,280,000 bu.

Minneapolis stocks decreased 525,000 bu in the week. Receipts down there are comparatively liberal, 241 cars coming to hand today, against 265 a year ago.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at 93¼c and weakened ¼c up to the final hour. The July option opened unchanged at 94⅛@94¼c and also sold off ¼c.

May durum opened unchanged at 93¼c and sold ½c lower.

Flaxseed Is Firm.

Trading in flaxseed was on the narrow order again today, but considerable business was put through during the session. Some placing of spreads by operators was reported, there being buying of May and selling of the July option. Steady demand from crushers was also in evidence. Receipts of the seed at the Northwest markets are abnormally light. There was not a car inspected here today, and one car only appeared on the tracks for the day. Stocks at Duluth are estimated to have increased 10,000 bu during the week.

Antwerp and London flax markets closed unchanged today, and Buenos Ayres closed 1¼c off.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.56⅛ and closed ⅛c up at $1.56¼ bid. The July option opened ¼c off at $1.57½ and closed at $1.57¾ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.36⅞ bid and July at $1.39½ bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The Modern Miller says: "The winter wheat crop has maintained its excellent condition, with weather conditions favorable. Rain followed by snow in Eastern Kansas and rains in Central and Southern Kansas have been beneficial. Northern Kansas and Nebraska have snow covering. In the soft winter wheat states mild weather removed the snow in southern sections. The plant is vigorous, and prospects are unexcelled."

* * *

Duluth car inspection: Wheat—No. 1 northern, 3; No. 2 northern, 1; No. 3, 2; durum, 1; winter, 5; mixed, 4; total wheat, 16; last year, 60; corn, 1, last year, 1; oats, 2, last year, 7; rye, 1, last year, none; total of all grains, 20, last year, 84; on track, 16.

Clement Curtis of Chicago estimates farm reserves of corn at 800,000,000 bu, against 1,300,000,000 bu last year; oats at 300,000,000 bu, against 604,000,000 bu last year, and wheat at the same as last year.

At Minneapolis—Cash wheat was in better demand. Mills were after the spot offerings more freely. One northern car sold at from 1@2½c over May, with the top premium for the choicest. Velvet chaff sold at 1@1½c over May. There were some scattered flour sales, but no special improvement was reported, although flour shipments were 69,995 bbl, yesterday, and have been running large right along. Cash one northern wheat sold there at from 93c to 94½c, and No. 2 northern at from 91½c to 92½c.

* * *

Australian shipments for the week are heavy, and stocks carried liberal. The agricultural area is very dry. This has further encouraged holders and offers are very firm with foreign demand urgent.

* * *

Broomhall's Indian agent cabled: Further general rains are causing damage where harvesting is in progress. The Punjaub rain has been beneficial and the crop is assured.

* * *

Baker's Minneapolis correspondent had the following from Antwerp today: "Speculation, which has not been very active at all during the last weeks, now has arrived at a halting point. The Argentine and Australian crops are already for speculation purposes, past history. The next crop, which will be harvested, the Indian, is not a big affair and as to the other winter wheat crops in Europe as well as in America, we shall have to wait until April to see whether nature has been kind or not. Until then, the market will probably remain on a supply and demand basis. At this writing all we can say is, that the supplies are not burdensome and that the demand in general is surprisingly large. We must also bear in mind that the biggest consumptive months, are beginning the middle of March, are beginning the middle of March, are lying ahead, and that the big shortage in the River Plate will not be felt during the January to March period, when the wheat is still on the ocean, but it will be later."

The Argentine wheat arrivals have been always for the consumer when it furnishes the missing link between the old crop and the new harvest.

Broomhall cabled from Argentina: "The larger shipments from Argentina caused some pressure at the opening and values were unchanged to ⅛d lower with liberal exports from Australia and expectations of larger world's shipments this week. Following the opening there was covering and speculative support induced by firmness of Australian offers and prices advanced ⅛d to ¼d. The continent is showing a renewal of activity and cargoes are more firmly held. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was firm and unchanged to ¼d higher.

"Corn opened unchanged and later advanced ¼d, with the undertone firm on light Argentine shipments, strength in spot here and very few speculative offers.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "A majority of wheat traders here and in the Northwest are bullish, but are not carrying a large line of wheat, as they believe that the market is not ready for a big advance. They expect that it will work up slowly and that just enough setback from time to time to encourage bears to sell on the breaks and to have to cover on bulges. Those who are very bullish have in a few instance made figures on the movement, consumption and stocks and think that there has possibly been an overestimate of the crop of last year by 13,000,000. In the corn trade, traders on both sides of the market are emphatic in asserting that their position is right. One of the largest of the pit professionals said that the majority of the local crowd were long on corn."

Argentine—Wheat shipments were 2,376,000 bu against 1,920,000 bu last week and 5,096,000 bu last year.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Bulls Gain on News of Indian Rains.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Reports from India telling of rain causing damage where harvesting is in progress gave the wheat bulls today the advantage. There were also additional advices of winter killing in Russia and France, and later Kansas City sent word of export offers having been accepted abroad. Opening prices which were the same as last night to ⅛@¼c higher, were followed by continued hardening of the market.

Snow falls in Kansas led to a re-action but liberal export sales here brought about renewed strength. The close was steady at a net gain of a shade.

Prospects of smaller receipts put strength into corn. Furthermore, some improvement was reported in the shipping demand. Quotations opened a shade to ⅜c up and made a material further advance.

A waiting policy on the part of the eastern buyers, checked the upturn. Closing prices were steady, ½@⅝c to ⅝c net higher.

Oats rose on account of offerings being light. Shorts covered rather freely.

Weakness ruled provisions owing to lower prices for hogs. First sales were 2½@5c to 7½c lower, with fairly good support, however, at the decline.

COLONY COMING FROM ILLINOIS

Hunter, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A nineteen-car emigrant train, with two tourist sleepers filled with new settlers for Hunter and Arthur, is expected to arrive here about March 1. The new comers are from around Peoria and Danvers, Ill., and were secured by the representatives of a local land company.

Formerly Big Farms.

The lands to be occupied by the Illinois colony are holdings formerly occupied by large farms in this section. The lands were purchased by the local company and are being sold in farms of a quarter to a half section. The majority of the purchasers are men who have sold their Illinois farms though some of them were renters down there with their own stock and machinery. The new colony will add materially to the number of practical farmers in this section of the state.

STOCKS ARE QUITE DULL

Traders Make No Attempt to Arouse Market From Lethargy.

Apathy Is the Distinguishing Feature But Close Is Steady.

New York, Feb. 20.—With a weekend session tomorrow and a holiday on Monday, and with no essential change in the speculative session, traders made no attempt during the morning to arouse the market from its lethargy.

A few of the more vulnerable stocks were weak. Rumley issues, in particular, reflected uncertainty over the outlook for the company's financial plans. Cessation of outside buying was as evident in bonds as in stocks, and the bears took the ground that there was no room for a further advance at present, but the firm undertone effectively checked short selling.

Bonds were steady.

The stock market was sluggish at the opening today. The popular stocks barely moved. The only changes of significance were among the specialties. American Ice continued to advance, gaining nearly a point. General Motors opened 1⅜ lower and then advanced ½ above yesterday's close. Canadian Pacific declined ¾.

Distraction of trading interest to specialties kept fluctuations of the important stocks within unusually narrow bounds. Rumely shares fell 3 to 4 points but Ice and General Motors made further gains.

Extreme weakness of certain specialties and profit-taking in industrials, which had been strong on what caused the standard stocks to give way a trifle in the afternoon. Rock Island common and preferred again made new low records at 5⅝ and 9⅛, respectively.

Pressure against the important shares lifted when the bears failed to bring out long stocks. Inactive issues figured more conspicuously in the dealings and underwent wide changes. National Biscuit fell 2 and Bag preferred gained as much. Rock Island collateral 4s were heavily purchased and improved 2¼ to 47½.

The market closed steady. Apathy was the distinguishing feature of the late dealings. The narrow fluctuations were in keeping with the rest of the market.

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT—
State of Minnesota,
County of St. Louis—ss.
In Probate Court. In the matter of the estate of Marion N. Upham, decedent:

The petition of A. R. Morton, as representative of the above named decedent, together with his final account of the administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things, that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on his bond. It is ordered, that said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted, and if correct, allowed by the Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County, on Monday the 16th day of March, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there by, why said petition should not be granted. Ordered further, that this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald according to law, and by mailing a copy of this order to each heir and interested party at least fourteen days before the said date of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., Feb. 20, 1914.
By the Court, S. W. GILPIN,
Attest: Judge of Probate.
A. R. MORTON.
Clerk of Probate.
Seal Probate Court, St. Louis Co., Minn.

ARBITRATION PACTS WITH EIGHT NATIONS RATIFIED BY SENATE

England and Japan Among Powers Included in the Action.

Unlimited Scope for Settling All Disputes Is Permitted.

Italy, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Portugal and Switzerland Included.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Without any amendment whatever to limit their scope, the senate by more than a two-thirds vote today ratified general arbitration treaties between the United States and Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Portugal and Switzerland.

Terms of Treaties.

Under the terms of the treaties, arbitration at The Hague is provided for differences of a legal nature or relating to the interpretation of other treaties existing which it may not have been possible to settle by diplomacy; provided they do not affect the vital interests, the independence or the honor of the contracting parties, and do not concern the interests of third parties. A subject for arbitration, under the treaties, however, must be embodied in a special agreement defining the matter in dispute, the scope of the arbitration and other details. For the United States such agreements must be made by the president and ratified by the senate.

No roll call was taken on the resolutions of ratification.

Foreign Program Safe.

Some senators who voted for the treaties may not vote for repeal of the Panama tolls provision, but President Wilson is confident of a majority in the senate to support his foreign program throughout.

The extensions acted upon today went to the president at once. Similar treaties with fourteen other nations are to expire in the near future, and their extension for periods of five years seems assured by the senate's action today.

1,300 MASSACRED BY CHINESE BANDITS

Pekin, Feb. 21.—The bandits led by "White Wolf" massacred 1,300 men, women and children when they sacked Liuan-Chow, province of Ngan Hwei on Jan. 29. On that occasion they murdered Father Rich, a French Jesuit missionary, and captured and held two other foreigners for ransom.

An army of 25,000 Chinese troops now is converging on "White Wolf's" strongly entrenched position in the vicinity of Cheng Yan Kwan, further to the north in the same province. "White Wolf" has a force of 2,000 bandits, half of whom are armed with modern rifles.

The opinion is expressed here that unless the opportunity is seized of exterminating "White Wolf" and his followers they will form the center for another rebellion. The government troops, however, show a strong disinclination to come to close quarters with the bandits.

END TALK IN THAW'S CASE

Jerome Finishes Arguments in Federal Court at Concord.

Prisoner May Get More Money From Trust Fund.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 21.—The last hearing in the United States court for the district of New Hampshire in the matter of Harry K. Thaw was concluded today. William T. Jerome spoke for an hour and a half in opposition to Thaw's petition for a writ of habeas corpus and for admission to bail.

Mr. Jerome asked for permission to file supplementary briefs, and was given ten days to do so. Thaw's counsel will reply ten days thereafter. Judge Aldrich then will render his decision, and an appeal will be taken immediately by one side or the other to the supreme court of the United States.

Thaw May Get $150,780.17.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 21.—Unless proceedings to show that he is a lunatic are instituted in the courts of Allegheny county within sixty days, Harry K. Thaw will receive $150,780.17 income from the estate held in trust for him by the Fidelity Title & Trust company of Pittsburg.

A decision to this effect has been given by a majority of the judges of the orphans' court of Allegheny county. Judges J. W. Over and T. P. Trimble concurred in the decision, while Judge J. J. Miller dissented from portions of it.

In the decision, it is declared that if Thaw, as he alleges, is a citizen of this county and state and this county was his last place of residence in this state, the jurisdiction of lunacy proceedings is in the common pleas courts of this county. The majority report agrees that notwithstanding the fact that Thaw was acquitted of murder on the grounds of insanity and was lodged in an insane asylum in New York state, he has never been declared insane in this county or state, and no proceedings to declare him sane can be taken here.

Either Thaw or a committee appointed by the local courts is entitled to the money held in trust for him; if no action is taken within sixty days to declare Thaw a lunatic he is entitled to the money, and if proceedings are taken and Thaw is declared a lunatic, then a commission appointed by the court shall receive the money, the opinion declares.

TELL TALES OF PEONAGE

Strike-Breakers Testify Before the Congressmen at Hancock.

Compulsory Work and Nonpayment of Wages Charged.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Brought to the Copper country from New York in January to work as a strike-breaker in the Quincy mine, John Miushi testified today before the congressional investigating committee that he was kept under guard at the bunk house when he was not working. He was told that the guards were necessary to protect the men from strikers.

When Miushi complained to the mine captain about the food, he was locked up over night, he said. The next day the witness said he refused to work and was "kicked off the place." He received nothing for his nine days' work, he said.

Made No Threat.

"Did you threaten to blow up the Quincy mine?" asked Attorney Rees.

"No," replied the witness.

Judge Advocate General Pepper and Adjt. Gen. Vandercook arrived today to represent the militia when charges against members of the National Guard are heard, probably on Monday.

Tony Rolle, who came here with the strike-breakers from Detroit last month, was the last peonage witness. He testified he was brought here under guard in a locked car. Guards were maintained over the strike-breakers at the bunk house, he said.

Kept Under Guard.

In the course of the charges of peonage made by striking copper miners yesterday to the congressional investigators, George Mahtssin, an Armenian, testified that he came to the Copper country from Racine, Wis., on Nov. 24 last, together with thirty-seven other of his countrymen, to work as strike-breakers in the Ah-

ANOTHER GERMAN WARSHIP LAUNCHED

Dreadnought Is Christened "Kronprinz" By Princess Cecilie.

Kiel, Germany, Feb. 21.—The seventeenth dreadnought for the German navy was launched here today and christened "Kronprinz" by the Crown Princess Cecilie.

The crown prince, who was to have delivered an address, was prevented by illness from attending the ceremony. He has not completely recovered from his recent attack of tonsilitis. Prince Henry of Prussia therefore acted as his substitute.

The Kronprinz is to be the last German dreadnought to carry 12-inch guns. Future ships will be equipped with heavier armament.

FRANCE RECOGNIZES LIMOGES PROTEST.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The French foreign office today directed the French ambassador to Washington to lay before the state department the representations made by the porcelain manufacturers of Limoges against the suits brought by the American customs officials alleging falsification of invoices.

The general presentation of the case in the French press is that the United States government is violating an agreement entered into officially by the American treasury department in 1908.

NEW TRIAL TO PFANSCHMIDT

Illinois Supreme Court Decides for Convicted Slayer of Four.

Crime Is One of Most Grewsome in State's History.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—Ray Pfanschmidt, convicted in the Adams county circuit court of a quadruple murder, won in the supreme court today when the lower court's findings was reversed on a writ of error. He will have a new trial.

One of the points which won a new trial for the defendant was the decision by the upper court that the conclusions of bloodhounds were too unreliable to be accepted as evidence. Bloodhounds taken to the scene of the crime were said to have followed a trail to Pfanschmidt's home. The trial court admitted evidence of the trailing by the dogs. The admission of this testimony was held by the upper court to be error.

His Own Words Quoted.

Statements made to Pfanschmidt by the sheriff and detectives while he was in jail, and to which he made no denial were excluded as improper by the reviewing tribunal, which also objected to parts of the testimony of the grandfather of the young man, holding that his statements should not have been allowed to go before the jury.

In its order sending the case back for a new trial, the supreme court directed that a motion for a change of venue from Adams county be granted.

The opinion was written by Justice Carter, who specifically held that the defendant should have been granted a change of venue from Adams county "to some county where prejudice did not exist."

The plea of the defendant that he should have been set at liberty because he was not tried within four months of the date of his commitment was denied by the court.

Story of the Crime.

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 21.—The crime with which Ray Pfanschmidt is charged was one of the most grewsome ever

NORWEGIAN PASTORS MAY ADOPT ENGLISH

Eastern District of Lutheran Synod Will Meet at Madison.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 21.—Pastors of the Eastern district of the Norwegian Lutheran synod, comprising all the territory east of the Mississippi river, are to meet at Madison, Wis., next week to consider the question of preaching in the future in the English instead of the Norwegian language. The discussion on this subject will be led by Rev. H. G. Mageissen. Owing to the rapid transition in the churches caused by the coming up of a younger generation, and the falling off of immigration, the change will receive considerable support.

According to Rev. O. J. Flagstad, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, this part of the country is not at all affected by this movement. The Norwegian churches hereabouts are in the Superior district. It is also pointed out that most of the Lutheran churches in this district, whether Norwegian, Swedish or German, use the native tongue at one service and English at the other each Sunday, thus giving service to both the older and the younger generations. Some churches have totally abandoned the native language and use English exclusively.

"PASSES, OR STATE PROBE"

Demands on Railroads Are Signed With Name "John T. Denvir."

Illinois Legislator Denies Charge—Montana Conditions Found Bad.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Correspondence between "John T. Denvir," who represented himself as a member of the Illinois legislature, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, in which Denvir demanded from the railroad a personal pass and threatened legislative action because it was not supplied, was disclosed by the interstate commerce commission today in a supplemental report upon the inquiry made by the commission into the issue of free transportation by Western railroads.

There was a John T. Denvir in the Illinois legislature. He informed the commission that he did not sign the letter, and that it was not sent by his authority.

"Denvir" requested an annual pass for himself on account of the "legislative public utilities commission." The Burlington road declined.

Threatened Legislation.

A letter subsequently was received by the general counsel of the road, written on the official letterhead of the committee and signed "John T. Denvir." It said in part:

"As chairman of the public utilities commission you can look for legislation that will work hardship to your company, and I wish to assure you that when our commission gets through with you that you will find your road in the hands of a receiver, for you certainly are violating the laws of the state in a great many respects and we know it, but have gone along and been friendly to you; but inasmuch as you are inclined to be so diplomatic in your statement that you would not like to violate the custom you have indulged, I feel inclined to think that a

Opinion on Wisconsin Law Is Given By Owen.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—It is not a violation of law for a district attorney to act as a director for a common carrier within this state, or for a public utilities corporation, where the officer receives no compensation as such director. This opinion was given today to District Attorney T. A. Sanderson of Door county by Attorney General Walter C. Owen. Mr. Owen points out in his opinion that the question of the retainer is the controlling feature.

Failure to Absorb Switching Charges Is Not Discrimination.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Failure of the Santa Fe, the Burlington, the Chicago & Alton, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, the Illinois Central and the Wabash railroads to absorb in their rates on grain to Chicago the switches when the shipments are delivered to industries off their lines, was held by the interstate commerce commission today to be not discriminatory.

MUTUAL TELEPHONE COMPANIES EXEMPT.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—Telephone companies that are purely mutual and which, instead of receiving tolls or rentals from the persons using the service, confine the service to the members of the association, are not compelled to pay license fees to the state treasury.

The point was raised by State Treasurer Henry Johnson with reference to the Farmers' Badger Telephone company, and Attorney General Walter C. Owen today gave the ruling.

England Otherwise Is Silent on the Mexican Situation.

American Attacks on Carden May Keep Him in Office.

London, Feb. 21.—The British government has not as yet taken any action in regard to the execution at Juarez of William S. Benton, the Scottish ranchman, beyond instructing Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador at Washington, to obtain from Secretary Bryan all possible information on the affair.

Although the tragedy has created a sensation throughout the British Isles, it has not aroused any disposition on the part of the responsible members of the British government to change their policy in regard to Mexico.

There is no concealment of the fact, however, that murders of British subjects in Mexico, unless followed by punishment of the murderers and the payment of indemnity, are likely to arouse public opinion here to the point where it will demand that the British government take a more aggressive attitude. This fact had been impressed upon the state department at Washington by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice before any British lives had been lost in Mexico.

Looks to Washington.

In its official attitude Great Britain is looking to the United States government to protect British subjects, and has no doubt that the United States will do its best.

CALLS COUNTY JAIL "HOTBED OF CRIME"

New York Bureau Denounces Whole System of County Government.

New York, Feb. 21.—The present system of county government in the United States is inadequate, obselete and vicious, in the opinion of a bureau of the state comptroller's office which has just completed a three years' study of the subject.

"The county system permits of too many irregular and illegal practices," says a report by the chief of the bureau. "The board of supervisors has too wide a power; it should either be abolished or curbed. The county financial department almost invariably is careless and slipshod. The county jail generally is a veritable hotbed of vice and crime."

NO DECISION YET ON ILLINOIS SUFFRAGE

Supreme Court Will Not Act Now Before April.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—The Illinois supreme court adjourn today without rendering a decision as to the validity of the woman suffrage act. This means there will be no decision in the case of Scown vs. Czarenecki, appealed from Cook county, until at least the April term of court.

Interest in this case has been manifest throughout the state, as approximately 300 cities and villages are to hold local option elections in April and the result in most of these cities is expected to be determined by the votes for women. Vast property interests also are involved.

AMERICANS TO LOOK INTO THE AFFAIR

Other English Citizens and Bauch, the American, Are Missing.

Indignant Protest Against Washington Policy Made at Border.

U. S. Cavalry Squad Has Brush With Mexicans in El Paso.

Washington, Feb. 21.—White House officials stated today that official reports from Gen. Villa and his friends declared William S. Benton, the British ranchman, was executed because he entered the camp of Villa armed and threatened the life of the Constitutionalist commander.

In view of this latest report there was a disposition at the White House to await a full investigation of the facts before expressing any opinion. It was also stated that Great Britain was holding in abeyance any representations pending the completion of a report on the affair by the American government.

Others Missing.

Great Britain's usual attitude toward the treatment of her subjects in foreign lands surrounded the Benton case with more than ordinary interest. Intimations in El Paso that other Englishmen, friends of Benton, were unheard from, increased the tensity of the situation.

While every disposition has been shown by the British embassy here and by the foreign office at London to be guided by whatever an official investigation develops, diplomatic circles were prepared for a thorough inquiry into Benton's killing.

One outcome of the situation, which was thought more than probable, was expected to be a warning by Great Britain to her subjects in Mexico to leave isolated places and retreat to localities where they could place themselves under the protection of the British flag.

Villa's Official Account.

Late official dispatches to the state department containing Villa's version of the affair, were brought to the White House, but a complete account of the killing as personally explained to Consul Edwards is on its way by mail.

NEW EVIDENCE HITS PETRAS

Three Additional Witnesses Found in Aurora Murder Case.

Prisoner Is Unmoved By Reenactment of His Alleged Crime.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 21.—Three new witnesses whom the police got in touch with today establish positively, they say, that Theresa Hollander was dragged into St. Nicholas cemetery and clubbed to death last Monday night within twenty minutes from the time she left a street car on her way to her home, four blocks away.

The new informants walked up Ohio street, which Miss Hollander followed, within eighteen to thirty minutes after she did. The police refuse to give out the names of the witnesses, upon whom they count for new links in the chain of circumstantial evidence they are seeking to fasten upon Anthony Petras, the murdered girl's former suitor.

Women Contradict Petras.

Two other witnesses, Mrs. Walter Hickman and Mrs. E. Finans, flatly contradicted Petras' story that he went down Indiana street after leaving the car on which he and Miss Hollander rode homeward the night of the murder. They say they were standing on their porches in the street for upward of ten minutes after the car passed the corner, and they saw but one man come down the street —Walter Hickman, the negro who has also contradicted Petras' story that he followed Indiana street home from the car.

Re-enacted the Crime.

Last night, with Petras as a witness, the police went over the supposed death trail, re-enacting the crime. One of them, representing Petras, jumped off the car about a block away from where the one enacting Miss Hollander's part got off. From Indiana street the pseudo Petras turned and ran back after the policeman "Miss Hollander." The pursuer walked rapidly and overcame his quarry about a block before the cemetery was reached. This, the police say, supports their theory that Miss Hollander's pursuer caught up with her and walked a short distance with her. They continued the enactment through the killing, but the only comment Petras made was that it was all "interesting."

One of the points which won a new trial for the defendant was the decision by the upper court that the conclusions of bloodhounds were too unreliable to be accepted as evidence. Bloodhounds taken to the scene of the crime were said to have followed a trail to Pfanschmidt's home. The trial court admitted evidence of the trailing by the dogs. The admission of this testimony was held by the upper court to be error.

His Own Words Quoted.

Statements made to Pfanschmidt by the sheriff and detectives while he was in jail, and to which he made no denial were excluded as improper by the reviewing tribunal, which also objected to parts of the testimony of the grandfather of the young man, holding that his statements should not have been allowed to go before the jury.

In its order sending the case back for a new trial, the supreme court directed that a motion for a change of venue from Adams county be granted.

The opinion was written by Justice Carter, who specifically held that the defendant should have been granted a change of venue from Adams county "to some county where prejudice did not exist."

The plea of the defendant that he should have been set at liberty because he was not tried within four months of the date of his commitment was denied by the court.

Story of the Crime.

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 21.—The crime with which Ray Pfanschmidt is charged was one of the most grewsome ever

NORWEGIAN PASTORS MAY ADOPT ENGLISH

Eastern District of Lutheran Synod Will Meet at Madison.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 21.—Pastors of the Eastern district of the Norwegian Lutheran synod, comprising all the territory east of the Mississippi river, are to meet at Madison, Wis., next week to consider the question of preaching in the future in the English instead of the Norwegian language. The discussion on this subject will be led by Rev. H. G. Magelssen. Owing to the rapid transition in these churches caused by the coming up of a younger generation, and the falling off of immigration, the change will receive considerable support.

According to Rev. O. J. Flagstad, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, this part of the country is not at all affected by this movement. The Norwegian churches hereabouts are in the Superior district. It is also pointed out that most of the Lutheran churches in this district, whether Norwegian, Swedish or German, use the native tongue at one service and English at the other each Sunday, thus giving service to both the older and the younger generations. Some churches have totally abandoned the native language and use English exclusively.

"PASSES, OR STATE PROBE"

Demands on Railroads Are Signed With Name "John T. Denvir."

Illinois Legislator Denies Charge—Montana Conditions Found Bad.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Correspondence between "John T. Denvir," who represented himself as a member of the Illinois legislature, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, in which Denvir demanded from the railroad a personal pass and threatened legislative action because it was not supplied, was disclosed by the interstate commerce commission today in a supplemental report upon the inquiry made by the commission into the issue of free transportation by Western railroads.

There was a John T. Denvir in the Illinois legislature. He informed the commission that he did not sign the letter, and that it was not sent by his authority.

"Denvir" requested an annual pass for himself on account of the "legislative public utilities commission." The Burlington road declined.

Threatened Legislation.

A letter subsequently was received by the general counsel of the road, written on the official letterhead of the committee and signed "John T. Denvir." It said in part:

"As chairman of the public utilities commission you can look for legislation that will work hardship to your company, and I wish to assure you that when our commission gets through with you that you will find your road in the hands of a receiver, for you certainly are violating the laws of the state in a great many respects and we know it, but have gone along and been friendly to you; but inasmuch as you are inclined to be so diplomatic in your statement that you would not like to violate the custom you have indulged, I feel inclined to think that a

Opinion on Wisconsin Law Is Given By Owen.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—It is not a violation of law for a district attorney to act as a director for a common carrier within this state, or for a public utilities corporation, where the officer receives no compensation as such director. This opinion was given today to District Attorney T. A. Sanderson of Door county by Attorney General Walter C. Owen. Mr. Owen points out in his opinion that the question of the retainer is the controlling feature.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Failure of the Santa Fe, the Burlington, the Chicago & Alton, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, the Illinois Central and the Wabash railroads to absorb in their rates on grain to Chicago the switches when the shipments are delivered to industries off their lines, was held by the interstate commerce commission today to be not discriminatory.

MUTUAL TELEPHONE COMPANIES EXEMPT.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—Telephone companies that are purely mutual and which, instead of receiving tolls or rentals from the persons using the service, confine the service to the members of the association, are not compelled to pay license fees to the state treasury.

The point was raised by State Treasurer Henry Johnson with reference to the Farmers' Badger Telephone company, and Attorney General Walter C. Owen today gave the ruling.

England Otherwise Is Silent on the Mexican Situation.

American Attacks on Carden May Keep Him in Office.

London, Feb. 21.—The British government has not as yet taken any action in regard to the execution at Juarez of William S. Benton, the Scottish ranchman, beyond instructing Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador at Washington, to obtain from Secretary Bryan all possible information on the affair.

Although the tragedy has created a sensation throughout the British Isles, it has not aroused any disposition on the part of the responsible members of the British government to change their policy in regard to Mexico.

There is no concealment of the fact, however, that murders of British subjects in Mexico, unless followed by punishment of the murderers and the payment of indemnity, are likely to arouse public opinion here to the point where it will demand that the British government take a more aggressive attitude. This fact had been impressed upon the state department at Washington by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice before any British lives had been lost in Mexico.

In its official attitude Great Britain is looking to the United States government to protect British subjects, and has no doubt that the United States will do its best.

CALLS COUNTY JAIL "HOTBED OF CRIME"

New York Bureau Denounces Whole System of County Government.

New York, Feb. 21.—The present system of county government in the United States is inadequate, obselete and vicious, in the opinion of a bureau of the state comptroller's office which has just completed a three years' study of the subject.

"The county system permits of too many irregular and illegal practices," says a report by the chief of the bureau. "The board of supervisors has too wide a power; it should either be abolished or curbed. The county financial department almost invariably is careless and slipshod. The county jail generally is a veritable hotbed of vice and crime."

NO DECISION YET ON ILLINOIS SUFFRAGE

Supreme Court Will Not Act Now Before April.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—The Illinois supreme court adjourned today without rendering a decision as to the validity of the woman suffrage act. This means there will be no decision in the case of Scown vs. Czaarenecki, appealed from Cook county, until at least the April term of court.

Interest in this case has been manifest throughout the state, as approximately 300 cities and villages are to hold local option elections in April and the result in most of these cities is expected to be determined by the votes for women. Vast property interests also are involved.

AMERICANS TO LOOK INTO THE AFFAIR

Other English Citizens and Bauch, the American, Are Missing.

Indignant Protest Against Washington Policy Made at Border.

U. S. Cavalry Squad Has Brush With Mexicans in El Paso.

Washington, Feb. 21.—White House officials stated today that official reports from Gen. Villa and his friends declared William S. Benton, the British ranchman, was executed because he entered the camp of Villa armed and threatened the life of the Constitutionalist commander.

In view of this latest report there was a disposition at the White House to await a full investigation of the facts before expressing any opinion. It was also stated that Great Britain was holding in abeyance any representations pending the completion of a report on the affair by the American government.

Others Missing.

Great Britain's usual attitude toward the treatment of her subjects in foreign lands surrounded the Benton case with more than ordinary interest. Intimations in El Paso that other Englishmen, friends of Benton, were unheard from, increased the tensity of the situation.

While every disposition has been shown by the British embassy here and by the foreign office at London to be guided by whatever an official investigation develops, diplomatic circles were prepared for a thorough inquiry into Benton's killing.

One outcome of the situation, which was thought more than probable, was expected to be a warning by Great Britain to her subjects in Mexico to leave isolated places and retreat to localities where they could place themselves under the protection of the British flag.

Villa's Official Account.

Late official dispatches to the state department containing Villa's version of the affair, were brought to the White House, but a complete account of the killing as personally explained to Consul Edwards is on its way by mail.

NEW EVIDENCE HITS PETRAS

Three Additional Witnesses Found in Aurora Murder Case.

Prisoner Is Unmoved By Reenactment of His Alleged Crime.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 21.—Three new witnesses whom the police got in touch with today establish positively, they say, that Theresa Hollander was dragged into St. Nicholas cemetery and clubbed to death last Monday night within twenty minutes from the time she left a street car on her way to her home, four blocks away.

The new informants walked up Ohio street, which Miss Hollander followed, within eighteen to thirty minutes after she did. The police refuse to give out the names of the witnesses, upon whom they count for new links in the chain of circumstantial evidence they are seeking to fasten upon Anthony Petras, the murdered girl's former suitor.

Women Contradict Petras.

Two other witnesses, Mrs. Walter Hickman and Mrs. E. Finans, flatly contradicted Petras' story that he went down Indiana street after leaving the car on which he and Miss Hollander rode homeward the night of the murder. They say they were standing on their porches in the street for upward of ten minutes after the car passed the corner, and they saw but one man come down the street —Walter Hickman, the negro who has also contradicted Petras' story that he followed Indiana street home from the car.

Re-enacted the Crime.

Last night, with Petras as a witness, the police went over the supposed death trail, re-enacting the crime. One of them, representing Petras, jumped off the car about a block away from where the one enacting Miss Hollander's part got off. From Indiana street the pseudo Petras turned and ran back after the policeman "Miss Hollander." The pursuer walked rapidly and overcame his quarry about a block before the cemetery was reached. This, the police say, supports their theory that Miss Hollander's pursuer caught up with her and walked a short distance with her. They continued the enactment through the killing, but the only comment Petras made was that it was all "interesting."

OPPOSES NEW FLAX RULING

Miller Sees Hamlin About Plan That Would Hit Northwest.

Suggests Compulsory Change in Equipment of Elevators.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—Representative Miller had a hearing before Assistant Secretary Hamlin of the treasury department today on the proposed change in regulations governing the admission of flaxseed and flaxseed screenings under the new tariff law.

The present regulations, which have been in force since 1897, provide that there shall be a separate assessment for the pure seed and the other matter, known as screenings, in any shipment of flaxseed coming from abroad. Although the language of the present tariff act is identical with that of the old law of 1897, it is proposed to assess the unscreened seed as all pure seed, and that duty be assessed at the flaxseed rate of 20 cents per bushel on the entire shipment.

Would Hit Duluth Trade.

Mr. Miller pointed out that if such a regulation were put into effect it would drive all the Canadian flaxseed destined to Eastern markets from the Duluth and Minneapolis markets to Port Arthur and Fort William. The only shipments that come to the United States from Canada would be such as are destined for manufacture into linseed oil in the crushers on this side of the line.

Assistant Secretary Hamlin said that he had no desire to work any hardship on any industry in the United States in framing the customs regulations, and that no action would be taken without full notice to all parties interested. The department officials do not want to disturb the present movement of Canadian flaxseed through Duluth and Minneapolis, but have been aiming at the inferior flaxseed that comes from India to Eastern ports.

Suggestion Is Considered.

The elevators at Duluth and Minneapolis are equipped with expensive machinery for cleaning flaxseed, and Mr. Miller suggested that the department's difficulty might be met by requiring the Eastern importers to put similar equipment in their elevators. The suggestion will be given full consideration.

DRESS STYLES OF 1830 RETURN

J. M. Gidding, Authority on American Fashion, Says Powdered Hair Will Be Extremely Fashionable Next Summer; Hats Will Be Tilted to Cover One Eye.

In an interview with a New York Herald correspondent at Paris the other day, J. M. Gidding, president of J. M. Gidding & Co. of Duluth, Cincinnati and New York, declared that the dress of 1830 will be in vogue this year and that wigs are to be worn by the ultra fashionable.

Mr. and Mrs. Gidding sailed on the Olympia yesterday for New York, after having spent the last two months in Europe, where Mr. Gidding has been making his annual purchases of models from Paris dressmakers.

Business Outlook Good.

Before speaking on the fashions Mr. Gidding declared that conditions in this country point to a very prosperous year. The interview with The Herald correspondent follows:

"'The general idea is the 1830 style, which seems to be taking very well. Everything is fluffy and the idea of bouffants has been used to a greater degree than ever before, I think. Later in the season, however, certain differences will be shown in skirts. For instances, slits will have a tendency to be at the back instead of at the front. Some of the skirts are made with a fan-shaped bottom to give what we call the tango effect when dancing.

No Tailor-Made Suits.

"'Jackets will be short and loose and the predominating material will be silk. It is interesting to note that strictly tailor-made costumes are to be absolutely avoided this year so far as the fashionable woman is concerned.

"'Roman stripes and plaids combining plain colors will be much used. There will also be a lot of changing taffetas, some with gold or silver embroideries, mostly hand made. Another material I have seen is a spiral rep which gives a twisted effect.

"'There are many things new for the season. Clasps and buckles made of jade or lapisazuli in Oriental style are very new. Another note is afforded by a peasant collar which is set away from the neck. This is made in organdie.

"'In all of this bright colors are predominant, most of them being tropical shades—tangerine, lemon and lion colored.

"'A pompadour effect given by flowers is also a new note that will agree with the fashion of powerdering the hair in white. This latter fashion will be extremely in vogue in America this season, not to speak of the extreme brought about by the high colored wigs.

Hats Worn on Side.

"'An important point to note is the fact that all the new hats will be tilted on one side, almost entirely covering one eye. This tilt is a characteristic note of the season's fashion in hats.'

"The reporter then asked Mr. Gidding what he thought of the importation of American silks into France and of their use by French dressmakers.

"'From an American standpoint,' he replied, 'I think it is splendid. I am glad to see the efforts of our silk manufacturers rewarded, but I must add that as far as we are concerned, we shall never use these silks much, nor designs of any number of them, for the simple reason that our customers always want things that cannot be found in America. Lots of these silks will be sold in the shops of New York, and as they become popular we shall be unable to make any use of them.'

"Before leaving Mr. Gidding the correspondent learned from him that the firm of Paquin is to exhibit all its February models at the Ritz hotel in New York next month. This exhibition is to be a purely artistic one, as in no case will orders be taken from customers except through the usual medium of commissionaries."

M'CREERY'S MOTHER MAY AID OPPONENTS

Deposition Regarding His Sanity May Be Asked of Her.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 21.—H. H. McPike, legal guardian of Walter A. McCreery, and who is contesting the millionaire polo player's attempts to have himself restored to competency, filed an application yesterday for a deposition regarding McCreery's sanity from his mother, Mrs. Isabel McCreery, at present in Italy. McPike asserts that although Mrs. McCreery is in poor health, she is willing to travel as far as London to appear before a court commission.

Physicians appointed by Superior Judge Graham, before whom the proceedings here are being conducted, have reported that McCreery is sane.

WOULD PLANT TREES AND SHRUBS

Prof. Cady Lectures to Residents of East End Suburbs.

The planting of elms, hard maples, willows, the Virginia creeper, and other trees, vines and shrubs of the hardy varieties, was favored for the Duluth climate by Prof. Le Roy Cady, of the agricultural college of the University of Minnesota, in a lecture last night at the Glen Avon church under the auspices of the Glen-Hunt-Wood commission.

Prof. Cady is a well known authority on horticulture, and an enthusiastic promoter of landscape gardening. The purpose of his lecture was to give suggestions to the residents of Glen Avon, Hunter's Park and Woodland for improving the landscape conditions of those suburbs.

The speaker emphasized the importance of selecting the proper kind of trees, shrubs and vines so that their growth would be stimulated by climatic conditions. Only the hardier forms of the Virginia creeper, he said, do well in a climate like that of Duluth. He urged the planting of trees along the streets, in appropriate places about the home, and in parks. The vacant lots, he said, should be beautified and all parts of the city should be kept clear of rubbish and weeds.

As an outcome of the lecture an active campaign for beautifying the suburbs will be launched this spring. Committees will be appointed after the election of officers, which occurs in April.

Duluth Civil Service Men Honor Old Employe of Department.

Bert A. Erickson.

The Duluth branch of the National Association of Civil Service Employes held a regular business meeting last evening and elected B. A. Erickson, a clerk at the local postoffice, as the Duluth delegate to the national convention to be held at Washington, March 6 and 7.

Mr. Erickson is one of the oldest employes at the postoffice, having already served for nineteen years. He will take with him the indorsement, by the local branch, of the retirement law, now before congress. It is understood that President Wilson favors this bill, which would insure a pension to every civil service employe after a service of twenty continuous years.

The Duluth branch of the national association was organized several months ago and already has a membership of 100 civil service employes in all government departments in Duluth. It is planned to invite Superior into the local organization this spring. R. G. Malcolm is president and F. S. Huse secretary-treasurer of the organization.

TRY TO SAVE CREW OF MEXICO; 14 DEAD

Irish Life Savers Lose Lives Near Saltee Islands.

Queenstown, Ireland, Feb. 21.—Fourteen life-savers were drowned when they went out from Fethard to rescue the crew of the Norwegian bark Mexico, driven on the rocks near the Saltee islands, Wexford, last night.

Two lifeboats answered the distress call of the Mexico, bound from La Guna, Mex., to Falmouth. The first to reach her was stove in, but the life-savers were able to scramble on board the Mexico, where they remained all night.

When the crew of the bark and the lifeboat men landed safely on one of the islands today, they found that the second lifeboat sank with her crew of fourteen men.

HAS BUILDING BOOM.

About $1,000,000 to Be Expended in Iron River This Year.

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—More than $1,000,000 will be spent in building and improvement work in Iron River this year. The Iron River, Stambaugh and Crystal Falls electric railway project will involve an expenditure of between $100,000 and $200,000. The Chicago & Northwestern will erect a passenger station and construct new yards at a total cost of $100,000 to $150,000. Similar work by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul will cost $50,000 to $100,000. The Peninsula Power company has made an appropriation of $80,000 to $100,000 for installing two additional units in its power plant and making other improvements. Last year more than $500,000 was invested in building work in Iron River. The great bulk of this was for residence structures.

James Carey Will Be Taken to St. Cloud Reformatory.

James Carey, indicted and convicted at the January term of the district court on a charge of burglary in the third degree will be taken by Sheriff John E. Meinig to the St. Cloud reformatory Monday.

Carey was found guilty of having on New Year's day broken into a room at the Adelphi hotel and attempted to steal a watch. Stans Sankosky, who was with him at the time, is under sentence to the state penitentiary in connection with the same crime. Sankosky has asked for a new trial.

HOLYOKE WILL BROKEN.

Los Angeles Jury Finds in Favor of Milwaukeean.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 21.—The will by which Frank Holyoke, a lumberman of Bangor, Maine, left the bulk of a $400,000 estate to two nieces, Madeline and Marjorie Holyoke, was broken yesterday by a jury in the superior court. By a 11 to 1 verdict the jury decided that Holyoke was of unsound mind when he made the will just prior to his death in Pasadena in November, 1911.

The will was contested by Sydney Archibald Holyoke, a son of the lumberman now residing in Milwaukee, who was cut off with a bequest of $100. The executors of the estate announced that an appeal in behalf of the Misses Holyoke would be filed at once.

WILL REMOVE WARMING HOUSES

Mayor Prince Will Try to Stop Rowdyism at Rinks.

Because of their demoralizing effect upon the youth of their respective localities, who break into them after nightfall, the warming houses connected with the outdoor rinks at Ninth avenue west and Third street and Fortieth avenue west and Seventh street, will be removed.

This decision was announced today by Mayor Prince, head of the division of public affairs, which includes the supervision of rinks and playgrounds. The mayor said that only last night he had received a telephone call saying that boys in the warming house at Ninth avenue west and Third street were causing annoyance to people in that neighborhood.

"In view of the circumstances it is poor public policy for the city to continue these warming houses," said the mayor today. "We would be glad to accommodate the people who want to make proper use of them at the right hours but it seems impossible to regulate them. The only thing that appears left for us to do is to remove them. We were not anxious to install them and only did so where assurances were made that the use of them would not be abused."

The warming house at Fourteenth avenue east and London road, where the outdoor rink has been abandoned, will be taken out at the same time, as it has been decided to discontinue the rink at that location entirely.

ARE YOU GETTING PURE MILK? HERE'S ANSWER

Milk Inspector Gives Ratings of All the Duluth Dairies.

Summer and Winter Scorings and Percentage of Butterfat.

Milk Inspector Gust Hedman has prepared a tabulated statement showing the individual scorings for last year of all the dairies in the city.

His statistics give the summer and winter scorings, based on the system followed by the government, the average number of cows of each, the average number of gallons of milk furnished daily by each, the number of milk samples taken and the average percentage of butterfat and the average bacteria count of each.

The milk inspector states that the dairies have shown a marked improvement in the last year. He attributes much of this to the fact that the people have been interested, through the newspapers, in their dairymen, and are insisting upon their milkmen selling them clean milk, handled along modern lines.

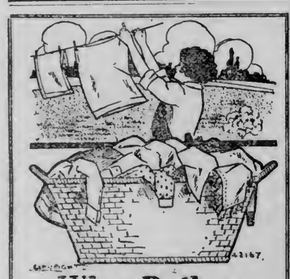

The table prepared by the milk inspector will enable every housewife to learn the standing of her dairymen and how he compares with others in the city. The table is as follows:

Police Care for Child.

Patrolman Wanvick found a 3-year-old girl wandering along Lake avenue about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and brought her to headquarters, where she was cared for until 8 o'clock, when Mrs. John Pentila of 113 South First avenue east came to the station and identified her child.

Duluth Floral Co.
Your Florist. Violets and violets.

Wants $2,150 Damages.

Injuries which Charles Larson received while in the employ of Whitney Bros.' company, on March 31, 1913, are made the basis of a suit for $2,150 damages which Larson filed yesterday in district court. While Larson was attempting to unload a timber from a hoisting grappler, the machinery was suddenly started. The result was that the beam was thrown upon him, Larson claims. The plaintiff avers that his head was severely bruised.

Dr. Konkler,
Chiropractic specialist, 504 Columbia building.

Will Entertain Friends.

Duluth Lodge No. 10, A. O. U. W., will entertain the members of the Degree of Honor and friends of the lodge's members at cards next Tuesday evening at Odd Fellows' hall, 18 Lake avenue north.

Pupils in Sleighride.

Pupils of the seventh grade of the J. D. Ensign school entertained at a sleighride party to the pumping station at Lakewood last evening. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Theobald, Miss Leda King, Miss Gladys Shaw and Miss Topliffe. There were thirty-nine young people in the party.

Sent to Hospital.

George Taylor, 38 years old, who was picked up by the authorities at Ely this week on a charge of insanity, was examined in probate court this morning as to his mental soundness and found to be a fit subject for the state hospital at Fergus Falls. Taylor raves violently at times and at other times appears dull and sleepy. He was committed to Fergus Falls by Judge S. W. Gilpin.

Will Work Monday.

Monday, Feb. 23, will not be observed as a holiday at the courthouse, at least so far as the courts are concerned. Usual sessions of court will be held and most of the county offices will be open all day.

Two Court Weddings.

Judge S. W. Gilpin officiated this morning at two marriages which took place at the courthouse. Ralph H. Hall and Miss Mary Eklund, both of St. Louis county, were made man and wife, and shortly afterwards nuptial ceremonies were performed by the court for Fred Pingel and Augusta Tiedji, both of Rush county, Wis.

Talk on Socialism.

Richard Jones will speak on "Socialism in American Politics" at the regular meeting of the Men's Club of the Unitarian church, to be held in the church parlors next Thursday evening. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

Will Observe Holiday.

All city offices will be closed Monday, the day being observed as a legal holiday. The regular weekly public meeting of the city council will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Sent To Work Farm.

Tony Daur, who was arrested Wednesday on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper, will have to spend the next sixty days in the work farm. He pleaded guilty to the complaint made against him by Rose Carter of 5101 Roosevelt street, who claimed that he roomed and boarded at her home for several weeks and then left without paying his bill. He was fined $75 and costs or sixty days. He is unable to pay his fine.

Nurse Alumni to Meet.

The St. Luke's Hospital Alumni association, the members of which are graduate nurses of that institution, will hold a business meeting Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at 124 Tenth avenue east. Several important matters are scheduled for consideration.

Park Point Chapel.

At Park Point Mission chapel "go to church" Sunday will be observed by the holding of an evening service at 8 o'clock, and Sunday school at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. C. A. Knippenberg is superintendent and Miss Florence Webb is organist.

Twenty New Members.

Duluth temple, No. 186, Camels of the World, added twenty names to its membership roll at the regular weekly meeting last night in K. of P. hall. It was also decided that a delegation of the members, escorted by the officers, would visit Minneapolis temple, No. 66, next Thursday evening at their new temple. The charter of Duluth temple closes on March 13, after which Organizer Hampden will become interstate organizer, with Wisconsin and Michigan as his exclusive territory.

Lindstrom Funeral.

Word was received here this morning that a number of farmers at Meadowlands will take charge of the body of Charles Lindstrom, 65 years old, who was found dead in front of his cabin near Meadowlands Wednesday afternoon. The body, which is now at the Crawford undertaking rooms, will probably be sent to Meadowlands, where it will be interred early next week.

Says He Is Innocent.

Albert B. Hinckley, 32 years old, who was arrested in Superior Tuesday on a charge of passing worthless checks and then turned over to the local police Wednesday to answer a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, was arraigned in police court yesterday afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning. Ball was fixed at $100.

No Arrests for Twenty Hours.

From 1:45 o'clock yesterday morning until 9:15 o'clock last night not a single arrest was made by the local police. This is a record of almost twenty hours, which has not been equalled in years, according to the police. At 9:15 o'clock James McCoy, 60 years old, was arested on a charge of drunkenness. He pleaded guilty this morning and was fined $1 and costs or three days in the county jail.

Will Not Dismiss Case.

Judge Cant in district court last evening denied the motion to dismiss the suit of Ephriam T. Trenholm against the Cloquet Lumber company and others on the groun of alleged lashes. He announced his decision in the matter after listening to arguments on both sides for three days. Trenholm is suing for $8,050 for malicious prosecution. The case grows out of his arrest on a charge of destroying a dam belonging to the company back in June 1901. The case will go on trial Monday.

MASS OF TESTIMONY IN COLORADO PROBE

Militia Will Claim Right to Answer Accusations.

Trinidad, Colo., Feb. 21.—With nearly 30,000 typewritten pages of testimony already in the record, the house sub-committee today finished its second week of investigation of the Colorado coal miners' strike. There was no indication that the strikers' side of the Trinidad hearing was near a conclusion. The operators have intimated that they will ask for several days in which to present their case, and the military authorities have prepared a large amount of testimony to refute the charge against the militia.

The militia has become an increasingly important factor in the hearing. Over the protest of the military legal department, the committee permitted the introduction of a large amount of testimony relative to alleged misconduct on the part of the state troops.

The military authorities now take the position that they are entitled to an opportunity to refute this testimony.

FAVORS FIXED POLICY.

North Dakota National Guard Association Resolves at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Hanna addressed the National Guard association here today. Resolutions were adopted by the board favoring plans for attending the Panama exposition at San Francisco in 1915 and committees were appointed to take up the matter. The resolutions also favored a fixed policy regarding the militia of the country and urged the adoption of some plan by the war department in relation to state land forces that would be effective both in the preservation of peace and preparedness for war. Lieut. Col. Tharalson, who is vice president, will be elected president before adjournment.

TOOK PROMINENT PART IN BIG CROOKSTON SHOW

J. F. INGERSOLL.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A prominent figure in the farm crops show held here this week was J. F. Ingersoll of Crookston, president of the Northwestern Minnesota Agricultural association, a moving spirit in the Fairfax Andover Social circle, a three-year-old organization which has solved the problems of rural social life and many practical farm problems.

ALL PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO PROTECT PUBLIC INTERESTS

History of Legislation Affecting Power Dam at the Soo.

No Justification for Statement in Letter By Chairman Tawney.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The recent agitation over the prospective raising of the level of Lake Superior nearly two feet by reason of the construction of Michigan Northern Power company dam in the St. Mary's river, has given the members of the house and senate food for thought, and they indicate today that future legislation will carry provisions that will safeguard the interests of the residents of the cities along the large bodies in the event of construction of impounding works.

An examination of the record in the legislation for the erection of the Michigan Northern dam shows that the original grant was made to the Lake Superior Power company in 1902. This act passed through the house committee on rivers and harbors. The Lake Superior Power company was succeeded by the Michigan Northern Power company, which obtained authority to construct the dam that is now under consideration, under what is known as the general dam act of 1909.

Every Precaution Taken.

This act originated in the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, of which Representative Stevens of Minnesota was and is a member. It also went through the senate committee on commerce, of which Senator Nelson was a member. Those who framed the legislation say that every precaution was taken to safeguard the interests of the people as well as of the government, and that no one ever thought of the possibility of the construction of a dam at the mouth of Lake Superior that would raise that great body of water to the extent indicated recently.

It is claimed the war department is given ample authority to regulate the obstructions to navigation, so that the level of Lake Superior will be maintained at a normal stage. This has been done, it is said in the case of the Michigan Northern dam, as explained by Col. Taylor at his interview with Representative Miller, Julius H. Barnes and G. Roy Hall on Thursday.

Not Justified By Facts.

In Washington it is said that there was no justification for the publication of a statement which was given out by Chairman Tawney of the international joint commission, and the circular letter, issued by Capt. Peek of the engineers' corps, indicating that the level of Lake Superior might be raised nearly two feet. That there was an error of judgment somewhere as to the probable effect of the construction of the dam is asserted, but no one is inclined to place the blame on any particular person.

NATION-WIDE VOTE ON THE TRUST BILLS

Chamber of Commerce of U. S. Will Conduct Movement.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A committee of seven of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will prepare a nation-wide referendum on the administration's trust bills. Preparations will be made at a meeting here Feb. 24. President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, is a member of the committee.

LETTERS USED TO ACCUSE W. C. ELLIS.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Four letters alleged to have been written by William Cheney Ellis, former Cincinnati leather merchant, the day before he killed his wife in a hotel here last October, are relied upon by Prosecutor Malato to prove that the crime was premeditated. Ellis maintained in court today his appearance of composure, and conferred with his counsel over the questioning of prospective jurors.

While Malato declares the letters indicate premeditation, Ellis' counsel interpret them as showing the disordered state of his mind. They will plead emotional insanity.

Caine Gets Berth.

John E. Caine, for fifteen years in the employ of the local freight department of the Northern Pacific, has been appointed chief clerk of the local office of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

Mr. Caine is one of the best known and best liked railroad men of Duluth, and is considered one of the best freight business getters in the Northwest.

Bark Goes to Pieces.

Highland Light, Mass., Feb. 21.—The Italian bark Castagna, which was wrecked on the ocean side of Cape Cod on Tuesday, with the loss of her captain and four of her crew, was torn to pieces today by a northeast gale and scattered along the beach for many miles.

MASONIC GATHERING AT WARROAD, MINN.

For Conferring of Third Degree Upon Prominent Business Man.

Warroad, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Masonic order of the border country and the local lodge made history last night, the occasion being the conferring of the third degree upon one of the prominent local business men. Invitations were sent to surrounding lodges and representatives from Crookston, Thief River Falls, Roseau and Grand Forks, N. D., were present. Rainy River, Ont., and Spooner Masons came over in a private car, fifty strong. The conferring of the degree was entrusted to Past Grand Master Tom Morris of Crookston.

After adjournment the lodge went to the Lakewood hotel where a scrumptious banquet was served, Paul Marchalk acting as toastmaster in a very acceptable manner and speeches were made by Thomas E. Morris of Crookston, G. M. Stebbins of Roseau, J. T. Johnson of Fergus Falls, H. Gorham of Rainy River, C. R. Middleton of Baudette, and George Erickson of Spooner. About 200 Masons participated and it was easily the largest Masonic gathering ever held in the border country.

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN IS FOUND

The body of an unknown man was found floating near the Alger-Smith lumber mill at Garfield avenue shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The coroner was notified and he ordered the body removed to a local undertaker's rooms. There was nothing on the person of the dead man to aid in establishing his identity. The body will be held here for several days.

HAD SWEET TOOTH.

Indianapolis News: Pineapple chunks and roast beef as a dinner dish sounds like a return to the habits of the forefathers, who always wanted something sweet with their meat. Sir Walter Besant tells how in Tudor days most people's teeth were black on account of their diet. Honey was poured lavishly over the beef, and sugar employed to give a fillip to the poultry, and even the wine had to be much sweetened to please the palate of the medieval gourmet. To this day Englishmen add currant jelly to mutton, apple cause to pork, and in Germany stewed pears form "the usual trimming" of chicken.

TO THE WOMEN OF THE CONFEDERACY

CONFEDERATE MONUMENT TO BE UNVEILED AT RALEIGH, S. C.

This monument to the women of the Confederacy will be unveiled in the capitol grounds at Raleigh, S. C., May 10. President Wilson has promised to attend. The monument is the gift of the late Col. Ashley Horne of Clayton, N. C. His mother had six sons in Lee's army and three of them died on the battlefield. August Lukeman, in his design for the monument, has shown a grandmother of the Confederacy telling the story of the war and its traditions to her grandson, who clasps a sheathed sword.

PART OF EXPOSITION BUILDING COLLAPSES

Does $20,000 Damage at Site of Panama Pacific.

San Francisco, Feb. 21.—A portion of the great dome of the Panama-Pacific exposition's palace of manufacturers collapsed and fell 165 feet today, causing damage estimated at $20,000. There were no workmen about because of rain.

TELL OF FURNITURE DUMPED INTO SNOW

Strikers in Copper Country Give Instances of Evictions.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Evictions from houses of the Winona Copper company were described today by strikers who appeared as witnesses before the congressional investigators.

Louis Zagar testified that after notice to move had been given him, deputies came to his home on Jan. 6, and moved his furniture into the snow. Neighbors gave shelter to himself, his wife and baby. Witness said he planted an American flag on either side of the furniture, thinking the deputies would not dare to move the furniture out of the yard. Nevertheless, the goods were removed that afternoon.

Attorney Rees stated that he did not believe that there had been any actual evictions by any of the companies which he represented, and he had not heard of these Winona cases. He said it had been determined that no judgments of dispossession would be enforced until after April 1.

Theodore Bissonetti, a widower with four children, said his household goods also were dumped on the snow on Jan. 6, after the company had notified him to move. He helped the officers take the furniture across the street to the railroad station, he said.

A similar story was told by Andrew Kangas. The witness said he and his wife returned to their home at Winona after a visit and found all their furniture outside in the snow.

ICEBERGS AND TEMPERATURE.

New York Times: Most persons who cross the Atlantic believe that the presence or proximity of icebergs may be detected by the lowering temperature of air and water a mile or more away. Officers of the bureau of standards report in the Pilot Chart of the North Atlantic ocean for September, 1913, that this is not so. They say:

"So far as our observations go, the temperature of the air furnishes no evidence of value as to the proximity of a berg. The question is still in doubt as to whether icebergs influence to any measurable extent the temperatures of sea water at any considerable distance (a mile or so away). The temperature variations in parts of the ocean far removed from ice are often as great and sudden as in the neighborhood of icebergs."

POLISH NOBLEMAN HELD NO MURDERER

Killing of His Wife and Her Nephew is Held Justified.

Mezeritz, Germany, Feb. 21.—Count Matthias Brudzewo-Mielzynski, the Polish aristocrat and member of the German imperial parliament, was acquitted of the charge of manslaughter of his wife and her nephew, Count Alfred Miaczinski.

WANTS EXEMPTIONS FROM TRADE BILL

Senator Oliver Makes Proposal to Amend the Measure.

Washington, Feb. 21.—To exempt from the interstate trade commission bill corporations having capitalization or an annual business of less than $100,000; those engaged exclusively in selling goods at retail, and those engaged in printing newspapers, magazines and periodicals, an amendment was introduced today by Senator Oliver, Republican.

THE RAINBOW.

John Ruskin: We habitually think of the rain cloud only as dark and gray; not knowing that we owe to it perhaps the fairest, though not the most dazzling, of the hues of heaven. Often in our English mornings the rain clouds in the dawn form soft, level fields, which melt imperceptibly into the blue; or, when of less extent, gather into apparent bars, crossing the sheets of broader clouds above; and all these bathe, throughout in an unspeakable light of pure rose color, and purple, and amber, and blue; not shining, but misty soft, the barred masses when seen nearer, composed of clusters or tresses of cloud, like floss silk, looking as if each knot were a little swathe or sheaf of lighted rain.

The class talk had been of brave battles and war heroes, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, and presently an excited little girl in the rear announced, shrilly:

"My father was in the Boer war!"

"And did he fight in any of the battles?" asked the teacher.

"Oh, yes, he was at Graspan and Modder river and Paardeberg, and —"

"And was he wounded in any of them?" pursued the teacher.

The little girl looked abashed for a moment, then:

"No; but he had awful headaches from the sound of the cannon!" she enthusiastically cried.

EARLY COPPER WORKERS THE KEWEENAN PENINSULA

Mining By the Indians Who Antedated the Mound Builders.

After Forty Years' Development Only Dozen Dividend-Paying Mines.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The great state of Michigan is rich in lengendary lore, a great part of it undoubtedly more truth than fiction, but there is no part of the state richer in stories of the early struggles of man than the great copper mining region of the Northern Peninsula—the Keweenaw point district. From the mining by the Indians who antedated the mound builders, down through the times of the early British and French traders to the present day, has this part of the great American continent been a center of great interest because of the fabulously rich copper deposits. And only within the past fifty years, forty years, one might say, have these deposits been developed to any extent, have they repaid in any measure for the great amount of labor and capital expended on them. And now there are perhaps a dozen mines, perhaps only ten, that pay dividends to their shareholders. A great many millions have been sunk into the holes driven into the earth to find rich copper deposits and, in the great majority of cases, these developments have resulted in almost total loss to the investors. Of course some of the big dividend-paying mines have made rich returns to the shareholders, mines such as the Calumet & Hecla, the Copper Range Consolidated and the Quincy. These are the only three notable exceptions, however, although Ahmeek, Mohawk, Osceola and one or two others have paid dividends and there are hopes that two or three of the others will. Wolverine has paid rich dividends but the end of the Wolverine is at hand, almost, as a dividend payer and within a short space of years this mine will be numbered with the abandoned and useless workings, completely exhausted.

The Early Copper Workers.

But to go back to the early days: At a period probably thousands of years ago there dwelt on the shores of Lake Superior an industrious and busy race of copper miners, probably copper hued warriors, perhaps white men, but no one knows which. Curious samples of their work have been found in various parts of the American continent. That these people were partially civilized, were probably as far advanced as any people of their day, is certain, judging from traces left by them. In all parts of the copper region of Lake Superior are found traces of their work. From the ancient workings left by these people on Isle Royale, away out in Lake Superior, is evident that these people of a very remote period had considerable knowledge of navigation and the finding of their way over trackless waters from land to land. One great mass of copper, taken from Isle Royale and showing all over its surface that it had been operated on with fire and stone, and copper hammers were, shown at the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia.

On Isle Royale these people, who must also have had a considerable knowledge of mining engineering, sank pits only on the richest deposits and followed the courses of none but the true veins. Many of the richest copper mines of the Lake Superior region have been located by exploring on the sites of these ancient workings.

Sought Only Mass Copper.

These ancient copper workers used the copper in manufacture of kettles, axes, spear and arrow heads, beads, knives and other implements with which to supplement their supply of stone and wooden tools. They jacked or propped up the "hanging wall" just as the most modern miner of today does, with heavy timbers or with pillars of rock, which were not hewn out with the other copper bearing rock used. The prehistoric miners, however, invariably sought only the mass copper and did not crush the rock and burn and pulverize it to extract the metal, as is done now. Props, levers, wooden shovels, wooden bowls or pails and other tools have been found buried in the clay and earth of these old workings. That the copper workings were not abandoned willingly by the ancient workers is evident because of leaving their tools, weapons and other articles scattered about. Whether they were driven away by some cataclysm of nature or by an invading foe will never be known. Historians, however, lean to the latter theory, believing that more warlike and less civilized tribes of Indians dispossessed the prehistoric miners of their treasure grounds.

Bits of silver ornaments, silver arrow and spear heads and trinkets were manufactured by these old miners from the native silver found in many parts of the copper district.

Left No Other History.

The Indians have preserved no traditions of these ancient people; they left no history other than the old copper workings and samples of the tools they made. If they had been killed in their mines by foes, surely there would be some trace of their bones, buried with their wooden shovels, or some trace of the battle, but there are none.

About the earliest account of the Lake Superior copper district is contained in a publication at Paris in 1636. The colonization of the Lake Superior shores for the rich copper deposits was agitated by La Garde. The early French also reported gold, rubies and other precious metal and stones in this district. As late as 1860 gold was reported found in the district, but no specimens have been preserved, and it is supposed the gold stories were a myth. Dr. Douglass Houghton, state geologist, who came to Lake Superior in the '40s, sought gold and, it is claimed, found it; but if he did, he carried his secret with him to his grave in Lake Superior's waters. La Garde wrote of diamonds being found on the Lake Superior shores, evidently referring to the amethysts which are common here, and also wrote of "deposits of steel," referring to the iron deposits.

"Mines of copper, tin, antimony and lead" were described along the Lake Superior shores by Pierre Boucher, writing in 1640. He also wrote of Isle Royale, which he described as "fifty leagues in circuit" and containing a very fine mine of copper, much of it "refined," meaning native or "float." In 1641 Fathers Raynbault and Jogues visited the region and a little later established a mission among the Ojibwas at Sault Ste. Marie. The Indians of those days worshipped Lake Superior as "Father of Waters," Gitchie Gumme, the "great sea water," and made sacrifices to it. The Indians would refuse to give to the explorers their pieces of copper, weighing from a few ounces to more than a ton, in some instances, keeping them as divinities to be worshiped, or as household gods.

Keweenaw Peninsula.

Of the Keweenaw peninsula, projecting out from the southern side of the lake, an early historian writes: "The lake has nearly the form of a bended bow of more than eighty leagues in length. The southern side represents the string, and the tongue of land which springs from the center of the southern shore and propects upwards of twenty-five leagues into the lake near its middle, is the arrow. The northern coast is bordered with frightful crags, which are the termination of the prodigious chain of mountains which take their rise at Cape Tourment, above Quebec. The great expanse of the waters gives room for the winds, which agitate the lake with as much violence as they do the ocean."

Another writer says: "There are shores, 'tous escarpez de terre glaise,' and there are several layers or beds of copper, one over the other, separated or divided by other beds of earth and rocks. In the water is seen copper sand."

Alexander Henry, in his work on "Travels" between 1760 and 1776, writes of a visit to the Ontonagon river in this region, "one of the largest on the south side of the lake. At the mouth was an Indian village, and, three leagues above, a falls, at the foot of which sturgeon were so abundant that in a few hours a month's subsistence for a regiment could be taken But I found this river chiefly remarkable for the abundance of virgin copper which is on its banks and in its neighborhood. The copper presented itself to the eye in masses of various weight. The Indians showed me one of twenty pounds. They were used to manufacture this metal into spoons and bracelets for themselves. In the perfect state in which they found it, it required nothing but to beat it into shape."

A Five-Ton Mass.

Henry tells of the finding of a mass of copper weighing no less than five tons, from which he cut with an ax a portion weighing 100 pounds. This great mass of copper was afterwards placed on the ground of the war department in Washington.

In 1770 Henry built a forty-ton sloop above the Soo and took a small party of miners to the Ontonagon river the following year. He was accompanied by a Russian officer, then with the Sixth British regiment on Mackinac island, who was a mining engineer. This Russian, Norburg by name, carried back with him to England, an eight-pound piece of silver ore from this district, which is now in the British museum.

Henry left his party of miners at the Ontonagon for the winter,, but they made a failure of the venture because they did not prop or timber up the rough roof of their working and the venture was given up. They found a good lead of copper, however. Henry came to the conclusion that "the copper ores of Lake Superior can never be profitably sought for but for local consumption."

The next explorations in the copper region were made by direction of Gen. Cass, then governor of Michigan, and under the authority of the secretary of war. This was in 1821. The expedition was accompanied by H. R. Schoolcraft. During the presidency of the older Adams a commission was appointed to explore the region but did nothing. In 1841 Dr. Houghton explored the district and, in his report to the legislature in that year, awakened a great interest in the abundant stories of mineral wealth stored here. The treaty of 1842 by which the Indians relinquished title to the copper lands also stimulated this interest.

For the government, Dr. Houghton contracted to make a geological survey of the district, but the expedition came to an end in 1845, When Houghton and several assistants were caught with their small boat, in a storm off Keewenaw point and was lost, together with his valuable field notes and observations.

Early Work at Eagle River.

The earliest copper operations after Henry's vain attempt at the Ontonagon were made made near Eagle River under "permits" covering nine square miles of land, located under authority from the general land office in 1843. In 1844 there were but twenty white men in the country, left to hold the locations before the issuance in the spring of 1845 there was a grand rush of speculators, miners, scientific men and others and the district gradually settled up, a purely mining district, some winters without food enough because of the sudden down rush of winter and the lack of rail communication with the outer world. Men and women endured the greatest hardships heroically. Packers packed mail hundreds of miles across the deserts of snow and bush. Hardy pioneers of the lake built and drove little sailing and antequated steam vessels from the Soo to the Keweenaw shores. Marquette, Eagle River, Houghton and Eagle Harbor became great shipping and receiving ports, particularly after the building of the locks at the Soo in the early fifties. And then an enormous trade almost exclusively with Detroit for this whole northern country was built up, a trade which the Michigan metropolis has lost through lack of interest by her manufacturing and wholesale houses and the almost interminable rail route with its delays, a trade which has gone to Milwaukee, Chicago and Minneapolis and Duluth.

Gradually mines were opened all over the district and only the native copper and the fissure veins were sought but far in the future laid the mining of the conglomerate veins which have made the district one of the richest mineral producing countries in the world. There came panics and disasters and in the seventies every mine was tied up, all but the great Quincy, which has paid dividends for more than fifty years, and the Calumet & Hecla, which was in its development stages. Keweenaw county became an abandoned camp and the rich Cliff and other mines were closed and have never been reopened, although exploratory work is going on at the Cliff and the Phoenix now, with indications that they will again become rich, famous workings.

A LITTLE LEARNING.

Los Angeles Times: "A little learning is a dangerous thing," said Thomas J. Brennan, secretary of the Gaelic society, in New York. "This is well understood by the sincere student of the difficult Gaelic tongue.

"I once knew a student of Gaelic who attempted, during a visit to Scotland, to read the commandments in Gaelic at a Highland service. He read them through, but he was troubled by the look of astonishment that appeared on the faces of his Highland congregation.

"The Gaelic student understood this look of astonishment when he found that he had made the trifling mistake of leaving out the word 'not' in every commandment in which it appears."

NOT EASILY PERTURBED.

Los Angeles Times: "The American girl," said Mayor Ainslie, at a bachelor dinner in Richmond, "is noted for her beauty and intelligence, and she is also noted for her adroitness. Circumstance can never confound her.

"A typical American girl, young and beautiful, sat with her clear eyes fixed ardently on the orbs of a young man who, seated at her side, poured forth his soul in a declaration of love.

"Suddenly the girl's brow darkened. A look of pain overspread her face. With a queenly gesture she silenced the love-stricken youth.

"'Wait, wait!' she cried.

"The next moment the sneeze came, and at once the ardent and tender glow stole back into her eyes, and, laying her hand on the young man's sleeve, she murmured:

"'As you were saying, Alfred?'"

HE HAD OBSERVED.

Everybody's Magazine: The teacher was giving a test on the value of foreign money in America. When it was little Harry's turn. She asked:

"Harry, how much is a guinea worth in this country?"

Harry smiled and answered: "A dollar and a half a day."

WILL HONOR GERMAN POET AT CHICAGO

GOETHE MONUMENT.

This colossal monument to Goethe, the German poet, will be erected in Lincoln park, Chicago. It was ordered by the German societies of Chicago and was designed by Prof. Hermann Hahn of Munich.

AN ARCADIA IN GERMANY

Mediaeval Rothenburg, High Above the Deep Blue Tauber, Is Europe's Oldest and Newest City.

New York Press: Mediaevel Rothenburg, perched high above the deep blue Tauber, is Germany's Arcadia. It is the place where all men are (relatively) rich, all women virtuous, all children happy. It is at once Europe's oldest and newest town. Other towns with hoary pasts, narrow streets, picturesque gabled houses, gray fortress walls and damp dungeons compensate for their picturesque beauty by being socially backward; and when you ask them why the houses smell and the children are ragged they say: "You can't expect everything."

But Rothenburg is an exception. It is as old and as picturesque as Venice, and as tidy and progressive as brand new Berlin. No town equals it for antique loveliness, and no town has such good municipal institutions, such excellent drainage, such fat balances in the savings banks.

Fortress Walls Remain.

Rothenburg is a town of more than 8,000 inhabitants, some fifty miles southwest of famous Nuremberg. It is situated on a high plateau 200 feet above the river. The blue Tauber runs placidly beneath, and so beautiful is the view that the town's contented inhabitants waste many precious hours gazing over the panorama. The Rathaus alone is a marvel. It has a torture chamber and dungeons where 700 years ago a mayor was done to death for treason. There are some innocuous industries; and the municipality owns the neighboring Wildbad iron and sulphur spa.

Rothenburg Once Great.

Once Rothenburg was a great city with an independent position as "Reichestadt" in the Holy Roman empire. It was captured by Tilly in 1631 and was saved from being sacked by a cup of wine presented to the conqueror by the burgomaster.

Under the name of Rotinbure the place is first mentioned in history. That was then the residence of the Duke of Franconia. It became a town in 942 and in 1172 a free imperial city.

No Misery is Tolerated.

Rothenburg is a wonderful place for tourists, but a still more wonderful place for Rothenburgers. For it is Germany's only town which has no poor persons. Also it has no millionaires. The most prosperous citizen makes toys and baby carriages; and there is no great gap between him and the least prosperous. As a result of a wise, paternal and somewhat Socialistic policy, poverty has been abolished.

There are no workhouses and no paupers; and if a man is temporarily out of work that matters little, for the average Rothenburger owns his own house, has big money saved, and also has—on a small scale, a farm of his own.

Town is Self Governing.

Rothenburg municipality is Rothenburg's earthly providence. It is an imperative provision. German law allows municipalities to do what they like, and Rothenburg municipality holds that it should do everything. It laid down years ago that all Rothenburgers must be made worthy of their unequaled town; and that no misery or evil must be tolerated.

Rothenburg municipality resolved to realize this aim by insuring that every citizen should have a stake in the town. First it set to fight the vicious practice of families living in rented houses. Rented houses, it decided, are economically as vicious as would be rented clothes or even rented food.

Landlords had no interest in preserving houses in which they did not live, and tenants had no interest in preserving houses which they would depart from in a year or so. Rothenburg municipality, therefore, started on a policy of creating houseowners.

Municipality Sans Landlord.

By special regulation it made it easy for men to buy the houses they live in. It lent money at low interest to the buyers. The town lost nothing, because the houses are good security.

Rothenburg also insures that newly built houses shall be owned by the men who dwell in them. It makes it hard to put up new houses. Rigid provisions are enforced to insure that the new houses shall not spoil the appearance of the old.

Keeps Air of Middle Ages.

In this way Rothenburg manages to keep its Middle Ages appearance better than other towns.

As a result of land owning and of running the profitable Wildbad spa, Rothenburg municipality is rich. It spends its riches on developing a generous land policy. The man who is not part farmer, the man who is not part farmer, the man who cannot at a pinch produce his own food, that man is only half a man. Therefore, said Rothenburg, every man, town dweller though he be, must have his little farm. And it began to divide up the communal lands among its citizens, and to buy other lands, and sell them to citizens on easy terms.

Strikes and Crime Absent.

So now not only does the typical Rothenburger own his own house, but he owns somewhere on the fringe of the city a little allotment for farming. He can himself work in the factory while wife and children have gone to the miniature farm. His products, it is estimated, average in value 30 per cent of his wages.

This mollycoddling sends up industrial wages. The Rothenburger is the most independent workman in Europe. What with his own house, his own savings and his own allotment, he can pick and choose his work. He refuses to be sweated. Strikes are unknown. Also crime is rare. There is about 60 per cent less than in neighboring towns. There is no need to steal.

Men without occupations and men with doubtful characters from other parts of Germany are promptly sent back to their native towns. And bad native Rothenburgers, when there are any, have a bad time.

The municipality refuses to let them share in all the other bounties which by reason of its wealth it can shower down on the just. So there is no temptation to a bad Rothenburger to stay at home. Indeed, Rothenburgers say that the last bad men enlisted with Tilly.

Not content with providing everything to make its inhabitants comfortable and happy, Rothenburg keeps a jealous watch over its citizens, and when one plans to leave, it does all it can do to persuade him to change his mind.

Bounties to Dissatisfied.

If he is a manufacturer it offers him all sorts of conveniences and bounties. If he is a plain working man it offers him a fresh and more productive farm on the outskirts of the town or promises to get him a better job in one of the factories. Removal is called despection and the dissatisfied citizen is told that the whole world will regard his action as a slur upon the fair name of the city.

As a matter of fact few Rothenburgers ever leave the old town. Of those that do leave, the majority return repentant in due course, after learning that the outside world, compared with their motherly home town, is hard, cruel and unsympathetic. Of the hundred families that left in the last ten years almost seventy returned. They found no other town half so picturesque, or one-third so progressive as the little Arcadia perched above the gorge of the deep blue Tauber.

SPENDING A FAMILY INCOME.

Woman's World: It will take but a few weeks of bookkeeping attempts to prove that the woman's task is no simple one. Many a woman and many a man has tried to keep track of expenditures and given it up in despair, as not being worth the trouble. "The money comes; the money goes; that's all there is to it. Life is too short for such a grind." Such is the burden of their complaints.

The money income should be looked upon as a bundle of funds, and each fund in turn should be looked upon as a smaller bundle of funds. The whole idea in keeping accounts of expenditures, should be to put like expenses together and to determine their relative importance with regard to size and importance. It resolves itself into a matter of proportion, good taste and common sense.

To make it practical and useful the character of nature of each expenditure must be analyzed. Perhaps this is the reason so many fail. When this money income must buy all the things of life, it is difficult, indeed, to classify them. Shelter, food, clothes, service, these are easily classified, but what of the thousand and one things that make up life outside of these primary wants, the things that make it agreeable? How shall the expenses of a family be classified, when there are so many different needs, so many wants and individual tastes, such varying ages?

Here, then, is where the use of the new tool comes in. A crisis confronts the modern home. The woman, especially, must meet the situation that she may be a worthy descendant of the mothers of the past who never flinched when duty called.

BEING GOOD.

Los Angeles Times: "Too many people have the wrong idea of goodness," said Judge Ben B. Lindsay in an address in New York. "Their idea of goodness is the Puritanical one expressed by little Jimmy.

"'Jimmy,' said the lad's teacher, 'what is it to be good? You don't know, do you?'

"'To be sure I do,' Jimmy answered. 'It's not doing what you want to do.'"

DENOUNCED AS EXTRAVAGANT

Water Department Needs No $35,000 Building, Says Club.

Plan Is Pronounced a "Useless Expenditure" of City's Money.

The proposed expenditure of $35,000 for a home for the water and light department of the city was denounced as "a useless expenditure of public money" at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club. Build a city hall which would house all of the city's business, said the members.

"The county purchased a large amount of property adjoining the site of the courthouse with the idea in view that some day the city would want a part of it," said Commissioner Charles Kauppi. "The city can purchase the property on Fourth avenue west and First street from the county and only give its bonds for it in order to build the necessary city hall.

"The interest on the bonds issued for the building of a city hall can be paid by the money which the city is now paying for rentals for its water and light department. The $35,000 surplus money which the water and light department claims to have on hand for the building of a home, together with what money the city can get for its property on Second avenue east and Superior street, will, with a small additional sum, put up a handsome city building."

APPROVE OF SUMMER FETE

West Duluth Commercial Club Pledges Co-operation for Proposed Festival.

Members of the West Duluth Commercial club unanimously approved the proposed summer festival to be held for a week during the midsummer of 1915 and each year thereafter at its meeting last night. The club voted to lend its moral support and its members declared themselves ready to do what they could to boost the celebration as an annual affair for the future.

The proposed festival, according to plans being made, will bring out the best features of Duluth. In addition to the sports during the week will be the pageant feature which will be of a historical nature. It is hoped by those back of the movement to make such a festival an annual midsummer affair, which will make Duluth famous throughout the country not only for its healthful climate but also as a summer resort.

In order to find out where the hitch is in the building of the subway under the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad tracks at Highland street, a committee of the West Duluth Commercial club was authorized last night by the club to arrange a conference for Monday with the city officials, President McConnaghie of the Missabe road, and members of the committee. The members of the committee are W. B. Getchell, Charles Kauppi, Thomas Olafson, David Sang, John J. Frey and W. A. Pond.

According to opinion expressed by members of the club they are of the belief that the city commissioners are trying to throw a damper on the proposed improvement. They declared that the railroad officials had signified their good will by stating that they would build the subway, but that when it was brought to the commission for approval a plea was made that the city had no money, when no money had been asked for expenditures.

Charles Kauppi, county commissioner, stated that the county commissioners had authorized the building of a bridge over Keene's creek at a cost of $3,500, or condition that the city would meet half of the cost. He read a letter from Commissioner Murchison stating that the city would be willing to appropriate this amount for the work.

ILLUSTRATES SERMON.

Asbury Church Pastor Combines Entertainment With Sermon.

"The Good Samaritan" will be the subject of an illustrated sermon to be given tomorrow evenig by Rev. W. H. Farrell, pastor the Asbury Methodist church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street. Several steropticon pictures, as well as a reel of motion pictures, will be used to illustrate the Bible parable.

A feature of the service will also be an illustrated song service. Popular revival songs will be thrown on the screen and the audience will sing from these instead of using the customary book.

Tony Mikrut, Who Shot at Saloon Proprietor, Is Sentenced.

Admits He Fired Twice to Frighten Owner of Saloon.

Tony Mikrut, who entered the saloon of Martin Fajeditch, Raleigh street, on Jan. 6 and fired two shots at the proprietor after the latter had refused to serve him with a drink, will have from one to five years in the state penitentiary in which to meditate over the seriousness of getting reckless with firearms. A jury in Judge Dancer's disvision of the district court yesterday afternoon found him guilty of assault in the second degree. Sentence may be passed on the prisoner today.

Mikrut was brought to trial on an indictment charging him with the more serious offense of assault in the first degree. He admitted that he shot twice, but contended that he did so merely to frighten Fajeditch and not with any intention of killing or injuring him.

After the shooting, Mikrut dashed out of the saloon and was captured by the police after a spectacular chase in which a switch engine was brought into play. Lieut. C. E. Wilcox of the police department boarded the locomotive at Fifty-ninth avenue west and was taken to Seventy-first avenue west. When it was found that Mikrut had doubled on his tracks, the engine was reversed and the officer was enabled to capture his prisoner.

Fajeditch refused to sell Mikrut a drink, he said, because Tony had been drunk all day. During the morning, Fajeditch said, Mikrut became angry at some trivial matter and hurled a telephone instrument at the bartender. In the shooting affair which took place in the afternoon, Fajeditch escaped without injury.

REFUSE TO DROP THE AGITATION

The movement to still the agitation for a suit by the city against the Canadian Northern railroad for damages to No. 8 fire hall is being made, it is claimed by various members of the West Duluth Commercial club.

"I and several other members have been approached on the subject," said Prsidsent P. H. Martin at the club meeting last night. "Why the suit should be dropped is more than I can see. We apparently have a good claim against the road and there is no reason why it should not be paid."

The subject brought forth much discussion last night, and next Friday evening it is proposed to take it up as a special order of business. City Attorney Harvey Clapp will be requested to be preesnt at the meeting to state what action the city has so far taken in the matter.

GETTING DOWN TO CURLING FINALS.

Next week will probably see the completion of some of the four trophy events at the Western Curling club. Four of the events are now down to the finals with three of the rinks in two events each.

Olson and Wade are in the finals of the Union Match; Evered and Judson in the finals of the Esterly; Judson and Iltis in the finals of the Bagley; and Iltis and Wade in the finals of the Henricksen.

The first games in the West Duluth Commercial club trophy will be played Monday evening. Wieland and Evered are drawn. Zauft and Brown and Mallory and Judson will play in the Burns event on Monday.

The following is the draw in the Commercial club event:

Preliminary. First Round.

Quinn / Iltis — Mallory

Zauft / Judson

Wade / Olson

Brown

Wieland / Evered

Olson and Wieland will play tonight in the Burns event.

WOOD-KREIDLER.

Wedding Is the Culmination of a School Days' Romance.

Erasmus G. Kreidler of the Kriedler-Doyle Realty company was married yesterday in Minneapolis to Mrs. Helen Wood of Butte, Mont. The wedding is said to have been the culmination of a school days romance.

Mrs. Wood was formerly Miss Helen Merriman of this end of the city. She was married several years ago and has resided in Butte. About a year ago she was granted a divorce from Mr. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Kreidler will return to West Duluth tomorrow. They will make their home at Central avenue and Eighth street, where Mr. Kreidler has already furnished a home. The wedding of Mr. Kreidler came as a surprise to many of his West Duluth friends.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK.

A. Fieldman Will Build Brick Structure on Central Avenue.

A brick building costing about $12,000 will be erected this spring at 314 North Central avenue by A. Fieldman, local dry goods merchant. The building will be two stories high, have a full basement, a frontage of 25 feet and 125 feet depth.

Mr. Fieldman said this morning that the construction work on the building would begin about April 1.

Mr. Fieldman purchased the property early last spring for $3,500. The lot is now occupied by two shacks which have been on the place for twenty or more years. One was formerly occupied by Wohlin the tailor, and the other is still occupied by J. J. Frey with a real estate office.

Miss Carr Entertains.

Miss Hortense M. Carr, 3907 West Third street, will entertain for the members of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Clement's Catholic church at her home Monday evening. An attractive program will be given.

HELD UP AND ROBBED OF COIN

Four Suspects Arrested in Connection With New Duluth Robbery.

William Downs and Rudolph Barish were held up shortly after 11 o'clock last night by a gang of six or eight men just east of the Last Chance saloon on Commonwealth avenue. The former was relieved of $5 and the other of about $9, according to the story told the police this morning.

Four suspects have been arrested by Sergeant McDermott and Patrolman Root of the New Duluth station in connection with the robbery. These men are said to have been identified as four of the crowd who took part in the affair. Two of the men gave the name of Pete Karich and George Murkovich.

Downs and Barish claim that they had left the saloon shortly before and that these men had followed them out. When crossing the ravine recently filled by the city the men are said to have attacked Downs and Barish and taken their money. Two or three of the participants are said to have had revolvers.

Sergeant McDermott said this noon that he expected to arrest at least two others in connection with the robbery before night.

Pleasantly Surprised.

Mrs. Henry Scribner, 2129 West Sixth street, was pleasantly surprised last evening by a number of friends. The guests were Mesdames C. A. Dahlen, C. E. Deline, A. M. Stapleton, R. Sieger, M. Dery, Ed Gonty, J. W. Swanstrom, H. N. May and Misses Cecil M. Dery and Anna M. Olson.

Has Birthday Party.

Charles Lorentson, 2018 West Superior street, was guest of honor at a surprise party in honor of his twelfth birthday. The guests were Misses Lillian Hendricks, Lottie Hendricks, Inez Bains and Fern La Belle, and Masters Lorenzo La Belle, Irving La Belle, Charles Lorentsen and Aldo Lorentson.

West Duluth Briefs.

At the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street, special music will feature the service tomorrow evening. Miss Sylvia Bevier will sing solo numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cuskey, 8 North Sixty-fifth avenue west, left yesterday for Virginia to spend a few days visiting friends.

Rev. Theodore Lundholm of St. James, Minn., will preach tomorrow at both services at the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue west and Elinor street.

Services will again be held tomorrow evening at the Holy Apostles' Episcopal church, Fifty-seventh avenue and Elinor street. Rev. Wilfred Clarke will preach. The auditorium has again been placed in condition to house the congregation.

Dr. John A. Krantz, pastor of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, is in Minneapolis attending the annual Minnesota Conference of Swedish Lutheran churches.

HOSPITALS FOR SMALL TOWNS.

In the Woman's Home Companion Charlotte A. Aitkens writes an article entitled "The Small Town and Its Hospital." The editor of the Companion precedes the article with the following note:

"Here is an idea for public-spirited citizens: At Christmas time, when all the world is giving gifts to their nearest and dearest, why not join together in giving your town the Christmas present of a well-equipped hospital? Such a movement, once started, will find ready response. Some will give money, others will give work—you will need both. But everyone will give something, and it is this spirit of good will that makes the founding of such a valuable public institution particularly appropriate to Christmas."

Following is an extract from the article:

"Already the rural hospital, the well-equipped, successful hospital in the small town or village, has arrived in some localities and is coming in a great many others. Many of the reasons which have established treatment of hospitals in larger cities apply with equal force to small towns. There are a large number of homes in the country which are unsuitable for the care of the sick. The farmer's wife has usually been so busied with her daily duties that the care of a case of severe illness in the home becomes a strain to which she is unequal. Then in every community there are accidents from machinery, and injuries from building operations, and such things as really need the best possible provision. Appendicitis is not at all confined to city people, and every rural practice can count up a considerable number of cases which have resulted fatally when, if they had been within easy reach of a local hospital, a timely operation would have saved a life. Pneumonia has a long list of victims in every country, and statistics tell us that typhoid fever is more prevalent in country towns and rural communities—according to the population — than in large cities.

"The great difficulty of securing suitable domestic help in homes of all kinds has had considerable influence on the establishment of small hospitals. After all, a hospital is just a sort of co-operative enterprise which makes housekeeping for the sick easier and the best modern methods of treatment can therefore be much more easily obtained."

LET YOUR CHILDREN PLAY ALL THEY WANT TO.

In the December Woman's Home Companion Dr. Roger H. Dennett, a New York physician who is expert in the care and treatment of children, writes an article entitled "How to Make Babies Better." Following is an extract in which Dr. Dennett gives his ideas of exercise for children:

"It seems to be the practice of some mothers to suppress their children in their play, with the idea that it is for their good. I cannot understand why this suppression is so popular, because I believe that throughout childhood there are few exceptions to the rule that a child should be allowed to be as active as he wishes. Not long ago I asked a mother whose child did not seem to be in the best of health if she was very active in her play. The mother replied that her child was very lively indeed but that she was not allowed to run when she was out of doors for fear of getting overheated, there was so much danger of her catching cold afterward. This is not at all unusual, for I meet this suppression almost every day. Such mothers should learn that their children are far more apt to catch cold when they do not get the proper amount of exercise than when they are allowed to run and play all they like. Let your children be as lively as they wish and play to their hearts' content. If they are not naturally active, encourage in them a fondness for games. Most of us have caught the spirit of the fresh air treatment, and it would be well if we could learn that exercise is just as important."

MONEY TO FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE

Linnea Society Raises $250 at Entertainment for Hospital.

The Linnea society raised $250 for the county tuberculosis hospital at an entertainment given last evening at Foresters' hall, Fourth avenue west and First street.

The first part of the evening was given over to a program of addresses and musical numbers. Miss Mabel Fulton, assisted by Miss Gudrun Thrana, rendered several vocal numbers. Addresses were made by Commissioner Hicken, John J. Moe and Mrs. Moe, president of the Aftero society.

Following the musical program a buffet lunch was served and dancing was then enjoyed until midnight. The committee, which had charge of the entertainment, consisted of Mesdames I. Bergstrom, A. Broman, A. Lofgren, Fred W. Erickson, J. O. Smith, Fred Dahl, Hugo Swenson, Albert Swenson, H. Fegreaus, David Cone, Charles Ehling and Clara Chesser.

THREATENED WILSON.

New Jersey Cook Is Arrested for "God's Son" Letters.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 21.—George Bernhardt, a cook, was arrested yesterday in West Orange, a suburb, charged with writing threatening letters to President Wilson. The post-office inspectors traced to Bernhardt letters signed "God's Son," which have been mailed to the president for three months past from Newark and neighboring towns.

The writer complained of hard times and threatened death to the president and destruction to the city of Washington. The police say Bernhardt three years ago escaped from an insane asylum near Philadelphia. He was held in default of $1,000 bail to await action of the Federal court.

CALL TEMPERANCE WORKERS TO MEET

United Forces of State Will Confer in Minneapolis.

A call has been issued to the entire force of temperance workers in Minnesota for a "get-together" meeting to be held at the courthouse, Minneapolis, Feb. 25 and 26. The invitation has been sent to every temperance organization, every church and every other organization opposed to the liquor traffic.

The call has been issued in the form of a circular containing a set of resolutions approved by seven state anti-liquor organizations and more than a score of organizations in Minneapolis. In addition there are signatures of noted temperance workers from every county of the state.

The state organizations which have approved the resolutions are: Minnesota W. C. T. U., Minnesota Anti-Saloon league, Prohibition state committee, Minnesota Temperance Union association, Christian Citizenship Department of the Y. P. S. C. E., Scandanavian L. O. G. T., Minnesota Finnish Temperance league.

HOLDING COMPANY TO LET STOCK GO.

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 21.—At a special meeting here of the stockholders of the Atlantic Coast Line company of Connecticut it was unanimously voted to reduce the capital stock from $17,640,000 to $8,820,000 and to distribute from the assets of the company, in exchange for this reduction, about half of its holdings in the common stock of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company.

While no statement was made to this effect, it is believed that the purpose of this action on the part of the Atlantic Coast Line was to comply with the expressed attitude of Federal authorities towards holding companies of this nature.

CLAIM THAT NEW CABLE WOULD PAY

Figures on Cost and Earnings of State-Owned Line.

London, Feb. 21.—The Dominions Royal commission which is holding hearings on the proposition of a state-owned Atlantic cable has written into its record the testimony of experts who take issue with the opinion held by Postmaster General Herbert Sampel that such an enterprise would not pay. These witnesses, who gave their evidence in Australia, New Zealand and London, point to the success of the state-owned Pacific cable and argue that an Atlantic line would be just as successful and would give the British empire a route which would never enter foreign territory or come under foreign control.

The Pacific cable between Canada, Australia and New Zealand, completed in 1902, cost $10,000,000, which was supplied by the dominions named in conjunction with the imperial government. As the cost will have been paid off in 1920, the cable will then be able to rely solely upon its earnings and rates to Australia which have already been reduced from $2.50 a word to 75 cents will probably be still further reduced.

Some of the witnesses declared that so long as the control of messages between Great Britain and Canada was in the hands of foreign companies the fact constituted a serious menace to the prosperity and welfare of the British race. It was estimated that a cable to link up the British empire would cost $5,500,000 and that the working expenses, including renewal fund, would be just under $400,000 against which there would be earnings of over $700,000. It was figured that a sinking fund for repayment in fifty years of a $5,000,000 capital and interest would be about $200,000, leaving a substantial balance.

Grand Military Pageant and Dance

A., and uniformed degree team, Order Sons of Vasa, at Armory, Wednesday, Feb. 25, 8:30 p. m. Dancing after exhibition. Admission, 25c. Music by Third Regiment band.

ELECTION POSTPONED.

Hillside Club Arranges Special Program for March 6.

Owing to the small attendance of members at the meeting of the Hillside Improvement club last night, the election of officers was postponed until next meeting, March 6. An attractive program has been arranged for the coming meeting.

Secretary Fider has arranged for a debate on the water rates in which John T. Armstead will oppose the new rates and Dr. D. H. Day will defend them.

Will Unfrock Rector.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 21.—Rev. George Gallup, who three weeks ago mysteriously disappeared from Denver and has not since been heard from, will be unfrocked in a few days, according to announcement by Bishop Charles L. Olmstead of the Episcopal church. No reason for the proposed action was announced.

Reno Shocked Again.

Reno, Nev., Feb. 21.—A series of earthquake shocks occurred here between 2 and 4:06 this morning. Many people, awakened by trembling foundations and rattling windows, made for the open. No one was injured and little or no damage done.

Embassy for Argentina.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The administration bill to raise the legation to Argentina to the rank of an embassy, was introduced by Senator Shiveley, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee. A similar bill was introduced in the house by Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee.

MEETS BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Council Abandons Plans for Water and Light Building.

Report Will Be Made on Appraisal of Edison Plant.

Duluth's city council held another meeting behind the closed doors of the mayor's office yesterday afternoon to consider public business.

As citizens were not welcome, judging from the closed doors, second-hand information of what was discussed is the only kind available.

The principal purpose of the B. C. D. (behind closed doors) conference is said to have been to consider the proposal of Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the division of public utilities, and D. A. Reed, manager of the water and light department, for a new building for the water and light department. The outcome of the B. C. D. session is reported to have been that the other members of the council frowned upon the proposition, being opposed to it on the ground that the city should proceed slowly in its expenditures. It is said that they pointed out that the water and light department should not spend $55,000 to $60,000 at this time of financial embarrassment; that a new city hall will be forthcoming inside of the next ten years, in which ample quarters will be provided for the water and light department; that the employes of the department are inconvenienced no more than other employes of the city, and that the water and light department will be obliged to make costly improvements this season, including the duplication of part of the big main leading from the Lakewood pumping station to the city and numerous extensions of the water and gas mains.

Will Abandon Plans.

Commissioner Merritt and Manager Reed are said to have emphasized the numerous advantages of purchasing a lot on Second street near Third avenue west, costing $19,000, and erecting thereon a building ample for all the needs of the department at an expenditure of some $36,000 and to have laid considerable stress upon the inconveniences of the present quarters. It is asserted that they also explained that the funds of the department are sufficient to stand this expense in addition to making the improvements and extensions which will be needed this year.

As the new building did not meet with the indorsement of the council it is stated that the plans will be abandoned.

When this matter had been disposed of Manager D. A. Reed is said to have laid before the B. C. D. meeting the fact that the Great Northern Power company is planning to extend its system to sell electricity outside of Duluth. He is reported to have recommended that the council oppose this on the ground that it might cause inconvenience in the future, believing that it will not be many years before Duluth and Superior will consume all the juice which the company can provide. Mayor Prince is said to have differed with Manager Reed, holding that no obstacles should be placed in the way of the company's expansion.

Before the B. C. D. gathering adjourned Commissioner Merritt is said to have agreed to have W. B. Hittenhouse, who is engaged in making a valuation of the plant of the Duluth-Edison company's holdings, meet with the council to explain what has been accomplished, the methods which have been followed in making the appraisal, and what the results are liable to be.

COURT FINDS FATAL ATTACK MITIGATED.

Greensburg, Pa., Feb. 21.—Dr. Martin E. Griffith of Monnessen, Pa., held in jail here under a coroner's charge of murder for the death of William L. Robinson, a music teacher who he was alleged to have mutilated when he found him attacking Mrs. Griffith Jan. 26, has been admitted to bail. Judge L. W. Doty said from the bench that while the evidence showed premeditation, it also showed provocation and warranted no higher charge that second degree murder. The mutilation was not denied.

BARS PUBLICATION OF CROOKS' PICTURES.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 21.—A move has been made in the senate to prohibit Canadian papers from publishing the pictures of persons accused or condemned of crime, except with the consent of the superior court justice or of the attorney general of a province.

Senator Choquette introduced a bill which would make newspaper owners liable to a penalty of two years' imprisonment for publishing such pictures. The proposed law is designated as an amendment to the section of the criminal code relating to the circulation of obscene literature.

LAY LUMBER COST TO THE RAILROADS.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Lumbermen argued before the interstate commerce commission at the railroad inquiry that the high cost of lumber, particularly of the manufactured article, was due largely to the expense of transportation. Protests against the proposed 5 per cent increase in rates were made by the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, as well as by individual manufacturers and lumbermen.

SOCIALISTS NAME TICKET

County Convention Nominates Candidates for November Election.

Forty Delegates in Attendance From Duluth and Ranges.

The Socialist party held its county convention last evening in its hall at 310½ West First street, and named a county ticket which will be voted on at the election next November. The state convention of the party was held in Brainerd last Saturday and Sunday and a state ticket was put into the field at that time. A committee was also appointed to try to bring about a union with the Socialist Labor party in state and county matters, and it is believed that this will be accomplished. As has been expected, Richard Jones was named last night for senator from the Fifty-eighth district, and will make an active campaign to take the job away from Senator T. M. Pugh. The county ticket follows:

Sheriff, Edward Blackwood, Duluth; coroner, Dr. M. S. Hirschfield, Duluth;

RICHARD JONES.

senator from the Fifty-seventh district, E. N. Edes; representative from the Fifty-seventh district, Edward Dryke; senator from the Fifty-eighth district, Richard Jones; representatives from the Fifty-eighth district, C. P. Carlson and R. Ronge; senator from the Fifty-ninth district, Former Alderman P. G. Phillips; representatives from the Fifty-ninth district, J. E. Foubister and Leo Laukki. Candidates for legislative offices in the Sixtieth and Sixty-first districts and commissioner from the Sixth district will be indorsed by the different locals in these districts.

The new county campaign committee will have J. A. Johnson as chairman and W. E. Towne as secretary. Funds for carrying on the campaign will be raised by subscriptions among the members of the party and donations from local organizations in the county. About forty delegates were in attendance from Duluth and the range towns.

LAKES-TO-GULF PLAN AID RECOMMENDED

Washington, Feb. 21.—Federal aid for improvements on the Illinois and Mississippi rivers to carry out the Great Lakes-to-the-Gulf waterway plan, was recommended to congress yesterday by Secretary Garrison of the war department.

Participation by the central government was urged on condition that the state of Illinois will make, without cost to the United States, and with all Federal interests safeguarded, that part of the proposed improvements from Lockport to La Salle in the upper Illinois valley. With this stipulation, the Federal government proposes to provide a navigable channel eight feet deep in the Illinois and Mississippi rivers from La Salle to St. Louis, Mo. The cost of this project is estimated at $4,760,000.

It is recommended that care be taken in advance to determine just what effect the diversion of the lake waters into the waterways will have upon commerce on the Great Lakes.

PREACHER IN JAIL.

Is Accused of Eloping With Parishioner's Wife.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 21.—Rev. James T. W. Williams, formerly a pastor of the Congregational church in Newcastle, Pa., was located in jail here after his arrest in company with Mrs. George Thomas. The woman was placed in the custody of her husband, who followed the pair from Pennsylvania and caused their arrest, alleging that they had eloped.

Williams, it was said, has a wife and family living in Newcastle, where he was minister about a year. He says that before leaving with Mrs. Thomas he resigned his pastorate. This Thomas denies. While here Williams had been acting as a real estate agent, using the name of Wilson. Mrs. Thomas was a member of his church.

NO TRUE BILL IN DONALD SCOTT CASE.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Federal grand jury has voted a no true bill in the case of Donald Scott, manager of a mine near Durando, Mex., whose transportation of Senorita Laura Leon to Chicago from Mexico was inquired into. Senorita Leon said that Scott rescued her from bandits who killed her father. United States immigration authorities have formally ordered Senorita Leon deported to Mexico.

AMBASSADOR ABOVE HOME STATE LAW.

New York, Feb. 21.—The appellate division of the supreme court declares that an American ambassador to a foreign power is above the law of his state at home, and on this ground refuses to compel James Gerard, ambassador to Germany, to return from his post and decide the appeal in a case which came before him when he was a justice of the supreme court.

Cotton Firm Bankrupt.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 21.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in Federal court here against the Southern States Cotton corporation. The petitioners claim various sums due on cotton sold to the corporation.

The corporation was organized under the laws of Alabama, with $1,000,000 capital. Its announced purpose was to try to hold cotton for a uniform price of 15 cents per pound.

SENATOR BACON'S ESTATE $200,000.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 21.—An estate valued at approximately $200,000 and consisting principally of real estate in Macon was left by the late Senator A. O. Bacon. His will provides that after the death of his wife and daughter, seventy-five acres in the heart of Macon, valued at nearly $100,000, with the sum of $10,000, shall be given to the city for a park "as a memorial to his ever lamented and only sons," twins, who died in 1884.

Although he and his wife were separated more than twenty-five years ago, he referred to her tenderly in the will, and left her the family residence and an annuity of $1,800.

PARTY WALL IS BASIS OF SUIT.

To recover $360 alleged to be due on an agreement for a party wall which was erected between their adjoining properties at Chisholm in January, 1910, the Pabst Brewing company in district court yesterday started suit against Jeannie and Christopher Baldini and Simon and Rose Sapero. The company alleges that on June 19, 1909, an agreement was entered into with Baldini for the construction of a dividing wall, the expense to be divided equally. Later Baldini conveyed his property to Sapero, who refused to pay for the party wall.

ANNUAL BANQUET.

Graduates of Michigan College of Mines Will Hold Reunion.

The seventh annual banquet of the Minnesota Alumni association of the Michigan College of Mines will be held tonight at the Commercial club. About forty graduates of the school are now employed in the iron districts of Minnesota and about forty will attend the dinner. President F. W. McNair of the college will come here from Houghton to attend.

The officers of the local organization are: President, W. W. J. Croze; vice president, Victor Rakowsky; secretary and treasurer, E. J. Collins.

RAILROAD FINED AND BARRED FROM STATE

Gulfport, Miss., Feb. 21.—The Louisville & Nashville railroad is fined $402,000 and enjoined from doing intrastate business in Mississippi by a decision yesterday in chancery court here, based on the charge that the railroad company had failed to obey an order of the Mississippi railroad commission to the effect that Louisville & Nashville trains should stop at Bay St. Louis. The company gave a supersedeas bond for double the amount of bond, pending appeal.

MORE PAY FOR MEN ON GREAT LAKES.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 21.—After two weeks' negotiations between the Dredge Owners' association of the Great Lakes on one side and the International Dredge Workers' Protective association and the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel and Dredgemen on the other, the employes obtained a substantial increase in wages for the coming season.

On government and state contracts the men will receive for an 8-hour day, the same pay they heretofore have received for 12 hours. On private contracts they will continue to work 12 hours daily and will be paid an increase of $5 a month. Three other allied organizations of workers, also participating in the negotiations, expect to reach an agreement with the owners.

Knowland Talks for Suffrage.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Representative Knowland, Republican, of California, made a woman suffrage speech in the house yesterday bristling with satirical references to President Wilson and the Democratic party. He warned the Democrats that they might as well capitulate now, as equal suffrage was inevitable.

HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum acids and lime phosphates, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make clean and healthful food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful, grape cream of tartar baking powder, of highest strength, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.

WHY MARCH IS THE MOST DANGEROUS MONTH

March is the most dangerous month of the year because the change of season is more than a good many systems can stand Too often it is true that the sick "last only till spring." But, if the system is fortified, if the impurities are driven from the blood, and the nerve tissues fed with wholesome and strength-giving food medicine, there is no danger in the change of seasons. Father John's Medicine is invaluable as a tonic in the spring. It strengthens the system and drives out the poisonous waste matter—builds up the body. It is this power that has made it so successful in treating colds and all throat and lung troubles. No weakening stimulants, morphine or other dangerous drugs.

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU TAKE FOR A COLD

The danger in using patent medicines is from the stimulants and dangerous drugs which many of them depend on for their temporary effect. Because it is free from alcohol, narcotics and dangerous drugs, Father John's Medicine has had 50 years of success as a tonic and body builder, for healing throat and lungs, and in the treatment of coughs and colds. Father John's Medicine is a doctor's prescription,—pure and wholesome Guaranteed.

Father John's Medicine is for sale in Duluth by William A. Abbett, 205 West Superior street, 101 West Fourth street, 932 East Second street, also Boyce Drug Store, 331 West Superior street; Wirth Drug Store, 13 West Superior street, and practically all other drug stores in the city. WHY GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY? RABBI GIVES MANY REASONS

"Go to church and take your children with you if you would preserve the peace and happiness of your home; if you would maintain your own integrity, and have your children honor and respect their father and their mother.

"Go to church if you would learn to act justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly before your God; if you would acquire the habit of loving your neighbor as yourself.

"Go to church if you would be taught the true value and the true happiness of life.

"Go to church if you would see the law of God and man upheld and vice, crime and evil suppressed.

"Go to church if you would have your animal passions mastered and your unholy appetites suppressed.

"Go to church if you would find solace for your sorrow and hope for your despair.

"Go to church if you would see that religion is the power that delivers us from the snares that beset us, from the evils that menace us, that lift us from all that is base into those regions where the eternal God, the eternal good alone holds sway."

—Extracts from sermon by Rabbi Lefkovits last evening.

The "Go to Church Sunday" movement meets with the heartiest approval of the people of Duluth, and the good that will result from the movement is unlimited according to a number of prominent church workers in the city.

Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, rabbi of Temple of Emanuel, in his sermon last night, gave a number of reasons why one should go to church. The indorsement of Rabbi Lefkovits, Bishop McGolrick of the Catholic diocese of Duluth, and pastors of all other churches and church organizations show that the movement is not sectarian.

"One of the best things about the movement," said W. J. McCabe today, "is that it is undenominational and is intended to promote religious interest and work regardless of faction. The movement has my absolute indorsement and I think some fine permanent results will come from the work being done.

'The 'Go-to-Church-Sunday' movement will mean the re-establishment of many in church work. Young people coming to the city from other places are apt to fall away from the church-going habit and drift into other activities. Church-going and staying away from church is very much of a habit. Tomorrow we shall get many persons to renew their church work. The church stands for the uplifting of the community, and anything done to arouse interest will be a benefit to the city."

"The movement has my hearty approval," said Z. D. Scott. "We hope to see many good things come from this campaign."

Dr. R. W. Bowden said this morning that it was "all over but the shouting" and that the campaign had been one of the most successful ever attempted by the churches of Duluth. He said it was probable that every person in Duluth had received an invitation by one means or another and that he expected the churches to be filled to their capacity tomorrow.

COLD WAVE WITH WIND

Duluth Will Be in Its Grip for All of Sunday.

A cold wave is due here, the advance guard arriving tonight and the main body reaching Duluth by tomorrow morning. It is forming up in the Saskatchewan country and is already starting Duluthward.

H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster, wants to warn shippers especially to be careful about perishable goods, for there will be a drop of at least 20 deg. by tomorrow morning. That will bring it down to about 6 to 10 deg. below zero. The mercury was 16 deg. above zero at 7 o'clock this morning.

He warns people that the wave will feel colder than it really is because of the fact that it will be accompanied by brisk northwest winds.

The cold wave will last through Sunday at least, and maybe longer.

committed in Illinois. Four persons, Charles Pfanschmidt, father of the accused; Mathilda Pfanschmidt, his mother; Blanche Pfanschmidt, a sister and Miss Emma Kaempen, a school teacher boarding in the Pfanschmidt home, were found dead in the ruins of the Pfanschmidt home, eleven miles southeast of Quincy on Sept. 29, 1912. The bodies, although badly burned in the fire which destroyed the house, showed signs of having been beaten and chopped. It was the testimony of experts at the trial that the four victims were killed and their bodies later burned.

Ray Pfanschmidt, then not 21 years of age and the only surviving member of the family, was accused of the crime. Bloodhounds had followed a trail to the camp where he made his headquarters, and later he was arrested when a bloody suit such as he had worn was found in an outbuilding.

Was University Student.

The trial of Ray Pfanschmidt began in the circuit court of Adams county, March 18, 1913, Judge Guy Williams of Havana presiding. Owing to the wealth and prominence of the Pfanschmidt family and the high intelligence of the accused, who was a former student at the University of Illinois, the case attracted widespread attention. Ten days were taken in getting the jury.

At the trial, which lasted one day more than a month, the state made an effort to prove that Pfanschmidt, heavily in debt and engaged to marry, killed his father, mother and sister in order to inherit the Pfanschmidt estate and be beneficiary of insurance carried by his father and mother. The strongest evidence against the defendant was the blood-stained khaki suit, hoofprints in the barnyard, which fitted the shoe worn by Pfanschmidt's horse, and his indifference to efforts to find the murderer. In his own defense, Pfanschmidt tried to establish an alibi.

Guilty on First Ballot.

The jury, on the first ballot, unanimously voted Pfanschmidt guilty. At first eleven jurors favored the death penalty and one favored life imprisonment. Finally all voted for the death penalty. Judge Williams denied the motion for a new trial, and on July 8 sentenced Pfanschmidt to be executed Oct. 13. A writ of supersedeas was granted and the case was taken to the supreme court on a writ of error.

Ray Pfanschmidt always has maintained his innocence, and not once has his courage failed. He has seemed wholly unwilling to consider seriously his predicament.

The family of Miss Esther Reeder, the fiancee of Ray Pfanschmidt, now resides in California.

"PASSES, OR STATE PROBE"

little resolution with respect to a committee for a thorough investigation of your gross negligence with regard to your methods of procedure will be well to adopt at the next meeting of the senate."

Commission's Report.

The report of the commission says:

"Although opportunity for a full explanation was afforded Mr. Denvir, it was not forthcoming, and we deem it our duty to make this record of the matter. It is well to add that our investigations of the records of other carriers at Chicago show that many requests have been made in the past for free transportation for the use of John T. Denvir. The records of the Illinois Central show that a refusal to issue such free pass was followed by the receipt of a letter to its vice president as follows:

"'I insist you grant my transportation request, and will not accept no as an answer. In the event you disregard my request, you can rest assured that in the next general assembly, the Forty-eighth, of which I will be a member, I will introduce a bill with regard to frontage on the lake front from Sixty-third street to Randolph street, which belongs to the state of Illinois and which you realize never was purchased or leased. It is not my aim to be disagreeable in the matter, and I am, therefore, at a loss to understand how you can consistently refuse me.'

"The signature to this document apparently is in the same handwriting as the signature to the letter quoted above."

The letter also was signed John T. Denvir.

Conditions In Montana.

The commission declares that conditions in Montana with respect to the issue of free transportation by railroads is "reprehensible."

"ASK BRYAN ABOUT BENTON" IS ORDER

ton has already informed the British government that where there are no British consuls in Mexico, the consuls of the United States will look after British interests.

The British government has had no communication with the Mexican Constitutionalists through diplomatic or consular channels. The members of the British government consider that the recognition of the Constitutionalists as belligerents would be a mistake.

Some Press Comment.

The Evening Standard says:

"The execution of Benton emphasizes the fact that some kind of international compulsion soon will be necessary to stop Mexicans from wallowing in this sty of corruption and cruelty."

The Globe, after asking what is going to happen in case investigation proves the guilt of Villa, says:

"The United States has not only the responsibility involved in its assertion of the Monroe doctrine, but the responsibility of having supplied Villa and the rebels with arms, thereby promoting the lawlessness which has had such grievous results for British lives and interests. President Wilson has gone too far to shrink from going further."

Carden May Stay.

The renewed attack by the American press on Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, over the disclosure that he is interested in land in Mexico, is likely to have the effect of prolonging the period of his stay in Mexico as British minister. He is coming to England immediately to report to the foreign office as originally arranged but the previous decision that he is not to return to Mexico is likely to be reversed.

The British government considers that the attacks of the American press are unjustifiable, and will not withdraw him while he is under fire.

Tough on Marling.

This action will cause some inconvenience, as Charles Murray Marling, who was to be Sir Lionel's successor, has now been replaced as counselor of embassy at Constantinople by Henry Hamond Dawson Beaumont, counselor of embassy at Tokio. In the meantime Mr. Marling remains in England awaiting orders to proceed to Mexico.

VILLA CLAIMS BENTON TRIED TO KILL HIM

ist agent here, made public the following telegram from Constitutionalist headquarters at Juarez:

"Benson entered Villa's apartment very unexpectedly, demanding protection for his interests and bitterly insulting Villa and the Constitutionalist army. Gen Villa told him he considered him an enemy to the Constitutionalist cause, and that in order that he might not continue to work against it, he, Villa, was going to pay him the value of his property (Benson's) in the state of Chihuahua.

"Benton Drew Revolver."

"Benton became very exasperated at this and drew his revolver, intending to kill the general, but the latter immediately knocked him down, disarmed him and sent him to jail. Benton afterwards was tried by a 'special military tribunal, sentenced to death, and duly executed, all in accordance with the laws and usages of war."

Announcement that Benton met death in Juarez after a court martial ordered by Villa was made by Secretary Bryan, who said he had no further details. His information came in a dispatch from Consul Edwards at Juarez, who said he had read the court-martial proceedings, which were forwarded by mail to Washington.

Secretary Bryan communicated Consul Edwards' latest message to Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, and instructed Consul Edwards to demand adequate protection and a fair hearing for Gustav Bauch, an American citizen, for whose safety in Juarez grave apprehension has been felt.

Friends of Bauch in El Paso have telegraphed to Representative Smith of Texas that he had not been shot as a spy.

No report had been received at the state department today on the reported disappearance of two other Englishmen, Lawrence and Curtis, who were said to have gone to Juarez to search for Benton.

"Mister Lind" Suppressed.

Mexico City, Feb. 21.—Ignacio Alcacer, minister of the interior, has notified newspapers that anti-American items must not be published. The minister also declared that "Mister Lind," a new newspaper which was wholly devoted to attacking Americans, would be suppressed.

The execution of William S. Benton, a British subject, by the Constitutionalists in Juarez has revived the fear among the government supporters that the United States will be forced by Great Britain to take some action that easily might become intervention.

Some 150 Americans Killed.

Although since revolutionary conditions assumed serious proportions three years ago there have been killed in various parts of the country some 150 Americans, including participants on both sides of the revolution. There are on record the deaths of only four Britishers, including Benton. The three others were killed in districts where the chiefs of neither feet from had any direct authority and Benton's is the first case where it appears that culpability may be placed definitely.

Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister, has received no advices concerning the execution of Benton, and does not expect any unless it be incidentally, since, in his opinion, the case does not concern the government to which he is accredited.

Diaz In New York.

New York, Feb. 21.—Felix Diaz, who helped bring about the downfall of Madero, but later had to flee from Mexico for his life, arrived here today from Havana. He declared he had no intention of allying himself with Carranza and Villa, and declined to discuss what plans, if any, he had for regaining the power he once had in Mexico.

Friends who accompany him in his exile said he left Havana because he feared the hostility of the Huertistas, who already had made one attempt to kill him since he fled from Vera Cruz.

France Cancels Money Orders.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The Official Journal today prints a notice of the suspension of the money order service between the French and Mexican postoffices.

Developments Came Fast.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 21.—The official announcement that William S. Benton, a British subject, had been executed by Mexican rebels at Juarez Tuesday night; the adoption at a mass meeting of resolutions condemning the United States government for its mode of handling Mexican affairs, an exchange of shots between members of the Thirteenth United States cavalry and a score or more of Mexicans, and uncertainty as to the fate of Gustav Bauch, an American, and John Lawrence and a man named Curtis, Englishmen, were the developments of the last twenty-four hours.

Following in rapid succession, these incidents served to bring public feeling to a high pitch, and today every official agency was engaged in bringing to light further details.

The official report of Benton's death came yesterday through Thomas D. Edwards, American consul at Juarez, and was telegraphed to the state department at Washington.

Villa Left Hurriedly.

Almost immediately after the announcement, Gen. Francisco Villa and staff hurriedly left Juarez for Chihuahua. Consul Edwards watched closely at the station, hoping to catch a glimpse of Benton or any American prisoners, but saw none but Mexicans board the train.

That there was a real court martial in Benton's case none on this side of the border pretends to believe. It was known that Benton started for Villa's headquarters to voice a protest against the repeated raiding on his ranch in Chihuahua by the Mexican rebels. Here, at least, the killing of Benton has wiped out whatever confidence was felt in Villa's promises.

Held Meeting of Protest.

These and other disclosures in the Benton case speedily crystalized public sentiment and late in the day arrangements were completed for a mass meeting of protest. Unable to hold it in Cleveland square because Mayor Kelly thought an open air meeting held too great possibilities of danger, the gathering was transferred to the theater. Former Governor Curry of New Mexico, chairman, outlined the purposes, and the resolutions were adopted with a shout. They were presented by W. H. Seaman, a refugee and prominent mining man; R. M. Dudley and Col. C. H. Hunt of El Paso. The resolutions characterized as "Cold-blooded and heartless" the assassination of Benton; charged that the state department at Washington had "persistently suppressed facts concerning true conditions in Mexico," and declared that "at the present moment our government is harboring Gen. Ynez Salazar, who has committed outrages against our people," as well as Maximo Castillo, for many months the head of a bandit band in Northern Mexico. Villa was denounced in strong terms.

The clash between United States cavalrymen and Mexicans occurred last night shortly after Capt. Harry M. Cootes had received word that filibusterers might attempt to rush his barracks. After exchanging a few shots in which two Mexicans were wounded the other intruders escaped in the darkness.

Englishmen Missing.

The two missing Englishmen are reported as having "disappeared in Juarez." The report came from Samuel Stewart, who says the men, John Lawrence and a companion named Curtis, went to Juarez Wednesday to search for Benton. Thompson expressed the fear that they, like Benton, had been shot. Thompson, with Maj. Holndahl of Villa's staff, was permitted to search the jails and guardhouses of Juarez, but found no trace of them. Lawrence is chief engineer of the California Development company and came here on a vacation from Yuma, according to Thompson.

Gustav Bauch, the American, who was being tried for being a spy, also has disappeared. Thomas D. Edwards, American consul at Juarez, said that when friends of Bauch went to visit him with bedding and food, he was not in the cell where he has been held incommunicado since last Sunday while his trial was being held. Reports have been numerous that Bauch would be shot. The consul is confident that Bauch was not taken to Chihuahua.

Quoted Rebel Officer.

Stewart quoted a rebel officer, whose name he did not learn, as remarking:

"Well we've gotten rid of three more Gringoes."

Stewart's status here is not exactly clear, although he told a circumstantial story of his search for the missing men. At first he gave the name of Thompson, but when told that his name would be published he said he was known here as Stewart. He is an Englishman, and claimed to have served in South Africa as a lieutenant in the Forty-third artillery. He wore the South Africa and Orange Free State medals, with several service bars.

Lawrence, he said, also was an Englishman by birth, but is now the owner of a ranch in New Mexico. Lawrence, Curtis and Benton, he added, were members of an English school of which the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, is a member.

Stewart said that Richard Rochester, another Englishman, a refugee from Tepic, Mexico, had received a telegram stating that Harry Chamberlain, said to be a British consul, would be here this afternoon in connection with the case, and he added that the ambassador was considering a trip to the border.

Stewart said he was a soldier of fortune. He was with Carranza as an artillery officer, but left him because he could not get his salary. He came here to seek service with Villa, but made no application when, he says, he found that others already in the rebel foreign legion had been unpaid for three months.

meek mine. They came under guard and were kept under guard at the nine camp, he said. They worked for four or five days and then gave notice, he said, that they wanted to quit, but they were not permitted to go more than twenty feet from the camp.

Witness said he was spokesman for the crowd because he spoke English, and he was taken to the office of James MacNaughton, general manager of the Calumet & Hecla properties.

Complained to MacNaughton.

He related his grievances to MacNaughton and said he wanted his pay and transportation to Chicago. MacNaughton told another man "to fix him up," he said, and then he was taken away by a deputy and placed on a train. When he jumped off the train, because he had not been paid, witness said he was beaten by deputies and then arrested. Arraigned before a justice, he said he was charged with creating a disturbance and cursing the American flag. He was convicted on the testimony of the strikers and served thirty days in jail.

Henry Parks testified that he came to the Copper country from Detroit, Jan. 15, in company with 272 other men, to work in the Ahmeek mine. On the train, the men were kept under guard, he said, and when he attempted to leave the train at Saginaw he was restrained. They arrived at Ahmeek after thirty hours on the train. Witness said he had only three sandwiches and one apple to eat.

Eleven Days for $2.65.

The strike-breakers with whom he came were quartered in a bunkhouse under guard, said Parks, and were kept there virtually prisoners.

Parks said he was paid $2.65 for eleven days' work at a drill, and he refused to take the money. Asked by Representative Howell how he was able to get away, witness replied that the guard was relaxed when the companies "learned you people were coming here to investigate."

Mr. Howell asked if Parks had seen any violence when men had tried to leave the bunkhouse. Witness replied that on one occasion he had seen guards throw two or three men into their bunks when they had attempted to go to town.

Parks' story was corroborated at the afternoon session by Herbert G. Shann, who testified that he came here from Detroit with a trainload of strike-breakers. He said he also was prevented from leaving the train at Saginaw. On arrival at Ahmeek mine, he said, he was quartered in the bunkhouse under guard.

AMATEUR ATHLETE IS SUMMONED

Forrest D. Pease, 23 years old, former manager of the Board of Trade baseball team and a prominent amateur athlete of Duluth, died at 6:30 o'clock last evening at St. Mary's hospital, after an illness of five weeks. Mr. Pease lived at 421 West Third street and is survived by a widow and an infant son.

Mr. Pease came to Duluth about ten years ago with his mother and had made his residence here ever since.

FORREST D. PEASE.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Pease of Waterloo, Iowa, have been in Duluth the last two weeks, having been called here on account of the serious illness of Mr. Pease. For the last few years Mr. Pease was a bookkeeper for E. L. Welch & Co. of the board of trade.

Besides having been manager for the board baseball team, Mr. Pease played ball last summer with the Northern Hardware nine and was considered one of the best amateur players in the city. He was also an expert handball player.

The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Monday from the residence and interment will be at Calvary.

HOW THE WOMEN OF VIENNA OBTAIN THEIR PERFECT BUST DEVELOPMENT

Dr. Colonnay of the Faculty of Medicine, Paris, Dispels Many Popular Illusions and Upsets All Previous Theories Regarding Rapid Development of the Bust—Why Costly Advertised Methods Fail.

How Any Woman May Now Develop Her Bust at Least Six Inches in 30 Days Without Exercises, Massage, Prescriptions, Apparatus or Any Similar Expensive, Inconvenient and Harmful Methods—The Simple Home Method Used by the Women of Vienna Fully Explained Below for the Benefit of Herald Readers:

"No matter whether a woman be young or old, nor what her condition of health may be, I firmly believe that in this treatment she has an infallible method for developing and beautifying her bust." Thus speaks no less an authority than Dr. Colonnay, of the Faculty of Medicine, Paris, regarding the remarkable method of natural bust development first used in this country by Mlle. Margaret Merlain, who until a short time ago was so thin and emaciated as to appear almost cadaverous. Her cheeks were horribly sunken, her neck, shoulders, and chest showed scraggy outlines of the bones, and her bust was absolutely flat and undeveloped. In startling contrast with her former self Mlle. Merlain is now proud possessor of face and neck with full and softly-rounded contour, her bust has been developed six inches until it is perfectly firm and exactly the right proportions, and her entire form has the symmetry and youthful grace of outline which excites the admiration and envy of every woman with an angular, masculine figure. A bustless and undeveloped woman always appears utterly lacking in the most essential attribute of feminine attractiveness, without which distinguishing feature she appears to be incomplete. But at last there has been discovered a means whereby any woman can quickly and easily obtain a superb and beautiful bust.

Best of all, every woman has at hand, in the strict privacy of her own home, facilities for obtaining the same results which Mlle. Merlain and several of her friends have found so simple and easy of accomplishment. There are no prescriptions to have filled, no apparatus or appliance to buy, no time-wasting exercises, massage or similar worthless advertised methods to use. In short, Mlle. Merlain has nothing whatever to sell you, and all you need to do is to send for the book she has just published. By sending the coupon below, as evidence that you are a reader of The Herald, you can obtain one of these books absolutely free of cost, for arrangements have just been made to distribute 1,000 regular copies as a special advertising and introductory offer. At present the books are not for sale, but you can obtain one in exchange for the attached coupon, with the understanding that you will recommend the method to others after you find it entirely satisfactory yourself, and also write Mlle. Merlain a confidential letter testifying to what the method has done for you. Postage on a letter to England is only two cents. Send no money for the book, for it is entirely free, but if convenient two two-cent stamps may be enclosed for return postage. There is no agreement to sign, and sending for the book places you under no obligation whatever.

BUSINESS IS COMPLETED

Master Plumbers Visit Steel Plant and Will Have Banquet.

Minneapolis Man Again Chosen President of State Association.

W. M. Hughes of Minneapolis was re-elected president of the Minnesota Master Plumbers' association at the business meeting of the association, at the business meeting of the association held this morning at the Spalding hotel. C. H. Schrimer of Hibbing was elected first vice president; W. C. Mullin of Austin, second vice president; D. R. Black of Duluth was re-elected treasurer; and S. B. Harvey of St. Paul was re-elected secretary.

J. V. Cunningham of Winona was elected as the national vice president, and J. C. Stack of Duluth and Louis Noenbar of St. Paul delegates to the national convention of Master Plumbers that will be held this year at Atlantic City. Frank Farrell of Duluth and W. J. Topley of St. Paul were chosen as alternates.

At the session of today the association went on record as favoring a change in the present lien law. At present the builder of a house can be compelled to pay the building supply firms again in the event of the contractor not being good for the materials used in the construction of the house. The members of the plumbers' association believe and strongly recommend that the law be amended so that the third party in the business should take some proper steps to notify the house builder as to the responsibility of the contractor.

Another resolution adopted by the association, was one favoring the passing of a law somewhat similar to one in force in Wisconsin. There both master and journeyman plumbers are compelled to pass an examination as to their fitness, and it is believed that a similar law would work good results in Minnesota.

This afternoon the delegates of the association are visiting the steel plant. This evening at the Hotel Superior the annual banquet will be held, which will bring to a close the convention.

President Hughes stated today that too much praise could not be expressed by himself and the other visiting delegates in regard to the treatment that they had received from the Duluth and iron range plumbers.

"They have gone out of their way to show us every courtesy," he declared, "and the convention has been one of the best in the history of the association."

ELEVATOR IS PURCHASED

Cargill Company Takes Over Belt Line House at Superior.

Announcement was made this morning that the Cargill Elevator company had just completed the purchase of the Belt Line house at old Superior from the Peavey Elevator company, at a consideration reported to have been approximately $300,000, although the company would not make a definite announcement of the price.

With the Superior Terminal elevator now operated by it, the Cargill interests will through this deal have a housing capacity of 2,600,000 bushels at the Head of the Lakes, and will be enabled to greatly extend their operations here.

The plant just bought will be used mainly for handling coarse grains. Both elevators will be operated by the Cargill Commission company with offices here. It is intimated that the Peavey Elevator company will retain possession of the house till July to enable it to clean out the stocks now in store.

The Cargill Elevator company now operates 168 country elevators in the Northwest.

STORM PROSTRATES PART OF CALIFORNIA

Six Southern Counties Suffer Severely—Five Lives Lost.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 21.—Three days of unprecedented rainfall brought six Southern California counties to a condition of complete prostration today. There were no street railway or railroad lines in service.

High winds off the ocean prostrated wires and for hours today Los Angeles and surrounding territory within a radius of 200 miles was without power or telephone and telegraph service.

Five men and women have lost their lives in the floods since Wednesday. Great damage has been done by the storm waters, which were the most menacing in the recorded history of the southern end of the state.

More than fifty tons of tickets are issued each year by one of England's railroads.

WOULD KEEP RINK SHEDS

Residents Want Police to Aid in Putting Down Rowdyism.

People residing in the vicinity of the free skating rinks, who have complained against rowdyism of boys at the warming rooms built by the city, do not want the shacks removed as a solution to the trouble. According to statements made by the residents they want a little more attention given the places by the police department.

The neighbors of thes rinks say that the boys have developed destructive tendencies, breaking up the benches and burning them in the stove for firewood, gathering about the place nd creating disturbances of distastful character. These, they say, they want stopped.

"We have given the names of some of the ringleaders to the police," said W. L. Pierce this morning, "and we believe that it is the duty of this department to warn the boys that such practices must be stopped. The warming rooms are all right where they are and should not be removed. There is no reason for the city to punish all for the work of a few. The citizens are paying for the protection of the police department in just such cases as this and it is up to the department to furnish a policeman who will visit these rinks one or twice during the evening.

"The Fifth Ward Improvement club has worked hard to get the city to establish a rink at Ninth avenue west and Third street and the warming shed is a part of this rink. The boys have maintained the ice in good condition all winter, but several of the larger ones have developed destructive tendencies and become rowdy. A visit from a policeman at 9 or 10 o'clock at night would have a wholesome effect on these boys. One policeman, mounted, visits the district during the middle of the afternoon when there is nothing doing. This trip should be changed to the night time when one is required. But by all means leave the shacks and give us a little protection."

OPPOSED TO PAVING PLAN

West End Club Wants Different Route to West Duluth.

Members of the French Naturalization club went on record at the meeting last evening as being opposed to the plan of paving as proposed by the commissioner of public works. The members criticized the plan of paving Superior street in preference to First, Vernon and Third streets.

It was claimed that more people would be benefited by having the latter paving laid. This, they said, would provide a paved street through the thickly settled residence district and a more direct route to the western end of the city.

The secretary of the club was instructed to send a communication to the commissioners stating the sentiment of the club. Following the business session a short program of athletic contests was held.

REVISITS DULUTH.

Rev. James A. Lourie Will Preach Here Sunday.

Rev. James A. Lourie of Wenatchee, Wash., son of Rev. J. A. Lourie, founder of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, forty years ago, is in the city visiting at the home of his cousin, Mrs. T. W. Hoopes of Woodland. Rev. Mr. Lourie is on his way to Chicago to attend the convention which will be held next week at the Moody institute.

Rev. Mr. Lourie will preach tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock at the church founded by his father. Many of the "old-timers" of the congregation will recollect him as only a mere boy when his father first organized the flock. It is expected that many of the old members of the organization will turn out to the services in the evening.

MAKE "DESERTS" BLOOM

Miss Culkin Will Give Addresses on Gardening.

A series of lectures on gardening is being planned for the social centers at the Bryant and Irving schools by Miss Marguerite Culkin, social center director. The lectures will be given for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm in backyard gardening.

The first of these lectures will be given on March 9 at the Bryant school. Among the speakers who will talk will be Prof. G. P. Grout of the Jean Duluth farm, C. E. Roe, A. B. Hostetter, agricultural expert of the Duluth Commercial club, and L. A. Simonson of the West End Commercial club. The latter will speak on strawberry growing.

REHEARSE TWO PLAYS.

Delta Gamma Club Will Present Comedies March 18.

The first rehearsals for two plays to be given by the Delta Gamma Dramatic club of the West end on March 18, will be held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Jewell, 16 U. S. block, Nineteenth avenue west and Superior street. All of the twelve members of the club will have part in the plays.

The two plays are "Samantha and Her Neighbors" and "A Lark at Nanotook Hall." Mrs. Milton Fish is directing the work of the club and will also have one of the leading parts. The members of the club are: Mrs. Fish, Mrs. George Jewell, Mrs. Mae Baillie, Mrs. Irma Hutchinson, Mrs. E. W. Anderson, Mrs. McBride, Mrs. Leonard, Miss Clara Goodhand, Miss Ruth Glover, Miss Christie Hanson, Miss Minnie Milne and Miss Berg.

Two men will take part in the former play. These will be Mr. Jewell and Fred Hanson.

DRUGGISTS WOULD CLOSE ON SUNDAY

One Store May Be Kept Open Between Noon and 6 p. m.

Sunday closing by West end druggists may become a reality in the near future if an agreement can be reached between the six proprietors. It is not proposed to remain closed all day, but between 12 and 6 p. m.

The movement is being fathered by A. Lofgren and E. H. Smith. The idea, according to these men, is to close the store during these hours, and each of the six drug stores to take turns alternately in having one of the places open during the afternoon.

"There is no reason why we should not be entitled to a part of the holiday," said Mr. Lofgren last night. "One store can take care of all of the business during these six hours on Sunday. The idea is to place cards in the windows of the closed stores stating 'So-and-so's place is open. This store closed between 12 and 6 o'clock.' Only two of the six druggists are holding out."

It is expected that all will sign an agreement before spring opens. The six druggists are Martin Nelson, E. H. Smith, A. E. Swedberg, C. I. Olson, A. Lofgren and J. J. Palmer.

SUES FOR $7,500.

Victim of Icy Sidewalk Asks Damage for Injuries.

Karl A. Franklin, clothing store proprietor, and Edward Kaner, owner of the premises at 1905 West Superior street, are defendants in a suit for $7,500 damages filed yesterday in district court by Erick Wallin.

Wallin slipped and fell on an icy walk in front of the West end store March 1, 1913, and sustained a compound fracture of both bones of his right leg. He charges that the defendants violated a city ordinance in neglecting to keep the sidewalk clear of snow and ice.

Benefit Entertainment.

The North Star lodge, I. O. G. T., will give a benefit entertainment for a sick sister of the lodge at Sloan's hall tomorrow evening. The following program will be given:

Speech of welcome, chief Templar; piano solo, Miss Gerda Erickson; duet, selected, two sisters; monologue, "The Comical August;" declamation, Martin Landin; violin solo, Fridolf Hjerpe; playlet, "Flirting in a Railroad Coach;" piano solo, Miss Gerda Erickson; playlet, "To Court, and a Matrimonial Ad;" violin solo, Andrew Durell; vocal solo, August Berg; duet, song selected, two sisters; grand march and games.

Refreshments will be served after the program.

West End Briefs.

Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, is in Minneapolis attending the annual convention of the Minnesota Conference of Swedish Lutheran Churches.

George A. Allan of Winona, Minn., is spending a few days visiting in this end of the city.

Rev. Swan Johnston of Cokato, Minn., will preach at both services at the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church tomorrow.

August Warmott of Saginaw, Mich., is a guest this week of West end relatives.

Gust Hjerpe left this morning for Eveleth, where he will attend the convention of the district lodge of the I. O. G. T. as delegate from the North Star lodge of the West end.

PURCHASING OF SUPPLIES

Men Who Spend City's Money Trying to Establish System.

Auditor Shows Where Certain Bills Were Paid Twice.

The general purchasing committee of the city, consisting of the men who do the buying for the various city departments, began to get down to the fundamentals of city purchasing at the second meeting, held at the city hall this morning.

City Auditor B. J. Campbell urged them to exercise the utmost care to avoid duplications of bills. He illustrated his point by bringing in bills of the aerial bridge, amounting to $263.13, which had been paid twice. Both sets were signed by Leonard Green, superintendent of the bridge, and approved by the commissioner of public utilities. The first set was presented and ordered paid by the council in September and this was done again in October. The result was that the bills were paid twice and it was discovered by the auditor only through accident. The bills were for supplies purchased for the bridge from the Marshall-Wells Hardware company and it was stated today that the second payment will be refunded.

Members of the committee brought in lists of the various supplies used by their departments. Comparisons showed that many use the same articles and it became plainly apparent that big savings can be made by lumping the purchases. It was also demonstrated that supplies should be standardized.

City Clerk Charles S. Palmer gathered much valuable data and information, which he will give careful study. When he has sorted and tabulated the figures and facts presented today he will call another meeting of the committee.

It seemed to be the general opinion that if the city is to have a general purchasing system it will be necessary at an early date to establish a store system, with one or more men constantly in charge.

RUNAWAY HORSES SPOILED RECEPTION

Several Duluth men who attended the celebration at Barnum, given last week in connection with the organization of an Old Settlers' association, are telling an amusing incident in connection with the affair, that did not appear in the reports sent out from the village.

G. G. Barnum, J. E. Cooley and Dr. L. A. Sukeforth were the speakers from Duluth. The village was named after Mr. Barnum; Mr. Cooley did the first work on the site of the village; and Dr. Sukeforth was a member of the first village council.

When the train arrived at the depot the majority of the residents of the village were waiting to greet the Duluth men. Three teams which were to convey the visitors and the committee members to the village, were standing behind the depot. The village band struck up a tune as the train stopped, and the teams ran away. The reception was ruined. The members of the committee had to drop everything and sprint after the runaway horses.

"It was better than a formal reception," said Mr. Cooley, "for it put everybody in good humor."

Accused Man Kills Himself.

New York, Feb. 21. — Rather than face a charge made against him by several small girls, John A. Boyken, aged 63, a wealthy and prominent druggist in the Harlem section of the city, where he was held in high repute, committed suicide yesterday in a bathroom in his store by drinking poison.

WASHINGTON AT CHURCH.

I never knew so constant attendant on Church as Washington. And his behavior in the house of God was ever so deeply reverential that it produced the happiest effects on my congregation, and greatly assisted me in my pulpit labors. No company ever withheld him from church. I have often been at Mt. Vernon on the Sabbath morning, when his breakfast table was filled with guests, but to him they furnished no pretext for neglecting his God and losing the satisfaction of setting a good example. For instead of staying at home, out of false complaisance to them, he used constantly to invite them to accompany him.

REV. LEE MASSEY,
Rector of Pohick Church, where Washington attended service.

"GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY."

The words which head this article, which have stared at you during the week from newspapers and hoardings and little slips of paper, and which have been said to you, doubtless, many times by your friends, are not a command.

They are an invitation.

You are not asked to go to church to please or help those who ask you, but to please and help YOU.

If you accept the invitation, as we have no doubt you have already decided to do, you will agree later that this is so.

There is a seat for you, and a welcome for you, in the church of your choice tomorrow, whatever church and of whatever denomination it may be.

Surely you can spare one evening or morning out of your life, no matter how busy and full it may be, to worship the Creater of the splendid world about you. That's what you are invited to do—to take an hour or two tomorrow out of that busy life of yours to worship the God of your fathers.

It may seem sordid to speak of it in terms of investment and profit, but these are terms a good many of us are most familiar with; and be assured that the investment of a little of your time in the worship of your God will pay large dividends in peace of mind and courage and breadth and hope.

Why not try it once tomorrow?

Unlike most of your investments—either of time or money—this is one in which you cannot lose.

Why not go to church tomorrow, and then write home and tell your mother you did? You could hardly do anything that would give her greater pleasure.

And you could hardly do anything that would give you greater peace of mind and comfort. Even though it lasts but a little while, the balm of church-going is very real and very sweet. And it can be renewed, you know, if, finding it good to be in church tomorrow, you adopt a resolution to go oftener hereafter.

And if it is just for the sake of the novelty, or to remind you of boyhood or girlhood days when church-going was a more frequent experience than it is now, go to church tomorrow, morning or evening.

Don't be afraid of its harming you—it wont. And don't be afraid of the good it will do you—it won't hurt.

You are personally invited to go tomorrow to the house of God, and worship there.

Can you afford to ignore that invitation?

And yet it might be stretching a point to say that Villa was bent on his own destruction.

AN UNSHACKLED PROFESSOR.

They used to say that the university of Chicago was shackled to an oil can because Mr. Rockefeller's millions were generously spilled for its support.

We don't hear so much about that lately, and we should judge from a recent public utterance by Professor Albion W. Small, the head of the department of sociology in that institution, that if it is true today he hasn't heard of it.

This is what Professor Small said, in pointing out what he called four fundamental fallacies in the institutions of modern civilized states:

First, the fallacy of treating capital as though it were an active agent in human processes, and of crediting income to the personal representatives of capital irrespective of their share in human service.

Second, the fallacy of excluding the vast majority of the active workers of capitalistic industries from representation in control of the businesses in which they function.

Third, the fallacy of incorporating the fallacious capitalistic principle, thus promoting the legal person to an artificial advantage over natural persons.

Fourth, the fallacy of a system of inheritance which assigns the powers and privileges of incorporated capital to sentimentally designated individuals, instead of reserving their benefits primarily to the actively functioning agents of society.

"It would be impossible," says the Springfield Republican, "to knock out the economic foundations of the Rockefeller fortune more cleanly than Professor Small does. He even assails the principle of inheritance which alone makes John D. Rockefeller, Jr., of any possible economic importance."

If Professor Small continues to head the department of sociology in the University of Chicago after that, it will be time to lay away for good the oily joke about that school.

A Wisconsin lumber firm that paid bonuses to employes for every child born in their families has stopped the practice just because one man's family has been increased in six years by three sets of twins and three singles. Can't the Sherman law be invoked here somehow?

WHEN THE GOVERNOR IS AWAY.

A couple of years ago, when Governor Eberhart was on one of his numerous absences from the state, Sam Y. Gordon, then lieutenant governor, attempted to exercise the duties of governor on the ground that the governor's absence created a temporary vacancy.

Nothing came of it, and much fun was made of the incident by Mr. Gordon's political enemies.

Judging from a decision by the criminal court of appeals of Oklahoma, which sounds like good sense if not good law, it might not have been such a joke after all.

For the court has held very definitely and clearly that since a governor cannot exercise his functions outside the state, his absence from the state creates a vacancy which it is up to the lieutenant governor to fill.

In the absence of Governor Lee Cruce, Lieutenant Governor J. J. McAlester pardoned a man who had been sentenced to serve seven years in prison for forgery. On his return, Governor Cruce attempted to set aside the pardon, and the matter got into court. The court has held the pardon valid, has held that the governor's revocation of it is invalid, and, what is of peculiar interest to Minnesota because its present governor spends a good deal of his time out of the state, is that the office of governor becomes vacant the moment its incumbent goes over the borders of the state and the lieutenant governor, under the Constitution, succeeds to the duties of that office until the governor returns.

The case is reported in Ex parte Crump (Criminal Court of Appeals of Oklahoma) 135 Pacific Reporter, 428. The real issue was: "Does a governor's absence from a state for a few hours or days serve to put in force the constitutional provisions allowing the lieutenant governor to act in his place?" On this point the court says:

"The functions of chief magistrate were created for the benefit of the state and are local to it; and, as the constitutional functions of his office CANNOT BE EXERCISED OUT OF THE STATE, the effect of his absence from the state is to suspend his constitutional functions, and thereupon these functions devolve upon the lieutenant governor, and he becomes and is de jure and de facto governor until the absent governor returns to the state.

The Minnesota Constitution says: "In case a vacancy shall occur, from any cause whatever, in the office of governor, he (the lieutenant governor) shall be governor during such vacancy."

The effect of the Oklahoma decision seems to be that as the governor's functions were created for the benefit of the state and are local to it, and as they cannot be exercised outside the state, his duty is to remain within the state; and that if he does not, his duties automatically devolve upon the lieutenant governor immediately upon the governor's departure from the state.

Otherwise, in the light of this reasoning, the state would be without a governor while its governor was flirting with fame in other states.

Maybe if Sam Gordon had gone a little further the joke might have been turned on the other fellows, and then Governor Eberhart's contingent fund would have been drawn upon for very few mileage books since.

Train robbers who can get away with over forty thousand dollars at one swoop ought to be valuable allies for the Huerta cause.

THE QUACK CURE-ALL OF LEGISLATION.

The statewide primary in Minnesota has not worked out quite what some people desired of it.

So they are clamoring for a new primary law, or for more tinkering with the old.

A better illustration of the prevailing mania for legislation as an automatic cure-all for every defect in public life could not be imagined.

If the primary has not worked out ideal results in Minnesota thus far, the fault does not lie with the law, but with the people. The direct primary is merely an opportunity. The people haven't used it as they should. That is all there is to it.

When WILL men learn that there is no law, can be no law, and never will be a law, that can take the place of human intelligence and an alert and effective public mind?

A well-informed, well directed and purposeful public mind is greater and higher than any law or all laws. Yet perpetually, instead of cultivating that public mind by education and enlightenment, we seek to reach the millenium by the royal road of more statutes.

This despite the fact that more than half the time we find this royal road to be a mere blind trail.

This despite the fact that repeated experiences have taught us—or should have taught us—that there is no such thing as a self-executing law, and that statute fiat is waste paper unless life is breathed into it by enlightened public opinion.

This despite the fact that adding statute to statute and amendment to revision and revision to amendment is simply piling Ossa of confusion upon Pelion of confusion, and that it gets us ahead about as rapidly as a pup chasing its tail.

A flaw that lies in citizenship cannot be cured by any amount of statutes.

The remedy is not in the easy way of passing another law, but in the hard, slow, painful way of public enlightenment.

MUCH CRY, LITTLE WOOL.

We have been upbraided by an indubitably well meaning person for a recent attack in these columns upon the motion picture shows which "teach a great moral lesson" by disclosing the horrific details of the "white slave traffic."

We shall admit very readily that where an evil exists which ought to be attacked, no mistaken prudery or false modesty should stand in the way of that attack.

But we shall still insist that "white slave" literature, plays and motion pictures are very largely devices to get around wholesome laws against pornographic entertainments.

What and where is this "white slave traffic," anyway?

We hear the most lurid and detailed stories of it. There is a world-wide and thoroughly organized traffic in innocent girls. They are lured away at railway stations and from rural villages; they are tempted into automobiles that swiftly bear them away to the slave mart; they are beguiled into respectable-appearing houses on false pretenses, and then carted off, bound and gagged, to lives of shame; they are kept under lock and key, and retailed at high prices to wealthy satyrs. These stories have swept the world in the last few years, and have prompted parliaments and congresses and state legislatures to drastic action.

But where is the evidence of all this? Somebody has it on unquestionable authority from some unnamed person just around the corner, who has disappeared when we get there. A "social worker" relates it as his personal experience, but is very niggardly with names and details and proofs.

In point of fact, there is no evidence whatever of the existence of an organized "white slave traffic." There does not appear to be a single authenticated case to substantiate these mythical tales that are regaling the hysterical reformer and the half-shamed seeker for salacious diversion. England, after being submerged by a wave of white slave hysteria, reports its inability to find a single case of white slavery. The manager of the Florence Crittenden missions, which do more for lost girls than any other agency, reports that he never heard of a case of the kind. Brand Whitlock, former mayor of Toledo and now minister to Belgium, in an article in the Forum relates his experiences in following up a completely detailed story of white slavery and finding it a myth. And, by the way, cocksure believers in the power of a statute or a police order to cleanse a community as by magic should read that article, which they will find well-informed, vivid and full of common sense and human sympathy.

We have powerful Federal laws against the white slave traffic, which up to date have been exerted mainly against cases of individual immorality with which the Federal government has utterly no business to concern itself, and which state laws and state authorities are ample to cover. No "white slaves" have been discovered and freed. No "cadets" have been revealed as agents of a vice trust, though that trust is as full-panoplied and definite in the minds of the credulous as the tobacco trust.

Is there a "white slave traffic?" We doubt it very much. Surely if there were there would be some evidence of it after these years of hysterical agitation.

And if there is no such thing, what becomes of the excuse that the "white slave" book or play or motion picture serves a high and holy purpose by warning our young people to beware the temptations of the ensnarer?

In a public of average intelligence, it ought to require something stronger than a forced "moral" to palm off upon it the rotten wares of those who cater for profit to the salacious appetites of the evil-minded.

Where are you going to church tomorrow?

THE GARDENER'S WINTER VISIONS.

While the earth's fertility yet is locked by frost, while the winter's snows still blanket the ground, and while the shrill and piercing blasts from the north still whistle under the eaves and make the warm spot by the hearth—or the radiator—the place best of all places to be, your real gardener, the one who gardens for the love of it, is about as busy as he will be next June.

Then, he will be planting the more tender seeds and bulbs, fighting the eager cutworm, spraying for aphis and currant worm, wielding the hoe against the weeds and the soil's tendency to form an impenetrable crust, giving his body wholesome exercise that makes for good appetite, sound sleep and good spirits, and his soul the balm of communion with Mother Earth and its laboratory of wonders.

Now, he is studying catalogues of seeds, bulbs and plants, planning his garden beds of flowers and vegetables, putting down on paper his new borders of woody and herbaceous perennials, getting in his seeds and bulbs, watching his geranium slips grow into plants in a sunny window, giving an occasional look to the dahlia roots and gladiolus bulbs he is nursing through the winter, looking to his garden tools that they are clean and sharp and ready, preparing his markers for rows of plants, and watching the daily lifting sun for the coming of the time when the frost shall leave the ground and the seed shall enter it.

Says the Toledo Blade: "Just as the angler gets his fishing tackle together weeks before he goes fishing and the summer vacationist prepares for vacation far ahead of the time of his going away, so does the amateur gardener read the seed catalogues, overhaul his few implements, plan his garden and dream dreams of healthy hours out of doors and of glorious harvests to be while yet the frost is in the ground.

"And just as the best part of fishing is in the anticipation, and the finest fun of vacation is in thinking of the freedom ahead, so is it that the sweetest rewards of amateur gardening are gleaned before the garden beds are spaded and each little seed has been gently patted with a trowel.

"Some poet has prayed the good God to withhold recompense for his striving, but to give him ever the joy and zest of striving. The poet was possibly an amateur gardener."

There is altogether too much of the spirit of pessimism that is displayed, though gently, in this otherwise sympathetic and understanding comment. Granting all the joy there is in anticipation, and granting that often it is the greater joy, still it must be remembered that with the gardener realization often is a more splendid thing than human ingenuity even can make of anticipation.

What splendor of anticipation and fond imagining can equal the glory of the bloom and fragrance that rewards the gardener's loving efforts when seed time yields to harvest? What poet's dream ever mounted to the glory and splendor of one sweet pea blossom, one spike of delicate gladiolus bloom, or even one humble spray of annual phlox?

There may be food for debate between anticipation and realization in gardening, but to the gardener to whom labor in the soil is a labor of love—and otherwise it is drudgery which no sane person will attempt—there are very real and very abiding joys in both, and he is neglectful of high opportunity who denies himself either one.

Now comes the theory that Mona Lisa was not stolen, but that France hired Perugia to sneak it away in order to get the public mind off the talk of war. A public whose mind could be distracted from war by the theft of a picture—did you ever notice the paucity of adjectives in the English language?

MORE SUPPORT FOR THE MIDSUMMER PAGEANT OF 1915.

The West Duluth Commercial club last evening, on motion of Charles G. Futter, unanimously voted its support to the plan for a midsummer festival and pageant in 1915.

This is helpful, and it was to be expected because the West Duluth Commercial club always has shown itself to be as fully alive to all that is best in the life of the community as any other organization.

And there will be a need of all the support available, and work for every organization to do that is willing to work "for the glory and prosperity of Duluth," as the Shriners put it in their strong resolutions in favor of the festival.

The interest and co-operation of the Duluth section of the Drama league, too, is peculiarly acceptable, for the dramatic feature will be prominent in the festival program that will be arranged, and the Drama league has already given this maatter earnest and thoughtful consideration. It has in mind the hope, which we share, that it will be possible to get the help of Percy Mackaye, who is arranging the great St. Louis masque and pageant and who has written and arranged several great outdoor spectacles that have attracted nation-wide interest.

These indorsements are not only welcome, but indispensable. If it is done at all, the festival must be done upon a broad scale that will call for the earnest and loyal support of everybody and every organization.

There is particular need that it be carried out on broadly successful lines the first year, because in the Panama fair traffic that it will divert here there is a ready assurance of a large and critical outside audience at the start.

Of course it isn't at all likely that T. R. went to South America to study the methods of defeated candidates in those republics.

RAPID PROGRESS ON THE GREAT LAKES.

In its calendar of past local events the Cleveland Plain Dealer the other day ran this item:

February 16, 1882—Launching of the iron steamer Onoko, the first of its kind on the lakes.

The date is within the memory of most men in active life, but it was in the infancy of the Great Lakes marine. Much has happened since then.

The Onoko, which is still afloat and in service, is 287 feet in length and has a gross tonnage of 2,164. Big in her day, and a marvel no doubt, she is tiny in this day of leviathans.

Picture besides her, for instance, the W. P. Snyder, Jr., and the Col. James Schoonmaker, each 617 feet 6 inches long, each with a tonnage of thirteen thousand or so.

Last year—when if the Onoko did well it carried a cargo of three thousand tons—the Schoonmaker came up the lakes with a cargo of 13,712 tons of coal, and the Snyder went down the lakes with a cargo of 464,000 bushels of wheat.

As the Onokos have given place to the Snyders and Schoonmakers, and the tiny cargoes of the '80s to the monster cargoes of the '13s, so the rill of lake traffic of the infant period has been succeeded by the mighty river of the lake traffic of today.

Now look out for some invidious comparisons between the names Clarence and Jim.

The Undistracted Critic.

J. B. Kerfoot in Life: Last autumn, in a village inn parlor in Central New England, I picked up a copy of Winston Churchill's "The Inside of the Cup" and found, carefully noted in a copper plate chirography on one of the blank fly leaves of the book, a list of the things which had, presumably, most impressed its owner in reading the story. The list ran as follows:

Page 114, line 3, split infinitive.

"Great Heavens," I thought, as I laid the volume reverently back on the center table (the slipshod critic in me recognizing the master spirit of the unknown commentator). "What poise, what self possession, what splendidly insulated steadfastness of purpose! Just think of standing unstirred and undistracted amid a spectacle of foundering faiths and sundering systems, with a tremorless, micrometric and accusatory finger upon a split infinitive!"

Is the Church Worth While?

From an Address of Rev. H. A. Bridgman, D. D., Editor of The Congressionalist, Before the Lowell Congregational Club, as Reported by the Courier-Citizen of That City.

We must ask ourselves how this question would strike a company of Socialists and labor men anywhere, and how should we meet our business partner if he should raise such a question? It is an attitude of questioning suspicion that we are to meet.

We are at a time when this questtion can be more favorably considered, more satisfactorily answered than was possible a decade ago. There are many signs of a change of mood, of a better attitude toward the church. The way in which this go-to-church Sunday has rooted itself the country over is an indication. I do not believe that it would have been possible ten years ago. It is a sign that the better and deeper life of the nation is turning toward the things of the spirit, and that it is turning toward the church as the representative of spiritual interests, as the channel of spiritual influences.

I believe that we have come to see the inadequacy of all other forces in the community apart from the added influence of the church. I believe that the home alone cannot solve our many problems, that the school alone cannot do it, and that those in the home and in the schools are looking now, as never before, for the co-operative service of the church. With our amusements and our popular literature now prostituting themselves to the craving for the sensual, and with the world of industry in the situation that is today, the problem of taking care of God's family here on earth, it seems to me, grows more complicated every year. When we get a glimpse into the underword we say: Who is sufficient for this task? and we know that we must have all the agencies that are naturally and morally designed to work together, and, most of all, we must call on the resources in the church and make them more operative than they are today.

All the social service workers are coming to see that this world is not to be saved by education. The tide of interest and desire is flowing back into the church and we are put on our mettle as never before. God help us to properly meet the situation.

The church today, like the church in the past, is made up of as good people as are to be found in the world. I take my position on that thesis. When a Ford Hall audience jeers at the church it is done largely through ignorance. The church is made up of just the kind of people found in the clubs, the stores and the homes, and I think that is coming to be recognized outside the church. Moreover, the man in the church is trying to be better and to make some one else better. That is the platform on which we must go before the world and answer its questions. That makes anything worth while. It is that which makes the church distinctive. There is no other organization that makes its supreme motive—the purpose to serve the highest things and to cultivate in one's self the things that are highest.

The longer I live the surer I am that the goods the church has are the goods the world wants, the goods the world must have if our civilization is not to rot itself out. We are more and more impressed with the inadequacy of mere machinery. The problem of human life is the problem of intimate relationship, and we have got to have something that will make husbands and wives and parents and children live together under the same roof in peace and work together as comrades in factory or store or school.

So I want to enter this plea for the renewal, tonight, of loyalty to the church and of pride in the church; not to the extent of overlooking its many defects or being unwilling to heed friendly criticism or unfriendly criticism; but to cultivate and appreciate that three-fold loyalty that every man should cherish who calls himself a Christian. There are three concentric circles in which the life of a Christian man today should move. The first is loyalty to the local church; the second includes the churches of our own order that are within reach. I am delighted to see this loyalty becoming more marked in Congregationalism. We make a great mistake when we are so bound up in our church that we cannot get out into this outer circle of loyalty and help on all that is good in other churches. We must also get out into the third and final circle of interest that has to do with the church universal. It seems to me there never was a time when we had so much in this broad outlook to stimulate and to encourage us.

I do believe that before we can finally answer that question to the satisfaction of our critical business partner, or of that audience down in Ford Hall, two elements must come back into the life of our churches in greater measure than they are present there today. The first is the element of prayer. The other is the element of sacrifice; willingness to sacrifice not only money, but ease, culture, personal preference, tradition. A lot of things have got to be sacrificed before God can do with us the things that he wants to do.

The church is worth while. "While" means time. It is worth thought, attention, blood and sweat. The church is worth to you and to me just as much as we are willing to put into it ourselves. The church is worth while to the world and will mean as much to the world as we of the churches are willing to invest, of ourselves, in the service of our fellowmen.

Old-Fashioned Marriage

New York World: The young man and young woman who went to Tarrytown to be married, and then, because the bridegroom had paid the judge 50 cents as a fee and hadn't carfare left, set out cheerfully to walk home, a distance of four miles, furnished the news current of the day with a more interesting marriage item than some to which columns are given.

Here is an example of natural marriage as contrasted with society marriage, socialistic marriage, trial marriage, eugenic marriage, and like variations. It is the kind of marriage practiced in the primitive days of the republic, when the hearts of men and women were full of robust red blood and the brain had not been attenuated by straining after too many exotic ideas. From such marriages came homes in which the country produced native-born babies in plenty and did not have no import population from abroad.

The judge that married them is quoted as saying to the bridegroom: "I certainly admire your nerve in starting out in married life broke." It was the voice of sophistication pronouncing judgment on primeval instinct. What the judge called 'nerve' was heart; what he called being broke was freedom. The walk home of that penniless pair may have been happier than many a bridal tour to Europe in a salon de luxe. At any rate, it was a marriage of untrammelled human nature and has as good assurance of happiness as any science can devise or official supervision regulate.

Twenty Years Ago

From the Herald of this date, 1894.

Galusha A. Grow, the Republican candidate, was elected congressman-at-large from Pennsylvania by a plurality exceeding 150,000 yesterday.

The courthouse at Tower was destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock this morning. It was a combination fire engine house and jail downstairs and courtroom upstairs. A prisoner being held for the murder of Matt Woods was rescued from the jail and taken to Duluth today.

All the debts of Governor McKinley of Ohio have been paid by private subscription, and the property which Governor and Mrs. McKinley conveyed to trustees, when the governor was forced to make an assignment by the failure of a manufacturer for whom he indorsed notes, has been deeded back to them.

The first annual bonspiel of the Duluth Athletic club will open tomorrow at the Glen Avon rink. Five rinks are coming from St. Paul, and Duluth will enter four or five.

The Lake Superior Congregational club held its annual meeting at Pilgrim Congregational church last evening. The following officers were elected: President, W. M. Graham of West Superior; vice president, Rev. F. B. Richards of West Superior; secretary, C. H. Clague of Duluth; treasurer, W. S. Woodbridge of Duluth.

The annual meeting of the Lake Superior Consolidated mines was held yesterday at Newark, N. J. F. T. Gates was elected president, George J. Rogers vice president, C. C. Schneide secretary and treasurer, E. V. Carey of Montclair, N. J., assistant secretary, and George Wellwood Murray general counsel. The above five men and Judge D. B. Searle of St. Cloud, Minn., and L. J. Merritt of Duluth constitute the directorate. Five out of the seven are Rockefeller's representatives.

City Engineer Reed has received notice that at a meeting of the New England Waterworks association held at Boston Feb. 16, he was chosen a non-resident active member of the association, and without any fees, too.

Ralph H. Wadhams, who has been visiting Duluth for some time, returned today to his home at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Foree Bain of the Great Western Manufacturing company has returned from Chicago.

Jeff Hildreth returned from Chicago yesterday and reports that he completed the purchase of a stamp mill, which will be located on the site of Rainy Lake City.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

A Ruler of His Spirit.

George Washington was commander-in-chief of the Continental army, but had made a personal conquest before receiving a military commission against a foreign foe. The Father of His Country illustrated as few Americans have done the truth of the proverb, "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city."

Popular thought has regarded Washington as an impassive sort of being, as passionless as the steel engravings or the bronze statues through which his lineaments are bequeathed to posterity. Yet he was not by nature serene. His emotions were really those of a Titan but held in leash by a will that was even stronger.

How many of us in this better ordered age realize the discouraging conditions that obtained in that loosely organized confederation of colonies of which Washington took the military leadership in 1775. The sectional spirit far outweighed the national. Jealousy and faction were rife among a people whose common danger had yet brought them into only a semblance of unity. Washington had to forge an undisciplined company of "embattled farmers" into an effective army, organize a commissariat, devise a plan of campaign; and to do it all in the face of criticism, suspicion and abuse that seem today almost incredible.

Nowhere does the strength of his character seem more remarkable than in his self-control. At all times he ruled his spirit, even under circumstances of extraordinary provocation. When a blind and stupid congress preferred a miscreant like Charles Lee to himself for commander-in-chief, he held his tongue and bided his time. Doing his duty he simply let events show our short-sighted statesmen the magnitude of their mistake.

Is there a nobler figure in history than that of Washington during the terrible winter at Valley Forge? A series of disasters had culminated in this pitiful bivouac of an army in rags, with no pay and with scant rations. In the darkest hour of our fortunes distress and disaffection pervaded the army and the nation. Upon the blameless head of Washington the heaviest reproaches and complaints descended. But he bore them in silence.

It was observed that the commander retired each day to a grove in the vicinity of the camp. When curiosity prompted a friend to follow him the Father of His Country was observed on his knees supplicating the God of hosts in secret prayer. It is a scene on which Americans may well gaze with solemn awe to the end of time.

We need more of the patriotism that can survive waves of popular passion, prejudice or fear. There is much undisciplined thought and untempered utterance among us. We are prone to extremes of pessimism in the face of some of the undoubted evils that confront society. Men, obsessed with some particular fear, will talk as though the republic could hardly survive the present generation.

Washington lived through some portentous perils in his time but he never exaggerated them. They did not lead him to despair of God nor of the final triumph of righteousness. Beholding his bleeding troops at Valley Forge or receiving the sword of Cornwallis at Yorktown he ruled his spirit. The calmness and vigor of his faith we, his countrymen, should emulate.

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — Just a Little "Kid" With the Weather Man — By "HOP"

TWO "NEAR" JINGOES

By SAVOYARD

Washington, Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frederick Huntington Gillett, a member of the national house of representatives from the Springfield district of Massachusetts, is a veteran solon now serving his eleventh term. As befits a Massachusetts public man, Mr. Gillett is a graduate of Amherst and finished off at the Harvard law school. He has the port of a statesman and if a gentleman from other quarters of our republic, representative in congress, meets him the chances are that that stranger would welcome a closer acquaintance.

With his large experience Mr. Gillett would be a leader in congress even if he were of smaller intellectual capacity than is his. His acquired knowledge is considerable, and in debate he holds his own quite well with his competitors on the other side.

Mr. Gillett is of the old guard of the ex-G. O. P. and he is "too much sot in his ways" to climb out of the rut. He is in a rage over our foreign affairs. Now it is historical truth that since John Quincy Adams first discovered that "A was an archer and shot at a frog," nobody but a Massachusetts man has any right to know anything about "foreign relations," much less talk about 'em and meddle with 'em in any way or particular whatsoever.

There was Charles Sumner, created, no doubt, when nature was fretted with mankind, and Mr. Sumner refused to allow President Grant and Secretary Fish to deal with our foreign relations—that element of our political polity being, as he esteemed it, the peculiar province of Massachusetts, and in that behalf he was all of Massachusetts and the whole show. Grant was nothing if not a fighter, and so he put old Simon Cameron up for chairman of the committee on foreign relations against Sumner in the senate, and by the vote of the negro senator from Mississippi, Revels, whom Sumner had exploited in New England and whose purse he had swelled to the sum of more than $10,000, spoil of the lecture field—by the vote of Reveis, Sumner was degraded and old Simon Cameron, who knew less of foreign affairs than all the rest of the senate put together, was made chairman.

It's funny—Uncle Cullom forestalling Cabot Lodge as head of that committee. If Harvard ever turned out a man for chairman of that council more fitted for the place than any other son of Harvard, Henry Cabot Lodge was the man; but Father Cullom was ahead of him, and for one, I am sorry it was so. Lodge holds up the reputation of the old commonwealth for intellect, for culture, and for character. For his lights—somewhat dim, I grant you—he is a very superior man, and as chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations he would have proved as great as any who ever sat at that council board.

Well, to get back. Mr. Gillett is distressed because of the "foreign policy" of the Wilson administration. He delivers himself of some sarcasm of the "man milliner" and dilettante brand, and for that sort of stuff it is very good.

But what does the Hon. Gillett mean? He don't know. Now, Oliver Cromwell was the only man in Anglo-Saxon history that could successfully ride a horse to a destination he wot not of. Gillett is too light for that and the horse too fiery and untamed.

This here Mr. Gillett is giving the administration unstinted Tophet for its foreign policy and he asseverates it has made a mess of the Mexican situation. How? The administration has not provoked war. What does Gillett mean? He either wants war or peace. Wilson says Mexico is in a state of anarchy and that things must get settled down there without war between our country and Mexico.

Here is what Gillett means and is afraid to say—just this: Some of our rich men have vast sums invested in that country. True, they sent their millions there "on spec," but this is a rich man's government and it is the duty of the administration to go to war, shed the blood of hundreds of thousands of our young, adventurous, best and bravest, to make the investments of Mr. Hearst—and such as Mr. Henrst—there profitable! That is what all this carping is about. Now, I don't believe that Gillett is that sort of man, but if he will read Dean Swift's "Tale of a Tub," he will find this or something very like it:

"The extreme felicity to which mortal man can attain in this world is to be a fool among knaves."

Of course this is merely implication. In general Mr. Gillett is far from a fool.

But I don't know about the Hon. Mondell of Wyoming. He represents the Hon. Warren's sheep ranch in congress. The Hon. Mondell is as vigorous in his denunciations of Mr. Bryan's foreign policies; but he is not quite so graceful as the Hon. Gillett.

I would say to the Hon. Gillett and to the Hon. Mondell that the administration has nearly scoured and swept the house at home. Maybe it will devote a little time to foreign affairs bye and bye.

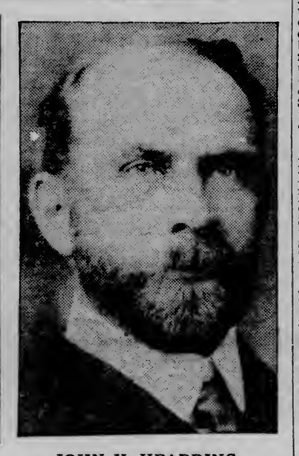

And let them not forget—the American people compose the jury from whose verdict no appeal lies.

MAKING THE DOLLARS COUNT

St. Louis County Leads State in Money Spent on Poor, But Overhead Expenses Are Down to Minimum.

CHARLES SHOGRAN, Clerk of the Poor Commission.

JOHN H. HEARDING, Chairman of the Poor Commission.

ALTHOUGH St. Louis county leads all other counties in the state by a wide margin in the amount annually expended in caring for the poor, the cost of administering public charity is less than half what it is in Hennepin county, where the city of Minneapolis is located.

Using the 1913 reports of the poor department of Hennepin county and the poor commission of St. Louis county for the purposes of comparison, it is shown that while the actual amount expended for the poor in Hennepin county, exclusive of the public hospitals, was slightly more than half of the amount paid out in St. Louis county, the salaries paid to those in charge of affairs was twice as great.

The following table illustrates:

Expenses for 1913—	Hennepin Co.	St. Louis Co.
Groceries	$ 2,970.72	$ 9,972.00
Wood	921.99	716.55
Coal	354.05	2,086.60
Burials	451.00	1,280.67
Emergency expense (shoes and clothing)	498.20	507.57
Poor farm expenses	$ 8,476.76	*11,352.46
State institutions	1,308.53	1,137.14
Other miscellaneous	317.51	1,334.46
	$15,494.43	$29,469.18
Salaries	4,810.00	2,340.00
Totals	$20,304.43	$31,809.18

*—The item of $11,352.46 is an estimate of the cost of maintaining only the inmates in the county almshouse. It is figured on the basis of 34 cents per capita per day.

Cost of Groceries.

Outside of the poor farm one of the largest expenditures is for groceries. St. Louis county spends nearly $1,000 a month for groceries distributed among its poor. The figure may appear to be quite large but it must be considered that there are between 150 and 200 cases deserving attention every month.

Charles Shogran, clerk of the poor commission, works out the following statistics, which are of interest in this connection. Mr. Shogran took the month of January, 1914, as an average one. During January he reports that there were 175 families extended relief in the way of grocery orders. The cases were classified as follows:

121 cases received $1 per month or	$121.00
41 cases received $8 per month or	328.00
11 cases received $12 per month or	132.00
2 cases received $16 per month or	32.00
175	$976.00

Mr. Shogran also finds that 91 of the 176 cases were Duluth cases and that 84 were on the range. The average cost per family per month for groceries is $5.58. Only two families are receiving $16 orders. In both instances, it is a case of a widow with a large family of small children and practically helpless and unable to make a livelihood either for herself or for her children.

AMONG THE MAGAZINES

"The Magic Cup," one of the series of paintings reproduced in full color, by Arthur Rackham, is the frontispiece of the February St. Nicholas. Arthur Rackham's painting in the January St. Nicholas has just been purchased by the French government for the Luxembourg gallery, the greatest artistic honor that can be conferred upon a painting during the life of the artist. Not until after the painter dies is his work eligible for the Louvre. There is a timely article, "Bobsledding and Skating," that tells how to make and use bobsleds and how to make a skating pond. "The Story Corner" describes how children may enjoy a library without actually reading the books; a growing number of libraries throughout the country have story corners. In the series "With Men Who Do Things," by A. Russell Bond, the boys make a trip to Panama and witness the shattering of Gamboa mountain forty tons of dynamite. "My Friends the Grizzlies," by Enoch J. Mills; an entirely new fable called "The Ostrich and the Tortoise," by D. K. Stevens; "At the Children's Matinee," by Clara Meadowcroft, and "Hans and the Dancing Shoes," by Mary E. Jackson, are illustrated in such a way as to appeal to children of all ages.

The Popular Science Monthly for February contains the following articles: "The Physical Laboratory and Its Contributions to Civilization," by Prof. Arthur Gordon Webster; "The Origin and Evolution of the Nervous System," by Prof. G. H. Parker; "Current Progress in the Study of Natural Selection," by Dr. J. Arthur Harris; "The Hibernation of Certain Animals," by the late Walter L. Hahn; "Some Abnormalities in Apple Variation," by W. J. Young; "Science and Poetry," by Dr. Charles W. Super; "The Rural Opportunity and the Country School," by Joseph Woodbury Strout; "Early Geological Work of Thomas Nuttall," by Dr. Charles Keyes; "The Struggle for Equality in the United States," by Prof. Charles F. Emerick; "The Atlanta Meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science," "The Work of the Council of the Association," "The Address of the President."

* * *

The February Lippincott's deals with everything that is timely, without sacrificing literary charm and with no ephemeral makeshifts. The leading feature is, of course, the complete novel—a romance of war-ridden Mexico, entitled "The Message of the Sword," by Clinton Dangerfield. The leading characters are an American soldier of fortune and the beautiful daughter of a Mexican officer of distinction and his American wife. An unscrupulous, vindictive Mexican general, of a type all too common in our neighboring republic, covets the girl, and undertakes to get possession of her by fair means or foul. His fair means proves a total failure, but his foul ones come so near proving successful that it seems for a time that a happy ending to the young lovers' troubles is out of the question—that is, if the author intends to stick to plausibility. But in feeling this we have not given the author credit for sufficient ingenuity, for he ends to the entire satisfaction of everybody save the Mexican general, and he is not entitled to sympathy. Another remarkable feature of the issue is a paper on "Modern Sibyls," by Lady Ritchie, daughter of William Makepeace Thackery. In it she discourses most entrtainingly on the famous literary women she has known.

* * *

Probably the most remarkable contribution to the February American Magazine is a description of an execution, written by F. P. Dunne of "Mr. Dooley" fame. Mr. Dunne was a Chicago newspaper reporter at the age of 17 and as a reporter saw three men hung. This experience he describes and interprets with such vividness and wisdom as to make perhaps as wonderful a document on capital punishment as anywhere exists. Hugh Fullerton begins a series of articles entitled "American Gambling and Gamblers;" Ray Stannard Baker begins a series of letters from the field entitled "Seeing America;" George Fitch, the Illinois humorist, describes the "Homeburg Weekly Democrat" in a sketch of life in a small town; Walter Prichard Eaton describes a great and successful fight against loan sharks now being made in Atlanta; W. P. Eaton, the theatrical critic, writes entertainingly and ably on the subject, "What Is a Moral Play?" and J. Breckinridge Ellis contributes an article entitled "The Finger Test of Literature," which is an account of a blind man's ideas of literature gained from the slow process of finger reading.

* * *

The February issue of the National Magazine certainly sets an exacting pace for other periodicals to follow. "Affairs At Washington," by Joe Mitchell Chapple, are naturally varied and interesting, with word-pictures of the men and measures which have so radically modified tariff and currency conditions. Robert J. Burdette's symposium on "Character" is a noble little sermonette by the famous California humorist, and "The Secret of Cheaper Living," by Rev. Francis E. Clark, ascribes to the public open market, too little maintained among Americans, the fact that the foreign housewife can still make her narrow income feed her men and children. "Lincoln a World Light," by Riley R. Ross, and "Benjamin Chapin and His Portrayal of Lincoln," furnish exceptional incidents about the great emancipator.

* * *

The February Atlantic levels a broadside of three articles against the present administration of athletics in school and college. All the writers recognize that systematic sports have become a main factor in the making of boys into men, and all agree that for this very reason it is of vital importance that they should be cleansed of the pervasive dishonesty which still characterizes them in spite of sporadic improvement. The charges made by the writers are so serious that one would hesitate to believe them were they not printed in a magazine so responsible as the Atlantic and written by such men as Alfred E. Stearns, headmaster of Phillips academy at Andover, and C. A. Stewart of the University of Idaho, who has seen long service among the colleges. A paper in this number apt to rouse controversy is John Mitchell's "The Economic Necessity of Trade Unionism," a direct reply to Prof. Laughlin's "Monopoly of Labor," which appeared in a recent Atlantic. Readers who like to be entertained with less serious subjects will do well to turn to Havelock Ellis' "Philosophy of Dancing," "The Street," another of Simeon Strunsky's wise and humorous appreciations of American life; "From Bend to Burns," a pleasant nature study by Dallas Lore Sharp, and the delightful "Letters of a Woman Homesteader," this time describing some thrilling adventures with horse thieves.

"Br'er Rabbit was the first game that came to my bag as a boy, and to this day he holds a place in my affections that no game bird or animal has entirely supplanted." Such the introduction of Frank Stick's stirring narrative of winter sports in the February Sports Afield. "In the Porcupines of Northern Michigan," "On the Salt Marshes of Kansas," "Up North" (an Arctic exploring trip), "On the Dear Old Illinois," "Pickerel Spearing Through the Ice," "Sport in Southern California," "Humanity versus the Ferret," "The Last Day of the Season," "Duck Shooting Along Inland Streams," "A Letter From the Wilderness Man," "The Passing of Buffalo Bill" and "Rifle Sport in the North Woods" will, each and all, appeal to every sportsman and nature lover.

With the perfection of the harpoon gun a new era began in the whaling industry. There is still enough of hardship and danger in the work, but whaling in now a modern industry, conducted with modern equipment and according to modern methods. The old-time whaling life, with its adventure and romance, is gone, and in its place is a rapidly developing business that has already assumed astonishing proportions. In the March number of Popular Mechanics Magazine is an illustrated article written by Roy C. Andrews, assistant curator of mammals of the American Museum of Natural History, in which the whaling industry as it is carried on at the present time is described and illustrated in the greatest detail and with authoritative knowledge of the subject. The March number contains an unusually large number of illustrations, many of which are full-page photographs that tell the story of interesting events and of customs in various parts of the world.

Anna Alice Chapin contributes to the March 1 number of Women's Stories a touching, human story of stage people that is worthy of its prominent place in the magazine. It is followed by a humorous tale, "Going Some," by Elizabeth Westwood, set in a department store with its familiar atmosphere and its more or less unfamiliar local color of the inside workings of a big metropolitan establishment. Juliet Wilbor Tompkins gives us a story of a young married man who did not know just what he was working for in life. It was not rugs nor mahogany, he knew that, but on a ranch in the West he found out what matrimony meant for him. "The Hundredth Chance," by Lehigh Gordon Giltner, and "The Turning of the Leaf," by Gerald Mygatt, are dramatic, poignant little tales, both of them.

The February issue of The Engineering Magazine is called by its publishers, a special iron and steel number. The recent tariff changes, and the government's investigation of the steel corporation, emphasize the necessity for consumers of steel to study more closely than ever the future of the steel trade in the United States. In line with this study, and as a preliminary statement, the leading article by Horace V. Winchell discusses the present and future prospects of the American mining industry in its relation to the existing mining laws. Mr. Winchell's standpoint is that of the honestly conservative mining engineer as contrasted with that of the professional conservationist. He is frankly critical of government policies that have gone so far that they absolutely shut off the use of deposits which might be of great value to present generations without robbing the future. "The American Steel Industry Under Competition," is the title to an article by Edwin C. Eckel. The author focusses the study of influences and tendencies upon the industry, and its destiny under the economic conditons now controlling it, from a legislative and commercial viewpoint. Along the same line, the following article, by L. DeG. Moss, carries the analysis to the ultimate factors of natural resources and their geographic distribution, primary transportation processes, climatic conditions and inherent national characteristics; a concluding section on labor-saving devices serves as an introduction to an illustrative appendix showing a great variety of mechanical handling installations.

The March Woman's Home Companion contains a review of the work already done by that publication in the great campaign for better babies, which it has been carrying on for a year and which its better babies bureau under the direction of Anna Steese Richardson is to carry on during the coming year. Others valuable articles in the March Companion are: "Why Fifty Women Go to Church;" "The Importance of Play," by Mary Heaton Vorse, another contribution by Mrs. Vorse in her series descriptive of the Montessori method of education; and "Our Struggles for a Home and How It Brought Happiness as a By-Product," by an anonymous contributor. Grace Margaret Gould, fashion editor, devotes fourteen pages to a highly entertaining and beautifully illustrated report of spring fashions. The department includes a dozen or more separate contributions on a variety of subjects.

Woman's World for March sounds a loud call for a censorship of popular songs, on the ground that the immoral suggestions in many of the songs of the day are doing untold harm among the young. The article by George Weston, is both interesting and convincing, and the suggestion he makes should have serious consideration. Of fiction, Mary Stewart Cutting has a characteristic story, "Alma, Where Are You Going?" with a theme that is quite novel. The fascinating serial, "At the Three Sorrows," by Alice MacGowan, is continued. Emily Calvin Blake tells her readers, as it was related to her, the story of a woman who jeopardized her life's happiness for a temporary flirtation, in "The True Meaning of Marriage," and there is a clever sketch, "The Dream of the Little Old Lady," by Julia Chandler Manz.

The Popular Magazine in its first March number features a novel by Henry C. Rowland called "The Movies Man." The cover, a painting by Sydney H. Riesenberg, shows the moving-picture man at work. Dr. Rowland's story describes the exploits of a group of amiable but aimless fellows who find life dull indeed till they join a movies outfit and hike to South America in quest of adventure film. In the same number, Ralph D. Paine begins a serial of the army called "The Wall Between." Social distinctions are the wall against which the hero is broken. Robert V. Carr has a very funny story of politics called "A Deal in Watermelons."

"Her Ladyship's Second Youth," by Charles Saxby, gives a marked distinction to Ainslee's March issue. It is a brilliant and powerful piece of work. The beautiful wife of the governor of an island in the West Indies has become cold and reserved, her life seemingly wrapped in a mental state as gray in tone as the clothes she chooses. She is suddenly awakened to the warmth and possibilities of living by the ardor of a kiss meant for another, which she thinks her own attraction has inspired. Its effect is marvelous, on her own character as well as on the political, social, and personal life of the island. Against a back-ground of charming, vivid description, this story is cleverly developed up to a dramatic climax.

* * *

"Their Second Flight," by Louise Winter, opening novelette in March Young's Magazine, is an absorbing story of a man who contracts a second marriage with a little grass widow of whom he is positively fond but whom he regards as more or less of a toy. "The Queen of Harmony," by Winona Godfrey, is a tale of primitive people. It tells the story of a man whose wife deserted him in a moment of anger, taking their child. Later he meets a girl who fills his heart completely, but before their marriage she is led by the child to her lover's wife. Through this girl's nobility a reconciliation is effected between the couple.

* * *

The Smart Set Magazine for March shows signs of a change of policy. The same spirit that has always made Smart Set stories just a little different from those in any other magazine is there, but there is also a noticeable tendency away from the over-realistic and the somber which has characterized some of the recent issues. Freeman Tilden's story, "The Defective," which stands at the top of the table of contents, is a delicious piece of satire on the idle lives of some wealthy people. Victoria Morton contributes the complete novelette, "The Whirlpool," which tells the story of a judge whose sympathy with the criminals at the bar overweighed his sense of impersonal justice and led him to resign his position. Holworthy Hall's story, "The Gilded Mean," is a breezy epic of small-town life, and Inez Haynes Gillmore tells in "The Margravine Man Eater" the history of a flirt.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.

Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

DEATH FROM TYPHOID

Everybody now knows the seriousness and the menace of typhoid fever. In the same manner as diphtheria is now combated by antitoxin, typhoid can likewise be handled with great effectiveness. During a typhoid epidemic in Memphis, Tenn., there were 30,000 persons in that city who were vaccinated against typhoid fever. A preparation consisting of hundreds of millions of typhoid germs, which had been killed, was injected into the blood of each individual. Five hundred and seventeen were children varying from 1 to 5 years in age. Memphis was saved from a most insidious and serious spread of the epidemic. In Baltimore a severe outbreak of typhoid occurred. When the advantages of modern typhoid vaccination were utilized, 2,044 persons were immunized. Not a single case of typhoid occurred among these persons. Among 309 nurses at the hospitals in Baltimore that were immunized by a typhoid vaccination, not a single case of the disease developed.

On the other hand, among eighty-two nurses and attendants who refused to be vaccinated, there were seven cases developed. Twenty-four thousand seven hundred and ninety-five Japanese soldiers were vaccinated against typhoid. The rate of the disease has dropped to around .03 per thousand soldiers. This is an astounding revelation as to the advantages of modern medicine.

In the British army, among 61,622 soldiers vaccinated in India against typhoid, the mortality of the disease was reduced 85 per cent and in our own United States navy, among 62,000 sailors vaccinated, only a small fraction of 1 per cent were taken ill. Among 1,381 nurses immunized in several Massachusetts hospitls, only two cases of typhoid developed.

These facts speak for themselves.

WHAT TO DO FOR THROMBOSIS.

A Port Allegheny gentleman asks:

"Will you kindly advise me what to do for thrombosis and how best to restore my limb to its natural state? I am 40 years old and have lived a very active life. Up to the present thrombosis trouble I have never been sick in my life. Six weeks ago I was operated upon for acute appendicitis. Recovery was rapid until the tenth day. Suddenly great pain and swelling developed in my left leg. It was diagnosed as thrombosis. When I left the hospital, in four weeks, my leg was nearly normal; but now I find that every attempt to use it results in intense swelling in the calf, and I am advised to keep off of it and keep it elevated and warm. Is it advisable to walk? If so, how much? In fact, just what treatment is wisest for me to follow to insure my speedy return to a normal state?"

Thrombosis is a blood-vessel inflammation that is of serious import. Just where your trouble is and what to do must depend upon a good many factors, about which it would be necessary for me to learn by personal examination.

I couldn't tell you satisfactorily what to do until I knew just what was what. My services are at your disposal, if you would desire me to personally examine your condition.

Thin rubber tissue paper, strapping with zinc oxide, gentle massaging, a systematic stimulation of your eliminating channels, sinusoidal electrical stimulation, etc., all these things would offer possible avenues for your recovery. I can't treat you by mail. I don't know the various factors.

Editor's Note—The editor again wishes to courteously state that if readers desire a personal reply by mail from Dr. McCaskey they must inclose self-addressed and stamped envelopes, otherwise inquiries must await their turn in having the answers to their questions printed. Again we urge our readers to clip and paste these valuable articles in a book. Oftentimes back numbers of newspapers asked for are missing from our files when requests are made for issues of certain previous dates.

GREEK THEATER IN THE OPEN AIR

Aeschylus' Trilogy to Be Staged at Syracuse This Spring.

Rome, Feb. 21.—The success of the Greek tragedies given in the antique open air theater at Fiesole, near Florence, and their repetition in Rome at the stadium has led to the still more ambitious project of giving Greek Hellenic representations at the Greek theater at Syracuse, more than 2,400 years old.

Prof. Ettore Ramagnoli, who has spent his life translating the Greek tragedies into Italian, has been entrusted with a new translation for the occasion of Agamemnon, the first part of Aeschylus' trilogy, and the staging of it. The costumes are all to be taken from the figures on Greek vases of the time and which actually represent the characters in the tragedy.

As for the scenery little or nothing will have to be done to have the complete illusion of the city of Mycenae. The theater of Syracuse was the largest, after those of Miletus and Megalopolis, known to the ancient Greeks and was erected some time in the fifth century, B. C. It was hewn out of the solid rock and is nearly semi-circular in form, forty-six of the original sixty-one tiers of seats still being in existence. Some of the tiers were divided into compartments, the Greek inscriptions showing the names of their owners being still legible, and as many of them were feminine, this is indirect evidence that at Syracuse, at least, the theater was frequented by women, although it is denied by most historians.

Nature has always combined to render this theater a thing of beauty. All about it are orange and lemon groves with their gold and yellow fruits, above is Mount Temenites, circled by the blue Ionian sea, while to the south opens the Temple of Jove. Amid such surroundings the lovers of Greek art and literature will welcome the return of Aeschylus to the city of his adoption this spring.

DOMESTICS ARE IN BIG DEMAND

Engaged By Wireless Before Steamer Reaches Australian Port.

London, Feb. 21.—The long cherished theory that the world's surplus feminine population could be married off if it could be persuaded to migrate to the antipodes is not borne out in a report of the Dominions Royal commission upon the demand for women in Australia. Women are wanted badly in the great island continent, but not so much for marriage as for domestic servants.

So great is the demand, according to the report, that many of the girls sailing from England have been engaged by wireless as cooks and servants in Australian households before their steamer reached port. In some cases men have been so hard up for cooks that they have gone out in tugs to meet incoming vessels to make sure that they have the first pick of girls seeking employment. The first few days following the landing of the immigrants resembles an old hiring fair. The employers besiege the labor bureau in hundreds, and in a short time every newcomer desiring domestic work is pretty certain to have secured a situation at wages more than double the sum which she could command in England.

The commission learned of complaints that the scarcity of servants in Australia involves such a burden on housewives that it was affecting seriously their health and even acting as a check upon the much desired increase of the population.

INFANTA EULALIA UNCONVENTIONAL

Smokes in Box at Performance in Paris Theater.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The Infanta Eulalia, aunt of King Alfonse of Spain, is defying the conventionality which usually surrounds the presence of women of royalty in Paris. The infanta recently learned from a member of her suite that a highly spiced Parisian vaudeville entertainment included an operetta, the scene of which was laid in Spain and Biaritz, a resort which she frequented often. She immediately engaged three stage boxes for that evening and with a party of friends enjoyed herself to the utmost, as did the audience, which quickly recognized the royal guest and derived great amusement from the fact that the king's aunt smoked throughout the performance, seated conspicuously in the front of one of the boxes. She lighted cigarette after cigarette, laughed heartily and commended loudly each phase of the production.

In the last act, one of the most popular Parisian commedians dressed in the familiar captain general's uniform and with features made up to resemble those of King Alfonso, appeared in a box directly opposite the infanta. The likeness of her nephew was so excellent that the king's aunt could hardly control her laughter.

RIVAL LOVERS KILL EACH OTHER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 21.—In love with the same woman, two Mexicans locked themselves in a room and each shot each other with the same revolver, after tossing a coin for the first shot. Louis Vida lost the toss and standing opposite Pablo Orozco gave him the word to shoot. Vida fell with a bullet through the lungs, but arose and, taking the weapon, waited for Orozco to prepare to be shot at and give the signal to fire. Orozco gave the word and received a bullet in the head. Both probably will die.

Christian Endeavor Notes

The regular Bethel service Tuesday evening will be conducted by the Lakeside, Presbyterian, Union church, First Christian, Westminster Presbyterian, Glen Avon Presbyterian and the Harvey Webb M. E. societies.

Endeavorers are planning hard to make the mass meeting at the First Presbyterian church next Wednesday the largest ever conducted by Endeavorers. Daniel Poling of Boston will be the speaker and special music has been provided for. The meeting is open to all. Supper will be served in his honor at 6 o'clock in the basement, tickets for which can be secured from C. J. Hockin at the Kelly furniture store.

Union church—This society will dispense with the usual 7 o'clock service, and will go in a body to the county farm to take charge of the service there. Rev. B. V. Black will be the speaker. All members and friends are asked to take the 2:30 incline car and take oranges to the inmates. After the return to town supper will be served at the K. P. hall, so that all may attend the evening church service. The members of this society are also urged to remember the Bethel service Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Glen Avon Presbyterian—Howard Quigley will have charge of the Christian Endeavor meeting of the Glen Avon society Sunday evening at the usual hour. The regular topic will be discussed.

First Baptist—The Christian Endeavor meeting of the First Baptist church will be led by Earling Mostue at the usual hour.

Pilgrim Congregational—The Christian Endeavor meeting of the above society meets in the Christian Endeavor room of the church at 6:30 p. m. Arden Shepardson will be in charge of the meeting.

Lakeside Presbyterian—William W. Wells will lead the meeting at the Lakeside society Sunday evening at 6 p. m. An interesting program is being arranged. At the executive committee meeting last Tuesday evening it was decided to have an attendance contest in the society, with Miss Jean Currie and Miss Rosa Taylor as captains of the opposing sides.

Second Presbyterian—The Christian Endeavor meeting of the Second Presbyterian church will be led by Miss Claudia Cox at 7 p. m. The regular topic will be discussed.

First Presbyterian—L. E. Marvin will lead the Christian Endeavor meeting of the First Presbyterian church. This society meets at 6:45 p. m. A special topic will be discussed.

COMBATING POULTRY PARASITES.

Clean Houses a Necessity.

By D. I. LAMBERT,
Poultry Instructor R. I. State College.

Parasites are minute organisms which live upon animals and plants with no apparent benefit to those from which they rob their sustenance.

Poultry parasites are a menace to success, and if any good thing can be said of them it is they compel poultry keepers to clean up frequently.

There are about thirty varieties of external parasites that live on domestic poultry. The major part of these lice are found on the bodies of fowls, turkeys, ducks, geese or guineas and subsist on the waste skin, moisture from the nostrils and vent, also blood from pin feathers. They not only injure a bird's plumage, but make them very uncomfortable and often attack newly hatched chickens and poults, fastening themselves on the top of the head and remaining there as long as there is any life or blood in their victims.

Fighting the Parasites.

Internal parasites may be either worms or microbes. The latter are too small to be seen without the aid of a microscope. In our endeavors to combat poultry parasites it is well to remember the old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Clean houses and yards will go far as a preventive of both external and internal parasites. The accumulations of droppings must be removed from under the roosts, clean sand kept on the floors, cobwebs brushed from the walls and the nesting material renewed often.

The entire interior of the house and all of the fixtures should be sprayed every spring and fall with lime wash or a strong disinfectant, while the roosts should be painted with kerosene or creosote oil once per month, summer and winter. This will destroy the mites and spider lice which often hide in cracks and crevices. A dusting place should always be provided, for this is the natural way for fowls to bathe and get rid of body lice, and a liberal supply of tobacco dust added to the bath will make it more effectual.

Internal parasites may be prevented by feeding clean food in clean places, supplying an abundance of greens and pure spring water. Give a dose of Epsom salts once per month in summer and every sixty days in winter; oftener when the fowls are ailing. The amount should be according to the age of the chickens—that is, adult fowls are given one-third of a teaspoonful each mixed with their evening mash. A very little permanganate of potash in the drinking water is also beneficial.

VENTILATING OUR STABLES.

Pure Air an Enemy to Disease.

By PROF. A. A. BORLAND,
University of Vermont.

Ventilation is necessary for several reasons. First, fresh air is essential to combustion of food in the body as it is to the combustion of fuel in a furnace; second, poor ventilation results in enormous increase of bacteria in stable air; third, high temperature and humid atmosphere accompanying insufficient ventilation are conducive to disease in animals.

The King system of ventilation is the best yet devised for stables. It consists of two sets of flues, one providing for intake of fresh air; the other for escape of foul air. The intake flues should be small, each having fifty square inches of cross section surface and should be numerous to provide for even distribution of fresh air, also be placed about ten to twelve feet apart and located in the exterior walls of the stable. The lower end of the flue should open to outside air near level of the stable floor, and the upper end should open to inside of stable near ceiling. This inside opening is fitted with a shutter or register to control inflow of air. Flues may be constructed of galvanized iron or of two thicknesses of lumber, with tar felt paper between.

Foul Air Flues.

Foul air flues should have the lower opening one foot from the stable floor, should be twenty-five feet high and have the upper opening not less than two or three feet above the ridge of the roof. They should be few in number and large in size, as compared with the intake flues. These outtake flues may be located where most convenient, although if but one is used it should be placed near the center of the stable. Foul air flues should be as straight as possible, air tight in construction and nonconductors of heat and cold. Like intake flues, they may be made of two thicknesses of lumber with heavy grade of tar felt paper between. Galvanized iron is often used for lining, but in cold climates moisture in the air condenses on inside of flues and drops from the bottom unless flues are insulated with straw, building paper or boards. Outtake flues should contain shutters near ceiling of stable, and this upper register may be opened permitting excess heat to escape if the stable becomes too warm. To work well the King system requires the walls and ceilings of stables to be practically air tight and nonconductors of heat and cold. The cost of installing a ventilation system is not great, considering the benefits derived in the health of our animals. The major portion of the work could be done by any one handy with tools.

CHOOSING A BROODER.

Even the Best Brooder Depends on the Operator.

By E. KNEELAND.

The essential parts of a brooder are the hover and nursery, the former supplying the heat to keep the chicks warm and the latter being the place where they exercise. In purchasing a brooder pick out one that provides for a good circulation of warm, fresh air under the hover, has an ample heating capacity and can be placed where the chicks may get plenty of sunshine.

The indoor oil heated brooder, with the lamp under the brooder floor, the heat passing up through the bottom into a dome forming the center of the hover, is built to be used in a room or house warmed above the freezing point. It is practical, inexpensive, and the better grades are fireproof, provided the rules for operating them are strictly observed. The latest patterns of indoor colony brooders are in the form of a round iron stove surrounded by galvanized hood making the cover of the hover; these little stoves are filled from the top, regulated by a thermostat and burn but little coal—in fact, one filling of the coal magazine will often last for twenty-four hours.

The Pipe System.

For those who only wish to raise a few hundred chicks the indoor individual brooder is excellent, but where large numbers are to be raised the hot water pipe system is the most economical. This arrangement consists of pipes carried under low board brooders running the length of the house, through which hot water circulates, being heated in a small boiler set in a pit at one end of the building. The cost of installing such a system is not great, and the fuel consumed is surprisingly small.

In using any of the different styles of indoor brooders it is necessary to keep the air in the room or brooder house fresh and pure by some simple system of ventilation which will avoid drafts. Outdoor brooders are usually divided into two compartments, one having the hover and the other being a room in which to exercise. This type of brooder is fine for those who begin hatching in April. They are heated on the same principle as the indoor brooder first spoken of and, like them, are practically fireproof, but should be protected by some sort of screen from the high winds.

A word as to the care of brooders: If oil lamps are used fill and wipe the wicks daily, or, if using coal burning heaters, keep the grates clean and remove ashes regularly. Lastly, keep the litter under the hovers clean.

POSSIBILITIES OF BEEF ON A FEW ACRES.

Fat Cattle More Profitable Than Milk.

By GEORGE H. DACY.

Millions of people are beef eaters, while few are beef producers, and existent prices for beef are so high and stable that many former dairymen and grain farmers are raising beef or feeding game. Manifold benefits accrue from this to a farmer, first because he converts his crops to corn, clover and alfalfa into more concentrated and valuable form of wheat, while he is also toning up the productivity of land through the resultant manure, and he utilizes labor to maximum advantage during the entire year.

Farmers could profitably maintain a few grade cows of beef type as well as a pure bred bull of Hereford, Angus or Shorthorn blood and thus equipped would acquire a valuable crop of calves, which he could feed to maturity or else sell to some other cattleman. Where the farmer has good pasturage for summer grazing and where he can raise a surplus of corn for the silo and for grain in addition to some nutritious and palatable variety of hay he is assured of success in cattle raising. The calves could run with their dams until they were naturally weaned; then access to grass and grain as the animals show need for concentrates will develop the young beeves into that growthy condition which subsequently makes for feed lot bloom.

How to Start In.

Suppose a farmer pays $150 for a pure bred Hereford bull and $75 per head for ten grade Shorthorn, Angus and Hereford females. He raises eight calves the initial year and refuses 6½ cents per pound for calves when 6 months old. As yearlings he is offered $39 apiece for the cattle, the animals averaging about 600 pounds apiece. He winters them on ensilage, corn fodder, clover hay, ear corn and cottonseed meal, grazing them during summer. In the winter he sells them, weighing about 1,200 pounds apiece, at the market top price of 9 cents a pound. Has his investment proved profitable?

A cattle raiser living near a large town should strive to develop a special trade for fat cattle. By producing extra fine beeves he could do business with some first-class butcher willing to pay bumper prices for superior ment. Last year a corn belt stockman realized a net profit of $3,184.65 in twelve months on twenty-nine head of grade Hereford steers. Weighing 1,482 pounds per animal, they topped the Kansas City market, selling for $120.78 apiece.

CONSUMER'S DOLLAR AND WHAT IT BRINGS

BY C. B. LANE.

With the increase in price of many of our common foodstuffs, amounting in some instances from 25 to 50 per cent, the problem of keeping the family larder supplied with food is becoming more important and more difficult to solve every year.

The household provider should not only know how to buy economically, but have knowledge of the composition of foods, in order that the nutrients in the meals be properly balanced for the needs of the body. The situation then sifts down to the intelligence of the cook, for good food is often spoiled in the cooking, and good food is frequently wasted. Both of these are important because of their influence on the cost of living.

To illustrate what I mean by intelligence, a Philadelphia food expert gave a public demonstration of her methods in a mining town, stating that she could satisfy the appetites of four healthy men for less than 50 cents.

The women of the town, being skeptical, challenged her. The challenge was promptly accepted. Four men who had established records in the appetite line were selected, and the food expert's meal was placed before them. After the meal the diners agreed it was the most appetizing and satisfactory meal they had ever eaten. They were incredulous when informed that the cost had been only 42 cents, shown as follows: Barley soup, 6 cents; a delicious brown stew with meat, costing 23 cents; fluffy dumplings, 5 cents; onions, parsley and seasoning,3 ; dessert, a fruit tapioca pudding, 5 cents.

The following table shows what the consumer's dollar will buy and how care in selection affects household economics:

Each of these foods contains the same amount of nutritive material as one quart of milk:

Kind of food.	Cost.	AMOUNT. Weight. Lbs.	Oz.	Total Cost.
Milk	$0.08 per qt.	2	2	$0.08
Eggs	0.35 per doz.	1	3.9	0.29
Meat	0.22 per lb.		10.8	0.148
Codfish	0.15 per lb.		15.1	0.141

Potatoes	1.00 per bu.	1	9.4	0.026
Cabbage	0.25 per lb.	4	2.2	0.10
Oranges	0.40 per lb.	2	14.0	0.226
Apples	0.60 per pk.	2	5.1	0.092
Bananas	0.20 per doz.	1	11.3	010

THE RELIABLE HEN.

By E. K. PARKINSON.

For beginners and raisers of fancy poultry the hen, as an incubator, has never been improved upon—that is, the gentle, motherly type of Biddy, whose ambition consists of hatching and rearing large broods of chicks and of scratching in the family flower bed. Such hens are indeed worth their weight in gold, especially when of the various American breeds. In setting hens it is more convenient to set several at the same time, while the ideal spot for their nests is in a semi-dark room with access to a sunny place for feeding and the daily dust bath. Make the nests large enough to prevent the eggs from being crowded or piled on one another. Cover the bottoms with two inches of earth or sand, and over this put a thick layer of fine hay hollowed out to hold thirteen eggs lying side by side and then sprinkle over it a handful of insect powder before putting in the eggs. Personally the writer has found boxes about 22 by 15 by 15 inches, turned on their sides, with a slat nailed across the open side to keep the hay in, make excellent nests.

See that the eggs for setting are from vigorous stock, fresh and uniform in size, and set the hens at night, moving them to their new quarters as quietly as possible. When they have settled down cover the nests with bags and leave Biddy alone for twenty-four hours. The bag may then be lifted sufficiently for her to get in and out with ease. In the room where the sun shines provide plenty of dry earth for dust baths, a pan of whole corn, water and grit, and keep them replenished. With the exception of an occasional visit nothing more is required until the twenty-first day, when the chicks should begin to arrive.

While the hens are quiet it is well on the twenty-second day to raise each one gently and remove the eggshells and unhatched eggs in order to make the chicks and their mother more comfortable. After the youngsters have been hatched twenty-four hours remove them with the hen to a coop with a board floor and a small run. The first feed may consist of one-third stale bread, one-third rolled oats and one-third hard boiled eggs, with shells and all, mixed with sweet milk if possible, otherwise with water. Feed five times for the first four days, keep pure water before the chicks in fountains and provide plenty of grit and charcoal. Chick feed composed of cracked grains may be fed after the fourth day.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

BY LE ROY CADY.
Associate Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

A garden well planned is half made. Test all seed that is to be sown now.

Golden Self Blanching celery is an excellent early variety.

Almost all flowering shrubs do best in full sunlight and good soil.

The rose requires a warm, sunny location for its best development.

Early Ohio for early and Rural New Yorker for late are excellent varieties of potatoes.

Asters, marigolds, pansies, stock, salvia, dianthus, celosia and petunias for early flowers may be sown now.

Group vegetables of like culture as near together as possible. Keep the vines together, roots together, etc.

Home-made paper pots are of much value in garden work. They must have drainage provided to be entirely satisfactory.

There is still time to take cuttings of dogwood, willow, spirea, and other shrubs and trees for planting in the spring.

In planning the garden, lay out everything in long rows. Beds suffer more from drought and are much harder to cultivate.

Ferns may be grown on the north or east side of a house provided they are protected from the wind. They should have plenty of leaf mold in the soil.

Buy vegetables and flower seeds from reliable houses only. It is not difficult as a rule to judge the character of a seed house by the class of catalogue or other advertising it puts out.

FEEDING THE HENS FOR FERTILE EGGS

B. P. K. EDWARDS.

Fertile eggs must come from vigorous, healthy birds, and as feed and exercise are essential to vigor we must see that these two elements are always provided. We should bear in mind, however, that time spent in feeding and watering makes serious inroads into our profits, and hopper feeding reduces this expense, but with the use of hoppers has come the habit of mixing the dry feeds and grain for our fowls according to certain definite ideas of balanced rations. Recently those of us who have studied the habits of our fowls have been forced to conclude that, as far as the hen is concerned, there is a wide difference between a scientifically balanced ration and a palatable one.

Individual taste is as marked in fowls as in human beings, so if we wish our flock to be healthy and contented we must cater to their tastes. This the writer has seen done in a simple, inexpensive way by the use of hoppers and automatic feeders suspended by two wires from the rafters. These hoppers were round, and the adjustment was ball-bearing, so that the slightest touch of the bait bar shaft scattered some grains about. In fact, all the little chicks on the plant visited were fed, or, rather, got their own feed, from the automatic feeders.

For a flock of 100 layers four feeders and two dry mash hoppers of the thirty-two-quart size will hold a week's supply. Fill each feeder with a single variety of grain—corn, oats and buckwheat—or, if the fowls prefer more corn, use two feeders for corn. One of the dry mash hoppers should be filled with the best meat scraps and the other with a mixture of brans, middlings in equal parts, with 20 per cent alfalfa meal added during the winter. In addition to this feed, green food must be provided, such as mangel wurzels or cabbage, or, better still, sprouted oats, and it is important to add that frozen greens are as bad as the fresh ones are wholesome.

Fed in this way, the breeding stock will balance their own rations to their satisfaction, and if plenty of litter is kept where the automatic feeders hang they will get exercise, and their will be fertile. The question of water supply will depend on the conditions prevailing on each particular plant. If there is running water handy and one povides oneself with an automatic lamp-heated fountain the question of water in cold weather becomes a simple one.

THE CARE AND FEED OF LAYING DUCKS

BY E. PARKER,
Poultry and Duck Raiser.

Are the ducks laying yet? If not, perhaps it is because they haven't been handled just right. The breeders should be from last year's (May's) hatches, and the general rule is to place thirty in each pen in the proportion of one drake to five ducks, the drake being easily distinguished by the curl in his tail and his softer voice.

The duckhouse should be dry, well ventilated, free from drafts and kept clean. A house 12 by 16 feet will house comfortably a family of thirty. Provide plenty of nests made from soap boxes with the fronts cut down or from boxes of any kind that are large enough; also put in a V shaped feed trough of sufficient length to allow the ducks to feed without crowding, and a box of grit and one of oyster shells complete the equipment. During the colder weather a good bedding of straw, planer shavings or marsh hay will be appreciated and if added to a little each day can always be clean and dry. If possible provide a pond or stream for the ducks to swim in, although this is not an absolute necessity, but should there be no stream available an excellent drinking place may be made by digging a hole 2 by 2 by 2 feet and over it laying a wooden frame covered with heavy screen wire, such as is used in making gravel screens; then set the water pan on the middle of it, and this will keep the ground around it dry. Of course free range reduces labor and always adds to the health of the birds.

Now as to feed. An excellent mash may be made from the following: Two parts cornmeal, two parts ground oats or barley, one part wheat bran, two and one-half parts beef scraps, one-half part sharp sand and two parts cut green clover or alfalfa meal. This should be moistened and fed morning and evening, while at noon a light feed of dry grain should be given consisting of one part oats, one part wheat and two parts cracked corn. Ducks lay early in the morning, between 5 and 8 as a rule, and thus are better confined until after that time.

In selecting the breeders pick out the large, vigorous ones with long deep bodies, bright eyes and typical shapes. There are ten distinct breeds of duck recognized by the American Poultry association, so that one may pick out a variety that particularly appeals to him, and by study and careful selection become known to the public as a breeder of high class birds. For commercial purposes in this country the Peking takes first place.

THE TRUCK FARM.

By JOHN W. LLOYD,
University of Illinois.

The amount and kind of equipment needed for a truck farm will depend upon the size of the farm, the locality and the kinds of crops ot be grown. The foundation equipment in soil working tools is essentially the same for a truck farm as for any other kind of farm. There must be plows, harrows and cultivators suited to the type of soil to be farmed and harness and wagons for moving the machinery and the crops. Special tools for planting, cultivating and harvesting particular crops will also be needed. If early crops requiring transplanting are to be grown the equipment must include sash, canvas and lumber for hotbeds and cold frames.

If twenty acres of truck are to be grown, consisting of five acres early tomatoes, five acres early melons or cucumbers and ten acres cabbage and celery, all of which require transplanting, it will be possible, with careful management, to produce the plans for these acreages in two hotbeds and four cold frames, each 6 by 100 feet.

The only special tools required for handling the crops mentioned above would be a single shovel or one horse turning plow for furrowing out preparatory to planting the tomatoes and melons, a spike tooth cultivator for the tomatoes and melons, a spray pump and outfit with a three-row attachment for spraying the melons and tomatoes, spades and hoes for transplanting and hand tillage, baskets and bushel crates for harvesting the crops.

Again, a truck farm might grow an entirely different set of crops, such as onions, pickle cucumbers and late cabbage. Special harrows, plankers and rollers would be needed for fitting the onion ground, seed drills and wheel hoes for planting and cultivating the onions, a transplanting machine for setting the cabbage and shallow crates and curing shed for handling the onions.

Now as to cost, which will in a large measure depend on the location—the farther north the more expensive. For example, a man in South Jersey could start a five-acre patch with $500. In Illinois it would cost about $75 an acre for everything; in the vicinity of Norfolk, Va., about $100; near Philadelphia on twenty or thirty-acre plots a fair average would be from $200 to $300 per acre, according to the number of hotbeds used. A well known trucker in Green Bay, Wis., states that to equip and start a ten-acre farm would require about $5,500.

GAS ENGINES FOR USE IN COUNTRY

BY F. WEBSTER BRADY,
Mechanical Engineer.

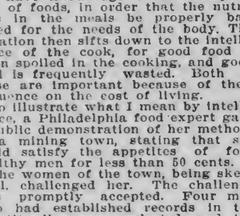

"If dreams came true we should fly" was a very popular saying until recently. But the dreams of the country dweller have been of wings to lift the burden of heavy muscular effort in agricultural operations and for a hundred noiseless hands to do the monotonous drudgeries of country housekeeping.

The network of suburban telephone lines drove away the dragon of isolation, and then the gas engine brought the motorcycle and the automobile which united the city and country dwellers, adding both profit and pleasure to the lives of each.

But it is on the gas engine that goes on to the farm to stay that the farmer builds his hopes of dreams realized. The tractor and the big gas engine do the plowing, harrowing, seeding, harvesting, thrashing, hauling and grinding. The little engine does the chores, sprays the orchard, makes the cider and picks the potato bugs, and, glory to its invention, it furnishes the maids to relieve mother and the girls!

With the little gas engine it is easily possible for the country home to be made healthier and happier than the city home. The ideal equipment for the house and barn is a small gas engine with a dynamo and a storage battery. This outfit will furnish the water supply, light the buildings, do the washing, churning, house cleaning (wet or dry), milk the cows, run the separator, mix the dough, wash the dishes, run the sewing machine, cool the house in summer and make the ice cream without the use of ice. The gas engine solves the servant girl problem and the hired man problem by doing away with the necessity for either of these helpers.

In selecting the gas engine get one that will use the cheapest fuel oil that is available in your locality. Do not buy an engine becaues it may be the cheapest one on the market, but buy from a reliable maker who has a permanently established business and who will make good guarantees and keep them promptly without treating his customers with petty indignities. There are air cooled and water cooled gas engines. The latter are made with either a storage water tank or with an open hopper jacket. Learn well the subject of gas enginery before purchasing an outfit, for by so doing you will not only save money, but forestall any disagreeable annoyances in operating the new thing.

GERMAN COUNT TURNS SMUGGLER

Takes Zaccharino From Switzerland Into Germany and Austria.

Geneva, Feb. 21.—Development of the fine art of smuggling to a new plane is charged in the case of titled personages detained at Prague pending an inquiry into the alleged operations. It is charged that the Count and Countess Gunther von Konigsmark, who are of an ancient German family and who have their headquarters in Zurich, where the manufacture of saccharine is permitted, have been making frequent trips across the German and Austrian frontiers accompanied by many servants in livery and baggage containing zaccharine. Custom officials generally do not venture to examine all the baggage of the nobility. However, at Prague recently, the party encountered inspectors who searched their effects and found evidence which prompted an inquiry into the operations. It is said that profits from the smuggling of zaccharine into Germany and Austria would amount to from 100 to 400 per cent.

New Yorker Makes Record.

A New York man, H. Wirth, has the honor of being the first American to climb the Jungfrau on skis, and incidentally he established a record for guide climbing. Accompanied by Herr Stuckey of St. Gall and Amatter, the well known guide of Grindelwald, the New Yorker made the ascent of the Jungfrau, 13,670 feet, also ascended the Monch, 13,645 feet, and returned to Grindelwald, his starting point, after crossing the Fleischer glacier and Eismeer glacier, all in forty-eight hours. One night was spent in an Alpine hut on the Jungfrau. The weather was fine and the snow in good condition. A splendid view of the Alps was obtained, but the cold was so intense that one could stand still only a few moments.

Remarkable Avalanche.

A remarkable avalanche recently occurred at Au, an Alpine hamlet in the canton of St. Gall. A farmer and his family had just sat down to dinner at noon when the avalanche fell from the neighboring heights, causing a great and violent displacement of air in the narrow valley. This tore doors from their hinges and broke windows while the members of one family were actually blown out of the house through doorless passages to the garden, a considerable distance away. Curiously none was injured. A few minutes later the avalanche itself arrived and wrecked the whole farm, the walls giving away under the onslaught of snow and the roof falling in.

The All Star Feature corporation, makers of the two now famous motion picture versions of Augustus Thomas' "Arizona," with Cyril Scott, and Henry M. Blossom's "Checkers," with Thomas W. Ross, has completed a tremendous new film of Richard Harding Davis' great story and play, "Soldiers of Fortune."

As a book, "Soldiers of Fortune," has been eagerly and widely read the world over, and as a play, dramatized by Augustus Thomas, it has been seen by thousands.

Dustin Farnum, probably the most popular of America's matinee favorites, appears in the leading role of Robert Clay, the rugged young American adventurer. The picture was produced in Cuba under the personal direction of Augustus Thomas, and with the aid and co-operation of the entire Cuban army and the American navy.

"Soldiers of Fortune" in six parts will be the attraction at the Lyceum tomorrow only.

"American theatergoers have tired of the complex problem play in which the characters and the situations are so forced that natural dramatic action is lost," said William Hodge, a few evening ago, during a discussion of the reasons for the failure of several recent plays in which practically the same views on mental and physical conduct as those given in "The Road to Happiness" were presented.

"In 'The Road to Happiness' the story is so simple and easily understood that I thought, upon first reading of the manuscript, that the play would be a welcome relief to playgoers after a surfeit of dramas with complicated plots. When I read it first I became as interested in the outcome as I became when half through a novel as to how it will end. And this after I had spent months in reading manuscripts with but one view—merely to find one that suited me. I thought, before reading 'The Road to Happiness' that I was too blase to become so interested in any play as to forget the requirements of the one I wanted most have. And the only reason I can suggest for becoming so concerned in 'The Road to Happiness' is that the characters were true to life—similar to characters I was associated with in my boyhood.

"There is a strain of optimism running through the piece similar to one in 'The Dawn of Tomorrow,' but, whereas the story of 'The Dawn of Tomorrow' avowedly contained an argument for what is known as 'New Thought,' a lesson that one's mental attitude influences one's physical condition unconsciously crept into 'The Road to Happiness.' When a real picture of American life and people is shown in a play, that play must contain the philosophy that teaches us that happiness is a great aid to health."

Mr. Hodge will be seen Monday and Tuesday at the Lyceum in "The Road to Happiness."

The favor that has been shown John C. Fisher's latest musical success, "The Red Rose," since its premier at the Globe theater, New York, makes it seem probable that a big audience will see it at the Lyceum Wednesday night. This big musical comedy is claimed to be a worthy successor to Mr. Fisher's former success, "Florodora," which had a remarkable following. Mr. Fisher has selected an excellent cast for this immense organization, including many of the original company. The book and lyrics were written by Harry B. and Robert B. Smith, and the music by Robert Hood Bowers. The comedy contains some twenty-three musical numbers, many of the catchy order, among which may be mentioned, "Come Along Ma Cherie," "Queen of Vanity Fair," "Men, Men, Men," "If You Can't Sing Dance," "I'd Like to Go On a Honeymoon With You," "Bohemia" and the sensational "Students' Glide," the last named having created somewhat of a sensation during the long run of this charming musical comedy in New York. The first act shows the interior of an art school, where the students are drawing from a living model. The second scene is a painted exterior of a chateau on a nobleman's estate; while the third depicts the celebrated four arts ball where are introduced many dances, including the "confetti carnival" finale which is by long odds one of the prettiest bits of stage effect introduced in a musical comedy in late years. The beautiful costuming, varicolored confetti and light effects blend most harmoniously and the scene evokes the enthusiasm of the audience.

Jolly May Irwin in the rollicking farce "Widow by Proxy" will appear at the Lyceum March 2 and 3.

"Widow by Proxy" is the bright and breezy effort by Catherine Chisholm Cushing, who has written several other successful plays. In its, Miss Irwin is seen as Gloria Grey, a singing teacher, whose income at the opening of the play, has dwindled down to almost nothing. She has a bosom friend recently widowed, or at least supposed to be. The alleged departed was a scion of a Mayflower family. He married an actress and the family had refused to see her. After his supposed death in Alaska, a rich uncle dies, leaving a legacy to his niece by marriage. To get it, she must visit the family. She refuses, but as the money is needed, Gloria impersonates the widow and takes her place at the family homestead. A cousin of the reputed dead husband falls in love with her. She agrees to marry him and then—the dead husband comes back to life. However, all ends happily and the deceit, owing to its motive, does not block the course of true love.

It is safe to say that Miss Irwin has never been any further than she is in this very amusing comedy, with its three acts of almost unrelieved laughter. And, of course, Miss Irwin sings several delightful and catchy songs in her own inimitable way. In the cast are Clara Blandick, Marie Burke, Francis Gaunt, Helen Weathersby, Orlando Daly Joseph Woodburn, Arthur Bowyer and Joseph R. Garry.

The famous musical comedy hit of three continents, "The Quaker Girl," will be presented at the Lyceum in March, under the personal management of John P. Slocum. An organization of eighty-six players headed by Victor Morley and including most of the original cast, will be seen here. In fact, it is the No. 1 and only company presenting the piece. The music is by Lionel Monckton, the book by James T. Tanner, and the lyrics by Adrian Ross and Percy Greenbank. After remaining two years in London and a year in Paris the late Henry B. Harris was fortunate enough to secure the American rights and the result was a year's run at the Park theater, New York. The play tells the adventures of an unsophisticated Quaker miss in Paris, and the score is one continuous success of song hits, the most famous of which is the lilting "Come to the Ball" waltz.

McIntyre & Heath, whose fame as delineators of quaint negro characters is predominant, will be at the Lyceum in March, in an elaborate revival of George V. Hobart and Jean Schwartz' musical comedy, "The Ham Tree," under the management of John Cort. "The Ham Tree" is a play of laughter and song and dance, and in its revised and up-to-date form will disclose much that is new and novel. James McIntyre as the doleful Alexander Hambletonian, who leaves his job as an attendant in a livery stable for fame as a footlight favorite, and Tom Heath as the hopeful minstrel, Henry Jones, who has visions of hams growing on trees, rivers of beer, swamps of schweitzer and flocks of sausages flying through the air, form a pair of comedy characters most humorous.

HARRY GILFOIL,
Who Will Headline the Orpheum Bill Next Week.

Orpheum

At the Orpheum theater next week, beginning with the Sunday matinee, Harry Gilfoil, widely known to vaudeville and musical comedy audiences, will be the headline attraction. He will present his character creation of "Baron Sands."

Mr. Gilfoil has been known to theater-goers for many years. In the days when Charles Hoyt was writing a farce every other day or so, he frequently wrote roles for Mr. Gilfoil, and the actor remained under the direction of Hoyt for seventeen years. He appeared in practically every one of the farces given to the American public by the famous author-producer. During recent years Mr. Gilfoil has alternated between vaudeville and musical comedy. "Baron Sands" is his vaudeville vehicle, and he has created roles in "The Liberty Belles," "The Yankee Girl," "The Wall Street Girl" and other of the popular successes. His effort is always a satire of gay old age. As Baron Sands, the character has just returned from the circus, and much of the fun is derived from his clever impersonation of the inhabitants of the menagerie.

Miss Ruth Rote, who will be one of the entertainers of the week, has been billed as the Princess of Ragtime. She is said to sing the melodies of syncopated time with especially delightful understanding of the requirements of this particular art. Lovers of ragtime, and they are legion, should enjoy this number of the week's bill.

Miss Hilda Thomas, the rollicking comedienne, and Lou Hall, the quaint comedian, present a little sketch called "The Substitute," which provides a setting for Miss Thomas' many accurate imitations and opportunity for the musical and comedy talents of Mr. Hall. The story involves the dilemma resulting from a professor of music sending as his substitute, in a call on a young actress, an awkward country youth. The actress is not at home, and her maid impersonates the celebrity whom she serves, and the resulting complications prove amusing.

Nick Verger was formerly a San Francisco newsboy. He first attracted attention by setting the names of his papers to a little song which he used to sing on the streets of the California city. This custom of the little merchant soon made him a well-known "character" on the streets. It rapidly increased his sales, for San Franciscans soon became accustomed to buying their papers from the singing newsboy. It also attracted the attention of a theatrical manager, who was quick to see the possibilities in the youth. The manager took the little fellow to a vocal instructor to see just what kind of voice the boy had. The instructor discovered natural tones of great beauty and a wide range. The manager left the little pupil in charge of the instructor, and it did not take the teacher long to show the boy how to use his voice in a rudimentary way, at least. Since then he has been studying faithfully in his spare time, but has also taken a vaudeville engagement, and will be heard at the Duluth Orpheum next week.

The Randalls, who will be seen next week, are sharpshooters, but they do not rely entirely upon their skill with a rifle for the success of their act. They call their turn "Seventeen Minutes in Arizona." The man is dressed as a cowboy and the woman as an Indian squaw, and the stage setting is said to be most picturesque. During the act the two performers give some difficult shots with both the rifle and the revolver.

Two dancers, Jack Ward and Eddie Weber, have arranged an act that is said to be decidedly different from the ordinary dancing turn. They combine singing, comedy patter and dances, and they have a change of costume for each number.

"Kartelli supported by a wire" is the odd billing of an aerial performer who will be seen next week. The wire not only supports him in a literal sense, but it brings him what is said to be one of the biggest salaries paid any aerialist in vaudeville. Kartelli made a tour of the United States about four years ago, but since then he has been appearing in the continental music halls.

The Orpheum motion picture service for the week will show another of the popular Snakeville comedies. "Snakeville's Fire Department" is the name of the picture, which, with the overture by the Orpheum orchestra under the direction of Fred G. Bradbury, will complete the bill. It will continue all week, with a daily matinee.

At the Empress

The Empress management will offer for four days starting with the matinee performance Sunday, Feb. 22, a five-act bill of vaudeville at the usual prices. Five acts is an unusual billing, and this bill promises to be of unusual interest. In addition there will be the elimination tango contest, which will be given Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

One of the headline acts will be Whitman and La Velle, a nimble pair of tango dancers. This team has been appearing at public and private dancing parties for the last week and they have won much favor with their graceful presentation of the ballroom tango, the stage tango, the Texas Tommy and the hesitation waltz. While many of the steps have been shown, many have been withheld to be shown at the Empress theater.

Mr. Whitman is a man of pleasing personality and with the gracefulness of the born dancer. Miss La Velle is a dainty and able partner.

The other headline act is Elsie Gilbert and her romping girls and their collies. This act is composed of five pretty girls, each of whom is accompanied by a collie in a routine of dances and songs. The girls have a small comedy sketch. Elsie Gilbert, the leading comedienne of the company, possesses a pleasing voice and renders a number of the latest and most popular songs. This act has been a hit of all bills where it has appeared. A neat wardrobe of costumes is displayed with this act.

Kalma and company are illusionists and tricksters. Their feats contain many comedy features. The big feature of the act is an illusion in which a girl is hidden in an "empty" trunk, from which she appears in a costume from any country that the audience names.

Ray & Maybelle are original ship ahoy dancers. The duo make up in sailor costume and give a good line of songs, dances and talks. The act is one of comedy from start to finish. The songs are of the popular variety.

The man who said that motion pictures never could be linked successfully with vaudeville has evidently passed into oblivion since the advent of that remarkable motion picture novelty, the "recitagraph," into vaudeville. The "recitagraph" will give a visualized recitation of that famous poem, "Ostler Joe," next week, when the people of Duluth will be introduced to the "recitagraph" by Fred K. Weston.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights the elimination tango contest will be held. The contest will close the first show and open the second. The time allotted for the contest will be from thirty to forty minutes. Each couple will be given about three or four minutes. From the couples who appear on the stage two of the best will be selected and given another chance for the prize when they compete with the two best couples who appear on Tuesday and Wednesday night. The final contest will be on Wednesday night. To the winning couple, the audience acting as judges, the prize of $25 will be given. All tango dancing couples are eligible except professional dancers. Many names are already listed.

Prettily arrayed show girls, beautiful women and plenty of music leavened with good lively comedy and elaborate scenic and electric production comprise Halton Powell's "Night on Broadway," which comes to the Empress theater.

For three days starting with the matinee Thursday, Feb. 26, it tells of a wealthy old merchant's escapades while his family is away. Harry Emerson heads a cast of fun makers. He will appear as Henry Fleider, a retired candy maker who is not averse to having a night with the boys when his wife is away. Emerson will be assisted by Grayce Celeste, Cecilia Bell, Viah Walters, Lillian Traverse, Ed Brennen and a chorus of twenty.

RYAN AND MAEBELL,
The Original "Ship Ahoy" Dancers at the Empress, Sunday.

Rex

The Rex theater management will offer some excellent feature films for the three changes of program next week. Changes will occur Sunday, Monday and Thursday. In addition, music will be offered by the Rex women's orchestra, the pipe organ and the vocal soloist.

On Sunday the program will consist of three photoplays, portraying interesting scenes. "The Hermit," a picture in two reels; "Withering Roses" and "Why Reggie Reformed," will offer a fine variety of subjects touching upon the humorous as well as the more serious sides of life.

Beginning Monday and continuing Tuesday and Wednesday, "Our Mutual Girl" series will be resumed. This picture is probably exciting more interest than any other picture ever offered in Duluth.

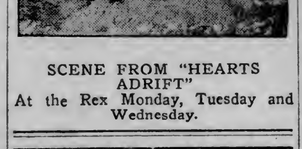

Norma Phillips, the Mutual girl, recently had an exciting accident, which very nearly prevented her from continuing her work in the series. While riding in Central park, New York, last week, she was thrown violently from her big bay horse. Upon recovering, however, she resumed her work and was presented to Andrew Carnegie in front of his handsome Fifth avenue residence.

The ironmaster not only allowed himself to be photographed, but did a little acting in front of his garden. What surprised him most was that the pictures were taken in such a short space of time.

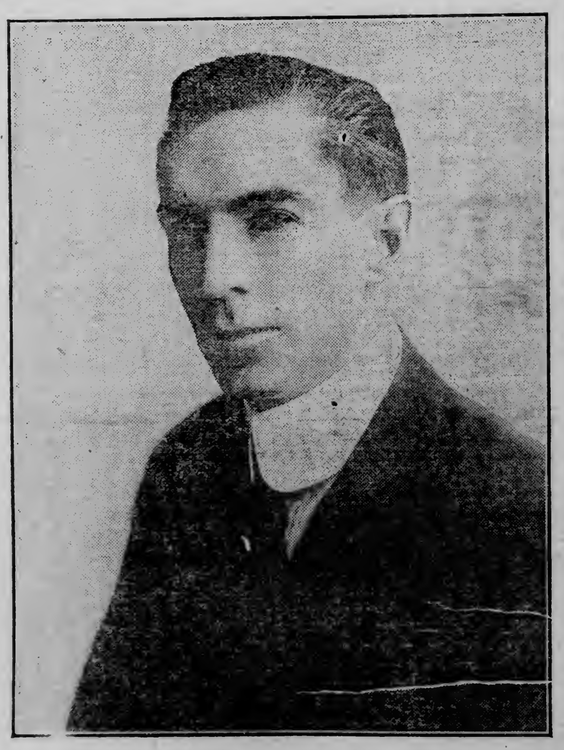

Miss Phillips is meeting many of the most noted men and women of New York, among whom are District Attorney Whitman, Mayor Mitchel, Deputy Commissioner of Police Dougherty, Finger Print Expert Faurot and many others.

Running the same days as "Our Mutual Girl" film will be Mary Pickford, our Little Mary, in "Hearts Adrift," in four reels, produced by the Famous Player Film company. This drama of devotion and self-sacrifice provides a new role for Miss Pickford. Miss Pickford will portray the part of Nine, a 12-year-old Spanish girl, who is the sole survivor of a shipwreck off one of the South Sea islands. The plot is intensely dramatic and is skilfully worked out.

For the last three days of the week Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley will appear in "The Merchant of Venice." From the standpoint of costly costuming and elaborate scenic display this picture is said to have few rivals. The Venetian street scenes as well as all others are reported to have been reproduced with faithfulness of design and excellent artistic skill. Mr. Smalley has played Shakespearian roles for many years and is said to be a good Shylock. Miss Weber, as Portia, will present a piece of acting which

A "CUTE" PLAY.

New "Thriller" at Little Princess Theater Is Pretty Little Thing.

New York, Feb. 21.—Even the little Princess theater, programmed and billboarded as the Grand Guignol of America and guaranteed to supply blase New Yorkers with a sufficient number of shocks and thrills to see them through the deadest season, has caught the edge of the reform wave. Its newest collection of playlets is almost as free from offense as a the dansant.

Of the five new plays offered as the second bill of the season only one boasts a real punch, and this is a thirty minute horror written by a French realist named Maurice Leyel. It concerns a careless youth who had his eyes put out by vitriol dashed in his face by a sweetheart he had threatened to leave. The thought that another might soon be counting the dimples in his cheeks maddened her, so she took this means of making him safe from temptation.

It's a pretty thing, if your taste happens to run to the morbid. As jolly as a morgue and as exciting as a Pancho Villa battle. You see the young man first with his head swathed in bandages and you hear the attending physician assure his brother in a stage whisper that he—the vitriol victim—will never, never see again.

It is the day on which the young woman is being tried. The evidence is all in, but there is lacking the affidavit signed by the young man himself. Without that it is probable the jury will fail to convict. And that is exactly as the youth had planned it. He had torn up the affidavit to make acquittal possible. His heart has been softened, says he, by his sufferings. He has forgiven the girl what she has done. He prays only that she, too, will not suffer and that she may be induced to come to him after the trial and receive his forgiveness at first hand. His voice is gentle, his manner paternal.

The acquittal follows and the girl does come. She kneels before him, penitently and tearfully. She begs his forgiveness, and shudders emotionally at the sight of the poor face she has put out of commission. He chides her pleasantly and forgives her eagerly. She knew not what she did. The fault was at least partly his.

Won't she, as a pledge of their renewed understanding, kiss him? Even if it is a good-bye forever kiss? Won't she? She permits him to take her in his arms, and as she does so he shrieks with joy at the completeness of the diabolical revenge he has promised himself. Her cries for help are unheard. He has arranged that his attendants shall be out of hearing. From the pocket of his bath robe he draws forth a vial of vitriol and, bending her shrieking over his knees, deliberately pours the acid into her eyes.

The curtain shuts out her screams of pain, but in repressed fashion they are taken up by the women in the audience, and the muttering of protest that sweeps from row to row, punctuated here and there by the nervous laughter of those who find relief in this natural but irritating fashion, is one of the indications that "The Kiss in the Dark" is a horribly artistic success.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Margaret Vale, a niece of President Wilson, now has a part in one of the big New York successes. She appears in support of Guy Bates Post in "Omar the Tentmaker," a Persian love play by Richard Walton Tully, now running at the Lyric theater, and soon to be transferred to the Booth theater for a continuation of its run. Miss Vale's presence in the cast was discovered only a short time before the opening, when she asked permission to go to the wedding of her cousin, Jessie Wilson. Permission was granted readily, but Miss Vale's identity had been disclosed. In private life she is Margaret Howe, the favorite nephew of the president.

Klaw & Erlanger have arranged through their European representative for the exclusive American rights for the next five years of the musical plays of Emmerich Kalman, the Hungarian composer of "Sari," the operetta which has made a decided hit at the Liberty theater in New York. Mr. Kalman, who is in his 32nd year, is a resident of Budapest, and until his compositions attracted attention was the musical critic of the leading Budapest newspaper, the Pesti Hirlap, of which Franz Kalman's next opera, now nearly ready for production, is called "Haeschenfoetchen" (Miss Rabbit Foot).

Mabel and Edith Taliaferro are nearing the end of their long run in "Young Wisdom," the comedy of Rachel Crothers, at the Gaiety theater, in New York, and will go on tour.

* * *

Nijinski, the dancer, with a company of fifteen, is coming to America to rival Pavlowa, it is said.

* * *

The book for the new "Follies of 1914" is being written by George V. Hobart, and the music is being arranged by Raymond Hubbell. Bert Williams is to be the star of the production, which will probably open in April.

* * *

Sam Bernard is getting "The Girl From Kay's" into shape, with Norah Bayes and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle in the support.

* * *

When Ethel Barrymore's tour in "Tante" closes she will take another vaudeville tour over the big circuits in her former vaudeville playlet, "The Twelve-Pound Look."

* * *

Another Keith theater will be added to the long list with the completion of the Brooklyn house for which contracts and plans have just been drawn up and signed. It will be situated in the fashionable section of Brooklyn.

* * *

Jack London's widely read novel, "John Barleycorn" has been dramatized and will be produced by Robert Campbell, who has secured the rights, in popular-priced theaters.

* * *

The Shakespearean Repertoire company, with E. H. Sothern, now playing on the coast, is reporting good business despite the absence of Julia Marlowe, who left the company a few weeks ago.

* * *

"Omar the Tentmaker," with Guy Bates Post as Omar Khayam, is making good steadily, playing to $6,000 last week, it is said. Receipts were as low as $145 opening week.

* * *

The new piece of Franz Lehar, who wrote "The Merry Widow," was produced in Berlin recently and was pronounced the best music ever written by the noted composer. The piece is called "Endlich Allein" (Alone at Last), and the second act is notable for having only two people, with a scene laid in a mountain hut.

* * *

Harry Jolson, brother of Al Jolson, blackface comedian, is contemplating a show on the Progressive Burlesque wheel next season, which he will head himself.

* * *

George Bernard Shaw has written a vaudeville sketch entitled "The Music Cure," which was produced recently in London. It is said that the playwright is being beseeched by many applicants desiring him to write sketches for them.

* * *

Frank Tinney, who was with the "Follies," will not be with the 1914 Edition," but will tour the coast with the 1913 show, as originally planned.

* * *

Virginia Harned will return to the stage, opening at the Palace in New York, in a condensed version of "Anna Karenina." It is rumored that she will probably appear in a new play next season.

* * *

"Broadway Jones" was produced in London recently, and rumors from across the water say that it was a great success.

* * *

It is probable that the Metopolitan Opera company may go to Paris this season, as negotiations are under way to engage it for the Theater des Champs Elysees, which failed with opera some weeks ago.

* * *

Anna Held has engaged a lawyer to prove she is heir to $60,000, said to have been left by Cherry de St. Maurice, who was murdered in Sacramento's tenderloin last summer. Miss Held claims the woman to be a sister of her father's.

* * *

John L. Sullivan, the quondam champion of the ring, is booked in vaudeville to do a monologue at Hammerstein's, New York, beginning the week of Feb. 23.

* * *

When Johnny Ford left the Tanguay show a couple of weeks ago it was reported that there had been an estrangement between the couple. The report was strenuously denied by both parties, however, and it was said that Ford jumped East to read over a manuscrpt of a musical production in which Eva will star next season, having decided that she has had her sufficiency of vaudeville for some time to come.

* * *

The fire department put a stop to the featured "foyer dancing" in a New York theater recently. The feature was drawing crowds, but it was decreed by the officials that it created a possibility of panic, as there were not enough exits in case of fire.

* * *

The Ziegfeld theater in Chicago has been taken over by Alfred Hamburger, who has instituted moving pictures for the entertainment. The house at one time was being considered by William A. Brady for repertoire shows after the order of the Princess theater, New York.

* * *

Ted Sullivan, who managed the Giante-Sox baseball tour, will probably open an engagement in vaudeville, lecturing on the trip and showing motion pictures of the troupe.

* * *

Raymond Peck has written a new act for Lulu Glaser, which she will come out in shortly. Peck also wrote her first vaudeville sketch.

GRANDFATHER MAY BE BACK IN STYLE THIS YEAR

New Clothes for Men Will Be Startling—Suits Tight and Everything Else Loose—Blue, Violet and Gold Top Hats—Help!

THIS MAY BE SEEN ON SUPERIOR STREET THIS YEAR.

THE NEW TANGO EVENING WAISTCOAT.

Gasp at the women, if you will, but look at the men.

Never in the history of clothes, since the time of father Adam and mother Eve, have fashioners gone to the extremes that they are going in preparing the styles for men this spring and summer.

The men this spring and summer will appear lightly and loosely garbed. Everything has been made for convenience's sake, even to the top-less vest, which will look like the old-fashioned sash of grandfather's day.

And speaking of grandfather, he will be in his glory this year, that is, if he wears the same hat and tie he wore back in the seventies and eighties. For the old high derby and Ascot tie are back with us again and are even now very popular in New York and Chicago.

To begin with, the fashions for men are modelled after London and Paris to a great extent. The suits are very English, that is, extremely tight, but they are the only garment that will be tight, from the large high hat rakishly tipped on the back of the head to the large, long-pointed shoes, again typical of Piccadilly square dressers, the clothes will be loose.

The New Vests.

The extreme styles for this season will be the new vests, which will give a touch of European court dress. They are to be made of sashes, with small pockets and will be buttoned in the back. The sash will be worn only on informal occasions, while the new silk vestette, merely a vest without the tops that come over the shoulders, will be much in vogue for dress occasions. The fancy waistcoat for business has dropped out altogether and mere man now wears the vest of the same suiting material.

Of course, the tango has its say in the making of men's clothes. The new vestette and sash may be laid to the latest world craze, as are the new "thousand-pleated" shirts, which permit fancy dancing and yet appear formal. This is to be a year when men will not dread the getting into a dress suit.

This may be the millenium for men's dress on formal occasions and may open a feature of light loose clothes. Who knows?

London's Eye Glass.

London's eye glass will be very popular, especially with a wide black cord attached and dangling around the wearer's neck. The new shell-rim glasses with the cord are already being worn in the East.

The derby hat is again popular and it appears that the slaves to style are again drifting away from the soft felt and college hats and caps. Dress hats are to be extremely tall, with a very narrow rim, and are to be worn on the back of the head. It seems that milady is being rivalled in high hats, at least.

It is reported from Paris that blue, violet, and gold top hats are being worn on the boulevards. And if this is true, then it would seem that we are going back to the days of the Revolution and we may again see hoop-skirts for the women and silk stockings for the men. But those who desire to be a little backward and shy at the blue, violet and gold top hats, may compromise on the purple band.

The canes, like last year, are very thick and have the round handle. This makes it easy for the wearer to throw his stick over his arm. A new shape is promised, however, which will have the top curve and then taper down to a point.

The Raglan Coats.

And now comes the Raglan topcoat as extreme as it can possibly be. It is to resemble a large kimono and somewhat follows the pannier gowns of women, with the large ruffles just below the waistline. Of course, this and the tight-fitting Norfolk, are for slim and medium built men. Fat men must look out and wear only the conventional clothes they have been wearing the last fifteen years.

Cuffs on evening suits are barred this year, although many young men were inclined to wear them with dinner jackets. Of course, the cuffs on trousers are to be very popular with suits, no matter what the age of the wearer.

Rumors from Paris carry another message even more shocking than all others. And that is, corsets for men. Just whisper it. Corsets for men. But they will never come to this country, fashioners say.

THE BEGINNING OF A STORY

By ETHEL MASON EATON.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

The girl at the next machine gave a cry, for her neighbor, suddenly and silently had crumpled up and lay as she fell, in a huddled, undignified heap upon the floor. Some one called to the forewoman. She in turn, quick, efficient, but not unconcerned, summoned the porter and together they carried the unconscious woman into the manager's office.

When the woman came to herself she moved her hand uneasily along the leather of the couch she lay on, and puzzled by its cool, smooth surface, she opened her eyes, dark eyes troubled by weakness and acknowledged fear. Then she sat up, propelled by a motive more compelling than her physical collapse.

The manager, tilting and creaking uncomfortably in his swivel chair, regarded her. "Lie down again," he said, "when you are rested you are going home."

His words, unmistakably friendly as they appeared to be, had an electric effect upon the woman. She struggled to her feet. "No, I stay," she proclaimed, "I work." She would have contrived somehow to gain the door, but the manager's hands on her shoulders pushed her back upon the couch. "Meine childer!" she moaned, the terror in her eyes wrung from her at last in words.

"What's your name?" inquired the manager.

"Zalinsky, Anna," said the woman dully.

"Husband living?"

"No." Then with an effort. "Since seven months only."

"How many children?" he asked.

The woman held up three fingers and dropped her hand again quickly lest he should see how unsteady it was.

"How much do you make here?"

Covert terror, the fear of the mother brute pursued, shot for an instant from her eyes. "Eight dollar," she answered sullenly.

The manager stood up. "Now, Mrs. Zalinsky," he said, "you are going home." The woman cowered for the first time. "You are going home, and your wages will be paid regularly every week. Take care of your children and when your time comes"—he was speaking very gruffly now—"I'll send my wife's midwife to look after you."

The woman's strength surged back to her but she doubted if she had understood. She questioned brokenly.

"That's what I said," the manager repeated, his hands making havoc with his papers. Then with impatience, for she became voluble, temperamental, beatific, "Don't talk to me. Can't you see I'm busy?"

Weeks later the forewoman was called to the telephone; a lady, she was told, had a message for her. "What's that? I can't hear you. Oh, you don't say. Well, that's great! She told you to ask for me? Sure, I'll tell him. Yes, goodbye." She wrote a line on the memorandum block and dispatched a boy with it to the manager's office. "The Zalinsky kid was born this morning," she said to a girl at work upon the machine nearest her. "It's a boy, and Mrs. Zalinsky's doin' fine."

An hour later the manager sent for her.

"What do you suppose she'll do with the kid?"

The forewoman offered no solution.

The manager ruminated: "She'd better hand him over to the Jewish Guardians. That's the thing to do."

"They're full," said the forewoman laconically. "A friend of mine tried 'em last week."

The manager gave a whistle. "They'll have to make room then for one more. Not many houses give 'em $500 a year, eh? Here, take a letter," he added to the stenographer. "I'll get 'em 'round to her tomorrow, and settle the thing up. I guess it'll be a load off the poor woman's mind. She'll think she's in luck."

Anna Zalinsky lay upon her side in her poor bed. Her son lay at her breast and her arm encircled him.

A knock at the door aroused her, and she turned her head to see the door open and a little woman in black cross the threshold.

"Mrs. Zalinsky?" said the newcomer. "I thought so. The manager of the factory where you work sent me to see your baby."

The boy was exhibited with confident pride.

"Such a baby is it! Na! Is it fine such a baby?" The question was purely rhetorical, more in the nature of a challenge, and admitted in the mother's mind of no denial.

"He's a fine baby, certainly," said the visitor. "But I'm afraid he's going to give you a great deal of trouble. How can you work now and earn money for the other children?"

"Na, if you must, you can do," answered Mrs. Zalinsky with unshaken cheerfulness.

The woman in the plain black clothes leaned forward. "I have come to help you, Mrs. Zalinsky," she explained. "I am Mrs. Brown, and I represent the Jewish Guardians. We take half orphans as well as full orphans, you know, and we will take your little boy. Your manager asked us to do this, and although we are very crowded, we will do it as a special favor to him. You see how fortunate you are."

Mrs. Zalinsky's small, well-shaped hands took firmer hold upon her child.

"You take him?"

"To give him a good home." Mrs. Brown smiled a shade less confidently as she looked into the mother's eyes.

"But if I don't like to give him, you take?"

"Not if you are a good mother. But you must see that it is impossible for you to keep him. This would make you free to work again."

Mrs. Zalinsky's hands relaxed and her eyes blazed. "So! If I shall lose him I am free. You can make too free de vomen like dat! For me I hav' already meine childer, but for a voman—to lose ihr mann und dann after ihre childer is not goot so. Better you help her wenn she iss a goot mudder und poor to bring up ihre childer nice und respectable. You tink she loves not de chil? Poor is noting. Gott iss not angry mit me for dat I am poor. But if I give mine liddle boy to some strangers, dann iss Gott angry. You tink mebbe I am not tinkin', tinkin' all time what kin' mann mein liddle boy mus' to be. Hav' I not here de milk for mine liddle boy? Hav' I not here the loy' hands? Na! Such a ting! I am his mudder!"

In silence the two women looked at each other, and Mrs. Brown's eye fell first in the contest. She dabbed it surreptitiously with her handkerchief.

"Mrs. Zalinsky," said she, "if ever you need a friend you just send for me, and if I can help you I will." And with an unwonted sweep of the hand, lent her by emotion, she propped her card against the polish picture-frame enclosing Mr. Zalinsky's picture, gave the protecting fist of the baby a peck of a kiss, and softly left the room.

BI-CENTENARY OF ENGLISH SCHOOLS

London, Feb. 21.—The medals presented to the pupils of the Christ Church schools, Southwark, in commemoration of the bi-centenary of their foundation are symbolical of the curious endowment of the schools. The medals bears a representation of two asparagus leaves united by a pin. The explanation lies in the fact that in 1713 a Mrs. Catherine Bovey bequeathed her sparrow grass gardens to provide a free school for the poor children of the parish. At the same time a Mr. Johnson, who had made his money out of pins, devoted the proceeds of some of his property to the same purpose. As a result of the philanthropic impulses the schools have flourished for two centuries.

WOMEN STUDENTS ARE QUADRUPLED

Exceed 6 Per Cent of Students at German Universities.

Berlin, Feb. 21.—The number of women students at German universities has been nearly quadrupled during the past six years according to figures just announced. In the winter of 1908, when the doors of German universities were first fully thrown open to women there were 1,108 women students enrolled; today there are 3,686 women taking regular courses and as many more who are attending lectures. More than 6 per cent of the total number of students at the German universities are women. More than half of all the women are studying philosophy, languages and history; somewhat more than one-fourth are studying medicine, and more than one-fifth natural sciences.

Nearly 400 of the women students are foreigners. Russia sends the largest number, and America the next. The women have for three years been going more to the non-Prussian universities. Leipzig and Munich especially have had large gains in that time, and the smaller institutions like Jena, Wuerzburg and Freiburg have also made relatively large gains.

The idea of the big historical pageant and civic festival which has been uppermost in the minds of those at the head of the drama league work for the last two years and which is being taken up this year by the city generally, was the chief topic of discussion at the meeting of the Duluth branch of the league, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Luther C. Harris, 1203 East First street.

Mrs. S. R. Holden, president of the league, spoke yesterday of the big civic pageant which will be given in St. Louis in May, for which Percy Mackaye has written the outline, and said that the drama league hopes to have just such an event in Duluth. The St. Louis pageant will include 7,000 people and will be the largest civic pageant ever given in any city in the world.

"An event of this kind," she said, "must be worked out on a big, broad, artistic scale if it is to be worth anything at all, and the drama league will do everything in its power to make this idea successful in Duluth if the city will only stand back of it and work it out on sound lines."

It was with a view to giving a historical pageant here that the drama league brought Percy Mackaye here last year for a lecture, and next month Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour, who has made a special study of festival and pageant work, will give a lecture here on the same subject.

Guests From Superior.

The members of the Superior branch of the league met with the Duluth members at yesterday's meeting and Mrs. George Morgan gave a delightfully charming reading of Coopee le Pater's soul drama, in one act, "As We Forgive Those." Mrs. Morgan's chief charm is the simplicity of her style of reading and the members were intensely interested in her reading yesterday.

Mrs. J. E. Rockwell gave an interesting review of an article by Maurice Browne on the drama, and plans were discussed for the March meeting of the league when Mrs. Seymour's lecture will be given, and it was decided to open this lecture to non-members who might be interested.

Another interesting event of the week was the dramatic afternoon of the Modern Drama class of the Twentieth Century club, held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. F. Hugo, 2407 East Third street, at which Miss Mary Shesgren read the interesting play, "The Truth," by Clye Fitch, giving a most finished and artistic interpretation of the work. Her reading throughout showed a thorough study of the work and a keen insight into the psychological meaning of the play, and her characters were brought out with a naturalness and simplicity which were effective.

This afternoon Miss Laura Frankenfield, Duluth's well known emotional actress, was hostess at a 5 o'clock luncheon at the Glass Block tea rooms, at which her guests were a number of the club women of the city who have always been especially interested in her and her work. Miss Frankenfield's work has always been appreciated by the club and she has helped materially in developing plans and departments of the club, especially during the years which she spent in Duluth. Miss Frankenfield is spending a short vacation in Duluth with her mother.

BEAUX ARTS BALL WILL BE THE WINTER'S SPECTACULAR GATHERING

—Copyrighted by the Hain News Service.

MISS VON ULM.

The biggest and most spectacular ball of the winter in New York will be the Beaux Arts ball which occurs at the Hotel Astor this month. It will be a Venetian ball and 2,000 persons dressed in old Venetian costumes will take part in the pageant. The central figure in the picture will be Fraulein Thyra Elizabeth Olga Hilda Albertina von Ulm zu Ehrbach, daughter of a German baron, who will appear as the spirit of the Renaissance. Fraulein von Ulm's costume for the part will be very like this diaphanous gown which is a frock designed by Lady Duff Gordon which she calls "Seduction."

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Don't Walk Slouchy Because It's Stylish.

You must have observed that with the new styles there is also a new carriage, though carriage is too dignified a word to denote a slumpy way of standing and a slouchy way of walking. For that is what it amounts to—a slump and a slouch — and the worst that you can say for it, and the best, are contained in this description.

It won't last long; of that you may be sure. But it will have its admirers and emulators. We shall have to endure a certain amount of slumping and slouching as long as the styles, which are just now being offered for our approval, are held in favor. But it is to be hoped, and that sincerely, that the great majority will refuse to droop and look like nothing so much as faded flowers withering on the stalks.

Perhaps a physician's condemnation will aid those undecided in the matter to make up their minds against it. If so, let it be known that it has been denounced rigorously by an expert medical authority who threatens dire consequences to those who embrace the fad and attempt to conform to its untidy, lazy, careless mode of locomotion.

The person, whether man, woman or child, who does not hold the head up, the chest high, and the stomach in, fails to stand or walk properly. The individual who always bears these three rules of correct bodily poise in mind cannot help but make a splendid appearance from the standpoint of carriage, I don't care what the styles may be.

Shoulders may droop, bustles be in order and waist lines huge or slender —the fact remains that we cannot maltreat our lungs and either be right or look right physically. If we do not breathe deeply and, by so breathing, exercise our lungs to their fullest capacity, there won't be a single organ performing its functions as it should.

So don't be induced to slump and slouch along, with the idea that it is the only style that will become the new mode in ruffles and paniers and bustles. You will look better no matter what you have on, if your shoulders are squared and your chest held high. And you will be better, too, every way. Not even for style can we afford to slump down into our shoes, so to speak, and refuse to use our lungs as science and common sense tells us we should.

DULUTH AND ST. PAUL MUSICIANS WILL EXCHANGE PROGRAMS NEXT WEEK

MISS MARGRETHE PETTERSON, Pianiste.

MISS LORA FULSDORF, Soprano.

AN ANNUAL event in activities of the Matinee Musicale, and one that is looked forward to with keen anticipation, is the program sent by the Schubert club of St. Paul by representative artists from their membership. The program for this season, which will be given at the Masonic Temple at 3 o'clock Monday, looks very attractive. It will be given by Miss Lora Fulsdorf, soprano; Miss Margrethe Petterson, pianist, and Miss Lima O'Brien, accompanist.

Of the latter the St. Paul dispatch has said: "She is a brilliant player, possessing a sure technique, keen intelligence and warmth of temperament."

Accompanists, Mrs. Louis Dworshak, Mrs. John A. Stephenson.

The student members of the club are asked to attend a short students' meeting which will be held immediately following the program Monday afternoon at the Masonic temple to discuss plans of special interest to them.

Anthony's Roman Catholic church of Duluth, and a master of the German language, has consented to address the club in German on, "The Advantage and Advisability of Learning More Than One Language."

It was hoped by the members of the club that Rev. Didace Gulliet, now pastor of St. Jean Baptiste church of this city, but formerly president of the University of Ottawa, Can., would favor the club with an address in French on a similar topic, but it has just been learned that he will be unable to be present on the above date, though the club expects to secure an address from him at some future meeting.

Bishop McGolrick and others of the Catholic clergy have been invited to be present.

A cordial invitation is also extended to the clergy of all other denominations in the city, to teachers and to all interested in the study of foreign languages.

The following literary program in French and German, together with musical selections, will be rendered:

Petit essai sur "Quelqu'unes des beautes de Paris par deux des eleves de Melle Belleperche" .....
Melle Elizabeth and M. Newton Ryerson.
Versets par la petite Lucile Spelman de l'ecole de la Cathedrale, "Mon Coeur et ma Rose," par George Roses .....

Reformers' Day.

THE Anual Reformers' day program planned by the women of the missionary societies of the First M. E. church will be held next Wednesday afternoon at the parlors of the church. There will be a talk on "John Huff," an early Bohemian reformer, by Mrs. O. F. Hessert and Dr. J. W. Hoffman, pastor of the church, will talk on "Savonarolo," an early Italian reformer. These two reformers were chosen as the societes are not studying conditions of the immigrants from those countries in their regular study programs. Musical numbers will also be given, which are now being arranged by Miss Grace Spurbeck and Miss Perrie Reynolds. Following the program there will be a "coffee klatch," with the serving of coffee and German cakes. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. T. A. Armstrong, Mrs. Osacr Johnson and Mrs. L. A. Larson.

All women interested are cordially invited to attend this afternoon's program.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Sophomores Will Give Party After Lent; Joint Concert Is Big Success; Hockey Schedule Slow in Forming; Schoolmasters' Club Will Give Anniversary Dinner Saturday Evening.

The next of the series of class parties will be given shortly after Lent by the sophomore class. At the regular class meeting held at the close of school a social committee was named as follows: Beatrice Miller, Margaret Hough, John Miller and Gerard McCormick. The class officers will serve also on the committee, which will have charge of the party.

The musical organizations of the high school have been very busy during the past week getting ready for the annual concert, which was given on Friday evening. This was the first appearance of the musical society and the orchestra in a joint concert, and a large audience was present and enjoyed a very pleasing program.

* * *

The senior class play was the subject of much discussion on Tuesday morning during the regular chapel exercise, when all the seniors adjourned from their session rooms to the assembly hall. The play this year will be "The Starry Flag," and Mr. Alexander of the English department is to have charge of the preparations.

* * *

The athletic management is having some trouble in arranging a schedule of hockey games with other high schools. The boys at Central who are playing the game this season are anxious for several contests, but all efforts at securing games have been of no avail. Hibbing and Two Harbors report that they do not have a high school team.

* * *

The Stump Literary society held its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon. Max Donaeur gave a very able discussion on "Radium." The Burnett immigration bill had been assigned as the topic for debate and most of the members of the society were able to speak either for or against the question.

* * *

On Thursday morning the students made out the permanent record cards of the second semester. These contain a complete statement of each student's work for the second half year.

* * *

A meeting of the athletic association was called for Wednesday at the close of school, but on account of not having a quorum present President Roderick Dunn declared the meeting postponed. Another attempt will be made to get the boys together next week, at which time the election of officers for the second semester will occur.

* * *

The basket ball team returned from the trip of the last week, having won first game played at Brainerd and lost the second with the strong Aitkin team, which expects to be a strong contender for the state championship. The state tournament will be played at Carleton college, March 20 and 21.

* * *

The hockey championship of the high school will be settled sometime the coming week, between the sophomores and juniors. The second year men have the best record to date, having already scored one victory over their third-year rivals. However, the juniors expect to win this game and thereby secure a tie, which will enable them to win the championship by a deciding game.

* * *

There will be no adjustment of session rooms during the semester. Many students who have secured additional credits during the first semester have been able to add enough credits so that they are now settled to sit in advanced session rooms. However, in account of the crowded conditions it will not be possible to make such advancements.

* * *

A Freshman Boys' Literary society was organized on Friday at the close of school. As the membership in the Stump is limited, this new organization will meet the needs of the lower classmen for literary activity.

* * *

There will be no chapel exercises next Monday.

* * *

The members of the basket ball team were much disappointed by the fact that Ashland high and the Union Club of Ashland, with whom Duluth Central had a double-header scheduled for this week-end, called off the games at the very last moment, without giving satisfactory reasons for so doing.

* * *

The many friends of T. F. Phillips will be glad to know that he is making a good recovery and will return to Duluth in several weeks.

* * *

The Schoolmasters' club will hold its anniversary dinner at the Y. M. C. Assembly hall on Saturday evening. The organization is composed of the male members of the high school faculties of the city schools. The annual dinned and ladies' night is given on or about Washington's birthday.

* * *

A Washington program was enjoyed by the students during the Friday morning chapel exercises.

"LITERATURE AND DOGMA."

Literature Class Will Hear Lecture Next Week.

The Ladies' Literature class will meet with Mrs. Alexander J. Braden at 1714 East First street Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. George R. Bebauer will lecture on "Literature and Dogma." Each member is privileged to take one guest to this meeting of the club.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

National Guard Battery Organized With W. F. Rhinow as Captain.

Girls' Pan-Hellenic Society to Give Banquet on March 3.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—By co-operation with the board of regents the military department of the university and the militia have made permanent regulations governing enlistment service and credit that shall apply in the special case of the university students who will make up the new National Guard battery which was this week assigned to the university. Minnesota is the first university in the world to organize and enlist men in this manner, who are students in college. The department expects to enroll ninety men this spring, and next fall to increase the number to the full complement, 186. The battery will drill every Monday afternoon and will attend camp for ten days immediately after the close of the college year. Drill will then be discontinued until the opening of college the following September. The organization is to have all the equipment of the regular National Guard battery. The equipment, according to Lieut. Woolnough, will be worth $100,000. It will be furnished by the war department and shipped to the university as soon as the organization of the battery is perfected. W. F. Rhinow, the assistant, commandant, will serve as captain. The other officers are: Fletcher Rockwood, first senior lieutenant; Walter Kennedy, first junior lieutenant; Hubert Kennedy, second senior lieutenant.

Pan-Hellenic Banquet.

The girls' Pan-Hellenic organization is planning to give a banquet at the Leamington Tuesday, March 3. This will be the first all-sorority get-together that has been given for a long time, and the girls are working hard to make it a success. Viola Beebe is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair and she reports that a large delegation from each chapter is expected. During the evening a stunt will be given by each sorority displaying their individual and original talents.

Students Vaccinated.

Charles W. Lundmark, a sophomore student in the college of forestry, was found to have a light case of smallpox, and 150 students attending the university were vaccinated Monday morning. Those vaccinated were equally divided between the students at the agricultural campus and the members of an economic class of which Dr. E. V. Robinson is instructor and Lundmark a member. Students are not compelled to submit to vaccination, but if they remain unvaccinated for three days after exposure they are obliged to remain away from the university for three weeks unless they have been vaccinated within five years. None of those exposed objected to vaccination.

Athletic Board Election.

Campus politicians are lining up their forces for the big election of the year, Feb. 25, when officers of the athletic board of control will be chosen. Francis Stadsvold, captain of the basketball team, and Bee Lawler, football, basket ball and baseball player, have announced their candidacy for the position of president. Everett K. Geer and A. C. Ott have filed for the secretaryship. Claude Ehrenberg, Al Robertson, Bernie Bierman and Thorgny Carlson are out for the position of academic representative. Elmer Fegan, Tom Quigley, David Geltman and J. C. West are candidates for engineering representative. Robert Snyder, Richard Lewis and Irving Husby have announced their intention of going after the position of agricultural representative, while B. Rosenthal, the 1914 foot ball captain, and R. E. Ramaker desire to represent the medical college.

Blue Slips Numerous.

The blue slips are all out, according to the registrar. This year over 40 per cent of the students received failures, conditions or incompletes. That is, 1,500 students were below in one or more subjects at the end of the first semester. The faculty is anxious to ascertain the causes for this unprecedented flood of slips, but students explain it only as the fault of the different finals or the immense amount of work required for each individual subject.

Banquet in Shevlin Hall.

Practically every senior and all the faculty of the college of education attended a banquet in Shevlin hall Tuesday evening. President Johnson was toastmaster and toasts by Professors James, Swift, Rankin, Pittinger, Edwards and Miss Mott kept the educators convulsed with merriment. Later, a typical Friday afternoon program was given by several students. The evening closed with dancing and everyone joined in the Virginia Reel.

Men's Union Presidency.

The resignation of Dr. Jenks from the presidency of the board of governors of the Men's union, was accepted at a recent meeting of the board. Dr. Jenks has served in this capacity for several years, but because of his leaving college, was forced to resign. To fill this vacancy, Prof. E. Morgan of the college of law, has been elected.

Plans are being developed by the sophomore class for a combining of the 1915-1916 Gopher party to be given in the Armory on Tuesday, Feb. 24, the evening before Lent. According to reports, the keynote of the party will be "difference" in every respect. The managing editor of the 1916 Gopher will be presented; several short speeches will be delivered, and a snappy program of vaudeville stunts will be staged under the direction of Dan Sullivan.

The Shakesperian Literary society, the oldest organization of its sort upon the campus, will celebrate its twenty-first birthday tonight by a banquet at the Rogers hotel. All the Shakopeans will be present including the men who are now in extension debate work, as well as many prominent alumni from different parts of the state.

The first sections of the 1915 Gopher will go to press next week, declares Managing Editor Shadbolt. Work is progressing rapidly, and the final O. K.'s are being put upon many of the original manuscripts.

The junior ball, held last night in the University Armory, was well attended and proved a great success in every way.

CLUBS AND MUSICAL

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB ACTIVITIES

Regular club meetings and an extra social afternoon which will take the nature of a reception to be held at the Bryant school will feature the club activities of the various departments of the Twentieth Century club for next week.

Monday the regular meeting of the Shakespeare class will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the library clubroom for the study of "Richard III."

Tuesday afternoon an especially interesting meeting of the Travel class will be held at the library clubroom at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. John McLeod will talk on "China and Some Interesting Facts About Its People and Their Lives," and Prof. W. H. Schilling of the Central high school faculty will talk on interesting trips he has taken in Europe. Both of these speakers being so well known the meeting promises to be specially attractive and is open to all interested.

The reception planned by the club will be held at the Bryant school on

MRS. H. N. MacHARG.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for all members of the club in special honor of the members of the Bryant School Mothers' club and the mothers of all Bryant school pupils. An interesting program will be given and the club will also make the afternoon the occasion for a book shower for the school library, each member who is interested, donating some book suitable for children from 5 to 15 years of age.

Dr. R. E. Wheeler will talk to the mothers on "Care of the Children's Teeth," and there will be readings by Mrs. H. N. MacHarg and vocal numbers by Mrs. Neil B. Morrison. The members of the Mothers' club will be joint hostesses with the Twentieth Century club members.

The regular meeting of the Modern Drama class of the Twentieth Century club will be held Friday morning at 10 a. m. at the guild room of Trinity procathedral for the continuation of the reading of D'Annunzio's "The Dead City."

Grand Opera.

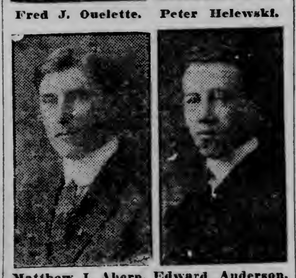

Interest is felt in almost every city in the state in the season of grand opera, which will be given in St. Paul April 20, 21, 22 and 23. The Chicago Opera company, under the direction of Cleofonte Campanini, and headed by Mary Garden, Tita Huffo, Maggie Teyte, Florence Macbeth, Clarence Whitehill, Henri Scott and many other stars as well known, will present "Rigoletto," "La Boheme," "Manon," "Tosca" and "Parsifal."

CATHEDRAL BOYS WILL STAGE COMEDY

Fred J. Ouelette.

Peter Helewski.

Matthew J. Ahern.

Edward Anderson.

The Dramatic Club of the Cathedral High school will stage the comedy "My Mysterious Friend" in the auditorium of the school next Monday night.

The play is one of rich humor and clever situations, and will, no doubt, prove to be an entertaining vehicle. Judging by the records made by members of the club in former entertainments of this character, the audience Monday night will be given a treat.

Paul K. Corcoran.

Fred Ouelette will appear in the title role; Matthew J. Ahern as "Mrs. Beakman Streete;" Paul K. Corcoran as "Leslie Packingham;" Edward A. Anderson as "Jim Bigson," and Peter Helewske as "Pachetti."

MUSICAL SERVICE.

Monthly Organ Recital Will Be Given at Pro-Cathedral.

THE big February Sunday afternoon musical service at Trinity pro-cathedral will be given at the church, Twentieth avenue east and Superior street, tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock, preceded by a half-hour organ recital by Miss Isabel Pearson, choir director and organist. Philip Gordon Brown will be the soloist during the organ recital and Miss Pearson has chosen as her numbers for that half hour works by Alexander Guilmant, the great French master under whom she studied in Paris. The program is selected at this time in memory of that composer, who died just three years ago.

Handel is the composre chosen for the choral service, and the vicar, Rev. Dr. Thomas H. MacLean, will give a six-minute talk on his life and works and much of the music for the service will be of his composition. The choir will sing his great Hallelujah chorus from "The Mesiah," and in addition to this there will be two numbers by the late Horace W. Reyner of Duluth. An anthem, "Sun of My Soul," by Mr. Reyner, has not yet been sung by this choir, and it was Mr. Reyner's favorite of his many compositions. It is a beautiful number, well written and will add special interest to the program.

Tomorrow being "Go to Church Sunday" in Duluth, the attendance, which is always large at these afternoon services, will probably tax the capacity of the church. The programs for recital and service follows:

ORGAN RECITAL, 4:30 P. M.
"Scherzo," from fifth organ sonata..
.....Guilmant
"Cradle Song and Prayer"..Guilmant
Recitative and air—"The Trumpet Shall Sound" ..... Handel
Philip Gordon Brown.

VESPER SERVICE AT THE Y. W. C. A.

A TALK by Rev. Robert E. Yost, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and a musical program of exceptional merit will be given at the usual Sunday afternoon vesper service at the Young Women's Christian association building tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Two trio numbers, "Song Without Words" by Tschaikowsky and a nocturne by Chopin, will be played by Mrs. Bruce Ter-Bush, cellist; Miss Emily Smith, violinist, and Miss Snaders, pianist. Miss Maud Matteson will also sing a sacred solo.

Following the service there will be two hours of informal hospitality and all women and girls, whether members of the association or not, are cordially invited to attend.

MRS. BRUCE TER BUSH.

FRENCH AND GERMAN.

Bishop's Club Will Meet to Promote Study of Foreign Languages.

THE members of the Bishop's club of Duluth announce a meeting to be held at their clubrooms at the corner of Second avenue west and Fourth street Monday evening, Feb. 23, beginning at 8 o'clock, the object of which is to promote and encourage the practical study of German and French.

Rev. Francis Hufnagel, pastor of St.

FINNISH TENOR DELIGHTS A SMALL AUDIENCE.

A few Duluth music lovers were treated to a program of rare merit at Pilgrim Congregational church last evening.

Taneli Hurri, a Finnish grand opera tenor, was the soloist. That he pleased is putting it mildly. His audience grew enthusiastic.

Mr. Hurri possesses a voice that is rich and of exceptional power. It is splendidly cultivated and his musical education is extensive. Last night he sang in five languages—English, Italian, German, Finnish and Swedish. On his program were an arioso from "Pagliacci;" a Finnish lyric, "Thinking of the Past," and other Finnish melodies; Ekman's "Ballade I Rosendelund," Wagner's "In Fernem Land," Grieg's "I Love You, Dear;" "O Primavera," by Tirindelli; three numbers by Merikanto, and "Die Beiden Grenadiere," by Schumann.

Normal School Notes

During the chapel exercises Monday morning, Mrs. G. W. C. Ross favored the students with several pleasing vocal selections. Mrs. Homer Collins accompanied her at the piano.

ECZEMA LIKE LIVING FIRE

On Head and Face, Itched and Burned Terribly. Would Form Scales, Hair All Came Out. Eyes so Sore Could Hardly See. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 1, Box 57, Michigan City, Ind.—"I had the eczema on my head ever since I could remember. It would itch and burn terribly sometimes. It came on my face and was like a living fire. My eczema was like pimples and if I scratched them they would bleed and form scales like finger nails. I had scars all over my face. I could not sleep because it itched so badly and I would scratch. My hair all came out in one week. My eyes got so sore that I could hardly see well. I suffered terribly and I thought there would be no cure for me.

"I treated and spent fifty dollars and got no help. I was discouraged. My sister came to see me and she told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would bathe in hot water and Cuticura Soap and then put the Cuticura Ointment on twice a day, morning and night, and bandage my face and head as much as I could. I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and my cure is complete." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Rhode, Oct. 23, 1913.

It costs nothing to learn how pure, sweet, effective and satisfying Cuticura Soap and Ointment are in the treatment of poor complexions, red, rough hands, itching scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, because you need not buy them until you try them. Although sold everywhere, sample of each will be mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. SUNDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Partly cloudy weather tonight and Sunday; cold wave tonight with lowest temperature close to 10 degs. below zero at Duluth-Superior and 15 deg. to 20 deg. below zero on the iron ranges; moderate to brisk northwesterly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-ninth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 20° and 100°. ○ clear, ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

The mild weather which the people of Duluth have been congratulating themselves on today is doomed, it is announced, to be of short duration. A cold wave is due tonight, and Mr. Richardson says that by tomorrow morning the mercury will be around the 5 to 10 deg. below zero mark and it will have rather brisk winds with it. The cold wave will likely last all of Sunday.

A year ago today was fair. The sun rose this morning at 7:02 and will set this evening at 5:41 o'clock, giving ten hours and thirty-nine minutes of sunshine, three minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Warmer weather prevails over the Western lake region, Upper Mississippi, Red river and Missouri valleys, but a cold wave developing over Saskatchewan will reach the Head of the Lakes tonight. Somewhat colder temperatures are the rule in Atlantic states. During the last twenty-four hours rain fell over South Atlantic, Pacific and Plateau states, and light snow over Manitoba, Western Ontario, Iowa, Southern Wisconsin, Northern Illinois and Michigan. Heavy rain occurred again at San Francisco."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Sunday:

Wisconsin—Generally cloudy and unsettled tonight and Sunday; colder Sunday and in north and west portions tonight.

Minnesota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Sunday; colder tonight; cold wave in east portion.

Iowa—Mostly cloudy tonight and Sunday; colder tonight and in east portion Sunday.

North Dakota—Cloudy tonight and Sunday; colder in east portion tonight.

South Dakota—Cloudy tonight and Sunday; colder tonight.

Montana—Probably snow tonight and Sunday.

Lower Michigan—Light snow tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight in southeast portion.

Upper Michigan—Light snow tonight and Sunday; warmer in east portion tonight; colder Sunday.

LOGGER LOSES CASE.

Jury Takes But Eight Minutes to Render Verdict.

After eight minutes' deliberation a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for the defendant in the personal injury action brought by Hjalmar Swanson against John Colbrath & Co., logging contractors.

Swanson sued for $10,620.50 for injuries alleged to have been sustained while employed in one of the company's camps near Mesaba station on Jan. 31, 1912. The plaintiff testified that he was drawing logs on a skidway with a team, when one broks loose and rolled on him. One of his legs was badly fractured. Swanson holds the company responsible because it failed, he claims, to provide a sufficiently wide and smooth roadway.

Canada to Spend $25,000.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 21.—Canada plans to appropriate $25,000 for the expenses of her representatives to the hundred years of peace celebration among English-speaking peoples.

Grey Nuns Burned Out.

Quebec, Feb. 21.—The church building and the chapel of the Grey Nuns' convent, occupying a city block, were destroyed by fire yesterday together with many valuable paintings. The convent was seriously damaged. The property loss is estimated at $62,000.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THREE KILLED ON G. N. TRAIN

Bandits Murder Passengers Who Try to Stop Them.

Trio Easily Escape in Forests Near Bellingham, Wash.

Bellingham, Wash., Feb. 21.—No trace had been found this morning of a trio of bandits who last night killed three passengers who resisted a hold-up on Great Northern passenger train No. 358, bound for Vancouver, B. C.

Thomas B. Wadsworth, a Canadian Pacific conductor of Vancouver, B. C.; L. R. Lee of Bremerton, Wash.; and H. R. Adterson, a traveling salesman of Vancouver, B. C., are the dead men.

It is believed the three bandits boarded the train at Burlington, a few miles south of the place of the holding up. They were seen to leave the smoking car and enter the vestibule between it and the day coach, where they tied white handkerchiefs about their faces.

One of the men then entered the day coach and walked to the rear door; a second one stepped just inside the coach, while the third remained in the vestibule.

Attacked by Passenger.

As the man reached the rear door and started to lock it, the three men who were killed leaped from their seats and started grappling with him. At that minute the robber who was at the forward end of the coach, began shooting into the ceiling of the car, and put out the lights.

The robber grappling with the three men also began shooting. He fired probably ten shots. Lee was the first man to fall. The next two shots killed Wadsworth and Adterson. Lee was trying to crawl behind the rear seat when the bandit turned his gun on him and fired five or six shots into his body.

None of the shots fired by the other bandit took effect, but he terrorized the passengers, a half dozen women fainting.

Got Women's Purses.

The robber who killed the men turned and started back to the front of the coach, as he passed along several women passengers held their purses in the aisles. He gathered up a handful of them and then ran.

The three bandits left the train together as it came to a stop from a signal given by the conductor, who had heard the shooting from another coach and pulled the bell cord.

Posses were hurriedly formed here and a special train was hurried to the scene, but on account of the wilderness of the surrounding country and the opportunity to get away in a boat to the San Puan islands, little hope is held out for the speedy capture of the robbers.

FOUR DEATHS AND NUMEROUS INJURIES THE COST OF PROTECTING LIFE AND PROPERTY IN DULUTH SINCE 1909

Protecting Duluth—its life and property—has cost this city dearly in the last few years, not only in money but in human lives.

In few other occupations do men face the danger of losing their lives while on duty that the firemen and policemen do. The steel workers on huge buildings and the railroad men have hazardous callings, but it is doubtful if the dangers equal those that beset the city's servants.

Since 1909 two firemen and two policemen have lost their lives while on duty. Scores have been injured, some seriously and others slightly.

Figures prepared by Assistant Fire Chief Charles Wilson show the complete list of injuries and accidents to firemen while on duty since January, 1909, and including the death of Fireman Henry C. Rumpel while fighting a fire in the West end but two weeks ago. On Jan. 7 of this year Patrolman Neil J. Mooney was shot while attempting to make an arrest at Gary and he died of his wound the following morning. Three years ago on that very day Patrolman Harry A. Chesmore was shot while arresting two boys and bringing them to headquarters on a Garfield avenue street car. John Kelly, a fireman, was killed Jan. 26, 1909, just four years ago last Thursday, while fighting a fire at 112 East Superior street.

CHIEF C. H. TROYER.

CHIEF J. R. RANDALL.

The Injured Firemen.

The list of injuries and accidents to firemen and policemen since 1909 follow in chronological order:

1909.

Jan. 6—C. Anderson overcome by smoke at Seventh avenue east and Second street.

Jan. 6—J. F. Lindgren, overcome by smoke at 1821 West Superior street.

Jan. 26—John Kelly, killed at 112 East Superior street.

Jan. 19—H. L. McIntosh, arm broken at 408-12 West First street.

Nov. 10—Thomas Miller, seriously injured at 307 Central avenue.

1910.

May 6—George Maghan, overcome by smoke at 5625 Grand avenue.

June 6—W. E. McLaughlin, J. Cribbins, S. H. Hansen, W. A. Johnson, H. S. Nelson and George Shaw, overcome by smoke at 102-4 West Superior street.

Oct. 13—R. H. Cribbins, arm injured, struck by a nozzle at 102 East Michigan street.

Nov. 7—T. E. Phillips, burned in back and arm at 712 East Superior street.

1911.

May 2—C. W. Wilson and F. N. Swanson injured by being thrown from buggy at Second avenue west and First street.

June 16—John Olson injured; fell through skylight.

July 13—E. G. Swanman cut about face; struck by a nozzle, South Fifth avenue west.

Aug. 7—A. Fisher dislocated shoulder at same fire.

Sept. 15—J. W. Walsh injured hand at fire.

Dec. 27—H. Hagenbrock sprained ankle at fire.

Dec. 27—C. E. Rush dislocated shoulder at fire, 5315 Oakley street.

1912.

May 6—F. C. Clore burned face and hands; smoke explosion at fire at 122 West Fourth street.

July 17—Joseph Cole, E. G. Weld, injured answering alarm from Box 72.

April 13—G. Peterson cut foot at fire.

June 6—H. England got nail in foot at fire.

July 31—E. McKeever injured back at fire.

Nov. 23—H. H. Johnson injured hand at fire.

1914.

Jan. 29—G. Taufman injured foot.

Feb. 9—H. Rumpel died at fire, 2114 West Michigan street.

Policeman Injured.

1909.

July 21—Chief Troyer severely injured by an electrical shock received while in the discharge of his duties.

Aug. 16—Patrolman E. F. Rothie severely injured by being thrown off a motorcycle.

Oct. 10—Detective Irvine injured in a collision between the auto patrol and a street car.

Dec. 6—Mounted Patrolman A. J. Noven severely injured by being dragged on the ground by his horse with his foot caught in the stirrup of the saddle.

Nov. 8—Patrolman L. H. Andree sprained his foot while running after a prisoner.

Dec. 7—Mounted Patrolman H. E. Hurd received sprained ankle when his horse stumbled and fell on him.

Dec. 14—Jailer Walter Murray injured in foot by horse stepping on it.

1910.

June 2—Detective Toewe severely burned his hand on the heated engine cylinder of a motorcycle which he was riding by being thrown off and falling against it.

1911.

March 8—Jailer Louis Johnson was bitten in the hand by a drunken prisoner, blood poison setting in immediately.

April 19—Patrolman George Wood sprained his knee by falling.

July 26—Patrolman R. D. Ducharme injured his foot in running in a dark alley after a house prowler.

Aug. 4—Patrolman Robert McDermott dislocated his finger while arresting a man.

Dec. 18—Driver Mark Stewart severely sprained his ankle while handling a fighting prisoner.

Dec. 21—Mounted Patrolman A. J. Noren received a severe injury to his left foot by his horse slipping on an icy street and falling upon him.

1912.

Sept. 10—Chief Troyer hit in the knee with a missile thrown by some person at the street car barns during a riot on account of the car men's strike.

Sept. 10—Patrolman Henry Brouillette hit with a missile hurled at the street car barns during the street carmen's strike.

Sept. 10—Patrolman Neil Mooney hit with a missle thrown by a rioter at the street car barns during the carmen's strike.

Sept. 12—Patrolman F. W. Dinkel hit in the stomach with a missle thrown at a street car during the carmen's strike.

Sept. 13—Jailer J. C. Hunter struck in the head with a hammer by one Edwin L. Nicholson, whom the officer was arresting for burglarizing the store of the Kelley Hardware company. Nicholson escaped from the officer, but was later arrested in the state of Washington.

Oct. 2—Patrolman James Woods, while on duty on a street car during the carmen's strike, and while in the act of getting out of the car to remove an obstruction which had been placed on the tracks, had the ends of several of his fingers cut off by the sudden closing of the car door on his fingers.

Nov. 8—Patrolman Henry Brouillette injured by being run over by a frightened horse hitched to a buggy.

1913.

Feb. 14—Mounted Patrolman P. C. Winters was kicked in the stomach by his horse after being thrown from the saddle, and otherwise injured about the head by falling against a stone.

March 20—Patrolman Neil J. Mooney dislocated his right wrist in arresting a hold-up man.

May 15—Mounted Patrolman Axel Johnson, while dispersing a disorderly crowd, was attacked by one Camile Archambeau, who struck the officer in the face, breaking his nose.

Oct. 12—Capt. A. G. Fiskaaen, while pursuing one Abraham Haddad, accompanied by his brother, Joseph, on Garfield avenue and in the adjacent railroad yards, was shot at six times by Joseph Haddad, and was severely wounded in the left wrist by one of the shots.

Nov. 15—Patrolman Peter Barber, in responding to a call, was thrown from a motorcycle by running against a dog, and received a deep cut in his left foot.

Soda For Gas, Acid Stomach or Indigestion

Gas, Gas, Gas—When everything eaten turns to gas and we eructate sour food and acrid fluids it means we are troubled with acidity, says a noted authority. An excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach starts food fermentation and prevents complete digestion. Then our meals sour in the stomach like garbage sours in a can, forming gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, causing a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch gas, have sour risings, heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash and nausea.

He tells us to put aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy a package of 10 grain Sodagen tablets and take one tablet any time followed by a tumbler of water which will instantly neutralize acidity; stop fermentation, absorb the gases and sweeten the entire digestive tract.

He further states that those men and women troubled with chronic acidity and its resulting Indigestion, Sourness and Gases should take one 10 grain Sodagen tablet regularly after meals for a period as this antacid is entirely harmless, being composed of Soda Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. S. P.

UNLIKELY TO STAY IN MEXICO LONG

Prospective British Minister Has Liking for the Near East.

London, Feb. 21.—Charles Murray Marling, the prospective British minister to Mexico, is not likely to be kept there long if British diplomatic traditions are followed. It is considered that one term in Latin America is the usual service unless a man happens to have chosen that part of the world as his special sphere, and such is not Mr. Marling's case. His liking has been the Near East, and it is no secret that he does not relish the idea of going to Mexico, but like all officials in the diplimatic service, he cannot very well decline a promotion to be minister when it is offered.

If the finds troublous times in Mexico, however, he will not suffer from inexperience. For nearly twenty-five years he has served in the Balkans and Turkey. He is a careful diplomat, and the foreign office feels safe in sending him anywhere. While he has not attained any very high office and is still a counsellor of embassy at the age of 51 years, he has scored many successes.

A Cambridge graduate, he entered the diplomatic service as an attache in 1888 and in the following year he was off to Athens, the first of his foreign appointments. Later in Constantinople, where most of his career has been spent, he acquired such a knowledge of the Turkish people and their language that the foreign office awarded him a special allowance and gave a round of duties at Rio Janeiro and at Paris, for a few years, as a sort of holiday.

When the Cretan question became acute and the powers had to step in to prevent Crete from leaving the Ottoman empire and joining her fortunes with Greece, which was only accomplished after the recent war, Mr. Marling was sent to Athens as charge d'affaires, and when each power sent a representative to Crete he went there as consul-general.

Still more delicate duties awaited him concerning the Anglo-Russian negotiations in regard to the spheres of influence in Persia. The British policy, as decided upon by Sir Edward Gray, did not meet with the approval of British diplomats. To give Russia a hold on Northern Persia, instead of keeping that country with Afghanistan as buffer states between Russia proper and India, a treaty was signed which gave Russian an open rotd to India, according to these officials. It was hard to find a diplomat who wouod go to Teheran. these officials. It was hard to find a diplomat who would go to Teheran. Mr. Marling was chosen for the post, the duties of which were neither easy nor pleasant. He had to deal with a Russian minister, who, all Britishers in Persia and the nearby countries believed, was getting the better of their country and who, they believed, under the cloak of the Anglo-Russian treaty was trying to get troops to Teheran, and eventually Russianize the whole of Northern Persia. It was a delicate situation, but Mr. Marling came out of it well. The Russian troops never got to the capital, the way was smoothed for the British minister and Mr. Marling was rewarded with a special allowance for his knowledge of Persian, a promotion to a councillorship of embassy and made a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

DISEASE CARRIERS TO BE PENSIONED

English Local Governments' Plan to Stop Spread of Disease.

London, Feb. 21.—A peculiar bargain is being struck by some local governments in England for the prevention of the spread of disease. The Manchester city government has just agreed to grant a pension to a woman carrier of enteric germ in return for which she has given her promise to give up the keeping of a lodging house. According to reports of physicians attached to the local government board the landlady was responsible for an epidemic of enteric fever among her lodgers, and it was decided to buy her off with a weekly pension.

A more serious case is reported from the West Riding of Yorkshire where a woman employed as housekeeper at various farms is declared to be the source of sixty cases of enteric fever, six of which proved fatal. For three years after her discharge from the hospital where she was treated for the fever she lived with her parents and no cases of infection were traced to her. Then she took up work as temporary housekeeper in the country and the enteric fever epidemic followed her from farm to farm. The local government board inspectors ordered her to return to the home of her parents and soon afterward the epidemic in the country ceased. The woman will be paid by the local government to remain at home.

In the British army a new regulation provides that a known carrier of enteric germs may be discharged when his condition refuses to respond to treatment and he is allowed a pension if he permits the fact that he is a carrier to be disclosed in his discharge papers.

BETTER AMBULANCE SERVICE DEMANDED

London, Feb. 21.—An increasing number of street accidents has caused the London county council to be swamped with demands that the antiquated ambulance service of the metropolis be improved. With the exception of the one square mile under the jurisdiction of the city of London, the English capital has no wheeled ambulances of any kind. At certain street corners throughout the various boroughs stretchers are kept in boxes, the keys to which are in the possession of the nearest patrolman. In case of accident the victim must await until sufficient bearers can be secured to carry him to a hospital. When no hospital is within walking distance, the police may comandeer a cab. These primitive measures, since the advent of the motorbus juggernaut, have involved the death of several victims, who might have been saved if they could have been rushed to the hospital in a wheeled ambulance.

The failure of the county council to act sooner in the matter has been denounced as a scandal by some of its members because authority to institute a good ambulance service was granted by parliament in 1909.

VALUABLE SILVER HELD BY COLLEGES

London, Feb. 21.—The colleges at Oxford have been having their silver revalued. No estimate of the total valuation has been given but it must run into many thousands of dollars. One or two colleges are said to have silver to the value of $100,000. Practically all this was given by old members of the colleges, it being for many years the regular custom for men to give a benefaction of plate when they graduated. Many of the treasures are of great value, having been in the possession of colleges from the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

LONDON HAS SERIOUS EPIDEMIC OF MUMPS

London, Feb. 21.—An epidemic of mumps has become so serious in London that lively business is being done insuring business men against the disease. Mumps is not on the list of notifiable contagious diseases and the result has been that during the present period of cold, damp weather the epidemic has gone like wildfire through the office district of the city.

One physician has written to the papers protesting against the levity with which the outbreak has been treated by the press. He asserts that the only funny thing about the disease is its name and concludes that since there are no specifics against the mumps once acquired, strong preventive measures should be taken.

HAZEN, N. D., IS GROWING RAPIDLY.

Hazen, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the arrival of the railroad and with the new shipping and mail and other facilities Hazen is growing rapidly. Farmers who formerly did their trading at river points are now coming here. As a result a boosters' club has been formed to secure new general stores, a hardware, a furniture and a jewelry store. There is also opening along other lines. Among the improvements sought are a new hotel. With the exception of Stanton, the county seat, Hazen plans to be the largest commercial center in Mercer county. It is growing rapidly and is surrounded by an ideal farming region.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS MEET AT NEW SALEM

New Salem, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meeting being held here today and tomorrow by the North Dakota Holstein Breeders' circuit promises to be a great success. Hundreds of farmers who have grown from a hard luck existence as grain farmers to prosperity and affluence through dairying are enjoying the sessions. State Dairy Commissioner Flint, Commissioner of Agriculture Gilbreath, Dean Sheperd of the agricultural college, Director Cooper of the Federal experiment station at Fargo, Dr. Mackey, Federal livestock inspector and a number of local men are on the program for both sessions. The local Holstein association was the first to be formed in the state and has done much to start dairying and diversified farming.

NATIONAL GUARD MEMBERS MEET.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the state National Guard are here today in large numbers. Each militia organization in North Dakota is entitled to six delegates, three from the officers and three from the ranks. Maj. Steedman and Lieut. Turner of the regular army are here and all the leading national guard officials are participating in the meeting. The local committee has arranged for the entertainment of the visitors this evening.

Mayville, N. D., Fire.

Mayville, N. D., Feb. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—It has not been definitely decided whether the Welian-Tryhus Mercantile company, which was destroyed by fire here Wednesday, will be reopened. The fire caused a loss of $18,000 on stock, with $15,000 insurance, and $3,000 on the building, with $2,000 insurance. Several nearby buildings were scorched.

Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

BIG LAND OPENING!

76,000 Acres of Choice Fruit and Agricultural Lands Thrown Open--Most Wonderful Opportunity for Those Who Are "Land Hungry" Ever Known In the History of Land Openings--A Proposition that Will Probably Never Again Be Equaled!

ACT NOW—No Chance For You to Lose—Registrations Accepted BY MAIL

If you are Eligible according to the Classifications given below—and if you are weary of the drudgery and toil of a small wage or salary or from renting someone else's land, with the cost of living soaring skyward—or if from any cause you have failed to realize the freedom and independence you have longed for—why don't you send in your Registration for this great Land Opening NOW? You have everything that makes life worth living to GAIN, you can't possibly lose.

LISTEN! Down in the Missouri Ozarks, about 4 hours' ride by rail southwest of St. Louis (the fourth city in size and importance in the United States) there's a tract of 76,000 Acres of Fine Agricultural and Fruit Land that has been thrown open. It's all high land—1,000 feet above sea level—not an acre of swamp land in the entire tract. Right in the Missouri Ozark Fruit Belt. Finest kind of soil too—mainly a rich, sandy loam, varying from deep black to coffee color. It is a soil remarkably adapted to the production of the very finest fruit, both in quality and color. Besides growing many kinds of fruit in abundance, adjacent lands are now growing as high as 75 bushels of corn per acre, fine wheat, oats, alfalfa and all other staple crops. The climate is most healthful and invigorating—typhoid malaria and ague are practically unknown, and there is an abundance of exceptionally fine spring water, and besides—wells sunk to a depth of from 20 to 100 feet find an unfailing supply of pure water. Ponds and cisterns are easily made and an ample annual rainfall of 42 inches keeps them filled.

Why Has Development Been Delayed?

A natural question—the reason is also a natural one—Previous Lack of Railroad Transportation. We NOW have a railroad—The Missouri Southern Railroad—runs right through the 76,000 Acres and about 70% of same lies from adjoining to within 3½ miles of the Railroad. So now the next step is to get the people. No doubt you remember when a few years ago the Northern Pacific (from a portion of their extensive holdings) gave away one 160 Acre Tract out of every 640 Acres, as an inducement to settle up the country. Railroads on account of having a money-making-after-consideration-in-view can easily do what private companies cannot afford to do, therefore, to accomplish our purpose, a portion of our Extensive Holdings is being included in this most remarkable, unusual and liberal Land Opening, the like of which we feel quite positive will never again be equaled in the HISTORY OF THIS COUNTRY, the disposing of which will, of course very naturally increase the value of the remaining Acreage to many times what it would have been worth without this Opening and the Settlers. Then, BESIDES, there's our NEW Townsite of FRUIT CITY which we have recently "Laid Out," located on the Missouri Southern Railroad adjoining the big 3,000 Acre Orchard. There will be 5,000 Business and Residence Lots in Fruit City, but NONE of the Lots will be included in this Opening. Fruit City has a great future. There is no doubt in our minds at all but what it will reach the 5,000 mark in less than twenty-four months after the Opening. A FULL BLOCK upon which to erect the Court House will be set aside; and since five-sixths of the people NOW in the County live along the railroad, we should experience but very little difficulty, if any, in moving the County Seat to Fruit City when the time comes to vote, as the County Seat is at present located at a little inland village eight miles from the railroad with a population of 300. Well then, what does all this mean to Fruit City? It should mean a thriving, prosperous and substantial City of several thousand within a very short time after the Opening and at least a HALF MILLION DOLLARS NET to our Association from the Sale of the 5,000 Lots. Not a LOT will be offered for Sale in this anticipated future Metropolis until ON and AFTER the OPENING DAY.

"These" Circumstances Make Possible "Your" Opportunity

This 76,000 Acre Tract is to be divided into 5,000 Farms as follows: 3,600, 10-Acre Farms; 1,200, 20-Acre Farms; 100, 40-Acre Farms; 50, 80-Acre Farms; and 50 160-Acre Farms. It does not follow, however, that the first 5,000 Registrants will secure the 5,000 Farms. This Opening will be conducted in a manner somewhat unlike the method which has prevailed at Government Land Openings, the important difference being as follows: When the Government conducts a Land Opening, the NAME of each Registrant (regardless of the NUMBER of Registrants) is included in the Opening, consequently there are always considerably more Registrants than there are Farms to be distributed. To guard against disappointments of this nature, we have made the following provisions: The Opening will include, besides the 5,000 separate Farms, a 2,000-Acre Orchard, consisting of 2,500 Acres of Apples, 300 Acres of Peaches and 200 Acres of Grapes, Now being Developed, Improved and Equipped, at an expense of about Four Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. It will be one of the largest, and most highly developed and finest equipped Orchards in the world. It is being equipped with 40 Tenement Houses; 1 Winery, including all necessary Presses, Tuns, Cellars and Buildings; 1 Complete Vinegar Plant, including all up-to-date Equipment, Electrical and otherwise; 1 Complete Cider Mill Plant, including Storage Tanks and all up-to-date Equipment, Electrical and otherwise; 1 Complete Canning Factory and Building, including all up-to-date Equipment, Electrical and otherwise; 2 Evaporating Houses; 2 Fruit Packing Sheds; 40 Fruit Spraying Outfits; 1 Large Ice Storage Plant; 1 Large Cool Storage Warehouse; 1 Large Hotel; 5 Large Barns; 100 Head of Mules and Harness; 50 Farm Wagons; 50 Turning Plows; 50 Cultivators; 50 Double Shovels; 50 No. "A" Harrows and a number of Sprouting Hooks, Pruning Knives, Saws, Axes and a lot of other miscellaneous Equipment sufficient to thoroughly equip an Orchard of this magnitude.

Now every person whose Registration is accepted for this Land Opening will secure either a Farm or 100 Shares of Orchard Stock but no Registration will be accepted unless the Registrant pays the small Registration Fee of $15; this entitles him to one Contract and a Full-Paid-Up Certificate and he will be sure to receive at the Opening (without having to pay us any more than the $15) one of the 5,000 Tracts of Land or 100 Shares of Stock in the 3,000-Acre Orchard. Remember, that the Abstracts are held in Trust by the OLD COLONY TRUST & SAVINGS BANK, of Chicago, Ill., and that they CERTIFY every Full-Paid-Up Certificate that goes out to each Registrant. The Deed and Abstracts will be turned over by the BANK on Day of Opening and will show the 76,000 Acres FREE of ALL incumbrances.

You will be given a Warranty Deed and Abstract to the Land, which means that you will be the sole and undisputed possessor of that particular Tract of Land. No additional cost will be made for the preparation of Deed and Abstract. Moreover, while we are very anxious to have everyone who gets a Farm move on to it, you are under no obligations to do so. You don't have to live on it, improve it, or do anything with it unless you want to. If you get 100 Shares of Orchard Stock there will be no further assessments, because the Stock is Fully Paid and Non-Assessable. You will simply own 100 Shares of Stock in what promises to be the most complete, best equipped and biggest paying Fruit and Orchard Enterprise this country has ever seen. However, each Unit included in the Opening will be of as nearly equal value as humanly possible.

Opening To Be At Fruit City—You Don't Have To Attend

The Opening will be held at Fruit City and will occur as soon after the closing of Registrations as arrangements can be made. The date of same will be announced at least 30 days in advance, and Plots of the Land and Orchard will be mailed to each accepted Registrant. From the way Registrations are now coming in the DATE of the Opening cannot be far distant. You do not have to be on the ground on Opening Day or send anyone to represent you unless you want to, for there will not be the slightest favoritism shown to anyone. ALL, rich and poor alike, have an equal opportunity. You will immediately after the Opening, be notified as to just what Tract or Interest you have secured, but you NOW KNOW in advance that it will be either a 160, 80, 40, 20 or 10-Acre Farm, or 100 Shares of Orchard Stock—No blanks—No disappointments

You Can Register By Mail Now And Get Your Money Back Any Time Within 30 Days If After Fuller Investigation You Wish To Withdraw.

It can be very safely predicted, comparing this Land Opening with those of the past, that there will be far more Registrations than there will be Contracts for, therefore, we would advise that you send in your Registration NOW, if you are Eligible, or else you are liable to be TOO LATE, for there will be but ONE Registration accepted for each Contract included in the Opening and no more, and the BANK will Certify only ONE Full-Paid-Up Certificate for each Contract included in the Opening and no more. This being the case, and Registrations now being received by the hundreds, it will behoove you to reach our Committee with your Registration before the Contracts are all gone—When all have been spoken for there will be no more available, consequently we shall be forced to REJECT all EXCESS Registrations and return the Registrant's Money. You can pay the $15.00 all in cash or at the rate of $3.00 per month. There is only one way for you to make sure that your Registration will reach us in time and that is by sending in your Remittance (either the entire $15 or the first installment of $3) at once. We will then send you full descriptive literature explaining the "Big Opening" in detail and you can take your own time to investigate. If after a thorough investigation you desire to forfeit your Contract, all you need to do, is to notify us to that effect any time within 30 days after sending in your Remittance and we will promptly refund every penny of the money sent us.

Make your Remittance direct to The Railroads Unimproved Land Association, In Care Of Registration Committee, using the Registration Coupon to your LEFT for that purpose. All Remittances will be duly acknowledged and Receipts covering same promptly mailed as outlined and GUARANTEED in our Registration Coupon.

Respectfully,

The Railroads Unimproved Land Assn.
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

PROVED IT.

Judge: Mrs. Brown arrived late at the regular meeting of her card club, and appeared quite flustered, unlike her usual calm, well-poised self. Upon being asked the cause of her apparent perturbation, she explained that while waiting for the street car she had been greatly annoyed by a strange man, who insisted upon talking to her.

"What did you do?" inquired her sympathizing friends.

"Well, to show him I was a lady, I slapped his face!"

Wife's Broken Heart Over Husband's Drinking

If you were to stay in the office of the Neal Institute a single day and answer the 'phone calls and attend the door every time the door-bell rang, and met the wives and mothers and sisters and other loved ones who go there in the interest of their drinking ones, and heard their pitiful stories of drink, and the want and privation, sorrow and suffering and anguish that liquor had brought them, heard the piteous sobs of the broken-hearted wife as she tells of her little ones at home in want, and her husband downtown drinking, you would say "surely the Neal Institute, next to the Church, was the greatest institution in the land." There, in just three days, all craving, desire and appetite for liquor is taken away, and the drinker restored to his wife and little ones a sober man, who then hates and despises all liquor. Our new booklet, "The Modern Method of Treatment for Alcohol and Drug Addiction," giving full information, mailed on request and in a plain sealed envelope. Neal Institute, 887 West Seventh street, Superior, Wis.; St. Paul Institute, 676 Dayton avenue; Minneapolis Institute, 403 South Seventh street.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BIG YIELD FROM SOIL

Carlton County Farmer Breaks Minnesota Record With Four Acres.

Yield of Grain and Hay From This Small Tract Is Phenomenal.

Moose Lake, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The greatest yield of grain and hay from a small piece of land ever recorded in Minnesota or probably any other state is claimed by Carl Hecker, a small farmer, living about four miles east of Moose Lake and an equal distance east of Barnum. Mr. Hecker is one of the old-time settlers in this section, having come here with his parents a number of years ago and is now occupying the farm his father purchased at that time. In speaking of the soil and the development that has taken place the past few years in this section, Mr. Hecker said:

"I had four acres on my farm that had been in pasture for some years, and on which there were a number of stumps and I concluded that I would get it into field as it laid in such shape that it was inconvenient for me to work the other land to advantage. In the fall of 1911 I cleared and plowed it and the following spring gave it a top dressing of manure and then disced it, then seeded it to oats, at the same time seeding clover and timothy. That was the greatest field of grain I have ever seen, it stood up fine, with good heads and when we threshed we found that it yielded 47 bushels by machine measure. The summer of 1913 I took off twenty-two loads of hay from the first crop and six loads from the second crop, each load would weigh about a ton."

Proves Soil's Possibilities.

This is the largest yield ever heard reported in this or any other section of the state, and for that matter any state. This land had never been in crop, in fact had never been plowed, and proves conclusively that with proper cultivation of the soil there is no soil in the world that will produce larger yields than the land in Carlton county.

Mr. Hecker owns eighty acres, uses forty for all of his stock, which comprises twelve milch cows and several head of young stock, and a team of horses, besides he has potatoes and other crops to sell. Last fall he refused $7,000 for his farm.

CARLTON COUNTY COURT.

Second Trial of Suit Against Cloquet Plaintiff Loses.

Carlton, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Bert Fesler of Duluth has been holding court here this week. In the case of the Power Equipment company vs. Brandt Bros., to recover $400 claimed on an engine purchased, the jury found the defendants were entitled to $11.78 damages.

The second trial of Nels Anderson's suit against the city of Cloquet for $1,290 damages alleged to have been sustained last month when he fell and broke a leg while passing the Finnish church in Cloquet, resulted in a verdict for the city. The city secured a new trial after Anderson had been awarded judgment for $275 in a suit for $500.

The case of August Fliger of Duluth vs. the Alger-Smith Lumber company to quiet title to certain lands near Atkinson, a long drawn out piece of litigation, occupied the balance of the week.

ROUNDING UP DEER.

Grand Island, Mich., Domesticated Animals Being Shipped.

Munising, Mich., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the ground covered with a heavy mantle of snow, the annual shipment of deer from the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's big game preserve on Grand Island, Lake Superior, is in progress. The work will continue until the spring breakup. The deer are caught in traps and are shipped by express to parks and zoos throughout the United States. Recent consignments have gone to Indiana and Illinois and to Eastern cities. A particularly large shipment last year was a herd of thirty sent to the park commission at New Germantown, Pa. The deer are slick and fat, their condition this winter being, in fact, the best noted in recent seasons.

The purpose in shipping deer is to maintain the herd at approximately the same figures and to preserve the equilibrium between the natural food supply and the number of animals.

EDITORS END MEET.

Mapleton Scribe Chosen President, St. Paul Getting Next Gathering.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 21.—After electing officers for the coming year and designating St. Paul for the 1915 meeting, the Minnesota Editorial association closed its forty-eighth annual convention here last night. The following were elected:

President, H. C. Hotallno, Mapleton; first vice president, J. C. Morrison; second vice president, H. W. Wheelock, St. Paul; third vice president, Harley W. Dare, Walker; secretary, Herman Ross, Northfield; treasurer, Harold Ramaley, St. Paul; executive committee, Frank J. Myst, Minneapolis; E. K. Whiting, Owatonna; N. H. Ingersoll, Brainerd.

Discussing the "press and pulpit," Rev. G. L. Morrill lauded the newspapers which are clean and truthful and criticized those who valued the dollar above the truth. Mr. Morrill paid a high tribute to the Associated Press, declaring it to be the "mightiest force in our civilization.

ACCEPTS CORNELL OFFER

Prof. Works of Minnesota U Going to New York Institution.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 21.—George A. Works of St. Paul, professor of agricultural education at the University of Minnesota, sent a telegram yesterday to President Schurman of Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., accepting the post of head of the department of rural education in the eastern institution. President Vincent and Dean A. F. Woods urged the educator to reject the offer he had several weeks ago, but Mr. Works decided the work in New York has a better future. He also will be a full professor in the college of education.

The department of rural education has just been established with four teachers on the staff. Others will be added next year. Prof. Works will leave St. Paul at the close of the university in June to take charge of the organization of the division. The Cornell authorities wanted him immediately.

JUROR NOT CITIZEN.

Novel Point to Be Raised in Flanigan-Turner Appeal.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 21.—An appeal from the verdict of guilty in the second Flanigan-Turner graft cases will be taken to the supreme court on the ground that John H. Buschnian, one of the jurors in the case, has lost his citizenship because of a conviction on a charge of grand larceny, and that, because of this fact, the defendants were denied the right of trial by a jury of their peers according to a statement made by C. McElwee, counsel for the two defendants. "I believe it will be the first time in the United States that a court of appeal has been asked to pass on a question of this kind, said McElwee, "and we believe it can be shown that our clients were placed in jeopardy because of this fact."

Mrs. Parker was about 40 years of age and is survived by her husband and four children, the latter being Mrs. Arthur List, Harriet, Eddie and Lillian. The funeral services were held in Minneapolis and the remains interred near the old family home at Parker's Lake, Hennepin county.

NERVOUS MEN

Restored to Health and Vigor

Progressive Medical Doctors say: Every normally constituted and healthy man has a natural and abundant endowment of potential energy or reserve nerve power.

Units of nerve energy are drawn from the blood and stored in the cellular substance of the brain and ganglia for use in the performance of involuntary functions and voluntary action.

In the condition of absolute and perfect health, these reservoirs of vital power of nerves are well stored, and potential energy is so abundant that the whole physical or mental being is filled and thrilled with the triumphant consciousness of power.

Such a man possesses personal magnetism, and unconsciously inspires those who come into social or business relations with him with a feeling of his easy mastery over almost all conditions. The "American disease" is Neurasthenia, "brain fag," debility. Call it by what name you please, for we do not treat the name, but we do successfully treat the condition, and restore the patient to that health which is essential to his social and commercial success if he is to fill a man's place in the world.

The Napoleons of finance, the captains of industry, the men of affairs are the ones most affected. Perfect health, however, is all-essential to the man of lower position, as well as to the one who aspires to the highest. Many a man falls on account of a physical handicap to achieve the ambitions for which his natural mental qualifications fit him. The connection between mind and body is so intimate and their inter-dependence so marked that physical perfection is essential to the greatest achievement.

The nerve-vital diseases include nervous debility, decline, insomnia, melancholia, and diseases of graver nature which involve the brain and spinal cord and are of a paralytic nature.

The associated pelvic diseases are: Stricture, bladder, prostatic and kidney disease; varicose veins, hydrocele, rupture (hernia), lithasis (gravel) and diseases of the lower bowel.

We have made the cure of men our study. The effect of the treatment is to cure those diseases and to restore men to the full enjoyment of nature's best gifts to the normal physical and mental conditions that characterize

HUGGING THE THIRD RAIL ALONG THE SCENIC TRAVEL ROUTE OF SPORTDOM

Being a Week-End Review of the Doings and Other Forms of Gossip That Have to Do With the World of Sport.

By BRUCE.

SUNDAY, March 1, is the date chosen for the first large and deliciously luscious ski tourney that has been scheduled for our fair city for the last two years. Get out and boost. Upon the occasion of the gathering here of the most prominent jumpers of this country, including some of recent European importation, there is fervent hope that the record of the hill will be broken and that the meet in general will be the best ever held upon the old Chester hill.

In the old days the gentle folk from the surrounding cities were in the habit of trooping in upon us and enjoying the sport of the Vikings. St. Paul and Minneapolis used to send up gasping visitors, and upon one well remembered occasion two tourists en passing screamed shrilly and with hysterical tendencies when one of the Rumvedts or Thorsens did a graceful and impressive dive on the side of his ear.

Those were the good old days, Bill, when they used to charter hacks and carryalls and flock to make the tourney of March 1 one of the kind that has marked the winter sport pages of the past and stamped old Duluth as the last word in ski jumping.

With all of the stars of the ski world entered for the Duluth meet, and with the genial Aksel Holter striving to assist in the struggle for success, there is no reason to doubt but that the coming visit of the crack professional and amateur ski riders will surpass in every detail any of the meets of the past.

Fired with the determination to bring back the old skiing interest to Duluth, members of the local club are preparing to work like the busy beaver in the effort to paint success in foot high letters all over the four sides of the coming show. Let the good cits take note and lend heavily the helping hand.

The Coming Encounter.

FILLING the ambient atmosphere with talk and gleeful anticipation stands out in the scroll of events the approaching meeting between Lawence Brown, known to ring followers over the upper and lower side of the world as Pal, and John Tecumseth Tillman, a short haired battler of recent growth and promising proportions.

This will be the first encounter for Brown since he met those stalwart foemen in the antipodes and it will mark the first appearance of Brown in a contiguous ring since the evening he fought the Frankie Snyder one.

The question looms with a capital L—just how good is Brown. There are followers scattered over the length and breadth of the iron ranges who will wager huge chunks of money, that came originally from the trembling and yielding bowels of the ranges, that Pal Brown can lick any boy of his weight in the world.

There are others who want to be shown. As in the case of every widely discussed subject, as in the case of every fighter, there are the others who believe that Pal will fall before the fists of some of the best of the game.

Dr. Ned McNulty stated yesterday that in the event of Brown meeting Ad Wolgast over the twenty-round route, he would hound friends for money to wager on the chances of the Minnesota lad.

It meaans much to Brown to beat Tillman and beat him decisively. Jones and Wolgast have gone on record as declaring that Brown will win. To beat Tillman means that Mandot, White, Cross, Wolgast and the others will be in line. That is why it is of utmost importaance to the future plans of the range youth that he show everything in the shop the evening he steps forth to box Tillman.

For four years fans upon the ranges have longed for an opportunity to see Brown in action against one of the top notchers of the lighweight division. In Tillman Brown is meeting a comer—but he must beat the comer to compel the fight promoters over the country to further recognize his claims in seeking a contest for the championship.

That, more than any other consideration, makes the meeting with Tillman, the first since the return of Brown from Australia, one that will be watched with interest by all of the followers of the Minnesota lightweight.

A Real Idea, This One.

PHYSICAL INSTRUCTOR OLSON of the Y. M. C. A. has a plan under consideration for the holding of a spring indoor field meet between all of the grade schools of the city, all of the high schools and all of the different athletic organizations.

One of the ideas in connection with the proposed tournament is to secure the Auditorium or the curling club rink for the place of holding the meet. It may be decided to invite some of the athletes of the range down to the doings and make a lovely party out of it.

A field meet of the general ample nature of the one proposed by Mr. Olson would be a fine and bracing thing for athletics in general and would have a simulating effect, just as the handball games that have been arranged between Duluth and St. Paul will prove a source of greatly renewed interest in the court pastime.

Stanislaus Is Coming.

STANISLAUS ZBYSZKO, who now claims the heavyweight championship of the world, and Jess Westergaard of Des Moines, Iowa, will, according to the announcement of Promoter Charles H. Willis, meet in a finish match at the big Auditorium on the evening of Friday, March 6.

According to the agreement that will be forwadred to Willis, the match will be a finish one, going to two falls, and this agreement will be inserted in the articles.

Zbyszko is today, with Gotch out of the game, the greatest of all of the heavyweights. The gigantic Pole, constructed along the general lines of rotund bear, is one of the freaks of the game. Possessing superhuman strength and acquiring an intimate acquaintance with all of the holds of the game, the older Zbyszko is the most fit man to defend the world's heavyweight championship if the great and only Frank Gotch is sincere in the reiterated statements.

In large and open-faced Jess the Zyb one will be meeting one of the greatest, if not the greatest of the American heavies, and a wrestler well qualified to give the gigantic and barrel-shaped Pole a titanic tussle.

A Fighting Freak, Eh?

WHILE sumptuously dining with newspaper men in one of those well appointed and palatial Los Angeles hotels, Snowy Baker told the members of the fourth estate that he has one of the most remarkable fighting men in the world in cold storage awaiting general action.

The ferocious one is Jerry Jerome, an Australian aboriginee, 45 years of age, fat-stomached and addicted to most of the vices of his race, and yet like the Fuzzy Wuzzy of Kipling's graphic pen, a first-class fighting man.

"He is matched to fight Eddie McGoorty," said the more or less original Snowy Baker, "and after the contest you are likely to see a new champion of the world.

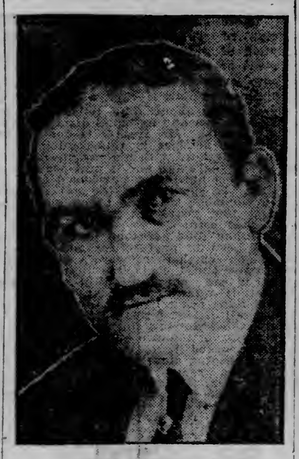

"Jerome fights like a gorilla. He laughs and grins all through a fight. The minute the battle ceases to amuse him, the aboriginee is liable to quit. He doesn't know what training is. Before one of his most important fights he was taken bodily from a tough road house. He doesn't train in the least, is fast—but he can fight If some had taught him the rudiments of the business—Ah? But it is too late now. And yet he may lick McGoorty."

IF THE wrestling-game continues to thrive at the car barns in the West end, the street car drivers of this throbbing city will one of these days be producing a star heavyweight. The coming mat show in the West end promises to create untold interest, as here are some real classy wrestlers being developed among the street car employes.

HIGH SPORT STANDARD SET BY CURLING CLUB

BY BRUCE.

With the season of the American Hockey association at an end in so far as the Duluth hockey team is concerned, let us take this opportunity of expressing an appreciation of the efforts of the Duluth Curling club officers and members, for it has been a splendid co-operative effort, to provide the best kind of sport for the people of Duluth.

For years the cry for an enclosed skating and hockey rink was reiterated with increasing emphasis. As mushrooms sprout forth by mysterious and sudden means, so the magnificent new home of the Curling club came into existence, without a great deal of long drawn out talk or wasted time.

Since the inception of the big league hockey here the officials of the club have spared neither time, effort nor expense in the desire to build up one of the strongest teams in the United States.

Handicapped from the fact that hockey in the larger sense had not been played here for years, it has been necessary to search far and wide for players. It has cost money and has required effort of a painstaking nature.

But Duluth has possessed one of the best teams in the league and one of the best teams in the West the present season. The windup of the league season, from the local standpoint, cannot but fail to be a source of gratification to those who have labored diligently and persistently to provide the very best hockey possible.

There are some of the best games of the season coming. The members of the team will keep right on training. But with the ending of the league season it is appropiate and timely to voice some slight appreciation of the efforts of a club that has been one of the large factors in Duluth winter sports, to give to the public some of the best hockey that is being played anywhere in the country.

FRANK BRYANT EXHIBITS SPEED

Frank Bryant of Duluth, holder of the Northwestern professional roller skating title, is back from a winning trip through the Michigan district.

Last Saturday night at Iron Mountain, Mich., he won from Weber in a one-mile race and then defeated several of the local men in a two-mile relay, Weber and Griggs skating against Bryant. Frank won by three-quarters of a lap.

Sunday evening Frank defeated George Bourden, Weber and Griggs in a three-mile relay race, finishing well ahead of his opponents.

At Norway, Mich., Bryant won a four-mile relay against Chambeay, Gilbert and Arnold, and at Ironwood, Mich., last Thursday evening, Bryant continued his winning streak by beating Stewart, Williams and Boulliet in a two-mile relay.

Bryant is training for the world's professional meet that will be held at Detroit, Mich.

Kelleys and Tigers.

The Irving Tigers and the Kelley Hardware hockey teams will meet tomorrow afternoon at the French rink. As both of the teams rank with the best in the city, a hard and fast game is looked for. Both of the teams are believed to be evenly matched.

DULUTH HOCKEY SEVEN DEFEATS AMERICAN SOO

Most Exciting Game of Season Won By Score of 5 to 4.

Final and Deciding Net Caged By Grenner Just Before Bell.

The windup of the league hockey season here set the high mark for general pyrotechnics and excitement and also provided Duluth with a win bordering on the hysterical order, the score being 5 to 4, with the deciding point coming just one minute and a half before the bell ended the contest.

Looking at the game from all angles, it was some game. Those who remained away missed the time of their sweet young or middle-aged lives. There was excitement and various and sundry doings from the first five minutes on, and the high pitch of excitement was sustained right up to the time the large bell rang forth its gladsome message of game ended.

In the first place Nick Kahler shot a hasty but well advised net in the first forty seconds of play. That was quite enough to start something. Loud and prolonged cheers dented the vaulted roof. The clamor, excitement and general fanfare of jangling noises was continued till the end of the game, for it was give and take all the way through, a sort of survival of the fittest.

Duluth Fights Uphill.

Bailey shot a beauty from the sidelines a few seconds after the timers had checked off three minutes of play. Bailey's net was a dandy. He took old Mister Rubber from the center of the ice, evaded the Duluth defense and shot the net from clear over against the board on a loft that sailed straight and true.

Five minutes later the bothersome Bailey came back and, taking a neat and swift pass from the ubiquitous Murray slightly to one side of the net, shot the puck by Belleck.

Things looked rather bad. But this fact neither discouraged the members of the Duluth team or the host of supporters. Bedlam gained new and vigorous members and rapidly increased in population.

Brother Hill of the opposition, one of the stars of the guests of the management, came down the sidelines, evaded an oncoming defense man, and shot a net from off to the side in twelve and one-half minutes.

To make matters worse, decidedly worse, in fact, Hill was eagerly hanging around the front of the cage when the puck rebounded from off the person of Belleck, and Mons. Hill slammed the puck in without perceptible hesitation.

Here the half was half over and the score was 4 to 1 in favor of the gang from Uncle Sam's side of the Soo district.

Helmer Grenner neatly banged the puck in from a hot scrimmage mixup in front of the net as the seventeenth minute of play was clicked off.

Two seething and excitement-bubbling minutes later Uncle Nick Kahler, who received great support during the course of the evening from the gentler sex, shot the puck by Tallion in a fierce and highly exciting scrimmage in front of the Soo goal. The cage of Kahler ended the scoring for the half.

Game Is Real Flossy.

If the game was interesting and contained some of the essence of pap-rika in the first period, you should have been an interested spectator of the closing period of play.

Our Russell Barkell and Murray became entangled over some technical point and dropped hockey sticks to be better prepared to argue over it. Fast skaters, making a dash like Phil Sheridan, only on more pacific intent, arrived from various corners of the rink, and further hostilities were averted.

For five minutes Messrs Barkell and Murray sat idly on the fence and watched the progress of the game.

In just three and one-half minutes after the call of time for the final excitement lap of the pyrotechnic go-as-you-please race, Russell Barkell and others became involved in a first-class scrimmage directly in front of the visitors' net. Russell impetuously pushed the puck through the struggling players and gave it a final bang that sent the rubber spinning into the net, despite the frantic motions that were being made by the tantalized Tallion.

From then on she was some game—some game, man!

The defense of the Soo boys was great, and this fact saved them from a bad beating. The rushes of the curling club players were turned back and driven to the side lines repeatedly. Body checking was resorted to by both sides—and in the meantime, with the score tied, the shrieks of the crowd made carrying on conversation with even a fair lady a matter of extreme inadvisability.

Capt. Joe Linder was playing one of the games of his battered life. Joe would carry the puck down the ice, lose it, and would then beat it back in front of an advancing play. Back and forth swung the rubber, but so effective was the defense that few clean shots were permitted at the net.

Barkell and Bogan were playing a grand defensive game, and Russell was also combining a grand exhibition of offensive work along with his effectiveness on defense.

Grenner was a power both on defense and offense and narrowly missed two long shots at goal.

With but a minute and a half remaining before the call of time, an offside play was called at the side of the Soo goal. Kahler and Michaels lined up for the face-off. Kahler shot the puck out and it went straight to Grenner, who quick as a swooping hawk banged the rubber straight into the net.

One resounding yell went up—but what's the use to try to describe it?

In the remaining time the visitors tried desperately to tie up the score, but the time was too short, and the defense of the home honor guards was too strong.

It was a great game, containing everything from strong combination play to individual work; from free and strenuous mingling to brilliant shooting.

At the request of the visitors but one official was on the ice. The Soo players did not desire a judge of play, and the brunt of calling penalties and running the game fell singly on the shoulders of Roy Deetz.

"EXAMS" KILL "U" ATHLETICS

Best of Gopher Athletes Fall in the Scholarship Tests.

"Flunking" of Team Men Puts 'Varsity Out of All Contests.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the worst scholastic slaughters in years has broken the backbone of practically every athletic organization at the university. The doleful results of the mid-year examinations, which have just been garnered, show that there are not enough athletes left in any particular branch of sports to furnish real competition for a high school. Although the eligibility committee has not dropped the guillotine officially on the necks of any players except in basket ball, the folowers and participants in sports have enough information to know that the faculty marks of delinquency have been branded on football, baseball, track, basket ball and gymnasium athletes.

Basket Ball Ruined.

The effect on the basket ball team is immediate and beyond recovery; the track team can be built up to some extent; there is hope for the football players, and baseball will fare best of all. All attempts to be represented in gymnastic meets this year will be abandoned.

The four best football men available for Dr. Williams next fall are now under the faculty cloud. They are Solon, Mattern, Tollefson and Ostrom. The first three were relied upon as fast backfield men and Ostrom has been a pillar on the line. In all four cases, however, the men may go to school this summer and remove the faculty conditions.

"We have not enough track men to think about," said Couch Leonard Frank Thursday. "We won't compete at all in the indoor meet to be held in Chicago next month because we have no really good men for the participation. We may get some of the men back in the fold before the outdoor mets in the spring and we can train others for the work. But things look pretty bad.

Watson Gets Ax.

Among the faculty victims in the track sports are Watson, the phenomenal two-mile man, who took first place in the cross-country intercollegiate race last fall, and Rapacz, another distance runner, who took fourth place in the same contest. Shaughnessy, the half and quarter-miler, is barred. John Martin, for the time being, cannot compete in the dashes, and though Ben Webster and Harry Stoner are trained in the high hurdles, they will not be able to mount the faculty bars.

Molumby, Lindeberg, Spink and Al. Robertson are the remnants of the track team, and these five men will represent the university at the spring intercollegiate outdoor meet.

"We haven't a gym team any more," said Dr. L. J. Cooke woefully Thursday, as he reviewed the list of fatalities. Capt. West, Joe Mattern and Hicks were our principal mainstays. West was the best all-around gymnast in the West. Madigan, our wrestler, is barred also, but we have some other wrestlers. We can't have any representatives at the gymnastic meet at Cslcago, March 28, though. we will send a couple of wrestlers."

Just as the Gophers had struck a winning streak in the basketball schedule and were bidding fair to finish strong in the race, the faculty typhoon swept across the campus, and it left Capt. Stadsvold, Shaughnessy, Hall and Baston in its wake. The basket ball team is in a hopeless condition, but will play the remainder of the schedule.

Baseball Also Is Hit.

Baseball was also hit by the examination fatalities, but with less force. Frank Hall, crack shortstop and hard hitter, quit when he got his reports and has registered at Macalister college. Stadsvold and Shaughnessy were both aspirants for infield positions and Baston is lost as a catcher. Capt. Lawler is all right as a student, but is bothered with a bad knee.

* * *

In the third series of tryouts at the university for Sigma Delta Psi, the honorary athletic fraternity, candidates were given a chance to qualify in two events, the high jump and the broad jump. A number of men had qualified in these events at previous trials, and the event was a stickler for most of the fifteen or sixteen men who were out yesterday. Only one man, Brusiotter, was able to make the jump necessary for senior membership. Three men jumped their way into junior membership, but fell short of the senior distance. In the high jump, only one man made senior, although in this event six men got into the junior class. In spite of the fact that a number of trials in all events have been staged, no Gopher has made full membership in either the junior or senior events, but Dr. Cooke and Prof. Zolner, who are handling the trials, expect two or three men at least to qualify this spring. The next trials will be staged Feb. 28.

Plans are rapidly being completed for the inter-class and inter-college basket ball tournament, in which every college in the university is expected to enter its various teams. The tournament is to begin in a few days, the exact date not yet having been decided upon. Several of the colleges are already gathering all their available men to participate in the tournament, and every class in every college has been urged by the committee to select and enter their teams early.

The rifle team of the university shot Wednesday in their match with Harvard, scoring 940 points out of a possible 1,000. As the results are received through the central office of the National association, the victor in Wednesday's contest is not yet known. Minnesota is now in third place in Class "A" of the National Inter-collegiate league, having won four out of five shoots.

Absence of Murphy From National Meeting Perplexing.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 21.—The news that President Murphy of the Chicago Nationals would not be able to attend today's meeting of the National league proved quite an upset to August Herrmann.

"I don't know just what we can do or what we shall do," he said. "Of course, it is neither right nor legal to touch on any affairs of Mr. Murphy in his absence and since Governor Tener has not yet arrived, the situation is perplexing.

"Still, I have great confidence in Tener. I firmly believe he has found a solution of all existing problems without prejudice or injustice to anybody and that today he will present a decision which will be acceptable to all of us, even to Mr. Murphy, should that gentleman be able to attend. If Tener has not yet reached a decision, however, I am unable to say what can be done."

Do You Want to Become a Camel?

Then you must get a lump on you as the Charter closes on March 15; after that date it costs $30 to join the order in Duluth. Call on or write to the National Organizer, W. R. Hampden, 610 Alworth Bldg. He will furnish you with a blank application; all it out and join with them. If you are sure that you can bear the Camel investigation into your character, etc.

HANDBALL STARS OF DULUTH WILL MEET ST. PAUL MEN.

A communication received yesterday from St. Paul stated that the contentions of the handball committee of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. have been granted and that the Duluth players will be allowed to use the handballs they have been accustomed to playing with on the local courts. The St. Paul players in turn will be allowed to use any make of handball when they play on the Duluth courts.

The St. Paul Y. M. C. A. committee further requested that Duluth send down the three best men in the singles and the six best men in the doubles. As the games will be decided in the best two in three, it is hardly likely that any of the men entered in the doubles will compete in the singles as well.

The games will be played on a Saturday to be chosen by Duluth and will be for the state handball championship.

FORMER STAR TALKS OF FEDERAL LEAGUE

Sullivan, Once White Sox Manager, Says New League Will Be Recognized By Organized Baseball—Beneficial in Some Ways.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—William J. Sullivan, once manager and famous for years as a catcher on the Chicago White Sox, passed through Fargo last night en route to Oregon to look after his farm. In an interview here he said:

"Sentiment in Chicago is not so bitter against Murphy of the Cubs because he let out Manager Evers, but because of the manner in which he did it—leaving Evers working since the season closed to build up the team, then firing him on the eve of starting for the Southern training trip. While West side fans are sore at Murphy, I don't believe they will hold a grievance against Hank O'Day, the new manager, who is, personally, one of the finest men in the game.

"The Federal league seems to be a certainty. They are drawing some good men from older leagues and will seriously weaken some teams. In Chicago the new league will hurt the Cubs more than any one else. In some towns, I believe, the Federals will have a beneficial effect in reviving interest, especially in St. Louis.

"It won't be a long period before the Federals are recognized by organized ball, just as the American league was a decade ago."

PUGILISTIC METEOR ABOUT BURNED OUT.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 21.—"Red" Watson of Los Angeles was given a decision last night over "Bud" Anderson of Oregon after the fifth round of a scheduled twenty-round match. The men are welterweights. The referee stopped the fight, saying Anderson was not fit to continue.

O'BRIEN SECURES CRACK PITCHER

James Murray Signs His Name to a White Sox Contract.

James Murray, a pitcher who was with the crack Logan Squares of Chicago and is ranked as a star, was yesterday signed up for the coming season by Manager Darby O'Brien.

In discussing the signing of Murray, the Irish Orator stated that he had been after the services of the Chicago man for some time, and had encountered some difficulty in preventing several other league teams from grabbing him off.

O'Brien is somewhat elated over securing the signed contract of the Windy City player. He believes that the acquisition of Murray will make his staff one of the strongest in the league, and will make his team hard to beat.

KAVANAUGH LOSES OUT.

Peculiar Case Decided By National Baseball Commission.

Green Bay, Wis., Feb. 21.—The national commission notified the Green Bay baseball club of the Wisconsin-Illinois league today that it has dismissed the complaint of Charles "Silk" Kavanaugh, the player who petitioned for 25 per cent of $2,500, the price which the local club received from Charles A. Comiskey for the release of the player's services in June last year.

The decision cites as a reason for not granting the player's claim that "by reason of his failure to enter the service of the Green Bay club in accordance with his covenant, he forfeited all claims under his contract to consideration of a financial or any other nature."

Kavanaugh's case was peculiar in that it involved the Chicago American league club, the Chicago Federal league club and the Green Bay club. Kavanaugh was the leading batter in the Federal league. He was signed by the Green Bay club but never played here, and the Green Bay club never was put to any expense for his services and has the permission of the commission to retain the purchase price. Kavanaugh is with the Sox on their way to the training camp at Paso Robles.

BEATS RELAY WALKERS.

New Record Made By Pedestrian at Hartford.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 21.—Sam Schwartz of the Irish-American Athletic club made what was said to be a new indoor record for the two-mile walk against two relay walkers. He defeated his opponents, his time being 15 minutes, 22 2-5 seconds. The former record of 15 minutes, 47 2-5 seconds was made in 1882 by W. H. Meek.

Jack Eller of the Irish-American A. C. defeated "Mel" Shepard of the same club in the 300-yard dash; time, 36 seconds.

Semi-Finals Reached In National Racquet Championship.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 21.—Play yesterday in the national racquet championship at the Tennis and Racquet club brought the tournament down to the semi-finals with H. F. McCormick, Chicago, Dwight F. Davis, St. Louis, Lawrence Waterbury, New York, and C. G. Osborne, Chicago, as survivors.

The best match of the day was that between Scott and Osborne, the latter winning out through his brilliant service and better condition.

JOHNNY SOLSBERG.

Johnny Solsberg is a most promising bantamweight fighter and is one of the candidates for Johnny Coulon's championship title. He is a genuine bantam as he can scale 112 pounds without trouble and that is below the regular bantam weight. He is under the management of Tommy (Sport) Sullivan, who has been after Coulon to make a match for the title for some time. Solsberg formerly lived in Brooklyn but is now a resident of St. Louis.

AMATEUR BALL CLUBS FORM BIG ASSOCIATION.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The National Amateur Baseball association was organized here yesterday by representatives of fourteen leagues in various cities with a membership of 200 clubs.

The organization will bring city leagues under one governing body similar to that in professional baseball.

Two more cities will be admitted soon and the association will be divided into four sections of four cities, each section to be governed by a vice president to be chosen by the cities in that section. The winners in each league will play for the sectional championships and the surviving teams will play for leadership of the association. The following cities hold charter memberships in the association:

Omaha, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Kansas City, St. Louis, Columbus, Washington, Joliet, St. Paul, Louisville, Baltimore and Chicago.

Jesse S. Smith, president of the Chicago Amateur Baseball league, presided yesterday, and C. E. Seaton, also of this city, acted as temporary chairman. Officers for the first year will be chosen and a constitution and by-laws will be adopted today.

HITCH IN DEAL WITH JAKE STAHL.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Brooklyn club of the Federal league has failed in its effort to get Jake Stahl, the former Red Sox leader, as manager. President Robert B. Ward left Chicago last night for Brooklyn, after a final telephone conversation with Stahl, in which neither Ward nor the manager made concessions which would remove the differences in the terms proposed.

It is said Stahl's terms still are being considered by the Brooklyn owner and that a deal yet may be arranged.

Otis Crandall, pitcher, and Chick Hartley, catcher, have signed with the St. Louis Federals. With Crandall, Willet, Groom and himself, Manager Brown figures he has a capable staff for his Mount City team.

Four Records Made.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 21.—One world's record and three Pacific coast records were broken here yesterday at the annual indoor championship track and field meet of the Olympic club. Pat Donovan, Pastime club, holder of both the indoor and outdoor world's records for 56-pound weight for height, established a new mark of 16 feet, 11¼ inches. His previous outdoor record was 16 feet, 9¼ inches.

TILLMAN DEVELOPED FROM SICKLY YOUTH TO BOXER

The Next Opponent of Pal Brown Started Exercising With the Desire to Build Up a Weak and Puny Physique.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 21.—Three years ago this winter a puny lad bought a membership in the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

He was thought to be in ill-health and the family physician prescribed exercise.

The boy is Johnny Tillman, the Minneapolis lightweight fighter who bids fair to become a topnotcher in the 133-pound class.

Boxes With Catherwood.

Along with regular gymnastic work, Tillman took lessons from "Herb" Catherwood, boxing instructor at the Y. M. C. A. Tillman had nothing but nerve to recommend him as a boxer, but it was his pluck and ambition that caused Catherwood to pay special attention to the youngster.

Tillman displayed such aptitude with the gloves that Catherwood took him under his wing and decided to show him a lot of the inside stuff practiced by professionals.

By boxing and indulging in other forms of exercise used by professional pugilists, Tillman has built himself up from a weakling weighing less than 100 pounds, into a muscular athlete who now tips the beam at 133 pounds when trained down to the pink of condition.

Tillman is now matched to fight Pal Brown of Hibbing, Minn., for the lightweight championship of Minnesota. Brown is regarded as a contender for the lightweight title, and if Tillman can beat him, or hold him to a draw, he will be in line for some important ring engagements. The Brown-Tillman contest will take place at Superior March 3.

Good to Widowed Mother.

Tillman is a gentlemanly little fellow and a clean living athlete. He resides with his widowed mother and sister at 637 Ontario street southeast.

Mrs. Hillman does not look with favor upon her son following up the pugilistic profession. "I don't think prize fighting is one business, but Johnny tells me he is a boxer, not a prize fighter," says Mrs. Tillman. "I don't know what the difference is, but Johnny is such a good son that I have never argued the point with him.

"I do know that Johnny indulges in no form of dissipation, goes to church every Sunday and is a loving and dutiful son. He gives me all the money he earns boxing and I put it in the bank for him.

"He tells me he is going to be the champion some day and make a fortune. Then, he says, we will enjoy many things that we cannot afford at the present time."

Tillman's Ring Record Follows:

1912

May 4—Harry Brown, knockout, Minneapolis, 3 rounds.

May 22—Leo Stein, knockout, Minneapolis, 2 rounds.

June 10—Kid Murphy, knockout, Minneapolis, 4 rounds.

Jan. 23—Len Rowlands, no decision, Milwaukee, 10 rounds.

MAGNATE WEEGHMAN IS ONE REAL FINE HUSTLER

Owner of the Chicago Federal League Club Is Worth Large Fortune Which He Made All By His Little Self---He Looks Like a Live Asset.

One man connected with the Federal league who has impressed everybody for his integrity, industry and fighting qualities is Charley Weeghman, who owns the Chicago franchise in the circuit which is now worrying the two major leagues.

Today Charles H. Weeghman has an income of $100,000 a year, or, to use his own words, "my investments are worth 10 per cent on $1,000,000."

He is the owner of ten restaurants, one theater, a billiard hall, president of a coal company, president of the Chicago Federal baseball club, and a highly esteemed resident among Chicago's elite on Sheridan road. With the assistance of two large automobiles and a chauffeur he manages to get back and forth between his palatial residence and his several offices.

Hard work, good judgment, common sense and a bunch of cast iron nerve have been the factors in turning $5 into a million, for if Weeghman was to sell out his holdings today he would gather in over a million sheckles.

His success reads like a fairy tale, yet it is simple. His rise has not been meteoric, but it can be classed in the mushroom variety. Today at the age of 38 years, Weeghman with his struggles behind him, smiles on the world. Where thousands have battled and lost Charley Weeghman has won. He has made very dollar in a legitimate way and his success isn't tainted with fly-by-night stock gambling.

Snappy Young Fellow.

Weeghman looks like a snappy young fellow just about to start in life. Today in the offices of the Federal league Weeghman permitted himself to be cornered in an office and tell about himself. He would have preferred to talk about anything else, for one of his characteristics is modesty.

"The yarn is going to be about Charley Weeghman," we told him, "so please grow reminiscent and tell us how you did it."

"My life's an open book," he replied, with a smile, "so I guess it won't look bad in print."

Tipping back his black fedora hat and tilting his chair back against the office wall, Weeghman closed his eyes and, it must have been with great satisfaction, opened up to the first real chapter of his life.

"I came back here in '93 to see the World's fair. I liked the excitement and the bright lights so well I decided Chicago was the place for men. It certainly looked big to me then.

"I was all het up about the sights when I got home, and told the folks that it was me for the Windy City. They didn't offer strenuous objections, for there were six children and dad was only a blacksmith. I suppose they appreciated the fact that I was 18 years old and had to start somewhere; or maybe"—here Weeghman smiled—"maybe they thought I'd be back home on the next train. I left the old burg and landed in Chicago. I remember I had a $5 gold piece, and also remember it looked as big as a house."

Job in Restaurant.

Now that our hero has started we'll take up the story. Weeghman grabbed off a job in King's restaurant, in Fifth avenue. He was called assistant manager, and every Saturday for being allowed to hold that title was paid $8. He certainly must have liked the title, or else living was much cheaper twenty years ago, for he stayed with the boss for six years.

Then he became manager of a baking powder concern. That sounded like a real job, so we didn't ask him what the salary was. The baking powder game interested him for two years—just long enough to accumulate enough money to get into business.

He then opened his first restaurant at Adams street and Fifth avenue. With careful nursing and eighteen hours' hard labor every day the restaurant proved a huge success. Instead of stacking his profits into government bonds or other securities, Weeghman showed his nerve by opening another restaurant at 218 Wabash avenue.

From there on, as he tells it, it was easy sailing. After the second restaurant he opened others in quick succession. His nerve and his remarkable ability to pick the right location in every case brought him home the bacon. He never had a failure.

"I never yet picked a dead one," said Weeghman, "and I've always asked myself for advice instead of other persons."

Like the proverbial octopus, Weeghman spread out. At one time he had eighteen restaurants in the heart of Chicago. Now he has ten, eight having been closed on account of the expiration of leases.

Some persons make money in one game and fail in another. Charley Weeghman didn't. He opened what he calls the finest billiard hall in America. It was a success. To use a billiard expression, he played the string out, and, reaching out, like the octopus, he brought to himself the Casino theater, the presidency of a coal company, and now his latest venture is playing the dollar sign to the Chicago Federal league baseball club. Just a sample of his nerve. Friends say he stands to lose $250,000 if the league is a failure.

"I never discuss the possibilities of a failure," Charley said. "Whatever the outcome of my baseball venture, it will never be the making or breaking of me."

While we talked a messenger handed him a telegram. It was addressed to the president of the Chicago Federal league baseball club. Charley opened it and then laughed. Then his face assumed a studious expression.

Good chance to look him over, we thought. We did, with this result:

Weeghman looks like the dapper sort of a fellow you'd see in a billiard hall. He's a clean-cut man, as lively as a cricket. He's not tall, but medium, and he's slim. His hair and features are dark. His eyes and mouth are the most noticeable features. His eyes are blue and of the gleamy variety. His eyelids are heavy and the upper ones hang over the ball of the eye. His mouth is firm. With deep furrowed lines in his cheeks, extending from the sides of his nose downward, he has a stern expression. When he talks his voice is well modulated and good to hear.

Today Charley wore an English suit of dark green. Holding a split collar together was a rakish bow tie. He had on black kid button shoes and a black soft hat. The very essence of pep emulated from his make-up.

YOUNG WRESTLER OF PARK RAPIDS WHO IS REGARDED AS A FUTURE CHAMPION

KELLEYS AND THE UNIVERSALS WINNERS.

In two very well played basket ball games that were held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the Duluth Universal team defeated the Lake Hardware quint by the score of 31 to 18, while the Kelleys defeated the Big Duluths by the score of 41 to 13.

While the scores were not close in either of the games, there was some very fast playing.

HANNAH HOCKEY TEAM BEATS GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Forks local hockey team was defeated by the Hannah team, 4 to 2, in one of the fiercest ice games seen here this season. The experienced Hannah men, huskier than the Grand Forks aggregation, outplayed the locals during the early part of the contest, while Grand Forks came back good in the last period of play.

Princeton Defeats Columbia.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 21.—The Princeton swimming team defeated Columbia here last night, 38 to 15. Princeton also won the water polo contest, 39 to 3. Capt. Cross of Princeton lowered the intercollegiate record for the 220-yard swim held by himself by 5 3-5 seconds, swimming the distance in 2:31 flat.

Hockey at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Hockey last night: Cleveland Athletic club, 3; Ottawa Hockey club, 1.

Basket Ball.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—Basket ball last night: Wisconsin, 32; Illinois, 16.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 21.—Basket ball last night: Purdue, 15; Chicago, 18.

GETTING RID OF PRAIRIE DOG PEST.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Four hundred thousand prairie dogs in the Cochetopa and Dike national forests, in Colorado, and the Tusayan and Coconino forests in Arizona, have been killed by the department of agriculture since its campaign of destruction was declared on the rodents.

In a statement issued yesterday, the department says that this work was done at a cost of about $12,000, which is a mere trifle when compared with the value of the forage upon which the dogs lived. It is estimated that the forage which the rodents devoured would have been sufficient for about 15,500 sheep or about 1,800 head of cattle, valued at $150,000.

Carbon bisulphide and strychnine, mixed with heavy oats, is the department's means of getting rid of the dogs. In the Cochetopa forest alone last year the survey used 35,000 pounds of oats, 4,000 pounds of carbon bisulphide and about 1,800 ounces of strychnine.

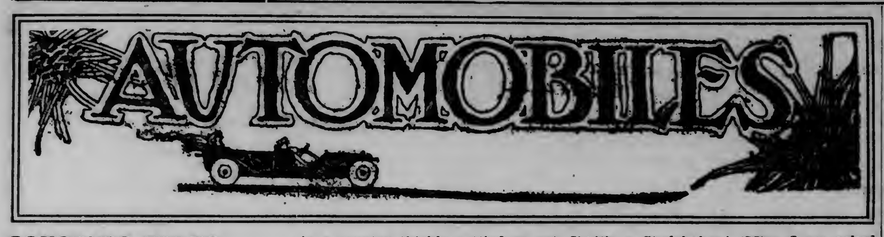

The hides of the prairie dogs are practically worthless in this country, according to the department. American and English furriers secure better skins from Siberia for 5 cents apiece; and glovemakers say that the skins are too small to be worked up economically. As a result, the department says, no market for the skins has been found.

JUDGE GIVES BREAD THIEVES FOUR BITS.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Two men who stole a loaf of bread each from bakers' wagons were freed and each given 50 cents by Judge E. R. Robertson in the police court here. "It's a wonder you men wouldn't steal a railroad or something worth while," said the judge. "Go get a square meal apiece and then look for work."

Admits Burning Hotel.

Pontiac, Ill., Feb. 21.—Charles Blevins of Fairbury pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of firing the Illinois hotel at Fairbury on the night of Nov. 29. He was immediately sentenced to the penitentiary for an indefinite term, the duration of which will be fixed by the pardon board.

CONGRESS TALKS ON ROAD MAKING

Two Courses Open to States Which Would Secure Appropriations.

Congress has the roads question under thorough discussion. From the committee on roads of the house of representatives there emerged a measure in which was embodied a consensus of opinion of the committee as a whole. The bill was passed with considerable expedition by the house, for it had been drafted quite skillfully in order to obtain a great amount of support from the thickly populated states. Two courses of action are left to the states in availing themselves of roads appropriations from the central source. A state can employ its quota of the $25,000,000, the distribution of which is based upon population and rural free delivery routes, in the construction and maintenance of whatever roads may be determined upon by its highway department in cooperation with the secretary of agriculture. The national government would bear one-half of the cost, but no construction shall commence "until the portion of the cost thereof which is to be provided otherwise than by the United States has been made available." The other plan which a state may adopt is the original Shackleford roads-rental plan for free rural delivery routes, with the highways divided into classes A, B and C—$60, $30 and $15 a year a mile.

While the measure commanded much discussion in the house, it is a certainty that it will receive even greater attention in the senate, which has a tendency to pass upon all measures of a substantial expenditures character more carefully than is usually the case in the popular branch of the government. The opposing sides in the discussion, generally speaking, split on the proposition of small amounts widely distributed over a big mileage, or a concentration of money on the most used roads. Congressman W. P. Borland of Missouri contended for the concentration plan, which he summed up in the following language:

"The experience of every nation should teach us that the building of highways is a scientific proposition, that more than 80 per cent of the traffic of roads goes over less than 15 per cent of the roads, and will do so under any circumstances, whether the roads are improved or unimproved, in a country thickly settled or not. It necessarily tends that way, and we must have a scientific classification of roads in accordance with the traffic they bear. Nearly every progressive state in this country has come or is coming to a state system of highways. This means that the state selects certain trunk lines. Solid business men in every state have reached the idea of selecting a state highway commission to classify roads as to the character in which they should be improved and maintained, and not to improve any road at all until ample power is given for the maintenance of those roads in their respective classes."

In a recent address Governor O'Neal of Alabama, a state wherein roads progress is just getting under way, supported the Borland contention in these words: "In any permanent system of highway construction the experience of the most successful states admonishes us that we must by state aid construct roads that start somewhere and end somewhere. I believe when these main or trunk lines are undertaken and completed the lateral branches will immediately follow."

Since the A. A. A. national good roads board, through the holding of two Federal aid conventions in Washington, and in other ways, has been an important factor in accelerating national government participation in highways progress, its members generally are greatly concerned in the subject, which is of supreme interest throughout the country.

ORIGINS OF SLOGANS.

Pithy Phrases Often Result of Accident, Says Benson.

"Readers of advertising the world over are thoroughly familiar with many of the short, pithy phrases which one comes to associate with various commodities," said E. R. Benson, vice president of the Studebaker company. "Most of us can name off-hand at least a dozen of the best known. As a rule they are something more than well-worded sentiments in praise of goods. Sometimes one of them is almost photographic in its production of the moving sentiment of an entire manufacturing and sales organization. This convincing sort of slogan is, in fact, the one that the reader bears longest in mind.

"As often as not, these slogans are the result of accident. Some dealer or some customer, by one of those happy turns of speech, voices his belief in a product. The wise salesman hears of it, recognizes its value, and the phrase becomes known all over the world.

"For some time, our advertising has featured the phrase. 'Buy it because it's a Studebaker.' Often I am asked where this sentiment was first phrased in its adopted form. And always I am forced to admit that we don't know. One of our dealers insists that it was first heard in his salesroom from the lips of a Studebaker owner who had escorted a friend to his store and was helping the salesman in his proof of Studebaker superiority. There is a traveling representative on our staff who insists that he brought such an incident back to the factory from one of his trips, and told it to a number of friends. At the South Bend Studebaker headquarters there are veterans who insist that 'Buy it because it's a Studebaker' dates back, in its first application, beyond the days when automobiles were known as horseless carriages.

"Whatever its origin, we all know that, since we have been using the phrase in our advertising, it has become a focus of Studebaker sentiment to which very member of our organization looks often, consciously or unconsciously, for guidance in his day's work."

FORD MEN FORM WELFARE SOCIETY

Men at Top Will Rub Elbows With Those at Bottom.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 21.—In line with the modern and progressive policy which characterizes its management, the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., through several of its enthusiastic executives, has organized a unique welfare and educational society called the Universal club, the scope ond purpose of which make it of considerable significance, from a sociological industrial standpoint.

The first meeting, held recently in the plant at Ford, was for the purpose of organization. W. R. Campbell, assistant manager, in the opening address explained the objects of the society. One of the principal ones is to promote the spirit of good fellowship among the members of the organization. In a large institution like the Ford plant there are many men in the shops who do not know the men in the offices, and vice versa. A social organization in which all rub elbows on the same plane of good fellowship binds the organization in one common bond and cannot fail to promote the esprit de corps of the company. Unity of effort is aimed at and the promotion of healthy enthusiasm. The one point, in fact, is co-operation, as without this a great industrial body cannot work as one unit.

Entertainment and education are also purposes of this club. There will be banquets and diversions of various kinds. The first banquet was held on Feb. 9, and will probably be followed shortly by an entertainment, giving the members a chance to display their musical and histrionic talents.

There will be instructive talks by the department heads covering processes of manufacture and presented in an informal, conversational manner. Outsiders will also be asked to speak from time to time on topics of general interest.

CAN BE IMPROVED.

Possibilities for Better Traveling Conditions Are Unlimited.

"Few stop to realize the possibilities of pleasurable travel. Railroad trains, even Pullmans, are noisy and dirty. Boats are slow and restricted. Automobiles, as usually understood, are uncomfortable, tiring to operate and to ride in. Cost and tire trouble cause nearly everyone to travel by other means," says H. H. Franklin, president of the Franklin Automobile company.

"But would there be a better or more pleasurable means of travel than by automobile if the automobile were comfortable and easy to operate; if the cost were low and troubles negligible; if tire troubles were rare, tires simply wearing out like rails or roads?

"All this is possible. The progress in automobile construction has been such that comfort can be obtained so that one can drive long distances, even 350 miles a day, and day after day. Operation can be so simple and easy that driving is safe and not tiresome. Reliability, even in tires, can be obtained by sound engineering design. Tires have an elastic limit beyond which it is not safe to work them. Cars can be so designed that tires are not stressed beyond this elastic limit and thus they will give the same factor of reliability as other parts of the car.

"Such a car must not be a feature car as cars go today. It must be built for a greater purpose, to make travel a pleasure and a success. This greater purpose, worked on for years, has produced a car distinctly different. Featureless, in that no one point of the car stands out prominent, it is notable in the result accomplished—a safe, sane, pleasurable means of travel.

"An economical car is a greater necessity today than ever before. Economy, meaning the lowest possible cost during the use of the car, takes into account the purchase price, the cost of tires, cost of depreciation in the chassis, in the engine and in the body, and cost for operation. Light weight is the big factor in economy.

"The details of construction which enter into car construction should provide for the use of the car under all road and climatic conditions. Riding comfort must be carefully considered. Rigidity must be avoided everywhere. Vibrations, jolts and jounces, even over rough roads, must be eliminated. Easy control means safety. Light weight makes a car easy to operate and easy to steer. This is obvious because the less a car weighs the easier it controls.

"An automobile cannot be too good. The question is to get one that is good, the purchase price and operation cost of which are reasonable. A car designed for safety, strength and durability is the car that will give the most satisfaction the greatest number of days in the year at the lowest cost."

YEAR FOR "SIXES."

Exceptional Increase in Trade a Feature at Auto Show.

A striking feature of the automobile shows of the year, and upon which many visitors commented, is the remarkably large number of 6-cylinder cars. A careful count of the exhibitors at Chicago shows fifty-seven represented. Of these no less than forty-nine makers are producing sixes. In cars at $1,500 and up the sixes again lead, the figures being sixty-five 6-cylinder models and only thirty-seven 4-cylinder models. Twelve of the sixes come at prices below $2,000. Five sixes are to be had at prices less than $1,800. And these low-priced, lightweight sixes are among the biggest sellers of any cars on the market.

The swing to sixes is unmistakable. And among the sixes the lightweight cars at prices below $2,000 attract interest. In 1905 there were 196 exhibitors at the automobile show of that year. Of these sixty-eight makers showed 1-cylinder and 2-cylinder cars. Those sixty-eight makers argued that the "fours" were merely a fad; that they were too complicated; too costly; that they would never last. And that weight, cost, fuel consumption and repair bills would drive owners back to the 2-cylinder cars. Two years later the 1-cylinder and 2-cylinder models had dropped out of sight, and have not been heard from since.

Of the forty-nine makers producing sixes only nine built sixes in 1910 a short four years ago. In that year every maker but two built fours and sixes. Today eighteen leading makers build sixes only. There is, therefore, nothing in the slightest degree ephemeral or experimental about the 6-cylinder car. Its rise to favor has indeed been rather slow. Designers encountered many difficulties in its production.

First sixes were heavy, costly, expensive to maintain. But automobile engineers learned finally the secret of the six. And today the six is very different to what it was a few years ago. Now it is lighter, economical to build and economical to run.

It is to this engineering achievement that must be credited the remarkable wave of popularity that has swept the six—and particularly the lightweight

Eight Reasons Why the Chalmers Master "Six" Was the Sensation of 1914 Auto Shows

Non-stallable motor.

T-head, six-cylinder motor.

Cork insert Chalmers clutch, giving, in combination with the six-cylinder motor, a car of wonderful flexibility.

Underslung springs, giving a car which clings well to any pavement.

Four forward speed transmission.

Equal distribution of weight, which prevents skidding.

Quick pick-up, enabling the Master "Six" to get away quickly in every emergency.

And in addition, simplicity and efficiency of design, roominess, wide doors and unusual convenience of control.

Compare these points with any other six-cylinder car under $2500—look up the strength and reputation of the manufacturer. You will not be satisfied with any car but the Chalmers.

A Complete Car Every 3 Minutes

EVERY time the clock ticks off three minutes we complete an Overland car. That's 20 cars an hour—nearly 200 cars a day!

Scores of well-known factories right now are not shipping over 2 cars a day. Our shipments—200 a day!

Each day our entire daily production is shipped—not to branches to be stored away—but to our 3000 dealers in all parts of the world who, up to the present time, have not been able to get sufficient cars to fill the ever increasing and insistent demand.

During the last quarter, ending December 31st, we produced and delivered over 12,000 Overlands.

This established a new record.

In other words, we shipped more cars during the last quarter than during any other previous quarter since we have been in the automobile business.

Now note this—the quarter ending December 31st is the poorest and dullest quarter in the year. Yet despite this, and directly in the face of the slow season we broke every preceding sales record of, not only this quarter, but of any previous quarter during our existence.

The world at large seldom makes a mistake. If, year in and year out, public demand for Overlands increases by leaps and bounds, way beyond our annual capacity (now 50,000 cars) its indicative of how this car stands in the estimation of the buying and ever critical public.

Are you in the market for a car?

Have you examined the Overland value?

By examined, we don't mean a hasty meaningless demonstration nor a superfluous talk about dry technicalities. By examination we mean a strict comparison of every essential basic fact, such as the power of the motor, the size of the tires, the length of the wheelbase, the fineness of the equipment, the roominess and comfort of the tonneau, the completeness of the car—the finish—the appointments—the economy on gas and tires.

Make this kind of an examination and comparison with any $1200 car made and you'll find that in the $950 Overland you get practically everything any $1200 car can offer.

We do the largest business because we have always given more car for less money. Thus we have grown to be the world's largest producer of this type of car.

Follow the suggestion as outlined above and you'll not only save yourself considerable money, but what is more, you'll get a superior car in the bargain.

NOVEL TIRE LAW.

Pierce County, Wash., Regulates Widths and Weights.

Tire widths and weights have been found to have a great deal to do with the wear on roads, and for this reason Pierce county, Washington, has a novel tire law in effect, in fact, it is the only one of its kind in the country. The law puts a required weight with every width and provides also for a maximum penalty for the third violation of $250 fine or three months imprisonment.

The widths of tires and the respective weights as fixed by the law, follow:

Size of Tire in Inches.	Load on Each Axle.	Maximum Total Load
1	800	1,600
1¼	900	1,800
1½	1,000	2,000

FOUR CARLOADS OF FORD CARS RECEIVED.

Last Saturday the Mutual Auto company received four carloads of Ford motor cars. There were fifteen cars in this shipment. These cars were placed in front of the Mutual garage and numbered as they arrived. Each car bore a large number and it was interesting to see the line of cars grow. The cars have all been sold. E. J. Filiatrault said yesterday that he had more than 100 orders for Ford cars for spring delivery and that the people seem to realize this year that a Ford car is in demand, and that early ordering is necessary.

FAVORS THE "SIX."

Autoist Makes His Choice After Driving Fifty Cars.

D. S. Carrol, who is the general purchasing agent for the Chicago Northwestern Railway company, has owned twenty-two different automobiles. He started fifteen years ago with one of the first one-lungers. He has owned all the high priced sixes in the country, as well as some of the most popular of the medium priced four-cylinder cars.

Automobiles are Mr. Carrol's hobby and he has bought nearly every make of car that he found worthy of his consideration. Here is an interview with Mr. Carrol at the recent Chicago show:

"I am now driving the twenty-second car I have owned. I have run the gamut through twin cylinders, fours, and sixes. After driving fours for several seasons I went to the six. Then I bought a lighter car, one of the most popular of the present day fours, then I returned to the six. In my opinion, there is no room for argument. The four will do all that one should expect of a four, but there is no doubt that there is no comparison between the comparative flexibility, smoothness, and mechanical luxury of the two types. This can be readily ascertained by driving a six for 100 miles, yes, even for twenty. With my earlier cars I had no more than the usual amount of trouble, but with no other type at any price did I even approach my last year's record with a Chalmers six, which I drove 6,400 miles without changing a spark plug or touching a single nut. I have recently purchased a 1914 Model 24 Chalmers six, and I now have the only car that can satisfy me. It took twenty-two cars to do it, but they have taught me there is no room for argument between a six and a four."

BIG SUM FOR GOOD ROADS

State Will Spend About $5,000,000 During the Present Year.

Ten thousand miles of permanent state road, built to withstand automobile traffic and which will connect all the county seats and market centers of Minnesota, is the plan of the Minnesota Highway commission, which is now conferring with county commissioners to select roads for construction this year by state aid.

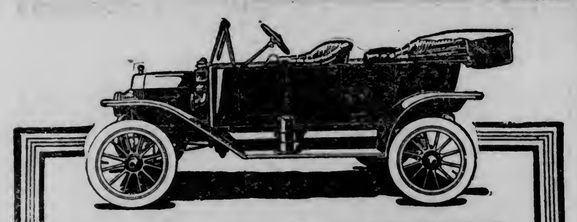

For the good roads work the state has $1,500,000 to be distributed to the counties, while the funds raised by the counties and townships in addition, it is believed by local autoists, will make a total of $5,000,000 for Minnesota roads. The commission is now planning to secure the service of an engineer, who will advise the road builders and attempt to oversee every mile of road built.

According to a recent estimate of the secretary of state, Minnesota will this year have about 60,000 automobiles. It is the belief of local auto owners that the time will soon come when most of the hauling in the state will be done by automobile, according to the growth of this traffic the last few years and for this reason, it is expected a large number of farmers will welcome the plans of the state commission.

Of special interest to Duluthians is the main road, which is to be built from the Twin Cities to Duluth. This is to be made the best road of the state and is to be the trunk line. For this road alone the state has set aside $60,000 this year and it is planned to complete the work from Minneapolis to Mille Lacs during the summer.

Truck Sales Brisk.

M. W. Turner of 218 East First street reports a brisk sale of large delivery trucks this spring. He is of the opinion that local business houses are favoring the auto truck more and more each year and that the new system of delivery by far exceeds the service given by horse delivery. Besides selling Avery and Little Giant trucks, Mr. Turner is also local agent for the Haines runabout.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

"The world has seen some remarkable demonstrations of the development of the motor car industry in the last few years, but New York city provides the most striking illustration of how the self-propelled vehicle has come into favor," said John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland company of Toledo, Ohio. "The report of the comptroller of the city of New York, recently made, shows that it costs $387,500 each year for the operation and maintenance of municipally-owned automobiles. This is an especially interesting statement, when one considers that each of the several score of cars in use has replaced from three to five horses, for it gives one an idea of what the city was spending for maintaining its equine equipment, heretofore.

"So important have city-owned automobiles become to the metropolis, that there is now a move under way to have a central municipal garage erected, where the automobiles may be taken care of efficiently and economically. The statement is made that at present the city is paying too much for care of its cars, as service is purchased from various private concerns throughout the several boroughs. Nearly every department of the city government has its quota of automobiles, from the twenty-six in use by the fire department to the one operated by the department of correction."

"Of the many exclusive refinements in this year's KisselKar," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., of the Interstate Auto company, "there is not one that so delights the fair sex as the illuminated running boards. The full length of both boards, as you see, are thoroughly lighted at night by means of a powerful bullseye in the rear of each side lamp. No matter how dark the night may be, this contrivance allows milady to see exactly where she is stepping when she enters or leaves the car. It saves many an accident and many an expensive gown. You will notice, too, that this bullseye idea is carried to the tail lamp as well, the idea in this case being to illuminate the gasoline gauge."

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE AND MOTORCYCLE RACES IN 1913

Automobile.

Biglo Guido—At Paris, France, May 23, chief engineer of the Itala company, killed when machine skidded in rounding a turn; was practicing for French Grand Prix race.

Giovanno Abrizzon, mechanician, also killed.

Brown, Gooch—At Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 1, killed in 25-mile race. Smashup also caught John Sherrill driver, Nashville.

Peter Bridges, mechanician, Nashville, and Billy Sherrod, mechanician, Atlanta, who suffered same fate as Brown.

Budicott, Harry—At Jackson, Mich., Sept. 6, noted racer, driving a 130-horse power car in event at Keeley park, crashed into a fence on turn in practice spin.

Marian Sarata, aged 10, onlooker, hit by machine and killed.

Forrest, Jack—At Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 24, car turned turtle in El Paso-Phoenix race.

Hicims, Don—At Medford, Or., July 4, car turned turtle in five-mile race; aged 20 years.

Lambert, Percy—At London, Eng., Oct. 31, holder of many world's records, killed on the Brooklands track while making an effort to break the one-hour record.

Manghetti, Louis—At Norfolk, Va., Sept. 17, South American champion, killed when machine turned turtle on curve; aged 32.

Martin, Harry—At Indianapolis, Ind., June 26, Stutz driver, killed on motor speedway track in practice spin when tire blew and machine skidded against brick wall.

Zuccarelli—At Evreux, France, June 19, Italian speed champion, winner of the Grand Prix for light cars at Lemans in 1912, killed in practice spin; hit a horse and cart while going at a rate of 100 miles an hour.

Knight, Harry C.—At Columbus, Ohio, July 4, "Hero of the Speedway" lost his life in 200-mile race when tire on rear wheel exploded.

Milton McCallis, mechanician, also killed.

At Longueau, France, July 12, in the French Grand Prix race, a tire of the machine driven by A. Lee Guiness burst and the car skidded onto a sidewalk, knocking down one of the spectators, who died from the injuries received.

Jenatzy, Camille—At Brussels, Dec. 8, accidentally shot and killed by editor of Brussels newspaper whilie hunting in the forests outside the city. He was a veteran of the speed game, having begun his racing career thirteen years ago, finishing fifth in first international contest for the Gordon Bennett cup in 1900 and winning the cup in 1903, when the classic was run on a course near Ballyshannon, Ireland.

Motorcycle.

Creigh, Harry—At Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 2, killed in an amateur race; ran through a fence; age 23.

De Rosier, J. B.—At Springfield, Mass., Feb. 25, famous record holder; died of injuries received in a race at Los Angeles; age 33.

Farmer, William—At Newark, Ohio, July 4, lost control of machine in amateur road race and was thrown headfirst against curbstone; age 20.

Hickman, Samuel — At Cleveland, Ohio, May 30, starter at Luna Park motordrome, killed when hit by motorcycle raced by Lowell Burden; was assisting another rider and did not see approaching two-wheeler.

Johnson, Odin—At Lagoon, Ludlow, Ky., July 30, lost control of machine in "Moose Sweepstakes," hitting an electric light pole headfirst and dying a few minutes later; Johnson captained the Cincinnati road team, which was racing the Cleveland motorcyclists at the time. Age 34.

The lives of nine spectators were sacrificed at the same time. The gasoline tank on Johnson's machine exploded, causing a fire to spread in one section of his stand. To mention the names of others who were killed would only recall sad incidents to the families of unfortunate onlookers.

O'Brien, Martin A.—At Macon, Ga., July 10, killed in an amateur race when machine skidded and plunged through a fence. "I'll win or break my neck," said O'Brien before the start. His neck was broken in the accident.

Pitts, Leon—At Chicago, May 14, member of the St. Louis motorcycle team, killed in opening races at Chicago motordrome; lost control of machine.

Morrison, Dan—At Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 1, dashed against fence in amateur race when engine became clogged.

Sirn, Julius—At Cleveland, Ohio, May 23, young amateur rider, lost control of machine while practicing at Cleveland motordrome.

Van Camp, John—At Muncie, Ind., June 8, amateur rider, died from injuries received in collision with another racer.

Warner, Hugh—At Pittsburg, Pa., July 7, killed in two-mile free-for-all race at Pittsburg motordrome; struck electric light pole at top of track.

Wilson, B.—At Toronto, Ont., July 26, killed in five-mile amateur race; machine skidded in rounding turn.

Silver, L. I.—At Denver, Colo., April 10, lost control of machine, which ran off saucer and hit electric light pole.

Gilbert, Luther—At Watertown, N. Y., July 31, going fifty miles an hour when machine struck a crosswalk; was hurled to the road and killed instantly.

Irvin Bartholomew, a spectator, rushed to aid of Gilbert and was hit by another machine; he died shortly after from the injuries received.

DENMARK'S WOMAN SEA CAPTAIN

Mrs. von Bauditz to Be Promoted to Steamer in American Service—American Teachers Studying Old Folk Dances.

Copenhagen, Feb. 21.—Promotion to a steamer in the American service has been promised to Mrs. von Bauditz, Denmark's only woman sea captain, who is now commanding a vessel running between Russia and England.

Mrs. von Bauditz, who is the wife of a physician, was for a long time interested in yachting as a sport, and after passing an examination for a master's license, she took up the sea as a profession. So adept did she prove herself that a local shipping company soon gave her command of one of its largest steamers. Capt. von Bauditz wears a natty uniform with square cut coat and skirt of the same material. She is the first female captain in Denmark, and she claims to be the only real feminine master mariner in the world.

Studying Folk Dances.

Several American teachers are here studying the old Danish folk dances, with the idea of substituting them for gymnastics in girls' schools in America. In this city a big society has been formed for the preservation and promotion of Danish national dances. The movement was so widespread that it attracted the attention of Americans visiting here, and resulted in the visit of the American teachers, who express themselves as delighted with the quaint dances. The teachers complain that gymnastics become very tiresome and boring to girls, and they believe that the dances will confer all of the benefits of the gymnastics and at the same time be a great source of pleasure to the students.

Modeled on Elsinore.

Anton Rosen, a local architect, has finished plans for the building which will be erected at the San Francisco exposition from a fund collected by Danish-Americans. The building will be modeled on the famous castle of Hamlet's town, Elsinore, and, like its historical prototype, will be situated on the sea. The building will not be used to house exhibits, which will be placed in another structure erected by the Danish government, but will be used as a headquarters for Danish-Americans and their friends visiting the exposition. The structure will contain a big recital hall, reception rooms and offices.

Danish exhibition a splendid site has been procured, and it is planned to make the exhibit small but typical of the very best of Danish art and industry.

A Danish Versailles.

Dr. Carl Jacobson, Denmark's great art patron, just before his death, confided to a friend that he intended to create a Danish Versailles, and the publication of the plan has led to the determination to carry out his ideas as a memorial of his services to the nation. The large sum to make the plan a success will be available from the Carlsberg fund, which was instituted by Jacobson, and to which he donated many millions for the encouragement and promotion of art in Denmark.

The Versailles, as planned Dr. Jacobson, will be erected in Frederiksborg, where the beautiful castle of that name, with its extensive gallery of art and national historical treasures, is already located. In connection with the castle all of the skill of the landscape artist and sculptor will be called upon to create a Versailles park.

Fertilizer From the Air.

An English company is planning to harness Dettifoss, one of the largest water falls in Iceland, with the plan of turning its estimated 410,000 horsepower into an agency to extract fertilizer from the atmosphere.

The engineers estimate that the falls will develop more power than the works at Hardangerfjord and Odda, in Norway. The engineers say they will have no difficulty in producing calcareous saltpeter fertilizer from the air. The electric power will be transmitted to a nearby port, where splendid shipping facilities exist, and where factories for the production of the fertilizer will be built.

The Joy Of Coming Motherhood

A Wonderful Remedy That is a Natural Aid and Relieves the Tension.

Mother's Friend is the only remedy known that is able to reach all the different parts involved. It is a penetrating external application after the formula of a noted family doctor, and lubricates every muscle, nerve, tissue or tendon involved.

By its daily use there will be no pain, no distress, no nausea, no danger of laceration or other accident, and the period will be one of supreme comfort and joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is one of the greatest of all helpful influences, for it robs childbirth of all its agonies and dangers, dispels all the doubt and dread, all sense of fear, and thus enables the mind and body to await the greatest event in a woman's life with untrammeled gladness.

You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, or the druggist will gladly get it for you. Mother's Friend is prepared only by the Bradfield Regulator Co., 237 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who will mail an instructive book to expectant mothers. Write for it to-day.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT

Bill for Redistribution of Seats Based on Last Census.

Growth of West Is Making Size of House Unwieldy.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 21.—The redistribution bill is now before the Canadian parliament. This bill provides for changes in the representation of the house of commons in accordance with the last census of the dominion taken in 1911. The length of the present session depends very much upon the attitude the opposition takes upon this question. Every redistribution bill since confederation has been severely criticized and in some particulars strenuously fought. Perhaps the bill of 1882, the last one of the kind introduced by Sir John Macdonald, was the most bitterly contested. When the Liberals came into power in 1896 a bill was proposed and passed the commons to make certain changes, but the measure was thrown out by the senate. Indeed, it was scarcely possible, apart altogether from the merits of the grievance, that the senate would have sanctioned an amendment to the act prepared and adopted on the census of 1891.

All Play Politics.

The redistribution act of 1901 was just as closely contested by the Conservatives as were the previous acts of the same kind by Liberals. There is the temptation ever present for the party in power to make all the political capital it can out of whatever changes in the representation is it necessary to make. Humanity is pretty much the same in this regard, no matter what may be the political color. A step, however, in the right direction was made when Sir Wilfrid Laurier referred the subject to a committee of parliament composed of both parties, although the government retained a majority. The bill of this year is said to be equally as fair, to start with, at all events.

Grows in Size.

In the present Canadian parliament there are 221 seats, and in the next this number will be 234, making the largest number that ever sat in the Canadian house. The fear really is that this number will go on increasing until the body becomes somewhat unwieldy. It is the growing West that is making this increase. The representation of Alberta, which is now 7, goes up to 12; British Columbia gets 33 instead of 27; Manitoba 15 instead of 10, and Saskatchewan 16 instead of 10, being the largest increase of any of the provinces. The older provinces suffer. Ontario loses 4 seats, New Brunswick 2, Nova Scotia 2 and Prince Edward Island 1. Quebec always remains the same, and under the act the Yukon is entitled to 1 member, no matter what did shipping facilities exist, and where the population. After the census of 1871 the unit of representation was over 18,000, and this has now increased to over 30,000; infact, nearly 31,000 The unit is obtained by dividing 65, which is always the representation of Quebec, into the population of Quebec.

Hot About Bisley.

The minister of militia, Col. Samuel Hughes, was outspoken in the Canadian parliament against the methods of the war office in making such regulations for rifle shooting at the next Bisley matches in England as will shut out Canadians who use the service rifle of this country. Col. Hughes was strongly supported by the Liberals of the house when he declared that no Canadian be allowed to go to Bisley upon the conditions that he was to discard his own rifle and use the inferior one of the British army. The colonel said Canadian volunteers did agree heretofore to fire with the inferior cartridges of the war office, but they were not to go backwards in the selection of a rifle. The minister was highly commended for his sturdy Canadianism.

The Canadian rifle has a peep sight similar to that used in the United States, while the British use an open "V." The war office takes the view that the peep sight is not fit for service, while the Canadian minister of militia says this is ridiculous. Riflemen here say that neither the Ross rifle, which is the Canadian service weapon, nor the Lee-Enfield, used in Britain, is as good as the Springfield, used by the United States troops. The Springfield is a much smaller, lighter and more compact rifle than the Canadian. In regard to the serviceable qualities of the Ross rifle, the peep sight would stand as much as the Springfield.

Fuss Over Nothing.

The Constitution of the United States provides that "No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States, and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them shall, without the consent of congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign state."

A bill to enforce similar prohibition in Canada was introduced here by H. Burnham, but quickly died a natural death. Nobody could be found to support it. This was to be expected. The average human being is pleased with the mark of distinction which a title bestows. Titles are not always bestowed for disinterested services. But even if we taken it for granted that much public work is often done by an individual in the hope of titular reward, that in itself is a good thing, for the community gains by the public service rendered. A title pleases the one who gets it and hurts nobody. Such at any rate seems to be the prevailing view in regard to them in this country, although some of the best men in Canada would not accept a title. Others have done so to please their wives, for there are few women who are not ready and anxious to share a title with their husbands.

WOULD NOT BE SAFE TO BUILD SUBWAYS

Chicago Lawyer Issues Warning Against the Underground Galleries.

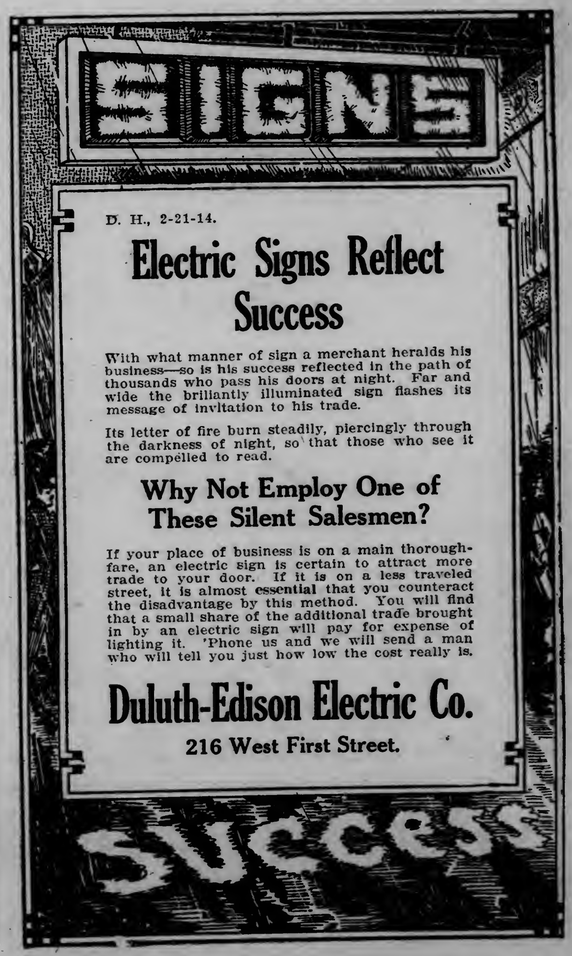

Chicago, Feb. 21.—What if Chicago should slump into the abysmal mud above which it has been erected? The question is not altogether absurd. This city is contemplating the creation of a system of subways and they must be constructed through a mass of soft material and not through dry earth, braced with rock, as is true in the Eastern cities.

George Eddy Newcomb, a lawyer of this city, who has studied physical conditions here with considerable care, utters a warning against the projectors of these underground galleries. One may pass over his sketch of the geological conditions of some millions of years ago and admit that Chicago has grown, not out of mud but on top of mud, and that many buildings in this city have been thrown out of plumb or otherwise damaged by resting on this soft substance. In recent years the foundations have been carried to bedrock, say 100 feet down, by digging wells and filling them up with concrete. Under the best conditions, when excavations are made neighboring buildings show the effect by the warping of certain parts and the shelling off of brick or terra cotta surfaces.

Think, he says, of constructing a big tunnel under a street within a few feet of the buildings. Not only the displacement of the soil, but the jar caused by the passage of trains and the electrolysis would endanger these structures. Multiply the possible danger in one mile downtown by fifty miles of the completed system and you have a problem to meet. It would be out of the question to support the steel and brick and other material of the subway by caissons run down to rock, for the expense would be prohibitory.

SENTENCED TO BE SOBER, NOT JAILED.

New York, Feb. 21.—Seven and a half years of total abstinence or seven and a half years in jail, was the sentence imposed by Supreme Court Justice Davis upon Joseph A. Sheridan, president of the Independent Ice Dealers' association, convicted of attempting to extort $1,000 from the Knickerbocker Ice company by threats to institute a newspaper campaign against the company.

Electric Signs Reflect Success

With what manner of sign a merchant heralds his business—so is his success reflected in the path of thousands who pass his doors at night. Far and wide the brilliantly illuminated sign flashes its message of invitation to his trade.

Its letter of fire burn steadily, piercingly through the darkness of night, so that those who see it are compelled to read.

Why Not Employ One of These Silent Salesmen?

If your place of business is on a main thoroughfare, an electric sign is certain to attract more trade to your door. If it is on a less traveled street, it is almost essential that you counteract the disadvantage by this method. You will find that a small share of the additional trade brought in by an electric sign will pay for expense of lighting it. 'Phone us and we will send a man who will tell you just how low the cost really is.

MARKET HAS STRONG TONE

Wheat Is Firm With Fair Bidding and Export Demand.

Flaxseed Closes Slightly Higher With Good Call From Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 21.—Trading in the wheat market was on the narrowest possible order today. The volume of business put through was comparatively light, traders showing a disinclination to increase their commitments in view of the two days' holiday ahead. The market held firm up to the close under the impetus of higher Liverpool cables and advices of hard winter wheat having been worked for export at Chicago and Kansas City.

The May option opened ⅛c up at 93¼c and closed at that figure after selling a fraction higher. The July option opened unchanged at 94⅛c and closed unchanged at 94⅛@94¼c. There was a steady call for durum from the East and it was stiffly held. May durum opened ⅛c up at 93¼c and closed at that figure. The July option was closed up nominally at 94⅝c.

Oats were firm, closing unchanged at 37⅝@38¼c. Rye closed unchanged at 56c for the best grades and barley unchanged at from 44c to 66c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 38½c and July at 37⅛c.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 91⅞c bid and calls at 92⅜@92½c bid.

Six loads of winter wheat were reported to have been sold at the Gulf by Chicago operators, and Kansas City advised the taking of ten loads for export. The situation was bullish at Winnipeg with substantial business said to have been put through by exporters.

The only bearish piece of news of the day came in an estimate by the International Institute of Agriculture of Rome of 111,000,000 bu for the Australian crop, against 80,000,000 bu last year.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth today were just six cars, against fourteen last year. Stocks in the houses here showed an increase for the week of 72,000 bu, bringing them up to 13,262,000 bu. Stocks of all grains at this point are reported at 20,069,000 bu, an increase of 97,000 bu in the six days.

Flaxseed Is Steady.

A fair volume of trading was put through in flaxseed and on the windup quotations were fractionally up. Considerable spreading was reported between the May and July options. Crushers were in the market through the sessions, but they picked up only scattering lots. Cables were featureless. London and Antwerp closed unchanged and Buenos Ayes ⅛c up.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.56½ and closed ⅛c better. The July option was closed ⅛c up at $1.57⅞ nominally.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.37¼ bid and July at $1.39¾ bid.

"This is the first time in my ten years in the business that I have been compelled to buy wheat out of store in February to keep our mill running," said A. D. Goodman, manager of the Duluth Universal Milling company today.

Baker's Minneapolis correspondent had the following cable from Liverpool: "There is good consumptive demand for wheat and a scarcity of first hand offers. It looks as if the advance will continue. We advise selling July corn."

* * *

The Minneapolis cash market was steady, with demand just fair. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at from 1c to 2½c over May, and velvet chaff at from 1c to 1½c over May. There was no change in flour, and the demand was moderate. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from 93¼c to 94⅝c and No. 2 northern at from 91½c to 92⅝.

Broomhall's Indian agent cabled: "Crops in the Punjaub continue to give good promise and irrigated areas in the United Provinces are satisfactory."

Germany's crop of 1913 was large and Russia's yield is conceded to have been large, therefore it is expected that shipment will continue good and materially increase when the Azoff navigation reopens. Reports continue to come to hand of insufficient snow covering in parts of Russia with freezing and thawing.

* * *

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The late easiness in America yesterday and Modern Miller's report were offset here by speculative support and covering by shorts, and opening values were unchanged to ¼d higher. During the morning there was a further advance of ¼d to ⅝d, with March leading. Firmness of Australian offers, lighter American shipments as indicated by Bradstreet's, urgent inquiry for Manitobas and an advance of 1½d to 3d in cargoes were factors. There was an improved demand from millers with spot mostly ½d higher. Confirmed reports of further firmness in Australian offers and scarcity of good wheat from Argentina is being felt here with the sentiment absorbing freely. At the close the undertone was firm, ¼@⅝d higher.

"Corn opened unchanged and later advanced ⅛d, with trading dull."

Winnipeg—Exporters reported some Manitoba wheat accepted over night, mostly lower grades. European inquiry is said to be very keen up there.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

May and July Options on Wheat Are Higher.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 21.—The May and July options opened ⅛c higher in the Minneapolis wheat market today. Lighter receipts and a heavy cash demand had strong influences on the general market. The Washington birthday holiday coming on Sunday this year, the Minneapolis markets will be closed on Monday.

Wheat—May opened 92⅜@92¼c; high, 92⅜c; low, 92c; closed, 92⅛c bid. July opened 93⅝c; high, 93⅜c; low, 93¼c; closed, 93⅜c bid.

Cash: No. 1 hard, 95⅝c; No. 1 northern, 93¼@94⅝c; to arrive, 94⅝c; choice to arrive, 94⅝c; No. 2 northern, 91¼@92⅝c; to arrive, 89⅛@91¼c; No. 3 wheat, 88⅛@90⅜c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 56⅜@57c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 37@37¼c.

Flax—$1.54⅜@1.56⅞c.

The flour market continued fairly active today. Prices were unchanged. Shipments, 61,920 bbls.

Barley, 45@66c. Rye, 55c. Bran, $22.50.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Continued Liverpool Strength Boosts Prices of Wheat.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Wheat prices went higher today as a result of buying due to continued strength at Liverpool. Crop prospects in Hungary were said to be very unsatisfactory and there were advices of insufficient snow covering in parts of Russia, where the weather was alternately freezing and thawing. In addition, Kansas City sent words of signs that some export business was under way. The market here opened at ⅛@¼ to ⅜c advance, and seemed inclined to hold all the gain.

Sales at the gulf by Chicago export houses tended to sustain the advance, but were more than offset by a sharp decline at Budapest. The close was weak, a shade to ⅛c under last night.

Sympathy with wheat carried corn upgrade. The bulls were helped also by the fact that country offerings were only moderate. Opening prices, which were a shade to ⅛@¼c higher, were succeeded by a further rise.

Enlarged receipts at Western points were responsible for a subsequent reaction. The close was weak at ⅛c to ⅛@¼c net decline.

Oats hardened owing largely to Philadelphia reports of a better consumptive demand. Pit transactions, however, lacked volume.

Unloading by longs made the provision market weak, an upturn at the yards being taken advantage of to realize. First sales were unchanged to 2½c higher but prices later sagged.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 96¼@96¾c; No. 3 red, 94@95c; No. 2 hard, 93½c; No. 3 hard, 93c; No. 2 northern, 95@96c; No. 3 northern, 93@94c; No. 2 spring, 94@95c; No. 3 spring, 93@94c.

London Stocks.

London, Feb. 21.—American securities opened quiet with prices around parity, but soon turned downward under the lead of Union Pacific. The selling was due to fears of complications arising from the latest incidents in Mexico. The market closed weak with prices from ⅛ to 1¼ below yesterday's New York closing.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Hogs—Receipts, 11,000; strong, 5c above yesterday's average; bulk of sales, $8.60@8.75; light, $8.35@8.75; mixed, $8.65@8.75; heavy, $8.35@8.75; rough, $8.35@8.45; pigs, $7.75@8.65.

LOSSES GENERAL IN MINING STOCKS

All Issues Close Lower Through Selling on Mexican News.

The market in mining stocks weakened today on some selling brought about through the disquieting developments in the Mexican situation. The list closed off throughout. Butte & Superior closed 38c down at $56.75; Granby 75c off at $85.50; North Butte 25c off at $29.25; Shattuck 50c off at $28.50; Tamarack 87c off at $41; Butte & Ballaklava a fraction down at $3.38; Alaska Gold 38c off at $21.75 and Amalgamated Copper 50c off at $75.50.

Trading in Duluth curb stocks was confined almost entirely to Calumet & Corbin which sold up to 20c.

A wire from Boston today said: "Pending the renewal of interest on the part of buyers, the important sellers are holding the price of electrolytic copper at 14⅞c per pound. The demand is extremely quiet both here and abroad."

* * *

Gay & Sturgis had the following closing letter from Boston today: "The Mexican news this morning was disturbing, but it had very little effect on the market. The sold-out condition of stocks became more apparent because liquidation was almost entirely lacking.

"While holders of securities have not had much encouragement this week, those who are short of stocks had less because bad news does not cause important selling."

Referring to the general trading situation in stocks, Shillings' mining and market letter of today says:

"There should be no hesitancy in buying the standard dividend paying mining issues at present quotations, for investment, and on reactions for trading purposes. North Butte displayed much strength Thursday under the liquidation of a substantial block by an Eastern trader taking his profits. It is understood that interests close to Copper Range switched some of their holdings to Green-Cananea when both were trading around $39 this week, and it doubtless was a good move. Greene-Cananea is the most wonderful individual copper proposition on the continent. It is a camp all by itself, and its best days are ahead. The same may be said as to the futures of Calumet & Arizona and Shattuck."

N. F. Hugo, president of the Alex Scott Copper company, is in receipt of a letter from Supt. Stone at the Scott mine in which he states that No. 1 vein on the 2,000-level carries three feet of solid, high-grade copper ore, and that the prospects, as development work progresses, are that the showing will be maintained, or further improved. No. 4 vein on the same level carries some very fine ore, but the high-grade deposit is not very wide where it is opened up. Drifting both ways on the vein will be conducted.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Quotations Rule Virtually Unchanged After Drop at Opening.

Break in London in American Stocks Is Bearish Factor.

New York, Feb. 21.—All of the active stocks opened lower today. Apprehension of new complications in the Mexican situation caused an active selling movement. Reading, Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Western Union fell about a point each. American Ice dropped 2 points, Central Leather 1¼ and Mexican Petroleum 1. Denver & Rio Grande opened 1¼ higher.

Evening up of short contracts in advance of the holiday imparted a better tone to the popular stocks, but some specialties continued downward at a rapid rate. General Motors dropped 5¼ points to 72.

The market closed steady. Quotations ruled virtually unchanged after the early decline. A break in American stocks in London influenced the opening, but the demand improved at the lower level and a further drop was prevented.

Collapse of pool operations in various specialties and uncertainty as to developments in the Mexican situation discouraged speculative operations for the long account. The break in some of the industrials was utilized for covering in the active features, but the general movement was kept close to the opening figures. Paris unexpectedly engaged $2,000,000 more gold for export, bringing up the total on this movement to $14,000,000.

Bonds were easier.

ROBINSON TO SEE T. R. IN EUROPE.

New York, Feb. 21.—Theodore Douglas Robinson, nephew of Theodore Roosevelt and chairman of the New York Progressive state committee, sailed today for Europe, where he will meet the colonel during the latter part of April. Col. Roosevelt, now in South America, intends to arrive in Spain during that month.

It was said by friends of Mr. Robinson that he would talk over with his uncle the liquor question, particularly with reference to the optional prohibition bill now before the legislature. Western Progressives have gone on record as advocating prohibition.

Mr. Robinson cared to make no prophecy as to whether Roosevelt would be the Progressive nominee for governor next fall.

BOG SLIDE TERRIFIES PEOPLE IN IRELAND

Abnormal Rains Cause Disaster in Neighborhood of Carrick.

Carrick-on-Shannon, Ireland, Feb. 21.—A quaking mass of bog several square miles in area is on the move in the neighborhood of Carrick, and the panic stricken inhabitants of the countryside are fleeing before the threatening disaster. The bog slide has been brought about by abnormal rains. Many thousands of acres in the counties of Leitrim and Roscommon are submerged, and the roads are impassable except in boats.

The people, in many instances, have been isolated from communication with their neighbors, owing to the Shannon's breaking its banks. The flooded stream is carrying many carcasses of cattle and other livestock, while haystacks and outhouses as well as farm implements have been washed away.

The shifting bog bears the appearance of a treacherous morass broken up by huge fissures filled with water. Desperate efforts are being made to drain away enough water to check the advance of the mass.

8,000 WILL SWEAR TO STAND BY OLD GLORY

Unique Feature for Washington's Birthday in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—A unique feature of the three days' celebration of Washington's birthday planned here is the repeating of their formal oath of allegiance to the Stars and Stripes by 8,000 foreign-born citizens naturalized here in 1913.

The huge mass meeting of newly made citizens of the United States will assemble in the largest auditorium in this city.

President Wilson hoped to be present at this ceremony, but his recent illness forced him to send Louis Post, assistant secretary of labor, to represent him.

LAUDER-TURRISH.

Prominent Duluth Lumberman Weds; Will Tour the East.

Miss Minnie Lauder and Henry C. Turrish, prominent lumberman, were married this noon at the Sacred Heart cathedral. The ceremony was read by Father Hugh Floyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Turrish will leave this evening for a short wedding trip in the East, after which they will return to Duluth for a stay of but a few days. They will then go West for a three months' trip, after which they will be at home at 1425 East Superior street.

PRESENT THE OTHER SIDE

Fond Du Lac Residents Want Ice Houses on the River.

Say Company Would Provide Employment for Many Men.

A large delegation of Fond du Lac residents called upon members of the city commission at their respective offices this morning to protest against the passage next Tuesday afternoon of the ordinance making East Fond du Lac a residence district.

The petition for ehe ordinance was prepared when it was learned that the Duluth Ice company had purchased property along the water front for a site for an ice house. The ordinance is intended to prevent the building of the ice house, but under it factories, hotels, public garages, stables and apartment houses are also barred.

The Fond du Lac people represented that they have permanent homes and established places of business within a short distance of the place where it is proposed to locate the ice house; that they live there the year around, while most of the objectors have but temporary summer cottages which they occupy for comparatively short intervals; that the ice company will furnish employment to many of the men who reside at Fond du Lac; that the ground between the railroad and the river is dock property and should not be restricted in development thereby working injury to the permanent residents of the suburb; that the company will build a painted, neatly-appearing structure which will not be unsightly; that there is no street or avenue leading to the store, so that none of the people living on the other side of the railroad can get to the river without trespassing; that most of them are so far removed that they could not see an ice house from their cottages, and that the ice house would not affect the value of their property.

Another argument which seemed to have considerable weight was that if it is impossible for the ice company to build on its own property, an ice warehouse will be built on the railroad company's right-of-way in the same place, except that it will be slightly further away from the river. The railroad company has a 200-foot right-of-way there and it was pointed out that the ice house which would be built on it would be more objectionable than the one proposed to be built by the company. It would be longer, on somewhat higher ground, and instead of being sightly, would probably be more like the temporary sheds now at Spirit Lake.

The impression was prevalent at the city hall this morning that the ordinance may not pass. It is understood that at least two members of the council, and possibly a third, do not favor it in its present form, and if they vote against it the measure will be lost, as it requires a four-fifths vote to carry, according to previous statements. If that is correct the ordinance will not pass until it has been amended to exclude that part of East Fond du Lac lying between the Northern Pacific right-of-way and the river.

Superior

TURNS OUT TO BE A MURDER

Matt Eskolle, a Finnish laborer, who died at St. Mary's hospital Wednesday night, died as the result of being stabbed last Saturday evening during a saloon brawl in a Third street saloon. Eskolle kept the fact of his being wounded a secret until blood poisoning set in the wound, which caused his death.

A description of the assailant was given out to the police in an ante-mortem statement made by Eskolle, and a search has been made for the man. The victim claimed that he had not believed the wound of a serious nature and that the matter was of such a trivial nature that the notification of the police was not necessary.

May Get Auditorium.

Members of the Superior Rotary club are meeting with success in the circulating of a petition for an auditorium for Superior. The voters of the city will be asked to pass on the question at the spring election. The petition will be ready to file early next week.

Testing Income Tax Law.

The Wisconsin income tax law will be given a test this afternoon in a suit instituted by Judge James Wickham of Eau Claire. The trial is being held before the superior court. Judge Wickham holds that his salary cannot be taxed under the income tax law on the contention that the state law provides that a judge's salary cannot be reduced or diminished during his tenure of office. Attorney General Owen will apepar for the state and W. P. Crawford will represent the plaintiff.

TONY WAS NO MILLIONAIRE

Some Days He Took In Only $2.76 Over Counter—Married, Divorced, and Remarried, Mrs. Alma Nelson Again Seeks Divorce.

"You see, judge, it's this way. I no run a Glass Block store. I have harda time to make a living. Maybe Monday I get $4, Tuesday, $2.76—"

So ran the explanation of Tony Laville, 41, confectionery store proprietor, to Judge Cant in district court this morning when he was called up on an order to show cause why he should not be punished for failing to obey the court's order directing him to pay alimony to his wife, Maria.

At the November, 1913, term of court, Tony secured a divorce from his wife, Maria, on the grounds of cruelty. The action was contested. The court ordered Laville to pay his wife $275 alimony within two months.

No payments were ever made within the two months' period. On Jan. 15, the order of the court was modified so that Tony might be able to pay $10 for four months and the balance, $235, in June. Tony made one payment in January but fell down on the February bill. Tony had the money in court and also a pile of explanations why he had not paid it before. The court gave him a lecture on the necessity of obeying the orders made.

After having been married, divorced and remarried, Alma Nelson and her husband, William W. Nelson find themselves unable to get along together and are again involved in a divorce action, which was started in district court yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Nelson. She asks for the decree on the grounds of cruelty. They reside at 2029 Minnesota avenue. Nelson is employed as a boatman in the United States engineering corps.

Mrs. Nelson, 34 years old, was granted a divorce from her husband, aged 46, during the month of November, 1912, and remarried him in Portland, Or., during the first part of the following year. A reconciliation was brought about upon his promise to be good to her, she says. He soon became cruel to her again and beat her, she declares. She caused his arrest last December on a charge of assaulting her.

Nelson will contest the case. In an affidavit filed today with the clerk of the court, Nelson declares that he has often been obliged to stay at home, cook his own meals and mend the children's clothes.

* * *

Judge Bert Fesler this morning signed an order allowing Mrs. Olga Gran the right to visit her children during the pendancy of the divorce action which has been brought against her by her husband, Victor H. Gran, on the charge of adultery. The court also ordered that Gran furnish his wife with a trunk and allow her to remove her personal effects from the house. Mrs. Gran is now stopping at at Holland hotel.

ACCEPTS POSITION AS ALBANIAN RULER

Neuwied, Germany, Feb. 21.—Prince William of Wied entered the ranks of European sovereigns today when he formally accepted the throne of Albania, tendered to him by Essad Pasha at the head of a deputation of Albanian notables.

Essad Pasha, who defended Scutari for the Turks against the Montenegrins during the Balkan war, and the other delegates saluted Prince William as "king" and "your majesty," although the European powers had contemplated according him only the title of prince.

A member of the Albanian deputation had brought with him a casket containing sand, earth and water from Albania, which Prince William accepted as a symbol as his new sovereignty.

The chosen monarch of Albania assumed his honors under strictly Prussian conditions. During the ceremony he wore the uniform of a Prussian major.

SIR GALAHAD BOYS HOSTS AT SOCIAL

Out-Door Sports and Religious Meetings On Boys' Program.

The members of the Knights of Sir Galahad committee were the hosts at the popular Friday night social at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The program included old-fashioned parlor games. Carlyle Thomas carried off the loving cup for being the champion speller. After the games the party adjourned to the Dutch kitchen for refreshments.

This afternoon the camp and outing committee will conduct a sliding party after which there will be a swim at the Y. M. C. A. pool.

The Knights of Sir Galahad and the Sunday club meeting tomorrow afternoon will be addressed by delegates who attended the state Y. M. C. A. convention at Northfield last week. The following will give short talks: Harold Smithles, Warren Moore, Richard Cullum, Irving Grover, Willard Thorp, Fred Campbell, Rollin Hawkes, N. D. McLeod.

The Knights of Sir Galahad will meet at 3 o'clock and the Sunday club at 4 o'clock.

DULUTH WILL HAVE STATE DEPUTY

Dairy and Food Department Works With Local Health Board.

A deputy of the state dairy and food department will probably be stationed permanently in Duluth to cooperate with the local health department and at the same time have supervision of the territory tributary to Duluth.

"Complaints come to the department every day of inferior or impure food products which are being sold," said Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health this morning. "The health department has no authority under which it can act, except the state law, and this can best be enforced by a state official."

Dr. Webster submitted this proposal to Joel G. Winkjer, state dairy and food commissioner, recently and today received a letter from him stating that he would be glad to co-operate with the Duluth department in every way possible. He declared that it was highly encouraging to find such a spirit of willingness to assist the state in enforcing the laws regulating food products.

The state deputy will be provided office room in the quarters of the health department at the city hall. He will work with the city employes and will devote most of his time to upholding the required standard of food products other than milk and meats.

SWITCHMAN SUES ROAD FOR $18,000

Says Steam Obstructed His View, Causing 25-Foot Fall.

When Hugh P. Strong, switchman on the Allouez ore docks, attempted to step from a locomotive cab on the evening of Aug. 20 last, a cloud of steam obstructed his view so as to prevent him from seeing that the dock had no planked surface at that point. He stepped into an open space and tumbled down into an ore pocket, a distance of twenty-five feet, injuring his back and spine.

The accident is the basis of an action for $18,000 damages filed by Strong against the Great Northern Railway company in district court this morning. Strong charges the company with negligence in failing to put planks over the open space and not providing him with a safe place in which to work. The plaintiff asks special damages in the sum of $3,000 and $15,000 general damages.

HAMMOND SILENT ON GOVERNORSHIP

Says He Has Sent Policy Statement to State Committee.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—Representative Hammond of the Second Minnesota district again today refused to make any statement relative to his becoming a candidate for governor. Mr. Hammond said he had sent a message to be read at the meeting of the Democratic state committee next Tuesday. It would not deal with the governorship, but would give his views of the policies to be carried out by the party in Minnesota.

WIDOW WILL SECURE $3,000

Settles With Oliver Mining Company for Death of Husband.

Satna Zumic, 28 years old, widow of Mike Zumic, 26, miner, who was killed during the course of his employment at the Chisholm mine, Chisholm, Oct. 14 last, will receive $10 per week for 300 weeks from the Oliver Iron Mining company in settlement of her claim for alleged wrongful death. The settlement, made in accordance with the workingmen's compensation act, was approved today in district court. Besides the widow, Zumic left four children. The widow and children reside at Lucknow.

For the loss of the thumb on his right hand while working in Camp No. 9, Tom Mack, 40 years old, has accepted $177.30 from the Northern Lumber company. The settlement made in accordance with the schedule for compensation in the new employer's liability act, was approved today by District Judge Fesler. The accident occurred on Jan. 9 last.

MUST KEEP AWAY.

Restraining Order Issued Against Three Alleged Trespassers.

Andrew Karjala, Charles Stenman and Gust Lundgren are restrained by an order signed yesterday afternoon by District Judge Cant from entering upon or in any way trespassing upon a 280-acre farm in section 19, 55-16, during the pendancy of a lawsuit which has been brought against them by Joseph Johnson.

Johnson, in his suit, claims that on Jan. 14 last, the defendants entered upon his land and damaged it to the extent of $500, which he is seeking to recover. Johnson asks for a permanent restraining order.

INCINERATOR SAVES COUNTY FUEL BILLS.

A combination garbage and fuel burner now in use at the county jail may demonstrate that a big saving can be made in fuel bills if garbage is disposed of in this manner.

The one now in use at the county jail has been installed about a month. During the summer months when little if any fire is required from the main heating plant, the new device will be used to its best advantage.

The patent incinerator is so arranged that all of the hot water needed for the use of the institution may be supplied from a tank attached to it. If the supply of garbage runs out, coal may be used so that the fire will not die out.

Under the present arrangement, pipes from the water tank are connected with the water tank and the hot water supply is not dependent upon the incinerator. When warmer weather comes, it is expected that the hot water will be furnished solely by the incinerator which will be kept going all through the summer months.

BOULEVARD EXTENSION

Work Will Be Completed During the Coming Season.

Portable Rock Crusher Will Be Purchased By City.

The park department will endeavor to complete the western extension of the boulevard, from its present terminus near Earl street, to Fairmont park the coming season, under tentative plans which have been outlined by Mayor Prince.

The surveys for the extension have been completed and the right of way secured. The work will be done by the park department under the direction of Manager Henry Cleveland, who has done much road building for the department at surprisingly low cost, according to the mayor. The completion of the extension will add another beautiful link to what is already one of the most attractive driveways in the world.

Considerable resurfacing will also be done on park driveways the coming season. For this purpose the mayor said today that the city will purchase a portable rock crusher. Great quantities of stone are readily available along the various roads and the boulevard, and this can be put through the crusher and on the driveways at a big saving over the cost of crushed rock which is bought from the city or private companies. With a portable crusher at his command Manager Cleveland is confident that he will be able to give the local park system some of the finest roads in the country at a cost which will make highway engineers "sit up and take notice."

TWO NOMINATED FOR NAVAL CADETS.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, Feb. 21.—Representative Steenerson today nominated Lew W. Bird of Barnesville and Alexander Nemzek of Moorhead as candidates for cadetships at the Annapolis naval academy.

SOO TERMINAL CHANGE.

Will Use Grand Central Depot in Chicago After April 1.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—On April 1 the Soo Line will begin running its passenger trains into the Grand Central depot here, instead of into the Illinois Central terminal, as at present.

TANGO CHATTER FROM LONDON

The Young Man Couldn't Dance, But He Was There With the Terpsichorean Conversation.

Punch: "Do you tango?" asked Miss Hopkins, as soon as we were comfortably seated. I know her name was Hopkins, because I had her down on my program as Popkins, which seemed too good to be true; and in order to give her a chance of reconsidering it, I had asked her if she was one of the Popkinses of Hampshire. It had then turned out that she was really one of the Hopkinses of Maida Vale.

"No," I said, "I don't." She was only the fifth person who had asked me, but then she was only my fifth partner.

"Oh, you ought to. You must be up-to-date, you know."

"I'm always a bit late with these things," I explained. "The waltz came to England in 1812, but I didnt really master it till 1904."

"I'm afraid if you wait as long as that before you master the tango it will be out."

"That's what I thought. By the time I learnt the tango the bingo would be in. My idea was to learn the bingo in advance, so as to be ready for it. Think how you'll all envy me in 1917. Think how society will flock to my Bingo Quick Lunches. I shall be the only man in London who bingoes properly. Of course by 1918 you'll all be at it."

"Then we must have one together in 1918," smiled Miss Hopkins.

"In 1918," I pointed out coldly, "I shall be learning the pongo."

The next dance really was a tango, and I saw to my horror that I had a name down for it. With some difficulty I found the owner of it, and prepared to explain to her that unfortunately I couldn't dance the tango, but that for profound conversation about it I was undoubtedly the man. Luckily she explained first.

"I'm afraid I can't do this," she apologized. "I'm so sorry."

"Not at all," I said magnanimously. "We'll sit it out."

We found a comfortable seat.

"Do you tango?" she asked.

I was tired of saying "No."

"Yes," I said.

"Are you sure you wouldn't like to find someone else to do it with you?"

"Quite, thanks. The fact is, I do it rather differently from the way they're doing it here tonight. You see, I actually learnt it in the Argentine."

She was very much interested to hear this.

"Really? Are you out there much? I've got an uncle living there now. I wonder if—"

"When I say I learnt it in the Argentine," I explained, "I mean that I was actually taught it in St. John's Wood, but that my dancing mistress came from—"

"In St. John's Wood," she said eagerly. "But how funny! My sister is learning there. I wonder if—"

She was a very difficult person to talk to. Her relations seemed to spread themselves all over the place.

"Perhaps that is hardly doing justice to the situation," I explained again. "It would be more accurate to put it like this. When I decided—by the way, does your family frequent Paris? No? Good. Well, when I decided to learn the tango, the fact that my friends the Hopkinses of St. John's Wood, or rather Maida Vale, had already learnt it in Paris naturally led me to ——. I say, what about an ice? It's getting awfully hot in here."

"Oh, I don't think——"

"I'll go and get them," I said hastily; and I went and took a long time getting them, and as it turned out that she didn't want hers after all, a longer time eating them. When I was ready for conversation again the next dance was beginning. With a bow I relinquished her to another.

"Come along," said a bright voice behind me; "this is ours."

"Hallo, Norah, is that you? Come on."

We hurried on, danced in silence, and then found ourselves a comfortable seat. For a moment neither of us spoke * * *

"Have you learnt the tango yet?" asked Norah.

"Fourteen," I said aloud.

"Help! Does that mean that I'm the fourteenth person who has asked you?"

"The night is yet young, Norah. You are only the eighth. But I was betting that you'd ask me before I counted twenty. You lost, and you owe me a pair of ivory backed hair brushes and a cigar cutter."

"Bother. Anyhow, I'm not going to be stopped talking about the tango if I want to. Did you know I was learning? I can do the scissors."

"Good. We'll do the new Fleet street movement together, the scissors-and-paste. You go into the ballroom and do the scissors, and I'll—er—stick here and do the paste."

"Can't you really do any of it at all, and aren't you going to learn?"

"I can't do any of it at all, Norah. I am not going to learn, Norah."

"It isn't so very difficult, you know. I'd teach you myself for tuppence."

"Will you stop talking about it for three pence?" I asked, and I took out three coppers.

"No."

I sighed and put them back again.

FOODS THAT ARE HARMFUL TO CHILDREN.

The Woman's Home Companion carries on its campaign for "Better Babies" by publishing an article entitled "How to Make Babies Better," by Dr. Roger H. Dennett, a New York expert on children's diseases. Following is an extract from the article on the subject of food for children:

"The indiscriminate eating of indigestible food, such as many adults eat, is a practice to be condemned. Fried food of any kind, with the exception of steaks or chops, is harmful to the child, because the fat with which it is fried is cooked into the food and surrounds the particles of which it is made up, so that the digestive juices cannot act upon them. Most children are allowed too many sweets. Remember that, even though they are given a restricted amount of candy, cake and desserts, they will get enough sugar in some form, in the course of a week, to supply all their needs. This restriction of sweets ought not to be a hardship if the child is fond of fruit. Instead of giving a piece of cake or candy between meals, or even for dessert, an apple, pear, or peach will please him just as well, and will be beneficial instead of harmful. For some years mothers have held the erroneous idea that raw fruits are difficult to digest. This is not true if the fruit is neither green nor overripe. If the child has not sufficient teeth with which to chew it the fruit should be given in mashed or scraped form so that no hard particles will be swallowed.

"Indiscriminate eating is not the only error in a child's diet. The overcareful mother occasionally goes to the other extreme in endeavoring to plain a healthful diet for her child. For instance, she does not allow anything but milk and cereals throughout the second year, for fear that solid food cannot be digested. This lack of solid food really does harm, because when the second year of life is reached the child is much more like the adult than during the first year, and food which approches the adult diet should be begun. It is at this time that the mother most needs the diet list to guide her."

HE LOCATED HIS LAMB.

The Buffalo News tells of a traveling man who, on his marriage, was given a month's vacation. He and his bride passed their honeymoon in a quiet summer resort.

One evening as they entered the dining room and sat down, as usual, in a secluded corner, the young husband noticed a good customer at the table near by.

"Say, dearest," he whispered, "there's Mr. Jones over there. You won't mind it if I go over and dine with him, will you? Think how fine it will be if I get back from my wedding trip with a smashing big order!"

The little bride agreed rather ruefully. Her traveling man hurried over to Jones, shook hands with him and ordered his dinner, which included roast lamb. Then he began to talk business.

He talked so earnestly and at such length that he didn't notice when the waiter removed his meat dishes and placed a dessert before him. Then suddenly he looked down at his plate.

"Why," he exclaimed, "where's my lamb?"

A little voice in the corner piped out: "Here I am, dear!"

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

New York, Feb. 21.—Dun's Review today says: Weather conditions were an important factor in the business situation this week. Recent storms impeded railroad traffic and retarded the distribution of merchandise, yet certain lines of trade benefited by the heavy snowfall and zero temperatures. There was a notable increase in the movement of footwear and heavyweight apparel, while fuel was in greater demand.

Sentiment in commercial industrial channels remains optimistic and evidences of improving conditions accumulate. This is particularly true of wool, sales of which continue large at advancing prices. A material reduction has occurred in supplies at all seaboard markets since the opening of the year and in some instances stocks are now scarce. Both cotton and woolen mills are well employed, as a rule, and prospects are considered satisfactory.

Failures this week number 386 in the United States against 334 last year and 59 in Canada compared with 27 a year ago.

CALUMET-CORBIN MINING CO.

Just two weeks ago today we made a public announcement that we were in the market for 25,000 shares Calumet-Corbin at 15 cents. Today we paid 21 cents for this stock and our order is still far from being executed.

This Calumet-Corbin since it started off has been a great surprise to the market followers both in the East as well as in the West, but we are in position to say right here that the real surprise is yet to be seen.

When a stock has an intrinsic value of 60c to 70c it is only natural that it should at first discount this price before it can be considered a risk, and when at the same time the mine is being opened up, the high-grade shipments being continued and new modern up-to-date machinery being installed which will double the savings, it is no more than right that the intrinsic valuation be doubled.

If you will investigate you will easily convince yourself that there is only one side to this Calumet-Corbin market, and that is the buying side. If you must sell, you will find a very ready market.

The very best mining authority in the West claims that there is no reason why Calumet-Corbin, with the New Era mines, in full operation under the new management, cannot be made a dividend paying issue, and we never felt surer of success than we do at this writing.

Only C. W. Murphy Absent From Cincinnati Gathering.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Presidents and directors of National league clubs, together with many others interested in organized baseball, are here today for the purpose of attending the meeting called by President John K. Tener. The only president of a league club absent was Charles W. Murphy of Chicago, who is ill with lumbago.

It was generally understood by the baseball magnates that the meeting was to pass upon President Tener's verdict in the Evers case. Mr. Tener has not made public his decision, but this afternoon will be in conference with the board of directors of the National league.

MOVE BEING MADE TO OUST MANAGEMENT OF TUOLUMNE

President Hickey Defies Opponents to Point Out Irregular Act.

Director of Stewart Says Company Is Not for Sale.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several minority holders of stock in the Tuolumne company are going to endeavor at the annual meeting to be held in this city on March 9 to take charge of the affairs of the company by ousting the old management. Daniel Shields, who owns 40,000 shares, which he got as a legacy before the mine became a producer, is at the head of the stockholders who are seeking to secure proxies to take charge of affairs. He declares in a circular that he has issued, that the business of the company is not being conducted with any degree of business ability and that a change should be brought about. President Hickey has replied to the Shields statement and points out that he would like to know if any of the minority holders of stock who are at the back of the Shields movement would make the company a present of $100,000 as he did for the purpose of buying new equipment. He defies the Shields crowd to point to a single irregular act in the management. A report issued giving some figures from the auditor's statement shows that the company earned not between $4,000 and $5,000 for the month of January. During this month the shipments have been increased and the outlook is that the net earnings will be equal to those of January.

Stewart Not For Sale.

The Stewart Mining company is not for sale, according to the statement of one of the directors of the company after reading in some of the papers a story to the effect that men were examining the property in the interests of Eastern capitalists and that there was a possibility that the property would be purchased by New York capitalists. Whatever truth there may have been in the story there appears to be none now, as it is stated that F. Augustus Heinze has arranged his financial matters in such a way as to allow him to remain in control of the Stewart.

Pilot-Butte Suit.

The suit of the Anaconda Copper Mining company against the Pilot-Butte company will not reach the courts before April 2 at the earliest. An agreement has been reached between the interested parties to have the injunction proceedings continued until that time. The hearing on the application to make the restraining order permanent was to have come up next month, but both sides required more time in which to prove up the ground which is in dispute. In the meantime the Pilot-Butte management is going ahead with shaft sinking and general development work.

Butte-Duluth.

The fact that the American Metals company has secured an interest in this district through the Butte-Duluth company is very pleasing news to those who have large interests in the city, as it now seems certain that the leaching plant will be enlarged to a capacity of 1,000 tons of ore a day in the course of a very short time. The American Metals company did not become interested in the property until a very thorough investigation had been made into conditions, not only by Harvey Weed, the mining engineer, who made the report on the property, but by Otto Sussman and others who are directly connected with the American Metals company. The report of Harvey Weed speaks very highly of the property and leaves no doubt that it is a valuable one. As to the future plans of the company nothing will be definitely known until Capt. Wolvin comes from New York where he went to complete the deal. Mr. Weed says that a careful consideration of development work and the geological evidence shows about 5,000,000 tons of ore, which should average 2 per cent copper, can be mined and leached for a total cost of $3 per ton. With a 1,000-ton plant, says Mr. Weed, the mining and leaching should be done for $2 a ton. A profit of $2 per ton should easily be realized and the life of the property would be fifteen years on a 1,000-ton basis. He sas that the further value of the property for deep mining is not positively determinable, he claims, he says, are worth about $500,000 for this alone. On a basis of a 1,000-ton plant the propert can be made to yield a return of about $700,000 annually.

Butte-Alex Scott.

A letter from one of the directors of the Butte-Alex Scott company states that there is not any truth in the report hat negotiations are pending with the Anaconda Copper Mining company for the purchase of the property. The director says that while the last dividend was passed there is every reason to feel well satisfied with the results being attained. Development work is proceeding and 150 tons of ore a day are going to the smelter. Next month the company will resume sinking and carry the shaft down at least another 200 feet. The outlook is that the Butte-Alex Scott, after it had completed a lot of development work and and carried its shaft down 200 feet more, will be in a position to again resume the payment of dividends at the rate of 50 cents a quarter. However until the company is earning the money over and above all expenses the directors do not intend to order a dividend.

Clark Concentrator.

The zinc concentrator being erected by Former United States Senator W. A. Clark is fast nearing completion, and it is expected that in about two months it will be ready to go into commission. The machinery is nearly all on the ground.

Will Need Much Copper.

The announcement that the Great Northern railway will likely undertake the electrification of its road between this city and Great Falls, a distance of 127 miles, means that a demand is going to be created for a large amount of copper.

Boston & Montana.

W. R. Allen of the Boston & Montana Development company says that arrangements are being prepared for work on an extensive scale just as soon as the weather permits. The machinery for the operations in the Elkhorn district has been in the city for several weeks, but the amount of light snow rendered the roads unfit for the hauling of it to the scene of operations. The roads are now hard and the work of getting the machinery and steam plant to the mine has been commenced. Mr. Allen said that he expected to not only have the machinery all in place by the first of the month, but also to have actual driving of the tunnel started. With the steam plant, a compressed air plant for drilling will be installed. With the use of the air drills it is estimated that the work of driving the 1,800-foot tunnel will proceed at a rate of 150 feet a month. The tunnel is being bored to tap the vein at a low level.

Bullwhacker.

The new leaching plant of the Bullwhacker company has commenced operations, treating 100 tons of ore a day. After about three months, if the plant is found to be working satisfactorily, an addition will be built so as to bring the capacity up to about 250 tons of ore a day.

RICH GRADE OF COPPER

Uniform Quality in All Openings Made at the Phoenix.

Hancock Now Has Slightly Over 100 Men Working Underground.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Keweenaw Copper company's Phoenix subsidiary, the Phoenix, the enlargement of the shaft has reached the depth of about 265 feet. The second level was found to be of the same extent as given by the map of 1863, 750 feet having been covered by drifts. Several cuts were made at different places so as to obtain a good average of the mineralization. In all the openings so far made, both old and new, the quality is almost uniformly the same, a very rich grade of stamp copper. The mine has been unwatered to within fifty feet of the third level, the bottom shown by the map. As there are no openings except the shaft, it is expected that the water will be all drained out this week. At No. 11 diamond drill hole, located 1,000 feet east of No. 10, the Ashbed lode was passed through this week with the best showing of any of the four holes recently driven for the purpose of extending the crosscuts, begun by the drifting of nos. 10 and 11 in 1910, to the eastern boundary. The lode had a width of about twenty-seven feet and the copper was equally as well distributed as in the other holes and was better in quality. In this last series, the poorest disclosure has been fair in abundance and grade. The drill will be moved about a quarter of a mile still further east.

Hancock.

The Hancock has now slightly over one hundred men underground, which is about all that can be used with advantage just at the present time. The work is being carried on before the strike in six openings on the four lodes, Hancock No. 3, the "new lode" discovered by a crosscut on the thirteenth level, No. 4 and No. 8, and the metal is just about the same in its occurrence. Besides the shaft there is considerable cutting out preparatory to stoping. All the rock is coming from these sources. One shipment was made the latter part of January and another is being forwarded now. Others will follow at intervals of about three weeks. These will run from 1,500 to 2,000 tons each. No return will be received for some little time, but it is thought that the last shipment will yield about the same number of pounds a ton as those in the past, between 18 and 19. If an average as high as this continues to come from the development work when sufficient ground is opened to start stoping, a gradual increase should be made. The force will be enlarged as fast as the progress of the openings will permit and miners can be secured.

La Salle.

La Salle put two drills into commission at its No. 2 shaft last week, opening up drifts. This shaft is bottomed at the seventeenth level. Good ground was first found here at the twelfth level, on which a drift was extended to meet another proceeding from No. 1, thereby establishing the necessary connection for air and safety. Drifts have been opened at all of the succeeding levels and the copper encountered is of a higher grade than at No. 1. The indications here are most promising. There are now eight drills in operation at No. 1. The tonnage for the past week amounted to 800 tons and there will be a gradual increase from now on. This ore is coming from the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth levels of No. 1. Regular shipments will probably be begun in a few days. About forty-five men, both underground and on the surface, are now being employed by the company. It is hoped to start the night shift at No. 1 within two weeks.

Mass.

Mass resumed this week with about fifty men underground. There were quite a number of men who are very loyal to the Mass management and who went to work for other mines with the understanding that they would return to Mass when the latter should start up again. "B" shaft begins work again with day shift. It is expected that South Lake will very soon follow suit.

Franklin.

Franklin benefits greatly if the mineralization just disclosed at the New Arcadian persists with length and depth. About half a mile northeast of the New Arcadian shaft the lode enters the Franklin at a depth of only 1,200 to 1,300 feet. A few hundred feet further down the mine would have a width of over a mile on the strike of the lode. At a depth of less than 3,000 feet the width would be two miles. It will take some little time to determine how far to the northeast the lode is mineralized, but there are so many long stretches of copper bearing ground on the different lodes here, that there is almost an even chance that any "find" of rich copper in a good vein may develop into one or more mines. For depth on the lode the Franklin has more territory than can probably be ever mined. Some favorable developments have just been made in the crosscut on the thirty-second level, which should now be close to the Pewabic lode, but no further particulars have been so far obtained.

Ahmeek.

At the Ahmeek shafts Nos. 3 and 4 will now be unwatered. This will not take a very long time as the openings are not very extensive.

Copper Range.

The Copper Range Consolidated has now a daily production of 3,900 tons, 1,900 coming from the Champion and 1,000 each from the Trimountain and the Baltic. Many trammers are coming in from the outside, and striking miners are constantly returning. Moreover the new comers are becoming more and more efficient.

Quincy.

Quincy's production is now averaging about 3,200 tons daily.

Onondaga.

The Onondaga's first report, covering the period from May 1, 1912, to Feb. 1, 1914, will appear in a few days. The expenditure for the twenty-one months have been about $27,000 and there is a balance of $75,000 in the treasury. The striking feature of the report is the exceedingly small disbursement for administration expenses, $1,700, $600 less than the interest on the funds. The only annual charges are $50 a month for the secretary's salary and $20 for the monthly rent. President R. C. Pryor conceived the idea that these formations carried commercial copper, secured the lands, organized the company, and is devoting his energies without salary to the development of the property. The remainder of the expenditures was put into the diamond drill exploration. About 8,400 feet have been drilled in five holes. The cash on hand will be sufficient for five years at the present rate of disbursement. The report contains an excellent map not only of the company's holdings, but also of the region for several miles around.

PILOT-BUTTE CUTS "STRANGER" VEIN

Hoped to Begin Shipments By the Middle of May.

Butte Mont., Feb. 21.—A "stranger" vein which the shaft of the Pilot-Butte company cut 75 feet below the 2,000-foot level, has developed 12 inches of practically solid copper glance and an assay across 7 feet of the vein, excluding the glance, shows six ounces of silver and 1.98 per cent copper. The glance, when first cut, showed a width of six inches, and the improvement noted has developed through a depth of 100 feet. This vein crosscut to be driven to the Middle vein from the 2,200-foot station. A station is being cut this week at the 2,200-foot level and with the Middle vein ahead about 50 feet it is believed that the lead will be cut by March 10. Shaft sinking will continue to the 2,600-foot level, with crosscuts to be driven from the 2,400-foot and the 2,600-foot levels to the Middle vein. The Middle vein on the 1,800-foot level developed 2½ feet of ore, assaying 7.4 per cent copper and 12 ounces of silver, and as the shoot was found to be continuous, it is believed that it will be picked up on the 2,200-foot level. Supt. Paul Gow announces that as soon as the frost is out of the ground the construction of enlarged ore bins will be commenced, together with the building of a railroad spur. It is the hope of the Pilot-Butte management that shipments of ore can be commenced by the middle of May. Pilot-Butte enjoys one advantage in that it has to hoist its water no higher than to the 1,300-foot level, where it is taken by the Butte & Superior company for use in the latter's concentrators through a crosscut 700 feet in length. This arrangement effects a considerable saving for the Pilot-Butte.

The Anaconda's suit against the Pilot-Butte, involving the ownership of the South vein, is set for hearing March 20.

GOOD SHOWING BY BARNES-KING

Out of Debt and Profits of of More Than $129,000.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 21.—The annual report of the Barnes-King Development company for the year 1913 was issued a few days ago, and while it did not prove a surprise to those who have watched the monthly reports issued by the management, it gave for the first time a clear and adequate idea of the progress made by President Goodale and his associates in the past year and a half. They set out with the tremendous task of making the stock represent the real values—of making the company the owner of real mines. The figures speak for themselves.

According to the report of the auditor, Donald Arthur, the net profits of the company for the past year amount to $129,906.12, or almost 6½ per cent on the $5 per share par value of the capital stock of the company.

The most encouraging feature of the report is the small amount of the liabilities outside the capital stock when the valuable additions, improvements made and the reduction of old indebtedness is considered.

The deficit, which on Aug. 27, 1912, when the present management assumed control amounted to $137,466.52, has been reduced by the profits since to $7,559.40, or has practically been wiped out.

Among the most significant facts in the financial statement is that the general expenses, which in the case of so many corporations is a big item, are in the case of the Barnes-King, under present management, practically nothing. The general expense of the treasurer's office for salaries, traveling expenses, office expenses and mine examinations only has amounted to $3,705.55 in sixteen months. The general expenses at the Kendall office were $19,886.42. This included $3,776 paid for insurance and $2,263 for taxes.

The repuort shows profits on operations from Aug. 27, 1912, to Dec. 31, 1913, of $139,705.30 and a net profit of the company after paying the expense of the New York litigation and all operating expenses of $129,906.12.

PREPARATIONS AT JUNCTION SHAFT

Big Station to Be Cut on the 1800-Foot Level.

Bisbee, Ariz., Feb. 21.—The recent completion of concreting of the Junction shaft of the Calumet & Arizona to the 1,800-foot level, this work opening the mine from the 1,500-foot level down, where the water had previously been uncontested, has been followed by active steps toward cutting a big station on the 1,800-foot level. This latter work is going to occupy some months. When it is finished there will begin a reaching out campaign from the 1,800-foot level that is bound to prove of tremendous worth to the district in the findings that it will make and the bearing that these will have upon other properties. There is good grade ore in the Junction shaft on the 1,800-foot level. They cut it as they bottomed there and there is more or less showing all the way from the 1,500-foot level. On the 1,500-foot level the Junction showed the way to the great ore deposit of the Briggs on the 1,200 and the 1,300-foot levels. The 1,800-foot level may do a still greater service.

Saginaw will undoubtedly be developed from the Junction shaft. They can drive over that way from the 1,800-foot level and do a thoroughly good and economic job. That was in contemplation when Saginaw was taken over. Saginaw commercial ore bodies are deep. So are the possibilities of other properties off that way, including Dean. The latter may benefit much from findings in Junction as it works out on the 1,800-foot level. Also Dean may be assisted with relief from its water by Junction pumping. That, however, is a mere matter of chance and unimportant. Dean will ultimately take care of its own water and give as much assistance to Junction as it receives.

PRODUCTION IS EXPANDED

Exploratory Work Started in the Vicinity of Crystal Falls.

Increased activity is noted in the Iron River district of the Menominee iron range. Much exploratory work has been accomplished during the winter and much development work has been done. Actual mining has lagged, however, and importance of the field considered, little ore has been put in stock. Production now is being expanded. It is the prediction, indeed, that more men will be employed in the Iron River district the coming season than has been recorded in any year in the history of the region. Several new properties will become shippers.

The Zimmerman mine, controlled by Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati and associates, is again in commission, after a suspension of several months. Full shifts will be at work shortly. The Hiawatha, Rogers and Chicagon properties of the Rogers-Brown Ore company have been producing steadily throughout the winter, but on a scale materially below capacity. Working forces now are being increased and it is understood large shipments will be made the coming season. The Wickwire Mining company's Homer mine also is expanding operations. The property has been equipped with a steel shafthouse and is in position to produce a record tonnage. The suit whereby Paul Schook of Crystal Falls seeks to obtain a one-third interest in the Zimmerman mine has been submitted to Circuit Judge R. C. Flannigan on briefs by the opposing attorneys. The defendants are Mr. Zimmerman and G. C. Clutts, also of Ohio. Mr. Schook claims he was instrumental in bringing about the deal resulting in the acquirement of the property by the present operators and that it was agreed he was to have an interest in the rights. The Zimmerman is valued at $3,000,000.

Pickands-Mather Properties.

Pickands, Mather & Co. of Cleveland have been making various improvements at their Iron River mines during the dull season. Not as much ore has been stockpiled as in former winters, but considerable development work has been done and if market conditions warrant the usual tonnage can be shipped. It is understood that as yet the firm has sold little or no ore. However, as it is considered that the buying movement has merely been delayed, a fairly active season is expected. The shaft at the Baltic mine has been overhauled and both the Baltic and the Bengal are ready to produce at any time. The Caspian is, as usual, prepared to forward a large tonnage. It is expected that a contract for stripping Pickands, Mather & Co.'s Balken property at Oipha will be awarded shortly, revised tenders having recently been submitted by various concerns. Exploratory work has established that the area from which the overburden is to be removed is not as large as first estimated. Nevertheless the stripping work will be of unusual proportions for Michigan and will approximate 1,000,000 cubic yards. The Peninsula Power company of Iron Mountain, which is supplying several of the Iron River mines with current generated at its hydro-electric plant on the Menominee river, is preparing to enlarge its Iron River auxiliary station. A brick power house will be constructed and equipped with two new units, increasing the capacity of the auxiliary plant from 1,000 to 3,000 horsepower. The program calls for an expenditure of $80,000. Two additional units are being installed in the big plant on the Menominee river.

Crystal Falls District.

The latest exploratory work started in the Crystal Falls district of the Menominee is in section 30, 43-32, where a diamond drill has been put in commission. The tract adjoins Corrigan, McKinney & Co.'s Tobin mine on the north and is a mile west of the city of Crystal Falls. It is owned by the estate of the late Congressman Carlos D. Sheldon of Houghton, Mich. The land was tested in part in the early days and the existence of a mineral formation was discovered. The last work was done thirteen years ago, but was only cursory in its nature. To the west of this tract, the Pfister Land company of Milwaukee controls several thousand acres of what is regarded as promising mineral land. The acreage is in the country extending from Ogibegy, Norton & Co.'s Bristol mine to Fortune lake and is in part traversed by Brier Hill creek, a tributary to the Paint river. Exploratory operations were conducted by the Manila Iron company some fifteen years ago and were understood at the time to be attended with encouraging results. The work ceased suddenly, however, for reasons not explained, and since then no testing has been done. As there are several thousand acres and the area is known to contain an iron formation, there is hope at Crystal Falls that reports now in circulation and which are to the effect that exploration is contemplated, will soon be followed by the institution of diamond drill operations.

The work of rebuilding the Hamilton shaft at the United States Steel corporation's big Chapin mine at Iron Mountain is two-thirds completed. With the walls completed the Hamilton shaft will become the permanent and principal outlet of the Menominee range's biggest and richest producer.

Explore Old Dexter Mine.

The Cleveland Cliffs Iron company is preparing to explore the old Dexter mine, a Marquette range property in section 3, 47-28, six miles west of Ishpeming. The Dexter has been idle since the fall of 1896. It produced in that season 19,000 tons of ore, and altogether it sent out 117,000 tons. A quarter of a mile to the east is the Cleveland Cliffs company's Chase mine, opened a few years ago and which is now producing. The Dexter is owned in fee by the Barnes Land company of Marquette. With the Chase and other lands, it was leased to the Cleveland Cliffs company four years ago. There are two shafts, down 560 and 120 feet, respectively. It is said that shortly before operations were suspended eighteen years ago, there was found on the bottom level a vein of ore sixty feet thick, the ore averaging 56 per cent in metallic iron. The suspension was due to market conditions. The Cleveland Cliffs company will unwater the shafts and will then determine upon the development work. In any event, diamond drill exploration will be conducted. A characteristic of the Dexter ores in the early days of the mine was the presence of manganese. This material in the upper levels ran from 7 to 15 per cent, in the lowest level the proportion was much less.

The underground employes of the Cleveland Cliffs company's Negaunee and Maas mines at Negaunee are now using carbide lamps, instead of candles. Hereafter candles will be prohibited. The men purchase their own lamps at the mines at wholesale price, and all of the carbide needed is supplied free of charge. The six ounces of carbide given eacah man daily is plenty to furnish light for an eight-hour shift.

CUYUNA-MILLE LACS MINE NOW ENTIRELY UNWATERED

Expects to Get Out Large Tonnage in Coming Season.

Cuyuna-Duluth to Mine From Two Levels This Year.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine is entirely unwatered and the water situation is being easily handled. It is expected that the force of miners will be increased very materially, accessions being made to the working force next month, as the company expects to get out a large tonnage during the coming season.

The Cuyuna-Duluth mine has completed its shaft to a depth of 310 feet and is now cutting a large permanent station at the 280-foot level which will enable the company to mine from two levels during the coming season, and it is also expected that the force of this mine will be more than doubled during the next month.

The Duluth-Brainerd shaft, says E. J. W. Donahue in an interview at Brainerd, is now down to a level of about 92 feet. A good record, believed to be one of the best on the range, has been made in the sinking of this shaft. Contractors have been on the ground inspecting the route of the proposed extension of the Cuyuna Northern railway to the mine and will bid soon on the work which must be completed before June 30.

The Cuyuna Iron Valley Mining company is operating two drills at Rabbit lake, one in section 19 and one in section 20. The Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company has a drill at work in section 9, township 48, range 28. This drill is owned and operated by the company. The Cuyuna-Sultana Iron company is operating two drills, one in section 3, township 46, range 29, known as the Campbell forty, and one in section 34, township 46, range 28. The Campbell forty adjoins the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine.

The Cuyuna Iron & Land company has filed a release of option on lands owned by Benzel and situated in the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 21, township 47, range 28. F. A. Edson of Deerwood has assigned to the Provident Iron company four undivided one-eighth interests in the west half of the southeast quarter and the east half of the southwest quarter of section 22, township 47, range 29. James A. Stetson of Deerwood and Duluth has given to Charles Olson a release of option covering the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 6, township 45, range 28.

Shaft Full of Water.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine situated in the city limits of Brainerd has a shaft full of water, encountering a heavy flow at about 80 feet deep. Heavy pumps have been ordered. Another shaft is to be sunk near by and the new one will serve to unwater the first.

A forty-acre tract situated in the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 6, township 45, range 28, has been sold by Claus Nilson, L. M. Bolter, Charles M. Drew, W. O. Falk, H. B. Fryberger, W. C. Lacroix, Oscar L. Mather, W. R. Peyton, J. P. Sims and James A. Stetson, and a drill will be placed on it this week and explored. Near by in the northeast quarter of the same section, Judge J. T. Hale of Deerwood has had a drill operating. G. H. Wyman of Anoka and associates will soon have a drill at work in section 10, township 46, range 28.

Two drills of Cole & McDonald of Deerwood are working in the Chisholm, Williams and Magoffin tract in section 1, township 46, range 29. B. B. Gaylord of Crosby is drilling for Ernest Le Duc and associates in section 23, township 47, range 29.

At Cuyuna the piles are driven for the new bridge to span the narrows of Big Rabbit lake and the superstructure will soon be erected.

The Brainerd Development company has drills at work near Brainerd. John Kelly of Duluth has a drill at work in section 11, township 46, range 28. The Gopher State Iron company is operating a drill in section 5, township 45, range 28, the work being done by the Hale-Bradley Exploration company.

In Aitkin county two drills are working at Kimberly, one in the northern part of the county, one at a point seven miles north of Aitkin.

Lands Taken Off Market.

The Immigration Land company, owning many acres of land in Crow Wing and Aitkin counties, is reported to have taken all its land off the market. This report may be the forerunner of a campaign of development-and to ascertain the mineral value of their holdings. James M. Elder of Brainerd recently transferred to the company a large lot of holdings, including the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter, the south half of the northeast quarter and lots 1 and 2 of section 17, township 45, ranges 28; the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 9, township 45, range 29; the south half of the northwest quarter of section 29, township 46, range 28; the west half of the northeast quarter of section 33, township 46, range 29; the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 22, township 47, range 29; the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 33, township 47, range 29; the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 15, township 136, range 26 and the north half of the southwest quarter of section 23, township 136, range 26; the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 21, township 136, range 26; the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 27, township 136, range 26. Paul M. Hale of Deerwood has conveyed to the Immigration Land company the east half of the northeast quarter of section 29, township 46, range 28, and the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 11, township 47, range 28; also the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 13, township 47, range 28.

Ore Carrying Contracts.

The Northern Pacific railway has built in to the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna and by many it is reported that considerable tonnage will be hauled by this road. Previously the Soo Line had all the ore haulage from this mine. The Soo was the first to haul ore on the range for 65 cents a ton, reducing from the then prevailing 80 cents, to 65 cents. The Soo when first built on the range was known as the Cuyuna Iron Range Railway company. There have been filed in the register of deeds office three ore carrying contracts, one made by the Chescuytawney Ore company to the Soo, and covering 100 acres in the northwest quarter of section 30, township 46, range 28, and agreeing that half the ore mined shall be hauled on that road to a Lake Superior port and that after 2,000,000 tons are hauled the rate shall be 60 cents. If the other railways make a lower rate, the Cuyuna Irno Range railway will likewise lower rates. An ore carrying contract was also made with the Rogers-Brown ore company, covering the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 11, township 46, range 29, and the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 12, township 46, range 29, and a second contract with the same company covering lot 5, the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter, the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter in section 30, township 47, range 28, and the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter, lots 5 and 6 of section 29, township 47, range 28. All are dated in November, 1909.

The decision of the Federal bureau that royalties are incomes, and are considered under the income tax law, is the subject of considerable debate on the Cuyuna iron range. Many fee owners have received substantial royalties this year and the big checks came as usual, and there was no reduction made at the point of origin to meet the requirements of the income tax law.

Work to Start In March.

There may be some doubt as to ore prices in the eastern markets, but the Cuyuna range is steadily going ahead with its exploration and development work, mining and preparations for shipment. At the Pennington it is reported that a hundred men will be put to work in the pit mine early in March.

The Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company, whose mine is near Loerch, will soon have a spur built to its property by the Northern Pacific railway, and on this can be hauled the heavy mining timbers and machinery needed in shaft work. A timber shaft will be put down. Some of the engineers in the Paterson Construction company have had wide experience in engineering problems, one of them having been on Mackenzie & Mann concessions in Chihuahua, Mex., where at one time Huerta, now president of Mexico, had a contract getting out timber for a waterworks concession.

The Barrows mine at Barrows is working steadily and increasing its stockpile reserves. It will ship heavily this season. The Barrows mine has the distinction of being the first shipper on the range. The Adams mine at Oreland is penetrating the rich ore body and is stockpiling. Over 1,000 tons are now on the surface. This mine will be in shape to ship heavily directly from shaft to cars when navigation opens. The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna and the Armour No. 2 mine at Crosby, both operated by the Rogers, Brown Ore company, are working full strength and adding to their stockpiles. When navigation opens it is expected to add the Armour No. 1 to the producers.

Transfers of Interests.

Eugene L. Trask has sold to Grace Grove the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 9, township 137, range 27. H. H. Zaiser has sold to F. H. Thorn an undivided one-twelfth interest in the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter and lot 3 of section 33, township 138, range 26. Edgar G. Brush has sold to the Bursickel company, other parties being included in the list of grantors, an undivided one-eighth interest in the easterly 71.62 acres of the northeast quarter of section 6, township 44, range 30. Katherine S. Benner has sold to Herbert W. Jones for 2,000 an undivided one-quarter interest in lots 1 and 2 of section 31, township 136, range 26, and the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 136, range 26.

CROSSCUTTING AT THE RAINBOW

Prospects Good for Development of Valuable Mining Property.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 21.—Crosscutting has been going steadily ahead on the 1,000-foot level of the Rainbow, and fully 100 feet through the vein has been completed. The Rainbow is one of the largest in the Butte district, ranking second in width to the Anaconda.

Sinking will be continued from the 1,000-foot level while crosscutting goes on. Considerable water has been encountered, but this has not been allowed to interfere materially with the development work.

While no official information could be obtained, it is understood that the prospects are splendid for the development there of a most valuable mining property. Every indication is that bodies of high-grade commercial ore will be located and that within a short time a valuable producing mine will be added to the list of Butte properties that are paying.

At the Granite Mountain, sinking is continuing and the shaft is down nearly 100 feet below the 2,800-foot station.

CAMP HAS AN AIR OF PERMANENCY

At Least 100 Tons of Ore Shipped Daily From Radersburg.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 21.—"Owners and operators of mines in the Radersburg district are feeling more optimistic over the future than ever before," said a well-known mining man who was in Butte last evening. "Conditions at the present time are very good and the camp has an air of permanency about it," he continued.

He also said that at least 100 tons of ore are being shipped out of the district daily. The Keating and the Ohio-Keating mines are the best producers at present. The latter is down to the 50-foot level and is producing good ore.

The Keating, which is down to the 1,000-foot level, has more the aspect of a real mine. It is reported that the ore body at the 1,000-foot level is of good extent and promises to pay well.

Another report which is of interest to Radersburg mining men is that Eastern capital is interested in the Black Friday, and it is expected operations will be resumed in that property shortly.

Steps toward unwatering the Rena group have been started, and it is expected that it will be accomplished within a week.

RADERSBURG ROAD TO BE BUILT NOW

Attorney Haldorn Is in the East to Make Deal for Bonds.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 21.—Attorney George Haldorn has gone to New York to complete a deal for the floating of the bonds to build the Radersburg railroad extension. Before leaving, Mr. Haldorn said that the plans are virtually assured and that the road running from Three Forks to Radersburg, a distance of 41 miles, will certainly be built this year.

A large number of mining properties in the Radersburg district have been awaiting the building of this line, which is given on the latest railroad map issued by the state railroad commission as the Three Forks, Helena & Madison Valley railroad.

The information that the construction of the line is a certainty in the near future had a bullish effect on such stock as Ohio-Keating and Keating Gold.

The promoters and those in control of these mining enterprises have been planning extensive improvements and extensive development of the properties as soon as the railroad is constructed, as it will enable them to get out their ore at a profit where the long haul now means a loss.

Mr. Haldorn is also interested in floating the stock and bonds of a big mining deal in connection with the railroad proposition and is confident of success in that.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

RUMORS OF NEW FACTORIES FOR WESTERN END OF CITY

Real Estate Men Are Looking for a Substantial Development.

Prices Stiffening and Outlook Is for a Busy Season.

Though it was again largely a waiting proposition in local real estate circles during the present week, operators are feeling more confident than ever regarding the outlook for the spring and summer months. The number of transactions closed during the last few days was comparatively small, but it is intimated that announcements may be expected shortly in reference to some large transactions that have been pending for some time back.

It is intimated that negotiations have just been opened by a prominent Eastern concern for a tract of ground in West Duluth to be utilized as a site for a large manufacturing industry. Two frontages are under considefation, and it is expected that a decision will be reached within the next ten days.

Real estate men are looking forward to the development of a substantial movement in West end and West Duluth properties during the spring, and under the spur of good advance inquiry, values are said to be stiffening up all round. It is predicted that by the time the season winds up four or five manufacturing enterprises will have been added to the list of concerns in operation up that way.

The activity manifest in industrial directions in those districts is taken as certain to promote an extended sale of lots for the building of moderate-priced homes of which, under the new conditions, there is said to be a marked shortage.

Touching upon that phase of the situation W. D. Underhill said today: "We have been in receipt of a strong call for funds on house mortgage security since the beginning of the month, and just yesterday we entered into contracts for the building of two substantial residences on West Second street. The call for flats has been so good that practically everything that can be occupied is rented. There is now a strong upward tendency in rentals."

Chester A. Congdon is preparing to build a $150,000 summer home on his fruit farm of 600 acres in the Wide Hollow valley, North Yakima, Wash. The structure will be one of the finest in the valley, and a novel feature about it is that it is to be built of lava rock. Thirty carloads of the material to be used in it, are now being blasted from the hills in the vicinity.

The new combined public and high school now approaching completion at Crosby, Minn., will rank as the largest structure of its kind on the Cuyuna range. It is three stories in height, of pressed brick construction, with reinforced concrete stairs and corridors. It contains sixteen rooms, with provision for domestic science and manual training departments. Its cost will aggregate $75,000. The general contract was carried through by Jacobson Bros. of this city, and Vernon J. Pierce & Co. were the architects.

W. Edward Gustad has been awarded the general contract for the W. S. Pitt block at Crosby. The ground floor will be occupied by the First State bank of Crosby and a store, with the second floor to be fitted for apartments. It will entail an expenditure of $18,000. The plans were prepared by Vernon J. Price & Co., architects.

Wangenstein & Gilliuson, architects, are preparing plans for a hotel building for Joseph Oreckovsky to go up on Superior street between Sixth and Seventh avenues west. It is to be a substantial three-story structure, with its cost estimated at $20,000.

* * *

Contracts in connection with the remodeling into offices of the quarters formerly occupied by the Kitchi Gammi club at the corner of First street and Third avenue west, were let this week by John A. Stephenson & Co., its rental agents. Frank Carlson obtained the contract for the masonry work; the Crown Iron works the iron work, and Norman McLean for the installing of the tile and marble. An electric elevator will be installed by the Otis Elevator company.

The contract for the rebuilding of the Adelphi hotel at 2803 West Superior street, recently damaged by fire, has been let to Emil Zauft. It will involve an oulay of $25,000, a permit covering that amount having been taken out at the building inspector's office this week.

The following permits were issued during the week at the office of the building inspector.

To M. Cook, concrete floor, West Michigan street between Second and Third avenues	$ 400
To J. O. Johnson, alterations, Cody street between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth avenues	200
To Gopher Realty company, repair fire damaged hotel, Twenty-eighth avenue west and Superior street	25,000
To West Duluth Realty company, two frame dwellings, Magellan street between Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth avenues	3,600
To Hicks Meat Market company, alternations, East Fourth street between Tenth and Eleventh avenues	500
To G. Launri, frame dwelling, Sixty-fifth avenue west between Nicollet and Main streets	3,000
To E. J. Blomstrom, frame dwelling, West First street between Forty-second and Forty-third avenues	650
To C. Danielson, steel supports for two passenger elevators, West Superior street between Fourth and Fifth avenues...	775
To N. H. Sorenson, frame dwelling, West Eighth street between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth avenues	1,500
To J. Moe, frome dwelling, Belmont road between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east	400

LIGHT SHADES AND ALUMINUM.

Pittsburg Gazette The fancy of putting black shades on kitchen windows is in great favor with real estate agents. The idea is to provide a cleanly effect by furnishing a shade that will hold without showing the inevitable dirt and grime that rise from a range in the room where cooking is done. Tenants should have white or very light cream or green shades on their kitchen windows. When the shades soil they should be renewed, as they are very cheap.

The new aluminum kitchen vessels have a strong following, but they are yet high in price, and it cannot be said that they are as inviting as the white enamelware which is so generally used in hospitals, owing to the ease with which it can be cleaned and its light weight.

ANOTHER NEW MOVING PICTURE THEATER PLANNED

First Avenue West Structure Will Cost About $30,000.

Many Handsome Homes Will Be Erected This Year.

An interesting building trade development of the present week came in the announcement that the Dickerman investment company has arranged to build a handsome moving picture and vaudevillo theater on First avenue west between First and Superior streets. The structure will occupy the site of the old frame premises destroyed by fire about fifteen months ago. It is to be of fireproof construction throughout, with the front of stucco, and a marble vestibule. According to the plans, it is designed to be complete and modern in every detail. Provision is made for the installing of a hotel and restaurant at one side, with the theater entrance to occupy the remainder of the ground floor. Its cost is estimated at $30,000. The plans as prepared by Holstead & Sullivan, architects, are now out for figures. It is expected that the contract will be let next Thursday and that the work will be proceeded with immediately.

As had been forecasted, the building of a number of handsome homes will be recorded in the East end residence district during the present year.

F. G. German has now plans in preparation for a residence for Bernard Silberstein at Twenty-first avenue east and First street. It is to be of tapestry brick with stone trimmings, and will cost about $14,000.

Cassius H. Bagley and George A. French have arranged to build large homes on adjoining sites at the corner of Twenty-first avenue east and First street. The Bagley home will be built of brick and stucco and red tile on Italian renaissance lines. The type of the French residence has not as yet been announced. The plans for both homes were prepared by Frederick W. Perkins, a Chicago architect, who has just opened offices in the Alworth building.

First street is to be further improved in the replacing of the one-story building owned by T. T. Hudson and occupied by the J. J. Le Tourneau printing company, by a two-story block, 50 by 140 feet in size. The foundations are to be sufficiently strong to admit of the building being raised to nine stories at any time in the future. The wrecking of the old building is now under way, after which the erection of the new premises will be proceeded with by day labor at a cost of about $18,000. The plans were prepared by F. G. German, architect.

Building permits of the week were in large proportions for the winter season, numbering thirteen with the cost of improvements placed at $60,-

WAS HAMLET AN IRISHMAN?

The "Melancholy Dane" a Celt, Some Scholars Say; Other Critics Assert Shakespeare's Prince Came Only of "Such Stuff as Dreams Are Made of."

Jacob A. Riis in New York Sun: Who was Hamlet? Was he a prince, a dreamer, a mere madman, or was he at all? Were there perchance two or three or more Hamlets who have become so mixed up through the dim ages that even their mothers could not have told them apart?

No one knows. What is more, no one will ever know. If there was just one, there might be hope. If the Melancholy Dane was in truth a Dane pure and simple, the case would be plain enough, however cloaked in the mystery of tradition, for the "hearsay" of the old Northmen was after all largely history itself, their way of handing it down from generation to generation. However, they bragged of their doings, they took good care to keep their family records straight, and in all their mingling of men and gods and ghosts there would be bottom somewhere, firm ground to stand on.

Poor Denmark Denied.

But poor Denmark, stripped of her ancient greatness, is not to be allowed to keep even her Hamlet. Some of the critics have made him out a Celt, others a mixture of the myths of many lands. Some have made out a fair case for at least two Hamlets that walk through the pages of Saxo's chronicle, one of whom Shakespeare laid hold of, while the other escaped him. Still others, Dr. Vigfusson among them, believe the Hamlet legend figured in the Skioldunga Saga, of which the greater part has been lost, and that he was, therefore, a more or less historical personage.

All we know of him is what Saxo told in his "Historia Danica," which he wrote in the closing years of the twelfth century. Saxo was a monk, the friend and clerk of Bishop Absalon, who founded Copenhagen and was the counselor and foster brother of King Vladimar the Great. It was, in fact, Absalon who made him write it. Saxo himself says in the preface of his work, "so that the great deeds of the fathers should not be lost to posterity."

His Comments Naive.

He wrote in Latin, without claim to critical historical judgment, setting down what he found and making his own comments, that are often naive enough, as he went along. When he comes down to his own times and to what he himself saw and shared in, or what Absalon told him, he becomes an exceedingly interesting and valuable historian. Up till then he is the collector of tales, legends and manuscripts that are all lost.

In what shape he found the Hamlet legend we cannot tell. His chronicle give us no clew. His own manuscript was lost for centuries. Only a few years ago a supposed fragment was found in Anglers, France, forming part of the parchment binding of another book, and is now in the Royal library at Copenhagen. It is written in the clerical Latin of Saxo's day, and is full of erasures and interpolations in the same careful, painstaking handwriting, all of which are part of the known text, so that it is probable that we have here leaves from the veritable chronicle itself.

Origin of Play.

However that may be, it exists in various translations from the Middle Ages, and it must have been from one of these Shakespeare got the story, if he did not in fact remodel an already existing play. That there was such a one seems certain from references to it in contemporaneous writings.

Of one thing only about Hamlet are we wholly sure: He never lived in Elsinore. His home, if it was anywhere, was on the mainland of Denmark, where there is still a moor that bears the name Amhede, Am's or perhaps Amlet's heath. That last was his Danish name. How then came Shakespeare to transplant him to Elsinore?

Easily enough. Some of the actors in the company had played there before the king and queen at the festivities that attended the opening of Kronsborg castle in 1585. The record of a payment of 92 daler and 15 skilling for the services of William Kemp and five others, namely, George Bryan, Thomas King, Robert Percy, Thomas Stephens and Thomas Pope, is still in existence. Kemp, Bryan and Pope were afterward and up to the very year "Hamlet" was published (1603) Shakespeare's associates and constant companions.

Names Much Confused.

Perhaps he was with them at Elsinore himself; he may have been. The fact that he was not on the payroll does not signify; he would have been a mere apprentice, and, anyway, the Danes could never have written his name.

But if he was not there, they undoubtedly told him all about the wonders they had seen, for Kronborg was just then the most talked of royal castle in Europe. And Shakespeare was not a man to let such a chance pass of getting local color for his play. Indeed, there is hardly a page of it that does not bear witness that he was a mighty good listener, from the opening scene with the ghost to the famous interview between Hamlet and his mother.

In Ghostly Moonlight.

One may see the ghost walk on the "platform before the castle," the flag battery, as it is properly called, any moonlit night when the sea washes the stone-paved path over which the guns poke their black muzzles with futile menace. Their day is long since past. It went when modern rifles took the place of the old smooth-borer in the business of war. One cannot even help a smile when standing there as Shakespeare's conceit:

"Well said, old mole, canst work i' the earth so fast?"

The whole bastion is a bombproof with vent holes in the floor of the "platform." Any ghost might walk at its ease down there and amuse itself by stirring up the people out in the open at every other step. I have done it in the flesh many times, with a torch to guide me through the darkness of the underground chambers. I was there often when a youth.

Why Not the Real Settings?

And here comes in the real puzzle of Hamlet, which has nothing to do with Shakespeare or the question where he got his plot. It is this: Why has never one of our great actors presented the tragedy in its native setting, which is easily gotten at and is a hundred times more dramatic than the wretched moonlight scenes from Italy or some other outlandish place with which the mad prince had nothing to do and never could have had.

The old castle is full of the most charming nooks of wonderful stage effect. You come upon them every time you turn a corner above ground or below it. Above all, why in the scene with his mother, when Hamlet challenges her to should he be made to refer to a locket, a miniature, or something of that sort, when what Shakespeare meant is right at hand and ever so much more impressive? I mean the arras through which Hamlet stabs Polonius.

"Look here, upon this picture, and on this,
The counterfeit presentment of two brothers

That circumstance alone makes it plain that it was the arras Shakespeare had in mind, for in Saxo's story Hamlet runs his sword through a pile of rushes under which Polonius is hiding. Now, this arras was likely the first thing the traveling mummers had told Shakespeare about, and it was a regular picture gallery. It hung in the Knight's hall, which the author of the play for convenience makes the queen's closet, just as he makes the castle stand on

The dreadful summit of the cliff
That beetles o'er his base into the sea, whereas it is built on the shore scarcely three feet above tidewater. The arras was considered a wonderful work of art in those days.

111 Kings "Exprest."

"The great chamber," notes William Segar, Garter-King-at-Armes, who visited Kronborg in the year "Hamlet" was published, "is hanged with tapistary of fresh coloured silke without gold wherein all the Danish kings are exprest in antique habits according to their several times, with their armes and inscriptions containing all their conquests and victories."

There were in fact 111 kings "exprest" in the arras in the order of their succession, and it is to his father and uncle in this gallery that Hamlet very naturally refers. They were there before them, side by side, lifesize.

It is perfectly clear that Shakespeare seized upon the famous tapestry, the facts about which were clinched in his mind just at the right moment by Master Segar's report, to serve as a convenient hiding place for the spying courtier, rushes as floor covering having gone out of fashion, and it is all the more strange that our actors have abandoned it so lightly since the very arras is yet in existence, or at all events a part of it.

Two Pieces Saved.

It was twice in danger of destruction, when Kronborg was badly damaged by fire in the Seventeenth century and again in 1859, when the castle of Fredriksborg, to which it had been removed for safekeeping, was burned to the ground.

Two pieces of it were saved and hang today in the Copenhagen Museum of Antiquities, where English tourists pass them by bulging very likely with chips from Hamlet's grave, a purely commercial fake which the Elsinore hotel keepers have got up and carefully restore at the beginning of each season for their especial benefit.

The remnants show fifteen of the 111 kings, beginning with Valdemar the Victorious, whose father Saxo served, and coming down to Frederik II. The photographs were taken by the permission of the Danish government and are the only ones that have ever been made.

TAPESTRIES ARE IN FAVOR

New York Times: With the growing demand in America for the spacious and formal house, with its great stone hallways and paneled wall spaces, has developed a revival of interest and appreciation in tapestries and in the use of these old world "pictured cloths." This has seen their values in figures the last few years to figures only comparable to those brought by the paintings of old masters, and, in many instances, far in excess.

Their rarity and the demand have made tapestries almost a necessity in the luxurious homes of today, and have likewise established them as a source of both investment and speculation, with values further enhanced by the fact that Europe retains most of the greatest pieces in her museums and private collections.

Tapestries in America.

Tapestries in America, even in less important examples, are becoming more and more difficult to obtain, although many wonderful tapestries each year find their way here, and into the homes of collectors, as well as into the museums.

The history of tapestry can be traced back many centuries to the East—Egypt, China, India and Persia—through such examples as the Coptic tapestry of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, woven about 400 B. C. But the interest in tapestries is not confined to these fragments, but is centered more especially in the great productions of the Middle Ages; in the Early Gothic, which reached their perfection in the period between 1475-1520, and in the latter part of the Sixteenth century, when the tapestry guilds in Flanders alone numbered 40,000 weavers.

With the approach of the Italian Renaissance and the greater excellence of drawing, which developed a more subtle treatment by the weaver of expression, color and shading in his work—such as in the great tapestries from cartoons by Raphael and other Italian artists—Flemish tapestry reached the zenith of its perfection.

Tapestries were at this period the proud possessions of kings, who became royal patrons of the tapestry works, and were the indispensable accessories of wealth and glory, illustrating the incidents of history and constituting the decoration of the palace, the castle, the private chapel and cathedral.

Here the tapestries hung in gorgeous array; some glittering with silver and gold threads, and even with jewels woven in the warp; some mellow in the soft coloring of the wools and silks which were used for the high lights.

Arras Took Precedence.

With the decadence of tapestry making in Brussels came the development of the art in France under royal favor, notably that of Henri IV and Louis XIV, who established the Gobelins and made France supreme in the production of tapestry for many years. Other works established outside of France produced examples of perfection in weaving, but for only a brief period.

Arras and Paris became famed for their tapestries, the former advancing the art more than did the latter, although it is Paris that has preserved her tapestry looms today in the Gobelins, which still exists as the government factory. The Aubusson tapestry factory at Aubusson, which was reorganized in the reign of Louis XIV, and reached the zenith of its perfection under Louis XV, likewise produced and still produces tapestries characterized by the delicacy of their coloring and their design.

While the interest of royalty was the influence which caused the great tapestries of the world to be created, the preservation of the early tapestries is largely due to the monasteries, where the treasures of the lord of the land were deposited while he was forced to go to war to defend his castle. It is thus that many examples have been preserved, protected by the strong walls of the monastery, where they often remained as gifts. As the arts and crafts found their greatest exponents in the monks and friars it is natural that the religious influence in the choice of subject was evidenced in the design of early examples and in the weaving of textiles generally.

NO WOMAN IS REALLY "CHILDLESS."

In the Woman's Home Companion Anne Bryan McCall, writing a "Tower Room Talk" on the "Christmas Child," says:

"That phrase, children of 'our own,' always troubles me. There is, I think, too much of this personal 'owning' of children. For I am so sure that all little children are 'our own' in the broader sense; so that I cannot conceive of any woman who is deeply a woman being really 'childless.' I know how the phrase is used; and I know how some people bemoan the lack of little children of their 'own,' and I know, too, perhaps, the depth of that longing so natural in all womanly women—but, oh! I cannot see it in this narrower fashion for long. For soon the thing broadens out so! You have only to climb away from self and selfishness to a place a little higher up, and the broader view spreads out and I see coming toward me—not a little child of my own, but troops of little children, so many—bright and happy ones, and those whose faces are pale, and their little bodies needy and their little natures thirsty and hungry.

"Nothing else in the world is so dependent on us, nothing in nature needs us as little children need us. The young birds need even their 'own' for so short a while so soon they are independent and on the wing; the little furry foxes so soon range the fields for themselves and do not look to us for bounty; but these, these who are our very own, and so many of them, and all of them needing us!"

WENT TO A TEA AND NEVER MET A SOUL.

In the Woman's Home Companion Christine Terhune Herrick writes a most interesting article entitled, "The Hostess and Her Guests"—an article full of facts and sound practical advice. Following is an extract giving an account of a tea party to which the author was invited, and where, owing to the blunder of her hostess, she did not meet a single person:

"I recall very clearly a tea I attended where I knew absolutely no one save the hostess. From her place at the head of the receiving line she greeted me when I entered and after a brief exchange of civilities, cut short by the pressure of guests behind me, she said hospitably: 'Go back into the dining room and get something to eat. You will find some pleasant people there.'

"I went and I found the pleasant people—at least, they looked pleasant—but they were all strangers. A waiter handed me a cup of tea and passed me a sandwich and a piece of cake. With these I retired to a corner and ate and drank while I looked about me for someone as evidently a stranger as myself. There was not one! All were gathered in cheerful groups, chatting gaily, and I hesitated to thrust my presence in where it apparently was not needed. I consumed my food, chuckling the while to think how I had rushed myself to get dressed and to the tea, and then made my way to the door, saying farewell to my hostess en route. She was the only person with whom I had exchanged a remark during my stay in the house.

"Here was an example of a hostess who did not know her business. It should be impossible for anyone to undergo such an experience as mine, and the fact that it did not embarrass or wound me was the hostess' good luck—and my own."

SPOILED HIS SLEEP, TOO.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegram: A drug clerk in a neighboring village was called to the telephone at an early hour one morning recently.

"Do you keep carbolic acid?" inquired an anxious voice.

"Yes, madam," responded the polite clerk.

"Well, wouldn't that kill you?"

And there followed the click of a received being hung up.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— HUNTER HARNESS COMPANY.

The undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the Constitution and laws of the State of Minnesota, subscribe and acknowledge the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT—

State of Minnesota,
County of St. Louis—ss.
In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of Herbert W. Coffin, decedent.

The petition of Mary E. Coffin, as representative of the above named decedent, together with her final account of the administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things that she has fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on her bond. It is ordered, That said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted, and if correct, allowed by the Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County, on Monday, the 16th day of March, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted. Ordered further, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law, and by mailing a copy of this order to each heir and interested party at least fourteen days before the said date of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., Feb. 19, 1914.
By the Court,
S. W. GILPIN, Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Fifteen Hundred Twenty-four ($1524.00) Dollars, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Janet Leonore Costello and D. H. Costello, her husband, Mortgagors, to Harry C. Strong, Mortgagee, bearing date the 11th day of November, 1912, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the 27th day of December, 1913, at 8:30 o'clock A. M., in Book 288 of Mortgages, on page 341, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz.:

The Easterly seventy-five (75) feet of fractional Block Sixteen(16), Longview Addition to Duluth; Lot Five (5) and Easterly one-half of Lot Six (6), and Easterly seventy-five (75) feet of Lot Four (4), Block Seventeen (17), East Lawn Division of Duluth, according to the plats thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of St. Louis, the premises conveyed hereby being that portion of said Block Sixteen (16), Longview Addition to Duluth, and of said lots in Block Seventeen (17), East Lawn Division of Duluth, that lie between the Westerly line of Twenty-fourth Avenue East and a line drawn parallel therewith and seventy-five (75) feet Westerly therefrom. Subject to the terms and conditions of that certain agreement duly recorded in the office of the said Register of Deeds in Book "S" of Miscellaneous at Page 238, in St. Louis County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County in the Sheriff's office in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County and State, on the 6th day of April, 1914, at 10 o'clock A. M., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Fifteen Hundred Twenty-Four Dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five ($25) Dollars, Attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said Mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated February 17, A. D. 1914.

Buy a Home

For Yourself Instead of the Landlord

$20.00 a month rent amounts to $240.00 a year; $2400.00 in ten years. You've paid the landlord full price for his house in ten years, but he still owns it; all you have is the rent receipts.

For a small payment down and $20 or less per month you can buy a home and own it, clear of all encumbrance, in less than ten years.
